Mr. and Mrs. George Ruttan and children and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McColl were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ruttan of Belleville, for a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Plumpton and their son Gene of Frankford, Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Dorland and children and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Austin with their son Guy, spent an enjoyable week end at Buckshot Lake.

Mrs. John Shaw and Miss Barbara Stone of Bloomfield were recent tea hour guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Leavitt.

The Red Cross meeting held in the parlors of the United Church last week was well attended. The ladies served a pot luck lunch at the noon hour and all enjoyed the social repast.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ruttan and children of Queensboro, after spending a few days with Mrs. Ruttan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McColl have returned home.

Miss B. Scott of Toronto was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Peister.

Marmora

Marmora — Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Burridge of Parry Sound are visiting relatives here.

Miss Patricia Wylie of Peterboro is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scott.

Mrs. Fred Hughes and Sally of Oshawa are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Walter Lowery.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scott visited relatives in Peterboro on Thursday.

Mr. Tom Crawford of Toronto spent the week end at his home here.

Miss Teresa Shannon of Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Shannon.

Miss Grace Prentice of Belleville spent the week end at her home here.

Mr. Bernard Callery of Windsor is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Callery.

Mr. Simeon Smith of Kingston visited relatives here over the week end.

Lieut. Percy Gray of Kingston spent the week end with his family here.

Sergt. Robert Gray of the 1st Contingent of the C. A. S. F. celebrated his twenty-first birthday in England on Saturday. His father, Lieut. Percy Gray, who served with the 21st Battalion in the last war also celebrated his coming of age in the Motherland.

Messrs. Wilfred Gray and Edward Burke of Deloro returned home on Friday from a motor trip to Toronto and the Niagara Peninsula.

Mr. Robert Kerr of Latta spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kerr.

Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Gordier and daughter Ruth of Bancroft were callers at the Rectory on Saturday.

Mr. Arnold Caldwell of Hamilton spent the week end with his parents, Rural Dean and Mrs. A.B. Caldwell.

Mr. Max Green of Ottawa visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Green over the week end.

Miss Rachel Fox and Mrs. K. Varley of Belleville spent the week end at Tipperary Hotel, Crowe Lake.

Miss S. M. Ford and Miss R. Twining returned to their homes in Belleville on Sunday after a two weeks' vacation at Tipperary Hotel Crowe Lake.

Mr. P. Fortier of White Plains, N. Y., is spending holidays with Mrs. Fortier and children, who have spent the summer with Mrs. Fortier's mother, Mrs. M. McGrath at Crowe Lake.

I NEVER RISK UNDIE ODOR—I'M A DAILY DIPPER
ALL DAINTY WOMEN ARE
Lux Daily Dippers
FOR DAINTINESS—
DIP YOUR UNDIES IN LUX TONIGHT
LUX
A Lever product

If you want to be popular, remember that today's undies should never be worn again tomorrow without a dip in Lux. For undies absorb perspiration which quickly leads to horrid "undie odor." Dip undies in Lux every night when you take them off. Lux removes perspiration—prevents odor. Join the Daily Dippers and keep your undies dainty and new looking!

Johnnie Bawden Hurls Corbys to 8-0 Victory Over Trenton Allowing Opposition Three Hits

Bawden Whiffs Ten And Caps Fine Game With Home Run in Seventh

PLAY WEDNESDAY

Firing three-hit ball Johnnie Bawden hurled the Corby's A.C. into a commanding position in the first round of Intermediate "A" O.A.S.A. playdowns here last night. Bawden was the No. 1 player as he struck out ten Trenton batters and added to his prowess with a seventh-inning home run as the Corby's nine downed the Trenton O.A.S.A. entry 8 to 0. The second game of a best-in-three series will be played in Trenton on Wednesday when it is expected that "Tiny" Davis, of the Airport and Connie Harris will battle it out on the respective hilltops.

Fielding a composite team from the best players in the Trenton loop, the Anderson-Baker et al Trenton nine tramped into town to give the Belleville softballers a lesson but they forgot to reckon with John Bawden. And that was a rather drastic lesson. Defensively the Trenton nine were on their toes, but in-so-far as hitting powers they were rather lax, as the best the visitors could do was to accumulate three hits, one being the only extra base hit of the game, a triple from the bat of Brian Casey, of the R.C.A.F., who remained at the hot corner when Bawden made the final hitter of the inning pop out. The other two hits garnered by the Trenton nine were singles from the bat of Catcher Henry.

Corby's Open Scoring

Corby's opened the scoring in the initial frame with three runs as Rowbotham strolled and scored on Henn's hit, who in turn went home on hits by Cy Barriage and Hamilton to give the homesters a three-run start. After scoring single runs in the third and fourth, Bawden cinched matters with a round-tripper in the seventh, with one aboard.

Collectively the Corby's nine played their best game of the season with Kiser, Bawden and Cy Barriage punching out needed base blows when hits meant runs.

The box score:

Trenton	Ab.	r.	h.
Austin, 1b.	4	0	0
Casey, 3b.	4	0	1
McColl, c.f.	4	0	0
Ellis, s.s.	3	0	0
Snape, 2b	3	0	0
Cooke, l.f.	2	0	0
Morin, r.f.	3	0	0
Henry, c.	3	0	2
Stacey, p.	3	0	0
Total	29	0	3

Corby's A.C.	Ab.	r.	h.
J. Barriage, l.f.	4	1	3
Rowbotham, c.	3	1	1
Henn, 2b	4	2	2
Kiser, r.f.	3	1	1
Cy Barriage, s.s.	3	1	2
Bawden, p.	4	1	2
Hamilton, 1b	4	0	1
C. Barriage, 3b	4	0	0
Lunberg, c.f.	4	0	0
Total	33	8	12

Score by innings: r. h. e.
Trenton ..0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 2
Corby's ...3 0 1 1 0 0 3 0 x—8 12 0

Summary — Three - base hits, Casey; runs batted in, Henn 3, Cy Barriage 2, Bawden 3; left on base, Trenton 3, Corby's 7; struck out, by Bawden 10, by Stacey 6; base on balls, off Bawden 1, off Stacey 3; sacrifice hit, Cy Barriage.

Umpires, Steenburg, Trenton, plate; Schrieder, Belleville, bases.

Fights Last Night

(By the Associated Press)

Augusta, Ga.—Ken Overlin, 164, Washington, D.C., knocked out Jimmy Marmoa, 159, Houston, Texas (3).

Chicago — Nick Castiglione, 138 1-4, Chicago, knocked out Joe Ghnouly, 134 3-4, Hammon, Ind. (1).

New York-Aaron Seltzer, 127 3-4, New York, knocked out Frank Archie, 129 3-4, New Brunswick, N.J. (3); Terry Young, 133, New York, outpointed Abe Kaufman, 135 3-4, Philadelphia, (8).

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	84	46	.646
Montreal	79	53	.589
Buffalo	75	57	.568
Jersey City	65	61	.5158
Rochester	68	64	.5151
Syracuse	61	70	.466
Baltimore	44	81	.352
Toronto	44	88	.333

Monday Results.

Jersey City 2-5; Rochester 1-2.
Buffalo 6; Baltimore 1.
(Only games scheduled).

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	80	39	.672
Chicago	62	55	.530
Cleveland	59	54	.5221
Boston	60	55	.5217
Detroit	53	63	.457
Philadelphia	51	63	.447
Washington	47	65	.420
St. Louis	47	65	.420

Monday Results

Washington 4; Cleveland 2.
Boston at St. Louis postponed.
New York at Detroit postponed.
(Only games scheduled)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	73	40	.646
St. Louis	72	41	.637
Cincinnati	62	49	.559
Pittsburgh	60	50	.545
New York	56	55	.505
Chicago	49	67	.422
Boston	46	66	.411
Philadelphia	31	81	.277

Monday Results

Cincinnati 13-5; Philadelphia 5-4.
New York 6-7; Chicago 4-1.
Brooklyn 6; Pittsburgh 5.
(Only games scheduled)

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Columbus 8; Kansas City 4.
Indianapolis 2; Minneapolis 3.

CANAM.

First game—Rome 1 at Oneonta 7.
Second game—Rome 4; Oneonta 13.
First game—Three Rivers 3 at Gloversville 4.
Second game—Three Rivers 5; Gloversville 6.
Amsterdam 8 at Pittsfield 8—tie game called in eighth darkness.
Quebec 8 at Utica 1.

Sports Roundup

(By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.)
(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Jacobs Beachcombers are arguing whether Tami Mauriello isn't being rushed along too fast. . .Champion Gus Lesnevich, who he fights next week, will be the first full-fledged 175-pounder Tami ever has tackled. . . . Steve Owen offered to pick a baseball team from his football jints squad and take on the Superior (Wis.) Northern League Club in a benefit game but after seeing Tackle Johnny Melius warm up his pitching arm, Superior officials nixed the idea . .. . Bob Jones, who only plays in charity matches now, will make his first appearance in Connecticut Sept. 13 when he and Jimmy Thomson take on him Demaget and Dan Calgano at Stamford's Woodway Club.

Seeing double.

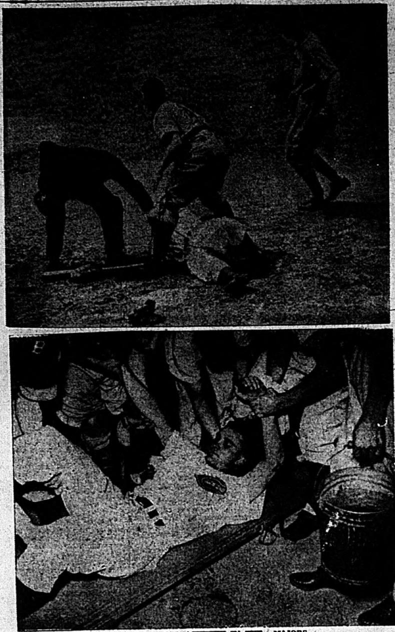
Xavier U. at Cincinnati should be at least two deep this football season . . . Head Coach Clem Crowe will be assisted by his brother Emmett. The squad includes twin brothers, Robert and Richard Heister, who play centre and quarterback. The schedule opens with Georgetown, Ky., and closes with Georgetown, D.C., and, to complete the roundup, two jubilees of the Jesuit Order will be celebrated during the Centennial Day game November 29.

Why golfers get goofy.

Hank Garbiner, who won the Wisconsin State open, used to be a ball player and looked to be headed for the majors until he was skulled and decided golf was safer. . . Lowest score on record was made by a fellow in North Dakota who was playing golf for the first time. . . He sliced his drive from the first tee and holed it out on the ninth green.

EX-CHAMP WINNING BACK HER CROWN

Miss Helen Crlenkovich, of San Francisco, who lost her diving crown to Marjorie Gestring last year, is shown winning it back at the women's national swimming championship. She is caught by the camera in a 2 1-2 gaynor. Miss Crlenkovich is rated by some experts as the best woman diver in the western hemisphere.



BEAN-BALL ACTIVITY IN THE MAJORS

TOP of panel shows Frank McCormick, of Cincinnati Reds taking the count after being felled by a wild pitch thrown by Kirk Higbe, Brooklyn boxman. He soon recovered. LOWER shot shows Mickey Owen, Brooklyn backstop, twisting in agony after being struck by a wide toss thrown by Johnny Podgajny, Philadelphia pitcher. Umpire Ralph Pinelli, Catcher Warren and Podgajny are the other figures shown. Owen was not seriously hurt.

Collapse of Indians Provides Biggest Mystery of the Major Baseball Season Say Experts

At One Time Cleveland Was a Full Seven Games in Front and Now in Fourth Place

DODGERS WIN

(By Judson Bailey)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The most mystifying development of the big league baseball season is what has happened to Cleveland Indians.

This is the team that many persons picked to win the American League pennant (business of blushing by shrinking violets suddenly exposed to a searching light) and at one stage of the race it was seven full games out in front.

This is the team with the greatest pitcher in baseball, with the best second base combination in the league, with harmony among its players, with balance of pitching, fielding and batting strength.

This is the team that finished one game away from the championship in 1940 and couldn't miss in 1941. This is the team that has lost 12 of its last 13 decisions, that has sunk to fourth place and is still sinking.

Lose to Senators

Even teams like the Phillies and the Browns and the Senators, which have sunk about as low as they can go, win once in a while but the Indians have been going practically weeks at a time without winning.

They lost a 4-2 affair to Washington last night to let the Senators climb out of a tie for the cellar. In desperation Manager Roger Peckinpaugh started a Rookie named Steve Gromek, who was acquired last week from the Class D Michigan State League. He walked a couple and gave up three singles and double for three Washington runs in the third inning and after that the game was no contest.

Handful of Fans Out

The tryst was kept in Municipal Stadium, where a night game last month drew 67,500 fans, but only 8,365 customers turned out for this one.

Brooklyn Dodgers succeeded in inflating their suddenly acquired National League lead to a full game while St. Louis Cardinals were idle.

The Dodgers beat Pittsburgh Pirates 6-5 on Pete Reiser's home run in the ninth inning, but they probably would have instilled more confidence among their followers if they also had taken the day off.

Brooklyn's often praised infield made six (count 'em) errors and gave the Pirates four unearned runs, which nearly cost the ball game. But Joe Medwick's home run and Reiser's triple with two men on base in the early innings kept disaster away from Ebbets Field.

The defeat was Pittsburgh's sixth in eight games and bumped the Buccaneers out of their place in the senior circuit as Cincinnati Reds came up with a double-decker triumph over the Phillies.

Reds Win Two

The Reds won the first game 13-5 with a 14-hit offensive that was concentrated for ten runs in the first two innings. Then they came from behind with a four-run seventh-inning rally to capture the second session 5-4. Gene Thompson pitched nine-hit ball and fanned nine in the latter game.

New York's in-and-out Giants tumbled the tottering Chicago Cubs in both ends of a doubleheader 6-4 and 7-1 for Chicago's 15th setback in 20 games Hal Schumacher pitched seven-hit ball in the opener and Lefty Cliff Melton, who had hurled a three-hit shutout against the Dodgers in his last start, came right back with a four-hit job that kept the Cubs blanked after the first inning.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Pete Reiser, Dodgers—Hit two-run triple in third inning and then came back with ninth-inning home run to beat Pirates.

Hal Schumacher and Ciff Melton, Giants — Former pitched seven-hit ball and latter came up with four-hitter to sweep doubleheader from Cubs.

Bill Werber and Gene Thompson, Reds—Former batted in five runs with three hits to help beat Phils in the first game and latter kept nine hits spaced to take nightcap.

Steve Sundra, Senators—Subdued Indians on seven hits.

Sports Cocktail

Kirby Higbe claims he's going to get a harness maker to fit him with blinkers. "I'm working like a horse so I might as well go around looking like one", he maintains.

BOXING TITLE PUT ON LINE

Montreal Boxers to Square Off in Rubber Match For Welterweight Crown

Montreal, Aug. 19—(CP) — The Canadian welterweight boxing title will be the stake tonight as two Montreal fighters, Maxie Berger and Dave Castilloux, come to grips at the baseball stadium here in a 10-round bout.

With Nat Fleischer, of New York as referee, the two will enter the ring all even as each won two bouts in four previous meetings.

Promoter Jimmy McKimmie said last night that he expected a crowd of close to 15,000 to turn out for the tussle which headlines a card filled to the brim with upcoming Montreal fighters.

In a semi-final bout Eddie Petrin, now a private in the Canadian (Active) Army, will defend his Canadian bantamweight crown against Danny Webb, another Montrealer, in an eight-round affair.

SUCH LANGUAGE

Regina (CP)—Delegates to the Baptist Union of Western Canada Convention here recently heard speeches in seven tongues, German, Hungarian, Czecho-Slovakian, Polish, Ukranian, Swedish and English.

FORMER CRIPPLE WINS NATIONAL HONORS

A cripple for the first eight years of her life, Miss Nancy Merki, 14-year-old Portland, Ore., girl, is shown here as she received a medal from Curtis Smithdeal, meet official, at High Point, N.C., after she had set a new U.S. record for the 1,500-metre event at the national A.A.U. women's swimming championships.

ROCHESTER WINGS LOSE TWIN BILL TO JERSEY CITY

Rochester Now in Second Division And Likely to Stay There

HUTCHINSON WINS

(By the Associated Press)

Rochester Red Wings, who threatened for a time to be real permanent contenders in the International League this season, now look as if they'll be lucky to get into the playoffs. They're in the second division today for the first time and the kind of ball they have been playing lately isn't likely to put them ahead of the hot-and-cold Jersey Giants.

Of course, there have been a number of changes in the Rochester line-up since mid-June, when the Wings were in second place, and apparently the boys with whom the club is building for the future aren't ready yet to be serious contenders. Then, too, their pitching has slipped off considerably, only two starters going the route in the last 15 games.

Defeated in Double Header

The Wings dropped behind Jersey City by a margin of less than one percentage point last night when the Little Giants won their second straight doubleheader, 2-1 and 5-2. The opener was a pitching duel between Hugh East and Lefty Wissman in which each allowed four hits. The big difference was that all four Jersey hits came in the fifth, when Buster Maynard's triple sent home both runs. A remarkable feature was that Jersey City didn't have a runner left on base.

The Jerseys also had one big inning in the nightcap, winning their fourth successive game that way. Hy Vandenberg shut them out for six innings, then faced in the seventh and the Little Giants pushed over four runs. Mickey Witek cleared the bases and drove Vandenberg to the showers with a three-bagger.

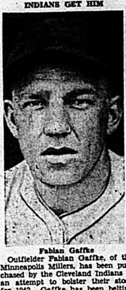
Hutchinson Wins Another

Last night's only other game saw Buffalo's Freddy Hutchinson chalk up his 23rd victory of the season, beating Baltimore 6-1 to end the Orioles' five-game winning streak. Freddy not only held the Birds to three hits — one a homer by Tom Hafey—and fanned six, but he connected for three singles himself, drove in one run and scored two. Mayo Smith also made three of the Bisons' dozen blows.

EDITED PRETORIA PAPER

Pretoria, South Africa (CP) — Vere Stent, author and journalist, died here at the age of 69. He established the Pretoria News and for many years served as editor and manager of the paper.

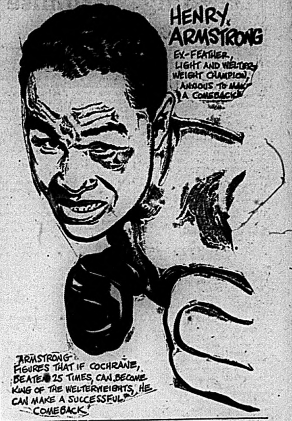
INDIANS GET HIM



Fabian Gaffke

Outfielder Fabian Gaffke, of the Minneapolis Millers, has been purchased by the Cleveland Indians in an attempt to bolster their stock for 1942 Gaffke has been belting the ball at a heavy pace. He formerly played with the Boston Red Sox.

MAY TRY AGAIN By Jack Sords



HENRY ARMSTRONG
EX-FEATHER, LIGHT AND WELTER-WEIGHT CHAMPION, ANXIOUS TO MAKE A COMEBACK
ARMSTRONG FIGURES THAT IF COCHRANE, BEATEN 25 TIMES, CAN BECOME KING OF THE WELTERWEIGHTS, HE CAN MAKE A SUCCESSFUL COMEBACK

Between Innings

GOSSIP NEWS COMMENT

Jess Baker, President of the Trenton Softball League, and his henchman, Andy Anderson, moved into town last night with a composite collection of softball players from Trenton and the Airport in their initial trial in the realm of Intermediate "A" softball playdowns in the O.A.S.A. True enough, Trenton, Wooler and the Air Force have won honors in the provincial softball realm in years past, but Mister Baker's nine had never contemplated the class "A" playing of a Belleville, Kingston or Peterboro class "A" team, especially when Johnnie Bawden was, what is referred to as "HOT". Last night the Trenton "mushballers" Brian Casey, Tiny Davis, Jim Stacey et al saw softball pitching that let the best Trenton had down with three hits, as Bawden gave the western village boys a real treat in the art of firing softballs.

Corbys snapped out of what seemed to be an apparent lapse in the city series and really played softball versus the picked Trenton nine last night, Johnnie Bawden hurled three-hit ball to assure a win and his teammates banged out an even dozen hits from the offerings of elongated Jim Stacey, who pitched the Continental Can into a loop title. The Trenton nine still have "Tiny" Davis to hurl against Corbys on Wednesday in Trenton, but providing the locals play the same type of softball behind Connie Harris, as they did last night, the series should terminate in two games. However, we can't sell the Trenton "all-stars" short, but if last night's performance is any criterion Skippers Anderson and Baker had better remain in their own category. (We had better win, or else).

Do you remember when Sam Snead won the Canadian Open Golf championship at Toronto a year ago today when Harold (Jug) McSpaden missed a two-foot putt on the final green of their 18-hole playoff. Slammin' Sammy posted a 71 to the defending champion's 72. The playoff was forced when both finished the regulation 72 holes in 281. Snead won again this year.

The boxing firm of Henry Armstrong, one-time holder of three world titles, and Eddie Mead, his manager, grossed in excess of $300,000 in 67 fights.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, shopping for a right-handed hitting outfielder, have turned attention to minor leagues. Among those under observation is Bill Marshall, 20-year-old Atlanta outfielder who finished second in runs batted in last year in the Southern association.

Golfers at both the Belleville and Country Club are narrowing out in their respective club championships. Out on the eastern club nine holes they boast a 17-year-old lad, who is burning up the course in the club championships and is expected to give the perennial champion, Harry Ridley, a real argument for the silverware this year. The lad in question is Art Bridge, who is playing his first year of competitive golf. Young Bridge averages 225 yards on his drives, but his great forte is his deadly iron play. Wally Waldorf is still very much in the running for the Belleville Golf top honors this year, but Tommy Carruthers has been advised by his physician to refrain from competitive golf for the remainder of the season. Out at the Country Club, games chairman Sid Howell says the boys are a little slow in their club eliminations, but bulletins have been posted asking the players to swing into action pronto as champions for the Jewellers and Tip Top cups must be decided this month.

When diplomas were all distributed at the University of Virginia, the Phillies had an answer to the brother battery of Cooper and Cooper, which featured the spring drive for first place of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Manager Doc Prothro's prize is a one-man battery in the person of Bill Harman, president of the Virginia student body, cum laude graduate, and, for baseball purposes, a combination pitcher and catcher. In Bill's National league debut in Cincinnati, he caught Grissom a couple of innings, then went into the box and pitched the last round, allowing the Reds two hits and one run.

If Harman sticks to catching, he'll rate as the National league's tallest maskman. As a pitcher, his 6 feet 4 is topped by a couple of Meltons, his teammate, Rueben Franklin, and Cliff of the Giants, who stand 6:05 and 6:05 1-2, respectively.

"Red" Townsend's Esquire juniors did not go to Oshawa for the opening of the zone finals in the junior O.A.S.A. playdowns. It seems Skipper Townsend received notification from the Provincial softball bigwigs instructing the local juniors not to go to Oshawa, as they were having some difficulty over the possible eligibility of the championship club, players or something of that nature, which may or may not be facts. However, your newsboy remembers reading a little note in Scribe George Campbell's column regarding an extended play-off, or something of that nature, in the Oshawa junior finals. Scribe Campbell went on to say something about Belleville being scheduled to play in Oshawa on Monday "if the Oshawa junior playdowns are concluded." Every year it's the same, Belleville clubs conform to the O.A.S.A. regulations and declare league winners on or before the appointed date for provincial play-offs to commence, while places like Peterboro, Kingston and Oshawa declare their O.A.S.A. representatives just when they please.

If the National league race gets tight, the Cincinnati Reds are going to have a great break on the schedule. They have a string of home dates in September and will be playing on familiar ground before friendly faces.

No rookie ever won a big league championship in batting. Suppose Pete Reiser leads the National league this year. Is he a rookie after having played in 58 games the season before?

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By The Associated Press)

AMERICAN

Batting—Williams, Boston, .405.
Runs—Dimaggio, New York, 112.
Runs Batted in — Dimaggio, New York, 112.
Hits—Dimaggio, New York, 169.
Doubles — Dimaggio, New York, and Boudreau, Cleveland, 36.
Triples—Heath, Cleveland, and Travis, Washington, 12.
Home Runs—Keller, New York, 29
Stolen Bases—Case, Washington, 19.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 11-4

NATIONAL

Batting—Etten, Philadelphia, .333
Runs—Hack, Chicago 84.
Hits—Hack, Chicago and Moore, St. Louis, 139.
Runs Batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 89.
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 34.
Triples—Reiser, Brooklyn, Hopp and Slaughter, St. Louis 9.
Home Runs —Camilli, Brooklyn, 24.

Rent that Spare Room from a Want Ad

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER
WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per Insertion	30c
Two Insertions	60c
Three Insertions	75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number	extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.
Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS
REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL
17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1972
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE
Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Fibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J., 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE". 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 236 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 800. Lady attendant.

E. E. and VERA E. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 63½ Bridge St., East, Belleville. Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loss half its terrors when you're protecting with our Fire Insurance.
SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE
249½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE
General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass
278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES
THE PEOPLE VS. DR. KILDARE
Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day
2.40 — 7.00 — 9.50
A VERY YOUNG LADY
Jane Withers, John Sutton
4.00 — 8.20

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES
THREE LOVES HAS NANCY
Janet Gaynor, Franchot Tone, Robert Montgomery
2.45 — 7.20 — 10.15
THE WARE CASE
Clive Brook, Jane Baxter
3.50 — 9.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES
PUDDIN' HEAD
Judy Canova, Francis Lederer
7.10 — 10.00
SALOON BAR
Gordon Harker, Elizabeth Allan
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

WANTED

WILL PAY CASH FOR CLARINET, tenor saxophone and bass viol. G. Brown, Phone 2119R. A19

WARM, COMFORTABLE ROOM with board, by woman. Write Box 43, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

4 OR 5 ROOMED HOUSE OR APARTMENT by September 1st, by couple. No children. Phone 1733. A19-3t

2 MEN TO WORK AT ROOFING. Apply on the job at Pine Street School. A19

BUSINESS MAN, WANTS GOOD house or apartment, furnished or unfurnished, at least 3 bedrooms. Will pay up to $55 monthly. Apply Box 47, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

CHILD'S PLAY PEN, IN GOOD condition. Phone 1901. A19

USED GRAMAPHONE, TABLE model preferred. Must be in good repair. Phone 1862W. A19

DELIVERY BOY. APPLY 156 W. Moira. A19

POSITION AS GENERAL HOUSEMAN and cook. Good references. Apply Box 46 Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

FUR FINISHER OR GIRL WITH some dressmaking experience. Apply Woodley's Fur Store. A19-3t

GIRL WHO IS RAPID IN ARITHMETIC, shorthand and typing. Cost experience preferred. Write Box 26. A19

EXPERIENCED TRUCK DRIVER for country work. References. Citizens Dairy. A19-2t

TO RENT, HOUSE WITH MODERN conveniences; three or four bedrooms, by permanent resident. Phone 1701. J. W. Evans. A18-3t

GENTLEMAN BOARDER TO share large front bedroom with young man working nights. Separate beds. All conveniences. 221 Charles St. or Phone 214J. A18-3t

AT ONCE, RADIO REPAIR MAN. Apply in person at Hitchon Radio Service, 24 Victoria Ave. A18-3t

BOARDERS WANTED. GOOD home; continuous hot water; garage. Phone 2217M. A18-2t

BOY WANTED TO LEARN THE Baking. Hannah's Bakery. A18-3t

HOUSEKEEPER, MIDDLE AGED, good plain cook. Sleep in. References. Apply Mrs. George Forhan, 182 John St. A18-3t

GIRL OR WOMAN FOR HOUSEWORK. Apply 163 Pinnacle St. A18-3t

POSITION AS HOUSEKEEPER for adults, no children. Apply 272 Coleman St., c/o Mrs. Coonie. A18-2t

3 OR 4 ROOM HEATED APARTMENT and furnished by September 1, by two business girls. Phone 1342. A16-3t

FARM 10 TO 50 ACRES IN THE vicinity of Belleville. Write Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer. A16-6t

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. References. Apply McKenzie's Beauty Parlor. Phone 851. A16-3t

BEVERAGE ROOM WAITERS. Experienced men only need apply. Hotel Belvedere. A13tf

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A13-12t

NOTICE

All members of Emmanuel Church are requested to meet at the Sunday School rooms at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening. A19

32 Queen St.
Between
WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.
FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fireplaces; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE
FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN
(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)
166 Front St. Phone 99

TURN YOUR SPARE ROOM INTO MONEY.

WRITE YOUR AD.
NOW AND PHONE
IT TO 99.

FOR SALE

4 MALE COCKER SPANIELS. Two white, one red, one black. 161A Mary St. A19

QUEBEC HEATER; LARGE ELECTRIC heater; cutter and sleigh. Phone 1414J. A19-3t

TWO GOODYEAR TIRES AND tubes, 600 x 21, in good condition. Apply 23 Earl St. A19

1937 CHEV. ½-TON PANEL truck, finish dark blue and in first class condition throughout, including tires. Apply Mr. Scott, Cities Service Station, tonight, after 7 p.m. A19

3 H.P. ENGINE, ELECTRIC PRESSURE system, Tractors, Gang Plows, Disc Plows, Cream Separators, Wagon, Harness, 3 Young Horses, Spring Tooth Cultivators. All in A1 shape. McCormick - Deering Agent, H. J. Ward, 380 Front St. A19-2t

OR RENT, THREE FARMS FROM 50 to 150 acres; plenty water and wood. Stock and implements if desired. Easy terms. Dr. Carleton, Thomasburg. A19-23-26-30

BUNGALOW IN NAPANEE, FIVE rooms, fir trimmed, Hydro, cistern. Price: Fifteen Hundred. Cheap taxes. Mrs. Robert Noyes, Route 2, Belleville. A19-3t

GOOD GRAIN AND HAY FARM, one mile north of Stirling. Geo. Griffin farm. Apply at farm or Mrs. Garney Reid, 236 Coleman St., Belleville. A19

OR RENT, HUNDRED ACRES, suitable for tractor; fifty pasture and wood, good building, plenty water; Hydro available. Apply Bert McCamon, Thomasburg. A18-3t

USED BEATTY WASHER, COPPER tub. Splendid condition, $49. Terms to suit. Walker Hardware Co. Ltd., 248-250 Front St. A18-3t

'29 CHEV. COACH, GOOD CONDITION, privately owned. Cheap for cash. Apply 136 John after 7 p.m. A18-3t

OR EXCHANGE, ON FARM —frame house in Stirling. Garden and barn. Apply Mrs. Harry McPherson, R. R. 6, Belleville. A18-3t

USED KELVINATOR, MEDIUM size, thoroughly reconditioned. Porcelain inside and out, $125. Terms to suit. Walker Hardware Co. Ltd., 248-250 Front St. A18-3t

OR RENT, FARM, 100 ACRES, 7th. Con. Rawdon; fair buildings; wood. Reasonable. Mrs. L. Gummer, R. 1, Stirling. A18-3t

YOUNG BAY MARE, SUITABLE for farm work or delivery. Reasonable. Bert Bush, R. 2, Frankford. A18-3t

MEAT SLICER, SPLENDID CONDITION, cost $250; for $75. Terms to suit. Walker Hardware Co. Ltd., 248-250 Front St. A18-3t

HOUSE, 153 PINNACLE STREET, 15 rooms, suitable for apartment house or rooming house. $3000. House 151 Pinnacle St., 7 rooms, $1500. All conveniences. Apply on premises. A16-6t

SEVEN ROOM HOUSE, COMFORTABLE and bright, on Grier St. Good garden lot. Write Box 53, Ontario Intelligencer. A14-5t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue —Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

FOR SALE

DOUBLE BED WITH SPRINGS and mattress; also bed couch and buffet. Phone 996W. A19

RED BRICK BUILDING, CONTAINING excellent lumber, sheeting, joist. Intending builder assured big saving. A bargain. Box 41, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-2t

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

TO LET

LARGE BEDROOM, SUITABLE for 1 or 2 gentlemen. Phone 1895 or Apply 32 Sinclair. A19-3t

SMALL FURNISHED APARTMENT with private entrance. Apply No. 1 Everett St. A18-3t

DAIRY FARM, 130 ACRES, SIDNEY, near Belleville; fully stocked. Write Box 57, Ontario Intelligencer. A18-3t

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED in country home near Belleville. All conveniences. For information, apply 280 Coleman St. A18-3t

WARM, COMFORTABLE BEDROOM. Gentleman preferred. Write Box 25, Ontario Intelligencer. A16-3t

PERSONAL

MEN! WANT NORMAL PEP, VIM? Try OSTREX TONIC tablets. Stimulants and oyster concentrates aid to normal pep. Results with first package or maker returns low price. For sale at all good drug stores.

IF YOU NEED $100
HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $500 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. 24 hour service, or sooner if necessary. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment.

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan 6 payments	10 payments	12 payments	15 payments
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2% monthly as authorized by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
Corporation of Canada
Established in Canada 1928
PETERBOROUGH, ONT.
Second Floor, Lansfield Block
177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws
M. E. Nolt, Manager Phone 5841

BIRTH

HILL — To Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hill (nee Helen E. Rodgers) at Private Patients' Pavilion, Toronto Western Hospital, on August 16, 1941, a son, William David. A19

DEATHS

WELLS — In Belleville on Monday morning, August 18, 1941, Edward D. Wells, in his 70th. year.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 223 William Street, on Wednesday morning, August 20th. Private service in the home at 11 o'clock.

Entombment in Mausoleum, Belleville cemetery.

Please omit flowers. A19

SCHWARTZ—In Belleville at his residence, 83 Victoria Avenue, on Tuesday morning, August 19th., 1941, William Schwartz, in his 77th. year.

Resting at the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street, from where the funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon, August 20. Service in the Chapel at 2.30 o'clock. Interment Belleville Cemetery. A19

MIKEL — Suddenly in Belleville on Tuesday morning, August 19th., 1941, Mrs. Josephine (Beckett) Mikel, widow of James Riley Mikel, in her 87th. year.

Resting at the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street, until this Tuesday evening, then at her late residence, 31 Octavia Street, from where the funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, August 21. Service in the home at 2.00 o'clock Interment Belleville Cemetery. A19

LOST

MONDAY, LADY'S WHITE GOLD wrist watch and bracelet, on Front St. Finder kindly leave at this office. Reward. A19

WILL TRUCK DRIVER WHO gave ride Saturday night to Airman please leave raincoat which was forgotten at Ontario Intelligencer office. A18-3t

ONE BACK RACK OFF YORK Trading truck between Demorestville and Belleville. Finder please Phone 711 Collect. A18-3t

FRIGIDAIRE
Refrigerators
and Ranges
$149.00 UP
TERMS TO SUIT
We recommend purchase at an early date, while we still have a supply at present prices.
Walker Hardware
COMPANY LIMITED.
248 - 250 Front Street
A18-19-20

DON'T INSURE
Until You Consult the Services of the
BAY OF QUINTE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICE
COUNTRY and CITY RATES on FIRE — AUTO — WINDSTORM and BURGLARY
C. W. BURR
219 Front St. Phone 964W
FeTuTf

$ $ $ $
Pay Your Bills
Quinte Finance will loan you money to centralize your debts, or for other purposes. $50 to $500 — and remember only Husband and Wife sign.
Quinte Finance
and
SECURITIES LTD.
163 Front St. Phone 163
$ $ $ $

LOVELY TO LOOK AT

A pair of champions, Helen Perry, Cleveland, indoor backstroke champion and Gloria Callen, New York, outdoor champion, are shown in beautiful action in the U.S. Women's National Championships at High Point, N.C.

U. S. ARMY DRAFT RULING EASES STRAIN ON LOOPS

Age Ceiling For Draft Set at 28 Years by U. S. Congress

MANY TO BE LET OUT

New York, Aug. 19 (AP) — The new United States army draft law, setting an age ceiling of 28 years for selective service recruits is expected to ease the strain that was beginning to be felt in the Major Baseball Leagues.

Besides providing a way for Corporal Hank Greenberg to exchange his army uniform for the garb in which he became a celebrated national figure, the law will make possible the deferment of a number of other prominent players who were in line for future call.

Greenberg, home-run star of the Detroit Tigers for many years, was 30 last Jan. 1. He was inducted into the army May 7 and since has been stationed at Camp Custer in Michigan. The Tigers had agreed to pay him his salary of $55,000 this season.

Hugh Mulcahy, leading pitcher of Philadelphia Phillies last season, apparently does not come within the scope of the law which provides that soldiers who had reached the age of 28 before July 1 might apply for discharge. Mulcahy will become 28 Sept. 1.

Travis to Benefit

Cecil Travis of Washington Senators, second-leading hitter in the Major Leagues this season, is one of the players likely to benefit from the new provision. He was classified 1-A last spring and has been continuing play with the Senators under a 60-day deferment granted by his draft board. However, he became 28 Aug. 8. Teammate Buddy Lewis, who was 28 Aug. 10, still will have to go, however, in the near future.

Beau Bell of Cleveland Indians, 3. years old, comes within the act. He had been classified 1-B because of varicose veins but had expected reclassification at the close of the season.

Joe Marty outfielder of the Phillies will be 28 Sept. 1 and now can look forward to deferment. Don Padgett of St. Louis Cardinals will be 28 Dec. 5.

Most Major League players 28 years old or over are married of course or have other dependents and already have been given deferred classification.

The status of the younger men has not been changed.

We Invite All
ATHLETE'S FOOT
Sufferers

No matter how long you have suffered with Athlete's Foot, no matter what you have tried to get rid of it, if just one small bottle of Cortisol does not show you the quick, easy way to clean up this trouble, it costs you nothing. Go to J. S. McKeown's and get a bottle of Cortisol today. The very first application will stop the itching and burning and a few day's use will completely kill the germ causing the infection. Remember your money back if you are not pleased. Clean, inexpensive, Cortisol will give quick and pleasing results.

Longest River—

The Mackenzie, which drains Great Slave Lake, is with its headwaters the longest river in Canada —2,514 miles.

Home Appliance
Trade-In Values

Stewart Warner Console, Electric	$12.50
Majestic Console, Electric	$19.50
DeForest Crosley, Battery Console, complete	$37.50
Serenader Battery, Console, complete	$35.00
Stewart-Warner, Battery, Console, complete	$35.00
Rogers, Battery, Mantel Model, complete	$45.00
Philco Console, Electric	$22.50
McClary 4-Burner Gas Stove, high back, enamel	$20.00
2 Burner Gas Stove, with oven	$12.50
1 Quebec Cook Stove, coal or wood, with high back and water front	$12.50
One Used Beatty Washer	$21.50
One Furnacette, in first class condition	$25.00
One Coal Heater	$5.00
One Electric Frigidaire, slightly used. A real buy	$149.50

Home Appliance Store
OPERATED BY ADAMS & VANDUSEN COMPANY
191 Front St. Phone 1181

See the NEW CONNOR THERMO WASHERS . . . and LEONARD ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS and GURNEY RANGES. Visit our showroom if you are going to buy a Radio.

Eddie Foy, Jr., and Raymond Walburn are seen here in a riotous scene from the new Judy Canova comedy, "Puddn' Head" now at the Capitol. "Saloon Bar," the exciting "Spanner Mystery" is on the same program.

Northbound Rivers—

Water from more than half the Dominion drains into Hudson Bay and the Arctic Ocean.

Trails of the Parks—

Canada's national parks have nearly 700 miles of motor highways and 3,000 miles of trails.

DEATH, WHERE IS THY STING?

What worse fate could befall these baseball fans who, with mournful faces, watch their beloved Brooklyn Dodgers take a double trimming at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N.Y., to send them tumbling down into second place? The hated New York Giants are responsible for this sad scene. The scores were 8-5, 2-0.

NICE PITCHING, TOMMY

Tommy Harmon, Michigan's all-American football star, demonstrated his skill as a pitcher by neatly tossing an oversized garter over the leg of a show girl at Earl Carroll's night club in Hollywood and for his reward won kisses from the showgirls.

F. D. R. Tells Lieutenants Of Rendezvous

Further Lease-Lend Appropriations Discussed by Senator Barkley

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP) —President Roosevelt gave Congressional lieutenants a picture today of his dramatic conferences with Prime Minister Churchill and discussed with them a further lease-lend appropriation.

Senate Democratic leader Alban Barkley of Kentucky, said the group had had a "very interesting" conference but that he could not say much about it because it was confidential.

But he said the Senate and House of Representatives leaders had received as full an account of the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting as it was possible to condense three days of conference into a discussion lasting an hour and a half.

Further Lease-Lend Appropriation

"The question of further lease-lend appropriation was discussed," he asserted. "The budget is studying it. There has been no decision on the amount. When the budget is through with it, there will be a further communication to Congress on the subject."

This he indicated, may not come for several weeks, and at least not before Congress resumes a full schedule.

Nobody knows exactly how large the Lease-Lend fund will be, Barkley declared, nor "what it involves in the way of needs and equipment." Probably nobody will know he said, until the budget bureaus completes its study.

May Go as High as Ten Billions

There has been speculation that the second Lease-Lend fund may go as high as $10,000,000,000.

Asked whether the Japanese situation was discussed at today's conference, Barkley said it had been mentioned but only casually and that there was "nothing very definite about it."

Persian Hospitality

Kashabowie, Ont.,—(CP)—A Persian cat and her two kittens at Kashabowie, Ont., have adopted a motherless baby chick and accept her as one of the family.

FOR WAR PURPOSES

Ottawa (CP)—Since the war began the Canadian and British governments have underwritten capital advance of some $425,000,000 for construction of war industries and enlargement of existing plants.

NO SATISFACTORY EXPLANATION GIVEN SAY SCORDELL HULL

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP) — State Secretary Cordell Hull said today Japan had given no satisfactory explanation for refusing to allow some 100 private United States citizens to leave that country.

He said the matter was still under discussion but he declined to disclose the subject of a long talk today between Ambassador Joseph C. Grew and the Japanese foreign minister in Tokyo.

Tokyo reports said the two were believed to have discussed matters of the utmost importance.

Japan's refusal to permit the 100 Americans to leave prevented their evacuation on the S.S. President Coolidge which was to have been diverted for that purpose.

Hull said his talk yesterday with President Roosevelt, on the latter's return from his historic meeting with Prime Minister Churchill, covered every geographical area in some form or another.

He declined, however, to disclose any details.

MEN OF 28 RELIEVED FROM SERVICE

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed into law today legislation to relieve men 28 years and older from active military duty under the United States Selective Service Act.

The new law provides mandatory department for men not yet inducted and directs that those of the specified age who request it shall be released from service "as soon as practicable and when not in conflict with the interests of national defence."

The President was expected to sign later in the day a bill extending the service of the rank and file of the army 18 months.

FELL FROM CLIFF

London (CP) — When 10-year-old Cyril Kinly of Peel went our to the cliffs to collect seagull's eggs he became excited and fell into the sea. His body was found several hours later.

COMEDIAN HONORED

London (CP)—After a concert at which George Formby, British comedian, entertained troops, Queen Mary posed with him and his wife for a photograph. The Queen mother subscribed to his fund for distressed in blitzed areas.

HAD OPPOSITE EFFECT

London (CP)—German propaganda leaflets dropped in the south of England helped swell Britain's Spitfire Fund. A cottager found a parcel and sold the leaflets at a penny each.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

TUESDAY, AUGUST 19.

4.15—Club Matinee—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring's Orchestra — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
8.00—Johnny Presents Ray Bloch's Orch.—WEAF
8.00—Court of Missing Heirs — WABC, WGR
8.30—Horace Heidt's Treasure Chest—WEAF, WGY
8.30—First Nighter—WABC, CFRB, WHAM, WJZ
8.30—Musical Rendezvous—CBL
9.00—Masterworks of the Pianoforte—CBL
9.00—We, the People—WABC
9.00—Battle of the Sexes, Frank Crumit and Julia Sanderson —WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hap Hazard Show—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Report to the Nation—WABC, WGR
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orchestra — WABC, WGR
10.00—Annual K. of C. States Dinner—WJZ
10.15 — Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
10.30—College Humor — WEAF, WGY
10.45—News of the World—WABC, WGR
11.00—Fred Waring's Orch. — WTAM
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Dolly Dawn's Orch.—WJZ

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20.

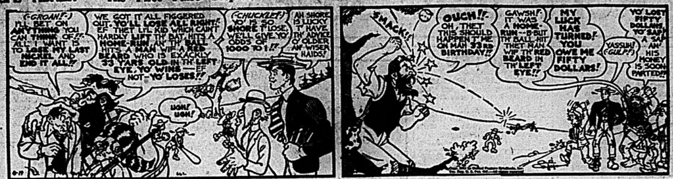
7.45—News—CKCL
8.00—News—CBL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
11.00—Treet Time; Buddy Clark, vocalist—WABC, WGR
12.30—Nat'l Farm and Home Hour; Defense News—WJZ, WHAM
1.15—Vincent Lopez' Orchestra — WHAM
4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
7.30—Meet Mr. Meek, comedy drama—WABC, WGR
7.30—Defense of Canada Regulations—CBL
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Adventures of the Thin Man WEAF, WGY
8.00—Grand Central Station—WABC, CFRB
8.00—Quiz Kids—WJZ, WHAM CBL
8.30—Manhattan at Midnight — WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Dr. Christian, sketch —WJR WABC
8.30—Plantation Party — WEAF, WGY
9.00—Quizzer Baseball; Budd Hulick, m.c.—WEAF, WGY
9.00—Treasury Hour; Millions for Defence; Al Goodman's Orch.; Guests: Groucho Marx, the Quiz Kids, the cast of the "Gay Nineties Revue" and Robt. Weede, baritone—WABC, WGR
9.00—Hemisphere Revue; Ben Grauer, M.C.—WJZ
9.00—Canada's Answer—CBL
9.30—From Vancouver—CBL
10.00—Kay Kyser's Program — WEAF, WGY
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch. — WABC, WGR
10.00—Serenade for Strings—CBL
10.15—Public Affairs—WABC, WGR
10.30—They Fly For Freedom—CBL
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—BBC Newsreel—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orchestra—WJZ, WHAM

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

LI'L ABNER — His First False Step!!

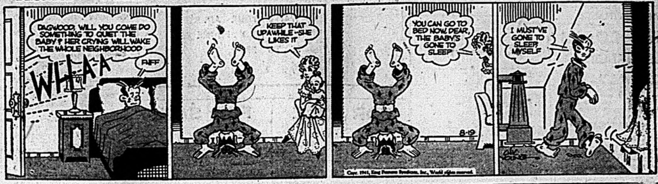
By Al Capp



(-GROAN!-) I'LL BET ON ANYTHING YOU CAN THINK OF!! ALL I WANT IS TO LOSE MY LAST NICKEL AND END IT ALL!!
WE GOT IT ALL FIGGERED OUT-YO'LL LOSE ALL RIGHT! EF THET LI'L KID WHICH CAIN'T HARDLY LIFT TH' BAT HITS A HOME-RUN AN' TH' BALL HITS A MAN WIF A RED BEARD WHO IS EXACKLY 33 YARS OLD IN TH' LEFT EYE, YO' WINS — EF NOT-YO' LOSES!!
(-CHUCKLE!-) YO' IS SO SHORE T'LOSE, WE'LL GIVE YO' ODDS OF 1000 TO 1!!
AH SHORE IS LUCKY T' HAVE TH' ADVICE O' OLDER AN' WISER HAIDS!
UGH! UGH!
8-19
SMACK!!
OUCH!!- OH, THET THIS SHOULD HAPPEN T' ME ON MAH 33RD BIRTHDAY!!
GAWSH!- IT WAS A HOME-RUN--B-BUT TH' BALL HIT THET MAN WIF TH' RED BEARD IN TH' LEFT EYE!!
MY LUCK HAS TURNED! YOU OWE ME FIFTY DOLLARS!
YASSUH! (-GULP!-)
YO' LOST FIFTY DOLLAHS, YO' SAP! A SAP AN' HIS MONEY IS SOON PARTED!!

BLONDIE — Slumber Acrobatics

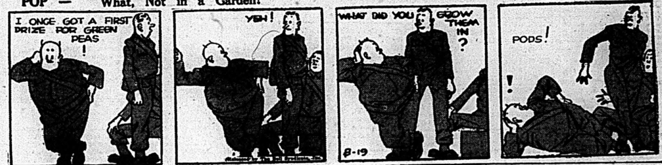
By Chic Young



DAGWOOD, WILL YOU COME DO SOMETHING TO QUIET THE BABY? HER CRYING WILL WAKE THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD
WHAA
PFFF
KEEP THAT UP A WHILE - SHE LIKES IT
YOU CAN GO TO BED NOW, DEAR, THE BABY'S GONE TO SLEEP
8-19
I MUST'VE GONE TO SLEEP MYSELF
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

POP — What, Not in a Garden?

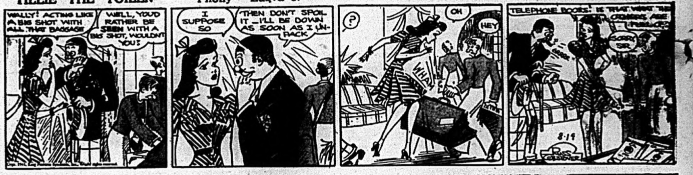
By J. Millar Watt



I ONCE GOT A FIRST PRIZE FOR GREEN PEAS !
YEH!
WHAT DID YOU GROW THEM IN ?
8-19
PODS!
!

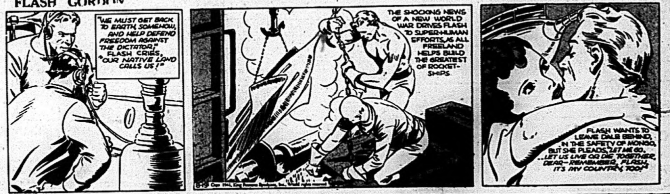
TILLIE THE TOILER — "Phony" Luggage!

By Russ Westover



WALLY! ACTING LIKE A BIG SHOT WITH ALL THAT BAGGAGE
WELL, YOU'D RATHER BE SEEN WITH A BIG SHOT, WOULDN'T YOU?
I SUPPOSE SO
THEN DON'T SPOIL IT — I'LL BE DOWN AS SOON AS I UNPACK
?
OH
HEY
WHAM
TELEPHONE BOOKS! IS THAT WHAT THE CORNERS ARE ...
SORRY SIR
8-19
RUSS WESTOVER

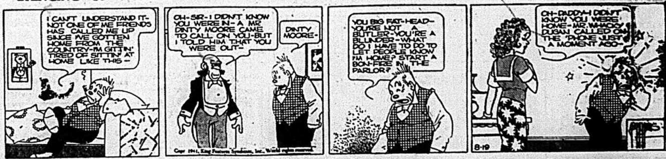
FLASH GORDON



"WE MUST GET BACK TO EARTH SOMEHOW, AND HELP DEFEND FREEDOM AGAINST THE DICTATOR," FLASH CRIES, "OUR NATIVE LAND CALLS US!"
THE SHOCKING NEWS OF A NEW WORLD WAR DRIVES FLASH TO SUPER-HUMAN EFFORTS, AS ALL FREELAND HELPS BUILD THE GREATEST OF ROCKET-SHIPS.
FLASH WANTS TO LEAVE DALE BEHIND, IN THE SAFETY OF MONGO, BUT SHE PLEADS, "LET ME GO. . . LET US LIVE OR DIE TOGETHER, DEAR— REMEMBER, FLASH, IT'S MY COUNTRY, TOO!"
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

BRINGING UP FATHER —

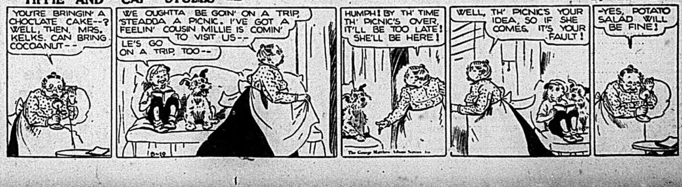
By George McManus



I CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT- NOT ONE OF ME FRIENDS HAS CALLED ME UP SINCE WE GOTTEN HOME FROM THE COUNTRY- I'M GITTIN' TIRED OF SITTIN' AT HOME LIKE THIS -
OH-SIR- I DIDN'T KNOW YOU WERE IN- A MR DINTY MOORE CAME TO CALL ON YOU- BUT I TOLD HIM THAT YOU WERE OUT-
DINTY MOORE-
YOU BIG FAT-HEAD- YOU'RE NOT A BUTLER- YOU'RE A BLUNDER- WHAT DO I HAVE TO DO TO LET PEOPLE KNOW I'M HOME? START A BON-FIRE IN THE PARLOR?
OH- DADDY- I DIDN'T KNOW YOU WERE HOME- MR. WHACKY DUGAN CALLED ON THE 'PHONE JUST A MOMENT AGO-
8-19
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



YOU'RE BRINGIN' A CHOC'LATE CAKE--? WELL, THEN, MRS. KELKS CAN BRING COCOANUT--
WE OUGHTTA BE GOIN' ON A TRIP, 'STEADDA A PICNIC. I'VE GOT A FEELIN' COUSIN MILLIE IS COMIN' TO VISIT US--
LE'S GO ON A TRIP, TOO--
8-19
HUMPH! BY TH' TIME TH' PICNIC'S OVER, IT'LL BE TOO LATE! SHE'LL BE HERE!
WELL, TH' PICNIC'S YOUR IDEA, SO IF SHE COMES, IT'S YOUR FAULT!
-YES, POTATO SALAD WILL BE FINE!

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 2.00.

MINES

Aldermac 15
Anglo Hur. 300A
Aunor 170B
Bankfield 8
Bidgood 8 1-2
Bralorne 11
Broulan 74
Buffalo Ank. 485A
Calgary and Ed. 130
Can. Malar 55
Central Pat. 186B
Chesterville 135
Coast Copper 117B
Coniarium 125B
Dome 21 3-4B
Eldorado 40B
East Mal. 230
Falconbridge 335A
Francoeur 45
Gillies L. 4 1-2
Gunnar 26 1-2
Hardrock 78
Home Oil 225
Hollinger 12 5-8
Howey 20 1-2
Hudson Bay 26 1-2B
Jason 37 3-4
Kerr Add 440
Kirk Lake 70
Lake Shore 14 7-8
Leitch 46B
Little L. L. 186B
Macassa 385
McIntyre 40
McLeod 185
McKenzie 106B
Mining Corp. 130
Moneta 35
Nipissing 125B
Obrien 148
Okalta 60A
Omega 14
Paymaster 20
Pamour 103A
Perron 145
Pend. Oreille 155B
Pickle Crow 305
Pioneer 245
Powell 75B
Premier 90
Preston E. D. 330
Reno 12
Royalite 22 1-2B
San Antonio 240
Sherritt G. 81B
Siscoe 54A
Sladen M. 25B
Sud. Basin 160A
Sullivan 67
Steep Rock 188
Sylvanite 245
T. Hughes 285
Tex. Can. Oil 95B
Toburn 140
Ventures 465A
W. Amulet 460
Wr. Hargreaves 410
Upper Can. 183

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 148
B. A. Oil 16 1-4A
Brewing Corp. 75B
Braz Trac. 7 5-8
Can. Bud Brewery 4 3-4B
Can. Cement 5B
Can. Ind. Alcohol 2 3-4
C.P.R. 6 5-8
Can. Malting 32B
Can. Vinegar 6 3-8B
Canada Car 6 3-8B
Cockshutt Plow 5B
Cons. Bakeries 13A
Con. Smelting 37 1-2
Dominion Foundries 18B
Dominion Stores 5
Dist. Seagrams 22 1-4
Fanny Farmer 22 1-2B
Ford "A" 15 7-8A
Gypsum 3B
Imp. Oil 9 3-8
Int. Nickel 34 1-4
Inter Pet. 13 5-8
Imp. Tobacco 12 1-4B
Loblaw 26 1-4B
Massey Harris 2 3-4A
Mont Power 22 1-8
McColl Frontenac 4 1-4B
Steel of Canada 66
Shawinigan 12 3-4B
Walker's 43
Walker's Pfd. 20
Walkerville Brewery 90B
C.P.A. 3 1-2B

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 152⅝
Anaconda 26⅛
Bethlehem Steel 68⅜
Chrysler 57½
General Electric 32
General Motors 38¼
North American 12⅝
Montgomery Ward 33⅛
Phillips Pet. 44⅛
Radio 4
Standard Oil of N.J. 42⅜
Standard Brands 5⅜
U.S. Steel 56⅞
United Aircraft 39⅛
Vanadium 25
Westinghouse 92

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—Except for scattered favorites, the stock market today reverted to its do-nothing tactics. Early advances of fractions were converted into minor declines in many cases near the fourth hour.

Bonds were uneven. Commodities exhibited rising tendencies.

Amusement stocks such as Paramount and Loew's edged into new high ground for the year. Ahead occasionally were General Motors, Chrysler, Great Northern, Texas Corp., Standard Oil (N.J.); Boeing and United Aircraft.

Standard Oil (Ohio) weakened. U.S. Steel, ex-dividend, was up for an interval but eventually slipped.

The only change among Canadian stocks was a ⅛ point loss in Dome Mines. In the bond section, Canada 4s were unchanged.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 19—(CP)—Moderate weakness was registered in the Stock Market today and trading proceeded at a slow pace. Only 86,000 shares moved in the first three hours.

Industrials, off .27, had the widest loss. The big oils were down small fractions and Bell Telephone, Brazilian Traction and Dominion Stores weakened small fractions.

O'Brien sold down to $1.46 for a loss of 10 and Kerr-Addison, MacLeod, Cockshutt, Malartic, Gold Fields and Chesterville were off narrowly. Calgary-Edmonton and Anglo-Canadian were a bit softer in light turnover in the oils.

Steep Rock moved against the general trend, gaining 8 to 1.88.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.37-.38
A-medium	.36-.37
A-pullet	.32
Grade "B"	.31
Grade "C"	.27

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1		.37 1-4
Butter, No. 2	.35 3-4	.36 1-2
Churning Cream, No. 1		.37
Churning Cream, No. 2		.34

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2¼ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Butter Prices Weaken a Little

let and C eggs firmed slightly in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday, while butter prices weakened a little.

The egg market held firm under light receipts and good demand which steadily cleared fresh arrivals. Quotations on A pullets and C were slightly firmer in wholesale-to-retail trading, showing advances of 1c a dozen each. Grade A pullets were also 1 cent stronger in spot prices. Prices to country dealers on grades A-large and A-medium held steady at 35 and 34 cents a dozen, respectively.

The butter market was quiet and barely steady as offerings were not heavy, but demand continued spotty. Prices on creamery solids slipped ¼ cent a pound in light trading, as odd sales were reported made at both 37¼ and 37½ cents a pound. Churning cream advanced 1 cent in both country truck and delivered to Toronto prices.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 19—Produce market prices here as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter—First grade solids, jobbing price, 37½-38.

Eggs—Graded shipments offering at A-large, 35½-36; A-medium, 34½-35; pullets, 28½; B grade, 27½-28; C grade, 24. Receipts, 922 cases.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 19—(CP—Dressedweights were down ten cents at Hamilton and Barrie and prices were unchanged at other Bacon - Hog Markets reporting today.

Liveweight: Chatham $10.

Dressedweight: Chatham $13.70, Barrie $14.50, Brantford $14 plus transportation, Hamilton $14.60 delivered, Hull $14, Kitchener $13.90 plus transportation, London $14.25 delivered, Stratford $13.90 plus transportation.

Livestock

Montreal, Aug. 19.—(CP)—Receipts: Cattle 177; calves 438; hogs 651; sheep and lambs 157.

Cattle were unchanged at $6.50 to $7.00 for good cows with one top at $7.25. Medium cows made $5.50 to $6.25. Bulls ranged from $4.50 to $6.75.

Veal calves were $8.50 to $12.50. Good veals sold at $11.50 to $12, with tops at $12.50. Medium good to good veals in mixed lots sold at around $11.00 to $11.25.

Good ewes and wethers were $12.00 to $12.25, mostly $12.00. Sheep $4.00 to $7.00.

Hogs were firm at $14.75 to $14.85 for B-1 dressed, $11.10 for B-1 alive, fed and watered, and up to $11.25 off trucks delivered. Grade A drew $1 premium. Sows made $7.50 to $9.00 liveweight.

Livestock ......2..z2

Toronto, Aug. 19—(CP)—Cattle trade was active up to mid-session today with steers and heifers and cows steady to 15 cents lower. No price was established on hogs. Unsold from yesterday was 3000 head of cattle.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle, 1,080; calves 670; sheep and lambs 520; hogs 1,000

Butcher cows sold at $5 to $6.50 with a few at $6.75, stockers at $5.50 to $8; fed calves at $9 to $11, with butcher steers and heifers selling at $7.25 to $8.75, weighty steers at $8 to $9.50; with choice at $9.75; bulls sold at $6.75 to $7; with bologna at $5.25 and veal calves at $12.50 to $13. For choice and common selling downward to $8, grassers at $6.50 to $7.

Lambs sold at $12 for good ewes and wethers and $10 to $11 for bucks, sheep steady at $3 to $6.

Previous close on hogs was $14.50 to $14.60.

THEIR MAJESTIES VISIT SOUTHERN COMMAND

Visiting the southern command, the King and Queen inspected the mechanized army in action. Her Majesty is shown here chatting with an R.A.F. officer during the manoeuvres.

Purvis, 21 Companions Buried In Common Grave in Britain

Funeral Procession Winds Way Slowly Through Streets of Town to Cemetery

IMPRESSIVE BURIAL

By HAROLD FAIR
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Somewhere in Britain, Aug. 19—(CP Cable)—Rt. Hon. Arthur B. Purvis, Britain's biggest arms buyer, and 21 companions killed in the crash of an Atlantic Ferry aircraft Aug. 14, were buried in a common grave in a picturesque cemetery today.

Polished oak coffins each bearing a plain brass nameplate and draped either in the Union Jack or the Stars and Stripes were lowered into the grave after the funeral procession which wound slowly through the streets of the hushed town. The silence was broken by the role of muffled drums and the drone of Fighter aircraft overhead.

Band and Escort

The coffins were carried on three Royal Air Force trucks from the mortuary where they had lain in state. The Purvis coffin was flanked on one side by coffins bearing the bodies of the British and Canadian victims and on the other by the American Ferry pilots killed. The cortege was headed by a band and followed by an escort of aircraftmen, Ferry pilots and R.A.F. officers.

The mourners, the only members of the public allowed to attend the burial, joined the procession at the gates of the cemetery. While the coffins were lowered in the flower-banked grave, R.A.F. officers and Ferry pilots stood at attention.

The graveside service was opened by Sqdn. Ldr. P. Birkett, R.A.F. Anglican chaplain, who paid tribute to the Ferry pilots who died in the crash. Eulogizing Mr. Purvis, he said he was "one who meant much to Britain's war effort and whose loss the Empire can ill afford to bear."

Prayers Said

Prayers by a Roman Catholic and other chaplains followed, after which Squadron Leader Birkett performed the committal ceremony. This was concluded with a volley by a firing party and two buglers blew the Last Post.

The mourners then deposited wreaths around the grave. Among the floral tributes to Mr. Purvis were wreaths from Lord Beaverbrook, members of the British Purchasing Commission, and the military mission in Washington, as well as one from a cousin, A. Purvis McDougal, Manchester editor of The London Daily Herald.

Mourners.

The mourners included Mr. Purvis' only brother, Leslie, a London silk manufacturer, and Leslie Purvis' son, Ian Blaike Purvis, a private in the British army. Others present were Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, and Sir Arthur Bromley, representing Prime Minister Churchill and the Dominions office.

R. D. Elliott of the Ministry of Supply, represented Lord Beaverbrook. Sir Hugh Seely represented Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, and Sir William Brass represented the Minister of Aircraft Production, J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon.

Lord McGowan, chairman of the Imperial Chemical Institute, attended with his wife and brought a wreath marked "to our beloved friend" and signed "Harry, Jean."

HEPBURN BUSY ON FARM

St. Thomas, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario took time out from Provincial duties this week to begin supervision of the onion harvest on his nearby farm. Inability to get good seed reduced the farm's onion acreage to 25 acres this year as compared with 40 or 50 in previous years. Quality of the onions is reported good.

Heavier Weight Hogs Being Marketed in U.S.

Chicago, Aug. 19—(AP)—It's a well-fed porker that comes to market these days. Livestock men said today the average weight of hogs marketed here was the highest since August, 1939.

They attributed the unusual plumpness to prices near the best level in four years, large marketings of heavy sows, relatively cheap and plentiful feed and respose to government urgings for greater livestock production. The government has been buying lard and pork, some for Great Britain under the lend-lease program.

The average hog that came to Chicago's market last week weighed 283 pounds compared with 270 a year ago. One day last week the average broke the 300 mark.

With their corn bins overflowing and a bumper crop waiting for harvest, the midwest's swine producers have increased the average weight more than 40 pounds since January.

Hog Production Takes Big Jump in West

Ottawa, Aug. 19 (CP)—A 12.5 per cent increase in hog production on the Prairie Provinces at June 1, compared with the same date last year, was reported today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics as the largest gain ever recorded.

Contributing factors to the upward trend, the bureau said, were more attractive hog prices and reduced quotations for feed products.

Latest figures showed 2,992,400 hogs on farms in the three Provinces compared with 2,660,800 at June 1, 1940. Totals by Provinces, with 1940 figures in brackets: Manitoba 502,700 (498,700); Saskatchewan 836,000 (791,000); Alberta 1,652,800 (1,371,100).

The bureau said a 32.5 per cent increase in number of sows bred to farrow from June to November this year compared with the same period in 1940 indicates increased marketings will continue throughout the year and in the early months of 1942.

Ukraine Grain All Harvested

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—With the Germains claiming possession of the lower Ukraine as far east as the Dnieper River, the Moscow radio reiterated today a Soviet assertion that wheat and rye of that grain-rich region already had been harvested.

"All the grain had been gathered in the Zaparozhye region, in the southern Ukraine, and in the Kuban, by August 1," the broadcaster said in a program heard here. "The Crimea completed reaping two weeks earlier than it did last year."

In addition to implying that the invaders got none of this produce, the radio said collective and state farms of the U.S.S.R. had grown more than 131,000,000 tons of grain this year.

APPEAL DENIED

Ottawa, Aug. 19—(CP) — The Justice Department announced today an appeal for clemency by Fred Phillips and Carl Lund, convicted of the murder last January of Peter S. Trainor, 78-year-old shopkeeper, has been denied.

The men will be hanged tomorrow at Charlottetown.

Phillips and Lund both are of Charlottetown, where the murder was committed.

Blitzbits

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Torpedoes mean nothing to William John Rea, 43-year-old Belfast fireman. He's been torpedoed five times since he joined the Merchant Navy, yet he wants to go back to sea and "get on with the job." He says, "I've always managed to escape and the Jerry that gets me will be lucky."

Mary Elizabeth Rabbetts, an eight-year-old Liverpool girl, raffled her child's cycle to "speed the tanks." She collected the equivalent of $8.50 and has received a letter of thanks from Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply.

The Red Cross and St. John Fund has spent an average of £30 for food and comforts for each of the 60,000 British prisoners of war. Expenditures from the outbreak of war until June 30 totalled £1,832,000 ($8,244,000).

Capt. Alan Simpson of Northern Command Headquarters says criticism of army driving is unjustified. In the command, the accident rate is one in 19,108 miles, while in a big motor transport firm for the same period it is one in 12,820 miles—and a scratched mudguard is counted as an accident in the army.

On every gate in a square of council houses in a Welsh town is some such name as Glynhafod or Mor-awel—that is on every gate but one. That house was empty and troops from Staffordshire who were billeted there chalked up a new name, "Angelterre."

200,000 Men Due for Release

Washington, Aug. 19 — (AP) — The United States War Department announced today that unless the International situation interferes, substantial numbers of selectees and National Guardsmen will be sent home after as little as 14 months of service.

Approximately 200,000 men will be due for release from active service in 1941, the department said and in order that they may reach their homes prior to the Christmas holidays, their release will be accomplished prior to December 10.

The department announced three priorities which would govern the release of guardsmen and selectees. Given first priority were dependency and hardship cases. In second place were placed men 28 years of age or over on July 1, 1941. They would be released regardless of their length of service but in the order in which their service began. Married men who desire discharge at the end of the originally set twelve months' service were accorded third priority.

Trained Norwegian Youths Eager to Battle the Nazis

Halifax, Aug. 19—(CP)—A steady trek of thousands of Norwegians and United States youths of Norse descent into Canada, rallying to the side of Britain's fighting forces is predicted by a Norwegian military mission now in Halifax.

En route from Washington central Canada where they hope to establish army training centres, the Viking leaders look upon the United States as "a great reservoir" for the forces training in Canada.

In addition, they said, there are hundreds of highly trained and daring men, escaped from Norway, who would join the centres here. One member, a captain who would not disclose his name for fear of reprisals against his family in Norway, said nearly all the officers of the Norwegian Air Force had escaped to continue the fight against Nazism.

Well-equipped for combat, these men and thousands like them, he said, need training in the English language and English methods of fighting. This would be the part played by the training camps.

Members of the mission said they hoped to establish the camps in Ontario, somewhere near the United States border.

RUSSIAN RESISTANCE IS STRONGER

Helsinki, Aug. 19—(AP) — The Finnish High Command acknowledged today that Soviet resistance had become much stronger in the Lake Ladoga area southwest of Sortavala, although it claimed encircled Red Army units gradually were being more tightly enclosed.

WINDSOR TO VISIT RANCH

Nassau, Bahamas, Aug. 19 (CP Cable)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor definitely plan to visit their ranch near High River, Alta., this year, a government spokesman said today.

The date of the trip has not been set, nor has the route been selected but it is considered unlikely they will leave before September.

JAPS BAN U.S. THRILLERS

Tokyo, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Japanese government announced today that three types of American movies—gang thrillers, ultra-torrid romances and those depicting 'wasteful extravagances—will be barred from showing after September 1st.

The eight United States distributors in Japan will be allowed to release an average of only five pictures monthly. They have been unable to remit to their American offices some 3,000,000 yen (about $700,000) of accumulated profits because of exchange controls.

Torpedo Planes Of Fleet Air Arm Sink Merchantman

Cairo, Aug. 19—(AP)—The Royal Air Force announced today that torpedo planes of the fleet air arm Sunday night sank a 6,000-ton merchantman, set a tanker afire and forced another ship aground in a raid on an Axis convoy of six vessels protected by six destroyers in the Central Mediterranean.

The Merchantman, which was run aground on Lampedusa Island after being hit by a torpedo, was later set afire with bombs.

The communique also said a raid by a large force of German Messerschmitt Fighter-bombers on shipping off Egypt yesterday was foiled by Tomahawk Fighters.

No Definite Targets

The communique said that aircraft which followed the Axis convoy after the attack later reported the tanker was still on fire and stopped.

"Scenes of considerable confusion were taking place, anti-aircraft guns being fired in all directions without any definite target," the communique said.

Beaverbrook Lunches With the President

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook, British supply minister, had a luncheon appointment with President Roosevelt today, presumably to discuss expediting the flow of war equipment to Britain and, possibly, to Russia.

White House officials said Harry Hopkins, lease-lend supervisor, also would be present.

Later in the day Lord Beaverbrook was scheduled to meet senior officials of the office of production management.

British Film Star On Way to England

[illegible]

New York, Aug. 19—(AP)—Florence Marjorie Robertson was a transatlantic passenger today on the outgoing Atlantic Clipper, which excited no one, but when it was discovered that Miss Robertson was Anna Neagle, British film star, that was something else agian.

Miss Neagle, accompanied by her producer and director, Herbert Wilcox, were bound for England where the actress will portray the life of the late Amy Johnson Mollison, aviatrix recently killed in a plane crash in England.

Labor Wants Voice At Conference Table

Syracuse, N.Y., Aug. 19 (AP) — William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, demanded today that when "another Magna Charta is written" in post-war conferences that the labor of the world will be represented at the council table.

He offered this "ninth point" to be added to the eight principles evolved at the high seas conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill:

"When this tyrant running loose in Europe—(by name Hitler) — is finally defeated—and he will be — the representatives of the governments sit at the conference table to preserve for all time the rights of all nations and their peoples; when this new Magna Charta is written, we want labor representatives sitting at the table."

"America and Great Britain are the last refuges of organized labor," Mr. Green told delegates to the New York State Federation of Labor's convention. "We're determined to keep them here, and what's more, to put them back in Germany and Italy.

"Representatives of labor from every nation—speaking all languages and subscribing to all creeds — must be there at the peace conference to help shape a new world, new freedom, new righteousness and new future for all people."

One-Half of Prospective Immigrants Given U. S. Entry Permits

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—Only one-half of prospective immigrants who seek admission to the United States are being granted permits under new and drastically-tightened

The rejections were ordered on Two official advisory committees on immigration, functioning only since mid-July, already have rejected outright 300 applications for visas, it was learned today.

The rejectionsc were ordered on the ground the applications were submitted by potential Axis spies, propagandists or fifth-columnists, or by persons inimical to the nation's defence or to the American form of government.

In addition, nearly one-half of all the other applications have been held up for further investigation.

Officials predicted that 1941 immigration would be considerably less than in past years. During the first six months of this year only 26,943 immigrants for permanent residence were admitted against total quotas of 153,774 for the entire year. Immigrants in 1940 totalled 70,756.

EASTERN

(Continued from Page One)

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted British and Russian planes dropped bombs at several places in western and eastern Germany, causing damage and casualties. A communique said the Russian planes flew in from the Baltic and caused an air raid alarm in Berlin which sent residents scurrying to shelters.)

Follow Up Severe Afternoon Raid

Early last night the R.A.F. followed up a severe afternoon raid over the channel and northern France with attacks on other Nazi-held bases in France. The night attackers spent more than half an hour over their objectives.

During Sunday night, more than 100 bombers roared over Germany and dropped super bombs on the port of Bremen and industrial districts about Duisburg. Great fires were observed as the bombers made for home.

It was announced that during July British planes attacked 106 different targets, some of them several times. The offensive was the heaviest of any month of the war.

British bombs smashed down on 32 towns and cities in Germany in 69 forays during July. Twenty-nine centres in the occupied countries were attacked 76 times and 126 raids were made on 45 objectives in the Middle East.

Tonnage of bombs dropped during this sustained offensive was not disclosed. It was greater, however, than for any month of the war.

CAPTURE OF

(Continued from Page One)

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's forces, assigned to the central front which defends Moscow, have been holding firmly and counter-attacking for days.

Soviet sources said Russian night counter-attacks were harassing the Germans as they sought rest from day-long thrusts.

A front dispatch in the newspaper Izvestia said a Russian cavalry regiment routed two battalions of Nazi S.S. troops and drove them back ten miles in a nocturnal assault. The horsemen dismounting for battle, wore white arm bands to distinguish themselves from the Germans in the dark.

The Red Army's withdrawal from the rail line town just inside Leningrad province from Estonia was announced by a Moscow war bulletin which said the Russians fought stubbornly.

A noon communique added that fighting "along the entire front" continued without let-up overnight.

The communique reported fierce fighting along the entire front as far south as the Ukraine where another German push has driven a deep wedge toward the Dnieper bend.

Moscow's midnight communique credited Russian torpedo boats and bombers with sinking a German submarine and two transports in the Baltic.

The capital had another air raid during the night. Official accounts said damage was insignificant.

The Soviet information bureau continued to report widespread operations behind the Nazi lines by Russian guerillas and "Lost Battalions" of the Red Army fighting their way one by one out of encirclement.

One Russian force of 520 men was said to have broken through recently to rejoin the main army after 20 days of destructive operations behind German lines where the Nazis considered them trapped.

War Savings Drive Will Be Renewed

Ottawa, Aug. 19—(CP) — A renewed drive for sale of War Savings Certificates will be opened with a trip across Canada by Finance Minister Ilsley, beginning Aug. 30, Headquarters of the National War Savings Committee here announced today.

Although the minister plans to make a few public speeches, the trip will be chiefly for organization the commitee said. Emphasis will be on payroll contributions.

The committee said that the money value of War Savings applications from Jan. 1, 1941 to last week-end was $53,808,000, of which $24,718,000 was in payroll pledges, $24,379,000 in individual contributions and $14,711,000 in bank pledges.

From the beginning of the War Savings Certificates campaign on May 27, 1940, cash value of applications was $80,250,000 from 8,274,000 individual subscribers.

BRITAIN PRODUCES ALL OWN SUGAR

London, Aug. 19 (CP Cable) — Britain is producing all her domestic requirements of sugar under the present scale of rationing, a Ministry of Agriculture official said today.

It comes entirely from the sugar beet industry which has been greatly expanded over a number of years. Lincolnshire has the largest acreage of any county growing beets and it also has a number of sugar beet factories.

The average weekly prewar consumption was 21 1-4 pounds per head. Imports in 1938 totalled 47,447,661 hundredweight while Britain's 18 sugar beet factories produced some 10,000,000 hundredweight that year.

PRIME MINISTER

(Continued from Page One)

Mr. Churchill complimented A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, on the way the Royal Navy had managed the trans-Atlantic trip.

"You did it very well," he said.

After Mr. Churchill had departed for 10 Downing Street it was announced he would broadcast to the Empire next Sunday, but the precise hour was not fixed.

Feeling of Relief Manifest

An obvious feeling of relief over the Prime Minister's safe return from the submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic was reflected in the morning press, which said his mission had been rendered particularly hazardous by premature circulation of reports of the meeting with the President.

The Daily Herald's naval correspondent declared Hitler undoubtedly knew Mr. Churchill was somewhere on the Atlantic and that he ordered his submarines and long-range bombers to find and sink the Prince of Wales at all costs.

"But he failed," the correspondent added.

Germans Knew of Meeting

The British Broadcasting Corporation, in a broadcast heard in New York, said the "Germans knew of the meeting, of course," and added there were rumors in London that the Nazis' new 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz had been sent out in an attempt to intercept the Prince of Wales.

Before returning to Britain, the Prince of Wales put in at Reykjavik, Iceland, where Mr. Churchill inspected United States naval forces, attended a conference at general headquarters and made a brief address from the balcony of parliament house. Ensign Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., accompanied the Prime Minister to Iceland.

Great Things Expected

The London press indicated confidence great things may be expected from the sea meeting.

The Daily Mail said the conference was "a prelude to actions decided but as yet undisclosed" and expressed belief future meetings would be held "at intervals."

The Times said the meeting and its results will "grow in importance as they are measured."

There was no official announcement concerning the date of a broadcast Mr. Churchill was expected to make to the Empire, but a Daily Herald columnist said he probably would speak this Sunday.

RAIL GATE

(Continued from page one)

Bombers raiding Odessa were claimed to have "rendered unserviceable by heavy bombs nine big troop transport ships and damaged three warships, including a heavy cruiser."

Severe losses were claimed to have been inflicted upon the Red Army units defending Odessa and small bridgeheads on the lower course of the Dnieper. These were declared to have totalled 60,000 prisoners, 84 armored cars, 530 guns and a large number of other war materials captured since the battle of Uman.

In the Kiev and Korosten areas since August 8, the high command claimed Germans have captured 17,750 prisoners, 142 tanks, 123 guns, an armored train and other supplies.

The German propaganda agency, DNB, asserted German dive bombers were turning alleged Soviet attempts to withdraw from Odessa by sea into "another Dunkerque."

TOTAL DEATH TOLL

(Continued from Page One)

Fire Department officials said four bodies have been recovered and that the body of a man was seen on the deck of the Panuco as she was towed down the East River and grounded on the Red Hook flats.

The blaze apparently started in a bale of hemp—possibly from a carelessly-discarded cigaret—and spread with almost unbelievable speed to other bales, down the full 875-foot length of the pier and onto the Panuco and other small craft to the accompaniment of the thunder of exploding drums of oil.

So fast did the flames spread that stevedores made the deck of the vessel and then dived headlong into the river to be rescued by police and fire boats and volunteer civilians.

Destroyed by the fire was the $500,000 vessel and all sorts of cargo ranging from hemp to cotton and including oil and chemicals, worth an estimated $600,000 to $1,000,000 or more.

MAY SALVAGE PARTIALLY BURNED TIMBER

Toronto, Aug. 19 (CP)—Hon Norman Hipel, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, left by airplane today for northern Ontario to make a survey of burned-out areas with a view to salvaging partially destroyed timber. Accompanied by his Deputy Minister, Frank McDugall, he will visit Gogama, Sudbury, and surrounding points and then will proceed to northwestern sections.

Mr. Hipel said timber losses each year due to forest fires have risen to a large figure, part of which may be reduced by a salvage policy.

"We're going to salvage as much as possible and find a market for it," he said. "Concessions as to price will likely have to be made."

Blast of Bomb Strips Clothing From Captain

London, Aug. 19 (CP)—The captain remained on the bridge after a German air bomb hit his merchantman—but the blast stripped him down to the waistband of his trousers, the sleeves of his jacket and his socks.

That was only the first bomb. The second, another direct hit, sank the vessel but the captain survived.

The captain, quoted by the Ministry of Information today, said that after the first blast his machine-gunner crawled from debris on the bridge "and asked me if I was all right."

"The next thing I knew," he said, "the water was over the bridge rail and up to my chin. I floated away from the ship and she sank."

Except for loss of clothing the captain suffered only head cuts and bruises.

Nazis Seek to Learn Secrets of Superbomb

London, Aug. 19. — (CP)— The Nazis are "desperately anxious" to learn the nature of the new "beautiful" bombs now being used by Britain, the Lisbon correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph reported in a dispatch to his paper.

A foreigner who left Berlin recently told the correspondent that at the spot where one big bomb fell German War Office experts spent days searching the debris in the hope of finding enough fragments to study the construction and nature of the bomb.

The informant, to illustrate the formidable nature of the bombs used by the Royal Air Force, said the building in which he lived in the heart of Berlin was shaken to the foundations by a bomb, yet it fell a half-mile away. The bomb blew roofs off houses and smashed windows over a radius of 800 yards.

The effect of the British raids on the German public was described by a man who went for a holiday in the Black Forest. He found it impossible to obtain accommodation, even in the most remote places. The whole area was crowded by evacuees from the Ruhr and Rhineland.

All the hotels were packed, and the proprietors were forced by government order to take in evacuees even if they had no money. The hotel owners complained bitterly of impending ruin.

A traveller from Koenigsberg gave an account of the first bombing of that city by the Russians. Two ships were sunk in the harbor, and in one street alone a bomb killed forty persons. No raiders were brought down.

In this and a subsequent raid the city's elaborately organised warning system failed to work supposedly because of sabotage.

25.7% Increase In Highway Killings

Deaths from fatal accidents on the highways of Ontario for the first six months of 1941 total 64 more than for the corresponding period of 1940. The increase is at the rate of 25.7%.

The number of deaths in 1940 (given by the Bureau of Statistics as 746) for the full year was the highest for the period of record, 1926 to 1940, save one. The year 1937 showed Ontario highway fatalities at 766.

In this phenominal rise of motor fatalities, increased traffic due to war, no doubt, played its part. Increased wages and employment with more money and more old cars on the road driven by persons lacking experience added some. Increased drinking, the cumulative result of habit and of freer money, was, no doubt, a major cause.

Dr. Logan Clendening, syndicate writer, speaking of the investigations of road accidents in the U.S., and the findings doubtless would be similar here, said: "Alcohol with the attending varying degrees of alcoholic intoxication, can be considered the greatest single factor."

The limiting of gasoline with the resulting curb of carousing at night will probably check the rise. Otherwise the province is in for a hair-raising record of highway fatalities for the current year.

Lew Ayres and Laraine Day invite you to new adventure in their seventh lucky Kildare thriller, "The People vs. Dr. Kildare," on the Belle Theatre screen, with Lionel Barrymore again aiding his star pupil in solving a baffling mystery.

They Took Part in Historic U.S.-Britain Ocean Conference

President Roosevelt
Admiral Stark
General Arnold
General Marshall
GREENLAND
ICELAND
CANADA
ATLANTIC OCEAN
BRITISH ISLES
LONDON
U.S.
WASHINGTON
Lord Beaverbrook
Harry Hopkins
Prime Minister Churchill

Here are the statesmen who are believed to have participated in the historic conference at sea at which President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain announced to the world a "new order" and issued a joint declaration of peace aims "after the final destruction of Nazi tyranny." The high-ranking U.S. officials included the heads of the army, navy and air forces, General C. Marshall, Admiral Harold R. Stark and Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, respectively, and Harry L. Hopkins, the lend-lease administrator and envoy of the president on a recent tour of Europe. Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply, who joined in the conferences, came to Washington to discuss further de-

FDR Studies Plans To Unify Defence Policies of U.S.

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt was reported giving study today to several plans for unifying the policies of various United States defense agencies.

Usually well-informed officials said that one plan called for the creation of a policy board, and had the backing both of the budget bureau and of Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, close friend and advisor to the President.

Rosenman has been in the Capital in recent weeks, and reports have circulated he is engaged in a trouble-shooting survey of defence administration for Mr. Roosevelt in the interests of an improved set-up.

Although the policy board plan was said to be under consideration, other sources claimed Mr. Roosevelt had been talking informally of appointing a single head for the entire defence program.

One high-placed official described the alleged conflicts within various defence agencies as a "mess."

Outlines of the proposed new set-ups were vague except that apparently they dealt most with what the government ought to do with available steel and other defence supplies in the way of apportioning them among the army and navy, Britain and other countries ,and civilian consumption.

Strike on Ferry Ends Abruptly

Cobourg, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP) —A strike of 12 men from Ferry No. 1 of the Ontario Car Ferry Company ended today when additional crew members were signed on by the company, carrying out an agreement with the men with regard to working hours.

The men went on strike late yesterday and said their action was intended to force the company to hire the extra men. They added that under an agreement with the company their work schedule of six hours on and six off had been changed Aug. 1 to three shifts of four hours on and eight off. Difficulty in finding additional men required to man the extra watches had kept shifts at their previous length, they said.

NAZIS REQUISITION NORWEGIAN LODGINGS

Stockholm, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Germans are requisitioning private lodgings to quarter soldiers in Western Norway, arousing bitter resentment of the inhabitants, a correspondent of the newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported yesterday.

Even many small families were said to have been forced to give up two rooms to the Nazis. In Bergen alone 2,000 rooms were reported taken over.

Now It's Mechanized Shaving

With the United States Army in Southwest Washington, Aug. 19 — (AP)—Mechanized army, 1941 version: Those little boxes members of the Ninth Army Corps carry along on manoeuvres contain dry cell batteries—for their electric razors.

AMERICAN OBSERVERS RETURN FROM EN GLAND

American representatives of the office of civilian defence are shown after they stepped off the transatlantic American clipper at La Guardia airport, New York. They returned from England, where they received first-hand information on handling of civilians in wartime. LEFT to RIGHT, Glenn Richards, of Detroit, Mich.; Dr. Huntington Williams, Baltimore, Md., health commissioner; Frank Roesing, director of public works in Pittsburgh, Pa.; Deputy Chief Inspector Arthur Wallander of the New York City police department; Captain Donald Leonard of the Michigan state police, and Harry Prince, consultant for the New York city housing authority.

Nazi Occupation Of South Ukraine Not Death Blow

Ability of Russians to Hold East Side of Dnieper Depends on Ability to Deploy Reserves.

London, Aug. 19—(CP)—Authoritative sources said today that German occupation of the Southern Ukraine west of the Dnieper River was not a death blow to Soviet Russia, but that if the Nazis succeeded in smashing Marshal Semeon Budenny's army the situation would be most serious.

The ability of the Russians to hold on the east side of the Broad River will depend, the sources said, on Budenny's ingenuity in deploying his reserves. He must destroy five or six bridges between Kiev and the Black Sea, the sources said, and maintain a constant patrol along the Dnieper's east bank.

Should the Germans cross the river at one or two points, it was said, "there is no other natural line of defence save the River Don, 250 miles due east of Dnieperopetrovsk.'

The Germans were believed here to have reached the river north and south of Dnieperpetrovsk to endanger that industrial city.

At the same time there were reports the Germans had increased pressure on the northern flank threatening Leningrad. An advance has reached a point 70 miles from Kronstadt, Russian Baltic Island naval base, it was said. Kronstadt is about 30 miles west of Leningrad.

CHECK YOUR DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR HOT WEATHER NEEDS

Hot Weather Needs
ARE NOW BEING FEATURED BY BELLEVILLE STORES.
Watch the Advertising Columns for Advertised Specials.

AUSTRALIAN GIRLS REGISTER

Melbourne, Aug. 19 (AP)—Thousands of girls across Australia are registering for service in the new women's army, now in process of formation. Members of this women's army take on work as transport drivers, signallers, clerks, storekeepers, telegraphers, ambulance drivers, "anti-panic" squads in air raids, and other duties to release men for more active service.

BRITAIN BUYS ICELANDIC FISH

London, Aug. 19—(CP Cable)—Food Minister Lord Woolton announced today that Britain has bought the entire Icelandic catch of all sea fish except herrings by an agreement effective until June 30, 1942.

Britain also has bought all stocks of wet and salted fish at present in Iceland and has arranged to take most of next season's catch.

EXCITEMENT PROVES FATAL

Hugo, Okla., Aug. 19 (AP)— W. E. Leonard, 65-year-old watchmaker, sadly helped police prepare to shoot his dog. They suspected it had rabies. Suddenly Leonard collapsed and died of a heart attack. In the excitement the dog escaped.

AT THE BELLE

"The People vs. Dr. Kildare"

Young Dr. Kildare gets into his most serious trouble and performs some of his most brilliant defective work in "The People vs. Dr. Kildare," latest in Metro Goldwyn Mayer's medical mystery series with Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day and the rest of the hospital group that have won nationwide popularity. As is the custom since the importance of the pictures have increased, a guest star is added, in this case pretty Bonita Granville, and Diana Lewis, who has recently figured in outstanding hits, also joins the cast. The picture is playing at the Belle Theatre.

In the exciting new story Ayre, as young Dr. Kildare, is forced to perform an emergency operation on Miss Granville, playing an ice skating star. When she recovers she has a paralyzed leg and her attorney files a malpractice suit. Young Dr. Kildare, aided by his preceptor, Dr. Gillespie, played by Lionel Barrymore, does detective work to gather evidence for his defense. Dr. Gillespie finds an obscure hereditary spinal condition, and in an eloquent speech to the jury, reminiscent of his famous speech in "A Free Soul," opens a way to the solution of the problem.

Jane Withers, Glamour Girl

Jane gets kissed and discovers the magic of moonlight and romance in her latest film, "A Very Young Lady," sparkling romantic comedy announced as the co-feature attraction.

The story is fashioned around a fashionable girl's boarding school. There's a dance and then—then it's love. Jane has fallen for her handsome teacher, but she guards her secret well.

Her heartaches and heartthrobs, her happiness and hopefulness make this one of the most touching and tender romantic comedies Jane has ever played in. Torn between her "first love"—her school principal—and a handsome cadet from a nearby military academy, Jane solves her problem in a most unusual manner.

Nancy Kelly and John Sutton head an excellent featured cast consisting of Janet Beecher, Richard Clayton and June Carlson.

The Belle news of the day will be presented on the same program.

AT THE CAPITOL

"Puddin' Head"

For sheer, unadulterated merriment, Republic's "Puddin' Head," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, wins the award of merit. Opening with a laugh, it progressed from chuckle to chortle to out-and-out laughs, winning new devotees to the talented Miss Judy Canova who, with only two starring pictures to her credit—"Scatterbrain" and "Sis Hopkins" — has placed herself in the top ranks of the screen's comediennes.

Judy is presented as the hillbilly maiden who, incongruously, owns a strip of Manhattan real estate on which the United Broadcasting Company has inadvertently trespassed in erecting their skyscraper building.

For this day's tempo, "Puddin' Head" is most enthusiastically recommended, not only because it offers laughter in a world torn by strife, but because it justifies Republic's extensive campaign to introduce that rarest of all rarities—a film newcomer who can capture immediately the affections of a vast following of fans.

Miss Judy Canova — orchids to you!

"Saloon Bar"

One the same program, the Capitol presents "Saloon Bar" one of the most exciting pictures yet to come from the movie studios in England. It is an unusual murder mystery plot, but there is plenty of comedy too. The picture will be remembered by most movie fans as the one that ran for three weeks at the Eglinton Theatre in Toronto under the name, "The Spanner Mystery"

One of Gordon Harker's most successful hits on the West End stage has been in "Saloon Bar' and he is even better in the film version.

Elizabeth Allan heads the feminine players and although only making a brief appearance, gives a vivid portrayal of a grief-stricken barmaid whose fiance has been sentenced to death.

The story opens with the meeting of half-a-dozen habitues at a typical London pub, who set out to unravel the truth about a local murder and free an innocent boy from the gallows. Joe Harris, a bookie, assumes the mantle of Sherlock Holmes, his deductive prowess being encouraged by his associates. Step by step he unravels the mystery until the criminal is cornered. The final chase in which the murderer tries to escape from the net which is rapidly closing around him, provides one of the most thrilling scenes ever witnessed.

On the same program is the latest and finest of the ever-popular Canada Carries On series, "The Strategy of Metals" and a coloured cartoon, "The Trial of Mr. Wolf."

Sure—Quick
Relief from Asthma and Hay Fever with KELLOGG'S
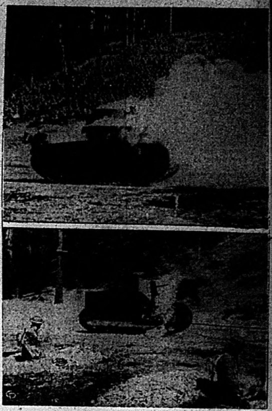
ASTHMA
RELIEF



SMOKE AND FIRE S TOP THESE TANKS

In the photo at TOP, soldiers of the U.S. Third Infantry Division's new provisional anti-tank battalion watch a demonstration which was staged for their benefit. Here we see a tank, enveloped in fumes from a smoke pot, and although the fumes are comparatively harmless the tank was put out of action temporarily because the driver could no longer see. In the BOTTOM photo a soldier at the LEFT stands up to view his work after he had thrown a "Molotov Cocktail" which is responsible for the flames that are already spreading over the tank. A tow rope can be seen tied to the tank, the reason for this being that the inside of the tank got too hot for the driver.

Edward Harrison, Moira, Celebrates 99th Birthday

Moira (Special) — Mr. Edward Harrison one of the oldest residents of Moira celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday on Friday, August 15th. During the day he received numerous callers, some of them being his niece, Mrs. Bell Moore from Castleton, his nephew, Rev. Harrison Mullett and wife, returned missionaries from China, also Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chapelle of Thomasburg.

Mr. Harrison although not able to work, is in good health. He takes a keen interest in happenings of today, and can remember very vividly happenings of many years ago. He still remembers songs he used to sing, and on his birthday his callers enjoyed hearing him again repeat some of these songs.

Patient John Gets Divorce

Detroit, Aug. 19 (AP)—John Thomas Roberts was awarded a divorce today by Circuit Judge Guy Miller after he testified his wife left him nine days after their marriage in 1906.

"I guess she isn't coming back," Roberts told the Judge.

AXIS ATTACKS TOBRUK

Cairo, Aug. 19 (AP)—An axis attack with heavy shellfire against British forces besieged at Tobruk was announced by the British Middle East Command today. A communique said that British artillery replying obtained "many direct hits on parties of the enemy."

Lady Bowhill Takes Post With Husband

Montreal, Aug. 19—(CP)—Lady Bowhill, wife of Air Chief Marshal Sir Frederick Bowhill, has arrived in Canada to take up a post under her husband in the Royal Air Force Ferry Command.

Lady Bowhill, who has the rank of Flight Officer, will be in command of three other members of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force, working in the cypher and code office of Sir Frederick's command, which he assumed recently.

She said in an interview here today that she has been serving under her husband since the outbreak of war. Asked what it was like to take orders from her husband, Lady Bowhill replied: "When I am on duty I take orders. At home I give them."

Offers Free a $40,000 Pipe Organ

Los Angeles, Aug. 19 (AP)—T. L. Tally will give a $40,000 pipe organ to anyone who'll move it out of the building he's about to raze.

Note: It costs about $3,000 to dismantle, move and reassemble an organ.

PLENTY OF LIABILITIES

Philadelphia, Aug. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Simon Hirshorn's federal bankruptcy petition shows liabilities $1,485,015.20; assets $50. Describing herself as a housewife, she says she has had no income for the past two years, never filed an income tax return and has no bank account. Most of her listed debts were on mortgage transactions dating back to 1929.

Bring Your Stationery Up to Date . . .

Using stationery that's poorly printed, unattractive — is just as poor business as furnishing your office with antiques. Business is done today by those who keep up with the times. Let us bring your stationery up-to-date. Estimates cheerfully given on printing and engraving — no obligation.

The Ontario Intelligencer Press

PHONE 99

Probabilities

Lower Lake Region—Moderate winds and fair today.

Thursday—Moderate southeast to southwest winds; partly cloudy and moderately warm with scattered showers.

The Ontario Intelligencer

★★

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	72	48.5
One Year Ago	68	48.8

Weather: Fair.

CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER ARRIVES IN ENGLAND

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

BATTLE FOR CITY CENTRES AROUND NOVGOROD

Atlantic Crossing Made in a Giant Liberator Bomber

Prime Minister Expected to Remain In England Three Weeks for Conferences With British Cabinet

WILL VISIT FORCES

By HAROLD FAIR

(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Somewhere in Britain, Aug. 20—(CP Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King arrived at a British airport today after an Atlantic crossing from Canada in a giant Liberator bomber. It was his first plane flight.

Mr. King left Canada yesterday and is expected to remain in Britain approximately three weeks, in addition to conferences with Prime Minister Churchill and the British War Cabinet concerning Canada's future part in the war, he is expected to make extensive visits to Canadian forces in the United Kingdom.

Wearing a striped brown suit, a fedora and carrying a cane, Mr. King was first to leave the plane. He backed through the small doors and turned with a broad smile to greet Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, with a handshake.

"Well, Vincent, how are you?" he asked. "I'm glad to see you."

Mr. King told newsmen he could not state his plans until he had discussed a program with Mr. Massey.

Navy Minister to Stay

It was noted, however, that Canadian Navy Minister Angus MacDonald will be in Britain for at least another week. This would enable Mr. MacDonald to have discussions with Mr. King and visit naval centres with him. Mr. MacDonald arrived here several weeks ago.

A statement from the Dominions office following the arrival said Mr. King came for discussions with the British government and will attend meetings of the War Cabinet.

Mr. King said on his arrival that "I have no statement."

It was intimated, however, he would hold a press conference at an early date.

The Prime Minister said he expected to do much hard work while in Britain and that the result of what he proposed to do would become known as he progressed with tentative plans.

Met By Guard of Honor

In addition to Mr. Massey, Rear-Admiral Sir Arthur Bromley of the Dominions office was at the airport to greet the Prime Minister on behalf of the British government. The air station commander and a high British officer also were present.

As he left the plane a guard of honor composed of units of the Royal Scots Fusiliers sprang to attention and pipers shrilled a welcome.

Mr. King then reviewed the guard of honor which had been picked because of its regiment's affiliation with a Canadian regiment. After that the official party departed.

After a hearty breakfast of bacon and sausage in the officer's mess at an airport the Prime Minister motored to a nearby city. He plans to spend the day there and proceed to London on an overnight train.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 20 (CP)— General Synopsis:—Scattered showers have occurred in the western provinces and northern Ontario, while in southern Ontario the weather has been fair and moderately warm.

PLACES	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Ft. Smith	48	69	44
Vancouver	60	83	56
Winnipeg	52	75	50
Toronto	59	78	53
Ottawa	56	71	52
S. S. Marie	—	63	48
Detroit	58	76	54
New York	68	75	67
Miami	76	90	78
Los Angeles	65	87	64

Party Enjoyed Excellent Flying Weather and Mr. King Enthusiastic About Air Travel—Slept All Way Over

LUNCHES ABOARD PLANE

By R. K. CARNEGIE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Somewhere in Britain, Aug. 20—(CP Cable)—After his first flight in an airplane, Prime Minister Mackenzie King was enthusiastic about air travel on his arrival in Britain today.

"I dare say I'll want to travel by air everywhere I go after this, it has been so delightful," he said during the trip in a Liberator bomber.

The party enjoyed excellent flying weather from the start Tuesday until the plane landed in the United Kingdom this morning.

The big four-motored craft cruised throughout the night over the Atlantic while Mr. King and his associates slept fairly well. Earlier on Tuesday the Prime Minister had watched the Canadian landscape go by. When luncheon boxes were distributed he ate heartily and said afterwards it was the nicest mid-day meal he had eaten in many months.

The luncheon consisted of cheese sandwiches, big slices of chicken and fruit.

Two Hours in Newfoundland

The plane stopped two hours in Newfoundland and left the island in brilliant sunshine.

"No more wonderful scene could be imagined," the Prime Minister declared enthusiastically as he headed eastward.

Soon after Mr. King went to bed. It was cold during the night but the Prime Minister, who had blankets, reported today he slept "like a top."

Mr. King was accompanied by N. A. Robertson, Under-Secretary for External Affairs and Brig. G. P. Vanier, former Canadian Minister to France.

Hotel for Headquarters

The Prime Minister will make his headquarters in a London hotel, with Mr. Robertson heading his staff. Mr. King wants to work apart from Canada House so as not to interfere with work there.

On his arrival the Prime Minister said one of his chief regrets was that he had not reached Britain in time for the funerals of the Marquess of Willingdon, former Governor-General of Canada, and Rt. Hon. Arthur B. Purvis, chairman of the British Supply Council in North America.

CANNOT HAVE MUSTACHE

Macon, Ga., Aug. 20 (AP) — British youths in training here to become pilots in the Royal Air Force are clean shaven. Those with mustaches had to shave them soon after arriving here for basic training. School officials invoked a rule that no cadet shall have "a horse, dog, cat, wife or mustache."

Expected Nazis Will Use Air-Borne Troops to Smash Way Across Dnieper

London, Aug. 20 (CP)—Neutral military observers in London predicted today the Germans would make unprecedented use of air-borne troops in an effort to smash their way across the Dnieper River, along which Soviet Marshal Semeon Budenny apparently is establishing a new defence line.

Authoritative quarters said it was assumed Budenny already has been able to withdraw many of his troops across the river and that he probably had destroyed all bridges.

Destruction of these crossings, however, will not suffice to hold the river line against Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's army of some 1,500,000 men, these quarters declared, unless Budenny is able to bring up fresh infantry and artillery to battle a veritable horde of parachutists.

Military observers outlined the probable German strategy thus:

The air force will first launch a heavy attack to pave the way for the landing of air borne troops and light guns east of where the Germans plan to establish bridgeheads.

The job of the air-borne troops will be to drive Russian infantry and machine-gunners from posts commanding the river's edge while dive bombers move farther east to blast Soviet artillery.

While this is going on Von Rundstedt will launch attacks across the river at about a dozen points probing for the weakest spot.

IRAN GIVEN WEEK TO MAKE REPLY TO JOINT NOTE

Britain, Russia Determined 3,000 Nazi Tourists Must Be Expulsed

READY FOR ACTION

London, Aug. 20—(CP)—Britain has given Iran (Persia) about a week in which to answer an Anglo-Russian request for expulsion of 3,000 German tourists and technicians said to have filtered into the country, authoritative quarters said today.

They regarded this as sufficient time for Iran to reply.

Although these sources insisted Britain had not sent an ultimatum on the issue, British and Russian troops were reported on Iran's frontiers ready for possible direct action if the Iranian Government should fail to satisfy the allied governments.

Press dispatches from Teheran said Iran was speeding defence measures and had called up three additional army classes, increasing the strength of the army from 120,000 to 200,000 men.

Official quarters in London would not confirm newspaper reports that a time limit had been mentioned in a British note to the Iranian Government. An authoritative source, however, reiterated the British Government's "sincere hope" that "the Iranian Government will heed our warning and act accordingly."

Sabotage May Follow

The Daily Mail's Teheran correspondent, who said Iran has only 48 hours more within which to frame a reply, declared that "should the answer be a direct

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 5)

International at a Glance

(By the Canadian Press)

SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN—Prime Minister Mackenzie King arrives by Liberator bomber on three-week visit; will attend War Cabinet meetings.

CANBERRA—Parliament debates Menzies' London visit in secret; Premier declares Japan created current tension and has "the means of relief in her own hands."

LONDON—Britain will regard as "extremely serious" a further Japanese move in the Far East; Iran given one week to expel German fifth columnists.

VICHY — British warships reported to have entered blockaded French Somaliland port of Jibuti. (London confirmation lacking.)

LONDON — R.A.F. uses super bombs on Kiel in heavy night raid.

MOSCOW — Russians announce 50-mile withdrawal south of Leningrad, but Germans still 40 miles from Moscow-Leningrad-Murmansk rail line.

BERLIN—Nazis predict early fall of Odessa; envision Black Sea thrust at Caucasian oil port of Batum.

WASHINGTON — United States will ferry planes to Russian Caucasus via Iran; Siberian route also planned.

SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN — Canadian troops undergo secret training in sea landings in preparation for Britain's continental offensive.

'The Road to Victory Must Be Blazed Thru The Air' Says Power

Montreal, Aug. 20 (CP). — Canadians no longer should think of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan in terms of buildings, runways and airplanes but rather in terms of "men, and conflict, and battle, and final victory," Air Minister Power said today.

"The road to victory must be blazed through the air," he told a joint Canadian Club and Rotary Club luncheon audience.

Without giving any figures, he said "It has been found that given the originally-planned number of schools, number of aircraft, and number of staff, we can produce 30 per cent. higher output than was originally anticipated."

(When the scheme was first announced in the autumn of 1939 it was estimated unofficially the output might reach 25,000 aircrew a year. There has been no denial of this figure.)

Maj. Power described the air training plan as "the most gigantic enterprise ever attempted by a people of a population of 12,000,000." Thousands of Canadian airmen were overseas now and "many times more" would be sent over before the war ends.

Strong Evidence of Part Played.

"Unfortunately, the ever-growing list of air force casualties is the strongest evidence of the part being played by our men in the air fighting overseas," he said.

"I say with regret that I can promise no relief from that grim circumstance.

"We are committed by our signature to the Empire Training Plan contract, to continue to furnish the major portion of the manpower for this training plan in Canada, and cosequently no inconsiderable portion of the total air manpower of the whole empire.

"We have no illusions as to the extent of the sacrifices, but we have no doubt as to the effectiveness of the effort.

"The road to victory must be blazed through the air."

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

Port of Hamburg Has Taken Terrific Pounding From RAF

London, Aug. 20.—(CP)—A neutral diplomat said today the important German port of Hamburg which he left a fortnight ago had taken "such a smashing from the Royal Air Force that its people were consoling themselves by saying 'well, it's not as bad here as it is in Bremen'."

"From the Central Railway Station to town hall", he said, "a street of eight or nine-storey buildings—Monckebergstrasse— has been laid in ruins and closed to traffic for days at a time".

The diplomat said no eastbound rail traffic had been able to move from the station and eastbound terminus facilities had been moved to an old suburban depot which had been closed 30 years.

He listed among buildings which had been smashed in Hamburg the Deutsche bank, the Stock Exchange and scores of industrial structures. Many other buildings along Alster Fleeten—one of the main canals of the big port city—"long have been evacuated and water is seeping into basements", he said.

Not a Crane Left Standing

Of Hamburg harbor he said: "The shipyards of Blohm and Voss, who were among the biggest shipbuilders, were damaged to such an extent by British bombs that from Bismarck Hill one is unable to see a single crane or vertical structure standing."

The Karl Schurz theatre and other buildings in the Reeperbahn amusement district are in ruins, the diplomat declared.

Another reliable source just returned from German territory but who declined to be quoted by name said he had learned that "82 of Goebbels' propaganda corps had been lost on the eastern front up to August 10". The casualties were said to have included 29 war correspondents, five film operators, 27 technicians, 15 photographers, four broadcasters and two cartoonists.

FIRST CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER TO FLY THE OCEAN

Safe Arrival Breaks 36-Hour Silence of Whereabouts of Mackenzie King

TEN IN PARTY

By ALAN RANDAL

(Canadian ress Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Aug. 20 (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King's first plane trip carried him across the North Atlantic for conferences with Prime Minister Churchill and word of his safe arrival today broke a 36-hour silence here as to his whereabouts.

Only a few outside those necessarily concerned with the prime minister's movements knew he had departed Canada—the first Canadian prime minister to fly the ocean—until this morning's announcement.

"Prime Minister Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King left Canada by plane on Tuesday, Aug. 19, for Great Britain where he will confer with Prime Minister Churchill and members of the British government and visit the armed forces of the Dominion now serving in the British Isles," the official announcement said.

Gone "Several Weeks".

Mr. King will be gone "several weeks", it said, spending his time in conferences with Britain's war leaders, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian Corps commander, and other Canadian military chiefs and making as many visits as possible to Canadian overseas formations.

While Mr. King made up his mind about the flight long ago—this became known at Jrince Albert, Sask., in July during his western tour—it was a natural follow-up to the secret sea meeting of ten days or so ago between Mr. Churchill and President Roosevelt.

(Continued on Page 11. Col. 5)

JAPAN CREATED EASTERN TENSION MENZIES CHARGES

Japanese Encirclement Talk Utterly Untrue says Australian Premier

TO DEFEND SINGAPORE

Canberra, Aug. 20 (CP).—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies charged Japan today with creating Far Eastern tension and said she had "the means of relief in her own hands."

"I do not desire to say anything likely to impair peace in the Pacific," Mr. Menzies told the Australian House of Representatives, called into special session to discuss the Far Eastern situation, "but the Japanese encirclement talk, if intended to create the belief that America, Great Britain, China and the Dutch Empire are contemplating an encirclement military move against Japan, is utterly untrue."

Mr. Menzies said Japanese occupation of French Indo-China bases was regarded by Britain and the United States as unjustified aggression "in a direction of vital concern to both British and American interests."

Taking note of the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting in the Atlantic, Mr. Menzies said their declaration "sets out plainly the fundamental aspirations of liberty-loving people the world over."

"As a declaration of human rights, its effect outside and inside Europe has been enormous," he said. "It is a reminder that a new order is in the making and that war is not merely a great struggle for the overthrow of evil things, but something from which positively good things must emerge.

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)

BIG NAZI NAVAL BASE AT KIEL BLASTED BY RAF

Despite "Very Bad Weather" Fighter Craft Smashed at Nazi Airdromes in France

15 NAZI PLANES DOWNED

London, Aug. 20 (CP)—Bombers of the Royal Air Force, despite "very bad weather," blasted at the big Nazi naval base at Kiel during the night, along with other attacks on northwestern Germany, the Air Ministry said today.

In addition, fighter craft smashed at Nazi airdromes in "enemy-occupied territory," an announcement said. Two bombers were lost in the night operations.

Pilots who took part in the offensive over Germany reported that the super-bombs they call "Beautifuls" were seen to drop on targets but that thick clouds at times made observation difficult.

At the same time, in a further account of offensive operations by the R.A.F. yesterday, the Air Minister said British losses were three bombers and 14 fighters while the R.A.F. shot down 15 German fighters.

On the home front, the Air Ministry said only a small number of hostile aircraft flew inland at various points along the British east coast during the night. One enemy bomber was shot down.

"A few bombs were dropped at scattered points," a communique said. "At one place on the south-east coast some damage was done and a small number of people were injured."

The overnight offensive was a follow-up to the poundings of Nazi bases in Northern France last night in which two relays of British bombers took part.

Earlier Tuesday, as the never-ending offensive continued, many enemy vessels were hit in daylight operations of the bomber command and 13 Nazi fighters were shot down. Seventeen British planes were lost.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

MAY INFLUENCE DEBATE

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 20—(CP Cable)—News that Prime Minister Mackenzie King has arived in London to attend meetings of the British war cabinet reached Australia today while the Commonwealth Parliament was meeting in camera to discuss a similar visit by Prime Minister R. G. Menzies.

The news was immediately telephoned to the Federal capital, Canberra, and may influence the outcome of the debate.

GERMANS VIOLATE WATERS

London, Aug. 20—(CP)—British sources said today that three German planes violated Portuguese waters to attack a British merchantmen lying off a Portuguese port awaiting entrance. One bomb was dropped near the ship and her decks were machine-gunned it was said but there were no casualties.

Canadian Troops Practise Coastal Assault Tactics and Sea Landings

By ROSS MUNRO

(Canadian Press War Correspondent)

With the Canadian Forces Somewhere in the United Kingdom, Aug. 20 (CP).—In a week-long invasion exercise several thousand Canadian troops have been given secret training in sea landings and coastal assault tactics for the day when Britain launches her own offensive against Nazi-held Europe.

Broadening the basis of the training the Canadians have received, the troops, consisting of infantry, engineer, gunner, signal, machine-gun and medical units were brought here by train and boat to be taught to disembark quickly into bobbing boats, and make assault landings on beaches and jetties, and were shown the initial principles of combined operations with the Royal Navy.

This was an entirely new type of manoeuvre for the Canadians and by the end of the week they were carrying out rapid landings in full battle kit.

All 1st Division troops, they were moved mysteriously from their regular camps in English defence zones to this area where the entire training was carried out. British army and navy officers aided the Canadians in this new operation and taught them the latest tactics being developed for a British offensive.

Maj. Norrington, Trenton, Assists.

Commanding the Canadians was a Brigadier from Saskatoon, who formerly was professor of agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan. Included among those with him was Maj. A. H. Norrington, Trenton, Ont.

Capt. William Innes of St. Catharines, Ont., and Toronto, was cipher officer.

The exercise was carried out in great secrecy with stress on security, giving the troops a complete work-out in the principles of invasion.

The infantry were given the hardest tasks and two regiments went on route marches which stretched from ten to twenty miles a day or practised leaving ship and assaulting the coast in small boats.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

Russians Execute Withdrawal South Of Leningrad

Red Air Force Starts Large Fires in Rumanian Oil Fields Around Ploesti Says Paper

FIGHT AROUND ODESSA

Moscow, Aug. 20. (AP)—The battle for Leningrad developed today into a great showdown about Novgorod, an ancient walled town 100 miles to the south of that second city of the Soviet Union.

The Red command's mid-day communique reported heavy fighting on every front—including the theatre of a new Nazi penetration mid-way between Kiev and Smolensk near Gomel—but it was in the north that the fiercest of all the day's struggles was under way.

Novgorod, the capita lof province of that name, is by terrain well adapted to an effective stand. The province is half-covered with forests and holds about 1,200 lakes and the town itself stands high on a hill over the Volkhov river, is surrounded by swamps and lowlands and has a fortified Kremlin within stone walls.

An indication that the Germans are beginning to bring air-borne troops into play in their offensive was seen in an official announcement that a number of big four-motored Junkers transports, loaded with light tanks as well as men, had been shot down.

The Red Army said there had been no let-up in fierce battles at the north and south flanks of the long front, with Russian forces holding out beyond Kingisepp, 75 miles south of Leningrad, and around the big Black Sea port of Odessa.

One Drive Supports Another

The Nazi push to the Novgorod sector, 100 miles south of Leningrad, apparently was in support of the drive directly east from Estonia to which Kingisepp fell Monday. Novgorod, at the north of Lake Ilmen, is 50 miles northeast of Soltsi, where fighting last had been reported.

Mention of the fight around Odessa was the only official reference to the situation in the Western Ukraine.

The Red Air Force was said to have started large fires in new raids on the Rumanian oil fields around Ploesti, and Red Star, organ of the Red Army, said Marshal Semeon Budenny's forces in the Ukraine counter-attacked and recaptured one town. It was identified only as "K."

(A Russian report several days ago said a town of "K" had been saved at least temporarily by a Red Army counter-attack which killed and wounded 20,000 Germans and drove the Nazis back six to eight miles.)

Red Star said the lack of adequate heavy artillery was proving a handicap to the enemy as the campaign progressed.

Possibility of Nazi Thrust Across Black Sea to Soviet Oil Port of Batum Envisioned

PRESSURE ON KIEV

Berlin, Aug. 20—(AP) — German dispatches from the lower Dnieper front said large formations of Russian tanks were counter-attacking Nazi lines in an attempt to cover withdrawals of sizable Russian units eastward across the river.

Swarms of German planes were claimed to be bombing bridges and boats being used by the Russians.

The German objective was said to be to prevent the Russians taking new positions on the other side of the river.

Meanwhile the possibility of a Nazi thrust across the Black Sea at the Soviet oil port of Batum was envisioned as Germans predicted the fall of Odessa within a matter of days.

Spokesmen asserted capture of Odessa would leave the entire Russian coast west of the Dnieper River in German hands thereby impairing Soviet hopes of continued control of the Black Sea.

The war bulletin from Hitler's headquarters today said German troops had made successful attacks on Russian forces still defending bridgeheads on the west bank of the Dnieper, destroying 65 tanks and taking numerous prisoners. There were no other claims regarding the Eastern front.

A sea-borne assault on Batum, at the eastern end of the Black Sea, would relieve the Germans of a long overland offensive and would, if successful, provide a gateway for an assault on the vital Caucasus oil region.

The assault upon Odessa, which the Germans said is under way, apparently coincided with increased pressure on the Ukrainian Capital of Kiev, situated on the west bank of the Dnieper 280 miles to the north.

News from the Ukraine overshadowed operations on other sectors of the front, and Berlin newspapers carried only fragmentary reports of happenings on the Smolensk and Leningrad fronts.

D.N.B. said aerial assaults on Odessa, Russia's No. 1 Black Sea port, have been stepped up sharply in the past two days.

It pictured the waterfront littered with the wreckage of buildings and the harbor with sunken ships. Air-borne artillery, it claimed, has taken a heavy toll of Red Army concentrations there, even to "the destruction of entire units."

"Of many sunken warships, only the tops of masts were showing above the water," it claimed. 'Harbor facilities were permanently destroyed.... A stick of bombs had blasted the northern port terminal. Freight cars were destroyed and trackage torn up for miles. Big shipbuilding dock facilities suffered direct hits and were gutted by fire."

GERMAN PLANE OVER ICELAND

Reykjavik, Aug. 20—(20)—A Single German plane today flew over Iceland's Capital—Occupied by British and United States troops—but dropped no bombs.

Coming Events

OAK LAKE CASINO PRESENTS dancing every Wednesday and Friday evenings. Music by The Commodores. Jitney plan. Oak Lake Casino, just a short drive on Stirling road. A13W-Ftf

ALL MEMBERS OF EMMANUEL Church are requested to meet at the Sunday School rooms at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening. A20-1t

HARD BALL GAME CANNIFTON School grounds tonight, (Wednesday) Latta vs Cannifton. 5th game play-off. Silver collection. A20-1t

A DANCE WILL BE HELD IN Tweed Pavilion, Friday, August 22, by the Hungerford Junior Farmers. Dancing from 9 to 2 Standard Time. Admission: Gents 35c; Ladies 25c. A19-3t

GEEN'S PILE REMEDY
FOR QUICK RELIEF. 50c TUBE. PHONE 111
A14-15-18

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

HEREFORDS PURCHASED BY WM. CLARKE

A fine lot of Hereford cattle were loaded at Napanee stock yards yesterday consigned to Wm. Clark of this city who still likes to pick out the good ones. The "white faces" averaged 940 lbs. each and were purchased from Mr. Clare Russell.

BUILDING INCREASES NEARLY 300 P. C.

A building increase of approximately 300 per cent over last year has been enjoyed in Belleville for the first seven months of the year it was revealed by a check of records at the city hall. For the period from January to July 31 a total of 70 building permits were issued by City Engineer Chas. Mott, representing a constructional value of $148,050. The month of April as is usually the case saw the greatest activity in building circles, 27 permits being issued, for a total of $73,765.

This compares with only 26 permits issued during the same period last year when total construction amounted to $59,200. April and June were the big months in 1940 when buildings to the value of more than one-half the total construction were erected.

BELLEVILLE FOUNDRY RECEIVES CONTRACT

Among the contracts awarded by the Department of Munitions and Supply from August 6-12 inclusive was one to Belleville Foundries, Limited, 111 Station Street, for $5443, it was announced from Ottawa last evening. Belleville Foundries, Limited, is a government approved foundry and one of the few in Eastern Ontario equipped to turn out special alloy castings.

BOWLERS LEAVE FOR OSHAWA TOURNEY

Representing the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club, a quartette of local lawn bowlers journeyed to Oshawa today to participate in the annual General Motors Gold Cup men's rink bowling tournament, sponsored by the Oshawa Lawn Bowling Club. Crack rinks from all parts of Ontario are expected to compete in the annual General Motors' Gold Cup tournament. The Belleville team will be composed of Messrs. "Davis" Davison, Cliff Argue, Ab Wonnacott and Doug Row.

POLICE PERMITTED TO ISSUE PERMITS

With the recent orders permitting police authorities to issue permits for the re-fuelling of automobiles during prohibited hours, when a real emergency exists, was defined by Chief Alex. Kidd today.

"A real emergency is defined in the official's order as serious illness, death, fire or a serious accident and police authorities are only permitted to issue these special re-fuelling permits in the above cases only," Chief Kidd announced.

POLICE BLOTTER

Robbers entered Bargman's grocery store at 390 Front Street and stole a quantity of cigarettes some time this week, police authorities were informed yesterday.

Entrance was gained through a cellar window and cigarettes valued at $10.00 were taken. Late Tuesday Detective Fred Isard recovered about one-half of the smokes cached beneath a clump of bushes near the corner of Earl and North Front Streets. The cigarettes recovered were returned to Mr. Bargman.

Claims Boy Attacked by Dog

Complaining that a neighbor's dog had attacked her little boy and tore his clothing, Mrs. C. Buskard, 118 Chatham Street, acquainted city police with the details of the attack this morning. Subsequent investigations proved the child to be unharmed and only damaged clothing resulted. The matter was amicably settled without further incident.

No Arrests Reported

With cooler evenings coming along in late August nights, slowly transients are beginning to seek warm inside sleeping accommodation. Last night two weary travellers accepted the comforts of sleeping quarters at the police station. No arrests have been reported locally in the past 24 hours, however.

NOTED PHYSICIAN DIES

London, Aug. 20 (CP)—Sir Alfred James Rice-Oxley, physician to Princess Beatrice for 20 years, is dead. He was 85.

It Pays to Shop
At the Rexall Store.
HAYVAX
INSTANT RELIEF FOR HAY FEVER
Provides Lasting Comfort
1.00 & 2.00
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 125

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

CHECKER
TAXI
PHONE
755
BEST 24-HOUR SERVICE
A11 MWSE

Kiwanis Karnival Discussed at Kiwanis Luncheon

Members of United States Kiwanis Clubs and American visitors were greeted at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Queen's Hotel on Tuesday and all were loud in their praise of the Canadian effort in this Great War and assured the members that the people of the United States were definitely behind Canada and Great Britain in the struggle. Jack McVeigh, Chairman of the Karnival Committee was in charge of the meeting in the absence of President Jim Barclay and comprehensive reports were given by the various chairmen as to the progress so far for the annual function of the club to raise funds to carry on their various projects. Jimmie Cowan was Sergeant-at-Arms, although he did not work much on the job and Harold Carruthers directed the community singing with Leo B. Riggs presiding at the piano.

Ray Grant introduced Al Reynolds on the occasion of his first anniversary in Kiwanis and Mr. Grant extolled the virtues of the member who has worked very conscientiously for the benefit of the club. The prize donated by Al was won by Dr. Jim Forrester. Mills Marr, chairman of the Car Committee told the members that the car was "nearly out of the red" but that was no reason why the members should relax their effort until the close of the Karnival. "The outside response has been very satisfactory" said Mills, "and there will be a large return during the next two days." Eddie Logan gave a report on the sale of tickets and showed that Jack McVeigh was leading the field with 64 books sold with Ted Willing, Gordon Barclay and Bruce Lattimer close behind. A prize will be given next luncheon to the member selling the most books on the car.

Frank Domenico, chairman of Games, told the members that the games at the Karnival will be the best ever presented by the Kiwanis Club and requested that all games' chairmen be present early in their booths and ready for business early. Charlie Richardson will act as cashier in place of Wilfred Laporte, who has been ordered by his physician to take a long rest. Other reports were given and the members were inclined to believe a splendid Karnival was in the offing.

Three Italian Planes Raiding Malta Downed

Cairo, Aug. 20—(AP)—Royal Air Force Hurricanes chased Italian aircraft which approached Malta yesterday and shot down three of them over the coast of Sicily, Air Headquarters for the Middle East announced today.

South African planes carried out operations in Libya and Ethiopia, a communique said, while at Tripoli R.A.F. bombers scored hits on or near the Spanish quay, starting a number of fires.

On the Libyan land front General Headquarters reported some heavy shelling at Tobruk although a dust storm restricted activity. On the Egyptian-Libyan frontier British artillery opened up on Axis transport damaging some vehicles.

AIRMEN RECEIVE WINGS

Moncton, N.B., Aug. 20—(CP)—Airmen from the United States and nearly every province in Canada received their wings today in the sixth graduation at the Royal Canadian Air Force Service Flying Training School here. The men received their wings from Wing Commander W. W. Brown.

The graduates included: Percival Calvesber, Brantford, Ont.; Charles Palmer, Dundalk, Ont.; Charles Park, London, Ont.; Harold Rowlands, Fergus, Ont.; David Witherspoon, Ailsa Craig, Ont.; William Smith Embro, Ont.

End of Nazi Plane

Russian soldiers and collective farmers watch flames consume a German raiding plane after it was shot down.

Gas Works May Have to Cease Operation in About 2 Months Because of State of Retorts

Possibility Revealed at Meeting of Utilities Commission—Council Recently Refused to Advance Funds for Rehabilitation of Plant—Question Raised Whether Repair, If Undertaken, Could Be Made Before Plant Might Cease to Operate of Its Own Accord—Commission to Reply to Council's Letter As To Refusal of Funds and to Make Statement to Public on the Situation—

The Belleville Gas Works may have to cease operations in about two months, it was stated at the special meeting of the Public Utilities Commission held on Tuesday afternoon. The plant is reported to be in a condition that this might be the result even before any repairs if undertaken, could be completed.

At present the coal gas plant produces about 60,000 cubic feet a day. The water set working about four days a week is able to pile up 20,000 cubic feet a day, so that total production of the works is about 80,000 feet a day.

The coal gas retorts require immediate attention, experts have said and this plant may continue for some time or it might suddenly play out. Repairs might be possibly made, it is said, if the water gas set were used. The water set is capable of handling the needs of the consumers but to produce the amount of gas required while the coal gas plant was being repaired would be at the cost of the life of the water gas set. It is stated that the normal life of the lining of the water set is three months and the commission has been using it on and off all summer. So if the utility depended entirely on the water gas set it is estimated that already one month's life of the living of this set has been used out of it and only two months' use is left.

Problematical

Everything is problematical in that the coal gas set might continue for some time or might suddenly break down, throwing the full burden on the water gas plant. If the coal gas retorts were to be relined, it is estimated that it might take three months or more after arrangements were made for relining, the material ordered and the workmen secured, before they were ready for use again, leaving the water gas set alone to handle the production for that period of time though the estimated "life" left in the lining in the water set is only two months.

At Tuesday's meeting reference was made to the refusal of the city council on July 17th of this year to advance to the Public Utilities the amount of $13,000 asked by the commission of which $8,000 would go for relining gas retorts which experts say are in immediate need of repair for the operation of the plant. The council had asked to have the plant returned to the city council for operation or disposal if the Commission cannot operate it with profit.

The Commission yesterday decided to reply with a full statement of the situation to the letter of the City Council and also to issue a statement to the press.

Reference To Legal View.

Members of the Commission referred to the legal view given the Commission by Mr. C. A. Payne, K.C. In part it was that the Commission cannot transfer to the Corporation of the City of Belleville the gas utility unless and until the qualified electors by an affirmative vote have so signified their wishes whereupon the corporation is obliged to pass a by-law transferring the management and control of the utility to the corporation.

Another angle of the question was answered in this way:

Applying the ordinary law of principal and agent to the circumstances if the principal refuses to supply the plant with funds when the agent has not funds of the principal to carry on an undertaking, there could be seen no alternative but for the agent to shut down the business and so here if the corporation refuses to restore the works, then if the business cannot be operated in its present condition of repair, the only alternative for the Commission would be to discontinue to operate the works.

Report By Mr. Green

Chairman M. P. Duff read a report from Mr. Green of the Toronto Standard Metre Company, who had inspected the plant recently at the request of the commission. This showed that the third retort was not operating and that the retorts were badly in need of relining. They had been used for 12 years since last relined while the usual life is five years. The report stressed the immediate necessity of repairs.

Commissioner George A. Reid said that the council had asked the commission to hand back the plant. "But we cannot do that. I want the people to know that we cannot borrow any money or close the plant or hand it back to the council," said Mr. Reid.

People Must Know Facts

The chairman told the board that "we are asking the men to operate under trying conditions the people want to know the facts and they have a right to know them. I think the time has come between the city and the commission to do what is best for the people."

Mr. Duff suggested that there was a possibility that by the time the plant was in a state of repair, it might have ceased to operate.

Mr. Reid: "If the council wants to take the plant and run it, all right. But I don't believe it should be closed."

Mayor Thompson remarked: "This Commission, I understand is responsible. You asked the council for a certain amount of money and they refused."

Chairman Duff: "The plant belongs to the council."

Mr. Duff said that Mayor Thompson was a commissioner and had the same responsibility to the Commission as the other two members.

The Mayor took the view that he was a commissioner by virtue of having been elected Mayor and the others by having been elected commissioners. However, he said he had always done his duty as a commissioner.

Commissioner Reid: "This Commission has no power to borrow money or to close the plant."

Mayor Thompson: "If we hand out money to any utility, anything can be made to run."

The Chairman: "The point is, what is to be done in the best interests of the citizens, to see that the people are protected."

Mr. Strickland, a large consumer of gas, appeared before the Commission at this juncture and was heard in a complaint as to the quality of the gas and the increase in the amount of his gas bill.

Mr. Duff said that he was sorry that in the present state of the gas plant the commission was unable to give him any redress.

Manager Mr. O. H. Scott was asked about the quality of the gas. He said that it takes longer for the gas to heat and Mr. Duff said that there were not the necessary heating units in it.

Chairman Duff repeated that "we have no power to shut down the plant. I think that we should notify council that this is so and notify the people that it cannot be carried on much longer, perhaps two months."

He declared that "we want to make ourselves clear."

Says Plant May Cease Operating of Own Accord

He proposed that a letter be prepared to be sent to the council and to the public outlining the full facts of the case and stating that in the commission's opinion unless something is done the plant would stop operating of its own accord.

He said that the people should be advised so that they might prepare for such an eventuality.

Commissioner Reid remarked: "We can only operate the plant until it falls down."

Chairman Duff referred to the gas produced as poor in quality. Commissioner Reid wanted the people advised of the situation.

The Chairman referred to the immediate future of the plant and its possible life; that it might have to cease operation in about two months.

The commission adjourned.

Sum of $13,000 Asked

The question of the need of funds by the Commission for the Gas Works was broached in February 26th, 1940, in a communication to the council asking for the inclusion in the 1940 estimates of an amount of $13,000 of which $8,000 would be for relining of retorts to keep the plant operating.

Other correspondence on this matter is of interest.

On May 8th, 1941, the Commission wrote the Mayor and Aldermen of the City Council:

"That the Council of the City of Belleville be requested to provide immediately the sum of $13,000 for the purpose of rehabilitating the gas utility.

"In explanation of the above the Commission would inform that for several years the councils have been informed of the necessity of relining the retorts if the gas plant was to continue in operation. The matter has been allowed to drift and the Commission now has to advise that it does not consider it safe to operate the plant any longer in its present condition. There are other matters which have to be taken care of as explained in the letter to you on April 17th so that the amount of $13,000 is the minimum the Commission can get along with if the utility is to be kept going."

Council Refuses

In a communication of the City Council on July 18, 1941, the Commission was informed that on July 17th 1941 "the council refused to advance the amount of $13,000 to the Public Utilities Commission for the Belleville Gas Plant. We are of opinion that further investment under commission management is not in the interest of the taxpayers of the City of Belleville and if the commission is unable to operate for profits from the operation of the gas plant, the said plant be returned to the City of Belleville for further operation or disposal as the council deems advisable."

Obituary

EDWARD SPECK

(Actinolite)

Edward Speck, age seventy years, residence Actinolite, died in the Belleville General Hospital early this Wednesday morning. He was a patient in the Hospital since August 15th.

INFANT POINTER

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pointer, 294 Front St., died in the Belleville General Hospital early this Wednesday morning.

HENRY EDWARD CRANDELL

(Orland, Ontario)

Wooler, Aug. 20 — (Special) — Henry Edward Crandell, of Orland, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Saturday, August 16th, after a lengthy illness. He was born eighty years ago in Trenton, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Vincent Crandell. During his active years he was engaged in farming. For the past three years he made his home at Orland, prior to which time he resided at Trenton and Mount Zion in Murray Township. He was a member of the United Church and well respected.

Surviving him are his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Susan Jane Osborne and three sons.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, August 18th, to the Holiness Movement Church in Orland where service was conducted by the Rev. R. Clarke of Wooler. Interment was in Bayside Cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. William Lattimer, Joseph Wright, Burton Towne, Ernest Franklin, Arthur Mibson and W. Raycraft.

LAST TIMES TONIGHT
TWO EXCELLENT FEATURES
JANET GAYNOR — ROBERT MONTGOMERY
FRANCHOT TONE
in
"THREE LOVES HAS NANCY"
2nd. HIT—
CLIVE BROOK in "THE WARE CASE"
Thursday, Friday, Saturday
2 NEW HITS
Sweetheart of the Campus
with RUBY KEELER HARRIET HILLIARD OZZIE NELSON and his BAND
I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND
with SALLY EILERS Donald WOODS
— MATINEE THURSDAY 2.30 P.M. —
ADDED LAUGH - PACKED COMEDY - CARTOON
"THERE'S MUSIC IN YOUR HAIR"
Second Thrill - Packed Chapter New Serial
BUCK JONES
in
"WHITE EAGLE"
AIR CONDITIONED McCARTHY THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE
COMING NEXT THURSDAY, AUGUST 28th.
JAMES CAGNEY — PAT O'BRIEN
in
"DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR"

Fl. Lieutenant To Draw Ticket

The technical adviser and director of all air scenes for the picture, "Captain of the Clouds" being filmed in this country, Flight Lieutenant S. C. Campbell, will make the drawing Thursday evening for the Plymouth car being donated at the Kiwanis Karnival, Jack McVeigh, general chairman of the Karnival committee, announced today. Flt. Lieut. Campbell with a staff of 50 cameramen and ground crew will be in the city the greater part of this week making scenes for the picture at the R.C.A.F. Air Stations at Trenton, Mountain View and Picton and will be accompanied to the city by Frank Clarke, stunt pilot from Hollywood. Mr. Campbell has shot all the air scenes since the picture "Wings" was introduced by Howard Hughes and includes "Ceiling Zero," "Hell's Angels" and "I Wanted Wings."

Plans have been completed for the Karnival and all that is needed to make the affair a success is good weather. There will be games and fun galore with 50 special prizes donated by Kiwanis and other merchants in the city being offered each night. These prizes are separate from the car and hope chest but in order to win these prizes the person must be present, when the drawing is made. Tickets will be distributed to all those who play the games at the Karnival and will be eligible to compete in these drawings. The sale of tickets on the car and hope chest will continue until Thursday evening just before the draws are made and both articles will be placed in a convenient place for people to view.

All the money that will be raised by the Kiwanis Club will be used by the directorate to further the objectives of Kiwanis and the projects of the organization as well as the ordinary budget. The Club members have put a lot of effort into this Karnival and are convinced the public will support their efforts as in past years.

From End to End

It is 2,300 miles from Gibraltar to the Syrian shore across the Mediterranean.

CAPITOL Tomorrow
—TWO THRILLING ACTION FEATURES!—
THE 3 MESQUITEERS
GANGS of SONORA
ROBERT LIVINGSTON
BOB STEELE
RUFE DAVIS
At 7.45 - 10
PLUS THE STRANGEST STORY OF THE YEAR!
Last Complete Show at 8.45
"I'M IN[illegible] OF MUR[illegible] and I'll e[illegible] to prove it
"STRANGE ALIBI"
PLUS: LATEST NEWS and Chapter 7 "MYSTERIOUS DR. SATAN"
TONIGHT IS FOTO - NITE — FIRST SHOW 6.30 P.M.
$215.00
OFFER FOR A PHOTO
On the Screen — Last Times
JUDY CANOVA, "PUDDIN' HEAD" and "SALOON BAR"

McNabb's
LAST CALL
SAVE real money now—in replenishing your wardrobe—Our entire stock Summer merchandise further reduced to make room for Fall.
BUY NOW!
60 DRESSES
to clear at ...$1.98
75 DRESSES
from our higher priced groups
to clear at ...$3.98
DRESSES
All our better Summer dresses —regardless of cost and consisting of all branded lines now clearing at—
1/2 PRICE
BLOUSES
A special group of blouses—slightly soiled or shop worn—as well as many other items now clearing at—
1/2 PRICE
The J. A. McNabb, Limited
254 FRONT STREET

LAST TIMES TODAY:
HIT No 1— NEWEST KILDARE THRILLER! "The People Vs. Dr. Kildare"
HIT No. 2— Jane's a Glamour Girl! JANE WITHERS "A Very Young Lady" —News of the Day—
Starts tomorrow
Beery's funniest Laugh hit since "MIN AND BILL"
BELLE
— A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE —
THOSE SWEETHEARTS OF "WYOMING" IN 1941's HAPPIEST HOWL HIT!
IT'S BILLY'S "LADY BLACKSMITH"
Wallace BEERY as "BARNACLE BILL"
(AN OLD SALT WHO GOES SWEET ON A SOUR SUSIE)
MARJORIE MAIN
LEO CARRILLO • VIRGINIA WEIDLER
DONALD MEEK • BARTON MacLANE
A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture plus
A Mystery Story with Plenty of Laughs . . . Romance . . . Excitement
"A SHOT IN THE DARK"
WILLIAM LUNDIGAN — NAN WYNN
Extra! MARCH OF TIME Presents NEW ENGLAND, 8,000,000 YANKEES
DAILY 2.30 7.00 Last Show 8.30

AIRVVIEW OF MYSTERY BLAZE WHICH SWEPT BROOKLYN WATERFRONT

Diving as close to the flames as it dared go, a camerman on a special plane made this unusual and spectacular photo of the conflagration that swept Pier 27 in Brooklyn, and the surrounding waterfront in one of the worst fires in recent years. The tongues of flames are shown leaping skyward after a series of blast. In the centre between both piers, can be distinguished the Cuba liner Panuco, ablaze just before it was towed into mid-bay in a near-sinking condition. Scores of firemen and longshoremen were severely injured and authorities are investigating the cause of the fire which damaged some military supplies.

SEAMEN PICTURE 69 DAYS ADRIFT SCANT RATIONS

Survivors Saw 20 of 28 Die of Starvation and Exposure, Others were Rescued by Miracles of Sea

By FOSTER BARCLAY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

London (CP)—Tales of hunger, thirst, heat and cold were recounted at a British port by three merchant seamen who between them spent 69 days in open boats, drifting aimlessly in the Atlantic after their ships had been torpedoed.

The trio, Jimmy Kavanagh, 30, Harry Morton, 21, and Donald McNeil, 24, watched men die from starvation, saw ships approach and then change course and were too weak to stand when eventually rescued.

Kavanagh, a Liverpool greaser, was being treated for frost-bite as he told how he watched 20 of a crew of 28 slowly die while a lifeboat bobbed out of control for 20 days. The others, including the skipper, died later aboard a rescue ship.

Down in Engine Room

"I don't think we could have lasted another day under the conditions," he said. "We were too tired to bale the water out of the boat. I was down in the engine room when an enemy submarine fired a torpedo at us when we were about 1,600 miles west of Britain. I was in a lifeboat when the ship blew up and I was nearly blown with it. I think the boat head must have burst because the rest of the night I was clinging to a raft but the following morning I was picked up by another lifeboat in charge of the skipper.

"There were 28 of us to start with, but as the days passed some died and were buried at sea. Once we sighted a plane which dropped rations. All we had were biscuits and water. When we sighted the ship which rescued us there were only six of us left and while on the rescue ship two more, one of them the skipper, died."

Prayers Answered

Thirty-one days adrift with 28 sailors were described by Morton, quarter-master aboard a ship torpedoed in the South Atlantic.

"Nine white men and 21 Indians were in the boat," he said. "After we had eaten our corned beef all we had for days were half a biscuit and half a can of water each day.

"A terrific downpour one night saved our lives by replenishing the water supply, but we were getting very weak. Then on June 10 our prayers were answered. One of the Indians saw smoke on the horizon and soon afterwards we were picked up."

A heart-breaking story of 18 days afloat with only biscuits to suck was recounted by McNeil who said the supply of water ran out early on the last day.

"Soon afterwards we sighted two trawlers but they failed to see us," he said. "A little later, however, a miracle happened. An Irish steamship found us."

Dispute Between Rival Unions Disrupts Traffic

Detroit, Aug. 20 (AP)—A jurisdictional dispute between rival A.F.L. and C.I.O. Unions paralyzed the bus and street car system of this vital defence centre today and forced an estimated 400,000 office and factory workers to seek emergency transportation.

A strike call affecting approximately 4,000 motor coach and car operators was voted last night at a meeting of Division 26 of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators of America (American Federation of Labor.)

In advance of the Union's 4 a.m. strike deadline, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries ordered that no attempt be made by the rival Union—State, County and Municipal Workers of America (Congress of Industrial Organizations)—to operate the transportation system.

Could Not Prevent Vote

James P. McGinnity, Amalgamated Business Agent, said the strike call was voted "despite everything the officers could do to get the men to wait at least for a 30-day or five-day cooling-off period."

He said the A.F.L. group demanded sole and exclusive bargaining rights for all car and bus men, exclusive rights to use car house and garage bulletin boards and an agreement from the Street Railway Commission that no other Union would have amalgamated's privilege of "checking off" Union dues from employees' wages.

Commission President Samuel Gilbert declared that within the past "30 days we concluded with them (amalgamated) a new working agreement which gave the men more than $850,000 in improved working conditions and $650,000 salary increases. These raises made the D.S.R. workers the highest paid in the transportation industry."

BRITISH WARSHIPS ENTER JIBUTI PORT

Situation in Blockaded French Somaliland said Serious

Vichy, Aug. 20—(AP)—Two British warships were reported today to have steamed in the blockaded French Somaliland port of Jibuti after a British dispatch boat shelled a French ship outside the harbor.

The word reached here in a radio broadcast from the Jibuti intercolonial station. It did not say what action resulted, but described the situation in blockaded French Somaliland as becoming serious.

(There was no immediate confirmation from London on these reports, but it was recalled the Vichy French were warned by Britain several weeks ago to remove women and children from Jibuti.)

In Love again...Wallace Berry is back in the arms of Marjorie Main, his light of love in "Barnacle Bill", laugh-splashed thriller featuring Leo Carrillo, opening next at the Belle Theatre.

'This Dreadful Little Man'

By Hendrik Willem van Loon, noted Dutch-American Historian, in the New York Herald Tribune.

"When God tires of him, Hitler will disappear."

I did not invent that sentence and I am a bit hazy about its origin, but I feel pretty certain that I once found it in a short article which Victor Hugo wrote about Napoleon. I am not quite certain whether it was Napoleon I or Napoleon III. But that, too, makes little difference, for there is something cosmic and eternal about these warning words of the great French author—that when at last the good Lord grows tired of some historical figure, that figure is bound to disappear.

It may sound a bit absurd to recall a sentence which has so little relation to our own times. We bright, modern people, proud citizens of the mechanistic age of our own making, have long since taken God out of our daily lives and our daily affairs. We now rely upon "factual reports" which come to us by means of the telegraph, the telephone, the wireless and the radio.

No one can fool us. We listen in on the bombardment of Moscow and hear the dying gurgle of the sailors caught in a submarine.

• • •

Five minutes after we have been "ear-witnessess" to those events, a small army of radio commentators descends upon the scene and like so many historical charwomen they thoroughly clean up the stage and remove the last scraps of doubt and uncertainty, so that everything may be neat and clean for the next performance.

Early the next morning, a battalion of high-speed "experts" gets busy and at the hand of vast volumes of statistics and specially prepared maps, these erudite gentlemen show us just exactly how the war from now on must favor either the British or the Nazis or the Russians, and a week later dozens of magazines are ready to rehash all those incidents and to present us with those "final conclusions" which will make much funnier and much less painfull reading a hundred years hence than next month.

With all this enormous machinery of enlightenment, we should therefore know exactly what has happened in this world yesterday, what is happening at this precise moment and what will happen next week, but as a matter of fact, we are more hopelessly lost than ever before and our great-great-grandfathers had a better understanding of Napoleon's intricate campaigns than we have about Herr Hitler's rather simple manoeuvres.

• • •

These last two months I have had a lot of spare time in which to meditate upon this rather perplexing problem. But it took very little effort to solve it.

The trouble with us is that we have forgotten Frederick the Great's wise dictum that "In all battles it is General Chance who invariably will make the final decision." Frederick of Prussia, being a Free Mason as well as a freethinker, substituted the name of "General Chance" for that of the good Lord (because it was the fashionable thing to do), but the philosophy underlying his statement was the same as that of Cromwell and Gustavus Adolphus, who never went into battle without reading a chapter of their Bible. And without leaving the final decision with God.

For this is not only a universe of immutable physical laws but also a universe of unchangeable moral laws and therefore, the moment God—or General Chance or whatever name you wish to use—shall have become thoroughly tired of the outrageous antics of the preposterous little Bohemian corporal (to quote Marshal Hindenburg's immortal words), Hitler will disappear.

When will that happen? I don't know, but following what I would like to call my "historical instinct"—which is the result of 50 years spent upon a rather careful study of "human relations—I am ready to predict that that moment is close at hand. Hitler has now reached that height of fame and success which Napoleon had achieved early in the year 1812. I am not drawing any parallel between the Russian campaign of Napoleon and that of Hitler, for there are no real points of comparison.

No, I am looking at the problem entirely from a general philosophical angle and I would like to warn you that a totally unexpected Blitz Peace may at any moment make an end to all further blitz war. For the Lord has had about enough of this dreadful little man. He is as sick and tired of him, as He was of Napoleon in the year 1812. He is bored with him. He is fed up with him. And once that moment has been reached, the victim of the Divine wrath—no matter how powerful or invincible—is doomed.

• • •

Don't ask me whether I have any private information or a special courier service with Berchtesgaden. I only know what everybody else knows who reads the newspapers. But Hitler belongs to quite a well-known and familiar group of historical figures.

About his uncanny shrewdness and his extraordinary abilities, there can be no doubt. He has, however, committed one grave error. He is making the same mistake which proved fatal to his predecessors.

Ignoring the words of warning writ large across all the pages of the past, he allows himself to live under the illusion that because his genious has made him stand apart from the rest of his fellow-men, it has also placed him beyond the realm of that moral law which is part of the very structure of creation.

That law will now go into action and then, as Victor Hugo (being a poet) expressed it so aptly, then the good Lord will take notice of him, will say, "This fellow bores me" and that will be the end of the son of the late Alois Schickelgruber. May his ashes never rest in peace!

Arthur Kennedy, the young player who scored personal triumphs in "City for Conquests" and "High Sierra", has reached stardom in "Strange Alibi", next at the Capitol. The Three Mesquiteers in "Gangs of Sonora", will be shown on the same program.

PAIR EXECUTED AT CHARLOTTETOWN

Two Young Men Convicted Of Beating Aged Grocery Keeper to Death

Chalottetown, Aug. 20 (CP).—Four hours after they dropped to their deaths in Prince Edward Island's first double hanging, Frederick Phillips, 23, and Earl Lund, 29, were buried here this morning in caskets sealed by the executioner, known only as "John Ellis".

Without any visible sign of emotion the two appeared on the scaffold erected at the rear of the jail at 2:40 a.m. (1:40 a.m. E.D.T.) and cooly awaited the springing of the trap. Several hours before they had requested, and eaten, a meal consisting of chicken sandwiches, tea and combination salads.

Just previous to paying the penalty for the killing of 78-year-old Peter J. Trainor in his store here last Jan. 30, the duo went through the jail corridor, bidding farewell to the inmates.

First prisoners to be hanged on this island since William Hillman was executed April 10, 1888, Phillips and Lund were convicted of beating the aged merchant to death after entering his store in the early morning.

Phillips' last public act was to obtain publication of some verses in which he warned boys that "crime does not pay". The nine stanzas, entitled "A Warning", were published by a Charlottetown paper.

One of them reads:

"Now boys, please take a warning,
"For crime it does not pay,
"And if you get on the crooked path
"You are sure to land here some day."

TOADSTOOL POISONING

Vichy, Aug. 20 (AP)—Widespread cases of toadstool poisoning were reported today from the German-occupied zone of France, including 20 deaths in the past 48 hours. The use of mushrooms as food has increased greatly throughout France as a result of efforts to supplement rationed foods.

GIVEN INDIAN NAMES

London, Aug. 20 (CP)—Three new Spitfire squadrons of the Royal Air Force were given names of Indian provinces and states which collectively sent £404,000 ($1,818,000) to the Ministry of Aircraft Production to buy aircraft. They are "Punjab", "Baroda", "Bhopal", and "Mysore."

VISIT EXHIBITION

Ottawa, Aug. 19 (CP)—Defence Minister Ralston, accompanied by Maj.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, Chief of the General Staff, paid a surprise visit today to the Central Canada Exhibition, inspecting the mechanized army convoy on display at the Fair Grounds here.

Roslin

Roslin—The August meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held on Thursday evening, Aug. 7th, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Weir, with an attendance of fourteen. The Vice-President, Mrs. A. Bates, presided for the devotional period and business meeting. Mrs. R. Clare was in charge of the program and gave a reading. Mrs. Slingerland sang a solo, "God's Tomorrow." Miss L. Wilson read an article on prayer. Isabel and Norma Bates and Francis Slingerland sang, "Jesus, Tender Shepherd, Hear Me." The singing of the National Anthem and the benediction brought the program to a close after which the hostess served refreshments and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

The Misses Chapman entertained a number of their girl friends at their home on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Mary Fargey has returned to her home in Toronto after holidaying with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Fargey.

The carpenters have made good progress in the erection of the Stirk house during the past two weeks.

Miss Merle Carleton, of Thomasburg is visiting Miss Isabelle Bates.

Dr. H. E. Welsh, Mrs. Welsh and Ted were visitors in the village on Friday and attended the ball game in Cannifton Friday evening.

Mrs. A. Bates and Mrs. M. McKee spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Carleton of Thomasburg.

Saturday's rain was very welcome in this district, where the water supply is very scarce with many wells dry.

Repair work at Chisholm's Mill is practically completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clapsaddle of Chaumont, New York, spent the week-end with the latter's sister, Mrs. Kerr and called on many old friends and neighbours.

Miss Annie Stirk and Mr. Gerald Stirk have returned from Ottawa where they spent a week recently.

Rev. F. C. Beaser and Mrs. Beaser have returned home after spending their vacation at Macdonald College, in Quebec.

Mrs. R. Clare spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Garn Dobbs of Belleville.

Mrs. J. Chisholm is able to be about again after her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Om. Wilkins left on Thursday for Toronto where they will reside.

The August meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Copeland, with an attendance of twenty ladies and seven children. The President, Mrs. W. White, presided for the opening exercises and Mrs. John Hart acted as pianist. A number of items of business were dealt with. The roll call was an "Ontario City or Town."

In the absence of the leader for the program, Mrs. White continued to preside.

Miss Hazel Wilson read a paper on Education which had been prepared by the leader, Mrs. H. Chisholm. All joined in singing. Mrs. Leslie read a paper "Don't Dabble." Mrs. White read a paper, "The Making of Heroes." All joined in a discussion of current events. Misses Evelyn and Phyllis Cross and Marion Coulter sang, accompanied at the piano by Miss Aileen Coulter. The National Anthem was sung. The hostess served a delicious lunch and all enjoyed a social hour.

When it's an uphill pull
...pause and
Turn to Refreshment

Everybody welcomes the happy after-sense of complete refreshment which ice-cold "Coca-Cola" always brings. So when you pause throughout the day, make it the pause that refreshes with ice-cold "Coca-Cola".

Drink Coca-Cola Delicious and Refreshing

YOU TASTE ITS QUALITY

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED

"AFTER I'VE SEEN HOW THESE FIRESTONES CAN TAKE IT—I WOULDN'T BUY ANY OTHER TIRE!"

The New Firestone DELUXE CHAMPION with "SUPER-SPEED" CONSTRUCTION

Ever since war started Firestone has been working day and night, turning out an endless stream of tires for war use. And here, as in race track, civilian and commercial use, Firestone tires have proved that they stand up under any and all conditions.

Firestone tires are now built with Super-Speed construction—the same way race tires are built. That means you get more value than ever, because tires that are built for the speedway are doubly safe and economical for use on the highway.

Have your nearby Firestone Dealer put Firestone DeLuxe Champions on your car today—They cost no more than ordinary tires and on the basis of cost per mile they are, by far, the cheapest tires you can own.

Only IN FIRESTONE TIRES DO YOU GET:
★ SUPER-SPEED CONSTRUCTION
★ GUM-DIPPING
★ Safety-Lock CORDS
★ GEAR GRIP TREAD

Thrifty Buyers—Ask about the 3 LOW-PRICED FIRESTONE TIRES ★HIGH SPEED ★STANDARD ★SENTINEL

Save with Firestone—Invest the savings in WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

CHECK YOUR DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR HOT WEATHER NEEDS

Hot Weather Needs
ARE NOW BEING FEATURED BY BELLEVILLE STORES.
Watch the Advertising Columns for Advertised Specials.

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

SEES RUSSIAN VICTORY

Russia will triumph because Russia is fully prepared for war, Editor Frank Owen of the London Evening Standard said in the "Britain Speaks" series, and Allied soldiers will join hands with Russian soldiers. "Germany shall not stand in the way."

That is a very graphic way of putting the situation, that nothing that Germany can do can prevent British and Russians from joining in triumph over the enemy.

Russia who has surprised the world and won the high commendation of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt has also surprised Germany with her resistance and her strategy.

Mr. Owen says that "Russians have sacrificed to provide mighty war machines and this is a war of machines."

THE LONG RANGE VIEW

Numerous views have been expressed as to the possible duration of the war but the democracies are wisely basing their preparations on the long range plan for no one knows when the struggle will come to an end, except this, that the end will be when Nazi Germany is crushed so effectively that it can never again raise the head of war against the peace of the world.

Monday's news carried the story that the office of Production Management has recommended to the United States Maritime Commission an emergency fleet of twenty-five Great Lakes iron ore boats be constructed at a cost of fifty million dollars for the expansion seen as a result of the defense program.

Allied war plans have not yet reached their full stride for it is the far range view that is the safe one. But war is now almost two years old and a great deal has been accomplished by the British and their Allies and it may be said that the British have taken the offensive in air against the enemy. There is great encouragement at the progress in delivery of American-made munitions to Britain and of war craft. Hitler's Russian move has been called by some one of the important signposts on the way to victory over Germany. The recent ocean conference of the British and American leaders who found expression in a world-stirring document of eight points is justly considered one of the milestones in the war's course. The Battle of the Atlantic is very encouraging to the British people.

Hitler of course planned for a short war, which he promised the Germans. But he has disappointed them in this respect and he can see no sign of the end he sought. Yet he had the start of years in his preparations because he planned for war against an unprepared world.

Events are moving and the Allies have the offensive. The long range plans adopted on the outbreak of the war will more and more prove effective in bringing nearer the victory.

LITTLE NEWS OF ITALY

What are the Fascists doing? Or do they count? Since the Nazis started eight weeks ago to attack Russia, little has been heard of them. Hitler does not mention them in his communiques.

Not only was Fascist Italy badly smashed by Britain on land, sea and air in the campaign early in the year but the Greeks thrashed the Fascists steadily until Hitler came into the Balkans. If Italy put any effort into the war on the Yugoslavians, it must have almost exhausted the Italians.

Fascist Italians paid dear for their partnership with the Germans who now control Italy.

Destroyers of the Royal Canadian Navy were part of the escort of the Prince of Wales bringing Prime Minister and his party to the epoch-making conference held between two hemispheres. Canadians on land and the Canadian crews were proud that Canada was represented in the guardian forces which carried the great British leader and the British staff to the rendezvous.

Dr. Joseph Goebbels, Nazi propagandist, has told of many things which never happened, but all his skill at propaganda could not make any favorable material on the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting on the sea. He could not tell where it was held and the Germans were helpless to prevent it.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

HITLER'S BROKEN PLEDGES
(Continued)

THE LOW COUNTRIES

January 30, 1937

Hitler (to the Reichstag): "The German Government has assured Belgium and Holland that it is ready to recognize and guarantee these States as neutral regions in perpetuity."

August 26, 1939

The Reich Minister at the Hague informed Queen Wilhelmina that Germany would in no circumstances cease to respect the inviolability and integrity of the Netherlands, provided that the Netherlands maintained a strict neutrality.

The German Ambassador in Brussels gave a similar assurance to the King of the Belgians.

(The Times, August 28, 1939)

October 6, 1939

Hitler (to the Reichstag): "The New Reich has endeavored to continue the traditional German friendship with Holland. It has neither found any existing differences in that state, nor created any new ones. As soon as I took over the Government I tried immediately to create friendly relations with Belgium. I renounced any revision and any wish for revision. The Reich has raised no demands likely to be considered a threat to Belgium."

(The Times, Oct. 7, 1939)

May 9, 1940

"The Reich Government declares that Germany has no intention of touching the sovereignty and kingdom of the Netherlands or Belgium, either with regard to their European or Colonial possessions, now or in the future."

(Nazi Memorandum to the Belgium Government)

May 10, 1940

Hitler sent his army and airforce into Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, and opened one of the most shocking chapters in history.

FRANCE

December 6, 1938

Von Ribbentrop arrived in Paris to conclude a peace pact with France, recognizing that there were no territorial questions outstanding and that the frontier line as then established was final.

August 25, 1939

Hitler (in conversation with Sir Nevile Henderson): The Fuehrer renewed his assurances that he is not interested in Western problems and that a frontier modification in the West does not enter into consideration. Western fortifications which have been constructed at a cost of milliards were final Reich frontier on the West."

(British War Blue Book, Page 157)

September 1, 1939

Hitler (to the Reichstag): "The Neutral States have assured us of their neutrality, just as we had already guaranteed it to them. When statesmen in the West declare that this (invasion of Poland) affects their interests, I can only regret such a declaration. I have solemnly assured them, and I repeat it, that we ask nothing of these Western States and never will ask anything. The frontier between France and Germany is a final one. Germany has no interests in the West, and our western wall is for all time the frontier of the Reich on the West."

(British War Blue Book, Page 210)

May 13, 1940

Hitler advanced into France.

ALSACE-LORRAINE

January 31, 1940

"Alsace does not exist for us. We renounce all claims in Alsace-Lorraine."

(German Broadcast in French)

July 18, 1940

"Alsace is pushed back to its natural lebenstraum, the German Reich."

Strassburger Neueste Nachrichten)

September 21, 1940

"Lorraine has always been German, although at times the French succeeded in repressing German traditions."

(Gauleiter Burchel, at Metz)

* * *

A small boy sat at the side of the road, sobbing pitifully. An old gentleman who came along was very touched by the tears.

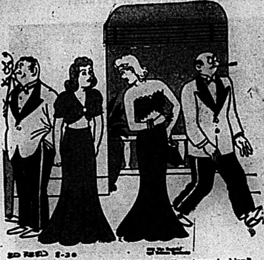
"What's the matter, little man?" he asked.

"I—I'm afraid to go to school," the youngster replied.

"But why?" asked the old fellow. "Haven't you been a good boy?"

"Oh, it isn't that," said the youngster. "You see my sister jilted the schoolmaster yesterday."

OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed



"Want to borrow my compact, dear? Your tummy's shiny."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 20TH, 1921

Mrs. J. J. Cookson of Blenheim, Ontario, is visiting her son, at his home on Yeomans Street.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Davis have returned to their home in Toronto after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, McDonald Avenue.

The schooner Oliver Mowat has arrived in port here from Oswego with a cargo of coal.

The steamer Brockville brought a large excursion from Napanee to the city yesterday afternoon.

Four beautiful brass plates to be used in the taking of the offertory were consecrated in St. Thomas' Church Sunday morning and used at the evening service. The plates were presented by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Farrow in memory of their son, Lieut. W. T. Farrow, who was killed during the Great War at Hill 70.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 20TH, 1911

At the Cobourg Horse Show yesterday Mr. Fisher Wilmore of Corbyville captured the third prize in the saddle horse event.

Belleville Market Prices: Butter 28 cents to 30 cents per pound; eggs 18 cents and 19 cents per dozen; chickens 90 cents to $1.50 per pair; geese $1.50 to $2.50 each; ducks $1.50 to $2 per pair; new potatoes 45 cents to 50 cents per peck.

Mr. Charles J. Symons left today to spend a short time in New York City on business.

Judge Fraleck returned home last evening after an extended trip to Western Canada.

Mr. Ernest Lang is spending a vacation at Toronto and Niagara Falls.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 20TH, 1901

The main attraction in town just now is the big water pipe at the lower bridge—which is being repaired.

The work of improving the police court room and the city clerk's office is progressing satisfactorily. When completed these two rooms will be quite attractive in appearance.

Mr. John J. Lynch of New York City, an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit.

Mr. B. Birch of Chicago, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John W. London.

Mr. J. W. Pearce of Marmora was in town today.

Mr. Walter Fanning is taking in the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

Mr. E. A. E. (Ned) Halliwell of Mexico City, is home on a holiday.

Mr. George Post has returned to Toronto after visiting relatives here.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 20TH, 1891

Mr. W. H. Donley, organist at Bridge Street Methodist Church will resume his classes shortly in piano, pipe organ and voice culture.

Mr. D. Pitceathly and his daughter entertained a few friends on his yacht, the Dauntless, yesterday afternoon. The party was composed of Mrs. Starling of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shanklin and Mr. Clarence Shanklin of Chicago, Ill., Miss Shanklin, Toronto, Miss Pitceathly, Miss Starling, Dr. Cook and Mr. D. B. Robertson. There was a fresh north easterly breeze and the outing was much enjoyed.

Mr. E. F. Milburn has returned from Toronto where he spent four weeks as an examiner of departmental examination papers. He is now enjoying a holiday camping out down the bay.

Just Folks
by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

SAD MAN

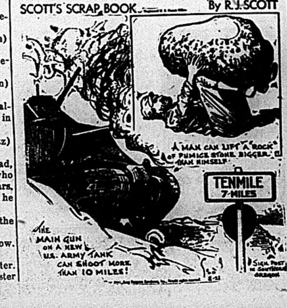
The saddest man I ever knew
Didn't have a task to do;
Had enough for bed and board;
All he needed could afford,
So he sat around all day
While the time just dragged away.

Had to rest and wasn't tired,
Having all that he required,
Didn't need to save and plan
Like the ordinary man
For a winter coat and hat.
He was done with all of that.

Heard the factory whistles blow,
Saw to work his neighbors go;
Watched the merchant sell his wares,
But he had no business cares;
Had no tasks he had to do,
Had no purpose to pursue.

All day long he sat about
Lonely in the house or out.
Friends were busy; all he knew
Had to work the long day through.
Muttered low from sun to sun;
"Loafing isn't any fun!"

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT



A MAN CAN LIFT A ROCK OF PUMICE STONE BIGGER THAN HIMSELF
TENMILE 7 MILES
SIGN POST IN SOUTHERN OREGON
THE MAIN GUN ON A NEW U.S. ARMY TANK CAN SHOOT MORE THAN 10 MILES!

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

The Mental and Physical Effects of Training the Body

The fact that you resemble closely one of your parents in body build, color of eyes and hair and in other ways is usually sufficient to make you feel that your health and length of life should also be similar. While statistics show this to be true in a general way, the fact that you or anyone else can be changed as to health, strength and length of life as compared with parent and parent's family you resemble, has been proven by two research workers, Drs. Ernst Jokl and E. H. Cluver, Johannesburg, South Africa. Their findings are recorded in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

In 1935-36 there was great industrial expansion in South Africa. There was, apparently, employment for everybody yet these two physicians found 32 young men who were unable to find employment.

Why were they unable to find work? Tests of their physical ability or strength showed that the power of endurance, the strength and skill of these young men were low. As they had very little education, they were unsuitable for anything but manual labor, yet their physical weakness prevented them obtaining work. Their state of unfitness was also responsible for their mental dullness. There was found to be a high percentage of such mild ailments as colds, lame back, rheumatism, sore throats and headaches in the group. On account of their bad posture and lax general bearing, they made a bad impression on every employer. Now, these men were not considered unfit from a military point of view.

To offset the demoralizing effect of unemployment on these men, they were placed in a training camp for unemployed boys and young men. They underwent 6 months of training under military discipline.

Before beginning training and at monthly intervals during the six months training course, they were given various tests. Their ability to hold their breath and ability to run three miles gradually improved. This is most important as this shows the strength of heart and lungs—the vital capacity or ability.

"Their general attitude, physical as well as mental, changed during the course. They no longer gave the impression of being 'dull'."

From the labor standpoint, it was found that 90 per cent found positions at "full" wages and were still holding these positions four years after taking the course.

Large Body of Ore Believed Lying Under L. Ontario

The belief that beneath Lake Ontario there is one of nature's great stores of mettalic ore was expressed by a Rochester yachtsman arriving in Cobourg one morning recently after he had experienced difficulties with his compass at a point approximately 15 miles south from that town. Reports of erratic compass behaviour near the same point are frequently heard in Rochester, according to this yachtsman and officers of the Ontario car ferries plying between Cobourg and Rochester and the belief is held that underlake ore deposits probably cause the trouble.

Many lake mariners also maintain that when passing Salmon Point there is a magnetic disturbance that is responsible in causing their compass to misbehave. As the result of their compass behaving erratically at this point, several vessels have deviated from their course to ground on the rocky reef which extends some distance out from the shore.

Blast Rocks Brooklyn

A huge blast is followed by dense columns of black smoke billowing upwards at Pier 27, Brooklyn. Fireboats poured tons of water on the blaze and equipment arrived from miles around. The Cuba line ship Panuco and nearby barges were swept by flames. Many longshoremen were trapped.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Somewhere in the Midlands

London, August 20.—(By Wireless)—An enormous, glowing cylinder is moving slowly on a crane to be lowered into a vat of oil from which in a moment will issue a fountain of smoke and flame. Another immense red-hot cylinder of steel, resting horizontally, is being pounded into form by a great anvil moving inexorably up and down.

The heat sears our faces. A young woman in blue overalls adjusts a lever and a piston covered with carborundum slides in and out of a blue-steel gun barrel, leaving the interior brilliant as a mirror.

Except for the groan of the machinery and the rat-tat-tat of small tools the great arena is quiet. Men and girls glance up from their work and smile at the visitor and look back again with steady, watching eyes. It goes on day and night, night and day.

Passing out of the factory the workers glance at the sky. If it is overladen with low clouds they sigh. It is such a relief, for it is unlikely that planes will come tonight.

This factory makes the famous Bofors anti-aircraft guns. Bombs blew up the railroad tracks four hours before a shipment of guns was due to leave for a western port, and the Middle East workers laid them again and the guns passed out on schedule.

Men and women stream into the factory at eight o'clock in the morning and stream out again at seven-thirty at night as fellow workers on the night shift stream in. Six days a week, and sometimes on Sunday; eleven hours a day, minus lunch—sixty hours a week is their minimum.

"Now it is not right", says the manager. "We ought to have three eight-hour shifts. But Britain is short of man power. We are fighting an enemy with the human resources of a continent to draw on."

Wages will not buy food beyond the rations allowed. One egg per week, very little meat, plenty of vegetables now, but no cream or butter, only a little margerine — how do they stand it?

The answer is that they stand it with remarkable spirits, health and efficiency Why? Because of their morale. This morale is due to the following factors: Patriotism and the fact that no private owners or stockholders are making profits, so the people are working for the whole community: intelligent organization work, with emphasis always on the human element; continual intercourse between management and workers, and the sympathetic interest in their welfare shown by assistants who stop people working if they show exhaustion; communal feeding; the presence of women workers who, in every factory they have entered, have lifted the spirit, cheerfulness and work standards of the entire body.

The experience of seeing England at war throws light on the whole question of management and labor relationships. What stands out in brilliant clarity is that even such things as fatigue are largely psychological; that men and women will work beyond any normal powers for what they consider necessary and essential to the whole people; that they will drive machines, but will not be driven by them; that equality of effort, sacrifice and danger takes the sting out of all of them and that the delegation of responsibility to the individual and to the group brings out more energy than any slave driver can create.

England has not been able to keep up the same amount of effort at all times. Always since the war began it has been way above normal. But in the days of Dunkerque and the months that followed it was super-human because the workers knew the fate of Britain was immediately at stake.

Both management and workers testify that in those days men and women worked at a speed over stretches of time and with an efficiency that baffled all standards. They fought, as it were, a hand-to-hand combat with the enemy at their machines and did not even seem tired.

As England regained her equilibrium and settled down to the war this super-human standard relaxed to a steadier output, more organized and less fantastic.

Were a crisis of commensurate proportions to come again it is possible the same energies would be released. But for me, the outstanding fact in this war is that men do not know what is in them, or what resources of energy they can tap if necessary.

The ordinary man is much greater than he thinks or seems to be.

(Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Newest Notes of Science

Italy will erect a plant for the recovery of magnesium and bromine from sea water by the process successfully used in the United States.

A process has been developed for de-aerating pasteurized milk to prevent escape of its vitamin C content.

Haiti exported 292,938 60 - kilogram bags of coffee in the season ending with May, 50,943 bags more than in the comparable period last year.

There are asserted to be more than one hundred uses for a new combination tool for policemen and firemen that is insulated against electric currents.

Of the 473 feature motion picture films imported by Australia last year 403 were supplied by the United States and 82 by the United Kingdom.

Photographing through four inches of steel in less than two minutes, a million-volt X-ray tube has been developed for finding flaws in castings.

The Spanish Government is planning to rebuild and modernize the airport at Seville on a civilian basis to make it one of the finest in Europe.

Airplane passenger traffic from the Toronto airport has more than doubled in a year with more than 2000 passengers arriving or departing each month.

Ecuador is holding its first Exposition of Inter-American products at Quito, the capital and chief metropolis.

A spillproof ink well has been invented, a rubber device inside closing if the well is upset or turned upside down.

A new explosive has been developed at an eastern university in which the only ingredients are natural gas, steam and air.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

GOOSE-QUILLS AND PENS

Beneath the rule of men entirely great,
The pen is mightier than the sword.

So wrote Bulwer-Lytton in 1839 in his popular play entitled "Richelieu."

The word "pen" is derived from Latin "penna," feather.

"Pinion" and "pin" in "pintail" are traceable to the same source.

Quill feathers were the most common writing instrument from about the sixth century A.D. until the 19th century, when pens of steel and other metals were introduced.

The first factory of making steel pens in the United States was established at Camden, New Jersey, by Richard Esterbrook in 1856.

Man did his first writing on smooth rocks with a hard substance or with a chalk-like mineral.

The earliest pen-like writing instrument was the calamus, or reed pen, such as is still used in the Orient.

In ancient Greece and Rome writing was done on a waxed surface with a pointed instrument known as a stilus.

Reed and quill pens came into use after it was discovered that the black fluid in the galls or "ink balls" on oaks and other trees could be used for writing.

The best quill pens were plucked from live geese, swans and crows.

Penknives were so called because they were originally small knives used to shape and sharpen quills for pens.

Early school teachers and other scribes in America were very adept at sharpening quills.

Even before steel pens were made there were various attempts to devise self-inking quill pens. Such a "fountain pen" is pictured in a book printed as early as 1651.

Benjamin Franklin advertised "fountain pens" for sale in his Pennsylvania Gazette in 1740, but just what these fountain pens were like is not known.

Carl Sandburg tells us that in 1865 President Lincoln borrowed "a Gillott's small-barrel pen—No. 404—to write a telegram."

L. E. Waterman made a steel fountain pen in 1884, and the next year Paul E. Wirt patented and put on the market a fountain pen which attracted international interest.

Wirt, a lawyer, started experimenting with fountain pens because he was annoyed by the frequent spilling of ink on his legal papers while using ordinary steel pens.

American-made fountain pens instead of medals are conferred on Chinese soldiers by the government in recognition of distinguished service.

AIR WAVES TAKE HOPE'S MESSAGE TO NAZI EUROPE

British Radio Carries Propaganda to Thousands Listening in Secret in Occupied Countries

By DOUGLAS AMARON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

London (CP) — Britain, waiting for the time when she can come to direct blows with Germany, is waging a war of propaganda designed to enlist to her cause millions of people living under the heel of Nazism.

British propaganda to Europe is necessarily restricted almost entirely to broadcasting and a stranger campaign than that now being conducted over the air waves has never been known. It is being directed to an audience which must listen in secret or face the risk of imprisonment or fine. It's success can be judged only by trickles of information gained from underground sources or from counter-attacks launched by the German radio.

Yet the British Broadcasting Corporation which speaks to Europe for Britain knows it is reaching its audience and that the listeners are being influenced by what they hear. Success of the "V for Victory" campaign was evidence of this.

What the people of Germany and the occupied countries want more than anything else is reliable news and a high percentage of the B.B.C.'s 24-hour a day European service is devoted to newscasts. These are supplemented by broadcasts and news features, usually based on some outstanding news event of the day.

Back to Europe

Incidents which suggest dissatisfaction in Germany or the occupied countries are seized eagerly and quickly directed back to all Europe. An example of this is "The New Song of the German Soldier," based on lines supposedly written by German soldiers on the walls of railway carriages in which they travelled to Poland. Set to a catchy tune, the chorus, roughly translated, runs:

"We're on the move from morn till night
Our wives for ever lost to sight,
And far from hearth and far from home
We're forced through distant lands to roam."

Many a German mother or wife doubtlessly thought of her son or husband on a far-away front as she huddled over her raidio behind locked doors and listened to that song.

Music also plays an important part in broadcasts to France. Old French folk songs like "Aupres de ma Blonde" and popular melodies of a few years ago like "Boum" are played and sung with new verses based on topical subjects.

Smuggled Lines

The words of the new "Aupres de ma Blonde" were smuggled from Brittany where they were written by a French farmer after watching Royal Air Force planes on a sweep across northern France.

Called "Song of the Royal Air Force," it begins: "Fly in full flight, come back each evening, and on your wings, bring us fresh hope."

Boum tells how when German bombs fall on London they go "boum." It ends by explaining that for every bomb on London the R.A.F. "feront vingt boums"—will make 20 "boums" — on Hamburg and Berlin.

Actuality features are transcribed "on-the-spot" in England. They may be recordings of camp life of one of the allied armies or of a war weapons week demonstration at Hyde Park in London.

An effective actuality broadcast to France was of target practice with the famous French 75s at a Free French camp. With a background of gunfire and French commands, an announcer told how Free French helped the British in Libya, stormed the heights at Keren, captured Damascus.

As the guns died away in the background, the broadcast ended with the stirring French national anthem, the Marseillaise.

Together in the Lucky Seventh Kildare hit....Laraine Day as Nurse Mary Lamont and Lew Ayres as young Dr. Kildare in "The People vs Dr. Kildare, featuring Lionel Barrymore, now at the Belle with Jane Withers in "A Very Young Lady"

DOES INDIGESTION WALLOP YOU BELOW THE BELT?

Help Your Forgotten "25" For The Kind Of Relief That Helps Make You Rarin' To Go

More than half of your digestion is done below the belt—in your 25 feet of bowels. So when indigestion strikes, try something that helps digestion in the stomach AND below the belt.

What you may need is Carter's Little Liver Pills to give needed help to that "forgotten 25 feet" of bowels.

Take one Carter's Little Liver Pill before and one after meals. Take them according to directions. They help wake up a larger flow of the 3 main digestive juices in your stomach AND bowels—help you digest what you have eaten in Nature's own way.

Then most folks get the kind of relief that makes you feel better from your head to your toes. Just be sure you get the genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills from your druggist—25¢.

Lord Mountbatten To Command Ship

New York, Aug. 20—(AP)—Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of King George and commander of two destroyers sunk in action, arrived on the Dixie Clipper yesterday to "take command of a warship which you very kindly repaired for us."

He declined to elaborate and would not comment on a report from Lisbon that he was en route to China to command a British warship in the Pacific.

Lord Mountbatten recalled his last trip to the United States in 1938, to play polo, but remarked he was "not very polo-minded on this trip."

He was accompanied by Lady Mountbatten, London county president of the St. John's Ambulance Association, who said she came to convey the thanks of the British Red Cross and the ambulance service for aid given by the United States.

Among the 54 passengers was Mrs. Dwight F. Davis, National Director of the American Red Cross Volunteer Services, who said she returned with the gratitude of Queen Elizabeth.

SUCCESSOR GIVEN RANK

London, Aug. 20 (CP)—Pilot Officer Viscount Ratendone, who has just succeeded to the title of Marquess of Willingdon following the death of his father, former Governor-General of Canada, has been granted the war substantive rank of Flying Officer, it was announced in The London Gazette.

One Man Killed, 3 Hurt in Crash

Ottawa, Aug. 20—(CP)—Ira W. Jamieson, 38, of Lachute, Que., was fatally injured last night and three other persons were seriously hurt when the car in which they were passengers went out of control and struck two trucks on the Wakefield Highway, 25 miles north of here.

The injured:

Gordon Jamieson, nine, son of the dead man, facial cuts and head injuries;

Mrs. Mary Johnston, 62, of Cumberland, Ont., lacerations of forehead and compound fractures of the nose;

Miss Mina McLaren, 60, Cumberland, injured left knee, head injuries, possible fracture of the ribs and back injuries.

The injured were rushed to hospital here by passing motorists but Mr. Jamieson died on the way.

Present Day Marriage Often Cloak for Immorality C.W.U. Told

New York, Aug. 20—(AP)—Delegates to the convention of the National Catholic Women's Union were told today that "our present-day marriage is, in many instances, a cloak for immorality."

Rev. Hubert Beller, of St. Gerard's Maternity Guild, of the New York branch of the C.W.U., urged his hearers to meet the challenge of birth control and declared:

"There are 2,000,000 fewer children in the public schools today than there were a decade ago. Fully 60 per cent of the families in the United States have either no children at all, or only one or two.

"One marriage out of six ends in divorce. Fifty per cent of the persons who become divorced have no children and a further 25 per cent have only one child per family."

Anti-German Spy Ring Uncovered

Sofia, Aug. 20—(AP)—Police announced today they had uncovered an anti-German spy and sabotage ring operating in the Black Sea region headed by Anton Proudkine, one of the most colorful of Balkan figures.

Proudkine has been a poet, writer, sea captain, fisherman, and once headed the Sofia police force. Nearly 20 years ago he was sentenced to death on charges of blowing up a Sofia theatre for political reasons. Knig Boris later commuted his sentence to a prison term. Whether he is now under arrest was not made known.

Police said this was the fourth anti-German espionage group discovered in recent months.

Middle East Dependent On U. S. Arms

(By EDWARD E. BOMAR)

Washington, Aug. 20—(AP)—The arrangement to speed planes across the South Atlantic to Africa adds new importance to the vital role of American munitions in the Middle East struggle, which seems destined to be renewed on a crucial scale.

The development emphasizes that Britain is relying heavily upon weapons forged in the arsenal of democracy" to hold an actual and potential war front now extending 9,000 miles from West Africa to the Russian Caucasus.

United States planes, guns, tanks and war supplies of all kinds have been pouring for weeks into Egypt. Could the quantity of there supplies be disclosed, the extent of this country's contribution probably would be reassuring to Britons and possibly might be disturbing to Berlin.

Lease-lend shipments from the United States were reaching Egypt at the rate of almost a ship a day early in the summer, and presumably the flow has not diminished. Now these cargoes are to be augmented by aerial deliveries of bombers flown across the Atlantic, and of shorter range planes ferried by easier stages from West African ports. The route has been used actually for weeks, but only in a preliminary way.

In addition to the American munitions shipments, Britain has taken advantage of the relative lull of the last two months to reinforce the Empire's Near Eastern armies. Some ships have risked the passage through the Mediterranean to avoid the long voyage around the Cape of Good Hope.

Prove Their Worth

Meanwhile American planes are making their power felt in the feeling-out phase of the fighting in the Mediterranean theatre. Flying United States-made bombers, pilots of the British Mediterranean Fleet Air Arm blasted Monday at Axis Libyan ports and military positions. The Fleet Air Arm, Cairo reported, has just started using American fighters, which an observer said have performed excellently.

Parenthetically, some reassuring evidence of the fighting prowess of United States Army type Tomahawk pursuit planes, scores of which have been sent to the Middle East, has just been reported officially and almost overlooked.

Major Gen. George H. Brett., chief of the United States Army Air Corps, disclosed that between May 15 and June 23 these planes brought down twenty-five Axis machines in one unidentified war sector alone, aside from performing other creditable feats. In nearly every instance, General Brett asserted, the American fighters had shown superiority over the Germans' renowned Messerschmitt 109.

Describing one exploit which he termed astounding, he said a small force of Tomahawks attacked an enemy aerial force nearly eight times as strong, and succeeded in destroying or damaging 50 per cent. of the foes' planes. Enemy losses were put at triple those of the attackers.

The Nazis' next major move, whether or not they are stalemated for the winter in Russia, appears almost certain to be an attempt to make the Mediterranean as well as the Black Sea an Axis lake, and at least to threaten the South Atlantic and India.

Britain and the United States are acting on that assumption. The White House announcement of the South Atlantic ferry scheme was one of the first concrete actions to follow the sea meeting of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

3rd Hillier

3rd Hillier.—Miss Joyce Benway is spending this week with her grandmother.

Mrs. A. W. McConnell of Wellington is at Galt with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Last.

Mrs. Nellie Palmer and girls, Roselle and Greta have moved to Bowmanville to reside. Friends and neighbors gave them a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierson on Tuesday evening, presenting them with an electric lamp, iron and a fern stand.

Miss Mabel Dainard has returned home after spending some time with Mrs. Norman Foster, of Cold Creek.

The canning factories are all running a day or so a week.

Master Ronald Benway has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Albert Chamberlain of Pleasant Bay, for the past two weeks.

Miss Greta Palmer spent Wednesday with Miss Joyce Benway.

TYPHOID PREVALENT IN EDMONTON

Edmonton, Aug. 20—(CP)—Giving Edmonton its worst typhoid situation since 1936 when 21 cases were reported, a new case of the disease today boosted to 10 the number treated in the city since May 1.

Five of the cases treated here were from out-of-town points. One of the out-of-town patients died but the others are recovering, Dr. G. M. Little, medical health officer, said.

At least five of the 10 typhoid patients are suffering from paratyphoid-B, a mild form of the disease.

HELP PREVENT CONSTIPATION

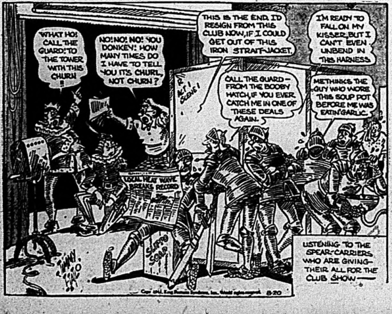
Due to Lack of Bulk in the Diet

MILDLY LAXATIVE

An Appetizing Breakfast Treat!

Post's Bran Flakes

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



WHAT HO! CALL THE GUARD! TO THE TOWER WITH THIS CHURN!!
NO! NO! NO! YOU DONKEY! HOW MANY TIMES DO I HAVE TO TELL YOU IT'S CHURL, NOT CHURN?
THIS IS THE END. I'D RESIGN FROM THIS CLUB NOW, IF I COULD GET OUT OF THIS IRON STRAIT-JACKET.
I'M READY TO FALL ON MY KISSER, BUT I CAN'T EVEN UNBEND IN THIS HARNESS.
CALL THE GUARD— FROM THE BOOBY HATCH, IF YOU EVER CATCH ME IN ONE OF THESE DEALS AGAIN.
METHINKS THE GUY WHO WORE THIS SOUP POT BEFORE ME WAS EATIN' GARLIC.
ACT I SCENE I
LOCAL HEAT WAVE BREAKS RECORD
SLIPPO SOAP
LISTENING TO THE SPEAR-CARRIERS WHO ARE GIVING THEIR ALL FOR THE CLUB SHOW—JIMMY HATLO
8-20

Sign the Pledge to

Save Gasoline

50/50 Car
PLEDGED TO SAVE GASOLINE

Let Your Car Wear Proudly This Patriotic Sticker!

Go to your friendly neighbourhood service station or your local garageman today. A surprise awaits you. He has changed. He will be as courteous and thoughtful as ever —glad to see you—anxious to do anything and everything he can to help you. But he is no longer a gasoline salesman. He is a gasoline SAVER. He will urge you to buy less instead of more. He will point out ways and means of saving gasoline.

He will tell you all about the "50/50" Pledge to cut your gas consumption by fifty per cent. He will invite you to sign. He will give you a patriotic sticker for your car that will mark you as a member of the wise and thoughtful band of car owners co-operating with the Government to save gasoline.

This is entirely a voluntary movement. It is not rationing. This the Government hopes to avert. But we are faced with a critical shortage of gasoline due to the diversion of tankers for overseas service and to the growing needs of our Fighting Forces.

There is no call for panic—no need for alarm—but this war is being fought with gasoline and we are fighting for our very lives. Sign the Pledge today and continue to save fifty per cent of your gasoline consumption.

It is also vitally important that you reduce the use of domestic and commercial fuel oil.

REMEMBER: The slower you drive, the more you save!

●

The Government of the
DOMINION OF CANADA
Acting through
THE HONOURABLE C. D. HOWE, Minister of Munitions and Supply
C. R. COTTRELLE, Oil Controller for Canada

17 easy ways towards a 50% GASOLINE SAVING

(Approved by Automobile Experts)

Reduce driving speed from 60 to 40 on the open road.
Avoid jack-rabbit starts.
Avoid useless or non-essential driving.
Turn motor off when not in use; do not leave idling.
Don't race your engine; let it warm up slowly.
Don't strain your engine; change gears.
Keep carburetor cleaned and properly adjusted.
Tune up motor, timing, etc.
Keep spark plugs and valves clean.
Check cooling system; overheating wastes gasoline.
Maintain tires at right pressure.
Lubricate efficiently; worn engines waste gasoline.
Drive in groups to and from work, using cars alternate days.
For golf, picnics and other outings, use one car instead of four.
Take those short shopping trips ON FOOT and carry parcels home.
Walk to and from the movies.
Boat owners, too, can help by reducing speed.

Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. Consult him.

GO 50 50 WITH OUR FIGHTING FORCES

I Pledge myself to go 50/50 with our Fighting Forces by reducing my gasoline consumption by 50%

(Signed)

Address

Spare and Share your Gasoline for VICTORY!

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mullins, of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting with his father, Mr. Con. Mullins.

Mrs. J. Lloyd is spending a few days in Oshawa the guest of Mrs. W. Reddick.

Mr. E. Sunderland is spending a few days in Toronto.

Miss Margaret Bateman is visiting in Peterborough, the guest of Miss Helen McGee.

Mrs. Carrie Cole has returned home after spending a month's vacation with her sons in Calgary and Fort Lewis, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reeder and son, Neil, have left for their home in Toronto, after spending the past two weeks in the city visiting relatives and friends.

Among the prize winners in last week's sports tournament at Wigwassin Inn, Lake Rousseau, Muskoka, were Misses Olive Delaney, Belleville, and Frances Richardson, Toronto, ladies' tennis doubles.

Mr. Harold Denike, Corbyville, has returned home from the hospital after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Vira Flynn and Mr. Tom Flynn of Chicago, Ill., and Dr. and Mrs. Blakey, Monroe, Mich., are guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Flynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beacher, Montevideo, Minn., are visiting relatives in the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Bannerman, Hanover, N.H., are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. J. McIntosh, Hillcrest Avenue.

Misses Grace and Mary Agnes Wilkinson have been spending several weeks in Oshawa visiting their grandparents.

Sub-Lieut. William Argue has returned to duty after spending leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Argue, 338 Charles St.

Mrs. James Grills was honored at a delightful birthday celebration held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Noakes, 57 Grier St., on Sunday to mark her seventy-ninth birthday. A very pleasant day was spent. At the birthday dinner, a beautiful cake, blazing with candles, was the centre of attraction. A drive was enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. Grills' children, as well as grandchildren and great grandchildren were present for the occasion. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. Grills and family, Belleville, Mrs. F. S. Purdy, Front Road, Mrs. Noakes, Belleville, Mrs. J. R. Pigden, Oshawa, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cummins and son of Marysville, Mrs. M. Speneely and Miss Agnes Pigden, Oshawa. Mr. Grills is in his 89th year.

WINS DRAWING

Mrs. C. J. Fisher of Charles St., was the lucky lady to win the King George V Silver Dollar in a draw for the British War Victims' Fund. The Dollar was donated by Wm. Cruickshank, rural mail courier, between Trenton and Belleville, and realized the sum of twenty-nine dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Coukeill Presented With Lamp

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. MacFarlane, Shannonville, was the scene of a gathering on Monday evening when the Board members of the Shannonville United Church and their families met in honor of Mr. John Coukell, the Board Secretary and former teacher of the Public School, who is leaving the district to accept a position in Western Ontario.

During the evening an address was read by Mr. J. P. Melburn and Mr. MacFarlane then presented Mr. and Mrs. Coukell with a lovely tri-light lamp, in recognition of the high esteem in which the recipients were held in the community. The very best wishes of a host of friends were extended to the departing couple to go with them to their new home at Princeton, Ont., where Mr. Coukell has been appointed principal of the public school.

PILOT KILLED IN ACTION

London, Aug. 20 (CP)—Sgt. Pilot Hugh Thomas Martland Ainscough, 20, son of Sir Thomas Ainscough, senior British trade commissioner in India and Ceylon since 1918, has been killed in action.

A writing desk that includes a calendar and shelves for books and papers has been specially designed to be hung on a kitchen wall.

—37 Years in Belleville—

AUGUST FUR SALE

BUDGET PLAN.
FREE STORAGE.

WOODLEY FURRIERS
273 Front St.

10 ENTRANCE PUPILS WIN PRIZES GIVEN BY JOHN D. HAYES

Mr. John D. Hayes, Rochester, N.Y., manager of the Fanny Farmer Company, and the Laura Secord Company, and native of this city has continued for another year the prizes which he has been giving to the ten students who came highest in the Entrance Examinations in Belleville.

The ten highest as announced by Mr. J. R. Pickering, Public School Inspector are: 1. Boyd Upper, 144 Foster Avenue; 2. Carolyn Morden, 219 George Street; 3. Phyllis Trussdale, 159 Ann Street; 4. Robert Ragsdale, 45 Bridge Street West; 5. Doris Kennedy, 25 Isobelle Street; 6. Lillian Nokes, 296 Charles Street; 7. Norman Meyers, 137 Charles Street; 8. Marguerite Garvin, 108 Cedar Street; 9. Donald Beavis, 346 Ann Street; 10. Yvonne Keeler, 10 Murney Street.

All these candidates had a very high standing, none of them falling below 80 percent.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, August 21

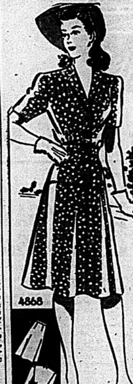
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A CONFLICTING astral condition may be read in this day's chart, with splendid promise and personal gratification succeeded by a sudden reversal or upheaval of radical importance. While important and ambitious projects may be advanced by clever methods and the assistance of powerful friends, yet these may also be defeated by erratic, emotional or explosive tactics or by unsound logic in plans or purpose.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of contradictory experiences in which there may be outstanding joys and good fortune as well as a sudden reversal or disappointment. There is sign of a disintegrating force which may prove devastating to cherished plans. Nevertheless, good judgment, sagacity and the support of influential persons may temper such dilemma. A tendency to erratic, temperamental or irrational behavior would but aggravate the situation.

A child born on this day may have a very excitable, erratic, explosive and indulgent temperament, detrimental to its success. However, Lady Luck may be counted upon.

Jaunty Belted Two-Piece Mode



Pattern 4868

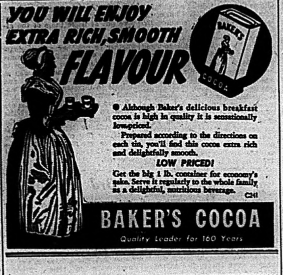
By ANNE ADAMS

A two-piece frock is a wardrobe essential for Fall. So get a head-start on the season by making your two-piecer right now, from Pattern 4868 by Anne Adams. What an attractive, original style it is—and how quick to stitch up! The top is in the new long, slim lines, with a nice waist accent in an inset belt that holds the bloused bodice lines in soft gathers. The deep, clean-cut V-neck is bordered by a narrow, shapely revers-collar, and the shoulders are kept trim by neat darting. You may choose between short, three-quarter and long sleeves. Have the two pieces in matching fabric, as shown, or let them gayly contrast, perhaps in a colorful wool.

Pattern 4868 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34 36 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 4 7-8 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.



YOU WILL ENJOY EXTRA RICH, SMOOTH FLAVOUR

● Although Baker's delicious breakfast cocoa is high in quality it is sensationally low-priced.

Prepared according to the directions on each tin, you'll find this cocoa extra rich and delightfully smooth.

LOW PRICED!

Get the big 1 lb. container for economy's sake. Serve it regularly to the whole family as a delightful, nutritious beverage. C241

BAKER'S COCOA
Quality Leader for 160 Years

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HARD-TO-GET GIRLS LEAD PARADE TO ALTAR

Here's an extract from a letter written by a distracted girl who can't understand why her boy friend hangs up the phone when he recognizes her voice:

"Once he told me he loved me, but now he turns me down—even hangs up the receiver when I call him. I could understand his actions if I had ever done anything but give him my very deepest love. I can't seem to stop chasing after him."

She finds it hard to believe that he's sick of her cloying devotion. She's hurt to the quick when someone tells her he calls her "the telephone hound." She hasn't heard, poor child, that if you run after a man continually it gives him the feeling of a hunted creature—and a hunted thing fights desperately to escape.

At the present time, anything—even an attack of the measles—would seem preferable to the young man than the girl who writes that she's given him only her "deepest love."

"Deepest love," like the most expensive candy, palls if you make a steady diet of it. The salted peanut never tastes so good as when you've worked your way through a large box of "Somebody's" best bon-bons.

Petting and hand-holding seem to have been the specialties of this affair, from first to last, from what my correspondent writes me. Indeed, I'm afraid there was so little else that the young man got tired of the too-easy kisses and now hangs up the telephone when he recognizes her voice. Even that insult doesn't cure her, and she writes to ask how she can win him back.

There's no magic formula for winning them back, but there is a magic formula that may be invoked for keeping them—Don't Come Cheap. Bargains of the affections, like bargains on the marked-down counter, are open to suspicion. What is worth while is not to be had by easy methods.

If you allow yourself to be "picked up" on the street and taken for motor rides, or crash an acquaintance without the formality of an introduction, don't be surprised if the young man drops you when he gets tired of his bargain-counter playmate. It's a case of easy come, easy go, and there's no use crying over it.

If too many cooks spoil the broth, too much petting spoils a chance at the wedding march. It's positively fatal. More girls have become spinsters from easy petting than from being reserved. They get the reputation, and are passed from one to another like a garment in a family of boys. The old overcoat, hat, or whatever it may be, is finally abandoned, and left on the shelf.

I know that manners, customs, even morals, have changed in the last generation. But there is something in human nature that turns from what is cheap and easy to the thing that is more difficult to acquire.

Think this over, all you girls who let men break dates without an explanation or apology, who ring them on the telephone in and out of season, and then want to know how you can win them back when they've left. It just can't be done.

I'll be glad to have more letters like the one from which I've given an extract, and we'll thrash the question out.

GOOD MANNERS

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

The Guest of Honor's Correct Role at Expectant Baby Shower

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A stork shower is being given in my honor at a friend's home. I know about it, am supposed to know about it—it's no surprise idea. There are to be three hostesses.

1. When do I arrive at the party? If I'm to be there early what do I do as the guests arrive?

2. When are the gifts opened?

3. Of course I'll thank each guest individually at the shower for her present. But is it proper also to write each a thank-you note after the shower?

4. Have you any other suggestions as to what I should do?

PATRICIA

1. Since the stork shower is not to be a surprise to you and it's so much more sensible of course, that it should not be, your hostesses will probably expect you, the guest of honor, to be at the house a little before the hour set for the party. However, they are the ones who decide about this, and so you should ask them about what they want to have you do.

If they do ask you to arrive before the guests, you would do what a guest of honor would do at any other kind of party. That is, you will be near the hostesses as the guests are arriving and after the hostesses have greeted and welcomed each arriving guest you will greet the guest. You will chat with each guest or with a group until you see that your attention should be given to the next guest arriving.

2. The gifts may be opened at any time during the party but usually they are opened after all the guests have arrived and before the refreshments are served. The hostess chooses what she considers the most appropriate time. If for example, she has planned to have the gifts put in some kind of attractive container as a centerpiece for the dining-room table at which the refreshments are served, or as the gifts are opened either before the refrshments are served, or as the after-lunch coffee is being drunk.

3. Yes, the appreciative guest of honor makes a gracious point of writing a note of thanks to each guest, as soon as she possibly can after the shower.

Often when guests of honor thank guests for their presents at a shower, they don't say quite enough words of appreciation, or they aren't quite enthusiastic enough in their manner of saying these words. They mean to say enough, I know, and they are, and mean to show that they are, deeply appreciative. But frequently they give the impression that they are curious about what the next present is; Take enough time in looking and thanking for each gift!

Another suggestion: When you write those notes of thanks to the guests, remember also to write a note of thanks to each hostess. She's been friendly and generous and hospitable, and deserves a bow of warm-hearted words of thanks!

BE SURE THE MILK YOU BUY IS IRRADIATED FOR "SUNSHINE" VITAMIN D

Carnation MILK

A CANADIAN PRODUCT

Not Just Men, Everyone Now A Leg Looker

By BETTY CLARKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

New York (AP)—Looking at legs seemed to be a man's prerogative until the silk stocking scare.

Now everyone will be looking at your legs. You'd better, too. If silk stockings or sheer-as-silk substitutes get plentiful again, you certainly won't look worse because you went in for leg-art lessons.

"No ankle should be over eight inches around," says Ann Delafield, director of a New York beauty school. She explains:

A perfect 34 girl, 5 feet 5 inches tall, has legs like this: thigh, 20 1-2 inches; knee, 13 1-2 inches; calf, 12 1-2 inches; ankle, 7 1-2 inches.

A perfect 36 who is 5 feet 7 inches tall can add either a half or a whole inch to thigh, knee and calf measurements, but should have only an 8-inch ankle.

Daily Attention

You can do your legs a daily good turn as simply as this: Be sure your shoes are long enough and the heels for walking not too high. Use a brush to scrub both your knees and heels whether you think they need it or not. Remember, care of the legs and feet calls for a lot of things, of which none are more important than soap and water.

Rub a little greaseless lotion or cream over your entire leg but particularly into your knees, heels, and bottom of your feet—after the scrubbing.

Do some sort of magician act weekly to whisk away hairs. Maybe you think the glamor girls of moving pictures and model fame have been over-emphasizing this, but it is still a thing for you to do if you want your legs considered chic.

Make 'Em a Study

If you think your legs could be smaller and smarter, study them in your full-length mirror. Get out your tape measure and compare your own inches with those suggested as standard. Make a chart before you begin either massage or exercising. Record weekly the measurements for your thigh, knee, calf and ankle. Then you can see if you are taking your exercise correctly enought, long enough and regularly enough. Otherwise why kid yourself into thinking you benefit from pinching, bending or bumping?

Whether your legs seem thick or thin, you can improve them by improving your posture. A simple check is to back up to a wall. If your shoulders, hips, calves and heels touch the wall, you are doing pretty well. If they don't set yourself the daily task of trying to make them do it. It all amounts to an exercise well worth the effort.

Doolittle Family Celebrates 300 Years in America

At Wallingford, Connecticut on August 21 and 22, the biennial gathering of the Doolittle Family marks the 300th Anniversary of the coming to America of Abraham and John Doolittle.

Today, it is estimated that Abraham Doolittle's descendants number some 11,000 individuals, each one of whom can trace their descent direct to this sturdy pioneer, and the 14 children borne by his 2 wives. John Doolittle, his brother, never married.

One of the high moments in the convention is when those present are instructed to advance to the 87 foot long genealogical chart and add, in their proper lines of descent the names of the new Doolittles, born during the two years intervening between the last National Meeting.

Most of the younger Doolittles are the 10th generation; those now in their prime, the 9th; those more elderly the 8th, and a surprisingly large number, of advanced years, the 7th.

Coming to this "Land of Freedom" from Great Britain, it is said that today, there are now no Doolittles habitant in the "Old World". They are all in the New World, many in Canada, though mostly in the United States.

Family Facts

Interesting facts about the family are:

1—Everyone born with the name "Doolittle" is related by absolutely traceable, provable lines of descent, from Abraham Doolittle, of Connecticut, around 1640.

2—The name itself is believed to be the contraction of the surname, de L'Hotel or Dolieta, a follower and aide of William the Conqueror, when he landed in England, from Normandy, in 1066 A.D., and whose Christian name was Rudolph.

3—Every one of the 10 generations from Abraham Doolittle's generation to the present, has contributed much to our country and the world in scientific, agricultural, political, religious and business achievement, to wit:

Abraham's part in King Philip's Indian War, and Charter Member of the Massachusetts Bay Co.

Ephriam—Colonel of Minute Men at Concord and Lexington.

U. S. Senator James Rood Doolittle, from Wisconsin, of whom President Lincoln spoke as being his one true friend in the Senate.

Thomas B. Doolittle, who collaborated with Bell in the perfecting of the telephone. Every time you hear the bell ring, this was his contribution, in addition to the alloy of copper which permitted long distance wires.

Gen. Charles Doolittle, in the Civil War.

Amos Doolittle, who did the first engraving on copper plate, and whose depiction of the battle of Lexington is the only one in existence, and is found in most of our History books.

Rev. Henry H. Doolittle, who domesticated the Blackberry.

Dr. Percy Doolittle, the inventor of demountable automobile rims, and many other inventions.

Maj. James H. Doolittle, winner of the Schneider Trophy for Speed Flying, developer of "blind" flying, etc., etc.

The National President is Douglass Doolittle, Board of Trade Building, Chicago, Illinois.

Belleville Represented

Belleville is represented on the Doolittle roster by—Beecher Doolittle, 16 Victoria Ave., Benj. Doolittle, 39 Sinclair; Eva Doolittle, 318 Albert St., Wm. B. Doolittle, 33 Holloway St.

They all envy me my SUNLIGHT wash

FOR WHITENESS AND NATURAL BRIGHTNESS SUNLIGHT -it's all-PURE Soap

A Lever product

● You, too, can get naturally whiter, naturally brighter, naturally sweeter-smelling washes every week . . . with Sunlight Soap! Sunlight is all-pure soap—contains no harmful adulterants whatsoever. Get some today.

"Give us the tools" SAID CHURCHILL

"And we will finish the job"

In the cause of victory, metal must be saved for vital war purposes, and so, until victory is won, no more of the beautiful "Allure", pattern silverware. heretofore available to users of Sunlight Soap, will be made.

Home Service

New Booklet Condenses "Life Begins at Forty"

Putting Time in Its Place!

Are you letting the years lick you or do you still hit back like a champ?

You can keep hitting hard long past your youth, Walter B. Pitkin says in his famous "Life Begins at Forty."

Though you've less physical energy, you have a wealth of experience, mature judgment and developed skills that give you an advantage over young people.

Use it for all it's worth! How? Pitkin's program is to abandon "the little desires in favor of the great . . concentrate on a few powerful enduring wishes. . . . Though energies may dwindle somewhat we use them more efficiently . . . heighten our chances of success."

It's been shown that the average age at which the great have done their best work is 47.4 years, so you young people of 40 have your best time ahead of you! Know how to profit by that 2,500 hours left over every year from the time you spend on the necessities of living.

Our 32-page booklet gives in convenient, condensed form the famous "Life Begins at Forty" by Walter Pitkin (condensation by permission of Whittlesey House). Learn how to make your middle and last years the happiest and most profitable of your life.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of HOW TO DO THE NEWEST DANCE STEPS AND VARIATIONS to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Medicine in the News

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Cases Prove Heart Disease Doesn't Need to Be Fatal

Chief among the symptoms of heart disease is fear. Almost everyone knows that the heart is a vital organ; therefore, persons with heart disease may be seriously disturbed by the constant threat to life. Doctors Harry B. Levine and Paul D. White, of Boston, point out, however, that sensible attention to the details of daily life will do a great deal for the person with heart disease and, in fact, aid natural recovery. They report they have frequently encountered seriously ill patients who not only made an immediate recovery from heart disease but who were able to carry on their occupations with some limitations for many years. Moreover, they have assembled records of cases which illustrate exactly such occurrences.

There was the case of a boy, 13 years old, who was found in June, 1923, with rheumatic heart disease. By November he had recovered sufficiently to play football. In 1931 when he was 20 years old, he was carefully examined with the electro-cardiograph at which time he was found to have a slight amount of disturbance of one of the heart valves but was carrying on fully in his daily life.

A banker, 61 years old, had a sudden attack in 1935 in which he fell unconscious without warning while swallowing the first mouthful of a meal. He had two similar attacks during the next two days. He was then put to bed for six weeks and reduced his weight from 246 to 226 pounds. Two years later he had another attack at which time study by all the modern methods indicated that there were periods when his heart stopped functioning. With repeated rest and good care, he seemed to recover his health. In November, 1940, five years later, his heart was found moderately enlarged and there were some murmurs. He had reduced his weight to 216 pounds and was quite active, having resumed his regular work at the age of 66.

A 48-year-old school teacher de-

A 48-year-old school teacher developed a rapid heart and difficulty in breathing in 1926. The heart was found enlarged. She was, therefore, provided with good treatment and plenty of rest. Included in the treatment were drugs capable of slowing the heart and intensifying the beat. For 14 years this patient continued to teach and reached the age of retirement at 62. She carefully watched her activities, took vacations as needed, drove her own car and did little walking.

Cases of this type indicate that the person with heart disease need not despair but that proper attention to the need of rest can lead to a long and useful life.

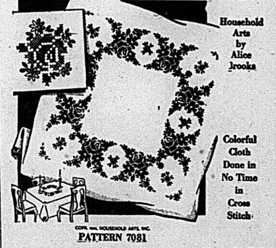
MUST GIVE DETAILS

Tokyo, Aug. 20 (AP)—All theatres and vaudeville and dramatic troupes were notified today by the home ministry that permission for performances would be granted only after full details of presentations were reported to the government.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

Tokyo, Aug. 20 (AP)—The 18th. anniversary of Tokyo's disastrous earthquake will be observed Sept. 1 with a new slogan: "Defend Tokyo's Sky." There will be speeches and demonstrations for an air-raid precaution movement.

An Exclusive Alice Brooks Design



Household Arts by Alice Brooks
Colorful Cloth Done in No Time in Cross Stitch
COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 7081

A lovely cloth will help make your entertaining a success. Do this one, in 8-to-the-inch cross stitch, in shades of a color or in varied colors. Pattern 7081 contains a transfer pattern of one 15-inch square motif, eight 2 3-4 x 3-inch and eight 1 5-8 x 2-inch motifs; illustrations of stitches; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Italy Knows Disaster Is "Right Ahead"

By Hugh Mee, a Neutral in the Sheffield Telegraph and Independent

Benito Mussolini is facing his eclipse and can't do anything about it. Ciano, Foreign Minister, is facing his wife, Edda, Mussolini's daughter (who wanted to be queen of Abyssinia), and hasn't got the right explanation to give her. And the Italian nation knows that disaster is right ahead. As Mussolini once said, "War often brings revolution."

The reason Mussolini has not appeared in public for sometime is twofold. He is a sick man, but he is also now only nominally leader of his country. He is nothing more than a gauleiter under German orders. He has no navy worth talking about now, he has unrest in what remains of his army, and the air force is withering to nothing.

I was in Italy when the Germans began to filter in. They went from shop to shop, from stall to stall, buying up eggs, butter, grapes, wine. They ate and drank; they paid in marks. They ogled the girls.

The Italians resented all this, but could not do anything about it. The Nazis were their allies.

Lately matters have been going from bad to worse in every way. Some time ago Mussolini, when he was on a visit to Milan, had a stroke and lay for some weeks in bed. Not a word was allowed to come out to the public about this illness. It has left him with one of his eyes affected. It has also left him with his temper affected. He raves and rages on the slightest pretext, even shouting at Rachel, his wife; and he never used to shout at her.

• • •

In Rome, the big hotel de Russe is, and has been for some time, the German G.H.Q. Staff cars of Nazis go everywhere, motorcyclists race through the streets. These motorcyclists carry orders from the Nazis to the Italian Ministries of War, Marine and Air. The Italians have to accept the orders and carry them out — or try to carry them out.

A year ago Italy believed implicitly in Mussolini and in the king. Today there are to be heard growlings in private, and even in public. The Germans hold the Foreign Office and "instruct" the Italian officials there how this or that is to be done.

If there is any opposition, or objection, the Nazis merely remark, "We do it this way in Berlin." They are at pains not to irritate too much.

Ciano has been slighted again and again, and is now nothing more than a figurehead. Once recently he picked a quarrel with a German officer, and sent in a report to the Nazi G.H.Q. on the man's "insulting" manner. Back came the answer that "the Foreign Minister must have misunderstood." That was all.

Ciano put his foot right into Hitler's beehive when the Nazis started the war against Russia. He sent a private telegram to Hitler, asking that the decision should be reconsidered. Goering, it has freely been stated, was also against the war, and Ciano thought he had Goering to back his view. Instead of getting any backing he got a furious telegram from Hitler which began, "You fool." It was not even marked private, and the entire Italian staff at the Foreign Office saw it and talked.

Ribbentrop, who watches Hitler's reactions very carefully, has also become indifferent to Ciano. Ribbentrop told a prominent Italian that "Ciano will be looking for a job soon." Ciano took the hint and—the story is all over Rome—very seldom appears in the capital now. He keeps his military title of major, and is said to be away at "the front."

The "front" he usually attends is one of the Italian beaches.

• • •

The people of Italy today are simmering with unrest. They know they have lost Abyssinia and Libya for good, and the war, too. They believe they have also lost their leader, Mussolini, and anger is growing against him for hitching the Italian chariot to the Nazi truck.

So long as Mussolini was able to make big speeches they felt that there was somebody looking after their interests. They believed in his personality and power, even if some believed he was directing his power wrongly. Still, the power was there.

But now he doesn't make speeches and keeps quiet in the Palazzo Venezia, and never appears in public. The people resent this as much as they resent the Nazi prominence.

Unrest is also apparent in the navy and air force.

An officer in the navy was sent to prison for stating that the Italian navy could have done better against the British fleet but for the fact that the gun tubes in the Italian ships had not been relined for five years. (Usually guns are relined yearly in mose navies.) He alleged that the reason Mussolini gave the order that commanders must in loyalty sink with their ships was to hide the real condition from the people. Such an order had never before been issued to the Italian navy.

In the air force it is admitted that many airmen take up machines without a navigator on board. Italy is short of air navigators. One pilot of a bomber sent to inflict damage on Malta stated when he returned that he followed his group commander all the time.

If he got separated from the commander his plane might have steered anywhere. So the pilot was sent to prison for "casting insinuations at the quality of his comrades' courage."

But behind all this there is the fact that when Italy came into the war at the request of Hitler she was short of coal and oil for the navy. The army needed equipment and stores. The British blockade has made matters worse.

Primate Views New Tolerance

Russia's Alignment with Britain May Bring Resurgence of Religion

London (CP)—Russia's defence of her country and her new unity with the allies may bring a new tolerance of religion by Soviet Government, according to the Archbishop of Canterbury, writing in the Canterbury Diocesan Gazetta.

"It may lead too to a new resurgence of the interests of religion, always deep-seated in the hearts of the Russian people," wrote the primate. He remarked it was significant "on the outbreak of the war thousands flocked to the churches for prayer in Moscow and elsewhere."

"It seems strange to combine alliance with bolshevist Russia, with the claim that we are contending for a Christian civilization," contended the primate, "but such misgivings are really misplaced for the first essential of the struggle is to overthrow the evil embodied in the rulers of Germany. A Nazi victory would destroy any tolerable form of government and Russia is contending for the principles of national freedom and independece."

Mentally First Plastic Cures

"Miracle Worker" Says Confidence Essential to Best Results in Healing

Somewhere in England (CP) — In a collection of long wooden huts in the South of England, Britain's "Miracle Worker," A. H. Macindoe, consulting plastic-surgeon in the Royal Air Force, gives new life and hope to airmen disfigured in battles with the enemy.

He cures them, mentally as well as physically. Because he is a psychologist he cured them mentally first, instilling confidence in his ability to heal so they not only take an interest in their own but each other's progress.

Many of them are likely to remain patients for months or even years because plastic surgery involves a long and intricate treatment with many operations. They haven't abandoned hope, however, and are filled with courage, confidence and cheerfulness.

The worst cases are confined to a ward containing about 50 beds and include Scotsmen, Welshmen, Englishmen, Canadians, Free Frenchmen, Poles and Czechs, many of them wearing ribbons of the D.F.C. and D.S.O.

Paler Stamps To Save Dyes

London (CP)—Lighter shades in the colors of Britain's postage stamps will permit the export of greater quantities of dyes to India and the Far East which before the war obtained them from Germany.

Denominations most popularly used—those up to and including three pence—are coming out in lighter shades. More than 20,000,000 are printed daily and the economy in dye will be great. At the same time, there will be less wear on printing cylinders.

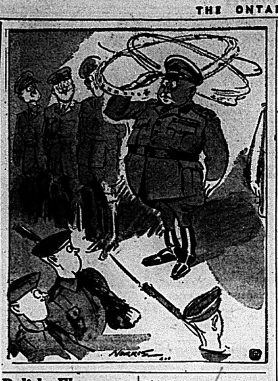
New under-arm Cream Deodorant safely Stops Perspiration

1. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts. Does not irritate skin.
2. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.
3. Instantly stops perspiration for 1 to 3 days. Removes odor from perspiration.
4. A pure, white, greaseless, stainless vanishing cream.
5. Arrid has been awarded the Approval Seal of the American Institute of Laundering for being harmless to fabrics.

Arrid is the LARGEST SELLING DEODORANT. Try a jar today!

ARRID

39¢ a jar At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 15¢ and 59¢ jars)



Polish Flyers Think This A Private War

By EDWARD J. HART

In the London Evening News

Poland's airmen — once widely scattered over the Balkans, Syria and France, now regrouped in England as independent squadrons—are daily squaring their account with the Luftwaffe. They have learned to hate, with the cold relentless fury of men whose families have been butchered and their homes destroyed.

R.A.F. training, harnessed to the world's deadliest and heaviest armed fighters, enables Poland's anonymous avengers to express their hate to the nth degree.

The "typical" Polish airman cannot be described. As a type he does not exist. In happier days he was an emminent sculptor, artist, author or musical composer; head of a shipping line or chain-store; a university professor, hotel proprietor, bank manager or taxi driver.

He remains an individualist. And every Polish airman who, at long last, has reached England is an adventure-story in himself; his story a saga of the skies.

• • •

Take the case — the "typical" case — of Boleslaw X, pilot officer in the famous Kosciuszko Squadron (better known as No. 303 Fighter Squadron, R.A.F.). The Christian name, Poland's equivalent of "Bob", offers no clue to Boleslaw's identity. He is 25; tall, quiet, studious.

He had returned that day from hospital—unexpectedly. Why, I asked, was he back so soon after his affair with those three new Messerschmitt 109F's over France? "I wanted to rejoin my squadron as soon as possible," he said. "I'm a pilot; not a professional patient."

On a recent Saturday Boleslaw made two daylight sweeps over Northern France. In the morning he destroyed one enemy aircraft and was allowed another "probable." After lunch he went over again and shot down two high-flying 109F's. As he trained his cannons on a third they jammed. Boleslaw admitted to me that he could have taken evasive action; but the memory of his mother, sister and two younger brothers, murdered at Warsaw in cold blood accompanied him into every battle.

So he dived headlong on the Hun and deliberately rammed him —nose to tail. Chunks of the 109's tail-unit struck him heavily in the face; his Spitfire suffered from the impact; but he had got his man.

Wobbling back to England, Boleslaw crash-landed near an East Coast aerodrome, hit a telegraph post, tore off his wing, and lapsed into happy oblivion just as his engine disembowelled itself. He woke up in hospital to find himself being treated for compound fracture of the skull, multiple facial injuries, broken collarbone and dislocated right arm.

• • •

Originally No. 303 squadron comprised two Flights, each equipped with six Hurricane I's. It became operational on August 30. Next day "A" flight opened its innings by destroying six Me. 109,s before breakfast.

The other day a 303 pilot returned to base after attacking ground targets with some 25 yards of hardened copper wire coiled round his tail unit. He had dived under high-tension cables.

It was on a recent "beat-up" that a 303 pilot destroyed two Ju. 52's, one of them carrying General-Oberst Grauert, whose death by a machine-gun bullet was later admitted in Germany. On the return flight the pilot made aviation history by sinking an enemy merchant ship off the French coast by cannon fire.

Polish bomber crews are eagerly awaiting a return of the long Winter nights. They, too, have their own squadrons and their own scores to settle with Germany.

Thanks from their British allies is something they can never understand. It rather embarrasses them.

They argue that the gratitude should be all on their side. For they still seem to regard it was their own private war.

$420.00 rent, please!

Wouldn't you be shocked if your landlord demanded a year's rent in advance?

● You pay your rent, gas, electric and telephone bills by the month. Buy life insurance the same way.

You'll be most agreeably surprised to find how easy it is to enjoy adequate protection for your family, and a guaranteed income for your own later years — if you pay for these necessities in small monthly amounts.

Now, particularly, when extra taxes make special calls upon your income, and when you want to buy war savings certificates and support war charities, is the time to take advantage of this Budget Plan service.

The plan works like this: you choose any policy, but instead of giving the first year's premium in cash, you pay for just one month. At age 30, for example, on a $5000, Double Protection Life policy you would pay just $6.15. As a service to you, the Company will accept your post-dated checks, one for each month of the year.

Imagine how easily you could pay for financial security under this plan for as little as $5 a month! Send the coupon today.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE

HEAD OFFICE: 112 King Street West, Toronto, Ont.

Please send me information about your special Budget Policy, together with free Pocket Memo Budget Booklet.

Name ______

Address ______ 110

DISTRICT OFFICE
203 EAST ROBERTSON BLOCK

Sidney Crossing

Sidney Crossing—Miss Helen Ketcheson is visiting friends and relatives in Foxboro and Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. May and Loreen accompanied by Miss Beulah Montgomery, Frankford, also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stickle and Thelma of Johnstown were tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hogle on Sunday evening.

Miss Joyce and Master Ronald Elmy are holidaying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hogle.

The W.M.S. service on Sunday at Aikens United Church was well attended, the guest speaker being Mrs. Stanley Spafford.

A few from this neighborhood attended the Decoration Service at Belleville cemetery on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vardy of Bancroft called on Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hogle on Friday afternoon on their way to Trenton to attend the Yateman-Vardy wedding, Miss Marion Vardy being a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vardy.

Mrs. George Millard and nieces, Marilyn and Lois Elmy spent Thursday with the former's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hogle.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Spafford opened their home to the Aikens community for a social evening on Wednesday last in aid of the Sunday School. A large number were present. All report a very enjoyable evening. Proceeds for the evening amounted to around $20.00.

Minto

Minto—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reid, Ivanhoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Reid and family of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Reid and Douglas of Kingston spent a Sunday recently with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hagerman and Douglas remained for a week's holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hagerman and Ethel spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sharpe, Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Martin entertained company from Oshawa and Toronto over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mumby entertained friends from New York over the week end.

Mrs. Mae Leggett of Belleville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. E. Colden.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Livingston and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Runnalls.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hagerman and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mowat Sine.

Miss Evelyn Cooke, Belleville, spent the week end at her home here.

Miss Marjory Clements, Stirling, spent the week end with her parents.

Miss Doris Cooke, Belleville, spent the week end at her home.

Mrs. E. Belcour and Muriel of Belleville spent a few days at her son's Mr. Kenneth Belcour's.

Marmora

Marmora—Mr. Jack Grant of Toronto spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. Pearce Murphy of Toronto spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James Brady.

Mrs. William Teskey of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker and daughter, Pauline, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Lavender on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Chrysler of Hastings visited Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Chrysler on Sunday.

Miss Gertrude Lumsden has obtained a position with the Civil Service in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gano and Mr. and Mrs. R. Phillips visited friends in Rawdon Township on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Wright have left for a month's visit in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber, son and daughter of Timmins are occupying Mr. T. J. Byrne's cottage at Crowe Lake.

Moira

Moira—Mrs. Sid Williams and Ruth of Stirling visited several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harrison this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell of Foxboro were dinner guests recently of Mrs. Joe Williams and family and brought back with them June and Ted Williams who have been visiting there.

Mrs. Sarah Vanderwater is ill again at her home here.

Guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emerson were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canning and family and Miss Sandra Woods, all of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Tufts and Brenda of Perth and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Williams and family of Stirling.

Miss Grace and Master Gordon McInroy have returned home after spending a week with Mrs. Harold McLeaming of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leslie, Mr. Don Leslie and Mrs. Donaldson of Belleville were callers Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herity.

Mrs. E. Philps of Cleveland, has been visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw of Ivanhoe were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Ketcheson on Friday.

H.P. Sauce HELPS YOU TO MAKE LEFTOVERS INTO Delicious Meals

H.P. SAUCE

Centenary

Centenary—Mr. J. Ray and daughter, Anna, spent Sunday in Sunderland with Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Free, Mrs. Ray who has been visiting with her daughter returned home with them.

Mrs. W. Ray's many friends will be sorry to learn that she is still confined to her bed though somewhat improved.

Mr. Geo. Avory of Kingston is spending a few days leave at his home here.

Miss Stella Willman, Montreal, is spending her holidays at the home of her father Mr. J. Wellman and her sister Mrs. E. Ray and family.

The August W.A. and W. M. S. meetings were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Orr on Thursday. Dinner was served at the noon hour.

Mrs. B. White of Kingston who spent a few days with his aunt, Mrs. D. Holton and family returned home on Saturday, Norma Holton accompanied her, and will spend a couple of weeks visiting relatives in Kingston.

Quite a number of friends attended the wedding on Saturday of Miss Dorothy Thrasher and Mr. Walter Ziegler which took place in Centenary Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fanning and daughter Mary, Belleville, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Judson Kelley.

Friends will be sorry to learn that Miss Mildred Phillips is ill. All will wish for her a speedy recovery.

Point Anne

Point Anne—Mr. and Mrs. H. King of Montreal returned home on Saturday after spending two weeks' holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. King.

Miss Dorothy King is at home following a vacation spent with Mr. and Mrs. H. King of Montreal.

Miss Barbara MacDonald, Reg. N. of Toronto is recuperating from a serious illness at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Insley of Trenton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Insley and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Insley.

Eric King, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. King of Montreal, of the Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars, accompanied by Jack Parks of Florida, U.S.A. also of the Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars on furlough, visited Mr. and Mrs. G. A. King and returned to Montreal with Mr. and Mrs. H. King after a fine holiday in Point Anne.

Mrs. R. Johnston, Mrs. Alfred Charlton of Belleville and Miss Doreen Morrissey of Kingston spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Charlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster and family of Galt, Ont., called on Mr. and Mrs. Geo. King on Sunday last.

Miss June Deforge is holidaying in Toronto at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Traynor.

Mrs. Nelson Morrisey of Kingston spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Charlton and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Whalen.

Mr. Eddie Pope who is with the R.C.A. at Peterboro, spent several days with his aunt, Mrs. Geo. King.

The prize-winners at the Red Cross euchre on Thursday evening were: Ladies' first, Mrs. M. W. Whalen, consolation, Mrs. F. Genereaux. Gent's 1st, Ralph Payne, consolation, Geo. MacDonald. Lone hands, Ralph Payne.

Point Anne citizens are extremely proud of their softball team who were victorious in the battle for the city championship and wish them good luck in their try for the O. A. S. A. championship.

Mr. Carl Roluf spent a few days last week with relatives in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes of Rochester, N.Y., spent holidays with Mr. and Mrs. T. W Bowler and Mr. and Mrs. L. Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Aseltine and Mr. and Mrs. A. Morgan were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McConnell.

Misses Rita, Mary and Jane Gaulin are visiting their grandmother Mrs. J. E. Gaulin of Deseronto.

Misses Laura and Barbara Sills are spending holidays with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook of Oshawa.

Miss Marguerite Ellis returned to Belleville on Sunday after spending two weeks holidays at her home here.

Mr. Maurice Valentyne, R. C. A. F., Trenton, spent several days at the home of Pte. and Mrs. W. H. Ellis.

Mrs. Kenneth Allore and daughter Marlene, Miss Myrtle Hubbs and Mr. Douglas Buck of Trenton called at William Insley's on Sunday evening.

Master Alvin Cox spent a few days last week with his grand parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Akey, Trent Road.

Miss Edith Insley is at the home of her parents suffering from a broken shoulder.

Mr. Reg Cox had the misfortune to fracture his right wrist while cranking his car on Friday morning.

Mrs. Edith Wilson, Mr. Arthur Wilson, Miss Elsie Ryan and Mr. Harold Ellis motored to Oshawa on Saturday evening and visited Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilson over the week end. Mrs. Wilson and Miss Ryan will remain until next Saturday.

A DRESS THAT'S WORN A DAY TOO LONG MAY SPOIL THE TUNE OF LOVE'S SWEET SONG

HOW TO KEEP DRESSES Fresh and Dainty!

Charm's important. Don't spoil it with a dress that whispers "perspiration." Dip your washable summer frocks in Lux regularly. Lux gets rid of perspiration odor, keeps colors bright and fabrics lovely.

A Lever product

LUX Doesn't your dress NEED a DIP in Lux TONIGHT?

IT'S THE CRISPNESS MAKES 'EM SMILE!

Happy Husbands here to stay, when clever little wives give them the breakfast it's FUN to eat! Kellogg's Rice Krispies are so crisply tempting, so golden and inviting as they crackle in the cream. Try a great big bowlful tomorrow! And you'll smile too!

Merry Mothers at breakfast, because the whole family is lighthearted and contented when they see the Rice Krispies package on the table. Tests prove that Rice Krispies stay floating in milk or cream for hours. Crisp to the last spoonful, they never mush down . . . never get soggy!

They're so CRISP they Crackle in Cream!

● Take Notice—"Rice Krispies" is a registered Trade Mark of the Kellogg Company of Canada Limited, for their delicious brand of oven-popped rice. In other words, when you want Rice Krispies—and you DO want Rice Krispies—say "Rice Krispies," and you'll get Rice Krispies! And when you breakfast out, ask for the triple-wrapped individual package.

SERVE BY SAVING! BUY WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES!

Chicago White Sox Hurlers Pitch Double Shutout Against A's, Team Now in Second Place

Jimmy Dykes Has the Finest Pitching Staff in the Major Leagues

16 GAMES BEHIND

By JUDSON BAILEY

(Associated Press Sport Writer)

The finest pitching staff in the Major Leagues this year belongs to Chicago White Sox, without any question.

This has been no secret at any time this season, but the feat of Lefty Thornton Lee and big Johnny Humphries in pitching a double shutout against Philadelphia Athletics yesterday has served to switch the spotlight in the direction of the Sox.

Obscured by the fancy pennant fight in the National League, the collapse of Cleveland Indians, and other developments, the White Sox nevertheless has won eight straight games and 17 of their last 20 in a tremendous drive that has carried them from fifth place to second in the American League since Aug. 2.

This spurt has been accomplished almost entirely on superb pitching. The Sox still are the weakest hitting outfit and the next to the worst fielding club in the league.

Hurl Nine Shutouts

But their pitchers have hurled nine shutouts and 22 one-run games and in 82 contests the starting pitcher has finished the game. His is a magnificent record and a credit to Manager Jimmy Dykes and Coach Muddy Ruel as well as to the pitchers themselves.

Lee, recognized as the outstanding lefthander of the year, achieved his 16th victory by holding the Athletics to six scattered singles. Humphries, a 26-year-old righthander allowed only four hits.

This lifted the Sox to 16 games behind New York Yankees, who divided a doubleheader at Detroit and lost their great star, Joe DiMaggio, for at least several days with a sprained ankle.

The Tigers broke loose for eight runs in the second inning of the first game and won 12-3 with Lefty Hal Newhouser pitching five-hit ball.

DiMaggio Turns Ankle

New York banged back with a 16-hit bombardment of its own to take the second game 8-3, but DiMaggio turned his left ankle tagging second base after hitting a double in the fourth inning.

Lanky Ted Williams came up with three home runs during a double-header between Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns and boosted his batting average to .410.

In spite of Williams' show, the best Boston could do was split the twin bill. The Browns took the opener 3-2 and Boston won the night game.

Washington whipped Cleveland's tumbling Indians again 8-6, making Cleveland's current record 13 losses in 14 decisions.

Brooklyn barged two full games in front of the National League by battering Pittsburgh Pirates 9-0 and 6-2 in a doubleheader while the rest of the league was kept idle by a widespread rain in the east.

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By the Associated Press)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting—Etten, Philadelphia, .333
Runs—Reiser, Brooklyn, 85.
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 89.
Hits—Moore, St. Louis, and Hack, Chicago, 139.
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 35.
Triples—Hopp and Slaughter, St. Louis, Elliott, Pittsburgh, and Reiser, Brooklyn, each 9.
Home runs — Camilli, Brooklyn, 25.
Stolen bases—Frey, Cincinnati, 15
Pitching—Riddle, Cincinnati, 13-2

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting—Williams, Boston, .410.
Runs—DiMaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in—DiMaggio, New York 112.
Hits—DiMaggio, New York, 38.
Triples—Travis, Washington and Heath, Cleveland, 12.
Home runs—Keller, New York, 30
Stolen bases—Case, Washington, 19.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 11-4.

EARL McCREADY TO WRESTLE HERE

British Empire Champion Will Take on Tallahassee Terror, Cy Willams

BOTH ARE VETERANS

British Empire heavyweight wrestling champion Earl McCready will oppose Cy Williams, the Tallahassee Terror, in the main bout of a three-bout at the Hume Arena in Belleville on Monday night next. Besides being the heavyweight wrestling champion of the British Empire, a crown he won in Australia two years ago, Earl McCready is the leading challenger for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

McCready, an exponent of the flying scissors and barrel-roll holds, is the type of wrestler who stands for little clowning in the ring, being a serious matman and one of the most rugged in the business. Cy Williams, who opposes McCready at the Hume Arena, literally kicked out a victory over Rollend Kirchmayer in a local ring two weeks ago. Promoter Frank Tunney personally signed McCready to tame the wild Floridan.

Both Williams and McCready are veteran ringmasters who can assure the patrons of modern wrestling the best there is in the business. Two other supporting bouts will precede the McCready-Williams main affair with Phil Lawson, popular Toronto referee as the probable third man in the ring.

SYRACUSE CHIEFS DEFEAT TORONTO

Carl Fischer is Hard Luck Pitcher of Year Having Been Defeated 15 Times

(By The Associated Press)

What's been happening to Carl Fischer this season is just a sample of the kind of things that have happened to his club, Toronto Maple Leafs. All hands agree they shouldn't happen to a dog.

The Leafs are last in the International Baseball League standings and Fischer is last in the pitching records. The veteran southpaw hasn't won a game and has 15 defeats marked against him.

Both the club and the individual have dropped plenty of tough ones—five of Fischer's setbacks have been by one-run margins.

Big John Whitehead out-pitched Fischer last night and was backed up by timely hitting by Red Juelich and Woodrow Wilson as Syracuse won 3-1. Whitehead held the Leafs to six hits, while his mates reached Fischer for seven. Four bases on balls proved Fischer's undoing despite a well-pitched game, as three of them counted at the plate.

Rain and wet grounds caused postponement of all other games.

CHUCK FENSKE STAYS IN ARMY

Gives Up Hope of Returning to Cinder Track for Comeback

Lake Charles, La., Aug. 20—(AP)—With the same gameness that made him immortal in track history Charles H. (Chuck) Fenske has abandoned his fondest hope—a comeback on the cinders with another crack at the world's outdoor mile record.

Extending army service beyond a year cinched the matter for Fenske, former University of Wisconsin ace. Before that he had planned to try for fresh laurels after his year in the army.

Now he's given up practice runs around army camps by which he tried to keep his legs conditions.

"My main job now is right here in this man's army and I'm forgetting everything else," said the 25-year-old Fenske.

DIMAGGIO SCORES WINNING RUN AGAINST ATHLETICS

Joe (The Great) DiMaggio, New York Yankees centrefielder, slides home with the run that gave his team a 2-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the ninth inning of the first game of a doubleheader at the Yankee stadium. Bill Beckman, who uncorked a wild pitch that enabled DiMag to come in from second base, drops the ball, which had been retrieved by Catcher Harold Wagner. Umpire Passarella calls it. The Yanks took the nightcap, too, 4-3

Lawn Bowling

COMMENTS

(By CLIFF ARGUE)

Well, things did not go so good for our club on Monday afternoon, but there was a different story on Monday evening.

Our favoured rink of C. Sulman—skip, C. Iley, H. Tilley and H. Middleton went down to defeat in the district playoff at Brighton in the afternoon. They were beaten by the strong Campbellford rink composed of Archie Myers—skip, Bert Taylor, C. Palliser and Doc Watson. The score was 23 to 13.

The doubles team of Walter Wiggins and Jim Archer of Campbellford also took A. J. Rendell and Jim Hough of Deseronto into camp by a score of 32 to 16.

Dwight Bennett also of Campbellford, took the singles title of the district away from Earl Fox of Stirling by a score of 21 to 17. Fox was the winner last year, and went on to the semi-finals in the championships games at Hamilton.

As a result Campbellford walked away with the District Shields in all three events, and these representatives may go far in the Provincial Championship events in Hamilton on Labour Day. They have our best wishes as they are a swell bunch of fellows, and one always gets a kick when bowling against them.

Last Friday evening one rink from Stirling went to Campbellford, and one rink from Campbellford went to Stirling, to take part in the playdowns in the Governor-General's Cup competition. Both Stirling teams won, the total aggregate majority score being 15. One of the Campbellford teams was the one that won the district title on Monday.

Then came the night.

The rink of S. L. Lucas—skip, Bill Whitty, Fred Mallory and Bob Patterson came to Belleville to take on the rink of Ab. Wonnacott—skip, Davie Davidson, Clarence Clapp, and Doug. Row.

The rink composed of Ernie Vanner—skip, Harvey Stewart, Cliff Argue and Jack Bean went to Stirling, and hooked up with the rink of Hap. Tompkins—skip, Tom Solmes, Earl Fox and L. Fair.

We went there hoping that the Belleville rink would pile up a good lead to help us out, as the total aggregate score of the two teams count in these games.

However, Wonnacott won his game by a majority of 2, the score being 23 to 21, and just to show our independence we finished up with a majority of 5, total score being 22 to 17. Thus on the evening's play Belleville defeated Stirling by a total of 7, with total scores being 45 to 38.

The Wonnacott rink went into the last end with a deficit of 1, but pulled up their socks and got 3 on the 21st end and came out 2 on top.

The Vanner rink was 5 down at end of 16th end, then felt that Stirling had had their fun and settled down and got ten in the next five ends, holding Stirling to their seventeen.

Through defeating Kingston and Stirling rinks, Belleville rinks will go on, and as representatives of District 15 will play winner of District 16 on a neutral green. We do not as yet know where our opponents will be from, or the green the semi final will be played on, but expect to hear within the next few days. The winners of this game will then go on to play the final game against the Quebec qualifiers in Ottawa early in September for the Governor General's Cup. Presentation to winners of the Cup will be made by the Earl of Athlone.

It would be an honor to get into the finals. We need your moral support as the road is rocky.

Ho hum, have to leave much too early in the morning for me to compete along with the other three novices in rinks tournament in Oshawa.

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	84	46	.646
Montreal	79	53	.598
Buffalo	75	57	.568
Jersey City	65	61	.5158
Rochester	68	64	.5151
Syracuse	61	70	.466
Baltimore	44	81	.352
Toronto	44	88	.333

Tuesday Results.

Syracuse 3; Toronto 1.

Buffalo at Baltimore (2) Montreal at Newark all postponed.

Rochester at Jersey City, postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	81	40	.669
Chicago	64	55	.538
Boston	61	56	.521
Cleveland	59	55	.518
Detroit	54	64	.458
Philadelphia	51	65	.440
Washington	48	65	.425
St. Louis	46	[illegible]	[illegible]

Tuesday Results

Detroit 12-3; New York 3-8.
St. Louis 3-7; Boston 2-10.
Chicago 4-1; Philadelphia 0-0.
x-Washington 8; Cleveland 6.
x-12 innings.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	75	40	.652
St. Louis	72	41	.637
Cincinnati	62	49	.559
Pittsburgh	60	52	.536
New York	56	55	.505
Chicago	49	67	.422
Boston	46	66	.411
Philadelphia	31	81	.277

Tuesday Results

Brooklyn 9-6; Pittsburgh 0-2.

Chicago at New York, St. Louis at Boston, Cincinnati at Philadelphia (2) all postponed.

CANAM. SCORES

Gloversville 7 at Oneonta 6.

Utica at Pittsfield postponed — rain.

Three Rivers 2 at Amsterdam 4.

Quebec 7 at Rome 5.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Columbus 8-3; Kansas City 7-0.

Toledo 0; Milwaukee 2.

Louisville 5-5; St. Paul 4-1.

BANQUET FOR THE CHAMP

Calumet Farm's three-year-old champion Whirlaway enjoys the Saratoga grass as Trainer Ben Jones, on white pony, looks on. On Whirly's back is Pinky Brown, exercise boy, who Owner Warren Wright favored as Whirly's pilot in the Travers. Pinky is 145 pounds, and lack of license plus the fact that he has not ridden in competition in a couple of decades combined to rule him out and give Al Robertson the winning mount.

'CEMENTMEN' WIN OVER RAWDON SQUAD BY 13-3

First Game of Intermediate "C" Playdowns Played at Point Anne

TOO MUCH LUFFMAN

Point Anne "Cementmen" won with ease by a 13 to 3 score over the Rawdon Township "Farmers" in the first game of the Intermediate "C" playdowns in the O.A.S.A. at the Cement Village last night.

The Rawdon infield booted the spheriod for seven costly errors as Bubby Gaulin's Ox Pointers only out-hit the "farmers" eleven to nine. "Ding" Luffman hurled for the homesters and scattered the nine Rawdon hits well, as the losers only scored in one frame the third, when they notched all three of their runs. Ray started for the Rawdon boys, but was relieved by Bedford in the fifth after the Cementmen had garnered ten runs. Bedford halted the homesters rally in the remaining three innings, however.

Two errors and hits by Bennett, Loft and Whalen gave the Point Anners four runs in the initial frame and they were never headed, as they added four more in the fourth when walks and hits by Sero and Green produced runs. Errors and Doug. Bennett's double gave the Cementmen three more in the fifth, while Hutchings and Luffman came through with hits that counted another Point Anne run in the eighth. Ray, Pyear and Brown delivered hits in the inning that Rawdon scored, Luffman scattering the remaining six Rawdon hits masterfully. Every member of Bubby Gaulin's homesters counted at least one hit as the Cementmen went through their paces with but one error.

The line-ups: Point Anne—B. Bennett, rf; Loft, cf; Whitehead, 3b; Sero, ss; Green, c; Whalen, 2b; Hutchings, lf; D. Bennett, 1b and Luffman, p. Rawdon Township—H. Brown, lf; D. Rogers, 2b; R. Pyear, 3b; Halland, cf; G. Pyear, 1b; Bailey, c; D. Pyear, ss; Armstrong, rf; Ray and Bedford, p.

Score by innings:

```
                          R. H. E.
Rawdon  0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0 0— 3  9  7
Pt. Anne 4 1 0 4 3 0 0 1 x—13 11  1
```

Umpires—Brown and Bawden.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)

Associated Press Sport Writer

New York, Aug. 20—(AP)—Rumor Market: What's this we hear about Steve O'Neill, the Tigers' coach, being offered the job of managing the Indians next year?.. ....Southern writers say Bitsy Grant is going to retire from the tennis grind if he makes a first-ten ranking this season.... When Talent Scout won a race Saturday at Saratoga and paid $60.20, owner Alf Vanderbilt didn't have a cent on him. He was sitting back waiting to see Petrify—which took a licking in the spinaway...... Hank Greenberg, who isn't exactly getting rich on a corporal's $52 a month, has traded in his expensive car for a cheaper one and $200 cash....

The Dodgers are going to put on a fashion show before their game with the Cubs Friday which is Ladies' Day, and some of those prejudiced Brooklyn fans are suggesting it might be a better game if the Brooks played the models instead of the Cubs...... Ball players say the reason Jim Tobin is winning for the Braves is that he's developed the best knuckleball in the National League.

The football Dodgers have lost 23 players via the draft and three to defence jobs and have seven rookies who may be called up any day.. ....The ruling that put Benny McCoy in Class 3-A was sent to Benny's local board by Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, acting upon authority of President Roosevelt...... As the Senators' No. 1 fan, the President now can hardly refuse to do something for Buddy Lewis.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

Curt Davis and Pete Reiser, Dodgers — Former pitched five-hit shutout in first game against Pirates and latter drove in two runs with double in eighth inning to break up second game.

Hal Newhouser and Charley Gehringer batted in four runs with homer and double to win first game while Dickey knocked three tallies across to lead successful attack in nightcap.

Thornton Lee and John Humphries, White Sox — Each pitched shutout against Athletics, former allowing six hits and latter four.

Between Innings

GOSSIP — NEWS — COMMENT

Softball fans are still talking about the swell pitching job Johnnie Bawden did against the packed Trenton "all-stars" here on Monday and a goodly number of local fans are expected to accompany the Corby nine to Trenton for the return game this evening. Both Skipper Bawden, of Corbys and Andy Anderson of the Trenton team, squawked to Convener Harry Rollins about Monday night's umpires, Anderson kicking regarding Eddie Schrieder's work and Bawden shouting: "no dice insofar as Steenberg goes." However, Convener Rollins threatened to call in neutral umpires for the remaining games and that settled the matter without further comment, the respective heads agreeing perhaps Steenberg and Schrieder were better than what they might get out of a grab bag process. Corbys know full well they have a job on their hands to beat Trenton, but a repetition of Monday's performance should about terminate the series in successive games.

Bubby Gaulin's Cementmen launched their O.A.S.A. playdown campaign by taking Rawdon Township "all-stars" 13 to 3, the "township boys" only scoring in the third frame. However, the Cementmen only out-hit the Rawdon boys eleven to nine, but the "township lads" booted the ball around the infield for seven costly errors. "Ding" Luffman was on the. Cementmen's mound and scattered the Rawdon hits well, except in the third when Brown, Rogers and Pyear all hit to count a trio of runs. The Cementmen had men on base every inning, but found Bedford, who relieved Ray on the Rawdon mound, somewhat of a puzzle after the fifth, as the Ox Point City champions only scored one run after Bedford settled away. After the Cementmen made it an even dozen runs in the fifth they eased off slightly, however, as Luffman was firing stronger ball each inning out. The Cementmen should win in straight games.

Here's what Oshawa George Campbell has to say regarding the junior O.A.S.A. mix-up in the Motor City, which necessitated the postponing of the Oshawa-Belleville junior O.A.S.A. playdowns: "Late Saturday night, the defeated Nu-Blue Bronks, via Manager Joe Childerhose, filed protest against Bills' Place, on the grounds that players Bill Mortimer, Bud Wilson and Jim Peters were ineligible, not having been in Oshawa on February 1st, 1941. The Oshawa officers referred the protest to the O.A.S.A. secretary. The Oshawa Junior League teams will have their representatives present at a meeting to be held at the Genosha Hotel, Monday night at 7.30 o'clock, when the O.A.S.A. decision will be announced."

The announcement today that Earl McCready, the British Empire wrestling champion and contender for the world's heavyweight grappling title, would appear at the Hume arena versus Cy Williams, the Tallahassee terror, sounds like a top-notch wrestling match for next Monday. McCready is recognized as one of the best wrestlers in the business.

Again it was no contest in the Girls' City Softball League playdowns as last night's Zeller-Viking game failed to go seven innings owing to darkness. Zellers were one out in front and leading 16 to 15 when the umps. called the game. This is the second game in the league semi-finals to be terminated in such a manner. Following the game President Ted Schwab called the play-off teams together and announced that all games in the future must commence before 6.45 p.m. and any club failing to field nine players at that time will be forced to default the game. From this corner however, it seemed that a five inning game to decide the winner would prove satisfactory in these girls' games. The club managers voted otherwise and the first team to be in default of a full nine players at 6.45 p.m. will find themselves facing a game down in the loss column.

The Toronto Star sport pages had this to say regarding Belleville:—"Sunday Morning Class really drew the fans in Belleville last Civic holiday. No less than 6,000 turned out to see the Toronto girls perform against an all-star aggregation from the home city. And the tidy sum of $300 was collected and donated to the Red Cross British Bomb Victims' Fund. Since the game was played on an open field with bleachers built only to accommodate 500 the crowd ringed the field and was just about the best to turn out to a softball tilt in Belleville."

Do you remember when Jack Dempsey dethroned as world heavyweight boxing champion by Gene Tunney in 1926 and again beaten by Tunney in 1927, started a comeback 10 years ago tonight. It ended Aug. 15, 1932, when Kingfish Levinsky of Chicago scored a 10-round decision over the one-time Manassa Mauler.

One of the largest military track and field meets ever attempted in Canada will be held at Richardson Stadium today, nearly 200 soldier, sailor and airmen athletes having been entered before the meet entries closed. Incidentally Ken McAdam, in charge of the Y.M.C.A. sports program at the Trenton R.C.A.F. base, informs your newsboy they are planning a mammoth track and field day meet at the Airport on Saturday, Aug. 30th. The public will be permitted to take in the proceedings and inspect the new R.C.A.F. recreation grounds.

SPORT SPICE—So Joe and Marva kissed and made up, or did they.... At any rate it seems the Louis's are reconciled and all is forgiven, but who forgave who and why?........ Well, Joe Louis evaded the alimony for a while at least...... It's the White Sox in the American League these days who are providing the thrills and spills...... Yesterday they took both ends of a dual bill with the A's to strengthen their second-place standing in the loop...... With the United States Army setting 28 years of age as the ceiling for selective military training service, several major league ball players can obtain their discharge from the army owing to age limits...... Even Hank Greenberg is over the 28-years-of-age class, but he's not talking........ The Ontario Baseball Association refused to accept a post entry from South Hastings League...... Even up, Eleanor.

MINORA'S HERE MEN!
"Fits all double-edge razors"
GUARANTEED TO PLEASE OR YOUR MONEY BACK
4 FOR 10¢
LARGEST SELLING ECONOMY BLADE IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE
NOW MADE IN CANADA
Minora Blades
MADE IN CANADA

GUESS WHO WON?

Claude Smith, RIGHT, of Akron, O., comforts Charles McDaniels, of Charleston, W.Va., who finished second in the annual national soap-box derby at Akron. Smith, the winner, receives a four-year scholarship, offered as first prize. Competitors in the national race were winners of earlier races sponsored chiefly by newspapers over the country. One hundred thousand spectators cheered the contestants on.

A TIRE TO MEET THE NEED OF EVERY MOTORIST
Including The World-Famous
DUNLOP 'FORT'

SAFETY PLUS! That's what you invest in when you buy Dunlop Tires. See the complete range today... including the Dunlop 'Fort'... the only tire in the world with 2000 teeth to grip the road for greater safety. There's a Dunlop for every purse and purpose... at prices that challenge comparison in every price range.

DRACUP'S TIRE SERVICE
150 Front St. Phone 2243

Fit DUNLOP
"THE WORLD'S FINEST TIRE"

Rent that Spare Room from a Want Ad

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per Insertion 20c

Two Insertions 60c

Three Insertions 75c

Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.

Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS

REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1023

Representing

CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE

Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J., 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE", 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist, Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 228 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900. Lady attendant.

H. R. and VERA E. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 48½ Bridge St., East, Belleville, Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE

363½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass

278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

THE PEOPLE VS. DR. KILDARE
Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day
2.40 — 7.00 — 9.50
A VERY YOUNG LADY
Jane Withers, John Sutton
4.00 — 8.20

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

THREE LOVES HAS NANCY
Janet Gaynor, Franchot Tone, Robert Montgomery
2.45 — 7.30 — 10.15
THE WARE CASE
Clive Brook, Jane Baxter
3.50 — 9.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

PUDDIN' HEAD
Judy Canova, Francis Lederer
7.10 — 10.00
SALOON BAR
Gordon Harker, Elizabeth Allan
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

WANTED

2 GIRLS, NEAT IN APPEARANCE for waitresses, experience not necessary. Salary $9.00 weekly and meals. Approximately 50 hours per week. Apply giving all particulars phone number etc., to Box 49, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-2t

ROOM AND BOARD FOR LADY teacher. Write Box 5, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

2 SALESMEN FOR LARGE RETAIL organization. Good salary, unlimited opportunity for advancement. Must have retail selling experience. Apply to Box 55, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-4t

COOK GENERAL WITH EXPERIENCE and references. 2 adults in family. Apply Betty Spiers, 4932 Sherbrooke Street, Montreal, or phone 1952, Belleville. A20-3t

BOARDERS WANTED. GOOD home; continuous hot water; garage. Phone 2217M. A20-1t

TWO CARLOADS OF CLOVER honey. Price nine cents per lb. cash at door, in sixty or seventy pound containers. B. O. Lott. A20

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS. APply 36 Bridge Street East. A20-2t

A STEADY JOB! MAKE REAL money selling guaranteed quality trees and plants. Excellent samples. Full or part time. Cash every week. Luke Brothers Nurseries, Montreal. A20

WARM, COMFORTABLE ROOM with board, by woman. Write Box 43, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

4 OR 5 ROOMED HOUSE OR APartment by September 1st, by couple. No children. Phone 1733. A19-3t

BUSINESS MAN, WANTS GOOD house or apartment, furnished or unfurnished, at least 3 bedrooms. Will pay up to $55 monthly. Apply Box 47, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

POSITION AS GENERAL HOUSEman and cook. Good references. Apply Box 46 Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

FUR FINISHER OR GIRL WITH some dressmaking experience. Apply Woodley's Fur Store. A19-3t

EXPERIENCED TRUCK DRIVER for country work. References. Citizens Dairy. A19-2t

TO RENT, HOUSE WITH MODern conveniences; three or four bedrooms, by permanent resident. Phone 1701. J. W. Evans. A18-3t

GENTLEMAN BOARDER TO share large front bedroom with young man working nights. Separate beds. All conveniences. 221 Charles St. or Phone 214J. A18-3t

AT ONCE, RADIO REPAIR MAN. Apply in person at Hitchon Radio Service, 24 Victoria Ave. A18-3t

HOUSEKEEPER, MIDDLE AGED, good plain cook. Sleep in. References. Apply Mrs. George Forhan, 182 John St. A18-3t

GIRL OR WOMAN FOR HOUSEwork. Apply 163 Pinnacle St. A18-3t

FARM 10 TO 50 ACRES IN THE vicinity of Belleville. Write Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer. A16-6t

BEVERAGE ROOM WAITERS. Experienced men only need apply. Hotel Belvedere. A13tf

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A13-12t

NOW IS THE TIME TO QUALIFY for a Government job as Clerk, Postman, Customs Clerk, Steno., etc. Five Dominion-wide exams held since war began. Free booklet. M. C. C. Schools Ltd., Toronto 10. Oldest in Canada. No agents.

WOMEN WANTED

STEADY INCOME FULL OR part time selling 200 necessities. Guaranteed Familex Products are attractively packaged, create instant eye-appeal, build and hold customers' confidence. If you are willing to invest a few dollars WITHOUT RISK we will help you to progress surely and quickly in your chosen district. INFORMATION AND ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE SENT FREE. FAMILEX, 570 St. Clement, Montreal. A20

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, Aug. 23rd., at 1.30 p.m. at 165 Pinnacle St., LaPalm's Storage, E. L. Gosling, Owner—Single bed with mattress and springs, chest of drawers, night table, chesterfield and chair, occasional chair, floor lamp, ironing board, china cabinet, 1 rug. Terms cash.

NORMAN MONTGOMERY,
Auctioneer, Phone 1170.
A20-22

TURN YOUR SPARE ROOM INTO MONEY.

WRITE YOUR AD. NOW AND PHONE IT TO 99.

FOR SALE

.22 RIFLE BRAND NEW, $5.00. Apply 31 Strachan Street. A20-3t

TWO GOODYEAR TIRES AND tubes, 600 x 21, in good condition. Apply 23 Earl Street. A20-1t

USED HOSTESS REFRIGERATor in lovely condition. Exceptional bargain. Coal Electric combination range in good condition. Priced for quick sale. W. W. Weaver, 217 Front Street. Phone 1031. A20-1t

SODA FOUNTAIN, CONFECtionery, tobaccos. Good stock. Same owner 15 years. Reason for selling, death of owner. Write Box 225, Campbellford. A20-3t

'40 STUDEBAKER CHAMPION Sedan, small mileage; new car condition. Trade and terms. Hopkins Garage, Foxboro. A20-2t

'35 CADILLAC SEDAN, FIVE passenger, fine condition, good tires. Sacrifice for cash. Phone 152J. A20-2t

COMPLETE SET OF CUPBOARDS for kitchen. Ivory with black trim. Phone 1449. A20-2t

QUEBEC HEATER; LARGE ELectric heater; cutter and sleigh. Phone 1414J. A19-3t

3 H.P. ENGINE, ELECTRIC PRESsure system, Tractors, Gang Plows, Disc Plows, Cream Separators, Wagon, Harness, 3 Young Horses, Spring Tooth Cultivators. All in A1 shape. McCormick-Deering Agent, H. J. Ward, 380 Front St. A19-2t

BUNGALOW IN NAPANEE, FIVE rooms, fir trimmed, Hydro, cistern. Price: Fifteen Hundred. Cheap taxes. Mrs. Robert Noyes, Route 2, Belleville. A19-3t

OR RENT, HUNDRED ACRES, suitable for tractor; fifty pasture and wood, good building, plenty water; Hydro available. Apply Bert McCamon, Thomasburg. A18-3t

USED BEATTY WASHER, COPper tub. Splendid condition, $49. Terms to suit. Walker Hardware Co. Ltd., 248-250 Front St. A18-3t

'29 CHEV. COACH, GOOD CONdition, privately owned. Cheap for cash. Apply 136 John after 7 p.m. A18-3t

OR EXCHANGE, ON FARM —frame house in Stirling. Garden and barn. Apply Mrs. Harry McPherson, R. R. 6, Belleville. A18-3t

USED KELVINATOR, MEDIUM size, thoroughly reconditioned. Porcelain inside and out, $125. Terms to suit. Walker Hardware Co. Ltd., 248-250 Front St. A18-3t

OR RENT, FARM, 100 ACRES, 7th. Con. Rawdon; fair buildings; wood. Reasonable. Mrs. L. Gummer, R. 1, Stirling. A18-3t

YOUNG BAY MARE, SUITABLE for farm work or delivery. Reasonable. Bert Bush, R. 2, Frankford. A18-3t

MEAT SLICER, SPLENDID CONdition, cost $250; for $75. Terms to suit. Walker Hardware Co. Ltd., 248-250 Front St. A18-3t

HOUSE, 153 PINNACLE STREET, 15 rooms, suitable for apartment house or rooming house. $3000. House 151 Pinnacle St., 7 rooms, $1500. All conveniences. Apply on premises. A16-6t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue —Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

FOR SALE

MOFFAT ELECTRIC STOVE, CAbinet style. Two tone cream. Four burner. Automatic oven heat control. Practically new. $95. Phone 2015J. A20-3t

WHEEL PARTS, SIZE, ROPE, jig saw, 4 steel pulley blocks, banister rail, stair strings, newel post. Different articles. Car tires. 28 Johnston Street. A20-1t

100 WHITE LEGHORN PULLETS, five months old from blood tested strain. Apply Harold Beatty, R.1, Holloway. A20-2t

RED BRICK BUILDING, CONtaining excellent lumber, sheeting, joist. Intending builder assured big saving. A bargain. Box 41, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-2t

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

TO LET

COMFORTABLE BEDROOM IN private home. Close to business section; every convenience, breakfast if desired. Gentleman preferred. Phone 1056W. A20-1t

FRONT BEDROOM WOULD SUIT business man. Centrally located. Phone 1867M. A20-1t

AVAILABLE SEPT. 1, SMALL furnished house. Phone 984. A20-3t

FURNISHED ROOM, GROUND floor; suitable for one. With or without board. Phone 1974J. after seven o'clock. A20-1t

FURNISHED BEDROOM WITH board in private home. All conveniences; suitable for two gentlemen or young couple. Phone 1133R. A20-1t

FURNISHED BEDROOM ON Catharine St. Gentlemen preferred. Phone 857. A20-1t

FURNISHED APARTMENT, PRIvate entrance, 6 North Front Street. A20

UNFURNISHED ROOMS, HARD and soft water. Donald Street. Private entrance. Apply 18 West College St. A20

FURNISHED OR PARTLY FURNished rooms in private home in country near Belleville. Write Box 48, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

LARGE BEDROOM, SUITABLE for 1 or 2 gentlemen. Phone 1895 or Apply 32 Sinclair. A19-3t

SMALL FURNISHED APARTment with private entrance. Apply No. 1 Everett St. A18-3t

DAIRY FARM, 130 ACRES, SIDney, near Belleville; fully stocked. Write Box 57, Ontario Intelligencer. A18-3t

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNfurnished in country home near Belleville. All conveniences. For information, apply 280 Coleman St. A18-3t

REDNERSVILLE

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to the ladies of Rednersville for their lovely gift. Words cannot express my appreciation but however, I shall always remember each and everyone of you with admiration and affection. I have enjoyed my stay here and shall recommend your community to my friends as a swell place to live. Thanks for everything.

—Mrs. H. Jensen.

DEATHS

ADAMS—At the home of Mrs. Harry Ross, Brighton, on Tuesday, August 19, Mary Catherine Adams, in her 78th year.

Resting at Cobley's Funeral Home, Trenton, until Friday, August 22, when cortege will proceed to Ameliasburg United Church for service at 2.30 (Standard Time).

Interment at Ameliasburg Cemetery.

FRIGIDAIRE
Refrigerators
and Ranges
$149.00 UP

TERMS TO SUIT

We recommend purchase at an early date, while we still have a supply at present prices.

Walker Hardware COMPANY LIMITED.
248 - 250 Front Street

$ $ $ $

Pay Your Bills

Quinte Finance will loan you money to centralize your debts, or for other purposes. $50 to $500 — and remember only Husband and Wife sign.

Quinte Finance
and
SECURITIES LTD.
168 Front St. Phone 168

$ $ $ $

LOST

WILL TRUCK DRIVER WHO gave ride Saturday night to Airman please leave raincoat which was forgotten at Ontario Intelligencer office. A18-3t

ONE BACK RACK OFF YORK Trading truck between Demorestville and Belleville. Finder please Phone 711 Collect. A18-3t

PERSONAL

MEN! WANT NORMAL PEP, VIM? Try OSTREX TONIC tablets. Stimulants and oyster concentrates aid to normal pep. Results with first package or maker returns low price. For sale at all good drug stores.

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF C. W. A. S. C. WILLING TO ENLIST

Expressing a willingness to enlist with the recently inaugurated Canadian Women's Active Service Corps, several members of the local class of Voluntary Auxiliary Drivers' Corps who took an intensive training course in elementary mechanics and motor truck and ambulance driving at Boyce's Garage last year have enquired at the local employment services offices regarding application forms for entry into the service.

The girls, about twenty-five in number, succesfully completed their course of training at Boyce's Garage under the tutelage of General Motors instructors, but since the classes were discontinued have had no opportunity of any active service. The announcement from Ottawa of the inauguration of a women's branch of the active service has aroused considerable interest among certain members of the local drivers' unit. At present, however, applications for enlistments must be made directly to Ottawa.

32 Queen St.
Between
WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.

FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fireplaces; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN
(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)
166 Front St. Phone 99

AT THE McCARTHY

"Sweetheart of the Campus"

Ruby Keeler tap-dances her way to a spectacular new screen fame, according to delighted advance reports of Columbia's rhythm-packed "Sweetheart of the Campus" which opens next at the McCarthy Theatre.

Lovely Harriet Hilliard, Ozzie Nelson and his band, and Gordon Oliver are others who contribute to the gay melange of romance, rhythm and great good humor which is said to distinguish the new film.

"Sweetheart of the Campus" deals with the collegiate capers of a night club which literally takes over the institution of higher education to replace readin' and ritin' with jam sessions, joviality and jive.

The seven hit tunes of the film include "Tap Happy," "Beat It Out," "Here We Go Again," and "Zig Me Baby With a Gentle Zag" by Eddie Cherkose and Jacques Press; "Where" by Jacques Krakeur; "Tom Tom" by Walter G. Samuels, and "When the Glee Club Swings the Alma Mater" by Walter G. Samuels and Charles Newman.

Against the tuneful background of the songs, "Sweetheart of the Campus" unfolds a pleasing story of young romance.

Miss Keeler appears as the night club's dancing star; Nelson, as its band leader. Their place is closed down by a vindictive dowager; desperate, they turn the school gymnasium into a night spot beyond reach of the law and, in so doing, attract innumerable students to the school.

Miss Hilliard, as president of the student body, materially assists the performers in saving the school. But she falls in love with Ozzie, and Ozzie with her.

Miss Keeler, left very much out in the cold, takes her romantic defeat with consummate grace and good sportsmanship to provide "Sweetheart of the Campus" with a spectacular and pleasing climax.

Featuring Sally Eilers and Donald Woods, a thrill-a-minute second feature, "I Was a Prisoner On Devil's Island" will also be presented this week-end at the McCarthy, plus a color cartoon-comedy, "There's Music In Your Hair" and the second chapter of the new action serial, Buck Jones in "White Eagle."

AT THE CAPITOL

"Gangs of Sonora"

o The Three Mesquiteers' battle for justice against the rascally Commissioner of a western territory is the theme of the Republic outdoor action picture, "Gangs of Sonora," starring Bob Livingstone, Bob Steele, and Rufe Davis, which opens next at the Capitol.

The Commissioner is using his office to enrich himself, and although the Federal Government has set a date for the voters to decide whether or not they wish statehood, he is keeping it a secret. Opposing him and campaigning for the election are the Mesquiteers and "Kansas Kate" Conners, an elderly but stout-hearted newspaperwoman.

The Mesquiteers manage to learn the election date, and begin herding voters into the polls. To divert their attention from the balloting, the Commissioner accuses David Conners, Kate's son, of murder, and rounds up a mob to lynch him.

The Mesquiteers' bold manoeuvering to free David and expose the Commissioner brings the film to a fast and furious close.

As in previous westerns, the Three Mesquiteers are enacted by Bob Livingston as "Stony Brooke," Bob Steele as "Tucson Smith," and Rufe Davis as "Lullaby Joslyn." Helen MacKellar as "Kansas Kate," June Johnson as Kate's daughter, "June Conners," and Robert Frazer contribute splendidly to the supporting cast.

"Strange Alibi"

"Strange Alibi," the new Warner Bros. film, featuring Arthur Kennedy and Joan Perry opens next at the Capitol.

The exciting story deals with a valiant young policeman who furthers his department's cause by faking emnity between himself and the force. To make his ruse credible he turns in his badge and joins up with the ruthless racketeers who have been terrorizing the community for years. No one believes in him save his sweetheart and his strange alibi—a corpse!

The officer is exonerated only after a series of swiftly-paced, rapid-fire sequences that takes us to waterfront dives, gangsters' hideouts and prison recesses.

In the stellar role of the youthful sergeant, Kennedy fulfills the promise displayed earlier in the season as James Cagney's brother in "City For Conquest." He is a forthright and sincere player who seems destined for stardom. Joan Perry is lovely-to-look-at as the faithful sweetheart, and there is an excellent character portrayal by Florence Bates, surprise hit of "Rebecca." A well-rounded group of players completes the cast.

The same program includes a late news reel, and the seventh chapter of "The Mysterious Doctor Satan."

AT THE BELLE

"The People vs. Dr. Kildare"

Medical mystery and a dramatic lawsuit figure in the latest adventure of young Dr. Kildare in "The People vs. Dr. Kildare," now at the Belle with Lew Ayres as the young doctor in quite the toughest "spot" he has ever been in. The dramatic story revolves about a malpractice suit and medical detective work that solves the problem.

The young doctor operates in an emergency on a beautiful ice skating star, played by Bonita Granville, guest star of the picture. Paralysis follows, then a malpractice suit. Dr. Gillespie (Lionel Barrymore) aids his young protege in discovering the obscure cause of the trouble, and in a dramatic speech to the jury, reminiscent of his Academy award winning speech in "A Free Soul," solves the problem.

Jane Withers, Glamour Girl

The mischievous tomboy of last year has become the glamorous young lady of today. Jane Withers has really grown up, grown up so that she has a "crush" and is kissed for the first time on the screen in her 27th starring film for 20th Century-Fox, "A Very Young Lady," which is the added comedy feature attraction.

Blue denims give way to full-length organdy dance frocks in this film, centred about a fashionable girls' school. Jane's father, who wants to make a well-mannered lady of her, has sent her to the boarding school run by John Sutton. But Jane learns more than how to drink tea and munch crumpets.

"Barnacle Bill"

"Barnacle Bill," starring Wallace Beery in his first waterfront adventure since "Min and Bill," and plunging him into the most hilarious romance of his screen career, is the next attraction at the Belle Theatre.

Beery plays a waterfront roustabout who suddenly finds himself in love with a domineering sweetheart who makes him go to work, and at the same time is faced with the care of a small daughter he hasn't seen since she was a baby.

Marjorie Main, who appeared with him in "Wyoming," plays the sweetheart in the story. She and Beery figure in many hilarious episodes, such as their comical duet and Miss Main and Connie Gilchrist stage a hair-pulling battle over him. There are tender moments with little Virginia Weidler, playing the daughter and Beery and Leo Carrillo figure in numerous comical scrapes and adventures along the waterfront.

Spine-Tingling Film

A thrilling mystery film that will send chills up and down your spine will make its local debut as the companion feature. The picture, called "A Shot in the Dark" is the exciting story of two murders and an innocent man who was willing to take the rap for them. William Lundigan, Nan Wynn and Ricardo Cortez head the cast with Regis Toomey, Lucia Carroll and Maris Wrixon in the supporting roles.

Robert Livingston and his buddies Bob Steele and Rufe Davis who make up the Three Mesquiteers are back in a new action hit, "The "Gangs of Senora", next at the Capitol. "Strange Alibi" will be shown on the same program.

Little Benny's Note Book

Shorty Judge was eating jelly eggs out of a paper bag and I thought of a good idea, saying, Hay Shorty there's that fresh guy Reddy Merfy down at the letter box, do you want to hear a good way to kill 2 bugs with one stone so we can both get even with him at the same time?

How? Shorty said, and I said, With your bag of candy. You let me hold it as if it belonged to me, and we'll go and stand right in front of him, and every once in a while I'll hold out the bag for you to take some but I'll never offer Reddy any, and we'll talk about what swell candy it is till Reddy gets so jelliss he wont know how to act, I said.

Like fun, do you expect me to stand there watching you eat my candy for any 2 bugs? Shorty said, and I said, I didn't say I'll eat it, I'll just pretend to be eating it.

You might start to pretend too perfect, Shorty said. What's a matter with me holding the bag and eating the candy and just pretend to be giving you some? he said, and I said, Well hay, it was my idea, what satisfaction would I get out of that?

The same as you claimed I'd get, Shorty said.

Being a good answer, and I said, Well anyways, here he comes now, so it's too late because he'd see you give me the bag, so go ahead and do it your way.

Nothing doing, he's libel to grab some without waiting to be asked, and then there wouldn't be any bugs killed and a lot of my candy would be gone, nothing doing, Shorty said.

And he stuck the bag in his pockit and walked away for safety first just when Reddy came up.

Not proving it wouldn't of been a swell idea.

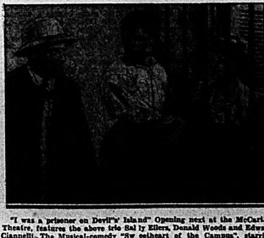
IF YOU NEED $100 HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $500 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. 24 hour service, or sooner if necessary. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment.

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan
	6 payments	10 payments	12 payments	15 payments
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2% monthly as authorized by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
Corporation of Canada
Established in Canada 1928
PETERBOROUGH, ONT.
Second Floor, Landfield Block
177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws
M. E. Holt, Manager Phone 5841



"I was a prisoner on Devil"s' Island" Opening next at the McCarthy Theatre, features the above trio Sally Eilers, Donald Woods and Edward Ciannelli. The Musical-comedy "Sweetheart of the Campus", starring lovely dancing star Ruby Keeler is the companion feature.

"AIRACOBRA"
DURHAM
Corn Starch

27 LATEST R.A.F. PHOTOS FREE!

Mail only two Durham Corn Starch labels for each picture desired—or one Bee Hive Syrup label.

To start, select from the "Flying Torpedo"—"Sky Rocket"—"Lightning"—"Defiant"—"Spitfire"—"Hurricane" or "Catalina" . . . the list of 20 other pictures will be sent with your first request. Specify your name, address, picture or pictures requested—enclose necessary labels and mail to the St. Lawrence Starch Co. Limited, Port Credit, Ont.

DURHAM CORN STARCH

Dazzling Promise

By

KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

De Lane's Problem

Dona finally came out to the hall and was immediately surrounded by a trio of admirers consisting of Jerry Armstrong, Ted Malcolm and Hal Jones, who simultaneously claimed a dance with her. The contest became merrily heated and Hal Jones decided it by flipping a coin and winning. Triumphantly, he led Dona into the ballroom.

Heroically now she covered the pain and anxiety in her heart with light laughter and nonsensical small talk that dovetailed nicely with Hal Jones's jovial mood. But it was about the most difficult thing she had ever done.

DeLane, who had been watching from the stag line, soon cut in and danced away with her, suggesting, "How about getting a breath of fresh air? My car's outside. Are you game?"

It was an apt invitation so far as Dona was concerned.

"You've saved my life," she told him, with a relieved sigh. " I was longing to run away from all this."

"Great! I'm bothered—and the—the matter may concern you—eventually. So I've decided to tell you about it—let you worry along with me."

His laugh was strangely brittle and she had a premonition that whatever she was about to hear would be the very last straw. She couldn't, she felt, bear up under any more problems tonight. But it looked as though she'd have to take what came and make the best of it.

De Lane walked her quickly out of the ballroom and waited until she got the lovely mink cape that Bob Platt had so grossly undervalued.

The soft luxuriant fur made a perfect setting for Dona's proud little blond head and this fact was not lost upon the infatuated De Lane. This girl was one in a million, he told himself again, with more enthusiasm than he had any right to feel just now.

Soon they were motoring slowly in the moonlight and De Lane was giving her many details connected with his life. Dona was trying to appear entertained. She wondered what he was leading up to and how it could possibly be connected with the worry he had just mentioned.

"This is one of those nights that can't be ignored," De Lane said, finally veering off the subject of himself.

Through the clear atmosphere, there was the unusual sight of Jupiter, Saturn and Mars in apparent proximity to the moon. Venus, in the distance, also contributed its gleaming light to the spectacle.

"Beautiful — beautiful," sighed Dona, drawn from her harassing thoughts by the glory of this heavenly display.

"It looks so peaceful up there," she said musingly. "So far from intrigue, jealousy and greed. It seems clean and pure—so perfect."

"It's a great sweep of loveliness." De Lane gave a tormented sigh. "It's the poor deluded peoples of this earth who give way to ugly emotion. What a waste—with so much love everywhere."

"Love?" Dona shivered. "Love isn't particularly helpful, is it? It hurts—and humiliates?"

"I don't mean that sort of love. I'm speaking of love for humanity in general. Love big enough to wipe out hate and its evil associates. The love of a man for a woman belongs to a different realm. It's—it's—" his voice thickened, "what I feel for you, Dona."

She turned to him in quick dismay. His hatless head was a subdued reddish gold in the eerie light, his irregular features not so pronounced. Even so, he was far from goodlooking, but there was a kind of noble mien to his countenance which, for the moment, held her transfixed.

She thought, "Oh, if I had to think I loved some one, why couldn't it have been this man with a real mind?

Then instantly she realized that her admiration for him could never go through to marriage. A platonic friendship, perhaps—if there were such a thing.

"I'm trying to give you a hint of what to expect, my dear—after I'm free," he said now.

"Free? I had no idea you were—"

"Married?" An ironic grunt came from his long thin throat. "Yes—but Alica and I never got on. Now we're both thinking of divorce—and it's going to be a fight. If she wins, she'll get a settlement that will make me a pauper—and she's uncovering every chip."

"How—how unpleasant. I'm so sorry, Mr. De Lane."

"It pains me to tell you, but my trouble concerns you—partially."

"Me? In what way?"

"My dear, nasty tricks are involved. You and I were in the Paradise when you fainted—remember?"

"Yes, of couse, but—"

"My wife had photographers trailing me. They got a picture when I was holding you in my arms. You were unconscious and didn't see the flash."

"How—how awful! She'll think—oh, what can we do?"

"I've already paid off. It came high. But I suspected who the fellows were, went to see them and got the plate. I don't want you involved in this rotten mess of mine, Dona, because I love you too much. Later, I'm going to ask you to marry me."

"But I can't—" her voice broke.

With an effort, she continued, "Being the wife of a celebrity like you, Mr. De Lane, would be wonderful, and I'm a little overwhelmed to think—to think you care for me at all. But my future is—is complicated by—"

"There's someone else?"

"Yes—I'm sorry."

If he only knew how sorry! Oh, how she regretted everything connected with that wretched matrimonial venture of hers! If she were free, what would she be answering this man now? Would she reject the luster and prestige she'd gain by marrying a lion of the hour? She wondered.

But she told him earnestly "It was sweet of you to protect me, and I'm deeply grateful. I hope you find happiness somewhere, Mr. De Lane."

"Happiness? No, I think not. I once thought I'd married the right woman—then discovered my mistake. And now—you being in love with another man, makes everything insipid again."

She did not correct him about her love for this other man. But tears blurred her aching eyes, making of the lovely night light a dismal gray mist; and she wondered why she had ever been born.

She requested brokenly. "Would you mind turning right at the next corner—dropping me at the Platt's. I'm—I'm not party-minded any more."

"Certainly, my dear. But please don't let anything I've said disturb you. Alica isn't likely to harm you, now that I've destroyed the—the evidence."

She attempted a laugh, but only a sharp, foreign sound came to her ears. She hoped that she never would be obliged to meet Alica De Lane. But if she did, she wondered if she shouldn't be a little afraid of her.

Only when Dona was entering the Platt residence did it dawn upon her that she was neglecting her job. Bob and her antics! What could she do about her? The last time she'd seen her, she was in the arms of another woman's husband, although Bob couldn't be blamed for not knowing that Tug Nash was married. Tom Castor would see that Bob arrived home safely, or at least he should, because he had taken her to his party. Anyway, Bob would have to be on her own for a few hours so far as the eagle eyes of Dona Nickelson Nash were concerned.

The night had treated her too roughly to be borne, thought Dona wearily. First, it had been Tug's philandering and on top of that, the threat of Alica De Lane's divorce proceedings—two worries that could easily become a menace.

She thought of Dunning Castor and decided that he had been sweet. He had acted as if her liked her as well as she did him. But it should be Bob Pratt whom the senior Castor admired—his son's future wife. However, it was plainly evident that Dunning Castor had little use for the Platt women. Well, why should he? She didn't have herself.

Yet here she was, trying to promote the ridiculous scheme of Grace Platt to marry her daughter to the Castor fortune. It was a laugh! She wished that she'd never seen a Platt, that she'd never gotten into this shameful predicament. She had a good notion to chuck the whole thing.

But there was Tug. She had to help him; she had to see that his dangerous ambition didn't absolutely ruin him. That attitude of his to get something for nothing! Would he ever change? Was she being a fool to stick to him at all? Was he afraid of hard work as it seemed? The instant a job looked difficult, he ran out on it, wanted to try something else. Perhaps with his own business, he'd accept rebuffs easier, fight things through to the finish and amount to something.

Oh, she was too tired to think! In the morning she would put her mind in order and stop thinking in circles.

(To be continued)

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20.

4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
7.30—Meet Mr. Meek, comedy drama—WABC, WGR
7.30—Defense of Canada Regulations—CBL
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Adventures of the Thin Man WEAF, WGY
8.00—Grand Central Station—WABC, CFRB
8.00—Quiz Kids—WJZ, WHAM CBL
8.30—Manhattan at Midnight — WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Dr. Christian, sketch —WJB WABC
8.30—Plantation Party — WEAF, WGY
9.00—Quizzer Baseball: Budd Hulick, m.c.—WEAF, WGY
9.00—Treasury Hour; Millions for Defence; Al. Goodman's Orch.; Guests: Groucho Marx, the Quiz Kids, the cast of the "Gay Nineties Revue" and Robt. Weede, baritone—WABC, WGR
9.00—Hemisphere Revue; Ben Grauer, M.C.—WJZ
9.00—Canada's Answer—CBL
9.30—From Vancouver—CBL
10.00—Kay Kyser's Program — WEAF, WGY
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch. — WABC, WGR
10.00—Serenade for Strings—CBL
10.15—Public Affairs—WABC, WGR
10.30—They Fly For Freedom—CBL
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—BBC Newsreel—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orchestra—WJZ, WHAM

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
9.45—Edward McHugh, the Gospel Singer—CBL
10.45—Prescott Presents — WJZ, CBL
12.00—Kate Smith Speaks; News—WABC
12.30—Nat'l Farm and Home Hour —WHAM
1.30—Vincent Lopez' Orch.—WEAF, WHAM
4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
5.00—I Like Calgary—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.15—News of the World—WEAF, WGY
7.30—Cugat Rumba Revue; Lina Romay and Carmen Castillo, vocalists — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.30—Defense of Canada Regulations—CBL
8.00—The Housewarming; Benny Goodman's Orch.; Guests: The Andrews Sisters—WEAF, WGY
8.20—Stadium Concert—WABC
9.00—Major Bowes—WABC, CFRB
9.00—Music Hall; Don Ameche, m.c.—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Sinfonietta—CBL
10.00—Les Concerts Symphoniques—CBL
10.00—Rudy Vallee Program — WEAF, WHAM
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch.—WJR, WABC
10.30—Good Neighbors, drama—WEAF
10.30—Ahead of the Headlines—WJZ, WHAM
10.30—Toronto Symphony Concert—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orch.—WJZ

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS

	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

NAZIS ARREST HOLLAND JEWS

London (CP)—The Free Netherlands newspaper, Vrij Nederland, says the Nazis, angered at the success of the "V" Campaign in Holland, are taking it out on the Jews.

They arrested 400 Jewish Netherlanders after an explosion occurred in a house in Amsterdam containing a station for jamming broadcasts. They were sent to a concentration camp.

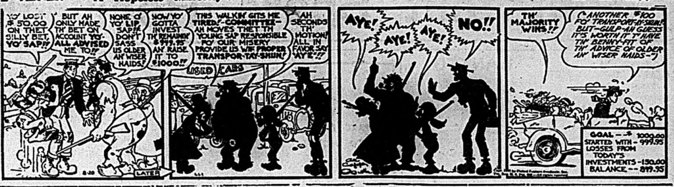
for Your SOLDIER Boy's SORE FEET

Save your boy from the embarrassment of having to "fall out" because his feet "can't take it"! Keep him supplied with NU-FEET MEDICATED INSOLES. They cool and soothe tender, steaming swollen itchy feet by giving constant uniform medication over the entire sole. Nothing like them for either his feet or yours and they only cost 25c a pair at all druggists. N.F.9

They Eliminate Offensive Odors

LI'L ABNER — A Hopeless Minority!

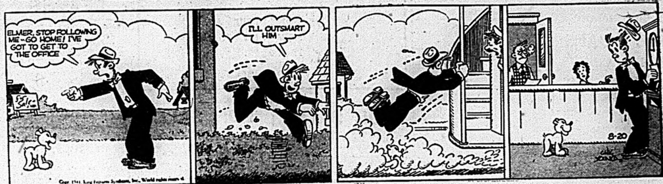
By Al Capp



YO' LOST $50.00 ON THET SILLY BET, YO' SAP!!
BUT AH ONLY MADE TH' BET ON ACCOUNT YO'-ALL ADVISED ME TO!!
NONE O' YO' LIP, SAP!! DON'T SASS US OLDER AN' WISER HAIDS!
NOW YO' GOTTA INVEST TH' REMAININ' $999.95 AN' RAISE IT TO $1000!!
8-20
LATER
USED CARS
THIS WALKIN' GITS ME TIRED!—COMMITTEE—AH MOVES THET TH' YOUNG SAP RESPONSIBLE FO' OUR MISERY PROVIDE US WIF PROPER TRANSPOR-TAY-SHUN!
AH SECONDS TH' MOTION! ALL IN FAVOR SAY "AYE"!!
AYE!
AYE!
AYE!
NO!!
TH' MAJORITY WINS!!
ANOTHER $100 FO' TRANSPORT-AY-SHUN! BUT—GULP—AH GUESS IT'S WORTH IT T' HAVE TH' BENNY-FIT OF TH' ADVICE OF OLDER AN' WISER HAIDS—
GOAL — $ 1000.00
STARTED WITH — 999.95
LOSSES FROM TODAY'S INVESTMENTS — 150.00
BALANCE — 849.95

BLONDIE -- Elmer Isn't Fooled!

Young

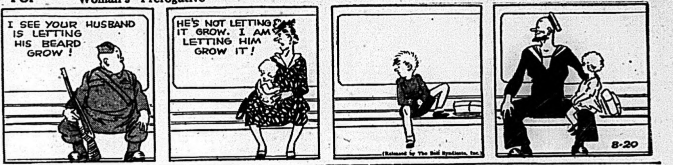


ELMER, STOP FOLLOWING ME—GO HOME! I'VE GOT TO GET TO THE OFFICE
I'LL OUTSMART HIM
8-20
CHIC YOUNG

Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

POP — Woman's Prerogative

By J. Millar Watt

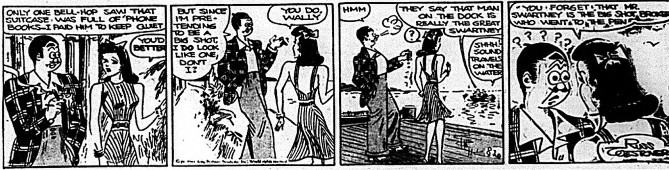


I SEE YOUR HUSBAND IS LETTING HIS BEARD GROW!
HE'S NOT LETTING IT GROW. I AM LETTING HIM GROW IT!
8-20

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

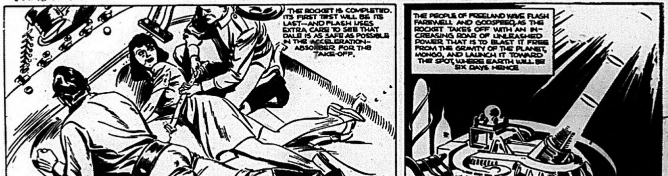
TILLIE THE TOILER — "Pen" Name!

By Russ Westover



ONLY ONE BELL-HOP SAW THAT SUITCASE WAS FULL OF 'PHONE BOOKS—I PAID HIM TO KEEP QUIET
YOU'D BETTER
BUT SINCE I'M PRETENDING TO BE A BIG SHOT, I DO LOOK LIKE ONE, DON'T I?
YOU DO, WALLY
HMM
THEY SAY THAT MAN ON THE DOCK IS REALLY THE GREAT SWARTNEY
?
SHHH! SOUND TRAVELS ON THE WATER
YOU FORGET THAT MR. SWARTNEY IS THE BIG SHOT BROKER WHO WENT TO THE PEN
? ? ? ?
RUSS WESTOVER

FLASH GORDON

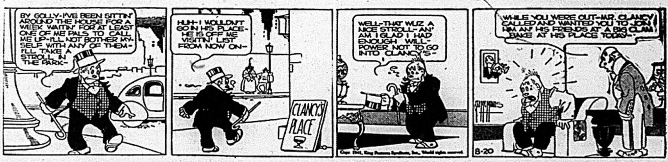


THE ROCKET IS COMPLETED. ITS FIRST TEST WILL BE ITS LAST—AND FLASH USES EXTRA CARE TO SEE THAT DALE IS AS SAFE AS POSSIBLE IN THE ACCELERATION-ABSORBER FOR THE TAKE-OFF.
8-20
THE PEOPLE OF FREELAND WAVE FLASH FAREWELL AND GODSPEED, AS THE ROCKET TAKES OFF WITH AN INCREASING ROAR OF UNLEASHED POWER THAT IS TO BLAST IT FREE FROM THE GRAVITY OF THE PLANET, MONGO, AND LAUNCH IT TOWARD THE SPOT WHERE EARTH WILL BE SIX DAYS HENCE

Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

BRINGING UP FATHER —

By George McManus

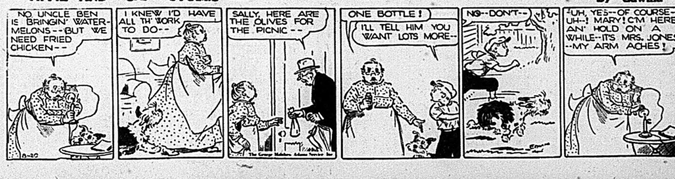


BY GOLLY—I'VE BEEN SITTIN' AROUND THE HOUSE FOR A WEEK WAITIN' FOR AT LEAST ONE OF ME PALS TO CALL ME UP—I'LL NOT BOTHER MYSELF WITH ANY OF THEM—I'LL TAKE A STROLL IN THE PARK—
HUH—I WOULDN'T GO IN HIS PLACE—HE IS OFF ME VISITIN' LIST FROM NOW ON—
CLANCY'S PLACE
WELL—THAT WUZ A NICE STROLL—AN' AM I GLAD I HAD ENOUGH WILL-POWER NOT TO GO INTO CLANCY'S—
WHILE YOU WERE OUT—MR. CLANCY CALLED AND WANTED YOU TO JOIN HIM AN' HIS FRIENDS AT A BIG CLAM BAKE AT HIS PLACE TODAY—
8-20

Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



NO UNCLE BEN IS BRINGIN' WATER-MELONS—BUT WE NEED FRIED CHICKEN—
8-20
I KNEW I'D HAVE ALL TH' WORK TO DO—
SALLY, HERE ARE THE OLIVES FOR THE PICNIC—
ONE BOTTLE!
I'LL TELL HIM YOU WANT LOTS MORE—
NO—DON'T—
UH, YES—OF COURSE—UH—! MARY! C'M HERE AN' HOLD ON A WHILE—IT'S MRS. JONES—MY ARM ACHES!

The George Matthew Adams Service Inc

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.45 p.m.—

MINES

Aldermac	17A
Anglo Hur	60
Aunor	170B
Bankfield	6A
Beattie	110
Bidgood	9B
Bralorne	10 7-8B
Broulan	72
Buffalo Ank.	400B
Calgary and Ed	130
Can. Malar.	53B
Central Pat.	190
Chesterville	133
Coast Copper	117B
Coniaurum	126
Dome	22B
Eldorado	42
East Mal	220
Falconbridge	330
Francoeur	46A
Gillies L.	5 1-2A
Gunnar	25B
Hardrock	78A
Home Oil	228
Hollinger	12 5-8
Howey	20 1-2B
Hudson Bay	29A
Jason	36B
Kerr Add	445
Kirk. Lake	67
Lake Shore	14 3-4B
Macassa	385B
McIntyre	50A
McLeod	188
McKenzie	106
Mining Corp	126
Moneta	35B
Nipissing	125
Obrien	147
Okalta	60A
Omega	13B
Paymaster	19
Pamour	99
Perron	155A
Pend Oreille	164A
Pickle Crow	305
Pioneer	245
Powell	75B
Premier	90
Preston E. D.	320
Reno	11
San Antonio	239A
Sherritt G.	80
Siscoe	51 1-2
Sladen M.	27
Sud. Basi	160A
Sullivan	65B
Steep Rock	187
Sylvanite	240B
T. Hughes	285
Toburn	145
Ventures	450B
W. Amulet	465A
Wr. Hargreaves	410A
Upper Can.	163

TORONTO

Bell Telephone	147 1-2B
B. A. Oil	16 1-4
Brewing Corp.	80B
Braz. Trac.	7 5-8A
Can. Cement	5 1-8B
Can. Ind. Alcohol	2 3-4B
C.P.R.	6 5-8
Can. Malting	33B
Canada Car	6 3-4B
Cockshutt Plow	5 1-2
Cons. Bakeries	13A
Con. Smelting	37 1-2B
Dominion Foundries	18 3-4A
Dominion Stores	5 1-4
Dist. Seagrams	22 1-8
Fanny Farmer	23
Ford "A"	16
Gypsum	3 1-4
Imp. Oil	9 3-8
Int Nickel	34 1-4
Inter. Pet	13 1-2
Imp. Tobacco	12 1-4B
Massey Harris	3 1-8
Mont Power	21 5-8B
Power Corp.	3B
Steel of Canada	65B
Walker's	43
Walker's pfd.	20
Walkerville Brewery	90B
C.P.A.	3 5-8

NEW YORK

Bethlehem Steel	69
Chrysler	58 1-2
General Motors	38 1-2
U. S. Steel	57 3-8

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 20 (CP)—The market developed strength in industrials on Toronto exchange today. Other groups were unchanged to slightly firmer.

Canada Steamship Lines and Massey-Harris were well up for the day and senior oils recovered. Massey-Harris Pfd gained about 2 to 46 in active trading.

Teck Hughes, Mining Corporation and Preston were strong spots. Smelters was 1 up at 38 and Nickel added a fraction.

Fields and Chesterville were off narrowly. Calgary-Edmonton and Anglo-Canadian were a bit softer in light turnover in the oils.

Steep Rock moved against the general trend, gaining 8 to 1.88.

WALL ST.

New York, Aug. 20—(AP)—Favorable action of the steels helped to launch the Stock Market on another recovery jaunt today. Dealings picked up from a slow start but lagged again near the fourth hour.

Bonds remained uneven, while most commodities showed climbing power.

Higher bids were entered for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Westinghouse, Santa Fe and Great Northern Preferred.

Loew's held a prominent place in the amusement group pushing up to a new 1941 top.

Canadian Stocks were slightly higher. Canadian Pacific gained 1-4 and Distillers Seagram 3-8. In the Bond Market, Canada 4s were unquoted.

FOUR WORKERS HURT

London, Ont., Aug. 20—(CP)—A flash explosion at the plant of Federal Foundries and Steel Company here sent four workers to hospital with burns today while a fifth was overcome with gas fumes. None of the men are believed seriously injured.

The injured were John Morgan, suffering from burns about the head; Frank Wilcox, burns about the face, neck and right hand; Fred Joyce and Robert Robinson, minor burns. All live here.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.35
A-medium	.34
A-pullet	.29
Grade "B"	.28-.29
Grade "C"	.24

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1	.37 1-4
Butter, No. 2	.35 3-4 .36 1-2
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2¼ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Creamery Solids Somewhat Lower

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Creamery butter solids, No. 1, occupied a slightly weakened position at the close of rather draggy trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday. The egg market held firm under continued light receipts and good demand.

Offerings were light but proved sufficient to meet the poor demand prevalent on a quiet butter market. Prices on creamery solids slipped 1-4 cent a pound to rest at 37 1-4, 36 1-2 and 35 3-4 cents a pound respectively for the three grades at the close.

Co-incidental with the report that offerings were light on the butter market yesterday, the Ontario Creamery Association last night reported that the production of creamery butter in this province for the week ending August ninth was down 5.15 per cent from the output of the same week last year. The production for the week amounted to 1,118,573 pounds, compared with 1,183,906 pounds for a year ago.

Egg prices seemed to strengthen their hold on recently-advanced marks, as they closed firm yesterday under light receipts and good demand. Grades A-large, A- medium and A- pullets rested at 35, 34 and 29 cents a dozen respectively in the country dealer section of trading, while the two lower grades closed at 28 and 29 and 24 cents a dozen respectively. Prices remained unchanged in wholesale-to retail action.

Livestock

Toronto, Aug. 20 (CP).—The livestock market was firm and active at mid-session today with butcher steers and heifers, weighty steers, cows steady, sheep and lambs were also steady with no price being established on hogs.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 360, calves 370, hogs 720, sheep and lambs 590, with 1,200 head of cattle unsold from yesterday. Weighty steers sold at $8.25-$9.25 with one load at $9.75; butcher steers and heifers sold at $7.25-$8.50 for common to medium and a few good ones at $8.75; boners down to $5; bulls at $6.75-$7 and bolognas selling down to $5.25.

Fed calves sold at $9-$11, stockers at $5.50-$8.25, veal calves sold at $12.50-$13 with a few at $13.50 and common vealers selling downward to $8, grassers $6.70-$7.

Lambs sold at $12-$13 for good ewes and wethers with bucks at $10-$11. Sheep steady at $3-$6.50.

Montreal, Aug. 20—(CP) — The Dominion Department of Agriculture reported today that all classes of livestock remained steady on Montreal Livestock Markets.

Receipts: Cattle 43; calves 60; hogs 103; sheep and lambs 9.

The few cattle offerings brought $6.25 for common quality steers and $4.75 to $7 for butcher cows.

Veal calves made $8.50 to $12 with tops at $12.50 and one calf selling at $13.

Hogs were sold $14.75 for B-1 dressed and $11.25 for B-1 off trucks delivered. Grade A drew $1 premium with discounts on off grades. Sows ranged from $7.50 to $9 live weight.

Lambs failed to make a market.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 20.—(CP)—Dressedweights were up 10 cents at London and prices were unchanged at all other bacon-hog markets reporting today.

Liveweight: Chatham $10.

Dressedweight: Barrie $14.50, Brantford $14 plus transportation, Chatham $13.70, Hamilton $14.60 Hull $14 plus transportation, London $14.35 delivered, Stratford $13.90 plus transportation.

Obituary

LATE EDWARD D. WELLS

The funeral of Edward D. Wells took place from the family residence, 223 William Street, this Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The private service in the home was conducted by the Rev. W. D. Harrison, who also conducted the service at the mausoleum in Belleville Cemetery where entombment was made.

OSD Takes Over Lazier Property

It was officially announced in the city today that the Lazier property, situated at the corner of Victoria Ave. and John St. had been leased by the Department of Education for the duration of the war and in which students from the temporary Ontario School for the Deaf will be housed. Dormitories will be erected for the accommodation of the pupils. The property is owned by Mr. Stuart Lazier of this city who also resides in the home. For many years it was the residence of the late Col. S. S. Lazier and noted for its splendour in floral designs and garden arrangements.

ASHES BURIED IN WESTMINSTER

Canadian Navy Minister Pallbearer at Funeral of Lord Willingdon

London, Aug. 20 (CP).—The ashes of the Marquess of Willingdon, former governor-general of Canada and viceroy of India, were buried today in Westminster Abbey where many of Britain's great lie at rest.

Hon. Angus MacDonald, Canadian Navy Minister, was one of eight pallbearers at an impressive funeral conducted by Rt. Rev. Paul de Labilliere, dean of Westminster. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, gave the blessing.

Cabinet ministers and other notables attended. The King and all members of the Royal Family were represented at the service in the stately, bomb-scarred Abbey.

The Earl of Clarendon, Lord Chamberlain, attended on behalf of the King. Ministers there included Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, L. S. Amery, Secretary for India, Viscount Cranborne, Secretary for the Dominions, Brendan Bracken, Minister of Information, J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, Minister of Aircraft Production, David Margesson, Secretary for War and Ernest Brown, Minister of Health.

Represented Prime Minister.

Maj. John Churchill, a brother of Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, represented the prime minister.

The pallbearers in addition to Mr. MacDonald were Sir Firozkhan Noon, High Commissioner for India; Viscount Hampden, a cousin of Lord Willingdon; Earl de la Warr, a nephew of Lady Willingdon; Viscount Simon, Lord Chancellor; Sir John Anderson, Lord President of the Council; Col. Sid John Murray, brother-in-law of Lady Willingdon, and Sir Eric Mieville, for many years Lord Willingdon's secretary.

Lady Willingdon and her son, the new Marquess, were the chief mourners.

Frederick Hudd, Secretary of Canada House, represented High Commissioner Vincent Massey.

A large wreath of mauve gladioli and yellow roses from Lady Willingdon lay atop the coffin as it was borne to the chancel steps. The ashes were buried in the south transept a few feet from those of Neville Chamberlain.

HOPKINS CHOICE TO HEAD MISSION

Will Lead U. S. Delegation Along With British Official to Confer With Stalin

By JACK BELL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 20. (AP)—Capitol Hill heard forecasts today that Harry Hopkins lend-lease administrator, probably will head an United States delegation to the joint meeting in Moscow of British and American officials with Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia.

At the same time, there were apparently authentic reports that arrangements had been made to fly American-manufactured bombing and fighting planes to the Soviets both by way of Siberia and over an extension of the newly-designated South Atlantic ferry route to British forces in the Middle East.

Details of this arrangement, said to involve transport and military plane operations over both routes by Pan-American Airways, were expected to be worked out finally in the Moscow conferences. An apportionment of American military production to Russia, particularly as to warplanes, also was reported listed for discussion.

A well-informed legislator, who asked he remain anonymous, said he understood the Russians had prepared a chain of landing fields across Siberia so that not only bombers but the relatively shorter-ranged fighting planes could be flown to the front.

Drink a Toast to Clean-Looking Kid, Who Looked Like a Doll And Who Fought Like the Devil

(Editor's Note: An Associated Press correspondent with the British Expeditionary Force in France Drew Middleton, became acquainted with members of a Royal Air Force fighter squadron stationed outside Lille. Here he describes a new meeting with the fliers—in honor of one of the squadron's fallen heroes.)

By DREW MIDDLETON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

A Royal Air Force Fighter Station in England, Aug. 20 (AP). — We drank a toast last night to Dickie Lee, a clean-looking kid who looked like a doll and fought like a devil.

Lee was shot down over France a yea ago yesterday and his squadron held a dinner in his honor.

The squadron leader told me when I arrived that dinner would be delayed for his men had had a bit of a show during the afternoon and were late getting in.

"I expect you'll find some changes," the leader said. "We've had some bad luck. It was a long time ago and a long way away . . ."

Well, yes and no. It is only a half-hour as a Spitfire flies to that other airfield outside Lille. And October, 1939, isn't so far away.

When the old gang arrived you noticed immediately a lot of them weren't flying any more. They had lost that confident look of combat pilots. I asked one what he was doing.

"Instructor, worse luck," he said. "Got a bit of bullet in my back over Calais in May this year. Won't let me do operational work and I miss it like the very devil."

We sat down to dinner. It wasn't as it once was. Around the table were new faces in place of those boys who used to curse the weather in France and the "phoney war."

The squadron leader told of exploits by Lee of the two Heinkels he shot down while flying home on leave of how he was shot down twice and twice escaped from behind German lines of how he won the Distinguished Flying Cross for his work over Dunkirk and of how last Aug. 19 members of the squadron waited on the flying field for the sound of his motor and never heard it.

With dinner over the squadron leader stood up and said "gentlemen the King."

The men drank to His Majesty's health. Then they drank a toast to the President of the United States and looking at a picture of Prime Minister Churchill on the wall "to the old man."

"This dinner is for Dickie Lee," then said the leader. "I won't get sloppy. He hated that sort of muck ....I suppose he was a hero. But more than that he was a gentleman. He laughed a lot and was kind to his friends.....What more can you say of a man? Gentlemen, I ask you to rise and drink to Dickie Lee."

So, we rose and drank to Dickie Lee.

FDR FORESEES LONG ROAD BEFORE VICTORY REACHED

Believed People of U. S. Not Awake to Enormous Proportions of Task Confronting Them

QUOTES LINCOLN

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt used words which Abraham Lincoln uttered at a dark moment in American history to emphasize to United States citizens today that he foresaw a long hard road ahead before a final victory over the Axis is won.

The President spoke of the war continuing through 1943 if necessary and made plain his belief that the people of the United States proportions of the task confronting proportions f the task cnfronting them.

Mr. Roosevelt chose to be indirect at his press conference yesterday in appraising the present and the immediate future and for that reason he had the capital wondering how literally to accept the parallel which he drew between 1941 and Lincoln's day.

The Lincoln quotation the President cited was in a passage from Carl Sandburg's work "Abraham Lincoln—the War Years." It described an interview between Lincoln and a delegation of women, headed by a Mrs. Mary A. Livermore of Chicago.

President Reads Quotation

Mr. Roosevelt read Sandburg's description of what Lincoln said to the women who were seeking encouragement. It ran thus:

" 'I have no word of encouragement to give,' was the slow, blunt (Lincoln) reply. 'The military situation is far from bright; and the country knows it as well as I do!

"The women were silent. They knew it was a heart-to-heart talk, that he was telling them what he could not well tell the country, that he was frankly relieving the burden of an overweighted mind. It was the silence of a moment ,but 'deep and painful', says Mrs. Livermore.

"The President went on: 'The fact is the people have not yet made up their minds that we are at war with the South. They have not buckled down to the determination to fight this war through; for they have got the idea into their heads that we are going to get out of this fix somehow by strategy! That's the word — strategy! General McLellan thinks he is going to whip the rebels by strategy; and the army has got the same notion. They have no idea that the war is to be carried on and put through by hard, tough fighting, that it will hurt somebody; and no headway is going to be made while this delusion lasts.' "

Roosevelt Gives "Lead"

When President Roosevelt had finished, one reporter inquired how he thought the "lead" to the story should be written—the at-a-glance summary.

"President quotes Lincoln and draws parallel," Mr. Roosevelt replied, and gave newsmen permission to quote him directly for emphasis.

Mr. Roosevelt let it be known he thought the parallel applied to world conditions. Asked if that included the United States, he responded that of course it did.

There was much ensuing conjecture as to how the President meant to use of the parallel to be interpreted.

One school of thought was that Mr. Roosevelt intended a limited application, as far as the United States was concerned. This interpretation was that he sought to discourage wilful thinking, complacency and the feeling that the Russo-German conflict had largely simplified the problem of ultimate Nazi defeat.

IRAN GIVEN WEEK

(Continued from Page One)

negative it would be foolish to exclude the possibility of a move across the frontier by allied troops."

Other press dispatches said Iran is determined to resist by force should any such move develop.

"It is a safe bet," the Mail's correspondent wrote, "that an allied march-in or a favorable answer would be followed by widespread attempts at sabotage of railway communications by the Germans, however close the police might be on their trail."

London, Aug. 20.—CP)—Any further move by Japan in the Far East would be regarded by Britain as "extremely serious". authoritative quarters said today, although it is understood that London has given Thailand no specific assurance that this nation's independence would be maintained by British arms.

"There is no doubt what the British government's feeling would be if Thailand's independence were threatened", one of these quarters said, although it was added that Britain had not been asked to guarantee this independence.

Comment had been provoked in authoritative quarters by a speech on a program broadcast to Thailand from the Netherlands East Indies in which the speaker had said: "Let Thailand stand firm in maintenance of her independence. She will not stand alone".

Britain's fighting services, it was said, have taken adequate defence measures in the Far East.

Concern has been expressed over Japan's intentions regarding Thailand ever since she moved into neighboring French Indo-China and was reported to be bringing pressure upon Thailand to grant military and economic advantages.

FIRST CANADIAN

(Continued from Page One)

Postponed Until After Meeting.

Coincident with word of Mr. King's arrival it was announced the trip had been scheduled to take place some time ago but was postponed until after the Roosevelt-Churchill get-together which Mr. King helped plan.

Significance was attached here to the fact Mr. King was accompanied by Norman A. Robertson, recently-appointed under-secretary of state for external affairs and Brig. G. P. Vanier, former Canadian minister to France.

Presence of Brig. Vanier particularly, gave rise to the belief that Canada's relations with Vichy and possibly the attitude toward the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, French-owned possessions off the Gulf of St. Lawrence, would loom large in Mr. King's overseas consultations. Canada alone of the Dominions now gives diplomatic representation to the French government.

Trip Follows Busy Week-end.

The take-off followed a busy week end and one or two late postponements of the journey's start. Mr. King spent Sunday and Monday at his country home in Kingsmere, Que., after working well into the evening hours Saturday night at his office.

One of his last requests to his staff was that a blanket be obtained for the trip. Mr. King expressly wanted some handy means of carrying it too, such as a shawl strap. His thought was of the frosty weather to be encountered high in the Atlantic skies.

Earlier all members of the party had been asked for their measurements and were fitted for flying suits. They were cautioned to keep their personal luggage to 40 pounds and carry in their pockets any essential articles needed on the journey.

Test Hop a Real One.

The official party of ten moved to the take-off point in groups so as not to excite curiosity over the movements of so large a party including the prime minister.

When the subject of Mr. King flying to Britain was first raised and it was realized generally he had never been up in a plane, many thought he might make a trial flight. But the prime minister decided to make his test hop a real one.

Those who were with Mr. King on his recent western tour recalled a Sunday drive he took between Harrison Hot Springs, B.C., and Chilliwack with George Cruickshank, Liberal member of parliament for Fraser Valley. The trip was a corker as Cruickshank whipped his car over the road and when it was over Mr. King, somewhat shaken, turned to his secretary and said with emphasis: "After that ride I could take a bomber flight around the world".

Not a Bit Afraid.

Before leaving a secretary was asked how the prime minister felt, at 66, about making his first airplane flight such a long and difficult one.

"Mr. King," came the reply, "is going forward with his flight preparations the same as anybody else would."

The prime minister's last overseas trip was in 1937 for the coronation when he suggested to the young king and queen that they visit Canada. Prior to that, however, he had made several trans-Atlantic journeys for such things as an Imperial conference, attendance at a League of Nations meeting, and on one trip he met Hitler during a visit to Germany.

Halifax Predicts Further Meetings Between Roosevelt and Churchill

Montreal, Aug. 20—(CP)—Possibility of further meetings between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt was seen here by Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States.

At a brief press conference, he spoke in appreciation of the Canadian war effort, paid tribute to United States aid, gave the aims of a mission he was soon to make to England, and diplomatically adjourned the gathering by recounting a humorous incident that occurred on a visit to Canada in 1909.

He said that future meetings between the two democratic leaders were possible. "Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt might find it very useful to meet from time to time if the war goes on and exchange personal views," he added.

Lord Halifax turned the 'if' aside with a shrug and said an 'as' might just as well be used. The only thing he could say about his ideas on how soon the war would end was "it's two years nearer the end than when it started."

He had recently talked with Munitions Minister Howe and Right Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner to Canada, and from them had gained a "very close insight into the Canadian war effort."

Canada's Part Impressive

"The figures I have seen on Canadian production, future plans and manpower were very impressive," said the tall Ambassador. He described Canada's part in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan as "a great job," and said that "the scale of your effort is becoming much more understood and appreciated in the United States." He had heard many favorable comments on the Canadian record.

"That is a damn good fellow you have over there in England," he said of Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton. He told of a trip he had made with the Canadian Corps Commander to a Canadian base hospital. "It was then I realized what a great man he is," he said. "At every bedside soldiers looked up at their leader with great respect and affection."

Lord Halifax said the reaction to the Churchill-Roosevelt conference had been "generally favorable" in the United States. The people there had appreciated its objects and results, and there was a keen realization that "the more weight the United States can pull in building up the forces against Nazism the quicker the war will be finished."

Americans Understand

A recent swing around war industries in the United States where he talked to "nearly 100,000" war workers had given him the impression they realised the conflict was as much theirs as it was the Empire's.

"I was deeply touched by their expressions. They gave me to understand that they were as vitally concerned with the issues at stake as we were."

Paying tribute to United States aid, Lord Halifax said that two outstanding examples were: (1) Protection of American shipping to Iceland which had "great indirect value for us"; (2) the production rate at various aircraft and shipbuilding plants.

When he goes back to England soon he would carry these impressions of general North American unity behind the war effort, he said. He is going to remain in England for three or four weeks and the chief objects of his mission will be:

(1) An exchange of information with Mr. Churchill, members of the Cabinet and heads of the armed forces.

(2) To see what the Germans have been doing to England and "incidentally to hear at first hand what we are doing to them."

(3) "A week's holiday."

Lord Halifax would not enlarge on the first two objects, but in connection with the third he said he hoped to get in a few days grouse shooting on his well-loved Yorkshire moors. "That is if I can find any of my old shooting companions who are not now enlisted in the Home Guard and using their guns for other purposes," he added with a wide smile.

Then, rising toweringly out of his chair, where he had sprawled comfortably as he talked, he told newsmen of another trip he had made to Canada. It was in 1909 when his uncle, Earl Grey was the Governor-General. A fishing trip was arranged for Lake Manitoba and Lord Halifax and a couple of Indian guides paddled out to a likely looking spot.

A squall came up and they scurried for shore, but in the rush a bottle of whiskey was dropped overboard, Lord Halifax ruefully watching it disappear. "I must have shown my disappointment," he recalled, "for early next morning my two Indian guides went back to the spot, grappled for an hour, located the bottle and bore it back to me with very pleased grins on their faces."

The last time he was in Canada was in 1932 when he gave the Massey Lecture at the University of Toronto. "But when I get back from England I plan to revisit your country and, combining pleasure with business, enjoy the vacation privileges and also take the opportunity to study further your tremendous war program."

THE ROAD

(Continued from Page One)

Maj. Power repeated figures he gave to a press conference held after his recent return from an official visit to the United Kingdom:

Of 25 proposed all-Canadian squadrons to be formed in the United Kingdom under the Royal Air Force, thirteen now are operating and "new ones are being established as fast as the aircraft can be provided."

Eleven of the thirteen squadrons are commanded by Canadians and the ultimate aim is to have Canadians at the head of all;

"With the experience now being gained by our men the squadron commands of all the units will be held by Canadians almost as fast as they are formed."

"It has also been decided that we will furnish the ground crew for maintaining twelve squadrons in the air almost immediately, and the others will be supplied as fast as we can spare mechanics, and fitters and tradesmen generally from the air training plan units in Canada.

"The next stop of course in this process of what I call Canadianizing will be to develop in actual battle experienced men capable of holding group commands—for squadrons, for operational purposes, are formed into groups—and a still higher formation is of course a command, such as a coastal command, a fighter command, or a bomber command."

CANADIAN TROOPS

(Continued from Page One)

A western Canadian regiment was commanded by a newly-appointed colonel, who was a school teacher at Medicine Hat, Alta., in civil life. Company commanders included Maj. J. A. Early, Georgetown, Ont., and Maj. C. B. Ware, London, Ont.

Special Invasion Craft.

Some Canadians had trips in special type invasion craft developed in Britain, among them peculiar square nosed motor landing craft used in the Lofoten Islands raid on Norway last February.

The engineers, commanded by Maj. Geoffrey Walsh, Oakville, Ont., the gunners, commanded by Maj. F. J. Keen, Hamilton, Ont., who formerly worked on the Hamilton Spectator ,and a Western Canada infantry regiment went ashore into camps.

There the sappers carried out special training in the special operations they would perform during an invasion. The gunners took ashore a field gun and practised loading and landing it from invasion craft.

Anti-aircraft defences aboard the landing craft were manned by a Saskatchewan regiment machine gunners.

Three padres were on the exercise, including Capt. Arthur Smith, Trenton, Ont.

Two special field hospitals came with the formation, a new development in the Army Medical Corps. These hospitals had a 50-bed capacity.

BIG NAZI NAVAL

(Continued from page one)

During Tuesday many squadrons of fighters attacked enemy positions in occupied France and enemy shipping in Ostend harbor. Blenheim bombers smashed at shipping off The Netherlands coast and railway yards at Hazebrouck. Many bombs burst on the targets.

Raids on Germany during Monday night were featured by attacks on Cologne and Duisburg and tons of super-bombs were dropped.

Other planes attacked docks at Dunkerque.

Claim Alexandria Bombed.

Berlin, Aug. 20 (AP).—The German High Command asserted German airmen bombed Alexandria, Egypt, and parts of the English east coast in the night while "a small number" of British aircraft penetrated the northwestern German coastal region and caused "immaterial" damage.

(The British Air Ministry said bombers, flying despite bad weather, blasted the naval base at Kiel and attacked other points in northwestern Germany.)

The High Command claimed British attacks against Nazi-held territory yesterday cost the Royal Air Force 30 planes and last night's foray two more bombers.

(The British Air Ministry said the R.A.F. lost 17 planes. Thirteen German planes were shot down.)

ATLANTIC

(Continued from Page One)

Will Confer With McNaughton

Ottawa, Aug. 20.— (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King arrived in the United Kingdom today after a flight by bomber across the Atlantic for conferences with Prime Minister Churchill and other British leaders.

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

Official announcement of his safe landing after the first airplane trip he ever made said the length of the Prime Minister's stay overseas is indefinite but that he will be 'absent from the country for several weeks".

"Meetings with Mr. Churchill and members of the British Cabinet will occupy most of his time but conferences have also been arranged with Lt.-Gen. (A. G. L.) McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps, and other officers of the three services", the announcement said.

Will Visit Canadian Forces

"The Prime Minister plans to visit as many of the Canadian units of the navy, army and air force as he can while he is overseas and he will also meet with the governments of the allies that now are located in Great Britain".

Mr. King left Ottawa Monday night by train and the take-off from an Eastern Canadian airport was on Tuesday.

The Prime Minister was accompanied on the flight by Norman Robertson, Undersecretary of State for External Affairs; Brig. G. P. Vanier, former Canadian Minister to France; Walter J. Turnbull, Principal Secretary to Mr. King; J. W. Pickersgill, Secretary; J. Edouard Handy and John Nicol of the Prime Minister's house staff; R. K. Carnegie, Ottawa superintendent of The Canadian Press; Bryant Tobin of British United Press; and Gregory Clark of The Toronto Star.

(By FORBES RHUDE)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

An Eastern Canadian Airport, Aug. 20 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King left here Tuesday on his first airplane flight with the jubilance of a schoolboy.

He was on his way to talk with Prime Minister Churchill, probably to meet the heads of many governments, and to see at first hand Canada at war overseas.

The leave-taking was brief. The propellors had been turning over for some time when he and his party drove up.

He stepped onto the runway, wearing a brown suit, black hat, and carrying gloves and a cane. His face was brown with the sun of the Gatineau hills, his cheeks crinkled with smiles and his eyes sparkled.

To observers more used to seeing him in political campaigns and parliamentary debate, he never looked more fit nor happier.

Bid Goodbye by Old Friends

Beside him was his old friend Senator Raoul Dandurand, who came with Munitions Minister Howe to say bon-voyage. Air Chief Marshal Sir Frederick Bowhill, head of the Royal Air Force Ferry Command, in whose care the Prime Minister and his party had placed themselves, was there, three rows of decorations across his breast.

With the Prime Minister's fellow travellers they formed an animated group, surrounded by airport and plane crews, though the secrecy of war-time departure kept the party small.

Fifteen boarded the plane, including the crew of five.

Put Wadding in Ears

In the midst of the farewells Mr. King unwrapped a package of gum and put a stick in his mouth, chewing exercise designed to relieve pressure on the ears.

He shook hands around the circle, walked to the plane, waved a special greeting to Senator Dandurand and then to everyone.

At the plane he bent low to enter the small doorway almost underneath the great smudgy threatening hulk.

He climbed to a small compartment made comfortable with upholstered chairs and bunk. He was seen to apparently put wadding in his ears, and then the small window framed his upper face around his eyes as he gazed out to smile and wave.

The motors roared louder and louder and with them Mr. King's eyes seemed to fairly gleam with delight in a new adventure.

Premier Voted "A Good Guy"

Somewhere in Britain, Aug. 20 —(CP Cable)—Pilots of the aircraft in which Prime Minister Mackenzie King crossed the Atlantic think he's "a good guy."

Robert Rowley of Glendale, Calif., the chief flight engineer, said that "instead of us paying our respects to him, he poked his head into the plane after everybody had left and said, 'goodbye, thanks for the trip. I hope to see you all shortly'."

Rowley and a companion, William J. Guy of Glendale, who was copilot with Capt. L. V. Messenger of Glendale, said that during the flight Mr. King spent a half hour in the cockpit with the crew. He asked questions about the mechanism, and was particularly interested in "George," the automatic pilot.

Rowley said it was "a lovely trip, very smooth, and no heat or oxygen was required."

TONIGHT! TONIGHT! TONIGHT!

KIWANIS KARNIVAL

Someone Will Drive Home the 1941 Plymouth Sedan. Have you bought your tickets on this Grand Prize?

2 Big Nites — Over 50 Big Prizes — Front Street Between Campbell & Bridge

Holders of Tickets for Special Prizes secured at the Carnival Games must be personally present at drawings.

Flight Lieut. S. C. Campbell, Technical Advisor and Director of all Air Scenes of Captain of The Clouds will make the drawing for the car on Thursday Night.

25 Special Prizes given on Wednesday Nite and 25 Special Prizes on Thursday Night.

BANCROFT

25th Anniversary Of Ordination Is Celebrated

Bancroft, Aug. 20 (Special) — Misses Avis and Dorothy Fuller returned home from Belleville on Tuesday of this week having spent a few days visiting with friends in Belleville.

Miss Patricia Fuller returned home Wednesday evening having completed a short vacation with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dewar of Kemptville.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Creeggan and family of Picton arrived in Bancroft Monday and are vacationing at Pettem's Cottage on Trout Lake.

Miss Blanche Kelusky returned home to Toronto on Thursday after spending this week with her mother Mrs. Charles Kelusky Sr.

Mrs. J. C. Stoughton of Belleville is spending this week visiting with relatives in Bancroft.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wylie of Toronto are spending a few days this week visiting the former's grandmother Mrs. Charles Kelusky Sr.

Rev. T. J. Brady, Parish Priest of Maynooth, celebrated the 25th anniversary of his ordination in Maynooth Thursday, August 14th. Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Father Brady assisted by Rev. J. N. George of Cormac, Ontario, and Rev. William Dwyer of Madawaska, Ontario. The sermon was delivered by Rt. Rev. P. B. Biernaski of Barrys Bay and the address read by Rev. S. Flynn. His Excellency Bishop Nelligan of Pembroke also addressed Father Brady and those present. A presentation on behalf of St. Ignatius Parish at Maynooth by Messrs. Claude Goodwin, Joseph Flynn and J. P. McAlpine. Following this an address and presentation was made by Messrs. M. J. McAlpine and D. L. Kavanagh on behalf of "Our Lady of Mercy" Parish of Bancroft which parish Father Brady served for sixteen years. Mr. Donoghue of Eganville was soloist. Father Brady received a purse from the Knights of Columbus Lodge of which he was a member. Among the visitors which were present from Kingston, Peterborough, Pembroke Diocese were Rev. and Mrs. Graham of Kirkland Lake who are camping on Papineau Lake, Mr. Julien of the United Church of Maynooth and Mr. N. R. Flower of the United Church at Bancroft. Following the services a sumptuous banquet was served by the ladies of the Maynooth parish to the clergy, relatives and friends.

Miss Alton Nurse in charge at the local Red Cross hospital left Friday for a visit in Toronto.

Lieutenant D. Rouse, of Petawawa spent the week end at home in Bancroft.

Mrs. Clarence Marston arrived home Friday from a motor trip to Hearst, Ontario, where she visited with her husband who is employed by Curran and Briggs Construction Company on the Trans-Canada Highway project. Mrs. Marston was accompanied on her trip by her mother, Mrs. E. Hagerman who made the trip as far as Kirkland Lake with her daughter.

Miss Dorothy Hagerman returned home from Cooper on Monday having spent a few days visiting with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Rae of Timmins arrived in Bancroft Saturday and will spend a three weeks' vacation visiting at the home of the latter's aunts Misses Alice and Edith Mullett.

Mr. John Goodkey, of Toronto, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodkey of Bancroft.

Mr. Herman Jenkins, of Lakefield, spent the week end with his parents in Bancroft.

Mr. Howard Goodkey, of Toronto, spent the week end with relatives in Bancroft and surrounding district.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorie Black and Murray of Lakefield spent the week end with friends in Turriff.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cairns and Teddie of Coe Hill spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crier of Toronto left for home Monday following an accident they suffered early Saturday north of the village.

In Bancroft police court held Friday, August 15th, Mr. Fred Switzer of the village was assessed $10.00 and costs on a charge of careless driving. There were also settled five convictions under breach of the L.C.A.

Fire Tower Moved

The personnel of the local Forestry Branch in Bancroft are busily engaged in removing the lookout tower from its present location on the Eagles Nest to a point easterly closer to Lakeview so as to command a much wider scope than heretofore enjoyed by those in charge of the tower.

Mr. James Heath of Carp, Ontario, was in town Sunday renewing acquaintances.

Mr. W. E. Wiggins is having a new pipe furnace installed by Mr. C. W. Mullett local hardware merchant.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wiggins of Belleville, spent the week end with their parents in Bancroft and Baptiste returning Monday afternoon.

Sergeants Earl Hawley and D. Moxam returned home last week from Camp Borden where they were taking an extended officer's course.

Turns Over Four Times

Pte William Finnigan of Coe Hill lost control of his car while returning home from Bancroft early Saturday. The accident took place four miles south of Bancroft on Highway No. 62. The car and its occupant turned over four times landing in a nearby grain field. The driver was uninjured and very little damage resulted to the car except, that the windshield was broken out.

Leslie Young of Monk Road rolled his car over on Highway No. 28 two miles west of Bancroft Friday evening. He claimed he was crowded off the road by an approaching truck.

William Baragar of Lake St. Peter turned his car over in a swamp two miles south of Bancroft on Highway No. 62 Saturday evening, no one was injured and slight damage to car.

Cows Hit By Cars

Archie LaBarge and three other soldiers returning to Camp Borden Sunday night struck several cows over the brow of a hill on Highway No. 28 about four miles west of Bancroft. LaBarge, driver of the car claimed that when he topped the knoll his lights shone out in mid air and the first warning he received of the animals being in his path was when he struck them. Although he was travelling at a fair speed the animals did not at that time seem to suffer much from the impact as they scattered into the nearby bush. Some damage resulted to the car holding the boys up until Monday.

RESCUE DURING BROOKLYN PIER FIRE

A fireman's grip is used by this rescue worker as he carries a casualty of the Brooklyn pier to a first aid station. The victim believed to be a longshoreman who narrowly escaped being trapped on the Cuban ship Panuco when the fire broke out on the pier.

SMOKE OF WAR

German prisoners of war, captured by Russians, are lighting cigarettes that have been given to them, according to the Moscow censor-approved caption.

Court Hears of Eskimo Clubbing Sister To Death in Religious Dispute

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Belcher Islands, Aug. 20 (CP).—One of the weirdest stories to come out of the frozen north was unfolding today before a white man's court hearing murder charges against seven Eskimos accused of putting nine others to death in a dispute over whether Christ had come to earth again.

Some of the nine died of gunshot wounds, some of beatings, and the rest—four of them children—were sent naked into the wind-whipped snow last winter to perish of cold.

Preliminary testimony was taken yesterday from some of the accused, their relatives and tribesmen. They spoke through interpreters in a tent which served as the courtroom for the judicial party headed by Mr. Justice C. P. Plaxton of the Ontario Supreme Court.

The story they told was one of long arguments over claims of two tribesmen to divine power, of beliefs that Satan was driven from the tribe by deaths, and the burning of religious books deemed no longer needed if Christ walked again among men.

Convinced He Was Jesus Christ.

Peter Sala and Charlie Ouyerack, whose claims to divine power were said to have figured in the fierce arguments, were among the accused. Sala said he believed he was God in thoughts but not in body. Ouyerack said another Eskimo told him he was Jesus Christ and thus he became convinced he was.

One of the first cases taken up here was the death of 15-year-old Sarah Apawkok. Her brother, Alex Apawkok, was charged with clubbing her to death with a rifle carried by a tribeswoman named Akeenik, also accused.

One witness told the court yesterday the girl was killed because she refused to believe Sala was divine. Another testified she was struck because she failed to do her work in the tribe's winter camp.

An Eskimo woman testified the other Eskimos were pleased when Sarah was dead—that they believed Satan had been driven from their camp.

Shipload of Ancillery Troops Arrive Safely

A British Port, Aug. 20 — (CP Cable)—Canada's overseas army, now totalling many thousands of men, has been reinforced with the arrival of a shipload of ancillary troops.

At a cheerful, noisy reception, the new detachments were greeted by Angus L. MacDonald, Canada's Navy Minister who has been in Britain on official business for some time. He boarded the ship when it docked chatted and shook hands with the men.

The contingent included ordnance, army service and ambulance units and the first Canadians trained for heavy anti-aircraft duties.

The same convoy brought to Britain Belgians recruited in Canada and the United States.

Plane Crash in Brazil Kills Eight Persons, Injures Five

San Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP Eight persons were killed, two were injured seriously, and three slightly in the crash of a Panair do Brasil liner on a mountain peak fifteen miles south of here Tuesday, rescue parties reported.

The only North Americans aboard the plane, Prof. Philip C. Jessup of New York and Hugh Davies of Harrisburg Pa., reached a Sao Paulo suburb late today along with David Novak, the plane's steward. The three suffered only minor injuries.

Davies had telephoned that he, Jessup and the steward tried for an hour to extricate the others and finally gave up on the assumption they were dead. A rescue party reaching the scene of the crash this evening said they found two of the remaining ten persons on board seriously injured.

Novak said it was almost dusk when the plane fell yesterday, indicating crash came along after the craft quit communicating with Sao Paulo airport at one p.m. He said that he, Jessup and Davies got out of the wreckage, and after trying to save the others wandered most of the night through the forest.

Davies was taken to a hospital with an injured nose and Novak was treated for shock. Jessup was said to have returned to the scene of the crash.

Jessup's all-night struggle through the jungle in an attempt to reach aid for fellow-passengers was told by Prof. Frederick S. Dunn of Yale University, who arrived with Mrs. Jessup and Philip Jessup Jr. by air from Ascuncion.

"Jessup and Davies fought free of the wreckage and started through the jungle toward the lights of Sao Paulo," Dunn said.

"Jessup walked five miles down the wild mountain slop, found a house and led several persons back to the crash. While they were attempting to drag the bodies from the plane, Jessup, who was severely bruised and dazed, started through the jungle again and finally found the road to Sao Paulo."

Dunn explained that Jessup was under the impression the plane had lost its way near Sao Paulo because of the low ceiling of clouds and flew about for an hour seeking the airport.

Doodoo, War Refugee, Now Safe in Canada

Montreal, August 20—Doodoo is a shaggy sheep dog, the constant and faithful companion of Monsieur and Madame Jules Blanc, formerly of France and now resident in Montreal. Being of average doggy intelligence, Doodoo made few friends aside from his master and mistress, at least, not until quite recently. Now, however, there are scores of Canadian National Express employees who have become buddies of this shaggy canine.

When the war broke out, the Blancs and Doodoo decided to move away from northern France before the Germans came along. They moved to Belgium, but had to keep going as they found the Nazis coming through that country as well. They took a boat for Scotland, there to settle down—at least for a little while. Some months later, they decided to leave for Canada. Arriving at the wharf of a seaport in England, they were told that regulations forbade their dog going aboard that particular ship. The Blancs had to sail for Canada, leaving the faithful Doodoo dejected on the wharf. Later he was taken back to a village in northern Scotland to stay with friends.

JAPAN CREATED

(Continued from Page One)

Great Moral Partnership.

"Britain and the United States, though one is a belligerent and the other a neutral, are entering into a great moral partnership and are becoming joint champions of a life and a way for which Australia stands."

The prime minister said that in view of the Far Eastern tension, he ian representation in London most important.

He said Australia regarded the British base at Singapore and Malaya a vital outpost of her defence and would not avoid any sacrifice to maintain it.

He also told the House "we must use the Russian breathing space to best advantage."

In his comment on tension in the Far East, he said:

"Japan's act created the tension, not ours.

"If the tension is to be relieved, Japan has the means of relief in her own hands.

"Though there is a long history of friendship between Japan and Australia, it is good even for friends to talk plainly and honestly."

Wanted To Be Heard Directly.

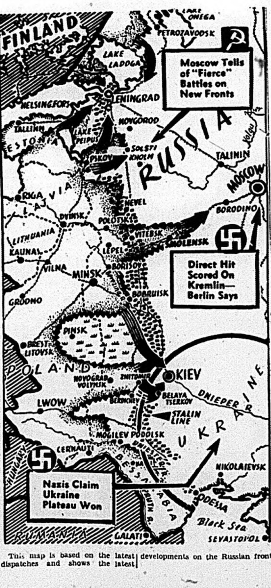
When the prime minister sat down, the House went into secret session to discuss certain aspects of the situation.

During his statement with regard to a visit to London, Mr. Menzies said that in view of extraordinary sudden war changes recently, all of which affected the commonwealth, the cabinet believed that Australia's voice should be heard directly in a place where major decisions must inevitably be made.

The prime minister emphasized that this did not mean criticism of Prime Minister Churchill or the British war cabinet during his earlier visit to London. He had found them co-operative to the highest degree and willing to listen to the Australian view and attach significance and weight to special Australian interests.

Mr. Menzies pointed out that, having regard to the balance of the parties in parliament, it would be impracticable for him to go abroad except with the approval of all parties.

RUSS WAR MOVES



This map is based on the latest dispatches and shows the latest developments on the Russian front.

THE WAR TODAY

By DON GILBERT
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The arrival in Britain of Prime Minister Mackenzie King for a three-week visit during which he will attend meetings of the British War Cabinet brings to two the number of Dominion Prime Ministers now sitting in at 10 Downing Street.

Rt. Hon. Peter Fraser, Prime Minister of New Zealand, has been in London for several weeks, and his scheduled departure was postponed a few days ago to permit further conferences on the tense situation in the Far East.

Until this week it had appeared probable that a third Dominion Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. R. G. Menzies of Australia, would be in London shortly, but political difficulties have arisen and it appears the plan will be changed.

Mr. Menzies was in the Empire's capital early this summer and attended the War Cabinet meetings. He returned to Australia by way of Canada and the United States, but no sooner was he back in the Commonwealth than the current storm clouds in the Pacific began to gather.

Mr. King's arrival in Britain leaves South Africa the only Dominion whose Prime Minister has not visited London since the war began. The South African leader, Rt. Hon. Jan C. Smuts—a member of the Imperial War Cabinet in 1917 and 1918—has thus far been too busy with military and political problems to accept Prime Minister Churchill's invitation.

As Commander in Chief of the South African Defence Force as well as Prime Minister, Gen. Smuts visited Cairo in the spring to confer with Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell. A few days ago he was reported again in Egypt inspecting the South African troops in the Western Desert and conferring in Cairo with Rt. Hon. Oliver Lyttleton, the British War Cabinet's representative in the Middle East.

From Cairo it is not beyond possibility that Gen. Smuts will continue on to London to join the Imperial discussions.

Picton and District

5½ Pound Bass Hooked in Bay Near Northport

Picton, Aug. 20—(Special) — A bass weighing 5 1-2 pounds was caught this week by Cyril Foster, of Toronto, while fishing off Northport. It is the biggest bass caught locally this season. Fishing is reported as exceptionally good in county waters this year with nice catches of pike and bass. Though several lunge have been taken they are not of the record size caught in past years.

A cucumber which had grown in the shape of a V was exhibited by Councillor Ralph Warren yesterday.

The marriage took place in Toronto on Monday of Marion Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. McEachern of Alviston, to Cpl. Grover Smith, R.C.A.F., Mountain View, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Smith of Hillier. The groom was formerly assistant agricultural representative for Prince Edward County.

Tendered Shower

Miss Phyllis Leavitt, who is to be married in September to Flying Officer H. K. Mitchell, R.A.F., was tendered a shower at the home of Mrs. Ray Clapp Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Russell Alexander, of Kingston and Mrs. Dayton Wark as co-hostesses. Many lovely gifts were presented. During the social hour Mrs. Roy Leavitt poured tea.

Mrs. W. A. Wright was called to Brighton on Monday owing to the death of her mother, Mrs. W. W. Porte.

Miss Margaret McNeill, Reg. N., Superintendent of Prince Edward County Hospital has returned from a trip to Gaspe Peninsula.

Miss M. McLuban of Toronto, is a guest of Mrs. S. M. Sinton.

Jack Goodwin is holidaying at Papineau Lake and in Ottawa.

Mrs. Keith Scott, who has just returned from Calgary, Alta., where she visited her husband, Flight.-Lt. Scott, formerly of Belleville, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Manly Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knapp and family are holidaying at Stoney Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. McIntosh, Ottawa are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Manly Martin and Mr. Percival Waye of Toronto are spending a week with relatives in Prince Edward County.

Miss Betty Jones left on Sunday to spend two weeks with friends in Ottawa.

Mrs. Floyd Huff returned to her home in Spencerville on Saturday.

Mrs. Ray Clapp and Mrs. Dayton Wark are entertaining about forty guests at the former's home, Main St., on Monday afternoon, in honour of Miss Phylis Leavitt whose marriage takes place early in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bolton, of Montreal, are on vacation at Lakeshore Lodge, Sandbanks.

Mrs. Robt. Davison was hostess to a number of guests at the I.O. D.E. tea on Saturday afternoon at the Chapter House.

Mr. Don Losee, who recently returned from England has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Bruce McDonald and family and is now spending some time in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bailey, Mary, Marion and Bobby motored to Pembroke and North Bay on Sunday for a week's holiday with relatives.

Messrs. Eugene Harrington and Leonard Dovetta are spending a week in Toronto.

Good Printing is a Work of Art!

The Ontario Intelligencer Job Printing Dep't. prides itself on its workmanship. Quality Work is yours, yet at prices you will admit are not unreasonable.

Probabilities

Lower Lake Region: Moderate southwest winds; partly cloudy tonight and Friday with scattered thundershowers; continuing moderately warm.

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	73.5	49.8
Year ago	68	43

Weather—fair.

★★

RUSSIANS DEFEND LENINGRAD TO THE DEATH

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

PREDICTS BRITISH AIR MASTERY IN ANOTHER YEAR

Soviets Forcing Germans to Fight Way Step by Step

Voroshilov Announces New Detachments of Milita Formed to Aid Defences

USE AIR-BORNE TANKS

Moscow, Aug. 21—(AP)—Leningrad was proclaimed under "direct threat of attack" by the Red Army Northwest Command today as Marshal Klementi Voroshilov called on the people to rise in arms and defend their city to the death.

(If Leningrad is defended, the German radio asserted, it will suffer the fate of Warsaw, Poland's capital, which was pounded for weeks by the air force and Nazi siege guns at its gates before the Poles surrendered it.)

Voroshilov acknowledged "dread danger" to the city but expressed confidence that its defences would hold, declaring Russia's second city and Czarist capital "never was and never will be in the hands of the enemy."

The population was exhorted to train new detachments of workers for the people's army to support the regular army.

25 Per Cent Working Class

Leningrad has about 25 per cent of the Soviet working class. It was defended successfully by Joseph Stalin in 1919 when it was threatened during the Civil War.

The Soviet Information Bureau said fighting had raged through the night in the Novgorod region, about 100 miles south of Leningrad, as well as in the Gomel sector on the centre of the eastern front and around Odessa in the south.

It reported no change in the situation but the Red Army newspaper, Red Star, said Russian forces pressing their counter-attack in the central sector had recaptured several towns yesterday, seizing 19 field guns, many infantry arms, 1,500 shells and much other equipment. At one point alone, it said, the Germans left more than 200 dead.

Crushed By Infantry

(The German High Command claimed a "victorious advance" on both flanks, and capture of Kherson, at the mouth of the Dnieper River in the south, and Novgorod, Narva and Kingisepp on an arc 75 to 100 miles south and southwest of Leningrad.)

A dispatch to Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said the German 94th infantry division had lost three-fourths of its manpower (about 11,000 men) in a 10-day battle in the Ukraine.

The Germans penetrated the village of "E" under a protective artillery barrage, it said, but were crushed by Russian infantry which cut off their rear tanks and slashed into the flanks of the Nazi division.

One regiment was destroyed, two others lost 75 per cent of their men and a fourth lost more than 1,000 dead, the dispatch said.

Participating in Voroshilov's statement were Andrei Zhdanov, a member of the Presidium and Secretary of the Leningrad party committee, and P. Popkov, chairman of the Leningrad City Soviet.

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

Nazi Claim Russian Divisions Partly Destroyed Around Gomel and Pripet Marshes

SAY ODESSA ATTACKED

Berlin, Aug. 21—(AP)—The German High Command today claimed three key cities in the main Leningrad defence ring — Novogorod, Kingisepp and Narva—have been captured in a German drive which is within 75 miles of Russia's second city.

The war bulletin from Hitler's headquarters, repeating last night's special claim of the partial destruction of 25 Red Army divisions in the Ukraine, claimed also the capture of Kherson, at the mouth of the Dnieper River.

Leningrad now is menaced from three sides—north, west and south.

Kingisepp and Narva are on the Germans' western sector. Narva, which had been regarded as an important Russian defence position on the land bridge between the Gulf of Finland and Lake Peipus, is 81 miles southwest of Leningrad.

Kingisepp, farther east, is 75 miles away and across the Estonian border from Narva in Russia proper. Novogorod, where the Russians have put up particularly stubborn resistance, is on the southern rim of the Red Army's defence arc near Lake Ilmen, about 100 miles from Leningrad.

The High Command went again into specific detail to tell the German people of the "victorious advance."

"In the southern Ukraine," it said, "units of the field S.S. took the harbor and industrial town of Kherson on the mouth of the Dnieper.

"The Battle in the region around and north of Gomel ended with the severe defeat of Soviet armed forces as reported in a special announcement.

"Infantry, motorized and armored divisions, in collaboration with the air force, have defeated, destroyed or taken prisoner parts of 17 infantry, five cavalry, two armored and one motorized division as well as two brigades of air-borne troops which came to the assistance of the foot soldiers.

"The enemy's bloody losses are extremely severe. The number of prisoners increased to roughly 34,000. The booty in guns increased to 848.

"Furthermore, 144 tanks and two armored trains fell into our hands.

"Between lakes Ilmen and Peipus in fierce days-long fighting an extremely stubbornly defensed position, strongly fortified by the enemy, was penetrated. The cities of Novogorod, Kingisepp and Narva were taken."

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 21.—(CP)—General synopsis:—The weather has been moderately warm with scattered showers in Ontario and the western provinces.

PLACE	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Vancouver	58	71	56
Victoria	54	69	54
Calgary	53	79	53
Edmonton	42	76	41
Winnipeg	57	75	50
Toronto	64	72	60
Ottawa	51	70	42
Montreal	53	68	51
S.S. Marie	51	70	47
Detroit	64	79	63
New York	65	79	61
Miami	76	89	76
Los Angeles	—	85	—

MACKENZIE KING NOW IN LONDON FOR WAR PARLEYS

Greeted by Representatives of Gov't at Euston Station, Leaves For His Hotel

SURE OF VICTORY

By HAROLD FAIR

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King stepped from a train in big Euston Station today to receive the restrained, impressive reception the heart of the empire accords distinguished visitors.

There was no guard of honor—that formality was carried out when the Canadian Prime Minister landed by bomber at a British airport yesterday—or cheers, but just staid British handshakes and words of greeting.

Smiling, the Prime Minister was welcomed by Viscount Cranborne, Secretary of State for the Dominions, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, on behalf of the British Government; by Cmdr. C. R. Thompson, representing Prime Minister Churchill; by the heads of Canada's armed forces, and by Euston's official greeter, Stationmaster Joseph Harrison, who dons a silk hat and frock coat for such occasions.

After half an hour of handshaking and chatting while a battery of photographers snapped him from all angles, Mr. King departed by car with High Commissioner and Mrs. Vincent Massey for breakfast at the West End Hotel where Mr. King is making his headquarters.

Before leaving he asked Stationmaster Harrison to thank the engineer for the smooth night-long ride, explaining he had been able to sleep soundly.

No Doubt of Outcome

"We have no shadow of doubt as to the outcome of the war," Mr. King told reporters. "It will be won by the great brave people of Britain.

"There is only one mind in Canada—and it is to do all we can to help win the war. Canada is at the side of Britain to the utmost of her strength in resources, both material and human.

"We are proud beyond words of the British people and of what they have done to maintain the standards of liberty in the world.

Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Commander of the Canadian Corps, and Maj.-Gen. P. J. Montague, senior officer of Canadian military headquarters in London, boarded the train and chatted with the Prime Minister for a few moments. They followed him off with Mr. Massey, who had accompanied the Prime Minister from the north.

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)

8 Points of Declaration 'Clear Cut' Says F.D.R.

Declares it Would be Difficult to Oppose Them "Without Automatically Admitting Willingness to Compromise" With Nazism

Washington, Aug. 21 — (AP)—President Roosevelt, reporting to the United States Congress on his meeting at sea with Prime Minister Churchill, said today the declaration of principles agreed upon there was so clear-cut that it would be difficult to oppose "without automatically admitting a willingness to accept compromise" with Nazism.

These principles, the President added in a brief special message, also would be hard to oppose without admitting a willingness to "agree to world peace which would give to Nazism domination over large numbers of conquered nations."

"Inevitably," Mr. Roosevelt asserted, "such a peace would be a gift to Nazism to take breath—armed breath—for a second war to extend the control over Europe and Asia to the American hemisphere itself."

Mr. Roosevelt said it was perhaps unnecessary to "call attention once more to the utter lack of validity of the spoken or written word of the Nazi Government."

He added it also was unnecessary to point out that the declaration included of necessity "the world need for freedom of religion and freedom of information."

"No society of the world organized under the announced principles could survive without these freedoms which are a part of the whole freedom for which we strive."

Unofficial Strategists Urge British Invasion of Continent

By DREW MIDDLETON

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

London, Aug. 21 (AP)—Unofficial British, Polish and Norwegian strategists urged anew today a British invasion of the continent.

Military leaders were called upon for all-out war against the Nazis. Current Royal Air Force bombings of Germany and occupied territories were deemed insufficient by these sources.

Frank Owen, editor of Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard, demanded "a second front and not only in the air" in a signed editorial. Mr. Owen suggested a British offensive against Italy, long favored by some military sources as the spot where the Axis could be hit hardest.

Some Polish and Norwegian military men have urged Britain to attempt landings at a number of points along the European coastline in an effort to find the weakest point in German defences.

Once a weak spot were found, these men believe, enough British and Allied forces could be landed to overcome local resistance to dig in and open a new front.

Favored particularly by Poles and Norwegians is a landing in Norway north of Narvik. They offer three reasons for such landing:

1. Norwegian troops in Britain are said to be better equipped to fight in that territory and they could be helped by Scots and Poles trained in mountain fighting.

2. Once a landing had been made, a corridor would be opened through Finland to Murmansk, Russia, cutting off the Finnish port of Petsamo. Over this corridor troops and supplies could be moved to bolster the Red armies in the north, it was said.

3. Norwegians at home have been reported ready to rebel against the Germans at the first sign of outside help. The Nazis would be unable to concentrate a large force against the invaders in the north, it was said, because it has been reported garrisons have to be maintained now in every Norwegian hamlet and town.

PREMIER LISTS REASONS OF VISIT TO GREAT BRITAIN

Wants to Determine How Canada's War Effort Could be Made More Effective

MOVIE CAMERAS GRIND

By HAROLD FAIR

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King told a press conference here today that he came to Britain to determine how Canada's war effort could be made more effective.

Speaking in the large conference hall of the Ministry of Information, where representatives of the Canadian, British and American press were gathered, he listed three other reasons for his trans-Atlantic flight to Britain:—

1. To emphasize Canada's determination to be at Britain's side to the end of the struggle and to utmost of her effort.

2. To renew a friendship with Prime Minister Churchill which has existed since 1907.

3. To tell the British people of Canada's admiration for their indomitable courage.

The Prime Minister spoke after an introduction by Brendan Bracken, the Minister of Information, who said "one of the greatest honors given to the Ministry" was to bring Mr. King in touch with the press in London. The Minister said he could conceive of nothing better than that Mr. King and President Roosevelt should have the opportunity of meeting Prime Minister Churchill "at the time of the most frightful world crisis."

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 8)

CANADA'S PREMIER MEETS CHURCHILL AT DOWNING ST.

Also Receives Letter From His Majesty Expressing Royal Welcome

WENT TO PALACE

By R. K. CARNEGIE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Canada's Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, entered the secret confines of Great Britain's War Cabinet room today after he had been greeted warmly by Prime Minister Churchill on the limestone step of historic 10 Downing Street.

In the view of only a handful of camera and news men Mr. Churchill gave a hearty welcome to Mr. King, who had just driven from Buckingham Palace, where he met the King's private secretary, Sir Alexander Hardinge. Earlier the Canadian Prime Minister had received a letter from His Majesty expressing the royal welcome to England.

A small crowd gathered at the Downing Street barrier to watch for Mr. King, who arrived from the Palace visit just in time to find Mr. Churchill seeing off Canadian Navy Minister Angus MacDonald at the door of No. 10.

MacDonald Meets Churchill

Mr. MacDonald, together with Rear-Admiral Percy Nelles, chief of Canadian Naval Staff, and Capt. F. L. Houghton, Director of Plans, had been in conference with Mr. Churchill for some time before Mr. King, wearing the typical Whitehall dress of black jacket and striped trousers, came on the scene.

The Canadian Prime Minister was accompanied on his Bucking-

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

Skipper Affectionately Called "Walter Winchell of James Bay"

By JAMES McCOOK

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Great Whale River, Que., Aug. 21—(CP)—They call him, affectionately, "The Walter Winchell of James Bay," as inappropriate name as could be given bluff Skipper Jens Ole Nielsen of the Hudson's Bay Company schooner Fort Charles.

The Fort Charles is the main supply ship carrying the annual requirements to the scattered posts in this sub-Arctic region. The skipper has been in Hudson Bay and James Bay for 38 years, and despite changing times, he is still the voice of the Outside to scores of men and women.

The name of Walter Winchell came to him in recent years because of the radio-telephone conversations between his ship and shore when the Fort Charles is moving in the bay.

"Hullo, Ronnie. This is the Skipper speaking. We got your message and everyone on board is fine."

Thus, casually, the Skipper starts his radio conversations. Air time is precious and most of it is occupied with business matters. But the Skipper knows the interests of the people who are listening to him on James Bay and if he can he gives them the news they want. If he has heard something he thinks the posts should hear about—nothing very important to the outside listener—he sends it along.

The Skipper is a native of Denmark who went to sea in sailing ships when he was a boy. He came to Hudson Bay on the Lady Head, destined to be one of the scores of ships whose skeletons lie rotting in the desolate harbors of the north.

"Yes, they were hard days," said the Skipper of his experiences on sailing ships on the bay. "But they taught us patience, the most valuable asset of a shipmaster in these waters. The man who decides to take chances against fog, storms, tides and ice in this stretch of water is sure to find trouble.

"All the advances of modern science have made the shipmaster's job easier but there are still conditions in the bay which all the science in the world will not defeat and which must be met by the decisions of the man in command of a vessel."

GERMAN, FRENCH POLICE ROUND UP 6,000 IN PARIS

Those Arrested Include All Who Could Not Show They Were Aryan

TAKEN TO CAMPS

Vichy, Aug. 21. — (AP)—Police were reported today to have arrested 6,000 persons in German-occupied Paris.

Most of those arrested in the great round-up, apparently aimed at striking at the sources of growing public unrest in the city, were claimed to be Jews.

At the same time it was learned two men had been executed by a firing squad for alleged participation in a Communist manifestation against German occupation authorities. They were condemned, presumably by a Nazi court martial for "activity in favor of the enemy", it was said.

Both Nazi and French police were reported to have taken part in the arrests.

All approaches to each of the four quarters comprising the working class 11th arrondissement were blocked off and subway stations closed to prevent any escape during the five-hour clean-up.

Police Sweep Through District

French and German police then swept through the district, stopping all on the streets, conducting house to house searches and scanning identity papers.

Those arrested included everybody who could not show he was an Aryan. Those arrested were from about seventeen to fifty years of age.

Meanwhile notices appeared on all subway stations outside the district saying trains would not stop at the 11th arrondissement's station which is at the Place De La Republic.

The Paris newspaper Les Nouveaux Temps said those arrested were taken in buses to concentration centres at Drancy where, it was reported in Vichy, they were being held for investigation. The surprise move followed unrest and firing in the streets as well as public admissions by French and Nazi authorities that sabotage and subversive activities in the conquered capital were reaching dangerous proportions.

ANTI-AMERICAN CAMPAIGN SEEN

Shanghai, Aug. 21—(AP) — An anti-American campaign, purported to be inspired and directed by Japanese military authorities, appeared today to be growing throughout occupied China as a result of the recent United States freezing of assets.

Reports from numerous points in central and south China indicate that more than 1,700 Americans are facing increasingly difficult living conditions because of restrictions imposed by the military. British subjects also were affected in some areas, but not so badly.

BODY FOUND IN BAY

Toronto, Aug. 21 (CP)—Body of a soldier found floating in Lake Ontario off the east end of the city here last night was identified today as that of Pte. Mathew Solomon, 47, of 2nd Company, Veterans Guard of Canada. Identification was traced by a regimental number found inside the man's tunic.

Victory Will Rest On Air Supremacy Says 'Aeroplane'

'Tide is Slowly Turning in Our Favor as Striking Power Develops'

BRITISH POWER GROWS

London, August 21—(CP)—Mastery in the air, as the first target at which Britain should aim in her struggle against the Axis powers, should be achieved in another year, the authoritative magazine Aeroplane predicted in a review of the first 100 weeks of the war in the air.

"Victory will rest on that foundation," the magazine said. "But we shall have to fight hard for it."

"One hundred weeks of war are over. Perhaps there are 100 more to come. Yet, with all the hardships and toil ahead of us, the tide is slowly turning in our favor as our striking power develops. We began the war with single-motor Fairey Battle and Tiger-Whitley bombers as our chief striking force. Today we have four-motor Stirlings, Halifaxes, Fortresses and Liberators, each capable of carrying far bigger loads far greater distances at far higher speeds. And there are better still to come."

German Power of Attack Advances Far Less

The article said that in proportion, the German power of attack had advanced far less since the war began. The Nazis started with Dornier 17s and Heinkel 111s. Their chief power of offence still lies in these two types, with the addition of the Junkers 88 and a few Kurlers, which have not proved satisfactory in action.

In Fighters, too, Britain's superiority is more marked than ever. The ME109F represents the peak of enemy development at present, and it has shown itself in action to be notably inferior to the Hurricanes and Spitfires it has met.

The Bristol Beaufighter, powerful long-range Fighter, is seen as a "great contribution" both to Britain's striking power by day and the country's security at night. It has proved its prowess in both these directions, by day in the Middle East and by night over England.

"Squadrons of Beaufighters will ensure that the disappointments and reverses of the Norwegian campaign and of Crete will not recur in the future," Aeroplane says, "for the umbrella of British air power can be extended to shield operations far out from our most advanced bases."

WALKOUT ILLEGAL, LABOR DEPT. HOLDS

Ottawa, Aug. 21 (CP)—The Justice Department has been called in by the Labor Department to take whatever action is necessary in the strike of 15 men of the power plant which serves the Acadia Coal Mine in Stellarton, N.S., a Labor Department spokesman said today.

The Labor Department holds that the walkout yesterday was illegal, the spokesman said.

The strike of the power plant men who demanded wage increases brought a tie-up in production of the Acadia Coal Mine when 1,200 employees were forced into idleness.

Britain Said to Have Outlined to Iran Plans for Replacement of Germans

Ankara, Turkey, Aug. 20 (Delayed) (AP)—Informed sources said today that Britain in a note had outlined to Iran (Persia) plans for replacement of Germans employed in key communications and industrial posts and proposed that definite action be taken by Aug. 31.

Observers considered that Britain was not disposed to take no for an answer and would move into Iran, as she took control in Iraq, to obtain a solid defence front in the Middle East.

Previous British notes to the Iranian government were reported to have called unsatisfactory the expulsion of a few dozen German technicians in view of an estimated 2,000 or more employed in key Iranian industries.

(London dispatches yesterday said Iran had been given about a week to meet Anglo-Russian requests for expulsion of the Germans and British and Russian troops were reported ready on Iran's frontiers.)

Britain was described as seeking to replace the Germans with either Iranian or British technicians.

SAY SHOTS FIRED THRU CREAMERY

Millbank Police Arrest Nelson Hall on Charge of Having Firearms

Millbank, Ont., Aug. 21—(CP)—Nelson Hall, 31, who lives with his father on the outskirts of this Perth County village, was remanded in custody until Aug. 25, after pleading not guilty and electing trial by Magistrate in court here today on a charge of having firearms in his possession dangerous to the public peace.

It is alleged he proceeded to shoot up the village early today. Police said that before being arrested by Provincial Constable John M. Douglas and Provincial Traffic Officer Charles Anderson, of Stratford, he had fired eight shots through the Millbank Creamery and two through Gray's store.

Allegedly armed with a shotgun and a rifle, Hall was chased by a hastily organized village posse, numbering about 20, and led by County Constable Clark Wright and County Constable Hewitt of Millbank. They finally located him strolling down the Main Street.

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON — Prime Minister King arrives in British Capital; is welcomed to 10 Downing Street by Prime Minister Churchill.

MOSCOW — Leningrad in danger; Voroshilov declares Germans will never set foot in city, calls on citizens for last-ditch struggle.

BERLIN — German High Command claims "victorious advance" on Leningrad, with capture of Novgorod, Kingisepp and Narva, all 75 to 100 miles to the south.

VICHY — 6,000 arrested in Paris working class suburbs; great round-up of saboteurs under way.

ANKARA — German troops concentrations in Bulgaria reported; may mean German attempt to take Dardanelles.

LONDON — R.A.F. carries out large-scale daylight sweeps of northern France and channel area. (Soviet night bombers attack northern Germany.)

Soviet Air Force Starts Explosions In Berlin Area

Moscow, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Soviet air force again dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs on military objectives in the Berlin area last night, starting fires and explosions, it was announced late today.

No Soviet aircraft were lost, it was stated.

Berlain, Aug. 21 (AP)—A number of Russian bombers flying along the Baltic coast penetrated northern Germany last night, a Nazi announcement said today.

The announcement claimed the planes "circled wholly painlessly over German territory" for some time and dropped a few bombs at random.

Coming Events

BELLE THEATRE, SATURDAY and Monday, Walt. Disney Feature-length Cartoon in color, "The Reluctant Dragon." Continuous show on Saturday starting at 1 p.m. A21

RESERVE SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, for Organ Recital at St. Andrew's Church, 8.30 p.m. Silver collection in aid of Evening Telegram British War Victims' Fund. A21

GEEN'S PILE REMEDY
FOR QUICK RELIEF. 50c TUBE. PHONE 131
A14-15-16

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

EXPLOSION SHAKES PLASTER IN HOME

An explosion that shook the plaster off the ceilings in the home of John Hanna, 13 Baldwin St., was reported to city police last evening. Sergeant Arthur Harman investigated and was told the concussion was so great it was felt in the Hanna home. Subsequent investigations by the officer revealed the construction of a building nearby where blasting had been necessary to excavate.

LOSS OF MAIL BAG REPORTED TO POLICE

The mail carrier between Belleville Post Office and Deseronto reported the loss of a mail bag early today. The mailman informed Sergeant Arthur Harman of his loss over the long distance telephone shortly before 4.30 a.m. today. The mail bag apparently slipped off the mail truck rack. Post Office officials were immediately notified of the loss.

RESIDENT CALLED BUT NOT AT THEATRE

There was no response at the Capitol Theatre last night when the name of Clarence Fraser, 22 East Moira St., was called for the weekly selection in the theatre Foto Nite program. Had Mr. Fraser been present he would have received $215 for his photograph. The offer will be increased for next week's selection, it was announced after Mr. Fraser failed to respond to his name.

FAMOUS PLAYERS TO FEATURE NEWS AT C. N. E.

The Famous Players Corporation exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition this year will be one of the most educational exhibits on the grounds according to reports.

Located in the manufacturing building near the fountain Famous Players will feature the latest paramount news reels showing continuously from early morning until the grounds close at night. No charge is being made to see these screenings.

Jack Purvis well known Canadian showman has been selected to manage and direct the exhibit.

BOULEVARDS ALONG STREET TAKEN OUT

The demand for additional parking space in Belleville made it necessary to have the boulevards along the north side of Victoria Ave., from Church Street, to well below Pinnacle Street, removed, thus making provision for angle parking and accommodation for additional parking of motor cars. Several fine stately maple trees had to be removed also by the Public Works Department in keeping abreast with this modern mechanized age.

POLICE BLOTTER

Vandals destroyed the headlights on six automobiles parked at the rear of Sharpe's wrecking garage behind Marble Hall on Front St., some time last night. The headlights on the six vehicles were shattered and the headlight bulbs stolen from five of the vehicles. On the sixth car the robbers had apparently been frightened away before they could steal the headlights, as the headlight lens were only cracker. Sergeant Arthur Booth investigated the destruction when it was reported this morning.

Reports Theft of Bike

Carl Ainsworth, 93 South Front St., reported the theft of his bicycle which was stolen from a parking lot at the north end of the main street last night.

Car Found Abandoned

An automobile stolen in Belleville three days ago was recovered in Bowmanville on Wednesday. The motor car is the property of Dr. J. Forrester, Bridge St., and was abandoned on the main street in Bowmanville after the gasoline tank had been drained. The vehicle was not seriously damaged. Chief Kidd was informed by the police of the western town.

Cobourg Chief in City

Chief Constable William Carey, of Cobourg, was a visitor in the city yesterday and renewed old acquaintances at the Police Station and Provincial Police offices. Chief Carey was stationed in Belleville some years ago while connected with the O.P.P.

HEAVY FOOT-SLOGGNG

Gothenburg, (CP)—New regulations of the Swedish army prescribe the soldiers must be able to march 50 miles in 36 hours carrying field equipment and with no diminution of fighting power.

It Pays to Shop
At the Rexall Store.
HAYVAX
INSTANT RELIEF FOR HAY FEVER
Provides Lasting
Comfort
1.00 & 2.00
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

ADVANCE STYLES
LADIES' FUR COATS.
Buy Now! Lay Away Prices!
R. A. BACKUS
EXPERT FURRIER
38 Bridge St. West. BELLEVILLE

BRING YOUR HARNESS
to
J. W. Daniels, Foxboro
SAVE MONEY!
—Prompt, Satisfactory Service.—
A21-22-28

1,488 Pounds Jam Shipped to Red Cross By Rednersville W. I.

The result of long hours of tedious work together with a will to provide a delicacy for Canadian soldiers in England, 1,488 pounds of jam, all securely packed in sturdy easy-to-handle wooden cases, was shipped to the Canadian Red Cross this morning by the War Emergency branch of the Rednersville Women's Institute. The jam will be shipped overseas as a treat for Canadian soldiers on duty there.

Considerable prominence has been gained by the Rednersville Women's Institute in their effort in putting up jam for the Red Cross last year having forwarded more than one ton of jam, 2,160 pounds to be exact, while this season efforts are being made to increase that amount. While every member of the Institute has given generously of her time and energy toward the jam-making effort, the undertaking is headed by the members of the Lorne Brickman family, in whose canning factory the jam is actually made. Mrs. Brickman is president of the War Emergency Branch and Miss Audrey Brickman, president of the Women's Institute.

Ingredients and Labor Donated

All the ingredients going toward the jam-making as well as the labor required are donated, most of the work being done by members of the Institute. Donations of money to go toward the purchase of sugar have been received from outside points however. Hearing of the undertaking through the prominence given the jam-making by the press, a Junior Institute from North Bay district recently forwarded a cheque.

The kinds of jam included in the shipment which went forward this morning included strawberry, raspberry, red currant and white currant, while preparations are now under way to put up crabapple jelly. Before the jam-making season is completed the Institute members hope to surpass their last year's effort of more than one ton.

Today!
CAPITOL
WHERE IT'S COOL
Your Favourite Trouble-Shooters on Another Adventure in the Land of Six-Gun Thrills.
THE 3 MESQUITEERS
in
"GANGS OF SONORA"
Also NEWS — MYSTERIOUS DOCTOR SATAN
Added Feature! A New Screen Thrill "STRANGE ALIBI" ARTHUR KENNEDY
Last Complete Show 8.45

PEACHES, PLUMS FEATURE MARKET

Tomatoes Remain at Recent Price of One Dollar Per Bushel

Freestone peaches retailed at 65c per six-quart basket on the midweek produce market this morning, with No. 2 quality being held at 55c Bradshaw and Burbank plums were 50c the basket and green gages 65c.

Tomatoes held at their previous quotations of 25c per six-quart basket or at $1 per bushel while potatoes were 35c per peck or $1.25 per bushel. Corn on the cob was 30c per dozen ears, cauliflower ranged from 10c to 35c and pumpkins were 10c each Vegetables were 5c per bunch.

Cooking apples were quite plentiful with Wolf Rivers going at 20c the basket or 60c the half bushel while Wealthies were 25c per basket with crabapples being quoted at the same figure. Fresh eggs were held at the usual 35c per dozen for grade "A".

Sub. Lieut, W. A. Argue Is Appointed to Royal Canadian Navy

Sub. Lieut. W. A. Argue. R.C.N. V.R., who has completed his Officers' Training Course at an officers' training establishment in Eastern Canada, has received his appointment to active service with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Sub. Lieut. Argue is the son of Mr. C. E. Argue, 338 Charles St., and has lived in Belleville for the past twelve years. He received his education in the Public School and Collegiate here and studied later at Queen's University, Kingston, whence he was graduated in Arts.

Cyclists Warned By Magistrate

"If local cyclists continue to violate the traffic laws of this city, some of them are going to be minus their bicycles, if they are convicted before me in Police Court," Magistrate E. J. Butler K.C. stated in stern warning.

"It is unlawful to ride two persons on one bicycle and also an infraction of the law to ride bicycles upon the city sidewalks. These laws are being ignored with abandon and the riding of bicycles is bordering wanton riding in this city. Actually they are a public nuisance and a menace to pedestrians upon the sidewalks," continued His Worship as he intimated that the matter would be brought to the attention of the city police department at the next meeting of the Police Commission.

"If cyclists continue to disregard the law and are convicted in police court in the future, I'm going to recommend, that their bicycles be confiscated," concluded His Worship in a pointed warning to all riders of bicycles in Belleville.

POLICE COURT

Last week's heavy county police court docket depleted the ranks of district court hearings to such a degree that only three cases were listed for trial before Magistrate E. J. Butler K.C., today at the Court House, last week's court seeing 17 cases disposed of.

Given Two Months

Walter Anderson, Glen Ross, was sentenced to serve two months in the common jail after pleading guilty to a charge of selling liquor. The charge was preferred by Constable W. L. Rathwell following a Provincial Police investigation recently.

When Charles Plumb, alias Palmer, of Trenton, appeared on a charge of reckless driving his case was further enlarged for one week at the request of his counsel, E. E. Follwell, local barrister.

"Mr. Follwell just accepted this case today and is not too well acquainted with the facts' said Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan K.C. as he registered no objection against the postponement.

A domestic matter concluded the morning's proceedings.

INDIA'S WAR CHEST

New Delhi, (CP)—Without appeal for contributions the Viceroy's War Purposes Fund has reached the impressive total of Rs. 370 lakhs or about $12,487,500.

The Best Place to Buy
Guaranteed Used Cars
1940 PLYMOUTH CUSTOM 4-DOOR SEDAN.
1940 DODGE COACH.
1940 PLYMOUTH COACH.
1939 CHRYSLER ROYAL SEDAN equipped with overdrive
1938 DESOTO SEDAN.
1937 PACKARD 6 SEDAN.
1937 PONTIAC SEDAN.
1935 2-TON MAPLE LEAF, STAKE BODY.
1930 DURANT SPECIAL SEDAN.
1930 STUDEBAKER 6 CYLINDER COACH.
Napanee Motors Limited
CHRYSLER - PLYMOUTH DEALERS.
WILBERT HART, Manager.
Red Indian Station — Dundas St. Phone 450
NAPANEE
A21-2t

Is Ice Shortage Possible in Coming Winter?

A possible shortage of ice should hot weather return for any length of time was forecast for Belleville by one of the city's prominent ice dealers this morning, and this despite the fact that ice companies operating here packed their usual quantity of ice last winter.

Prolonged abnormally hot weather during July and the early part of August was given as the reason for ice stocks being at a disturbingly low level so early in the season, this together with the fact that only two companies are operating this year as compared to three one year ago. The decision of the third company to discontinue operations was not made known at an early enough date for the two now operating to make provision for increased ice storage to meet with the extra demand.

No undue alarm over the possible shortage of ice was felt by the local dealer however, unless hot weather returns in earnest. "It has just come to the point that to be on the safe side and protect our regular customers, we are accepting no new customers," he said.

Princess Margaret Rose Has a Birthday

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Princess Margaret Rose, 11 today, spent her birthday quietly in the country with the King and Queen and her sister Princess Elizabeth.

Her cake was made with rationed materials without icing, but it bore the traditional number of candles. There were no official celebrations but Princess Margaret Rose received scores of greetings and presents from members of the Royal family.

Princess Margaret Rose is staging an impromptu stage show tonight for her guests, in which she and Princess Elizabeth are participating.

The first Canadian steamship ran from Montreal to Quebec Nov. 4. 1809.

We Offer
Great Values Now
in
RELIABLE
USED CARS
LOW PRICES and
EASY TERMS.
'34 Chevrolet Master Sedan.
'31 Ford Special Sedan.
'30 Durant Sedan.
'34 Chevrolet Coach.
'32 Chevrolet Sedan.
'32 Reo Flying Cloud Coupe.
'37 Chrysler Royal Coach.
'40 Dodge Business Coupe.
'34 Studebaker Touring Sedan.
'32 Chevrolet Coach.
'37 Chevrolet Panel Delivery.
'34 Graham Touring Sedan.
'34 Pontiac Special Sedan.
'29 Buick Sedan.
'29 Pontiac Sedan.
'32 Ford Coach.
'41 Hudson 5-Pass. Coupe.
Now is the time to buy a Used Car at the Right Price.
HASTINGS
MOTORS LIMITED
112 - 124 FRONT STREET
PHONES: 933 - 1548
CITIES SERVICE STATION

Kiwanis Karnival A Great Success On First Night

Brilliantly lighted and with a care free crowd milling around, Front Street from Bridge to Campbell Street from Bridge an animated appearance as the Kiwanis Karnival presented their first night's entertainment.

From early in the evening till well past the midnight hour, the several members of the different booths barked their wares before an enthusiastic crowd, who seemed intent on assisting the Kiwanis Club in their effort to raise funds to continue their work. The booths were attractively arranged on the street and there was every kind of game to satisfy the most venturesome. Naturally the Bingo game was the most attractive pastime and from early evening it was almost impossible to secure a place at which to play. The prizes were in keeping with the high standard of the games and many could be seen lugging a blanket, a comforter, a box of chocolates or a bric brac under their arm. The hot dog stand did a thriving business, while the ticket sale for the new Plymouth car and the Hope Chest was extremely heavy and it took a large number of sellers to meet the demands of the public.

The car will be drawn at the close of the Karnival tonight and Flight Lieutenant S. C. Campbell from Hollywood will make the drawing, that will make some individual really happy. Last evening at the close of the Karnival there were drawings for the 25 special prizes donated by the Kiwanis and other merchants of the city and although the person holding the winning ticket had to be present all of the prizes were claimed. Unfortunately the tickets ran out but this will not be the case tonight as a number of new tickets have been printed. All the games will be in operation again tonight and the Kiwanis Club members invite all residents to be with them for an evening of fun and frolic.

26 U.S. Embassy, Consular Officials To Leave Japan

Tokyo, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Nippon Yusen Kaisha line—apparently under foreign office pressure—suddenly announced tonight it had reservations for 26 United States Embassy and Consular officials aboard the liner Tatsuta Maru, scheduled to sail Aug. 28 for Shanghai.

At Shanghai, most of the Americans expected to obtain trans-Pacific passage home aboard a United States transport.

Because of the unfavorable "hostage" publicity arising from the inability of United States Nationals to obtain passage from Japan, the foreign office was believed to have exerted pressure.

N. Y. K. line officials then turned up accommodations for nine naval, two marine and four army officers, all Japanese-language students who recently have been ordered to other stations and a group of consular employees.

Vichy and German Gov'ts Discuss Peace

New York, Aug. 21 — (AP)—A BBC broadcast from London which quoted French border reports to the Free French news agency AFI today said the Vichy and German Governments are discussing a peace treaty by which Hitler would get military and naval bases in France and North Africa and the right to joint exploitation of French Colonial Empire.

In return, the broadcast said, the Germans would partially withdraw their troops from France.

Vancouver Island was circumnavigated by Captain George Vancouver in 1792.

More than four-fifths of Thailand's population are farmers.

Thailand has about 17,000 Buddhist temples.

TWO BIG WAVES OF R.A.F. PLANES OVER THE CHANNEL

Shipping as Well as Shore Objectives Targets for Bombers

PATROL VESSELS HIT.

London, Aug. 21 (CP)—Two big waves of Royal Air Force planes roared over the channel and France in daylight sweeps today in a continuation of the smashing British offensive.

Observers along the southeast coast saw a large force of bombers, heavily escorted by fighters, head across the channel early in the afternoon shortly after a previous attacking force had returned.

The second sweep was toward the area of Boulogne and the planes of the first returned from the direction of Calais. Shipping as well as shore objectives were the targets.

(British bombers apparently did not return to the attack on Germany during the night but Nazi sources in Berlin admitted that Russian planes flying along the Baltic coast penetrated northern Germany last night and dropped bombs.)

Blast Enemy Patrol Ships

In continuance of daylight attacks on enemy shipping British Blenheim bombers yesterday blasted at enemy patrol vessels near the Frisian Island. Blenheims and fighter escorts also attacked a Nazi airdrome in Holland near Alkmaar and bomb bursts on the runways and an airdrome were observed. Other fighters carried out offensive patrols over the channel.

Enemy activity over the British Isles last night was described as on a small scale. A few bombs fell in East Anglia but did little damage and no casualties were reported.

The Air Ministry announced today that Hudson bombers scored a direct hit amidships on a Nazi supply vessel off the southern coast of Norway. The planes veered to a low level before releasing their cargo of explosives.

British fighters machine-gunned several German airfields in France during patrol duties last night.

Entry into War Not Determined by Us Says Capt. Roosevelt

London, Aug. 21 (CP)—Captain Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Roosevelt, said in an interview today that if the United States were to enter the war it might not be "determined by us but by some other people."

"One of our ships might be fired," Capt. Roosevelt, an officer in the air corps, commented. "We are going to defend our ships and our men."

Asked if American forces felt Allied victory was dependent upon United States entrance into the war he replied:

"As far as American forces go I can't speak for the generals, but as far as the rank and file go men feel that the course of the war will be on the side of Britain."

Capt. Roosevelt, who came here from the sea meeting between his father and Prime Minister Roosevelt, said he had gained the impression recently that people in Britain and the United States had relaxed their war effort.

"Since entrance into the war of Russia," he said, "there seems to have been a let-up due to a feeling of complacency." Then he added: "I haven't found it to be as marked a let-up here as I had been given the impression."

Roosevelt said he came to London on a mission for the air force and would leave next week.

700 U-BOAT PRISONERS IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Aug. 21.—(CP Cable)—More than 700 men from German U-boats are prisoners in Britain according to a BBC news broadcast to Germany last night.

It was stated the figure represented many lost submarines as only a small proportion of the crews can be saved in view of modern methods of destroying the under-water craft.

The prisoners include eighty officers and 250 non-commissioned officers.

Staple food of most of Afghanistan's population is fruit.

Obituary

INFANT HICKS

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hicks, 302 1-2 Front St., died in the Belleville General Hospital early this Thursday morning. The child was born Wednesday evening, August 20th.

LATE WILLIAM SCHWARTZ

The funeral of William Schwartz, late residence 83 Victoria Avenue, took place Wednesday afternoon, August 20th, from the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street. The service in the chapel and at the graveside in Belleville Cemetery was conductd by the Rev. Rural Dean A. Beauchamp Payne, rector of the church of St. Thomas.

JOHN SHAW ELLIOTT

(Tweed)

The funeral of John Shaw Elliott, who died at his home in Tweed on Sunday morning, August 17th., took place from his late residence on Wednesday afternoon, August 20th. The service in the home was conducted by the Rev. A. E. Pepper, Rector of St. James' Church, Tweed, assisted by the Rev. Hope Swayne, Rector of Merrickville, Ontario, a former Rector of St. James' Anglican Church. Tweed.

Interment was in Victoria cemetery, Tweed. The bearers were Messrs. R. T. Graham, Fred B. Foster, Fred C. Arber, S. R. Dafoe, F. S. Craig and Dr. P. T. Bowlby.

The late Mr. Elliott was born fifty-eight years ago in Tweed, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Elliott. His mother's maiden name was Miss Elizabeth Shaw. Practically all his life was passed in Tweed and he was highly esteemed by many friends to whom his death brought much regret. For many years he was in the service of the former Canadian Express Company. In religion he was a faithful member of St. James' Anglican Church.

Surviving him are his wife who prior to her marriage was Miss Lillian Shannon formerly of Innerkip, Ontario; two sons, Charles Elliott with the R.C.A.F. in Newfoundland, and Robert Elliott with the R.C.A.F. at Mountain View; three daughters, Miss Doris Elliott, Reg. N., Smith's Falls; Miss Marjorie Elliott of the Denbigh Continuation School, and Miss Margaret Elliott of Montreal.

SAY NAZI TROOPS IN BULGARIA

German Aviators Stated to be in Sofia—Speculation Over Reported Developments

Ankara, Turkey, Aug. 20.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Foreign diplomatic sources reported today that advance units of two German army divisions had arrived in Bulgaria and that Italian patrols have been scouting the Greek-Turkish border.

At the same time fresh groups of German aviators were reported to have arrived in the Bulgarian capital of Sofia during the past few days. The portent of these reported developments opposite the Turkish frontier was uncertain, but one competent source said they could have only two purposes:

1.—To take over from the Bulgarians certain policing duties in occupied areas in Southeastern Europe.

2.—To undertake aggressive action against Turkey with the object of opening the Dardanelles to permit German ships to enter the Black Sea with supplies for Nazi troops now fighting in the Ukraine.

The same sources said Italian garrisons on Greek Islands adjacent to the Dardanelles had been increased.

The foreign diplomatic sources also said they had been receiving reports for several weeks of extensive preparation of airports in Bulgaria, even though German troops there during the Greek campaign were moved north before the war with Russia began June 22.

Claim Troops Are Fresh

German troops now reported arriving in Bulgaria were described as fresh and well-equipped and obviously from reserve areas rather than from the Russian front. Included among the advance units were said to be a number of Elite S.S. Troops.

Commenting on the possibility that new Nazi troop arrivals in Bulgaria might be utilized to relieve Bulgarian forces now occupying parts of Serbia and northern Greece so that these might be sent to the Russian front, diplomatic quarters expressed doubt that Bulgarians would consent to fight the Russians. Add Italian patrols Pl:IJESI

Walt Disney's
AMAZING, FULL-LENGTH FEATURE PRODUCTION
THE RELUCTANT DRAGON
with
ROBERT BENCHLEY
Sequences in MULTIPLANE
TECHNICOLOR
Distributed by RKO RADIO PICTURES, Inc.
.BELLE.
STARTS
SATURDAY
CONTINUOUS
SHOW ON SATURDAY
Starting 1 p.m.

AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE.
T-O-N-I-G-H-T
A HONEY OF A MUSICAL!
Hit high spots of hilarity!
Sweetheart OF THE Campus
with
RUBY KEELER
HARRIET HILLIARD
OZZIE NELSON
AND HIS BAND
2nd. Feature
A FUGITIVE FROM TERROR TALKS
"I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND"
— Featured Cast —
SALLY EILERS
DONALD WOODS
EDWARD CIANNELLI
ADDED COMEDY - CARTOON
"There's Music in Your Hair"
2nd. Thrill-Packed Chapter
BUCK JONES
in
"WHITE EAGLE"
Serial
COMING NEXT THURSDAY
AUGUST 28th.
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
in
"DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR"

Promise More Intensive Raids

London, Aug. 21—(CP)—British air raids during the last eight weeks of heavy attack have placed far more Royal Air Force bombers over Germany in a single night than the Germans put over Britain nightly in the heaviest assaults of last autumn and winter, a high authority said today.

This authority promised even more intensive raids as the winter progresses this year, remarking that the German people "are catching it now."

TONIGHT & FRIDAY
A RIOT... TOGETHER!
"Wyoming's" sweethearts in a new hit!
BARNACLE BILL
Wallace BEERY
with
MARJORIE MAIN
LEO CARRILLO
VIRGINIA WEIDLER
DONALD MEEK
BARTON MacLANE
2nd. HIT! Mystery! Romance!
"A SHOT IN THE DARK"
W. Lundigan
Nan Wynn
Extra! MARCH OF TIME presents NEW ENGLAND, U.S.A.
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE.
Daily 2.30: 7.00. Last Show 8.30

THE WAR TODAY

(By DON GILBERT)
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Unrest in the industrial suburbs of Paris reported in Vichy dispatches today has the makings of real trouble for France's German masters and their Vichy satellites. It may end in a blood bath comparable to some of the worst episodes of the French revolutionary period.

Defiance of German authority, it is clear from what information gets out of France, has become acute in the Paris region since the German invasion of Russia, and the round-up now in progress, accompanied by frequent executions was foreshadowed in Marshal Petain's declaration of August 13.

Singled Down to Jews

Heretofore Vichy dispatches dealing with arrests and disorders have spoken of "Communists and Jews"—the usual designation accorded opponents of Nazi Germany and its puppet regimes—but today the identification is singled down to Jews. Perhaps this is because the authorities think it unwise to recall to public attention the fact there are Communists, and a great many of them, in these districts often described in pre-war days as the "Red Suburbs" of Paris.

Naturally the German military authorities prefer to leave counter measures as far as possible in French hands, and in Admiral Darlan and Pierre Pucheu, who have been busy building up a French Gestapo they have eager collaborators. Pucheu, a newcomer to power, is Minister of the interior and in charge of all police organizations. He is an avowed Fascist.

Sabotage Prevalent in Paris

Sabotage has reached such proportions in the Paris region, however, that the German military authorities have been forced to intervene and carry out executions before firing squads. Gen. Heinrich Von Stuelpnagel, the German commander, is threatening reprisals against the entire population of occupied France, not merely those guilty of acts of sabotage.

The point the Germans must know, and fear, in the light of French history is that the severer repressive measures become the more desperate are the opposition likely to grow. The underground movement can be expected to expand in proportion to the extent of its number sent before firing squads.

The widespread nature of the opposition is indicated by Paris radio announcement of counter-measures affecting districts as far apart as Alsace and the Basque country. In Alsace, according to the orders, "anyone speaking against Germany will be hanged and anyone speaking French when they know German will be sent to a concentration camp for a year."

Bank of Canada bills are in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100 and $1,000

—If You Suffer Periodic—
Female Weakness
AND NEED TO FORTIFY RED BLOOD!
Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS (with added iron) have helped thousands of girls to relieve functional monthly pain and weakness. Pinkham's Tablets ALSO help build up red blood and thus aid in promoting MORE STRENGTH. Worth trying!

MAY MOVE GOVERNMENT

New York, Aug. 21—(CP)—The Moscow radio said last night that "high Nazi circles" are reported to be planning for removal of the German Government from Berlin. The Moscow report, recorded by CBS, said that many high officials of the German Government have already moved from Berlin and return to it only for important business.

First Anglican Church in Canada, St. Paul's, was built at Halifax in 1750.

I.D.A. Rx DRUG STORES
—Competitive Prices Plus Personal Service.—

IT'S A PLEASURE TO SHOP AT YOUR I.D.A. DRUG STORE.
Here's Why—

You will find the surroundings necessary to pleasant and profitable shopping at your I.D.A. Druggists—complete stocks of fresh merchandise, well displayed and clearly marked at prices that save you money—modern store fixtures and arrangements—clean, well-lighted interiors — and backed by the friendly, personal service on which I.D.A. Druggists have built their business.

Buy where it is easy, pleasant and profitable to shop. Visit your I.D.A. Drug Store.

SEE "CANADA'S ANSWER"

See men of all our fighting forces—Canadian war machines — the glamor of patriotic entertainment and music . . Canada answers the call of freedom with mighty effort. See it dramatized at the CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION.
Aug. 22 - Sept. 6

SPECIAL VALUES & REMINDERS
for THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY
WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES.

Bromo-Seltzer — Former $1.20 Size. Special. — 69c
MINERAL OIL — 40 ounce size. Regular 79c. — 63c
KKOVAH — HEALTH SALTS. Keep you fit. — 25c, 69c
KLEEN-OR — ANTISEPTIC—16 oz. I.D.A.—Reg. 79c. — 59c
LAXATIVE — VEGETABLE TABLETS. I.D.A. Reg. 25c — 17c
WRITING PADS — Choice of 3 sizes. — 7c
ENVELOPES — To Match Above Pads. 25 in bundle, for — 5c
CURL COMBS — ASSORTED COLORS. — 4c
POCKET COMBS — HANDY Size. — 4c
BABY PANTS — 2 pair 35c
VELVOTEX — Mitten-type Hair Remover. — 25c

I.D.A. MEMBERS
Dolan's — Doyle's
Geen's — Pauley's
Schryver's

RUSSIA BELIEVED TO HAVE BLOWN DAM OVER DNIEPER

Officials in London Make No Attempt to Hide Gravity of Russian Position

BLOWING DESCRIBED

London, Aug. 21 (CP)—The third German offensive against Russia appeared to be nearing a close today with German advances on both the Ukrainian and Leningrad fronts and authoritative quarters in London made no attempt to hide what they regard as the gravity of the Russian position.

These quarters were frankly gloomy is discussing the situation, although they said they had no official confirmation of reports that the Nazis had smashed their way across the Dnieper River south of Dniepropetrovsk or that retreating Russians had blown up the great hydro electric power dam on the river at nearby Zaporozhe.

(The Associated Press has been unable to confirm the report that the dam was destroyed. The report was circulated Wednesday night in several round-about dispatches.)

In London The Daily Mail said its Stockholm correspondent had obtained the information from a Russian source "in close touch with the Kremlin."

The correspondent said that Premier Joseph Stalin telephoned Marshal Semeon Budenny Tuesday night:

"Have you got all the men you can across?"

He was alluding to the Dnieper River.

Stalin Orders Dam Blown

"Yes, nearly half a million," Budenny replied.

"Good, then blow the dam," ordered Stalin.

After describing how the dam took four years to build the Mail correspondent continued:

"A series of dull explosions, a moment of suspense, then, with a mighty swish, millions of tons of pent-up water burst through, carrying off masses of masonry in spray hundreds of feet high."

The correspondent said that militarily the bursting of the dam "indicates that Stalin realizes Hitler correctly summed up the most important German objective as annihilation of the Red armies" and added:

"Accordingly, preservation of the Red army is the chief Russian objective and sacrifice of the Ukraine industries is worth while. The Dnieper is rendered unnavigable, it is half a mile wide, and stoutly defended, is a tremendous obstacle for the Germans."

Destruction of the dam, said to be the world's largest hydro-electric works, would halt virtually all the industrial area of the central Ukraine and cause the Russians to depend almost entirely on new industries established in the rural mountains and United States supplies for war weapons.

Says He Saved 150 Gallons 'Gas'

In Peterborough County farmers are co-operating with the Government in the conservation of gasoline. This week Gordon Nicholls, of Smith Township, left his tractor and tractor binder under cover and used his own and neighbors' horses to harvest. He claims he saved at least 150 gallons of gasoline in this manner.

Fifteen horses were used to haul the binders, adjacent farmers helped in the harvesting bee that commenced at seven in the morning and by sundown all of Mr. Nicholls' grain was in the barn.

It is reported that one would have to journey to the Canadian west to witness such a concerted effort of harvesting.

SAY SOME FRENCH PRISONERS RELEASED BY NAZIS HAVE T.B.

Vichy, France, Aug. 21 (AP) — Informed sources said today that "a relatively important percentage" of French prisoners who have been released by the Germans are suffering from tuberculosis.

The disclosure came about with issue of a joint French-Swiss announcement on an agreement for hospital care of demobilized and tubercular French soldiers in French-speaking sections of Switzerland. Under the agreement, the first group of 1,000 will leave for Switzerland Aug. 25, and other groups of 1,000 will follow.

DRAGGING OPERATIONS ARE UNDERWAY

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 21—(CP)—Dragging operations were under way today at Clear Lake, 30 miles north of here, after searchers had found evidence that Mrs. A. Macomish, middle-aged farmer's wife, of the Clear Lake area, had slipped down a grassy bank into the water. Mrs. Macomish has been missing since Sunday.

Yesterday neighbors found footprints on a grassy slope leading down to the lake and a flattened stretch of grass near the water's edge

RELIEF CAMPAIGN OPENS EARLY

Berlin, Aug. 21 — (AP) — Germany's winter relief campaign will open Sept. 1, one month earlier than usual, D.N.B. reported today.

The news agency said that in addition to street collections "voluntary contributions from salaries, wages, etc., will be retained" for direct payment to the fund.

ZELLER'S
RETAILERS TO THRIFTY CANADIANS

NEW FOR FALL!
WOOLENE FROCKS 2.98
Great Variety! New Styles; of Woolene Crepe (spun rayon). Popular shades for Fall wear; striped. Sizes 12 to 20.

Accessories

Ladies' Gloves 79c
Black, brown, or navy Gloves of brushed rayon with pretty embroidery trims. Sizes 6 to 8. Splendid value!

Smart Bags 1.49
Advance Fashions for Fall! Black, brown and navy Keratols and Patents. Underarm and tophandle styles. Excellent quality.

All Wool Cardigans 1.98
Lovely long sleeved button-front Sweaters in black, scarlet, green, turquoise and powder blues, rose. Sizes 14 to 20.

• • •

LINGERIE
● LADIES' PANTIES: Celasuede or rayon in tearose and white. Popular sizes.. .. .. 25c
● SLIPS: Twin-Seam models of suede-taffeta or rayon satin; tearose, white. Sizes 32 to 40 .... 69c

• • •

CORSETRY
"LASTEX" GIRDLES: Tearose, white; in popular sizes, at 59c
● CORSELETTES: made of "Lastex"; bra-top styles. Rayon Brocade corselettes with inner belt. Tearose, white. Small, medium and large sizes 1.49

For the Home!

"WOOLCOT" BLANKETS
Size 66 x 80. Edges bound with sateen. Your choice of check prett[illegible]. Zeller-priced each 1.98

60 x 72 COMFORTERS
Warm, soft Comforters filled with sterilized cotton. Coverings in dainty shades of rose, blue, and green 1.98

"IBEX" BLANKETS
Your choice of white or grey with borders of pink or blue. Sizes 64 x 72; 70 x 84. Priced at 2.29 and 2.59

Comforters
Size 66 x 72. Reversible; covered with celanese satin in color combinations of rose and blue, gold and rose, wine or green and gold Zeller-Priced 4.95

BOYS . . .
BLOUSES! SHIRTS!
Your choice of "Buddy's Best" and "Warrendale" brands; made of 100 x 60 broadcloth. White, and patterns in sizes 11 to 13½ 69c

TIES! Great Variety!
Great variety of types and patterns, including Tartan Plaids. Grand Value! 19c

KNEE PANTS
Your choice of grey, blue, brown or green cotton tweed; or blue cheviot. Lined. Three pockets. Elastic insert at back. Sizes 24 to 28 .... 1.00

ZELLER'S LIMITED

Wallace Becry's "Lady Blacksmith", Marjorie Main, America's funniest sweethearts, are seen in "Barnacle Bill" uproarious waterfront thriller, now on the Belle Theatre screen, Leo Carrillo and Virginia Weidler are seen in important supporting roles.

The Caspian sea, covering 169,000 square miles is the world's largest inland sea.

King Cole in English legend is said to have reigned in the 3rd century.

THE SMARTEST HATS IN TOWN!

They're Beauties . . .
The New Fall Hats

Magically flattering to every face . . great brimmed hats and draped turbans. Alluringly veiled or prim with simplicity . . sophisticated, yet pretty — equally smart for daytime or "dates." Compliment catching and wearable.

CHOOSE YOURS EARLY!

WOODLEY'S
273 FRONT STREET

THREE ESKIMOS REMAIN TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

Two Acquitted And Two Convicted of Manslaughter as Trials Proceed

RELIGIOUS DISPUTE

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Belcher Islands, Aug. 21 (CP)—Justice according to the King's writ remained to be dealt by a white man's jury to three Eskimos on these lonely islands in Hudson Bay.

The three are members of a group of seven accused of murder following a religious argument that resulted in the deaths of nine Eskimos here early this spring.

Two of the natives, one a woman, were acquitted yesterday on the murder count and verdicts of guilty of manslaughter were brought in for two others.

A jury made up of newspapermen, a mining party and a schooner crew, acquitted an Eskimo woman known as Akkevik. She was charged with the killing of Sarah Apawkok, 15-year-old girl. Alec Apawkok, brother of the girl also was acquitted on a charge of slaying his sister. Those found guilty of manslaughter were Peter Sala and another Eskimo named Ablaykok, the jury bringing in a strong recommendation for mercy in Ablaykok's case. They were accused of murder in the

A dispute as to whether Christ had come to earth again was said in testimony to have formed the basis of a religious quarrel which resulted in the nine deaths. Witnesses told how Sarah Apawkok died during a surge of disorder at a religious meeting over whether Satan could be driven from the tribe by deaths.

Eva Kaytowiek, an Eskimo widow, testified she had never quarrelled with her husband, but was told to be glad when he was killed because he was Satan. Her testimony was given at the trial of Peter Quarack and Charlie Ouyerack charged with murdering her husband, Alec Kaytowiek. Quarack is her father.

She told the court Ouyerack told her Alec Kaytowiek was Satan. Moses, another Eskimo witness, said that Alec Kaytowiek was told by Ouyerack to walk out on the ice and Quarack shot him.

Similar evidence or distorted religious beliefs and violence was given by other witnesses.

Paper Discusses Possibility of Empire War Council

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Arrival in London of Prime Minister Mackenzie King today touched off a discussion in the afternoon press of how the dominions can best be represented in the Empire's War Councils.

The Evening News said representation of the dominions in the United Kingdom War Cabinet is a war problem which must be solved.

"Is there not some way by which the dominions can appoint plenipotentiaries in this country, men of higher authority than a High Commissioner, men free to be in constant consultation with the War Cabinet?" asked the Evening News.

The Star recalled that Prime Minister Churchill had said he would welcome an Imperial conference at the opportune time and said Mr. King's arrival brought the prospect nearer.

The paper remarked that Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand is here, Australia is discussing a visit by Prime Minister R. G. Menzies, and that the visit to the Middle East fronts of Prime Minister Jan Smuts of South Africa seemed to show a visit to Britain by him was not impossible.

"We need the Empire's best minds with us, first in winning the war and then in facing the great worldwide task of reconstruction which will follow victory," the Star declared.

YOUNG BOY DROWNS IN CANAL

Montreal, Aug. 21—(CP) — Jean Paul Joannise, 9, was drowned in the Lachine Canal here yesterday when he tried to retrieve an old automobile tire with which he had been playing.

According to police, the tire rolled out of his grasp into the canal Descending a ladder the victim lost his balance and disappeared before he could grasp a plank tossed in by a passer-by. The body was recovered later.

THREE FIRES BREAK OUT

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Aug. 21 (CP)—Three fires broke out almost simultaneously last night in the Belfast Falls Road industrial section.

All were extinguished before midnight but flames ate through two factories, the Ross Spinning Mill and the British Rayon Silk Corporation. The third blaze was at the Northern Spinning Corporation.

There was no official announcement on origin of the fires.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS CAR

Chicoutimi, Que., Aug. 21—(CP)—Ulderic St. Hilaire of Ste. Anne De Beaupre was found dead in his automobile yesterday following an accident at nearby Jonquieres.

Witnesses told police of having seen a speeding automobile cross the street, jump the sidewalk and then plunge into the ditch. Mr. St. Hilare, who was about 40 years old, apparently succumbed to a heart attack. He was apparently uninjured.

DEBATE ANIMATED ON LABOR STANDS

Australian Navy Minister Says Commonwealth Needs Best Representation in London

Canberra, Aug. 21—(AP)—The Federal Labor Party, at a caucus today, decided against the proposal that Prime Minister Robert Menzies go to London as Prime Minister to represent the Commonwealth in the British War Cabinet, but at the same time Government parties approved the proposal.

The Labor caucus passed resolutions carrying dissensions to the Prime Minister's visit in that capacity. They were:

Having regard to the gravity of the war situation as it affects the Commonwealth, it is essential for Australia to have its Prime Minister here to direct administration and organization of a total war effort.

That arrangements should be made with the British Government for representation of the Commonwealth Government in Britain to ensure that its point of view with respect to Empire policy should be constantly before the British Cabinet.

Effect of the Labor Party's decision is that the Party will not oppose Mr. Menzies' going to London provided he first relinquishes the Premiership.

Government Parties Agree

Mr. Menzies announced after a meeting with Government Parties that they agreed, with one dissension, that he should go to London as Prime Minister. However, he already has declared that he will not go to Britain in that capacity if opposed by any party.

Observers say the only step left is for the Cabinet to accept or reject the Labor recommendation. If it rejects it, the present unofficial political truce will end and the Government will be challenged almost immediately on the conduct of the war.

Lively Debate

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Following the decision of the labor caucus at Canberra today opposing Prime Minister R. G. Menzies' going to London to sit with the British War Cabinet, debate ensued in Parliament which became very animated.

After John Curtin, Labor leader, had defended the decision of the caucus, Navy Minister W. H. Hughes emphasized the need of the best representation in London, he said Australia needed America's help in the Pacific and the only one who could induce the United States to send ships to the South Pacific was Britain.

The debate continued to a late hour and in the meantime the full Cabinet met to study the position arising out of Labor's uncompromising attitude to Mr. Menzies' refusal to go to London other than as Prime Minister. There was much talk in the lobbies of a possible election on the issue.

MARINERS COMING-UP

London, (CP)— Despite wartime irregularity of mails many deckboys of the British merchant navy are keeping up correspondence courses in navigational studies of the University College of Southampton.

KEEP THE WHEELS TURNING

WRIGLEY'S KEEPS YOU REFRESHED WHILE YOU WORK!

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT CHEWING GUM
AFTER EVERY MEAL

Quick hands and steady nerves are essential for every job in war time. Wrigley's Spearmint Gum helps relieve fatigue and nervous tension —refreshes you on the job. The delicious flavor helps keep your mouth and throat cool and moist, your breath fresh, and the healthful chewing aids digestion. For handy enjoyment, always carry a package or two of Wrigley's Spearmint Gum. CHEW IT WHILE YOU WORK—millions do! Only 5¢!

BUY SOME TODAY!

INDIAN TROOPS AT KEREN

Bombay, (CP) —Headed by the King, all Imperial and other authorities have forwarded their congratulations in the notably brave and effectual operations of Indian troops at Keren and other engagements of the victorious Eitrean campaign.

SEE WAR'S END

London, (CP) — Arthur Ware, leader of six men who abandoned careers in 1934 to devote themselves to Bible study, told a conscientious objectors' tribunal they were convinced the war would end in 1942.

Lake Ladoga, Russia, is the largest lake in Europe and covers 7,000 square miles.

Only with the
JOHN DEERE
Two Cylinder Design

DO YOU GET THIS EXCLUSIVE COMBINATION OF FEATURES

- Low Fuel Cost.
- Straight-Line Transmission.
- Belt Pulley on Crankshaft.
- One Piece Transmission Case.
- Thermo-Siphon Cooling.
- Smooth Power.
- Proper Weight Distribution.

SEE THE JOHN DEERE MODELS
at
Trudeau Motor Sales
LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS

NOW Pleasantly Scented
Neet
CREAM HAIR-REMOVER
•SAFE - •QUICK •PAINLESS
68c - $1.13
SCHRYVER'S PHARMACY
PHONE 43

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building: Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

PRIME MINISTER KING IN BRITAIN

Prime Minister King has flown to the British Isles in a giant bomber and is enthusiastic over the first trip of his life by plane. He has gone to Britain to attend conferences with Prime Minister Churchill and the British War Cabinet concerning Canada's future part in the war and to visit Canadian forces in the United Kingdom.

His visit now will be of especial importance as a consequence of its following so closely upon the recent historic meeting of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill somewhere in the Atlantic. The importance of those meetings of which the fate of the world was the theme is patent to every one especially in the light of the statement which was given out as "the eight points" of agreement and of the things that remained unsaid, but sooner or later to be translated into actions against the enemy.

Canada occupies a unique place in the Empire scheme of things and through this in the whole Allied plan because of her geographical position. The presence of Mr. King in Britain is therefore of importance from that standpoint as well as from the viewpoint of his being Canada's Prime Minister studying the situation at first hand.

UNPLEASANT TO THE GERMANS

Something new has come to the Berlin people, something that Hermann Goering told the Germans could not come. Air raids from the western or English skies, air raids from the eastern or Russian skies. Once Goering said to the Ruhr people, "You will not be exposed to a single enemy bomb from enemy aircraft." Goering has long been discredited as a prophet.

New York Times says that the renewed and intensified bombing of German cities, especially targets in Berlin is having a psychological effect as well as a material effect.

Germany is between two fires. In the first Great War aircraft were not so long of range and a thick or wide country like Germany, could escape largely. Today distance is scarcely anywhere to be considered as an obstacle to flying, for the range of fighters and bombers has greatly magnified. Had Hitler waged his war a few years ago it might have been more easy on the nerves of the German people but today any part of Germany is subject to attack wherever there is a military target.

Older Germans must now recall that they once before were surrounded in 1918. Today though they look down on millions of subjugated citizens of overrun lands, Germans are ringed with hatred and have not a friend in the entire earth. Everywhere in Europe and elsewhere it is "thumbs up" for Allied victory and "thumbs down" for the dastardly villain of Berchtesgaden and his crew of sycophants. Germany by her actions stands condemned in the eyes of men as the foe of humanity. The Nazi acts show the calculating brutality of Hitler and Nazism. The Danish populace according to the Times has adopted a red white and blue emblem with the letters DKS meaning "The Cold Shoulder" for the Germans. In the land of the Serbs the Germans have a foe that hates them because of Hun aggression. Nowhere can Hitler count on a true friend. It is a lovely world for the criminal Hun.

Between two fires Germans find themselves, the raids of British and Russian air fleets, which can cover entirely Germany and Nazi-held countries. After two years of war Hitler's air blitzes have in this season come home to roost—they cannot prevent the Royal Air Force and the Russian aerial squadrons from visiting any point in Germany at will.

IN COMMON GRAVE

Heroic in their lives, the Right Honorable Arthur B. Purvis and the 21 fellow-passengers on the Atlantic ferry airplane which fell on Aug. 14 in Great Britain lie in a heroes' grave in the England they have given their lives to defend. It was fitting that Mr. Purvis, greatest of arms [illegible] and the great com[illegible] who died with him should sleep in one common grave.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY
Geo. H. Carnes

THE GAY NINETIES

When a man bites a dog—that's considered news of the first water, but when the sports scribe splashes out on the editorial page—well, that should be a double-dipper, or as Andrew H. Brown would say—"that's sumpin".

While G. H. C. is basking in the Maritime sunshine this G.F.J. still has to grind out copy, so today's story might be of interest to the old timers of the community as "cycling in the gay 90's" is to be the general topic.

In the early 90's Belleville boasted of a heralded cycling club, known as the Ramblers' Wheel Club, of which Hope McGinnis, the city's present Health Inspector, was secretary. Mr. McGinnis still possesses a large silken banner, which was donated by The Intelligencer for a road race from here to Kingston and return. The race was held on July 10th, 1895 and the Belleville cyclists won over a Kingston team.

Them Was The Days

According to Hope McGinnis it was a relay race starting at the old Quinte Hotel and the riders covered the distance in five hours and 15 minutes over the old York Road. There were no paved roads in those days, the riders having to pedal over the roughest sort of gravel highways and the riding was anything but smooth, although pneumatic tires had just come into being and made riding much more comfortable than during the period of the old hard rubber tires.

Today there seems to be a trend towards cycling and doubtless there are more bikes in Belleville in 1941 than ever in the history of the community. Before the 90's one of the first bicycles was of the type with a huge large wheel in front and a smaller one behind. The rider had to climb up some six or seven feet and was perched on a hard seat directly over the top of the mammoth big wheel and it took an expert to manipulate this early contraption. Later came the conventional modern bike known today.

'Member These Makes

In those early days most every town and city had its bicycle club and the Canadian Wheelmen's Association was the gun behind sanctioned race meets all over the province. Bicycle shops and repair centres were as common for bikes then as garages are for cars today. Some of the more popular makes of bikes then were the Massey Harris, the first to bring out the cushion frame bike, the Cleveland, Gendron, Stearns and Brantford Red Bird were other popular makes and bike races, both track and road variety, were in their heyday. The Dunlop and R. T. Q. races were the big events of this province and run off in Toronto.

Handicaps were given the class "B" riders, while the crack riders started from scratch. Races in those days were run in remarkably good time, considering the kind of roads they had to travel on. Riders wore uniforms, knickers as golfers wear being recognized as the latest creation in bike racing apparel.

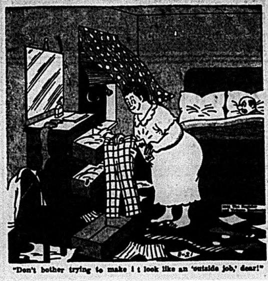
Horrors, Bloomers!

Then ladies began to appear riding bikes and wore divided skirts. Some members of the community looked askance at that, but the worst was yet to come when the fair sex adorned themselves with bloomers (horrors!) and rode boldly down the main streets. That was the last straw. Preachers delivered sermons in protest on Sunday mornings up and down the province, various women's organizations railed and ranted, but the bloomers became quite the vogue.

Police courts used to do a land office business on a Monday morning when "scorchers" (those demon speeders on bikes were called "scorchers") were hailed before the local Cadi and fined the large sum of one dollar and costs for speeding. The evidence given by the constable went something like this—"I saw him scorching down the street at a rate of 15 miles an hour." What would those same officers say to the present speeding of 80 to 90 miles per hour on the open highways today, doubtless their hair would turn gray over night. In those days there were not coaster brakes, the rider merely placed his feet on the forks and let her roll, trusting to Providence, and we don't mean Rhode Island.

Before we say—"take it away G. H. C." your correspondent wants it known, that [illegible]ference made to names o[illegible] anyone now living or dead is purely co-incidental, if not accidental.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed



"Don't bother trying to make i t look like an 'outside job,' dear!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 21st, 1921.

Messrs. Ralph Morden and C. Keeber, who are connected with the local branch of the Y.M.C.A., made a long trip by canoe today. They left here at 8 o'clock this morning, took their lunch at Twelve O'clock Point and reached PresquTle at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. They reached home at 10 o'clock in the evening. The distance paddled was about fifty miles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McFarlane have returned to their home here after spending some time in Western Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Newton have left for St. Louis, Mo., after visiting the former's father, ex-Police Chief John Newton, Ann Street.

Mr. Paul Clement has returned to his home in Marmora after visiting Mr. Arthur Quincey, Fahey Street.

Mr. Claude Tice has returned to the city after spending a vacation at PresquTle.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 21st, 1911.

Alderman R. W. Adams has been appointed to the Board of License Commissioners for West Hastings in the place of the late John W. London.

Ald. Chown and Ald. Vermilyea presided over the police court proceedings this morning.

The Rev. J. F. Dingman of Mount Forest, Ontario, a former Bellevillian, was the special preacher at the Baptist Church here on Sunday.

The rolling mills which have been partly in operation for some time will commence running full capacity tomorrow.

Mr. C. W. Bacon, William St., left today to visit his daughter, Mrs. S. W. E. Candy in Edmonton, Alberta.

Mr. George Thompson of Montreal, an old Belleville boy, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Catharine St.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 21st, 1901.

The Rev. W. E. Harrison and Mrs. Harrison of Ivanhoe recently visited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baker, Victoria Avenue.

The work of repairing the Walker dam in the Moira River is progressing satisfactorily. The dam was partially taken away by the ice last spring.

Messrs. E. Guss Porter and William Carnew have formed a partnership for the practice of law in this city.

His Grace Archbishop Gauthier of Kingston was in town yesterday and was the guest of the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Farrelly of St. Michael's Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moynes are spending some time in Buffalo, N.Y.

Mrs. Wesley Way of Mountain View is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Thompson, Sinclair ~~The indications that gas will be~~

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 21st, 1891.

The drillers for natural gas in this city were encouraged yesterday morning when gas was struck at a depth of 120 feet. The gas was allowed to burn all day and the flames ascended about four feet above the ground. The news soon spread about the city that gas had been struck and hundreds of citizens visited the scene of the drilling. The flame was extinguished last night and drilling was resumed today. Theindications that gas will be struck in larger quantities are most favorable.

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Lawn Bowlers' Association which was held at Niagara Falls, Mr. W. H. Biggar, M.P.P., of this city was elected President, and Mr. Charles Lavis of this city was elected a member of the executive committee.

A valuable horse owned by Mr. Adam Henry dropped dead on Pinnacle Street this morning. The horse was valued at $140.

Newest Notes of Science

An inventor has mounted a knife in a transparent box to hold down paper, cardboard or textiles from which clippings or samples are cut.

Said to be the swiftest passenger train in Asia is one drawn by a Diesel powered locomotive with which the South Manchuria Railway is experimenting.

An attachment for almost all types of alarm clocks has been designed by a Chicago man to turn radios or electric appliances on or off at desired times.

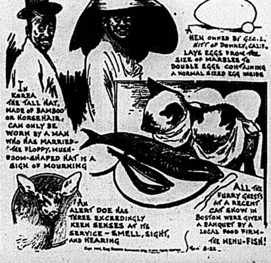
To meet a fuel shortage Sweden is planning to produce 1,000,000 tons of peat next year, compared with 300,000 tons this year and 150,000 tons last year.

An inventor's reel for casting rods is self winding, retrieving 70 to 90 feet of an angler's line without cranking when a release lever is pressed.

A Japanese colony in the Amazon valley in Brazil will produce about 1200 tons of true jute this year after repeated failures to produce the fibre since 1930.

A five tube radio receiver with a dynamic speaker is built into the base of a new table lamp. tuning being done by revolving a dial at the bottom of the base.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT



IN KOREA THE TALL HAT, MADE OF BAMBOO OR HORSEHAIR, CAN ONLY BE WORN BY A MAN WHO HAS MARRIED - THE FLOPPY, MUSHROOM-SHAPED HAT IS A SIGN OF MOURNING
HEN OWNED BY GEO. L. HITT OF DOWNEY, CALIF., LAYS EGGS FROM THE SIZE OF MARBLES TO DOUBLE EGGS CONTAINING A NORMAL SIZED EGG INSIDE
AN ALERT DOE HAS THREE EXCEEDINGLY KEEN SENSES AT ITS SERVICE - SMELL, SIGHT, AND HEARING
ALL THE FURRY GUESTS AT A RECENT CAT SHOW IN BOSTON WERE GIVEN A BANQUET BY A LOCAL FOOD FIRM - THE MENU - FISH!
8-22

Will Japan Swallow Russian Oil?

(By EDWARD E. BOMAR)

Washington, Aug. 21.—(AP)—On the other side of the world from the Russo-German fighting front, an obscure United States tanker headed for the Soviet Far Eastern port of Vladivostok is plodding daily nearer the danger zone of a possible new war explosion.

The ship, first of a number which Harold Ickes, the United States oil co-ordinator, said would take aviation gasoline to Russia, must sail through the screen of islands which comprise Japan in order to reach the Soviet Pacific gateway.

Complaining of encirclement in the South Pacific, Tokyo, now is viewing with apparently mounting concern the prospect that in the north Russia's Far Eastern forces will be thus strengthened. Japanese fear and suspicion of Russia is of much longer standing than the recent neutrality treaty with Moscow, and Red Army bombers are based only 700 miles from the Empire's capital.

Amid mutterings that American and British preparations to aid Russia involve a challenge to Japan the Cabinet is reported considering creation of a neutrality zone to "keep the war out of the North Pacific"—a zone similar to the United States neutrality belt flung about the Western Hemisphere.

First-Class Dilemma

Here are all the ingredients for a first-class dilemma, a crisis overshadowing the issue of Indo-China and Thailand, with a shooting war or a diplomatic surrender the only ways out.

Will Japan dare interfere with the flow of munitions which President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill promised in their message to Joseph Stalin? What answer is being prepared to a possible Tokyo declaration that war supplies must not move through waters near Japan?

It is hardly likely that Russia, Britain or the United States would acquiesce if Japan blocked the most feasible route for aid. To accept such a situation would be to suffer a major diplomatic defeat and loss of face.

Whatever course of action has been or will be decided on may have to be disclosed soon. The first tanker en route from Los Angeles is due to reach the other side of the Pacific in less than three weeks.

Following the normal shipping route, the ship must pass through the narrow strait between Japan's Honshu and Hokkaido Islands, within sight of the important naval base of Hokodate.

Japan in a Corner

Because of the American neutrality zone precedent, Tokyo professes to believe ample justification exists for a similar one in the North Pacific.

In both Washington and London there seems to be a firm official feeling that Japan, because of her doubts over the fate of Russia, is in a position were she must wait and see, and dare not fight or even bluff too strongly.

But with Japan in a corner for the moment, there can be no certainty as to just what she will do. Tokyo in the meantime is making the most of the uncertainty.

A Japanese naval spokesman warns that "a step further and Japan will be driven to make a decision involving life and death". For the Cabinet, an official reiterates that Japan can not remain indifferent to the shipment of munitions via Vladivostock, and complains that American diplomacy should show "more delicacy".

Detroit Mayor Acts as Mediator

Detroit, Aug. 21 (AP)—After a night of alternate conferences with rival A.F.L. and C.I.O. leaders, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries planned today to resume his role as go-between in negotiations to end a jurisdictional dispute that has tied up the city's department of street railways.

As the strike of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators (American Federation of Labor) continued into the second day, negotiators were confronted with "sympathy" strike threats involving other city departments.

Frank Riley, business agent of the A.F.L. Electrical Workers Union, said the strike might spread to other municipal services, and and Frank X. Martel, president of the Wayne County Federation of Labor, said Amalgamated's action had the promised support of the Hotel Workers' Union and the Building Trades Council.

GOOD REASON FOR CLOSE GUARD

Chicago, Aug. 21—(AP)—Sheriffs in the pioneer days of Illinois had a mighty good reason for guarding prisoners closely, it was revealed today. It was the law that if a man escaped, the sheriff must "take the offender's place, assume all his debts and pay the fine for which he has been imprisoned."

BURGLAR GOT THROUGH WINDOW

Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—During every hot spell the last six summers William Pokorny struggled vainly to open a small window of his home. But a burglar came in through the obstinate window and left the same way—with objects valued at $8.

HOLDUP CHARGED MAN ARRESTED

Accused Pulled From Damaged Car And Rushed to Hospital

Bolton, Ont., Aug. 21—(CP)—An unsuccessful attempt to hold up a store five miles west of here last night ended early this morning when police pulled Jack Bradley from his damaged car near Toronto and put him under police guard in hospital where he is charged with attempted holdup.

Albert Potter, store proprietor told police that two men drove up to the gas station in front of his store late yesterday and ordered some gasoline. As he filled their tank the pair strolled into his store. One walked around the counter where he was met by Mrs. Potter.

"This is a holdup; be quiet," Mrs. Potter was told.

He opened the cash drawer and was about to empty it when Mrs. Potter screamed and her screams attracted her husband outside. Potter decided neither had a gun and tackled the men. During the scuffle Potter was hit over the head.

He reported to police and the car was spotted heading to Toronto. An 80-mile-an-hour chase ended when Bradley's car struck a parked car and plunged into a ditch. The second man escaped.

Germany to Close Cuban Consulates

Berlin, Aug. 21. — (AP)— The German government announced today it had ordered closing of Cuban consulates in Germany effective September fifteen.

(The announcement followed closely the action of the Italain government in closing Cuban consulates in Italy in retaliation for the expulsion of the Italian consul general from Cuba.

(Cuba ordered expulsion of seven German consuls as well as one Italian and Germany earlier had responded by demanding withdrawal of Cuban consuls from German occupied territories.)

A note handed the Cuban charge D'Affaires requested the withdrawal of all Cuban consular officials, employees and former employees.

DNB, Nazi propaganda and News Agency rang the familiar Nazi theme in contending the action was taken because one Cuban consular official had been allegedly engaging in activities outside his regular duties, thus "giving reason for severe objection".

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton M.D.

Is This an Ideal Hearing Aid?

It is now possible for one whose eyesight is defective to obtain glasses that will almost completely correct the condition and he is able to see as well as one who is free of any defect.

When, by the use of the audiometer ,the loss of the amount and type of sound could be measured, it was hoped that by the use of hearing aids it would be possible to so construct them that the hard of hearing individual would hear sounds exactly as he had heard them before he lost some of his hearing. While some have found these hearing aids to give them practically all their hearing ability, others are greatly disappointed and, after trying one or more hearing aids and not obtaining "perfect" hearing, give up the use of any hearing aid whatever.

It should be interesting to these discouraged hard of hearing individuals to consider carefully the words of Dr. N. A. Watson, Instructor in Physics, University of California, at the annual meeting of the American Society of Hard of Hearing:

"The ideal hearing aid has been defined many times as the aid which would allow the individual to hear just as if his hearing was unimpaired—normal". "No hearing aid can make an individual with impaired hearing absolutely normal. Therefore we must not ask the impossible of an electro-mechanical device".

What we can set up as an ideal aid is an instrument which would use the present hearing ability of the individual to its fullest extent for some certain purposes such as understanding speech or enjoying music, not both purposes. A hearing aid which would be ideal for speech might not be the most satisfactory for music, since in the case of speech it is the "understanding" of it that is of "first" importance, while in the case of music it is the quality that must be considered first.

Another point emphasized at the convention was that many who wear artificial aid stake little or no care of them and blame the instrument for not giving uniform satisfaction. The instrument may be dropped or jarred, batteries allowed to run down or not interchanged and a vacuum tube can wear out just as in a radio set. This lack of care is responsible for the poor service of some hearing aids.

The New Zealand State Forest Service is experimenting in the production of charcoal from native woods for use as a substitute for gasoline in motor vehicles.

Just Folks
by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

QUAT RAINS

Advantage of the Rich

The rich have this advantage o'er us all,
So long as they shall live:
When some one near for aid is forced to call
They have the means to give.

x x x

1941

One truth is certain: Till the world shall go
Into Time's vast abyss.
Never again shall men and women know
So mad an age as this.

Ambition

Who sets his heart on climbing high
And seeks to journey far,
To many a need must blind his eye
Where friends and neighbors are.

x x x

Choice

I think that I would rather be
A busy sort of chap,
Than spend the days allowed to me
Asleep in fortune's lap.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

BEHIND THE BARS

The English vocabulary is particularly rich in the names of places where arrested or convicted lawbreakers are confined.

Such names as jug, lock-up, coop, cage, police station, guard-house and guardroom speak for themselves.

Jail is derived from a Latin word meaning cage. Spelled jail in America and goal in Britain, it is pronounced the same on both sides of the Atlantic.

Calaboose is the anglicized form of Spanish "calaboza," a dungeon. Dungeon literally means a donjon or a house in the earth. It is a close dark vault or underground room like the cells in a donjon or keep in a castle.

Prison is traced to the Latin "prehendere," to seize or lay hold of, and a penitentiary was originally a place for penitents. Pen is merely a shortened form of penitentiary.

Stir in the sense of a jail is from an Anglo-Saxon word signifying discipline, punishment or penalty.

Penal in penal institution is from Latin "poena" punishment.

The bull pen is a large corral or inclosure for many prisoners at the same time.

Nobody seems to know why a jail is called a quod.

Hoosegow is supposed to be from Spanish "juzgado" a court or place of judgment.

Reformatory is the name for a prison where the reform of the inmates is supposed to be the chief purpose.

In Southwark, England, there is a prison called the Clink, which may have given us clink for any lockup.

A brig is the guardroom or place of confinement on a warship.

The root of "cell" is Latin "celare," to hide, which also gives us cellar.

Violent or refractory prisoners are put in a padded cell or in the cooler.

Political prisoners, confined without trial, used to be put in such places as the Tower of London or the Bastile. Now they are put in prison camps or concentration camps.

A prison or convict ship may be moored in one place as a stationary prison or used to transport prisoners overseas.

Devil's Isle, the popular name of the French penal colony on and just off the Guiana coast, is one of the most famous overseas prison establishments in the world.

SPECIAL SALE
Luxurious
CHENILLE BED SPREADS
INCLUDING NEW FALL PATTERNS

Chenille Spreads
3.98 to 14.95

To cover your bed with beauty, it is hard to find anything that will equal a Chenille Spread. Each spread is chenilled in white, with striking pastel motifs or Pastel solid colors, with contrasting shades in the designs. The color effects are Rose, Blue, Gold, Green, Peach and Wine.

PLAN TO VISIT OUR STORE THIS WEEK AND SEE THESE LOVELY SPREADS ON DISPLAY — PLAN TO BUY YOUR WANTS NOW, BOTH FOR PRESENT AND FUTURE. OUR PRICES ARE LOW AND THE SELECTION THE BEST WE HAVE EVER OFFERED.

WALKER STORES, LIMITED
BELLEVILLE

DUKE OF KENT TO OPEN C.N.E.

Will Inspect John Inglis Plant And Receive Polish Officers

MEETS CITY COUNCIL

Toronto, Aug. 21 (CP)—Officially the Duke of Kent's program for today—the second day of his three-day visit to Toronto—lasts but two hours. It is possible, however, His Royal Highness may pay an unofficial visit to Christie Street Hospital where veterans of the First Great War are cared for.

The King's younger brother, in Canada to survey the ramifications and workings of the monster British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, will deviate from his program of inspecting airfields and training schools to visit this morning the John Inglis plant — the Empire's No. 1 producer of Bren guns.

The tour of the plant is expected to last more than an hour and will be followed by a reception of Polish officers at the hotel where the Duke is staying. The reception will complete the agenda for the day.

Hearty Welcome Given

A hearty and spontaneous welcome was voiced by great throngs of Toronto residents as the Duke of Kent visited various places after his arrival here yesterday from Northern Ontario.

He landed by plane at the Island Airport late in the afternoon and in quick order visited Little Norway, training site for the Royal Norwegian Air Force on the Toronto Bay; No. 1 Initial Training School in North Toronto and the City Hall where he met members of the Board of Control and the City Council. Thousands of flag-waving citizens lined the route of his travels.

Last night he was the guest of Hon. W. A. Matthews at a dinner given in the vice-regal chambers of the Parliament Buildings. Tomorrow he opens the Canadian National Exhibition.

Air Secretary Praises Squadrons Based at Malta

London, Aug. 21—(CP)—Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair, in congratulating the Royal Air Force at Malta today, mentioned the "deadly slogging at enemy ports" by Wellington bombers—the first official indication that that besieged Mediterranean island now is being used as an offensive base.

Informed sources said it was likely that recent attacks on Tripoli, Sicilian harbors and airdromes and Axis shipping in the Central Mediterranean were made by planes based on Malta.

WINGS PRESENTED

Calgary, Aug. 21—(CP)—Wing Commander A. D. Ross, Officer Commanding No. 3 Service Flying Training School here yesterday presented Wings to a group of Royal Canadian Air Force pilots. The group included:—

Ontario:

D. E. Vipond, Wales; A. G. Bellinger, Waterloo; J. C. Trull, St. Thomas; P. T. Park, Simcoe; R. W. Klen, Kitchener; J. I. Merrifield, Ottawa; G. W. Winter, London and A. J. Joseph, North Bay.

F. J. Taylor, St. Eustache, and D. C. Owen, Montreal.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma thought I was sassing her back when I was only just arguing with her, and she told pop and pop wouldn't leave me go out after supper, and I said, Well G wizzickers, pop, I mean holey smokes, what's a use of making a lot of innocent fellows suffer?

How many innocent fellows do you think you are? pop said, and I said, I mean the other guys, pop, I told them I'd be out and they expect me. They'll be dissappointed the whole game will be broken up, I said.

I'm afraid you're unduly flattering yourself, pop said. There is no such thing in life as an indispensible person and there is no game where substitutes cannot be found for absent or incapacitated players. In other words, the world wags on whether we're here or not, he said, and I said, But jimminy, pop, they're going to play a game of passing the baskit ball, and I'm the only one's got a baskit ball, so G roozlem, pop, that would break up the game, wouldn't it?

O, that's different, pop said. They need your baskit ball and you're perfectly willing to supply it, is that the idea? he said, Sure, that's the idea, pop.

Good, I admire the spirit of it, pop said. Take your baskit ball out to them and come back immeeditly, he said, and I said, Well good night, pop, I mean gosh, suppose they break it?

They might break it even if you were there, but this way you'd be spared the actual shock of witnessing the accident, pop said, and I said, Well G winnickers, pop, I dont want to be spared.

Okay, go on out and stay out for a reasonable time, pop said. You've had the paneful experience of imagining that you were performing a completely unselfish act, that's punishment enough for one day, he said.

Being sourcastic.

AT THE BELLE

"Barnacle Bill"

Hilarity and excitement come today to the Belle theatre in "Barnacle Bill," new Wallace Beery starring picture, which finds him in the most comical romance of his career.

Beery plays a waterfront loafer who falls in love with Marjorie Main, playing the daughter of a ship chandler, and at the same time is confronted with the care of Virginia Weidler, playing his small daughter. He and Leo Carrillo go to work on a tuna fishing boat, get into a dispute with the combine operating the refrigerator scows, fight it out and eventually become heroes of the fishing village.

Most of the picture was filmed at picturesque Fish Harbor, seat of California's tuna fishing industry. The "We're Here", the boat used in "Captains Courageous," figures in much of the action.

Comical highlights include Beery's wooing, the absurd duet he and Marjorie sing, and the hair-pulling battle staged by Miss Main and Connie Gilchrist over Beery.

Richard Thorpe, who directed Beery and Miss Main in "Wyoming" directed "Barnacle Bill." The cast includes Donald Meek, Barton MacLane, Sara Haden and others.

An entire tuna fleet was rented for days for the location sequences, and many residents of the fishing village at San Pedro turned actor to operate the boats and fishing equipment for the picture, which provided Beery with his first waterfront role since "Min and Bill."

"A Shot in the Dark"

A mystery film that packs suspense from start to finish, is announced as the co-feature attraction. The picture called "A Shot in the Dark" is the exciting story of a man who pleaded guilty to crimes he never committed.

William Lundigan heads the cast as a reporter who likes crime stories and a certain pretty night club singer, played by Nan Wynn. Ricardo Cortes plays the role of a night club owner who sells his place to an old friend only to find him brutally murdered before the sale is completed. To make matters worse a jealous ex-girl friend of Cortes, played by Lucia Carroll, is also murdered and the police accuse him of both crimes.

Regis Toomey, in the role of a smart detective, doubts Ricardo's guilt and together with Lundigan, sets out to bring the actual murderer to justice. It is a thrilling plot with a novel ending that will prove a surprise to all.

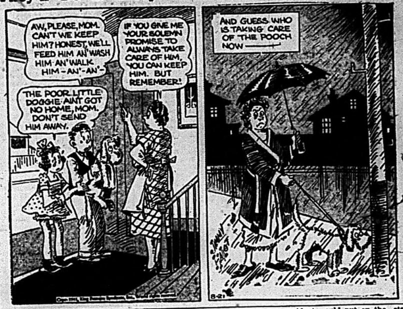
March of Time, Interesting

A new, timely and interesting March of Time film will be presented on the same program, the title, New England U.S.A.

IN NEUTRAL SWEDEN

Stockholm, (CP)—Conscripts are being trained as pilots, bombers and navigators of the Swedish Royal Air Force to create a reserve for the regular enlisted and active force.

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



AW, PLEASE, MOM. CAN'T WE KEEP HIM? HONEST, WE'LL FEED HIM AN' WASH HIM AN' WALK HIM-AN'-AN'-
IF YOU GIVE ME YOUR SOLEMN PROMISE TO ALWAYS TAKE CARE OF HIM, YOU CAN KEEP HIM. BUT REMEMBER!
THE POOR LITTLE DOGGIE AIN'T GOT NO HOME, MOM. DON'T SEND HIM AWAY.
AND GUESS WHO IS TAKING CARE OF THE POOCH NOW
8-21

Roosevelt Draws Day's Pay as Headline Writer

New York, Aug. 21—(AP)—The New York Daily Mirror sent a cheque yesterday for $5.94 to President Roosevelt—cub headline writer's pay for one day under the Mirror's contract scale—for an editorial suggestion by the President which the Mirror adopted.

The President, after having quoted from Carl Sandburg's book on Abraham Lincoln at Tuesday's press conference, was asked by a reporter what sort of a lead the President would put on the story. Mr. Roosevelt suggested: "President quotes Lincoln and draws parallel."

That was the Mirror headline yesterday.

The Mirror said it deducted from the $6 cub daily wage rate six cents for Social Security (the President may thus draw 12 cents at the age of 65) and would pay 18 cents State Unemployment Tax.

PILGRIMS' RETURN

Calcutta, (CP)— With British control of the seas, 4,000 Moslem pilgrims have journeyed to Mecca difficulties and dangers in war- and safely returned despite the difficulties and dangers in war-swept Asia Minor countries.

AT THE CAPITOL

"Gangs of Sonora"

If you've been wondering why the Capitol Theatre is always packed to the doors everytime a trio of gents known as the "Three Mesquiteers" play thereabout, a solution to your problem would be to see their latest Republic's "Gangs of Sonora," which opens there tonight and will continue for three days. It's the tip-top best in a tip-top series!

In "Gangs of Sonora," the Mesquiteers are helping "Kansas Kate" Conners, an elderly but stout-hearted newspaperwoman, fight Sam Tredwell, conniving Commissioner of a western territory. Tredwell is using his office to fill his pockets, and is keeping secret an order from the Federal Government commanding him to hold an election so the people may vote the territory into statehood.

With Bob Livingston as "Stony Brooke," Bob Steele, as "Tucson Smith," and Rufe Davis as the amusing "Lullaby Joslyn," the film has three action stars recognized as outstanding in the western field.

Strange Alibi

The inner workings of the Detective Bureau of the Police Department provide the exciting background for Warner Bros.' fast-paced action drama, "Strange Alibi" now at the Capitol.

Cast with fresh, new talent, the film stars the recent stage discovery, Arthur Kennedy, who scored as Cagney's aesthetic brother in "City For Conquest." His current role, as an energetic, hard-driving young detective is a test of his amazing versatility. With Kennedy in "Strange Alibi" is Joan Perry, young screen lovely, and a talented supporting cast, including Jonathan Hale and Florence Bates.

"Strange Alibi" tells the story of a zealous young detective, Kennedy's role, who's out to crack a vicious gambling ring. His identity is too well known, however, so he plots a publicized break with his boss, the Chief of Police, portrayed by Jonathan Hale. He swears to "get even" with the Chief and doesn't even let his girl friend, played by Miss Perry, in on the real set-up.

All necessary evidence collected, the detective turns over the information to the Chief. The gangsters then murder the Chief and easily plant the rap on Kennedy, who has no evidence to prove his real affiliations.

Kennedy, in the penitentiary, hears where he can locate the one man who can clear him. He breaks jail, then finds his witness—dead. But his ingenious mind plots a campaign that gets more results from the man dead than alive.

The same program includes the latest news reel and the seventh chapter of the serial, "The Mysterious Doctor Satan."

Huns Are Told To Delay Vacations Until Winter

Hospital Beds Installed in Numerous Hotels Which Are Not Available For Transients, Says Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 21—(AP)—Germans were urged today to postpone their vacations until winter, with the explanation that "several hundred thousand hospital beds have been installed in numerous hotels and are not available for transients."

The Frankfurter Zeitung explained the war has eliminated the favorite North Sea bathing resorts as a vacation area, resulting in more vacationers than there are accommodations in the remainder of the Reich.

Children and mothers shipped out of war-exposed cities also are absorbing many accommodations.

GIVE MORE THOUGHT TO YOUR BREAKFAST

Thank Goodness

HERE'S ONE TASTY FOOD THAT CONTAINS THE WHEAT GERM

● This precious wheat germ is retained in Cubs, together with the natural mineral salts and bran.

THE NEW WHOLE WHEAT CEREAL

●Yes, mother, here's the answer to your diet problem. Cubs are a wholesome energy food made from whole wheat—the bran, the minerals, and the precious wheat germ are there. And they have flavor that really tempts appetites. Mellow malt blends its goodness with the nut-like flavor of the wheat. Cubs are crisp, crunchy, toasted a golden brown. Try Cubs for breakfast tomorrow.

●

A product of The Canadian Shredded Wheat Company Limited

SPOON-SIZE READY TO EAT CEREAL

A&P FRUITS and VEGETABLES
HIGHEST QUALITY Garden FRESH

SOUPS Aylmer's Tom. or Veg. 2 10½-oz. Tins 15c
TOMATO JUICE A & P 3 25-oz. Tins 25c
OATS OGILVIE'S 48-oz. Pkg. 17c
BLENDIES OGILVIE'S 2 Pkgs. 19c
IVORY FLAKES 2 Small Pkgs. 17c
IVORY FLAKES Large Pkg. 21c
CAMAY SOAP 2 Cakes 11c
CHIPSO 2 Lge. Pkgs. 43c Giant Pkg. 47c
GRAPENUT FLAKES 2 Pkgs. 17c
MATCHES Maple Leaf 3 Box Pkg. 23c
VIGOR "8" New Malted Milk Drink Tin 59c
MASTER Dog Biscuits 2 1-lb. Pkgs. 25c
MASTER Terrier Kibble 2 1-lb. Pkgs. 25c
DOG FOOD A & P Kibbled 3-lb. Bag 23c

PRESERVING NEEDS
CERTO .... Btl. 25c
PAROWAX ...... Pkg. 12c
RINGS Rubber .... Doz. 5c
RINGS Zinc ...... Doz. 21c
VINEGAR Blended gal. 35c
SPICE Pickling 2 Pkgs. 15c
SEALERS Small .. Doz. 89c
SEALERS Med. Doz. 1.05

CEREAL Kellogg's Vanity Pkg. 23c
MARMALADE Iona Orange & Grapefruit 32-oz. Jar 22c
SARDINES Fairhaven or Brunswick 2 Tins 11c
STEW Aylmer Lamb or Irish 2 Tins 23c
PRUNES A & P 1-lb. Pkg. 13c 2-lb. Pkg. 23c
IRISH STEW Clark's 2 Tins 25c
CATSUP Tiger 26-oz. Btl. 15c
TISSUES Verything 4 Rolls 10c
CORN SYRUP Crown 2-lb. Tin 22c 5-lb. Tin 51c
PEACHES Dessert 15-oz. Tin 10c
OYSTERS Cloverleaf Tin 17c
QUAKER OATS Lge. Pkg. 19c
LOMBARD PLUMS 2 15-oz. Tins 15c
LOGANBERRIES Choice New Pack 16-oz. Tin 15c

Prices subject to market changes. Purchases limited to family weekly requirements.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR
2 2-lb. Bags 19¢
7-lb. Bag 23¢ 24-lb. Bag 77¢

Ann Page BAKED GOODS
CHOC. MARSHMALLOW ROLL ea. 17c
ENGLISH FRUIT CAKE ea. 25c
CUP CAKES Pkg. of 6 13c
DOUGHNUTS doz. 12c
PLAIN 16-oz. Cake ANGEL CAKE 29c
BREAD
2 24-oz. Wrapped Loaves 15c
Note—Due to a Gov't. ruling all A & P Bread is wrapped unsliced.

Try DELICIOUS ICED A&P Coffee

BOKAR 1 lb. bag 39¢
VIGOROUS AND WINEY
8 O'CLOCK 1 lb. bag 35¢
MILD AND MELLOW
RED CIRCLE 1 lb. bag 31¢
RICH AND FULL BODIED
FRESHLY GROUND AT TIME OF PURCHASE

APPLES Duchess Ontario Grown Domestic Grade 6-Qt. Bask. 19c
ONIONS Ontario Grown No 1 Grade Cooking 3 lbs. 10c
POTATOES Ontario Grown No. 1 Grade 10 lbs. 20c
Celery Hearts Ontario Grown Fresh Crisp 2 bun. 15c
ORANGES California Valencia Large Size doz. 37c
RED GRAPES California Luscious 2 lbs. 23c

ARRIVING DAILY
FAMOUS NIAGARA GROWN
PEACHES
ATTRACTIVELY PRICED

WAX BEANS Iona Cut New Pack 20-oz. Tin 9c
GREEN BEANS Iona Cut New Pack 20-oz. Tin 9c
MAYONNAISE 8-oz. Jar 23c 16-oz. Jar 37c
LUNCH LOAF Hedlund's 1½-lb. Tin 19c
Orange Juice 20-oz. Tin 16c 48-oz. Tin 39c
PEAS Green Giant 8-oz. Tin 8c 2 16-oz. Tin 27c
PORK & BEANS Clark's 2 21-oz. Tins 15c

A&P HIGH QUALITY MEATS
Steaks or Roasts lb. 29c
Porterhouse, Sirloin, Wing, Cube, Face Rump or Boneless Round.
HAMBURG STEAK Extra Lean lb. 17c
PRIME RIB ROAST lb. 27c
POT ROAST lb. 16c
BLADE ROAST lb. 19c
SHORT RIB ROAST lb. 21c

Genuine Spring LAMB
LEGS lb. 29c
LOINS lb. 27c
FRONTS lb. 21c

VEAL ROAST Boneless lb. 21c
Mild Cured CORNED BRISKET .... lb. 19c
WEINERS Smoked Skinless Fine Quality lb. 25c
MAC & CHEESE LOAF Sliced lb. 25c

A & P SELF-SERVICE FOOD STORES
Owned and Operated By The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. Ltd.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Woodman Thomas, 184 Albert Street, spent Tuesday in Kingston, the guest of her brother, the Rev. F. W. White, and Mrs. White.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Jacobson and children of Detroit, Mich., have returned home after visiting Mrs. Jacobson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kelley, Charles Street.

Mrs. W. H. Townsend and Mrs. Willis J. Campbell were tea hostesses at the Belleville Golf Club on Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Anne and Verna Freeman are holidaying in Toronto.

Cadet T. E. Dack has returned to Brockville after spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. T. Dack.

Mrs. Fred Mott and Miss Mary Carmichael are visiting friends in Toronto.

Mrs. H. G. Huff has returned to her home in Simcoe after spending the past eight weeks in Belleville and Rossmore. During her stay she received word of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Norman Post of Port Arthur, formerly of Rossmore.

Miss Bette Adams, bride-to-be, was honored at a cup and saucer shower held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. Strahan, Trent Road.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Clapp guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. D. M. Farrell and Mr. Farrell, have returned to their home in Solvay, N.Y.

Mrs. T. D. Ferguson and daughter Marguerite have returned home from the West, where they spent a month visiting relatives in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Mrs. R. J. Moher is spending a few days in Ottawa with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Morin.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stadler, Dorothy and George Jr., of Detroit, Mich., have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Brenton, Corbyville.

Mrs. Frances Crandall, South Bend, Indiana, and Mr. Stanley Heman of Cleveland, Ohio, are spending the week the guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Brower, 46 Highland Ave.

Miss Bessie Augustine, Mr. H. N. Eggleton of Aylmer, Ont, and LAC John C. Eggleton, R.C.A.F., Trenton, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Andrews, Bridge Street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Noakes entertained in honor of the 79th birthday of the latter's mother, Mrs. Jas. Grills, at their home, 57 Grier Street.

Miss Margaret Fairbairn and Miss Lillian Courneyea entertained at a miscellaneous shower held at the former's home, Charles Street, last evening in honor of Miss Ruth Brough, bride-to-be. The rooms were most attractive with a color scheme of white and pink and a large white bell under which was the seat of honor for Miss Brough as she unwrapped the many lovely gifts from a gaily decorated basket. Bridge was played during the evening the winners being Mrs. Clarke Murkar and Miss Margaret Bulman. A buffet supper was served at the conclusion of the enjoyable party.

Mr. William Knowles, chief accountant in the Belleville branch of The Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been promoted to the position of manager of the bank's branch at Durham, Ontario. Mr. Knowles came to Belleville about four years ago from Kingston and during his residence here he made many friends who will be pleased to learn of his promotion. He was popular with the customers of the bank and undoubtedly will be successful in the higher position which he will shortly assume. Mr. Knowles was an enthusiastic member of the Bay of Quinte Country Club and filled most efficiently the position of secretary. Mrs. Knowles also has made many friends here and she and Mr. Knowles will be much missed. Mr. Knowles will be succeeded here by Mr. W. T. McNeil, who for some time has been accountant in the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Cornwall.

OFFICIATES AT WEDDING

In the absence of the rector, Rev. G. G. Wright, Rev. A. Beauchamp Payne officiated at the Hilton-Smith wedding on Saturday.

MAN RIDING HOME

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 21—(AP)—John M. Stahl, 59, who has walked 640 miles since July 5, is ridink back home to San Francisco. "I get homesick every time I see a train," explained Stahl, who has visited 17 missions during his walk-for-health.

—37 Years in Belleville —

AUGUST FUR SALE

BUDGET PLAN.
FREE STORAGE.

WOODLEY FURRIERS
273 Front St.

Weddings

COLE—DUNN

Ruth Jean Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Dunn, Toronto and Benjamin Claire Cole, Picton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Britton Cole, Milford, were married Saturday at St. Paul's United Church, Toronto, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Hincks.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of pale blue sheer with matching bonnet of stitched velvet and waist length veil, a corsage of orchids and matching gloves and shoes. The bridal attendant, Miss Ruth McClelland, wore old rose sheer in redingote style, with a stitched rose velvet bonnet, rose accessories and carried a spray of roses. Leonard Duetta acted as best man, and David Scott Nichol and Wayne Wilkins as ushers.

At a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother wore blue crepe with wine accessories and carried a corsage of roses. Leaving on a wedding trip for the Gaspe peninsula, the bride wore a dress of green wool with brown suede accessories. The bridegroom is a graduate of Queen's University.

Fashion Flashes

ONCE IN A WHILE something really different appears in the fashion world. One designer shows a beautiful evening gown done in supple white suede with Indian designs in bright beads.

BACK INTEREST appears in many of the new hats, especially those designed for afternoon wear. One beauty has a cascade of American beauty roses down the back of a black lace veil spattered with sequins.

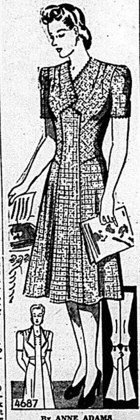
EXTRA SMART is this year's crop of ensembles. Charles Cooper has designed an especially good ensemble, the coat of bright red very soft wool with notched revers of natural skunk, the dress in deep dark brown.

A PARTNERSHIP between two fabrics yields many a good-looking frock this season. A neat model is a coat-dress of black satin with black woolen used for the notched collar, the cuffs and for a rippling dipped peplum.

NO MATTER what color is the darling of the designers, the all-black frock is always important. Created for late afternoon use is a soft frock of dull black silk jersey with all-over embroidery in fine jet sequins.

Cotton Frock in Two Versions

Pattern 4687



By ANNE ADAMS

A gay deceiver of a dress is Pattern 4687, with its magic slimming effect on your figure. Anne Adams has carefully designed it for the most amount of flattery—and the least amount of sewing effort. Two clever slenderizing devices are the tapered front panel and the bias-cut side bodice sections that form unbroken long-waisted lines right down to the low hip-seams. In back there is no waist-seaming — just darts for neat fit. You may choose between two neck treatments: one crosses over and buttons smartly; the other folds back into revers, revealing a squared-off sweetheart neckline. You might face the revers with contrast, perhaps even letting the front panel match.

Pattern 4687 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 3-4 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Neighbours Shower Bridal Couple With Many Varied Gifts

Bonarlaw—On Friday evening of last week a large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Benson and "showered" their youngest daughter, Velma, and her husband, Mr. Art Gibson, with many beautiful and useful gifts. An address was read by Miss Doris Thompson wishing the happy couple a long and blissful wedded life and expressing the esteem of one and all. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gibson replied thanking those present for their good wishes and for the lovely gifts they had received.

Mr. W. J. Barlow acted as master of ceremonies and expressed his regret that Velma was to leave this community and added his personal good wishes for their happiness. All then sang "For they are jolly good fellows" and gave them three hearty cheers. Miss Dorothy Ketcheson delighted those present with a solo playing her own accompaniment on the guitar and was joined by Miss Hilda Brown in a lovely duet. Mr. Sid Mason contributed a vocal solo which was enjoyed by all. A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies concluding a very pleasant evening.

Misses Frieda and Ureta McLaren and Mr. Ray McLaren spent several days last week visiting relatives at Wemyss.

Mr. Clynn Eastwood of Toronto is home for a few days visit.

Rural Dean Rev. A. B. Caldwell of Marmora preached again at St. Mark's Church on Sunday evening last. He was assisted with the service by Mr. W. J. Cottrell as the Rural Dean has not fully recovered from the recent operation on his foot.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Caldwell this week are their daughter, Mrs. Campney (Gertrude) of Toronto and their grandson Glen Henry of Hamilton.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, August 22

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

ACCORDING to the leading lunar transits, this may be a day of contradictions and conflict, with adverse situations and tenacious obstacles blocking the wheels of great activity and enterprise, with large plans and major objectives at stake. The good offices of those superiors or others whose aid is important may be difficult to attain unless much finesse and strategy is exerted. Patience, sound system, constructive tactics and bold strokes, backed up by perseverance and will power may vanquish obstacles and win.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year to test their persistency, endurance, will power and initiative in order to cope with stubborn obstacles, disappointments and other adverse manifestations. Those whose cooperation is vital may be unyielding unless approached with particular tact and sagacity. Devastating and difficult situations may be overcome by a plan of patient and well-organized stratagem. Compromise or appeasement may produce strange or unforeseen results.

A child born on this day should have splendid initiative, vigor and energies, with determination, tenacity and will power, which it will need to cope with obstacles and reverses. Also sudden strokes of good luck may ensue.

CHATTERTOWN W.I.

The August meeting of the Chattertown W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Cadman. The president opened the meeting with the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll call was answered with "A Simple Home Remedy." After the business was taken care of the meeting continued with current events which were in the form of a discussion followed by community singing. Mrs. Leonard Prest gave a paper "In the Children's Presence," followed by an open discussion. Another paper "What We Should Eat and Wear and How We Should Sleep" was given by Mrs. Finkle. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. The hostess served a very dainty lunch.

RATS INFECTED WITH PLAGUE

San Francisco, Aug. 21—(AP)—Discovery in San Francisco of rats infected with the germs of bubonic plague was disclosed today in the announcement that the city and county had authorized the employment of additional rat catchers. The United States Public Health Service reported proof of the disease in rats caught near the southern boundary of the city.

A mystery film that packs suspense is "A Shot in The Dark" co-starring William Lundegan and Nan Wynn, now at the Belle Theatre.

Powder Tint Should Go by Rule

This pretty model is applying a powder that matches her skin tone.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IT TAKES close scanning of the face in the mirror and it takes a bit of heavy thinking to choose the right powder, one that flatters. If it does not flatter, it does not hit the bull's-eye. The consistency must suit the texture of the skin, the color must harmonize. More than two hundred and fifty million boxes of face powder are sold in Uncle Sam's domain every year. It costs a lot to put the dull finish on feminine noses.

Powder has something more than decorative value. It acts as a protective agent against atmospheric dust, strong sunlight and cutting winds. Many brands carry antiseptic qualities that fight bacteria that are ever present on the skin surface, waiting to burrow in and cause trouble.

Match Skin Color

The Nordic blonde blooms when she uses ivory powder and a strawberry lipstick. The Anglo blonde, she of the ash hair, brown eyes and slightly darker skin than the true blonde, will enrich her portrait by the use of rachel; her lipstick can be geranium. These, of course, are general rules. To all such rules there are exceptions.

The redhead, usually blessed with a fair, delicate, almost transparent skin, should use a powder that is slightly darker and carries a golden cast which will give character to her flaming crown. The lipstick color must not conflict with the color of the hair. Not easy for the redhead to select makeup.

Brunettes are of many types, many variations. There is a wide range of powder shades from which to choose, and lipsticks come in every shade from deep coral to damask. Always the dark-eyed lovely should use rich tints to make her eyes look soft, deep and velvety.

There are ochre and flesh tones in powder, and blends as well. Sometimes a tiny bit of green powder is added to ochre for the olive complexion.

Elderly ladies who have pale skins can apply mauve powder with good effect, especially if they touch the temples and eyelids with rouge.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

FIANCE WANTS BIG WEDDING

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm to be married in a couple of months to a man I love very dearly. Neither one of us has a great deal of money and for this reason I never thought of having a wedding veil and white dress. I expected to pick out a sensible outfit which I could use as my Sunday best, for next winter.

But my fiance is very much against that. He wants me to be married in a white dress and long veil, just as his mother was. I think it's foolish to spend so much money on an outfit I'll wear only once. We almost had a quarrel over this, but I suppose I'd better give in. Cn you give me any suggestions?

Bride-to-be.

I believe if it were anything else than your wedding dress, I'd advise you to hold out. But, my dear, men are much more sentimental than women. Your fiance probably wants you to observe the old traditions as he has always thought of a bride in white.

Why not get a white dress that you can wear later on for evening dress? White is very becoming to most girls, and is also popular for formal.

Letter of Thanks From a Soldier

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Several weeks ago I sent you a wail from the "Lonesome Road." I told you that all the boys in camp seemed to be getting cakes, candy, all sorts of good things and that I was so darn lonesome I'd be thankful if I got a bill. My initials were signed to the letter, and would you believe it, some of the girls I knew recognized them and sent me a grand package of "eats." Since then I have polished up my dancing and I've had a grand time at the regular dances ever since.

A couple of weeks after I wrote you I noticed another guy's letter. It was signed "Lonesome Soldier," and you told him to learn how to dance and stop feeling inferior. I certainly endorse those sentiments. Buck up, "Lonesome Soldier," life in camp is grand after you stop feeling sorry for yourself.

Contented Soldier.

I'm delighted that this boy's letter published in my column brought such happy results. While we never exchange addresses or act as a go-between among correspondents, please let me say that I'll be very glad to publish any further wails from the "Lonesome Road." Perhaps the wails will spur on girls to write and send "eats" to those they may have forgotten.

Widower Wants Girl to Go Steady

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm a girl of 17 years, and have been going around with a man of 33. His wife is dead and he has two dear little children. I have been seeing him for about a month now and he wants me to go "steady." Would you advise me to do this, or not?

K.D.

When girls ask for advice about marrying men twice their age, I always suggest that they get out pencil and paper and do a little arithmetic. When you're 25 this gentleman will be 41 and very often 41 does not care about indulging in the youthful amusements of 25. In addition to this, the man has two children. Unless he has a very good income, I take it you will be supposed to keep house and look after the two children—and it's not improbable you may have some of your own. That will be quite a full order for a girl of tender years.

Why not wait and see if you love this man deeply enough to give up your youth and all that it means.

...A tense moment from the dramatic thriller "Strange Alibi" now at the Capitol. Joan Perry and Arthur Kennedy, Jonathan Hale and Florence Bates are the players. The same program includes the latest action picture starring the Three Mesquiteers, "Gangs of Sonora"

Dance and Shower At Millbridge For Newlyweds

A dance and shower were given in Millbridge Town Hall on Friday night in honor of a young lady, Miss Jean Lavender, who was married recently to Howard May of Bloomfield. Relatives, friends and school chums gathered until over two hundred persons were present. The hall which was gaily decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers was a grand place for dancing. The music was exceptionally good and soon the younger set and a large number of the older ones were on the floor and all certainly enjoyed themselves. At midnight a delicious lunch was served, including pieces of the wedding cake served by the bride and groom.

Then the young people were called to the platform where a long table was heavily laden with gifts. After a suitable address had been given the parcels were unwrapped and proved by their quantity and costliness the high esteem in which the charming young bride is held in Millbridge community. The groom who spent last winter in this neighborhood thanked the crowd very nicely for being so highly honored. But when the bride arose to offer her thanks the crowd went wild with cheers and hand clapping. When the noise subsided she again tried to speak to them but once again her voice was drowned by the cheering of her friends.

Several more sets were danced and then the crowd broke up singing "For they are jolly good fellows." A number of relatives from Wellington and Bloomfield were in attendance.

Home Service

Blunders in Etiquette Betray Poor Background

Wrong Way To Ask For A Dance

Your manners tell tales about you—and how the story gets around! Just ask a girl to dance with a raw "Got this one taken?" and she and her friends will think you a fellow to avoid.

But with a correct and deferent "May I have this dance?" you can start a mighty nice rumor circulating about you. Or, if you've been promised a dance, right to say "I think this is our dance, Edith"—not a rude "Let's go!"

After the dance you of course thank her, perhaps with "I enjoyed that"—to which a popular girl will reply "I did too!" Or she may just smile graciously.

The popular girl is the one who always knows which is her move in the dating game. At the movies she steps first into the row of seats and she's always first to enter or leave a room. But she lets her beau step out of a car first, smilingly accepts his helping hand. She's learned that if you know dating rules you get lots of chances to show you do!

Our 32-page booklet, with etiquette rules for both men and girls, tells what's correct on dancing, theatre, dining and motoring dates. Gives rules for visiting, introductions, entertaining, traveling, business, telephone. Discusses petting.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of ETIQUETTE FOR YOUNG MODERNS to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

AUGUST FUR SALE

BEAT RISING PRICES.
BUY NOW AND SAVE!

BUDGET TERMS.
FREE STORAGE.

REPAIRS, RESTYLING
LININGS, CLEANING

ASHLEY FURS
294 Front St. Phone 2340
"WALK UPSTAIRS AND SAVE"

MADELEINE CARROLL

A LUX TOILET SOAP BATH IS A WONDERFUL BEAUTY PICK-UP! ITS LATHER LEAVES SKIN REALLY FRESH, FRAGRANT — MAKES YOU SURE OF DAINTINESS!

PURE! COSTLY PERFUME! MILDER!

PARAMOUNT STAR

You will find this lovely star is right! A daily beauty bath with Lux Toilet Soap's Whipped Cream Lather protects daintiness—makes you sure. And you'll love the delicate, clinging fragrance!

HOLLYWOOD'S Whipped Cream Lather BEAUTY CARE

A Lever product

9 out of 10 Screen Stars use Lux Toilet Soap

Medicine in the News

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Again the four horsemen are riding: war, hunger, disease and death travel the four corners of the world. From California, Idaho and Oregon comes word that rats, ground squirrels and marmots have been found carrying fleas infested with plague. Since 1908 San Francisco has maintained a system of plague control. Eternal vigilance is necessary including rat-proofing of buildings, trapping and poisoning of rats and continuous examination of the dead bodies of rats for plague infestation.

Italian doctors have just found that 16 out of 25 patients with diseases of the liver had night blindness, which meant that they were receiving insufficient amounts of Vitamin A. This does not mean that the liver disease is caused by lack of the vitamin; it merely means they may be and often are parallel, and that the presence of liver disease suggests a study of the diet for lack of the vitamin.

Surgical treatment for high blood pressure suggested by American surgeons now finds advocates in Germany. The eminent German surgeon, Nonnenbruck, found four types of high blood pressure and classified four different operative procedures, related to the sympathetic nervous system and the kidney. American investigators Harry Goldblatt of Cleveland and Irvine Page of Indianapolis have led in the study of the relationship of conditions in the kidneys to high blood pressure.

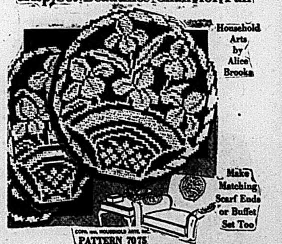
Study of cancer in Denmark showed low incidence among agricultural workers; high rate in industrial occupations.

Latest technique for chiggers published by American Medical Association includes:

1. Apply kerosene to remove any chiggers clinging to skin.
2. Bathe one half hour with plenty of soap.
3. Complete change of clothing.
4. Wash spots three times a day with seventy per cent rubbing alcohol.
5. Apply suitable ointment against itching, containing phenol and menthol in boric acid ointment. Doctor will prescribe percentage, up to one per cent phenol and two-tenths per cent menthol, depending on amount of skin to be covered.
6. Wipe off excess ointment and apply powder.
7. Don't scratch; if necessary wear canvas gloves at night.

"Sweetheart of the Campus" now showing at the McCarthy Theatre features the above cast, Ruby Keeler, Harriet Hilliard, Ozzie Nelson and Gordon Oliver, on the same program "I Was a Prisoner on Devil's Island" is an excellent second feature.

Crisp Set Beautifies Chair for Fall



Household Arts by Alice Brooks
Make Matching Scarf Ends or Buffet Set Too
COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.
PATTERN 7075

The iris from your garden inspired this unusual filet crochet chair set. You will enjoy making it and will find it adds beauty and protection to your chairs. Pattern 7075 contains charts and directions for set; materials needed; illustrations of it and stitches.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Say! This is a swell-tasting breakfast! Give me some more!
And it's good for you too! Has all the goodness of the whole wheat!
MUFFETS

MUFFETS-NEW BREAKFAST TASTE THRILL

Delicious, Crisp, Crunchy and Toasty-Brown

Muffets are crammed with appetizing goodness. A real breakfast taste-thrill . . . these toasty golden-brown biscuits give you the healthful benefits of whole wheat in its most delicious form. Follow the lead of millions by ordering a package of delicious Muffets from your grocer today.

ECONOMICAL . . . 12 BIG DELICIOUS BREAKFASTS IN EVERY PACKAGE

Allocations for Defence Program In U.S. Top $40,000,000,000 Mark

Forthcoming Request For Lease-Land Funds May Send Amount Over 50 Billions

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Allocations for the defence program topped the $44,000,000,000 mark today and United States legislators expected a forthcoming request for more lend-lease funds to send the overall total to approximately $50,000,000,000.

House appropriations committee statistics showed that Congress already had appropriated $37,260,260,222 since July 1, 1940, for the American army, navy and related programs, in addition to the original $7,000,000,000 lease-lend outlay for aid to Britain.

Included in the total was a supplemental defence bill carrying $6,586,896,138, mostly for the army, which Congress approved last week. This measure awaits President Roosevelt's signature.

Here is a general breakdown of how the huge sums will be spent—in many cases over a period of years:

War department— $24,805,321,523 for an army of 1,500,000, a force of 36,000 planes, tanks, ammunition, new quarters and supplies.

Navy department — $9,421,487,646, for more ships for the two-ocean navy, 10,000 planes, bases encircling the United States, new shore stations, equipment and ammunition.

Other agencies — $30,033,451,053 for all other defence activities such as the Maritime Commission's program of building and acquiring hundreds of new additional cargo ships.

6 Tyendinaga

6th Tyendinaga—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Treverton and family and Jimmie Goodman attended the Walker re-union near Campbellford, on Sunday.

Mr. Clinton Hoare, Belleville, spent a couple of days last week with his cousin, Mr. Lorne McKenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Cronkrite and Harry, 4th Hungerford, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Goodman and family, Belleville, were Sunday visitors at Mr. R. Boldrick's.

Mrs. C. Goodman visited Mrs. Helen Spencer, Wednesday.

Jack Emerson spent the week-end at his home here.

Joy McKenzie and Madeline Ashley are spending a few days with the former's grandmother, Mrs. V. Bradshaw, 3rd line.

The rain on Saturday was a great benefit in this district.

Messrs. Arthur McCreary, Eldorado, and Clarence Hall, Latta, visited their uncle, Mr. William McCreary, Sunday.

Of Australia Dies Former Governor

Stonehaven, Scotland, Aug. 20—(CP Cable)—Viscount Stonehaven, former Governor General of Australia, died at his home here last night following a heart attack. He was 67.

As John Lawrence Baird he was in the House of Commons from 1910 until his appointment to Australia in 1926. Returning from the Commonwealth in 1931, he became chairman of the Conservative Party organization, a post he held for five years.

During his House of Commons career he was Parliamentary Private Secretary of the late Andrew Bonar Law when the New Brunswick-born statesman was leader of the Opposition. He also served a term as Minister of Transport.

When Visiting
TORONTO
Stay at the
King Edward
Hotel
1000 Rooms with bath
Rates as low as
$2½ PER PERSON
[illegible]
P. KIRBY HUNT, Manager

Occupants Escape Injury When Car Turns Over 3 Times

Wooler — Flight Sergeant Darwin Garside R.C.A.F., of Dartmouth, N.S., accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Garside (nee Bertha Mitchell, Reg N., formerly of Wooler and Trenton) and another couple were riding in his car, which was coasting down a hill when a tire blew out, causing the car to turn completely over three times. Although the car was almost a total wreck, the occupants got out unhurt.

Miss Irene Rose of Toronto, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. O'Holloran and Mr. O'Holloran of Cldrington and attended Forty Hours devotion, which started on Sunday at St. Alphonsus Church.

Mrs. John Gorman of Warkworth her daughter, Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Berry Sr., of Colborne are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Regan of 8th Concession of Murray Township.

Mr. Joe Miller of Trenton, attended the service at St. Alphonsus Church on Sunday morning.

Mr. Clinton Terrill and Mr. Stanley Montgomery went to Toronto, remaining for a couple of days.

Mr. George Crosby of Peterboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Teal of Trenton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Crosby on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. J. J. McColl called on Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bell on Thursday evening. Mrs. Bell's condition is fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mitchell and Miss Herrington of Smithfield and Mrs. Marion Mitchell of Trenton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bell on Sunday.

Blitzbits

By FOSTER BARCLAY

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Dr. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, has received a cablegram from the Union of Soviet Writers Association, assuring him that "the people of the Soviet Union will not lay down their arms intil they have exterminated bloodthirsty Hitlerism".

John Johnson, who was alleged to have said "I am going to teach my children to say 'Heil Hitler' so that when he comes I will be on the right side," was sentenced at Swansea to six months in jail on seven charges of publishing reports or statements likely to cause despondency or alarm.

The people of New Zealand have donated $450,000 for the relief of distress in Britain.

The St. Neots' quadruplets, Ann, Ernest, Paul and Miles, helped the mayor of Bedford launch a "speed and tanks" campaign. The quads, who will be six in November, played around the tanks for more than an hour.

R. S. Townroe, secretary general of the United Associations of Britain and France, told a Rotary Club luncheon that when a French fisherman was executed in France for assaulting German soldiers someone placed a wreath on his grave with the inscription, "Rest in peace, De Gaulle will avenge you".

A hamper of onions, a rarity in Britain, astounded Queen Mary duirng an inspection at a Bristol restaurant. "What an amazing sight," she said. "I have not seen so many onions for a long time".

Deebach, one of Suffolk's smallest villages, set out to raise the equivalent of $225, the cost of a Bren gun, during an inspection at a Bristol inhabitants of the hamlet's twenty houses donated $2,250, enough for ten guns.

STREAMS TOO LOW FOR SALMON

Ketchikan, Alaska, Aug. 21—(AP)—A fisheries agent said yesterday that southeastern Alaska's most prolonged dry spell in years had left streams so low that no salmon were escaping up stream to spawn, threatening destruction of one whole life cycle of the valuable food fish.

"There has been no escapement since the early run," said Fishery Management Agent Clarence Olson.

The run now is of pink salmon, whose life cycle is two years.

Definite Rupture Between Petain, Former Regime

Vichy, Aug. 21—(AP)—Chief of State Petain, implementing policies enunciated in his speech of last week, yesterday ordered the disbanded Senate and Chamber of Deputies removed from this provisional capital and swore the French Council of State to personal allegiance to himself.

At the same time it was disclosed that police operations against the so-called "black market" in food had increased 1,500 per cent in two months. The food problem, admittedly one of France's toughest was one of the matters Petain declared last week would be corrected.

The Food Minister announced police last month had seized 9,000,000 francs worth of goods from black market operators compared with 5,000,000 the previous month and only 800,000 the month before that.

Although the actual physical move of the permanent secretariat of Chamber and Senate to Mont Dore, 60 miles away, was linked with the need for space in Vichy for the growing services of the Cabinet Vice-Presidency under Admiral Jean Darlan, informed circles said the whole series of events constituted a definite rupture between Petain and the former regime.

Germans Susceptible To Propaganda Drive Says Dr. Otto Strasser

Montreal, Aug. 21 (CP)—Dr. Otto Strasser, one-time associate of Hitler but now a leader of the anti-Nazi black front and a refugee from Germany, said in an interview last night that "even if Hitler should succeed in the capture of Leningrad and Kiev, it can only be at a sacrifice which for practical purposes will constitute a defeat."

As a result of what he termed "their first military defeat," he said the German people have now been rendered susceptible to a propaganda campaign which could crumble the Nazi home front.

Recalling that in 1937 Nazi Gestapo leader Heinrich Himmler told the German High Command that the decisive theatre of the next war would be the German home front, even more than was the case in the first Great War, Dr. Strasser said Britain could achieve victory most rapidly by striking at German morale through such a propaganda campaign.

"The great significance of the present phase of the war," he said, "lies in the fact that for the first time the German people feel defeat..Hitler has lost, I'm sure, 1,000,000 men, that is, a third of the 175 divisions he hurled at Russia, as well as at least one third in his panzer division and stocks of materials. The memory of that sacrifice, especially its terrific toll of life, cannot be banished."

"BOY! COLD MEAT NEVER TASTED THAT GOOD BEFORE!"
French's MUSTARD
French's MUSTARD
F2

What a flavour it has when you use French's Prepared Mustard! Good in itself, cold meat is twice as enjoyable with the tang of this high quality mustard.

First Dividends Paid on Planned Beaver Breeding

By JAMES McCOOK

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Charlton Island, James Bay, Aug. 21 (CP)—Because eight beaver on Charlton Island multiplied to 1,300 in eight years, travellers along the main water route from Moosonee, Ont., to the distant north can see the beginnings here of the new age in the lands so long called "barren."

The northbound ship passing Charlton comes in sight of long, low wooden buildings along the shore built for the security of the beaver when the experiment in planned fur breeding was started on the island. The success of the first sanctuary at Rupert's House, to the West, had previously become evident.

Charlton paid its first dividends this year when 300 beaver pelts were taken off and in coming seasons further fur harvests are assured for the benefit of Indians of the neighborhood.

Live beaver are shipped from Charlton to other sanctuaries to the west where competitive trapping is being abandoned in favor of planned production.

Veteran Lord of Island

Willie Etheringham, 63, and a veteran of the fur trade, is the lonely lord of Charlton Island. Today he is guiding the development of a new system in his territory and removing the traces of a bygone age of fur trade grandeur to make way for modern methods.

Willie has been engaged in tearing down the huge warehouse which stood beside his cottage on the shore. Time was when great ships discharged their cargoes at Charlton, whence smaller ships carried them to all James Bay posts.

To facilitate fast loading and unloading, the traders built within the old warehouse a small railway on which cars carried bales of furs to the pier and trade goods back to the building. Now the building is gone and the rusty tracks lie exposed to the north winds.

"When the other railway (the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario) came to Moosonee, Ont., this railway was finished," Willie said. "It was easier and faster to bring in the supplies by rail and ship them from Moosonee to the posts."

Halloway

Holloway — The Red Cross unit at Holloway held a 10c tea at the home of Mrs. W. Cadman on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Finkle, Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Townsend took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Emerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reid and family Sidney, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snider.

A number from this community attended the miscellaneous shower for Miss Irene Elliott prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Geo. Foster, Betty, Beverley, Louanne and Bobby were tea hour guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Townsend.

Miss Ruth Rose and Master Jack Rose, Rawdon and Master Billy Rose, Tweed, are holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rose.

Mrs. John Townsend and Joyce are spending a few days with Mrs. Arthur Greenwood, Belleville.

Mountain View

Mountain View.—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dickson of Port Hope were Monday visitors with Mrs. R. J. Vanwart.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons of Crofton were Monday afternoon callers with Mrs. George Neal, Mr. Parson was a member of the same Veteran Guard as the late Mr. Neal.

Vivian Hubbs spent Monday with Eileen Minaker.

Quite a number from this neighborhood attended the funeral of Mr. Francis Wood held in Roblin's Mills Church on Tuesday afternoon.

The Mountain View Women's Institute held a lawn social on Tuesday night, August 12th, on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barber, Huff's Island. The large lawn was nicely decorated with lights and flags. Although the night was cool a large crowd was in attendance. The fish pond was greatly enjoyed by the children while the older people enjoyed playing Bingo. Miss Beatrice Jones of Belleville was present and told fortunes. Ice cream and cake was served, also soft drinks sold. Tickets on a quilt had been sold by the ladies of the Institute. The drawing for the quilt took place and Mr. William Nightingale was the lucky winner. Proceeds for the evening amounted to $42.00, to be used for war emergency work.

Some of the ladies met at the home of Mrs. Stanley Barber on Wednesday afternoon to sew.

Miss Bernice Minaker was a supper guest on Thursday at the home of Mr. J. G. Sprague.

Seven members of the Vanity Girls' Club attended the annual Achievement Day at Wellington on Thursday and received certificates for their work. Congratulations to Misses Hazel Minaker and Helen Lough on receiving pins and county honours.

Mr. Ross Lough of the R.C.A.F. has been transferred to Summerside in Prince Edward Island.

Miss Vera Way spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Weir of Bowerman's.

Miss Eileen Minaker was a supper guest on Friday of Vivian Hubbs.

Wayne Bovay of Belleville spent the past week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bovay and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wood.

Miss Elizabeth Jordon was a Friday evening caller of Miss Lillian Sprague.

The Sprague Canning Co. opened on Saturday morning for their first run of tomatoes.

Rev. and Mrs. Adamson of Ameliasburg were Saturday afternoon callers with Mrs. George Neal and Pearl.

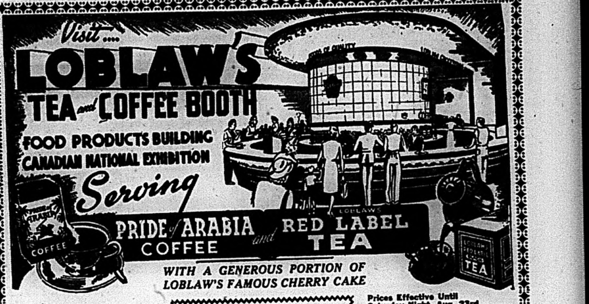
Mr. H. J. Parliament of Salem spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Sprung and Mrs. Clayton Sprung.

Miss Vera Way spent the week-end at the home of her father, Mr. James Way, of Bowerman's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Holiday were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lott.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood have moved to Roblin's Mills.

Mrs. Kathleen Huff of Simcoe spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Poste and has been visiting other relatives and friends in the neighborhood.



Visit....
LOBLAW'S
TEA and COFFEE BOOTH
FOOD PRODUCTS BUILDING
CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION
Serving
PRIDE of ARABIA COFFEE and RED LABEL TEA
WITH A GENEROUS PORTION OF LOBLAW'S FAMOUS CHERRY CAKE

NEW STORE HOURS
COMMENCING NEXT
MONDAY, AUGUST 25th.
STORES OPEN AT 8.30 A. M.
Instead of 8.00 A.M. as Formerly
CLOSING AT 6 P. M. AS USUAL
EXCEPTING WEDNESDAY
8.30 A. M. to 12.30 NOON
SATURDAY 8.30 A.M. to 10 P.M.

JOIN THE TREASURE HUNT
NEXT WEDNESDAY, AUG. 27th
Food Products Day
Canadian National Exhibition
Prizes Totalling $1050.00 in WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES will be given away
— IN ADDITION TO —
HUNDREDS OF PRIZES Donated by Food Exhibitors. 48 Lucky Winners Will Claim Prizes at Loblaw's Booth

Prices Effective Until Saturday Night, Aug. 23rd
We reserve the right to limit quantities of all merchandise to family weekly requirements.

HARRY HORNE'S Double Cream CUSTARD POWDER 1-lb. Tin 25¢
RED RIVER Cereal 32-oz. Pkg. 24¢
CLARK'S (in Chili Sauce) PORK AND BEANS 20 Fl. oz. Lge. Tin 8¢
FOR ALL YOUR BAKING USE MONARCH FLOUR PACKED IN 4 CONVENIENT SIZES

CHRISTIE'S GOLD MEDAL
SODAS 2 7½-oz. Pkgs. 23¢

Brunswick Chicken Haddies 2 14-oz. Tins 29¢
Cowan's Perfection COCOA - - ½-lb. Tin 14¢ 1-lb. Tin 24¢
Ogilvie MINUTE OATS 48-oz. Large Pkg. 17¢
Kavanaugh's Toasted PRAIRIE NUTS 2 6-oz. Pkgs. 15¢
Clark's BOILED DINNER 15 Fl. oz. Tin 19¢

JUICY TENDER EATING MEATS
for "PLATTER PERFECTION"

NOW AT ITS BEST! GENUINE — FRESH
• SPRING LAMB •
"SPECIALS"
LEGS MEATY lb. 32¢ FRONTS LEAN lb. 21¢
LOINS FLANK ON lb. 28¢ FLANK OFF lb. 33¢
RACKS lb. 26¢ BREASTS lb. 16¢

Loblaw's Tender-Eating PRIME BEEF "Specials"
BLADE ROAST - - - - - lb. 21¢
SHORT RIB ROAST - lb. 22¢
BONELESS BRISKET lb. 18¢ BONELESS POT ROAST lb. 19¢
ROUND STEAK ROAST BONELESS lb. 29¢
PRIME RIB ROAST lb. 26¢

CLASSIC CLEANSER 2 Tins 9¢
LUX TOILET SOAP 2 Cakes 11¢
ODEX TOILET SOAP 4 Bars 18¢
Manufacturer's Offer
BAB-O CLEANER - 2 Tins 25¢
The Grease-Dissolving Cleaner
PARD DOG FOOD - 2 16-oz. Tins 19¢
JOHNSON'S CARNU CAR POLISH 1-Pint Tin 85¢
CRISCO SUPER CREAMED 1-lb. Tin 22¢ 3-lb. Tin 59¢

GREEN GIANT Fancy Medium Size ASPARAGUS TIPS - - - 12 Fl. oz. Tin 19¢
HEDLUND'S MEAT BALLS AND GRAVY - 8-oz. Tin 13¢
HELLMANN'S BLUE RIBBON SANDWICH SPREAD - - - 8-oz. Jar 23¢
HEINZ—in Cream Sauce With Cheese COOKED MACARONI - - - 16 Fl. oz. Tin 13¢
Choice Quality AYLMER APRICOTS - - - 15 Fl. oz. Tin 13¢

Shirriff's Quality Merchandise worthy of your consideration
LUSHUS JELLY POWDERS 3 Pkgs. 23¢
FANCY FREE NEW DESSERTS 3 Pkgs. 23¢
TRUE EXTRACTS - Vanilla, Lemon Almond 1½-oz. Bottle 23¢
LEMON PIE FILLING - - 8-oz. Pkg. 14¢
Good Morning Marmalade 16-oz. Jar 23¢
ORANGE MARMALADE - 32-oz. Jar 31¢

Quaker Puffed Wheat - - - 2 Pkgs. 13¢
Quaker Puffed Rice - - - 2 Pkgs. 17¢
Quaker Cornflakes - - - 2 8-oz. Pkgs. 15¢
Save BOX TOPS for Orphan Annie Premiums

SerVe by ConserVing

NOW is the time to PRESERVE the Pick of the Crops . . . of Ontario Grown Fruits and Vegetables. At LOBLAW'S you'll find a complete assortment of PRESERVING & PICKLING SUPPLIES.

FRUIT JARS Small Per Doz. 89¢ Med. Per Doz. $1.05
ZINC JAR RINGS - - Per Doz. 21¢
RUBBER JAR RINGS Red or White Per Doz. 5¢
PAROWAX Imperial 1-lb. Pkg. 12¢
MEMBA SEALS - - - - Pkg. of 25 9¢
CERTO Makes More and Better Jams and Jellies - - 8-oz. Bottle 25¢
CERTO CRYSTALS - 3-oz. Pkg. 10¢

Always FRESH at LOBLAW'S!
COTTAGE Brand BREAD 2 24-oz. Loaves 15¢
• White • Whole Wheat • Cracked Wheat

For Assured Results Use MAGIC BAKING POWDER

The Finest in Farm Fresh
FRUITS & VEGETABLES

SPECIAL SELECTED EMPIRE GROWN
BANANAS Per lb. 8c
Scientifically ripened in our modern ripening rooms.

ONTARIO PEACHES & PLUMS
NOW ARRIVING — QUALITY IS GOOD

SELECTED ONTARIO DOMESTIC GRADE
DUCHESS APPLES 3 lb. 10c

ALDERSHOT — SALMON FLESH
CANTALOUPES
Carefully Graded and Priced According to Size

LARGE ONTARIO — WHITE
Celery Stalks each 5c

NO. 1 LARGE ONTARIO
COOKING ONIONS 3 lb. 10c
SELECTED WASHED ONTARIO
BULK CARROTS 3 lb. 13c

LOBLAW'S Fresh Fruits and Vegetables are always displayed and sold inside the store under ideal conditions; never sold from the sidewalk, where exposure to sun, rain and dust destroys their freshness.

LOBLAW GROCETERIAS CO. LIMITED

Andy Anderson's 'All-Stars' Of Trenton Defeat Corbys 4-1 In Second Game of Playdowns

Jim Stacey Master of Situation on Mound and McColl Hits Two Homers

FINE FIELDING

It's all even in the Belleville-Trenton Intermediate O.A.S.A. playdown series and a third and deciding game will be played at Coleman Flats here Friday night, Coach Bawden winning the toss after the Corby's A.C. bowed to Andy Anderson's Trenton "all-stars" by a 4 to 1 score in Trenton last night.

It was a tidy struggle at Bay Shore Park in Trenton as elongated Jim Stacey bested Johnnie Bawden to reverse matters from their first meeting here Monday. Stacey had the weakened Corby nine handcuffed all night and blanked the locals for seven innings. When the Bawden-Barriage nine did manage to score in the eighth a couple of errors were tossed in with two hits as Stacey was master last night.

The big noise with the home team last night was Barney McColl, the Trenton-Wooler centre fielder, who hit two home runs and a triple to bat in three of Trentons four counters. The Trenton nine played strong defensive ball behind Stacey's steady mound effort, especially third baseman Brian Casey and the Ellis-Morin combination around the keystone sack. "Ki" Kiser, with four running catches in right looked the best defensively for the losers.

Had Lapse on Runways

The Belleville nine got off to a poor start in the initial frame when, with two out, Henn walked and went to third on Kiser's subsequent single, but "Ki" had a lapse on the runways and was out when caught off first. Two walks and Rowbotham's single put three on for Corby's in the third, but Stacey weathered the attack strongly. The Corby's lone tally came in the eighth when Istead dropped Whalen's fly to shallow right. Jim Barriage singled but Rowbotham forced him at second, Whalen pulling up at third. When Austin trapped Henn's line drive Whalen scored, but the next two went out and Harris' pinch-hitting single in the ninth failed to produce as Trenton rallied in the field.

The homesters started off strongly as Austin, the first Trenton batter, hit Bawden's third pitch for a single. Casey went down swinging, but McColl hit a triple scoring Austin and later scored himself when Ronsky bobbled Istead's smash down the third base line. McColl homered in the fifth and again in the sixth when Chuck Barriage misjudged his mighty line drive into centre, the ball going through the fielder's out-stretched hands as he leaped into the air after racing in too far.

Johnnie Bawen fired strong enough softball to win, striking out nine to Stacey's three, while his control was better than average, when Bawden walked one to Stacey's three. The Trenton nine gave their pitcher better support in the field, while the Belleville batters could not solve Stacey's twister in the clutches. The third game should be productive of some good softball here on Friday.

The box score:

All Even

Corby's A.C.	Ab.	r.	h.
J. Barriage, l.f.	4	0	1
Rowbotham, c.	4	0	1
Henn, 2b	2	0	1
Cy Barriage, s.s.	4	0	1
Kiser, r.f.	4	0	1
Bawden, p.	4	0	1
Ronsky, 3b.	3	0	0
C. Barriage, c.f.	3	0	0
Whalen, 1b.	2	1	0
x-Harris, 1b.	1	0	1
Total	31	1	7

Trenton	Ab.	r.	h.
Austin, 1b.	5	1	2
Casey, 3b.	4	0	1
McColl, c.f.	4	3	3
Istead, r.f.	4	0	1
Ellis, s.s.	4	0	1
Cooke, l.f.	4	0	1
Henry, c.	4	0	0
Morin, 2b.	3	0	2
Stacey, p.	4	0	0
Total	36	4	11

x-Batted for Ronsky in 9th.

Score by innings: r. h. e.
Corby's ..0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 7 4
Trenton 2 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 x—4 11 2

Summary: Home runs, McColl 2; three-base hit, McColl; two-base hit, Cy Barriage; left on base, Corby's 8, Trenton 9; runs batted in, McColl 3, Istead, Kiser; double plays, Austin to Ellis; struck out by Stacey 3, by Bawden 9; base on balls, off Bawden 1, off Stacey 3.

Umpires: Shrieder, Belleville, plate; Steenberg, Trenton, bases.

Old Kentucky
CIGARETTES

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Newark	84	46	.646
Montreal	79	53	.598
Buffalo	75	57	.568
Jersey City	65	61	.5158
Rochester	68	64	.5151
Syracuse	62	70	.470
Baltimore	44	81	.352
Toronto	44	89	.331

Wednesday Results

Syracuse 5; Toronto 1.
Rochester 1-1; Jersey City 0-0.
Newark 2-5; Montreal 1-3.
Baltimore 14-1; Buffalo 2-7.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	81	41	.664
Chicago	65	55	.542
Cleveland	59	56	.5130
Boston	61	58	.5126
Detroit	55	64	.462
Philadelphia	51	66	.436
Washington	49	65	.430
St. Louis	50	66	.431

Wednesday Results

St. Louis 11-4; Boston 9-3.
Chicago 9; Philadelphia 0.
Washington 6; Cleveland 3.
Detroit 1; New York 0 (ten innings.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn	76	40	.655
St. Louis	74	41	.643
Cincinnati	64	49	.565
Pittsburgh	60	53	.531
New York	56	56	.500
Chicago	50	67	.427
Boston	46	68	.404
Philadelphia	31	83	.272

Wednesday Results

St. Louis 2-3; Boston 0-2.
Cincinnati 2-3; Philadelphia 0-0.
Chicago 9; New York 4.
Brooklyn 7; Pittsburgh 6.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Milwaukee 9; Toledo 5.
Louisville 8; St. Paul 5.
Kansas City 14; Columbus 7.
Indianapolis 5; Minneapolis 4 (14 innings—first game of double-header).

DAVE CASTILLOUX DEFEATS BERGER FOR WELTER TITLE

Gives Eight Pounds to Berger And Wins Close Decision

NO KNOCKDOWNS

By ALAN DUCKETT

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, Aug. 21—(CP)—Usually an advantage in weight means a lot in boxing, but Dave Castilloux, a speedy and brainy Montreal scrapper, has the Canadian welterweight title to show how little he cares about that.

Entering the ring eight pounds lighter than Maxie Berger last night, Castilloux won a 10-round decision from his older opponent who the Canadian Boxing Federation recognized as defending titlist.

Castilloux tipped the scales at 137 1-4 to Berger's 145 1-4 in the title bout of an open air card presented before a crowd of 6,502 persons in Montreal's baseball stadium.

For his victory, the new champion was presented with a belt by a boxing magazine (Ring), emblematic of the title. Lionel Conacher, a member of the Ontario Athletic Commission and one-time defenceman with Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League, made the presentation.

The Canadian Press score card gave Berger a slight advantage in the opening four rounds of the bout, but Castilloux reversed this by taking every one of the last five rounds. They drew the fifth.

Dave came out of the fight unscathed although he was covered with Berger's blood

In a non-title semi-final bout, Eddie Petrin, of Montreal, Canadian Bantamweight Champion, lost an eight-round decision to Danny Webb, also of Montreal, who kept Petrin on the defensive throughout the bout. Webb weighed 121 1-2; Petrin 122.

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By The Associated Press)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting: Reiser, Brooklyn, and Hopp, St. Louis, .329.

Runs: Reiser, Brooklyn, 87.

Runs batted in: Mize, St. Louis, 89.

Hits: Hack, Chicago, 141.

Doubles: Reiser, Brooklyn, 35.

Triples: Hopp and Slaughter, St. Louis, Elliott, Pittsburgh, and Reiser, Brooklyn, 9.

Home runs: Camilli, Brooklyn, 25.

Stolen bases: Frey, Cincinnati, 15.

Pitching: Riddle, Cincinnati, 14-2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting Williams, Boston, .411.

Runs: DiMaggio, New York, 113.

Runs batted in: DiMaggio, New York, 112.

Hits: DiMagigo, New York, 171.

Doubles: DiMaggio, New York, 38.

Triples: Travis, Washington, and Heath, Cleveland, 12.

Home runs: Keller, New York, 30.

Stolen bases: Case, Washington, 19.

Pitching: Gomez, New York, 11-4.

NEWARK BEARS, ROCHESTER WINGS WIN TWIN BILLS

Bears Practically Eliminate Montreal From Winning Pennant

NO-HITTER PITCHED

(By the Associated Press)

Rochester Red Wings, current International Baseball League champions, and Newark Bears, coming champions, share the same spotlight today, like Dec. 31st and Jan. 1st at midnight.

Both swept doubleheaders from their closest rivals last night, Rochester regaining fourth place with a pair of 1-0 decisions over Jersey City Giants and Newark practically clinching the 1941 pennant by beating second-place Montreal 2-1 and 5-3. The double victory stretched the Bears' league lead to eight games over the Royals, with 22 games remaining to be played, and turned what was to have been a "crucial" series into a rout, giving them a clean sweep of the four-game stand.

Johnny Lindell registered his 20th victory of the year in the nightcap for the Bears after Allan Gettel had notched his 10th victory during the abbreviated opener, holding the Royals to three hits.

Rochester's twin triumph gave the Wings a two-game lead over the Little Giants and was the hurling highspot of the night, as Max Surkont turned in a no-hitter in the seventh-inning twilight contest and Hank Gornicki followed with a two-hit effort in the afterpiece.

Surkont, 19-year-old farmhand of St. Louis Cardinals, missed a perfect game by walking three men, but did not allow a runner to reach second base. He struck out three. His mates made only five hits off Rube Fischer, but one was a homer by Whitey Kurowski.

Runnerups to Surkont and Gornicki for pitching honors were Elmer Burkhart of Baltimore and Hal White of Buffalo. The pair gave the Orioles and Bisons an even break in a doubleheader, Burkhart tossing two-hit ball in the opener to win 14-2 and White a three-hitter in the nightcap which the Bisons took, 7-1.

Tom Sunkel gained his 14th victory of the year in hurling Syracuse Chiefs to a 5-1 win over the last-place Toronto Leafs.

Bill McKechnie Not Worrying About the Reds

Philadelphia, Aug. 21 (AP)—Deacon Bill McKechnie agrees it sounds funny to say his Cincinnati World Champions are still in the National League pennant race but declares "we believe that's the case. History repeats, you know."

Ten and a half games behind the pace-setting Dodgers, the Reds apparently are hoping for a miracle to aid their belated bid but they're not distressed.

They point to 1939 when they were winging in front with a 12 1-2 game lead. July closed its books and the Reds reached September all out of breath with snorts of the Cardinals on their neck.

"We won the pennant by two games but it took heroic doing," declares McKechnie.

Then there's the mad rush of the Cubs in '38. They got hot in late August and September, steamed over the folding Pirates and copped the pennant as Gabby Hartnett hit homers after Dusk and Prexy Bill Benswanger of the Bucs lay swooning and unnoticed in the aisle.

Of such things are made the stretch duels in the National circuit, and knowing this, the Reds are taking comfort.

For one thing they're hitting now and that wasn't the case along about Memorial day when they fell exactly 12 games behind the leaders.

Sports Roundup

(By Sid Feder)

(Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Aug. 21.—(AP)—You hear the strangest things . . .like the Saratoga Story that Eddie Arcaro's perfume is one of the reasons he and Whirlaway get along so well. . .Every time he's been on Whirly, Eddie's used a lot of it, and when little Wacko gets a whiff, he forgets all about running crooked . . then there's the whisper going 'round the American League that Booby Feller's depending so much on his curve these days because he's lost—or mislaid—his fast one.

Old-timers around St. Loo watched young Howie Pollet check in with a four-hitter, and recalled a guy named Dizzy Dean bowed into the big leagues with a three-hit whitewash job 'way back in 1930. . .and right in the middle of a hot flag fight, too . .

Don't believe a word of that yarn about Yankee Coach Art Fletcher getting the job as Detroit Manager . . . He's turned down a lot better bossing jobs than the Tigers can offer. . . The Dodgers, who raised that beef about extra men on the Cubs roster, have it right in their own laps now . . . And Judge Landis has given em ten days to cut from 26 to 23 . . .

Professional Wrestling
HUME ARENA
MONDAY AUG. 25th.
8.45 P.M. (D.S.T.)
Featuring
EARL McCREADY
(British Empire Champion) vs.
CY WILLIAMS
(The Tallahassee Terror)
Two Guaranteed Supporting Preliminaries
(Queensbury A. C. Promoters.)
ADMISSION 50c. LADIES AND CHILDREN 25c.
RINGSIDE 75c. (Gov't. Tax Extra)
A21-23

Local Bowlers Win Gold Cup At Oshawa Bowling Tourney

Distinct lawn bowling honors were won by a Belleville team at Oshawa yesterday when a local rink won the $500.00 General Motors Gold Cup men's rinks tournament. Lawn bowling clubs from all parts of Eastern Canada participated in the tournament, that saw the cream of lawn bowlers competing and the Belleville rink of Doug Row, lead, Cliff Argue, second, "Davie" Davison, vice, and Ab Wonnacott skip defeat all comers and with comparative ease.

In winning the General Motors Gold Cup the Belleville rink disposed of the Brown-lee team of Oshawa by a 21 to 9 score, then trounced the Anderson rink of Wells Hill, Ont., 19 to 8 and capped off a perfect day of lawn bowling by winning over Harold Coppin's crack General Motors team of Oshawa 18 to 5 winning three games high with an overplus score of 36. The Belleville team was six points higher than their nearest competitors in the tournament.

A Large Entry

A total of 64 rinks, making up 256 players, competed in the General Motors Gold Cup rinks tournament at Oshawa, teams being on hand from North Bay, Windsor, Montreal, Toronto and intermediate points. Upon winning the top hoors each member of the the top honors each member of the a five-piece silver tea and coffee set in addition to the $500.00 Gold Cup.

Today Games Chairman Cliff Argue announced that the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club rink had been ordered to play Ottawa in the semi-final playdowns of the Governor General's trophy at Prescott on Friday night. Belleville won the right to advance into the Governor General's championship of District No. 15 in the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association.

Terry Moore Latest Addition To Cardinal Casualty List Yet Team Keeps on Winning

Brilliant Outfielder Hit Behind Ear by A Pitched Ball

GAIN ON DODGERS

By JUDSON BAILEY

The pennant problem in the National League is getting to be "Can St. Louis Cardinals keep going with all their injuries?" instead of "Can the Cardinals beat Brooklyn Dodgers?"

Topping off a long string of accidents, Terry Moore, the best centrefielder in the league, was struck on the head by a ball pitched by Art Johnson yesterday afternoon at Boston. He will be out of action for possibly a week.

In spite of this procession of trouble the Cardinals have kept right on coming and yesterday they swept a doubleheader from the Braves 2-0 and 3-2. Ernie White, the Cards' great young left-hander, pitched a six-hit shutout in the first game for his 15th victory and Howard Pollett, 20-year-old southpaw just brought up from the Texas League, pitched a four-hitter for his major league debut in the nightcap.

Gain On Brooklyn

The double triumph enabled the Cards to climb within a game and a half of Brooklyn Dodgers, who were given a 7-6 handout by Pittsburgh Pirates for Brooklyn's sixth straight victory.

The Dodgers exploded four runs in the first inning, then were overtaken by a six-run rally of the Buccaneers in the third, when Bob Elliott hit a three-run homer. But the winning run crossed the plate in the ninth inning when right-fielder Elliott dropped a fly ball with the bases loaded and two out.

Cincinnati Reds reinforced their third-place position by shutting out the poor Phillies twice, 2-0 and 3-0. John Vander Meer allowed only three hits and won his own game with a double in the opener, his 14th success and Elmer (the Great) Riddle kept six blows scattered for his 14th triumph in the nightcap.

Chicago Cubs cut loose with a 16-hit attack as Vallie Eaves kept eight hits spaced to beat New York Giants 9-4.

In the American League New York Yankees were squeezed out 1-0 by Detroit Tigers as Tommy Bridges pitched two-hit ball for 10 innings in one of the finest performances of his long career.

Chicago White Sox chopped another game off the Yankees' ample lead as John Rigney blanked Philadelphia Athletics' 9-0 for the third shutout in two days by a Sox pitcher and Rigney's second shutout in two starts.

The collapsing Cleveland Indians dropped their 14th game in 15 decisions 6-3 to Washington Senators.

Ted Williams hit two home runs, giving him a total of five in two days and 28 for the season, but his Boston Red Sox were beaten in both ends of a doubleheader by St. Louis Browns, 11-9 and 4-3.

"FIGHT" TO A DRAW

Brown Bomber carries Marva from the court room in Chicago after she had withdrawn her suit for divorce against the heavyweight champion of the world.

CORNEAL'S HOMER IN TENTH FRAME WINS FOR DEACONS

Score 17-15 Win And Even Semi-Final Series With Swacos

GIRLS WEAR GLOVES

Jean Corneal's mammoth home run clout over the centre field fence with two runners aboard was the deciding point in the second semi-final game between Deacon's and SWACO's in the girls' softball playdowns last night as it required ten innings to reach a decision with Deacon's pulling out a 17-15 win.

This was the second time these two teams met to decide a winner for the second game of their best-in-five series, no contest being declared in the other game as darkness intervened. The girls got away in good time last evening however and the advantages were clearly indicated as after ten full innings there was still light enough to play on.

Deacons took a long early-game lead which was hauled down by SWACO's during the latter frames, who hit their batting stride in the eighth to score six runs and come within one run of tieing the count. Deacons' were held scoreless in the upper half of the ninth and Irene Colden tied the score in the last half with a homer.

Errors Reduced

With the girls wearing gloves the number of errors were reduced and both teams played good ball until the game was better than half over. "Toots" Sharpe, on the mound for the winners, held the hard-hitting SWACO's to four runs until the seventh inning with her teammates paying their best defensive ball of the season. Danny Stead pitched steady ball for the losers but errors by her teammates at the crucial moment allowed the score to mount against her.

With a homer and two singles to her credit Jean Corneal led the winners at the plate while Pitcher "Toots" Sharpe helped her own cause with a trio of one base blows. Hansey for the winners also hit three safeties. For the losers Rowbotham was the most consistent getting four safeties, while Colden and Ronsky hit for the circuit, with the former also getting to singles.

Lineups:

Deacon's—Ridley 2b; Samain ss; McMurter lf; Sharpe p; Dolder 3b; Woodhouse c; Hansey cf; Corneal 1b; and Weeks rf.

SWACO's—Colden 3b; Stead p; Rowbotham 1b; Corneal rf; Langman c; Kelleher cf; Ronsky lf; Richardson ss; Fralick 2b; Graham and Day.

Score by innings—
Deacon's 030 122 420 3—17 runs.
SWACO's 001 030 361 1—15 runs.
Umpires—Smith and Schwab.

Letters to the Sports Editor

Belleville, Aug. 19, 1941

Dear Sir:

How about this for your paper? Where is the spirit of the softball fans gone? Take for instance the Trenton-Corby game on Monday the 18th, Belleville won by a fine score. But what about the fans? One minute after the game you would think Belleville had lost.

How about some real spirit at the games? A few cheers arise immediately after the game, but the fans depart without a word. What's wrong with Belleville auto horns? you hear them aplenty on Front St.

Oh, a little tip to the management of the games. Why not make everyone pay, instead of a few? So how about a little noise after the rest of the games? This goes for all sport events.

Hoping to see this in the paper.

A PAYING FAN

Veteran Pro. Ranks Goodman Among Top Contenders for Crown

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Stanley Davies, the English-born professional who brought Johnny Goodman up from the caddie ranks and had the sure-fire hunch his protege would win the 1934 United States open title, has several top choices for the 1941 National Amateur Golf Championship, including his own Johnny.

"Really, it is an amazing field and I couldn't possibly name you the winner this time", said Davies as he took time off from his duties of getting the field club ready for opening shots Monday.

The big fellow may not have a No. 1 selection for the amateur crown but he has pretty fair ideas about those he believes will be the front challengers for the title now held by Richard Chapman, here on leave from an American Army camp in Georgia.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Tommy Bridges, Tigers: Shutout Yankees 1-0 on two hits in 10-inning pitching duel.

Ernie White and Howard Pollet, Cardinals: Former pitched six-hit shutout and latter made major league debut with four-hit hurling to beat Braves.

John Vander Meer and Elmer Riddle, Reds: Pitched double shutout against Phils, former allowing three hits and latter six.

John Rigney, White Sox: Blanked Athletics on three singles for Chicago's ninth straight triumph.

I'm thankful for the lucky day
I learned a speedy, easy way
To get slick shaves you sure enjoy—
That Blue Gillette's the real McCoy!

Shaving is quicker, more comfortable with Blue Gillette Blades—they have the sharpest edges ever put on steel.

Ask your dealer for...

5 for 25¢

This 4-ton machine, accurate to 1/10,000 of an inch, grinds, hones and strops Blue Gillette Blades.

MEN IN UNIFORM NEED BLADES—SEND THE BEST
SEE SPECIAL "SERVICE PACKAGE" OF 50 BLUE GILLETTE BLADES.

Between Innings

GOSSIP NEWS COMMENT

BITS HERE AND THERE—Lou Nova may be no Gene Tunney, but he has plenty of courage and confidence in his ability as the man to dethrone Joe Louis....Cosmic Punch Lou says he's thought of nothing except the day he'd meet Louis for the past two years .... Well, he'll have more time to think about it afterwards....Jimmy Dykes is the only out-of-town major league manager ever to have a day set aside for him in New York.... The Gotham baseball writers held a Dykes Day at the Yankee Stadium when Jimmy retired as a player.... Whirlaway, that long-tailed speed demon of the turf, will go after the rich $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap the world's richest horse race.... Can you name a thoroughbred to beat him?....The annual Mikel Cup sailing race will be held under the sponsorship of the Belleville Yacht Club on Sunday....If Boston Red Sox Ted Williams finishes the current season with a batting average over .400 he'll be the first since 1923.

When Andy Anderson's Trenton "All-Stars" evened their O.A.S.A. playdowns with Corbys last night the game was somewhat of a repetition of Monday night's tussle here when Corbys blanked the Trentonites. Last night the homesters could do no wrong, while Coach Bawden's nine played ragged ball in the field at times, but their biggest trouble was facing Jim Stacey, who had the local batters as badly handcuffed last night as Johnnie Bawden tied the Trenton batters up on Monday night. All-in-all the third and final game here Friday should be productive of a real old-time Belleville-Trenton softball scrap, as the squads are quite evenly matched. Of course the hero of last night's game was Barney McColl, the Wooler adonis, who hit two home runs, a triple and batted in three of Trenton's four runs, which ain't no mean softball chore, even if Chuck Barriage did misjudge his second round-tripper. Defensively Brian Casey played great ball around the hot corner for Trenton and twice saved Stacey with sensational pick-ups for subsequent outs.

Do you remember when Bobby Pearce easily defeated the Empire's top-notch scullers at the British Empire games at Hamilton, Ont., 11 years ago today. Jack Beresford of England and Joe Wright, Jr., of Toronto, both former Diamond Sculls winners, trailed the big Australian who later made Hamilton his home. Pearce turned professional in 1933.

Clayton Blowers, 59-year-old caddie who carried clubs for many golfing greats as well as persons prominent in other fields during the last 20 years, is dead.

Since leaving a job as a clerk in a New York woollen firm to get "some fresh air," he rarely missed a day caddying and at the Hollywood club in Orange Brook, Fla., estimating he walked 40,000 miles on golf courses. And in all his years on the course he never played a hole of golf.

Earl McCready, the British Empire heavyweight wrestling champion, who meets Cy Williams, the Tallahassee Terror from Florida, at the Hume arena next Monday night, was not born in Western Canada as many wrestling fans have been told. McCready was born in Ontario, but when two years old his family moved to Regina. McCready graduated from college and taught school before taking up wrestling as a profession. He played football with the Oklahoma college grid team and had a fling of two years at professional football. McCready won the British Empire wrestling title in Australia two years ago, after whipping all opposition in Canada, Great Britain and South Africa. A clean cut young man, McCready is always a favourite with the fair sex, but once he enters the squared circle the Canadian adonis can rough matters with the most pugnacious grapplers, which of course includes Cy Williams, his alligator crotch hold and all the Floridans tossed into any ring.

When the executive of the Girls' Softball League threatened to forfeit games unless the clubs commenced before 6.45 p.m. apparently they did a splendid stroke of business, as last night's girls' game started on time and early enough to play ten innings, which were necessary before Deacon's eked out a 17 to 15 win to knot their series with SWACOS at one game each. When Coach Barrett moved "Boopsie" Corneal into the infield and finally decided to use "Toots" Sharpe as a regular, if only for her hitting, the Deacons have been a vastly improved squad. Last night "Boopsie" Corneal's tenth inning homer gave Deacons the needed runs to win, while Miss Sharpe not only pitched well, but helped her own cause with a cluster of base smashes. Now all four teams in the girls' softball play-offs are on equal footing with one win and a loss and the league is going to enforce their 6.45 p.m. starting rule.

"Soxy" Gray and "Nugger" Bennett, two of Belleville's sons who are playing baseball in Northern Ontario, helped Frood Mine nine down Coniston 12 to 6 in the Nickel Belt League semi-finals yesterday. Incidentally it was "Soxy" Gray's home run, with three aboard that started the Frood team on their way to a seventh inning rally and victory. Both Gray and Bennett had two hits each and fielded faultlessly.

SPORT SALAD — Upwards of 5,000 soldiers and civilians witnessed the military track and field meet at Richardson Stadium in Kingston yesterday. . . . The Kingston boys amassed the greatest number of points, Petawawa was second and Ottawa third. . . . The Yankees lost yesterday and are only 15 games ahead of the White Sox. . . . The Trenton softball moguls have questioned the eligibility of Player Alf Rowbotham of Corby's A. C., but the local "mushball" big-wigs aren't worrying too much about the Trenton squawk, as Rowbotham was signed long before July 15th. . . . As a matter of fact it was precisely July 15th when Secretary Harry Knott obtained permission from the Secretary of the O.A.S.A. to play the city tournament for Bank of Montreal Trophy . . . Secretary Verne McIlwraithe, of the O.A.S.A., granted permisson for the tourney and also sanctioned the playing of the Reliance team as a war industry. . . . Maybe Jess Baker and Company of Trenton didn't know that little item. . . . Larry McPhail is at it again, he's bought Larry French, veteran southpaw pitcher from the Cubs in an effort to bolster up his relief pitching. . . . Congratulations to the lawn bowling team of Argue, Row, Davison and Wonnacott, of Belleville, who won the $500 General Motors' Lawn Bowling Cup at Oshawa yesterday.

The Belleville Golf Club team took quite a trouncing at Port Hope yesterday, losing by a fairly large margin. . . . Where do we go from here?

Nearly as loud as an automobile siren, a siren has been designed to be worn on his belt by a policeman for sounding signals to pedestrians or vehicle drivers.

COME DOWNTOWN WITH THE FAMILY
TONITE — KIWANIS KARNIVAL
FRONT STREET — BETWEEN CAMPBELL AND BRIDGE STREETS.
25 Big Prizes Tonite
DRAWING TONITE FOR THE 1941 PLYMOUTH SEDAN.

Rawdon

Rawdon—Mr. and Mrs. Carman Dix recently entertained Mrs. Estella Chisholm, Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Chisholm, Tulsa, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Faulkner, Napanee, Messrs. Billy Whitehouse, Lloyd Gerow and Donald Smith of Brighton.

Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hendry and Janet or Toronto, have been holidaying with Rawdon relatives.

Mrs. Arthur Serle, Gerald and Carman of Toronto and who are spending the summer at Eldorado also Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nichol, Marmora, were supper guests Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sine.

Mrs. Malcolm Totten, Rylestone, is visiting Mrs. John Reid and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harvie, Brighton, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Reid. Master John and Gordon Reid returned to their home at Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren, Kingston, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Warren.

Corporal and Mrs. Elton Williams of Toronto spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Heath spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Rowe at Zions Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. James McMullen, Bessie and Ralph, Springbrook, spent a recent week-end at Oshawa, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tarder, Mr. and Mrs. James Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacMullen and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Potts were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Tucker.

Mrs Edith Sharp spent a few days visiting relatives at Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Curry at Wellers Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy McMullen and Eileen and Miss Marie Montgomery attended the Montgomery Re-union at Little Lake in honor of Gunner James Montgomery, Petawawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Montgomery, Dundonald, and Private Jack Montgomery, Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery, Colborne. Over sixty of the clan ate dinner together and relatives were present from Whitby, Foxboro, Carrying Place, Stirling, Mount Pleasant, Frankford, Stockdale, Colborne, Brighton and nearby points.

Mrs. Mary Reid Carmel, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bailey.

Friends at Mount Pleasant were sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Burton Calvert of Moira who formerly resided here. Mrs. Calvert spent a few days last week at Belleville hospital and is now recuperating at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Patrick, Frankford, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sine.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen and Mrs. Cecil Macklin attended a "Workers Conference" at Bridge street, Belleville, when plans were made for the W.M.S. Sectional Rally to be held at Shannonville.

Mrs. Kenneth Holmes and Joan spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes.

Several of the Mount Pleasant young folk attended the lawn socials at Simpsons Grove, Pethericks Corners and at the home of Mr. J. Locke when Seymour East Women's Institute staged their annual social. Both events were well attended.

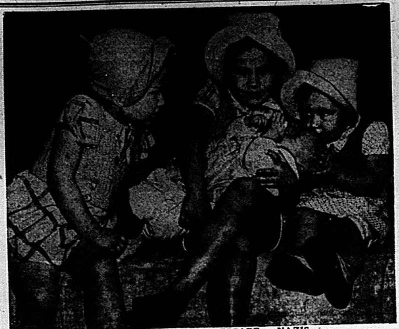
Frost was noticed in the low places last week so evidently winter is around the corner.

Mrs. James Elliott of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Elliott and Mr. George Green of Peterboro, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott last week.

Mr. Orval Jackson and family of Hilton visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin recently.

Mrs. Russell Johnson is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Harold McQuigge at Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Runnalls entertained on Wednesday evening, August 13th, in honor of the birthday of Mr. Runnalls' sister, Mrs. Emma MacMullen, Springbrook, and Mrs. Runnalls' sister, Mrs. John Williamson, Frankford. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. John Dafoe, Frankford, Mr. and Mrs. James McMullen and his mother of Springbrook.



CANADIAN CHILDREN ESCAPE NAZIS

Joseph L. Begin, Canadian mining engineer, and wife, Marie Louise Begin, and their children were living in Paris until two days before the Germans occupied it. They fled to unoccupied France thence to Lisbon where Paul was born while the family was waiting for the boat. Left to Right, Claire three and a half; Monique, five and a half; Holding Paul, four months, and Catherine, two years, who is kissing her baby brother on top of the head.

Arden

Arden—Mrs. D. Pugsley and grandchildren of Toronto are spending two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Loyst and Mr. Loyst.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Gendron spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Garfield Scott.

Mrs. George Pringle has returned home after spending a week with friends at Cornwall.

Mr. Morton Hughes of Rochester, N.Y., is spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes.

Mrs. Edge Newton and family, also Mrs. Laura Martinson of Henderson visited the latter's mother, Mrs. W. E. Loyst, Thursday.

Miss Lula Parks spent a few days last week with Mrs W. Clarke.

Mrs. Sadie Scott and Mrs. Fred Hugh called on friends at Buritts Rapids, Sunday.

Mr. Gerald Loyst and Mr. Nath Gendron called on friends in Tamworth, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clancy and family of Henderson spent Saturday evening with friends here.

Mrs. Steve Haffey and family of Buritts Rapids are spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Frank Scott.

Mrs. Sam Turcott and family have returned home after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Bert Thompson.

A large crowd attended the dance held in the Town Hall, Saturday evening.

2nd Thurlow

2nd Thurlow — The Neighbors' Aid of the 2nd line held a successful lawn social on Thursday night on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grills in aid of war work. Mr. Harry Rollins, Belleville, very capably acted as chairman for the program which was as follows: Opening Number, Oh Canada; Musical Selections, Mr. B. Sills and Boys; Cornet Solo, Mr. Manley Mitchell; Musical Selections, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Robinson and Mr. Manley Mitchell; Duet, Misses Hazel and Bessie Walker, accompanied by Miss Clare; Song by little Miss Freda Mitchell, accompanied by Mr. Manley Mitchell on cornet; Comic Songs, Mr. Merle Robinson.

Mr. G. Cornish, Belleville, very effectively rendered several readings during the program which were well received. It being Messrs. Harry Grills and Douglas Atkins birthdays (August 14th) the chairman called them to the platform and extended birthday greetings and a hearty hand clap. "God Save the King" concluded the program. Refreshments were served. The booth was well patronized. Over $23.00 was received at the gate.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Whalen and boys attended a lawn social at Tweed on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Bowers had dinner on Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fair, Sidney.

Miss Harriet Smith, Syracuse, spent the week-end at the home of her cousin, Mrs. J. Donaldson.

Miss Ursula Milne, Detroit, is spending the holidays at her home here.

Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Robinson were Mr. Chas. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robinson and Bernice and Miss Ethel Hagerman

Mr. and Mrs. E. Burrell and Kay, West Huntingdon, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. F. Haight.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whalen attended the Kielty-McAlpine wedding at Marysville on Saturday.

Mr. Frank Hall spent Sunday afternoon in Kingston.

Miss Jean McGregor spent Sunday at her home in Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gray and Vera had dinner with their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Holway, Belleville, on Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Barnum is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. D. Atkins.

Miss Bernice Robinson spent Tuesday with Mrs. Merle Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bunnett spent Sunday with the latter's sister, Mrs. J. McCreary, Plainfield.

Mrs. Kielty has returned to her home as Stoco, after visiting her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Milne entertained about 60 relatives to a get-together on Sunday. A delicious dinner was served and a social time enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Atkins, Doris, Isabelle and Ronald, visited with Mr. and Mrs. F. Coulter, Moneymore, on Sunday. Isabelle remained for a week.

Massassaga

Massassaga — Jack Gray spent last week with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Long on the 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Wallbridge and little sons were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alder at Bethel on Sunday.

Mrs. Bob Mitchell and daughter, Mrs. Walter Leavens spent an evening last week with Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray.

Dr. V. O. Hart of Napanee and Dr. S. W. Hart of Picton called on Mr. and Mrs. A. Cooke on Sunday of last week.

Mrs. W. F. Osborne entertained the Ladies Aid at her cottage on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Purtelle of Picton were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wallbridge and Mr. Douglas Wallbridge on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson also Miss Helen Thompson spent last week-end in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson have returned to their home in Prince Albert after spending a few days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson.

Albury

Albury—Rev. and Mrs. G. Roland and Betty of Port Hope spent a few days with Miss Hattie Peck and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Walkom and girls of Mitchell spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walkom and the dinner hour on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Peck.

The Albury Ladies Aid met at the church on Tuesday and Wednesday to quilt a quilt.

Mrs. R. Onderdonk has been entertaining her sister this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walkom spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Weese and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Weese.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Peck and Wayne, Mrs. L. Cory, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williamson, spent the dinner hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Beuford Peck.

Mr. Bruce Elliott spent Sunday with his parents in Hillier.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Peck, Mrs. L. Cory and Mr. and Mrs. B. Peck and Eric spent the tea hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walkom.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams, Marilyn and Mrs. M. Adams called on Mr. and Mrs. H. Weese and Mrs. W. Weese, Sunday evening.

Queensboro

Queensboro—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dyer, Pontiac, Mich., and Mrs. Emma Choate, Madoc, were guests of Mrs. Miles Dyer during the past week.

Gerald Marshall, Napanee, has been holidaying with Mr. J. Delyea.

Miss Lois Shaw, Reg. N., Toronto, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. James Moore.

Miss Sadie Tumelty, Madoc, returned to her home on Wednesday after spending a week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Delyea.

A number from Queensboro attended the closing of the Vacation School held at Hazard's United Church on Friday evening.

Mr. John Groves, Stirling, spent the week-end here.

Mrs. Thos. Leslie and Mr. Bruce Leslie were at Roslin on Friday visiting Mrs. W. Sills.

Mrs. J. A. Hill, Napanee, has been the guest of Mrs. E. A. Manchester.

Mr. Alfred Wilson, Sulphide, spent the week-end at his home.

Miss Vera Bonter and Mrs. Douglas Sanderson, Marmora, spent Thursday afternoon with Miss Marion Love.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie West, Belleville, were wek-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Delyea.

Miss Mollie James has returned to her home after spending a month in Kingston and Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith and children, Peterboro, and Mrs. Everett Smith, Madoc, called on Mrs. Ella Holmes on Friday.

Misses Ivah and Ruby Spencer, Madoc, spent Friday with Mrs. Vernon Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark, Detroit, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Delyea.

Mr. Harry Sager returned to his home in Ottawa on Sunday after spending two weeks with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cranston and family, Harold, were last Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Rourke.

Mr. Earl Sager, Larder Lake, Ont., is spending his holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sager.

Mrs. Frank Parks, Cooper, is spending a few days with Mrs. John Thompson.

Mrs. J. Bailey, Cooper, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Rollins.

Mrs. J. Clement and daughter, Shirley, have returned to their home in Springfield, Ont., after spending a month at the home of Mrs. James Cassidy.

Mr. Harry Green, Toronto, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. H. Green, His family who have been spending a month here returned with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Fleming and Alex spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Groves at Huntsville, Ont.

Aileen Ash and Jeanette Belcher, Madoc, are holidaying with Mrs. Arthur Holmes.

Mr. Jerome Chappelle, Ottawa, was a week-end guest at the home of Mrs. Alex Laton.

Miss Lois Shaw, Toronto, spent Saturday afternoon with Miss Marion Love.

Birth—In Madoc Township on Sunday, August 17th, 1941, to Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, a daughter.

Pte. Ed Lapalm, Camp Borden, spent the week-end with Queensboro relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Leslie and Mr. Harry Sager, Ottawa, were Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sager.

Verna and Grace Moorcroft, Harts, spent Wednesday with their aunt, Mrs. Allan Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rollins, Kingston, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rollins.

Jean Roushorn is holidaying with relatives in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whalen, Belleville, were week-end guests of Mrs. Alex Laton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rowe, Springfield, Ont., were guests at the home of Mrs. James Cassidy this week.

Mrs. J. Bailey, Cooper, spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. John Thompson.

Huff's Island

Huff's Island—A car load of the Island young people attended the Junior Farmers' Field and Achievement Day on Thursday. Two of the members of the Girls' Club—Marion Wallbridge and Audrey Johnson—have won a trip to the C.N.E. A banquet and dance followed the day's activities, and all pronounce it a day well spent.

Supper guests at Mr. J. Hatfield's one evening last week were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Ward and Mrs. W. Wallbridge, Stirling; Mr. and Mrs. E. Berry and Carol, Woodstock, and Mrs. T. Ward, Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson and children, Belleville, were supper guests on Friday at Mr. T. Nightingale's.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Fairman and girls were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Jeffrey, Melrose; Mr. and Mrs. C. Sharp; Mr. W. Lawson, Wooler; Mr. and Mrs. B. Richards and family.

Mrs. Fairman, Sr., who has spent a month with her daughter, Mrs. F. Jeffrey and Mr. Jeffrey, returned to Mr. R. Fairman's on Sunday.

Mr. Geo. Huff spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. J. Gallagher, near Picton.

Callers at Mr. Hatfield's on Sunday were: Mrs. J. Mackenzie, Misses Marion Wallbridge and E. Young, Mr. and Mrs. S. Barber and boys, Mrs. P. Peck and Dorothy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Montgomery spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. Barber.

Mrs. N. Schryver, Mr. and Mrs. P. Huddlestone and Marilyn, Mrs. R. A. Lazier and Mary Lu, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Nightingale and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hatfield and Miss M. Hatfield were supper guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. R. Redner.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wallbridge motored to Wellington, Sunday afternoon, called on Mr. and Mrs. Monaghan and spent the supper hour with Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson.

Mrs. C. Kinnear, Gladys Ann and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Williams and daughter were dinner guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. L. Wallbridge.

Madoc

Madoc—Mr. and Mrs. George West, Miss Lamoine West are spending a few days in Brantford and London, Ont.

Mrs. John Miller of Peterboro is spending a few days with relatives in Madoc and vicinity.

Mrs. McPherson of Toronto is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Gray.

Miss Sara Miller of Belleville has spent the past week visiting relatives in Madoc.

Rev. P. Gatley Reynolds and Mrs. Reynolds are visiting Mrs. Fraser Aylsworth.

Mrs. Dickenson who has spent the past six weeks visiting relatives in Madoc and vicinity leaves this week for her home in Hamilton Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breakall and family of Oshawa are camping at Moira Lake.

Mr. M. Brown of Oshawa is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McMechan.

The August meeting of the W.M.S. of Trinity Church was held at the home of Mrs. Caverly with an attendance of sixteen. After the opening hymn and Lord's Prayer in unison the business period was conducted by the president when reports from the various departments were received. Twenty-four calls were reported for the month. Mrs. Wickham, in charge of the program, introduced the theme for the month and read appropriate Bible verses. Prayer was offered, and the Bible Lesson was read by Mrs. Palmer. Offering was received and dedicated. A leaflet on Racial Brotherhood, "What Would You Do If—?" was in the form of a questionnaire and proved to be very interesting. "A prayer for those who labor" was read by the leader and the meeting was closed with prayer.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR NABOB COFFEE IN THE "FLAV-O-TAINER" ...YOU GET VACUUM FRESHNESS AT PAPER BAG COST...!
The Pliofilm lined Bags make handy "Nig" extra food containers too
NABOB COFFEE
Nabob Food Products Ltd. Harold F. Ritchie & Co. Ltd. (Distributors)

now 3 ROLLS 2250 sheets 25c
750 SHEETS WHITE SWAN EMBOSSED TISSUE
EDDY EDDY EDDY
Protect your family with this gentle sanitary tissue:

Your Best Buy in tissue by far!

2250 snow-white sheets—750 to the roll—of the highest quality, gentle tissue for 25c! Compare this with ordinary tissue values and put EDDY'S WHITE SWAN on your shopping list today!

SAVE by CONSERVING—
It's Preserving and Pickling Time!
The RED & WHITE Food Stores
You, too, can "serve" by helping to prevent waste of fruits and vegetables by "putting down" as much as possible—and, of course, storing up good things for future use. Red & White Stores offer the supplies at money-saving prices.

SUN SPUN SALADDRESSING 8 oz. bottle 19c

LIBBY'S BLENDED JUICE Orange & G'fruit 20 oz tin 19c

KEL-O BRAND Cr. Apple Juice 2 12 oz. tin 19c

MANNING'S BISCUITS ShortBreadCr. Sand. LB. 19c

Check Over Your Canning Supplies

RED & WHITE Rubber Rings 4 DOZ. 25c
CERTO 16 oz. bottle 25c
ZINC RINGS DOZ. 23c
PAROWAX 1 Lb. Pkg. 16c

TUMERIC, CHILLIES, CLOVES, CURRY POWDER, ALLSPICE, CASSIA, WHOLE MIXED PICKLING SPICE, PASTRY SPICE. ALL AT MONEY-SAVING VALUES

PARKES Catsup Flavour 29c

PLAIN — PIMENTO GOLDEN SPRAY CHEESE ½ lb. 19c

GOLD MEDAL ASPARAGUS CUTTINGS 2 12 oz. Tins 25c

ANN PATON TOMATO CATSUP 25 oz Bottle 18c

ADAM'S SWEET ORANGE JUICE 2 sq. 20c

BROCK'S BIRD SEED 14c

BAKING POWDER RED ROSE 16 oz. Tin 15c

SALMON A La King 16 oz tin 27c

REDICUT MACARONI 3 Lbs. 14c

CROWN BEEHIVE SYRUP 2 lb. TIN 24c 5 lb. TIN 54c

CRISCO All Vegetable Shortening 1 lb. TIN 27c 3 lb. TIN 63c

BEAUTIFY YOUR JAMS AND JELLIES
NO WAX TO MELT USE MEMBA-SEALS 25 SEALS SPECIAL 10c

Dundurn Marmalade ORANGE, LEMON and GRAPEFRUIT 32-oz. 25c

Flusho 21c

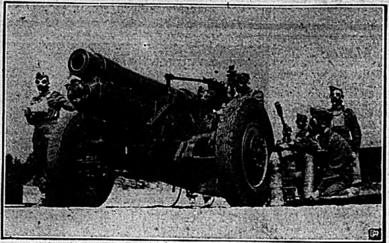
Monarch Pastry Flour 7-lb. bag 27c
CANADA CORN STARCH 10c

QUALITY ALWAYS HIGHER THAN PRICE

JIF SUDS FOR SPEED AND SAFETY—WHITER BRIGHTER WASHES
JIF
GET JIF TOMORROW... Canada's newest washing sensation!
SPEEDY THRIFTY JIF GETS CLOTHES REALLY CLEAN

CHECK YOUR DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR HOT WEATHER NEEDS
Hot Weather Needs
ARE NOW BEING FEATURED BY BELLEVILLE STORES.
Watch the Advertising Columns for Advertised Specials.

THE CAMERA CATCHES THE NEWS



THE CANADIAN ARMY ISN'T FOOLING

Howitzer field guns, such as the one shown here being manned by a group of artillerymen at Petawawa training camp, are wicked weapons in the hands of experts. To these soldiers, here equipped with gas respirators, constant rehearsals have made the gun familiar and simple in operation. To-day Canada is calling for recruits to man guns like this and train their threatening muzzles toward those who would destroy our way of life.

—Photo — Public Information

PRIME MINISTER KING MAKES HIS FIRST FLIGHT IN PLANE TO VISIT ENGLAND

For the first time in his life the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister, prepares to step into an airplane. LEFT, His first flight took him across the Atlantic to Great Britain. He is here shown waving to the small party on hand to bid him farewell. Mr. King was the last to enter the big machine. At LEFT is R. B. Jackson, traffic manager R.A.F. Ferry Command. At RIGHT is H. M. Long, assistant to W. Wilson, representative of the British ministry of aircraft production. Before entering the plane Mr. King shakes hands with Air-Marshal Sir Frederick W. Bowhill, air officer commanding-in-chief of the R.A.F. Ferry Command. RIGHT, the Right Hon. Raoul Dandurand, leader of the Canadian Senate, is in the background.

ANIMALS SAVED—

MASTERS HUNGRY

French owners of dogs and other pets who no longer have the wherewithal to provide food for these animals, may bring them to the animal refuge at Lyon where they are provided for. This owner is turning his dog over to the refuge, comforted by the thought that the animal will be fed, although he himself may go hungry.

KING'S COUSIN ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

Lord Louis Mountbatten, a cousin of King George and commander of two destroyers sunk in action against the Axis, is shown with his wife, Lady Edwina, after they stepped off the transatlantic Dixie clipper at La Guardia airport, New York. It is understood that Lord Mountbatten is en route to China to take over command of a British warship in the Pacific. Lady Mountbatten, London county president of the St. John's Ambulance association will convey to the American people the thanks of the British Red Cross and the ambulance association for U.S. donations.

Britain's Morning Newspapers Welcome Prime Minister King

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—Britain's morning newspapers welcomed Prime Minister Mackenzie King to this embattled isle and viewed his arrival for discussions with the United Kingdom Government as foreshadowing developments connected with the war effort of the Empire.

"Plainly big decisions are to be taken on how and where the Empire's power shall strike," said the Daily Express pointing to the presence in London of the New Zealand Prime Minister, Peter Fraser.

Both Mr. King and Mr. Fraser are to sit on meetings of the War Cabinet.

Remarking that Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia is "fighting" for permission to come to London, the Express added: "The more Empire statesmen we have at the War Cabinet meetings the more confidence we shall have that the decisions made can and will be carried out."

"It is welcome news that Mackenzie King has been able to accept the invitation of our Government," said the Daily Telegraph.

The newspaper said the obstacles of an Imperial war conference had not prevented considerable effective consultation. Mr. Menzies visited London for a considerable time, and Mr. Fraser delayed his departure in order to confer with the Canadian Prime Minister.

The Telegraph added that collaboration by Empire statesmen should be developed to the utmost.

Auto Production To be Cut 20 P. C.

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Defence and automobile industry officials of the United States tackled the question of future production quotas today, amid indications the total passenger car output in the next 12 months may be less than the 2,600,000 cars junked annually.

The industry has just completed its largest model—or manufacturing—year since 1929, with an output of approximately 4,298,667 passenger cars and 985,000 trucks.

Today's meeting was concerned with production quotas for only part of the coming model year—the period ending Dec. 1—and the expectation was that the passenger car output would be cut 20 percent below the 1940 model-year total.

William S. Knudsen, co-director of the office of production management, said that after Dec. 1, quotas will be fixed on a monthly basis, three months in advance. Thus, the December quota will be announced about the middle of September.

Knudsen said about 100,000 new cars would be made this month.

43 PICKETS ARRESTED

Fort William, Aug. 21 — (CP) — Forty-three strike pickets at the Great Lakes Lumber Company's plant here were arrested today by city police and charged with "besetting the premises." The plant has been partially strike-bound for the past two days.

City police escorted workmen to their jobs when the day shift went on duty this morning and the arrests were made when pickets staged "a demonstration," police said.

Fred Andrew, mill superintendent, declared an employee of the company, the night fuel house man was accosted on a street last night by two strikers and told that "if he went to work he would be lynched."

Balloon tires are fashioned after the padded treads of camels and elephants.

Good Printing
is a Work of Art!

The Ontario Intelligencer Job Printing Dep't. prides itself on its workmanship. Quality Work is yours, yet at prices you will admit are not unreasonable.

READY FOR ATTACK FROM SKY

A Russian anti-aircraft machine-gun crew protects a column of marching troops who are moving up to the front, according to the Moscow censor-approved caption. Some of the soldiers gaze confidently toward the gun.

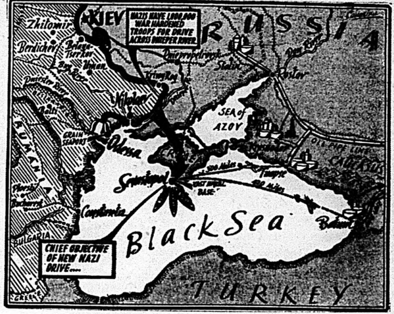
"EARS PINNED BACK"

Strictly speaking this German plane did not actually have its "hearing" equipment damaged, but from a graphic point it might seem so. It was a fine almost undamaged specimen of the latest German fighting plane, the Messerschmitt 109F-2 with a Daimler-Benz 601-N engine. British air experts who examined it claim it is a good fighting ship—but not as good as the British fighter types.

The Times, devoting a column to the arrival, sketched Canada's war effort and praised the Dominion Prime Minister for his work in bringing about closer co-operation between Britain and the United States.

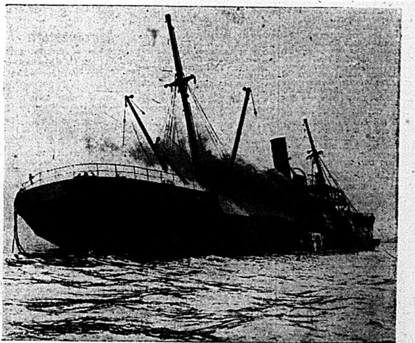
RECONSTRUCTION STUDY

London, (CP)—Britain's Conservative and Labor parties have launched independent moves to investigate the problem of post-war reconstruction and the Liberals may create a similar committee shortly.



NAZI LAUNCHING DRIVE IN EFFORT TO REACH CRIMEA

Nazi war chiefs are expected to hurl more than 1,000,000 troops against the Soviet army's defences in the west bank of the Dnieper river in an effort to reach the Crimean gate to the Caucasian oil fields. The Reds are digging in for a battle of the death, hopeful that the rains which have already set in may help delay the Nazi blitz machine until cold weather sets in.



SHIP A DEATH TRAP FOR FIFTEEN

A view of the still-smouldering hulk of the Cuban mail freighter Panuco as she lay, grounded, off the flats of Brooklyn, New York. Fifteen bodies have been sighted in the water-filled hold of the vessel which was wrecked in the fire that also destroyed Pier 27, Brooklyn. Five other men were known to have perished in the fire.

Battle-Scarred Aircraft Carrier In United States

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—The British Press Service announces that the battle-scarred aircraft carrier Illustrious is in a United States shipyard undergoing repairs and that Capt. Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of the King, who arrived by clipper Tuesday, would command the ship and supervise repairs.

The announcement, authorized by the Ministry of Information in London, did not disclose the exact whereabouts of the 23,000-ton vessel.

Admiralty reports published June 18 said the mighty vessel, a year old and with a speed of more than 30 knots, was almost destroyed in axis plane attacks Jan. 10 near Sicily and again at Malta, where she took refuge.

There are no fish in Utah's Great Salt Lake.

NON-MARTIAL INDIA

Bombay, (CP)—In a closer relation of "India's so called non-martial races" with the military services, the old Madras Regiment, disbanded 15 years ago, is to be restored and recruited immediately.

Accident Rehabilitation

Birmingham, (CP)—Aided by the Nuffield Trust, and situated in century-old Queen's Hospital, the first hospital-rehabilitation centre to help patients in industrial accidents to resume their jobs is in operation.

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.45 p.m.

MINES

Aldermac 16A
Aunor 175A
Bankfield 6A
Beattie 109
Bidgood 9B
Bralorne 11B
Broulan 74
Buffalo Ank 425A
Calgary and Ed. 130B
Central Pat. 190
Chesterville 135
Coast Copper 117B
Coniaurum 120B
Dome 22 1-2
Eldorado 40
East Mal. 220B
Falconbridge 325
Francoeur 45A
Gunnar 24
Hardrock 78A
Home Oil 235
Hollinger 12 5-8
Howey 21A
Hudson Bay 29A
Jason 38
Kerr Add. 445
Kirk Lake 67
Lake Shore 14 3-4
Leitch 46B
Little L L 180B
Macassa 385
McIntyre 48B
McLeod 185B
McKenzie 106
Mining Corp. 126
Moneta 35
Nipissing 125A
O'Brien 151
Okalta 55
Omega 13B
Paymaster 20
Pamour 100
Perron 142
Pend Oreille 160
Pickle Crow 305
Powell 75B
Premier 90
Preston E. D. 315
Royalite 24
San Antonio 245A
Sherritt G. 81
Siscoe 52
Sladen M. 28A
Sud. Basin 160A
Sullivan 65B
Steep Rock 183
Sylvanite 245B
T. Hughes 285
Tex. Can. Oil 100
Toburn 150A
Ventures 450B
W. Amulet 465
Wr. Hargreaves 400
Upper Can. 182

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 147 1-2
B.A. Oil 15 7-8B
Brewing Corp. 80B
Braz. Trac. 7 1-2
Can. Cement 5B
Can. Ind. Alcohol 3A
C.P.R. 6 5-8A
Can. Malting 33B
Canada Car 7 1-8
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-2
Con. Smelting 38
Dominion Foundries 15 3-4
Dominion Stores 5B
Dist. Seagrams 22 1-2
Fanny Farmer 23 1-8
Ford "A" 16A
Gypsum 3B
Imp. Oil 9 3-8B
Int. Nickel 34 1-2
Inter. Pet 13 5-8
Imp. Tobacco 12 1-4B
Loblaw 26 1-2B
Massey Harris 2 3-4B
McColl-Frontenac 4 1-4B
Steel of Canada 66
Shawinigan 18B
Walker's 44A
Walker's Pfd. 20
C.P.A. 3 3-4

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 152 1-8
Anaconda 28 3-8
Bethlehem Steel 69 1-2
Chrysler 58 1-2
General Electric 31 3-4
General Motors 38 5-8
North American 12 5-8
Montgomery Ward 34
Phillips Pet. 44 3-8
Radio 4
Standard 43 1-4
U.S. Steel 57 1-8
United Aircraft 40
Vanadium 25 1-8

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)— An assortment of stocks again one-stepped over the recovery route in today's market but many issues showed scant inclination to extend Wednesday's moderate advance.

Numerous fractional plus signs were seen near the fourth hour although laggards were plentiful.

Bonds and commodities turned a shade uneven.

Stocks given occasional support —some eventually wavered — included U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Great Northern, Standard Oil (N.J.), Cerro De Pasco, Sears Roebuck and Goodyear.

Backward were Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros., Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, General Motors, Sperry and Woolworth.

International Nickel lost ⅛ for the only change among Canadian stocks. In the bond market Canada 4s gained ½ point.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 21 (CP)— Price adjustments were narrow with the balance slightly on the up side in the early hours of trading. Several penny golds, including Duquesne, Murphy and Robb-Montbray, moved in substantial volume with Duquesne and Murphy higher.

Malartic Gold Fields, Chesterville and O'Brien were narrowly higher and small losses were netted by Pickle Crow, Macassa and Hollinger.

Nickel and Pend Oreille recorded minor gains and Noranda, Steep Rock and Falconbridge were a bit heavy.

Foods were higher in the industrial section, papers were weaker and other groups steady. Western Canada Flour and Maple Leaf Milling common firmed to new high prices for the year.

Fields and Chesterville were off narrowly. Calgary-Edmonton and Anglo-Canadian were a bit softer in light turnover in the oils.

Steep Rock moved against the general trend, gaining 8 to 1.88.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS
A-large	.35
A-medium	.34
A-pullet	.29
Grade "B"	.28-.29
Grade "C"	.24
BUTTER
Butter, No. 1	.37
Butter, No. 2	.35 1-2 to .36 1-4
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

News of the Produce Markets

Toronto, Aug. 21—A further decline of 1-4 cent a pound was registered by all grades of creamery butter solids in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday. Spot prices on grade B showed a slight increase as the egg market maintained its recently displayed firm tone.

The butter market was very quiet and unsettled. Early in the day some first-grade creamery solids were sold at 37 1-4 cents a pound, but later the demand fell off completely and, though it was offered at the reduced price of 37 cents a pound, no sales were made. Trading on the market was almost at a standstill near the close.

Trading on the egg market continued under a very firm tone as light receipts proved barely sufficient to meet the improved demand. Spot prices on grade B strengthened slightly while other quotations held unchanged. Prices were not changed in wholesale-to-retail action. Grades A-large, A-medium and A-pullet closed at 37, 36 and 32 cents a dozen respectively, while the two lower grades sold at 31 and 27 cents a dozen.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 21—(CP)—Produce market prices here yesterday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter: First-grade solids, jobbing price, 37 1-2c to 37 3-4c; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized, current receipt price, 36 3-8c; No. 2, 35 3-8c; No. 1 wholesole price, 36 5-8c to 36 3-4c; No. 2, 35 7-8c to 36c. Receipts: 429 boxes.

Eggs: Graded shipments selling at A-large, 36c to 36 1-2c; A-medium, 34 1-2c to 35c; pullets, 28 1-2c to 29c; B grade, 28c to 28 1-2c; C grade, 24c. Receipts: 421 cases.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 21 (CP)—Bacon-hog prices were unchanged at markets reporting today.

Liveweight: Chatham $16.

Dressedweight: Barrie $14.50, Brantford $14 plus transportation, Chatham $13.70, Hamilton $14.60 delivered, Hull $14 plus transportation, Stratford $13.00 plus transportation.

Livestock

Toronto, Aug. 21 — (CP)—Prices were steady on the Livestock Market here today up to mid-session. No sheep were offered.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 30, calves 20, hogs 300, sheep and lambs 210, with 200 head of cattle unsold from yesterday. Butcher steers $7.75 to $8.75, bulls sold at $6.25 to $6.75 with stockers selling at $6 to $7.75; cows sold at $9.75 to $10.

A few good veals sold at $9 to $13, hogs selling at $14.60 to $14.65 and some good local lambs selling at $12 with one carload of western still unsold.

Passenger Killed Bailing Out of Civilian Plane

Pilot Lands Safely After Plane is Said to Have Begun to Crack up in Air

Maple, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP)—John Hopkins, 20, of Toronto, was killed and George Sheard, 25, also of Toronto, landed safely when they bailed out of their civilian airplane near here late Wednesday. The machine was piloted by Sheard with Hopkins riding as a passenger.

The plane, owned by Patterson and Hill, Toronto aircraft manufacturers, started to break up in the air, it was reported.

Both men took to their parachutes. Sheard's opened safely while the plane crashed into Hopkins before he could clear the ship.

MUSSOLINI OFF ERITREA WALLS ROYALTY STAYS

British Liberal as Usual in Treatment of Italians and Their Business in Country Taken Over

By MARTIN HERLIHY

(Special Reuters Correspondent)

Massawa, Aug. 21 (CP-Reuters)—This port on the Red Sea, which the Italians attempted to block by sinking ships and barges, is being speedily reopened to traffic. Work is progressing rapidly on removal of the obstructions.

The appearance of a few British wives has had a remarkable effect on Italian opinion, since the Italians regarded it as a sign of British confidence in the outcome of the war and it disposed of rumors of imminent successes by the axis.

Mussolini's picture has been voluntarily removed from prominent positions, but the King of Italy's portrait remains, which indicates the trend of Italian feeling.

From this steaming tropical port, where British soldiers and sailors curse the heat, an unceasing stream of goods makes a 7,000 foot ascent to the highlands of Eritrea. A rope railway leaping from one height to another carries a large amount of merchandise while big lorries mount the winding road—a triumph of Italian engineering—to the top in less than three hours.

The main goods carrier, however, is the railway because the strain on motor transport is enormous and causes great expenditures on vehicles and gasoline. All signs of blocks erected to stop the victorious march of British and Imperial troops have disappeared and permanent repairs have been made where Italians dynamited the road.

Need Dairy Products.

The greater portion of the mass of traffic ascending from Massawa is intended for the country's needs and is part of the British effort to keep Eritrea's economic life going. For the moment that effort is concentrated on the necessities of life. There has always been a shortage of dairy products, since cattle do not thrive in high altitudes, and this shortage has been accentuated by the presence of large numbers of stranded women and children.

The United States Red Cross donated a gift of powdered milk which was distributed among children under seven and British authorities have started to restock empty shops formerly supplied from Italy.

Officials are trying to govern the occupied country with a minimum of hardship for the inhabitants and regulations such as the curfew have been relaxed. Troops have been given a guide to Asmara with a preface recalling the British soldier's traditional character of ambassador or his country.

"For years the Italians have been taught to distrust and dislike us," the preface said. "A few offenders will injure our reputation out of all proportion to their numbers and the enemy knows it—now show him that ours is a way of life worthy of respect and imitation."

Good Policy.

This policy is reaping its reward. In the country and in towns and cities the colonists have showered invitations on the soldiers to visit their homes for meals and entertainment. The same spirit prevail in football matches between army, Royal Air Force and local teams and joint boxing contests. There is rarely any animosity shown.

As Eritrea is a test for British administration this spirit must be fostered not only by propaganda but also by economic help. An army-sponsored paper, which prints the same news in Italian and English, has dispelled any suspicion by the Italians that the news is doctored for their benefit.

Nixon Says Quints Should Be Living With Their Parents

Toronto, Aug. 21—(CP)—The Dionne quintuplets should live with their parents, brothers and sisters, Hon. Harry Nixon, Acting Minister of Education said today. Action is likely to be taken by the Ontario Government, in suggesting to the quints' board of guardians that this step be proceeded with in the near future.

"The family should live together," Mr. Nixon insisted. "It would be a more normal life for them. While the present arrangement has health and discipline is concerned, heatlh and discipline is concerned, netting them over $1,000,000, I'm in agreement the family should all be together."

The quints, he went on, would have the best discipline under normal family conditions with as many outside contacts as possible. But Mr. Nixon said he would oppose having the quints exploited by being taken on show trips either in Canada or the United States. Those wishing to see them, might do so at a home that may be provided for the entire family out of the earnings of the quints and the father and mother, he agreed.

Mr. Nixon did not believe that legislation will be necessary to carry out this change, but that suggestions for the change might be made by the government to the Board of Guardians which body would work out arrangements for the change.

Text of Roosevelt's Message to Congress

Washington, Aug. 21 — (AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's message to the United States Congress on his recent sea conference with Prime Minister Churchill follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Over a week ago I held several important conferences at sea with the British Prime Minister. Because of the factor of safety to British, Canadian and American ships and their personnel no prior announcement of these meetings could be properly made.

At the close, a public statement by the Prime Minister and President was made. I quote it for the information of the Congress and for the record:

(Here followed the text of the statement on the conference which was issued Aug. 14. It included the joint eight-point declaration of common principles.)

The Congress and the President having heretofore determined through the Lend-Lease Act on the national policy of American aid to the democracies which east and west are waging war against dictatorships, the military and naval conversations at these meetings made clear gains in furthering the effectiveness of this aid.

Furthermore, the Prime Minister and I are arranging for conferences with the Soviet Union to aid it in its defence against the attack made by the principal aggressor of the modern world—Germany.

Worthwhile to Seek

Finally, the declaration of principles at this time presents a goal which is worthwhile for our type of civilization to seek. It is so clear cut that it is difficult to oppose in any major particular without automatically admitting a willingness to accept compromise with Nazism; or to agree to a world peace which would give to Nazism domination over large numbers of conquered nations. Inevitably such a peace would be a gift to Nazism to take breath—armed breath—for a second war to extend the control over Europe and Asia to the American hemisphere itself.

It is perhaps unnecessary for me to call attention once more to the utter lack of validity of the spoken or written word of the Nazi Government.

It also is unnecessary for me to point out that the declaration of principles includes of necessity the world need for freedom of religion and freedom of information. No society of the world organized under the announced principles could survive without these freedoms which are a part of the whole freedom for which we strive.

Made Clear Gains

The President reported the military and naval conversations at the North Atlantic conference "made clear gains" in furthering the effectiveness of lend-lease aid to countries east and west.

He and the Prime Minister, Mr. Roosevelt added, are arranging for conferences with Russia to assist it "in its defence against the attack made by the principal aggressor of the modern world—Germany."

The declaration of principles, the President continued, presented a goal "worthwhile for our type of civilization to seek."

Written with pencil and scratch pad in the President's study last night, the message contained a copy of the official statement released by the White House last Thursday covering the eight general aims agreed upon by the Prime Minister and Mr. Roosevelt.

British Ship-Building Experts Will Assist in Big Program To Build Destroyers in Canada

(By R. K. CARNEGIE)

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 21 (C.P. Cable) — British ship-building experts will soon be in Canada to assist in the big program of constructing destroyers in Canadian yards, Canada's Navy Minister, Angus L. MacDonald announced here today.

The destroyers, which will be built for the Canadian navy, as part of its big expansion program, will be of the Tribal class. They displace 1,870 tons and carry eight 4.7 inch guns and four 21-inch torpedo tubes. The pre-war cost averaged $2,000,000 in British shipyards.

The first of the new destroyers will be built on Canada's eastern coast.

Additional orders for corvettes will be placed in Canada, Mr. MacDonald also announced, where the yards, both in the Great Lakes, and one tide-water, have almost completed existing orders.

The Canadian navy already has 40 corvettes in commission and, in addition to these, Canadian shipyards have built an undisclosed number for the British navy.

Too Large to Pass Canals

The new orders will include some of a type too large to pass through the St. Lawrence River canals and will be built in yards having deep-water access to the sea. The smaller type will continue to be built at inland ports.

The minister said that most of the material needed for the destroyer program was already under order. He believed eight or twelve British ship-building experts, to act as superintendents and foremen, would be enough to get thingsg started.

Mr. MacDonald expressed admiration for the co-operation he had received from the Admiralty in connection with the Canadian ship building program and, particularly, the destroyer program.

Since he arrived in Britain several weeks ago, the minister has visited many centres where Canadians were in training for the navy, army and air force. He found conditions for training satisfactory and the men in excellent spirits.

Mr. MacDonald had a long conference today with Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

McKECHNIE SIGN S NEW CONTRACT

With General Manager Warren Giles looking on, Bill McKechnie signs a two-year contract to manage the Cincinnati Reds for a reputed salary of $25,000 year plus a $5,000 bonus based on home attendance.

Greer Garson and Laurence Oli- ver co-stars of the laugh-splashed Jane Austen romance "Pride And Prejudice" which comes to the McCarthy Theatre next week on the same program with Belsa Lugosi in "Invisible Ghost."

SOVIETS FORCING

(Continued from page one)

Telling residents "the enemy will never set foot in our beautiful city," Voroshilov, long a Soviet hero, announced new detachments of the national militia are being formed to aid the defences.

As German bombers began raiding the Baltic ship-building and industrial centre in daylight attacks, the marshal told residents to let "neither bombing nor other difficulties" interrupt preparation for aerial and land defence.

"Stand firm to the end. Death to the bloody Fascist German robbers," he said.

Drive Down From North

Military reports placed the nearest Nazi troops approximately 75 miles from Russia's second largest city as the Finns and Germans drove down from the north and Nazi columns moved up in the areas of Kingisepp 75 miles southwest, and Novogord, 100 miles to the south.

But in all these areas, said Russian accounts, as well as in the Staraya Russa sector 150 miles southeast of Leningrad, Soviet troops were forcing the Germans to fight step by step.

In the south Soviet troops turned back Nazi efforts to enter Odessa, important Black Sea port.

(Reports which The Associated Press was unable to confirm circulated in European listening posts that the Dnieper River dam near Dnieperopetrovsk had been opened or blown up by the Russians to halt the German Ukraine drive).

Russians reported a Soviet counter thrust on the central front which brought into play—apparently for the first time—Russia's publicized parachute troops and air-borne tanks.

Recapture Five Towns

The newspaper Red Star said the attack broke through three German defence lines and recaptured five towns.

The Germans, too, used their parachute troops and air-borne tanks, the Soviet communique said, but when they landed in the vicinity on a bridge a Red army platoon disabled the machines and annihilated the parachutists.

There were heavy battles in the vicinity of Gomel, 140 miles north of Kiev and 250 miles from Moscow.

Moscow was raided for the second successive night before midnight but the German planes were reported turned back by Moscow's anti-aircraft defences.

Voroshilov, in an appeal like that of the rulers of Madrid in the Spanish civil war and of Warsaw in the German attack, sought to tap the fighting power of city dwellers to defend their homes.

"The enemy is attempting to penetrate into Leningrad," he said. "He wants to destroy our houses, our factories and work shops, to rob the people and to shed the blood of innocent victims, to kill the peaceful population and wreck the freedom of our country."

Follow Example of Soldiers

Telling inhabitants they must not be caught unaware, the Marshal called upon city dwellers to follow the example of the soldiers.

"Women: Inspire your husbands, your sons and brothers," he said.

"Young men: Join detachments for defence.

Workers: Leningrad will need more and more arms so as to ensure men at the front sufficient arms and ammunition."

He warned the city that in addition to bombing the Germans have in store "yet more abominable measures" and he called for aerial and land defence.

"We can and will stop the bloody horde, which is threatening the Soviet people."

SEVER RELATIONS

Chungking, China, Aug. 21 (AP) —Foreign Minister Quo Taichi announced today China's severance of diplomatic relations with German-occupied Denmark because of the latter's recognition of Manchoukuo and the Japanese-sponsored Wang Ching-Wei regime established at Nanking.

Three Canadians Mentioned in Orders For Coolness, Bravery

London, Aug. 21—(CP Cable)—The coolness and bravery of three Canadian soldiers who rescued a British pilot from a blazing plane was mentioned in the latest Canadian Army Orders.

They were Cpl. J. F. Samson, 28, Ottawa; Cpl. L. Harthen, 26, Carleton Place, Ont., and Pte. J. D. Hogue, 21, of Ottawa, all members of the Canadian Army Service Corps.

The official account said the men saw the plane crash in flames, rushed up and "extricated the pilot who was unconscious, moved him to a place of safety and, at the same time recovered certain equipment from the wreckage."

"Samson then returned to the plane, in spite of the flames and turned off the gasoline," the account went on.

"Throughout, the soldiers displayed initiative, and disregard for their own safety that is worthy of high praise."

CANADA'S PREMIER

(Continued from Page One)

ham Palace call by Brig. G. P. Vanier, former Canadian Minister to France who is a member of Mr. King's official party.

Poses For Pictures

Arriving in Downing Street, Mr. King posed for pictures and insisted on being photographed with the tall bobby on duty outside No. 10.

Mr. Churchill, cigar in mouth, extended his hand and gripped that of Mr. King in a prolonged handshake.

"I'm so delighted to meet you," said Mr. King. "This is a tremendous pleasure."

Mr. Churchill retained the Canadian Prime Minister's hand and placed his left hand on Mr. King's shoulder, saying:

"I'm delighted to meet you, too. This is fine."

Talked With N.Z. Premier

After the cameramen had clicked away for several minutes Mr. Churchill escorted the visitor through the big green door to the Chamber, where a Canadian Prime Minister had not attended a War Cabinet meeting since the days of Sir Robert Borden in the First Great War.

Shortly after the two Prime Ministers disappeared, British Ministers and the Chiefs of Staff began to arrive.

Before Mr. King went to Buckingham Palace he talked with Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand for more than an hour. Mr. Fraser said they discussed everything of interest to Canada, New Zealand and the British Empire, "and especially the Pacific".

Between his talk with Mr. Fraser and his visit to Buckingham Palace the Canadian Prime Minister inspected air raid damage at the House of Commons and Westminster Hall.

Mr. King will spend the week-end with Mr. Churchill in the country.

After lunch with the British Prime Minister, Mr. King posed on the steps of No. 10 for more pictures. So many photographers' bulbs were flashing that Mr. Churchill turned to the Canadian visitor and remarked "we should be blindfolded."

The Prime Ministers shook hands and then parted, Mr. Churchill returned indoors and Mr. King crossed the street to the Dominions office where he met Viscount Cranborne, the Secretary of State.

As he entered the Dominions office Mr. King, who had viewed the damaged House of Commons during the morning, remarked: "It's a terribly sad sight for anyone who had seen it before."

MACKENZIE KING

(Continued from Page One)

Mr. King, wearing a brown suit and black homburg, and carrying a cane, hardly stopped smiling from the moment he left the train and shook hands first with Lord Cranborne.

Willing to Fly Anywhere

Other welcomers included Hon. Angus MacDonald, Canadian Navy Minister; Rear-Admiral Percy Nelles, Chief of Canadian Naval Staff; John Kearney, Canadian High Commissioner to Eire, and Mrs. Kearney, who arrived by Clipper and are proceeding to Dublin Saturday; Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson, Senior Officer of Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters in Britain, and Geoffrey Shakespeare, Undersecretary of State for the Dominions.

Replying to a question by reporters as to the experiences of his first airplane flight, Mr King said: "I have never enjoyed anything so much.

I'll fly anywhere after crossing the Atlantic. Really it was a revelation."

The Prime Minister is expected to lunch with Gen. McNaughton on Saturday and attend army sports where he will be able to meet some of the Canadian troops informally before making an official inspection at a later date.

AIR RAID SHELTERS PROVIDED

Tokyo, Aug. 21—(AP)—The newspaper Nichi Nichi today quoted a Japanese vice-consul from Vladivostok as saying that the Russians were hastening large-scale construction of air raid shelters there and that many residents were carrying gas masks on the streets.

PREMIER LISTS

(Continued from Page One)

Spoke Under Glare of Lights

Mr. King who spoke under the glare of powerful lights while movie cameras ground and still cameras clicked, first outlined the reasons for his trip to Britain and then answered questions.

He said there never had been the slightest hesitation in Canada to appreciate the full implications of the war. He said his visit gave him an opportunity to discuss with Mr. Churchill matters of common concern more intimately and to greater length than was possible by cable.

The prime minister sat on the raised platform of the conference hall, flanked by Mr. Bracken, High Commissioner Vincent Massey, Sir Walter Monckton, director-general of the ministry and other officials.

As he finished his brief speech, the camera lights were switched off and he sat down. He rose a moment later to say that another purpose of his trip, and by no means the least, was to visit Canadian troops, airmen and seamen.

Did Not Comment

The Prime Minister was asked by an Australian newspaperman if he cared to comment on the possibility of forming an Imperial War Cabinet and reiterated the stand made known in Canada.

He dealt at some length with the present means of commnication among the governments of the Commonwealth, particularly between Britain and Canada. He tapped the long table in front of him, to emphasize his words, when he said, "I firmly believe that important decisions should not be made by one man but by a government as a whole".

He added that it might appear to some people that an Imperial War Cabinet might be more effective but the present arrangements for communication between governments were "infinitely more effective than any other possible means."

As an example, he said that if he had been asked at the meeting of the British war cabinet today to give any definite answer to a particular question, he would not have been able to do so without consulting his ministers in Ottawa.

He suggested it was more efficient for a Prime Minister to be able to discuss with his entire cabinet before announcing a decision which could be sent immediately to the British government.

Plan Working Effectively

He said this plan was working effectively and added: "As far as I am aware, there has not been a single point of difference between the Canadian and British governments since the beginning of the war."

In the last war, he went on to say, there had been "continual differences" but none this time.

Questioned on conscription, the Prime Minister said National unity was regarded as fundamental in Canada's war effort and no difficulties were being encountered in getting men for the armed forces.

The Canadian government had not introduced conscription "because it has found the people so zealous."

Praises French Canada

"There is nothing finer than the attitude of French Canada," Mr. King said answering another question. "The province of Quebec is solidly behind the government of Canada and the government of the United Kingdom in this war. Quebec appreciates perhaps even more than any other province in Canada to what we owe our liberties."

Asked if there was any truth in the saying that the Dominions are rubber stamps for London, Mr. King replied with a smile: "Just ask my political opponents where I'm a rubber stamp. I never intend to be."

He disclosed plans to visit centres of air raid damage, to see the country's defences and how the war effort generally is carried on, adding "I want to get as much information in a short time as I possibly can."

NAZI CLAIM

(Continued from Page One)

By driving to Kherson, on the west bank of the Dnieper at one of the principal crossings of the river which is 10 miles wide there, the Germans claimed to have isolated Odessa to the west. Bitter fighting still was being waged for that besieged Black Sea port.

At the same time Nazi military quarters claimed that at least 330,000 Russians had been taken prisoners thus far in the Ukraine.

Announcement of the engagement at Gomel was taken by observers as an indication the Nazis are attempting to straighten out the kinks in their far-flung battle line to avert possible Russian attempts at encirclement of Nazi advance forces.

Published maps have shown the German lines sagging sharply to the west around the Pripet marshes between Smolensk and Kiev, Ukrainian capital approximately 300 miles to the south.

Casualties Not Estimated

The Germans did not estimate casualties suffered by the Russians. The twenty-five Soviet divisions mentioned probably would total about 375,000 men and the two air brigades about 5,000 or more.

Reports relayed from the Ukraine front by DNB, Nazi propaganda and news agency, claimed German siege guns and dive bombers blasted the besieged Black Sea port of Odessa all day yesterday, inflicting losses on Russian troops allegedly awaiting embarkation.

Dazzling Promise

By
KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER SIXTEEN
Showdown

Dona forced herself to undress, although there was no sleep in her. She felt like a robot wound up for motion, all push buttons and wires, with no human volition.

She went into her shower without a cap and let sharp needles of cold water spray her from head to feet.

She stepped out on the bath mat finally, feeling like a different person. She squeezed water from her clinging curls and let them hang loosely around her shoulders to dry; she rubbed her soft white flesh with a mammoth towel, making a glow of new energy go prickling through her.

She got into white silk pajamas and a white flannel robe and wandered aimlessly toward her sitting room.

But she halted at the doorway in startled dismay.

Huddled in the big chair besi.! the lighted lamp, with her feet tucked under her, was Bob Pratt.

"Why—Bob!" exclaimed Dona uncertainly.

Had Bob come here to have it out with Tug's wife? Or—if she didn't know yet about his wife? shouldn't she be told that the irresistible Tug was unavailable?

Bob's curly black head moved around. She got out sleepily, "Huh—oh, it's you."

She gave Dona a dazed look from half-opened eyes and yawned, not bothering to cover her mouth. She sat up, letting her long ermine wrap slip heedlessly from her bare white shoulders.

"I heard you in the shower—waited to see you," she added, now thoroughly awake.

Dona dropped to a big green hassock, folded her robe tightly around her shaking legs and was ready for whatever this unpredictable girl had to offer.

The object of Bob's early morning visit was all too soon revealed.

She began pettishly, "I suppose old Dunning Castor raked me over the coals for what he saw in the conservatory, didn't he?"

"Not to me. He didn't mention it," Dona promptly assured her.

Her eyes fell to her hands clasping her knees so tightly that the skin threatened to break over her knuckles.

Bob sighed in visible relief.

"Not that it matters," she flung out airily. "Tom will have to realize that men do make love to you, you know. A little competition might do him good."

"Is Tom Castor the sort that needs — competition?" Dona ventured to ask. "He's so regular himself, you might be taking a chance."

Bob scornfully tossed her head. "How little you know about men, Dona! Arouse their jealousy and they're frantic to get a permanent lien on you. Hard to hold, you're a prize package."

"But don't some men like to feel that they can trust a woman?"

Bob giggled musically. "You're way out of date, Dona. Maybe it's plenty pitiful, but a lot of the old virtues don't register with my crowd. You ought to know that. The girls are looking for a diamond-studded meal ticket, and the men for sophistication in a wife.

Dona glanced up anxiously. They all go for the glitter of family background and a bank roll. Take Tug Nash, for instance. He's an outsider, of course, but not so different from the men in my crowd. Tug would marry me for my money in a split second."

"Thinking of taking him on?" she asked quickly.

"Heavens, no! Still—it might be amusing. But I'd get tired of supporting him, and then we'd break up. A man can't hold me permanently unless he has social position, money or fame. I have to look up to something. It's grasping — but that's the way I am."

"And you couldn't—look up to Tug Nash?"

Dona held her breath for the answer. So much depended upon it. If it were the right answer, she wouldn't be obliged to tell this girl about Tug's marriage.

"Mercy no! Tug's good to look at—too handsome for a man. I confess, I was crazy about him at first, but that's over with now. I've decided to settle down—mind my p's and q's."

With an effort, Bob pulled herself to her feet and drawled, "If anything comes of that conservatory incident, try to put in a good word with the Castors for me, won't you, darling?"

"I'm hardly in a position to do otherwise, am I?" came a little rebelliously from Dona. But her smile took away the sting of her words and Bob was satisfied.

She vanished quickly from the room on, "Toodle-doo—so glad we had the talk."

Dona jumped quickly up, feverishly began walking up and down the room, her feet like heavy weights in her blue satin mules.

Bob Platt, who had all that money could buy! But she hadn't seemed keen about buying Tug Nash. If she desired him, she'd get him and let no mere wife stand in her way.

"It will be sheer luck if I don't have to deal with just that in the end," sighed Dona, on an edge of fear. "Scandal—people wondering why Tug and I hadn't announced our marriage. But I went into it willingly—I'll see it through—somehow. If I can't make something out of Tug, then I'll do the next best thing. What—I don't know."

And strangely, she suddenly felt blessedly relieved, as if Bob's renunciation of Tug had come close to solving all her difficulties. She felt that anything menacing she had to deal with in the future would be infinitesimal compared to it.

She crawled into bed longing for sleep, and her youth asserted itself, mercifully sending her into deep oblivion nearly as soon as her head touched the pillow.

Dona's life from now on became a thrilling adventure as she rushed about with Bob and her set to luncheons, teas, cocktail parties and dinner-dances; to first nights at the opera, theater and the movies, interspersed now and then by polo, golf and horse races. At times, she nearly forgot to worry. For one thing, she was feeling fairly complacent about her influence over Bob Platt. The erstwhile lightheaded girl seemed to be trying to mend her ways. There were days now when Bob was sweetly considerate of her mother and only occasionally did she lapse into one of her vile fits of temper.

Sometimes this abrupt change in Bob set Dona to pondering. She wondered if there were a concealed motive for Bob's behaviour, which eventually might explode with a loud bang and cause serious damage.

More and more, Bob, Tom, De Lane and Dona went out tgether. They frequently cancelled all other engagements and had a quiet dinner and bridge foursome at the Platt or Castor home.

Dona was relieved when De Lane became her accepted escort, because he was not free to make intense love to her as were other men in Bob's set and, having told her about his wife, he was careful to treat her with just the right mixture of lovelorn swain and honorable intention. Dona sensed, however, that he was merely biding his time and was still planning to win her after his matrimonial difficulties were untangled.

But the dire threat of Alica De Lane's divorce proceedings faded into dim unreality and Dona was inclined to think that the overwrought De Lane had exaggerated his position. Perhaps he had even wanted to place himself in a glowing light, make her a hero-worshipper. Anyway, if Alica had intended making a fuss over those destroyed photographic plates, why hadn't she done so? Or had she never learned the truth about the matter? And when a girl was so thoroughly chaperoned as she was now, there could be nothing to fear. She was hardly ever alone with De Lane. She was only one of the foursome, and that was that.

When Tom entertained them in his home, Dunning Castor often joined them in a game of fantan, Chinese checkers or rummy. Dona was more than ever impressed by the quiet man's charm, by the depth of character he expressed so aptly in words and manner. She especially admired the strong bond of affection between father and son and she wondered if that explained Tom Castor's straight-forward manliness and lofty ideals.

Too often, she caught herself comparing Tug with Tom Castor. She tried to excuse Tug's warped outlook on life because of his lack of cultural and educational background. Tom had been surrounded by the best of these since birth and had every right to be the man he was. But realized that there was a flaw in this sort of reasoning. men, plenty of them, whose immediate ancestors knew nothing about the niceties of living. Besides, didn't thinking too much about superior family heritage make one an unsufferable snob?

There were whole days though when she was filled with black dejection. It was generally on the days when she was obliged to sit mutely by and watch the supreme effort that Bob Platt was making to bring Tom Castor to a proposal of marriage.

She scolded herself severely. What did it matter—what could it possibly matter to her, an employee in the house of Platt, whom Tom Castor married? He was the most wonderfully rounded specimen of manhood she had ever known. He would make any woman a grand husband. If he wanted to throw himself away on Bob, it was his own business.

For a long time, Dona could not clearly define these objections and it bothered her. Then suddenly, she knew that she must not.

She had found something way down deep in one corner of her heart that should not be there—something she had to rip out and destroy—permanently.

(To be continued)

Cross Channel In Frail Canoe To Renew Allegiance

London, Aug. 19.— (CP)—After planning for more than a year, two young Netherlands army officers have made their way across the channel from Nazi-occupied Holland in a frail canoe, renewed their allegiance to Queen Wilhelmina and now are with the Netherlands forces in Britain pledged to "help restore Holland's freedom".

For their escape the two finally obtained a canvas-decked, rubber "sailing canoe".

Having no knowledge of sailing they waited for months for settled weather when their tiny craft might stand a reasonable chance of making the 100-mile trip to Britain without foundering.

They got their chance this summer. Within fifty yards of a Nazi sentry they swiftly put to sea. When they were far enough out they started their outboard motor. It broke down. They dropped it overboard and hoisted sail.

For four days they drifted. They had covered eighty miles in the right direction when a British destroyer spotted them and brought them to Britain.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20.

4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
5.00—I Like Calgary—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF WGY
7.15—News of the World—WEAF, WGY
7.30—Cugat Rumba Revue; Lina Romay and Carmen Castille, vocalists — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.30—Defense of Canada Regulations—CBL
8.00—The Housewarming; Benny Goodman's Orch.; Guests: The Andrews Sisters—WEAF, WGY
8.30—Stadium Concert—WABC
9.00—Major Bowes—WABC, CFRB
9.00—Music Hall; Don Ameche, m.c.—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Sinfonietta—CBL
10.00—Les Concerts Symphoniques—CBL
10.00—Rudy Vallee Program — WEAF, WHAM
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch.—WJR, WABC
10.30—Good Neighbors, drama—WEAF
10.30—Ahead of the Headlines—WJZ, WHAM
10.30—Toronto Symphony Concert—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orch.—WJZ

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
11.00—Treet Time; Buddy Clark—WABC, WGR
12.00—News—CBL
1.15—Vincent Lopez' Orch.—CBL
2.30—"Pops" Concert—CBL
5.15—Wishart Campbell, songs—CBL
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.00—Bridge to Yesterday—WJZ, WHAM
7.30—Rhyme and Rhythm Club — WEAF
7.30—Southern Cruise; Frances Langford and Dick Powell—WABC, WGR
8.00—Concert with Lucille Manners, quartet, Frank Black's Orch.—WEAF, WBEN, CBL
8.00—Claudia and David; Patricia Ryan and Richard Kollmar WABC, WGR
8.30—Woodland Concert; News—CBL
8.30—Information Please; Quiz Program—WEAF, WGY
8.30—Proudly We Hail—WABC, WGR
9.00—Great Moments from Great Plays—WABC, WGR
9.00—Vox Pop—WJZ
9.00—Waltz Time—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Canadian Theatre of the Air—CBL
9.30—Uncle Walter's Dog House—WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hollywood Premiere—WGR
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ, WHAM
10.00—Quiet Victory—CBL
10.00—Romance and Rhythm—WJZ WHAM
10.00—Penthouse Party; Ilka Chase, m.c.; Paul Barron's Orch.—WABC, WGR
10.30—First Piano Quartet—WJZ
11.15—World Affairs—CBL
11.30—BBC News Reel—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orchestra—WJZ, WHAM

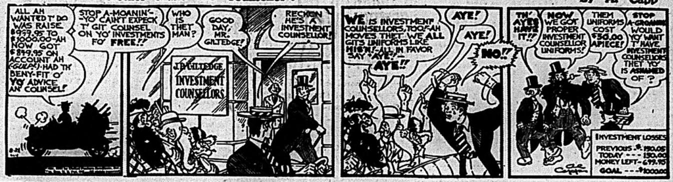
RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

SOLDIERS!
ATTENTION!
STAND YOUR FEET AT EASE
Rub Out Aches with 35c
MINARD'S LINIMENT
192

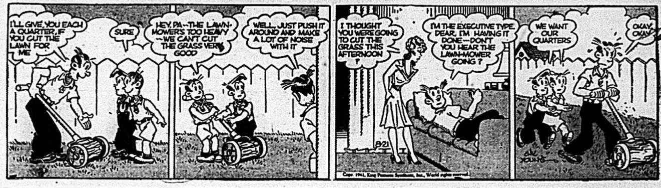
LI'L ABNER — Clothes Make the Counsellor !

By Al Capp



ALL AH WANTED T' DO WAS RAISE $997.95 TO $1000.00—AH NOW GOT $849.95 ON ACCOUNT AH (GULP!)—HAD TH' BENY-FIT O' YO' ADVICE AN' COUNSEL!
STOP A-MOANIN'—YO' CAIN'T EXPECK T' GIT COUNSEL ON YO' INVESTMENTS FO' FREE!!
WHO IS THET MAN?
GOOD DAY, MR. GILTEDGE!
RECKON HE'S A INVESTMENT COUNSELLOR!
J.P. GILTEDGE INVESTMENT COUNSELLORS
WE IS INVESTMENT COUNSELLORS, TOO!—AH MOVES THET WE ALL GITS UNIFORMS LIKE HIS'N!—ALL IN FAVOR SAY "AYE!"—
AYE!!
AYE!
AYE!
NO!!
TH' AYES HAVE IT!!
NOW WE GOT PROPER INVESTMENT COUNSELLOR UNIFORMS!
THEM UNIFORMS COST $50.00 APIECE!
STOP A-GROANIN'—WOULD YO' WANT T' HAVE INVESTMENT COUNSELLORS THET YO' IS ASHAMED OF?
INVESTMENT LOSSES
PREVIOUS $150.05
TODAY 150.00
MONEY LEFT 699.95
GOAL $1000.00

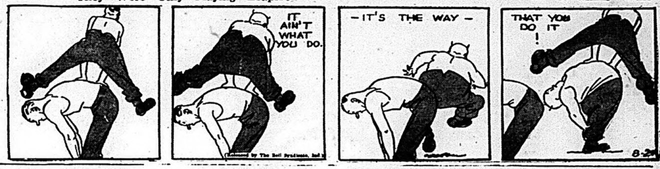
BLONDIE -- The Penalty of a Promise!



I'LL GIVE YOU EACH A QUARTER, IF YOU CUT THE LAWN FOR ME
SURE
HEY, PA—THE LAWN-MOWER'S TOO HEAVY—WE CAN'T CUT THE GRASS VERY GOOD
WELL, JUST PUSH IT AROUND AND MAKE A LOT OF NOISE WITH IT
I THOUGHT YOU WERE GOING TO CUT THE GRASS THIS AFTERNOON ?
I'M THE EXECUTIVE TYPE, DEAR, I'M HAVING IT DONE—DON'T YOU HEAR THE LAWN-MOWER GOING ?
WE WANT OUR QUARTERS
OKAY, OKAY
8/21
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

POP — They Were Only Playing Leapfrog

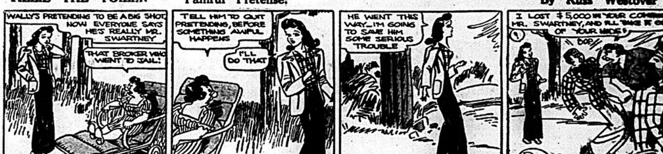
By J. Millar Watt



IT AIN'T WHAT YOU DO.
—IT'S THE WAY—
THAT YOU DO IT !
Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.
8-21

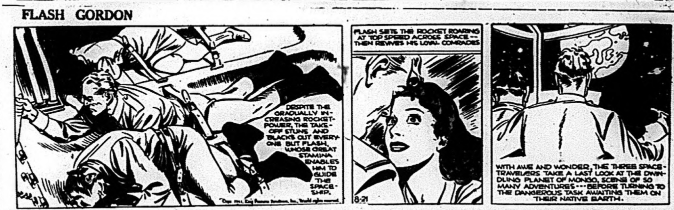
TILLIE THE TOILER — Painful Pretense!

By Russ Westover



WALLY'S PRETENDING TO BE A BIG SHOT NOW EVERYONE SAYS HE'S REALLY MR. SWARTNEY
THAT BROKER WHO WENT TO JAIL!
TELL HIM TO QUIT PRETENDING, BEFORE SOMETHING AWFUL HAPPENS
I'LL DO THAT
HE WENT THIS WAY—I'M GOING TO SAVE HIM SOME SERIOUS TROUBLE
I LOST $5,000 IN YOUR COMPANY MR. SWARTNEY, AND I'LL TAKE IT OUT OF YOUR HIDE!
BOP
8-21
RUSS WESTOVER

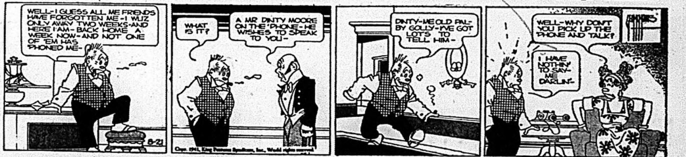
FLASH GORDON



DESPITE THE GRADUALLY INCREASING ROCKET-POWER, THE TAKE-OFF STUNS AND BLACKS OUT EVERYONE BUT FLASH, WHOSE GREAT STAMINA ENABLES HIM TO GUIDE THE SPACE-SHIP.
FLASH SETS THE ROCKET ROARING AT TOP SPEED ACROSS SPACE—THEN REVIVES HIS LOYAL COMRADES
WITH AWE AND WONDER, THE THREE SPACE-TRAVELERS TAKE A LAST LOOK AT THE DWINDLING PLANET OF MONGO, SCENE OF SO MANY ADVENTURES—BEFORE TURNING TO THE DANGEROUS TASK AWAITING THEM ON THEIR NATIVE EARTH.
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
8-21

BRINGING UP FATHER —

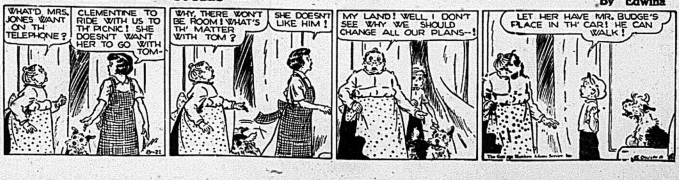
By George McManus



WELL—I GUESS ALL ME FRIENDS HAVE FORGOTTEN ME—I WUZ ONLY AWAY TWO WEEKS—AND HERE I AM—BACK HOME A WEEK NOW—AND NOT ONE OF 'EM HAS PHONED ME—
WHAT IS IT?
A MR DINTY MOORE ON THE 'PHONE—HE WISHES TO SPEAK TO YOU—
DINTY—ME OLD PAL—BY GOLLY—I'VE GOT LOTS TO TELL HIM—
WELL—WHY DON'T YOU PICK UP THE PHONE AND TALK?
I HAVE NOTHIN' TO SAY—ME DARLIN'—
8-21
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



WHAT'D MRS. JONES WANT ON TH' TELEPHONE ?
CLEMENTINE TO RIDE WITH US TO TH' PICNIC ! SHE DOESN'T WANT HER TO GO WITH TOM—
WHY, THERE WON'T BE ROOM ! WHAT'S TH' MATTER WITH TOM ?
SHE DOESN'T LIKE HIM !
MY LAND ! WELL, I DON'T SEE WHY WE SHOULD CHANGE ALL OUR PLANS—!
LET HER HAVE MR. BUDGE'S PLACE IN TH' CAR ! HE CAN WALK !
8-21

Rent that Spare Room from a Want Ad

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per

Insertion	30c
Two Insertions	60c
Three Insertions	75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number	extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS
REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL
17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE
Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J. 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A13-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE. The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE". 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. R. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction (treatment for sinus conditions. 218 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900. Lady attendant.

H. E. and VERA B. FITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville, Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors, when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE
243½ Front St. Phone 492

HALL & EARLE
General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass
278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

BARNACLE BILL
Wallace Beery, Marjorie Main, Lee Carrillo
2.30 — 7.00 — 9.45
A SHOT IN THE DARK
William Lunigan, Nan Wynn
4.00 — 8.50

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

SWEETHEART OF THE CAMPUS
Ruby Keeler, Ozzie Nelson and His Band
2.50 — 7.30 — 10.15
I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND
4.15 — 9.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

GANGS OF SONORA
The Three Mesquiteers
7.45 — 10.00
STRANGE ALIBI
Arthur Kennedy, Joan Perry
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

WANTED

FURNISHED HOUSE, BY RELIABLE tenant for September 1st. Box 19, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

LADIES' DRESSING TABLE AND wardrobe, in good condition. Write Box 7, Ontario Intelligencer. A21

SMALL APARTMENT OR LIGHT housekeeping rooms, furnished. Required by newly married couple. Write Box 6, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-2t

MAID, MUST BE FOND OF CHILDREN. References required. One adult and two children. Mrs. Edward G. Kennedy, 190 George St. A21-3t

LADY DRIVING TO WINNIPEG wishes lady companion. Phone 1235W. A21

MAN WITH KNOWLEDGE OF fruit and groceries. Box 51, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

MAN WITH KNOWLEDGE OF meat. Box 52, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

TO RENT, 7 ROOM HOUSE, ON or near West Hill bus. Conveniences. Reasonable. Before Sept. 30. Apply 44 Yeoman St. A21-3t

IMMEDIATELY BOY FOR GLOBE and Mail Route. Phone 1463. A21

MAN TO PAINT BARN ROOF. N. R. Duetta, R. 1, Belleville. Phone 46, Mountain View. A21-3t

COOK GENERAL WITH EXPERIENCE and references, 2 adults in family. Apply Betty Spiers' Dancing School, 4932 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, or phone 1952, Belleville. A20-3t

SALESLADY — LADIES' READY-to-wear. Good wages. Apply Box 42, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-2t

AGENTS WANTED

ATTENTION. DO YOU WISH TO make some real money full time or spare time? I have a sound proposition that will stand investigating. Apply R. Law, c/o Belleville Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

2 GIRLS, NEAT IN APPEARANCE for waitresses, experience not necessary. Salary $9.00 weekly and meals. Approximately 50 hours per week. Apply giving all particulars phone number etc., to Box 49, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-2t

ROOM AND BOARD FOR LADY teacher. Write Box 5, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

2 SALESMEN FOR LARGE RETAIL organization. Good salary, unlimited opportunity for advancement. Must have retail selling experience. Apply to Box 55, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-4t

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS. APPLY 36 Bridge Street East. A20-2t

WARM, COMFORTABLE ROOM with board, by woman. Write Box 43, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

4 OR 5 ROOMED HOUSE OR APARTMENT by September 1st, by couple. No children. Phone 1733. A19-3t

BUSINESS MAN, WANTS GOOD house or apartment, furnished or unfurnished, at least 3 bedrooms. Will pay up to $55 monthly. Apply Box 47, Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

POSITION AS GENERAL HOUSEMAN and cook. Good references. Apply Box 46 Ontario Intelligencer. A19-3t

FUR FINISHER OR GIRL WITH some dressmaking experience. Apply Woodley's Fur Store. A19-3t

FARM 10 TO 50 ACRES IN THE vicinity of Belleville. Write Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer. A16-6t

BEVERAGE ROOM WAITERS. Experienced men only need apply. Hotel Belvedere. A13tf

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A15-12t

PERSONAL

MEN OF 30, 40, 50

PEP, VIM, VIGOR, Subnormal? Want normal pep, vim, vigor, vitality? Try Ostrex Tonic Tablets. Contains tonics, stimulants, oyster elements aids to normal pep after 30, 40 or 50. Get a special introductory size for only 35c. Try this aid to normal pep and vim today. For sale at all good drug stores J12eTh

BUSINESS LINERS

Mrs. Harman will be pleased to show the new Fall Millinery which has just arrived; also Gainsboro Hosiery. 42½ Bridge St. East (upstairs.) A21-3t

TURN YOUR SPARE ROOM INTO MONEY.

WRITE YOUR AD. NOW AND PHONE IT TO 99.

FOR SALE

CAMP TENT, WITH FLOOR AND windows; like new. Phone 2592. A21-3t

LIGHT HONEY IN CUSTOMERS' containers, 12c a lb. Orders taken on Market Saturdays. W. P. Marvin. A15-21

MOFFAT ELECTRIC STOVE, CABINET style. Two tone cream. Four burner. Automatic oven heat control. Practically new. $95. Phone 2015J. A20-3t

100 WHITE LEGHORN PULLETS, five months old from blood tested strain. Apply Harold Beatty, R.1, Holloway. A20-2t

SODA FOUNTAIN, CONFECTIONERY, tobaccos. Good stock. Same owner 15 years. Reason for selling, death of owner. Write Box 225, Campbellford. A20-3t

'40 STUDEBAKER CHAMPION Sedan, small mileage; new car condition. Trade and terms. Hopkins Garage, Foxboro. A20-2t

'35 CADILLAC SEDAN, FIVE passenger, fine condition, good tires. Sacrifice for cash. Phone 152J. A20-2t

QUEBEC HEATER; LARGE ELECTRIC heater; cutter and sleigh. Phone 1414J. A19-3t

BUNGALOW IN NAPANEE, FIVE rooms, fir trimmed, Hydro, cistern. Price: Fifteen Hundred. Cheap taxes. Mrs. Robert Noyes, Route 2, Belleville. A19-3t

HOUSE, 153 PINNACLE STREET, 15 rooms, suitable for apartment house or rooming house. $3000. House 151 Pinnacle St., 7 rooms, $1500. All conveniences. Apply on premises. A16-6t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue—Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

SOUTH HALF OF LOT 15 AND south quarter of Lot 16, Concession 5, Thurlow; consisting of 150 acres of good land, modern frame dwelling, steel truss barn, 36' x 84', basement stables, and other necessary buildings; never failing water, water in front of cattle, Hydro and telephone. Fred A. Treverton, Corbyville. A7-14-21-28

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

FOR SALE

DINING ROOM SUITE: BUFFET, Table, 5 Chairs, used, $19.50. Lipson's Furniture House. A21

CHESTERFIELD, LARGE BROWN Mohair Chesterfield only. Excellent condition. Wonderful buy, $20.00. Lipson's Furniture House. A21

COMPLETE SET OF CUPBOARDS for kitchen. Ivory with black trim. Phone 2449. A20-2t

CONNOR THERMO TUB ELECTRIC Washer in splendid condition. Can be purchased at a very low price for cash. See this washer before buying. 225 Front St., Belleville. A21-2t

9 PIECE BIRCH DINING ROOM suite, excellent condition. Apply after 6 p.m. at 245 Coleman St. A21-3t

'30 FORD COACH, NEW CAR condition. Hughes' Imperial Station. A21

'32 PLYMOUTH COACH. APPLY 283 Coleman St. A21-2t

ONE HUNDRED TOMATO crates, twenty dollars; Quebec Heater, eight dollars; 5 oak barrels, each fifty gallon capacity, two-fifty each; Cider press (hand or power), nearly new, thirty dollars; Spring Toothed Cultivator (two horse), thirteen extra teeth, fourteen dollars; set Discs (two horse out-throw), twelve dollars; set Fairbanks floor scales, fifteen dollars; Hay Car, Fork, Rope, Pulleys, twenty-five dollars; about twelve tons hay. Apply Elden Salisbury, Belleville, R. 7, Picton Road. A21-3t

TO LET

MODERN 5 ROOM HEATED APARTMENT; continuous hot water, centrally located, electric stove; refrigerator. Possession September 1st. Write Box 17, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

FURNISHED FRONT ROOMS. Convenient location. 12 North Front. A21-3t

BED SITTING ROOM IN PRIVATE home. All conveniences. Apply 22 Everett St. A21

AVAILABLE SEPT. 1, SMALL furnished house. Phone 984. A20-3t

FURNISHED OR PARTLY FURNISHED rooms in private home in country near Belleville. Write Box 48, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

LARGE BEDROOM, SUITABLE for 1 or 2 gentlemen. Phone 1895 or Apply 32 Sinclair. A19-3t

WELCOME HOME

When Prime Minister Winston Churchill returned to London he was greeted by his wife with the hearty kiss depicted in this photo. Churchill thus completed an epochal journey to sea during which he held conferences of the greatest import with President Roosevelt of the United States.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Gordon Fraser, 85 Geddes Street, wishes to thank members of the King George Home and School Club, also special thanks to Miss Gladys Pomeroy for selling novelties and assisting in raising a substantial sum of money for the British War Victims. A21

$ $ $ $

Pay Your Bills

Quinte Finance will loan you money to centralize your debts, or for other purposes. $50 to $500 — and remember only Husband and Wife sign.

Quinte Finance
and
SECURITIES LTD.
168 Front St. Phone 168

$ $ $ $

32 Queen St.
Between
WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.

FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fireplaces; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN
(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)
166 Front St. Phone 99

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF SARAH JANE ROSS, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Widow, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1937, Chapter 165, Section 51, that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of Sarah Jane Ross, late of the City of Belleville in the County of Hastings, who died on or about the 17th. of May, 1941, are requested to forward their claims, duly proven, to the undersigned on or before the 22nd. of September, 1941.

AND NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that after the said date the executrix will proceed to distribute the estate among the parties entitled thereto having regard only to such claims of which she shall then have notice.

Dated at Belleville this 20th. day of August, 1941.

CAMERON & SPRAGUE,
Barristers, Etc.
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitors for the executrix.
A21-28-S4.

SWEDEN'S CO-OPERATION

Stockholm, (CP)—Proposals of the Swedish Red Cross to exchange British and German invalid prisoners of war by sea have been rejected or abandoned for the present but the S.R.C. is pressing a plan to carry gifts and mail by air to respective prison camps.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from J. S. McKeown or any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

FIVE CHAMPS—ALL IN A ROW

Beauty and ability seem to go hand-in-hand at the A.A.U. women's swimming championships at High Point, N.C. The five 1941 A.A.U. titleholders shown here, might easily be five beauty contestants waiting for a final judging. LEFT to RIGHT, Betty Bemis, 400-metre free style; Gloria Callen, 100-metre backstroke;; Brenda Helser, 100-metre free styler; Patty Aspinall, 200-metre breast stroke and Helen Crelenkovitch, diving champion.

IT'S SWELL, BUT IT ISN'T CRICK ET

Touring the great cities of the United States to see how their fire departments function, District Officer Daniel G. Ivall, of the London Fire brigade, is shown, CENTRE enjoying his first baseball game at Comiskey Park, Chicago. With the London visitor are Deputy Fire-Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney, of Chicago, LEFT, and Chief Daniel Deasy of the New York fire department.

THE KING CHECKS THE KITCH ENS

Wearing the uniform of the Royal Air Force, King George VI tours the kitchens during his recent visit to a Royal Air Force training depot.

SCHEDULED GAME IS 'NO CONTEST'

Latta And Cannifton Unable to Finish Required Seven Innings Before Darkness

It just seems as though district baseball playdowns in the South Hastings League will have to commence earlier in the evening if the teams are to get in the required seven innings before darkness intervenes. Last night at Cannifton with Latta leading 7-5 the umpires had to call the game before regulation time with the result that it was "no contest".

A win for Latta would have completed the S.H.L. playdowns for another season as leading two games to one in their best-of-five series, Latta needed only one more win to knock last year's champion Cannifton nine off their perch to cop the honors for themselves. Five big runs scored in the first inning off Raymond Hall who was hurling for the homesters almost put the game on ice for Latta but Cannifton fought back in later frames to bring the game to more even terms.

Cannifton trotted three hurlers to the mound in an effort to stop the hard-hitting Latta nine with Loucks replacing Hall only to be chased to the showers with May taking over to silence the offensive during the later innings. Garfield Hall hurled for the visitors and was given good support by his teammates. The next game will be played at Cannifton on Friday night, starting at 5.30 Standard Time.

WORK TO SAVE DOGS

Florence, Ala., Aug. 21—(AP)—Dog owners of Lauderdale County worked today to save approximately 1,300 of their pets—all violently ill. Dr. G. D. Ingram, County Rabies Inspector, said the dogs were stricken after injections of what he described as contaminated rabies vaccine. About 100 dogs have died.

Greater Lipson's Opens Tomorrow

"Belleville's Favorite Store"

REMEMBER! THREE REASONS WHY IT PAYS TO SHOP AT LIPSON'S

- LARGEST ASSORTMENTS
- UNEXCELLED VALUES
- GOODS SATISFACTORY or MONEY REFUNDED

LIPSON'S ARE HEADQUARTERS FOR BACK-TO-SCHOOL CHILDREN'S WEAR

BOYS' 2-LONG SUITS

All-wool tweeds in the newest and smartest patterns for fall. Sport back styles, all with two pairs of long pants. Sizes 30 to 36.

10.95

BOYS' BLACK OXFORDS

Good quality side leather oxfords for back to school. Good fitting style with composition sole and rubber heel. Sizes 1 to 5½. Special ... ...

1.79

BOYS' WOOL SWEATERS

Boys' all wool sweaters with military neck and zipper front. Colours are royal blue, fir-tree green and maroon in sizes 26 to 34 .. ..

1.19

KIDDIES' PLAID DRESSES

Exceptionally fine quality cotton plaids in all the shades that are popular this fall. Cute styles, nicely trimmed, and all guaranteed washable.

2-6 YRS.	7-14 YRS.
79c	1.00

GIRLS' CARDIGANS

Growing girls' all wool sweater coats in the newest styles for fall. Long sleeves and buttoned fronts in blue, green, red, maroon, etc. Sizes 7 to 14 years ....

1.69

BOYS' GOLF HOSE

Medium weight cotton golf hose, in colours of grey, blue, sand, etc. Just the thing for back to school. All sizes in this lot at .. ..

.19

GIRLS' WOOL HOSE

Girl's wool hose, knee length with lastex cuffs. All good fall colours in size 6½ to 9½.. ....

.29

FEATURE ATTRACTION ! !

Our Entire Stock of Ladies' SUMMER DRESSES

REDUCED FOR FINAL CLEARANCE

REGULARLY 2.95 to 6.95 IN THREE BIG GROUPS

1.00 — 1.93 — 2.93

You'll Economize - - -
You'll Thrill - - -
You'll SAVE - - -

at our

Pre-Season Coat Sale

CHECK THESE FEATURES

ALL WOOL FABRICS IN THE NEWEST WEAVES, DESIGNS AND COLOURS — FOR FALL AND WINTER.

• • •

ALL FIRST GRADE FURS THAT ARE GUARANTEED TO GIVE LONG AND LASTING WEAR.

• • •

ALL HAVE LININGS THAT ARE GUARANTEED FOR TWO YEARS WEAR AND EVERY COAT IS WARMLY INTERLINED AND CHAMOIS LINED.

• • •

THE LARGEST SELECTION OF POPULAR PRICED COATS IN BELLEVILLE. — STYLED RIGHT! PRICED RIGHT!

• • •

14.95 TO 25.00

USE OUR LAY-AWAY PLAN

Our earnest desire to please our many friends and customers prompts us to suggest that you select your winter coat early to assure the best possible selection.

A Small Deposit will Reserve Any Coat

GREATER
Lipson's

Probabilities

Lower Lake region—Moderate to fresh southwest to northwest winds; partly cloudy with scattered thundershowers; a little cooler tonight.

The Ontario Intelligencer

Temperatures

	Max	Min.
Today	77.5	62.9
Year Ago	75.3	47.6

Rainfall—.57 inches.
Weather—Cloudy.

★ ★ BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1941

REDS CHECKING OFFENSIVE AGAINST LENINGRAD

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

IRAN GOVERNMENT REPLIES TO BRITISH NOTE

City Transformed Into Formidable Military Camp

Battle Swirls to Southwest and Southeast of One-Time Russian Capital

PEOPLE'S ARMY FORMED

Moscow, Aug. 22 (AP).—The Red army appeared today to be checking the German offensive against Leningrad—a city described in military dispatches as having been transformed into a "formidable military camp".

The battle admittedly has put Russia's No. 2 city and one-time capital in "dread danger". . . . Today it still swirled to the southwest and southeast of Leningrad in the regions of Kingisepp and Novgorod.

Observers here said, however ,this was the fourth successive day that fighting has been reported in those areas and they added it indicated the Germans had made no significant progress.

(Both the Russians and Germans have reported Kingisepp in Nazi hands and the German high command also has claimed Novgorod.)

Leningrad, meanwhile, was reported by a Tass correspondent to be echoing to the sounds of marching men tramping through its broad squares and parks to join the people's army, supporting the regular army at the front.

The Russians acknowledged they had withdrawn from Gomel, approximately midway between Smolensk and Kiev, but said their troops were counter-attacking elsewhere on the central front.

Build Fortifications

The Germans were reported trying to clear the way for extensive raids on Leningrad by bombing airports outside the city. The army newspaper Red Star said that not a single bomb had fallen inside the city in 17 attempted attacks.

"The struggle on the approaches to the city is unceasing," Red Star said, "and more serious trials still are ahead."

While thousands of men were going to the front from Leningrad, tens of thousands were toiling to build fortifications not only along the approaches to the city but also in the streets of Leningrad itself.

In the central theatre, despite the admitted loss of Gomel on the lower reaches of that front, military dispatches reported that the Russians were continuing their counter-attacks and that mounted detachments were thrusting deep behind the German lines.

Specific local successes claimed included a heavy and punishing artillery attack on a German division somewhere along the main highway that stretches westward to Warsaw and the destruction of more than 400 German infantrymen in a sabre charge by Red cavalry.

BEGINS CONFERENCES

London, Aug. 22—(CP Cable)—Lt.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, who is undertaking a survey of British methods of handling wartime problems, today began a series of conferences with Government officials to determine how the lessons learned might be applied to Canada.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—Synopsis: The weather has been mostly fair and moderately warm in the Western Provinces while thundershowers have occurred in many parts of Ontario.

PLACE:	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Victoria	54	63	53
Vancouver	58	70	56
Calgary	49	81	48
Edmonton	44	80	42
Saskatoon	—	76	50
Winnipeg	51	73	45
Kenora	46	72	42
London	67	78	64
Toronto	68	79	64
Kingston	67	76	62
Ottawa	63	76	61
Montreal	62	73	61
S. S. Marie	—	77	—
Detroit	68	84	66
New York	70	80	64
Miami	81	90	79
Los Angeles	65	80	62

Nazis Claim 1,250,000 Red Army Soldiers Taken Prisoners Since Invasion Two Months Ago

OTHER CLAIMS MADE

Berlin, Aug. 22. (AP)—An authorized Nazi commentator said today the Russians were throwing fresh reserves into the battle in an attempt to stem the Nazis eastward advance, and acknowledged the existence of "island of opposition" both in the Dnieper bend of the Ukraine and behind the German lines on the Central front.

For several days it had been contended here that the western Ukraine was entirely in German hands.

In addition to the fighting that is continuing in the Dnieper Bend, the Nazi spokesman said there was other resistance east of the Pripet Marshes. Asked if hostilities still were going on as far back of lines as the Pinsk area, roughly 220 miles west of Gomel, which the Germans have occupied, the spokesman shrugged his shoulders and murmured "possibly".

Hitler's headquarters claimed today that more than 1,250,000 Russian soldiers were taken prisoners since the invasion of Russia began two months ago.

It listed as destroyed or captured about 14,000 armored cars, 15,000 guns and 11,250 planes.

The communique still was silent on Germany's own losses, but it commented that "the enemy casualties are unimaginably high" and that "German and Allied armed forces are standing deep in enemy territory in unbroken strength."

As the invasion of Russia moved into its third month with the Germans holding a line about 300 miles deep into the Soviet from the Balti to the Black Sea, the communique showed these comparative figures:

Claimed

Prisoners captured: today, 1,250,000; Aug. 6, 895,000; July 11, 400,000.

Tanks destroyed or captured: today, 14,000; Aug. 6, 13,145; July 11, 7,615.

Guns destroyed or captured: today, 15,000; Aug. 6, 10,388; July 11, 4,432.

Airplanes destroyed or captured: today, 11,250; Aug. 6, 9,082; July 11, 6,233.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 5)

TO SET UP BOARD OF CONCILIATION IN MINE DISPUTE

Ottawa, Aug. 22 (CP)—The Labor Department has decided to set up a board of conciliation to inquire into a dispute between the Kirkland Lake Mine and Mill Workers' Union and their employers rising out of demands for increased wages and improved working conditions, it was learned at the Department today.

Union representatives met with department officials here last Tuesday after filing an application for a board of conciliation. It was expected a board would be named almost immediately.

FAMINE SAID TO BE STALKING THROUGH CHINA

Dispatch From Tsingstao Reports Conditions in Occupied China

YELLOW R. OVERFLOWS

Tsingtao, North China, Aug. 22—(AP)—Famine stalks throughout occupied China, but it is most serious in Shantung.

Information is hard to get in this Japanese-controlled port. No figures are available, and travel is difficult in the interior, where conditions are worse.

But missionaries and other foreigners occasionally coming out of the starvation areas report the signs of famine:-

Children with bloated, bellies and listless appearance seen in the farming districts, their elders, withered and emaciated. Once-brawny coolies staggering under the coffins of funeral corteges as the weak bury the dead.

The white mourning clothes and funeral trappings are not even folded away; they are in almost constant use.

Shantung, formerly one of the richest agricultural provinces in China, has come through an extended drought. Freshets also have caused the Yellow river to overflow in some places, so that here crops already parched by drought have been flooded out.

Victim of Warfare

But the majority of the famine-stricken farming population in Shantung is the victim of warfare. Their acres serve as a sort of no-man's-land over which three armies surge periodically, beside the locusts.

Japanese control is exercised from the principal cities, railway lines, and highways. It comes and goes with the fortunes of guerilla warfare, and with it come and go the tax collectors of the Japanese-sponsored local governments.

Then there are the Communist eighth route army forces, divided—in the eyes of the Chinese farmer—into "good" and "bad."

The "good," of course, do not steal his crops and livestock. But the "bad" take what they need and sometimes don't bother to pay.

Then there are the bandits and bandit-guerillas. They are farmers themselves, turned by hunger to petty looting. Farmers in many districts have had to pay in money or crops to all three factions.

After three years of occupation in this last of North China provinces to fall to the Japanese, Shantung farmers found from experience that it was better to plant no more than they needed for their own use. Any surplus would be confiscated, if not by one faction, then by another.

Then the drought caught them, and they are today without reserves. Millions are slowly starving to death.

HEADQUARTERS AT RANGES

Ottawa, Aug. 22 (CP)—Organization of headquarters for the 4th. Canadian Division at Connaught Rifle Ranges near here is underway, a Defence Department source said today.

Plans to train the 4th. Division almost entirely in Canada were announced by Defence Minister Ralston some time ago and the expectation here is that various divisional formations will continue their training at widespread points in Canada with only the administrative staff of the division concentrated at Connaught Ranges.

Free French Pilot Created Companion Of Ordre De La Liberation

London, Aug. 22 (CP).—A lieutenant, fighter pilot in the Free French Air Force, who shot down nine German aircraft in addition to two "probables", has been created a Companion of the Ordre De La Liberation by Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

This is the record that brought him the honor:

Dec. 1, 1940—Shot down his first German aircraft.

Mar. 24, 1941—Attacked 12 enemy aircraft single-handed and shot down one.

May 10, 1941—Brought down an enemy bomber over London.

May 25—Shot down an ME109.

June 22—Destroyed an ME109 over France.

June 23—Destroyed another ME-

June 23—Destroyed another ME109 over France, smashing the enemy machine in two.

July 12—Flying low, he attacked and destroyed an enemy aircraft on the ground in northern France.

July 17—Sank an enemy minelayer with cannon fire.

July 26—Brought down his seventh enemy aircraft.

July 31—Attacked three ME109's over Dunkerque, bringing down two and seriously damaging the third.

Nazi Transport Fleet Routed on Rumanian Coast

London, Aug. 22 (CP)—The Soviet radio said today that a fleet of German transports carrying reinforcements to the Ukraine front was routed by Soviet bombers in three sweeps along the Rumanian coast.

Two transports were said to have been sunk, another set afire, and others hit.

ESKIMOS GIVEN LONG JAIL TERMS FOR OFFENCES

Three-Day Murder Trial of Seven Eskimos Concluded On Thursday

COURT IN TENT

By JAMES McCOOK

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Belcher Islands, Aug. 22—(CP)—One of the weirdest stories of the barren northland unfolded, a judicial party of white men today headed for home and the comforts of civilization.

Arguments of Eskimos over the contention of some that Christ had come to earth again that led to a series of killings during the long winter nights on this Hudson Bay encampment were retold in the three-day murder trial of seven Eskimos. The murder charges were reduced to manslaughter and resulted in sentences to four natives.

Peter Sala and Charlie Ouyerack whom witnesses testified yesterday considered themselves God and Jesus, were sentenced to two years at hard labor at Chesterfield inlet police post. Ablaykok received a year's sentence and Peter Quarack was given suspended sentence of two years. Mina Dnakeevik, Eskimo women, had been adjudged insane and the seventh of those accused, Alec Ablaykok, was acquitted.

Court Held In Tent

The trial was conducted according to Canadian Court procedure and was held in a huge tent. Mr. Justice C. P. Blaxton of the Ontario Supreme Court presided and the jury was made up of newspapermen, members of a mining party and a schooner crew.

First indication of the murders was received in March when an Eskimo communicated with a Hudson's Bay Company post. The news was relayed to Royal Canadian Mounted Police and investigators, sent to the islands, heard stories of shootings, clubbing, stabbing and other forms of violence.

When the violence subsided nine persons—men, women and children—were dead. Some died of bullet wounds, others were beaten to death and some, including four children, were driven naked into the snow and there perished.

U. S. Pilots Remain On Ground During Air Alarm in Iceland

Reykjavik, Aug. 22 (AP)—United States pilots remained on the ground during the air alarm here Wednesday in which American-built Tomahawk fighter planes chased away a German Heinkel bomber, it was stated authoritatively today.

British airmen put the invader to flight without its having dropped any bombs. The German plane disappeared before the British planes got within firing range.

Not only did American airmen not take off, but anti-aircraft batteries of the United States forces stationed here were silent throughout the alarm.

(The incident was the first in which a German plane had been reported over Iceland since announcement July 7 that United States forces had occupied the strategic North Atlantic island.)

PROTESTED ANTICS OF GIRL

London, Ont., Aug. 22 (CP)—Provincial Police had one of those reverse complaints today.

A district road workers came in and protested the antics of a girl who kept "winking" at him, and otherwise bothering him at his job. A constable was sent out to investigate.

Russian Monitors Smash Foe Efforts To Cross River

Moscow, Aug. 22—(AP)—Russian monitors and cutters were reported officially today to have smashed repeated local German efforts to cross the River "N" (presumably the Dnieper in the lower Ukraine) in actions which cost the invaders nine tanks, 29 trucks, 40 motorcycles, eight guns and 800 men.

FINNISH SHIP CATCHES FIRE AT ANCHORAGE

One Seaman of Crew Reported Missing And Others Injured in Blaze

WILL PROBE BLAZE

Albert Bjorklue, master of the ship, was burned on the hands as he fought his way into the quarters of two waitresses to warn them, only to discover they had escaped. He was rescued from the river by a pleasure craft after flames had driven him overboard.

The crew of 20 failed in an effort to man the pumps and were taken of the blazing vessel by river boatmen and police launches.

The Aurora was described by her crew as a 4,500-ton vesal of 450-foot length and 54-foot beam. They said she left Buenos Aires July 14 with a cargo of linseed oil, rye and hides. She was awaiting orders from Helsinki at her anchorage.

New York, Aug 22—(AP)—A fire of mysterious origin aboard the war-stranded Finnish motorship Aurora raged for five hours today, second ship fire here within five days.

The first officer was suffocated as he slept on the 4,956-ton vessel at her Hudson River anchorage. Other members of the crew of 18, including two waitresses, were rescued by police and private boats.

At the same time police announced six more deaths resulting from a $1,500,000 Brooklyn waterfront blaze of Monday in which the Cuban mail freighter Panuco, her pier and several barges were destroyed or badly damaged . That brought the death toll for that fire to 25 and left eight men missing.

The Aurora, listing badly from the water in her holds, was ordered beached on the New Jersey shore. Authorities said they had uncovered no evidence of sabotage in a preliminary investigation.

Loaded with a rich cargo of linseed oil, wool, hides, grains and other items from Buenos Aires, Curacao and Laguaira, the Aurora put into New York July 28 because of Finland's entry into the war. Her operators said the job of trying to reach Helsinki through the British blockade was too risky.

Her crew was paid off yesterday and 18 returned to the ship last night after visits in Manhattan.

Australians Still Holding Out in Crete

Melbourne, Aug. 22—(AP)—Many Australian soldiers still are holding out in Crete, harassing the enemy and making for the beaches to escape whenever possible, Maj.-Gen. Sir Iven MacKay, who has just returned from the Middle East to take command of Australia's home army, said today.

He said humble Greek cottagers are risking their lives without fear of consequences to aid these Australians, left behind in the evacuation of Crete following a German attack on the island some time ago.

Maj.-Gen. Mackay also said he had no fear of the Germans recapturing the Libyan outpost of Tobruk

ROOSEVELT'S ORDER ON SELECTIVE SERVICE

Hyde Park, N.Y., Aug. 22. (AP)—Implementing the Selective Service Extension Act President Roosevelt directed in an executive order today that the term of service be extended 18 months for selectees, reservists, national guardsmen and enlisted personnel in the army.

FIVE CANADIAN MEMBERS OF RAF DECORATEDBYKING

Four Receive the D.F.C. And Flt.-Segt. Given Distinguished Flying Medal

DEEDS RECOUNTED

By —PAT USSHER .

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 22—(CP Cable)—Five Canadian members of the Royal Air Force were decorated today for aerial feats on farflung battle fronts.

They were:

Acting Flt.-Lt. Homer P. Cochrane, born in Vernon, B.C., awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Flt.-Lt. Walter R. N. Sturdy, born in Vancouver, awarded the D.F.C.

FO. William Lewis, born in Angusville, Man., awarded the D.F.C.

FO. Daniel McIntosh, born in Regina, awarded the D.F.C.

Flt.-Sgt. John R. Marshall, born in Ottawa, awarded the Distinguished Flying Medal.

The awards to the Canadian members of the R. A. F. were contained in a long list published here tonight.

Cochrane, of 112 Squadron, encountered a vastly superior number of enemy aircraft during the Albanian campaign. Observing his Squadron Leader's plane being attacked by four enemy aircraft, Cochrane went to his assistance. The Squadron Leader escaped. During this aerial battle, Cochrane destroyed two enemy aircraft, bringing his total to nine for the campaign. The citation said Cochrane's "calmness and steadiness have set an excellent example."

Carried Out Raid On Hamburg

Sturdy, of 214 Squadron, carried out a daring attack on Hamburg Railway Station the night of March 12 in the face of intense anti-aircraft and searchlight activity.

"After diving down from 8,000 feet to bomb the target, he attacked searchlight concentrations, many of which were put out of action," the citation said. "On the return journey he attacked six enemy minesweepers and two 6,000-ton merchantmen whose decks he machine-gunned.

"This officer has shown complete disregard for his personal safety and displayed great qualities of leadership. He has proved himself an inspiration to all."

Sturdy, born in 1917, is a former navigating officer of Canadian Pacific Steamships. He has been on 28 sorties with the R. A. F.

Make 40 Trips Over France

Lewis, of 39 Squadron, although only 20 years old, has completed more than 40 operational sorties over enemy-occupied territory both in Europe and Africa, the citation said.

"Since joining this unit he has carried out his bombing duties with determination and vigor," it added. "Recently he was engaged in reconnaissance duties over Libya and Crete, performing excellent work, particularly in the Bengasi and Derna areas."

After a successful attack on an oil storage depot at Beirut, "although wounded in the head, he flew back to base and made a safe landing."

"This officer has repeatedly displayed courage and determination

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

Nature of Reply From Teheran Is Undisclosed

Note Concerns Presence of Nazi Technicians in Iran—Persia

NOTE UNDER STUDY

London, Aug. 22 (CP)—Iran's reply to the British-Russian request that German technicians be banished from that Middle East oil kingdom was received here tonight as both Britain and Russia appeared to be ready to use force.

The contents of the note were not disclosed.

Soviet sources, however, acknowledged that joint action by Britain and Russia to oust the Nazis from Iran was probable if London and Moscow are not satisfied with the note.

Authoritative British sources earlier had declared that Britain was considering "vigorous measures", although they would not discuss "projected operations" and said none had been launched so far.

The contents of the note probably will not even be commented on before tomorrow.

It was relayed here by the British minister to Teheran, Sir Reader Bullard, and already is under consideration at the foreign office.

Say British Note Not Ultimatum

The Iranian reply thus reached London inside the week usually assigned in diplomatic circles as a "courtesy period" in which replies to memoranda or notes between governments should be made. British quarters although acknowledging that Iran was pressed for a quick answer denied that an ultimatum had been issued.

Usually well-informed persons called the presence of German technicians in key Iranian industrial and communications positions serious but they said a "satisfactory" answer would make the British and Russians content to let Iran oust the Nazis herself.

Although both British and Russian sources shy at describing exactly what would be a "satisfactory" reply, both governments obviously want the Germans expelled from strategic Iran quickly and replaced either by native or British and Russian trained technicians.

Iran has made what one source called "motions" toward ejecting the Nazis but it was added that "many hundreds of them remain in important positions."

2 Aylmer Residents Killed in Michigan

Ypsilanti, Mich., Aug. 22 (CP) — Two Aylmer, Ont., people were killed and three critically injured when their motor car struck the concrete abutment of an overhead highway bridge three miles west of here just before noon today.

Dead are George Harrington and his sister, Thelma; critically injured are Mrs. George Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Harrington, parents of George and Thelma.

It was not known what caused the car to go out of control and strike the abutment. It could not be learned immediately where the Harringtons were going.

Gen. Choffee Dies, Had Breakdown In Building Up U.S. Armored Force

Boston, Aug. 22—(AP)—Maj.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, 57, First Commander of the United States Army's new armored force, died early today after suffering a physical breakdown during an intense drive to build and organize the special mechanized defence units.

A statement by the War Department said that the officer, whose fatal illness set in last winter after he had returned to work following a previous siege of pneumonia, had "sacrificed himself in the making of the armored force."

In a speech in 1930 he predicted that tank-powered armies could do virtually what the Nazis accomplished 10 years later in the low countries and France.

Described as "one of the great army men," Maj. Chaffee received, even as he lay in his final illness, citations from the Government for his work in the new branch of the army.

Shortly before his death, the Senate confirmed his nomination. A short time ago he was presented an oak-leaf cluster citation to go with the Distinguished Service Medal he won in the First Great War.

REPORTS TIRPITZ, NAZI BATTLESHIP, USED IN BATTLE

Stockholm Hears Stories Sister Ship of Sunken Bismarck in Gulf of Finland

RECENT NAZI HINT

London, Aug. 22—(CP Cable)—A Daily Express dispatch from Stockholm said today that according to reports reaching there from Russia the German battleship Tirpitz, sister ship of the sunken Bismarck, has been in action in the Gulf of Finland.

The dispatch said it was reported the Tirpitz led a "powerful" German naval force operating from a Finnish port in an attack on Tallinn, Estonia, where several Russian divisions still are holding out.

According to reports heavy fire from Russian coastal batteries drove off the squadron.

Naval sources in London did not comment on the reports.

(In Berlin earlier this week naval sources hinted a new German ship was in action, and observers assumed it was the Tirpitz).

International at a Glance

LONDON—Prime Minister King confers with Lord Woolton on food problems; sets out his reasons for opposing Imperial War Cabinet.

ANKARA — German invasion barges reported concentrating off Turkish coast. (London says "vigorous measures" in prospect to curb Nazi activity in Iran.)

MOSCOW—Russians fight stoutly before Leningrad, counter-attack in central sector and continue withdrawal across Dnieper in Ukraine.

BERLIN — More statistics from the Fuehrer: 1,250,000 Soviet prisoners; 14,000 armored cars, 15,000 guns, 11,250 planes destroyed or captured.

LONDON—Lord Halifax arrives by bomber; bad weather curtails R.A.F. activity.

BANGKOK—Thailand to resist; Siamese believe "to die as free men is better than to live as slaves," says minister.

Premier King To Represent Canada At Allied Council

London Aug. 22 (CP Cable) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King will represent Canada at next week's meeting of the Allied Council summoned by Britain to discuss numerous problems including economic questions in postwar Europe.

Foreign Secretary Eden is expected to preside over the meeting which will be attended by representatives of all Allies including Free France and Russia. The latter has entered the war since the council first met in June.

Coming Events

BELLE THEATRE, SATURDAY and Monday, Walt. Disney Feature-length Cartoon in Color, "The Reluctant Dragon." Continuous show on Saturday starting at 1 p.m. A22

HARD BALL GAME AT CANNIFTON School grounds tonight (Friday.) Latta vs. Cannifton. Fifth game of play-off. Silver collection. A22

OAK LAKE CASINO PRESENTS dancing every Wednesday and Friday evenings. Music by The Commodores. Jitney plan. Oak Lake Casino, just a short drive on Stirling road. A13W-Ptf

GEEN'S PILE REMEDY
FOR QUICK RELIEF. 50c TUBE. PHONE 131
A14-15-16

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

CUCUMBER GROWS IN SHAPE OF "V"

Another of those oddities of Nature which seem to crop up with increasing regularity, a cucumber grown in the shape of a perfect V was brought into the offices of the Ontario Intelligencer on Thursday afternoon by Mr. Henry Nelson of Gardenville. The cucumber was picked in Mr. Nelson's garden the day before, the unusual V-shaped growth of the vegetable seeming to emphasise the "V for Victory" campaign, presaging victory for the Allies.

RESIDENT CAMP TO HOUSE WORKERS

Owing to the shortage of help to pick the tomato crop in Prince Edward County resident camps to house female help to be supplied by the Ontario Farm Service Force, was announed this week by A. J. McTaggart of the Farm Service Department.

District farmers will be asked to assist in the maintenance of these resident camps, which will house the imported female help from other parts of Eastern Ontario. There is a marked shortage of male farm help in the Prince Edward district, which necessitates the importation of women to pick the tomato crop immediately.

BIKE IS MISSING ON HIS RETURN

For the third time this week bicycles were reported stolen in Belleville. Last night Eugene Johnson, 3 Donald Street, parked his bike at the upper end of Front Street, while attending the Kiwanis street carnival. Upon his return the bike was missing.

THREE MOTORISTS SUSTAIN INJURIES

Three motorists sustained minor injuries, one losing several teeth, when a motor car sideswiped a truck on the approach to the North Front Street overhead bridge late Thursday night.

Those injured were 13-year-old Alan Vader and is 11-year-old brother Grant, both of whom sustained facial lacerations as the result of being cut by glass while riding in a truck driven by their father, Alberto Vader, of Picton, Mrs. Mae Stevenson, Holloway, sustained facial abrasion and lost several teeth during the crash.

Constables Wright and Arnott investigated the accident and were told that a motor car driven by Mrs. Stevenson had sideswiped Vader's truck on the overhead bridge approach. The front of the truck and fenders of the lighter car were both badly damaged, the damage amounting to over $300 police reported.

MONGREL SPANIEL IN CITY POUND

Found wandering at large and without the necessary city dog tag identification, a mongrel spaniel and terrier dog was picked up by Thos. Thorne, city dog custodian, on Thursday and lodged in the city dog pound. The canine will be held until Friday night, when it will be disposed of unless otherwise claimed.

VALUABLE COW KILLED BY TRUCK

A valuable cow, the property of the Ponton Farms, Sidney Township, was killed when struck by a Montreal motor transport early this morning. The cow apparently wandered from the herd of cattle onto the highway and was struck by the transport during the early morning dusk. The Ponton Farms are operated by Mr. H. Reeves.

TONIGHT
TWO ACTION HITS
RIDERS OF JUSTICE.

The 3 Mesquiteers
GANGS of SONORA

— Hit No. 2 —
A NEW SCREEN THRILL!
"STRANGE ALIBI"
ARTHUR KENNEDY : JOAN PERRY
PLUS: LATEST NEWS and "MYSTERIOUS DR. SATAN"
CAPITOL
Last Complete Show 8.45 p.m.

It Pays to Shop
At the Rexall Store.
HAYVAX
INSTANT RELIEF FOR HAY FEVER
Provides Lasting Comfort
1.00 & 2.00
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE'
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

BRING YOUR HARNESS
to
J. W. Daniels, Foxboro
SAVE MONEY!
—Prompt, Satisfactory Service—
A21-22-28

OUR OFFICE
YOUR NEAREST
1886
DAFOE TAXI
—Careful Courteous Service—

CAMP MEETING
IVANHOE
Under the auspices of the
STANDARD CHURCH
AUGUST 22 to 31
REV. A. J. PRING
in charge.
Accommodation for campers provided. ALL WELCOME.
A22-2t

Drunk Driving Conviction Brings Term and Costs

Thos. Cleveland Said to Have Been in Charge of Car Which Crashed Into West Bridge St. Verandah

After allegedly losing control of an automobile he was driving while intoxicated last night, the vehicle driven by Thomas Cleveland of this city, bounded over the sidewalk at the foot of West Bridge St. hill and crashed into the verandah, demolishing two brick pillars that supported the structure at the residence of Miss C. D. Gallagher, 35 Bridge St. West.

Cleveland was arrested by Chief Constable Alex Kidd and today pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motorcar while intoxicated. Cleveland was sentenced to serve ten days on the drunk driving charge and an additional ten days if he fails to pay costs amounting to $19.05 as assessed by Magistrate E. J. Butler, K.C.

"He was very drunk. The car must have got out of control and bounded over the sidewalk, crashing into the brick verandah pillars, practically demolishing them," stated Chief Kidd in court as he estimated the damage to the house and property at well over $60. His Worship also cancelled Cleveland's driver's permit at the request of Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, K.C.

Assistant Plant Manager

for new plant which will employ 500 men on important war work. Must be young, reliable, keen and production-minded and primarily a mechanic. High salary and proper authority will be given to a capable man.

Location: ST. CATHARINES, ONTARIO. Give fullest details of abilities, background and references in first letter to Post Office Box 297, St. Catharines, Ontario.

Applications cannot be accepted from those presently engaged in war work.
A22-23-25

Registration for 1941-42
Belleville Collegiate & Vocational School

ALL Pupils of ALL GRADES are requested to Register at the Principal's Office at the Collegiate and Vocational School, for the term beginning September 2nd., 1941. This includes pupils who may find it necessary to remain out of School for part of September on account of farm work or other war industry. Attendance will be granted to students absent during September for war work, provided they register on time.

Days for Registration
August 25, 26, 27, 28
FROM 9.30 - 12.00 a.m. — 2.00 - 5.00 p.m.

Parents may register if pupils are unable to attend to registration due to war work or absence from home. Pupils who have not sent in their "farm work" or "war work" certificates for eight weeks' work are requested to do so, otherwise promotions and standings, including granting of Diplomas will be delayed.
A22-23

Mrs. Annie Bailey, Stirling, Winner Of Kiwanis Car

A most successful Kiwanis Street Karnival was concluded on Thursday evening, when drawings for the new Plymouth car, hope chest and special prizes were held. Mrs. Annie Bailey of Stirling is today the proud possessor of the car and although the car was not won in the city, yet it did not go out of the County of Hastings and will be another reminder of the excellent work done by the Kiwanis Club to further the interests of all through the funds, that were raised by this means. Miss M. Day, 20 Everett St., was the winner of the hope chest and the ticket was sold by Mrs. Vincent Freeman, whose husband was chairman of the special prize committee. A fur neckpiece, donated by Joseph Delaney, a former Kiwanian, was won by Tom Reddy, Y.M.C.A.

Before the drawing for the special prizes, Jack McVeigh, general chairman of the Karnival, thanked the public for the generous support given the efforts of the Kiwanians and introduced Jim Barclay, president of the Club, Mills Marr and George Lee of the car committee, and Mrs. James Barclay, in charge of the hope chest draw. Each in turn thanked the large crowd present for their presence and the wonderful help given to put the Karnival over the top. Mr. McVeigh then introduced Flight Lieutenant Sterling C. Campbell, technical adviser and director of all air scenes for the picture, "Captain of the Clouds," who officiated at the drawing. Mr. Campbell thanked the committee for the privilege accorded him and was sorry that James Cagney, Brenda Marshall and Alan Hale, stars of the picture, could not be present. He praised the Kiwanis Club for the fine entertainment accorded the public and wished that a member of the Air Force would be the winner of the car.

The different games did a thriving business, the weather being delightful with the crowd staying until the last strains of the National Anthem was played. Sufficient money was raised to carry out the several projects of the club and take care of the ordinary budget. The whole Club thanks most sincerely the public for their fine support.

CBC BAND TO PLAY MARCHES COMPOSED BY REG HINCEY

The C. B. C. Band on Sunday night at 6 p.m. D.S.T. will feature two compositions by Reg. Hinchey of this city, the "International Patrol" and the "V For Victory March," built around themes from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

Letter to The Editor

THE GAS WORKS

The Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer,
Belleville, Ontario.

Dear Sir,—

I notice in your issue of 20th inst., that the City gas plant is once more about to breath its last. And as has been customary, several times during the past forty or fifty years, a raid on the property owners of the City is premeditated for rehabilitation.

This plant has been running at a loss to the taxpayer for at least 25 and probably for 50 years. When I was in the Council in 1919 we engaged a first class firm of engineers to advise us, but their opinion and advice was overruled by the City Council who thought they knew much better than any firm of engineers. On several occasions, large sums of money have been taken from, or charged up to the property owners of the city, in attempts to put this plant on its feet. As recently as 1929 the City spent the enormous sum of $210,000 on this Jonah gas plant. And now it is again bankrupt with plant thoroughly worn out, although the debt will be with us for many years to come.

The City tried many times and in many ways to make a go of this gas works. They sold it some years ago to a firm operating a chain of gas plants around Oshawa. It was turned back to the city. They then turned it over to the Public Utilities Commission to operate and this Commission have in my opinion with expert advice done everything that could possibly be done to make it pay—to even make it pay its own operating charges. It cannot be done. Now there is a suggestion that the Council try running it again. Anything more absurd I can hardly imagine. I am a gas user but I realize that times change. This plant was built in the first place for the manufacture of gas for lighting purposes. No one wants gas light now. Later the gas was used for cooking but it is now more expensive than electricity, so it will have to go. Some people claim that it is essential for our industries. What industries did we ever acquire by reason of our fine (?) gas works? The answer is "none".

The Public Utilities Commission here and the Hydro Electric Commission in Toronto are aware of the situation. They appreciate the fact that many gas users cannot afford to make the change from gas to electric appliance. I am sure there are a few decent honest men left in public life—not many I admit—but I am sure they will see to it that these citizens do not lose by the change. The old gas appliances will be taken off their hands—or should be—and a fair and generous deal made so they may acquire suitable electric conveniences in their place. A decision however, should be made at once, and the plant should be closed, before it "conks" out on us without notice. The scrap iron will be a valuable addition to our war effort. Any raid on the Property Owner will be fought to a finish by

Yours very truly.
Jamieson Bone.

CONTINUOUS SHOW SATURDAY — Starts 1.30 p.m.
TONIGHT and SATURDAY
AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

Gordon loves Ruby!
Ruby loves Ozzie!
Ozzie loves Harriet!
You'll love the new tunes...top tap dancing and screwy doings.. as a night club goes to college —and to town!
Sweetheart OF THE Campus
CAMPUS SWING CLUB

with
RUBY KEELER
Stage and Screen Dancing Star
HARRIET HILLIARD
Radio and Film Songstress
OZZIE NELSON AND HIS BAND
A Top Orchestra for Years
GORDON OLIVER - DON BEDDOE
THE FOUR SPIRITS OF RHYTHM
TONIGHT
7.15 — Last Com. Show 9.
Added Thrill-a-Minute Hit!
A FUGITIVE FROM TERROR TALKS!
"I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND"
with
Sally Eilers — Donald Woods — Edward Ciannelli
EXTRA! —COLOR COMEDY CARTOON—BUCK JONES SERIAL.
Mon. — Tues. — Wed.
GREER GARSON
LAURENCE OLIVIER
in
'PRIDE and PREJUDICE'
Also:
BELA LUGOSI in
"INVISIBLE GHOST"
Next Thurs. - Fri. - Sat.
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
in
"DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR"

Obituary

EDWARD F. HALEY

Wooler, Aug. 22.—(Special)—Edward F. Haley, home address, Rochester, N.Y., died suddenly in Brighton on Sunday, August 17, while visiting friends in that village. He was born in Brighton seventy-five years ago, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Haley. He was a retired farmer and had resided in Rochester for some time.

Surviving him are two brothers, Mr. Thomas R. Haley, Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. James P. Haley, Brighton, and one sister, Mrs. Catherine Regan, Rochester, N.Y.

The funeral took place at Brighton on Wednesday, August 20, to the Roman Catholic Church there, where Requiem Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father F. L. Rishea of Wooler.

Interment was in the cemetery at Codrington, Northumberland County.

LATE BRIDEN WEESE

Empey Hill (Special)—A number from this vicinity attended the funeral of the late Mr. Briden Weese of Centreville on Sunday. Mr. Weese had been in poor health for a number of years, but was able to be around to the last, when death came suddenly. He lived at Centreville for a number of years after having spent his former life at Empey Hill. He was in his 65th year. All of his family of nine girls and four boys were present at his funeral except one boy who is serving with the R.C.A. overseas. He also leaves a widow formerly Miss N. Sexsmith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sexsmith.

MRS. MARY CATHERINE ADAMS

(Brighton)
(Contributed)

The late Mary Catherine Adams was born in Ameliasburg, the youngest daughter of Davis Gibson and Catherine Wannamaker at the farm bordering the south shore of Roblin's Lake and now owned by her brother John W. Gibson who is 87. A sister Deborah, relict of the late Joseph Adams, residing in Winnipeg, still active in war work at the age of 81. An elder brother Charles, married Myrtle Chase, died in 1894 and a younger brother David Andrew was buried in Portage la Prairie in 1936. Two sisters, Ann (Mrs. John Tice) died in Wellington in 1922 and Nellie (Mrs. Geo. Wood) in Buffalo in 1931. Her surviving son, Ralph Gibson Adams enlisted in Kingston in March 1916 and served as a pilot of the R.A.F. Bomber command in France till 1919. The deceased married Samuel Adams son of William Henry Adams of Melville residing till the latter's death in 1929 at his farm on the 5th concession of Ameliasburg after which she (and her sister Mrs. Wood) accompanied her son, Ralph, for a year at his home in Sussex, England. On her return she resided at "Millbank Cottage" Roblin's Mills, till her ever increasing blindness made it imperative to spend her late years in care of others, notably Mrs. Harry Ross of Brighton, at whose home she passed away on Tuesday, August 19th.

Her activities were manifold, a good neighbor, a faithful friend, an ardent Christian, a devoted mother, she laboured zealously for the causes she held to be right. A member of the Methodist Church with early affiliations to Burris and Melville communities, she ardently supported the Ladies' Aid and kindred associations. She was also made a Life Member of the Women's Missionary Society.

Her many friends in mouring her loss extend their sympathy to her sorrowing son, Ralph who has been with her since his return to Canada in 1935.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Adams was held on Friday afternoon with service held in the Ameliasburg United Church at 2.30 p.m. Rev. Mr. Adamson being the officiating minister. The interment was in Ameliasburg cemetery.

Pallbearers were Ashton Sills, Walter Cunningham, Ewart Harns, Cyrus Fulford, Charles Kinnear, Thos. Mikel.

MRS. DAVID WATERS

Mrs. David Waters died suddenly at her residence, 2 Forin Street, late on Thursday evening, August 21st.

To many friends in Belleville the sudden passing of Mrs. Waters has brought sincere feelings of regret. Her friendly disposition made her well liked by the young as well as the older persons who knew her and by them she will be much missed. In religion Mrs. Waters was a faithful member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and when able she took an active part in the work of the congregation. She was a life member of the Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. Waters, who prior to her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Stewart, was born in Campbellford and after residing there for some time she came with her husband, the late David Waters, to reside in Belleville and for many years her home was in this city.

Surviving are one son, Mr. David G. Waters, Belleville; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas W. Third, Brooklyn, N.Y., Miss Grace B. Waters, Utica, N.Y., and Miss Mary Edith Waters, at home.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this paper.

GEORGE FREEMAN

(Tweed)

Tweed (Special) — Mr. George Freeman passed away at his home in Tweed on Thursday, August 21. Death followed a lengthy illness. Mr. Freeman, who was in his 86th year is survived by his widow and several children.

LATE MRS. JOSEPHINE MIKEL

The funeral of Mrs. Josephine Mikel, widow of James Riley Mikel, took place from her late residence, 31 Octavia Street, on Thursday afternoon, August 21st. The service in the home and at the graveside in Belleville Cemetery was conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. Young, minister in charge of the Tabernacle United Church during the month of August.

The bearers were Messrs. George Tice, Fred Andrews, Raymond Zufelt, W. R. Vandervoort, George Dawe and Mayor Glencoe Thompson.

Guns Hanging at Hips, Texas Rangers Drive Against Motorized Rustlers

Austin, Texas, Aug. 22 (AP) — Wide-hatted Texas Rangers, spurs clinking at their heels and six-guns hanging on their hips—just like the old days—are setting out in a drive on new-fangled cattle rustlers. Cow thieves, since recent sharp increases in the price of meat, are making serious inroads on the herds. Driving their trucks into the pastures, the rustlers cut out the animals they want, load them and drive away.

THREE KILLED IN RAID

Cairo, Aug. 22 (AP)—Three persons were killed and six injured in a raid on Alexandria last night, a communique said today. Damage was slight.

We Offer Great Values Now in
RELIABLE USED CARS
LOW PRICES and EASY TERMS.
'34 Chevrolet Master Sedan.
'31 Ford Special Sedan.
'30 Durant Sedan.
'34 Chevrolet Coach.
'32 Chevrolet Sedan.
'32 Reo Flying Cloud Coupe.
'37 Chrysler Royal Coach.
'40 Dodge Business Coupe.
'34 Studebaker Touring Sedan.
'33 Chevrolet Coach.
'37 Chevrolet Panel Delivery.
'34 Graham Touring Sedan.
'34 Pontiac Special Sedan.
'29 Buick Sedan.
'29 Pontiac Sedan.
'32 Ford Coach.
'41 Hudson 5-Pass. Coupe.
Now is the time to buy a Used Car at the Right Price.
HASTINGS MOTORS LIMITED
112 - 124 FRONT STREET
PHONES: 933 - 1548
CITIES SERVICE STATION

36 ORDERED ARRESTED

Buenos Aires, Aug 22—(AP)—The arrest of 36 persons, including German Nationals and Nazi sympathizers, was ordered today by Judge Ramon Vasquez, who is investigating anti-Argentine activities.

LAST TIMES TODAY:
IT'S THE MERRIEST THRILL SINCE "MIN AND BILL"
"Barnacle Bill"
Wallace Beery, Marjorie Main
2nd. Hit! "A SHOT IN THE DARK"
Starts tomorrow
CONTINUOUS SHOW ON SATURDAY
STARTING AT 1.00 P.M.
FIVE SHOWS ...... 1.00 — 3.00 — 5.00 — 7.00 — 9.00
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE.
The MIRACLE SHOW of a THOUSAND SURPRISES

Surprises so un-guessable ...laughter so unending ... it marks a new high in delight!
Walt Disney's
New Feature Production
THE RELUCTANT DRAGON
Words can't describe it! You'll simply have to come and LAUGH FOR YOURSELF!
with
ROBERT BENCHLEY
Sequences in MULTIPLANE TECHNICOLOR
Distributed by RKO RADIO PICTURES, Inc.

— MORE REAL ENTERTAINMENT —
A New and Ever-Welcome CRIME-DOES-NOT-PAY Story.
"Forbidden Passage"
"SPORTSMAN'S PARTNER"
Entertaining Treat for Dog Lovers:
Radio's Favourite Program On the Scree.
"INFORMATION PLEASE"
● B-E-L-L-E WORLD-WIDE NEWS EVENTS ●
AN INVITATION TO YOU—AND YOU—AND YOU!
When at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, visit the Famous Players Theatres display in the Manufacturers' Building, near the Fountain. Free Entertainment for young and old. Souvenirs. A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU!

Community Presents a Radio to Rawdon Boy in R. C. A. F.

Rawdon — On Monday evening, August 18th, over one hundred and twenty-five people from the communities of Mount Pleasant and Hoards gathered at Mount Pleasant hall to honor Douglas McAdam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle McAdam, who has joined the R.C.A.F. and is now stationed at Mountain View. Douglas and his friend Don Brown of the R.C.A.F. were seated near the front of the hall and Rev. J. E. Beckel presided over the program which had been arranged by Mrs. Percy Hubble.

The opening number was "O Canada" and Rev. Beckel spoke briefly on loyalty to country and to the church in these days of stress and strain. Truly these are difficult days for those who are in uniform and for those who stay at home. Mrs. Carleton Potts accompanied on the piano and Mrs. Percy Hubble led in singing patriotic numbers. Miss Joan Hoard gave a humorous reading "When the war is going to end." Master Neil Hubble delighted in his inimitable style with two patriotic songs. Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Summers contributed a couple of musical numbers with piano and harmonica. Mrs. Percy McMullen gave a humorous reading about "An airyplane ride." Mrs. Carleton Potts contributed a piano solo and Mr. Charles Hoard and Mrs. James Sharp spoke briefly. Mrs. Kenneth Weaver and Lois rendered a piano duet. Mr. John Coggins delighted with two patriotic numbers, one being "The King Is Still in London."

Douglas was then given a seat of honor at the front of the hall and Mr. Burton Sharp read an appropriate address which was signed by Messrs. Harvey Couch, Bob Hoard, and Burton Sharp. Mr. Bob Hoard made the presentation of a portable radio and Douglas graciously thanked his friends for the lovely gift. An appetizing lunch was served and the guests departed homewards. Douglas will be in the thoughts and prayers of his many friends at Mount Pleasant who will wish for him a safe journey should it be necessary for him to cross the ocean to serve his country.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harvie of Hermon are holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. John Downs.

The threshing machines are busy these days and the crops are very light.

A Former Rawdon Boy

Flying Officer Kenneth Smith who is now posted at Rivers, Manitoba, Air Navigation School as an instructor is a former Rawdon boy. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mount Pleasant, and received his education at the Allan school and at Stirling High school. As a young man he travelled to the United States. He spent a few years at The East Coast Flying School, Brooklyn, N.Y., and last year he took a special course at the Pacific Aeronautical College, Los Angeles, Cal. With his advanced training he offered his services to Canada and came here early in 1941, where he was commissioned as a first pilot officer stationed at Picton. Now his efforts have been rewarded as he has been given his new post at Manitoba.

Master Douglas Downer returned to his home, Ridge Road, on Tuesday after a holiday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp.

Mr. Arthur Hay, Allan and Dick, of Chatham, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Montgomery, Foxboro, attended a birthday party on Thursday evening, August 14th at Stockdale where the former's aunt, Mrs. Clarissa Johnson, was honored on her 88th birthday.

Mrs. Emma MacMullen, Springbrook, is holidaying at the home of her brother, Mr. A. D. Runnalls and Mrs. Runnalls, Harold.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barton and Master Francis Barton, Campbellford, Mr. Frank Barton, Round Lake, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McMullen, Springbrook.

Miss Bernice Harvie of Hermon is holidaying with her cousin, Miss Phyllis Downs.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMullen and Elda visited Mrs. Clifford Hall and family, Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langman, Smithfield, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Carlisle.

Cannifton

Cannifton—Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Davis has returned home after their recent vacation.

Miss Dorothy MacDonald of Point Anne took tea on Thursday night with Miss Dawn Davison.

Mrs. M. Cairns and Muriel also Mr. Gordon Francis spent Sunday in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Cory Howard spent Sunday with her parents at Maynooth

Mr. and Mrs. G. Lywood and family spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kerr of Bancroft.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fulton of Toronto are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Downey.

Mrs. MacDonald with daughter Dorothy of Point Anne is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. D. Mason.

Miss Edith Carmichael is home after spending the past week visiting her brother Donald Carmichgel of Gananoque.

Mrs. D. Mason is much improved after her recent illness.

LAUNCHING Henley

THE NEW STRAIGHT VIRGINIA CIGARETTE

On the stream of public approval we offer HENLEY, a mild, sweet, slow-burning, Virginia cigarette.

HENLEY comes to you in a convenient red-and-gold "pouch" pack which, on account of its costing less, permits better quality in the cigarettes themselves.

Starting from scratch, HENLEY only needs a fair trial to prove its worth; and we are sure the sporting spirit of Ontario will lend its support.

Try HENLEY to-day.

BENSON & HEDGES
Henley
CIGARETTES

20 for 22¢

Plainfield

Plainfield—Mrs. E. Fargey and Miss O. Gillespie spent Wednesday with Mr. N. McKibbon, Picton.

Mrs. M. Hubel and Miss Annie Hamilton were Sunday callers of Mrs. Fargey and Miss Gillespie.

Dr. and Mrs. Buk and son of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs Ewart Sills, Foxboro, were recent callers of Mrs. M. Salisbury.

Miss Joan Cronkwright spent a few holidays with her grandmother, Mrs. Downey, Cannifton.

Mrs. Simpson has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Badgley for a time.

Mr. Oscar Moore spent a few days with Mrs. James McCreary.

Miss Beryl Platt spent a week with Miss Maxine Embury, 4th line.

Mrs. Ida Collins has returned home after visiting her brother and family in Prince Edward County.

Master Ronald Cronkwright spent a few holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. Cronkwright, Zion.

Mrs. Maude Young is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall and Mrs. Etta Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spencer, Mrs. Annie Thrasher of Oshawa spent Monday tea hour at the Fargey home, later calling on Miss Annie Hamilton.

Mrs. Norman Hall, Sr., has returned home after spending a few holidays with friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Tripp and children and Mrs. Irwin, London, spent the diner hour on Thursday with Mrs. Fargey and Miss Gillespie.

Miss Annie Hamilton spent Wednesday with Mrs. Mary Ann Latta.

Mr. David Gillespie, Oshawa, spent a few hours at his home here on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hall and Mrs. Etta Hall spent Sunday with Mr. W. Creary and Mrs. Helen Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis and Marie, Melrose, and Mrs. W. Marshall spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rollins.

Miss Evelyn Downey is visiting Miss Mary Emerson.

Miss Mary Goodfellow has secured a position with the Alemite.

Mr. and Mrs. John King spent Sunday with friends in Roslin.

Mr. Ed Cronkright visited Mr. and Mrs. M. Cronkwright for the week-end.

Mrs. O. Bates and Mrs. W. Elder, Belleville, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hazard, Franklin and John Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr and Ernest from Stirling, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Norval Lowder, Picton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Camblen, Donald and Kenneth of Rochester are spending a few holidays with Mr. and Mrs. S. Hazard.

Miss Nina Dunning spent last Thursday with Miss Betty Sinfield and John Allen Hazard.

Miss Betty Sinfield and John Allan Hazard had dinner on Wednesday last with Miss Nina Dunning.

Mrs. I. Stewart is visiting friends at Ompah.

Miss Nina Dunning left on Sunday to spend a few holidays with relatives in Oshawa.

4th Thurlow

4th Thurlow—Rev. W. J. Davis conducted services at Bethany on Sunday, having returned from his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carleton (nee Erma Mulholland) were recent guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Bruce Martin and family.

Mrs. M. Bradshaw of Tweed was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Beer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Embury of Detroit, were recent guests of their niece, Mrs. Walter Sheffield and family.

Friends are pleased to learn that Mr. Harold Denike was able to return to his home this week from Belleville Hospital following his recent operation.

Masters John and Carl Foote, Smithfield, are spending their vacation with relatives on this line.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bradshaw and Stella took dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Gibson, Mt. Pleasant.

Miss Catherine Cooley of Indiana has left to rejoin her family in Lafayette, having remained for a longer vacation with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Beer entertained to dinner on Sunday: Rev. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller, Mrs. C. Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Orval Beer.

A number from this line attended the send-off Monday evening for Mr. Frank Mayse, 3rd line.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker and family attended a family picnic on Sunday near Campbellford.

Miss Meribeth Miller is holidaying with her aunt, Mrs. Bruce Sherman, Melrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sharpe of Belleville and friends of Vineland, called Sunday evening at the home of R. Miller.

Mr. J. E. Cooley spent several days last week with his brother, E. Cooley, Belleville.

LABOR DAY!

Summer's Last Long Week-End

GO: From Noon Friday, Aug. 29, until 2.00 P.M. Monday, Sept. 1.

RETURN: Leave destination up to midnight, Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1941.

Times shown are Standard.

FARE and ONE QUARTER for the round trip Plus 10% Government Tax

For fares and further information apply to your nearest Ticket Agent.

CANADIAN PACIFIC CANADIAN NATIONAL

Farewell Party Held For Malone Resident, Moving from District

Malone—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Conway also Jackie and Bobbie of Toronto have returned home after spending the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weese.

Farmers are busy with threshing. The grain is turning out very good.

Mr. Billie Long, Eldorado, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. Lorne Gawley, Peterboro, spent the week-end at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dafoe and son Billie, Mrs. F. Stucky and Billie Johns spent Sunday evening in Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Empey have moved into the house of Mr. Walter Gawley who has moved to Peterboro.

Mrs. Ethel Pack and grandson, Tommy Culbert, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Weese.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gawley, Tuesday evening before they took their departure for their new home in Peterboro where Mr. Gawley has obtained employment at the General Electric plant. The evening was spent playing euchre. At midnight the gathering was called to order and an address was read by Miss Dorothy McCann. Mr. and Mrs. Gawley were presented with three matching electric lamps and Leland was presented with a purse. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gawley replied and invited everyone to visit their new home. All joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows." A lunch was then served which everyone enjoyed very much.

Mrs. Thomas Derry also Mrs. Thomas McCann called on Mrs. H Weese on Monday evening last.

Mrs. Ethel Pack and grandson, Tommy, are spending a few days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin McCoy.

Mr. Bill Rylott also Mrs. Lena Vincent spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Empey.

Schoharie

Schoharie—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burford of Picton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McGee.

Mrs. Lewis Cleave spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Morley Istead of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Walter Taylor and Joan returned on Tuesday from a fortnight's visit with friends at Jarvis.

Mrs. Harold Walters and Mrs. G. D. Taylor attended a tea and shower on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ray Clapp of Picton in honor of the bride-to-be, Miss Phyllis Leavitt.

Miss Helen Terwilleger of Picton is spending a couple of weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson of Buffalo spent Friday with the former's sister, Mrs. Walter Taylor and family.

Mr. and Mrs Morley Hobson of Toronto spent several days last week with his mother, Mrs. Geo. Hobson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gerow of Picton spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw.

Mrs. Mastin of Toronto is spending some time with her niece Mrs. Burton Baxter and Mr. Baxter.

Marmora

Marmora—Mrs. J. McCullough and daughters, Madeline and Rosamond of Sudbury, are visiting Mrs. Theresa Warren and other relatives here.

Canon and Mrs. W. P. Robertson and daughter of Peterborough are occupying the Misses Sullivan's cottage at Crowe Lake.

A Demonstration Tea, sponsored by the Marmora Community War Workers, was held in the store formerly occupied by George Aboud on Tuesday. A display of the work which they are doing for war victims in England was held and afternoon tea was served. There was a good attendance.

Dr. and Mrs. Smoult and two grandchildren of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests at Marble Point Lodge.

Mr. Claire O'Neill of Peterborough visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O'Neill, on Wednesday.

Miss Mary Paquet is spending two weeks' vacation in Montreal and Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Neal of Oshawa visited relatives here on Wednesday.

Bayside

Bayside—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sandercock spent a day recently with their daughter, Mrs. Fred Wilson and Mr. Wilson.

Miss Irene Reid spent a week with her sister, Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Taylor, Madoc.

Miss Ethel Rush returned home after spending a couple of weeks in Hamilton with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rush.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Westfall on the death of her grandson, Clifford Harry.

Mrs. C. Hall of Belleville and Mrs. Emma Lang and Mrs. Bert Saunders of Toronto spent an afternoon last week with Mr. and Mrs. Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Megginson visited with friends in Stirling last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Mercer and family have been absent for a couple of weeks on vacation.

Several of the ladies spent an afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Megginson cutting out patches for quilts.

Foxboro

Foxboro—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dainton of Toronto visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. David Lowe.

Miss Flora Wootten of Belleville was a Sunday guest at Mr. Walter Wickett's.

Mr. Delbert Utman of Stirling spent Friday with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Daniels.

Mr. Richard York spent last week with Mr. Fred Yorke of Gilead.

Miss Rhea Rose of Frankford returned home on Saturday after sending the week with Mrs. D. Lowe.

Miss Bernice Dainard and Miss Jean McPherson of Belleville were Sunday guests at Mr. Harold Stewart's. Callers at this home included Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart and Mr. Charles Dafoe and Miss James of Kingston.

Miss Tillie Fargey of Belleville visited at Mrs. Murney Reynold's last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sills were week-end guests at Mr. Frank Parks' of Hay Bay.

Mrs. (Rev.) Edwards of Cobourg is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Bonkin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yorke of Gilead were dinner guests on Sunday at Mr. Richard Yorke's.

Master Stewart Lowe returned home after visiting at Mr. Harry Hoard's of Campbellford.

Miss Agnes MacAvoy of Ivanhoe spent a week at Mr. Bernard O'Brien's.

Friends were sorry to have Mr. and Mrs. Mason and Norma move from our village but Mr. Evans and family are now in the store vacated by Mr. Mason.

Mrs. Harry Scott and mother, Mrs. Cornell attended the marriage of the former's sister, Miss Vera Cornell at Belleville on Tuesday.

Miss Nancy Ann McCutcheon of Michigan spent a couple of days at Mr. J. W. Daniels'.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold O'Brien of Niagara Falls, N.Y., were Tuesday evening guests at Mr. Bernard O'Brien's.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Burton of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaw of Campbellford were Saturday callers at Mrs. A. Shaw's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Prentice and Mrs. D. Ketcheson of Frankford called on friends in the village recently.

Miss Eleanor Miles of Capreol and Miss June Coulter of Belleville were Friday tea guests of Miss Reta Christie.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lowe on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Logue and children, Jessie and Jimmie and Miss Cora Bell of Point Anne.

Allan Mills

Allan Mills—Mrs. Ken Reid and little daughters of North Bay are visiting Mr. John Brown and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reid and friends here.

The reunion of the family of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Reid was held at Chards Bridge with the children, grandchildren and three great grandchildren being present, also Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Potts of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Emsler and Joanne of Cleveland, Ohio.

The lawn social held on the lawn of Mr. J. S. McKeown's home was well attended and a nice sum was realized for war work.

Mrs. Alf Wright, Jan and Arthur, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. Burkitt.

Mr. Frank Haggerty of Toronto spent the week-end at his home here.

A meeting of the W.I. ladies was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Eastwood and quilts were pieced for the refugees.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Collins and Theo of Peterboro spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. A. Burkitt.

Mr. Walter Arthur and W. H. Matthews of Hamilton are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Simon Matthews.

Shannonville

Shannonville—Pte. Ronald Bonsor and Mrs. Bonsor, Kingston, were Thursday evening callers at the home of Mrs. Olive Mayell.

Mr. Malcolm Little, Milltown, was a Wednesday afternoon guest of Mrs. Madeline Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Vivian and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Liddle and Leroy, Mrs. Edith Liddle and Miss Pearl Liddle attended the Garage Operators' picnic, Wednesday, at the Sand Banks.

The Women's Institute of Tyendinaga Reserve held a picnic on Thursday at Mohawk Beach.

Mrs. Carman S. Spencer and Miss Ruth Spencer, Belleville, were Tuesday evening guests of Mrs. Madeline Spencer.

Gunner Lewis Leverton, Petawawa, has returned to camp after visiting at his home.

Shannonville Canning Factory operated in tomatoes Saturday.

Colonel and Mrs. Powell, Toronto, and Miss Dorothy Stevens, London, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart and family, Milltown, were Sunday afternoon callers at Mrs. Madeline Spencer's.

Mr. Gordon Sager, Oshawa, was a Sunday afternoon guest of Mr. Robert Sager and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sager spent Sunday in Kingston, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Joyce.

Miss Ruth Spencer, Belleville, spent the week-end at her home.

Aircraftman Douglas Kent, R.C.A.F., Quebec, was a week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kent.

Mr. Walter Carson, Belleville, spent the week-end the guest of Mrs. Margaret Smith and family.

Pte. Randal Smith, Camp Borden, spent the week-end at his home.

The local Red Cross auxiliary held their weekly meeting in the Brick Hall, Monday evening. Ten members were present and a quilt was put up and quilted.

GO 50/50 WITH OUR FIGHTING FORCES

IT'S FUN TO SHOP ON FOOT AND..

Save Gasoline

Ladies, too, can rival the menfolk as 50/50 gasoline savers—by shopping on foot and carrying small parcels; by walking to and from the movies; by taking public conveyances when visiting friends who live beyond walking distance. Every saving counts; our Fighting Forces must have first call on Canada's gasoline supply.

REMEMBER: The slower you drive, the more you save!

Shortcuts to a 50% GASOLINE SAVING

(Approved by Automobile Experts)

Reduce driving speed from 60 to 40 on the open road.

Avoid jack-rabbit starts.

Turn motor off when not in use, do not leave idling.

Don't strain your engine; change gears.

Tune up motor, timing, etc.

Check cooling system; overheating wastes gasoline.

Lubricate efficiently; worn engines waste gasoline.

For golf, picnics and other outings, use one car instead of four.

Walk to and from the movies.

Boat owners, too, can help by reducing speed.

Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. Consult him.

Spare and Share your Gasoline for VICTORY!

Christian Street

Christian Street—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mr. Herb Rutter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noxon and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cross attended the funeral of the late Francis Wood at Ameliasburg on Tuesday afternoon.

A number from here attended the Red Cross meeting at the home of Mrs. Eugene Rorabeck of Crofton on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noxon attended the funeral of her aunt, the late Mrs. Morley Meyers of Belleville on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Nellie Anderson of Belleville spent a couple of days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Werden.

Sgt. and Mrs. Hutchison and baby have moved into the home of Miss Claire Allison.

Mr. Herb Rutter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noxon, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Ainsworth and Mrs. Harold Cross attended the meeting of Quinte Chapter No. 59, O.E.S. on Thursday evening when the Chapter was honored by a visit from the Worthy Grand Matron and the Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Ontario.

Miss Beatrice Cross and friend of Frankford spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cross and family.

Mr. Austin Cooke suffered an attack of illness on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Clayton Morden and Misses Beatrice Morden, Margaret and Phyllis Parsons, Moreen Jones and Shirley Cross attended Achievement Day at Wellington on Thursday.

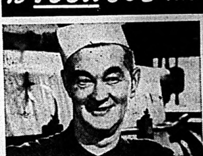
Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Werden and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Werden and family attended a family picnic on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Moxam and Lillian of Rossmore were Sunday guests of her mother, Mrs. David Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wood of Mountain View spent a recent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson and Mrs. Herb Rutter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oram and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Regensburg and baby of Belleville.

Is YOUR JOB the "no exercise" kind?



He keeps the presses rolling—In these fast-moving times, why put up with frequent days when you feel "heavy," headachy . . .

She works on an assembly line . . . depressed. Such symptoms may simply mean incomplete elimination. So get more "bulk" in your diet.

She sews shirts for soldiers—Take enough "bulk" daily to move the food wastes promptly . . . and in a form so appetizing you'll gladly . . .

He drives a drill . . . enjoy it every morning through the year. Do as thousands do! Eat delicious, mildly-laxative Kellogg's Bran Flakes!

KEEP FIT WITH KELLOGG'S every day in the year!

Kellogg's
BRAN FLAKES

No need to feel "low" . . .

However "nervy" and confining your job, however little real exercise it gives you, there are two simple rules of health: (1) To get well, see your doctor, (2) to keep well, watch your habits! For one thing, make sure elimination is complete. But that doesn't mean harsh cathartics, nasty doses. No . . . follow the natural way. Just eat this crisp, mellow-flavoured cereal every mornii ; through the year. Gently laxative, KELLOGG'S BRAN FLAKES WITH OTHER PARTS OF WHEAT help supply valuable minerals and proteins too. Order the golden-yellow package today. Now in two convenient sizes. In restaurants ask for the triple-wrapped individual package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.

MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

ARRESTS REPORTED IN VICHY FRANCE

A surprise series of arrests of thousands of persons is reported from Vichy, France. According to reports the surprise followed scenes of unrest and firing in the streets. A Vichy dispatch claims that there have been public admissions by French and Nazi authorities that sabotage and subversive activities in Vichy have been reaching dangerous proportions.

Great masses of men and women in Europe burn with indignation against Nazi oppression and aggression. The arrest of these persons is taken as an indication of the strength of the opposition to the tyranny of the Hun over Vichy, France.

As the war goes on, this spirit of resistance to the Hun will become more and more vocal. It is and will be international in its scope.

ROOSEVELT HEADLINE WRITER

President Roosevelt turned headline writer the other day and on the suggestion of a correspondent offered a lead to his story at a press interview. That headline was carried by the newspaper to which the correspondent is attached and Mr. Roosevelt has been paid at the rate of a day's pay for cub headline writers.

In these days from the lips of the great men of the British and American democracies come phrases and sentences of the finest style and content. Mr. Churchill, himself a journalist of old, has the gift of utterance to a degree which marks him out as truly one of the greatest masters of his tongue in many generations. His speeches on the crises and problems of the war have been and will be read for their soul quality and will be an inspiration for millions in the years of the future. This age is particularly blessed in having so vocal a leader, who is also a great statesman.

President Roosevelt also is an orator. His style is different from the brilliancy of Mr. Churchill. The words and phrases of the President are in the nature of things characteristic of himself. The average man has not learned to make his style his own for he has not probed deeply enough the problems of life. But Mr. Roosevelt as a realistic statesman has done so. When Mr. Roosevelt speaks, the sincerity of the man speaks. He is also a master of the English tongue. In his description of the declaration of principles adopted at the Churchill-Roosevelt conference he spoke in his own quiet style as he said the declaration was so clear-cut that it would be difficult to oppose in any major particular "without automatically admitting a willingness to accept a compromise" with Nazism, or to agree to a world peace which would give to Nazism domination over large numbers of conquered nations. Then he added the words, "Inevitably such a peace would be a gift to Nazism to take breath—an armed breath—for a second war to extend the control over Europe and Asia to the American hemisphere itself." Then he added these plain words which mean so much "No society of the world organized under the announced principles could survive without these freedoms (the world need for freedom of religion and freedom of information) which are a part of the whole freedom for which we strive."

NINE WEEKS OF STRUGGLE

Hitler will soon be entering his tenth week of the war on Russia. He has caused disappointment in Germany at the slow progress he has made as contrasted with the speed of his blitzkrieg in previous invasions of the territory of his neighbors.

There in the East, Russia is locked in one of the greatest battles of all time with the German aggressor as he seeks to force his way forward at all cost, including untold casualties before the faithful potent ally of Russia, the wet season and the approach of autumn bring rains to bog down the Nazi adventure. Russia, prepared against the Hun to an unexpected degree is fighting with all her strength and has made a magnificent defence, taking heavy toll of the forces that Hitler has used.

So goes on the mighty struggle of two giant powers, and all the while the season approaches which has been Russia's friend in other invasions.

Confidence in Allied countries is expressed that the Russian defence will prove effective against the Hitler war.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS . . .

BY

Geo. Herman

HITLER'S BROKEN PLEDGES
(Continued)
BRITAIN

May 21, 1935

Hitler said he would co-operate for world peace, if Germany had an equality of rights.

June 18, 1935

Anglo-German Naval Agreement signed.

Jan. 30, 1937

Hitler: "The day of political surprises is over."

Sept. 30, 1938

Hitler promised Anglo-German peace, known as the Munich Peace Pact! "We are resolved that the method of consultation shall be the method adopted to deal with any other question that may concern our two countries."

April 28, 1939

Hitler (to the Reichstag): "Since England today, both by the press and officially, upholds the view that Germany should be opposed under all circumstances, and confirms this by the policy of encirclement known to us, the basis for the Naval Treaty has been removed. I have therefore resolved to send today a communication to this effect to the British Government."

(British War Blue Book, Page 67)

April 28, 1939

Hitler (to the Reichstag): "The only claim I have ever made, and shall continue to make, on England is that for a return of our colonies. But I always made it very clear that this would never become the cause of a military conflict."

(British War Blue Book, Page 67)

Aug. 23, 1939

Hitler (in letter to Chamberlain): "Germany has never had the intention of taking military measures other than those of a defensive character against England or France, and has never intended, and does not in the future intend, to attack England or France."

(British War Blue Book, Page 134)

Aug. 28, 1939

British reply to above: "The German Government will be aware that His Majesty's Government have obligations to Poland by which they are bound and which they intend to honour. They could not, for any advantage offered to Great Britain, acquiesce in a settlement which put in jeopardy the independence of a State to whom they have given their guarantee."

(British War Blue Book, Page 163)

To which Sir Nevile Henderson added; in conversation with Hitler: Hitler wanted Britain's friendship if we began it by disloyalty to a friend?

(British War Blue Book, Page 167)

Sept. 3, 1939

Britain and France declared a state of war existed between them and Germany, by reason of Germany's unprovoked attack upon Poland.

(To Be Concluded)

• • •

MENTAL CRUELTY

"Is there no law to protect policemen from mental cruelty?"

The question is put to a Baltimore Sun columnist by a correspondent who relates the reason for it:

"Today I saw a dignified gentleman approach two traffic officers in a congested downtown street and point to two cars in a forbidden spot, alongside a sign reading: 'No parking at any time.'

"The dignified gentleman said to the officers:

"Was it all right for me to leave my car parked there?' 'You saw the sign, didn't you?' was the official retort.

"'Yes,' was the smiling reply, 'but it isn't my car, anyway. I just wanted to know.'

"'The next move was made by one of the policemen, and I saw him place two nice, new tags on the offending cars."

x x x

SHE'LL KNOW LATER

For his gallantry a Scottish soldier was given a decoration. A week or so later a pal asked him:

"And what does the wife think of your medal, Sandy?"

"She doesna ken yet," was the reply. "It's no, my turn to write."

x x x

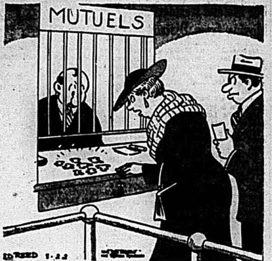
CLEAR ENOUGH

Counsel (persisting): "You've heard what the last witness said, and yet your evidence is to the contrary. Am I to infer that you doubt her veracity?"

Polite Young Man (waving a deprecating hand): "Not at all. I merely wish to make it clear what a liar I am if she's speaking the truth."

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed Reed



"You understand how nervous one gets, especially when one's horse is winning!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 22nd, 1921.

Mrs. A. D. Watts has returned home after spending the summer at Lotus Island, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hawley of Sarnia and Mr. and Mrs. W. Buchell of Kitchener, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Sidney Street.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Walsh of Napanee are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Folk, Grove St.

Miss E. Corbett has returned home after visiting friends in Montreal and the State of Vermont.

Mr. Philip B. Smith left today for Montreal on business.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 22nd, 1911.

In a baseball game yesterday between the Steel Company's team and the team of the T. A. Society, the former team won, the score being 13 to 8. The following composed the teams: Steel Company — Symons, Carter, Philp, Goyer, Brown, Thomas, Whalen, Campbell and Smith. T.A. Society—Doran, O'Connor, Staples, Hogan, Champagne, Kelleher, Phillips, Callaghan and F. Goyer. The umpire was William Cochrane and he gave entire satisfaction.

Mr. H. C. Emerson of Corbyville left today on a trip to Regina, Sask.

Mr. William Hogg of Long Island, N.Y., an old Belleville boy, is renewing acquaintances in town.

Mr. W. H. Graham of Brooklyn, N.Y., an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 22nd, 1901.

The Soldiers Wives' League of this city is arranging to procure new colors for the 15th Regiment.

The steamer Annie Lake was fitted with a new stem today.

Mrs. N. English of Toronto is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Arthur Chown of Kingston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chown in this city.

Lt.- Col. Ponton has retired as commanding officer of the 15th Regiment and will be succeeded by Major J. Earl Halliwell. Col. Ponton has been in command of the Regiment for the past six years.

The temperature was 88 degrees at noon today.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Barlow of Havelock are visiting friends here.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 22nd, 1891.

In the trap shooting contest for the Corby prize Mr. W. H. Ponton was first; Mr. R. S. Bell second, and Judge Fraleck third.

Mr. M. D. Ward, dentist, caught a black bass in the bay yesterday which weighed 4 pounds, 2 ounces.

Mr. L. Benmore has returned to the city after spending some time at his former home in the Old Country.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. O'Flynn have returned home after an absence of four weeks during which they visited Niagara Falls, Chautauqua, Alleghany Mountains, New York City and other places of interest.

Messrs. W. H. Pretty of Saratoga, N.Y., and Mr. W. R. Pretty of Providence, R.I., are visiting their father, Mr. H. Pretty in this city.

Just Folks
by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

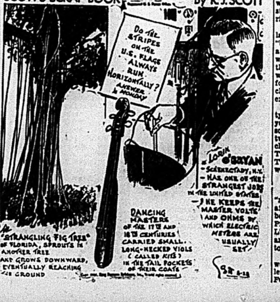
"Strange," said the guide, "they do not bite today!
Last Sunday Johnson hooked a dozen here.
The Watson boys caught fifty just last year.
No, there's no better spot upon the bay.

"Bill Jones took twelve last week with worms for bait.
Last night they struck at minnows as they should.
I'll lift the anchor. Yes, it's getting late,
But yesterday the fishing here was good!

"Seven in the boat on Tuesday got a string.
On Wednesday Arthur Brown caught twenty-three.
The fishing has been good since early spring.
I think tomorrow it will better be."

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT



DO THE STRIPES ON THE U.S. FLAGS ALWAYS RUN HORIZONTALLY? ANSWER MONDAY
LORIN O'BRYAN — SCHENECTADY, N.Y. — HAS ONE OF THE STRANGEST JOBS IN THE UNITED STATES — HE KEEPS THE MASTER VOLTS AND OHMS BY WHICH ELECTRIC METERS ARE USUALLY SET
DANCING MASTERS OF THE 17TH AND 18TH CENTURIES CARRIED SMALL, LONG-NECKED VIOLS (CALLED KITS) IN THE TAIL POCKETS OF THEIR COATS
A "STRANGLING FIG TREE" OF FLORIDA, SPROUTS IN ANOTHER TREE AND GROWS DOWNWARD, EVENTUALLY REACHING THE GROUND
SCOTT 8-22

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

Children and Sleep

When a growing boy (or girl) reads about Thomas Edison or sees the pictures portraying his life, he may say to himself, "Well, if Edison could work as hard as he did and require only four hours sleep, then I am wasting much valuable time in sleeping so much. He may even argue with his parents about being sent to bed so early. What he does not know is that men and women need less sleep because they are mature or grown up, whereas boys and girls need more sleep because they are still growing.

All young animals, including babies, sleep nearly all the time; as they get older they sleep less and less until they reach their full growth when the amount or number of hours they sleep depends upon their general make-up and the amount of physical work or exercise taken.

Generally speaking, nine hours is what most growing boys and girls of the teen age need; at twenty-one about eight and a half hours is needed and at twenty-five and over, eight hours seems to be satisfactory from the standpoint of health.

There are, of course, exceptions to this rule and an individual may need two hours more of sleep just because his body actually needs it. On the other hand, he may "seem" to need, or really need, two more hours of sleep because of infection—teeth, tonsils, or other organs—as infection saps energy and more sleep is needed. In fact, some physicians believe that just as certain drugs or poisons "quiet" or nearly paralyze the nerves, so also does the poison from infection. The poisons keep the individual sleepy or tired all the time.

Thus parents are perplexed at times. One of the children does not want to go to bed yet seems brighter in the morning whereas the "sleepyhead" is willing to go to bed early, does not want to get up in the morning, yet seems to be tired during the day.

Growing children need many hours of sleep; it is as important to their health as food. If, however, a youngster (or an adult) feels that he needs more sleep than the average amount, a search should be made for infection by physician and dentist.

Deadlocks Prolong 2 Strikes in U. S.

Night Conferences Fail to Give Indication of Agreement

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Deadlocks today prolonged the two most pressing strikes in the United States—at the Gearney, N.J., shipyards and in Detroit's municipal transit system.

Night conferences in both cases ended without indication of agreement between strikers and management.

For the 16th day the sprawling Kearney yards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company remained idle. Eighteen thousand men stayed at home or lounged about the town; construction remained at a standstill on two cruisers, six destroyers and a group of merchant ships.

John Green, President of the striking Congress of Industrial Organization Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, and L. H. Kornoff, Compayn President, conferred at Washington yesterday with President Roosevelt. At his sugestion, the Union leader, the company official and other negotiators met for hours last night, but to no effect.

Company "Adamant"

Green said the company remained "adamant" in opposing the strikers' demand for a maintenance-of-Union-membership agreement, recommended by the National Mediation Board recently. Under such a clause, present or future members of the Union would have to maintain good standing in the Union as a requisite of continued employment.

The Detroit transit strike, caused by a jurisdictional dispute between rival American Federation of Labor and C.I.O. Unions, went into its third day, and Detroiters again were forced to take pot luck in getting to and from work. Though all municipal buses and street cars were withdrawn from service, the city's streets were clogged by slow-moving rivers of private cars.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, who last night described himself as "tired, hungry and mad," arranged a new series of conferences today with the A.F.L. Union which called the strike, and the C.I.O. group which opposed the A.F.L demand for exclusive bargaining rights, exclusive use of bulletin boards, and exclusive checkoff privileges.

In the coal fields of Harlan County, Kentucky two men were killed yesterday as gunfire volleyed at the scene of a long-standing dispute between A.F.L. and C.I.O. Unions claiming representational rights. The assailants were unknown. Twenty-eight highway patrolmen were ordered on duty in the region.

REPORT SCORE ARRESTED

Vichy, Aug. 22 (AP).—A score of "non-Communists Leftists" arrested after France entered the war have been released by Interior Minister Pierre Pucheu, the Socialist paper L'Effort said today. Those released are "only the first batch" scheduled to be freed, the paper declared.

Among those given their freedom were Robert Louzon of the "proletarian revolution" group and Jean Fontaine, prominent left-winger.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Somewhere in the Midlands

London, Aug 22—(By Wireless)—Two sorts of manager employer have emerged in Britain as a result of the war. One is the pre-war factory manager appointed by the stockholders of a corporation accustomed to a competitive system who is now obliged to reconcile himself with a considerable amount of Government control and operate under excess profits taxes which, in munitions factories, are 100 per cent.

The other is a civil - servant manager, who runs government-owned and operated ordnance plants. Inasmuch as the latter was recruited from the ranks of the former—almost all public factories managers came from private industry — it is interesting to compare factory morale and efficiency under both systems.

To have made an exhaustive study of this question would have taken all the time I have spent in England. So I must present the following as inconclusive observations with the comment that they come from unprejudiced sources as objective answers to the main question: What are the advantage and disadvantages of both systems?

The tentative conclusion is that the public ownership system is profoundly influencing the old system and vice versa. Between them something new is being worked out.

The manager of a very successful factory, who came to it as a civil servant from his position in pirvate industry, said: "The disadvantages of public ownership from a personal standpoint are: First; a much smaller salary; I am earning only half of what I did before.

"Secondly, too many departments deal with finance, the supply of labor, etc., with inadequately coordination and too much paper work.

"Third, there is not enough freedom of action, provided you follow all regulations to a T. I don't, and I don't think many managers do. But this is wartime, and the authorities are lenient if you deliver the goods without work stoppage.

"The advantages are: First, a small salary under the present system of taxation is less of a loss than it seems, and the social status of a civil servant is higher in England than that of a private industrial leader.

"Second, I am free of innumerable cares of financing, competition, of beating the other fellow, of holding your job against the intrigues and jealousies of the chief stockholders. I cannot be dismissed except for mismanagement, and when I retire I will have a pension probably higher than any income I could have out of my earnings under the present taxation and investment possibilities.

"Third, our work is very demanding. That might be regarded as an advantage or a disadvantage. But we cannot offer goods on a take it or leave it basis. The goods must pass most rigorous tests.

"However, the freedom from managerial cares, arising from competition in sales and advertising policies, etc., leaves me free to concentrate wholly on efficient production.

"I believe the civil servant managers have a definite break as far as the morale of the workers is concerned. They know they are not working for the private gain of individual stockholders, but wholly for the community and are willing to make greater sacrifices than they would otherwise.

"This attitude on the part of government workers is illogical because actually no British munitions works is making profits, but the government workers don't believe it. They believe the books of individually-owned concerns are fixed: that somehow, somewhere someone gets something out of it.

"In public plants they know they are the only persons who profit. As far as wages and hours are concerned both sorts of production are equal and wages are fixed by district rates arrived at by collective bargaining. Hours are fixed the same way.

"All factories have a shop steward and work committees through which trade unions have functioning representatives among the workers, who select a small committee to represent them in all disputes with the management."

Everybody, whether conservative and in favor of private industry or in favor of the Labor Party policy which on the whole favors public ownership and larger means of industrial production, agrees, however, that war conditions forced managers to take a fresh view of the workers' needs.

The successful factories are those where agreements are very clear and scrupulously observed, where nothing is promised that is not kept, and where the work committees or individual workers always get an immediate hearing from the management and a quick, reasonable decision.

One highly successful manager said: "I will listen to any grievance and demand even if it is preposterous Often what seems to be preposterous is due to inarticulateness or misunderstanding. In my factory no foreman speaks harshly to a worker or laughs at him. The humiliation of people is one of the cruelties that invariably brings revenge.

"We find we have reasonable work committees if all workers are handled as equal human beings, and tough ones if we offer blind or haughty opposition."

Stewards and work committees have no responsibility for planning or production. The responsibility rests wholly with the management. But the stewards and work committees are responsible for labor relations and complaints and their settlement.

A new type of management and a new type of worker undoubtedly are emerging in England.

(Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Newest Notes of Science

A building cement that can be used for most types of construction has been developed in Sweden that requires the use of much less than the usual amount of coal.

A washable hamper for soiled clothing that has been invented contains a bag to receive garments that can be removed without touching them with the hands.

The first large bridge in Spain to be constructed by the electric welding process was completed recently over the Ebro river on the line of an important highway.

Holding several hundred spectators, a tent for outdoor entertainments has been invented that is supported by aluminum alloy girders instead of poles and guy ropes.

Production and exhibition of motion pictures in Manchuria is controlled by the government and no Amercan films have been imported or shown since November, 1937.

A glass phial filled with a liquid that fills an automobile or room with the odor of pine as the liquid evaporates through a wick has been invented.

To help solve Eire's food problem the government has supplied free seeds, fertilizers, implements and spraying materials to more than 10,000 unemployed plotholders.

Fitting any standard socket, an electric light bulb has been invented containing three filaments to provide a 40, 50 or 100 watt light as desired by moving a switch.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

CALVARY AND GOLGOTHA

The popular notion is that Jesus was crucified on a hill or elevated place at Jerusalem.

References to this belief are common in hymns, sermons and other literature.

I fact the place of crucifixion is often referred to as the hill at calvary or Mt. Calvary.

For instance, Cecil Frances Alexander wrote:

"There is a green hill far away,
Without a city wall,
Where the dear Lord was crucified,
Who died to save us all."

And G. K. Chesterton penned these words:

"Where Life was slain and truth was slandered
On that one holier hill than Rome."

But the Scriptures do not contain a single reference or allusion to the place of crucifixion as a hill, mount or elevated place.

The references to the place of crucifixion in the four Gospels are as follows:

"And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull."—Matthew 27:23.

"And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull." — Mark 15:22.

"And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him."—Luke 23:33.

"And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha: Where they crucified him."—John 17:17-18.

Golgotha and Calvary are merely the Anglicized forms of the Hebrew and Latin words meaning "a skull."

It is believed that the place called a skull was the place in Jerusalem where persons condemned to death were customarily executed.

The exact site of the place of crucifixion has never been definitely identified.

Perhaps the conventional and popular notion that it was on a hill or elevated spot is correct.

One tradition places it on the elevated site of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre within the walls of modern Jerusalem.

Another tradition places it on a skull-shaped hillock above Jeremiah's grotto outside the Damascus Gate of the Holy City.

Black's Meat Market

FIRST GRADE CREAMERY BUTTER lb. 39c With Meat Order

GENUINE SPRING LEG LAMB lb. 32c

LAMB STEW .... lb 18c

TENDER STEAKS lb. 27c
Round, Sirloin, T-Bone, Steaks or Roasts.

DELICATED STEAK .... lb 30c

ROASTS
Rump Roasts .... lb 20c
Blade Roasts .... lb 18c
Rolled Roasts .... lb 25c
Rib Stew .... lb 12c

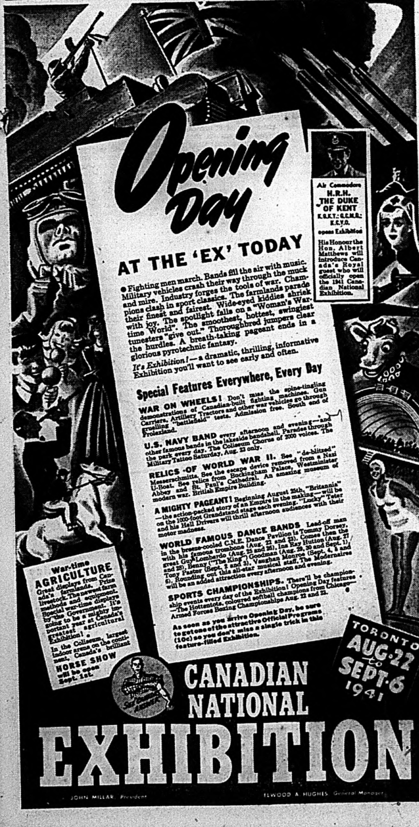
Lean Hamburg .... lb 17c
Pure Pk. Sausage.... lb 20c
Small Linked Pork and Beef Sausage .. lb 15c; 2 lb 25c

PHONE 1761 WE DELIVER 21 BRIDGE ST.

The Best Place to Buy Guaranteed Used Cars

1940 PLYMOUTH CUSTOM 4-DOOR SEDAN.
1940 DODGE COACH.
1940 PLYMOUTH COACH.
1939 CHRYSLER ROYAL SEDAN equipped with overdrive
1938 DESOTO SEDAN.
1937 PACKARD 6 SEDAN.
1937 PONTIAC SEDAN.
1935 2-TON MAPLE LEAF, STAKE BODY.
1930 DURANT SPECIAL SEDAN.
1930 STUDEBAKER 6 CYLINDER COACH..

Napanee Motors Limited
CHRYSLER - PLYMOUTH DEALERS.
WILBERT HART, Manager.
Red Indian Station — Dundas St. Phone 450
NAPANEE



Opening Day

AT THE 'EX' TODAY

● Fighting men march. Bands fill the air with music. Military vehicles crash their way through the muck and mire. Industry forges the tools of war. Champions clash in sport classics. The farmlands parade their finest and fairest. Wide-eyed kiddies shriek with joy. The spotlight falls on a "Woman's War-time World". The smoothest, hottest, swingiest tunesters "give out." Thoroughbred jumpers clear the hurdles. A breath-taking pageant ends in a glorious pyrotechnic fantasy.

It's Exhibition! — a dramatic, thrilling, informative Exhibition you'll want to see early and often.

Special Features Everywhere, Every Day

WAR ON WHEELS!

U.S. NAVY BAND

RELICS OF WORLD WAR II.

A MIGHTY PAGEANT!

WORLD FAMOUS DANCE BANDS

SPORTS CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Air Commodore H.R.H. THE DUKE OF KENT K.G., K.T., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O. opens Exhibition

His Honour the Hon. Albert Matthews will introduce Canada's Royal guest who will officially open the 1941 Canadian National Exhibition.

War-time AGRICULTURE

HORSE SHOW

TORONTO AUG. 22 to SEPT. 6 1941

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION

JOHN MILLAR, President ELWOOD A. HUGHES, General Manager

Soviet United In War Against German Army

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—The threatened seizure of Leningrad and further Nazi triumphs in the Ukraine place Russian chances in a gloomy light although the outlook is not desperate.

The uncertainty that continues to cloud the ultimate outcome of the attempt to crush Russia before snow flies remains the most significant feature of history's greatest military campaign.

The reeling Russian giant is still grimly fighting. A few more days of the bloody struggle may disclose whether he can absorb such punishment as the loss of the old Czarist capital and key Soviet industrial centre, along with Odessa and Kiev in the south.

These prospective blows would be staggering, but they would be important chiefly as means to the end of destroying the resistance of stubborn Soviet armies which have managed thus far to fight and fall back in defiance of Berlin's repeated claims of destruction.

No fair balance sheet could conceal, nevertheless, that the first two months of the battle of titans has brought the German legions within sight of decisive victory.

Much of the richest areas of the Ukraine and White Russia has been overrun, even though, as Moscow asserts, they contain now only scorched fields, wrecked cities and ruined factories.

These are clear facts, without regard to the latest Nazi claim that five million Russian troops have been killed, wounded or captured thus far. This figure, parenthetically, is almost exactly twice the number of men under arms credited to the Russians at the start of the fighting by the most authoritative military sources.

Topping all entries on the Russian side of the ledger is the certainty that substantial armed forces are still in the field after two months, and that a Soviet official spokesman can say unblinkingly that "there is no alarm or pessimism in our ranks". It is still possible that "the war in the East has only begun".

Remnants of Field Marshal Budenny's army and a superior Russian Black Sea Fleet bar the way to the Caucasus. In point of territory the German conquests are still less than those of the first Great War.

Until now there has been no hint of disunity such as made the Nazi triumphs in Western Europe and the Balkans easy.

It may be recalled that at the close of the first month, the Germans claimed their foes no longer had a continuous line of defense, and were split up into disconnected groups which no longer appeared to operate under a unified central command.

Even then Berlin was insisting that the Soviet armies were breaking up. Disintegration appears to be a long process.

Thomasburg

Thomasburg. — Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Porter of Detroit are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wayling of Toronto are spending a few days with Mrs. J. E. Brown.

Miss Betty Vance is holidaying with Miss Shirley Leal of Tweed.

Several from here attended the Oddfellows' Decoration and Divine Service at Madoc on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Coulter and Catherine of Port Hope spent a week-end recently with Mr. and Mrs. Murney Hamilton.

Pte. Harold Jones of British Columbia, now stationed at Camp Borden spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Percy McTaggart.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Burton Calvert are glad to hear that she is sufficiently recovered to be removed from Belleville General Hospital to her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Beatty and two children Jack and Helen, visited Mrs. W. Morton on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Vance returned to her home on Thursday after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Vance of Frankford.

Misses Helen and Amey McTaggart spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy McTaggart.

Mr. Bill Brown, B.A., of Buffalo is spending awhile with his aunt, Mrs. J. E. Brown.

Miss Margaret Gunning spent a few days with Miss Ruth Coulson.

Master Douglas Reid of Kingston is holidaying with Master Carman Reid.

Mr. A. A. Richardson has returned to his home from Hamilton Hospital after a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carter of Toronto spent a week-end recently with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Blakely spent a few days with his father, Mr. Henry Blakely.

Mr. Henry Mulvey of Belleville spent a day with Mr. Walter Harrison.

Burrs

Burrs — Members of Allisonville W.E.I. met at the hall Tuesday afternoon and quilted two quilts. Some sewing on boys' shirts and knitting were also done. Plans were made to have an ice cream social soon. Proceeds from it go for Red Cross work.

A pleasant afternoon was spent at Mrs. Percy Lough's on Wednesday when members of the W.A. met and quilted two quilts for the Red Cross.

The Misses Doris and Mary Lough, Mountain View, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lough and Beverly.

Mrs. Geoffrey Terrill and two daughters, Picton, were guests at Mr. and Mrs. G. Hubbs last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Squire were at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Purtelle's, Crofton, Wednesday.

Mr. Rodney Burr went to Peterboro on Monday where he will be the guest of Cpl. and Mrs. Will Soble.

LAC. Daniel Sheridan and Mrs. Sheridan returned to Mr. and Mrs. E. Harns on Sunday after a week's holiday at London.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Osterhout were guests of honor at a miscellaneous shower at Carrying Place on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Valleau, Melville, and Mrs. Stanley Valleau, Toronto, were Friday tea hour guests at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Huffman's.

Mr. Grant Valleau, Melville took Mrs. Stanley Valleau to Mountain View on Tuesday afternoon where she will be the guest of Miss Lily Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fox and Mrs. Dearl Fox, Centre, were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burrs' on Friday evening. Later calling on Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Werden, Christian Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Harns were Sunday dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Blake Harns, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Blakely and Rev. and Mrs. Lorne Burr attended the funeral of Mrs. Floyd Meyers, Belleville on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Burr conducted the funeral service at the chapel and at Belleville cemetery.

Miss Dorothy VanDusen, Toronto, and Miss Lillian Anderson, Belleville were weekend guests at Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burr's.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bovay, North Lakeside visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clark and Doris on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Herb Brason is at Mr. and Mrs. Percy Carnrite's, Salem, for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo Westerby returned to Toronto after an enjoyable holiday at Mr. and Mrs. G. Harns'.

JAPANESE ERECT BARRICADES

Shanghai, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Japanese army began erecting new barbed wire barricades around Shanghai's city limits today, causing some apprehension among non-Axis foreign residents. Army officials said it was necessary to prevent terrorists entering or leaving.

Melville

Melville—Mr. C. Palmer, Douglas and Howard attended a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierson for Mrs. Nellie Palmer, Rosabelle and Greta Palmer on Tuesday evening. They moved to their new home at Bowmanville on Thursday. They were presented with a floor lamp, an electric iron and a fernery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chase and Barbara, Oshawa, spent two weeks at Mr. G. French's cottage. A number of relatives from Frankford were their guests on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. McDonald, Saskatoon, were Wednesday evening callers on Mrs. H. B. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Chase and Barbara were Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Osterhout.

Mr. and Mrs. G. French spent Wednesday in Trenton.

Mrs. H. B. Anderson spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. French spent Wednesday in Belleville.

A large number have been ill with summer 'flu.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morton and Mrs. Jas. Morton spent a recent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Anderson at their cottage.

Mrs. I. Tuck, Toronto, entertained in their cottage "Treetops" on Wednesday afternoon. Guests were Mrs. E. Carley, Mrs. C. Carley and Muriel, Mrs. C. Gamble, Mrs. Jas. Morton, Mrs. J. Rook, Mrs H. B. Anderson. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her two daughters, Marion and Lois.

Miss Dorothy Carley spent the tea hour with Mr. and Mrs. I. Tuck and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Carley and Mr. and Mrs. C. Carley and Muriel spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. Reddick, Picton. Mr. and Mrs. A. Carley remained for a week's visit.

Mr. Ernest Lawrence, Toronto, spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. E. Carley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Carley and family spent Sunday in Trenton with Mr. and Mrs. P. Anderson.

Mrs. Hineman, who has spent the past six months at Mr. C. Palmer's returned to her home at Milford on Monday. Her daughter, Mrs. Jeffery, Milford, spent a couple of days with her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carter and sons and Mrs. Cyril Kent and Ross, Lingham St., Belleville, spent Thursday evening with Mr. Cyril Kent and Jay and Mrs. E. Kent at the Parry cottage.

Mrs. Cyril Kent and Ross accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harnden, Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr. Cyril Kent and Jay and Mrs. E. Kent.

Miss Mary Medd, Peterboro, who is holidaying near Rednersville, spent Wednesday morning with Mrs. H. B. Anderson.

6th Sidney

6th Sidney—Mrs. A. J. Styles and Mrs. Mary Beebe of Sarnia and Mrs. A. Y. Hall of Windsor, also Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sine of Frankford were Tuesday guests at the home of Mr. J. A. Lott.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bolstridge of Thurlow also Mrs. Nancy Sine were recent guests at the home of Mr. Alton Sine.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Read of Frankford spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. M. B. Scott.

Mrs. Tom Smith and baby Lloyd of Toronto were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dafoe.

Mr. Egbert Sine spent Sunday in Murray at the home of Mr. Howard Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Castle of Allandale spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Croft.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Faul were Sunday evening callers at the home of Mr. Maitland Sine.

Mr. Clarence Chisholm and Miss E. Chisholm were recent guests at the home of Mr. Harvey Chisholm, Roslin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Copeland entertained friends on Sunady.

Mrs. E. Ketcheson of Belleville is a guest at the home of Mr. Ross Dafoe.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the church on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 20, with eight members and one visitor present. The President presided. A hymn was sung and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The theme was "Demonstration of the way of Christ and social welfare." Reading—"I Know Christ's Near By," was given by Mrs. G. Sine. Reading—"A Starless Crown," was given by Mrs. Ross Dafoe. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King" and Mizpah Benediction.

Carmel

Carmel—The farmers on this line are finishing up their harvest and some are starting to plow.

Mr. Harold B. Simpson has returned to his home in Montreal after spending a week with his mother and brother, Mrs. E. Simpson and Charles, also with his sister, Mrs. Geo. Vanderwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor and family of Oshawa spent a few hours at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Vandewater's.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clare Horton who were married on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Goodfellow and family spent Sunday afternoon in Prince Edward County.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Vandewater and Lyle spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Brough, Zions Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dafoe spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Fitchett's, West Huntingdon.

"Don't tell me you rolled that one!"
"Sure! It's easy with

O·K

The New CROSS CUT CIGARETTE TOBACCO"

It's a cinch—with O.K. Cross Cut—for even beginners to roll cigarettes that look—and smoke—like "tailor-mades". You'll be proud of your handiwork . . . It's the new cross cut that does it. It's easy to pick the exact amount for a perfect cigarette . . . and it absolutely snuggles into the paper . . . Marvellous tobacco, too—mild, fragrant, completely satisfying!

10¢ A PACKAGE

Easier to Roll - Better to Smoke

ATHLETE'S FOOT GOES QUICK
Or Money Back

If you have Athlete's Foot, with itching and burning of the feet and raw, sore cracks between the toes, you should not neglect immediate treatment because this may become a very serious ailment. Go to J. S. McKeown's Store and get a bottle of Cortisol. Just one application will stop the itching and burning and a few day's use will completely kill the germ causing the infection. Easy and pleasant to use, not expensive, Cortisol is a real formula for Athlete's Foot. Money back if you are not satisfied.

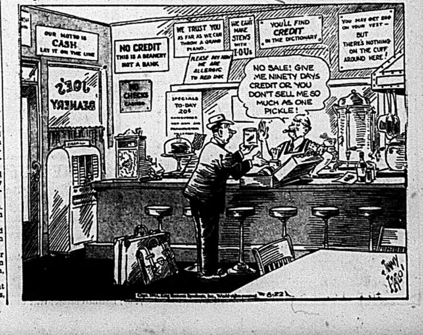
TO PRODUCE ANIMATED FILMS

Hollywood, Aug. 22—(AP)—The Walt Disney Studio disclosed yesterday it had been commissioned by the Canadian Government to produce animated films for training purposes. Production already has started on five short films, half of the footage being devoted to technical military subjects, the operation of a new anti-Blitzkrieg weapon.

Airplanes have cut the time required to travel from Barranquilla, the seaport of Colombia, to Bogota, the capital, from 250 to 300 hours to less than three hours.

Marjorie Main, Wallace Beery and Leo Carrillo in the laugh-splashed, excitement crammed story, "Barnacle Bill" now at the Belle. "A Shot in the Dark" is the added feature.

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



OUR MOTTO IS CASH LAY IT ON THE LINE
JOE'S BEANERY
NO CREDIT THIS IS A BEANERY NOT A BANK
NO CHECKS CASHED
WE TRUST YOU AS FAR AS WE CAN THROW A GRAND PIANO
PLEASE BUY NOW WE ARE ALLERGIC TO RED INK
WE CAN'T MAKE STEWS WITH I-O-U's
YOU'LL FIND CREDIT IN THE DICTIONARY
YOU MAY GET EGG ON YOUR VEST— BUT THERE'S NOTHING ON THE CUFF AROUND HERE!
SPECIALS TO-DAY 20¢
NO SALE! GIVE ME NINETY DAYS CREDIT OR YOU DON'T SELL ME SO MUCH AS ONE PICKLE!
JIMMY HATLO
8-22

PERSONALS

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT

BRADSHAW — HAWLEY — At Greenbank United Church parsonage, on Monday, August 11, Velma Ruth Hawley was united in marriage to Stanley Clarence Bradshaw, both of Thurlow Township. Rev. W. M. Sterling of Shannonville, officiating. They were unattended and left after the ceremony for Toronto and Niagara Falls.

Miss Ruth Foster has returned to her home in London, after spending her vacation with Miss Ethel Dack.

Miss Doris Shillington has returned to her home in Harrowsmith, after spending a week in the city.

The many friends of Mr. Arthur Redner will regret to learn that he has returned to Christie Street Hospital, Toronto, for treatment.

Mrs. James W. Howard has returned to the city, having spent a week in Ottawa, with her husband, Major James W. Howard.

Rev. I. B. Naylor of Brantford, and daughter, Marjorie, are visiting Mrs. Wardner and Muriel, Victoria Avenue.

Master Bobby Young is holidaying in Kingston and Bath.

Mrs. William Ashton, 3 Meyers Street has returned home after visiting her sister, Mrs. Mel Little, Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Dick Terry, Bleecker Ave., a patient at the General Hospital for the past week, is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

Mr. Wilfred Craig, Wallbridge Street, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Peter Allore, Stoco.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton English, Toronto, were visitors this week with his father, Mr. Geo. D. English, Melrose.

Mr. J. A. Deshane, 31 Ridley Avenue, underwent an operation Thursday morning in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ackerman are spending holidays at Highland Inn, Algonquin Park.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sweetnam of Hespeler, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duminie of Belleville.

Mr. Charles Ridley, who is a patient in Belleville General Hospital, is making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

LAC P. W. Cornell has returned to the R.C.A.F. Training School at McLeod, Alberta, after spending his leave at his home, 290 1-2 Albert Street.

Miss Jeanne Post has returned home after spending the past two weeks in Kingston, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Churchill. She was accompanied by Miss Kay Sharpe, Kingston, who will be her guest for a few days.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Tuesday evening, when seventy-five guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Masterson, Earl Street, on the occasion of their tenth wedding anniversary. They were presented with a beautiful tri-lite floor lamp for which they extended sincere thanks. All sang "For They are Jolly Good Fellows". The evening was spent playing cards and at the conclusion of the enjoyable party all wished Mr. and Mrs. Masterson many more years of happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman Pierpont of New York, spent yesterday in Belleville, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Herity, Highland Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Pierpont have been touring Ontario by motor car, their itinerary including Niagara Falls, Toronto, Muskoka, the Thirty Thousand Islands, Quintland, the Ottawa River Valley, Ottawa, the Thousand Islands and picturesque Prince Edward. Mr. Pierpont states that sentiment is very ardently pro-ally in metropolitan New York, but there is much hidden activity upon the part of pro-Nazi agents and sympathizers.

Mrs. B. J. Black and Mrs. Arthur Wesley were tea hostesses at the Ladies Lawn Bowling Club yesterday. Doubles were played the winning team being Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Gerow.

HOUSEHOLD USE No. 3
MAKES ONE GALLON OF JAVEL WATER FOR ONLY 15c
Make your own javel water with Javex—at HALF the usual cost. It's "easy as wink"—simply add water. Prepare it all at once —or as you need it.
AT YOUR GROCER'S
Javex
DIRT'S WORST ENEMY
15c

—37 Years in Belleville —

AUGUST FUR SALE

BUDGET PLAN.
FREE STORAGE.

WOODLEY FURRIERS
273 Front St.

DOING THEIR BIT

While her father, C. R. Fairey British airplane manufacturer is in Washington as a member of the British Air Commission, little Jane Fairey, four, utilises her pet Dachshund "Gretchen" to help further the cause of the British-American Ambulance corps. At the Surf Club, Montauk Beach, she is using the dog as a "sandwichman" advertising the fund.

Weddings

HUBBS—CALNAN

Picton, Aug. 22—(Special)— A wedding of interest was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oral B. Calnan, Wednesday afternoon, when their daughter, Gena Pearl, became the bride of Roger H. Hubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Hubbs of Bloomfield.

Capt. the Rev. Verne Zufelt, of Petawawa officiated.. Mrs. Walter Snider, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a street length dress of delph blue sheer crepe with shirred bodice and carried a shower bouquet of Dream roses and baby's breath.

Miss Rebecca Hubbs, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing navy sheer crepe with white trim and carried a colonial bouquet of Briarcliffe roses and verbena.

Harvard Calnan, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

A reception followed, the assistants being Misses Jean Hubbs and Doris Calnan, Mrs. Walter Snider, Mrs. Jack Coukell. Gladioli, roses and zinnias were used in decoration.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Hubbs left for Toronto and points west, the bride travelling in a navy striped suit with navy hat and accessories. They will reside at Bloomfield.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Donald Hubbs, Mrs. Haviland Hubbs, Miss Mary Hubbs, Toronto, Mrs. Keith Reynolds and family of Sherbrooke, Que.

Trenton Lady Golfers Lose by One Point To Belleville Team

The Trenton ladies golf team played against the Belleville Golf Club ladies' team on Thursday, August 21, and there was a win of one point for the Belleville Club as follows:

	Trenton	Belleville
Miss Batchellor vs Mrs. Waldorf	2	1
Mrs. McClung vs Mrs. Temple	½	2½
Mrs. Weller vs Mrs. Train	3	0
Mrs. Bates vs Mrs. W. A. Dolan	3	0
Mrs. House vs Mrs. Pozard	0	3
Miss Burrows vs Miss N. Lynch	0	3
	8½	9½

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Smoke pipes, flues, and other metal surfaces subject to high temperatures should be protected with paint prepared especially for that purpose, unless the surfaces have otherwise been protected in course of manufacture. Such paints will tend to prevent rust and prolong the life of the metal.

Fashion Flashes

AT LEAST one good black dress is necessary in the well-rounded wardrobe. Such a dress might well be that attractive design in black silk faille, high of neck and long of sleeve, its deep rippling peplum edged with black velvet. The slim hem of the skirt is also velvet band.

No one should grumble at the new hats for theres a model for every type. She who just dotes on berets will like the big profile beret in pale yellow felt, with deep scalloped edge. A spreading black coq fancy and light green veiling.

Going out to dinner we note that the separate top and skirt combination is still ahead for dinner wear. A new model has a rippled tunic top of black crepe embroidered with big gold, silver and copper dots over a full, slightly trained black chiffon skirt.

Top off your suit with a new autumn hat. Pearl gray felt is used for a narrowed fedora type with a thick edge to the curved narrow brim. It is trimmed with a matching scarf of chiffon dyed to tone that in back extends to a cascade scarf edged with matching lace.

Almost ready to double as a fitted dressing bag are some of the new handbags. A big black suede model lined with rose-purple satin is fitted with cigarette case and compact, rat tail comb, and hair brush combined and a tiny watch.

It's very difficult to resist the allure of the newest costume jewelry. Nice for the hair, or a frock, a hat or a bag is a large bow-knot in gilt filagree studded with tiny rhinestones.

Going places requires the right coat, one that is good en route and for wear while away. A delicate grape purple is the color of a good coat in nubbed wool made on easy lines with some back fullness and a big sectional collar of natural lynx that has a flattering petal effect.

Due for revival is that lovely fur, Sussian broadtail, with its sleek surface and delicate moired markings. A new coat in this fur is in cut-steel gray and is made with fitted waist, flaring skirt and sleeves very wide at the wrist.

AT THE BELLE

"Barnacle Bill"

Hilarity and excitement are on top at the Belle Theatre tonight where Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main, his "lady blacksmith" are seen in "Barnacle Bill," the most comical romance of their careers.

"A Shot in the Dark"

A mystery film that packs suspense from start to finish is the added feature attraction. The name of the picture is "A Shot in the Dark," an exciting story of a man who pleaded guilty to crimes he never committed.

A new edition of the "March of Time" will be presented on the same program.

"The Reluctant Dragon"

It was in response to popular appreciation that Walt Disney made his current full-length production, "The Reluctant Dragon." The story which combines actual motion picture photography with the best of Disney animated humor, features Robert Benchley, as the chief living actor and is laid against a background of the amazing Disney studio itself.

As this new type of motion picture comedy unwinds when it opens audiences have the chance to see Walt and his staff actually engaged in the unique, colorful and amusing business of creating their world-loved production, and to see on the screen the featured animation of "The Reluctant Dragon" itself, along with other interpolations of comedy animation.

The largest percentage of the Disney fan mail consists of letters from people all over the world requesting information on how the Disney characters and production are created.

An outstanding example of the interest in the studio as an attraction came several years ago when some shots of the studio in operation were "thrown together," as Walt says, for the benefit of English exhibitors who had requested such a short picture so that they could better answer questions which were constantly put to them by their patrons.

This rough little film was so popular that, when "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" was completed, the studio decided to make the "trailer" for that production along those same lines. The "Snow White" trailer is still in constant demand by schools and clubs.

Realizing the popularity of the subject, the screen March of Time picturized the making of Disney productions, a film which has proven to be one of its most popular releases.

Until last year, Walt Disney and his staff hesitated even to consider making an elaborate comedy dramatization of the studio, as they realized that their little studio was becoming so cramped that there was a definite possibility that they would need an entire new plant before too long.

This dream became a reality, and last year Walt and his staff of over a thousand built and moved into a steamlined veritable small city in Burbank, California.

The time had come when they could make the long-awaited picture about the studio. A story crew was assigned to the project, and the outcome is "The Reluctant Dragon," released through RKO-Radio, already hailed as the most unique comedy vehicle ever to come to the screen.

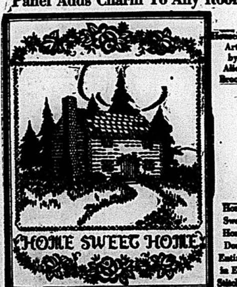
Tender, Aching, Burning Feet

One application of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pains and soreness disappear. A few more applications at regular intervals and the almost unbearable soreness has left you.

It's a wonderful formula — this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually.

Every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to give you complete satisfaction or money back.

Panel Adds Charm To Any Room



Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Home Sweet Home Done Entirely in Easy Stitchery

COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 6762

The Log Cabin, reminiscent of pioneer days, inspired this easily embroidered panel so effective in any home. Pattern 6762 contains a transfer pattern of a picture 12 x 16 1-4 inches; illustrations of stitches; materials needed; color chart.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Don't Neglect Your Manicure

Bonia Granvile advises usinglemon to remove stains from nails and fingertips

By HELEN FOLLETT

SOFT dimpled hands were all right when a lady sat on a cushion and sewed a fine seam, waited for her cavalier to come home, in shining armor, from the tournament. These days we don't sit much and we certainly don't wait; most of us are up and hustling, looking after a family or holding down a job. So hands have assumed different characteristics. We don't want them to look useless; we want them to appear capable and be expressive.

The character of the hand is dependent to a certain extent upon its manner of movement. If it is pleasing it will compensate for lines that may not be up to the beauty mark. The texture of the skin and its coloring play a part. Yet the Lovely Young Thing may fancy that the right shade of nail polish is the whole story. That, my chickadees, is nothing but the trimming.

Hands can be amusing too, do little tricks that are effective. Some of our stage stars play them up. Even short, stubby hands can be charming if they fit the character of the one to whom they belong.

Prominent knuckles are a grave defect, one from which many women suffer as the years come upon them. When the change first occurs there should be vigorous massage with a nourishing cream to fill out the surrounding tissues.

Because our ideas of beauty and good taste have changed fewer rings are worn. They seldom do much to improve the appearance of a really lovely delicate hand; on the dowdy hand they call attention to defects.

Someone has said "It is your hands, not the jewels on them, that show whether or not your blood is blue." Quite so. If blood is blue and family training has been correct few rings will be worn.

COURTESY TIP

Show a genuine interest in other people, what they like, what they like to talk about. If you do, people will like you, and that's a golden reward.

If you're self-conscious, getting busy in showing interest in other people won't leave you so much time to turn your interest in to yourself. Self - consciousness will, before you know it, be converted into consciousness - of - other - people.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Young Mother's Problem

Dear Miss Fairfax:

When I was very young I married a boy with whom I was deeply in love. We lived with his parents for a time, but it was very unsatisfactory and we had to leave. Then he lost his job and I felt as if everybody was against us.

I went home to my people, which didn't seem to bother him a bit, and he went home to his mother again, but he never come over to see me. I was so unhappy. I was going to have a baby and thought we ought to be together, but his mother seems to have interfered in anything we started out to do.

He did finally come and was with me when the baby was born, but left three weeks later. Now the baby is a year old and he hasn't seen him since. My parents are taking care of both of us, although I do help a little by having a part-time job.

The other day I happened to meet my husband and he wants us to come back and try over again. I'm so unhappy living like this, but can't decide whether to go with him or not. Would you advise me to give my husband another trial? I do love him very much. I'm 21 years old now, and he's a year older.

Unhappy.

If you give your husband another trial, be sure he has a job and then, if possible try to go by yourselves. Sometimes when boys marry too young they don't feel the responsibilities involved and they think they can drop their wives as easily as they did some girl with whom they had gone steady.

Some time later they begin to realize that marriage is more serious than a flirtation, and sober second thought conquers. Don't forget, a baby is a miracle worker. No man with normal instincts wants to have his child parked on in-laws. Yes, I say, by all means give him another chance.

Doesn't Like Mother-in-Law's Furniture

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Less than a year ago I married the son of a middle-aged couple, who had a pretty good income. As my husband was not getting an enormous salary, we live with his parents in their large home— we still do for that matter.

They are both very kind to me, and everything is comfortable, but I don't like their furniture. The living-room suite is hideous, out of date with such crude colors. I'd love to do over the entire house. Do you think it would be advisable to ask my mother-in-law if I may change things around a bit.

Dissatisfied.

Indeed, I don't think it would be in good taste for you to make such suggestions to your mother-in-law. You must remember that you are a guest and that she has not asked your advice about doing over her house. It would be distinctly lacking in tact and taste for you to bring up the subject, and would probably undermine the pleasant relations you now enjoy.

Sooner or later you'll have your own home and that will be the time to try your own hand at interior decorating without giving offense. Try to be patient.

pliaO ?f:T fystiarlbb m?..yq-'oia

Chaperon Not Necessary

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My boy friend has invited me to spend the week-end at his home in the country. His family will all be there. Do you think it would be necessary to take along my mother or sister or anyone else, as a sort of chaperon, or would it be all right to go alone?

M. R. N.

It will not be necessary to take a chaperon, as you are visiting the young man's family with his and your own family's consent.

These good-natured trouble-shooters, the Three Mesquiteers, are back again in another action-packed western, "Gangs of Sonora" now at the Capitol. "Strange Alibi", a different kind of a story, is on the same program.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Doctor Compiles Bill of Rights for Motherhood

In spite of the fact that new methods of treatment and new methods of control of the hazards associated with motherhood have greatly lowered cases of death and permanent disability, there are still a considerable number of unnecessary deaths from this condition. In the United States the deaths associated with childbirth decreased from 15,000 in 1929 to 9.151 in 1939. This means that even in 1939 two out of every 1,000 childbirths among white mothers resulted in death.

The highest record was in New Mexico where the figures were 3.28 deaths per 1,000 births; the lowest in North Dakota, the figure being 1.08 per 1,000 childbirths. In those states where the records were lowest, the childbirths were attended by doctors in the highest percentage of cases. In states with the worst records, the mothers did not have in the same proportion the benefits of medical attendance. Incidentally, in the states with the best records two-thirds of the children born were born in hospitals. In states with the worst records only one-third of those born were born in hospitals.

The answer to the problems of childbirth was recently well-phrased by Dr. Fred L. Adair of the Chicago Lying-In Hospital, who compiled a new charter for American motherhood. This charter follows:

Every potential mother envisions the pleasures and obligations of creating and sustaining new life and is entitled to health and protection for the benefit of herself and humanity, and she should have:

1—The inherent right to be wellborn without inherited or transmitted defect or disease.

2—The inalienable right to protection from disease and harmful influences.

3.—The opportunity to learn and know herself during adolescence and maturity and to acquire a knowledge of the origin and significance of human life.

4—The right to protection from pitfalls of married life and to a knowledge of its significance to herself and her potential family.

5—The privilege of proper and adequate care during pregnancy.

7—The right to receive adequate and necessary care during labor, in her home or hospital.

8—The right to have appropriate care following labor in her home or hospital.

9—The right to secure proper and continuing subsequent care for herself and baby.

10—The right of preservation of health and life and happiness for herself and family.

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Wedding Attendants

Dear Mrs. Beeckman,

I plan to have a formal wedding in the Fall. At present there seems to be a serious question as to how many attendants I should have. Will you please settle this problem for us?

I am going to have four bridesmaids and a maid of honor. How many ushers should there be? Our church is rather small, and has only a centre aisle. Would three ushers be too many?

In the processional, do the ushers walk first, two by two? In the recessional are the bridesmaids always escorted by the ushers, and would it therefore be necessary that there be the same number of ushers as bridesmaids? I'm very confused about all this!

B. N.

The number of ushers your groom invites depends on the number of guests there will be at your wedding. You should, however, have an even number, since they walk in pairs. For even a small church you may well have, and need, four ushers.

The ushers walk first in the processional, two by two, the shortest leading. Then your four bridesmaids, two by two, the shortest two first. Then the maid of honour, walking alone. Last, you on the right arm of your father, or whoever is to present you in marriage.

In the perfectly-planned recessional, the bride and bridegroom walk first, of course; then the maid of honour, alone; next the bridesmaids, walking in pairs, as they did in the processional; and last, the ushers, walking in pairs as they did in the processional.

In the well-planned recessional, the only couple are the bride and bridegroom. The best man does not take part in the recessional, but, after the recessional has started down the aisle, he goes to the vestry and gives to the clergyman the envelope containing the fee or gift that the bridegroom has given to him for this purpose. And the bridesmaids and ushers are not paired off in the well-planned recessional.

However, sometimes we see the best man and maid of honour walking together and the bridesmaids and ushers paired off. This isn't incorrect, but it isn't as good form as the arrangement outlined above.

Proper Wedding Dress

Dear Mrs. Beeckman,—

1—Would you please advise me which is the proper dress for a Mass wedding, when not wearing a veil? Would you advise a floor-length afternoon dress or a street-length dress? With an afternoon dress may I wear a large or small hat?

2—The men are wearing blue business suits. What color ties do you suggest they wear?

W. A.

1—Since your wedding is to be so informal, and since the men are wearing business suits, I advise you to wear a street-length dress, or a dressmaker suit. However, it would not be incorrect for you to wear a long afternoon dress, or a long dress and short matching jacket or bolero. With this you may wear either a large or small hat, whichever is more becoming to you.

2.—With their business suits, the men may wear four-in-hand ties, preferably of a light-blue or dark-blue background, and perhaps with small white or gray stripes or an inconspicuous pattern.

COMMISSION TO TAKE MORE POWER

Toronto, Aug. 22 (CP)—The Ontario Hydro Commission will take 20,000 horsepower of electricity from the MacLaren-Quebec Power Company immediately to relieve increased power demands on the Niagara system, Hydro officials said today. Originally the power was scheduled to be delivered Nov. 1.

No matter how bright the sunshine your white wash needs blue...

to prevent clothes from turning yellow

● Sunshine is a big help but NOTHING takes the place of that swish or two of Reckitt's Blue in the last rinse water to ensure real whiteness.

RB 17

RECKITT'S BLUE
PREVENTS CLOTHES FROM TURNING YELLOW

DON'T YOU EVER GO TO BED WITHOUT DIPPING YOUR UNDIES?
CAN'T RISK UNDIE ODOR! I'M A LUX DAILY DIPPER.

ALL DAINTY WOMEN ARE

LUX DAILY DIPPERS

A hint of "undie odor" is quick to lose friends. Never wear the same undies twice without washing them. Always dip undies in Lux the minute you take them off. Lux removes the perspiration which causes undie odor . . . keeps undies fresh and new far longer.

FOR DAINTINESS—

DIP YOUR UNDIES IN LUX TONIGHT

A Lever product

Aiken's W. M. S. Takes Charge of Morning Service

3rd Sidney — "Now, more than ever," was the subject of an address by Mrs. Stanley Spafford at Aiken's United Church on Sunday morning, when the Woman's Missionary Society had charge of the service.

Now, more than ever, Mrs. Spafford stated, we must re-affirm our faith in God in renewed dedication to the missionary enterprise.

It is the business and responsibility of the individual Christian she said, when properly related to God, to strengthen the Christian Church and prepare for the new democracy which is based on the Bible and its teachings. The problems of peace, Mrs. Spafford feels, will be greater than the problems of war, and now, more than ever, she feels one must be using the supreme faith which comes by prayer, and right living.

"We've a Story to Tell to the Nations," was sung by Master Garnet May of Belleville. The Bible lesson and devotional talk were given by Mrs. Thos. Irwin, who stressed the need of prayer and faith in these times.

A brief resume of the mission work of the United Church of Canada was given by Mrs. E. Hubble. The offering was taken by Master Ray Scott and Harley Hubble. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Fred Westover.

Mrs. Jean Hartford of Toronto spent the week-end with her father, Mr. Edwin Adams, who has been ill at his home for several days.

Mrs. John Ritz, Norman and Audrey, 4th of Thurlow, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Harley Hubble and family.

Miss Jewel Bailey left on Wednesday for Baltimore to spend a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Jas. Elliott, before going on to Peterboro to spend the remainder of her holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George Green and her grandfather, Mr. R. A. Elliott and Mrs. Elliott.

Miss M. Hazard of Trenton spent a couple of days this week with relatives here.

Mr. Leonard Van Austin has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Westover for the past few days.

Messrs. Jack McGee and Jim McGee of Detroit, Mich., are spending their holidays with Mr. and Mrs. John Orr and Wilkie Orr.

MONEY IS CONFISCATED

Shanghai, Aug. 22 (AP)—A foreign passenger aboard the French ship Marschal Joffre reported today that United States authorities confiscated $50,000 from Japanese passengers before the ship left Manila for Shanghai last Monday.

He said the Japanese were attempting to remove money from the Philippines in violation of the freezing regulations.

Restful

DESCRIBES THE ATMOSPHERE OF THE Laurentide Inn AT GRAND MERE, QUE. THE SURROUNDINGS ARE UNUSUALLY BEAUTIFUL. Comfortable Bedrooms, Cosy Lounges, and Good Food—combined with a homelike atmosphere makes this hotel ideal for a real rest

Grand'Mère
LAURENTIDE INN

Bonarlow Ladies Hold Supper and Supper for Red Cross

Bonarlaw—A successful pot-luck dinner and quilting was held on Tuesday afternoon of this week by the ladies of the community under the leadership of Mrs. G. S. Eastwood, Ward Chaimran of Ward No. 6, Rawdon Red Cross. The quilting was held on the St. Mark's Rectory lawn and dinner served in the basement of the church. About forty persons were served dinner and two quilts completed and some piecing done on others.

Mr. Jesse Barlow, Treasurer 12th cemetery maintenance fund, acknowledges with thanks the subscription of $16.50 to this fund by those present at the McComb Family Reunion held at Oak Lake recently.

Miscellaneous Shower For Popular Couple

West Huntingdon — Over one hundred and fifty neighbors and friends gathered on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott to honor a very popular young couple, Miss Irene Elliott and Mr. Amos Carson on their approaching marriage. Mr. Kenneth Stewart was chairman for the evening and spoke of the sterling qualities of both Irene and Amos. Miss Theda Moorcroft read an address which was signed by Miss Jean Fleming, Mrs Embury Hough, Miss Theda Moorcroft and Miss Georgia Pitman. Many useful and costly gifts were presented to the young couple for which both Irene and Amos voiced their appreciation and invited all to visit them in their new home, South Front St., Belleville.

W.M.S. of United Church

Mrs. Philip Carr entertained the members of the W.M.S. of United Church on Thursday. The ladies gathered in the forenoon and enjoyed the usual fellowship and partook of a pot-luck dinner. The program theme for the afternoon presided over by Mrs Clayton Wright. Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Howard Cooke. Eighteen members and one visitor answered the roll call. A reading, "Self-forgetful Service" was given by Mrs. Foster Wilson. Four members assisted with the Watch Tower. A reading "Love Thy Neighbor" was given by Mrs. E. T. Sarles Mrs. J. J. Wilson offered prayer. Mrs. Ambrose Wright and Mrs. Mac Sarles gave a duet. Mrs. J. S. Wilson conducted the Study Book discussion. Meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Stewart and the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pitchett and Marilyn spent a recent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray of Latta.

Messrs. Wilfrid Langdon and Leonard Banks of Toronto and Mrs. J. J. Wilson of Stirling were Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Melville Reid.

Phyllis and Glenn Hammond are holidaying with friends at Madoc.

Mrs. Raymond Baker of Kingston was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ashley, Mr. Kenneth Stewart and Mrs. Lottie Vanderwater attended the Horton-Ketcheson wedding at Moira on Saturday.

The farmers are still busy with the stook threshing and although the yield of oats is only about 50 per cent the men are viewing the situation in a very optimistic mood. For those who might be a wee bit pessimistic it would do them a world of good to listen in to a dinner hour conversation as many jokes are passed around and the farmers are not discouraged in the least but are planning already for next year's work. More acres of fall grain will be sown than usual. The second crop of alfalfa is being harvested this week and is of excellent quality. Mr. Morley Haggerty, who is rated as one of the leading dairy farmers of this district, has erected a silo which will mean another advance in his up-to-date farming.

The Standard Church people are busy this week preparing the camp ground at Ivanhoe for the fourth coming camp meeting which commences on Friday. This is one of the largest camp meetings in Central Ontario and attracts large crowds each year, when the old-fashioned spirited messages are presented by the leading ministers of the church.

Mrs. Edward Pitman has returned home after spending a few days with friends at Millbrook.

Messrs. Alvin Carr and Dan Cooke spent Sunday at Kingston.

Dr. V. Moran and Mr. Charles Heckel of Buffalo are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. Bray.

WEARS SOCKS TO BED

Lake Charles, La., Aug. 22 (AP) —Cpl. James Vodrey wears his socks to bed during army manouvres here to foil the mosquitos. Being six feet, seven inches tall, reputedly the tallest man in the United States army, his feet and legs protrude from his mosquito netting.

BELGIAN CONGO HELPING

London, Aug. 22 (CP)—M. A. De Vleeschauwer, Free Belgian government's minister for colonies, says the people of Belgian Congo are doing all in their power to help win the war. The minister, who has completed an air tour of Africa says he found a "spirit of generosity which seems inexhaustible and a remarkable and exemplary will to work."

How to Get Rid of Dandruff

Healthful, lustrous hair is one of Deanna Durbins many charms.

By HELEN FOLLETT

Dandruff is a beauty plaint that belongs mainly to the growly sex; few women are troubled with it. The reason, no doubt, is that women take better care of their scalps and flowing tresses than do the men. Men pass the bar of soap over their heads, stand under a shower, fancy that the hair is clean, which usually it isn't. There must be a heavy lather, well distributed. Also, how many men wash their combs and brushes carefully? If mama doesn't do it, it just isn't done.

A Fungus Growth

Some years ago two clever St. Louis physicians discovered that dandruff is a fungus growth, like yeast. It appears on scalps that are oily and on scalps that are dry. It does not thrive so well if the flesh is kept scrupulously clean. Applications of oil will subdue its activities.

On the night before the shampoo heat some mineral oil. Part the hair at various places, trickle on the oil with a large medicine dropper, or apply with a pledget of cotton. Spread out fingers and thumbs, give the scalp a rousing friction; move it back and forth, lift it and roll between the fingers. The purpose of this treatment is to hustle up blood streams that have gone drowsy.

Next morning the thorough shampoo should follow. Every particle of soap must be rinsed away; even the blandest left upon the scalp may prove irritating.

Brushing the hair is helpful but digging up the dry scales with a comb is hazardous business. Abrasions may result, and dandruff is the ideal tenement for germs that are looking for a pleasant abiding place. Scratching the scalp with the finger nails often leads to painful and stubborn infections.

Upper School Results Tweed High School

Alexander, S., Comp. 3, Lit. 2, Hist. 2, Alg. 2, Geom. 1, Phys. 1, Chem. 2, Fr. A. 3, Fr. C. C.

Arber, W., Geom. 1, Trig. 1, Zool. 2, Phys. 2, Chem. 2, Fr. A. 3, Fr. C. C.

Benny, H., Trig. 1.

Cassidy, C., Comp. C., Lit. C., Trig. 3.

Cassidy, H., Comp. C., Lit. 2, Hist. 3, Geom. 2, Trig. 1, Phys. 2, Chem. 3, Fr. A. 3, Fr. C. C.

Connor, D., Trig. 1.

Connor, J., Comp. 3, Lit. C., Hist. C., Trig. C., Lat. A. C., Fr. A. 2, Fr. C. 3.

Elliott, M., Comp. C., Lit. 1, Hist. 1, Alg. 1, Geom. 2, Trig. 1, Phys. 1, Chem. 1, Fr. A. 1, Fr. C. 1.

Hayes, F., Trig. 2.

Larkin, L., Comp. C.

McCrea, W., Comp. 3, Lit. 3, Geom. C., Trig. 2, Phys. 3, Chem. C.

McTaggart, M., Comp. C., Lit. C.

Meagher, J., Lit. C., Hist. C., Alg. 3, Trig. 3, Phys. C, Chem. C., Fr. A. 3, Fr. C. C.

Morrison, K., Comp. 2, Hist. 1, Alg. 3, Geom. 2, Phys. 2, Chem. 1, Fr. A. 2, Fr. C. 3.

Rivers, Y., Comp. C., Lit. C., Hist. C., Geom. 2, Trig. 3, Lat. A. 3, Lat. C. 3, Fr. A. 3, Fr. C. C.

Ruttan, R., Comp. 1, Lit. C.

Wagar, J., Trig. C.

Walsh, P., Comp. 2, Hist. C., Alg. 3, Trig. 2, Phys. C., Fr. A. 2.

Whalen, J., Comp. C.

Wilkinson, L., Trig. 1.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, August 23

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

AN EXCEPTIONALLY lively and exciting day in spite of continued unpredictable situations. There are signs of sudden and curious circumstances which must be met with keen judgment and quick action to dispose of successfully. With these there may be some progress and gain, particularly in ventures where group, community or welfare organizations are involved, but all calls for precaution and cleverness, especially with writings, or agreements. Shun treachery and loss, or sensational personal attachments.

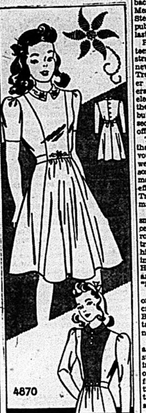
Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a lively, exciting, possibly sensational or thrilling year, in which some success and happiness may be offset by reversals or sudden adversities, duplicity or loss. There are peculiar and strange adventures of a personal nature, with profitable relations with public bodies, community or group activities. Other new ventures are doubtful, and change not advisable if not well considered. Social pleasures prove compensatory.

A child born on this day may be highstrung, erractic and impulsive, although versatile and clever. It should achieve success with the public.

Greer Garson the lovely heroine of "Goodbye Mr. Chips" coming next to the McCarthy Theatre co-starred with Laurence Oliver in "Pride and Prejudice" great filmization of the famous Jane Austen book. Others in the cast include Edna May Oliver and Mary Boland.

,Teen-Age Dress Has Gay Trim

Pattern 4870



By ANNE ADAMS

Here's gay, enchanting style for the twixt-teens—in a new frock by Anne Adams. Pattern 4870 may be used for either everyday or best, depending upon your fabric and trim. For instance, enriched by colorful star - flower embroidery (done from the transfer pattern with directions included in the Sewing Instructor) it's a dress to wear to the nicest parties. But with simple button trim and perhaps a contrasting front bodice panel and collar, it becomes a perfect school style. Notice the smart gathers at the front skirt panel that give the popular skirt fullness. And see how the half-sash ties neatly in back where there's a trim bodice buttoning to the waist. The sleeves may be short or long. Do order this style today!

Pattern 4870 is available in 'teenage sizes 10, 12, 14 and 16 Size 14 takes 3 5-8 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

AT THE CAPITOL

"GANGS OF SONORA"

Demonstrating emphatically that they prefer a trio of stars in westerns to merely one, fans welcomed back those rough-and-ready Three Mesquiteers — Bob Livingston, Bob Steele and Rufe Davis—in the Republic picture, "Gangs of Sonora", last night at the Capitol Theatre.

Plot of the film has the Mesquiteers and "Kansas Kate" Conners, straight - talking, straight - shooting newspaper-woman, opposing Sam Tredwell, unscrupulous Commissioner of a western territory. The Federal Government has ordered an election to determine whether or not the territory should become a state, but Tredwell is keeping the date secret so he can continue to use his office to enrich himself.

The Mesquiteers eventually learn the date set for the election and herd voters into the polls. However Tredwell strikes back by accusing Kate's son of murder, and rounding up a mob to lynch him. The Mesquiteers' efforts to free the boy and expose Tredwell provide a rip-roaring climax to an already exciting drama.

Livingston, Steele and Davis work smoothly as a team to turn in excellent performances in the title roles. Davis, the comedian of the trio, adds a laugh a minute with his hilarious antics. Also outstanding in features roles are June Johnson, Helen MacKellar, Robert Frazer, and Bud McTaggert.

"Strange Alibi."

The Capitol Theatre is showing one of the more exciting action crime-dramas of the season, Warner Bros.' "Strange Alibi", featuring the talented young players, Arthur Kennedy and Joan Perry.

The bang-up story is about an ambitious young detective who will stop at nothing to apprehend criminals. In this case, the criminals operate a gambling ring. Their nefarious activities are infiltrated through local city offices and it takes all of the detective's wiles to apprehend them.

In addition to Kennedy, who scored in "City For Conquest" after several performances on Broadway, and Miss Perry, the capable supporting cast of "Strange Alibi" includes Jonathan Hale, John Ridgely, Florence Bates and Charles Trowbridge.

The same program includes the latest newsreel, and the seventh chapter of "The Mysterious Doctor Satan".

CONCENTRATE NAZI BARGES

Ankara, Turkey, Aug. 21 (Delayed) — Travellers from southwest Turkey said today large German barges were being concentrated at the island of Samos off the Turkish coast. Samos is just north of the Italian Dodecanese Islands and was occupied by the Nazis during the Greek campaign.

STEAMING FEET

Cool and soothe your steaming, tender, swollen, itchy feet with NU-FEET Medicated Insoles. They are comfortable to wear, give constant, uniform medication over the entire sole, and neutralize offensive odours. Price per pair 25c

NU-FEET MEDICATED INSOLES
ELIMINATE OFFENSIVE ODORS

Ruby Keeler, one of the world's greatest tap-dancers, heading the cast in the musical-comedy hit "Sweetheart of the Campus" now playing at the McCarthy Theatre with a second hit "I was a prisoner on Devil's Island" featuring Sally Eilers and Donald Woods.

American Can Co. Employees Strike At Vancouver, B. C.

Vancouver, Aug. 22—(CP)—Employees of the American Can Company struck at midnight and quietly dispersed, leaving only a few pickets at the plant site on the outskirts of the city after workers voted to quit until a settlement is reached in their demands for increased wages, union recognition, seniority rights and holidays with pay.

F. Joujion-Roche, superintendent of the Company, indicated Company officials had been unaware of the strike vote. He said he could make no immediate statement for the company.

More than 500 employees are involved in the strike action which followed a breakdown in arbitration proceedings.

The night shift of 165 men left the plant as usual at midnight when the night shift ends, but no new shift came on to take their places. There was no crowd at the big plant and no police.

The Company maintained throughout the Arbitration Board hearing that Union recognition was the only point at issue.

MODESS

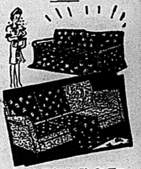
12 pads in box 25c

MODESS BELTS 25c

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

Home Service

No New Sofa for You? Slip-Cover Your Old One



Easy to Make the Pin-On Way

You'd ouy the handsomely upholstered new sofa IF you had the money?

Away with "ifs" and "buts"! Why not buy a few yards of resplendent material (you'd be surprised how cheap it can be) and make a beautiful, upholstery-style slip cover for your old sofa? It's easy!

Fitting one section of your sofa at a time, you pin your fabric—perhaps a dark rayon brocade with a bright pattern woven through it—to the top back, as shown in our sketch.

Now pin it down inside-back and seat, allowing 4 inches tuck-in between. Cut around the pins and leave 1½ inches for seams.

Next fit and pin arms, front, sides, back and cushions. Then pin section to section, piece to piece, remove pinned-up cover and baste.

Try it on, then stitch—making a placket. The flounce is the last step in sewing your smart cover.

Our 32-page booklet has step-by-step illustrations and directions for fitting any type of chair or sofa with slip covers made the pin-on way. Tells how to make plackets, flounces, seam bindings. Suggests fabrics, color schemes, trimmings.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of HOW TO MAKE SLIP COVERS to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

PAINT

Your home's first line of defense, give it the protection, it will repay you many times. Prepare now to withstand ravages of the Winter season. Let us show you the many finishes for the various surfaces that need protection.

Martin-Senour 100% Pure
A pure lead and oil paint.

Multi-Use Enamel
The finest you can buy for outside or inside.

Outside Porch Paint
Best for wear and weather.

Iron Duke Paint
It's tops for roofs and metal work.

Senour's Floor Enamel
It wears and wears.

Multi-Use Crystal Clear
A varnish that can take it.

THESE AND MANY OTHER FINISHES ARE CARRIED IN STOCK FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE.

WE INVITE YOUR ENQUIRIES AND WILL BE VERY PLEASED TO ASSIST IN YOUR PROBLEMS.

W. J. (BILL) DOUGHERTY, Mgr.
282 Front St. Belleville Phone 166

National Loop Pennant Parade Marking Time Until Dodgers, Cards Series Opens on Sunday

Both Teams Beaten on Thursday And Reds Pick Up a Game

FELLER WINS 21ST

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sport Writer

Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals have struggled all season without proving anything important, and nothing that can happen for the rest of the week is going to change this record.

The two rivals for the National league pennant simply are marking time for the opening of their vital four-game series at Brooklyn Sunday.

Their marking time yesterday took the form of both losing to inferior clubs and maintaining the 1 1-2-game margin which separates the Dodgers in first place from the Redbirds in second.

Manager Leo Durocher has been trying to line up his pitching staff for the Cardinal series.

Saves Wyatt For Sunday

Yesterday Durocher decided to save Whitlow Wyatt out of his regular turn and have him rested for one of Sundays' two games. He started Luke Hamlin against the sixth-place Chicago Cubs. The Cubs cruised to a 6-2 victory, ending a six game Brooklyn winning streak.

Hamlin gave four hits and two runs in the first two innings and then Mace Brown loaded the bases with none out in the third. By this time Durocher repented his decision and rushed Wyatt on to the scene for his first relief job of the season. The lean righthander gave the Cubs the rest of their runs before being removed for a pinchhitter in the seventh. Little Jake Mooty kept the Dodgers under his thumb with seven hits.

The Cardinals then muffed a golden opportunity to cut down distance by losing to the last-place Phillies 5-4 in a night game at Philadelphia.

Reds Pick Up a Game

Cincinnati's red-hot Reds picked up a game on both the leaders by beating Boston Braves 8-5, but still are 9 1-2 games behind first place. It was the 11th triumph in 12 tries for the Reds. Bucky Walters easily coasted to his 16th victory.

Pittsburgh Pirates bounced back from their four straight defeats at Brooklyn by nipping New York Giants 5-3 behind big Max Butcher, who now has stopped the Giants six times this season.

In the American League Bob Feller found the time was ripe for his 21st victory, a 2-0 shutout of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

The defeat cost the Yanks nothing but embarrassment, however, because the second-place Chicago White Sox' nine-game winning streak was snapped by Boston 8-5.

Washington Senators swept a doubleheader from Detroit on two six-hit pitching jobs by Dutch Leonard and Sid Hudson, 6-3 and 9-0. Philadelphia Athletics split two games with the last-place St. Louis Browns, losing the opener 11-3 and winning the nightcap, 12-0.

Batting Leader, Says Whit Wyatt Easy to Hit

Philadelphia, Aug. 22 (AP)—The hands that swing the most potent bat in the National League today rock a cradle with equal facility and considerably more gentleness but Nick Etten of the Philadelphia Phillies insists "it's easier to hit Whit Wyatt than make the baby go to sleep".

Domestic chores, however, don't mean a thing to Etten when he thinks of the trouble he's having trying to keep at top of the batting heap. Nick vows he's currently facing the best pitching in baseball what with Brooklyn's one-hit Wyatt, Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer of no-hit fame and so on.

It looked so much earlier in the week when Vander Meer and Company set him down in all six trips of a doubleheader, pushing him from first to third in the hit race. But Nick came back yesterday to help rout the Cardinals with their safeties and regain the lead at .334 even though just a percentage point over St. Louis' John Hopp.

FELLAS YOU SHOULD MEET MINORA!
Minora
BLADES
GUARANTEED TO PLEASE OR YOUR MONEY BACK
4 FOR 10¢
Largest Selling Economy Blade in the British Empire—Now Made in Canada
MINORA BLADES SAVE YOU MONEY ON EASY GOOD-LOOKING SHAVES!

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	87	47	.649
Montreal	80	55	.593
Buffalo	77	58	.570
Rochester	71	65	.522
Jersey City	65	64	.504
Syracuse	63	71	.470
Baltimore	47	82	.364
Toronto	44	92	.324

Thursday Results

Baltimore 7-7; Toronto 2-3.
Newark 7-1; Rochester 6-3.
Montreal 3; Jersey City 2.
Buffalo 6; Syracuse 0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	81	42	.659
Chicago	65	56	.537
Cleveland	60	56	.5172
Boston	62	58	.5166
Detroit	55	66	.455
Philadelphia	52	67	.437
Washington	50	65	.435
St. Louis	51	67	.432

Thursday Results

Washington 6-9; Detroit 3-0.
St. Louis 11-0; Philadelphia 3-12.
Boston 8; Chicago 5.
Cleveland 2; New York 0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	76	41	.650
St. Louis	74	42	.638
Cincinnati	65	49	.570
Pittsburgh	61	53	.535
New York	56	57	.496
Chicago	51	67	.432
Boston	46	69	.400
Philadelphia	32	83	.278

Thursday Results

Cincinnati 8; Boston 5.
Chicago 6; Brooklyn 2.
Philadelphia 5; St. Louis 4.
Pittsburgh 5; New York 3.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Louisville 14-2, Minneapolis 0-3
Toledo 7, Kansas City 4
Columbus 1-15, Milwaukee 2-8
Indianapolis 8-1, St. Paul 4-6

CANAM RESULTS

Three Rivers 1-9, Amsterdam 2-5
Gloversville 0, Oneonta 7
Quebec 2, Rome 21
Utica 7, Pittsfield 13

Cementmen Win Series Over Rawdon

It was much competition for Point Anne as the Cementmen pushed the Rawdon Township "Farmers" out of the Intermediate O.A.S.A. playdowns in success games, winning again last night in Stirling by a 17 to 5 score. Errors played a drastic part in the Rawdon loss, as the Cementmen only out-hit the "Farmhands" 12 to 11.

The Gaulin-led Cementmen garnered seven runs in the initial two frames and added seven more in the fourth and it was just no competition from then in. Whitehead and Sero were the leading batsmen with the Gaulinites.

Rawdon nine kept pace with the winners in the initial two frames, scoring two in the first and a brace in the second. Their remaining tally came in the eighth in an abbreviated eight - inning contest called on account of darkness.

The losers used three hurlers, Smith starting and giving over to Broadworth in the second with Bedford going in to help in the fatal seventh.

The line-ups:

Rawdon Township — H. Brown, l.f.; Rogers, 2b; R. Pyear, 3b; Holland, c.f.; G. Pyear, 1b; Richardson, s.s.; Johnston, r.f.; Bailey c.; Smith, Broadworth and Bedford, p.

Point Anne — Genereaux, c.f.; Loft; rf.; Whitehead, 3b; Sero, s.s.; Green, c.; Whalen and J. Sero, 2b; Hutchings, l.f.; Gaulin, 1b; and Barnhardt, p.

Score by innings: r. h. e.
Point Anne 3 4 0 7 0 0 3 0—17 12 2
Rawdon ...2 2 0 0 0 0 0 1— 5 11 7

Chapman Believes Soldiers Should Play In Golfing Matches

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Amateur Champion Dick Chapman would like to have Uncle Sam's soldiers swinging golf clubs as well as carrying rifles.

The sturdy army athletic officer, gunning for his second straight National Amateur Golf title, suggests golf could play an important part in boosting the morale of the soldier boys.

The New York socialite, here on a 15-day furlough from Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., to take on all challengers in the amateur tournament starting Monday, would like to see:

1.—A series of Red Cross golf exhibitions with prominent golfers now in the army participating.

2.—Inter-camp golf matches.

3.—Matches between the army camps and the townspeople.

"I believe that the program would attract tremendous interest and be a big help in building army morale", said the young officer.

The field of 150 players starts qualifying play Monday.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS
THE ANCIENT GREEKS CONSIDERED THE OLYMPIC GAMES SO SACRED THAT IF THEY WERE AT WAR, THE FIGHTING WAS SUSPENDED DURING THE PERIOD OF THE OLYMPIAD
EXCUSE ME, ROMAN! STAY RIGHT THERE!
There's no excuse for looking down-at-heel, when here you can get quality merchandise at low prices.
Esquire
PHONE 125 · 209 FRONT ST

Citizens Admire Gold Cup Won By Local Team

Citizens in general have been admiring the $500.00 General Motors lawn bowling challenge trophy that was won by the Belleville Bowling Club team at Oshawa on Wednesday. This valuable trophy is on display at Ab Wonnacott's jewelry store and will be in the store window for observation over the weekend. The Belleville team to win this distinct lawn bowling honors was composed of Messrs. Ab Wonnacott, skip, Davie Davison, Cliff Argue and Doug Row.

In winning the General Motors Gold Cup it marked the first time since the institution of this Eastern Canadian open men's rinks tournament at Oshawa that an Eastern Ontario rink has won this coveted honor. The trophy was won in 1939 by the High Park Club of Toronto and last year by the St. Matthews Lawn Bowling Club of the same city.

This evening two Belleville rinks will journey to Prescott where they will compete against two teams of men's rinks from Ottawa in the semi-finals of the Governor General's Trophy. The two local rinks will be composed of No. 1 team — Ernie Vanner, skip, Harvey Stewart, Cliff Argue and Johnnie Bean; No. 2 team — Ab Wonnacott, skip, Davie Davison, Clarence Clapp and Doug Row.

JERSEY GIANTS BACK TO FIFTH

Rochester Wings Shutout Giants in both Ends of Doubleheader

(By The Associated Press)

It looks like the rarefied atmosphere of the International Baseball League's first division was too rich for Jersey City Giants.

After plowing along in the second division for practically the entire season, the Little Giants scaled the heights earlier this week and went into fourth place by taking four straight games from Rochester.

They tumbled back into fifth place Wednesday, when the Wings shut them out in both ends of a doubleheader, and they dropped 2 1-2 games behind yesterday by blowing a 3-2 decision to the second-place Montreal Royals.

As a result, the Royals picked up a half game on the league-leading Newark Bears, who split a doubleheader with Rochester, winning the opener 7-6 and losing the nightcap 3-1.

Floyd Giebbel kept the third-place Buffalo Bisons three games behind Montreal, blanking Syracuse Chiefs 6-0. He was supported by a 13 hit attack.

The seventh-place Baltimore Orioles shoved Toronto Leafs deeper into the cellar by taking both ends of a doubleheader, 7-2 and 7-3.

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By the Associated Press)

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting—Williams, Boston, .414.
Runs—DiMaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in—DiMaggio, New York, 112.
Hits—DiMaggio, New York, 171.
Doubles—DiMaggio, New York, 38.
Triples—Travis, Washington, 13.
Home runs—Keller, New York, 30.
Stolen Bases—Case, Washington, 19.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 11-4

NATIONAL

Batting—Etten, Philadelphia, .334
Runs—Hack, Chicago, 89.
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 89.
Hits—Hack, Chicago, 143.
Triples—Reiser, Brooklyn, 35.
Triples—Hopp and Slaughter, St. Louis; Elliott, Pittsburgh, and Reiser, Brooklyn, 9.
Home runs — Camilli, Brooklyn, 25.
Stolen bases—Frey, Cincinnati, 13.
Pitching — Riddle, Cincinnati,

Lawn Bowling COMMENT

(By CLIFF ARGUE)

Boy oh boy, there were four mighty tired lawn bowlers in Belleville on Thursday, but so thrilled that they were hardly conscious. Congratulations were the order of the day, and they came from all sides.

In other words the novices went to Oshawa on Wednesday, bowled three tough games and arrived back in Belleville at 400 a.m. with the coveted $500.00 solid gold General Motors Trophy, as a result of winning all three games and emerging with a total plus majority score of 36 points, or 6 ponts over next three games winner.

The rink was made up of Ab. Wonnacott, skip; Davie Davison, vice skip; myself, second, and Doug. Row as lead. Not so very formidable on paper, eh?

Doug. Row as usual, led a beautiful game and Davie and Ab. displayed keen generalship throughout and were there in the pinches, and that is what does win games. You want to know what I did, eh? Well, I guess I just basked in the bright sunshine and rendered what assistance I could at times.

In fact, Davie and Doug. kept complaining all day that they were carrying an awful load, especially Davie. You just can't satisfy that guy. If talk would have done it the games would have been won before we started. It is just impossible to keep him quiet, and perhaps it is just as well as it keeps one from getting tense.

I might just say that all bowled extremely well individually and as a team at all times. It was one of those days when all were right on, and we had to be.

In the first game we met and defeated an Oshawa rink, skipped by W. Brownlee, by a score of 21 to 9. This Brownlee is a marvelous fellow, consistently wished us luck throughout our other games and was the first to congratulate us on winning the trophy. Chaps like him are an asset to any club.

We then defeated a rink from Wells Hill club, skipped by W. L. Anderson, by a score of 19 to 8.

The last game was one from another Oshawa rink, skipped by G. Coppin, by a score of 18 to 5.

I must say that our win appeared to be a popular one, and congratulations received from all sides appeared to be sincere. The trophy had been won by Toronto rinks the two previous years, and those from other points appeared glad that it was giong to some other place, especially East.

W. L. Hogarth, skip of the Toronto-St. Matthews rink, who won last year finished fourth.

Ab was behind the car wheel, but Davie and I drove all the way from the rear seat. What a car and what a driver. Believe me, a barnyard would be too small for him to make a turn in. As for direction, a mole with hay fever would find its way around much better.

There were 64 rinks in the competition, making in all a total of 256 players who represented picked teams from clubs throughout Ontario. One rink was there from North Bay and one from Montreal.

I must say it was a marvelous sight to see all those bowlers on the green, which were in wonderful shape, such an improvement over last year. At that they are new greens, this being only the third year they have been played on.

The club members were swell, and much appreciated hospitality was extended at the lovely rooms of the curling club between games.

Our old friend and ex-club member, Morley Wyman, was in attendance, watched all our games and stayed around until the last dog was hung. He was as much delighted with our win as though he had been on the team himself. He is now stationed in Oshawa, says he likes it fine there and is a member of the bowling club there. He was one of the most popular of our newer members and we suffered a distinct loss when he was transferred to Oshawa, but their gain.

Our two rinks enter into the semi-finals for the Governor-General's Cup Friday night in Prescott. They will play two rinks from the Ottawa Lawn Bowling Club. Watch for the results on Saturday. It would be a signal honor to win this and be able to enter into the finals, but maybe that is too much to expect.

Whirlaway is Ready For American Derby

Chicago, Aug. 22. (AP)—Whirlaway is back in the town which proved so inhospitable to him last month with its Arlington classic, Jinx race of champions.

Tomorrow the three-year-old with the one-eyed Blinker will run in the historic American Derby at Washington Park in an attempt to show what was expected of him July 26 before he ran second to Attention. Four other horses were expected to face the triple crown winner, including Bushwacker, rated as a leading threat.

Whirlaway, with $273,636 prize money already won, could boost his earnings to around $320,000 by taking the winner's share tomorrow.

BERNICE LOONEY FAVORED TO WIN SWIMMING RACE

13-Year-Old Sensation For Toronto Lakeshores Given Permission to Enter

THIRD LAST YEAR

Swimming clubs throughout Ontario are again very active in preparing swimmers for this feature swimming race at the Canadian National Exhibition. In August last year the twice-champion of Ontario, Dorothy Hobson, also holder of the Canada Mile Championship, swimming for Toronto Lakeshores, was defeated by one-fifth of one second by Irene Barr, Hamilton's sensational seventeen year old swimmer. Many thousands of people who crowded Exhibition sea-wall were thrilled by this spectacular race and saw Irene Barr presented with the very beautiful Wrigley Trophy. Gus Ryder, popular coach of Lakeshores, also entered Bernice Looney, his thirteen year old protege, and Miss Looney stayed right with the leaders for most of the mile course and finished third.

Great Things Predicted

Swim experts predicted that within a few years, Miss Looney would be the new champion. In the recent Humber Bay mile and one-quarter swim Bernice Looney astonished the swim experts with her style and speed. Gus Ryder, coach, was considerably elated as Dorothy Hobson had decided not to compete in the coming Wrigley mile, but a bombshell was exploded in amateur swimming circles when at a very recent meeting of the Ontario section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, the association ruled that Bernice Looney was not eligible to compete for the Wrigley Trophy in the Ontario Mile Swim for the reason that she is not a resident of Ontario. Miss Looney is from down Cleveland way but for several years has spent the entire summer in Toronto and has competed in Ontario swimming events, and holds an amateur swimming card in the Province of Ontario.

BERNICE LOONEY, age 13, Toronto "Lakeshores" who is a serious contender for Ontario mile amateur swim, for Wrigley Trophy at C.N.E. She finished third in 1940.

Mistake to Bar Swimmer

Coach Gus Ryder claimed Bernice Looney is eligible to compete for the Wrigley Trophy and that in his judgment it would be a mistake to bar this young thirteen year old swimmer from this senior competition. Coach Ryder pointed out that Bernice Looney appeared eligible under the Deed of Gift whereby the Wrigley Trophy is identified and accepted as emblematic of the Women's Swimming Championship of Ontario, and that in his opinion she complies with the Deed of Gift's requirements that "every competitor shall be an amateur swimmer within the rules of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association and shall be registered as such with the Ontario Section of the said Association."

Asked to Review Situation

The Wrigley Company requested the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association to review the situation in view of Section 2 of the Deed of Gift, and from the standpoint that it would be in the interests of swimming competition to have Bernice Looney in the Ontario mile. Jimmy Thompson, coach of Hamilton "Aquatics" Swimming Club, and who has coached Irene Barr for years has expressed himself, that Bernice Looney is a coming great swimmer and that if she is eligible to compete for the Wrigley Trophy, he will be glad to see her in that race, knowing it will help make the race a really great competitive swimming attraction. Public opinion would probably be with the thirteen year old Bernice Looney.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

Bob Feller, Indians — Shut out Yankees on seven hits for 21st victory of year.

Dutch Leonard and Sid Hudson, Senators—Each pitched six-hit ball to take doubleheader from Tigers.

Jimmie Foxx, Red Sox—Batted in two runs with triple and single to help whip White Sox.

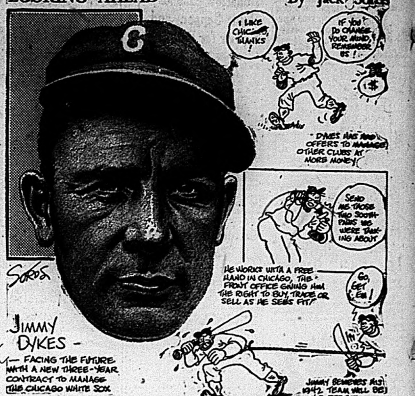
Jake Mooty, Cubs—Stopped Dodgers with seven-hit hurling.

Bucky Walters, Reds — Kept 10 hits spaced to beat Braves.

The word at Saratoga is Alf Vanderbilt, the W. K. horseman, settled his marital difficulties for two million....Jimmy Roosevelt wired Mike Jacobs an order for seven ringside seats for the Nova-Louis party....

LOOKING AHEAD

By Jack Sords



I LIKE CHICAGO, THANKS!
IF YOU DO CHANGE YOUR MIND, REMEMBER US!
$
DYKES HAS HAD OFFERS TO MANAGE OTHER CLUBS AT MORE MONEY!
SEND ME THOSE TWO SOUTH-PAWS WE WERE TALKING ABOUT
HE WORKS WITH A FREE HAND IN CHICAGO, THE FRONT OFFICE GIVING HIM THE RIGHT TO BUY, TRADE OR SELL AS HE SEES FIT!
GO, GET EM!
JIMMY BELIEVES HIS 1942 TEAM WILL BE HIS BEST!
SORDS
JIMMY DYKES -
— FACING THE FUTURE WITH A NEW THREE-YEAR CONTRACT TO MANAGE THE CHICAGO WHITE SOX

No. 1 Challenge For World's Title To Wrestle Here

Next Monday night the Hume Arena in Belleville will be the scene of another high class heavyweight wrestling show, for the promoters have induced British Empire heavyweight wrestling champion, Earl McCready to meet the dangerous challenge of Cy Williams, better known to his opponents as the "Talahassee Terror."

In making this match Promoter Frank Tunney beat several other Canadian cities as this bout was in demand and is regarded as a most important match to bring to Belleville.

Big Earl McCready won his title the hard way having just returned from six years of campaigning which took him all around the world. McCready beat the best of the big matmen in England, Europe, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and the far East, and has established the standard for Canadian wrestling in the far corners of the Globe. The big fellow from Regina is rated as the No. 1 threat for world honours and if he should win the championship he would be the first Canadian to do so.

In the meantime, his opponent next Monday night is rated as the roughest of the rough. When the blond Floridan becomes really wild he does not seem to care what he does so long as he flattens his opponent, and big Cy has the reputation for being extremely hard to stop once he gets thoroughly roused. Weighing close to 240 lbs., Williams will still be outweighed by McCready and the fans will have a good chance to judge McCready's calibre by the manner in which he handles the battering ram attacks of the gentle Mr. Williams.

In making this match the Queensbury A.C. promoters feel they have made a ten strike and have established Belleville as an important wrestling city.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER

(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Brietz)

Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)— Gene Mako has about made up his mind to quit tennis after this year.... Ted Williams says he wants to hit over .400 this summer just so he can pop off about it all winter.... Of course, next year's contract couldn't have a thing to do with it either....Well, anyway, Monte Pearson won that one game for the Reds before he was shipped down the river....So he bows out with an even 100 victories for his big league career.

Notes-to-you-Dept.

Did you know the fight manager Jimmy Gleason plays in the picture "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" is supposed to be the late Yussel Jacobs? ....Baseball scouts better start looking up time-tables to Owatonna, Minn.....All Bell, pitcher for the local club there, hasn't allowed an earned run in 93 2-3 innings.... One of the national amateur golf qualifiers is Herman Berg, Jr., who admits his sister can knock him off any day in the week....She's only Patty Berg.

UNATTACHED GOLFER WINS

Toronto, Aug. 22 (CP)—Art Sullivan, unattached golfer, toured the tricky St. Andrew's' course in a one-over-par 72 yesterday to win the Toronto Public Links championship. It was his first major win in tournament competition.

In a second competition for the St. Andrew's Club championship B. Johnson of the Chedoke Club, Hamilton, placed second to E. Bentley of Weston. Bentley carried a 73 and Johnson had a 76.

R. J. Champaign, Fergus southpaw artist, won the low net in the lefthanders' competition.

Between Innings

GOSSIP NEWS COMMENT

In all probability Johnnie Bawden and Jim Stacey will hook up in their third mound battle of the week when the Trenton "All-Stars" invade Belleville for the third and deciding game with Corby's A.C. in the first round O.A.S.A. playdowns. By enjoying a slight edge each squad won its home game forcing saw-off, which is to be played at the Flats as Coach Harold Bawden won the toss for that right. Skipper Andy Anderson and his Trenton advisers questioned the eligibility of Catcher Alfie Rowbotham of Corby's, forgetting the fact the Trenton team is a composite squad and also that the Trenton League hasn't even concluded its town schedule. However, to set the western town softball moguls right, we can assure Jess Baker and company that Rowbotham was duly signed on and before July 15th and is quite eligible. Now all that remains is to have the two clubs give the fans some good softball tonight. At the same time Zellers and Vikings engage in a girls' league semi-final play-off at the Armouries.

President Maurice Callaghan, of the Belleville Yacht Club, informs your newsboy there is to be a little excitement off Victoria Park on Sunday afternoon. The event is to be the annual Mikel Cup race, a handicap sailing race that has seen the Mikel trophy change hands three times in the past four years. For the last two years Maurice Callaghan's After You 2nd came down in front, while the previous two races saw Duke Smith's Joka and Harry Semark's Alaska carry off this valuable piece of silverware. This year there are several new sailing craft on the bay and all are invited to enter the race that hears the starter's gun at 2.30 p.m. Sunday Smaller craft are given a handicap that usually brings all craft into the final leg of the race pretty well bunched, so that the lovers of aquatics may enjoy a thrilling finish while watching the progress of this annual sailing event The Mikel Cup was donated by W. C. Mikel as a handicap challenge trophy in 1934 and has been raced for annually ever since.

Tallahassee, the capital city of the State of Florida, is ordinarily about the same population as Belleville, but during the winter months swells to twenty-five or thirty thousand. In Tallahassee is situated State College where Cy Williams, now recognized as the Tallahassee Terror of the wrestling world, first came to prominence as a football star and his rise to stardom on the grid iron was even over-shadowed by his rapid ascent in the wrestling game. Williams meets Earl McCready, the British Empire heavyweight wrestling champion at the Hume Arena Monday night, along with a fine supporting card.

Hub Smith, former Kingston boxer, now at the Trenton R.C.A.F., will represent that station at the Dominion Boxing Championships for seamen, airmen and militarymen at the Toronto Exhibition on Saturday. Seven boxers from the Mountain View camp and a couple from 6 A.R.D. also will box for the Air Force. Billie Hughes, former bantamweight boxing champion of Canada, accompanied the Air Force boxers to Toronto. The bouts will be held in the Coliseum with two rings being in operation at one time. The winners will be declared champions of the military camps of Canada.

If his nerve can keep pace with his intensions, Harry Knott, perennial secretary of the Belleville and District Softball Association, will make that long walk down the aisle at St. Thomas' Anglican Church tomorrow to "I do." Yes, Harry (sing me something sentimental) Knott is deserting the ranks of blissful bachelorhood, but it is hoped his good wife-to-be will permit Harry to remain connected with softball, where he has proven a valuable cog in the game's machine as secretary-treasurer for the past six years. To the newlyweds all wish them "the mostest of the bestest."

Do you remember when unseeded teams in both the men's and women's divisions of the United States doubles tennis championships staged surprising upsets to crash the semi-finals a year ago today? Russel Bobbitt and Frank Gurnsey eliminated second-seeded Bobby Riggs and Welby Van Horn and Dorothy Bundy disposed of another No. 2 team, Margaret Osborne and Pauline Betz. Bobbitt and Gurnsey went down, however, in the semi-finals and the unseeded feminine team in the finals.

As was expected, the Point Anne "Cementmen" won their opening Intermediate "C" play-off in the O.A.S.A. rather easily. After polishing the Rawdon Township boys off handily on their own diamond Tuesday, the Gaulin-led nine invaded the Rawdon lads' balliwick and trounced 'em 17 to 5 to make the series in straight games last night. Actually the Cementmen should have little difficulty in disposing of all opposition in their category and another softball title is predicted for Ox Point, that is unless all signs fail, but there's no drought in softball.

The National League's leading pitcher in repressing homers by enemy batsmen, Claude Passeau is out after the slugging record himself. Before the Cubs had played half of their season's games, tall Claude had hit 3 homers personally and was half-way along the road to tying the all-time National League record for homers by a pitcher —Hal Schumacher's six in 1934.

It was with regret we learned of the sudden death of Bob Thompson, former student at the Ontario School for the Deaf. But 28 years of age, Bob was striken with a strange malady that baffled the best medical men in Western Ontario before he died in Kincardine Hospital. Bob was in the newspaper business. He played junior hockey in Wingham, Lucknow and Kincardine. He also played intermediate baseball and was highly regarded wherever he happened to be.

SPORT SALAD—Doug Barnhardt hurled for the Cementmen last night and was equally as effective as Luffman in the first game, which now gives Skipper Gaulin two starting and seasoned pitchers. . . . Chicago's Tam O'Shanter open golf meet will pay $11,000 in prize money. . . . There is talk of holding all of the 1941 world series games in the Yankee Stadium, that is if the Brooklyn Dodgers manage to stay on top of the National League. . . . Of course Judge Landis would have to say "Yes" first and foremost. . . . Remember Big Monte Pearson, who was traded by the Yankees to Cincinnati? . . . Well, Big Monte has been sold down the river to the Hollywood "Stars" of the P.C.I. . . . Next season will see the introduction of the fan-shaped back-board for basketball in U.S.A. . . . Bill McKechnie says he hasn't counted his world champion Cincinnati Reds out yet. . . . But the Cardinals and Dodgers have, to say nothing of Frankie Frisch's Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . And when he was single he made money jingle.

THIS PAGE IS FULL OF OPPORTUNITIES

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per

Insertion	30c
Two Insertions	60c
Three Insertions	75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number	extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073

Representing

CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE

Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J., 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE. The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE", 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist, Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 239 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 980. Lady attendant.

E. R. and VERA E. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville, Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS and HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE

249½ Front St. Phone 432

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass

278 Front St. Phone 1184W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

BARNACLE BILL
Wallace Beery, Marjorie Main, Leo Carrillo
2.30 — 7.00 — 9.45
A SHOT IN THE DARK
William Lunigan, Nan Wynn
4.00 — 8.30

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

SWEETHEART OF THE CAMPUS
Ruby Keeler, Ozzie Nelson and His Band
2.50 — 7.20 — 10.15
I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND
4.15 — 9.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

GANGS OF SONORA
The Three Mesquiteers
7.45 — 10.00
STRANGE ALIBI
Arthur Kennedy, Jean Perry
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

WANTED

MAN TO DO SEWING. APPLY to Modern Cleaners and Dyers, 325 Pinnacle St. A22-3t

GIRLS, NEAT IN APPEARANCE for waitresses, experience not necessary. Salary $9.00 weekly and meals. Approximately 50 hours per week. Apply giving all particulars, phone number, etc., to Box 49, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

SIX ROOMED HOUSE, MODERN. East Hill preferred. Possession September first or as soon as possible after. Write Box 8, Ontario Intelligencer. A22

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS. APply Belmont. A22-2t

WOMAN TO DO PLAIN SEWING. Apply to Modern Cleaners and Dyers, 325 Pinnacle St. A22-2t

SMART YOUNG BOY FOR store work. Apply Lipson's Dept. Store. A22

GIRL FOR PRESS HAND. APply Box 54, Ontario Intelligencer. A22-3t

TO RENT — A LARGE HOUSE, vicinity of C.N.R. Station, by Sept. 1. Phone 1088W. A22-3t

BOOKKEEPER AND STENOgrapher. State age, experience and salary expected to Box 36, Ontario Intelligencer. A22

AGENTS WANTED

AVAILABLE AT ONCE. RAWleigh Route of 800 families. Only reliable men need apply. Good profits to willing workers. No experience required to start. Write today. Rawleigh's Dept. ML-132-Z-H., Montreal, Canada. A22

FURNISHED HOUSE, BY RELIable tenant for September 1st. Box 19, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

SMALL APARTMENT OR LIGHT housekeeping rooms, furnished. Required by newly married couple. Write Box 6, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

MAID, MUST BE FOND OF CHILdren. References required. One adult and two children. Mrs. Edward G. Kennedy, 190 George St. A21-3t

MAN WITH KNOWLEDGE OF fruit and groceries. Box 51, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

MAN WITH KNOWLEDGE OF meat. Box 52, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

TO RENT, 7 ROOM HOUSE, ON or near West Hill bus. Conveniences. Reasonable. Before Sept. 30. Apply 44 Yeoman St. A21-3t

MAN TO PAINT BARN ROOF. N. R. Duetta, R. 1, Belleville. Phone 46, Mountain View. A21-3t

COOK GENERAL WITH EXPERience and references, 2 adults in family. Apply Betty Spiers' Dancing School, 4932 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, or phone 1952, Belleville. A20-3t

AGENTS WANTED

ATTENTION. DO YOU WISH TO make some real money full time or spare time? I have a sound proposition that will stand investigating. Apply R. Law, c/o Belleville Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

ROOM AND BOARD FOR LADY teacher. Write Box 5, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

2 SALESMEN FOR LARGE REtail organization. Good salary, unlimited opportunity for advancement. Must have retail selling experience. Apply to Box 55, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-4t

FARM 10 TO 50 ACRES IN THE vicinity of Belleville. Write Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer. A16-6t

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A13-12t

BUSINESS LINERS

Mrs. Harman will be pleased to show the new Fall Millinery which has just arrived; also Gainsboro Hosiery. 42½ Bridge St. East (upstairs.) A21-3t

LOST

TUESDAY, HOUND BEAGLE pup. Finder kindly phone 1103R. A22-tf

POINT ANNE MAN ARRESTED AT TWEED

Tweed, Aug. 22.—Following an alleged drinking party at Lakeside Park, Donald Hill of Point Anne, was arrested by Chief J. C. Hayes on a charge of assault with intent to resist arrest. Hill was remanded in custody until next Thursday. Thomas Bailey, also of Point Anne, was apprehended on a charge of careless driving, after allegedly backing a motor car into a tree at the park. A third member of the trio escaped detection at the time, however. He was arrested by Belleville police Friday, Chief Hayes learned today.

EACH AD ON IT OFFERS A VALUE

READ THEM THOROUGHLY TONIGHT.

FOR SALE

9 PIECE BIRCH DINING ROOM suite, excellent condition. Apply after 6 p.m. at 245 Coleman St. A21-3t

STEWART-WARNER COMBINAtion electric and battery radio, $25; also Philco table model, 7 tubes, $15. Phone 2484. A22

DOUBLE BED AND SPRINGS, dresser and stand, table cupboards, dishes and other articles. 42 Murney St. A22

246 JOHN ST., 7 ROOMED AND 6 roomed two family home. For inspection Phone 1607. A22-3t

DINING ROOM SUITE, AXMINster rug. Apply 70 Station. A22

CANOE — SIXTEEN FOOT PETerborough, with two paddles, cushions and lazy back. Real bargain. Owner leaving city. 668R. A22-3t

'38 WILLYS COACH. EASY price. Easy Terms. Accept small car as part. Phone 1139. A22

HUNDRED ACRES, CHOICE land; 2 wells; running creek; 4½ miles to Wellington, close to church, high school, four canning factories; 10 acres of wood. Apply Wesley Young on farm, Rose Hall. A22-2t

CAMP TENT, WITH FLOOR AND windows; like new. Phone 2592. A21-3t

MOFFAT ELECTRIC STOVE, CAbinet style. Two tone cream. Four burner. Automatic oven heat control. Practically new. $95. Phone 2015J. A20-3t

SODA FOUNTAIN, CONFECtionery, tobaccos. Good stock. Same owner 15 years. Reason for selling, death of owner. Write Box 225, Campbellford. A20-3t

HOUSE, 153 PINNACLE STREET, 15 rooms, suitable for apartment house or rooming house. $3000. House 151 Pinnacle St., 7 rooms, $1500. All conveniences. Apply on premises. A16-6t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue —Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining-room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

FOR SALE

MATURE PURE BRED HOLstein and Jersey calves, both sex, from T.B. and blood tested herd, with good milking record. V. J. Baker, R. 3, Belleville. Phone 134r34. A22-26

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGerator, 6 cu. ft. Deluxe Model. Splendid condition, $175 cash. Apply Ford Derry, Foxboro. A22-4t

ONE OUTBOARD MOTOR. APply 7 Grove St. Phone 493. A22-3t

ONE 15 H.P. UPRIGHT BOILER, only used a short time. Apply J. B. Ives. A22-3t

CONNOR THERMO TUB ELECtric Washer in splendid condition. Can be purchased at a very low price for cash. See this washer before buying. 225 Front St., Belleville. A21-2t

'32 PLYMOUTH COACH. APPLY 283 Coleman St. A21-2t

ONE HUNDRED TOMATO crates, twenty dollars; Quebec Heater, eight dollars; 5 oak barrels, each fifty gallon capacity, two-fifty each; Cider press (hand or power), nearly new, thirty dollars; Spring Toothed Cultivator (two horse), thirteen extra teeth, fourteen dollars; set Discs (two horse out-throw), twelve dollars; set Fairbanks floor scales, fifteen dollars; Hay Car, Fork, Rope, Pulleys, twenty-five dollars; about twelve tons hay. Apply Elden Salisbury, Belleville, R. 7, Picton Road. A21-3t

TO LET

FURNISHED BEDROOM, HOT water heating, centrally located. Suitable for gentleman. Phone 1324W. A22-3t

IN CEMETERY NEW BUNGALOW four rooms, bath, electric light, warm, splendid cellar, cistern, pump, garden. Apply A. W. Thomas, Cemetery Supt. A22-3t

1400 FEET STORAGE SPACE. Phone 524W. A22-3t

2 ROOMED FURNISHED APARTment, heated and lighted. Apply 70 Station St. A22

SPACE FOR TWO CHAIR BARber shop. Rent reasonable. Apply 364 Front St. A22-3t

4 UNFURNISHED ROOMS. 18 Finley St., opposite end of W. Moira St. A22

MODERN 5 ROOM HEATED APartment; continuous hot water, centrally located, electric stove; refrigerator. Possession September 1st. Write Box 17, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

AVAILABLE SEPT. 1, SMALL furnished house. Phone 984. A20-3t

FURNISHED OR PARTLY FURNished rooms in private home in country near Belleville. Write Box 48, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-3t

AUCTION SALE

Pursuant to the powers contained in a certain chattel mortgage, there will be sold by public auction at the residence of JOHN McCULLOUGH, SECOND CONCESSION OF SIDNEY, commencing at 1.30 p.m. Standard Time, on WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27th., 1941, the following goods, chattels and effects:

G.M.C. Truck, five cows, two horses, Pontiac Sedan, numerous farm implements, Chesterfield, Piano, Chairs, Tables, Radio subject to lien, one stove, beds and springs.

Oats and Grain in barn, hay in barn, oats in field (stocked) together with other farm implements, crops and machinery on the said premises.

Terms of sale, cash.

NORMAN MONTGOMERY, Auctioneer.

A22-23-25

BIRTH

FOSTER — At the Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday, August 19th., 1941, to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Foster, R.R. 3, Belleville, a son (Fredrick Ray.) A22

DEATHS

WATERS — Suddenly in Belleville late Thursday evening, August 21st, 1941, Mrs. Elizabeth (Stewart) Waters, widow of David Waters.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 2 Forin St., on Saturday afternoon, August 23. Service in the home at 2.30 o'clock. Interment Belleville Cemetery. A22

$ $ $ $

Pay Your Bills

Quinte Finance will loan you money to centralize your debts, or for other purposes. $50 to $500 — and remember only Husband and Wife sign.

Quinte Finance and SECURITIES LTD.

168 Front St. Phone 168

$ $ $ $

32 Queen St.

Between WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.

FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fireplaces; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN

(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)

166 Front St. Phone 99

AUCTION SALE

Good young horses, Holstein Cattle, some just freshened — a full line of new Farm Machinery; Hay and Grain; two miles west of Wooler, Tuesday, August 26th. Jas. Hennessey, owner.

G. W. ARNOTT, Auctioneer, Frankford

A22

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, Aug. 23rd., at 1.30 p.m. at 165 Pinnacle St., LaPalm's Storage, E. L. Gosling, Owner—Single bed with mattress and springs, chest of drawers, night table, chesterfield and chair, occasional chair, floor lamp, ironing board, china cabinet, 1 rug. Terms cash.

NORMAN MONTGOMERY, Auctioneer, Phone 1170.

A20-22

2,700 Men Idle As Strike Cripples N. S. Steel Plant

Stellarton, N.S., Aug 22—(CP)—With more than 2,700 men idle, Pictou County looked today to a mass meeting of the employees of the Trenton Steel Plant of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company for the next development in strikes that have tied up not only that munitions-making industry but three coal mines near here as well.

The men—there are 1,500 involved—were to meet this morning as members of the Trenton local of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee to set a course of action in the wage dispute that prompted a brief strike last week, saw the men return to work Aug. 13 for six days, then walk out yesterday when their deadline for negotiations passed.

But nothing so specific faces the 1,200 Stellarton men of three Acadia coal company colliers which daily produce 2,000 tons of coal. Walkout of just 15 men in the power plant of the Allan shaft forced them into idleness.

Strike Without Sanction

Officials of the Miners' Union, the United Mine Workers of America, said the strike was without their sanction but after one meeting with some of the strikers they had no definite plans to solve the problem. President Jack MacGillivray said the meeting was adjourned because the strikers "had nothing to offer us to bring before the men."

Neither union nor company officials had any comment on the statement of a Dominion Labor Department spokesmen that the Justice Department had been called in to take whatever action was necessary.

Outside the mines, there was no power shortage locally as the Pictou County Power Board, which purchases some of the Acadia output, switched to another source.

A minimum rate of 62 1-2 cents an hour for an eight-hour day is sought by the men who have tied up the steel plant in neighboring Trenton.

WHO CAN DO IT?

AUTO BODY & PAINT SHOPS

MADILL'S GARAGE. 334A FRONT St. Phone 2270.

CARTAGE & TRANSPORT

WALLBRIDGE'S CARTAGE AND Transport. Phone 1811.

SMITH & SONS — CLOSED FURniture Vans. Phone 311.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

W. H. OLIPHANT, 292 FRONT ST. Wiring. Fixtures.

GARAGE

GRILLS' GARAGE. WALKER E. Grills. 85 Moira W. Ph. 1151.

BROWN'S GARAGE. GENERAL Auto Repairs. 29 Dundas. Ph. 846.

MOXAM & WOOD. BODY AND Fender repairs. 65 Dundas. Ph. 890

HEATING CONTRACTORS

THOMAS J. HOLLAND CO. 132 Pinnacle St. Phone 1025.

HOME APPLIANCE STORE, OPerated by Adams & VanDusen Co. 191 Front. Phone 1181. Plumbing, Heating, Air Conditioning.

JEWELLERS

W. WONNACOTT, JEWELLER, 29 Bridge St. E. Phone 745W.

MACHINE SHOP & REPAIRS

COOKE'S REPAIR SERVICE. CAR Keys, and Locks Repaired. 142 Front St. Phone 453M.

JOE'S WELDING AND BICYCLE Shop. 384 Front St., Belleville.

MUSIC

RESIDENT PIANO TUNER. Bruce C. Sills. Ph. 1031. Res. 1708.

MISCELLANEOUS

H. LAVENDER, UPHOLSTERER. 44 Station St. Phone 1100.

WATCHMAKERS

A. E. WONNACOTT, TWO EXpert Watchmakers. 292 Front St. Phone 2477.

PLUMBING AND HEATING

SMITH HARDWARE, 314 FRONT Phone 2260. Belleville.

JOHN LEWIS CO. 265 FRONT Phone 204. Belleville.

MODERN PLUMBING & HEATing, Murray Black, phone 1335-379.

RADIO REPAIRS

FRALICK'S RADIO SERVICE — "Everything for Your Radio." 32 Bridge St. E. Phone 1491.

RADIO & WASHER SERVICE. All work done in our Service Dept. Weaver's, 217 Front. Ph. 1031

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP. — Standard Radio Parts and Service. 340 Front St. Phone 659.

HITCHON RADIO SERVICE, 24 Victoria Ave, Phone 854. We have the new 1941-42 Radio Licenses.

EATON & ROSS, SALES AND Service. Complete Stock Rogers Parts. 325 Front St. Ph. 468.

REAL ESTATE

IF IT'S BUYING OR SELLING,— Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg.

ROOFING & INSULATION

ALEX. W. CARMICHAEL, ROOFing and Flooring Contractor, 336-340 Pinnacle. Ph. 1137. Belleville.

REFRIGERATION

REFRIGERATION SERVICE, REpairs. Everything electrical. Geo. Sweetnam. Phone 861.

SHOE REPAIRS

BROWN'S SHOE REPAIR — 10 Campbell St. Phone 1317.

TIRE & BATTERY SERVICE

UPTOWN TIRE & BATTERY. "Scotty—Vulcanizing—Smitty" — 382 Front St. Phone 2288.

WOODYARD

HANNA'S WOODYARD, HARD & Soft Wood. 13 Baldwin. Ph. 1140.

MASON'S—COAL AND WOOD. 13 Geddes. Ph. 1723.

Quality in Printing

There is no commodity you buy that shows lack of quality more than poor printing.

YOUR GREATEST ASSURANCE OF CRAFTSMANSHIP IS THE HALLMARK.

PHONE 99.

Ontario Intelligencer Print

A PRINTER'S ERROR

McKeesport, Pa., Aug. 22 (AP)—John Traczmaki ordered 20,000 matchbooks to acquaint voters with his candidacy for the Republican nomination to city council. He distributed hundreds before he chanced to look inside. There he found the smiling face of Councilman Ben Rosenbert, his rival. It was a printer's error.

Clarence Nash and Florence Gill, voices respectively for Donald Duck and Clara Duck, are shown in the flesh in a hilarious sequence of Walt Disney's "The Reluctant Dragon" full-length feature comedy coming next to the Belle Theatre.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop was looking at his paper and ma was looking at hers, saying, I see Hookbinders are announcing their semmy annual white sale, and that reminds me, I must get Mr. Seevers to whitewash the cellar, I dont know when it was whitewashed last and it certainly shows it.

I'll do that job, pop said. A man's place is in the cellar when it needs whitewashing, that's an old family tradition. The cellar is the foundation of the home and we Pottses have always considered it our duty and privelege to keep it spotless, he said, and ma said, Now Willyum, you turn yourself loose on any such venture as that. The house would be a whitened shambles from top to toe, she said.

Not at all, the cellar would gleem like a rich Eskimo's place in the country, that's all would happen, pop said. I owe it to my artistic cravings not to pass up a chance to wield a brush freely without having my fine natural stile cramped by the confines of oils or water colors. I'll enjoy being able to look our arty friends in the eye and tell them I've been doing a little mural painting because after all what is whitewashing but mural painting in its lowliest estate? And besides, in this day and age we ought to be hiring a union workman to whitewash our cellar instead of an underpaid handy man, but as long as that's out of the question I can at least enjoy the luxury of defying one of the ruding classes of our time by doing the job myself while Benny paces the cellar with a picket sign announcing that Willyum P. Potts is unfair to union labor, he said.

From what I know about you, you've taken it all out in talk, so I better go right ahead and tell Mr. Seevers to get the whitewash, ma said, and pop said, Perhaps you'd better.

CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply is pictured at the White House after a visit with President Roosevelt during which they discussed the vital problem of war supplies for Britain.

27 of the Latest R.A.F. Photos FREE!

FREE PICTURES of the "Flying Torpedo"—"Sky Rocket"—"Lightning"—"Defiant"—"Catalina"—"Spitfire"—"Hurricane" and 20 other fine R.A.F. planes.

Mail one Bee Hive Syrup label for each picture desired or two Durham Corn Starch labels. Specify picture or pictures requested, your name, address, and mail to St. Lawrence Starch Co., Limited Port Credit, Ont.

Bee Hive Syrup

"CATALINA"
BEE HIVE
CORN SYRUP

Dazzling Promise

By

KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

Surprise Visit

Dona fretted herself into many a headache now over how far her duty toward Tug should go, but she arrived at no rational conclusion. She was well aware now that being his wife was responsibility which taxed to the utmost her faith and generosity, made her dejected and rebellious, and would soon call for a day of reckoning.

Bob Platt's behaviour had been so praiseworthy of late that when she suggested visiting an old school friend in Cleveland, her mother raised no objections. She had so much confidence in Bob now that she even suggested that Dona take a vacation, also. But at first Dona could think of nothing in particular she wanted to do and, anyway vacations cost money. And after helping Tug to get started in business, she hadn't much of that to throw away on herself these days.

After Bob had gone and Grace Platt had flown to the desert for a week of reducing baths, Dona was left alone in the mammoth house with the servants. Even Flora Lampkin, who by now had mastered Dona's former job as secretary, had gone home for a few days, and Dona found herself brooding too much; she had too much leisure. Only that morning she had received a particularly glowing letter from Tug in which he asked for more money and also expressed the hope that within a month he'd be able to afford a swell little apartment he'd seen in Hollywood.

The letter made Dona more nervous and out of sorts than she'd been in a long time. Tug, expecting her to rush to him like the most dutiful of wives whenever he whistled! It was maddening She couldn't allow this to continue; she couldn't sail under false colors any longer. She must have it out with him, explain that she was not planning to settle down with him, before he went too far with permanent apartment arrangements.

She decided to be on the next train for Los Angeles, see Tug and get their status on a mutually understood basis. She would come right out in the open and explain that she was not in love with him now, probably never had been, and that their marriage had been an unfortunate mistake.

It would no doubt hurt his pride more than his heart, because she suspected his heart was made of flimsy stuff and would never be very reliable. He'd brood over things for a while perhaps, then turn to the first pretty face that happened along and call it a day.

She would continue to help finance him until he got squarely on his feet, because she had agreed to. This was the least she could do for him. She scolded and censored herself severely for her stubborn rejection of this man who was her lawful husband, but her determination remained firmly fixed in her mind. She felt thoroughly wicked and unreliable and immature; she could barely pass muster with her own conscience.

In the midst of all this, she suddenly remembered she had an engagement with De Lane to skate tonight in a big fashionable rink. So she telephoned the Castor residence where he was still a guest.

Explaining that De Lane was out, Tom Castor unexpectedly answered the call and Dona quickly gave him a message for his friend.

"I'm disappointed," Tom told her, "and I know George will be. I was going to invite myself along—make it a trio, if you don't mind. And there's father—he was taking us to the flower show Thursday night. He thought you'd like to see the eighty species of Cypripedium — orchids to you and me."

Dona sat on the edge of her chair.

"Oh, I would—I'm so sorry! If it weren't a—a sort of business trip, I wouldn't go to Los Angeles now."

"De Lane will miss you, Dona. You mean a great deal to him," Tom told her in a confidential tone.

"I—I shouldn't," came from her a little more firmly than she intended. "I'm awfully fond of him—but I don't—"

"You mean you're not in love with him? I thought—"

"Did I give that impression? I didn't intend to. I'd like to keep George De Lane for a friend—always—nothing more."

"Dona! I must see you at once!"

The desperate quality of appeal and longing in Tom Castor's voice warned her. She was seized with a violent trembling and frantically clutched her small desk in an effort to steady herself. As for meeting him face to face! Oh, no—she couldn't—she couldn't!

She was breathlessly happy, breathlessly miserable; she wanted to cry and laugh together. She wanted to tell him to come flying to her but with a supreme effort she held herself in check. That precious, intangible gift she had for him, in a recessed corner of her heart, was threatening to ruin all her high resolves. If she could only sob out her lacerating worries on his broad capable shoulder, let him gently stroke her hair and tell her all the things she longed to hear!

But she did something vastly different.

"I've shopping to do—I'm leaving tonight on the eight o'clock train. We'll—we'll get together when I return, Tom." Her lips quivered uncontrolably. He mustn't find the chink in her armor!

But he caught her utter desolation in her tone and urged immediately, "We'll have luncheon downtown then. I'll meet you whenever you wish."

"No, Tom it—it's impossible. Remember me to De Lane. Good-bye."

The receiver clattered into place. She was thinking frantically, "There's an earlier train—around six. I'll take that. Nothing will prevent Tom Castor from being at the eight o'clock—and I must be gone!"

Her troubled eyes wandered unseeingly over her beautifully appointed sitting room. The soft tints of the orchid and green furnishings were highlighted here and there by streamers of glad sunshine coming through the windows, and the spring song of an early nest-scouting robin came clear and sweet from the orange tree by the balcony.

The shivering Dona stood up. If she only could let down and cry! But she had no time to waste now; she mustn't miss that train. She was going to Tug Nash and frankly explain that all was finished between them. She was chucking the whole thing. And—why not?

There, on the other side of the fence, stood Tom Castor—and she loved him. And now she knew, without his having expressed it in words, that he loved her, that he had not given his love lightly. During all the past weeks when she had been seeing so much of him, he had supposed that De Lane was her choice. And Tom Castor had let honor stand between himself and the woman he loved! He hadn't lifted a finger to take her away from his friend! Loyalty? It was unheard of loyalty and only a man like Tom could have borne up under such stress.

Now, in a casual telephone conversation, learning how she felt about De Lane, Tom's secret had come out.

"Oh, Tom—my dear, my dear!" she cried, under her breath. Now courage went seething through her. She quickly began her packing, throwing a few underthings, toilet articles, an extra blouse and negligee, hit and miss, into the old leather bag that had come to this house with her.

She got on the six o'clock train without encountering Tom Castor. In a way, she felt cheated out of something. Then she reminded herself that this was how she had intended to leave—without seeing Tom. Yet this did not compensate her for the look of longing she could have seen in a pair of earnest dear gray eyes.

The speeding train seemed to be chugging along at a snail's pace while she attempted to relax. But her frayed nerves wouldn't let go. She had to see Tug quickly and There was that lovely Utopia she had only to reach out and take. She and Tug must come to the parting of the ways.

She arrived at Tug's hotel in Los Angeles around midnight. She registered and went directly to the room assigned her.

She took off her blue suit jacket, flung her little white hat on the bed and shook out her blond curls while the bellboy was opening the windows. She tipped him, waited until he disappeared, then walked quickly along the corridor to Tug's room, the number of which she had obtained from the night clerk downstairs.

Light glimmered from the thin space beneath the door of Tug's room. This was fortunate Dona thought; he must be in. She'd let him know she was here, go back to her room and get a good rest, and be ready to battle with him in the morning.

She knocked lightly on his door, then listened intently.

For a long moment nothing happened. Finally, she heard some one moving about.

The door opened a mere crack. Dona took a step back in consternation. For an instant she was frozen into speechlessness.

(To be continued)

WILSON'S FLY PADS REALLY KILL

One pad kills flies all day and every day for 2 or 3 weeks. 3 pads in each packet. No spraying, no stickiness, no bad odor. Ask your Druggist, Grocery or General Store.

10 CENTS PER PACKET

WHY PAY MORE?

THE WILSON FLY PAD CO., Hamilton, Ont.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22.

5.15—Wishart Campbell, songs—CBL
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.00—Bridge to Yesterday—WJZ, WHAM
7.30—Rhyme and Rhythm Club—WEAF
7.30—Southern Cruise; Frances Langford and Dick Powell—WABC, WGR
8.00—Concert with Lucille Manners, quartet, Frank Black's Orch.—WEAF, WBEN, CBL
8.00—Claudia and David; Patricia Ryan and Richard Kollmar WABC, WGR
8.30—Woodland Concert; News—CBL
8.30—Information Please; Quiz Program—WEAF, WGY
8.30—Proudly We Hail—WABC, WGR
9.00—Great Moments from Great Plays—WABC, WGR
9.00—Vox Pop—WJZ
9.00—Waltz Time—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Canadian Theatre of the Air—CBL
9.30—Uncle Walter's Dog House—WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hollywood Premiere—WGR
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ, WHAM
10.00—Quiet Victory—CBL
10.00—Romance and Rhythm—WJZ WHAM
10.00—Penthouse Party; Ilka Chase, m.c.; Paul Barron's Orch.—WABC, WGR
10.30—First Piano Quartet—WJZ
11.15—World Affairs—CBL
11.30—BBC News Reel—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orchestra—WJZ, WHAM

SATURDAY, AUGUST 23.

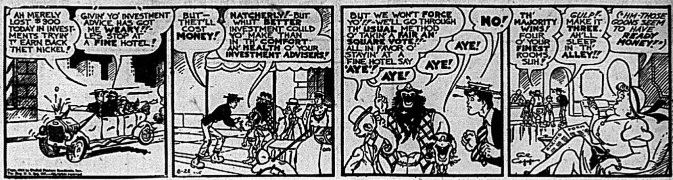
7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club; Don McNeill, M.C.—CBL
10.00—Andrini Continentals—WJZ
11.00—The Band Played On—CBL
11.45—Nat'l Hillbilly Champions—WABC, WGR
3.15—Singing Powers' Models—CBL
5.15—Saratoga Races—CBL
7.00—Gentlemen with Wings—CBO
7.00—People's Platform — WABC.
7.15—Canada Calls From London—CBL
7.30—Wayne King's Orch.—WGR
7.30—Little Ol' Hollywood—CBL
7.45—H. V. Kaltenborn, news — WEAF, WBEN
7.45—The Inside of Sports—WOR
8.00—Latitude Zero, drama—WEAF WBEN
8.00—Guy Lombardo's Orch—WABC
8.30—Hawaii Calls —CBL
8.30—Truth or Consequences — WEAF, WGY
8.30—The Bishop and the Gargoyle, mystery drama—WJZ
9.00—Your Hit Parade—WABC, WGR
9.00—Nat'l. Barn Dance — WEAF, WBEN
9.00—Quiz for the Forces—CBL
9.30—Summer Symphony — WJZ, WHAM
9.45—Saturday Night Serenade — WJR, WGR
10.00—Summer Symphony — WJZ, CBL
10.15—Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
11.30—Ray Heatherton's Orch—WJZ, WHAM

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

LI'L ABNER — Girl Meets Boys ! !

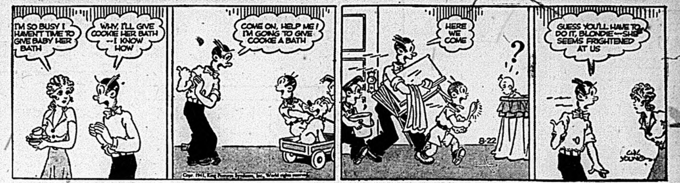
By Al Capp



AH MERELY LOST $300 TODAY IN INVESTMENTS TRYIN' T' EARN BACK THET NICKEL!
GIVIN' YO' INVESTMENT ADVICE HAS GOT ME WEARY!!- LE'S STOP AT A FINE HOTEL!
BUT— THET'LL COST MONEY!
NATCHERLY!-BUT WHUT BETTER INVESTMENT COULD YO' MAKE THAN IN TH' COMFORT AN' HEALTH O' YOUR INVESTMENT ADVISERS!
BUT WE WON'T FORCE YO'!!-WE'LL GO THROUGH TH' USUAL METHOD O' TAKIN' A FAIR AN' SQUARE VOTE!!-ALL IN FAVOR O' STAYIN' AT A FINE HOTEL SAY 'AYE'!
AYE!
AYE!
AYE!
NO!
TH' MAJORITY WINS! FOUR O' YOUR FINEST ROOMS, SUH!
GULP!-MAKE IT THREE. AH'LL SLEEP IN TH' ALLEY!!
("HM-THOSE GOONS SEEM TO HAVE READY MONEY!")
8-22
Al Capp

BLONDIE — Making an Ordeal of it!

By Chic Young



I'M SO BUSY I HAVEN'T TIME TO GIVE BABY HER BATH
WHY, I'LL GIVE COOKIE HER BATH --I KNOW HOW COME ON, HELP ME! I'M GOING TO GIVE COOKIE A BATH
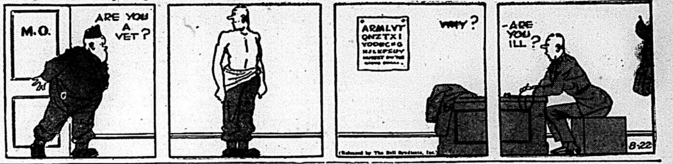
HERE WE COME
?
GUESS YOU'LL HAVE TO DO IT, BLONDIE—SHE SEEMS FRIGHTENED AT US
8-22
CHIC YOUNG
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

POP — Perhaps Pop's a Little Hoarse

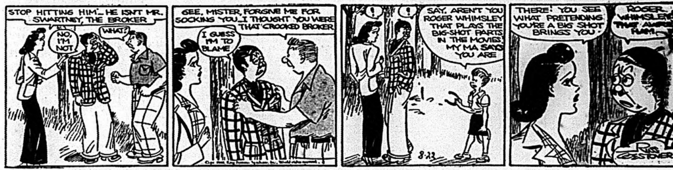
By J. Millar Watt



M.O.
ARE YOU A VET?
ARMLVT
QNZTXI
YOODEC=G
WHY?
-ARE YOU ILL?
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
8-22

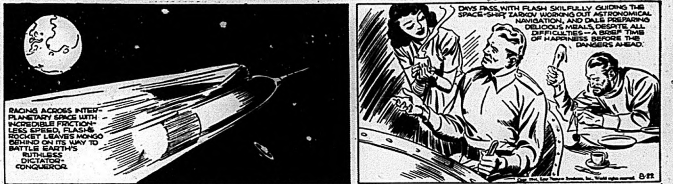
TILLIE THE TOILER — Dual Personality!

By Russ Westover



STOP HITTING HIM—HE ISN'T MR. SWARTNEY, THE BROKER
NO, I'M NOT
WHAT?
GEE, MISTER, FORGIVE ME FOR SOCKING YOU—I THOUGHT YOU WERE THAT CROOKED BROKER
I GUESS I'M TO BLAME
!
!
SAY, AREN'T YOU ROGER WHIMSLEY THAT PLAYS THE BIG-SHOT PARTS IN THE MOVIES! MY MA SAYS YOU ARE
THERE! YOU SEE WHAT PRETENDING YOU'RE A BIG SHOT BRINGS YOU
ROGER WHIMSLEY! THAT AWFUL HAM!
8-22
RUSS WESTOVER

FLASH GORDON



RACING ACROSS INTERPLANETARY SPACE WITH INCREDIBLE FRICTIONLESS SPEED, FLASH'S ROCKET LEAVES MONGO BEHIND ON ITS WAY TO BATTLE EARTH'S RUTHLESS DICTATOR-CONQUEROR DAYS PASS, WITH FLASH SKILFULLY GUIDING THE SPACE-SHIP, ZARKOV WORKING OUT ASTRONOMICAL NAVIGATION, AND DALE PREPARING DELICIOUS MEALS, DESPITE ALL DIFFICULTIES--A BRIEF TIME OF HAPPINESS BEFORE THE DANGERS AHEAD.
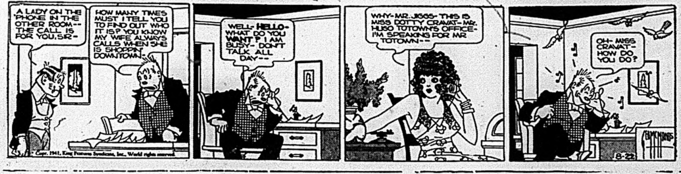
8-22

BRINGING UP FATHER —

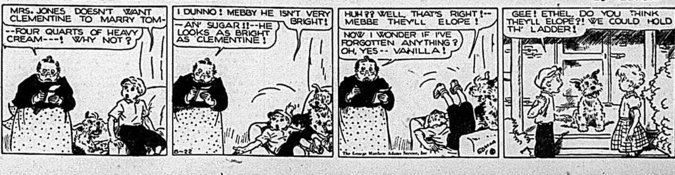
By George McManus



A LADY ON THE 'PHONE IN THE OTHER ROOM-- THE CALL IS FOR YOU, SIR-
HOW MANY TIMES MUST I TELL YOU TO FIND OUT WHO IT IS? YOU KNOW MY WIFE ALWAYS CALLS WHEN SHE IS SHOPPIN' DOWNTOWN-
WELL-HELLO-WHAT DO YOU WANT? I AM BUSY- DON'T TALK ALL DAY--
WHY-MR. JIGGS- THIS IS MISS DOTTY CRAVAT-MR. HUGO TOTOWN'S OFFICE- I'M SPEAKING FOR MR TOTOWN--
OH- MISS CRAVAT- HOW DO YOU DO?
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
G. McMANUS
8-22

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



MRS. JONES DOESN'T WANT CLEMENTINE TO MARRY TOM-
--FOUR QUARTS OF HEAVY CREAM---! WHY NOT?
I DUNNO! MEBBY HE ISN'T VERY BRIGHT!
--AN' SUGAR!!--HE LOOKS AS BRIGHT AS CLEMENTINE!
HUH?? WELL, THAT'S RIGHT!-- MEBBE THEY'LL ELOPE!
NOW I WONDER IF I'VE FORGOTTEN ANYTHING? OH, YES-- VANILLA!
GEE! ETHEL, DO YOU THINK THEY'LL ELOPE?! WE COULD HOLD TH' LADDER!
8-22
The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.
EDWINA

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

(Quotations at 1.30 p.m.)

MINES

Aldermac 14
Aunor 170B
Beattie 110
Bidgood 10A
Bralorne 11⅛
Broulan 74½
Buffalo Ank. 400B
Calgary and Ed. 136
Can. Malar. 52
Central Pat. 190B
Chesterville 133
Coniaurum 121B
Dome 22B
Eldorado 42
East Mal. 230
Falconbridge 335
Francoeur 44
Gunnar 26
Hardrock 74
Home Oil 240
Hollinger 12⅝A
Hudson Bay 26⅜
Kerr Add. 445
Kirkland Lake 66B
Lake Shore 14¼B
Leitch 47
Little L.L. 185B
Macassa 365B
McIntyre 49
McLeod 185
McKenzie 108
Mining Corp. 130
Moneta 34 1-2
O'Brien 152
Okalta 60A
Omega 14
Paymaster 20
Pamour 100B
Perron 145
Pend Oreille 164A
Pickle Crow 299A
Pioneer 245
Powell 77
Premier 89
Preston E. D. 315
Reno 10
San Antonio 235
Sherritt G. 81
Siscoe 53
Sud. Basin 150
Sullivan 65
Steep Rock 180
Sylvanite 245B
T. Hughes 280
Toburn 150A
Ventures 475
W. Amulet 460B
Wr. Hargreaves 400
Upper Can. 180

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 148
B. A. Oil 16B
Brewing Corp. 100
Braz. Trac. 7 1-2A
Can. Bud Brewery 4 3-4B
Can. Cement 5B
Can. Ind. Alcohol 2 3-4B
C.P.R. 6 1-2
Can. Malting 33B
Canada Car 6 7-8
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-4B
Con. Smelting 36 1-2
Dominion Foundries 18 1-4B
Fanny Farmer 23
Ford "A" 15 7-8
Gypsum 3 1-8B
Imp. Oil 9 3-8B
Int. Nickel 34 1-2
Inter Pet 13 1-2
Imp. Tobacco 12 1-4B
Loblaw 26 1-2B
Power Corp. 4B
Price Bros. 10B
Steel of Canada 66B
Walker's 40B
Walker's Pfd. 19 3-4
Walkerville Brewery 90B
C.P.A. 3 1-2B

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 153⅛
Anaconda 26½
Bethlehem Steel 68½
Chrysler 55⅞
General Electric 31⅝
General Motors 38½
North American 12⅝
Montgomery Ward 34⅛
Phillips Pet. 44⅞
Radio 4⅛
Standard Oil of N.J. 43
U.S. Steel 56⅝
United Aircraft 40
Vanadium 24⅜
Westinghouse 92

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Stock Market bidders maintained a highly discreet attitude today and, while a number of favorites were given a modest lift, many leaders suffered from neglect.

Bonds were as ragged as stocks. Commodities steadied after early hesitation.

Chrysler and Du Pont, both exdividentd, backed away, rising reluctance also was shown by General Motors, U.S. Steel, U.S. Rubber, Boeing, United Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, Standard Oil (N.J.) N.Y., Central and Great Northern.

Ahead at intervals were Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Paramount Pictures, Philip Morris and Canada Dry.

The only change among Canadian stocks was a 1-8 point loss in Hiram Walkers. In the Bond Market Canada 4s were unquoted.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.37-.38
A-medium	.36-.37
A-pullet	.32
Grade "B"	.31-.32
Grade "C"	.27

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1	.36 3-4-.37
Butter, No. 2	.35 3-4-.36 1-4

Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Top-Grade Eggs Show Slight Gain

Toronto, Aug. 22. — Top-grade eggs advanced 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday, while butter prices declined an additional 1-4 cent in nominal quotations. An odd-lot of May-make white cheese was reported sold at 24 cents a pound and some last year colored at 27 cents a pound.

The egg market held very firm as good demand proved capable of keeping light arrivals well cleared. Spot prices on top grades were increased from 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen while the two lower grades held firmly to their recently-advanced marks. Grades A-large, A-medium and A-pullet closed at 35 1-2 to 36, 34 1-2 to 35 and 30 cents a dozen respectively in the country dealer section of trading. All grades but B, which strengthened 1 cent, held firm in wholesale-to-retail action.

The butter market was idle yesterday as no sales were reported. Demand was said to have fallen off completely, with dealers having lost all apparent interest in the market. All grades of creamery butter solids slipped another 1-4 cent a pound in nominal quotations. First grade was offered at the reduced price of 36 3-4 cents a pound but no sales were reported.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 22— (CP)—Produce market prices here yesterday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Btrter—First grace solids, jobbing price, 37 1-2; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized current receipt price. 36 1-8; No. 2, 35 1-8; No. 1 wholesale price 36 1-2c; No. 2, 35 3-4. Receipts: Two boxes.

Eggs— Graded shipments selling at A-large, 36 1-2; A-medium, 35-35 1-2; pullets, 29-29 1-2; B grade 28-29; C grade, 24. Receipts, 277 cases.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—A few of the junior issues moved in considerable quantity but the market generally was sluggish in the early hours. Base metal and Western Oil stocks posted modest index gains and the industrial and gold issues had small declines. Turnover was 114,000 shares for the first three hours.

Some of the Flour Milling stocks made further gains. Maple Leaf Milling was up 3-8 to 4 1-8. Other feeds, Senior Oils and Utilities were firm.

Cariboo, Pamour, Chestervills, and Macleod-Cockshutt showed minor losses and the Base Metals ruled higher on strength of Smelters, Sudbury Basin, Falconbridge and Denison.

Home Oil sold up 7 cents to 2.42 and Calgary-Edmonton was a cent stronger at 1.36.

Weekly Livestock Report

Toronto, Aug. 22—(CP)—After a dull opening this week the Cattle Market reversed the trend and a heavy run was cleared at steady prices. Calves were strong, hogs gained 10 cents and sheep and lambs were unchanged.

Weighty steers sold at $8.25-$9.50 with two loads of prime steers $9.75, butcher steers and heifers were $7.25-$8.85 with boners downward to $5, butcher cows sold at $5-$6.75 and a few tops at $7, canners and cutters were $3.50-$4.75, bulls sold from $5.25 for light bolognas up to $7 for good butchers. Fed calves were $9 to $11 cwt. Stockers were also active at $5.50-$8.35 according to quality, Good milkers and springers sold at $85-$96 each.

Calves were strong at $12.50-$13 for chioce with the occasional tops at $13.50, common light vealers sold downward to $8, grassers were $6.50-$7 cwt.

Hogs opened at $14.50-$14.60 dressed and closed at $14.60-$14.65 with outside heavy, principally from Montreal, sows sold at $9.75-$10 dressed.

Lambs were unchanged at $12 for good ewes and wethers and $10-$11 for bucks. A few culls sold at $8-$9 cwt. Sheep were mostly $3-$6 cwt. with good light ewes up to $6.50.

Weekly summary of receipts:

	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep and Lambs
This week	7365	3357	2587	4353
Last week	6642	3307	3935	3132
1941 to date	164381	90532	148020	75361
1940 to date	173816	97610	147239	67996
This week, 1940	7441	3845	4317	2996

Cheese Board

Showing an increase of approximately 500 boxes of cheese over the week previous, a total of 4,672 cheese were offered on the Belleville Cheese Board on Thursday evening. All were sold at 15 5-8c, the factories boarding and the cheese each offered being:

	White
Shannonville	64
Bronk	98
Harold	105
Central	124
Union	85
Eclipse	62
Holloway	56
Northport	67
Sidney	158
Acme	105
Wooler	88
Sidney T. H.	103
Cloverdale	205
W Huntingdon	80
Melrose	84
Zion	159
Foxboro	128
East Hastings	90
Springbrook	77
Mountain	137
Weller's Bay	114
Moira Valley	78
Albert	121
Bloomfield	178
Roslin	42
Kingsford	91
Mountain View	45
Quinte	89
Evergreen	103
Frankford	95
Rogers	111
Moneymore	35
Stirling	106
Victoria	80
Roblin	100
Glen	35
Beulah	72
Shamrock	85
Ben Gill	112
Enterprise	93
Waupoos	80
Black River	112
Cressy	36
Elmbrook	165
Royal Street	100
Claire River	55
Pine Grove	57
Otter Creek	35
Claireview	65

Eastern Ontario Cheese Boards

Ottawa, Aug. 22—(CP)—Boarded 1,390 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8c.

Kemptville—Boarded 4,366 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8c.

Belleville—Boarded 4,672 boxes white All sold at 15 5-8c.

Campbellford — Boarded 2,548 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8c.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 22 (CP)—Dressed weight were up 10 cents at Brantford and down 10 at Hamilton while other bacon-hog markets reporting here today were unchanged.

Dressed weight: Chatham $10.

Live weight: Brantford $14.10 plus transportation; Chatham $13.70; Hamilton $14.50, delivered; Hull $14; London $14.35, delivered; Stratford $13.90 plus transportation.

Ground Crew Here to Shoot Aerial Scenes

Aerial scenes for the moving picture "Captains of the Clouds" starring James Cagney and other Hollywood celebrities, will commence at the Trenton R.C.A.F. base next week, according to Flight-Lieut. Sterling C. Campbell, chief technical adviser and director of all air scenes for this gigantic air picture, which is being produced and based on the operations of the British Air Force.

Under the direction of F-L. Campbell a battery crew of 18 camera men and assistants will arrive at the Trenton R.C.A.F. on Saturday directly from North Bay, where they have been shooting scenes for the past two weeks. Al Clarke well known Hollywood stunt flier and ace pilot will accompany the crew to Trenton and fly planes in co-operation with the shooting of long distance scenes and trick flying.

None of the movie celebrities such as James Cagney, Dennis Morgan, George Tobias or Alan Hale will make the trip to Trenton however.

MOTOR TRUCK FAILS TO NEGOTIATE CURVE

When the truck they were riding in failed to negotiate a curve on Highway No. 33 two miles south of Frankford early today, Miss J. Kemp of Trenton, and the driver of the truck, James McLeod of Frankford, were injured. The truck was completely demolished, Motorcycle Patrolman J. H. Hatch reported after investigations.

Miss Kemp sustained abrasions and lacerations of the body necessitating medical attention in Frankford, while McLeod's head was cut.

LARGE TRANSPORT OVERTURNS IN DITCH

Veering from No. 2 Highway at Milltown early today a large transport driven by Reginald C. Reynolds of Brantford swerved into the north ditch and turned over twice, Motorcycle Patrolman Wm. Milton reported after investigating the crack-up at 7.00 a.m. today. Damage amounting to fully $600 resulted to the truck, but fortunately the driver escaped without serious injury.

Strategic Move To Keep Army Intact is Report

Loss of Gomel Will Not Weaken Position of Army Defending Moscow

NAZI LOSSES HEAVY

Moscow, August 22—(AP)—The Russians acknowledged today they had withdrawn from Gomel, approximately midway between Smolensk and Kiev, but said their troops were counter-attacking elsewhere on the central front and were resisting German forces trying to advance toward Leningrad.

The withdrawal from Gomel, situated on the Sozh River just northeast of its junciton with the Dnieper, was described as a strategic manouvre to keep the Red Army intact after it had inflicted the largest possible losses on the Nazis. Fighting was said to be continuing in that area.

Loss of Gomel did not appear to have greatly weakened the position of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's forces defending the road to Moscow, most observers expressing belief the Nazis probably would turn southeast from Gomel toward the Ukraine.

On the Leningrad front, the Russians said their troops were battling to check a German offensive, now in its fourth day, on a broad front stretching from Kingisepp through Novgorod to Staraya Russa.

Defences Holding Firm

Reports here indicated that the battle for Leningrad found the Russians holding firm as residents of the city rose in arms to answer the appeal of Marshal Lementi Voroshilov and Leningrad Communist leader Andrei Zhandov.

Thousands of men were said to have volunteered for the people's army while the regular army carried on the struggle amid late summer rainstorms. The nearest German positions reported here were approximately 70 miles south of Russia's second largest city, although German and Finnish forces apparently were slightly closer in their drive from the north.

Encircled Russians Prove Thorn

Newspaper reports said encircled Russian units had proved thorns in the German side. The Red Star, Soviet army organ, said one detachment, surrounded 10 days in an underground fortress, held out until relieved by a Red counter-attack.

Russians said there was little surface evidence of the war in Kiev, declaring a new vaudeville theatre had opened there and its first performance was a sell-out.

There was little news of the Ukrainian situation but the information bureau's midnight communiqque mentioned one individual action interpreted here as indicating that a major Soviet withdrawal to the east side of the Dnieper river was in progress despite strong attacks by the Nazi air force.

"The anti-aircraft battery of Lieut. Maleev protested from aerial attack our troops crossing river 'D,'" the communique said. "Fascist planes appeared in the morning to the west. They headed for the river where our tank and infantry units already had crossed. By a concerted fire the Soviet artillerymen brought down three German bombers and chased away the other Fascist Junkers. In several days the anti-aircraft battery of Lieut. Maleev destroyed 10 enemy planes."

LORD BENNETT PRESENTS GIFT

Mobile Kitchens of Red Cross Given to Fire Service in England

London, Aug. 22 (CP Cable)—The first of a fleet of mobile kitchens the Canadian Red Cross is giving Britain's National Fire Service was presented today by Viscount Bennett to Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary. High Commissioner Vincent Massey also participated.

Men and women fire-fighters were drawn up at the side of the five-ton motorized kitchen, capable of turning out warm meals for more than 200 persons under air raid conditions.

The former Canadian Prime Minister in making the presentation said the gift shows "the interest of Canadians in the well being of those in Britain who risk their lives that lives may be saved."

Major F. S. Jackson, Chief Commissioner of the London Fire Service, in turn accepting the kitchen from Mr. Morrison said: "The people of Canada have found out what we really want most. It is a gift which is most needed and makes one most happy and most grateful."

DECISION SAVES LIFE

London, Aug. 22 (C.P. Cable) — The decision of Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand to prolong his stay in Britain in order to meet Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada saved his life.

Mr. Fraser had intended to leave aboard the Atlantic aircraft which crashed August 14, killing Rt. Hon. Arthur B. Purvis, chairman of the British Supply Council in North America, and 21 others.

Germans Pound Wings and Centre of Vast Red Front and Make Headway

DNIEPER NOT CROSSED

Berlin, Aug. 22—(AP)—The German-Russian War moved into its third month today with Hitler's hordes holding a line approximately 300 miles inside Soviet territory from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

On every part of this long-drawn front the Nazis claimed their armies were pressing forward in quest of new victories, threatening Leningrad in the north, aiming a spearhead at Moscow in the middle and besieging Odessa in the south.

What the gains so far registered have cost in terms of manpower and equipment the Germans did not disclose, though they maintained their losses were low compared with the 5,000,000 Russian soldiers they claimed they have put out of action in the bloodiest campaign the world has seen.

German accounts of the push toward Leningrad pictured the city as in danger of having its rail connections with Moscow severed by Nazi forces which the High Command said yesterday had captured Novgorod 100 miles to the south.

Combined German and Finnish forces, meanwhile, were claimed to be advancing on the city from the north.

There was no indication the Germans in the Ukraine had made any attempt to force a crossing of the Dnieper River, east of which the Russians are setting up a new defence line.

NAZIS CLAIM

(Continued from Page One)

Extravagent Claims Made

German spokesmen asserted a roster of prisoners of such magnitude would indicate total Red army losses in dead, wounded and captured of about 5,000,000, but the high command did not go so far.

The communique reported operations "in full progress on the entire front" and gave this outline of the situation:

"In the southern Ukraine, the opponents' last bases on the Dnieper are being eliminated according to plan with heaviest losses for the foe.

"Northwest of Kiev, the enemy is retreating beyond the Dnieper.

"In the region east of Gomel, pursuit of the defeated opponent is being continued.

Claim Ground Gained

"On the front before Leningrad and in Estonia, our troops are fighting their way steadily forward. Attacks on the Finnish front on both sides of Lake Ladoga are gaining ground daily."

German spokesmen claimed troops around Odessa occupied the port of Ochakov, 45 miles east.

The sources asserted Ochakov, which they called a base for light forces of the Red army, was taken by a German division which participated in the Greek campaign.

VISCOUNT HALIFAX SAFE IN ENGLAND

British Ambassador to U.S. Will Report to Churchill

London, Aug. 22—(CP)—Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, arrived today at a British airport after crossing the Atlantic from Canada in a bomber.

The Ambassador, who will report to Prime Minister Churchill and the Cabinet on British-American relations and the results of his recent visit to the Pacific Coast, is expected to return to Washington late next month.

Crab Meat Tariff Lifted 50 P. C. By FDR's Order

Hyde Park, N.Y., Aug. 22—(AP)—President Roosevelt ordered today a 50 per cent increase in the tariff on imported crab meat, of which Japan is the chief source of supply.

This action was taken in a proclamation declaring that the duties on imported crab meat shall be raised from 15 to 22 1-2 per cent ad valorem.

While the proclamation was an innocent-looking document on its surface, it constituted a link in a chain of economic measures taken by the United States Government after Japan moved into air and naval bases in southern French Indo-China.

The most far-reaching step was the freezing of Japanese credits and the imposition of a form of export control. But observers noted that fishing is a primary occupation of the Japanese and that crab meat has been an important export.

CONGRESS SPLITS ON LOAN ISSUE FOR THE SOVIET

Loan Administrator Says He is Ready to Give Assistance When Asked

Washington, Aug. 22 — (AP) — Question of a war loan for Russia produced a sharp division in legislative opinion today, and Senator John Danaher (Rep.-Conn.) demanded Congress be given full details before any credits are placed at Soviet disposal for the purchase of military supplies in the United States.

Danaher called attention to a statement of Jesse Jones that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be ready to make a cash loan to Russia for war purposes, if and when they need it, assuming the administration policy favored such assistance.

The Senator told reporters he thought it "preposterous to ask American taxpayers to foot the bills when Russian resources are fully equal to our own."

Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, told his Press conference Wednesday that no formal application for credits had been received from Russia, but some exploratory conversations had taken place.

His announced readiness to consider a loan for Russia won quick support from Senators Elbert Thomas (Dem.-Utah) and Josiah Bailey (Dem.-North Carolina), advocates of increased aid to countries fighting Germany.

Bailey told newsmen that while he held no brief for the Soviet form of government, he did not think that ideological dislikes should enter the U.S. from any material contribution it could make to hasten a Nazi defeat.

"If it was a den of rattlesnakes opposing Hitler, I would aid and abet them," he said.

While Danaher saw no objection to establishment of a medium of dollar exchange by which Russia could convert some of her natural resources into cash to buy war supplies here, he forecast strenuous opposition to any move to accept a "promissory note" from Russia, which Jones had indicated might be sufficient.

Nevertheless, Danaher said he believed there was little Congress could do to block such a loan since it had authorized the export-import bank and R.F.C. agencies to engage in such transactions.

Bad Weather Saves Enemy Targets from RAF

London, Aug. 22. (CP)—Adverse weather conditions over the continent saved enemy targets from further pounding by the Royal Air force during the night while Nazi raids on Britain continued on a small scale.

A comunique said enemy activity over the Isles was limited and that no casualties resulted from a few bombs dropped near the east coast in a "nuisance" raid. One Nazi bomber was shot down off the east coast early last night and another off the northeast coast by British fighters today.

During daylight yesterday three waves of bombers, escorted by hundreds of fighters spread havoc in blasts at railway lines about St. Omer and Bethune in France and at a Nazi-operated steel mill at Ijmuiden in the Netherlands. Bombs were dropped as the British planes swept past the mill at a 50-foot level and several hits were scored in the heart of the foundry. The raiders then machine-gunned nearby Nazi barracks.

Other bombers attacked shipping off the Nazi-held coast and fighters blew up a German torpedo boat with a hit in its magazine. Numerous other engagements were fought with Nazi fighter aircraft.

As an example of the driving force of R.A.F. raids, one British source said that during the past two months more British bombers have been over Germany in a single night than the Nazis ever sent over Britain in one night.

c dina 22h teBnieun

FIVE CANADIAN

(Continued from Page One)

in the face of the enemy," the citation added.

Lewis' father lives in Battleford, Sask.

McIntosh, who has engaged in 28 sorties, was lauded for consistent enthusiasm and determination in operations against the enemy.

"On one occasion, when returning from a bombing operation on Cologne, severe icing conditions caused failure of the port engine and partial loss of flying controls," the citation said.

"Although the aircraft lost height from 17,000 to 3,000 feet, McIntosh by fine display of airmanship and leadership was able to maintain height and get the defective engine started again. His skill, confidence and cheerfulness have inspired his crew at all times."

Marshall, who has carried out 52 raids in Libya and Greece, has been in the R.A.F. for nine years. The citation said: "On two occasions, though his aircraft was hit, he managed by skillful manoeuvring to get safely back to base. During the evacuation from Greece he carried out 12 flights from Menidi to Crete in the face of enemy opposition."

Commentator Says Wavell's Army Now in Iran

New York, Aug. 22—(CP)—John W. Vandercook, an NBC commentator, said last night in a broadcast he had "reliable information" that Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, heading a considerable British armed force, had crossed the frontier of the Indian province of Beluchistan into Iran.

(There was no immediate confirmation of this report from other sources. An authoritative source in London, when questioned about the report, said that as "far as he knew" no British force had crossed the Iran frontier.)

Britain and Russia have warned Iran to expel German "tourists" known to be in that country and believed preparing the groundwork for a Nazi coup as was done in Iraq and elsewhere.

WM. McDONALD STRUCK BY CAR

Walked From Behind Truck Into Side of Moving Vehicle

Stepping out from behind a truck from which he had just alighted, 79-year-old William C. McDonald, First Concession of Thurlow, walked into the side of a moving motor car on Highway No. 2 four miles east of Belleville at noon today.

McDonald was rushed to the Belleville General Hospital suffering from severe abrasions of the hands and arms and head lacerations, while a more serious shoulder injury necessitated an X-ray.

Mr. McDonald was about to go into his home at the noon hour, when he stepped from behind a truck, in which he had been riding, and walked into side of a moving motor car driven by W. P. Stoddard of Toronto. Motorcycle Patrolmen Wm. Milton and J. H. Hatch investigated.

CARMAN CHURCH RAZED TO GROUND

Another of South Marysburg Historical Landmarks Passes Into History

Point Traverse, Aug. 22— Workmen have completed razing to the ground the Carman Church, and another of South Marysburg's historical landmarks passes into history.

With the tearing down of the once inspiring edifice, several old and interesting papers have been brought to light, after reposing in a sealed niche of the corner stone of the building for some sixty-four years.

The historical documents are in possession of Mr. Clayton Stuffles of Milford. Mr. Stuffles purchased the building some time ago, and has been busily engaged in dismantling and hauling away the large quantity of material which will serve some useful purpose.

The papers, although legible, are in a poor state of preservation. A copy of the minutes of the Niagara, Ontario and Bay of Quinte Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada, Hamilton, 1876, is well preserved although minus cover. The Globe, Toronto, July 17, 1877, devotes several columns to the Bulgarian Campaign during the Turco-Russian War. Other papers were: Canadian Christian Advocate, July 11, 1877; The Weekly Free Press, Ottawa, May 31, 1877; The Picton Gazette, July 13, 1877; The New Nation and Picton Times, July 14, 1877 and The Mail, Toronto, July 17, 1877.

Among the papers were a few coppers and an old English halfpenny.

The original pulpit and corner stone has been removed to Milford and will be preserved by the United Church.

The Carman Church was erected in 1877 and had been in disuse since 1926.

Labor Party Likely To Reject Offer Of Premier Menzies

Canberra, Aug. 22 (CP)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies in a letter to John Curtin, opposition leader, offered an Australian National Government today with equal cabinet representation for Labor.

Under the proposal, parliament would select the prime minister.

Political quarters said they regarded rejection of the offer as certain.

(The Labor party refused previous invitations to join the government. The government and the opposition at present are at loggerheads over a proposal that Mr. Menzies go to London to discuss the war with British leaders. The Labor party is opposed to such a trip, contending that in view of the gravity of the war situation the Prime Minister should remain in Australia.

(In the last election of the Lower House, held September 21, 1940, the coalition government parties won 37 seats while the opposition won 36 seats. There is one Independent.)

FOOD MINISTER PRAISES PREMIER FOR HELP GIVEN

Canada Keeping Flow Of Supplies to United Kingdom at High Level

DELIVERS LETTERS

(By R. K. Carnegie)

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 22.—(CP Cable) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King, after a conference with Lord Woolton today, told The Canadian Press that the Minister of Food had expressed appreciation of the "big help" Canada is giving in keeping up the flow of food supplies to the United Kingdom.

The Minister assured the Canadian Prime Minister that the Ministry of Food is prepared to co-operate in every way to maintain this flow and possibly to increase it.

He said the movement of such Canadian products as wheat, bacon, cheese and other commodities would be kept up and the Food Ministry would do its utmost to smooth out any difficulties that might develop.

The Prime Minister met Lord Woolton at his hotel suite and later received Canadian newsmen. Asked if he was getting back his land legs Mr. King replied "I never lost them".

Before leaving with High Commissioner Vincent Massey for a luncheon given by the British Cabinet, Mr. King said his conferences so far had deepened his conviction that the Canadian government is being kept fully informed regarding the war effort.

Canada Thanked by Churchill

The Prime Minister, who arrived in London yesterday morning after landing in northern Britain the day before following an Atlantic bomber flight, made two disclosures in connection with his first day's activities in London.

He said Prime Minister Churchill thanked Canada particularly for her assistance in armed forces, financial credits, and food supplies.

Mr. King also told newsmen he delivered personally at Buckingham Palace letters from the Governor General and Princess Alice for the King and Queen and Queen Mary.

Reiterating his opposition to an imperial war cabinet, Mr. King said the situation is entirely different from that of the last war. He said that Sir Robert Borden in his memoirs had stressed the inability of the Canadian Government to obtain information from the British authorities.

"There is no such difficulty this time," the Prime Minister commented.

Under the present arrangement, he continued, when a problem requires a decision from the various Dominions, Ottawa is fully advised and the matter comes up before the cabinet. Canadian technical advisers are brought in. The decision is made in black and white after every member of the cabinet has expressed his views and technical advice has been weighed.

A Better System is Claim

Mr. King said he is convinced that this is a better system than an Imperial War Cabinet. in which he or one of the Ministers would sit without facilities for ready consultation with his Canadian colleagues.

The Prime Minister said he is looking forward with keen delight to meeting officers and men of the Canadian armed forces tomorrow when he attends a sports meeting.

Mr. King has been so rushed since his arrival that he has been unable to deal with correspondence pouring in from Ottawa. On his return from the government luncheon he planned to devote the afternoon to that task.

The hotel where the Prime Minister and his party are staying has a real Canadian touch. Canadian soldiers are on guard on the floor where Mr. King's suite is located. High Commissioner Massey has a suite in the same hotel to facilitate consultation.

No Speeches at Luncheon

The luncheon tendered by the British government was held in a small private dining room in a west end hotel. Roast goose was the chief item on the menu. There were no speeches.

Guests included Clement Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Anderson, Lord President of the Council, Arthur Greenwood, Minister Without Portfolio, and Viscount Cranborne, Secretary for the Dominions.

After the lunch, Mr. King, accompanied by Mr. Massey, left for his hotel.

TO ACCOMPANY PREACHER

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 22 (AP) — Rev. Alfred S. Smertz's two-week vacation trip won't keep the congregations of his two Reformed Churches from hearing him preach. They'll accompany him by bus to New York Sunday, then by steamship up the Hudson to Indian Point Park, where he'll conduct services.

GAS SHORTAGE PINCHES DRIVERS AT WASHINGTON

Some Pleasure Car Drivers Given Only Half Fuel Ordered

SOME GET 5 GALLONS

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP).—The long-forecast gasoline shortage in the eastern United States pinched motorists today, with the nation's capital hit earliest and heaviest.

Some Washington filling stations sold pleasure car drivers only half as much fuel as they ordered. Others put a limit of five gallons on individual sales; others went as low as three. Yet some establishments were complying without question when requested to "fill 'er up".

Ralph K. Davis, acting petroleum coordinator, renewed his denunciation of prophets who he said had "arisen to proclaim that there is no danger" and that "the warnings of an impending shortage are 'phony'."

He said afise figures are being circulated in an apparent attempt to "confuse the public" by challenging the necessity of diverting American tankers to British war supply service.

Deliveries To Stations Reduced.

That diversion of vessels was necessary, government officials said, and they declared it reduced the flow of oil to the east from gulf ports to such an extent that last week's curtailment order became necessary. Jobbers have been instructed to reduce their deliveries to filling stations 10 per cent. below last month. Now some retailers are discovering that their August quota is nearly gone and that they must restrict sales to individual customers.

Expanding on the government-ordered night curfew, a number of stations in the Washington and the Philadelphia areas and elsewhere announced they would lock up all day Sundays.

Nether Gelfer, president of a New York City gasoline trade group, said 500 of the 7,000 stations in the metropolis might be forced to close soon for the remainder of August, because they defied the night curfew order and exhausted their supply.

Croats Say Italy, Hungary Ask Territory

Berlin, Aug. 22 (AP).—Croats here today said both Italy and Hungary are demanding more territory from Croatia—the puppet kingdom created out of Yugoslavia.

Italy, they said, has dismissed the Croat civil administration in one entire district, claiming the Croats are not vigorous enough in combatting Communism and are not displaying ability to fight bands of Serb insurgents.

The Croats said Italy wants the entire Dalmatian coast and territory extending inland for 50 miles.

German spokesmen, when asked whether it was true Italy already had occupied Croat territory beyond that originally agreed upon, said they could not go into details.

EASY TERMS
NO MONEY DOWN
AS LOW AS 57c A WEEK
ROYAL
DOMINION ROYAL TIRES

GET the DOMINION ROYAL Tires you need right now . . . take months to pay for them on the easiest terms in town. Liberal trade-in allowance for your old tires.

PROVINCIAL TIRE CO.
2 DUNDAS ST. E. PHONE 606

TRUCK BURIED AS STREET CAVES-IN

This is how the long, long trailer wound up after taking a back dive into a Cleveland street cave-in caused by heavy rains. The back part of the huge truck fell 18 feet into the hole, dragging the rest with it. Joseph Miller, 36, the driver suffered cuts and bruises, and was treated at a hospital. The truck was carrying a heavy load of slag.

12 U.S. Defence Workers Adrift on Rudderless Barge 1,240 Miles East of Honolulu

San Pedro, Calif., Aug. 22 (AP).—Twelve United States defence workers are being blown about the Pacific on a powerless, rudderless dredge by a gale.

The dredge, a $500,000 craft owned by the Standard Dredging Co. of New York, was torn from its towing steamship, the Chippewa, early yesterday. Its position then was given as 1,240 miles due east of Honolulu. It was en route to Honolulu for use on a navy project. Capt. John Allison of the Chippewa radioed an appeal to "rush navy tug from coast and one from Honolulu."

Court G. Harrington, Honolulu manager for Standard Dredging, wirelessed that a navy destroyer and a tug were joining the search.

The spokesman said the 1,000-ton dredge probably was being blown about five miles an hour. It has an intership radio with a 75-mile range.

One of Capt. Allison's messages was reported as "impossible to return to dredge owing to fuel shortage. . . . Send destroyer with plane to locate and stand by dredge."

The Standard spokesman said the men on the dredge have food and water for 15 days and that their only danger is in being swamped by the gale. He said "the storm is plenty bad" but "the dredge should weather it."

The dredge has no power and no steering gear.

4 FISHING BOATS SEIZED IN L. ERIE

Game Wardens Lay Charges of Illegal Fishing in Lake Erie

Pelee Island, Aug. 22 (CP)—Four 40-foot, gasoline-powered American trap net fishing boats, out of Sandusky, O., seized by Ontario game wardens, for alleged illegal fishing off Point Pelee in Lake Erie today were taken to Kingsville.

Game wardens met no resistance from the boat crews. The men were brought to the island and then released but their boats and all fishing gear on them held to ensure appearance of the men to answer the charges. Should they not appear, equipment will be confiscated.

The American crews will be charged with commercial fishing in Canadian waters without a licence and prosecutions will be undertaken by the Ontario Game and Fisheries Department under provincial statutes.

It was learned the seizures were ordered by the Ontario Department after persistent complaints had been received of the presence of American boats in Canadian waters.

Lipson's Open New Addition

Featuring a wider variety of merchandise and offering a decidedly better service to an ever-growing clientele of regular customer's, the Greater Lipson's, with many additional square feet of floor space added to their already commodious store, was opened to the Belleville buying public this morning.

Forced by the demands of their constantly growing business to provide extra space for the display of a greater range and variety of merchandize, the store management decided about one month ago to expand their floor space to the full extent of their modern building. Partitions enclosing the store formerly occupied by Laurie Lewis were taken out, the show windows and interior re-decorated and new merchandizing equipment installed.

The new floor space was utilized for a much greater range of men's and boys' ready-to-wear than had been formerly carried by this popular department store chain in this city while opening day specials include many items of men's and women's wearing apparal.

Customers shopping at the Greater Lipson's Store are assured of the largest assortment of goods to choose from and all of unexcelled values. The popular Lipson principle of "Goods Satisfactory or Money Refunded," meets with wide approval of customers shopping at Lipson's.

THE WAR TODAY

By DON GILBERT
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

A concentration of invasion barges at the German-occupied islands of Samos off the Turkish coast was reported from Turkey today. Yesterday dispatches from Ankara reported German military activity in Bulgaria close to the Turkish frontier.

The foundation of these reports, suggesting German preparation for action against Turkey, appears rather thin, the dispatches attributing the information to "foreign diplomatic sources" and "travellers from southwest Turkey."

Yet the reports of German preparations for the invasion of Russia began in the same way last May and June. Accordingly some credence must be placed in the current rumors.

Two Nazi Objectives Seen

The Germans may have two objectives as regards Turkey. First seizure of the Dardanelles to open a new water route to supply the German armies which have reached the Black Sea in the Ukraine and hope to continue eastward toward the Caucasus. German communications overland are known to be badly jammed and new transport facilities have become a pressing need.

Secondly, the Germans may hope to smash clear through Turkey to Iran (Persia) and the southern confines of the Soviet Caucasus, thus carrying out a gigantic pincers movement around the Black Sea. As Turkey would be expected to resist any German aggression, an attempt to win control of the Straits probably would lead to complete invasion.

Germans Draw Heavily On Oil Reserves

It may be the Germans are willing to stake everything on obtaining new oil resources this year. These can be obtained only in the Caucasus, Iraq or Iran. There can be no doubt that the Germans are drawing heavily on their reserves of gasoline and lubricants in the prolonged Russian campaign, and the need of replenishment for next year's fighting must be urgent.

Britain and Russia are said to haxe given Iran a time limit for expelling Nazi Fifth Columnists. In the event of further stalling, Russia probably will send forces down from the Caucasus. This would confront the Shah's kingdom with Allied operatoins from three sides.

Some reports already have British forces in Iran with Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell "at their head." London denies this. In any case Gen. Wavell would not take the field. He is Commander-in-Chief for India, a command which carries responsibility for the defence of the entire Indian Empire.

Tourist Season In This District Successful One

The current tourist season has been one of the most successful from the standpoint of tourist homes and camps throughout Hastings, especially those bordering lakes in the northern section, was the opinion of Mr. J. O. Herity, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, when questioned on the subject this morning.

The numbers of tourists and campers vacationing near northern lakes who come from points south of the Canadian-American border far exceeded those from Ontario centres, was the opinion of Mr. Herity, this despite the fact that the program of gasoline conservation was introduced at the height of the tourist season. That tourists were taking the restrictions all as a matter of course, was evidenced by the fact that their numbers did not decrease with the inauguration of the new night and Sunday closing of service stations.

From the standpoint of the casual observer, Mr. Herity was inclined to think that the great majority of the tourists were patronising hotels and tourist homes rather than the tourist camps, a definite lessening in the numbers of cabin trailers being noticed on the roads. Late in starting, the tourist season did not actually get really under way until mid-July, but, their numbers have steadily increased, with highway travel throughout Eastern Ontario expected to reach a zenith in the next two weeks as a result of attendance at the Canadian National Exhibition.

ROOSEVELT AT HIGH PARK

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt arrived today from Washington at his family home, where the Duke of Kent will be a week-end guest.

The Duke has been touring Canada. He is to arrive here tomorrow, spend Saturday and Sunday and return with Mr. Roosevelt to Washington Monday.

Final Outdoor Band Concert Of Season Sunday

The final outdoor band concert of the season, culminating a series of such concerts staged at the Agricultural Park during the summer will be staged on Sunday evening starting at 8:30 it was announced this morning by Bandmaster Lieut. Fred Jobson. The series of concerts which have been staged fortnightly by the Belleville Municipal Band have been immensely popular from the standpoint of district music-lovers as has been determined by splendid response in attendance. Bandmaster Jobson and the members of the local band trust that this final outdoor concert of the year will be favored by the usual fine attendance.

The program of the concert to be staged Sunday evening is as follows:

March—The Liberators .. Aucliffe
Overture—Orpheus in the Underworld .... Offenbach
Intermezzo—After Sunset ... Jones
March Review—Colonel Bogey on Parade .. .. Alford
Selection—The Bing Boys are Here .. .. Ayer
March—The Kilties ...... Morris
Selection—Billy Sunday's Songs .... Fillmore
Regimental Marches—(a) Lincoln and Welland; (b) Argyll Light Infantry (Tank); (c) Dufferin Rifles of Canada.
Hymn—Abide With Me.
God Save The King.

ITALIAN CLAIMS

Rome, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Italian High Command claimed today axis bombing planes had damaged two British light cruisers and a destroyer in the Mediterranean.

The cruisers, the daily communique said, were bombed by German planes off the beseiged Libyan port of Tobruk. Italian planes were credited with torpedoing the destroyer during an attack on a British naval formation in the eastern Mediterranean.

(Comment on these claims was not immediately available in London.)

Thailand Trusts Both Governments

Bangkok, Thailand, Aug. 22 (AP). The Thai radio told the people today that the government fully trusted British and Japanese assurances that no attack on this country was contemplated, but warned them to dig air-raid shelters as a "commonsense preparedness".

The announcer said any possible offensive from British Malaya or Burma via Thailand was strategically impracticable but added that a direct attack from Japanese-occupied Indo-China might be more feasible.

No nation will be able to attack Thailand without meeting the most stubborn resistance, Luang Vichitar Vadakarn, Minister of State, said today in a broadcast on "the security of Thailand".

Repeating once again Thailand's declarations of complete neutrality and opposition to any invader, he said "to die as free men is better than to live as slaves".

Charge Men in Gangfight Crashed Their Flivers Two Held For Manslaughter

Los Angeles, Aug. 22 (AP)— Ramon Araujo, 21 and Porfidio Vargas, 22, were charged with manslaughter today for the deaths of two companions in an alleged duel with jalopies. Police charged that at the height of a gangfight Saturday night, Araujo and Vargas deliberately crashed their flivvers. Peter Del Gado, 18 and Peter Barrasas, 16, were thrown from Araujo's car and killed.

RELEASED ON $2,000 BAIL

Brockville, Ont., Aug. 28 (CP)—Lionel Copplestone, 30, Augusta Township farmer, was released on bail of $2,000 last night to appear at a later date on three charges of cattle stealing preferred by Provincial Constable A. MacLeod, Prescott.

Direct Factory to You
Electric Sewing Machine Specials
JUST IN TIME FOR "BACK-TO-SCHOOL" SEWING

LIMITED STOCK.
WHILE THEY LAST!
$49.50
Beautiful Brand New Console in gleaming walnut finish with full size mechanism, fully guaranteed and operates on 25 or 60 cycles.

BE ON HAND EARLY

Every Sewing Machine has been priced for "QUICK SELLING" and Special Terms prevail to give everyone the opportunity to take advantage of this Sensational Offer.

David's Electric Shop
340 FRONT STREET OPEN EVENINGS.

GOLF BALL 'LOST' IN SUN BREAKS WRIST OF GOLFER'S FATHER

Los Angeles, Aug. 22 (AP)—Guy Price, Jr., playing in a golf tournament at Lake Arrowhead, pitched a shot toward the green. The gallery ahead, trying to follow the ball's flight, lost it in the sun. Suddenly they heard it strike, and a man groan. He had been hit; his wrist broken. The spectator? Guy Price, Sr.

NAZIS WHO SURRENDERED VOLUNTARILY TO RUSSIANS

This radiophoto from Moscow shows a group of smiling German soldiers who voluntarily surrendered to the Red Army.

LENINGRAD RESIDENTS EYE CAPTURED PLANE

A picture passed by the Soviet censors and radioed to New York from Moscow, showing a captured German plane which has been placed on exhibition in the square in Leningrad where all may gather 'round and look, as they do in this picture. German communiques tell of the capture of the important Ukraine city of Nicholaev.

RUSSIANS BLAST DAM TO HALT NAZIS

This is the gigantic Dnieper Dam, pride of the Soviet, which it is reported has been blown up by retreating Russian forces to stem the German advance in the Ukraine. The blowing up of the huge dam unleashed a wall of water agains. the Nazis and gave the Soviet forces an opportunity to prepare new defensive positions.

Probabilities

Moderate variable winds; fair today and Sunday; cool tonight.

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	68	57
One Year Ago	66.2	43

Weather—Fair

★★

RED ARMY STANDS FIRM BEFORE LENINGRAD

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

IRAN STRENGTHENS ALL BORDER DEFENCES

Soviet Summary Says Nazi Plans Twice Shattered

German Losses Put At Two Million Killed, Wounded and Captured

NAZI CONVOY ATTACKED

Moscow, Aug. 23. (AP)—Marshal Klementi Voroshiloff, defender of Leningrad, repeated urgent proclamations today declaring the Soviet's second city in "terrible danger" and urging Soviet citizens to perform their "holy duty" in fighting off the Nazi invader.

"Dig yourselves in. Leningrad was, is and shall forever remain the city of the great October revolution," Voroshilov urged in an appeal to the citizens' army and regular troops.

"A terrible danger is hanging over Leningrad," he said. "The decisive moment has arrived. The enemy is nearing Leningrad. Our holy duty is to self-sacrificingly defend the path of the approaches to the city."

Standing Fast on All Fronts

The Soviet communique, however had by inference reported the Red army standing fast all along the front from Leningrad to the Black Sea, with no new areas of fighting mentioned.

Pravda, Communist party newspaper, said in a report from the front that combined forces of the Red Army and People's Army had lifted the siege of an unnamed city and driven the Nazis back six miles in a counter-attack.

Leningrad was the focal point of the German attack and heavy anti-aircraft fire there was reported beating off repeated thrusts of the Nazis, while the huge city's sprawling industries ground out supplies for the battling Soviet forces and citizens built and manned barricades in the streets.

A Russian war bulletin, which acknowledged no withdrawals on any sector of the front, said in a summary of the first two months of the war that the Germans had lost more than 2,000,000 men in killed, wounded and captured, while Red Army losses aggregated 700,000.

The Russians published the summary on the second anniversary of the thunderbolt announcement that a pact of peace had been signed between Moscow and Berlin—a pact scrapped last June 22 when Hitler sent his armies into Russia.

Of action along the battlefront the midnight report of the Soviet Bureau of Information said only: "During Aug. 22 our troops continued to fight stubbornly with the enemy on the entire front." It added that the Red fleet had attacked a German convoy in the Baltic, presumably reinforcing the attack on Leningrad, and sunk two transports and two escorting motorboats. Three other transports were said to have been pursued to shore, there they ran aground.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 5)

Nazis Hammer at Russian Airdromes On the Outskirts of Leningrad

RAIL LINES BOMBED

Berlin, Aug. 23 (AP)— The war bulletin from Hitler's headquarters, silent anew on details of the Russian campaign, reported today only that "operations on the east front continue according to plan."

D.N.B., the German propaganda agency, claimed that important secret documents and other material of the Soviet High Command have fallen into German hands through the downing of Marshal Klementi Voroshilov's courier plane.

Waves of German bombers were claimed to be hammering at Russian airdromes on the outskirts of Leningrad as Nazi troops pressed their offensive against the Soviet city, cradle of the October revolution and the chief prize of the northern flank where the Russians have entrusted the defence to Voroshilov.

The Nazis claimed eight airports were raided yesterday, and 35 Russian planes were destroyed on the ground and 16 in air fights. Rail lines east of the city also were reported bombed.

Dive bombers were said to be blasting Red anti-aircraft positions north and east of Narva, which is 90 miles southwest of Leningrad.

(The Finnish High Command claimed Finnish troops had reached points 50 miles north of Leningrad after breaking up five Soviet divisions and cracking defences set up by the Russians on the former Finnish Mannerheim Line. The entire northeast short of the Vuoksi River was claimed to be in Finnish hands.)

D.N.B., Nazi propaganda and news agency, claimed German planes attacked armored and freight trains east of Gomel in the central sector of the front. Heavy Russian losses were claimed in the southern sector as a result of Nazi air bombardments.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said the central sector army of Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock had established liaison with the southern army of Field Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt—a development claimed to be "extremely important" by the newspaper.

REQUEST OUT OF ORDER

Victoria, Aug. 23 (CP)—Labor Minister G. S. Pearson last night said he had received an application from the American Can Company for appointment of another Board of Conciliation to mediate the strike of 400 employees tying up its Vancouver plant, but said that since the strike already has begun, the request is "out of order."

"So long as the men are out I am powerless," he said. "I shall however ask the men if they are prepared to accept another Conciliation Board.

65TH CASUALTY LIST

Ottawa, Aug. 23 (CP)—Twelve men today were reported dead or missing in the 65th casualty list of the Royal Canadian Air Force, the total included one killed during air operations overseas, two killed in overseas flying accidents, seven missing after overseas air operations, one death from natural causes in Canada and one killed in a Canadian flying accident.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 23 (CP)—Synopsis—The weather has been moderately warm with scattered showers in Ontario and the western provinces.

PLACE:	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Victoria	55	66	54
Calgary	52	85	51
Saskatoon	52	76	48
Winnipeg	43	71	41
Toronto	57	82	55
Ottawa	60	72	55
Montreal	61	70	53
Sault Ste. Marie	43	65	40
Detroit	58	84	56
New York	69	78	65
Miami	84	87	80
Los Angeles	66	81	63

NAZIS THREATEN TO SHOOT FRENCH HELD 'HOSTAGES'

Action Taken After Member of German Army Stabbed in Subway

MANY DISTURBANCES

Vichy, Aug. 23 (AP)—German military authorities put the lives of thousands of Frenchmen in pawn today for any new violence following assassination of a German Colonel in the Paris subway, and the Petain government of unoccupied France followed an earlier German lead by decreeing death for Communists and Anarchists.

But even while the roundups of suspects continued, news reached Vichy today of a new train wreck in the occupied zone at the entrance to the Valdonne tunnel in Mussat Plain yesterday. Thirty miners were injured.

Police raids in Paris were reported to have turned from the working class districts to the swank Champs Elysees section of the eight Arrondissement.

Their progress was not disclosed, however, following repercussions of the first news that got out.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 5)

ITALIAN SEAMAN ESCAPES CAMP

Internee Breaks Away From Camp Gang While Working With Fatigue Squad

Montreal, Aug. 23 (CP)—Civilians, responding to a request from police and military authorities, kept a lookout today for swarthy Tullie Festa, a 26 year old Italian seaman who escaped from an internment camp near Montreal late yesterday afternoon.

The seaman, who was regarded as a non-dangerous Class "C" alien, broke away from the camp while working with a fatigue squad of about three dozen men.

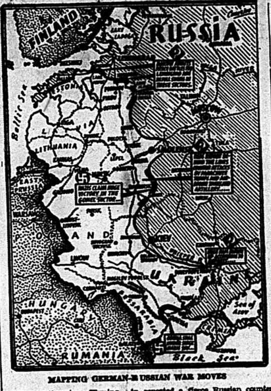
An immediate alarm was sent out and police began guarding all bridges connecting Montreal Island with the south shore of the St. Lawrence River. All south shore highways in the vicinity were patrolled by military detachments.

Festa, the 63rd. prisoner to escape from a Canadian internment camp, was described as a man five feet five inches tall, 132 pounds, of swarthy complexion, brown eyes, dark-brown hair and in good physical condition.

Military authorities said the internee speaks only a few words of English.

DOGS ATTACK RATTLESNAKE

Waynesboro, Miss., Aug. 23—(AP)—Two pet dogs attacked a rattlesnake coiled to strike the young son of Edwin Smith. They saved the child's life but died themselves from the reptile's venom. Smith, summoned by the boy's sister killed the snake.



MAPPING GERMAN-RUSSIAN WAR MOVES

With southwestern Ukraine in Nazi hands, Odessa under continued siege, and Leningrad in range of Nazi guns, the Germans claimed a new victory in the Battle of Gomel on the central front. Moscow reported a fierce Russian counter-offensive along the central front with airplanes dropping tanks manned by infantrymen, and claimed the Germans were hurled back in three successive lines.

NAZI LAWS REST HEAVILY ON JEWS IN NETHERLANDS

Holland Jews Forbidden to Eat Kosher Meat, Decreed by Religion

MANY RESTRICTIONS

By LLOYD LEHBRAS
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Holland Jews are forbidden to eat kosher meat as decreed by their religion, under one of the many anti-Jewish orders promulgated by Nazi authorities in the conquered Netherlands, according to authoritative reports received in diplomatic quarters here.

To doubly insure compliance with the dietary prohibition, the reports added, the German occupation authorities issued ordinance No. 80 "to prevent tormenting of animals when slaughtered." That ordinance was interpreted to prohibit the Jewish ritual of slaughtering which is required to obtain kosher meat.

Charge Jews With Instigating Strife

German authorities have charged Jews with instigating numerous anti-Nazi activities. Some of the decrees were alleged to have been issued to suppress "Jewish secret organizations" and punish Jews for plots against Nazi rule.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

DUKE OF KENT TO SPEND 3 DAYS WITH ROOSEVELT

Will Pay Friendly Visit to President of U. S. at Hyde Park

GOES TO OSHAWA

Toronto, Aug. 23 (CP).—H.R.H, the Duke of Kent leaves Toronto today to open the newest training establishment under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan at nearby Oshawa, to inspect the manufacture of military vehicles in the General Motors plant and to take off for a three-day visit with President Roosevelt.

But he is leaving here a little bit weary after one of the most trying days of his Canadian tour. Although last night His Royal Highness had no official engagements and spent the evening with friends, yesterday he spent hours walking through the Canadian National Exhibition here and struggling through crowds that literally mobbed him.

The King's brother was good natured about it all and from the Exhibition he went to make a thorough inspection of the vast premises of the No. 1 Manning Depot of the Royal Canadian Air Force here.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

Prime Minister Mackenzie King Attends Canadian Corps Field Day

(By R. K. CARNEGIE)
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Somewhere in England, Aug. 23 (C.P. Cable)—Mixed cheers and boos greeted Prime Minister Mackenzie King when he arrived at a sports stadium here today to attend a Canadian Corps field day during his first visit to Canada's overseas army.

There was much handclapping and the obvious background of boos quietened down momentarily when the Prime Minister walked across the track to inspect the guard of honor of the Black Watch.

Ten thousand troops were present at the stadium in what was believed to be the largest single gathering of Canadian troops ever assembled in Britain.

Assorted handclapping, cheering and booing broke out again after the inspection and lasted for several seconds.

Mr King motored from London to visit the Dominion's overseas army of more than 100,000 men who form one of the most powerful fighting forces in Britain.

Greeted by Corps Commander

He was greeted as he stepped from his automobile by Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Commander of the Canadian Corps, before lunching with the senior officers.

Mr. King and Gen. McNaughton shook hands and chatted briefly outside the building where the luncheon took place. The Prime Minister wore a raincoat over his blue suit and carried a black Homburg. Both men were smiling broadly.

With Gen. McNaughton, Maj. Gen. C. B. Price, Commander of the 3rd Canadian Division, and a Brigadier, Mr. King inspected the guard of honor composed of a French Canadian regiment from Quebec which arrived recently with the 3rd Division. The guard was drawn up in full battle kit with bayonets fixed.

Continued on Page 11, Col. 4)

Finnish Press Claims Avalanche Offensive Turned Against Viipuri

Helsinki, Aug. 23 (AP)—The Finnish press today claimed an "avalanche offensive" has been turned against Viipuri, on the Karelian Isthmus. This was Finland's second largest city before the Russians took it by the treaty of March, 1940, following the Russian-Finnish war.

No details were given, but a Finnish military announcement yesterday claimed penetration southward along the Vuoski River to Kiviniemi, a point less than fifty miles north of Leningrad, and observers said that move practically flanked the Russians in Viipuri and threatened them with eventual encirclement.

Finnish reports stressed that the campaign, which only yesterday was declared to have cut up or routed five Soviet divisions on the Isthmus and around Lake Ladoga, was being conducted by the Finns rather than their German allies.

British Government Seeks Removal Of Transit Duty

London, Aug. 23.— (CP)— The British government has made "urgent" official representations to the Burma government seeking removal of the one per cent transit duty levied against United States lend-lease supplies en route to China over the Burma Road, an informed source said today.

This source explained that "Burma is strictly self-governing in internal affairs and therefore Britain can only make known its views on such a matter".

Removal of the tax was discussed in Chungking Friday by Daniel Arnstein, New York Traffic and Trucking expert who conducted a survey of causes of delays in Burma road traffic.

"The tax has got to go, and believe you me, it's going", Arnstein declared after he had discussed the matter with British officials in Burma.

MANNHEIM BEARS BRUNT OF ATTACKS STAGED BY R.A.F.

Effective Sorties Made Against Le Havre, Ostend and Dunkirk in Occupied Area

BRITAIN ENJOYS RESPITE

London, Aug. 23 (CP)—The Royal Air Force resumed its smashing offensive against Germany during the night with the industrial city of Mannheim bearing the brunt of attacks on western section of the Reich.

Other bombers made effective sorties against harbor facilities at Le Havre and the docks at Ostend and Dunkerque in occupied France. One aircraft was lost in these operations.

Fighter planes veered from regular patrol duties to swoop low over Nazi airdromes in France and machine-gun barracks and hangars.

An Air Ministry new service account said that, despite clouds and changeable weather over Mannheim, "bombs were seen to hit industrial buildings, and all reports agree that fires were many and large."

The bombers had to cruise over the targets for some time awaiting for holes in the clouds through which to aim.

Berlin Admits Raids

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted that British raiders dropped explosives and incendiaries at several places in western and southwestern Germany during the night, causing casualties and damage.)

Meanwhile, the British Isles continued to enjoy respite from Nazi bombers, except for small nuisance raids. Some Nazi planes dropped a few bombs over eastern England last night but no casualties were reported and one Nazi plane was destroyed.

After being grounded by adverse weather conditions Thursday night, the R.A.F. continued its offensive during daylight yesterday and shot down two Nazi fighters during operations. No British planes were lost.

A number of enemy patrol vessels, hangars and grounded Nazi planes were hit in attacks on channel shipping and a German airdrome in northern France.

Churchill Broadcast On Sunday at 4 P. M.

New York, Aug. 23 (CP)—The BBC said today that the London press is "hoping that Mr. Churchill will have something more to say about increasing help for Russia" when he broadcasts Sunday.

The BBC said that "it is possible, too, that Mr. Churchill will refer to facts and information brought back from America by Lord Halifax." The British ambassador to Washington arrived here yesterday by bomber from Canada.

One London newspaper was quoted by the BBC as saying that "many people are anxious for Mr. Churchill to clarify those points of the Atlantic agreement which bear on the economic reconstruction of the world."

The broadcast was heard by CBS. Mr. Chuchill's speech will be carried by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in the Dominion and by all United States networks. The broadcast time is 4 p.m. E.D.T. Mr. Churchill is scheduled to speak 30 minutes.

Newly-Graduated Officers Ordered On Active Duty

Sources in London Indicate Britain Firm in Stand on Germans in Iran

IRANIAN ATTITUDE

Teheran, Iran, Aug. 23 (AP)—Iran, anticipating a showdown on British-Russian demands for expulsion of Nazi technicians from the country, has cancelled leaves for 1,072 newly graduated army officers and has ordered them to the frontiers for active duty with 120,000 troops already there.

A government answer to a British-Russian note was delivered to the British Ministry yesterday. Iran was understood to have shown readiness to reduce the number of German technicians when their contracts in state-owned railroads and communications industries expire. The answer, however, was reported to have stressed that Iran as a neutral, independent power, does not see why she should be forced to risk diplomatic rupture with Germany by expelling all German Nationals at once.

London Sources View

(Sources in London indicated Britain would stand firm on her demands and was ready to send troops into Iran rather than permit 3,000 Germans to remain there. They said Lt.-Gen. Claude J. E. Achunleck, Middle East Commander in Chief who visited London recently, probably gave Prime Minister Churchill a detailed report of British strength in that area.)

Iranians contended the British-Russian demands were to cover plans to enter the country and establish contacts by which British troops could join Russians on the eastern front.

Police Say Only 640 Male Germans in Iran

An official police statement claimed there are only 640 male Germans in the country and that during the last 45 days 50 of these had left.

Iran has an air force of less than 300 aircraft. The country has a small navy, Italian-built, composed of two sloops, five patrol vessels and some motor launches operating in the Caspian Sea and the Persian Gulf.

Latest information shows the army to be split into nine mixed divisions, five independent brigades and one brigade of anti-aircraft, tank and mechanized infantry units.

QUANTITY OF LUMBER DESTROYYED

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 — (AP)—Thousands of dollars worth of lumber being made ready for distribution in United States defence housing work went up in flames of unknown origin which swept the Joseph H. Sykes lumberyard early today in industrial north Philadelphia.

Leaping across a street, the five-alarm blaze destroyed a row of frame buildings at the Coolbaugh millwork plant, a shed of the Robinson Clay Products Company and damaged 12 homes.

Firemen brought the flames under control after an hour's fight.

UNION REJECTS PROPOSAL

Vancouver, Aug. 23 (CP). — The International Typographical Union at its closing convention session last night rejected a proposal for a referendum vote on affiliation with either the Congress of Industrial Organizations or the American Federation of Labor and wound up its week-long session by voting a $2 increase in the weekly pension paid to "old-age" members of the union.

Skipper Swims Thru Boiling Surf, Recovers Lost Lifeboat, Saves 6 Men

Vancouver, Aug. 23 (CP)—The story of how six men were saved from their wrecked fishing boat on the west coast of Vancouver Island when their skipper swam through boiling surf to recover the vessel's lifeboat after it was swept away, reached here today.

The Sea Lad, a 43-foot seine fishing boat, struck a rock off Florence Island, last Friday while making her way through dense fog. Waves from a heavy westerly swell swept the lifeboat from its davits. Captain H. Abe, master of The Sea Lad, jumped into the water and managed to reach the drifting boat. He rowed back to the seiner and took off the crew.

The Sea Lad, badly holed, sank in deep water and is considered a total loss.

B. of T. Strengthens Economic Sanctions Against Japan

London, Aug. 23 (CP)—In a move to strengthen economic sanctions against Japan, the Board of Trade today prohibited the export of goods without licence to China, the Japanese Pacific islands and Macao, Portuguese colony of the Chinese mainland.

The order becomes effective Monday but "does not apply to goods exported through the port of Rangoon (Burma) for transit overland to China by the Burma road."

The Board said supplies for Chungking via the Burma road would be subject to licences henceforth only insofar as they are required "for all destinations abroad or all destinations outside the British Empire."

15 Nazi Consulates In Mexico to Be Closed by Sept. 1

Mexico City, Aug 23.—(AP)—The Mexican government has ordered 15 German consulates throughout Mexico closed by September first, and has called home all Mexican consuls in Nazi-occupied portions of Europe.

The foreign office order last night was accompanied by a bluntly-worded statement by President Manuel Avila-Camacho that his government "does not recognize, nor for any motive can recognize, the state of things created in Europe by violence".

The action was based on what Mexico regarded as an unfriendly act by the Germans—an order from Berlin to withdraw Mexican consular representatives from Paris and six other German-controlled cities.

The Mexican counter-move, similar to steps taken by the United States and Cuba, added to the strain on Mexican-German relations caused last April when the government seized 12 German and Italian vessels refuged in Mexican ports.

At that time Mexico reiterated that her foreign policy was dedicated to western hemisphere solidarity and collaboration with the United States.

JAPANESE CRY ABOUT THAILAND

Tokyo, Aug. 23 (AP) — Domei, Japanese news and propaganda agency, claimed under a Bangkok, Thailand, dateline today that the Thai government and people are being driven into the anti-Japanese encirclement by an intensified British-America propaganda offensive..

The propaganda has succeeded, the Japanese agency contended, because the Thais are "being unfavorably affected against Japan" and are apparently accepting British-American suggestions that the Japanese have territorial designs on the country.

DRIVEN BACK SIX MILES

Moscow, Aug. 23—(AP)—Combined forces of the Red Army and the Russian People's Army were reported today to have saved an undisclosed city from German siege, driving the Nazis back six miles in a counter-attack.

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

MOSCOW — Leningrad reinforcements bolster Red troops defending city.

LONDON — Western and southwestern Germany raided by R.A.F.

VICHY — Death for Communists decreed; thousands of Frenchmen held by Nazis as hostages for slaying of Nazi Colonel in Paris.

TEHERAN — Iran strengthens border defences in anticipation of showdown over British-Russian demands that Nazis be expelled.

Coming Events

DANCE, ARENA GARDENS, AUSpices St. Julien Chapter, I.O.D.E. War Work, Wednesday, August 27. R.C.A.F. Twelve Piece Orchestra. Dancing 9 to 12. Gents 50c; Ladies 25c. A23

GEEN'S PILE REMEDY
FOR QUICK RELIEF. 50c TUBE. PHONE 131
A14-15-16

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

ACQUIRE NEW LADDER FOR FIRE TRUCK

Hitherto forced by lack of ladder equipment on their small hose truck to take both the hook-and-ladders truck and small hose truck in answer to every alarm, where a ladder might be required, the local fire department have entered into the current gas-saving program and with the recent addition of a new ladder to their small truck will henceforth be required to take only the one vehicle in answer to the common chimney fire alarm.

Complying with the requests of Fire Chief William Lynch to supply a ladder for the small hose truck thereby obviating the necessity of taking two trucks to every fire, the local fire commission recently purchased a 25-foot ladder with the intention of fixing it to the truck with side-brackets. A sudden change of policy however resulted in overhead brackets being fixed to the truck and the new "aerial" ladder will ride to fires above the heads of the firemen.

34TH BATTERY MOVES TO THE ARMORIES

Necessitated by the Ontario School for the Deaf taking over their Church Street headquarters to provide temporary classrooms for the pupils, the 34th Battery quarters for the duration of the war will be in two rooms set aside for the purpose in the Belleville Armouries.

Equipment of the Battery formerly stored in their own quarters have already been moved to the location and the Department of Education has taken possession of the Church Street property where minor alterations and installation of plumbing equipment is planned preparatory for opening of classes.

KICKED IN FACE BY A HORSE

Kicked in the face by a horse, Wilfred La Vallee, Hungerford Township farmer, sustained a badly lacerated face and fractured nose yesterday. The injured man received medical attention at the surgery of Dr. Dales in Tweed before being transferred to the Belleville Hospital where the broken nose was attended by Dr. G. H. Stobie.

MOTOR CAR CRASHES INTO HYDRO POLE

When he is alleged to have fallen asleep at the wheel of his motor car, an automobile driven by Ross Fleming, of Marmora, crashed into a hydro pole one mile north of Glen Miller on Highway No. 33 shortly after one o'clock this morning.

The front of the vehicle was completely wrecked, but the driver and occupants of the motor car escaped with but minor injuries. The force of the impact broke an adjacent auxiliary post and loosened the supporting guy wire.

As a sequel to the above accident, another motor car, being driven southerly on the same highway by George McElwain of Point Anne, struck the loosened guy wire, that was stretched across the highway about at a level with a car windshield. As it was dark Mr. McElwain could not see the sagging wire with the result the windshield of his car was shattered when it came in contact with the guy wire. Fortunately no person was cut by the flying glass. Motorcycle Patrolman J. H. Hatch investigated both accidents and charges are pending against Fleming.

It Pays to Shop —
At the Rexall Store.

HAYVAX
INSTANT RELIEF FOR HAY FEVER
Provides Lasting
Comfort
1.00 & 2.00
McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

BRING YOUR HARNESS
to
J. W. Daniels, Foxboro
SAVE MONEY!
—Prompt, Satisfactory Service.—
A21-22-30

CAMP MEETING
IVANHOE
Under the auspices of the
STANDARD CHURCH
AUGUST 22 to 31
REV. A. J. PRING
in charge.
Accommodation for campers provided. ALL WELCOME.
A22-21

An attachment for motor vehicle motors has been invented by a man to utilize vacuum power created by an intake manifold to pump fuel from barrels into a vehicle's tank.

MIDNITE SHOW! AFTER 12.05 SUNDAY MIDNITE!
Monday
Tuesday
Wednesday
A. J. CRONIN'S MIGHTIEST DRAMA—
— A MASTERPIECE OF SUSPENSE!

shining victory
JAMES STEPHENSON
GERALDINE FITZGERALD
Last time TODAY

Extra!
A Wild, Hilarious Comedy Feature!
NUTTY AS A FRUIT CAKE.

She Couldn't Say No

THE THREE MESQUITEERS
in "GANGS OF SONORA" and "STRANGE ALIBI"
CAPITOL

Autumn Classes For O.S.D. Open On October 15

Due to the R.C.A.F. taking over class rooms and residential accommodation of the O.S.D. for use as an Initial Training Centre, autumn classes for the pupils of the Ontario School for the Deaf will not commence here until October 15th, approximately one month later than the usual date, it has been announced by Mr. W. J. Morrison, Principal of the School. The delay in opening classes has been caused by the necessity of school authorities seeking other quarters in the city for classrooms and living accommodations for the pupils.

Due to the fact that Belleville has become the traditional centre for the School for the Deaf and also because many of the teaching staff had permanent homes in the city, every effort has been put forth by school authorities to arrange for the accommodation of as many pupils of the school as possible here. To this end, two private residences, with a possible third, together with the St. Thomas Anglican Church Parish Hall and Rectory, and the local quarters of the 34th Battery have been temporarily acquired by the Ontario Department of Education.

Tentative arrangements call for the establishment of class rooms for at least two thirds of the total enrolment of 300 pupils in the Parish Hall and in the 34th Battery headquarters, while if additional class room is required, part of the Rectory will be used for this purpose. It is also expected that the school offices will be established in the Rectory.

Minor Alterations Made

Minor alterations and the installation of plumbing facilities is planned for all the buildings that have been acquired for temporary use of the school while necessary renovations to permit the buildings being used as dormitories are planned for the private residents which will house the pupils. Living quarters will be in charge of the senior teachers.

The temporary office of the school is in the Rankin residence, formerly known as the Wallbridge property, at the corner of Bridge and Charles Streets. Here the bursar's quarters will be established.

In addition to the former Wallbridge property, which now is under alterations preparatory for occupancy by the school personnel, two other of the city's oldest and most substantial residences will be taken over as living quarters. These include a large residence at 178 Bridge Street East, owned by Mrs. Florence Clare, and the former Col. Lazier property at the corner of Victoria Avenue and John Street. Occupancy of the Lazier property, well-known throughout the city for the beauty of its floral gardens, is however, not definitely assured but it is expected final arrangements will be made within the next week.

Principal Morrison will continue in charge of the school when the fall term opens on October 15th and it is expected that the majority of the teaching staff will also be retained in Belleville. Classes for approximately 100 of the senior pupils of the school, will be arranged in other centres of the province, it is expected.

Belleville Bowlers Lose in Semi-Finals To Ottawa Rinks

Belleville lawn bowlers competing for the Governor General's Trophy lost to Ottawa in the semi-final sudden death series played at Prescott last night. Two teams from Belleville met a brace of rinks from Ottawa and the local bowlers lost by a composite score of 41 to 40, the respective teams winning and losing.

The Belleville team was skipped by Ernie Vanner won by a 20 to 16 score, while the second Belleville rink lost by a 25 to 20 score, giving Ottawa the right to advance into the Governor General's Trophy finals.

The No. 1 team winning for Belleville, was composed of John Bean, Cliff Argue, Harvie Stewart and Ernie Vanner, skip. The second rink was made up of Doug Row, Clarence Clapp, "Davie" Davison and Ab Wonnacott.

Collection at Band Concert for Mobile Canteen Fund

By the kind permission of the Mayor and City Council and members of the Municipal Band, members of the Eastern Star will take up a collection at the Band Concert on Sunday evening at the Fair Grounds, the proceeds being for the Order's Mobile Canteen Fund. A public appeal was made in June in the interests of mobile canteens for Great Britain, for the assistance of those in bombed out areas in England and for war workers engaged in defence duties there. The need of such canteens is pressing, and the Order through broadcast messages over Ontario radio stations and in the press asked the co-operation of citizens in this splendid work.

MR. JAMES ALLISON RETURNS TO STUDIES

Mr. James Allison has returned to his medical studies at University of Toronto after spending the summer holidays as superintendent of Ontario Highway First Aid Posts.

AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE
N-E-X-T
THURS. - FRI. - SAT.

BACK... IN THEIR BATTLING BEST!
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR

South Bay Yields 14-Pound Pike

Point Traverse, Aug. 23—There is a decrease in the numbers of ling being taken from these waters, fishermen operating from here report.

A few seasons ago, large quantities of these much despised, non-commercial pursy looking fish were caught in commercial fishing nets. Being unmarketable, as their consumption as a food fish are unsaleable, they are a hindrance to fishing operations, having to be returned to the waters from which they are taken.

The liver of these fish contain a high percentage of oil that is rich in vitamines and has a high medicinal value.

In 1930 for the first time in Prince Edward County, these fish, also known as burbot or fresh water cod, were canned here, being consigned to Quebec fur farms. The canned fish rationed with prepared feed, constituted an ideal diet for silver fox and mink, fur farm ranchers stated.

14 Pound Pike

While out trolling on South Bay on Friday forenoon, Mr. Rex Hicks, South Bay and Mr. Gordon Whattam, Picton, landed the largest pike to be taken from those waters in some time. The large fish weighed 14 lbs. and measured 38 inches in length.

The strike was made off Potash Point. Taking no chances of loosing their catch, Mr. Hicks and Mr. Whattam made hastily for shore from where the successful landing was made.

This was not the only thrilling catch of the day, for the two much excited anglers also landed four nice bass, the one weighing 3 1-2 pounds, and an 8-pound pike measuring two and one-half feet in length.

3 Pictou County Coal Mines Now Producing

New Glasgow, N.S., Aug. 23—(CP) — Three Pictou County coal mines returned to production today after a brief tie-up forced by 15 striking men, but another strike—in a steel plant making naval shell casings — remained only partially settled.

About 225 men in the shell-forging and shell-finishing departments of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company's plant at nearby Trenton remained away from work when the remainder of the 1,500-man working force ended a short walkout for higher pay last night. They had struck Thursday for the second time in ten days.

With the plant still off full production, the company refused to negotiate on the men's claims for higher pay, objectives of the strike were a cost of living bonus, higher rates in the two departments still idle and assurance all employees received at least $3.20 a day.

Turned Over to Officials

The Trenton local of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee which voted yesterday to end the strike and let the present contract run its course to December, decided after the failure of the 225 dissidents to return to work, to turn the whole matter over to national and international officers of the S.W.O.C. Meanwhile, the other 19 plant departments will continue operations.

Grievance of the 15 power-house employees whose strike tied up the three coal mines was not disclosed. They walked out Wednesday and the consequent failure of power forced a temporary shutdown of Acadia Coal Company's Allan shaft, Albion and McGregor pits, employing 1,200 men.

No Federal Moves

Company clerks went into the power house, at nearby Stellarton, but could raise only enough current to operate pumps in the collieries. Meanwhile, it was announced at Ottawa the Justice Department was prepared to take any necessary action in the case. However, no federal moves in the situation were disclosed here.

Dominic Nearing, sub-district board member for the United Mine Workers of America, said he would represent the strikers in negotiations with the company.

MAPLE SYRUP FINE

At Brockville, Ont., on July 31, 1941, Ethan Davis of Bellamy, Ont., pleaded guilty to selling adulterated syrup. It being his second offence, he was fined $35 and costs by the magistrate. The minimum fine in such case is $25.

★ STARTS MONDAY ★
By Popular Demand!
WE BRING TO THE McCARTHY SCREEN ONE OF THE GREATEST MOVIES EVER MADE!

WE WANT A HUSBAND!
Bachelors beware! Five charming sisters are on a man-hunt! Lovely "Mrs. Chips" and the dashing star of "Rebecca"...match hearts and wits in the merriest of great screen hits
DON'T LET A THING STOP YOU. SEE THIS SHOW!
PRIDE and PREJUDICE
LOVE L-A-U-G-H-S AT
Pride and Prejudice
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

GREER starring LAURENCE with GARSON · OLIVIER
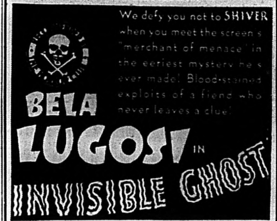
MARY BOLAND · EDNA MAY OLIVER · MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN · ANN RUTHERFORD · FRIEDA INESCORT
And Look! The Year's Super Thriller!
— ON THE SAME PROGRAM —



We defy you not to SHIVER when you meet the screen's "merchant of menace" in the eeriest mystery he's ever made! Blood-stained exploits of a fiend who never leaves a clue!
BELA LUGOSI IN
INVISIBLE GHOST

LATEST McCARTHY - FOX NEWS EVENTS. | 'GLASBAKE' CUSTARD CUPS AND COUPON FOR ? ? ?
ENDS TODAY — ADULTS, 25c Plus Tax Until 6 P.M.
A SWELL SATURDAY EVENING SHOW.
—TWO NEW HITS—
RUBY KEELER in "SWEETHEART OF THE CAMPUS" | DONALD WOODS in "I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND"
COLORED COMEDY CARTOON — BUCK JONES SERIAL
AIR CONDITIONED McCARTHY THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

Churchill Aboard Canadian Warship During Conference

Canadian Naval Circles Say Prime Minister Spent Several Hours on Assiniboine

Ottawa, Aug. 23 (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill was aboard the Canadian destroyer Assiniboine for several hours while at sea for his historic conference with President Roosevelt, it is reported in Canadian naval circles.

Mr. Churchill and other notables in the party boarded the destroyer about 20 miles out of Reykjavik, and she bore them into the Icelandic capital. When the visit was over, the Canadian vessel returned the group to the battleship Prince of Wales.

The Prime Minister inspected H.M.C.S. Assiniboine from stem to stern, pleasantly commended the Canadians for their "good work," and told them to "keep it up."

The Assiniboine, it was reported also, was a comparatively short distance away when the British battleship Hood was destroyed by the German dreadnought Bismarck, off Iceland, several months ago. She took up the chase, but was forced to drop out when her fuel supply ran low.

DNB Says East Adriatic Coast 'Put in Readiness'

Berlin, Aug. 23—(AP)—D. N. B., Nazi propaganda and news agency, reported today from Zagreb that Italy has informed the Croatian Government the entire East Coast of the Adriatic from Fiume to Montenegro was being put in a state of "military readiness."

D. N. B. quoted Dr. Ante Pavelic, chief of the new Croat state which was carved out of dismembered Yugoslavia, as saying the Italian Government had acted "in the interests of the conduct of the war."

He said the Croatian Government was happy to contribute its share toward the joint protection of the interests of an independent Croatia.

Pavelic was said to have placed units of the Croatian army on the Adriatic Coast under Italian Command. The railway line from Fiume to Split, half-way down the coast, and telegraph and telephone facilities also were put under military control.

It was announced that a Croatian civilian commissioner for the coastal area had been named to collaborate with the Commander of the Italian second army and co-ordinate all questions of law and order with military measures.

GASLESS SUNDAYS IN SOME AREAS OF UNITED STATES

Predict a Cut of One-Third in Eastern Motor Fuel

DIVERT TANKERS

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP).—Motorists of the eastern United States who plan long trips this week-end may have trouble buying enough gasoline to return home. Filling stations in some localities have announced a gasless Sunday for the first time since 1918.

A statement by Senator Walter George (Dem.-Georgia) indicated that pleasure car drivers' troubles may only have begun. He said he was reliably informed that a lack of oil transportation would force a one-third cut in eastern motor fuel, against the present 10 per cent. curtailment.

Unverified reports circulated in congressional circles that the government had called upon American oil companies to make up a pool of 100 additional deep-sea tankers to be turned over to Britain.

Diversion of 50 tankers from the Atlantic coast run to serve Britain in the battle of the Atlantic precipitated the current petroleum emergency. One member of Congress said he had heard from a reliable source that 40 of the 80 tankers acquired in the United States by Britain before enactment of the lend-lease act had been sunk.

Individual Action.

Tomorrow will be a gasless Sunday in some eastern areas, particularly in some parts of northern Virginia, by individual action of filling station operators who announced they would lock up in order to spread their limited gasoline supplies through August.

Meanwhile, the eastern seaboard's 100,000 station operators and 10,000,000 motorists alike awaited a statement from the office of defence petroleum co-ordination which was expected to ease the current confusion by projecting a uniform program for equitable disruption of available gasoline supplies.

Stations in some cities already had begun rigid rationing to customers, limiting each sale to five gallons.

In other areas, however, the stations continued to fill all orders, causing expressions of fear here that some cities may find themselves out of gas before the month-end.

POLICE BLOTTER

Two bicycles reported stolen in Belleville last night were later recovered by city police, along with a third bike that had been missing since Wednesday. The owners of the wheels were notified of the recovery and the bikes returned to their respective owners today.

When an automobile driven by Roy Shatrow, 14 Wills Street, failed to stop at the Pinnacle-East Bridge Street intersection early last evening, the vehicle was in collision with a west bound automobile, driven by Norman Baker of this city. Minor fender damage resulted, police reported.

While patrolling in the police cruiser later in the evening Constables Wright and Arnott apprehended Joseph Atwell, Toronto motorist, failing to stop at a stop street and driving in an allegedly careless manner. The operator was cautioned.

1940
DODGE
CONVERTIBLE
5 PASSENGER COUPE
in EXCELLENT
MECHANICAL CONDITION
with
OPERA SEATS
Power Operated Top.
Philco Custom Radio.
Special DeLuxe Heater.
Special Defrosters.
Genuine Red Leather Upholstery.
Grey Dulux Finish, and 5 Tires.
Just Like Brand New.
SACRIFICE
J. B. Boyce
For BETTER CAR DEALS
and
BETTER SERVICE.

Obituary

JACOB HOMER DEMILL
(Melrose)

Jacob Homer Demill, lifelong resident of Melrose district, passed away at the family residence, the house in which he had lived since birth, early on Saturday morning. He was in his 85th year and had been ailing only a period of two months.

Mr. Demill was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Demill and chose farming as his life occupation. Highly esteemed in the district he was well-known among a wide circle of friends. In religion he was a member of the Melrose United Church and also belonged to the Shannonville L.O.L. No. 242.

Surviving to mourn his passing are his wife, the former Harriett Ann Sherry; one daughter, Mrs. Fred Robinson, Tyendinaga; one son, Mr. Sherry Demill, at home; two granddaughters, Audrey Demill and Bernice Robinson and three grandsons, Newton Demill, Merle Robinson and Raymond Robinson.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

WILLIAM HENRY HEDGE

Port Credit, Aug. 23 — Funeral services will be held today for William Henry Hedge, 64, from First United Church, Port Credit. Well-known as a fruit farmer, he was for many years a director of the Cooksville Agricultural Society. He was born at Belleville. Mr. Hedge was a member of the Mississauga Lodge, A.F. & A.M., and Cooksville Lodge, L.O.L. He had served as a member of the board of stewards of First United Church for twenty-five years. Surviving are his widow, Mabel Winter Hedge and two sons, Frederick and William Hedge.

PERMITTED TO CROSS BORDER

Tokyo, Aug. 23—(AP)—Domei News Agency reported today from Manchuli that 31 Germans, including nine women and children who had been detained in Russia since the beginning of the German-Russian War, had been permitted to cross the border into Manchoukuo yesterday.

B-E-L-L-E Today & Monday

SO DIFFERENT FROM anything YOU'VE EVER SEEN!
Walt Disney's
Amazing new feature
THE RELUCTANT DRAGON
with hosts of new characters and live folk including
ROBERT BENCHLEY
THE ALL-SURPRISE ALL-LAUGH, FEATURE-LENGTH SENSATION!
YOU'LL WISH IT WOULD LAST FOREVER!
Sequences in MULTIPLANE TECHNICOLOR.

— MORE REAL ENTERTAINMENT —
A New and Ever-Welcome CRIME-DOES-NOT-PAY Story.
"Forbidden Passage"
"SPORTSMAN'S PARTNER" Entertaining Treat for Dog Lovers! | Radio's Favourite Program "INFORMATION PLEASE" WENDELL WILLKIE guest star
B-E-L-L-E WORLD-WIDE NEWS EVENTS
FIVE SHOWS ...... 1.00 — 3.00 — 5.00 — 7.00 — 9.00
AN INVITATION TO YOU—AND YOU—AND YOU!
When at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, visit the Famous Players Theatres display in the Manufacturers' Building, near the Fountain. Free Entertainment for young and old. Souvenirs. A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU!

JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES OF BATTLE

CANADIAN HIGH COMMAND'S COURAGE, PATIENCE CREATES HARD-HITTING SHOCK-TROOPS

Long-Range Canadian "Army Plan" Born in Wake of Blitzkrieg—Some Truths for the Arm-chair Critics.

By KIM BEATTIE

To the average Canadian, the fall of France naturally loomed as a cataclysmic episode in the furious course of the Second German War. No matter how tremendous it appeared to him, the event was a more momentous and personal mile-post than he has probably yet realized.

The situation in June a year ago, as the Canadian citizen saw it, was grim enough, but to the alert realists at the head of the Canadian and British Armies, something more disturbing had happened in the French campaign, even than the defeat and the collapse of our Allies.

As our strategists saw it, the swift separation of the old-style Allied forces by the highly mechanized Germans, meant that a ruthless reorganization of the Canadian and British armies—in formation, weapons, equipment and tactical training—must take place with resolution and speed. And that meant that Canada was faced with one of the most dismaying situations ever to confront a nation and its army in the heat of a desperate struggle. Time, that factor always so great in war, now held the scales.

Stupendous Job.

It is difficult for the layman to grasp how bleak that situation actually appeared to military men. The Canadian and British forces were already in the throes of a gigantic expansion, with all the complicated details such an undertaking entails. To reorganize in order to obtain tank strength—in time!—in the midst of the multitude of existing growing pains, and in the face of the simultaneous, and very real, menace on the French coast, must have seemed an almost hopeless task.

How the stupendous job was tackled in the two armies, in defiance of such handicaps, will make thrilling chapters for the historian.

In the British army it meant raising to effective power the ardent mechanization experts who had given their army the world-lead in modern tactics and design of armoured fighting vehicles until a few years before. The proofs that it had been done are incontrovertible.

In the Canadian Army, reorganization did not have to start at the top. Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton has few peers as a scientific soldier. But the significance should not be missed of the appointment in July—one month after the collapse of the French army—of Major-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar as Chief of the General Staff. His return from England to carry out Gen. McNaughton's reorganization and mechanization program and to take charge of the army-in-training, made the Canadian High Command unanimously "offensive".

Unanimous In Doctrine.

Nor should the advantage be lightly passed over which was gained in the appointment of tank-minded Hon. J. L. Ralston, as Minister of National Defence in June, while the blitzkrieg in France was still in progress. The two new appointments, one political and one military, solidified advanced military opinion and doctrine in high places.

With a Minister behind them who was alert to the needs of mechanized war, the Corps Commander overseas, and the C.G.S. at home, rounded out the process of having mechanized-minded men in key posts by surrounding themselves as much as possible with known exponents of the new warfare.

It was well that they did so. For what the Canadian army had to do, even though its leadership was sound, was to carry through in the midst of war, a complete revamping of tactical formation, of army training methods and practice, and also to launch a great mechanization program.

To achieve it, even to start it, required much resolution and firm character. The historic reorganization had to be launched in the face of the flood of Canadian desire to rush troops to Great Britain at any cost at the time of Dunkirk. That was the natural and fervent, if illogical, wish of all loyal Canadians. But Canadian military leaders had also to face the hard truth. It would have been suicidal to pit the existing tankless force against the German panzers. To hurry ill-trained troops to Europe was to make them cannon-fodder.

Single Strategy.

Instead of yielding to impulsive public desire, Generals McNaughton and Crerar, firmly backed by Defence Minister Ralston, adopted a long-range army plan, co-ordinated in all respects with the British, which would train efficient Canadian shock-troops to fight in today's fast-moving hard-hitting campaigns. That, and that alone, became their over-riding strategy.

To the men behind the army plan it meant launching and then rigidly adhering to a long-distance program of army building at a time when instant action was the only real relief for pent-up anxieties and feelings.

It meant operating an entirely new trades-training system to provide skilled men for a motorized and mechanized army at times when black news made it appear that throwing even half-trained troops into the fight was the only salvation.

It meant extreme patience, by officers working at high pressure, in the face of criticism and fault-finding from the impatient and uninformed. It meant resisting all side-issues which might hamper the painstaking carrying out of their

Minister of Defence

Tank-minded Hon. J. L. RALSTON, who became Minister of National Defence in June, 1940, solidified mechanized opinion in the Canadian High Command.

coldly calculated process of making modern soldiers.

Basic Training.

Most important, and surprising, of all it meant new care and attention to training recruits in the basic weapons and fundamentals of soldiering. No attribute of the new warfare was more unexpected than this crucial phase of the Canadian army plan. None has so puzzled the Canadian public. Even newspaper columnists, who are also considered military experts, have been confused by it.

To Canadians who recalled the Canadian Corps' shock-troop reputation in the last war, and the fact that the average Canadian recruit is mechnically inclined by nature and often by occupation, today's fast, open campaigns seemed made-to-order for Canadian troops. So they are. But our side-line strategists also seemed to feel that a resourceful, mechanized-minded Canadian youth could be a civilian today and a Bren or Bofors gunner tomorrow, forgetting that an untrained man with an unfamiliar automatic weapon is either useless or deadly dangerous.

They also seemed to feel that a few weeks training should make a Canadian recruit into a skilled modern shock-trooper, forgetting that only the well-drilled soldier can have the instantaneous grasp of the meaning and intention of an order, or can give the lightning execution of a command, which blitzkrieg tactics demand.

"Organized Speed."

In their enthusiasm for Canadian fighting ability, the arm-chair critics, which all armies know, have missed the fact that mechanization has not merely made specialists and skilled tradesmen imperative. Blitz tactics, wheels, gasoline, aircraft, armored fighting vehicles and a tremendous increase in automatic weapons, have made a sound foundation of basic training more important than in any previous type of warfare.

"Organized speed," which is the secret of the blitzkrieg, can only be attained by long, intense training from the ground up, with peak thoroughness at the bottom. To say that the recruit's elementary training is thrice as valuable in today's complex mechanized armies as it was in the last war is probably gross understatement.

The explanation is very simple. Today's soldier must know ten times as much as any of his predecessors! Further, he is many times more important than he was in the armies of any of the great captains of the past. It is safe to say that never before in military history has so much depended on the resource, courage—and training! of the individual soldier and junior action leader. Never before have they required such a realistic sense of the wisdom of discipline and team-work. Never have they required such automatic precision and speed in handling their weapons—and never have they been equipped with such a diverse and complex array of them.

The "Army Team."

That is why the Canadian "Army Team" of McNaughton and Crerar have placed the Canadian recruit's period of basic training at a minimum of four months, including those called up for compulsory service. That is why the Corps Commander and C.G.S. are unshakably convinced and they are backed by the British High Command and all the Canadian Commanders overseas — that the secret to a successful modern army lies in the first four months of the soldier's life—the period of his basic training.

If he has that sound foundation, the progression of training to the smallest combat unit, the section of eleven men, is simplified. So is all the intense training in company and battalion field practice which follows and in the large-scale manoeuvres which give the soldier his final polish.

It is a long period of apprenticeship, especially when it is remembered that after Basic training is finished he is still not out of the military kindergarten.

But unlike the last war, when the rifle and bayonet were about the only weapons the infantryman learned thoroughly, today's foot-slogger travels on wheels and can handle a Bren, a Tommy and a Lewis gun, a pistol, an anti-tank gun, an anti-tank and an anti-aircraft machine-gun, with ability to pump 2-inch and 3-inch mortar-shells at his enemy to-boot. He is taught them all during his first four months as a soldier.

No Bomb-Proofers.

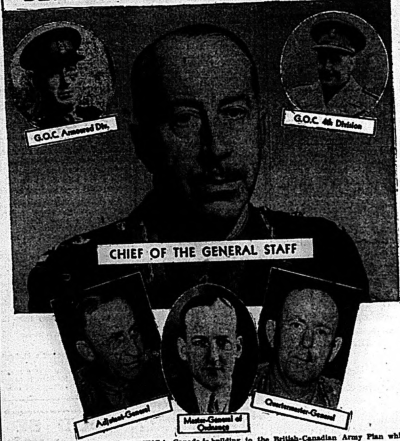
Because no soldier has a bomb-proof job, or is immune from attack in this war, the artilleryman, signaller, ordnance artificer and man of the army service corps, is also a jack-of-all-trades of battle. He learns the basic weapons as well as the infantry and the armoured corps.

Such is the Army Plan of training which was born in those hours of stress and danger in the wake of the blitzkrieg of last May and June. The Plan was designed by men who refused to be diverted from the realization that a half-trained soldier, trying to fight in a war of today's speed and sweep, would only be a menace to himself, his comrades and his cause. They knew that ill-trained armies almost inevitably turn battlefields into a welter of confusion, and that none can be so terrible as that of a bogged-down blitzkrieg. They knew that to send superficially trained men into battle would only result in heavy casualties to Canadians with a minimum of casualties to the enemy.

There need be little doubt how the Canadian soldier will bear himself when he carries this training to the proof, and fights in Canada's name against the Nazi scourge. History will again give him a proud place in the annals of arms. History should also record the sanity and courage of Canada's military leaders who refused to allow public clamor of the moment, and the pressure and even panic of successive setbacks last year, to becloud their vision of the future. Their calm foresight, which alone enabled them to adopt the existing Army Plan of training shock-troopers, is our greatest guarantee of success for the battles of decision.

Subsequent articles by Mr. Beattie will tell more of why tank tactics make Basic Training all important; also how the new Canadian Army will fight in theory, how the demand for thousands of soldier-technicians and skilled men is being met, and how field leaders and staff officers are trained.

BEHIND THE "ARMY PLAN"



THE CANADIAN ARMY IN TRAINING in Canada is building to the British-Canadian Army Plan which is designed to create shock-troops who will meet and defeat the German panzers on the battlefield. In the centre above, Major-Gen. H. D. G. CRERAR, D.S.O., Chief of the General Staff; inset are Major-Gen. E. W. SANSOM, D.S.O., G.O.C. 5th (Armored Division) and Major-Gen. L. F. PAGE, D.S.O., G.O.C. 4th Division; below are Major-Gen. B. W. BROWNE, D.S.O., M.C., the Adjutant-General, VICTOR SIFTON, Esquire, Master-General of the Ordnance, and Major-Gen. E. J. C. SCHMIDLIN, M.C., the Quarter-Master General.

ESKIMO MISSIONS

Christian missionary work among Eskimos in the eastern Arctic began over a century ago, the Moravian brethren having visited Ungave Bay in 1811.

Empey Hill

Empey Hill—A very pretty summer wedding was solemnised at the United Church parsonage, Selby, on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 9th, when Thelma Doreen Whitmarsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilmot Whitmarsh of South Fredericksburg Township became the bride of Mr. Howard William Withers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Birrell Withers of Ernesttown Township. Rev. W. R. Merrick officiated.

Miss Wilma Anna Storr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Storr, and Mrs. Frank Westlake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Westlake, Belleville, were united in marriage in Belleville. The attendants were Miss Leola Storr, sister of the bride and Mr. Ray Steward.

Dr. W. J. McAlister, superintendent of Provincial Mental Hospital, Edmonton, Alberta, visited his brother, Mr. J. S. McAlister and sisters, Mrs. Ed Hewitt and Mrs. George Sexsmith, for a week.

Mrs. McAlister, who is spending sometime in Ottawa, came up for a few days, accompanied by her brother, Col. R. Donaldson and nephew, Billy Donaldson.

Mrs. Roy Trull and cousin, Mrs. Ralph Langdon, Toronto, are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tate and other relatives.

Mrs. G. S. Sexsmith made a quilt and sold which brought $23, which was turned over to the Salvation Army for Red Shield Work.

Mr. T. J. Russell has purchased the late Mr. Charlie Anderson's property west of Selby.

Miss Marjorie McKeown has returned to her home after visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur McLaughlin and Mr. McLaughlin at Ingle, a couple of weeks.

Mrs. A. Penny, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Penny of Napanee called on friends here on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glenn and children, Elaine and Leslie, spent a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hill, before leaving for their home in Gary, Indiana.

The August meeting of Mount Pleasant Pioneer W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. C. Smith on Thursday. This being the grandmothers' meeting four grandmothers were present. The president, Mrs. T. Murphy, opened the meeting with the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer. Roll call for grandmothers was to tell the number of grandchildren. Communications were read, including a letter fro mthe Salvation Army, thanking the Institute for knitting done and money given to them. A gift of $1.00 to a new baby, also $1.00 to girls' work were paid. A minute's silence was observed in remembrance of Mrs. A. Oliver, a member who passed away a short while ago. The District President, Mrs. H. Benn, was present and gave the ladies some information of coming Institute events. She also read an appropriate paper for the grandmothers. Gifts were donated and given to the oldest and youngest grandmother present also the one having the most grandchildren. The district president also received a lovely bouquet of flowers. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King." The hostess and her committee served lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jenkins of Toronto were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Abbott.

Mr. Gordon Anderson of Belleville spent a couple of days with his father, Mr. Ira Anderson.

Mrs. M. Schermerhorn of Napanee is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Denison.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mrs. McKim, who has been ill for some months.

Mrs. William Penny spent a few days with her brother, Mr. U. Oliver and Mrs. Oliver.

Mrs. W. J. Winter has moved to Napanee and taken up housekeeping on Centre Street.

Murray Canal

Murray Canal—Sgt. J. Harvie of Kingston spent the week-end at his home here.

Mrs. W. Seward spent a few days last week at the home of her brother, Mr. P. Locklin, Stockdale.

Mr. Lyal Tackaberry spent Monday in Toronto.

Mrs. Babcock, Belleville, spent a few days with Mrs. L. Burley.

Mrs. Y. Lovett is home after spending last week with friends at Hilton.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Flindall on the arrival of a son on Saturday last.

Miss Hilda Wood is spending some time with friends in Belleville.

Mrs. O. Humphrey of Trenton spent Thursday last with Mr. and Mrs. L. Burley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Seward entertained friends from Stockdale on Thursday.

Mrs. Viola Flindall spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. B. Flindall.

Miss K. Gibson of Trenton spent a Sunday recently with Miss E. Gibson.

Rawdon

Rawdon — Mount Pleasant Rawdon Woman's Missionary Society convened at the church for their August meeting with fourteen members and seven visitors in attendance. The service opened with quiet music played by Mrs. John Holmes. Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave as "The call to worship a poem by Denis McCarthy, "The Land Where Hate Should Die."

The devotional was based on "Our Canadian Homes" with Mrs. Herbert Smith reading the Bible lesson. Mrs. J. E. Beckel offered prayer and Mrs. John Holmes gave the paper dealing with the subject. Mrs. Carleton Potts sang "The Old House at Home Where My Fore fathers Dwell." Mrs. Allan Bailey read "A litany for those who labour" from the July monthly. Roll call was answered with the key-word "Temperance." The treasurer reported about half of the allocation reached. The minutes were read by Miss Muriel Sine and two letters of thanks was read.

Plans were made to quilt two bale quilts at the hall last week of August. The August meeting was arranged by Mrs. Frank Smith and was centred arolund the theme "Temperance and Christian Citizenship." Mrs. Arthur Phillips read a Temperance number entitled "A Firmer Stand." Mrs. Will Jeffs contributed a vocal solo "Where the Gates Swing Outward Never" with guitar accompaniment. In place of the study book a leaflet prepared by Miss Ida MacKenzie on Racial brotherhood was ably presented by Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Cyrus Summers, Mrs. Kenneth Weaver, Mrs. Roy Thrasher, Mrs. Edgar McCown, Miss Eileen MacMullen and Mrs. Arthur Phillips. This dealt with a number of interesting questions and all took part in the discussions which followed each of the questions.

"The great Christian ideal of brotherhood in which we believe has been repudiated by Nazism. Where do we stand? Are we giving lip service only to that ideal or are we doing all we can to demonstrate the workability a brotherhood to all irrespective of race or creed." The offering amounted to over four dollars and one new member added to the roll. The dedication of the offering took the form of the rendition of "all people that on earth do dwell" and the National Anthem.

Mr. Eri Summers spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Metz at Ottawa.

Master Robert Hoard is spending this week with his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ketcheson, Phillipstone.

3rd Thurlow

3rd Thurlow—Mrs. Percy Marshall spent a couple of days last week with her mother, Mrs. E. Badgley of Marlbank.

Miss Annie Clare has returned home after holidaying with her cousins, Misses Hazel and Bessie Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley Phillips and family of Stirling were tea hour guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McPherson on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Beer spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buskard of Shannonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jester also Mrs. Earl Nixon and two sons of Youngstown, Ohio, spent a couple of days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Easton and family.

Master George Clare is spending a week with his cousins, Master Cecil and Percy Walker.

Miss Marie Emmons is spending some time with her cousin, Mrs. Wm. Doxtator.

A number of neighbors and friends gathered at the school house on Monday evening to bid farewell to Mr. Frank Maybe and sons who are leaving this community. They were presented with several articles of clothing.

Miss Doris Badgley is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Hamilton.

Mrs. Wm. Clarke is holidaying with friends at McKellar.

Master Ralph Lidster of Cordova is spending some time with his sister, Miss Audrey Lidster at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lidster.

Miss Bessie Walker is visiting Misses Annie and Norma Clare, Gilead.

Miss Edith Easton has returned to Belleville General Hospital to complete her training after a three weeks' vacation with her parents.

Mrs. Carl Wright of Belleville is spending a few days with her father, Mr. Wm. Clarke.

Several from this line attended the Red Cross and W.M.S. meeting held at the Cooley-Treverton home, 4th line on Wednesday.

Miss Edith Easton spent a few days with Miss Olive Treverton, 6th line.

Miss Jean Scott of Avondale is visiting her friend, Miss Marilyn Eggleton.

Master John Irwin of Belleville is spending a few days with Master Arthur and Georgie Hamilton.

ARIZMENDI SCORES UPSET

Hollywood, Aug. 23 — (AP) — Scoring an upset, Baby Arizmendi, veteran Mexican lightweight, stopped the long winning streak of Johnny Hutchinson, Philadelphia Negro, by winning a 10-round decision last night. Arizmendi weighed 140, Hutchinson 136.

8 LINE TYENDINAGA

The Auxiliary Group of the I.O.D.E. met at the home of Mrs. John McLean on Tuesday last. The meeting was opened by the President with singing "O Canada." The Treasurer gave her report. Some of the ladies pieced quilt blocks and a number of knitted articles for the baby's layette was handed in. Mrs. Donald Foote donated a heavy quilt topped pieced and ready to quilt. It was moved to send Mrs. McLean's brother now in England 300 cigarettes. Collection was taken. "God Save the King" was sung and lunch served.

Bridge Street United Church
REV. J. SEMPLE, B.A., S.T.B., Th.D., Minister
August Supply:
HON. FLT. LT. REV. G. W. PORTER, M.A., B.D.
Morning Worship 11.00 a.m.
PREACHER:
REV. ROY RICKARD, M.K.E.
Evening Worship 7.00 p.m.
PREACHER:
FLT. LT. REV. G. W. PORTER, M.A., B.D.
A WELCOME TO ALL.
Alec Gordon, Organist. Leona Riggs, Choir Leader

TABERNACLE UNITED CHURCH
REV. J. W. HOUSTON, B.A., B.D. - - Minister
GUEST PREACHER FOR AUGUST.
THE REVEREND ARCHIBALD YOUNG, M.A., D.D.
ILDERTON, ONTARIO
A Series of Sermons on "The Christian Way of Life"
SERMON IV:—
"The Illumined Life"
Sunday mornings at 11 a.m. Come and bring your friends.
Organist and Choir Leader:—MRS. DUFF.

HOLLOWAY STREET UNITED CHURCH
REV. J. A. DILTS - - Minister
9.45 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
11.00 a.m.—REV. E. FARNSWORTH.
8.00 p.m.—GOSPEL SERVICE IN S.S. ROOM.
"Cool as a Cave"
Wm. Conner, organist. S. M. Anglin, choir leader

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
REV. W. J. WALKER, B.A., B.D., Minister.
11.00 A.M.
The Minister Will be in Charge
No Evening Services During July and August.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND
CHRIST CHURCH ST. THOMAS CHURCH
11th. Sunday after Trinity. Rev. Rural Dean A. Beauchamp Payne in Charge During August
8 a.m.—Holy Communion, Church of St. Thomas. 11 a.m.—Matins, Christ Church.
7.00 p.m.—Evensong in St. Thomas Church.

EMMANUEL CHURCH (Victoria Ave.)
(Reformed Episcopal)
10.00 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
11.00 a.m.—MORNING WORSHIP. Speaker: REV. MR. KNOX.
NO EVENING SERVICE.

VICTORIA AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. H. O. EASTMAN
11.00 a.m.—"THE FRONT LINE".
7.00 p.m.—"GLORY FROM THE GRAVE."
10.15 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
Music:—Mr. and Mrs. John Deacon

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
(I.O.O.F TEMPLE, 271½ FRONT STREET)
SERVICE 11 a.m. SUNDAY SCHOOL 11.00 a.m.
Testimonial Meeting First Wednesday of Each Month at 8 p.m.
Subject: "MIND"
THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND THESE SERVICES

BETHEL HALL
Corner Church and Station Streets
9.45 a.m.—Sunday School. Classes for all Ages.
11.00 a.m.—REMEMBERING THE LORD.
7.00 p.m.—EVENING SERVICE.
Speaker: MR. DAVID KIRK, Nova Scotia
Prayer Meeting and Bible Study, THURSDAY, 8 p.m.

ALLIANCE TABERNACLE
Cor. West Moira and Coleman Sts. REV. C. V. FREEMAN, Pastor
11.00 a.m.—REV. EARL WHITMORE, TRENTON, ONTARIO.
7.00 p.m.—YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY IN CHARGE. All Young People especially invited.
10.00 a.m.—Sunday School. Tuesday, 8.00 p.m.—Prayer Meeting.

EVANGEL TEMPLE
Bridge West and Coleman Streets. E. N. O. KULBECK, Pastor
10 a.m.—Sunday School.
11 a.m.—Believers' Meeting.
"SPIRITUAL TONICS."

7.30 P.M.
EVANGELIST
ETHEL M. FOX
Soul Winner and Preacher of International Fame:
"WHERE CRIME BEGAN"
Week Night Services:
Tuesday and Thursday at 8
All Welcome!

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

NAZI FIGURES UNACCEPTABLE

Germans who ought to know more about their own losses than they do about those of the Russians are silent where their own casualties are concerned but very loud in proclaiming what they figure the Soviet losses are.

So Adolf Hitler's communique claims that one and a quarter million Russians have been captured, and puts Russian losses in tanks at 15,000 and planes at 11,250.

But the Russian statement which is very moderate shows that up to the present two million Germans have been killed, wounded or captured while Russian losses total 700,000 of which 150,000 are said to have been killed, 440,000 wounded and 110,000 missing. Comparative losses in equipment are given by the Russians: Tanks, 8,000 German, 5,500 Russian; cannon, 10,000 German, 7,500 Russian; airplanes, 7,200 German, 4,500 Russian.

These figures indicate the titanic character of the struggle in East Europe. As compared with the preposterous German figures on casualties the Russian are moderate and reasonable.

'THE COLD SHOULDER' SYMBOL

No one likes to be snubbed but when it is a German soldier who has been taught to be overbearing and brutal and cruel, who is snubbed there must be a real emotional disturbance in the invader, particularly when the snubber is a native of that country which was overrun by the Huns the day when Hitler went into Norway. That a Dane should snub a Nazi who has the proof of his "superiority" in his presence in what was Denmark is too much for him.

Yet the Danes who invented the sign are said to give the cold shoulder to the Hun usurpers of their native land. The Germans apparently have had no success in their efforts to beguile the people into a delusion as to what a Nazi really is. So the Danes' D. K. S. is turned to Hitler's soldiery.

German efforts to make the Danes like the Hitler order seem to have borne no fruit. Danes have memories which will not allow them to be kindly towards the Hun. They give him the cold shoulder, a very effective gesture which must be a torture to a proud aggressor Hun.

SAYS HITLER CANNOT RECOUP IN RUSSIA

Douglas Miller, former U.S. commercial military attache in Berlin, has written an article in the September Atlantic Monthly Magazine in which he says "Let us not fall into the error of believing that Hitler can make the invasion of Russia pay for itself in materials during this war. This time he is heavily in the red and must remain so."

Miller believes that there are growing shortages of textiles, alloys and petroleum products and that the invasion of Russia cannot ameliorate these shortages much either because "it is a mistake to think of Russia as a lootable country; Russian riches are largely buried in the ground to exploit."

German ordnance he says is constructed with one thirty-fifth as much nickel to harden the steel as used in the best American practice. While he thinks that supplies of gasoline this summer may have been even larger than at the beginning of the war it seems more likely that supplies will become increasingly scarce as the war goes on and that from now on the situation must turn to Germany's disadvantage. He spoke of the serious shortage of lubricants as Germany has only one plant of a modern type.

He expresses the opinion that if Germany has to face a sustained attack on the west or south she will have to encounter it with inferior equipment and inadequate material resources.

There are other problems he finds. He says that Germany still faces an acute shortage of labor, especially skilled labor, throughout the country. While German losses of men, he says, are probably less than in the Great War many of the lost were members of the old professional Reichswehr crew of the army and "these men are irreplaceable."

He hold the encouraging view that "the summer of 1941 definitely marks the turning point of the war. From now on Hitler is on the down-grade."

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

WHEN HITLER IS CONQUERED

By Arthur L. Burke

When Hitler is conquered and shorn of his power,
When his dream of world conquest is o'er,
What then shall be done with this bloodthirsty Hun
Is a query that's much to the fore.
No mansion on high will this dictator grace,
For he's not a nice person to know,
T'would be almost a sin if Hitler got in
To the devil's big fire-box below.
Since he won't be received in the realms above,
Where the streets are all surfaced with gold,
The devil will smile every once in a while,
When he sees Hitler out in the cold.
If no planet apart will give him a place,
And regards him a villain to fear,
As Churchill would say in his quaint sort of way,
"We'll deal with the rascal right here."

Now Adam and Eve in the garden of old,
By a serpent was tempted and won,
They yielded and found, the advice wasn't sound,
Then all of their freedom was gone.
Herr Hitler today is the same sort of snake,
That led poor old Adam astray,
He lights friendship's spark, then strikes
in the dark,
His victims are strewn by the way.
His long slimy coils he has cunningly wound
On the hearth-stones of nations once free,
He has crushed and then fed on the spoils
of the dead,
And polluted the waves of the sea.

We'll corner this snake and remove every fang,
And scrape every scale from his hide,
We'll sever his tail, where his ears long
and pale,
Adorn his fierce brow either side.
We"ll keep him alive every minute of time,
With torture to fibre and coil.
If by death he should crack, we'll bring him right back,
Preserve him and boil him in oil.
Every hour of the day, every day of the year
Living death will this monster endure,
For a reptile enraged, this plan if engaged,
Will peace to our planet ensure.
We'll exhibit the brute for the nations to
see,
And stencil these head-lines with mirth,
"This creature so limp, is the misguided
simp,
Who thought he could conquer the earth."

x x x

WILL YOU DO IT?

By Arthur L. Burke

Let us fold up our road maps and let down
our hair,
We've got to save gas for the lads in the air
Cut down on our driving, each drop saved
today,
May well turn the tide in the midst of the fray.

What to us through the years will our liberty mean,
If we fail to have gas in each flighting machine?
Avoid useless driving each day from the dawn,
Our pleasure won't count if our freedom were gone.

Why burn needed gas, distant fields to explore,
Why not use our legs just a little bit more,
Why not start today? make an effort to save.
Better walk like a man, than crawl like a slave.

It's the warriors with wings in the forays to be,
The tanks and the trucks and the men of the sea,
These stout-hearted chaps are depending on you,
Your duty is clear, won't you help the boys through?

A symbol of freedom the flag will remain,
If we will but save and from pleasure refrain.
While Hitler is raving and tooting his horn,
We'll lick him with gas just as sure as you're born.

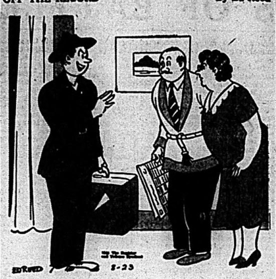
OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed



"Don't worry folks, I didn't flunk out this time—I'm home on furlough"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 23d, 1921.

At a meeting of the Bay of Quinte Country Club, Limited, it was decided to change the name to the Bay of Quinte Yacht and Country Club. The required sum of $30,000 has been subscribed and application will be made for a charter immediately. The company has purchased from Mr. R. J. Graham about 75 acres on what is known as the Knox farm about four miles west of Belleville. A golf course architect has been engaged to lay out the grounds and work will be commenced Sept. 1st.

Dr. J. L. Towers has returned after spending a vacation in Northern Ontario.

Mr. Larry O'Hara of Syracuse, N.Y., formerly a member of the Belleville Fire Department and driver at No. 1 station, is here on a visit to friends.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 23rd, 1911.

Col. Sgt. E. B. Westover of the 15th Regiment, was presented with a military walking stick by the sergeants of the regiment last evening on the eve of his departure for Winnipeg. Col. Sgt. Westover was a popular and efficient soldier and was considered to be one of the crack shots in the regiment.

Mr. P. K. McGregor of Edmonton is visiting friends here.

Mr. Ed. G. Warham of Edmonton, an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Warham, West Bridge Street.

Mr. Ernest Hageman is home from Hamilton on a visit to relatives.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 23rd, 1901.

Mr. W. S. Clarke has returned home from Detroit where he attended a convention of the American Association of Photographers.

Mr. F. A. Larke of the G.T.R. freight department here has been transferred to Trenton where he will act as agent. He will be succeeded here by Mr. Hambly.

Mr. Fred Dafoe of Chicago, Ill., is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dafoe, West Bridge Street.

Col. S. S. Lazier and Mr. P. J. M. Anderson have arrived home after a trip to the Old Country.

Mr. Laurie Lockett of Kingston, formerly of Belleville, was in town today.

Mr. W. S. MacDiarmid left today to spend a vacation in Detroit.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 23rd, 1891.

Mr. B. Wallace of Simcoe is the guest of Prof. Swayze.

The St. Charles Carriage Company of this city has just completed a number of carettes for a Chicago firm. Seven of these handsome vehicles have also been supplied to a firm in Halifax.

Mr. Walter Fanning shipped a number of horses from here to Albany, N.Y., yesterday.

Mr. J. McCormick and Mr. R. Bateman are out north on vacation.

Mr. W. C. Mikel, barrister, has purchased the valuable law library of the late George D. Dickson, Q.C. Mr. Mikel is to be congratulated upon his acquisition.

The steamer Varuna will make her last trip to the 1000 Islands for this season on August 29th.

Just Folks
by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

PURPOSE

If I am at the place when rises need
And am the one who hears another call
Mine is the glory of the useful deed,
In that brief moment I am first of all!

If it be mine to stretch the helping hand,
To friend the helpless in a moment grim,
Of all the millions in our peopled
land,
Who prays to God, I answer it for Him.

We cannot know God's purpose or his plan,
But now and then in times of dreadful fear
It happens we can help our fellow man,
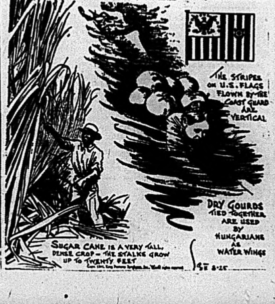
And doing that our birth has reason here.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT



THE STRIPES ON U.S. FLAGS FLOWN BY THE COAST GUARD ARE VERTICAL DRY GOURDS TIED TOGETHER ARE USED BY HUNGARIANS AS WATER WINGS
SUGAR CANE IS A VERY TALL, DENSE CROP — THE STALKS GROW UP TO TWENTY FEET
8-25

CANINE MASCOTS FULLY RATIONED THRILL HALIFAX

Dogs of All Degrees Signed-Up As Unit Pets and Given Rank and Honor in Regiments

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Halifax, Aug. 23 (CP).—Fighting pets of fighting men are the dog mascots with the soldiers, sailors and air force men in this Gibraltar of the Atlantic. Big and powerful for the most part, they are as quick to pick a scrap as the men who keep them, but are just as quick to forget and forgive. Some have followed their regiments, squadrons and ships from England, Upper Canada and other points to this Atlantic city; others have been picked up here by lonesome service men.

Best known, as is fitting in a seaport, is the sailor's mascot Mike. A ferocious looking English bulldog, Mike has been busy this year teaching local pups the respect due a battle-scarred veteran like himself. In between times he may be found, resplendent in his dress collar of glittering bass, strutting with the Navy band or taking his ease with braid-weighted officers at Admiralty House.

Proud of his sailors, Mike can show his scorn when they pull a boner just as convincingly as any gravel-throated drill sergeant. Once, when the boys were a bit straggly as they marched along, he turned his back on them and joined a smart-stepping group of Britishers.

Co-holder of the sailors' affections with Mike was Bingo, a happy-go-lucky mongrel Canadian seaman rescued from a blitz in England and brought to Halifax. But Bingo, brought to safety as they thought, was knocked down and killed by a car here.

Across the harbor is LAC. Sandy —"the only member of the Royal Canadian Air Force who can lick an officer and get away with it." A big police dog, Sandy is listed in Ottawa as an authorized leading aircraftman and is issued rations like any other member of the R.C.A.F.

Unable to follow his friends when they zoom away in their mammoth bombers, he gets his thrills driving in trucks with the ground crew. The fire truck is his favorite.

Last of the quartet officially recognized here is Capt. Kilkenny of the Toronto Irish Regiment now fighting for his life in a dog-hospital. A growth on his leg, if it does not respond to treatment, will eventually kill him, doctors believe.

But the men of the Toronto Irish say their giant Irish wolf-hound will pull through and continue to be the only official mascot in the Canadian army as well as the only dog in the British Empire privileged to wear the kilt of saffron. The kilt, with its three pips, is waiting for him as soon as he recovers.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

A Belt to Prevent Low Back Pain and Sciatica

As a youngster I often saw trainers of horses wearing wide belts made of the same webbing used to keep the blankets or saddle on the horse.

When in Europe some years ago I saw the railway porters, who lifted heavy pieces of baggage, wearing these same wide belts.

Why did those who ride horses or lift heavy objects wear these belts?

This belt braces the joints which hold the back bone to the hip bone so that they will not spread under weight and pressure. It is the spreading of these joints which allows pressure on the spine end of the large nerve supplying the hip and leg. This nerve is called the sciatic nerve and pressure on this causes pain which is believed to be even worse than the severest rheumatic pain.

As this belt binds these bones together, the wearers are able in most cases to prevent the lame back and pain down the leg. It is estimated that as many as one in every four cases of backache and sciatica is due to injury to this point (sacro-iliac) named after the sacrum—low part of spinal column —and the ilium, a part of the hip bone.

It must be admitted that this belt, about three inches in width, will not give relief in all cases of lame back and sciatica due to injury, because the abdomen must be pulled in and the bend in the small of the back supported in severe cases. This requires a belt or support 8 or 10 inches wide in front and 10 to 12 inches behind, with the bottom strap of the belt coming across this sacro-iliac joint.

However, in light cases of strain on this joint, or to prevent strain in this joint, the wearing of this three-inch wide belt of webbing will usually be effective.

There is only one point to watch in applying the belt and that is to get its upper edge 'below' the prominent point of the hip bone and its lower edge 'above' the ball and socket joint of the thigh bone and hip bone. This belt will fit snugly between these points and firmly hold the sarcro-iliac joint.

Remember, most cases of low back pain and sciatica are due to infection—teeth, tonsils—and some to a break or rupture of the little disks or cushions between spine bones.

Assistant Plant Manager

for new plant which will employ 500 men on important war work. Must be young, reliable, keen and production-minded and primarily a mechanic. High salary and proper authority will be given to a capable man.

Location: ST. CATHARINES, ONTARIO. Give fullest details of abilities, background and references in first letter to Post Office Box 297, St. Catharines, Ontario.

Applications cannot be accepted from those presently engaged in war work.

A22-23-25

Registration for 1941-42

Belleville Collegiate & Vocational School

ALL Pupils of ALL GRADES are requested to Register at the Principal's Office at the Collegiate and Vocational School, for the term beginning September 2nd., 1941. This includes pupils who may find it necessary to remain out of School for part of September on account of farm work or other war industry. Attendance will be granted to students absent during September for war work, provided they register on time.

Days for Registration
August 25, 26, 27, 28
FROM 9.30 - 12.00 a.m. — 2.00 - 5.00 p.m.

Parents may register if pupils are unable to attend to registration due to war work or absence from home. Pupils who have not sent in their "farm work" or "war work" certificates for eight weeks' work are requested to do so, otherwise promotions and standings, including granting of Diplomas will be delayed.

A22-23

Newest Notes of Science

Holes up to four and a half inches in diameter can be bored in metals, plastics and fibre boards with a new attachment for either power drills or carpenters' braces.

An investigation has revealed that Japan has about 5,000,000 acres of pine groves from which pine rosin, of which there is a shortage in the country, can be derived.

From counts made in various parts of the country during nesting seasons an ornithologist has estimated that there are at least five billion birds in America.

Canada exported motor vehicles and parts valued at $16,651,526 in Bay, 90 per cent more than the April exports and 231 per cent more than the exports in May last year.

The striking surface of a St. Louis inventor's container for book matches is so placed that a match is covered when its head is drawn across it, averting danger of fire.

BAN PLACED ON MILLFEEDS

Ottawa, Aug. 21 (CP)—Export of millfeeds from Canada has been prohibited, at least until next Monday midnight, in what agriculture department spokesmen today termed a move to overcome reported shortages in the Dominion.

The ban was described as a "progressive development" of an order effective July 15 putting exports of bran shorts and middlings on a special licence basis.

EPIDEMIC REACHING PEAK

Fredericton, Aug. 23—(CP)—New Brunswick's total of reported cases of infantile paralysis stood at 145 today as compared with a peak of 155 in a 1937 epidemic, the worst in the Province's history. Three new cases and seven of several days standing were reported to the Provincial Department of Health yesterday.

Education authorities were already considering correspondence courses for pupils of the Province's schools in case a further postponement of school openings becomes necessary. A two-week postponement has already been ordered.

Virtually every town in the Union of South Africa with a population in excess of 5000 has one or more plants devoted to the recapping and retreading of automobile tires.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

SKIMBLE SKAMBLE STUFF

The quartermaster of an army was originally an officer whose duty it was to provide quarters or shelter for the troops.

Nowadays the quartermaster corps provides not only quarters for the troops, but also clothing, food and other supplies except weapons and ammunition.

Senator Matthew Quay, for many years political boss of Pennsylvania, had Delaware Indian blood in his veins and always took a special interest in the protection of the Indians.

"Make ye no trace with Adam-zed—the Bear that walks like a Man!"

So wrote Rudyard Kipling in "The Truce of the Bear." He referred, of course, to Russia, one of his pet dislikes. Adam-zed means "man bear."

"Scratch a Russian and you will find a Tartar," is an old saying.

It alludes to the fact that Russia is essentially an Asiatic nation.

It was Simon Cameron, political boss of Pennsylvania in Lincoln's time who gave us: "An honest politician is one who, when he is bought, will stay bought."

In Canada refugees from Europe are known as "war guests."

When John Quincy Adams was chosen President of the United States, his father, former President John Adams, wrote to him as follows:

"No man who ever held the office of President would congratulate a friend on obtaining it. He will make one man ungrateful, and a hundred men his enemies, for every office he can bestow."

Long before Louis XIV of France had said: "Every time I bestow a vacant office I make a hundred discontented persons and one ingrate."

In the United States the number of people that each member of the House of Representatives represents is determined in a general way by dividing the total population of the country by 435, the number of members of the House, provided each state, regardless of population, has at least one member.

In the Dominion of Canada the number of people each member of the House of Commons represents is determined by dividing the population of the Province of Quebec by 65, the fixed number of members from that province regardless of changes in its population.

New Routes Into Russia Must Be Opened

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP).—Leningrad's peril has a direct bearing on troubled situations fast building up to the point of crisis in two areas thousands of miles distant on Russia's southern and far eastern frontiers.

Fall of the key Soviet industrial centre probably would block indefinitely one of the three principal gateways to Russia from the outside world—the rail routes to the Arctic ports.

This threat explains in part the urgency of British and Russian demands that Nazi influences be ousted quickly from Iran, which shares land frontiers and the Caspian Sea with Russia. It stiffens the determination of Britain and the United States to move aviation gasoline and machine tools into Vladivostok, in the distant North Pacific, regardless of Japan's objections.

A reminder that Russia, vast as she is, could be in effect imprisoned is afforded by China's struggle to keep the Burma Road open.

War despatches indicate that Russia's far northern gateway already has been at least partially closed by the advance of German-Finnish forces toward Leningrad. The railway southward from the Arctic port of Murmansk skirts the eastern shore of Lake Ladoga, the path of the Finns.

Second Line In Peril.

Some 300 miles to the east is a parallel railway extending southward from Archangel toward Moscow. It, too, is imperilled.

There was a time when it appeared Britain might use bombers and warships to help prevent the closing of these northern routes. Naval planes raided Kirkenes, in German-occupied Norway in the vicinity of Murmansk. Presumably the speed of the Axis drive made it evident that Murmansk and Archangel soon would be pinched off.

Iran, on whose borders both Britain and Russian forces have been massing, and where Britain now is reported to be considering "vigorous measures", offers several feasible though difficult routes by which vital munitions might be delivered to Russia.

From the Persian Gulf, made secure by British sea power, a recently completed 700-mile railway now extends across Iran to the shores of the Caspian Sea. It may be used now, but London and Moscow naturally are unwilling to expose vital munitions to German technicians and "tourists".

Caravan Routes.

Other routes also cut through Iran. From Baghdad in neighboring Iraq motor truck lines penetrate desert and mountain passes en route to the shores of the Caspian and Black Seas. Still other motor caravan roads push toward Russia's oil fields from rail heads in India.

All this is in the immediate rear of a potential war front which promises soon to be a focus of world concern, as the Nazi legions battle to win control of the Black Sea, seize the Russian oil field in the Caucasus and threaten those farther on in Iran and Iraq.

The third route of aid, by way of Vladivostok, offers substantial advantages, despite the 4,000-mile haul on the overtaxed Trans-Siberian railway from the Pacific to Moscow. It involves only a single trans-shipment and the minimum likelihood of interruption. Japan is "gravely concerned" over use of Vladivostok, but it is doubtful that she will dare interfere.

Forty-Two Bouts In Preliminaries Held at Coliseum

First round, or preliminaries, of the Ontario armed forces boxing championships was staged last night at the Coliseum, Exhibition Grounds, before a good-sized crowd of soldiers and civilians and in the four-hour program of forty-two bouts there was action galore.

Semi-finals and finals will be decided this afternoon and this evening at the Coliseum.

Some of the contestants were ex-professional and amateur fight stars, such as Johnny McComski of New York, who was knocked out in one punch by John Green, an English airman who is stationed at Mount Hope.

Gordon Schmaltz of Kitchener, former Canadian amateur welterweight champion, who is now attached to No. 2 District Depot, won over Sgt. Darnborough, of the Governor General's Horse Guards but had a real battle on his hands. The well-known Marsh Brothers of Montreal and George Pignoli, of Toronto, were other former fight stars who showed on last night's card. All three of them qualified for the semi-finals this afternoon.

North Lakeside

North Lakeside—Mr. and Mrs. N. Carpenter and children of New York spent a few days recently with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zufelt.

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Gifford have arrived home after a three weeks holidays with relatives at Port Stanley.

Mrs. Lela Weeks spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller of Consecon.

Mrs. James Way has been spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Chase.

Douglas Skinkle had the misfortune to get his fingers caught in a trap door last week causing a painful injury. He was rushed to Dr. Thompson of Wellington for medical attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller spent the dinner hour on Friday of last week with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jinks of Wellington.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Chase were Mr. James Way, Mr. Gerald Way and Miss Lora Way of Bowermans, Miss Vera Way of Mountain View, Mr. Donald Campbell of Bancroft and Mr. David Rowe and Miss Julia Rowe of Consecon Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Walt entertained friends from Toronto a couple of days last week.

Doris Clarke of Burrs is spending a time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bovay.

Mr. Jack Skinkle of Peterboro, spent a few days last week at his home here.

Glen Cruickshanks of Melville is spending holidays with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cruickshanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walt, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morton and Mrs. Fred Russell were Monday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cunningham.

Group III of the Consecon W.A. entertained at the United Church, Consecon, on Tuesday afternoon. The following W.A.'s were present: Hillier, Salem, Group I and II of Consecon. Proceeds for the afternoon amounted to $13.

Mrs. Lorne Alyea of Consecon, entertained Group II of the W.A. at her home on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 20th. The meeting opened by the use of hymn No. 285, followed with prayer by the president, Mrs. M. Arthur. The Scripture lesson was read by the president. The secretary's report was then given. Roll call was responded to by a verse of the Bible. The theme song was sung.

AT THE BELLE

"The Reluctant Dragon"

In a unique fashion Hollywood has finally "broken down". There the great picture studios bar the general public during working hours although the curious constantly beg for the privilege. Pictures in production are even barred to all studio employees except those with legitimate reasons for being present. Many a studio worker never has seen a picture being made. But now something has been done about it, by the studio considered the most difficult of all to sightsee.

The studio is Walt Disney's fantasy factory in a Hollywood suburb, and the newest picture born there —RKO Radio's feature-length release, "The Reluctant Dragon", now on the Belle Theatre screen—embraces a personally conducted tour of every department, with its story preparation and character animation.

The primary end of "The Reluctant Dragon" is as clear as that evolved by Disney in "Snow White", first feature-length animated production in history. However, differing in some moods from its illustrious predecessor, "The Reluctant Dragon", nucleus of the new production, is an outright animated comedy, in richest technicolor, spun of purest fancy.

It brings to the screen in the inimitable Disney way Kenneth Grahame's yarn of the English countryside (circa, King Arthur's time or, maybe, that of St. George who slew the Dragon) that has its countryside terrorised by a Dragon living in a nearby cave.

In it the creator of Mickey and Minnie, Donald and Clare, Pluto and Goofy, and all the rest of the Disney creations, pulls some new one out of his drawing boards. They are headed by the Dragon himself, by Sir Giles who goes to slay him and stays to tea, and by The Boy.

But with the airy creatures, Disney intersperses human actors. That's where the millions who may have yearned to go behind the scenes in the Disney plant will get their innings. Their proxy is just about the nosiest man alive—none other than Robert Benchley.

Benchley enters the studio to offer a story idea and goes snooping into every department of Disney's newly-opened, air-conditioned, modernistic studio which is an artist's paradise.

Benchley sees everything — strange sights, such as artists acting the roles of their own creations in story conferences. Every artist at the plant is an amateur actor of a sort, with Walt supplying the voice of Mickey Mouse and modeling that inimitable little fellow. Incidentally, Walt also used to hump his shoulders and play Monstro the whale when "Pinocchio" was being produced.

Four selected and varied featurettes have been assembled for exhibition on the same program including "Forbidden Passage", a new Crime Does Not Pay story; The Belle latest World-wide News events; radio favorite program "Information Please", and "Sportsman's Partner", a treat for dog lovers. Continuous shows will be presented today.

HAVE A DELICIOUS
LAURA SECORD CHOCOLATE
for your
AFTER-DINNER SWEET ON SUNDAY.
DOLAN
THE DRUGGIST
PHONE 138
FOR PROMPT DELIVERY

AT THE CAPITOL

"SHINING VICTORY"

The Capitol Theatre's next feature attraction will be "Shining Victory", a dramatic new story by A. J. Cronin, author of "The Citadel". "Shining Victory" co-stars James Stephenson and Geraldine Fitzgerald, with a supporting cast headed by Barbara O'Neil and Donald Crisp, and including Montagu Love, Sig Ruman, G. P. Huntley, Jr., Richard Ainley, Bruce Lester, Billy Bevan and Doris Lloyd.

"Shining Victory" is a tightly-knit drama dealing with the innermost thoughts of women's minds, as divulged by modern psychiatric methods. A. J. Cronin, whose brilliant novels have brought him world-wide renown, has written a stirring story that is thoroughly entertaining with a dramatic and unusual romance woven through it.

James Stephenson, whose sensational success in the Bette Davis film "The Letter" skyrocketed him to stardom, plays the leading role of a young English doctor who discovers a new method for curing disordered minds. Lovely Geraldine Fitzgerald, well-known to film audiences for her work in "Wuthering Heights", "Dark Victory" and "Flight From Destiny", is cast opposite Stephenson as his assistant and the girl who teaches him the important lesson in humanity which enables him to complete his great work.

Donald Crisp, the ever-capable character actor who has appeared in scores of important films, has a fine role as a somewhat eccentric old bachelor doctor who befriends the two young doctors. Barbara O'Neil, whose portrayal of the Duchess in "All This and Heaven Too" will always stand out vividly as one of the most brilliant in screen history, is splendidly cast as the neurotic woman whose twisted mind brings tragedy to all whose lives touch hers.

Cronin's play was adapted for the screen by Howard Koch and Anne Froelick. Irving Rapper directed "Shining Victory" and Max Steiner wrote the superb musical score which accompanies the film.

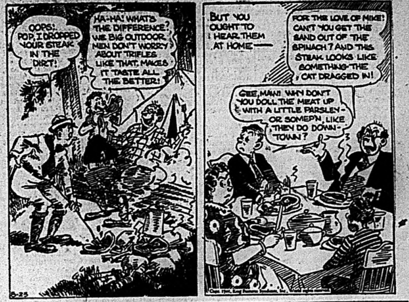
"She Couldn't Say No."

A gay, delightful comedy which makes for real light-hearted entertainment, is Warner Bros.' "She Couldn't Say No," which opens with "Shining Victory".

The film is a lively melee that mixes romance with legal intrigue and breach-of-promise suits, starring a trio of popular and capable players. Roger Pryor, handsome band leader-leading man, is starred with Eve Arden, talented stage star who has made a name for herself in pictures. Cliff "Ukelele Ike" Edwards is featured.

The same program includes an interesting short subject, "Going Places".

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



OOPS! POP, I DROPPED YOUR STEAK IN THE DIRT!
HA-HA! WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE? WE BIG OUTDOOR MEN DON'T WORRY ABOUT TRIFLES LIKE THAT. MAKES IT TASTE ALL THE BETTER!
8-23
BUT YOU OUGHT TO HEAR THEM AT HOME——
FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE! CAN'T YOU GET THE SAND OUT OF THE SPINACH? AND THIS STEAK LOOKS LIKE SOMETHING THE CAT DRAGGED IN!
GEE, MAW! WHY DON'T YOU DOLL THE MEAT UP WITH A LITTLE PARSLEY— OR SOMEP'N, LIKE THEY DO DOWN-TOWN?

Visit Western Canada
SPECIAL BARGAIN EXCURSIONS
GOING DAILY SEPT. 12 to 26 INCLUSIVE
Examples of ROUND TRIP RAIL FARES from BELLEVILLE to Government tax 15% extra
Return Limit 45 Days

	Coaches	Tourist Sleeper	Standard Sleeper
Winnipeg	$29.80	$36.40	$43.00
Regina	37.85	46.20	54.60
Saskatoon	40.40	49.40	58.35
Calgary-Edmonton	47.85	58.50	69.10
Banff	50.70	61.60	72.40
Jasper	55.50	66.75	77.90
Vancouver-Victoria	63.50	77.50	91.45
Prince Rupert	63.50	77.50	91.45

—also to all other Western Canada destinations.
Fares cover passage only: sleeping or parlor car space extra.
Similar Excursions from Western to Eastern Canada during the same period.
Consult any Railway ticket agent.
CANADIAN PACIFIC CANADIAN NATIONAL

DON'T MISS THE fair
3 BIG DAYS
BELLEVILLE
September 8th - 9th - 10th
Midway — Trotting Races — Fire Works
BRING THE FAMILY

PERSONALS

Mrs. J. B. Conlin and Miss Agnes Conlin of Joliet, Ill., have returned home after visiting Mrs. Wm. Holway, Front Street.

Mrs. D. S. Stary with daughter, Marie, sister of Mrs. Arthur Jones, spent the past two weeks at Firhurst Manor, Trenton, and also visited in Belleville.

The high regard in which the Rev. Roy H. Rickard, M.R.E., is held by the members of his congregation of the United Church in Palmerston, Ontario, was evidenced on Thursday, August 21, when two members of the congregation, Miss Beatrice Nelson and Mr. Harold Cozens made the journey from Palmerston to Oak Lake and were married by Mr. Rickard, in the summer home of Ald. and Mrs. Harry J. Clarke, the parents of Mrs. Rickard with whom she and her husband are spending a vacation.

Miss Jocelyn Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones, 287 John Street, spent her vacation with her parents. Jocelyn has a responsible position with the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Waterloo, Ont. While visiting in Belleville she enjoyed swimming and golf at Wellers Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Leavens of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Farnsworth and the Rev. E. Farnsworth.

Alan Carre has returned to his home in Lachine, after spending the summer holidays with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Carre, Dundas Street East.

Miss Lena Snyder of Kitchener, Ont., during the past two weeks has been a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Jones, 287 John Street. Miss Snyder enjoyed the cooling breezes and boating at Weller's Bay.

Miss Ruth Fullmore of Chatham, and Toronto, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Zufelt, since last Tuesday.

Mr. Allen Miller of the R.C.A.F., Dartmouth, N.S., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Cedar Street.

Mr. V. P. Hunt, former organist of Bridge Street Church, is again playing during the month of August.

Miss Rita MacDonald of the Ontario Hospital staff, Hamilton, is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. J. S. MacDonald.

Miss Dorothy Zufelt entertained at bridge on Friday evening, in honor of Miss Ruth Fullmore of Chatham. The guests were present from Frankford and this city.

Mrs. Maud Taylor of Toronto, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. Fairman, Cedar Street.

Mrs. Morris Stickle, Johnstown, Mr. Nelson Potter, Frankford, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Dent, Watsonville, Calif., were guests of Mrs. Charles Reddick, Picton Road, on Thursday.

Enjoy Outing at Weller's Bay

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson McIntyre of 51 Broadway, Toronto, along with their guests, Miss Lillian Moore and Mr. James Dissette also of Toronto, were visitors during the past week at Bay Breezes, Weller's Bay, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones of 287 John Street, Belleville.

These guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jones were travelling in the large trailer of Mr. McIntyre. While parked on the north shore of the famous Weller's Bay beside the cottage of Mr. Jones these visitors enjoyed fine weather and good fishing. Mr. Dissette landing a 13 1-2 pound 'lunge and several black bass while Mr. McIntyre contented himself with a number of good pike.

Last Wednesday afternoon the party enjoyed a game of golf at the Quinte Golf Club. They report they were heartily received by the officials and ladies on hand and highly praised the course and Club House with its beautiful setting beside the waters of the Bay of Quinte.

QUINTE INSTITUTE

The Quinte Institute held their monthly meeting at the Front Road Church on Aug. 12. The President, Mrs. Noble Brown, was in charge. Mrs. F. Parrott acted as pianist. The meeting opened by the Institute Ode and "God Save the King," followed by a prayer for peace by Mrs. F. Haight and the Lord's Prayer in unison. Several letters were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. T. Bradshaw. The President spoke of sending jam or honey to Red Cross and also of the shortage of wearing apparel in England.

A quilt which was donated to the Institute by Mrs. Harry Grills was spoken of and some tickets handed out, the funds to go for war work.

Miss Lorena Haight, convener of Health and Child Welfare, took charge of the meeting and opened by "O Canada" and the "Land of Hope and Glory." A paper on the care of teeth prepared by Mrs. A. Mitchell and read by Mrs. J. Donaldson, was well given.

Instrumental music, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "In the Garden," by Miss Bernice Robinson was enjoyed. Mrs. H. Grills read a paper entitled, "They Shall Not Fail". Mrs. F. Haight sang "The Bells of St. Mary" and on request, "The King Is Still in London," accompanied by Lorena. Both were enjoyed. A clipping, "Churchill's Order," by Mrs. D. Atkins, community singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Roll call on health suggestions was well responded to. A solo by Mrs. Insley was also enjoyed.

Dr. R. S. Gibson gave a helpful and instructive talk on health, etc. Holland being the healthiest country in the world with the lowest death rate per 1000 and New Zealand coming second. In conclusion Dr. Gibson answered questions asked by the different members. Mrs. F. Parrott moved a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Gibson for giving so much of his valuable time. Mrs. S. Geddes and Mrs. Snider, the hostesses for the afternoon, arranged tables, etc., in the hall of the church and with the conveners served a very delicious lunch.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Aug. 23—(AP)—A prisoner of war in Germany will become godfather "in absentia" at the baptism of three-weeks-old Allan Wicke, Jr. The prisoner is Albert Canton or Montreal, relative of Mr. and Mrs. Wicke.

A scene from the super horror film "Invisible Ghost" starring Bela Lugosi, which opens next at the McCarthy Theatre on the same program with "Pride and Prejudice" co-starring Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

In Love With Married Man

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm 22 years old. Six months ago I met a married man ten years older than I am. He told me right from the beginning that he was married but did not live with his wife. He has a little son five years old. He wants a divorce but told me his wife refuses to give it to him.

We've been out together several times, and he is nicer to me than most unmarried young men. Lately he has stopped coming and says I should go out with younger men because he's not free and might even go back to his wife. So I took his advice and have been going out with other young men. But they don't interest me as much as this married man, who seems to have changed towards me completely.

Beth.

Let's be practical about this, my dear. This man's wife declines to give him a divorce, in addition to which he tells you to become interested in someone else, as he may go back to his wife. Don't you think you'd better take his advice? It's plain to be seen that he doesn't want to continue his friendship with you.

And there's the welfare of his little son to be considered. At 22, with all the world before you, I really think you could make a happier marriage than this.

Answered Only One of His Four Letters

Dear Miss Fairfax:

While spending the evening at the home of one of my friends, I became acquainted with a lovely girl of 17 who lives in another city. I am 21 years of age. I think I fell in love the moment I saw her. I saw her three times and then she went home.

I do not have an auto, and my salary is too small to allow for train rides, and so I have to depend on letter-writing. I've written to her four times during the past four months, and sent her picture postcards and special cards, but she has written only once. I'm so anxious to hear from her; would it be useless for me to write again?

Bewildered.

There's no way by which you can force her to respond to your attentions. Perhaps she may think you're too serious. The next time you write, make the letter amusing, and don't refer to love. Make other friends, and go out and have good times, and then write her about what fun you're having. I don't want to appear unsympathetic, but don't you think you're rather young to take a boy and girl affair so seriously?

I would say, don't waste precious emotion on a girl who is so cool about it.

Friends Imagine He's a Cousin

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17 years old and going with a boy who is 19. My friends think he is my cousin, but he is the nephew of my stepmother, making him no relation to me. We love each other very much and have been going together for a year without my parents' knowledge.

I'm sure my mother has some idea that we see each other, but she tells my girl friends that we're only kids and will get over it. But I love him only, and although other boys ask to date me, I'm not interested in them. Please help me to decide what to do.

Worried.

Seventeen and nineteen are pretty early for young people to become engaged in these undecided times. Your mother is taking the sensible attitude when she laughs it off and says you're "only kids."

There is something very poetic about one's first romantic interest, but seldom do these idyllic friendships result in marriage. You would be wiser, it seems to me, if you did not confine your interest exclusively to this boy. Be guided by your mother, who seems a very sensible sort of person.

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Supper-Club Engagement Party

Dear Mrs. Beeckman,

My mother and father are giving a little party at a very delightful supper club near my home, and at the party my engagement is to be announced. Only the members of the immediate families are to be invited.

1.—Would you suggest our getting together at my parents' home before we go on to the supper club? If you decide this is a good idea, would you suggest that we serve cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, or would only the cocktails be sufficient? If anything special is to be done before we go to the club, should this be mentioned in the invitations?

How does Dadego about announcing the engagement once we are at the supper club? Does this depend at all on when my boy-friend presents me with the engagement ring?

2.—Should mother and I write the invitations to my in-laws-to-be?

Frances.

1.—Since this party is to be held in a supper club, I'd like to urge you to ask your guests to meet at your home, and have your father make the announcement of your engagement there. Such an important and personal announcement is made with vastly better taste in a home rather than in a public place.

It would not be necessary to tell this plan in your invitations; inviting them to meet there is all that is necessary.

Announcing your engagement in your own home may be done with the simplicity and charm and dignity that this significant occasion should have. Your mother and father, the hosts, and you and your fiance may stand together rather near the entrance to your living-room. As the guests arrive, your mother and father greet them. Then your mother, turning to you says, "Here's Frances", and then turning to your fiance, ". . . And here's her fiance, Tom". Even if some of the members of the immediate families know about the engagement, as undoubtedly they do, this formality can still be carried out, and with charm.

Then about the presentation of your engagement ring: This should really be done before the party; your fiance should give you your engagement ring when you and he are alone together. Then you wear it for the first time in public at your engagement - announcement party.

2.—Your mother should write these invitations to your in-laws-to-be, for she is the hostess of the party.

Wedding Gift

Dear Mrs. Beeckman,

Today I received a letter from a very dear friend of mine telling me that her daughter is to be married in September. How soon should I send her a wedding gift?

N. R.

If you wish you may send her a wedding gift now, or you may wait until the invitation to her wedding arrives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Barnum Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary in This City

MR. AND MRS. S. H. BARNUM

Residents of Belleville for the past thirty years, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Barnum, James Street, are today receiving the congratulations of their host of friends on the happy occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. Their marriage took place at Rednersville on August 23rd, 1891, the ceremony being performed by Rev. George Robinson.

Samuel Henry Barnum was born on June 9th, 1867, and his wife, formerly Elizabeth Jane Thrasher, was born on January 9th, 1870. Following their marriage they farmed for a few years near Tweed later moving to Toronto where Mr. Barnum was employed in the C.P.R. shops. They took up residence in Belleville thirty years ago. For some time Mr. Barnum belonged to the Belleville Fire Department, driving a team for four years.

Five children were born to them, three daughters, (Hattie) Mrs. Harry Parsons, Smith's Falls; (Mary) Mrs. Frank Parsons, Belleville; (Annie) Mrs. George MacDonald, Kingston, and two sons, both of whom are deceased. Harry Barnum, a veteran of the Great War, died shortly after the war, and George Barnum passed away some years ago. They have thirteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Two grandsons, Harry "Barney" Parsons and George "Buck" Parsons, both of Belleville, are on active service with the Royal Canadian Navy.

During their residence in Tweed, Toronto and in Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Barnum by their fine qualities and friendliness, made a wide circle of friends who join with the members of their family in extending sincere good wishes for their continued happiness.

Weddings

ORR—LUNAN

A quiet wedding took place Saturday afternoon, August 16th., when the marriage of Miss Iris Helena Lunan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lunan of Collingwood and Robert Lawrence Orr, son of Mrs. Orr and the late Robert Orr, of Belleville, was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Philip of Drayton. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. H. O. Eastman of Belleville, and took place under a floral arch of roses and gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Frank Lunan of Toronto, wore white embossed mousseline de soie over rose satin, with shoulder length veil and halo headdress caught at the temples with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of deep pink and white roses and was attended by Miss Mona Lunan of Toronto, as bridesmaid and Miss Frances Hartle of Collingwood as flower girl. Both wore similar gowns of the same material, with the bridesmaid in blue and the flower girl in white. Mr. Charles Franklin, Belleville, acted as groomsman.

Wedding music was played by Miss Jean Stoutenburg, St. Catharines, while Miss Ethel Millsap, Stayner, sang.

At a reception held later, the bride's sister, Mrs. B. A. Hartle received wearing brown sheer with corsage of roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. R. Orr, Belleville, wore navy blue with red roses. Assisting in receiving guests, Mrs. Roy Philip wore a powder blue gown with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. On a wedding trip to Muskoka the bride wore a black wool suit with violet accessories. The couple will live in Belleville.

GODDARD—CORNEIL

The residence of Bishop Marshall, Belleville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 19, when Vera Mary, daughter of Mrs. A. G. Corneil of Foxboro, was united in marriage with Ronald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goddard of Thurlow Township.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Gray, of Kingston, as matron of honor, while Mr. Alfred Goddard, brother of the groom, did the honors of best man.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride looked lovely in a dress of beige wool, with dark brown accessories, and corsage of pink roses, and also wore the gift of the groom, a gold bracelet with amber setting.

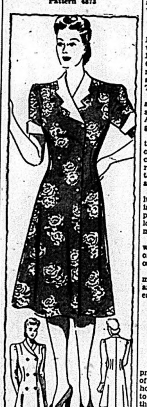
After the wedding ceremony a luncheon was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties at the Paragon Cafe, followed by a reception at the apartment of the bride and groom.

The assistants at the reception were Miss Maisie Goddard, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Alice Scott, of Foxboro, sister of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Goddard left by motor amid a shower of confetti and rice for Ottawa and other eastern points.

Trim Double-Breasted Style

Pattern 4873



By ANNE ADAMS

It won't be long now before days begin to shorten and you begin to spend more time indoors A dress like Pattern 4873 is just the sort of trim, simple, easy-to-wear style you will need. It's an Anne Adams design, too, which means that you can make it in record time from its accurate pattern and concise Instructor Sheet. That double-breasted coat-style is very smart and tailored. No waistline seaming is needed — those front and back darts give smooth, neat fit. Whether you choose the short or long sleeve version, you will want to add contrasting or self-fabric cuffs to match the collar, which is made in either a zig-zag shape or with simpler, narrower lines.

Pattern 4873 is available in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 takes 4 3-8 yards 35-inch fabric and 3-4 yard contrast.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

The Stars Say—

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 25

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds promise of the sudden culmination of long worked for and cherished hopes and wishes. This may refer to the clergy or others faithful to their obligations. Their studies or some concentrated purpose may at long last find rewards and be graciously lifted into the public acclaim.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of definite opportunity for advancing their fortunes and position by a solidification or reorganization of their interests and securities on firmer and more enduring foundations. Elders, superiors or others in influential positions may assist or counsel in this.

A child born on this day should have much stability and sterling character as well as some extraordinary talent securing it in public acclaim.

For Monday, August 25

Monday's astrological forecast may prove a fairly lively day in both business and private affairs, with public interests claiming the major attention. Social service, humanitarian and cultural activities should be to the fore with those in authority encouraging. But don't be carried away by excitement. Be calm and self-contained for success.

Those whose birthday it is may find their best success and satisfaction in public service, humanitarian, and charitable social welfare, although private life should be happy. In all associations subdue mental irritabilities and caustic remarks.

A child born on this day should be sharp of speech and thought, although at heart kindly, cordial and sympathetic. It will be moderately successful and devoted to public welfare.

J. A. McFee Says It's a Fact!
FISH IS NOT A BRAIN FOOD
IF THIS GETS AROUND WE MAY LIVE LONGER
And He Can Prove It!

(Proof Next Monday)

It is not strange that McFee's Eyesight Service offers more money value. Styles can't be newer; prices can't be lower; plus that most important of factors — greater experience.

(Proof of Monday's Ad.)
PLANTS IN BEDROOMS ARE NOT UNHEALTHFUL

Non-Poisonous plants are beneficial rather than harmful in sleeping rooms, according to the director of scientific work in the U S. Department of Agriculture.
1 "Popular Questions Answered."
—Geo. W. Stimpson.

J. A. McFEE
EXPERIENCED OPTOMETRIST
PHONE 26
BELLEVILLE ONT

Marmora

Marmora.—Mr. Dan Terrion of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mantle, Sr., are visiting friends in Kingston.

Mrs. William Smith was admitted to Nicholl's Hospital, Peterborough, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Heuklehon and family of Carson Mines are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clemens.

Miss Jean Thomson of New York City is visiting her mother, Mrs. D. Thomson.

Miss Laura Sullivan of Toronto is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Sullivan and other relatives here.

Miss Grace Crawford, Reg. N., of Albany, N.Y., is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton Crawford.

Mr. Ransom Walters of Syracuse, N.Y., is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. Walters.

Mrs. Fred Dalgleish and two sons of Lakefield, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Osborne on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shepard of Toronto returned home on Sunday after spending a couple of weeks visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Archer, Marmora Township.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Berry and daughter, Carol Anne, of Woodstock have been visiting friends here during the past week.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Linton were Mrs. E. Underwood, Mrs. N. Little, Mr. A. Little and Mr. L. Hay of Kendal, Mrs. E. Woodyard and Ann of Orono and Mr. Don Little of Kingston.

Home Service

Let Favorite Poems Add Cheer to Each Day

"Life is real! Life is earnest!
. . . . act, that each tomorrow
Find us farther than today."

Encouragement for the human heart . . . in those brave lines from Longfellow's "A Psalm of Life." A daily reading of such beloved poems is an inspiration and a delight.

The petty and humdrum cannot bind your free spirit, say these lines by Richard Lovelace:

"Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage . . ."

There's joy in just being alive, and such joy you find in this verse from "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride" by James Thomson:

"Give a man a pipe he can smoke,
Give a man a book he can read;
And his home is bright with a calm delight,
Though the room be poor indeed."

And there's always joy and beauty in love! Elizabeth Browning's famous sonnet begins:

"How do I love thee?
Let me count the ways.
I love thee to the depth and breadth and height
My soul can reach . . ."

Read these inspired poems complete in our 32-page booklet. Many others too by your favorite poets—Burns, Wordsworth, Poe, James Whitcomb Riley and more as well-loved. Poems of joy, courage and humanity.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of WORLD'S BEST - LOVED POEMS to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Arc-Welding Process Creates Health Hazard

One of our readers writes as follows:

"I have read many of your articles over a period of years. I should like to know if you have anything in the way of advice for electric welders. Is it true that this field has not been explored by medical science? Welding is killing many people yearly and many others suffer disabilities and are in misery most of the time. The usual advise of the average doctor is to change your job, but this will not eliminate the cause of this trade's ailments, as all steel construction, or 90 per cent of it, is by electric welding methods. I would appreciate an article in your column".

In making metal products, welding has extensively replaced bolts and rivets. Among the products now welded are automobiles, trucks, ships, tanks, refrigerators, bridges and road machinery.

There are three different methods of welding: Electric resistance welding, gas welding, and arc welding. Electric resistance welding is not particularly dangerous. The only danger is from flying sparks and occasional irritations of the skin produced by the oil that is used to coat the metal parts.

Gas welding is more dangerous, particularly if the work is done in a close, confined space. At various times deaths and sickness have been charged to such gases as carbon monoxide, the nitrous gases other harmful substances produced by the oxy-acetylene mixture used in this process. Sometimes there is a lack of oxygen. On other occasions there are sufficient dangerous gases like phosphene or arsene. Sometimes workers with gas welding develop a condition called metal fume fever, arising from the by-products of zinc used in brazing wires. In gas welding the amount of ultra-violet rays produced is not sufficient to create any serious danger.

The chief danger, therefore, is the technic known as arc welding. The production of ultraviolet rays in this process calls for extensive protection of the eyes and the skin. The high temperature associated with arc welding is a hazard when the work is carried out in a small workroom. In the arc welding process, coated electrodes are used with all sorts of different chemical substances for the coating. This coating is planned to exclude air and to create a slag for the protection of the weld prior to cooling.

At present there is a belief that dangers frequently are present in arc-welding operations because of nitrous gases that are produced and because of the chemicals used in the process. Investigators in the Chrysler Industrial Hygiene Laboratories made studies of animals under the conditions existing in the arc-welding process concluded that the nitrous gases were not the sole, positive, possible causative agent of deaths of injuries. Attention must also be given to the possibility that oxygen deficiency and poisoning with some of the other minerals and metals involved may be responsible.

So important has electric arc welding become in the national defense program that a special report has recently been prepared. The latest investigations point to the belief that ozone or nascent oxygen developed in the process may be irritating; that the nitrous gases are hardly present in sufficiently high concentration to be responsible for most of the symptoms, and that more study must be given to protection against ultra-violet rays and to some of the other metallic substances used in the welding process. Apparently such harm as is done by the nitrous gases is the effect on the blood with a tendency to break down the red blood cells.

The party is in full swing in this scene from the riotous new comedy "She Couldn't Say No" starring Roger Pryor and Cliff Edwards. It opens Sunday Midnight at the Capitol with A. J. Cronin's "Shining Victory" featuring Geraldine Fitzgerald and James Stephenson.

TWIN COLTS BORN

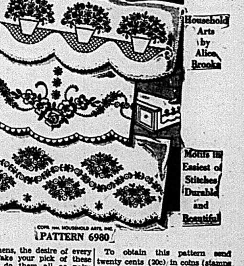
Kentville, N.S., Aug. 23—(CP)—The word from Farmer Eldon Coldwell's nearby farm today was that Pat and Mike, twin sons of Bonnie C., were doing fine. Twin colts, they were born four days ago and appear headed for a long life.

Horse breeders say the birth of twin colts is no rarity, but it's a 1,000 to one bet against their living.

'VICTORY EGG' DISCOVERED

Montrose, N.Y., Aug. 23—(AP)—A "Victory egg," discovered by Mrs. Harry Porter as she dressed a hen, may be flown to London as a gift to Prime Minister Churchill. The oddity shows a "V" half an inch high and an eighth of an inch thick on the shell. The breed of the hen originated at Orpington, Kent, England.

Turn Out Gay Linens Quickly



Household Arts by Alice Brooks
Motifs in Easiest of Stitches Durable and Beautiful
COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 6980

Lovely linens, the desire of every hostess! Take your pick of these designs—or do them all as pairs of towels and pillow cases or as scarf ends. Pattern 6980 contains a transfer pattern of 6 motifs averaging 3 1-2 x 13 1-2 inches; directions for edging; illustrations of stitches; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

'TEEN AGE tips

The first lesson in beauty culture for young ladies after perfection

BY DELIGHT DIXON

August 24, 1941.

Dearest Cousin Bonnie Jean:

Your vacation snaps are wonderful and I take it that you had an exciting time. You must write and tell me more about what you did this summer. Your letter was full of news and your new clothes sound quite grand, and now before I tell you another thing I better answer all of your questions.

Are you 13 or 14? You must be 14 because Janet is two years older and I know she was 16 her last birthday. Honestly, you're growing up so fast I can't keep track of your years.

You ask about your hands and nails. Naturally, when you get down to a real schedule at home you will have to give your hands more regular care than you have this summer. And to help you establish a good system and take care of your nails properly, you must save your pennies or ask Mother to get you a special manicuring box. They're not expensive and contain everything you will need. A good file, two emery boards and an orangewood stick are in a special compartment at the back of the kit, and lined up in soldier-like precision are a tube of hand cream, a bottle of ruby-colored cuticle oil, a bottle of milk-white nail shampoo and a buffer. Right in the kit in front of these is a box of cotton and a container of polish.

Since I don't believe you have ever given yourself a real manicure, and I know your Mother is frightfully busy now, suppose I tell you how to go about doing a professional-like job. Use the file for the real shaping of your nails, then smooth away any rough edges with an emery board. Next, use the orangewood stick as it is or wrap its tip with cotton, dip it into the cuticle oil and gently work it around the cuticle of each nail. Don't push hard, but be patient and work delicately around each nail. You won't have to clip off any excess cuticle, unless, of course, there are rough edges or hangnails; in which case clip them off by all means so they won't tempt you to pick at them.

And now, that little pink handbrush I sent you last year will be just the thing to use next with the nail shampoo. Place a drop or two of the milk-white liquid on each nail, work over it with your finger for a second, then scrub all of your finger-tips well. This will help soften the cuticle, groom it and remove every trace of cuticle oil so that polish will be more effective.

After you have rinsed your fingers and dried them well, sift a little of the powdered polish onto your buffer and buff away until your nails glisten. It might be a good plan to use the buffer every day or two for a while. Of course, you will have to do your manicures every week.

The hand cream should be used next. Don't be afraid to use it very generously and be just as generous with its massage.

I hardly know what to say about using colored polish on your nails. Suppose you talk it over with Mother and do as she thinks best. My opinion is that you are a little young for colored polish. On the other hand, if you must use polish, for goodness sake's use a light pink or colorless one. Don't, whatever you do, use a dark shade. Maybe in a year or two, but not now, Bonnie Jean.

So you think you ought to use lip rouge just because a few of your older girl friends do. Well, I can't say that I agree with you on that. Perhaps on special occasions, when you're going to a dinner party or any evening party, you might use a very pale lip rouge. But don't use a dark rouge or you will look like a little girl masquerading as a grownup. You can get special shades of rouge made for young ladies and they're really nice. I'm sure your Mother would not object. But for everyday or school wear, use the pomade, which is colorless. It will make your lips look divine.

To celebrate your cosmetic debut whenever Mother thinks it wise, you must get the special preparations made for young ladies. Save your pennies and get all of the things you need now and will be needing from time to time. The liprouges and pomades are part of the special preparations that will help you make your cosmetic debut.

I know you will like the delightful perfume and its milder version, bouquet. The bouquet should be used more generously than perfume, of course. After your bath, and after you've rubbed yourself dry, pour some of the bouquet into the palm of one hand and splash the sweet fragrance over your body. It will make you feel quite elegant. Use the bouquet over your shoulders and back, around your midriff and down your legs and arms. Then put on your undies and do your next step, whether it is putting on your shoes or combing your hair.

You say your skin is awfully dry. Well, along with your order for the lipstick and bouquet, you had better mark down a jar of the special cream. It is of a perfect consistency for young, lovely skin, and has the same perfume as the liprouge and cologne. Use this cream after washing your face with soap and water. And right now let me give you a good tip: Don't be afraid to use soap and water often and don't be afraid of using lots of water to rinse your skin. To help correct your dry skin, make the application of cream and let it stay on for 15 minutes or longer, then wipe off all cream with tissues. You probably won't have to use cream every day, but it's wise to have it on hand when your skin needs it.

Along with your order, or even if you order one item at a time, be sure to get a box of four cakes of soap made especially for the purpose of keeping young skin lovely. Get all of the other things as you need them. There's a lot to this business of making yourself feel at ease by using the right things to make yourself as attractive as possible. Start by keeping your hands, nails and skin in good condition and you'll be well on your way to building assurance to good looks.

I must close now as I have an appointment with my hairdresser. And that reminds me that I will have to write you again and answer all the questions you asked about giving your hair and scalp correct care. Give my love to your Mother, Dad and Janet and tell Janet these same suggestions are for her.

Let me know how you are progressing with your beauty schedule.

Your devoted cousin,
DELIGHT.

P.S.—I started to make this a purely personal letter, but I know that other girls your age would welcome these same tips. I do hope you don't mind sharing this message.

1 An orangewood stick dipped into ruby-colored cuticle oil is worked gently around the nail base after tips have been shaped.

2 The proper use of the buffer and good polish complete the manicure and give the finger-tips a sparkle of star-like brilliance.

3 The all-purpose cream is especially made for youthful skins. It should be used if the skin feels dry, but not in place of soap.

4 Colorless lip pomade or stick of pale tint is the thing for everyday wear. For really big affairs, you can use a pastel pink.

5 A light spray of bouquet fragrance (the bottle has an atomizer top) over your newly-bathed body will be an exciting adventure. Use over shoulders and back, legs and arms, and around midriff.

Photos posed exclusively for The Beauty Bazaar by Alma Fagot, 13, Conover model.

PROBLEMS

I WAS married last June and I've already gained eight pounds and my hands are a sight. I do a little of my own housework, but certainly this shouldn't trouble my hands. What can I do to make my hands as nice as they used to be, and how can I regain my once-nice figure?

MRS. LAWRENCE G. C.

Housework, providing the hands are given a reasonable amount of care, should not spoil the appearance of the hands. Scrub them at least once each day with a well-lathered brush. Then dry the hands well and thoroughly massage a goodly amount of lotion or cream into their skin. Use a lotion or cream each time the hands have been in water. Manicure the nails, or have them done, each week and use a cuticle oil or softener whenever necessary. Send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflets on losing weight.

●

The hairs on my legs are quite noticeable and Mother refuses to let me shave them. Is there any way I can make these dark hairs less noticeable? They're so terrible I just hate to wear thin stockings. Do you think I'm too young to start shaving my legs? I'm 16 now.

MARIE A.

By all means bleach the conspicuous leg hairs. Send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet of directions for making and using a splendid bleach paste. I agree with your mother that you are too young to shave your legs, but I do think you could use a bleach.

●

My hair is very thin. I'm past 60 years old and until five years ago took great pride in my abundant growth of hair. Is there anything an older woman can do to make her hair grow and stop it from falling out?

MRS. VERONICA W.

The daily or occasional use of a good scalp pomade or lotion will help stimulate the growth of hair. If you can have these treatments at a beauty salon, so much the better, but if you must give your own treatments, be as thorough as possible. Brush your hair and massage your scalp thoroughly before making the application of pomade or lotion. Follow the directions that come with the corrective aid you use. Shampoo the hair every week or 10 days or whenever necessary to keep hair and scalp clean.

●

My hair is naturally quite blonde but I recently noticed that it is gradually getting darker. I hesitate to use a real bleach and am wondering if you have a formula for making a very gentle lightener that won't coarsen my hair or change the color too drastically.

SHIRLEY.

I have a splendid formula for making a special shampoo which prevents the hair from darkening. I'll be most happy to send this leaflet, together with directions for using the shampoo, if you will forward me a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope. Please repeat your question when writing.

●

Will brushing vaseline over the lashes each night encourage their growth?

AMY.

Brushing vaseline or any special lubricant over the lashes each night will help stimulate the growth of these little hairs.

●

I have a number of black dots on the very tip of my nose. I think they are enlarged pores filled with soil and make-up. Please let me know how to eliminate them.

VY.

Use a well-lathered complexion brush for scrubbing the very tip of your nose. Rinse off all soap, then wring out a washcloth in hot water and press it over the offending region to help open the pores. Then very carefully press out the pore impurities. Be sure to include the very tip of your nose in every facial scrubbing.

MISS DIXON will be happy to answer questions on beauty upon receipt of a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply, sent to her in care of this newspaper.

Delight Dixon Says:

MAKE up your mind to give your hair and scalp special care one month before you make your appointment for a permanent wave. Employ any especially-prepared ointment, pomade, cream, salve or lotion as directed on the package. Brush your hair and massage your scalp every day, and always before going to bed. Let your hairdresser decide whether dried, split, broken or faded ends should be cut off before or after the hair has been permanented.

Unattractive facial skin might very well be the result of wrong eating habits, the method you use for cleansing your skin or faulty elimination. Check over all of these probable causes and at the very first sign of blemishes, blackheads or coarsened pores buckle down to a serious corrective campaign. Remove the cause of unattractive skin and the skin condition will automatically correct itself.

The end of summer, after leisurely lolling about, neglecting the skin and wearing the most comfortable clothing it was possible to find, is the time to take inventory of yourself. How are your feet, hands, hair, complexion? How is your figure? It might be wise to taper off the remaining hot days with a well-regulated program aimed at overcoming summer faults. Whatever damage has been done to your appearance, better get busy at once before the offender becomes chronic. Reducing one pound in time may save the reducing of nine!

If there's a trace of "go-fever" in your soul, you'll love a new fragrance that is restless, adventuresome and excitingly alive. It comes in perfume and eau de cologne. Their fragrance is spicy yet sweet and as many-mooded as the haunting melodies played by a gypsy violin around a campfire.

Very young ladies in their teens, as well as older ladies, will do well to submit themselves to the "how-do-I-sound-to-others" test. A smooth, easy speaking voice is essential to charm, and speaking distinctly is an attribute that encourages others to listen to what you have to say. Shape each word so that it falls distinctly and groom your voice so that it is pleasant to hear. A harsh, rasping, uneasy voice discourages listeners and makes each word stumble instead of taking definite form and flowing smoothly and rhythmically.

Practice wearing your first long dinner dress. Wear it around the house the evening before you wear it to your first big party. Give yourself a dress rehearsal. Learn how to sit down and stand up gracefully. Climb stairs, dance and see that every move is done with ease. You'll feel perfectly at home at your first big event if you have a dress rehearsal in your new get-up.

World Rights Reserved by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Trenton 'All-Stars' Eliminate Corbys From OASA Playdowns By Winning Third Game 7-3

Inability to Hit in The Pinch And Fine Defensive Fielding Put Corbys Out

CASEY STARS AT THIRD

Playing practically errorless and sterling defensive softball, behind the eight-hit pitching of Jim Stacey, Trenton eliminated Corby's A.C. here last night by taking the third and final intermediate O.A.S.A. game by a 7 to 3 score. After having split home-and-home decisions the respective Belleville and Trenton softball nines battled it out in a third and deciding game at Coleman Flats last night when the Trenton squad gave the Corby's A.C. a lesson in defensive diamond tactics and then went on to win rather handily by banging out 15 hits to push the local O.A.S.A. entry into oblivion and advance themselves into the second round of the O.A.S.A. playdowns.

Although the Corby's managed to score in the initial frame, Trenton came back to notch single counters in the subsequent three innings and take an advantage they never relinquished. Matters remained at question until the seventh when Trenton rolled in two more runs, when Austin hit a double, McColl homered and Gauthier, Ellis and Cook singled to give Trenton five hits and but two runs as Johnnie Bawden rose to heights and thwarted the ultimate winners from a much larger score. Ellis's triple gave Trenton two more runs in the top half of the ninth.

Failed On the Offensive.

Corby's failed miserably on the attack in the eighth, when two walks and two hits were but productive of two runs, due to some inability to turn hits and opportunities into the scoring column. This frame proved the locals last effort to pull some rather burned embers out of a fire that Trenton's pitcher, Jim Stacey and his infallible teamsters well extinguished.

There were some real highlights of the game. Again Barney McColl, Trenton's centre-field adonis, not only came through with a homer and single, but added to his prowess with some sensational fielding, but it was Brian Casey's infield work that really thwarted the strategy of the Corby's in the clutches, as Casey literally ran amok across the infield to garner in intended short hits for subsequent outs. Teddy Henn around the keystone sack, kept the losing Corby nine in the picture with some sterling defensive softball in all phases of the game.

There was considerable difference in the scoring points of the game. Johnnie Bawden whiffed six to Stacey's one and Stacey, strange as it may seem, walked six to Bawden's one, but Trenton touched Bawden for fifteen hits, while the best the Corby boys could do was collect eight small hits off Stacey's fine mound effort. The following box score reveals the players who were proficient in the batting qualities:

The Better Club.

Trenton—	AB.	R.	H.
Austin, 1b	5	1	1
Casey, 3b	5	0	1
McColl, cf	4	2	2
Gauthier, rf	5	2	3
Ellis, ss	5	0	3
Cook, lf	5	0	1
Henry, c	5	1	1
Morin, 2b	4	0	1
Stacey, p	4	1	2
	42	7	15

Corby's A.C.—	AB.	R.	H.
J. Barriage, lf	5	1	1
Rowbotham, c	5	0	3
Bawden, p	5	0	0
Kiser, rf	4	0	0
Cy Barriage, ss	3	1	0
Henn, 2b	4	1	1
Whalen, 1b	4	0	2
C. Barriage, 3b	3	0	1
Lumberg, cf	1	0	0
Ronsky, cf	0	0	0
xHarris	1	0	0
	35	3	8

x—Batted for Lunberg in 4th.

Score by innings:

		R.	H.	E.
Trenton	011 100 202	7	15	1
Corby's A.C.	100 100 010	3	8	5

Summary—Home run, McColl; 3-base hit, Ellis; 2-base hits, Whalen, C. Barriage, Stacey, Austin; left on base, Corby's 13, Trenton 9; runs batted in, Cy Barriage, Whalen, Harris, McColl 3, Ellis 2, Henry 2; sacrifice hit, C. Barriage; struck out by Stacey 1, by Bawden 6; base on balls, off Stacey 6, off Bawden 1; umpires, Pound and Marks of Kingston.

LEAGUE LEADERS

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Batting—Williams, Boston, .411.
Runs—DiMaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in—DiMaggio, New York, 112.
Hits—Travis, Washington, 172.
Doubles—Dimaggio, New York, 38.
Triples—Travis, Washington, 14.
Home runs—Keller, New York, 30.
Stolen bases—Case, Washington, and Kuhel, Chicago, 19.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 11-4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Batting—Etten, Philadelphia, .334.
Runs—Reiser, Brooklyn, and Hack, Chicago, 89.
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 89.
Hits—Hack, Chicago, 145.
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 35.
Triples—Hopp and Slaughter, St. Louis, Elliott, Pittsburgh and Reiser, Brooklyn, 9.
Home runs—Camilli, Brooklyn, 25.
Stolen bases—Frey, Cincinnati, 15.
Pitching—Riddle, Cincinnati, 14-2.

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	87	48	.644
Montreal	82	55	.599
Buffalo	77	58	.570
Rochester	73	65	.526
Jersey City	65	66	.496
Syracuse	63	71	.470
Baltimore	48	83	.366
Toronto	45	93	.326

Friday Results

Baltimore 7-5; Toronto 1-6.
Montreal 1-7; Jersey City 0-1.
x-Rochester 6; Newark 4.
x-13 innings.
Buffalo at Syracuse—Postponed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	81	43	.653
Chicago	65	57	.533
Cleveland	61	56	.5213
Boston	63	58	.5206
Detroit	56	66	.459
Philadelphia	53	67	.442
Washington	50	66	.431
St. Louis	51	68	.429

Friday Results

Cleveland 5; New York 4.
Detroit 5; Washington 4.
Philadelphia 5; St. Louis 4.
Boston 2; Chicago 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	77	41	.653
St. Louis	75	42	.641
Cincinnati	65	50	.565
Pittsburgh	62	53	.539
New York	56	58	.491
Chicago	51	68	.429
Boston	47	69	.405
Philadelphia	32	84	.276

Friday Results

Boston 9; Cincinnati 1.
Brooklyn 8; Chicago 4.
Pittsburgh 5; New York 3.
St. Louis 4; Philadelphia 2.

CANAM.

All games scheduled postponed — rain.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Indianapolis 0; St. Paul 5.
Columbus 2; Milwaukee 1.
Toledo 2; Kansas City 0.
Louisville 13; Minneapolis 10.

McCready Greatest Wrestler Produced In This Country

When big Earl McCready, the heavyweight wrestling champion of the British Empire, climbs into the ring in Belleville Monday night fans will see the greatest wrestler Canada has ever produced. The powerful Mr. McCready's standing is official since he holds both the Canadian and the Empire crowns and is always ready to defend them against a worthy challenge. In the main bout Monday night McCready may have his hands full and even overflowing, when he attempts to stand off the battering-ram challenge of one Cy Williams of Florida, better known as the "Tallahassee Terror." This main bout will probably register a new high for Belleville fans in the way of a spectacle of rough-house rugged tactics opposed by the tremendous strength and science of the champion.

Masked Wolf in Semi-Final

Earl McCready with six years of world-wide winning behind him is now well-established in his quest for world honors, but the fast and furious style of Cy Williams may well confuse even as good a man as McCready. Williams is just the type of wrestler to make the big Canadian show everything he has and it looks as if the fans are due for a sensational evening.

In managing to bring this bout to Belleville, matchmaker Frank Tunney of the Queensboro A.C., gained a strong point in his campaign to make Belleville the most important wrestling centre between Toronto and Montreal. The Masked Wolf has been signed to wrestle in the semi-final.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Brietz)
Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)— The Lawn Tennis Association is flying storm signals as the result of tales drifting down from an invitation tournament at Newport..One yarn is that the tournament Chairman had to appeal to a sporting goods manufacturer to get the entries of some star players he wanted .... Another is that a bunch of Californians held out on the United States doubles championship, demanding that their expenses for the week should be paid by the Longwood Club.

Family ties.

When Springfield (Vt.) played Winchester (N.H.) the other day, the Winchester lineup showed the Hanna brothers and the Durling brothers (two of each) batting in order and P. Jones succeeding his father S. Jones on the mound .... Young Bob Grove, old man Mose's son, is a pitcher for the Fall River club of the New England League.

Contributors' corner.

The difference between Cincinnati being in first place and fourth is that Jimmy Wilson ain't there any more....Harold Farb of Houston reports that when pitcher Fred Martin pitched a one-hitter for the Houston Buffs last week, the guy who robbed him of a place in the Hall of Fame was a San Antonio infielder named Dillinger.

ZELLERS DEFEAT VIKINGS 21 TO 12 TO LEAD SERIES

Winners Score Seventeen Times in First Three Innings

VIKINGS BOOT BALL

Packing too much offensive power in their war clubs, Zellers' girls went out in front in their semi-final series in the local girls' softball playoffs at the Armouries lawn, when in the first three innings they scored seventeen times to eventually hang up a decisive 21-12 victory over Vikings. Zellers now lead their best of five series two games to one.

Afforded good support afield Bessie Doolittle, hurling for Zellers, had little trouble in subduing the Viking girls and with the exception of the final frame, when the losers scored six runs, was never in serious trouble. Vikings on the other hand booted the ball for numerous miscues at the crucial moment and against a strong offensive by Zellers were never in the picture.

Outhit twenty to thirteen which was about indicative of the score, the losers got away to a good start in the initial frame when B. Zebedee started off with a double and eventually scored two runs. Zellers came back in their half to bat all the way around with one to good to score seven times. In the second and third frames they again batted around to score five in each frame and from then on it was just a case of how long.

Defensively the entire Zeller team played good ball coming through with a double killing in the fourth, while for the losers, Maker at second and Chambers at short stood out. Douglas in left for the winners led all the hitters of the night connecting for a homer and three singles in five tries while Garrow had a homer and two singles. E. Cook for the losers was best getting a homer and a single while Norma Maker clouted a double and a single.

Lineup: Vikings—B. Zebedee, rf; Chambers, ss; Rabbie, p; M. Zebedee, c; Tummon, lf; Maker, 2b; E. Adams, 3b; Cook, 1b and S. Adams, lf. Zellers—Bennett, 3b; Stewart, 2b; Garrow, ss; Douglas, lf; Donovan c; Clarke, rf; Sherry, 1b; Hunter, cf, and Doolittle, p.

Score by innings:

Vikings	201 210 6	12 runs
Zellers	755 040 x	20 runs

Umpires—Schreider and Smith.

Playgrounds

The West Hill softballers triumphed by a 7 to 5 score over their East Hill rivals in a City Playground bantam group game played at the West Hill grounds.

Bush pitching for the winners bested G. Smith hurling for the East Belleville boys in a fine mound duel. Hits by Royle, Simmons, Young and Bush gave the winners three runs in the second, while they added three more hits from the bats of Bush, F. Bush and Ostrom in the fifth. The losers made their big bid in the third to score four on hits by Wardaugh, Adams, Smith and Goyer.

The line-ups: East Hill—Goyer, c, Galbraith, 2b, Adams, 1b, Wardaugh, 3b, Smith, p, Royle and Orr, outfield. West Hill—Young, c, E. Bush, p, F. Bush, 1b, Ostrom, 3b, Wright 2b, Royle and Simmons, outfield.

Score by innings:

East Hill	0 1 4 0 0 0	5 runs.
West Hill	0 3 1 0 3 0	7 runs

HOAG SAFE AS CATCHER TRIES TO COVER THIRD

Washington catcher Jake Early (CENTRE) scampered all the way to third base trying to nip Chicago Leftfielder Myril Hoag in a freak seventh-inning play of the Chicago-Washington game at Washington. The Washington third baseman was pulled off the sack by a scratch hit to short left. Umpire Pasarella ran up from the plate, too, to call Hoag safe.

Dimag's Absence Puts Yanks Into Slump, Losing 3 Straight; Dodgers, Cardinals Both win

Yankees Did Not Lose in Standing as Chicago Drop Two to Boston

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It has been suspected strongly all season that the Yankees consisted of Joe DiMaggio and a bunch of other ball players, and the things that have been happening to Joe McCarthy's Club since Dimag turned his ankle in Detroit last Tuesday only point up the fact.

Without their big puncher the Yankees are only a good ball club. They have lost three straight games since he went out, in one game making only two scratch hits and submitting rather meekly in the pinches. When Jim Bagby of Cleveland Indians checked them yesterday, 5-4, it was almost too much.

Their last two losses cost the Yanks nothing in the standing, for Chicago White Sox cooled off abruptly and dropped two straight to Boston, yesterday by a score of 2-1. Joe Dobson held the runners-up to six hits, and the Red Sox thereby climbed within a game and a half of second place.

Out at Detroit, Barney McCosky came to bat with two out and two mates on base in the last of the ninth inning and cracked a satisfying homerun. The blow climaxed a five-run last-ditch rally that licked Washington 5-4 and handed Alex Carasquel his first defeat in seven starts.

Homer Beats Browns

Frankie Hayes clouted a seventh-inning homer as the Athletics nosed out St. Louis Browns, 5-4.

Brooklyn's game and a half lead over St. Louis Cards in the National League was unaffected as both won yesterday and moved a notch nearer their breathlessly awaited clash at Ebbets Field tomorrow.

The Dodgers scored an easy one over Chicago Cubs, 8-5, but the crippled Cardinals had a hard time overcoming the Phillies, 4-2, in ten innings. Herman Triplett, reserve outfielder who is filling in for Enos Slaughter, settled it with a home run in the extra frame with a mate on base.

Cincinnati's headlong dash toward the top was halted by Jim Tobin of Boston Braves, who set the Reds down 9-1, with the aid of some lusty hitting by Max West. It was only the second loss in thirteen games for the Reds.

Pittsburgh ganged Bob Bowman for three runs in the eighth, including a homer by Mauice Van Robays, to down the collapsible Giants 5-3.

Foremost Golf Pros. in Ryder Cup Battle Today

Detroit, Aug. 23—(AP)—For the first time in his fabulous career, Bobby Jones was bracketed in match play with the foremost professional golfers of the United States as his challengers today began a two-day battle with the American Ryder Cup team.

Jones, who before he retired a decade ago frequently defeated the top-salaried stars in medal play, was in a new role as he paired with Gene Sarazen in a Scotch foursome match against Byron Nelson and Harold (Jug) McSpaden. Tomorrow Bobby will meet a pro yet to be named in an individual match.

Detroit was expected to pay $25,000 in gallery fees ranging from $2 to $5 to see what Tom Walsh of Chicago, Professional Golfers' Association president, ranks as golf's all-star show of the season. The United Service Organizations gets the proceeds.

In his final practice round, the 39-year-old Jones toured the Detroit Golf Club course in 70, one under par, and gave evidence to the large gallery that he is hitting the ball well.

ROYALS PICK UP TWO FULL GAMES ON NEWARK BEARS

Win Three Straight From Giants as Bears Lose Two to Rochester

LEAFS DIVIDE

By The Associated Press

Anyone who thought Montreal Royals were "beat pigeons" after dropping four straight games to the first-place Newark Bears to fall eight games off the International League pace, will have to revise their opinions.

The Royals have picked up two full games on the leaders since Wednesday, knocking over Jersey City Giants in three straight, while the Bears were dropping two of three to Rochester Red Wings. With 17 games left, a Royal winning drive and a little slump by the Bears could make things hot.

Last night Montreal set back Jersey City on both ends of a doubleheader, 1-0 and 7-1, behind the expert twirling of Frank Pearce and Al Sherer, while Newark was losing a heartbreaking 6-4 decision to Rochester in 13 innings.

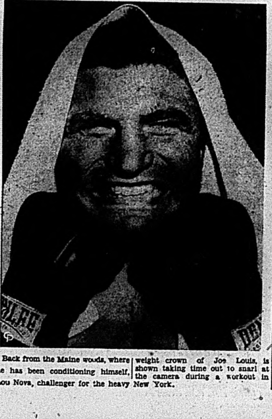
Pearce blanked his former mates with four hits to register his ninth conquest of the year.

Rochester came from behind to tie Newark when Harry Davis homered in the ninth with one on and won out with another pair in the 13th.

Baltimore and Toronto's battle for seventh-place was stalemated temporarily as the two clubs divided a twin bill.

Baltimore won the seven-inning opener 7-1 behind the six-hit hurling of Monte Weaver and the Leafs came back to take the nightcap 6-5 on Scotty's ninth inning homer with a mate aboard. Dick Fowler started for Toronto in the first game and was knocked from the box after four innings, but returned to gain credit with a relief job in the second tilt.

To teach marksmanship the police of Wilmington, Del., fire pistols at a target shaped like a human figure that hides in darkness and shoots back with blank cartridges if bullets miss it.



Back from the Maine woods, where he has been conditioning himself, Lou Nova, challenger for the heavy weight crown of Joe Louis, is shown taking time out to snarl at the camera during a workout in New York.

Max Schmeling

Jadwiga Jedrzejowska

Former World's Heavyweight Champion Max Schmeling now one of Germanys' ace parachute troopers, has been kayoed again—this time by a Polish tennis star— according to London reports. After a practice jump on the outskirts of Warsaw, Poland, Max went into a restaurant. Working as a waitress was Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, American and Wimbledon tennis finalist in 1937, whom Schmeling had met in New York. Max extended his hand: "Jed" coldly turned away, remarking, "I recognize you, too. But now we are no longer friends. I am Polish and you are German". That is the way the London story goes.

PROFESSIONAL WRESTLING
HUME ARENA
Monday, August 25
8.45 P.M. (D.S.T.)
Earl McCready
(British Empire Champion) vs.
Cy Williams
(The Tallahassee Terror)
Two Guaranteed Supporting Preliminaries
(Queensbury A. C. Promoters.)
ADMISSION 50c. LADIES AND CHILDREN 25c.
RINGSIDE 75c. (Gov't. Tax Extra)

Between Innings

GOSSIP—NEWS—COMMENT

There's little to be written about last night's saw-off softball game between Trenton and Corby's. The answer is rather simple after watching the proceedings, "the better team won," and what more can be said? The answer to the above question is rather simple—Trenton outplayed Corby's in every department; they out-hit them, they out-fielded the locals and that's why Trenton today should give Kingston and the Peterboro-Oshawa winner a thrill those clubs have yet to witness. There are no sour grapes in Belleville today, the Corby squad only hope the Trenton nine continue to play the same class of softball they treated Belleville fans to in the current series that saw Jim Stacey and his steady defence push our locals into has-beens. The defensive ball that the Trenton squad played behind Stacy headed by Brian Casey last night should at least see Belleville softball fans wandering over to Trenton to witness an Intermediate O.A.S.A. final. (And the local fans will be there with you, Trenton.)

Kingston Bill Walshe's old cry of "go east, get into the Ottawa Valley sports," has really boomeranged and smacked his theory into a cocked hat, insofar as the Interprovincial Baseball League play-offs are concerned. Kingston is practically assured of no worse than the fourth place play-off slot, but now it seems the two Hull clubs and Ottawa have struck upon a plan whereby they propose to draft players from the Ottawa and Hull Clubs that fail to make the league play-off berths. If the Ottawa and district teams gang-up on Kingston and Smiths Falls in a committee room vote it will be just too bad. "Why all they're doing in Ottawa and Hull is ganging up on us with all-star teams," screamed Wally Elmer when acquainted with the facts earlier this week. Maybe Scribe Walshe will ultimately find out that there are worse dealings handed out in sports bodies other than Ontarios'.

After spending two weeks' vacation in the wilds of Peterborough County, Fred Craig, the Liftlock City sports scribe, returned to his desk and came up with this truthful epistle: "In refusing to give the Oshawa-Peterborough combines permission to enter the Ontario senior playdowns' the governing body of the Ontario Baseball Association has certainly missed the boat. Under ordinary conditions, of course, the decision of the moguls could not have been seriously attacked but with the baseball situation as it is at present with no O.B.A. clubs east of Toronto it might have been expected that the powers-that-be in Ontario baseball would have welcomed the chance to do something to revive the game in this part of the province. It was a good opportunity to bring back the game in Central Ontario but the baseball rulers have muffed the opening and as a result the return of the game to this section of the provinces has been disastrously delayed. In the interests of a sport that stands badly in need of a blood transfusion the governing body might have strained a point."

Punching out base knocks when they meant runs, Chuck Barnett's Zeller gals gained the only real advantage in the City Girls' Softball League playdowns as they whipped the Vikings by a nine run advantage last night. Bessie Doolittle, the league's veteran pitcher, hurled for the Big-Z squad and had matters rather easy after her team-mates gave her a 17-run advantage in the initial three frames and then went on to win 21 to 12.

The standing of the Girls' League play-off reads:

	W.	L.	Pts.
Zellers	2	1	4
Deacons	1	1	2
SWACO	1	1	2
Vikings	1	2	2

Games next week — Tuesday, SWACO vs Deacons; Wednesday, Zellers vs. Vikings; Friday, Deacons vs. SWACO.

Do you remember when Bill Cook, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., right winger, turned professional with Saskatoon Shieks of the Western Canada League 19 years ago today? He went to New York Rangers, newly - formed National Hockey League team in 1926, teaming up with his brother Bun and Frankie Boucher to form one of hockey's greatest forward lines

For a long time Belleville wrestling fans have clamoured to have some sturdy grappler give Al (Bunny) Dunlop, the patrons' favorite hate, a sound trouncing in a local ring. Well, it looks as though the patrons at Monday night's wrestling show at the Hume Arena are at long last going to get their wish for Dunlop has been signed to meet the undefeated Masked Wolf who beat Lee Henning here two weeks ago. If the "behooded one" doesn't give Dunlop just what the fans have been clamouring for, we'll miss this guess. This bout will precede the main event that brings Earl McCready, the No. 1 contender for the world's wrestling crown, against Cy Williams, the Tallahassee Terror.

It seems the Oshawa junior O.A.S.A. trouble is all over, but little information came from the seat of the provincial "mushball" big-wigs, except to say that Red Townsend's Esquire juniors must journey to Oshawa on Aug. 25th with the return game here next Friday. In case of a third and deciding game, Convener Harry Rollins says it shall be played on Sept 3rd, so it's girls' softball locally until the Oshawa juniors invade Coleman Flats on the 28.

Yep, "Doc" Empson did it again. Last night Latta finally downed Cannifton 5 to 4 to win the Tummon Trophy and the championship of the South Hastings League. Eye witnesses tell your newsboy it was a top-shot baseball tussle and the new champions admit they had a really tough struggle, but today Latta are league titlists and congratulations are in order.

If Joe McCarthy, Yankee skipper, wins the flag this year, it will be his seventh major league championship, one with the Cubs in the National League and six with the Yankees. It will place him third to the late John McGraw, with ten winners and Connie Mack, with nine. McCarthy now is tied with his Yankee predecessor, the late Miller Huggins, with six championships.

Just because Secretary Harry Knott, of the Belleville Softball Association, is getting married today, is there any reason why this newsboy can't abandon these notes for a week's rest?

Gee, Trenton really fooled us, didn't they, Harry? (Which Harry?)

Believe Goodman Due to Repeat In Amateur Open

By L. E. SKELLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Omaha, August 23—(AP)—The hunch is spreading among the home folk that this may be Omaha Johnny Goodman's year to win the national amateur golf championship again.

The stocky little sharpshooter who won the U.S. open title in 1933 and grabbed the amateur crown in 1937 didn't even qualify for match play last year.

But they tell you around the field club the setting is perfect for a Goodman comeback.

Johnny will be playing his own course, a layout perfectly adapted to the straight wood shots and the masterful iron play of the former champion. He knows every foot of a course dotted with blind shots, approaches on which the green is hidden, and which confuse the stranger.

"He's going to be very tough," say the exeprts who have followed Johnny's career since he was graduated from the field club's caddie ranks.

Goodman's practice rounds indicate the boys know what they're talking about. He has been under or around par all this week.

Yesterday he had a 75, the highest scoring he's done. In his foursome was Bruce McCormick, the Los Angeles fireman who has given every promise of becoming another top challenger for the title now held by Dick Chapman, the New York Socialite.

THIS PAGE IS FULL OF OPPORTUNITIES

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per
Insertion 30c
Two Insertions 60c
Three Insertions 75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS

REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073

Representing

CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE

Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J.. 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE". 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist, Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 229 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 300. Lady attendant.

H. E. and VERA B. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville. Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE
249½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass
278 Front St. Phone 1134W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

Walt Disney's
THE RELUCTANT DRAGON
1.45 — 3.45 — 5.45 — 7.45 — 9.45

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

SWEETHEART OF THE CAMPUS
Ruby Keeler, Ozzie Nelson and His Band
2.50 — 7.30 — 10.15

I WAS A PRISONER ON DEVIL'S ISLAND
4.15 — 9.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

GANGS OF SONORA
The Three Mesquiteers
7.45 — 10.00

STRANGE ALIBI
Arthur Kennedy, Joan Perry
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 13
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

WANTED

RELIABLE MIDDLE AGED MAN to clean up around hotel. Apply Docter's Hotel. A23-2t

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE. APply in person only. Do not phone. Dickens & Son. A23-2t

YOUNG MAN, NEAT APPEARance, for retail store. Give particulars in letter to Box 9, Ontario Intelligencer. A23-2t

YOUNG WOMAN WANTS HOUSE work by the hour. Apply 18 Burrell St. A23

MEN WANTED NOW! SELL famous RED TAG Nursery Stock full or part time. Weekly pay. Real sales help. No investment required. Dominion Nurseries, Montreal. A23

TO BUY OR RENT A FARM, OR a few acres of land from owner, with or without buildings, handy to Belleville. Write Box 3, Ontario Intelligencer. A23

4 OR 5 ROOM HEATED APARTment, permanent tenants, or furnished bed sitting room with kitchenette. Write Box 35, Ontario Intelligencer. A23-3t

MAN TO DO SEWING. APPLY to Modern Cleaners and Dyers, 325 Pinnacle St. A22-2t

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS. APply Belmont. A22-2t

GIRL FOR PRESS HAND. APply Box 54, Ontario Intelligencer. A22-3t

TO RENT — A LARGE HOUSE, vicinity of C.N.R. Station, by Sept. 1. Phone 1088W. A22-3t

FURNISHED HOUSE, BY RELIable tenant for September 1st. Box 19, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

MAID, MUST BE FOND OF CHILdren. References required. One adult and two children. Mrs. Edward G. Kennedy, 190 George St. A21-3t

MAN WITH KNOWLEDGE OF fruit and groceries. Box 51, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

MAN WITH KNOWLEDGE OF meat. Box 52, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

TO RENT, 7 ROOM HOUSE, ON or near West Hill bus. Conveniences. Reasonable. Before Sept. 30. Apply 44 Yeoman St. A21-3t

MAN TO PAINT BARN ROOF. N. R. Duetta, R. 1, Belleville. Phone 46, Mountain View. A21-3t

AGENTS WANTED

ATTENTION. DO YOU WISH TO make some real money full time or spare time? I have a sound proposition that will stand investigating. Apply R. Law, c/o Belleville Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

2 SALESMEN FOR LARGE REtail organization. Good salary, unlimited opportunity for advancement. Must have retail selling experience. Apply to Box 55, Ontario Intelligencer. A20-4t

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A13-12t

NOW IS THE TIME TO QUALIFY for a Government job as Clerk, Postman, Customs Clerk, Steno., etc. Five Dominion-wide exams held since war began. Free booklet. M. C. C. Schools Ltd., Toronto 10. Oldest in Canada. No agents.

MEN AND WOMEN WANTED
MEN AND WOMEN OF NEAT APpearance, willing to work, can earn a nice salary every week, by selling JITO PRODUCTS. We offer two hundred Household necessities including: Toilet articles, family remedies, Tea, Coffee, etc. THIRTY DAY TRIAL WITHOUT RISK. Inquire immediately: JITO, 1435 Montcalm, Montreal. A23,27,30,S3,6,10,13,17

BUSINESS LINERS

Mrs. Harman will be pleased to show the new Fall Millinery which has just arrived; also Gainsboro Hosiery. 42½ Bridge St. East (upstairs.) A21-3t

PERSONAL

YOU CAN RUN A HOME KINDergarten with our help. Canadian Kindergarten Institute, Toronto 10, Ontario. f4-estf

KLEEREX — A QUICK HEALING SALVE FOR SKIN ailments. Sold in two strengths (Medium and Strong.) Relieves Sunburn, Poison Ivy, Mosquito Bites, Burns, Cuts. Also heals Eczema, Psoriasis, Pimples, Impetigo, Itch, etc. 50c; $1.00; $2.00. Recommended and sold by all Drug and Dept. Stores. A23

HAS NEW FORMATION

Oklahoma City, Aug. 23—(AP)—Coach of Doenges, whose Oklahoma City University football team won only one of 11 games last year, is tinkering with a new formation. "V," he explained, "for Victory."

EACH AD ON IT
OFFERS A VALUE

READ THEM
THOROUGHLY
TONIGHT.

FOR SALE

TWO RED COCKER SPANIEL Pups; one male and one female. 161A Mary St. A23

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGerator, 6 cu. ft. Deluxe Model. Splendid condition, $175 cash. Apply Ford Derry, Foxboro. A22-4t

ONE OUTBOARD MOTOR. APply 7 Grove St. Phone 493. A22-3t

ONE 15 H.P. UPRIGHT BOILER, only used a short time. Apply J. B. Ives. A22-3t

THREE PIECE CHESTERFIELD suite; cabinet radio; mattress, all in good condition. Apply Apt. 3, 287½ Front St. A23-3t

120 ACRES, LOT 15, CONCESSION 4, Tyendinaga; well watered; Hydro and telephone. Apply Mrs. Joseph V. Egan. A23-2t

BAY GELDING, RISING 4. E. N. Wilson, Roslin. A23-26-28

OR RENT, THREE FARMS FROM 50 to 150 acres; plenty water and wood. Stock and implements if desired. Easy terms. Dr. Carleton, Thomasburg. A19-23-26-30

9 PIECE BIRCH DINING ROOM suite, excellent condition. Apply after 6 p.m. at 245 Coleman St. A21-3t

246 JOHN ST., 7 ROOMED AND 6 roomed two family home. For inspection Phone 1607. A22-3t

CANOE — SIXTEEN FOOT PETerborough, with two paddles, cushions and lazy back. Real bargain. Owner leaving city. 668R. A22-3t

HUNDRED ACRES, CHOICE land; 2 wells; running creek; 4½ miles to Wellington, close to church, high school, four canning factories; 10 acres of wood. Apply Wesley Young on farm, Rose Hall. A22-2t

CAMP TENT, WITH FLOOR AND windows; like new. Phone 2592. A21-3t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue—Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

FOR SALE

ONE HUNDRED TOMATO crates, twenty dollars; Quebec Heater, eight dollars; 5 oak barrels, each fifty gallon capacity, two-fifty each; Cider press (hand or power), nearly new, thirty dollars; Spring Toothed Cultivator (two horse), thirteen extra teeth, fourteen dollars; set Discs (two horse out-throw), twelve dollars; set Fairbanks floor scales, fifteen dollars; Hay Car, Fork, Rope, Pulleys, twenty-five dollars; about twelve tons hay. Apply Elden Salisbury, Belleville, R. 7, Picton Road. A21-3t

TO LET

FURNISHED BEDROOM. PHONE 1680M. 46 Catherine St. A23

100 ACRE FARM, LOT 27, 4TH. concession Thurlow. Hydro; brick house, frame barn. Good outbuildings. O. M. Roblin, Corbyville. A23-3t

FURNISHED BEDROOM, HOT water heating, centrally located. Suitable for gentleman. Phone 1324W. A22-3t

IN CEMETERY NEW BUNGALOW four rooms, bath, electric light, warm, splendid cellar, cistern, pump, garden. Apply A. W. Thomas, Cemetery Supt. A22-3t

1400 FEET STORAGE SPACE. Phone 524W. A22-3t

SPACE FOR TWO CHAIR BARber shop. Rent reasonable. Apply 364 Front St. A22-3t

MODERN 5 ROOM HEATED APartment; continuous hot water, centrally located, electric stove; refrigerator. Possession September 1st. Write Box 17, Ontario Intelligencer. A21-3t

AUCTION SALE

Pursuant to the powers contained in a certain chattel mortgage, there will be sold by public auction at the residence of JOHN McCULLOUGH, SECOND CONCESSION OF SIDNEY, commencing at 1.30 p.m. Standard Time, on WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27th., 1941, the following goods, chattels and effects:

G.M.C. Truck, five cows, two horses, Pontiac Sedan, numerous farm implements, Chesterfield, Piano, Chairs, Tables, Radio subject to lien, one stove, beds and springs.

Oats and Grain in barn, hay in barn, oats in field (stocked) together with other farm implements, crops and machinery on the said premises.

Terms of sale, cash.

NORMAN MONTGOMERY,
A22-23-25 Auctioneer.

Unseen "V" Army Told to Go Slow

New York, Aug. 23—(CP)—Col. Britton of the "V" for Victory movement, in one of his broadcasts to his army of anti-Fascists on the continent, told them last night:

"We in Britain are turning the factory wheels over faster and faster. You in Europe can help by turning them over slower and slower."

"Go slow," he told his unseen audience in a BBC broadcast heard here by CBS.

"Last week I asked you to go slow if the work you are doing helps Hitler. I want to say some more about this. Almost all the work that is done in Europe helps the Nazis. Well, that isn't surprising. They organize everything for their own benefit and you will find that all sorts of things which don't appear to be helping them are really of indirect benefit to Germany.

"If you go to a post office to buy a stamp, talk to the official behind the counter. Talk to him. Change your mind, and say you don't want a stamp after all. If he is a patriot he won't mind anyway.

"Ask him to give you some information about mailing regulations or about Old Age Pensions. It all wastes time and it helps because the Nazis have no time to waste."

Schryver's PHARMACY Open Sunday

$ $ $ $

Pay Your Bills

Quinte Finance will loan you money to centralize your debts, or for other purposes. $50 to $500 — and remember only Husband and Wife sign.

Quinte Finance
and
SECURITIES LTD.
168 Front St. Phone 168

$ $ $ $

32 Queen St.

Between
WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.

FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fireplaces; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN
(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)
166 Front St. Phone 99

PUBLIC NOTICE

Re

Stopping up and authorizing the sale of parts of Elizabeth Street and Victoria Street in the City of Belleville.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that at a regular meeting of the City Council to be held at 7.30 o'clock in the evening of Tuesday, September 2nd., 1941, or at a regular or special meeting to be held thereafter a By-law will be passed for the following purposes:

(1) To stop up and close that part of Elizabeth Street lying between Victoria Street and Lingham Street.

(2) To stop up and close that part of Victoria Street between Pine Street and the Southerly limit of the Canadian National Railway right-of-way (spur line.)

(3) To sell and convey those parts of Elizabeth and Victoria Streets so closed up (save and except that part of Victoria Street now occupied by the Board of Education) to Canada Packers Limited.

TAKE NOTICE that the proposed By-law and the plans and descriptions of the parts of said streets to be so stopped up and closed and sold have been filed in the office of the City Clerk at the City Hall, Belleville, and may be examined and inspected at any time during office hours upon application therefor.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that at said meeting the Council will hear in person or by his Counsel, Solicitor or Agent, any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected by this By-law and who applies to be heard.

DATED at Belleville this 1st. day of August, A.D. 1941.

J. WILFRED HOLMES,
A2-9-16-23 City Clerk.

TREASURER'S SALE OF LANDS.

In the County of Hastings, in the Province of Ontario.

To Wit:

By Virtue of a Warrant issued by the Warden of the County of Hastings bearing date of the Fifteenth day of July, 1941, sale of lands in arrears of taxes in the County of Hastings will be held in Shire Hall, in the City of Belleville, at the hour of Ten o'clock in the morning on Tuesday, the Fourth day of November, 1941, unless the taxes and costs are sooner paid. Notice is hereby given that the list of lands for sale for arrears of taxes is being published in the Ontario Gazette on the Second day of August, 1941, and that copies of said list may be had at my office, 228 Church Street, Belleville.

Treasurer's Office this Seventh day of August, 1941.

JAMES W. HAGGERTY,
Treasurer
A9,16,23,30S6,13,20,27, O4,11,18,25N1

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE of William Donahue, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Contractor, Deceased.

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to Sections 51 and 56 of the Trustees Act, R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 165, that all creditors and others having claims or demands against the estate of the said William Donahue, who died on or about the 18th. day of June, A.D. 1941, at the City of Belleville, are required, on or before the 9th. day of September, A.D. 1941, to send by post, prepaid, or deliver to E. Ormonde Butler, solicitor for the executrix of the last Will and Testament of the said deceased, their Christian names and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars, in writing, of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of the security, if any, held by them.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after such last mentioned date the said executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which she shall then have notice, and that the said executrix will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received by her at the time of such distribution.

E. ORMONDE BUTLER,
28 Bridge Street East,
Belleville, Ontario,
Solicitor for the said Executrix.

DATED at Belleville this 9th. day of August, A.D. 1941.
A12-23-30

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE of William Clement, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Car Inspector, C.N.R.

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to Sections 51 and 56 of the Trustees Act, R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 165, that all creditors and others having claims or demands against the estate of the said William Clement, who died on or about the 5th day of April, A.D. 1941, at the City of Belleville, are required, on or before the 9th. day of September, A.D. 1941, to send by post, prepaid, or deliver to E. Ormonde Butler, solicitor for the Administratrix of the said deceased, their Christian names and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars, in writing, of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of the security, if any, held by them.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after such last mentioned date the said administratrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which she shall then have notice, and that the said administratrix will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received by her at the time of such distribution.

E. ORMONDE BUTLER,
28 Bridge Street East,
Belleville, Ontario,
Solicitor for the said Administratrix

DATED at Belleville this 9th. day of August, A.D. 1941.
A12-23-30

JUDICIAL SALE

PURSUANT to an order of this Court there will be sold by public auction by the Local Master of this Court at his office in the Court House, Belleville, Ontario, on Saturday, the 6th, day of September, 1941, at the hour of 11 o'clock D.S.T. in the forenoon, the following two parcels of land: PARCEL NO. 1—the north 50 acres of the east half of Lot 4, Concession 4, in the Township of Huntingdon. PARCEL NO. 2—the west 33 1-3 acres of Lot 15, Concession 11, in the Township of Huntingdon. The above two parcels may be sold separately or together. Parcel No. 2 is said to contain a quantity of standing wood.

The above property will be sold subject to a reserve bid to be fixed by the Local Master.

Terms of Sale

The purchaser shall pay on the day of sale 10 per cent of the purchase money and shall pay the balance of the purchase money within thirty days, without interest, from the date of sale. No bid shall be made less than $10.00 above the former bid. In all other respects the terms and conditions of sale will be the usual terms and conditions of the Court.

Further particulars may be had from Frank Baalim, Barrister and Solicitor, Madoc, Ontario, or to Mrs. Dorothy Wright, Ivanhoe, Ontario.

Dated at Belleville this 6th, day of August, 1941.

W. C. MIKEL,
Local Master, S.C.O.,
A9-16-23 Belleville, Ont.

ASTHMA

People tell each other about the relief they get with "DAVIS' ASTHMA REMEDY 7895" in Asthma and Hay Fever. 64 doses in $4 pkg. Use it in 3 weeks. Supply of Vitamin "A" and Diet Sheet in each pkg. In 2 or 3 days you'll know its virtues. SEE PAULEY'S DRUG STORE.

DEATHS

DEMILL — At Melrose on Saturday, August 23, 1941, Jacob Homer Demill, in his 85th. year.

The funeral will be held from his late residence, Melrose, on Monday, August 25th., 1941, to Melrose United Church, for service at 2.30 p.m. Standard Time.

Interment Melrose Cemetery. A23

PERSONAL LOANS

One Year to Repay

Apply to Nearest Branch of

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

If You Borrow	You Receive	You Make 12 Monthly Deposits of
$ 60	$ 55.87	$ 5.00
$108	$100.96	$ 9.00
$300	$280.94	$25.00
$540	$505.54	$45.00

Other Amounts at Proportionately Low Rates

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was starting to do the bridge problem and pop said, By the way, my deer, I've got a little money for you.

For me, money? What an unexpected pleasant surprise, ma said. How much it is and how does it happen? she said, and pop said, It's only 7 dollers and 50 cents, but that's not bad for a couple of old idle dresses.

What dresses, Willyum, what do you mean? ma said, and pop said, There was a white one and a blue one, or was one yellow? Anyway they've been hanging around in your closit till you must of been weary of the site of them, he said.

Now Willyum, I dont know what you're talking about, I have no yellow dress and my white sharkskin outfit is barely a month old, ma said, and pop said, Well that's old for a dress, the way women reckon. Anyway, the doorbell rang and I went to the door and it was a very good looking young woman lokoing for ladies clothes to buy for her 2nd hand dress shop he said.

Willyum Potts, if you went and fell for a pretty face at the expense of the only becoming ensemble I own in the world the consequennces are goig to be serious, ma said, and pop said, That's just how I hoped you would feel, because now you've got a first hand knowledge of how I'd feel if you ever sold any of my old suits, as you occasionally threatten to. A man regards his old clothes with exactly the same tenderness that a woman feels for her new ones, particulilly his old tweeds. Of course I haven't really sold anything of yours, but I promise to as soon as you sell something of mine, he said.

Now really Willyum, I mean really, if I wasn't so relieved at the news I'd be quite upset at the thought, and there's nothing to laugh at, ma said.

Me and pop both thinking different.

WARRIOR'S DAY

Toronto, Aug. 23 (CP)—Warrior's Day at the Canadian National Exhibition today, will see thousands of veterans of the first Great War unite with their younger comrades of the present struggle in the annual parade and march past. The salute during the march past will be taken by Maj.-Gen. C. F. Constantine D.S.O., Officer Commanding Military District No. 2. Premier Hepburn will address the regular directors' luncheon.

In additional to the annual parade, held in the afternoon, a military tattoo will be staged tonight. Canada's mechanized forces in action will bear special significance in today's show, while martial airs will be heard from the numerous bandstands throughout the grounds.

774W

QUITE FREQUENTly individuals make their own funeral plans.
It is a growing custom.

Belleville Burial Co.
27 Campbell St.

Thomas C. Thompson

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Moderate Funeral Costs

Funeral Home: 28 Everett Street
Phone 62
Branch: MADOC. Phone 112

AMBULANCE SERVICE.
HOSPITAL BEDS.

GRANT

FUNERAL HOME
68 North Front St. Belleville
PHONE 373

James Cagney who comes next week to the McCarthy Theatre screen with Pat O'Brien in the greatest of all air thrillers "Devil Dogs of the Air"

Quality in Printing

There is no commodity you buy that shows lack of quality more than poor printing.

YOUR GREATEST ASSURANCE OF CRAFTSMANSHIP IS THE HALLMARK.

PHONE 99.

Ontario Intelligencer Print

Dazzling Promise

By

KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER 18.

"Bob Platt! What are you doing here?" cried Dona, pale and shaken.

"I might ask you the same," snapped the defiant Bob, the yellow ribbon on her green hat quivering like a canary on a bush.

She opened the door wide, stepped aside, her hands on the hips of her small green suit. "Come in, darling!" she said, smiling sarcastically. "Trying to put one over, weren't you! Well, you can have him—and welcome. I was afraid to call a doctor—he's crazy as a loon."

Dona dashed into the room and pulled up short beside the bed. On it lay Tug Nash, fully dressed. Gibberish was coming from his twisted lips, his face was bloated and distorted; he was nothing but a wretched shell of the handsome man she had known.

"He's delirious! What happened?" Dona demanded now of the smirking Bob, who was convinced now that Dona was as wild over Tug Nash as she'd ever been.

"Just an overdose of high life. He must have been on a bender for weeks."

Dona gathered that underneath Bob's air of bravado was uncontrollable fright. She let her scornful eyes sweep over the white-faced girl and asked sharply, "How long has this been going on—how long have you been here?"

"Awfully technical, aren't you?" sneered Bob through brightly carmined lips. "Well, I'll tell you. I came here because I was invited—that's probably more than you can say."

"What does it matter now, Bob?" pleaded Dona frantically. "Tell me—tell me—"

"I'll be glad to. I motored into town tonight around five—to visit Mary Dexter. Tug took me out to dinner. He was keyed up and drank steadily all evening. I finally got him back here in a taxi. The minute he got in this room, he keeled over on the bed and began to rave. That's all."

"Something must be done—a doctor. I'll call the desk."

Dona wheeled about to go to the telephone on the other side of the room but she stopped dead in her tracks.

On the threshold of the room stood Tom Castor.

"Dona! What's going on here—what's wrong?" Tom asked, entirely ignoring Bob.

"Why—Tom," Dona began breathlessly, her knees bending beneath her, "how—how did you get here?"

"I flew in. I'd no idea where you'd be staying—but I—"

He did not finish. He was looking at the man on the bed now, an expression of pained incredulity on his strong lean face.

Dona stood in the middle of the room as though stricken. How could she explain. He surmised now, and correctly, that she had come here to see the drunken loafer on the bed; he realized that in some strange way she was involved with him. She was in this room, her hat and coat off, as if she belonged here.

Bob Platt quickly took advantage of the situation.

"Take me away from here, Tom," she drawled sweetly. "I'm staying with Mary Dexter. She'll be wondering where I am."

But Tom Castor's accusing gray eyes were intent upon Dona. He hesitated an instant as if to give her an opportunity to explain.

"Sorry I can't stay any longer, Dona," now added Bob.

She thrust an arm possessively through Tom's and walked him swiftly out of the room and into the elevator, which had just come up.

In a daze, Dona closed the bedroom door. She leaned weakly against it, her hands tightly clenched at her sides, her breath coming in hard gasps, like a woman who had heard her death sentence.

Then the man on the bed began thrashing his arms and legs like a wild animal struggling with some horrible enemy.

Dona dashed to the telephone and asked the clerk to send up a doctor.

Within a few minutes, Dr. Smith, the house physician, came in. With swift experience, he examined Tug and promptly ordered him sent to a hospital.

"And his relatives?" Dr. Smith inquired, his bushy brows lowering at Dona over speculative blue eyes.

"I'm his wife, doctor," Dona got out stoutly. "He must have the best of care—but I—we haven't a large income."

"I see. But a private room will be necessary now, and special nurses. We'll put him into a ward after he quiets down."

Dona nodded slowly. She was thinking swiftly, "I'll sell the radio shop—turn everything into cash—get Tug well. I'm all he has—it's my duty."

After riding to the hospital in the ambulance with Tug and two orderlies, seeing that he was comfortably settled in a private room, and signing a paper stating that she was his wife and responsible for his hospital bill, she returned to the hotel at 5 a.m. feeling utterly spent.

Sh fell across her bed in a sort of stupor and soon mercifully drifted into deep dreamless sleep.

It was dark lowering midmorning when she was awakened by a chambermaid fumbling with a key in her door.

She got up groggily, staggered across the room, turned back the night belt and opened the door. She took the armful of clean linen the woman offered her, and asked her to let the straightening of the room go till later, her voice sounding small and far away. She shut and bolted the door again and dropped the linen on a chair.

She went to an open window and looked out upon a city teeming with activity. Six stories below, people moved like puppets attached to strings. She watched the scene in stupid fascination. Down there were drama, pathos, pain and joy. The dull rumble of heavy traffic came to her like a sound effect from some great recording instrument. It struck her as fantastic. The whole world and all within it this morning seemed oddly unreal.

She felt crushed and broken by the chain of events which had swooped down upon her since her arrival in this strange city. Tug in the hospital, battling for his life; a clear case of acute alcoholism, the doctors had told her pityingly. He must have been drinking heavily for weeks, they said, and it set her to pondering many things.

Much of the money she had sent Tug apparently had been spent on this intemperate escapade of his. It looked as if he had done it without any compunction whatever. On top of that, he had invited Bob Platt here—and Bob, the conceited little goose, had come running.

Luckily, Tug had fallen by the wayside before Bob got involved in serious scandal. But now Bob was decidedly in the clear. She would never tell on herself, and she thought she was safe in assuming that Dona, a girl greatly indebted to the Platts, would act with the utmost discretion.

Dona smiled drearily to herself. Mum would be the word, so far as she was concerned—but only to prevent her farce of a marriage from becoming generally known. It was safe to assume that already Bob had embellished last night's incident in Tom Castor's mind to further her own plans. He might not think so well now of the girl he knew as Dona Nickelson, but Bob Platt would stand out as an attractive little thing who inadvertently had run into a shocking situation. Bob would be oh, so grieved to discover that Dona wasn't above reproach, as they all had supposed.

It was a terrible tangle, all right. Dona shook herself resolutely. Standing there wasn't accomplishing anything. There must be some way out of at least part of her predicament, and she had to find it.

She had coffee and rolls sent up and called it breakfast. But it was a makeshift one at best, with a bite here and a sip there, between combing her hair and freshening her haggard face with make-up.

When she had finished, her dresser mirror told her that she looked exactly as discouraged as she felt.

She sighed heavily and called up the hospital. She was told that Mr. Nash was "resting comfortably", unsatisfactory for one in her tormented state of mind.

She had the key to Tug's room and she went there now, prepared for any disagreeable revelation. But she must, she felt, know something of his movements during the past few weeks, and act accordingly.

So with the privilege of a wife, she ransacked dresser drawers and travelling bags, observed the fine array of suits and coats hanging in his closet. She glanced through the papers in his desk and soon knew the worst. Bills—bills galore! But he had accumulated more bills for expensive wearing apparel than he had for shop rent and radio stock!

Dona's brain was whirling. She tried, unsuccessfully, to compute the staggering amount of money he owed.

It was no use. She mustn't think about that now. She must go to the Nash Radio Shop and question the clerk. Surely, there must be a clerk. Or hadn't the shop been opened this morning?

Oh, she must hurry—hurry down there and see what could be salvaged out of the terrible wreck Tug had made of trying to start his own business.

(To be continued.)

Deseronto

Deseronto—Mrs. Cornell has returned to Lindsay having spent a few days the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Blackwell. Master George Blackwell returned with her for a visit.

Miss Lottie Cronk is home for the summer.

Miss Mary Dunn of Ottawa is the guest of Miss Mae Hunt.

Mrs. W. Wilson and children of Mimico were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Raven.

Mr. Howard Vandusen is home for a few days.

Mrs. M. Gartland returned home from Picton accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. F. Smith and family.

Mrs. S. Leween has returned home from the Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Rixen and daughter of Hamilton are spending their holidays in town.

Mrs. Jos. Johnston is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. Greer, Wellington.

Mrs. Bowen of Chicago is visiting her brother, Mr. Lamonte, Maple Avenue.

Miss Freida Fingland of Enterprise is the guest of her brother, Mrs. Hugh Fingland and Mrs. Fingland.

Mrs. F. E. Fields has returned home from Kingston Hospital much improved in health.

Miss Kathleen Martin is spending her holidays in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jandrew, Toronto, spent the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Catherine Jandrew.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

SATURDAY, AUGUST 23.

5.15—Saratoga Races—CBL
7.00—Gentlemen with Wings—CBO
7.00—People's Platform — WABC.
7.15—Canada Calls From London —CBL
7.30—Wayne King's Orch.—WGR
7.30—Little Ol' Hollywood—CBL
7.45—H. V. Kaltenborn, news — WEAF, WBEN
7.45—The Inside of Sports—WOR
8.00—Latitude Zero, drama—WEAF WBEN
8.00—Guy Lombardo's Orch — WABC
8.30—Hawaii Calls —CBL
8.30—Truth or Consequences — WEAF, WGY
8.30—The Bishop and the Gargoyle, mystery drama—WJZ
9.00—Your Hit Parade—WABC, WGR
9.00—Nat'l. Barn Dance — WEAF, WBEN
9.00—Quiz for the Forces—CBL
9.30—Summer Symphony — WJZ, WHAM
9.45—Saturday Night Serenade — WJR, WGR
10.00—Summer Symphony — WJZ, CBL
10.15—Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
11.30—Ray Heatherton's Orch.— WJZ, WHAM

SUNDAY, AUGUST 24.

9.00—News: Dr. Charles M. Courboin, organist—WEAF, CBL
10.45—Musicale; News—CBL
12.30—Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir and Organ—WABC
12.30—Radio City Music Hall; Symphony Orch.—WJZ, CBL
2.30—Religious Period—CBL
3.00—Columbia B'casting Symphony; guest conductor—CFRB, WABC
4.00—Chautauqua Symphony Orch Concert—WEAF, CBL
4.30—Spirit of '41; National Defense Prgm.—WABC, CFRB
5.30—Rhythms by Ricardo—WJZ, WHAM
6.00—Nat'l Music Camp—WJZ
6.00—Military Band—CBL
6.00—Silver Theatre Summer Show; Ed Sullivan—WABC
6.30—Gene Autry's Melody Ranch —WABC
6.30—Empire Exchange Rebroadcast—CBL
7.00—News from Europe—WJZ
7.30—Bandwagon—WEAF, WGY
7.30—World News Tonight — WABC, WGR
8.00—The Pause That Refreshes—WABC, WGR
8.00—Star Spangled Theatre—WJZ
8.30—Inner Sanctum Mystery; drama—WJZ, WHAM
9.00—Summer Hour — WABC, WGR
9.00—We Have Been There—CBL
9.00—Manhattan Merry-Go-Round —WEAF, WBEN
9.30—Album of Familiar Music—WEAF, WBEN
9.30—Irene Rich, drama—WJZ, WHAM
9.45—Sports Newsreel of the Air; Bill Stern, guests — WJZ, WHAM
10.00—Good Will Hour — WJZ, WHAM
10.00—The Hour of Charm; Phil Spitalny's All-Girl Orch. — WEAF, WGY
10.00—Take It or Leave It—WABC, WGR
10.30—Columbia Workshop—WABC, CFRB
11.00—Headlines and Bylines—WGR WABC
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.15—Tommy Tucker's Orchestra —WABC, WGR
11.30—Newsreel—CBL

MONDAY, AUGUST 25.

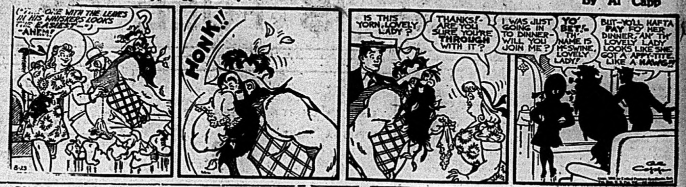
7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—WJZ, CBL
10.45—Prescott Presents — WJZ, CBL
1.15—Vincent Lopez' Orch.—CBL
5.30—Fiedler Conducts—CBL
6.45—Lowell Thomas, comm. — WJZ, WHAM
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.30—Cavalcade of America — WEAF, WHAM
8.00—The Telephone Hour; Musical Program with James Melton—WEAF, WGY
8.00—Playtime—CBL
8.00—Vox Pop—WABC, WGR
8.30—True or False—WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Voice of Firestone; Symphony Orch. with Alfred Wallenstein, conductor, Margaret Speaks, Sop.—WEAF, CBL
8.30—Gay Nineties Revue—WABC
9.00—Forecast—WABC, WGR
9.00—Basin St. Chamber Music — WJZ, WHAM
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ
10.00—Famous Jury Trials — WJZ WHAM
10.00—Contented Hour — WEAF.
10.30—Boxing Bout; Bob Montgomery vs. Mike Kaplan—WJZ, WHAM
10.30—With the Troops in England —CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Radio Newsreel—CBL
12.00—Bob Chester's Orch.—WABC, CFRB

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

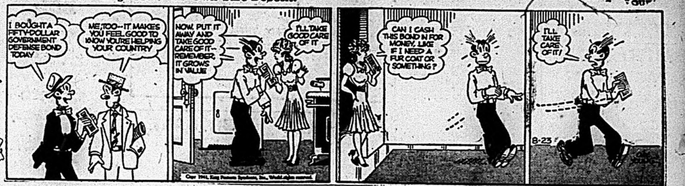
LI'L ABNER — Gallantry, Dogpatch Style !

By Al Capp



THE ONE WITH THE LEAVES IN HIS WHISKERS LOOKS TH' EASIEST—!) —AHEM!
?
HONK!!
IS THIS YORN, LOVELY LADY ?
THANKS!— ARE YOU SURE YOU'RE THROUGH WITH IT ?
I WAS JUST GOING IN TO DINNER— WILL YOU JOIN ME ?
YO' BET!— TH' NAME IS McSWINE, LOVELY LADY!
BUT—YO'LL HAFTA PAY FO' HER DINNER,' AN' TH' LOVELY LADY LOOKS LIKE SHE GOT A APPY-TITE LIKE A HAWG!!
8-23
Al Capp

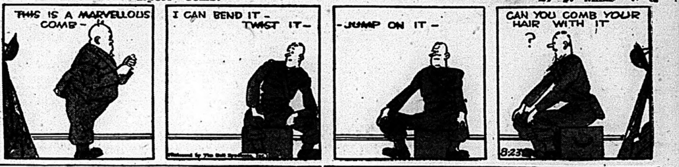
BLONDIE -- Dagwood's His Own Safe-Deposit!



I BOUGHT A FIFTY-DOLLAR GOVERNMENT DEFENSE BOND TODAY
ME, TOO—IT MAKES YOU FEEL GOOD TO KNOW YOU'RE HELPING YOUR COUNTRY
NOW, PUT IT AWAY AND TAKE GOOD CARE OF IT— REMEMBER, IT GROWS IN VALUE
I'LL TAKE GOOD CARE OF IT
CAN I CASH THIS BOND IN FOR MONEY, LIKE IF I NEED A FUR COAT OR SOMETHING ?
I'LL TAKE CARE OF IT!
8-23
Chic Young

POP — An All-Purpose Comb?

By J. Millar Watt



THIS IS A MARVELLOUS COMB —
I CAN BEND IT — TWIST IT — — JUMP ON IT —
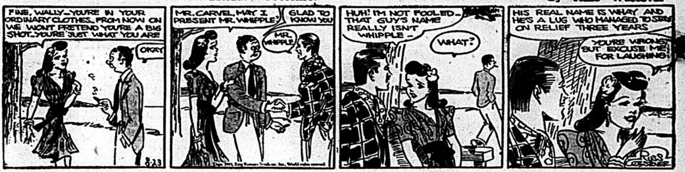
CAN YOU COMB YOUR HAIR WITH IT
?
8-23

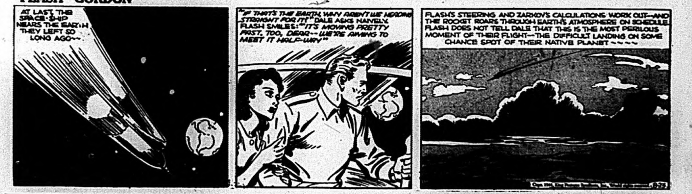
TILLIE THE TOILER — "Habitual" Pretense!

By Russ Westover



FINE, WALLY—YOU'RE IN YOUR ORDINARY CLOTHES—FROM NOW ON WE WON'T PRETEND YOU'RE A BIG SHOT—YOU'RE JUST WHAT YOU ARE
OKAY
MR. CARVEL, MAY I PRESENT MR. WHIPPLE?
GLAD TO KNOW YOU
MR. WHIPPLE
HUH! I'M NOT FOOLED— THAT GUY'S NAME REALLY ISN'T WHIPPLE —
WHAT?
HIS REAL NAME IS WHAY AND HE'S A LUG WHO MANAGED TO STAY ON RELIEF THREE YEARS
YOU'RE WRONG BUT EXCUSE ME FOR LAUGHING
8-23
Russ Westover

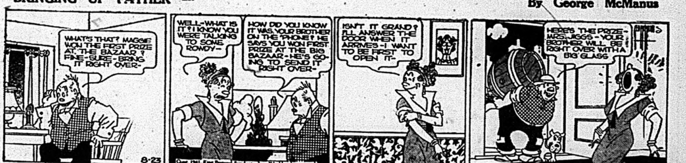
FLASH GORDON



AT LAST THE SPACE-SHIP NEARS THE EARTH THEY LEFT SO LONG AGO~~
"IF THAT'S THE EARTH, WHY AREN'T WE HEADING STRAIGHT FOR IT?" DALE ASKS NAIVELY. FLASH SMILES: "IT'S MOVING PRETTY FAST, TOO, DEAR—WE'RE AIMING TO MEET IT HALF-WAY"
FLASH'S STEERING AND ZARKOV'S CALCULATIONS WORK OUT—AND THE ROCKET ROARS THROUGH EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE ON SCHEDULE. FLASH DOES NOT TELL DALE THAT THIS IS THE MOST PERILOUS MOMENT OF THEIR FLIGHT—THE DIFFICULT LANDING ON SOME CHANCE SPOT OF THEIR NATIVE PLANET ~~~~
8-23

BRINGING UP FATHER —

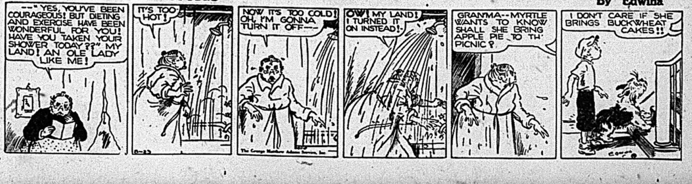
By George McManus



WHAT'S THAT? MAGGIE WON THE FIRST PRIZE AT THE BAZAAR ? FINE—SURE—BRING IT RIGHT OVER—
WELL—WHAT IS IT ? I KNOW YOU WERE TALKING TO SOME ROWDY—
HOW DID YOU KNOW IT WAS YOUR BROTHER ON THE 'PHONE ? HE SAYS YOU WON FIRST PRIZE AT THE BIG BAZAAR—HE'S GOING TO SEND IT RIGHT OVER—
ISN'T IT GRAND ? I'LL ANSWER THE DOOR WHEN IT ARRIVES—I WANT TO BE FIRST TO OPEN IT—
HERE'S THE PRIZE— MRS. JIGGS—YOUR BROTHER WILL BE RIGHT OVER WITH A BIG GLASS
8-23

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



—"YES, YOU'VE BEEN COURAGEOUS! BUT DIETING AND EXERCISE HAVE BEEN WONDERFUL FOR YOU! HAVE YOU TAKEN YOUR SHOWER TODAY??" MY LAND! AN OLE LADY LIKE ME!
IT'S TOO HOT!
NOW IT'S TOO COLD! OH, I'M GONNA TURN IT OFF——
OW! MY LAND! I TURNED IT ON INSTEAD!—
GRAN'MA—MYRTLE WANTS TO KNOW SHALL SHE BRING APPLE PIE TO TH' PICNIC ?
I DON'T CARE IF SHE BRINGS BUCKWHEAT CAKES!!
8-23
Edwina

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 11.30 a.m.:

MINES

Aldermac 14 1-2B
Anglo Hur 57B
Aunor 170
Bankfield 6A
Beattie 110
Edgood 9
Bralorne 11B
Broulan 73
Buffalo Ank 400B
Calgary and Ed. 135B
Central Pat. 90B
Chesterville 135A
Coniaurum 121B
Dome 22 1-2B
Eldorado 40B
East Mal. 225
Falconbridge 335A
Francoeur 44
Gillies 5B
Gunnar 25
Hardrock 76A
Home Oil 240
Hollinger 12 3-4A
Howey 20 1-2
Hudson Bay 28 3-8A
Jason 36 1-4B
Kerr Add. 445B
Kirk. Lake 68
Lake Shore 14 1-2
Little L.L. 185
Macassa 385
McIntyre 50A
McLeod 185
McKenzie 105B
Moneta 35B
Nipissing 115B
O'Brien 150A
Okalta 59
Omega 14A
Paymaster 19 1-4
Pamour 98B
Perron 145
Pend Oreille 162A
Pickle Crow 299
Pioneer 250A
Premier 90A
Preston E. D. 305
San Antonio 240A
Sherritt G. 80
Siscoe 53A
Sladen M 25A
Sud. Basin 145B
Sullivan 59B
Steep Rock 178
Sylvanite 250B
T. Hughes 280A
Tex. Can. Oil 95B
Toburn 148
Ventures 470B
W. Amulet 465B
Wr. Hargreaves 400
Upper Can. 179A

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 149
B.A. Oil 16 1-4
Brewing Corp. 115
Braz. Trac. 7B
Can. Bud Brewery 4 3-4B
Can. Ind. Alcohol2 3-4B
C.P.R. 6 3-8B
Can. Malting 33B
Canada Car 6 3-4B
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-2B
Con. Smelting 37 1-3B
Dominion Foundries 19A
Dominion Stores 5B
Dist. Seagrams 22 1-2
Gypsum 3 1-8B
Imp. Oil 9 1-4B
Int. Nickel 34 1-2A
Inter. Pet 13 1-2B
Imp. Tobacco 12 1-4B
Loblaw 27A
Massey 2 5-8B
Mont. Power 21 1-2B
Steel of Canada 65B
Walker's 41B
Walker's Pfd 19 5-8B
C.P.A. 3 1-2B

NEW YORK

Bethlehem Steel 68 3-8
General Motors 38 5-8
U.S. Steel 56 7-8

Obituary

LATE GEORGE FREEMAN
(Tweed)

Tweed (Special)—The funeral of the late George A. Freeman who passed away at his home in Tweed on Thursday afternoon was held this (Saturday) afternoon from his late residence to St. James' Anglican Church with Rev. A. E. Pepper, M.A., in charge.

The late George Freeman, who was in his 83rd year, was born in England, coming to Canada in 1907. For nearly two years he resided in Deseronto where he was employed by the Rathbun Lumber Co. In the spring of 1909 he moved to Tweed where he continued to reside until the time of his death. He was in charge of the roundhouse of the old Bay of Quinte Railway for many years. In his late years he was janitor of Tweed Consolidated and High Schools. Failing health forced him to relinquish these duties a few years ago. Mr. Freeman, both in England and in Canada, gave instruction in various types of musical instruments in which he was proficient.

On March 27th, 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman observed their 47th wedding anniversary.

Surviving, besides his widow, are the following children, Violet, at home; Mrs. Thomas Hogle (Mabel) of Roslin; Mrs. Harold Pitman (Doris), of Kingston; Mrs. Harry Stewart (Alma), of Detroit, Mich.; James Freeman, of Kingston, and Bert Freeman, of Port Hope. Ten grandchildren also survive and one nephew, Wm. Freeman, Sydney, Australia.

There was a wealth of floral tributes from friends and relatives. Interment was in Victoria Cemetery, Tweed.

CUCUMBERS IN SHAPE OF "V"

Mr. W. J. Sharpe, 66 Highland Avenue, has had two cucumbers growing together in the shape of a "V" in his garden. The cucumbers are practically identical in size. They are not attached, but growing side by side.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.37-.38
A-medium	.36-.37
A-pullet	.32
Grade "B"	.31-.32
Grade "C"	.27

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1	.36 1-2—.36 3-4
Butter, No. 2	.35—.38
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Graded Eggs Make Advance

Toronto, Aug. 23—Spot prices on graded eggs enjoyed increases ranging from 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday, while grades A-large and A-medium also firmed slightly in wholesale-to-retail action. The butter market passed through another day in idleness and creamery solids were quoted nominally 1-4 cent below the nominal quotations of Thursday's close.

As has been the case all through the current week, a very firm tone was in evidence on the egg market yesterday and good demand kept fresh arrivals well cleared. Top-grades advanced 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen in prices extending to country dealers while grade B was up 1-2 cent and C 1 cent in this section. Grades A-large, A-medium and A-pullets closed at 36 to 36 1-2, 35 to 35 1-2 and 30 to 30 1-2 cents a dozen, respectively, with the two lower grades resting at 29 to 29 1-2 and 25 cents.

While the two lower grades have enjoyed the better enquiry, all grades have been readily absorbed b, the good general demand during the week. There has been some pick up in volume of shipments to the North Country, but commitments to Eastern points and military camps have been no greater than normal. There have been no offerings of carlots from the Prairie Provinces. Dealers report that, as is usual at this time of year, some very small eggs have started arriving. Producers are advised to keep these "peewees" for their own use, as they have not been meeting with very ready sale here.

Under light receipts and no demand at all, the butter market spent yesterday in idleness. First grade creamery solids were quoted nominally at 36 1-2 to 36 3-4 cents a pound, down 1-4 cent from Thursday's close.

With the exception of broilers, which have not been sufficient to meet the demand, arrivals of dressed poultry have been more plentiful during the current week. Receipts of fowl and heavy chicken, though heavier, have been well cleared by fairly good local and out-of-town demand. Prices have held unchanged.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 23 (CP).—Produce market prices here yesterday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter: First grade solids, jobbing price 37c; Que. No. 1 pasteurized current receipt price, 35 3-4c; No. 2 34 3-4c; No. 1 wholesale price, 36 1-8c; No. 2, 35 3-8c. Receipts: 502 boxes.

Eggs: Graded shipments offering at A-large, 36 1-2c; A-medium 35-35 1-2c; pullets, 29-29 1-2c; B-grade 28-29c; C-grade, 24c. Receipts: 700 cases.

RULING FAVORS R. R. MEN, REPORT

Department of Justice Ruling on Cost of Living Bonus is Returned to Privy Council

Ottawa Aug. 23 (CP)—Ruling of the Justice Department on a point at issue between Canadian railwaymen and the railways regarding interpretation of Order-in-Council No. 7440 which defines the cost-of-living bonus principle, is in favor of the men, it was learned autoritatively.

The Justice Department ruling has been returned to the Privy Council.

The railway and union groups, having agreed the cost-of-living bonus should be paid to railway employees, were in dispute as to the way in which the adjustment of the bonus from time to time should be made.

Employees contended the Order-in-Council called for payment of a bonus of $1.25 per week when the cost-of-living index of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics advanced five per cent above the level of August, 1939, and that further bonuses should be paid as the cost of living advanced still higher in relation to the level of August, 1939.

Railway representatives agreed the first payment should be made when the cost advanced five percent from August, 1939, but that further bonuses should be based on increases in the cost-of-living from the date of the last bonus adjustment.

The effect of the railway's argument was that for future adjustments the bonus should be payable if the cost of living advanced five per cent of 105, five per cent of 110 and so on. The unions argued the basis should be five per cent of 100, then 10 per cent of 100 and so on.

Ten days ago Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the cabinet heard arguments from representatives of the men and the railways and turned the matter over to the Justice Department for decision.

THE WAR TODAY

(By Leon Edel)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Reports from the eastern front indicate the Red Army wall on three sides of Leningrad, ancient city of the Czars, is holding firm under heavy attack, with the Nazis resorting to dive-bombing attacks in their attempt to flatten the resistance.

Within the city, barricades have been erected and a civilian army created to make each street a miniature bastion. The Russians have spurned the Nazi suggestion that Leningrad be declared an open town and are ready to risk its destruction.

This decision, as the Russian-German war enters its third month is characteristic of the Russian defence. This defence has been realistic; sentiment and pride in new buildings and industrial projects have not been allowed to stand in the way of Russia's avowed purpose: to offer continued and persistent resistance to the Nazis even though the cities are levelled and the country laid waste.

Paris, and most of the other big cities now in the hands of the Nazis, were declared open towns and were undefended. On the other hand Warsaw, first foreign capital to fall under Nazi domination in this war, was stoutly defended for almost a month before the Nazis were able to take it. When Hitler finally entered the city to proclaim his first victory of the war there was a note of irony in the proceedings as the commanding general said: "Fuehrer, I give you Warsaw", and with a sweep of the arm indicated ruined streets and toppled buildings.

Meanwhile indications from Iran (Persia) which bridges the Russian Caucasus with India, are that the Persian Government — obviously under heavy pressure from Berlin—has not given Britain and Russia a satisfactory reply to their demand that German "tourists" be ousted from this country. These "tourists," the familiar vanguard of the German armies of occupation, have been reported sowing the seeds of revolt, in Iran much as in the case of Iraq earlier this year.

That Britain and Russia will take a firm stand seems to be a foregone conclusion. Gen. C. J. E. Auchinleck, the new British Commander in Chief in the Middle East, visited London recently, it is disclosed and it is quite possible that he went fully into the Iranian situation during his talks with British leaders.

PEACHES FEATURE LOCAL MARKET

Grade "A" Eggs Advance Another Two Cents to 37 Cents a Dozen

Visual evidence of a quickly approaching autumn season, the local produce market was crowded with enticing displays of seasonal late summer and early fall fruits and vegetables this morning with possibly the largest attendance, both of vendors and purchasers, to be seen this summer.

The appearance of peaches in quantities instead of the hitherto occasional basket possibly featured the market, while fresh eggs advanced another two cents per dozen for a new high for the season.

Grade "A" large eggs sold at 37c per dozen with mediums bringing 35c and pullets 30c. Butter held at previous quotations of 40c per pound while fowl ranged around 28c per pound with some large well-finished birds bringing $1.50. Chickens sold generally at approximately $1 each and down to $1.50 per pair.

St. John peaches, some in baskets with new type removable paper tops sold generally at 65c for No. 1's while No. 2's went for 55c per six-quart basket. Plums of all varieties sold at 55c and 50c per six-quart basket, green gages at 65c and pears at 60c per basket.

A greater variety of early apples than has hitherto been noticed was displayed with Transparents selling at 25c per half-peck, Duchess and Melbas 30c the basket and Wealthies 25c the basket. Wolf Rivers sold at $1 per bushel. Crab apples were 25c the six-quart basket.

Prices for vegetable lines held at approximately the same figure as last week with tomatoes bringing 25c the peck or $1 per hamper. Potatoes were 35c per peck or $1.25 per bushel. Cucumbers ranged from 30c to 75c per six-quart basket with possibly the greatest offering this season featured. Several extra large cauliflowers were noticed, vendors asking 50c and as low as 15c each. Corn on the cob sold steadily at 25c and 30c per dozen, while the seasonal vegetables were bunched in the usual 5c lots, although carrots were also sold in half-peck lots.

What was possibly the last offering of lake trout this season sold at 30c and 35c per pound, while whitefish sold at the usual 22c a pound. Young porkers were quite plentiful at prices ranging from $5 to $7.50 each.

RELIEF ROLES AT LOWEST EBB

Relief rolls in the city of Belleville are now at the lowest ebb noted for a great number of years, it was stated by Miss Helena Lynch, local relief administrator, this morning. While the exact figure of the number of persons now on the lists was not obtainable, it was stated that the number had steadily decreased from early spring.

At the present time there is not one person on relief who is employable, it was stated by the relief administrator. Even men partially unemployable have accepted odd jobs about the city, the money thus earned enabling them to be struck temporarily off the lists.

PRIME MINISTER

(Continued From Page 1)

The Prime Minister paused during the inspection to chat with a couple of officers of the unit, including Maj. Gavan Power of Quebec City and Lt. Hughes Lapointe, son of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice.

Editorial Comment.

London, Aug. 23 (CP).—The Daily Mirror said editorially today that Prime Minister Mackenzie King's stand on Dominion representation in the war cabinet "makes one wonder why Mr. King has left his hometown for London".

Mr. King, during a press conference Thursday, said he did not see the need for the establishment of an Imperial war cabinet with representatives of the dominions as members.

"Even if we believe (as many do) that democratic prime ministers ought to stay put with their jobs," desire that the dominions should be the Mirror said, "we can admit and adequately represented in the counsels of the war cabinet—if not by premiers at any time by persons well fitted to speak frankly and to contribute fresh and free opinions.

"Evidently the Canadian prime minister does not agree. He is all for 'direct contact with the dominion cabinets in their hometowns'. Which makes one wonder why Mr. King has left his hometown for London."

Slippery Pavement Cause of Accident

Owing to wet slippery pavements, an automobile driven by Wayne Terwilliger, of Blesdell, N.Y., went out of control police say, on Highway No. 7, two miles west of Madoc early Friday evening and was in collision with another motor car being driven in the opposite direction by James O'Hara, of Petawawa. The vehicles collided in a sideswiping manner resulting in over $500 collective damage, Constables McKenzie and Rathwell, of the Provincial Police here, stated after investigation. Mr. Terwilliger sustained facial lacerations and an eye injury and received medical attention in Madoc.

Terwilliger told the police officers his motor car skidded slightly and began to swerve, going out of control momentarily. Before he could right the vehicle the collision occurred. The damage was extensive to the front portions of both cars.

Restrict Access to Defence Plants

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The defence communications board called upon the United States communications industry to restrict access to plants to officials, employees, and other necessary persons.

The request apparently is to safeguard communications against sabotage.

Two of the screens finest players, James Stephenson and Geraldine Fitzgerald are together in "Shining Victory" the glorious picture from A. J. Cronin's play, it opens Sunday Midnight at the Capitol with comedy hit, "She Couldn't Say No."

NAZIS THREATEN

(Continued from Page One)

Disclose Fatal Stabbing

In disclosing the fatal stabbing of a German officer in Paris Thursday, Lt.-Gen. Ernst Von Schaumburg, German commandant of the city, announced that effective today all Frenchmen under arrest would be classed as hostages and "in case of a new criminal act, a number of hostages corresponding to the gravity of the act committed will be shot."

The assassination followed the arrest of 6,000 Jews, Communists and De Gaullists in Paris on Wednesday. The victim's identity was not disclosed.

The Petain decree against Communists appeared in the official journal today, although it was drafted Aug. 14, the same day the Germans made Communist activity in the occupied zone punishable by death because of demonstrations and shootings in Paris Aug. 12.

French army or navy courts martial will handle the cases in the unoccupied area, their verdicts calling for immediate execution without possibility of appeal. The decree applies to Communists and Leftists who previously have been subject only to civil courts.

In lesser cases prison terms up to life may be ordered, and offences involving military or public officials may be punishable merely by fines. This would imply that dissatisfaction also exists in official ranks.

Meanwhile, Interior Minister Pierre Pucheu resumed the wholesale removal of mayors and liquidation of township administrations, nine mayors and thirty-one town councils being discharged in the first action. Charges ranged from "insulting remarks concerning the person of Marshal Petain" and "hostility to the work of national restoration" to simple "drunkenness".

Similar action had been taken against municipal authorities some time ago but the campaign had lapsed.

The Vichy council of ministers held an unusual mid-week meeting Thursday, when it was understood the decrees were decided upon.

Recent advices from occupied France have told of numerous demonstrations and disturbances, which some quarters attributed in part to unemployment and a shortage of proper food.

Newspaper reports have indicated a reconciliation between communist elements in Paris and Free French sympathizers since the German invasion of Russia.

Vichy officials have expressed increasing concern over railroad sabotage, and have warned drastic steps will be taken against saboteurs.

SOVIET SUMMARY

(Continued from Page One)

The latest-mentioned key sectors in the fight for the old capital of the Czars were just east of Kingisepp, within 75 miles of Leningrad, and Novgorod, 100 miles south of the city.

Twice Shattered.

The Soviet summary of the first two months of the war declared that twice already Nazi plans had been shattered by the fierce stand of the Red army.

"A month ago," the summary said, "the German high command declared to the whole world that the way to Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev were open. But our troops have blocked this way.

"Failing to achieve its strategic aims in the war—its plans of seizing Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev 'within one month' having suffered a fiasco—the German command put on another record and began to declare that the aim of the German army is not the seizure of towns but the extermination of manpower and destruction of the equipment of the Red army.

"However, two months of war gave evidence that the Red army not only is not annihilated but its strength and the power of its resistance is growing each day. The enemy has occupied a number of our regions and towns. But he was able to do this only at the cost of tremendous losses in manpower and equipment."

Figures Given.

These German losses the Russians said, in addition to more than 2,000,000 men killed, wounded or captured, include 8,000 tanks, 10,00 cannon and 7,200 airplanes.

Against these figures the Russians said their own losses had amounted to 700,000 men, 5,500 tanks, 7,500 cannon and 4,500 planes.

(The German high command claimed yesterday the Reds had lost 14,000 tanks, 15,000 cannon and 11,250 planes and said 1,200,000 Russians had been captured. From this, other German sources estimated that Russia's total losses of men amounted to at least 5,050,000.)

The communique for the first time disclosed Moscow-air-raid casualty figures. It said that in 24 German air raids on the Soviet capital 736 persons were killed, 1,444 wounded seriously, and 2,069 wounded slightly.

NEW PHASE OF PROGRAM

Washington, Aug. 23 — (AP)—A new phase of the United States Emergency Program possibly involving far-reaching effects on consumer-buying habits got under way Friday with the first meeting of recently appointed government advisory panels on standards.

In brief, the problem which these panels will consider is how to maintain—or even improve—the quality of products going to the general public at the same time that the defence program is constantly taking additional labor and materials from production of consumer goods.

NAZI LAWS REST

(Continued from page one)

Despite the fact that the 120,000 Jews in The Netherlands—except 18,000 German Jew refugees—have lived there since ancestors fled from Spain and Portugal more than 400 years ago, they were never accorded full citizenship.

The comprehensive restrictions on all Jewish activities decreed by Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Reichs-Minister for The Netherlands since German occupation, have now reduced Jews to the status of persons who are merely tolerated.

Repressive Measures

Other anti-Jewish measures noted in the reports provide that:-

Jews may not employ Germans or persons of Aryan blood in their households.

No Jew may attempt to enter a university.

No Jew may work in the public service in any capacity.

No Jew may enter theatres, including movie theatres.

Jews are barred from approximately 90 per cent of the cafes and restaurants.

Jews are barred from nearly all public baths.

Jews are prohibited from entering or living in certain cities and towns.

No Jews may own a radio.

Jewish lawyers, dentists, pharmacists, notaries public and translators must not accept non-Jewish clients or patients.

DUKE OF KENT

(Continued from Page One)

To complete the day, His Royal Highness held a press conference to receive Toronto newspapermen for the first time. He chatted amiably with each one and, with quiet ease and shy good humor, answered their questions.

He said his most novel experience in Canada occurred last Wednesday when he was 4,000 feet underground in the McIntyre gold mine near Timmins, Ont., "one minute and 9,000 feet in the air the next"—in his plane en route for Toronto.

Visit Purely Friendly.

He said his visit to President Roosevelt is of a purely friendly nature, on Mr. Roosevelt's invitation; that he will not be seeing his eldest brother, the Duke of Windsor; that air training now in progress in Canada will be of "enormous assistance" in the ultimate British victory, and that rumors he had been kissed by women in Toronto crowds were not founded.

"No," he said, "nobody kissed me—not today, but yesterday someone did kiss my arm." That was when shoppers discovered him shopping incognito in a downtown store.

His Royal Highness will return to Canada Wednesday to complete his inspection of air training establishments in eastern Canada. He will land in Hamilton and will inspect training centres near there, Jarvis, St. Thomas and London before flying to Montreal and other points to the east.

Family Home Thrown Open.

Hyde Park, N.Y., Aug. 23 (AP).—In New oYrk by plane from Toronto where he opened the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday. dent Roosevelt threw open his family home to a member of the Royal Family today.

The Duke of Kent, brother of the king, was expected late today at the rambling stone and stucco Roosevelt residence overlooking the Hudson river. He was scheduled to come here by automobile following arrival For second time in 27 months, Presi-

The Duke, in the midst of a tour of Canada and a survey of the war effort, will spend tonight and Sunday at Hyde Park, then travel with the President to Washington by special train for a short visit in the capital.

In June, 1939, while the world was at peace, the King and Queen also were the President's guests at Hyde Park.

To View Library.

White House officials said the President and Mrs. Roosevelt probably would ask the Duke and a few friends to attend a special preview tomorrow of the first exhibit to be held at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library.

The Duke's itinerary for the Washington visit includes an inspection tour of defence facilities in the Norfolk area Monday and a visit to the Martin Aircraft plant in Baltimore Tuesday. He also will take a sight-seeing tour of the Capitol Building, Supreme Court, Mellon Art Gallery, Washington Monument and Lincoln Memorial, attend a cocktail party at the National Press Club, and greet members of the Empire's diplomatic staff in Washington at the British Embassy.

Coming here with the Duke were Wing Commander Sir Louis Greig, aide and personal pilot; A. J. Lowether, private secretary; H. J. Evans, Scotland Yard Inspector, and a valet.

6,000 Jews Arrested Sent to Labor Camps

Vichy, France, Aug. 23 (AP) — More than 6,000 Jews arrested in Paris in the last few days were sent to labor camps Fri., as Communist activity spread through the German-occupied zone.

The latest Communist troubles were reported at Nacy, where 10 Communists were arrested for openly putting up posters. They were taken immediately to prison at Toul, 15 miles from Nacy.

There was no further news from the occupied zone regarding the progress of the Paris roundup, which had been expected to continue.

V • • • –

WHY DO SOME PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE BUY BREAD BAKED IN OUTSIDE CITIES?

Is it not time we did some deep thinking?

OUR MERCHANTS FROM TIME TO TIME HANG OUT POSTERS

Buy in Belleville

Do these same merchants practice what they preach? Belleville Bakers can supply the needs of her people with well baked, wholesome Bread and Cakes. Outside bakers are wasting gasoline in trucking Bread to Belleville. Canada needs this gasoline to do her part in winning this war. BUY PURITY BREAD and CAKES and help a Belleville industry.

Glencoe E. Thompson
Proprietor.

ONTARIO WHEAT UPPED

Hamilton, Aug. 23 (CP)—Millers boosted the price of Ontario wheat to $1.07 a bushel Friday exceeding for the first time in the memory of most of them, the price paid for western wheat laid down at Ontario mills. The yield of the Ontario crop has been small and farmers are not anxious to dispose of it. It is a richer, softer grain, in great demand for pastry flour. Despite the high prices this wheat will bring at most mills many Ontario farmers are still feeding the wheat to their livestock.

INSPECTOR GARDNER ANNOUNCES TRANSFER

Inspector Frank Gardner, in charge of O.P.P. District No. 3 with headquarters at Belleville, today announced two detail transfers within the district. Constable Arthur Dymond, who has been stationed at Madoc for several years, was transferred to Bowmanville, while Constable R. S. Patterson, who has been attached to district headquarters office here, has taken over the vacant Madoc detachment post.

Have you ever wondered about th e people who furnish the voices for Clara Duck and Donald Duck in Dis ney pictures. Here they are in the flesh—Florence Gill and Clarence N ash—going through their paces for a scene in Walt Disney's amazing n ew feature "The Reluctant Dragon" at the Belle Theatre.

LETTING THE CAT OUT OF THE BAG!

For well over half a century, generations of thrifty Hastings County residents have made HOUSTON'S their BUILDING HEADQUARTERS and SHOPPING CENTRE because they can get absolutely EVERYTHING here that goes into the construction of a building. The finest workmanship, materials and designs characterize every product we stock from cabinets and sash to insulation, wallboard, hardware, shingles and Kiln Dried Lumber.

FOR FREE ESTIMATES AND FAST, EFFICIENT SERVICE CALL 1677

The HOUSTON Company Limited
BELLEVILLE CANADA
PHONE 1677
ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL

Weekly BUSINESS DIRECTORY and Industrial Review Page . . .

INSURANCE ALL KINDS Except Life.
HAIG, McDOUGALL & BATEMAN
Belleville's Largest Insurance Office.
168 FRONT ST. - - - - - - - PHONE 168

RADIO REPAIRS
HITCHON
RADIO SERVICE
56 Victoria Ave. Phone 354.

DRINK
Pepsi-Cola
QUINTE
DRY
BEVERAGES.

LAMORRE'S
TAXI
460 — Phone — 460
ALWAYS OPEN.

The Round Spot
THE HOME OF BELLEVILLE'S TASTIEST HAMBURGERS
Dundas East at Foster
ALWAYS OPEN.
Ross Simpson, Prop.

TO GET THE BEST
BUY
Supertest
from
Patterson & Wellbanks.
Dundas W. at Bay Bridge Road

FLEAS
PURINA FLEA POWDER
It Kills Them.
DOGS
For Good Health
FEED PURINA DOG CHOW.
For Comfort: Dust with PURINA FLEA POWDER
IT KILLS FLEAS.
IT GIVES HIM EASE.
Mackenzie Co.
Phone 219

Motorist Headquarters
CANADIAN TIRE ASSOCIATE STORE
WEESE & ONDERDONK
183 Front St. at Dundas

BICYCLES
OUR BUSINESS
STEPHEN LICENCE
Phone 985 299 Front St.

DUTTON'S
HIGH CLASS
GOODYEAR WELT
SHOE REPAIR SYSTEM
227½ Station St. Phone 537
Opposite C.N. Ry. Station.

Poultry Feeds
DOG FOODS
BIRD FOOD
and SUPPLIES
BISHOP'S
SEED STORE
172 Front St. Phone 283

SEND YOUR CAR TO CAMPBELL
for
AUTO PAINTING — BODY and FENDER REPAIRS.
Campbell's Auto Paint Shop
325 COLEMAN ST. - - - - - - PHONE 777

RAWLEIGH'S MEDICATED OINTMENT.
AND RAWLEIGH PRODUCTS.
GUS OLSSON 257 John Street.
DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVE. Phone 1183

Help Local Industry
LET YOUR LOCAL BAKER SERVE YOU.
BUY FROM
The PURITY BAKERY
Phone 1976

New Building Houses Quinte Dry Beverages On Station Street

During a hot summer day when the temperature is hovering in the upper nineties, or in the comparative cool of the early autumn season, there is nothing more refreshing than an ice-cold drink of Pepsi - Cola, a sparkling bottle of Jamaica Dry Ginger Ale or one of the popular Kist fruit drinks.

Bill J. Ott

And when a customer stops off at a favorite soda fountain or refreshment counter to enjoy any one of these popular drinks, it will be a source of satisfaction to know that they are bottled in Belleville in the bottling rooms of the Quinte Dry Beverages at 119 Station Street.

Although the name, "Quinte Dry Beverages", is a new name in Belleville, the business is nevertheless a well-established one, known previously as the J. B. Ives Bottling Works. Taken over two years ago this coming April by William (Bill) J. Ott, the business was re-named "Quinte Dry Beverages"; a new bottling room was built and the most modern bottling equipment installed.

Constructed with what was considered ample provisions for expansion in business, the attractive and modern building now housing Quinte Dry Beverages was completed last October but already the commodious warehouse department is cramped for space. According to Mr. Oott, in the short time the company has been operated under the new name, business has increased approximately 150 per cent. Where formerly only two delivery trucks were on the road now four are required to keep up with the demands of an increasing business.

Equipment Automatic

Bottling equipment at Quinte Dry Beverages is as far as possible automatic and conveyors running the entire length of the building reduce the heavy labor of handling cases to a minimum. In their bottling room, is a modern semi-automatic liquid carbonic 12-spout filler while all mixing of drinks is done in monel metal mixing tanks.

Although Mr. Ott, or "Bill" as he is popularly known, is not a native of Belleville, he nevertheless received academic training in this city, being a former student of Albert College. With this social background, "Bill" was instantly accepted into the social and business life of the community upon his return here some sixteen months ago, and finds Belleville residents "very friendly."

In addition to the ever-popular Pepsi-Cola, Jamaica Dry Ginger Ale and the "Kist" fruit drinks with flavors of Orange, Lemon, Grape and Lemon-Lime are bottled at Quinte Dry Beverages.

Orderly Marketing Makes Poultry Profit

When poultry producers plan to market a part of their chickens as broilers in the early months; part as medium weight roasters during the summer months, and the remainder as heavier roasters in the fall, what is known as orderly marketing has been achieved. Orderly marketing means spreading the marketing over a period of months so that overloaded markets are avoided. Under orderly marketing, a steady supply of good quality chickens, Grade A Milkfed, should be available to consumers the year round, states the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

On the other hand, if most of the year's poultry crop is held until the late fall the opportunity has been missed of taking advantage of the higher prices prevailing during the summer months, because the price of chickens usually holds up well through the months of June and July and then tends to drop to lower levels in succeeding months. In short, the amount of money which a poultry producer will receive during the year depends substantially on the plans he may have made for orderly marketing.

A knowledge of what to market and when to market is the essence of orderly marketing. Invariably the highest prices are paid for well finished birds of Grade A Milkfed quality. Experience has shown that pen or crate fattened birds find a ready market and help to increase the consumption of poultry meats. Marketing live or dressed birds of inferior quality at weights which cannot be readily disposed of tends to lower prices.

With fowl, orderly marketing also calls for frequent culling of the laying flock. Healthy and vigorous hens and pullets that have been carried through the winter should be retained until after spring production. Immediately after the flush of egg production to the end of the laying season, flocks should be culled so that every hen that has stopped laying will be taken out of the flock as soon as possible. There is no advantage in feeding non-layers. The eight to ten pounds of feed which each bird eats per month is largely wasted. Hens should be marketed before they start to moult. Birds covered with pin feathers are not wanted on poultry markets. Further information on what to market and how to fatten birds will be found in the pamphlet "Marketing the Poultry Crop 1941" obtainable on request from the Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

CHEESE, BUTTER OUTPUT

Factory cheese produced in Canada from January to July, 1941, increased 2.4 per cent compared with the output in the corresponding seven months in 1940, the figures being 74,881,325 lb. in 1941 against 73,147,458 in 1940. Butter also showed an increase, 166,000,240 lb. having been produced in the first seven months of 1941 compared with 153,907,942 lb. in 1940, an increase of 7.9 per cent.

A full hen house on every farm without overcrowding and with four square feet of floor space per bird is the ideal for the highest egg production.

1942 BACON EXPORTS

It seems likely, says the Economic Annalist, that Great Britain's bacon requirements will be large in 1942, and, with prospects for increased marketings in Canada, bacon exports may reach a new high. Stimulated by higher hog prices during the 1941 summer, there seems little doubt that hog production both in the United States and Canada will be sharply increased in 1942, especially during the latter half of the year.

Building Tempo To Be Continued Says Contractor

Despite the fact that building costs are steadily rising, the scarcity of homes and other living accommodations together with the recognized high rental costs, the present increased building tempo enjoyed in Belleville this season will be continued is the opinion of Mr. Alfred G. Skinner, general construction contractor, at 149 Pinnacle St.

A. G. Skinner

Speaking of building trends in the residential field in Belleville, Mr. Skinner stated that brick veneer construction has established its popularity in this district. The popularity of this type of construction has been brought about by its general substantial and pleasing appearance together with its recognized low upkeep cost.

Building practices have changed with the years according to Mr. Skinner, who states that gyproc lath, plaster board and insul brick siding is gradually replacing lumber as a building commodity. Rising costs of lumber together with scarcity brought about by wartime conditions and recognized advantages of commercial materials over lumber has brought about this change.

Under present conditions with skilled building tradesmen rushed off their feet in an effort to keep up with the tremendous building program inaugurated by the Department of Munitions and Supply as well as providing accommodation for a vast industrial expansion, it is increasingly difficult for prospective builders and home owners to acquire the services of a builder or contractor to whom they can entrust the building of their future home.

A lifetime experience in all essential phases of the building trade, including carpentry, masonry and bricklaying, has fitted Mr. Skinner well for the contracting business. He is a natural builder, one who has mastered every angle of his trade and one to whom the most intricate of building problems can be safely entrusted.

Several substantial homes in Belleville, including the Agnew residence on the corner of Burnham and Bridge Streets, the Dr. Wilson residence on Albert Street, and many others are evidence of Mr. Skinner's knowledge of building problems and of his thoroughness in construction detail.

A well-known housing contractor in Belleville 25 years ago, Mr. Skinner was away from the city for a period of 20 years, coming back here to live two years ago. Since then he has been active in building circles and is at present engaged in the construction of a modern dwelling for Mr. E. Summers on Dufferin Ave. If contemplating a new dwelling or confronted with a building problem, consult Mr. Skinner, telephone 2238.

Ackerman the Painter
SPECIALIZING ON HOUSE PAINTING.
ESTIMATES FREE - - WORK GUARANTEED.
PHONE 1795R - - - - - - 218 COLEMAN ST.

DO YOU APPRECIATE QUICK
SERVICE
AND FIRST CLASS
WORKMANSHIP?
If so . . . Our efficient staff is ready and equipped to perform the following work on your car.
BODY AND FENDER REPAIRS — WHEEL ALIGNMENT — AUTO PAINTING — SIMONIZING
J. E. MADILL
334½ Front St. BELLEVILLE Phone 2270

Your Country Needs SCRAP IRON — METALS. RAGS — BAGGING
COME IN ANY TIME - GET YOUR CASH
CRAWFORD METALS
A. CLARK Formerly Moldever's B. SPIEGEL
51 Station Street Phone 477

BELLEVILLE FOUNDRIES
111 STATION STREET - - - - - PHONE 186
TANKS — OIL STORAGE TANKS — HEAVY SHEET METAL WORK — WELDING — METAL FABRICATION.

RIGGS MOTOR SALES
224 PINNACLE STREET PHONE 116
Authorized Ford Service
EXPERT MECHANICS. SUPERTEST PRODUCTS.
"OUR COMPLETE SERVICE ASSURES HAPPY MOTORING"

HOME APPLIANCE STORE
Features:
GURNEY RANGES LEONARD REFRIGERATORS.
CONNOR WASHERS STEWART-WARNER RADIOS
RANGETTES — and a complete line of Electrical Appliances.
PLUMBING, HEATING, FESS OIL BURNERS.
AIR CONDITIONING.
HOME APPLIANCE STORE
191 FRONT ST. - - - - - PHONE 1181
Operated by Adams & VanDusen Company.

UPTOWN TIRE AND BATTERY SERVICE
ROAD SERVICE
GOODRICH TIRES AND BATTERIES C. C. M. BICYCLES
352 FRONT ST. BELLE VILLE PHONE 2288

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE
LaPALM THE MOVER AND STORAGE
165 PINNACLE STREET (Every Load Insured) PHONE 1006

LIVE BETTER AND CHEAPER!
Modern frozen locker food is healthful food. Vitamins as well as fresh taste are retained. Buying in quantity when prices are low saves you money. You owe it to yourself and your family to investigate our locker service.

BUY AT WHOLESALE AND SAVE MONEY on —Fruit
—Vegetables
—Berries
—Butter
—Eggs
—Meat
—Fish
—Poultry.

SPENCER FRIGID LOCKERS
1 MARKET LANE - - - - - - - PHONE 2454

Alfred G. Skinner
GENERAL CONTRACTOR
NEW BUILDINGS or ALTERATIONS.
149 Pinnacle Street
Phone 2238

ELECTRICAL WORK
by EXPERTS
HIBBARD ELECTRIC
(PAUL HIBBARD)
376 Front St. Phone 740

FOR LUMBER
CALL THE LUMBER NUMBER
Phone 1653
E. D. Mott
LUMBER COMPANY
370 Front Street

B P FLOOR TILE
HARDWOOD FLOORING
Arthur A. Sills
285 COLEMAN STREET
Phone 1584

Alex W. Carmichael
ROOFING and FLOORING CONTRACTOR.
338 Pinnacle St. Phone 1137

SEE THE
New No. 9 Massey Harris
Cream Separator
Priced $56.75 to $78.75
Hand Turned Electric Motor and Drive $33.00 Extra.
J. V. WHITE
18 McAnnany St. Phone 227

AUTO PARTS AND GLASS
SHERRY
AUTO PARTS
143 Pinnacle St. Phone 1480

Mac's Cigar Store
BELLE THEATRE BUILDING
Don't Forget Your Cigars — Cigarettes — Candy and Magazines for Sunday and the Holiday.
WE SELL
BORDEN'S ICE CREAM
IF IT'S BORDEN'S IT'S GOT TO BE GOOD.

McCARTHY
MON. — TUES. — WED.
GREER GARSON
LAURENCE OLIVIER
in
"PRIDE and PREJUDICE"
— Second Feature —
BELA LUGOSI
in
"INVISIBLE GHOST"
'GLASBAKE' OVENWARE

PORTABLE ELECTRIC and GAS WELDING.
Automobile and Machine Shop Work.
VALVE SEATS. — SCALE REPAIRS.
GREENLEAF CO.
10 Foundry St. Phone 83

CHECKER TAXI
24-HOUR SERVICE.
PHONE 755
ALL BUICK CARS
BERT HIGH, Prop.

WE ARE EXCLUSIVE AGENTS IN BELLEVILLE FOR THE PEASE
CONGO STOKERS
Inexpensive to Purchase Economical to Run
CHAS. L. HYDE
292 Front St. Belleville
Phone 38

Still Going Big
LEMON ICE CREAM AND ORANGE PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM FOR THE HOT WEATHER.
18c PINT BRICK - 2 FOR 35c
14 Other Varieties.
EMPIRE FRUIT & GROCERIES
209 FRONT ST. PHONE 676

Probabilities

Lower Lake Region: Fresh southwest winds; unsettled with thundershowers. Tuesday: Fresh to strong winds; shifting to northwest, partly cloudy and becoming cooler

The Ontario Intelligencer

★★ BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, AUGUST 25, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	70	56.3
One year ago	67.5	38.8

Rainfall till noon: 0.35 inches.
Weather: Cloudy.

British, Soviet Troops Invade Iran

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

GAS DELIVERIES TO DEALERS SHARPLY REDUCED

Military Measures Directed Against Axis Attempts At Control of Country

Demands on Iran to Expel 3,000 German Tourists Not Complied With Says London—Soviet Moves to Recure Frontiers in Fight With Germany

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP)—Iran's army of about 190,000 men was reported authoritatively today to be resisting British-Russian invading forces, spreading the war across the oil-rich kingdom wedged strategically between the Persian Gulf and the Caspian Sea.

The extent or place of the engagements was not disclosed here.

Veteran British desert fighters moved east and north from British-dominated Iraq, and from the Persian Gulf and formed a frontier threat at Baluchistan, which lies southeast of Iran. Some of the British landed from ships in the Persian Gulf.

RUSSIAN COSSACKS INVADE

Russian Cossacks and mounted infantrymen made up the Soviet invading forces, moving toward junctions with the British troops in a synchronized invasion of baking plains and mountains.

Ouster of German agents was the announced Russian-British aim.

From Cairo, headquarters of the British Middle East command, it was reported that Indian mechanized forces, strongly supported by R.A.F. squadrons, were in the canguard of the invasion.

An authoritative London source said some British troops had landed from ships at Bandar Shahpur, at the head of the Persian Gulf, but "that, of course, is not the sole point of entry."

Opposing the invaders was an army estimated in Cairo to consist of about 19 divisions of approximately 10,000 men each.

MAINLY SWEDISH ARTILLERY

Cairo sources said Iranian artillery was mainly of Swedish make, and arms included both light and heavy machine-guns. There are a few German tanks, they said, and the modern section of the air force consists of a single Tomahawk and about a dozen Hurricanes. They predicted a brief campaign, saying Iranians were poor airmen with little knowledge of navigation.

Some British estimates of the total number of German "tourists and technicians" in Iran rose as high as 8,000, although Iranian police declared there are only 590 German men in the country.

Cairo authorities said the most dangerous agent probably was Unis Bagri, nephew of an Iraqui radio announcer in Berlin.

Anglo-Soviet occupation of the land, it was pointed out by observers, would establish a juncture of British and Soviet forces and a line of communication from the Persian Gulf in the event the German drive in the Ukraine develops into a threat against Russian oil fields in the Caucasus.

SIR A. WAVELL IN CHARGE

The British operations were directed from Simla Bay by Sir Archibald Wavell, newly-appointed commander in India who engineered Britain's brilliant desert campaign against the Italians in Libya last Winter.

But it was doubted here that Iran resistance would develop on a major scale and Britain was counting on diplomacy to win as much as arms. Diplomatic quarters said every

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 3)

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 25 (CP)—Synopsis: Showers and thunderstorms have occurred in Ontario. It has been cool in the Prairie Provinces with showers in Alberta and in southern districts of Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

PLACE	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Victoria	58	65	52
Vancouver	58	69	56
Calgary	50	55	49
Edmonton	45	68	45
Winnipeg	48	59	45
Toronto	64	81	61
Ottawa	60	71	53
Montreal	61	67	58
S. S. Marie	59	65	55
New York	72	83	70
Miami	85	91	81
Los Angeles	—	78	—

Nearly 20 Tons Dropped on Tripoli Start Over 30 Fires

Cairo, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Nearly 20 tons of bombs were dropped by the Royal Air Force on Tripoli Saturday night, causing more than 30 fires, one of which was visible 135 miles away, the British command announced today.

Direct hits from a low altitude were scored on fuel and supply dumps, an R.A.F. communique said. Other planes followed up the attack by swooping to machine gun the harbor area and the airdrome at Mellaha.

One escort vessel and a schooner were sunk and another schooner left with a list in an attack off the Libyan Coast.

Moscow Pledges Territorial Integrity of Iran

Moscow, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Red army marched south from the Caucasus into Iran today in a joint campaign with British forces entering from the west and south to end German activity in that kingdom.

Foreign Minister Molotov handed a note early this morning to Mahamed Saed, veteran Russian-speaking Iranian Ambassador to Moscow, promising the Red army would be withdrawn as soon as the Soviet government was satisfied all Nazi danger had been removed.

It also pledged the territorial integrity of Iran.

A communique announcing Britain and Russia had resorted to force said the Allied drives began after three warnings to the Teheran government over Nazi activity.

Molotov's note charged German agents were plotting to create disorder in Iran, arouse the Iranians against Russia, foment a coup d'etat in Teheran and send wreckers into Azerbaijan, Baku and Soviet Turkmenia.

Pregnant With Danger

"The situation created in Iran is pregnant with danger," it said. "It requires of the Soviet Union immediate execution of measures it has not only the right but also the duty to adopt in the interests of self-defence."

The note recalled warnings given Iran June 26, July 19 and Aug. 16, commenting that "unfortunately the Iranian government refused to adopt measures which would have ended disorders planned by German agents within the territory of Iran."

Details of the campaign were not issued immediately and the mid-day Soviet information bureau bulletin ignored this new military action, the first undertaken jointly by Britain and Russia since they became Allies against Germany.

The Russian note listed German agents declared to be operating in Iran, a group estimated to about 3,000.

British Troops Entering Iran Feed Populace

Simla, India, Aug. 25 — (AP)— British troops entering Iran are carrying food supplies for the populace, British sources said today, because the country is reported in a state of near-famine from heavy German food requisitioning, presumably for storage.

Every precaution has been taken to handle Iranian resistance it was stated.

A statement issue by Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's headquarters said the British-Russian entrance ino Iran was decided upon to prevent the Germans from using the country as a base for attacks on Russia, India and the Moslem middle east. It gave no details.

BRITISH BOMBERS RAID DUESSELDORF IN BAD WEATHER

Hangars and Barracks, Troops and Gun Positions Over Northern France Attacked

TRAWLER GETS BOMBER

London, Aug. 25 (CP)— British bombers despite unfavorable weather conditions, returned to the offensive against Germany during the night and "sharply" attacked communications and industrial objectives in the Rhineland city of Duesseldorf, the Air Ministry said today.

Three Royal Air Force bombers were lost. A communique added that a coastal command aircraft is missing from patrol over the North Sea Sunday.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted British planes dropped explosive and fire bombs on western Germany during the night.)

Bombs fell overnight at several points on the British Isles where no casualties were reported. A communique said a small number of Nazi planes crossed the coasts of east, northeast and southwest England and northeast Scotland.

During daylight Sunday the R. A. F. continued carrying the offensive to the Germans with attacks on hangars, barracks troops and gun positions over northern France.

A British trawler shot down a Nazi bomber which attempted to sink the small ship.

Iran's Invasion Synchronized With Counter-Attack

London, Aug. 25 (CP)—The British-Russian campaign to secure Iran's oil wells, producers of almost 31,000,000 barrels of petroleum a year, against any German threat seemed synchronized today with another important drive 1,500 miles away.

This was the apparently powerful counter-offensive by the Red army around Gomel, in the centre of the eastern front.

Probably the largest offensive action yet instituted by the Russians, it seeks to check a German drive toward Kharkov and relieve pressure on Red army troops holding the lower Dniepez River.

Authoritative sources here view the Nazi threat as potentially serious because, they point out, possession of Kharkov not only would put the Germans near the Caucasian and Iranian oil fields but would also permit them to threaten Marshal Semeon Budenny's southern command from the rear.

VICHY MINISTER TO STAY

London, Aug. 25—(CP Cable)— Prime Minister Mackenzie King, after spending what he called "a very interesting" week - end with Prime Minister Churchill, said today that Rene Ristelhueber, Vichy Government minister to Canada, will continue to hold his present position at least for the present. He did not elaborate.

Anti-Nazi Voice Causes German Radio Station Many Headaches

London, Aug. 25—(CP) — Germany's powerful radio station Deutschlander tried desperately last night to duck a new, mysterious wave-length crasher, but the mocking voice had the last say.

The Nazis slammed one record on top of another, sometimes beginning one before the other finished, in order not to give the anti-Nazi voice a chance to interrup.

When the news announcer after a rapid-fire delivery blurted "and that ends the news" the voice was clearly heard in Britain shouting: "But the lying will continue tomorrow."

When Nazi war reporters' stories were given, the announcer paused for a badly-needed breath. The voice chimed in: "You will conquer yourself, to death."

Trying to explain the voice, Deutschlander said: "The Bolsheviks tried to tune themselves in on one of our stations. Such methods are not a novelty. We used them in the Polish campaign. Counter-measures are being applied against the Russians."

Churchill Warns Japan To Halt Expansion Movements in Far East

London, Aug. 25 (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Japan Sunday that her menacing movements must stop and pledged Britain to range herself beside the United States should the latter's efforts fail to obtain a peaceful settlement in the Pacific.

On the other side of the world, he called the "Atlantic Charter" drawn by him and President Roosevelt a British-United States pledge to destroy Nazi tyranny.

In a broadcast to the world he described his meeting with Mr. Roosevelt as a "marshalling of the good forces of the world against the evil forces" and a beacon of hope for all the conquered nations.

Of the German attack on Russia, he said Nazi blood for the first time "has flowed in a fearful flood." He promised aid to Russia and praised her efficiency and equipment.

If Germany were to defeat Russia and then Britain in a policy of destroying her opponents one by one, Mr. Churchill expressed the opinion the United States would be attacked next.

Saw in True Light

"I rejoice to find that President Roosevelt saw in their true light and proportion the extreme dangers by which the American people as well as the British people are now beset," he said.

His reference to Japan won most of the comment in the British newspapers today.

The Japanese, he said, "now stretch a grasping hand into the southern seas of China. They snatch Indo-China from the wretched Vichy French. They menace by their movements Siam. They menace the Singapore British link with Australia and menace the Philippine Island which are under the protection of the United States.

Will Secure Settlement

"It is certain that this has got to stop. Every effort will be made to secure a peaceful settlement. The United States are laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement which will give Japan the utmost reassurance for her legitimate interests. We earnestly hope these negotiations will succeed. But this I must say, that if these hopes should fail we shall, of course range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States."

Mr. Churchill said the meeting with President Roosevelt represented the forces of "two major groupings of the human family who happen to speak the same language."

In this meeting, the English-speaking nations took up "the guidance of fortunes of the broad, toiling masses in all continents," he

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)

Two Nazi Divisions Routed; Rumania Loses 25,000 Men

Reds Report Nazi Push Toward Leningrad From West and South Checked

2 TRANSPORTS SUNK

Moscow, Aug. 25.—(AP)—General Red Army counter-attacks with large tanks, masses of infantry and swift-striking cavalry were reported today by the Russians as Soviet naval forces claimed the sinking of two out of four heavily laden German troop and munitions transports in the Baltic Sea.

The Russians said that one Rumanian and two German divisions were routed and that three other Rumanian divisions lost 25,000 men.

Besides the two transports an escorting destroyer was sunk, the communique said. Of the two other transports, one was set afire and the other grounded, it was stated.

One Nazi divisions was said to have been routed in the fiercely-contested Leningrad sector by a Soviet tank attack across a battlefield carpeted with German dead.

Another, the Russians said, was smashed back in the Gomel sector of the Central front in a terrific Sunday-dawn assault by Russian tanks and infantry supported by Red Air fleet bombers.

The Rumanian losses were reported in the last-ditch battle for Russia's Black sea port of Odessa while farther east in the Ukraine Red Army Cavalry units were hurled into the fight for vital bridgeheads in the Dnieper River band.

The Soviet Bureau of Information reported today that heavy fighting continued throughout late night in the Kakisami and Novgorod approaches to Leningrad and near Dniepropetrovsk, Red Army foothold on the west bank of the Dnieper River.

Fog and Rain Hamper Operations

During the week-end intermittent rain and fog set in around low-lying Leningrad—forerunners of the usual September and October rains which precede the northwest Russian snows of November.

A Moscow communique indicated

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

DNB Claims German Encirclement Move at Kiev Working Toward Victory

TALINN CUT OFF

Berlin, Aug. 25.—(AP)— The German war machine was claimed in official reports to be rolling forward on all active fronts today, but the high command ventured only a brief general statement concerning the fighting.

"Operations in the East are making good progress everywhere", said the communique from Hitler's headquarters.

Official silence covered the extensive battles about the Nazi-encircled centres of Soviet resistance at Odessa in the South and Tallinn in the north, where it has been admitted that death stands are being made by Russian regulars and civilians, and the fortified areas of Leningrad and Kiev, where the German forces seek to forge similiar bands of steel.

Likewise there was a dearth of official word concerning the drive of the Germans between Kiev and Gomal in what has been described as another encirclement battle of entrapped defenders to southwest of Moscow.

The High Command said German bombers dropped heavy bombs on the British harbor of Great Yarmouth in a daylight attack Sunday.

A communique acknowledged that British planes had raided Western Germany last night, but it said that the damage was immaterial and that three of the attackers were shot down by night fighters.

DNB, Nazi propaganda and news agency, claimed an encirclement move in the 150-mile Kiev-Gomel sector was moving toward a Nazi victory.

The agency claimed that Russian troops commanded by Marshal Semeon Timoshenko between Gomel and Kiev, which have presented a flank threat to Nazi thrusts into the Ukraine and in the Smolensk sector before Moscow, were being trapped.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

D.N.B. CLAIMS

Supply for This Week Cut to 20% Of July Deliveries

Oil Controller Says Situation More Serious Now Than Five Weeks Ago

25% CUT IN SEPT.

Toronto, Aug. 25—(CP)—Gasoline and oil deliveries to retailers were sharply reduced in an order issued today by Oil Controller C. R. Cottrelle. Deliveries during the week Aug. 25-31 inclusive will be 20 per cent of total deliveries in the month of July and during both September and October they will be 75 per cent of July deliveries.

Mr. Cottrelle said the order, which applies throughout Canada, should not be considered as replacing the appeal for voluntary conservation. Rather, it was being made in support of the appeal. It was a known fact, however, that all citizens had not heeded the appeal and it was hoped the curtailment of deliveries would "bring them into line."

He again asked motorists to cut down consumption; saying the situation now is more serious than it was five weeks ago when the appeal was launched.

The Order

The paragraphs of the Order dealing with reduction of deliveries read:

"During the period commencing the 25th day of August, 1941, and ending the 31st day of August, 1941, every distributor is hereby prohibited from supplying, either directly or indirectly, to any dealer more than twenty (20) per centum of the aggregate quantity of motor fuel supplied to such dealer during the month of July, 1941.

"During the months of September and October, 1941, respectively, every distributor is hereby prohibited from supplying either directly or indirectly, to any dealer more than seventy-five (75) per centum of the aggregate quantity of motor fuel supplied to such dealer during the month of July, 1941."

The order does not apply to dealers supplying motor fuel to consumers only by means of tank wagon or to the supply of fuel in any quantities for use in tractors.

Certain Consumers Given Preference

It sets out that distributors "shall give preference and priority in the supply of motor fuel to consumers" for police, health, public utility, public transportation, commercial industrial and governmental purposes.

Gas stations which are operated by or on behalf of a distributor are subjected to the provisions of the order by distributors as between dealers.

Japs to Permit Passage of U.S. War Materials

Shanghai Aug. 25 (AP) — A French dispatch from Tokyo quoted well-informed quarters today as saying the Japanese government had decided to tolerate temporarily the passage of United States war materials to Vladivostok.

The shipments which must go through waters controlled by the Japanese navy the dispatch said, will be used as a lever to obtain relaxation of United States economic restrictions on Japan.

Japan was expected to seek a Moscow guarantee not to use American arms against Japan, according to this source, and not to participate in the alleged British-American enctrclement.

BOOING OF PREMIER IS WRITTEN OFF AS A "LARK"

Discovered Nothing in Nature of Grievances in Talk With McNaughton

SOLDIERS WANT ACTION

By R. K. CARNEGIE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 25 —(CP Cable)— Prime Minister Mackenzie King smiled broadly today when Canadian newspapermen surrounded him and inquired how he had enjoyed his visit Saturday to a Canadian military sports meet where he was given a mixed greeting of cheers and boos.

"Enjoyed my visit very much," he said, still smiling. Of the booing, he said: "It was a usual sports event where both sides were free to express their own views."

The Prime Minister said he had long talks with Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps, and Maj.-Gen. P. J. Montagu, chief at Canadian Military Headquarters in Britain, regarding arrangements for Canadian soldiers and during these conversations had discovered nothing in the nature of grievances.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 5)

British Foreign Office Statement on Iran

London, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Following is the text of today's British Foreign office statement on Iran:

During the past month the British government have repeatedly warned the Iranian government of potential dangers arising from the presence in Iran of an excessively large German colony.

Germans resident in Iran as in other countries have long been subjected to the organized discipline of the German Nazi party.

As in other neutral countries German authorities have endeavored to pursue in Iran a policy of infiltration by sending their agents to mingle with and to replace the resident German community.

The attention of the Iranian government has therefore frequently been called to the desirability in the interests of Iran herself of taking effective steps to check this process of infiltration.

Presence of Nazis Experts

It has been pointed out that the presence of a large number of German technical experts and agents in various parts of Iran, employed in factories and public works as well as on roads and railyways and in many other important posts, cannot fail to constitute a serious danger to the maintenance of Iranian neutrality.

The face that the Germans occupy in Iran so many key positions in industry and communications gives them unique facilities for doing so.

(Continued on Page Twelve, Col. 1)

Coming Events

LAWN SOCIAL, WEDNESDAY, August 27, at E. E. Wallbridge's, Huff's Island. Bingo, Fish Pond, Fortune-telling; Air Force entertainers. Admission 15c. A25-3t

DANCE, ARENA GARDENS, AUSpices St. Julien Chapter, I.O.D.E. War Work. Wednesday, Aug. 27. R.C.A.F. twelve piece orchestra. Dancing 9 to 12. Gents 50c; Ladies 25c. A25

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

SUSTAINS FRACTURED SHOULDER IN CRASH

Mrs. James Maracle, Deseronto, sustained a fractured shoulder when the motor car she was riding in was struck in the centre and knocked into the ditch on Highway No. 2 at Shannonville late Saturday night. The injured woman was rushed to the Belleville Hospital.

Mrs. Maracle was riding with her husband when another motor car, driven by M. Kennedy, Lonsdale, came out of a side road and struck the Maracle car directly in the centre of the body rolling it into the south ditch. Police stated charges were pending against Kennedy.

RESULTS OF SCHOOL GROUND IMPROVEMENT CONTEST ANNOUNCED

In the competition for School Ground Improvement in rural public schools the winner of the J. E. Carter trophy was Oxford County and the winning school was No. 18 Blenheim. Second place was given to Northumberland County to which was awarded the P. M. Dewan trophy. The winning school was No. 21 Haldimand of which the teacher is J. C. Potter. Hastings County ranked seventh, the winning school being the Avondale school of which Miss Irene Murphy is teacher.

EGG HAS PERFECT "V"

Even the hens of the district have caught on with the current "V for Victory" campaign and are doing what they can to give prominence to the ever-growing belief that defeat will be Hitler's ultimate lot.

A biddy in the hen house of Mr. Clarence Kerr, 107 Station Street, on Saturday laid an egg with a perfect "V" embossed on the one end.

PUPIL SUCCESSFUL IN EXAMINATIONS

Walter F. Roblin was successful with the following standings in Upper School subjects at the Belleville Collegiate Institute June examinations: English Composition, 3rd, English Literature, 3rd, Modern History, 1, Trigonometry, C, Zoology, 2nd, Latin Authors, 2nd, Latin Composition, C, French Authors, 3rd, French Composition, 2nd, with first-class honors 75-100, 2nd, 66-74, 3rd, 60-65 and credit 50-59.

FRACTURES ARM AT GLEN MILLER

Mr. Arthur Howard, aged 60, of Frankford, sustained a fractured arm on Sunday while in the course of his duty working at a pulpmill at Glen Miller. The injured man was admitted to the Belleville General Hospital where the fracture was reduced by Dr. G. Stobie.

NO POLICE DOCKET

It may be the fact that the boys are behaving themselves or that crime has depreciated to a marked extent, but the fact remains that no cases were docketed for the city police court today. It was the first time in many months that the magistrate had a holiday.

SMALL SKUNK HOLDS UP RAILWAY WORKERS

He wasn't a very big fellow, but he had an imposing appearance and other characteristics that made big husky men shy away from him. In fact he so worried the gang of railway workers near the local terminals that they called in police officers.

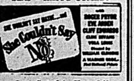
Apparently aware of what had happened, the little fellow sought the haven of a large hole and promptly hid himself therein. He turned defiant eyes upon the workmen as they cautiously approached the hole where he lay, but it was not until three shots from the revolver of Police Sergeant Arthur Booth had finally quieted him, that they regained their composure.

A minute later the police sergeant dragged the lifeless body of the small skunk from its refuge, and work once more resumed.

TONIGHT
"One of the Finest Pictures to Come Out of Hollywood since "Dark Victory."
From the play of
A. J. CRONIN
Author of "The Citadel"

shining victory

JAMES STEPHENSON · GERALDINE FITZGERALD
DONALD CRISP · BARBARA O'NEIL
— HIT No. 2 —
SLAP - HAPPY COMEDY



Last Complete Show 8.45
CAPITOL
ADULTS: EVENINGS 25c
Plus Tax.

It Pays to Shop At the Rexall Store.

FLY-KIL
DESTROYS FLIES AND ALL OTHER INSECT LIFE. DEODORIZES. HARMLESS TO HUMANS.
8 oz. tin 30c
16 oz. tin 50c
32 oz. tin 90c

McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

BRING YOUR HARNESS
to
J. W. Daniels, Foxboro
SAVE MONEY!
—Prompt, Satisfactory Service.—
A21-23-25

THURLOW COLLIE IS PICKED UP

A brown and white collie dog bearing a 1940 Thurlow licence No. 423 was picked up by Thomas Thorn, city dog catcher, on Saturday afternoon. The collie will be kept until Tuesday awaiting its owner or other claimant.

Band Concert at Fair Grounds Much Enjoyed

One of the most enthusiastic crowds ever to hear a public band concert in Belleville attended at the Agricultural Park Sunday evening as the Belleville Municipal Band under Lieut. Fred Jobson, staged their final outdoor concert of the year. The appreciation of the large crowd of local music lovers for each of the many well-executed numbers of the varied program was fully exemplified by the hearty rounds of applause offered as the final strains of each number faded away.

Through the kindness of His Worship Mayor Glencoe E. Thompson, the Minerva Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was permitted to take a collection at the concert, the proceeds to be used in assistance of their many war endeavors. The sum of $25 was realized for which the officers of the chapter express their thanks, not only to a generous public but also to the members of the band and to Mayor Thompson for permission to make the appeal.

E.R. Wood Estate Taxes to Reach Four Millions

Toronto, Aug. 25.—(CP)—Officials of the National Trust Co., said today that combined Provincial and Dominion Succession Duty taxes on the estate of Edward Rogers Wood, Toronto financier, will amount to about $4,000,000.

Mr. Wood died June 16, less than two days after the Dominion of Canada Succession Duty Act came into force. It is believed to be the first large estate to be subject to both Provincal and Dominion Succession duties.

The amount included in the application for probate is about $6,682,314.27. Approximately $200,000 is provided for bequests to relatives and employees.

After providing for Succession duties, bequests and other payments the income from the balance of the estate is to be divided between Mrs. Wood and a daughter.

Rossmore Boy Drowns in Quarry

Missing from his home in Rossmore since three o'clock on Sunday afternoon when he had presumably left a stone quarry in which his older sister was swimming, Norman Edison Rion, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Rion, formerly of this city, was found drowned in the quarry late Sunday evening.

The boy had gone to the quarry with his sister and other playmates and was last seen by his sister as she started to swim across the pond. Upon arriving at the opposite side of the water, the sister turned and noticed her brother had disappeared. Thinking he had gone back home, nothing more was thought of the incident until late in the afternoon when he failed to return home.

A search party was organized and assisted by members of the Ontario Provincial Police, dragging operations were commenced in the quarry, the body of the lad being found shortly before ten o'clock.

Born in Belleville, Norman Rion had lived in the city until last January when with his parents he had moved to Rossmore. The family are members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Surviving to mourn his passing are his parents, three sisters, Joan, Carol and Beverley, three brothers, Donald, Raymond and Roger. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dermott, of this city, are grandparents of the drowned boy.

Daily Schedule at Ashram Conference

Rev. Dr. James Semple, who has been attending for some weeks the conference in Michigan held by the Rev. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, has sent a copy of the daily program of the Ashram except for Sunday:

6:15 a.m. Rising bell; 6:40-7:25 Corporate silence on beach before cross; 7:30-8:00 Breakfast; 8:00-8:30 Free time for making beds and cleaning rooms; 8.30-9:30 Work period; 9:30-10:00 Free time; 10:00-10:15 Meeting of the Ashram family; 10:15-11:00 Lecture—Harris Franklin Rall; 11:00-11:10 Recess; 11:10-12:15 Message — E. Stanley Jones; 12:30-1:00 Noon luncheon; 1:00-4:00 Free time and recreation; 4:00-5:30 Three Seminars held simultaneously; 5:30-6:00 Free time; 6:00-6:30 Evening dinner; 6:30-7:00 Free time; 7:00-8:30 Vesper service and message — E. Stanley Jones; 8:30-9:30 Free time; 9:30 Silence begins and continues until 7:30 a.m.

Pickling Spices
PARKES' CATSUP FLAVOR
PRESERVING ACIDS, Etc.
ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT'
BIG VALUE SIZE
98¢
Other Sizes
59¢
30¢

"FRUIT SALT"
ENO

Geen's
Phone 131.

'Rogue' Wins 'D' Class Race

In addition to the Mikel Cup race held Sunday there was a race between two D class boats, the "Boog-it" owned by Jack Zufelt and the "Rogue" owned by "Froggie" Green.

These boats raced around a slightly smaller course than the A boats.

Getting the jump at the start as the "Rogue" was still at her mooring, the "Boog-it" started with Green and his crew about two minutes astern. The Zufelt boat held this lead for about a lap and a half when the "Rogue" passed him on the weather stretch from the island buoy to the Bay Bridge buoy. After this the "Rogue" was never headed and romped home a winner by two and half minutes.

These boats have had these informal races for the past few Sundays and are greatly enjoyed by the Sunday crowds on the park.

Rogue—Skipper, F. Green; crew B. Rosevear; time, 1.40.

Boog-it—Skipper, J. Zufelt; crew, L. Tuft; time, 1.42½.

Assistant Plant Manager

for new plant which will employ 500 men on important war work. Must be young, reliable, keen and production-minded and primarily a mechanic. High salary and proper authority will be given to a capable man.

Location: ST. CATHARINES, ONTARIO. Give fullest details of abilities, background and references in first letter to Post Office Box 297, St. Catharines, Ontario.

Applications cannot be accepted from those presently engaged in war work.

A22-23-25

1937 Chev. Maple Leaf
PLATFORM 7 x 14, WITH STOCK RACKS. 5-TON LICENSE. WELL TIRED AND READY TO GO TO WORK.
HOLGATE MOTORS
6 TURNBULL ST. BELLEVILLE PHONE 470

"KEEPING UP WITH THE JONES'"
WITH A MUSKRAT COAT.

Keeping up with the Jones', is getting a lot easier. Muskrat has managed to look so much like mink and sable that a second peek at the price tag is necessary to be sure. Amazingly like real mink or sable, except in price. Durable, warm and lovely Finest quality at $250.00 during the August Fur Sale. Other nice coats from $179.00.

BUDGET PLAN.

FREE STORAGE.

WOODLEY - FURRIERS
273 FRONT STREET

Honor A. C. McFee On Retirement As Excise Inspector

Chief of Branches of Customs and Excise Divisions Bid "Goodbye" at Ottawa to Dominion Official

(Ottawa Citizen)

Friends of Major A. C. McFee, V.D., Dominion inspector of excise, met in the office of Mr. David Sim, commissioner of excise, to bid the former an official "good-bye". These included the chiefs of branches of the customs and excise divisions and a number of other officers at Ottawa, together with inspectors of excise from Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. Representatives from the port of Montreal were also present. Mr. McFee is retiring on superannuation after more than 45 years of service.

Mr. Sim, after erpressing regret that the Minister, Hon. Colin Gibson, was unable to attend, made reference to the service sheet of the honored guest, which showed steady progress from the time he entered the service in 1896 until the present day. It was mentioned that his youthful actions belied his years.

In eulogizing the services of Mr. McFee, it was stated that the highest compliment that could be paid him was the fact that his fair dealings with the public were such as to make him eligible to succeed the late William Caven, who was much respected in the service. Letters expressing the good wishes of a number of customs-excise officers throughout the Dominion were read with interest.

Mr. L. P. Jackson, assisant commissioner of customs, spoke on behalf of his division. He stressed the fact that full co-operation had been received in dealing jointly with matters pertaining to these two divisions. Some reminiscences of earlier days at Belleville and other places were recounted to the amusement of all.

Mr. McFee was then presented on behalf of those present, and of several collectors and senior officers of excise throughout the Dominion, with a solid gold wrist watch, a portable radio set and victory bonds to amount of $150. A silver tray in the familiar grape pattern was included for Mrs. McFee.

Mr. McFee's expression of appreciation was impromptu, the usual solemn occasion being brightened with his characteristic smiles and witty remarks so familiar to his many friends. He plans to take up residence in Toronto within the next few weeks.

Major McFee enlisted to go overseas in 1901 during the South African war and served in the First Great War. He served with the 155th Battalion of Belleville and in France saw action with the 2nd Battalion.

Major McFee is well remembered in Belleville where he spent the greater part of his life. He was associated with many activities and was an alderman of the city. He was associated with the Department of Customs while living here.

Obituary

LATE MRS. DAVID WATERS

Many friends were present at the funeral of Mrs. David Waters, which took place Saturday afternoon, August 23rd., from the family residence, 2 Forin Street. The service in the home and at the graveside in Belleville cemetery was conducted by the Rev. W. J. Walker, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, assisted by a friend of the family, the Rev. Dr. R. G. Stewart, who was minister of St. Andrew's Church here some years ago.

The bearers were Mr. Arthur McGie, Mr. David Fleming, Mr. Archibald R. Cameron, Mr. George A. Reid, Mr. William V. Fairbairn and Mr. George H. Stokes, M.P.

The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

The late Mrs. Waters, prior to her marriage to the late David Walters, was Miss Elizabeth Stewart Cock of Campbellford.

MRS. NANCY JANE KELLAR
(Hermon, Ontario)

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Jane Kellar, who died at her home in Hermon, near Bancroft, on Friday, August 22nd. after an illness of two weeks' duration, took place from her late residence on Sunday afternoon, August 24th., to the United Church in Hermon where service was conducted by the Rev. Arthur Terrill of Baptiste Lake, who also conducted the service at the graveside in Hermon cemetery. There was a large attendance of friends.

The bearers were Messrs. William Ramsbottom, Andrew Ramsbottom, Charles McPherson, James Bronson, William Smith and Ephriam Bruce.

The late Mrs. Nancy Jane Kellar was the widow of Peter Kellar, who died eighteen months ago. She was born seventy-six years ago in Peterboro and resided at Hermon for the past fifty years. In religion she was a member of the United Church at Hermon and when able she took an active part in church work. In the community she was highly esteemed.

Surviving her are one son, Mr. Walter Kellar, and one daughter, Mrs. Archie Dillabough, both of Hermon; one adopted daughter, Mrs. Reid of Ivanhoe; three granddaughters and one grandson. She was the last of her family.

National Grocers Hold Staff Picnic

Belleville and Kingston Branch of National Grocers employees, their families and friends, held a very enjoyable all day picnic at Cedardale yesterday. A program consisting of over forty events was run off during the afternoon. Over 100 took part. The presentation of prizes being made after supper. Young and old shared in the prizes kindly furnished by the wholesale manufacturers. The committee in charge were E. H. Liddle, convener; R. E. Hachborn, G. Robson, H. Cordon, H. Kemp, G. Mossman, F. MacDonnell and D. Philip.

A collection for the British War Victims' Fund was taken up and the $8.50 will be forwarded to The Telegram.

Tiny Tots' Race—1. Ross Walmsley; 2. Mary Jane Hickeson; 3. Kennie Jackson.

Girls' Race, 5 to 8 years, 25 yds.—1. Muri Burlanquet; 2. Phyllis Walmsley; 3. Mary Jane Hickeson.

Boys' Race, 5 to 8 years, 25 yds.—1. Jack Kemp; 2. Billie Philip; 3. Max Fargey.

Girls' Race, 9 to 13 years, 50 yds.—1. May Lusk; 2. Muri Burlanquet; 3. Phyllis Walmsley.

Boys' Race, 9 to 13 years, 50 yds.—1. Raymond Walmsley; 2. Robert Fargey; 3. Jack Kemp.

Scramble—Dentyne Gum—Open.

Misses' Contest, 14 to 18—1. Winnifred Soady; 2. Lois Liddle; 3. Margaret Smith.

Young Ladies' Running Race, 50 yds.—1. Winnifred Soady; 2. Margaret Smith.

Office Girls' Novelty Contest—1. Dorothy Brason; 2. Ruth Soady; 3. Norma Walker.

Ladies' Shoe-Kicking — 1. Mrs. Guy; 2. T. Maddica; 3. Ruth Soady.

Lucky Number Draw—1. Guy Cowan; 2. Mrs. Dick Philip; 3. Mr. Dick Philip.

Warehouse Employees' Doughnut Eating Contest—1. Fred MacDonnell; 2. Bob Anderson; 3. Mr. Kavanaugh.

Married Employees' Race—1. Freddie MacDonnell; 2. Everett Liddle; 3. K. Fargey.

Scramble—Kisses and Gum.

Office Employees' Gents' Novelty Contest—1. Russ Hachborn; 2. Gordon Robson.

Lucky Number Race—1. Mrs. Harry Kemp; 2. Helen Cook.

Married Women's Novelty Race—1. Mrs. Tim Maddica; 2. Mrs. Geo. Mossman.

Guessing Contest—Bob Anderson.

Visitors' 3-Legged Race—1. Shiner and Clark; 2. Hales and Hales.

Picnic Committee Lucky No. Draw—1. Fred MacDonnell; 2. H. Kemp; 3. Geo. Mossman.

Special Educational Contest—Kingston Employees Only—1. Mr. Hickeson; 2. Jack Cowan.

Salesmen's Contest—1. Mr. Jackson; 2. H. Kemp; 3. R. Hachborne.

Ladies' Nail-Driving Contest—1. Ruby Humphry; 2. Mrs. Kemp; 3. Mrs. Walmsley.

Special Presentation—Miss Cordes and Mrs. Horton.

Lucky Number Contest—1. Mr. Dowker; 2. Harry Cordon.

How Many?—J. Walmsley; K. Fargey.

Egg-Pitching Contest—1. Fred MacDonnell and Earl Clark; 2. Jim Sinclair and Ted Henn.

Balloon Race—1. Mrs. Kemp; 2. Mrs. Jackson.

Running Race, 75 yds.—1. N. Luscomb; 2. Fred McDonald.

Ladies' Timed Race—1. Mrs. Harp; 2. Mrs. Philip;

Truck Drivers' Contest—1. Mr. Dowker; 2. Mr. Fargey.

Tug of War—Kingston.

Lucky Number Contest—Mrs. MacDonnell, Sr.; 2. Mrs. Hales.

Baby Show—Mrs. Guy and Mrs. Fargey.

Newlyweds' Contest—Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

Spot Prize Contest—Mrs. Jackson; 2. Mrs. Deline; 3. Mrs. Hales.

Lucky Spot Prize—Jim Walmsley.

Special Presentations—Mrs. R. E. Hachborne; Committee.

Ball Game.

Swim, or play in the sand.

Marmora Orange Lodge Holds Church Parade And Decoration Service

Marmora, (Special) — Coinciding with the annual grave decoration service held by No. 1 District, Centre Hastings Association, the annual church parade of L.O.L. 319 was held on Sunday afternoon, St. Paul's Anglican Church being visited. Service was conducted by Bro. Rev. A. B. Caldwell, assisted by Very Wor. Bro. W. J. Cottrell P.C.M. Choosing as his text "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is Liberty," the rector delivered a striking address on the contribution of the church to true democracy. A duet "Was that Somebody You?" was sung by Mr. L. R. Rundle and Mrs. P. Gray. Leaving the church the parade proceeded to the Protestant cemetery via Madoc, Forsyth and Matthew Streets. At the cemetery a short service was conducted by Past County Master W. J. Cottrell, who gave an address on "The Great Reunion." Over forty graves of departed members of L.O.L. 319 Harmony L.O.B.A. and L.T.B. 177 (now defunct) were decorated after which the circle was reformed within the cemetery gates for the singing of "Abide With Me," and the Benediction. The parade was under the supervision of District Master Thomas E. Neal with Wor. Bro. Allan McComb acting as director of ceremonies.

Just One Incident In Defence Program

Edward Hillborne of Rednersville is 15 years old, working as an office boy at Reliance Aircraft and Tool Co., Ltd., in Belleville. Edward is a young man with a purpose—to become a surgeon. This desire and ambition is so firmly fixed that it has become known to all his fellow employees.

To enable him to travel back and forth, Edward purchased a bicycle, costing $39.50, an excellent machine, which he is paying for at the rate of $2.00 a week—regularly—and has now reduced it to $22.50. At this rate, he confronted with a serious problem, either to delay return to the Red School House until October, for his last year before attending High School—or to return in September.

V V V

The young employee is so competent and courteous that the entire organization, from the Managing Director, the President, Vice President and to all down the line have gone to his assistance that he may return to school without out losing time.

Freeman Gill suggested that a turkey be raffled off at 25 cents a ticket. A ten pound turkey and 100 tickets—just enough to buy the bird, to pay the balance and to present the bicycle to Edward, free and clean. In 4 hours the tickets were purchased and the lucky one was drawn by Capt. Morse, President, and won by M. Cane.

This is democracy at its best—in an organization which is one of the youngest in aircraft manufacture, the recognition of the desire of a whole organization to further the ambitions of a worthy Canadian lad. It is typical of the spirit which pervades every concern entrusted with defense program responsibilities—a spirit which can never be quenched and never defeated.

V V V

Here is the plan which our fine lad has conceived: To finish grade school, to spend 4 years in High School, working summers at Reliance, then going to Montreal to enroll at McGill University in pre-medical, and to seek a position in one of the fine hospitals there, as an interne, while pursuing his medical studies.

Nor is it far fetched, for Edward has close relatives residing in Montreal who will welcome him and assist him. Nor are such incidents as this at Reliance few and isolated; they are truly and typically representative at the British motto—which activates each loyal subject of the far flung Empire, "Dieu et Mon Droit." Hitler — take warning!

E. PLURIBUS UNUM.

EXPECTANT FATHER SUPPLIED WITH GAS

Hurrying to Belleville General Hospital over the week-end where his wife was expected to become a mother, Alvin Smith, American golf pro, ran out of gas near Cobourg. Smith informed Cobourg police of his predicament. The good-natured officers checked his story, found it correct and allowed him to purchase gasoline. A minute later an appreciative father-to-be raced out of Cobourg en route for the scene of the blessed event.

AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE
MATINEE DAILY ...... 2.30 P.M.
EVENINGS 7.15. Last Show 8.30
Now Playing

2 GREAT STARS
in the laugh-packed romantic screen triumph!
PRIDE and PREJUDICE

LOVE LAUGHS AT
PRIDE and PREJUDICE
starring
GREER GARSON
LAURENCE OLIVIER
with Mary Boland, Edna May Oliver
Maureen O'Sullivan, Ann Rutherford
Frieda Inescort
PLEASE BE EARLY FOR CHOICE SEATS.

SECOND THRILL-PACKED FEATURE.
BELA LUGOSI
in
'INVISIBLE GHOST'
The Screen's "merchant of menace" at his terrifying best!
Extra: Latest Fox News
"GLASBAKE" CUSTARD CUP AND COUPON FOR ? ? ?

ONE CIVILIAN KILLED

Rome, Aug. 25—(AP) — British planes dropped explosive and incendiary bombs on Tempio, near Sassari in Sardinia, Saturday night, the Italian High Command reported today. It said one civilian was killed and four were injured. Damage was described as slight.

THEIR BEST . . . BY AUDIENCE TEST!
FUN! THRILLS! ROMANCE! EXCITEMENT!

Maisie's the winner . . . and still fun champ . . . in a knockout entertainment!
RINGSIDE MAISIE
ANN SOTHERN
George MURPHY · Robt. STERLING
Virginia O'BRIEN · Natalie THOMPSON

A LIGHTNING-FAST SPLIT-SECOND MURDER MYSTERY!

BANKER'S FACE STOLEN!
The most amazing mystery Scotland Yard ever was asked to solve!
SCOTLAND YARD
NANCY KELLY · EDMUND GWENN · JOHN LODER
A 20th Century-Fox Picture

EXTRA! SPECIAL!
FIRST PICTURES CHURCHILL - ROOSEVELT MEETING
OTHER WORLD-WIDE EVENTS

TOMORROW & WED.
BELLE
— A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE —
PLEASE NOTE!
Visit the Famous Players Theatres display in the Manufacturers' Building near the Fountain, at the Canadian National Exhibition. A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU!

HURRY! ENDS TONIGHT!
Different From Anything You've Ever Seen.
WALT DISNEY'S
"THE RELUCTANT DRAGON"
with
Robert Benchley
4 — OTHER TREATS — 4
7.00 — TWICE — 9.10

Text of Radio Address By Premier Churchill

London, Aug. 25—(CP) — The text of Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast Sunday:

I thought you would like me to tell you something about the voyage I made across the ocean to meet our great friend, the President of the United States. Exactly where we met is a secret, but I don't think I shall be indiscreet if I go so far as to say that it was "somewhere in the Atlantic."

In a spacious landlocked bay, which reminded me of the west coast of Scotland, powerful American warships, protected by strong flotillas and far-ranging aircraft, awaited our arrival and, as it were, stretched a hand out to help us in. Our party arrived in the newest or almost the newest British battleship, the Prince of Wales, with a modest escort of British and Canadian destroyers. And there for three days I spent my time in the company and, I think I may say, in comradeship with Mr. Roosevelt, while the chiefs of staff and naval and military commanders both of the British Empire and of the United States sat together in continual council.

President Roosevelt is the thrice-chosen head of the most powerful State and community in the world. I am the servant of the King and Parliament, at present charged with the principal direction of our affairs in these fateful times, and it is my duty also to make sure, as I have made sure, that anything I say or do in the exercise of my office is approved and sustained by the whole British Commonwealth of Nations.

Therefore this meeting was bound to be important because of the enormous forces at present only partially mobilized, but steadily mobilizing, which are at the disposal of these two major groupings of the human family, which happen to speak the same language and very largely think the same thoughts or, anyhow, think a lot of the same thoughts.

Symbolic Meeting

The meeting was, therefore, symbolic. That is its prime importance. It symbolizes, in a form and manner which every one can understand, in every land and in every clime, deep underlying unities which stir and, at decisive moments, rule the English-speaking peoples throughout the world.

Would it be presumptuous for me to say that it symbolized something even more majestic, namely, the marshalling of the good forces of the world against the evil forces which are now so formidable and triumphant, and have cast their cruel spell over the whole of Europe and a large part of Asia.

This was the meeting which marks forever in the pages of history the taking up by the English-speaking nations, amid all this peril, tumult and confusion, of the guidance of the fortunes of the broad toiling masses in all continents, and our loyal effort, without any clog or selfish interest, to lead them forward out of the miseries into which they have been plunged, back to the broad high road of freedom and justice.

This is the highest honor and most glorious opportunity which could ever have come to any branch of the human race. When one beholds how many currents of extraordinary and terrible events have flowed together to make this harmony, even the most skeptical person must have the feeling that we all have a chance to play our part and do our duty in some great great design the end of which no mortal can foresee.

Jackals of the Tiger

Awful and horrible things are happening in these days. The whole of Europe has been wrecked and trampled down by the mechanical weapons and the barbaric fury of the Nazis. The most deadly instruments of war and science have been joined in the extreme refinements of treachery and the most brutal exhibitions of ruthlessness, and thus have formed a combine of aggression the like of which has never been known before, in which the rights, traditions, characteristics and structure of many ancient and honored States and peoples have been laid prostrate, and are now ground down under the heel and terror of the monster. Austrians, Czechs, Poles, Norwegians, Danes, Belgians, Dutch, Greeks, Croats and Serbs, above all the great French nation, have been stunned and pinioned. Italy, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, have bought shameful respite by becoming jackals of the tiger.

But their true situation is very little different and will presently be indistinguishable from that of his victims. Sweden, Spain and Turkey stand appalled, wondering which will be struck down next. Here then is a vast pit into which all the most famous States and races of Europe have been flung from which, unaided, they can never climb.

But all this did not satiate Adolf Hitler. He made a treaty of non-aggression with Soviet Russia just as he made one with Turkey in order to keep them quiet till he was ready to attack them and then, nine weeks ago today, without vestige of provocation, he hurled millions of soldiers with all their apparatus upon the neighbor he had called his friend with the avowed object of destroying Russia and tearing her to pieces. This frightful business is now unfolding, day by day, before our eyes. Here is a devil who, in the mere spasms of his pride and lust for domination, can condemn two or three millions, perhaps it may be many more, of human beings to speedy and violent death.

"Let Russia be blotted out." "Let Russia be destroyed, order the armies to advance." Such were his decrees. Accordingly, from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea six or seven million of soldiers are locked in mortal struggle.

Ah, but this time it was not so easy, this time it was not all one way. The Russian armies and all the peoples of the Russian Republic have rallied to the defense of their hearths and homes. For the first time Nazi blood has flown in fearful flood. Perhaps 1,500,000, perhaps 2,000,000 of Nazi cannon fodder have bit the dust of the endless plains of Russia. .. ..

Murder Unprofitable

A tremendous battle rages along nearly 2,000 miles of front. The Russians fight with magnificent devotion. Not only that, our generals who have visited the Russian front line report with admiration the efficiency of their military organization and the excellence of their equipment. The aggressor is surprised, startled, staggered. For the first time in his experience, mass murder has become unprofitable. He retaliates by the most frightful cruelties.

As his armies advance, whole districts are being exterminated. Scores of thousands literally scores of the thousands, of executions in cold blood are being perpetrated by German police and troops upon Russian patriots who defend their native soil. Since the Mongol invasion of Europe in the 16th century there has never been methodical merciless butchery of such a scale. And this is but the beginning. Famine and pestilence have yet to follow in the bloody ruts of Hitler's tanks. We are in the presence of a crime without a name.

But Europe is not the only continent to be tormented and devastated by aggressions. For five long years Japanese military factions, seeking to emulate the style of Hitler and Mussolini, taking all their posturing as if it were a new European revelation, have been invading and harrying 500,000,000 inhabitants of China. Japanese armies have been wandering about that vast land in futile excursions, carrying with them carnage, ruin and corruption and calling it "the Chinese incident".

Now they stretch their grasping hand into the southern seas of China. They snatch Indo-China from the wretched Vichy French. They menace by their movements Siam. They menace Singapore, the British link with Australasia, and they menace the Philippine Islands under the protection of the United States. It is certain that this has got to stop. Every effort will be made to secure a peaceful settlement.

Seek Fair Settlement

The United States are laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement, which will give Japan the utmost reassurance for her legitimate interests.

We earnestly hope that these negotiations will succeed. But this I must say, that if these hopes should fail we shall, of course, range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States.

And thus we come back to the quiet bay, somewhere in the Atlantic, where misty sunshine plays on great ships which carry the White Ensign or the Stars and Stripes.

We had the idea when we met there —the President and I—that without attempting to draw final and formal peace aims or war aims it was necessary to give all the peoples, and especially the oppressed and conquered peoples, a simple, rough and ready wartime statement of the goal toward which the British Commonwealth and the United States mean to make their way, and thus make way for others to march with them upon the road which will certainly be painful and may be long.

There are, however, two distinct and marked differences in this joint declaration from the attitude adopted by the Allies during the latter part of the last war and no one should overlook them. The United States and Great Britain do not now assume that there will never be any more war again. On the contrary, we intend to take ample precautions to prevent its renewal in any period we can forsee by effectively disarming the guilty nations while remaining suitably protected ourselves.

The second difference is this, that instead of trying to ruin German trade by all kinds of additional trade barriers and hindrances, as was the mood of 1917, we have definitely adopted the view that it is not in the interests of the world and of our two countries that any large nation should be unprosperous or shut out from the means of making a decent living for itself and its people by its industry and enterprise. These are far-reaching changes of principle upon which all countries should ponder.

Necessary to Give Hope

Above all it is necessary to give hope and assurance of final victory to those many scores of millions of men and women who are battling for life and freedom or who are already bent down under the Nazi yoke.

Hitler and his confederates have for some time been adjuring, bullying and beseeching the populations whom they have wronged and injured to bow to their fate, to resign themselves to their servitude, and for the sake of some mitigations and indulgences, to collaborate—that is the word—in what is called the new order of Europe.

What is this new order which they seek to fasten first upon Europe, and, if possible—for their ambitions are boundless—upon all continents of the globe? It is the rule of the Herrenvolk, the master race who are to put an end to democracy, to parliaments, to fundamental freedoms and decencies of ordinary men and women, to historic rights of nations, and give them in exchange the iron rule of Prussia, the universal goose-step and the strict, efficient discipline enforced upon the working classes by political police, with German concentration camps and firing parties, now so busy in a dozen lands, always handy in the background.

Napoleon in his glory and genius spread his empire far and wide. There was a time when the snows of Russia and the white cliffs of Dover with their guardian fleets stood between him and the dominion of the world. Napoleon's armies had a theme. They carried with them the surges of the French Revolution.

Hitler Has No Theme

"Liberty, Equality and Fraternity," that was the cry. There was a sweeping away of outworn medieval systems and aristocratic privilege, land for the people, a new code of laws. Nevertheless, Napoleon's empire vanished like a dream. But Hitler, Hitler has no theme, nought but mania, appetite and exploitation. He has, however, weapons and machinery for grinding down and holding down the conquered countries, which are the product, the sadly perverted product, of modern science.

The ordeals, therefore, of the conquered peoples will be hard. We must give them home. We must give them the conviction that their sufferings and their resistance will not be in vain. The tunnel may be dark and long, but at the end there is light.

That is the symbolism and that is the message of the Atlantic meeting. Do not despair brave Norwegians: Your land shall be cleansed, not only from the invader, but from the filthy Quislings who are his tools. Be sure of yourselves Czechs: The heroism of your people, standing up to cruel oppressors, the courage of your soldiers, sailors and airmen, shall not be forgotten. Your country shall live again and resume its rightful part in the new organization of Europe.

Lift up your heads, gallant Frenchmen: Not all in the infamies of Darlan and of Laval shall stand between you and the restoration of your birthright. Tough, stout-hearted Dutch, Belgians, Luxembourgers; tormented, mishandled, shamefully cast away peoples of Yugoslavia; glorious Greece, now subjected to the crowning insult of the rule of the Italian jackanapes: Yield not an inch.

Keep your souls clean from all contact with the Nazi. Make them feel, even in their fleeting hour of brutish triumph, that they are the moral outcasts of mankind. Help is coming. Mighty forces are arming in your behalf; have faith; have hope. Deliverance is sure.

Solemn Undertaking

There is the signal which we have flashed across the waters. And if it reaches the hearts of those to whom it is sent, they will endure with fortitude and tenacity their present misfortunes in the sure faith that they, too, are still serving the common cause and that their efforts will not be in vain.

You will perhaps have noticed that the President of the United States and the British representative in what is aptly called the Atlantic Charter, have jointly pledged their countries to the final destruction of Nazi tyranny. That is a solemn and grave undertaking. It must be made good. It will be made good and, of course, many practical arrangements to fulfil that purpose have been and are being organized and set in motion.

The question has been asked, how near is the United States to war? There is certainly one man who knows the answer to that question. If Hitler has not yet declared war upon the United States it is surely not out of his love for American institutions. It is certainly not because he could not find a pretext. He has murdered half a dozen countries for far less.

The fear of immediately redoubling the tremendous energies now being employed against him is no doubt a restraining influence. But the real reason is, I am sure, to be found in the method to which he has so faithfully adhered and by which he has gained so much. What is that method? It is a very simple method. "One by one" that is his plan; that is his guiding rule; that is the trick by which he has enslaved so large a portion of the world.

Three and a half years ago I appealed to my fellow countrymen to take the lead in weaving together a strong defensive union within the principles of the League of Nations of all countries who felt themselves in ever-growing danger; but none would listen. All stood idle while Germany rearmed. Czecho-Slovakia was subjugated. The French Government deserted their faithful ally and broke a plighted word in that ally's hour of need.

Russia was cajoled and deceived into a kind of neutrality or partnership, while the French Army was annihilated. The Low Countries and the Scandinavian countries, acting with France and Great Britain in good time, even after war had begun, might have altered its course and would have had, at any rate, a fighting chance. The Balkan States had only to stand together to save themselves from the ruin by which they are now engulfed.

But one by one they were undermined and overwhelmed. Never was a career of crime made more smooth. Now Hitler is striking at Russia with all his might, well knowing the difficulties of geography which stand between Russia and the aid which the Western democracies are trying to bring. We shall strive to our utmost to overcome all the difficulties and bring this aid. We have arranged for a conference in Moscow between the United States, British and Russian authorities to settle on a whole plan. No barrier must stand in the way.

But why is Hitler striking at Russia and inflicting and suffering himself this frightful slaughter? It is with the declared object of turning his whole force upon the British Island. And if he could succeed in beating the life and strength out of us—which is not so easy—then is the moment when he will settle his account—and it already is a long one—with the people of the United States and generally with the Western Hemisphere.

"One by one." There is the process. There is the simple, dismal plan which has served Hitler so well. It needs but one final successful application to make him master of the world and I am devoutly thankful that some eyes, at least, are fully opened to it while time remains.

I rejoiced to find that the President saw in their true light and proportion the extreme dangers by which the American people, as well as the British people, are now beset. It was indeed by the mercy of God that he began eight years ago that revival of strength of the American Navy, without which the New World today would have to take its orders from the European dictators, but with which the United States still retains the power to marshal her gigantic strength and, in saving herself, render incomparable service to mankind.

Common Inheritance

We had a service on Sunday in our Atlantic bay. The President came on the quarter deck of the Prince of Wales where there were mingled together many hundreds of American and British sailors and marines. The sun shone bright and warm while we all sang the old hymns which are our common inheritance and which we learned as children in our homes. We sang the hymn founded on the psalm which John Hampden's soldiers sang when they bore his body to the grave and in which the brief, precarious span of human life is contrasted with One to whom a thousand ages are but as yesterday when it is past and as a watch in the night.

We sang the sailors' hymn, "For Those—and they are very many—in Peril on the Sea." We sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" and indeed I felt this was no vain presumption but that we had a right to feel we were serving the cause for the sake of which the trumpet has sounded from on high.

When I looked upon that densely packed congregation of fighting men of the same language, of the same faith, of the same fundamental laws, of the same ideals and now to a large extent, of the same interests, and certainly in different degrees, facing the same dangers, it swept across me that here was not only the hope, but also the sure hope of saving the world from measureless degradation.

And so we came back across the ocean waves uplifted in spirit and fortified in resolve.

Some American destroyers who were carrying mails to the United States marines in Iceland happened to be going the same way, too, so we made a goodly company at sea together and when we were right out in midpassage one afternoon a noble sight broke on our view. We overtook one of our convoys which carry munitions and supplies from the New World to sustain the champions of freedom in the Old.

The whole horizon seemed filled with ships. Seventy or eighty ships of all kinds and sizes arrayed in fourteen lines, each of which could have been drawn with a ruler, hardly a wisp of smoke, not a straggler, but all bristling with cannon and other precautions on which I will not dwell, surrounded by their British escorting vessels, while overhead far-ranging Catalina airboats soared, vigilant protecting eagles in the sky.

And then I felt, that, hard and terrible and long-drawn-out as this struggle may be, we shall not be denied strength to do our duty to the end.

Greater Output Urged by Bevin

Norwich, England, Aug. 25—(CP Cable)—Labor Minister Ernest Bevin told Britain's workers here Sunday that "greater output now might shorten the war by months" and urged renewed production effort to demonstrate admiration for Russian resistance in a practical way.

Mr. Bevin warned that action will be taken against women giving up war work without permission and explained there was apparently a misunderstanding in absorption of labor. He said the mining industry appeared slow in taking up an offer of more than 35,000 men.

He told the Labor Management of Industry generally: "There's no time for arguing...... It is our bounden duty to keep this machine at its highest pitch of perfection."

LET'S ALL SPEED UP THE JOB!

DOUBLEMINT HELPS YOU STAND THE PACE!

WRIGLEY'S DOUBLEMINT CHEWING GUM PEPPERMINT FLAVOR THE FLAVOR LASTS

● When working at high pressure, chew a stick of refreshing Wrigley's DOUBLEMINT GUM—it helps keep you alert and feeling fit—makes you more efficient. And the delicious peppermint flavor helps keep your mouth and throat cool and fresh. CHEW DOUBLEMINT WHILE YOU WORK—millions do! Carry a package or two with you. Remember, it's only 5¢!

BUY SOME TODAY!

Tossed Flowers On Ebbing Tide

East Coast Fishermen Honored in Unique Service at Gloucester

Gloucester (CP) — Twenty-eight Boston and Gloucester fishermen, most of whom formerly lived in the Canadian Maritime Provinces, who lost their lives at sea during the past 12 months, were remembered Aug. 10 at the traditional Fishermen's Memorial Service here.

Five thousand persons stood with bared heads as Rev. George E. Russell, chaplain of the Gloucester Fishermen's Institute, read 28 names of missing men. Girl Scouts tossed 28 individual bouquets off Blynman Bridge into the swift current at the ebbing tide.

This year's group included 18 men lost when the Boston auxiliary schooner Mary E. O'Hara sank after a collision with a coal barge Jan. 21. This was the worst disaster of the fishing fleet since the Eleanor Nickerson went down on George's Bank Feb. 5, 1932, with the loss of 22 lives. Not forgotten were the Boston fishermen who were drowned with Gloucester shipmates, and the naming of the Boston men marked the first time that other than Gloucester fishermen were ever included in the service.

Mayor Sylvester F. Whalen closed the service by throwing a wreath "in memory of all seamen, who through all the years have found a last resting place in the waters that wash every shore."

Eat Oranges Deliberately To Roil Germans

London, Aug. 25—(CP)—Subtle Netherlanders, seeking new means to bring home their patriotism to the Nazi Army of Occupation, now do it by pausing on street corners and eating an orange with provoking deliberation.

"It is one way of proclaiming that they are still loyal to the house of orange yet the Nazis can do nothing about it since they have not decreed that it is illegal to eat oranges on the street.

German annoyance at this and other gestures—the popularity, for instance of orangeade, drunk slowly and ostentatiously in public—is revealed in the broadcasts of the Netherlands "Lord Haw Haw," Max Blokijl.

Blokijl said this public orange-eating was "hypocritical patriotism" because the Netherlands "never were that patriotic before the German invasion."

Orange is also the national color of the Netherlands.

Honor Grandmothers At Wooler W. I.'s Interesting Party

Mrs. E. McColl, Only Great-Great Grandmother at Gathering

Wooler—A delightful party, sponsored by the Ladies Aid, was held in the parlors of the United Church for the grandmothers of the surrounding community. There were about fifty present. Three grandmothers were in the eighty years and over class. Mrs. Sam Gunter was honored as being the oldest present and Mrs. Eustacia McColl who recently celebrated her eighty-third birthday was next oldest. Mrs. McColl, too, was honored as being the only great great grandmother.

A good program was presented and some of the ladies who took part were: vocal solos by Mrs. Douglas Fox and Miss Jean Crews, a piano solo by Miss Marie Vansyklin, and readings by Mrs. A. Arthur and Mrs. Ada Boneham. Later, a buffet luncheon was served by placing small tables in the dining parlors, which were attractively laid. The National Anthem was sung at the close of the party.

Guests at the H.M. parsonage recently were: Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Babcock of Napanee, Rev. J. W. Babcock of Swift Current, Sask., Miss M. Christie, Reg N., and Miss M. Mulligan, Reg. N., both of Ottawa.

Rev. S. A. York and Frances left on Monday for Ottawa. Rev. J. W. Babcock accompanied them. General Conference for the H.M. Church is taking place at Stittsville and the ministers will attend before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ireland entertained during last week-end their son, Mr. Floyd Ireland and Mrs. Ireland and children of Rochester, N.Y. They returned home on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ireland of Englehart are their guests and on Thursday they motored to the Sandbank s near Picton, where they enjoyed a picnic lunch.

Mr. Lorne Ellis of Windsor arrived on Thursday and will be the guest of relatives and friends during his holiday.

Mrs. Sanford Sharpe and Mrs. Hugh Gainsforth were dinner guests of Mrs. John Benn on Thursday. When they returned home, Mrs. Gainsforth complained of great pain in the stomach. Dr. J. S. Anderson was called and she is suffering from gall disturbance.

Mrs. Walter Ellis and Wanda are spending a few days in Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill entertained Mr. and Mrs. John McKendry of Adian, Mich., for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Covell of Toronto spent a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill.

Latta

LATTA—Mrs. Clyde Hammond and daughter, Lois, of Rochester are visiting friends at Plainfield.

Mrs. D'Arcy Young, Prince Edward, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCreary.

Mr. Earl Outwater attended the wedding of his uncle in Toronto on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carleton spent Monday in Sulphide.

Mrs. Wallace Sills has returned to her home after spending a while with her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Sullivan.

Miss Minnie Hamilton, Reg. N., and her mother, Roslin, spent the week-end with Miss Marjorie Outwater.

Mrs. Jack Telford called Monday on Mrs. Harry McCreary.

Mrs. E. Bates, Belleville, and daughter, Mrs. W. Elder, Belleville, are visiting Mrs. S. Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall, Mrs. Sam Hall, Mr. Vernon Emmerson, Mrs. D'Arcy Young, spent Sunday with Mr. Will McCreary and Mrs. Helen Spencer.

Mrs. Province of Melrose is visiting Mrs. James McCreary.

The W.M.S. was held at Mrs. Clayton Hall's on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Rollins and sons, Douglas and Glen, spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Rollins.

Mr. Orval Rollins leaves on Thursday for St. Catharines.

Mrs. Orval Rollins returned home after spending a while in Toronto where her husband has been working.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hall spent the week-end in Whitby.

Miss Leona Christie Guest of Honor at Pre-Nuptial Shower

Rawdon (Special) — On Wednesday evening, August 20th, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thompson opened their spacious home in honor of Miss Leona Christie bride-to-be. About 75 neighbors and friends gathered and enjoyed a social evening together. Rev. A. M. Laverty was master of ceremonies and he kept the audience in gales of laughter with his humorous remarks. He also read a humorus story about "A Big Fat Bull-frog." A round of community singing was participated in by all. Misses Catharine Wright and Phyllis Vance contributed a piano duet. Brief remarks were given by Messrs. John Bateman, Henry Cook and J. B. Thompson.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a humorous selection about "Airy-planes." Miss Muriel Welbourne read an appropriate address which was signed by Mrs. Ray Shortt, Mrs. H. Cook and herself. Both Leona and Frank graciously replied, thanking their friends for the lovely gifts.

The young couple opened the various packages which revealed a nice array of linen, china, kitchen articles, a silver tea service and a pair of blankets. An appetizing lunch was served and all departed homewards wishing Leona and Frank every happiness. Leona has lived in this community for the past four years and her cheery smile has won for her many friends.

HOSPITAL SHIP ARRIVES

Batavia, N.E.I., Aug. 23 (CP) — The Netherlands liner Oranje, which The Netherlands East Indies government recently fitted out as a floating hospital for use by the Allied forces, has returned to Australia from the Middle East battle front with 800 wounded Australian and New Zealand troops, it is learned here. It was her first trip as a hospital ship.

I can't afford to risk precious silk stockings—

THAT'S WHY I'M A LUX DAILY DIPPER!

A dip in Lux every night removes perspiration that causes runs and holes . . . keeps the silk threads e-l-a-s-t-i-c. Silk stockings will soon be hard to get. Join the LUX Daily Dippers and make your stockings last longer.

TO CUT DOWN RUNS, HOLES—DIP your stockings in Lux TONIGHT

LUX

A Lever product

NORTH LAKEFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Chase spent Saturday in Belleville.

Miss Julia Rowe of Consecon Road spent Thursday with her aunt, Mrs. Biard Bush.

Mrs. Cecil McConkey gave an interesting Bible Study on, "The Early Life of Jesus." Hymn No. 123 was sung followed by the benediction which brought the devotional period to a close. A business discussion followed. It was decided to hold a quilting next week. Quilt blocks were given out to be autographed. Red Cross articles were handed in. A special donation was given by each member in place of holding a food sale.

A presentation was made by the President to Mrs. R. Herrington (Audrey Kent) a recent bride of a beautiful silver cream and sugar on silver tray. Mrs. Beecher Barrett, a former teacher of the bride read an appropriate address. Mrs. Herrington in a few well chosen words expressed her sincere appreciation for the lovely gift. A program followed: a piano instrumental by Mrs. C. McConkey, a reading, "The Old Elm Tree," by Mrs. Frank Hickerson, Mrs. Elden Walt read, "The White Cliffs of Dover." Refreshments were served by the lunch committee. A vote of thanks was extended by the president to Mrs. L. Alyea for her hospitality.

GO 50 50 WITH OUR FIGHTING FORCES

SPEED ISN'T EVERYTHING

Save Gasoline

Hitting 60, 70 or 80 is only a passing—and oftentimes dangerous thrill. And it's wasteful of gas at a time when this precious fuel is so urgently needed for our Fighting Forces. So forget fast driving: honour your 50/50 Pledge instead. Walk more; drive less—and drive slower, even on the open road: a steady 40 gets you there and gives you more miles per gallon.

REMEMBER: The slower you drive, the more you save!

Shortcuts to a 50% GASOLINE SAVING

(Approved by Automobile Experts)

Reduce driving speed from 60 to 40 on the open road.

Keep spark plugs and valves clean.

Check cooling system: overheating wastes gasoline.

Maintain tires at right pressure.

Lubricate efficiently: worn engines waste gasoline.

Drive in groups to and from work, using cars alternate days.

For golf, picnics and other outings, use one car instead of four.

Take those short shopping trips ON FOOT and carry parcels home.

Walk to and from the movies.

Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. Consult him.

Spare and Share your Gasoline for VICTORY!

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

AFTER THE CONFERENCE

At one of the greatest moments in modern history Mr. Churchill has spoken to the world. His Sunday broadcast was a sequel to the conference of British and American leaders in the Atlantic, a commentary on the war Germany forced on Russia, and a solemn warning to Japan that her aggression must stop, that every effort will be made to reach a peaceful settlement but if it fails, "We shall of course unhesitatingly be at the side of United States."

He told the world Russians are fighting "with magnificent devotion against the German onslaught." He spoke of the Hitler war as "merciless butchery."

He brought to overrun lands the confidence and assurance of victory and though the ordeals of the conquered peoples may be hard, "the tunnel may be dark, but at the end there is light. That is the symbolism and that is the message of the Atlantic conference. We came back uplifted in spirit and fortified in resolve."

There were great words of praise for the United States and President Roosevelt and their determination eight years ago to build up their defences in the navy.

He closed with a picture of British strength and U. S. resources:—"The whole horizon seemed filled with ships," as a convoy came in sight, "supplies of the new world to sustain the champions of freedom in the old."

DUKE OF KENT'S VISIT

His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent has spent a busy time in Canada, making himself thoroughly conversant with the great undertaking of the Commonwealth Air Training Plan, which has proved itself most efficient so far. He has travelled across Canada, has seen this country, tested in the time of war, and now he has gone to the United States to be the guest of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. His visit to the Republic will be a most important link between the great American Republic, the greatest in the world, and Britain and the greatest of Empires.

His Royal Highness has had a very active time but he has filled the many calls upon his attention within the thoroughness for which he is noted.

His journey to the United States takes him to Hyde Park and Washington where two years ago the Duke's brother, King George, and Queen Elizabeth, were guests during their tour of the North American Continent. This is a tribute in wartime when the co-operation of the United States in furnishing material aid to Britain is demonstrated in so effective a manner.

The visit to the President of the United States helps to add to the ties of friendship and similarity of ideal of the two great branches of the English-speaking race.

TYRANT'S TYPICAL WAY

The Nazi Hun shows himself. Tyranny is always a coward. The Hun does not like opposition for he knows that opposition is expressed by hate after such a demonstration of brutality as the Huns have given mankind.

Like all aggressors and tyrants, the Huns have threatened the lives of thousands of Frenchmen if there should be any new violences, after the fatal stabbing of a German officer in Paris on Thursday, which followed repression by the Germans..

With characteristic Hun brutality the people have been told that those held under arrest will remain as hostages against the possibility of any new act of the kind and that in such a case a number of hostages corresponding to the Huns' idea of the gravity of the act, will be shot.

That is how the tyrant tries to keep down unrest and revolt against aggression. But it is the way to stir up greater activity.

Naturally the Hun tyrant knows no way but tyranny. The German attempt to build up power on blood and sacrifice of the rights of other peoples will find that blood and sacrifice will strike at the Hun. Human nature is such that it will not yield even if it means death. France knows the bloody character of the Hun reign and unrest is spreading.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

VACATION REMINISCENCES

An Eastern Canadian Port

Bearded crew of a sleek destroyer ashore after nine weeks at sea, yelling at each other across the crowded streets "Who said armistice?" and the return "Never 'eard of the blasted thing" . ... . Be-fezzed Moslems staring wide-eyed at strange Canadian crowds, shops and street life ...... the neat French sailors with their quaint hats with a red blob on the top, the insignias of the Free French forces, which strongly resembles that of the Tubercular Foundation, worn proudly on their blouses . ... . Crowds of people and still more crowds . ... .. The Navy's here and don't you blooming well forget it, ask any R.C.A.F. or army man ...... Corvettes slipping like grey ghosts through the "Narrows" ... . . Dirty tramp freighters, links in the Empire's life-line, moving slowly in Indian file to the open sea where they form up in convoy fashion . ... . Souvenir-seeking tourists, from all parts of the continent, crowding already over-crowded shops .... Ceaseless activity, everyone going some place with a definite purpose in mind . .. . You can't lag on the street corners, the crowds won't permit it .. ... . Rollicking Jack Tars, swaying on sometimes unsteady sea-legs, roaring out the chanteys of the sea . ... Trim sub-lieutenants hurrying in all directions . . .. The "Evening Quarters" parade at headquarters where over five thousand Canadians stand at attention while bugles throat a golden blare as the White Ensign flutters down staff . ... .The rising swell of muted sailor voices singing the famous navy hymn, "For those in peril on the sea" ... ...

Fish and Chips

A school of haddock charging up an inland arm of the sea in "V" formation, their presence indicated by a rippling of the water reminiscent of the surface of a lake during a hail-storm ... . A fisherman hauling in six three-pound stragglers from the school at dusk . .. . He used pieces of white paper for bait ... . Fish and chips, English style (remember, "One and one, please) ... ... Husky soldiers, sailors and airmen, eating from greasy packages tucked under their arms . . .. White flaky cod, cut into appetising steaks . .. . Majestic mackerel and snowy halibut, scollops as big as fifty-cent pieces, and Old Man Lobster himself, in all sizes ... . They will "crack" one for you and you can eat it going home . .. . Good sizes priced at 30-40 cents cold-boiled ... . Expert fish-cutters working like lightning with razor-edged knives in a fish cannery ...... Two rapid slashes and M'sieu Fish is filleted , ... The entrails and skin, and other accessories are ground up into mink and fox food . .. . No oysters.

The Human Side

Six months brides of two Toronto soldiers, who journeyed to a town in Cape Breton to see their husbands. Their excursion railway tickets allowed them four days "down east." The hubbies went A.W.O.L. to meet the gals, and on their return were awarded seven days C.B. . ... . The wife of the Calgary flying officer who journeyed across Canada to see her husband only to learn on her arrival at the camp that he had been sent overseas the day previous ... ...

Miscellaneous

. . . The incessant rain and drizzle ... . The forty-foot rise and fall of the tide in the Bay of Fundy .. .. . . "Acadia," the land of Evangeline, the natural beauty of which is being marred by tourist camps, signboards and glaring posters ... . Evangeline's famous well, now a tourist spot in the Annapolis Valley ... ... Heavily laden orchards in this apple-growing centre of Eastern Canada . . . Raspberries were just at their peak of production ... ...

Prisoners of war loafing in grainfields, near a concentration camp in Quebec . . .. Searchlights stabbing velvety blackness of Nova Scotian skies in practice for aerial raids . ... . Tracing a lacy pattern across the heavens the lights try to locate a bomber overhead at about 15,000 feet .. . .. When they finally locate it the plane resembles a silver bird in the converged beams of the powerful lights . ... . The prevalence of the "V" for Victory . . . Every Nova Scotian wears a "V" on his or her clothing.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed

"I could look like that, too—if you'd only buy me the clothes!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 25th, 1921.

Miss S. M. Ford of this city who is holidaying at Crowe Lake, was successful in landing a ten pound 'lunge yesterday. This is the second 'lunge that Miss Ford has had the honor of landing.

Mr. W. T. Alford, Hamilton, and Mr. B. L. Alford of Toronto, are home on a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Alford, Church St.

Mrs. R. B. Grose and son have returned home from Toronto where they visited friends.

Mr. H. M. Wallace, agent for the Canadian Express Company here, has been appointed Traveling Auditor with headquarters at Halifax. This promotion is the result of changes owing to the amalgamation of the Canadian Express Company and the Canadian Northern Express Company. Mr. Wallace is a member of the Rotary Club.

Considerable dredging will be done in the harbor here commencing at once.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 25th, 1911.

Mr. William Rogers, ex-Reeve of Rawdon Township, was in town today.

Mr. Stanley Wims, Harriet St., left today to spend a vacation in Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. Sandy Morton left today for his home in Chicago, Ill., after visiting friends here and in the vicinity.

The Rev. G. Smith, pastor of the Baptist Church left today for Kansas City to spend a vacation.

A barn owned by Mr. Charles Burkitt, Rawdon Township, was destroyed by fire this week when struck by lightning.

Dr. Frank Reid of St. Louis is here on a visit to his mother.

Mr. C. K. Hopkins of Anderson, Ind., is home on a visit.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 25th, 1901.

Mrs. Harry S. Price of Boissevain, Manitoba, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Price.

Mr. John Campbell left for his home in New York City today after visiting his parents at the home on Lewis St.

Mr. "Ernie" Thompson of this city has accepted a position in Trenton.

Mrs. George Hanwell and family left yesterday for Dawson City to join Mr. Hanwell who has been residing there for some time.

The Rev. Johnson Henderson of Chicago, Ill., preached in John Street Presbyterian Church yesterday.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 25th, 1891.

John Robinson's Big Circus will be here on Sept. 5th.

Madam Tourgis will resume her classes in music and French on Sept. 1st.

The steamer North King struck an obstruction when leaving the harbor here yesterday morning and twisted her rudder.

The Gas Company employees are busily engaged getting business places in readiness for the introduction of the incandescent light.

Mr. Frank Phippen, barrister of Winnipeg, is home on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Phippen.

A horse belonging to William Webster ran away last evening on Bridge St. and the buggy was badly damaged.

Just Folks
by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

ASSURANCE

Let might blow temples down
  And shatter ancient wall,
Destroy the little town,
  Let oldtime structures fall;
But in the end the right
Shall live to master might.

Doubt not old age or youth,
  Doubt not nor be afraid;
Time shall uphold the truth
  'Gainst every brutal raid.
Never shall last for long
What in itself is wrong.

Never shall tyrant rise
  So powerful, so great
As to still all the cries
  Of patient hearts who wait,
Believing soon must be
The day that sets men free.

Against the little gain
  Might's conquests here and now,
Think not that hope is vain,
  Truth will succeed somehow!
Hold fast through thick and thin,
Somehow the right will win!

British Are so Obstinate

A letter to the Editor of the London Daily Telegraph

Sir:—In these days it is well to share interesting news received from responsible persons in neutral countries. I append some extracts from a letter which I recently received from a Portuguese lady in Lisbon. She writes:

"The Germans here say it is all an illusion what the English are saying about Hess and his mission. But it is not an illusion that he is a prisoner in England, and that is the principal part of the whole drama. What a political battle you won on that dark night in Scotland!

"I see a lot of foreigners here—English, French, Poles, Germans—and I have not yet met one who is for the latter; and a good thing, too. I have been speaking to a German girl who arrived here from Berlin on her way to America, and she says the Germans are not at all pleased because they cannot understand how, having conquered so many countries, they have bad food and everything is very dear. Only people with a lot of money can buy good things; poor people cannot get at them.

"A Portuguese gentleman (I could mention his name but it is prudent not to, he is so well known) went to Germany some time ago. He was 'German mad,' but he came back converted; now he is 'all English'. He and his son were nearly crazy in Berlin with the English raids, and he had to spend such a lot of money to live he could not stand it any longer.

"That reminds me of a Portuguese young gentleman who has returned from Berlin, where he witnessed a British raid. He said 'It was awful'. He told us the Germans lost their heads and said, 'If this happens often the war would finish quickly; we can never stand it'.

"Now that is perfectly true; the Germans haven't got the moral strength the British possess; they would not resist as you are doing; and that is why we say here, 'We love the French, admire the English, detest the Germans and despise the Italians'.

"The gentleman I mentioned earlier told us that the Germans said to him: 'We have conquered Greece; next will be Egypt; and then—and then those English pigs; but they are so obstinate, so terribly obstinate that in spite of all they may win after all! The Germans always begin madly and finish badly'."

Leslie L. Green.
Kirby Muxloe, Leicestershire.

Spark May Start U. S. Fighting Hun

(By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER)

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill suggested some interesting answers to the question "Under what circumstances would the United States fight?" and in one respect, at least, his thoughts ran strikingly parallel to those of an American spokesman.

Mr. Churchill, in his broadcast address Sunday, made it clear that in his opinion the nited States would fight Japan—and thus probably be drawn into the general world conflict through the back door—if the Japanese press their southeastern military expansion in the Orient and threaten the Philippines. And he warned the Japanese that Britain would range herself alongside the United States.

Another circumstance under which the United States probably would fight—in Mr. Churchill's apparent opinion certainly should—would be in event of a mortal threat to Britain. The Prime Minister said that heretofore Hitler had picked off his foes one by one through a policy of divide and conquer and that for final victory his policy needed but one last successful application.

Fight if Attacked

In brief if the United States would not fight even though Britain was falling, then indeed, Mr. Churchill implied, would Hitler be virtually assured of eventual world mastery.

A few days after Mr. Churchill and President Roosevelt met two weeks ago, the United States Secretary of War, Henry Stimson broadcast to the army on dangers besetting the United States. He said the country would fight if any of its farflung bastions of defense from Iceland to the Philippines were attacked. But a far greater danger than attack on an outpost, he said, would be created by a successful invasion of Britain, or that nation's defeat by other means.

Stimson did not say the United States would take up arms to keep Britain from falling, but in many Washington quarters there is a strong feeling that if Hitler ever tries to invade the British Isles he had best get the job done quickly—if he does not want his task infinitely complicated by American intervention.

Spark May Start It

How could American troops be sent quickly to Britain? The obvious answer is from Iceland. Those who might scoff at the strategic possibilities of this rocky outpost in furnishing military aide to Britain should not consider today's small force there as the ultimate strength planned.

Nor should they forget that Russia's resistance to the Nazis makes any attempt at invasion of Britain this fall or winter virtually impossible. And by spring United States arms output and army organization will be at a far higher level of accomplishment than today.

But invasion is not the only way by which Britain could be put in mortal danger. Already the United States is so far committed to victory in the Battle of the Atlantic that it would take but a spark to set off a "shooting war," fact which Mr. Churchill clearly recognised is saying Germany had had plenty of opportunity to draw the United States into the conflict had it not been to her suspense interest to avoid doing this.

The similarity between Mr. Churchill's remarks and those of Stimson as to the value of Britian in the defense of America assumes added interest when one remembers that the Prime Minister made his address primarily as a report on his conference with President Roosevelt.

Polish Flyer and English Duck

From the Magazine "London Calling."

At a Polish fighter airdrome somewhere in England there is a pool of water on which swam a fat Aylesbury duck. A policeman bicycling by stopped, looked, and recognized—the duck. It was his duck, a duck he had reported missing several weeks before. So the consequence was that a gallant Polish fighter pilot stood before a bench of grave English magistrates.

How did he come in possession of the policeman's duck, and, particularly, why? The young Polish pilot, who could not speak a word of English, merely grinned. "For a bit of fun," his brother officer-interpreter began. But that was no good at all. The English court could not agree that it was permissible for a Polish pilot to go about having a bit of fun with a policeman's duck.

The case looked very bad until the young pilot blurted out that he was actually very fond of ducks. He had not intended to eat this duck—far from it, he merely hoped it would bring him luck.

"Ah," said the chief magistrate delightedly, "you took that duck for a mascot." "Exactly," was the interpreter's prompt reply, "and not only that, it worked. Last week he shot down his first German 'plane."

The case was won. The magistrates solemnly decided to dismiss the charge on payment of five shillings costs. But the senior magistrate rose from his seat to shake hands with the airman, and said that he would like to have the honor of paying the five shillings himself.

The duck is still on the airdrome pond, waiting for another doomed Nazi 'plane to come over.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Somewhere in the Midlands

London Aug. 25—(By Wireless)—The pressure of war is not only breaking down the old concepts of management and introducing much more consideration of the needs and psychology of the workers and a greater intercourse between workers and managers, but it is also modifying trade union policies.

In Parliament and out of it there is much criticism of Ernest Bevin, Britain's powerful Minister of Labor who heads the Transport and General Workers Union. It is said that he favors the workers, but does not use the powers granted him which are very extensive, including the right to send workers to any part of England amounting to labor conscription.

Bevin replies that he understands the workers and uses his powers exactly to the extent absolutely necessary, but human beings must be regarded as such and no efficiency results from a complete disregard of human factors.

• • •

Certainly nobody in England has a greater intention to help win this war than Bevin or a more ardent hatred of Fascism. He is more patient with the workers than with red tape and bureaucracy. He scares some people by the complete conviction and intention that there will be a new England after the war.

If asked "What sort of new England?" he says social democracy with freedom. In such a new order of freedom he sees the trade unions playing a leading role.

My own impression is that he is far from coddling the workers. He is patiently attempting to prepare them for an increased social and political responsibility.

• • •

British trade unions are miles ahead of those in the United States in this matter of the responsibility of craft unions, which really are guilds that have maintained very high standards of work for generations. To be skilled in anything admits a worker to a real aristocracy of labor based not merely on high wages, but high standards of performance.

British labor is permeated also with simple Christian concepts of justice and decency. The role of non-conformist religious bodies in training labor leaders is interesting though seldom stressed. But many of the best labor speakers have received an education in social literature and philosophy and training in public speaking through non-conformist churches and lay preaching in which the power to speak so as to move audiences is deevloped, and social philosophy is inextricably united with Christian principles.

A man like A. V. Alexander, who entered politics by way of the Labor Party and is now First Lord of the Admiralty, will talk for hours about his impoverished childhood in Bristol and an education that was stopped because he was compelled to go to work at the age of 13, then continued through books urged upon him by preachers.

• • •

Craft unions have had to make innumerable concessions under the stress of war production, but adjustments came with a minimum of stoppage and strain fundamentally because the war on Adolf Hitler is the workers' war, and the defence of unionism is hearty and profound in this country.

The necessity to disperse industries away from a few centres because of the danger of being bombed and reintegrate the whole into a system whereby if one factory is knocked out the same work is continuing with an enlarged load elsewhere, created immense problems of moving, feeding and housing the workers.

Hotels had to be built for the workers, communal feeding had to be established, transportation arranged. Women workers streaming into industry because of the shortage of man power first met the hostility of both management and workers, especially in the mechanical trades where it was not believed women could operate huge mechanical lathes, etc.

However, apprehension concerning the women was absolutely confounded in practice. Many problems, it is frankly admitted, have been unsatisfactorily solved. On the other hand, there have been immense gains for labor. For instance, among the merchant sailors, who now get an annual wage and regular leaves and free transportation to their families.

• • •

The willingness of workers to make sacrifices seems to warrant putting problems up to them. For instance, the miners were asked to decide whether they would be willing to allow the use of fast, refrigerated ships, normally carrying food from the United States, for transporting troops to the Middle East, which would mean a reduction of already inadequate rations.

Amidst cheers they voted unanimously to reduce the rations, which would be especially hard on miners whose work often makes them lose three to seven pounds a day in the pits. Such action also amounts to voluntary contributions from the workers for the comforts of the armed forces.

In Newcastle, along one of the poorest parts of the country, miners contributed $150,000 in individual gifts.

Nowhere will a speech against the Fascists get such cheers as in the working-class districts—where, however, the cheers are meant also to ratify that no Fascism shall exist in England either during or as a result of this war.

(Released by the Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Newest Notes of Science

Egypt has more than 91,000 licensed radio receiving sets in use.

A new pocket compact contains an electric light to illuminate a user's face.

Reconstruction of the Rangoon airport in Burma has made it the largest in the East.

A trailer hitch for motorcycles has been patented.

More than 90 per cent of Japan's motion picture theaters have been wired for sound reproduction.

A new smooth rubber bath mat for infants is shaped to fit a baby's body to hold an occupant safely.

It has been estimated that there are more than 1,250,000 radio receiving sets in use in Australia.

A new hand saw for cutting out panels has a drill at the tip to start holes for its blade to enter.

A board has been appointed in Barbados to censor all motion picture films and parts entering the colony.

The battery of a new electric flashlight serves as its barrel, a lighting assembly being screwed to one end.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

THE HONORABLE JERRY MANDER

A new Republican-sponsored act readjusting the Congressional districts in Massachusetts was called a "vicious gerrymander" by Bay State Democrats.

The term "gerrymander" originated in Massachusetts 139 years ago.

A gerrymander (pronounced with hard "g") is an unnatural and unfair division of a state into representative districts.

Its purpose is to give the largest number of votes to the political party in power.

Hostile voters are put in districts certain to go against the dominant party and friendly voters are added to districts where the parties are equally divided.

The name originated in Massachusetts in 1812 while Elbridge Gerry was governor.

Gerry was a signer of the Declaration of Independence and after he had been governor he became vice president of the United States under President Madison.

Governor Gerry in 1812 influenced the Democratic-Republican legislature to re-district the state to insure victory for their party over the Federalists in the next election.

When the Democratic-Republican legislature got through with its work one state senatorial district in Essex County somewhat resembled a dragon in outline.

Benjamin Russell, Federalist editor of the Boston "Sentinel," hung up in his office a map showing the new districts.

One day the famous painter Gilbert Stuart came into the newspaper office and noticed the queer shape of the Essex County district.

Taking a pencil he added a head, wings and claws, saying: "That will do for a salamander!"

"Better say Gerrymander," replied Editor Russell, and thus a new word was added to the American political vocabulary.

The "Shoe String District" in Mississippi, 500 miles long and 40 miles wide, has been one of the most notorious gerrymanders in history.

A British writer once suggested that perhaps "gerrymander" was named after an American politician named Jerry Mander!

The Federal government decides how many Representatives in Congress each state shall have, but each each state may elect its members either at large or from districts determined by itself, as it chooses.

A glance at the Congressional district maps in the current Congressional district maps in the current Congressional Directory suggests that gerrymandering is not a lost art among American state legislators.

Africa Beckons Canadian Nurses

Regulations for Recruits for Union's Military Hospitals

Ottawa (CP)—The South African Military Nursing Services hope to welcome the first 40 Canadian volunteer nurses by Oct. 1 and thereafter 40 a month until at least 300 voluteers have arrived. They are sought to work in South African military hospitals it was announced at Canadian Defence headquarters here.

"Our white population is only a little over 2,000,000 and women are already widely engaged in auxiliary services, factories, making munitions and in voluntary services. But the strain on the nursing services has impelled our government to look to Canada," an official of the South African office here told The Canadian Press.

South Africa turned to this Dominion because of the large number of trained nurses available, their enthusiasm to go on Active Service and the lack of their immediate need in Great Britain. It was suggested that some similar appeal for volunteers may be made in the United States.

Regulations for Canadian volunteer nurses who will be recruited through district medical officers across Canada will be the same as those governing acceptance of Canadian nurses for the Canadian service.

Nurses must be at least 25 y[illegible] of age and not more that 45 [illegible] They must be declared ph[illegible] fit, (medical examination[illegible] x-ray) be graduates of a rec[illegible] school of nursing and registe[illegible] a provincial Nursing Associa[illegible] Nurses must be single or widows without children and undertake not to marry within one year of joining the service.

Canadian nurses are already popular in South Africa where they have gone to staff hospitals from time to time, said the official. In 1938, notably, there was a shortage of nurses for a hospital in Capetown nd Canadian nurses were invited to go out.

Fine Business For Traplines

Muskrats Plentiful in Northern Manitoba Following Government Aid

The Pas, Man. (CP)—The Manitoba government's plan to aid trappers in the Pickwitone and Thicket Portage area 200 miles north of The Pas is expected to give rich results next season.

Reports from trappers in the north area indicate that muskrats are more plentiful than in many years. Feed is reported choking the numerous lakes and small rivers to ensure fat, sleek pelts next year.

So encouraging have been the reports from the conservation area that game and fisheries officials are planning to enlarge the controlled section several million acres. Traplines already have been allotted in the district but it is expected the original 65 will be increased to about 400 when the conservation project is enlarged.

One trapper said: "Good feed has grown so rapidly since the government dam was put in at Grassy Lake last year that a canoe cannot be pushed through some areas."

Fun and glamour—Robert Benchley, featured comedian, and pretty Frances Gifford have the chief "live-action" roles in Walt Disney's full-length feature, "The Reluctant Dragon," now at the Belle Theatre.

Soldiers' Weal Officers' Duty

British Army Booklet Sets Out Principles to be Followed

London (CP) — The Army Council has authorized a booklet for officers called "The Soldier's Welfare." Urging officers to look after the men it lays down the following principles:

Welfare is concerned with the whole needs of men—body, mind and spirit.

There can be no good leadership without good welfare.

Good officers make good troops and happy contented men.

Care of men is opposed to pampering and, if properly understood, will foster self-reliance.

Men will endure hardships cheerfully, but discontent will arise if they are caused by inefficiency, lack of understanding or "red tape."

Every man is entitled to be treated as a human being, irksome orders and restrictions should be explained, and the man's point of view considered.

Men are easily upset by what they consider to be unfair treatment and inequality of sacrifice.

Boredom is the worst enemy of Army morale.

[illegible] MAROONS ANNOUNCER

[illegible] York, Aug. 25—(AP)—Bru[illegible] one of five male lions at the [illegible]onx Zoo whose antics were [illegible]roadcast Sunday marooned the announcer and a member of the Zoo staff for 23 minutes. It took that long to persuade the beast to return to his cage and abandon his siege of a small plywood hut on the Zoo's lion island from which the proceedings were broadcast.

Help for Airmen Who Lack Matric

University of Toronto Extension to Have Courses Through Fall

Toronto (CP)—Young Canadians who wish to enter the Royal Canadian Air Force as air crew but who cannot qualify because they lack matriculation standing in certain subjects are undergoing voluntary training at night shool here in order to gain the required standing.

The University of Toronto provides class-room space for the potential airman at University of Toronto Schools where courses prepared by W. J. Dunlop, Chairman of the Regional Committee of Education, and other military and educational authorities, are delivered.

There are 150 boys working at U.T.S. three nights every week. The whole system is voluntary — teachers of several of Toronto's high schools have contributed their time to the effort. Composed largely of men who have had some years of secondary school training but who lack junior matriculation in English, mathematics and physics, the class is coached intensively in these subjects. Each class is trained for three months.

Through R.C.A.F.

"The lads who are eager to get into the Air Force and become air crew rather than ground crew apply to the R.C.A.F. recruiting centre," Mr. Dunlop explained. "If the recruiting officer thinks they are suitable material, and they pass the first part of their medical examination he signs them on as air crew with the provision that they complete the necessary matriculation standing.

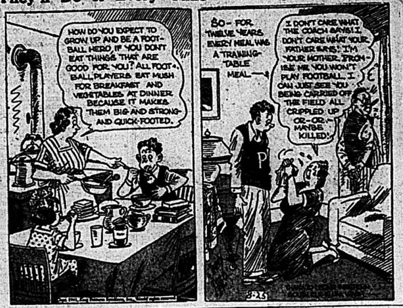
"That is where we come in. We provide twelve weeks of night school for each of these lads, most of whom are working during the day. They study English, physics, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry and navigation."

Mr. Dunlop organized the summer school last November under the auspices of the Canadian Legion War Services. The students come from many points within a 100-mile radius of Toronto. Headquarters of the Canadian Legion Educational Services at Ottawa have asked Mr. Dunlop for a report on the school, with a view to making similar services operative throughout the Dominion.

MUST HAVE PERMITS

Tokyo, Aug. 25—(AP) — The Home Ministry announced today that all United States movies and all Japanese stage productions must obtain police permission for showing after Sept. 1. Police already have prohibited showing of Deanna Durbin's picture, "First Love" and the Western "Destry Rides Again."

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



HOW DO YOU EXPECT TO GROW UP AND BE A FOOTBALL HERO IF YOU DON'T EAT THINGS THAT ARE GOOD FOR YOU? ALL FOOTBALL PLAYERS EAT MUSH FOR BREAKFAST AND VEGETABLES AT DINNER BECAUSE IT MAKES THEM BIG AND STRONG AND QUICK-FOOTED.
SO- FOR TWELVE YEARS EVERY MEAL WAS A TRAINING-TABLE MEAL—
I DON'T CARE WHAT THE COACH SAYS! I DON'T CARE WHAT YOUR FATHER SAYS! I'M YOUR MOTHER. PROMISE ME YOU WON'T PLAY FOOTBALL. I CAN JUST SEE YOU BEING CARRIED OFF THE FIELD ALL CRIPPLED UP OR-OR- MAYBE KILLED!
P
8-25

Union Services Are Concluded

Stirling, Aug. 25—Climaxing two months of union services held by the congregations of St. Paul's United Church and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, the final service of the series took place at the latter church on Sabbath morning. Rev. A. M. Laverty of St. Paul's Church ministered to the two congregations augmented by the presence of the girls of the C.G.I.T. camp now in session at Oak Lake. The girls assisted in the musical part of the service under the direction of their leader. Rev. Laverty delivered the final message in a series entitled "Self-Discipline." Mr. G. L. Clute, musical director of St. Paul's choir presided at the organ and Mr. Arthur Duncan offered a baritone solo.

District Active in Patriotic Activity

Stirling district is responding encouragingly to the various war efforts held in the community. Last week River Valley community took possession of the Stirling Fair Grounds for a social function that drew hundreds of patriotic citizens. The total sum achieved by the ladies was over three hundred dollars gained from games of bingo and other means of amusement. A successful dance was also held in conjunction with the event. Also booths where refreshments could be obtained were well patronized.

Saturday night the young ladies of the local chapter of the I.O.D.E. sponsored a very successful bingo game in the heart of Stirling business section and enthusiastic crowds took part in the games which were successful from every standpoint.

SETTING THE PACE
Henley
20 for 22¢
BENSON & HEDGES
Henley
CIGARETTES

THE NEW STRAIGHT VIRGINIA CIGARETTE
A favorite from the start, Henley, the mild, sweet virginia cigarette, is now on the lips of thousands. Enthusiastic fans appreciate its exceptionally good quality, made possible by the less expensive but more convenient red-and-gold pouch pack. Share the glory—Join the ranks of the cheering fans—"Try HENLEY today"

DON'T MISS THE fair

3 BIG DAYS

BELLEVILLE

September 8th - 9th - 10th

Midway — Trotting Races — Fire Works

BRING THE FAMILY

PERSONALS

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McLean wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Marjorie Jean, to Gordon Leonard Edwards, Peterborough, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Edwards, Belleville, the marriage to take place quietly August 30th.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McWilliams announces the engagement of their youngest daughter, Margaret Ann, to James Bernard Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Freeman of Marmora. The marriage to take place September tenth, at St. Charles' Church, Read, Ont., at nine o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Wade have returned to Toronto, after having visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Woodley at their summer cottage, at Roblin's Mills Lake.

Mrs. Maud Naylor of Toronto, formerly of Belleville, is visiting in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fairman, Cedar Street.

Mrs. Will Thompson, Massassaga, who underwent a major operation on Thursday last is making satisfactory progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bennares and family, Chicago, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Kikes, 140 William Street.

Nursing Sister Rita Fitzgerald, Barriefield, spent the week-end at her home, Dufferin Avenue.

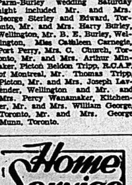
Friends in the city of Mr. Alexander Bremner, C.N.R. engineer, will be glad to hear he is progressing favorably in the Belleville General Hospital, after a serious operation.

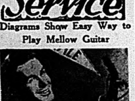
Misses Madeline Walien, Mary Lou Pigden, Joyce Cooper and Valerie Flemming, clever pupils of Mary Forster's Dancing School entertained at the Band Concert at Cobourg with a song and dance revue Thursday evening.

Out of town guests at the Parm-Burley wedding Saturday night included Mr. and Mrs. George Sterley and Edward, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burley, Wellington, Mr. B. E. Burley, Wellington, Miss Cathleen Carnegie, Port Perry, Mrs. C. Church, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Minaker, Picton Beldon Tripp, R.C.A.F. of Montreal, Mr. Thomas Tripp, Picton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lavender, Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wanamaker, Kitchener, Mr. and Mrs. William George, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. George Munn, Toronto.

Home Service

Diagrams Show Easy Way to Play Mellow Guitar





Music-Maker Always Welcome

Portrait of a popular man! A nice grin—and irresistible guitar!

No wonder the guitar is so often chosen by those who'd learn an instrument. You can teach yourself with simple directions and, for the melodious chords that accompany a song, you needn't know a note.

Popular sheet music has diagrams that picture the guitar fingerboard—the vertical lines are the strings, the horizontal lines the metal frets, as in the diagram with our picture.

To play a chord, just press the strings of your guitar with your left hand where the dots on the diagram indicate, while with your right hand you pluck the same strings, also the strings marked "O," over the sound hole.

Your fingers soon get "educated," specially with instruction diagrams showing by number what fingers to use, as does our diagram for the G7 chord.

Soon, what a repertory you have! Our 32-page instruction book explains easy fingering for right and left hands, tells how to find notes on guitar, hold and tune it. Gives table of chords.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of EASY LESSONS IN GUITAR PLAYING to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Weddings

LIDDLE—INSLEY

A pretty wedding took place on Friday evening August 22, 1941, in Trinity Church, Shannonville, when Ethel Ida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Insley of Point Anne, was united in marriage to Robert Albert, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Liddle of Belleville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was charming in soldier blue with matching hat. Miss L. Insley, sister of bride, was bridesmaid and the groom was supported by Mr. Frank Insley. Rev. C. P. Heaven, rector of Trinity Church performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Heaven.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to immediate relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents in Point Anne. On their return from a short honeymoon to Kingston and Thousand Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Liddle will reside in Belleville.

PARM—BURLEY

On Saturday evening at eight o'clock the marriage was solemnized in Tabernacle United Church of Gena Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burley and William Osborne Parm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parm of Cannifton. Rev. Dr. Young performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mrs. M. P. Duff, organist of the church, and Jack Shaddock sang "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her gown, street length, of white silk jersey with white turban and shoulder length veil. She wore a corsage of red roses. Miss Betty Greatrix in an Elizabeth blue redingote with matching hat, was bridesmaid. Her corsage was of red roses. Mr. Richard Parm, brother of the groom, was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Thomas Burley and Mr. Clayton Burley.

At the reception held at the home of the bride, Bleecker Ave., Mrs. Burley in Queen's blue with black suede accessories and corsage of roses and Mrs. Parm wearing a navy redingote with white accessories and corsage of roses received with the bride and groom. Mrs. Ben Burley presided at the tea table.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Parm left on a wedding trip to western points, the bride choosing for travelling a rose dress with brown accessories. They will take up residence at their new home in Cannifton.

KNOTT—THOMPSON

St. Thomas' Church was the scene of a pretty wedding at seven thirty o'clock on Saturday evening, when Ethel Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson, became the bride of Harry Christopher Knott, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knott. Rev. A. Beauchamp Payne officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. C. H. Lake, looked charming in her gown of bridal white with tulle veil. She carried a white prayer book from which fell streamers of white ribbon. Miss Eleanor Taylor was bridesmaid wearing pink lace with matching accessories and tiny lace cap with short veil. She carried a bouquet of roses. Mr. Donald Roe was groomsman.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. H. Lake, 57 Church Street. The bride's mother received wearing navy blue sheer with corsage of roses. Later the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Sudbury, the bride travelling in a navy blue striped suit. Upon their return they will reside in Belleville.

NEUMAN—CLARKE

Tweed, Aug. 25.—A quiet wedding took place at the Anglican Rectory, Tweed, on Wednesday, August 20, at 4.30 p.m., Rev. A. E. Pepper officiating, when Irene Jean Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clarke, Bancroft, was united in marriage to Herbert James Neuman of Maynooth, son of Mr. William Neuman and the late Mrs. Neuman.

The bride was dressed in navy and white and carried a corsage of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Zelma Neuman of Maynooth, sister of the groom, wore a dress of rose with white trimmings, and a corsage of roses. Milton Tyron of Maynooth, was groomsman. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ernest Blakely. The young couple left on a motor trip to Arnprior and Montreal, following which they will make their home at Maynooth.

Mrs. Burton Morton, Rawdon, Honored By S. S. Class

Rawdon, (Special) — On Tuesday evening, August 19, Wellman's Young People's Sunday School class were entertained by Miss Barbara Whitehouse and Mr. Donald Nix at Searles' Beach, Oak Lake.

During the evening, Rev. J. E. Beckel spoke briefly and presented the teacher of the class, Mrs. Burton Morton with a cedar chest of stationery as a birthday gift from the class. Mrs. Morton has given splendid leadership and the class deeply appreciative of her efforts on their behalf. She graciously thanked those present for the lovely gift.

There were twenty-eight members in attendance.

Several relay games were enjoyed on the beach also a game "Who Am I".

A round of community singing opened the meeting with Mr. Donald Nix giving the Secretary's report. Miss Doris Pollock dressed as a ghost gave a realistic story.

The host and hostess served buns and weiners and the young folks tendered Don and Barbara hearty thanks for such a pleasant evening.

*Exclusive with WOODLEY'S in Belleville.

Price: $5.95.

"Lady BILTMORE"

Features "BELMONT" For Fall.

Once again you will be enchanted with the superb simplicity and the precise tailoring of these lovely rich fur felt hats. Sketched is "Belmont," a shallow crowned roller type with ridged crown and corded brim. Fall shades. Sizes 21½ to 23.

WOODLEY'S

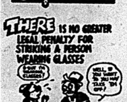
273 FRONT STREET

IVANHOE W.M.S.

The August meeting of the Ivanhoe W.M.S. was held on Tuesday, Aug. 19, at the home of Mrs. Sam Twiddy. The meeting opened with hymn 390 after which Mrs. Lovibond led in prayer. Twelve members answered the roll call with the key word "give" and with the paying of a cent an inch for their waist measurement proceeds of which went to the Evening Telegram British War Victims Fund. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. George Wood. The Watch Tower was taken by Misses Cora Prest, Margery Prest and Mrs. MacMillen.

The Mission Band Leader, Mrs. George Wood, read a story on the missionary work in Trinidad and displayed an afghan the members of the mission band made. The remainder of the meeting was prepared by Mrs. S. Kilpatrick, group leader No. 4, who chose as her theme "Our Canadian Homes." Everyone joined in singing "Home Sweet Home" and Mrs. F. Palmer gave a commentary on the piece. Mrs. Twiddy read the "Requirements For a Canadian Home." Doris Twiddy sang "I Am a Canadian."

Readings were given by Mrs. A. Wood, Miss Phyllis Twiddy, Mrs. A. Hagerman and Mrs. Lovibond on constructive creative work in Christian Canadian homes. "O Canada" and a hymn were sung followed by the Mizpah Benediction. The hostess and assistants served a ten cent tea at the close of the meeting. Proceeds of the day amounted to collection 63c, tea 85c.



B-BUT I'M WEARING GLASSES!
WELL, IF YOU WANT TO, YOU MAY TAKE 'EM OFF!

J. A. McFee Says It's a Fact!

THERE IS NO GREATER LEGAL PENALTY FOR STRIKING A PERSON WEARING GLASSES

And He Can Prove It!

(Proof Next Saturday)

If Eye Strain exists it is quite futile to expect relief from medicine or chiropractic. Any practitioner of the healing art knows this. McFee's Visual Analysis is not only reliable but efficient.

(Proof of Saturday's Ad.)

FISH IS NOT A BRAIN FOOD

All food enriches the blood, which in turn nourishes the body including the brain. Fish is in no way a special food for the brain 1. "Food and Feeding"—Sir Henry Thompson.

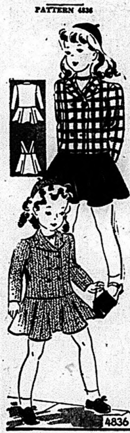
J. A. McFEE
EXPERIENCED OPTOMETRIST
PHONE 26
BELLEVILLE . ONT.

St. Julien, I. O. D. E. Sponsors Dance For War Work

Members of St. Julien Chapter, I.O.D.E. have continued, tirelessly all summer long, their program of war work. Since more funds are now needed to carry on their many activities the chapter is sponsoring a dance this week at the Arena which has been generously donated for the event through the kindness of Mr. S. Burrows and Mr. A. Meagher. A 10-piece R.C.A.F. orchestra will provide music for the dance and it is hoped that there will be continued support from the public whose encouragement and assistance has been responsible for furthering the work of this energetic group.

Tots' Three-Piece "Tailored"

PATTERN 4836



By ANNE ADAMS

Even the smallest lass likes to have her Fall and Winter outfits well-tailored. Anne Adams designed Pattern 4836 for youngsters — a three-piece set that may mix or match and that's really adorable! The jaunty jacket is in double-breasted effect with an extra row of buttons down the front. Note the smart little notched collar. The skirt is panelled front and back, and has optional suspender straps that keep it securely in place. To top off the whole ensemble, there's a pert, head-hugging "beanie," cut in pie-slice sections. Have all three pieces in smart herringbone tweed, or try a checked jacket with a monotone wool skirt and cap!

Pattern 4836 is available in children's sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 6, entire ensemble, takes 2 1-8 yards 54 inch fabric; skirt and cap, 1 1-8 yards 54 inch fabric and jacket, 1 yard contrast.

Send TWENTY CENTS (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

VACATION POST-CARDS INDICATE TASTE OF WRITER

In the few days that most of us have for vacation, it is an unreasonable waste of precious minutes to write many letters. We can't relax our minds if we are constantly haunted by the thought that we must write.

Instead of spending those precious minutes of your short holidays in this agitation, make up your mind (and warn your family and friends of this before you leave) that you are not going to be so prodigal of the time you undoubtedly need for rest and recreation. Unless your vacation is a long one, get a supply of post-cards, plain and "picture," and use them to carry the messages that are pleasant reminders.

Family and friend will be comforted and delighted with messages written on "scenery cards"—a card a day, if you wish, to the family. Write them early in the day so it won't be on your mind during the day of pleasure and relaxation. These cards will be visible proof that you are well, happy, having a good time.

A few simple words, such as "If you were here this place would seem twice as lovely," or, "Another year we must try to come here together. You would love it!" express affection. And here is where taste steps in. For a post-card should be discreet and self-controlled. It expresses us, "for better or for worse," and can be read by anybody who chooses to read it. That, in itself, is a responsibility.

Perhaps I needn't warn you how very easy it is to let your pen run away with your manners and discretion, especially when you are let down on your vacation. When girl writes boy or boy writes girl their pens should not divulge unguarded thoughts, sentences that may later rear their heads to cause embarrassment. Distance, remember, can bring enchantment or disenchantment—as we ourselves wish.

Don't let yourself impulsively buy, or let anyone persuade you to buy, cards that are supposed to be funny, or ones that will perchance not be so funny when they arrive as you thought they would be when you sent them in or holiday mood.

Even if I'm begging you to conserve your minutes, I would like to have you take just a split second to write a subject before your sentences: "I am having a wonderful time," instead of the provincial "Having a wonderful time" . . . "I wish you were here," rather than "Wish you were here."

HOME COURTESY TIP

All families have "family jokes," and most families take with a good grace and good nature having a certain amount of fun poked at them. But we must rein in this fun when we see it's getting out of hand and becoming ridicule. The heart of a sensitive person is terribly hurt with ridicule.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

RHEUMATIC FEVER STRIKES SUDDENLY

the muscle of her heart so that it the most menacing of the diseases that cripple little children. Infantile paralysis, known as "the great crippling disease," produces crippling of the limbs that is visible to any one. Rheumatic fever, on the other hand, cripples the heart so that the child does not seem to be weakened; yet he is likely to be a heart invalid for the rest of its days. Rheumatic fever is, moreover, a disease which strikes suddenly and insidiously. Interestingly, the early symptoms of rheumatic fever might resemble those of infantile paralysis, so that in a recent outbreak of the latter disease several families thought that their children were infected, only to find that what they actually had was rheumatic fever.

In the typical severe case of rheumatic fever, with redness and swelling of the joints and with a high temperature, the diagnosis is not so difficult to make. However, there are other cases which are not quite typical. Growing pains, as they are called, are sometimes diagnostic of rheumatic fever.

Dr. Stanley Gibson says that children have muscle pains from a variety of causes—from flat feet, from fatigue and from various deformities of the bones and joints—and that muscle pains are not likely to be symptomatic of rheumatic fever unless there are also pains in the joints. Since it is believed that the streptococcus bears some relationship to the causation of rheumatic fever, it seems likely that other conditions like chorea are also a part of the picture in rheumatic conditions.

The chief manifestation of rheumatic fever important from the point of view of the child's future is the disease of the heart. In practically every case the mitral valve of the heart is involved. Since damage to this valve is revealed by a murmur which the physician can hear when he listens at the apex of the heart—a murmur which is likely to appear each time just before the heart contracts—the diagnosis is aided by this phenomenon. Sometimes other valves of the heart are also involved. The chief danger, however, is not the involvement of the valves of the heart but the damage to the muscle of the heart which regularly occurs in all cases of rheumatic heart disease. This weakens the muscle of the heart to that it can become dilated.

The outlook for the future of the child with this type of heart disease is not bright unless the condition is detected and controlled early. Some die within a few years; others suffer repeated infections with damage to the heart. Many of the patients are so badly incapacitated that they have to go, when circumstances allow, to a special school for children with heart disease. They are taken to and from school in a bus. They have rest periods in school and are not allowed any activities when away from school. They are chronic invalids.

Attempts are being made in institutions all over the world to find out the cause and methods of prevention of infection.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, August 26

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

ACCORDING to the lunar transits of this day there should be excellent opportunity for forging ahead to desired goals and fulfilled ambitions, with the prospect of those in power and financial standing ready to assist important projects. However, there may be a tendency to reckless, impetuous, passionate and intemperate conduct that might prove a disturbance if not a fatal hindrance. With calmness, some changes in plans or place, and by tact and strategy rather than forcing issues, there may be success. Public contacts and objectives should flourish.

Those whose birthday it is should be able to count on a year of definite success, with promotion, favors and substantial support from those in high places, providing they curb an urge to be rash, impulsive, quarrelsome and generally intemperate and aggravating. Tempest, haste and fury would decisively defeat important objectives, while deliberation, tactfully yielding, well-organized strategy might bring surprising triumphs. Large organizations, public bodies, and some change of plans and details might be factors in fine success. Let finesse rather than force be the keynote for fruitful action.

A child born on this day should be enterprising and ambitious, bent on attaining high goals and eminent position but unrestrained, impetuous and strenuous behavior might nullify very lucky prospects.

I THOUGHT MY TENNIS DRESS WAS WHITE...TILL I SAW YOUR RINSO-WASHED PLAYSUIT

Rinso
A Lever product

You'll wonder why you were satisfied with anything else when you see RINSO-whiteness

JUST wait till you see the gorgeous whiteness of clothes washed in Rinso next to the results you've been getting from other ways of washing. Whatever your washing experience, the difference will astonish you. Rinso does more than give a whiter wash . . . it gives the whitest wash. Rinso's grand thick suds soak the dirt out of clothes. You don't have to rub and scrub. Try Rinso your very next washday. For extra economy, get the GIANT package.

Rinso gives the whitest wash—

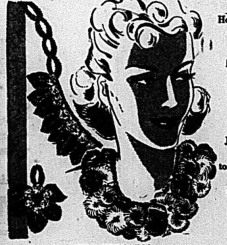
JAPANESE BANKS TO CLOSE

Tokyo, Aug 25—(AP)—The National City Bank announced today it would close branches at Kobe and Yokohama at the end of September because freezing orders had reduced business. Since the Osaka branch was closed some months ago, the bank will have only one office in the Japanese empire.

Bela Lugosi who presents his most terrifying character role in "The Invisible Ghost," now playing at the McCarthy Theatre in addition to "Pride and Prejudice," co-starring Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier.

Highlighting the gasps, laughs and thrills of the new mystery story, "Scotland Yard," is the romance between John Loder and Nancy Kelly. Loder has a dual role as Sir John Lasher and Dakin Barolles, gentleman crook, who impersonates him. The picture opens next at the Belle Theatre, with Ann Sothern in "Ringside Maisie," as the added feature attraction.

A Beginner Could Make Them All



COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

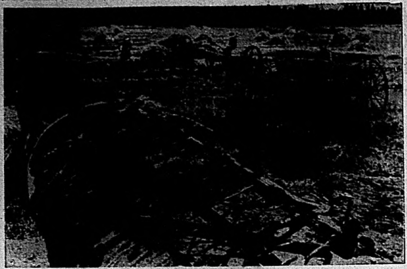
Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Jewelry Fun to Crochet in Bright Gimp and Wool

PATTERN 6968

Make your clothes distinctive with this inexpensive, easily crocheted jewelry in gimp or wool. The pom-pon necklace has a matching bracelet, too. Pattern 6968 contains directions for making jewelry; illustrations of it and stitches; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

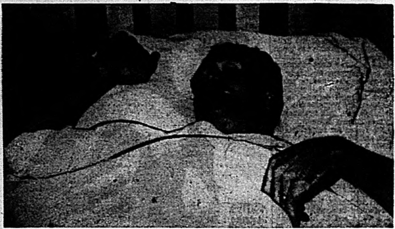


RUSSIAN HARVEST GOES ON DESPITE WAR

A picture sent by radio to New York from Moscow showing (in foreground) the charred remnants of a Nazi bombing plane after it had been brought down. Unperturbed by this sign of war "in their backyard" the peasants shown calmly go about their harvesting.

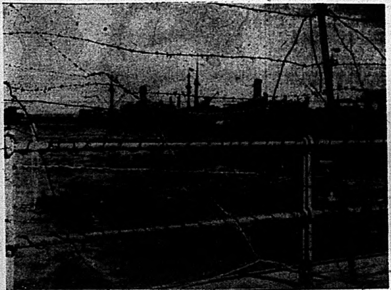
BIG ZEKE GIVES POINTERS TO TROOPS

Big Zeke Bonura, LEFT, former big leaguer, who took plenty of razzing in his day, happily dishes some out at the reception centre in Camp Shelby, Miss., where Zeke is now one of Uncle Sam's soldiers. He's assistant director of the centre and says he's so happy "I'm not sure I want to get out."



RESTING COMFORTABLY

Terry Moore, St. Louis Cardinals' centrefielder, shown resting comfortably at St. Elizabeth's hospital. Moore was knocked unconscious at home plate after being hit on the head by an Art Johnson fast ball that "sailed" in the third inning of the first game of a double-header at Braves' field, Boston.



SINGAPORE'S HARBOR PRESENTS WAR-LIKE APPEARANCE

With the strategic naval base of Singapore bristling with fighting men being poured in daily from Australia, the famous Malayan city presents this warlike appearance of the waterfront. Barbed wire frames the busy harbor in the background. Britain seems prepared for any danger from Japanese forces now entrenched in Indo-China.

8 LIVES LOST OVER WEEKEND

Traffic Takes Toll of Five in Ontario

(By the Canadian Press)

Traffic accidents were the predominant cause of week-end fatalities in Ontario as a toll of eight deaths was reported. Five of the fatalities occurred in Toronto.

Mrs. Anna Mallard, 26, of Toronto, suffered fatal injuries Saturday when her car was crushed between a heavy truck and a street car.

Reginald Woodcock, five, was killed Saturday when he fell under the wheels of a street car in Toronto and the same day seven-year-old Jean Buchan, of Toronto, was killed when she was struck by a truck.

Edward H. McDonald, 38, was killed Saturday night on the highway east of Toronto when he fell under the wheels of an automobile.

The fifth Toronto fatality was recorded when David Shapiro, 57, of Montreal, drowned in Lake Ontario off Centre Island Sunday.

At Sudbury, Lucien Rheaume, 25-year-old miner from Larchwood, Ont., was killed when he was struck on the head by a drill he was repairing in the Levack Mine, Saturday.

Two other fatalities, each with a two-year-old victim, occurred Saturday in Western Ontario. Edward Allen drowned when he fell into a rain barrel at his home in London and Robert James Findley of Windsor, was struck by an automobile near his home.

DIVER SEEKS PANUCO DEAD

A diver descends into the flooded hold of the freighter Panuco in a grim search for victims of the $2,000,000 fire on the Brooklyn, N.Y., waterfront. With a number of longshoremen and sailors still missing, it is feared the death toll may come to 27. The fire started aboard the Panuco, which now lies beached on the Red Hook flats.

TIME OUT FOR REFRESHMENTS

An R.A.F. balloon section somewhere in England enjoy refreshments brought to them by a mobile canteen.

VISIT ENDS SOCIETY FEUD

Gloria Vanderbilt, society's junior glamour girl, pays a cab driver before entering the New York home of her ailing grandmother, Mrs. Laura Morgan. The visit indicated the end of a bitter quarrel between Mrs. Morgan and Gloria's mother, Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, which became public when Mrs. Morgan testified that her daughter was unfit to have custody of Gloria. The girl and her mother flew east from Hollywood.

DUKE AND LIEUTENANT - GOVERNOR AT C.N.E. OPENING

The Duke of Kent is pictured on the main band shell of the Canadian National Exhibition chatting with Ontario's Lieutenant Governor Matthews as the Duke officiated at the formal opening of the Canadian National Exhibition.

PRESIDENT'S SON IN LONDON

Captain Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, viewing London from a rooftop with Major D. W. Hutchinson, LEFT, of the U.S. Army Air Force now in London on observation duty. Elliott came to London from the midatlantic conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

TERRY MOORE BEANED IN GAME WITH BRAVES

Terry Moore, star centrefielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, was struck unconscious at the plate by a pitched ball from Lefty Art Johnson. This scene took place as Moore was administered to, with Johnson of Boston standing second from the left.

Wyatt's Game-Winning Single Provides the Greatest Thrill As Dodgers and Cards Split

Brooklyn Maintains Game and Half Lead Over the Cardinals

REDS WIN TWO

(By Judson Bailey)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Long after this season is over and the stirring struggle of St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant has been settled, one thrill will remain memorable for 31,000 base ball fans.

For the fanatics packed into Ebbets Field at yesterday's crucial doubleheader between the foremost rivals of the Senior circuit the season reached a high point, when Whitlow Wyatt singled in the ninth inning to snatch a 3-2 victory away from an encroaching darkness and save Brooklyn's game and a half lead over the Cardinals, who had swept majestically to a 8-3 triumph in the first encounter.

It was a finish lifted right out of a scenario. The teams were playing for big stakes and the St. Louis victory in the opener had cut the Dodgers' lead to half a game temporarily. Wyatt, a grand veteran, was wrapped in a breathless pitching duel with 20-year-old Howard Pollet.

Pee Wee Reese laid a perfect bunt down the third baseline for a single. Mickey Owen sacrificed.

Let Pitcher Hit

Then Manager Leo Durocher came trotting in from the coaching box and put his arm around Wyatt. The fans expected a pinchhitter. Instead Durocher let Wyatt bat for himself. The conference, he said later, was just to tell Wyatt to wait for a curve ball.

The curve came on the first pitch and Wyatt, who swings the heaviest bat on the Brooklyn Club, met it squarely. It was a single that shot straight into centre and it won the ball game.

This, Wyatt's 17th victory was the one that counted the most. It put the Dodgers back in a commanding position for the rest of this series, a game today and another tomorrow.

Needed Both Games

The Cards hammered out a dozen hits, including seven doubles, in winning the first game. They did everything right and Ernie White, their southpaw star, pitched steady nine-hit ball for his 16th victory. They showed they were a dangerous, capable crew in clubbing Kirby Higbe off the scene in less than three innings. But they needed both games badly.

Cincinnati Reds, coming fast but probably too late, gained a game on both the leaders by trouncing New York Giants 13-9 and 6-4. Supposedly a weak-hitting club, they made 33 hits in the two games.

The flying Phillies cut down Chicago Cubs twice, 8-5 and 7-6, while Pittsburgh Pirates split with Boston Braves. Boston took the 12-inning opener 4-3 and Pittsburgh the nightcap 7-3 in six stanzas.

Yanks Still the Boss

New York Yankees showed any doubtful American leaguers that they still are boss by swamping the second-place Chicago White Sox 5-1 and 8-5.

St. Louis Browns put Washington Senators through a 4-1 10-inning wringer to bounce from the cellar into sixth place as rain postponed the second game of their scheduled doubleheader.

Al Benton pitched Detroit Tigers to a 7-4 decision over Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians downed Boston Red Sox in a double bill 4-3 and 5-2.

Sports Roundup

(By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Well, the Yankees are in. . . Joe McCarthy, who usually is the last to admit it, came out in the open Saturday when he benched a couple of regulars with the explanation: "They won the pennant and so are entitled to a short layoff". . . Looks as if the National will keep going, as usual, right to the last minute . . . Wonder what Larry (the other Lip) Macphail thinks now of his failure to include Dixie Walker and Whitt Wyatt among the guys who are responsible for keeping the Brooks on top . . . Lot of the other clubs are busier guessing how many guys, including managers, will have their jobs next year than they are playing ball games . . . Word from Detroit is that there'll be plenty of axe work on the salary list if the Tigers don't make the first division . . .

Rhymed Sports Review:
Jones' boys versus Ryder Cuppers made golf fans go without their suppers . . . Twelve thousand of 'em raised a din to see their hero, Bobby, win . . . Cards and Dodgers split a pair with pennant fever in the air. . . .Louis-Nova fight set back when Joe got off the training track. . . .Derby goes to Whirlaway and forty-five grand isn't hay . . . Ward should cop the amateur, but golfing experts aren't too sure . . .Kramer-Schroeder win in doubles; at Forest Hills they will have their troubles. . . .And that is all the news there is, so let us stop this money biz.

Michael Kynott, golfing principal of Brookings (S.D.) high school, has trained his cocker spaniel to retrieve lost golf balls . . . . In three hours one day she found 150 of them. . . .

NO HITTER—ALMOST

Harold Reese, Whitlow Wyatt

Whitlow Wyatt, ace of the Brooklyn Dodgers' mound staff, is pictured getting both congratulations and condolences from Shortstop Harold "Pee Wee" Reese after hurling a near-perfect game against the Boston Braves.. Wyatt retired the first 25 men in order but Phil Masi of the Braves collected a single with one out in the ninth.

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	89	49	.645
Montreal	83	56	.597
Buffalo	79	60	.568
Rochester	75	65	.536
Jersey City	66	68	.493
Syracuse	63	74	.460
Baltimore	51	83	.381
Toronto	45	96	.319

Sunday Results.
Baltimore 8-3; Toronto 3-0.
Rochester 9-8; Buffalo 2-3.
Newark 4-4; Jersey City 0-2.
Montreal 2; Syracuse 0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	78	43	.645
St. Louis	76	44	.633
Cincinnati	68	50	.576
Pittsburgh	64	55	.538
New York	57	61	.483
Chicago	52	70	.426
Boston	48	71	.403
Philadelphia	35	84	.294

Sunday Results.
Cincinnati 13-6; New York 9-4.
Philadelphia 8-7; Chicago 5-6.
St. Louis 7-2; Brooklyn 3-3.
Boston 4x3; Pittsburgh 3-7.
x—Called end of 6th—State law.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	84	43	.661
Chicago	66	59	.528
Cleveland	63	57	.525
Boston	63	61	.508
Detroit	58	66	.466
St. Louis	53	68	.438
Philadelphia	53	69	.434
Washington	50	68	.424

Sunday Results.
New York 5-8; Chicago 1-5.
Cleveland 4-5; Boston 3-2.
Detroit 7; Philadelphia 4.
xSt. Louis 4; Washington 3.
x—10 innings; second game postponed—rain.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Sunday
Louisville 9-4; Kansas City 11-7.
Toledo 4-0; Minneapolis 2-5.
Columbus 21-8; St. Paul 4-1.
Indianapolis 7-12; Milwaukee 8-9.

CANAM SUNDAY
Amsterdam 0-0; Three Rivers 5-3.
Rome 1-1; Quebec 2-9.
Oneonta 3-9; Utica 1-7.
Pittsfield 5; Gloversville 6.
Saturday
Oneonta 5-8; Utica 2-1.
Pittsfield 8-11; Gloversville 3-7.
Rome 3; Quebec 4.

Shots Now Count In Amateur Open

(By L. E. SKELLEY)

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 25 (AP)—They got down to shots that count in the United States National Amateur Golf Tournament at the Field Club today.

With 145 sharpshooters entered in the first 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying test, there were many and varied opinions concerning the number of strokes it would take to ear one of the 64 match play positions and, looking beyond the qualifying stage, there were equally as many choices for the eventual settlement of the championship come next Saturday.

Charles (Chick) Evans, 51-year-old Chicagoan who has won more matches in National amateur competition than any other player, chose Johnny Goodman, the stocky native son who won the tournament in 1937.

Discussig qualifying play, Evans, U.S. champion in 1916 and 1920, declared he thought a 160 score would do the trick.

The qualifying line broke at 155 last year when Dick Chapman, playing his own course, won medalist honors with 140 and swept through the title field to an 11 and 9 victory over W. R. (Duff) McCullough of Philadelphia in the championship match.

Rated along with Goodman and chapman by most of the sideline selectors were Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., the 1939 title winner; Ray Billows, the New York salesman who won the Great Lakes invitation tournament last week, and Harry Todd, the lanky Texas shooter,

PLAYOFF BERTHS NOW DECIDED IN INT. LEAGUE

League Will be Hard Pressed to Keep Fans Interested

TWO WEEKS TO GO

(By The Associated Press)

The International Baseball League ends its 58th season in two weeks and from the way thinks look now the eight clubs will be hard pressed to keep the fans interested until the Governor's Cup playoffs start.

As a result of Sunday's games, there's no longer any contest to speak of for any position. Closest together are Montreal Royals and Buffalo Bisons, second and third in the standings. Montreal gained a four-game bulge yesterday by whipping Syracuse Chiefs 2-0 while the Bisons were losing a doubleheader to Rochester 9-2 and 8-3. At the same time, Newark's league leaders knocked off Jersey City twice, 4-0 and 4-2 so that the Bears won't have to do much more than play out the season in order to cop the pennant. The Jerseys have only an outside chance to break into the playoffs.

Even the cellar championship was virtually settled when the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles bowled over Toronto twice, 8-3 and 3-0, to go 9 1-2 games up on the Leafs with 20 to play.

Smart Hurling Seen

With so much at stake yesterday, the pitchers chalked up two four-hit and two five-hit performances.

Tommy Byrne, young Newark southpaw, registered his third shutout when he stopped Jersey City with five hits in the opener. His mates rapped Rube Fischer for 11 hits, including Ziggy Sears' 16th homer, and all their runs in six innings. Johnny Lindell followed up with a four-hit job for his 21st mound triumph and wasn't scored on until the last inning.

Hank Gornicki's five-hitter for Rochester was supported by a 14-hit attack with three blows, an error and a double steal producing five runs in the third. Max Surkont couldn't last in the nightcap but after the Bisons had tied the score, Rochester bunched four hits off Jim Trexler for three clinching runs in the third.

Montreal's Wes Flowers was touched for nine blows but achieved a shutout while the Royals bunched three hits and an error in the third for their only runs off John Whitehead.

Young Ray Flanigan of Baltimore turned in the day's other four-hit feat and yielded only one walk. That followed a near-whitewashing by Elmer Burkart who held Toronto scoreless until one was out in the ninth and then allowed five hits. Tom Hafey hit two home runs in the opener and Hal Sieling contributed one in the nightcap.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

Whit Wyatt, Dodgers — Pitched and batted 3-2 victory over St. Louis in second game of crucial doubleheader after Cards had won the first.

Harry Craft, Reds—Crashed two homers and drove across six scores as Reds swept bargain bill with Giants.

Bob Klinger, Pirates — Pitched his eight straight victory in nightcap as Pirates split with Braves.

Danny Litwhiler, Phillies — His five hits, including two homers, drove five runs in double victory over Cubs.

Charley Keller, Yankees — Burst from protracted slump to blast six hits, two of them home runs, and spark double victory over runner-up White Sox.

Al Smith and Al Milnar, Indians —Two lefties pitched Indians victories over Boston.

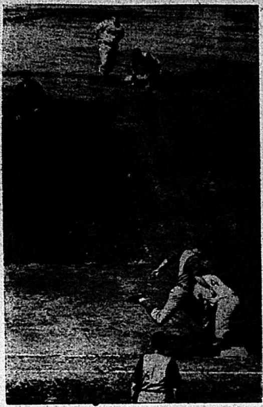
Bob Swift and Walt Judnich, Browns—Pulled successful squeeze play in 10th inning to beat Washington.

Al Benton, Tigers—Pitched his ninth victory over the Athletics.

STATION OPERATOR NOT AFRAID

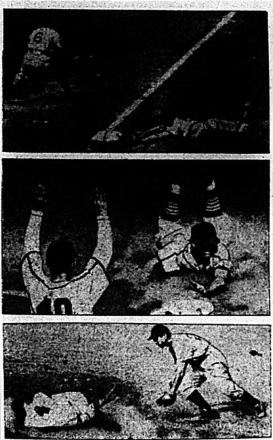
Monticello, N.Y., Aug. 25—(AP) —Two men threatened station operator Isadore Grenwald with a rifle when he refused to sell them gas. Undaunted, Greenwald seized the gun. Examination proved it unloaded. "You shouldn't do things like that," warned Greenwald, "here, take your gun and go." They went.

PROFESSIONAL
WRESTLING-HUME ARENA-TONIGHT
Featuring EARL McCREADY (B. E. Champ.)
POPULAR PRICES.



TWO CUBS CAGED

Catcher Clyde McCullough of the Chicago Cubs hits into a double play in the second inning of the game between the Cubs and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn. He grounded to Shortstop Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, not shown, who threw to Second Baseman Billy Herman to get First Baseman Babe Dahlgren. McCullough is out at first as Dolf Camilli takes Herman's toss.



CARDS ARE DARBS AT SLIDING

Here are three reasons why the St. Louis Cardinals have remained in the thick of the pennant fight. Base running is one of their strongest weapons, and many of the extra bases they've chalked up have been achieved by good old belly-buster slides. TOP, Jimmy Brown reaches for third in game with Pirates; CENTRE, Johnny Hopp dives into third, despite "Stop" sign from Manager Billy Southworth in game with Giants; BOTTOM, Martin Marion coasts into second on shoulder to elude Eddie Miller of Bees.

KINGSTON WINS OVER CANADIENS IN THE ELEVENTH

Double by Elliott, a Single and Long Fly Scores Lone Run

HULL B. AND B. WINS

By The Canadian Press

The Interprovincial Baseball League swung into the semi-final round of its first playoffs Sunday with a doubleheader at Decosse Stadium in Hull.

In the first game the pennant-winning Hull B and B team, last year's Quebec champions, defeated Hull Volants, fourth in the league standings by an 11-8 score although Volants outhit them 19-13.

The second game went 10 scoreless innings before Kingston Ponies, second in the final standings, pushed across a lone run in their half of the 11th to defeat Ottawa Royal Canadiens, third-place finishers.

Royal Canadiens journey to Kingston next Saturday for the second game of their series with Ponies and on Sunday B and B and Volants hook up in Hull in their second game. Both series are on a best-of-three basis.

Ponies' run in the 11th inning of their game against Royal Canadiens broke up a tight hurling duel between Royal Canadiens' Bil Jelly and Kingston's 18-year-old Arnie Jarrels.

Catcher Bob Elliott smashed a long double to deep left field and advanced to third on Justin Sullivan's single. Joe Lay, next at bat for Kingston, drove a long foul fly to left field and Elliott came home after the catch to give Kingston the game.

B and B and Volants were tied seven-all going into B and B's half of the seventh. Fournier, in centre field for Volants dropped a fly ball with the bases loaded and B and B scored one run. Pitcher Wally Driscoll of B and B then smashed out a long single to score two more runs.

Charlie LeSage, B and B third baseman, clinched the verdict in the eighth with a 360-foot home run with none on.

Winning pitcher Wally Driscoll, who came to the rescue of Dominic (Lefty) Barbaro, helped along his own cause by driving in four runs.

League President Gene Decosse announced Saturday in Hull that the interprovincial champions and meet the champions of the Arco League in Montreal for the Quebec championship.

McCready Must Eliminate Williams For Title Shot

Tonight's wrestling program at the Arena shapes up as one of the best with big Earl McCready, the heavyweight champion of the British Empire out to subdue the rough and rugged Cy Williams of Florida. This main bout is a most important match for champion McCready as the big Reginan is currently pointing towards a world championship bout and he must definitely wipe the turbulent Cy Williams out of his path Monday. The "Talahassee Terror" (Williams) however, has had little regard for reputations in the past and he is expected to give McCready a very rough ride before a decision is reached. The big blond menace from Florida likes the going rough, and when thoroughly roused can display about the most dangerous streak of ill-tempered wrestling in the game.

Big Earl McCready, however, has been flattening heavyweights all over the world and in his 6 years sojourning has met the best in almost every country and claims he has a special treat in store for the turbulent Williams.

The semi-final bout is one that should rouse Belleville fans to the peak of excitement for their well-known strong men, Al Dunlop has been matched with "The Mysterious Masked Wolf." Dunlop, who is reputed to be one of the strongest men in Canada is aware that this is his big opportunity to gain continent-wide attention and he is determined to beat the Wolf or if unable to do so, at least to unmask him. If he succeeds Dunlop will show the fans for the first time anywhere the face which has intrigued close to a million sport followers.

AWAITING THEIR TURN

Pauline Betz Los Angeles, LEFT, and Dorothy Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal., RIGHT, await their turn at the Longwood Cricket Club where they met Louise Brough and Helen Bernhard in the quarter-finals of the U.S. national tennis doubles.

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By the Associated Press)

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting—Williams, Boston, .404.
Runs—DiMaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in—DiMaggio, New York, 112.
Hits—Travis, Washington, 173.
Doubles — DiMaggio, New York, 38.
Triples—Travis, Washington, 14.
Home runs — Keller, New York, 32.
Stolen bases—Case, Washington and Kuhel, Chicago, 19.
Pitching—(Based on 15 decisions) Gomez, New York, 12-4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

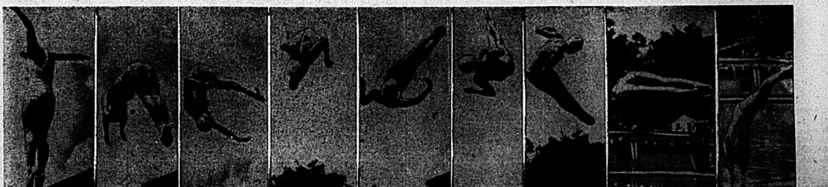
Batting — Etten, Philadelphia, .334.
Runs—Hack, Chicago, 91.
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 90.
Hits—Litwhiler, Philadelphia, 152
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 35.
Triples—Hopp and Slaughter, St. Louis, Reiser, Brooklyn and Elliott, Pittsburgh, 9.
Home runs—Camilli, Brooklyn, 25
Stolen bases—Frey, Cincinnati, 15
Pitching—(Based on 15 decisions) Riddle, Cincinnati, 15-2.

SPEEDERS ARRESTED

Miami, Fla., Aug. 25 — (AP)— Scores of speders were arrested by Miami police today in an effort to force motorists into a slower pace and thus save gasoline Severe gasoline rationing is feared as a possible serious blow to winter tourist travel and half the gasoline stations here suspended business for the week-end.

TWINS BORN ON ROAD

Klamath Falls, Ore., Aug. 25— (AP) — L. L. Coon and his wife raced down the road Aug 21, 1940. A son was born before they reached the hospital. Coon and his wife raced down the road Aug. 21, 1941. Yes the stork won again. Another son.



HERE ARE NINE REASONS WHY HELEN IS A DIVING CHAMP

The nine frames of the magic eye camera, in analyzing the diving form of Helen Crelenkovtich, give, in effect, nine reasons why she is American platform and three-metre diving champ. This one-and-one-half dive—with a twist—was executed at the national A.A.U. women's swimming championships at High Point, N. C. Notice the surety with which she turns and twists during the short space allotted to her in mid-air before the law of gravity claims her. Having completed the intricate convolutions, she cuts the water clean and straight.

THIS PAGE IS FULL OF OPPORTUNITIES

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per Insertion 30c
Two Insertions 60c
Three Insertions 75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication.
Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS
REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL
17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE
Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J. 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE", 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist, Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 229 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900. Lady attendant.

H. E. and VERA B. PITCHER, Su.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville. Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.
SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE
243½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE
General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass
278 Front St. Phone 1134W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

Walt Disney's
THE RELUCTANT DRAGON
with Robert Benchley
3.10 — 7.40 — 9.45

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE
Greer Garson, Laurence Olivier
2.45 — 8.30

THE INVISIBLE GHOST
Bela Lugosi
4.45 — 7.30 — 10.40

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

SHINING VICTORY
James Stephenson, Geraldine Fitzgerald
7.20 — 10.00

SHE COULDN'T SAY NO
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

WANTED

AN EXPERIENCED MIDDLE AGED woman or girl for housework; capable of taking full charge. Must have reference. Highest wages paid to suitable party. Apply 23 Bridge St. W. A25-3t

MAN WITH EXPERIENCE AS hotel porter. Apply Hotel Belvedere. A25-6t

FOUR OR FIVE ROOMED HOUSE or apartment by September 1, by couple; no children. Phone 1733. A25-3t

BOY FOR GLOBE AND MAIL route. West Hill. A25

AN HONEST, INDUSTRIOUS BOY to learn trade. Apply Millard Dental Lab., 271½ Front St. A25-2t

GIRL FOR GROCERY STORE, honest and reliable, good reference. State wages expected. Phone 2059W. A25

WANTED, A GIRL WITH SOME experience at light housekeeping. Apply 65 Grier St. A25-3t

RELIABLE MAN FOR NIGHT Porter at Crystal Hotel. A25-3t

HOUSEKEEPER TO TAKE FULL charge of home. 3 adults. No objection to child. C. H. Palmer, Consecon. A25-6t

RELIABLE MIDDLE AGED MAN to clean up around hotel. Apply Docter's Hotel. A23-2t

GIRL WANTED AT ONCE. APply in person only. Do not phone. Dickens & Son. A23-2t

YOUNG MAN, NEAT APPEARance, for retail store. Give particulars in letter to Box 9, Ontario Intelligencer. A23-2t

4 OR 5 ROOM HEATED APARTment, permanent tenants, or furnished bed sitting room with kitchenette. Write Box 35, Ontario Intelligencer. A23-3t

GIRL FOR PRESS HAND. APply Box 54, Ontario Intelligencer. A22-3t

TO RENT — A LARGE HOUSE, vicinity of C.N.R. Station, by Sept. 1. Phone 1068W. A22-3t

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A13-12t

LOST

AT THE ARMY AND NAVY VETerans' Hall, a Wrist Watch. Reward of $15 will be given if left at Ontario Intelligencer office. A25-3t

AUCTION SALE

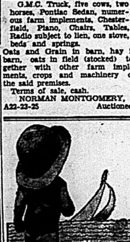
Pursuant to the powers contained in a certain chattel mortgage, there will be sold by public auction at the residence of JOHN McCULLOUGH, SECOND CONCESSION OF SIDNEY, commencing at 1.30 p.m. Standard Time, on WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27th., 1941, the following goods, chattels and effects:

G.M.C. Truck, five cows, two horses, Pontiac Sedan, numerous farm implements, Chesterfield, Piano, Chairs, Tables, Radio subject to lien, one stove, beds and springs.

Oats and Grain in barn, hay in barn, oats in field (stocked) together with other farm implements, crops and machinery on the said premises.

Terms of sale, cash.

NORMAN MONTGOMERY,
A22-23-25 Auctioneer.



CHECK YOUR DAILY NEWSPAPER FOR HOT WEATHER NEEDS

Hot Weather Needs

ARE NOW BEING FEATURED BY BELLEVILLE STORES.

Watch the Advertising Columns for Advertised Specials.

EACH AD ON IT OFFERS A VALUE

READ THEM THOROUGHLY TONIGHT.

FOR SALE

GOVERNMENT TESTED DAWson's Golden Chaff Wheat; free from weeds, $1.15 per bushel. Gordon Snider, Melrose. A25-3t

ELEVEN PIGS, SIX WEEKS OLD. Sidney Parks, R. 7, Belleville - Picton Highway. A25

OR RENT, FARM 120 ACRES, 3rd. Con. Thurlow, Lot 19; all good land; never failing spring; two barns; one extra good house and tenant house. Geo. F. Hamilton, R. 6, Belleville. A25-3t

SEVEN ROOM HOUSE, ALL CONveniences; garage and garden; near C.N.R. Could be made into duplex. 10 Emily. A25-27-29

200 ACRE FARM, 7TH. CON. SIDney; wooded; fair buildings, $4,000. Good location. John Prest, R.R. 2, Holloway. A25-3t

GELDING, THREE YEARS OLD last Spring. Ready to work. Cheap; also lumber wagon. Apply Chas. Dickens, 3rd. Con. Sidney. A25

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGerator, 6 cu. ft. Deluxe Model. Splendid condition, $175 cash. Apply Ford Derry, Foxboro. A22-4t

ONE OUTBOARD MOTOR. APply 7 Grove St. Phone 493. A22-3t

ONE 15 H.P. UPRIGHT BOILER, only used a short time. Apply J. B. Ives. A22-3t

THREE PIECE CHESTERFIELD suite; cabinet radio; mattress, all in good condition. Apply Apt. 3, 287½ Front St. A23-3t

120 ACRES, LOT 15, CONCESSION 4, Tyendinaga; well watered; Hydro and telephone. Apply Mrs. Joseph V. Egan. A23-2t

246 JOHN ST., 7 ROOMED AND 6 roomed two family home. For inspection Phone 1607. A22-3t

CANOE — SIXTEEN FOOT PETerborough, with two paddles, cushions and lazy back. Real bargain. Owner leaving city. 668R. A22-3t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue —Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street, Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

FOR SALE

LEGHORN PULLETS. H. BRENton, Corbyville. Phone 320r5. A25-3t

RADIO, MODERN PORTABLE, operates from house current or batteries, only slightly used. Value over $50 new; cash price $25. Phone 2484. A25

5 ROOM FRAME HOUSE, SMALL barn, Hydro, acre land, 60 ft. frontage on Trent River, near village of Hastings on 45 Highway. Ideal for tourist accommodation. Bargain for $900, or exchange on property in the vicinity of Belleville. Apply Mrs. Ernest Scriver, Hastings, Ont. A25

BUILDING LOT. REASONABLE price. Apply 17 Reid St. A25-3t

TO LET

MODERN 2 OR 3 ROOMED APartment on Trent Road. Phone 72r3. A25-3t

FRONT BEDROOM, BRIGHT, hot water heated, hardwood floors, nicely furnished, private washroom, continuous hot water. Possession immediately. Apply in person to 33 Queen St. A25-3t

THREE ROOM, HEATED UPPER flat; all conveniences; front entrance; garage. No children. Apply Box 82, Ontario Intelligencer. A25-3t

3 OR 4 ROOMS IN COUNTRY, Hydro; country conveniences, next to Bristol Aircraft. Phone 1709W. A25

ONE THREE ROOMED APARTment, unheated. Apply 156 W. Moira. A25-2t

DUPLEX HOUSE, THREE MILES from Mountain View Airport. Apply Mrs. Harry E. Redner. Phone Sprague Line, Ten Ring One. A25

TWO COMPLETELY FURNISHED house keeping rooms, upstairs, outside city limits on Bridge St. East. Phone 15r1-1, before 5 p.m. A25-2t

2 FURNISHED ROOMS. LIGHT and heat. Close to Airport. Apply Mrs. Earle Caughey, Mountain View. A25

100 ACRE FARM, LOT 27, 4TH. concession Thurlow. Hydro; brick house, frame barn. Good outbuildings. O. M. Roblin, Corbyville. A23-3t

FURNISHED BEDROOM, HOT water heating, centrally located. Suitable for gentleman. Phone 1324W. A22-3t

IN CEMETERY NEW BUNGALOW four rooms, bath, electric light, warm, splendid cellar, cistern, pump, garden. Apply A. W. Thomas, Cemetery Supt. A22-3t

1400 FEET STORAGE SPACE. Phone 524W. A22-3t

SPACE FOR TWO CHAIR BARber shop. Rent reasonable. Apply 364 Front St. A22-3t

CARD OF THANKS

Gunner Don Baxter wishes to convey his sincere thanks to all his friends who were so kind during his recent illness and for the many beautiful gifts received. A25

Master Ronnie Hagerman gratefully thanks Dr. Stobie and Nurses McColl and Coulter, who so faithfully attended him through his long illness in Belleville Hospital and to Doctors Empson and Green, and to Hospital Staff; also for flowers, cards and other presents. A25

DEATHS

RION — Suddenly as the result of drowning at Rossmore, on Sunday afternoon, August 24th., 1941, Norman Edison Rion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Rion, Rossmore, in his eighth year.

Resting at the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street, Belleville, until Monday evening, then at the residence of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dermott, 23 Pine Street, from where the funeral will take place on Wednesday. Service in the home at 2 p.m.

Interment Belleville Cemetery.

IF YOU NEED $100 HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $500 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. 24 hour service, or sooner if necessary. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment.

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan
	6 payments	10 payments	12 payments	15 payments
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2½% monthly as authorized by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
Corporation of Canada
Established in Canada 1928
PETERBOROUGH, ONT.
Second Floor, Lansfield Block
177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws
M. E. Hall, Manager Phone 5841

32 Queen St.
Between
WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.
FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fireplaces; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN
(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)
166 Front St. Phone 99

Do You Need Money?

We loan to people in practically all walks of life.

You'll appreciate the friendly, confidential service we give — and remember — only husband and wife sign.

CASH LOAN YOU GET	AMOUNT YOU PAY BACK EACH MONTH Including All Charges
	6 months loan	8 months loan	10 months loan	12 months loan	15 months loan
$ 50	$ 8.93	$ 6.83	$ 5.57	$4.73
100	17.85	13.65	11.13	9.46	$ 7.78
150	26.78	20.48	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	27.30	22.27	18.91	15.57
250	44.63	34.13	27.83	23.64	19.46
300	53.56	40.95	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	54.60	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	68.25	55.66	47.28	38.91

QUINTE FINANCE AND SECURITIES LIMITED
168 Front St. BELLEVILLE Phone 168

AT THE CAPITOL

"Shining Victory"

A truly fine motion picture is the current tenant at the Capitol Theatre, and judging from the reception which it was accorded by last night's audience it is first-rate entertainment. "Shining Victory," written by A. J. Cronin, one of the world's most famed novelists, is a tightly-knit drama with a brand-new theme. James Stephenson, whose performance in "The Letter" brought him such wide acclaim, and Geraldine Fitzgerald, the lovely Irish actress who attained screen celebrity through her roles in "Wuthering Heights" and "Dark Victory," are the stars of the film.

With boldly masterful strokes, author Cronin has fashioned his story around the mysteries of psychiatry, unravelling these mysteries to provide drama which grips the complete attention of its audiences.

Stephenson in the role of the psychiatrist, gives a sterling and intelligent performance that more than justfies his recent promotion to stardom. He proves himself more than capable in carrying the chief role of the drama, and his brilliantly subtle interpretation of the character marks him as one of the screen's truly accomplished actors. Miss Fitzgerald, as his assistant, fulfills all the promise she gave in her earlier performances. She is a beautifully restrained actress, and her characterization is delicately but deeply etched. In the difficult role of the mentally twisted secretary, Barbara O'Neil does a really superb job, and vying with her for top honors in the supporting cast is veteran character actor Donald Crisp. Others who contribute brilliantly to the finely acted film are Montagu Love, Sig Ruman, George P. Huntley, Jr., and many more.

"She Couldn't Say No"

The gay story of how a young, attractive girl-lawyer helped put over her sweetheart-lawyer's law firm, is entertainingly told in Warner Bros. amusing "She Couldn't Say No" now at the Capitol Theatre.

In the leading roles are an attractive twosome — Roger Pryor, popular actor-band leader and Eve Arden, witty and charming, who Hollywood picked from her Broadway success in "Two For The Show" to appear in such films as "Stage Door," "No, No Nannette" and "Comrade X." In support of Pryor and Miss Arden are Cliff "Ukelele Ike" Edwards, and other talented character players.

The same program includes an interesting short subject, "Going Places."

AT THE McCARTHY

"Pride and Prejudice"

When the famous Dionne quintuplets grow up to be young ladies of marriageable age finding proper husbands for them is going to be something of a problem, as any father and mother who have growing daughters of their own can tell you. But this isn't a problem of today alone. It was just as difficult to find suitable husbands a hundred years ago, as is amusingly revealed in the picturization of Jane Austen's romantic comedy, "Pride and Prejudice," starring Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier, now playing at the McCarthy Theatre.

This is the hilarious story of the five unwedded Bennett daughters, not quintuplets, but just as charming, who lived in a small English village. They were the despair of their fluttery mother who set her cap for every young man who came to town. The daughters are, Miss Garson as Elizabeth; Maureen O'Sullivan as Jane; Ann Rutherford as Lydia; Marsha Hunt as Mary, and Heather Angel as Kitty. It is hard to believe that five such lovely girls couldn't find husbands, but remember that they lived in the country where bachelors were rare prizes.

The complications and the laughs begin when two aristocratic and wealthy bachelors arrive in town for a visit. One is the proud and arrogant Bruce Lester. Elizabeth is prejudiced against Darcy's pride from the moment she sets eyes on him. Bingley immediately falls in love with Jane. And Darcy soon finds himself in love with Elizabeth but can't stand her family, especially Mrs. Bennett, whose meddling breaks up both romances. Mrs. Bennett is played by Mary Boland and is a laugh riot in the film.

Just when it looks like the romances are on the rocks for good, Lydia, the flirt, runs off with an adventurer. The Bennetts are about to be disgraced. But Darcy, coming to the realization that he loves Elizabeth even more than family pride, comes to the rescue and saves Lydia and the Bennetts from a terrible scandal. All of the lovers are happily reunited and in the end the five Bennett girls get the right husbands.

In one of the finest casts ever assembled, brilliant comedy portrayals are given by Edmund Gwenn and Miss Boland as Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, inimitable Edna May Oliver as the crotchety dowager, Lady Catherine de Bourgh, and Melville Cooper as her stuffy librarian. Also well cast are Frieda Inescort as Miss Bingley, Karen Morley as Charlotte and Edward Ashley as Wickham.

The picture was brought to the screen by Hunt Stromberg, who with Director Robert Z. Leonard has given the screen such hits as "The Great Ziegfeld" and "Maytime." "Pride and Prejudice" is a happy combination of amusing story, brilliant cast and pictorial backgrounds, and is one of the fines comedies for the entire family to ever come to the screen.

Greer Garson, Ann Rutherford, Marsha Hunt, Heather Angel and Maureen O'Sullivan, the five principals featured with Laurence Olivier in the delightful comedy "Pride and Prejudice," now at the McCarthy Theatre in additional to Bela Lugosi in "The Invisible Ghost."

"The Invisible Ghost"

Surrounded by an excellent cast and in a thrill-laden story, Bela Lugosi in "The Invisible Ghost" also is now showing at the McCarthy as the companion feature attraction. Latest McCarthy-Fox News events in pictures, also, round out a program of top merit. The "Glasbake" ovenware piece this week is the Custard cup and coupons for one of the largest pieces to the complete set, which follows next week. Secure your coupon, otherwise the following piece cannot be presented to you.

AT THE BELLE

"The Reluctant Dragon"
"Disney's Many Firsts."
"Disney's Many Firsts."

Walt Disney produced the first sound cartoon the first technicolor cartoon the first full-length animated cartoon the first animated concert and now, in his new full-length RKO Radio release, "The Reluctant Dragon" he establishes a new type of comedy in which "live action" and cartoon are blended skilfully to produce one hilarious unit of entertainment, Walt, himself, Robert Benchley, pretty Frances Gifford, scores of beautiful girls and colorful Disney artists, join forces with some of the zaniest animated characters ever brought to the screen. The feature production at the Belle theatre tonight.

Four excellent shorts — The Belle latest world news events, a thrilling and interesting "Crime Does Not Pay" story, "Forbidden Passage" an entertaining sportscope and a new "Information Please" film with Wendell L. Willkie as guest star completes the program.

"Ringside Maisie," Funny.

Heralded as the most interesting Maisie film to date, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Ringside Maisie" starring Ann Southern, is scheduled to open at the Belle theatre.

Since the inception of this character, the blond, Brooklyn chorus girl, as portrayed by Miss Southern, has rapidly become one of the screen's most popular characters. She p[illegible]ses to add to her fan following in this newest series of adventures. An excellent cast has been gathered in support of the star. As the manager is George Murphy, who forsakes his singing and dancing roles to play the fight manager. Murphy last appeared for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in "Little Nellie Kelly." Robert Sterling, whose excellent performance in "The "Get-Away" won him a sudden and enthusiastic fan following, is seen as the young fighter, Terry Dolan.

Natalie Thompson, a little theatre discovery, makes her screen debut as Terry's girl friend. Completing the cast are Virginia O'Brien, Margaret Moffat, Maxie Rosenbloom, Jack LaRue, "Rags" Ragland, Oscar O'Shea, John Indrisano and Roy Lester.

"Scotland Yard," Exciting.

When a notorious gentleman burglar goes in for stealing a face that belongs to a missing banker, he finds that the banker's wife has a fatal fascination for him. The bank itself is quite a tempation, and the brain-whirling international intrigue that accompanies it is almost more than he can handle — and it makes for gasps, laughs and thrills.

It happens in "Scotland Yard," the latest streamlined mystery from 20th Century-Fox which features Nancy Kelly, Edmund Gwenn and John Loder and is announced as the added feature attraction.

Preview reports claim Nancy Kelly looking more beautiful than ever, gives her best portrayal to date as Lady Lasher, while Edmund Gwenn is superb as the tenacious little inspector. Handsome John Loder is said to do a grand job of his difficult "dual" role.

Also featured in the strong supporting cast with Wilcoxon are Melville Cooper, Gilbert Emery, Norma Verden and Leyland Hodgson.

Quality in Printing

There is no commodity you buy that shows lack of quality more than poor printing.

YOUR GREATEST ASSURANCE OF CRAFTSMANSHIP IS THE HALLMARK.

PHONE 99.

Ontario Intelligencer Print

Dazzling Promise

By
KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER NINETEEN .....

A New Life

Sunshine came out in a flaming burst of glory and touched everything within reach. Downtown, the imposing marts of trade cast long shadows which shut out the sun and made cool canyons of the busy streets. There was a feeling of spring in the air, giving new elasticity to many a laggard step and brightening eyes to appreciation of stylish new merchandise displayed enticingly in countless store windows.

Dona went resolutely along Broadway, her blond hair lovely against the brim of her little white hat, her slim figure in the blue suit moving with the unconscious grace of a fawn.

Many a head turned in her direction and many a face lighted in swift admiration as she hurried by. But she did not notice. She was feeling warm and brave inside now, hugging an inner assurance she had not known she possessed. What did it matter if love faded out of her life? Couldn't love scars be healed by time? She had a duty to perform. This was her role now. She had made a grave mistake when she married Tug Nash, but she would stick to her promise. If she failed this husband of hers now, it would forever haunt her. Perhaps not one woman in a thousand would feel responsible for such a man, but unfortunately she did. She had promised to care for him "in sickness and in health" and perhaps if she had insisted upon being with him "in health" there would have been no illness.

Through her head were whirling many plans.

"First, I must make a go of the radio shop," she decided. "Pay the bills—and keep Tug in the hospital until he's well. I can't go back to the Platts and be halfway civil to Bob after this. Besides—my money is invested in Tug's business. I'll have to work like a Trojan and try to make a go of it."

Her blue suede shoes seemed to be trying to keep pace now with the high tide of commercialism swirling about her. But her eyes shied hastily away from red satin, heart-shaped boxes in candy store windows, from lace-frilled valentines in dime store windows and florists' exhibits of crimson blooms, all bait for glowing lovers.

She wondered how many other women hustling along these streets were hugging broken romances and could do nothing but defy them. She wondered why life must have so much tragedy and pathos mixed with its beauty and joy; she wondered how, in so short a time, she had managed to make such a complete failure of her own life.

At last she came to a side street in a less congested business district. She walked slower now, reading numbers over entrance doors as she searched for the Nash Radio Shop.

She finally came to a store in front of which a man was standing on a ladder, taking down a sign. On it was printed "Nash Radio Shop."

Dona stopped aghast. She stared up at the man in grim unbelief.

She demanded sharply, "Why are you taking down that sign?"

The man barelly gave her a glance but he answered readily enough.

"There's a bakery going in here, Miss, that's why."

"But it's—" She paused on a wave of hopelessness.

She took a step nearer the shop's entrance and glanced through the dusty plate-glass windows.

She was looking into a vacant showroom! The Nash shop was no more! What had happened?

She knew well enough. Tug had never tried to build a business. He had spent the money she sent him, right and left. He had finally gotten so far in debt that he was buried beneath the load of it. The business had gone up in smoke—and Tug had been ready to go on to greener fields. With this in mind, he had sent for Bob Platt. He had doubtless planned to let Bob finance whatever new rash scheme he had for making himself a millionaire overnight.

"Oh, what can I do? Must I go on with this?" Dona thought desperately. "When a man refuses to help himself, what can be done?"

Slowly she began retracing her steps to the hotel. She was too exhausted to plan anything constructive now and all will to pretend that she knew her way out of the snarl of circumstances that Tug had flung them both into completely left her.

Within an hour she had reached her hotel room but she never knew exactly how she got there.

A sheet of paper on the dresser caught her eyes as she pulled off her hat.

She eagerly snatched it up. Oh, if it were some word from Tom!

A painful sigh escaped her as she read the typed bill for six week's rent of Tug's hotel room. At the bottom of the page was written, "Please."

So the hotel people already knew that Tug Nash had a wife!

She closed her eyes and let the paper fall to the floor. Just another bill to pay, that's all.

She laughed aloud and lowered her stiff exhausted body to an overstuffed chair. Her head sank to her arms and she broke into hysterical sobs.

By evening, however, nature asserted itself and she was desperately hungry, too hungry to take time to go in search of a moderate-priced restaurant. She decided to treat herself to a substantial dinner here in the hotel dining room. Afterward, she might feel revived enough to go to the hospital to inquire about Tug.

She regretted now that she hadn't brought a complete change of costume, because her blue suit was beginning to look sadly in need of pressing. But it would have to do. She couldn't attend to that now.

Fortunately, she'd brought that extra blouse. She quickly slipped into it now. Its crisp frilly whiteness made her look sweetly girlish and far from the haunting torment that lay so stubbornly against her broken heart. Only her dark-circled eyes and drooping mouth gave a hint of what she was suffering.

She stood a long moment in front of a mirror before leaving the room. She bit a quivering lip and tilted her white hat to a more becoming angle. No use letting every one know how utterly sunk she felt.

She dabbed rouge on her pale cheeks, powdered over it and wonderingly appraised her reflection. It was strange to see herself still so startlingly young after all she'd been through in the last few weeks. Strange that she didn't look old and worn out—ready to be laid on the shelf.

But enough of this. Life defeated any number of people in devious ways and her case wasn't unique.

Her head went up courageously. Well—she could take it, couldn't she?

Presently, she entered the luxuriously appointed dining room of this big hotel and was immediately seated at a small corner table by a nodding, smiling waiter.

Now the soft lights, murmur of voices and subdued tinkle of glass, silver and china began somewhat to steady her frayed nerves. Her roving glance took in the roomful of well-groomed, pleasant-faced people and she smiled to herself with quick resolve.

Tonight, she would dine cheerfully and well. This might be the last time she could allow herself to buy a meal in a smart place like this. From now on, she'd have to count every penny. For a girl with no job—of course the Platt job was as good as out—she was certainly giving herself a time.

She stifled a sigh and took up a menu. She scanned the printed lists in careful deliberation, trying to find a dinner combination which would aptly celebrate her departure from the ways of smartdom without too great a drain on her purse.

Clam juice, cream of asparagus soup—

"May I join you?"

The voice sent her pulses racing. Something went sailing through her heart that held the muted sweetness of a harp.

"Tom!" she said unbelievingly as he sat down opposite her.

But instantly she quailed before the accusation she saw registered in his dear gray eyes. It was plainly evident that Bob Platt had left nothing undone in her mad grab for the Castor fortune.

"Tom, I—" Dona paused, wondering how to continue.

A waiter came up and handed Tom a card.

Tom asked matter-of-factly, "Have you ordered?"

"No—please do—if you don't mind."

The orchestra at the other end of the room began an unbearably tender tune, and a slim young man stood up and began to sing in an appealing tenor about love and magnolia blooms in spring.

Dona tore her gaze from the compelling Tom sitting across from her. He was ordering as only a man acquainted with the best cuisine could order. This was only one of his many accomplishments she admired.

Perhaps she admired most of all his stimulating force of character that was expressed in every line of his rugged face, in his every word and gesture. He held, too, a deep reverence for all womankind, the thought of which now made her flinch, because she would have been the last to disillusion him. But now—what did he think of her?

Soon, she must tell him that he must go his way and she hers. It was the end. And only a few short hours ago, he had meant to show her a heavenly beginning.

(To be continued)

John Had to Show She Wasn't a Man

Greybull, Wyo. (CP)—Mrs. Roy Hutchinson of Kent, Wash., had to make a trip to Wyoming to prove she was unqualified for army service.

When her birth certificate was made out on May 1, 1912, her name was erroneously listed as "John M. Delk, male." The Wyoming selective service board ordered "John M. Delk" to appear and explain why he hadn't registered for the draft.

That's why Mrs. Hutchinson came to Wyoming.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

MONDAY, AUGUST 25.

5.30—Fiedler Conducts—CBL
6.45—Lowell Thomas, comm. —WJZ, WHAM
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.30—Cavalcade of America —WEAF, WHAM
8.00—The Telephone Hour; Musical Program with James Melton—WEAF, WGY
8.00—Playtime—CBL
8.00—Vox Pop—WABC, WGR
8.30—True or False—WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Voice of Firestone; Symphony Orch. with Alfred Wallenstein, conductor, Margaret Speaks, Sop.—WEAF, CBL
8.30—Gay Nineties Revue—WABC
9.00—Forecast—WABC, WGR
9.00—Basin St. Chamber Music —WJZ, WHAM
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ
10.00—Famous Jury Trials — WJZ WHAM
10.00—Contented Hour — WEAF.
10.30—Boxing Bout; Bob Montgomery vs. Mike Kaplan—WJZ, WHAM
10.30—With the Troops in England —CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Radio Newsreel—CBL
12.00—Bob Chester's Orch.—WABC, CFRB

TUESDAY, AUGUST 26.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
10.45—Prescott Presents—CBL
12.00—Kate Smith Speaks—WABC
12.30—Nat'l. Farm and Home Hour —WJZ, WHAM
12.30—Sweet Hour of Prayer—CBL
4.15—Club Matinee—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring's Orchestra — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Johnny Presents Ray Bloch's Orch.—WEAF
8.00—Court of Missing Heirs — WABC, WGR
8.30—Horace Heidt's Treasure Chest—WEAF, WGY
8.30—First Nighter—WABC, CFRB, WHAM, WJZ
8.30—Musical Rendezvous—CBL
9.00—Masterworks of the Pianoforte—CBL
9.00—We, the People—WABC
9.00—Battle of the Sexes, Frank Crumit and Julia Sanderson —WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hap Hazard Show—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Report to the Nation—WABC, WGR
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orchestra — WABC, WGR
10.00—Grant Park Concert—WZJ, CBL
10.15 — Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
10.30—College Humor — WEAF, WGY
10.45—News of the World—WABC, WGR
11.00—Fred Waring's Orch. — WTAM
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Dolly Dawn's Orch.—WJZ

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

Little Benny's Note Book

I went downtown with ma and on the way home she stopped at Mrs. Hopler's house on account of Mrs. Hopler just being a grandmother and ma wanting to congradulate her and see the baby, and Mrs. Hopler showed it to us, and ma said, isn't he just too perfect.

She, Mrs. Hopler said.

Meaning it wasn't a him, and ma said, I mean she, of course. What do you think of her, Benny? she said.

She's all right, I said, and Mrs. Hopler said, Well, he doesn't sound very enthusiastic I must say. Is that the best you have to say about my granddaughter, all right? she said.

No mam, I mean she's fine, G, I said, and ma said, Benny's just a trifle overwhelmed by the little darling, that's the explination I'm sure.

And we kept on going home, ma saying, Why Benny, you acted so strangely, do you mean to say you didn't think that was a lovely little baby?

Sure, I mean G, ma, do they have to keep it no matter what they really think of it? I said, and ma said, Such a remark to make about such a perfect little angel, the idea.

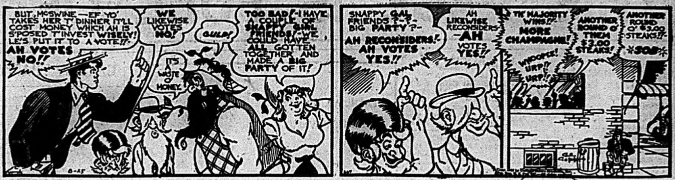
Well I means just in case, ma, I didn't mean anything personal, I said. Hay ma, do you remember me when I was just exactly that age? I said.

Well I should say I do, I remember you just as clearly as though it were yestidday, ma said, and I said, Well is that the way I was?

You were an unusually good looking baby, but I dont think vanity will let me go so far as to say you were that beautiful, ma said, and I said, O well, I guess it wasn't such a bad looking baby.

LI'L ABNER — Eating Up the Profits!

By Al Capp



BUT, McSWINE—EF YO' TAKES HER T' DINNER IT'LL COST MONEY WHICH AH IS S'POSED T'INVEST WISELY! LE'S PUT IT TO A VOTE!!- AH VOTES NO!!
WE LIKEWISE VOTES NO!
IT'S A WASTE O' HONEY.
GULP!
TOO BAD!-I HAVE A COUPLE OF SNAPPY GIRL FRIENDS!-WE COULD HAVE ALL GOTTEN TOGETHER AND MADE A BIG PARTY OF IT!
8-25
SNAPPY GAL FRIENDS?-?-BIG PARTY?- AH RECONSIDERS!- AH VOTES YES!!
AH LIKEWISE RECONSIDERS -AH VOTES YES!!
TH' MAJORITY WINS!!- MORE CHAMPAGNE!
ANOTHER ROUND O' THEM $3.00 STEAKS!
ANOTHER ROUND O' $3.00 STEAKS!!- SOB
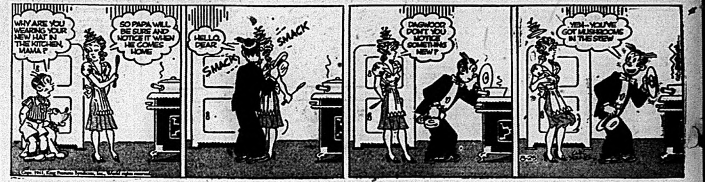
WHOOPEE! URP!! URP!!

BLONDIE — Food for Thought

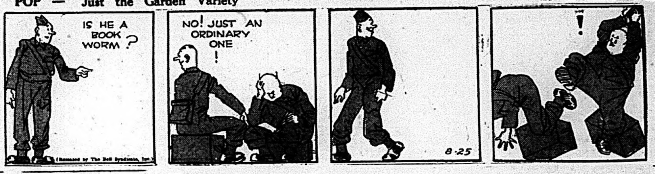
By Chic Young



WHY ARE YOU WEARING YOUR NEW HAT IN THE KITCHEN, MAMA?
SO PAPA WILL BE SURE AND NOTICE IT WHEN HE COMES HOME
HELLO, DEAR
SMACK
SMACK
DAGWOOD DON'T YOU NOTICE SOMETHING NEW?
YEH—YOU'VE GOT MUSHROOMS IN THE STEW
8-25

POP — Just the Garden Variety

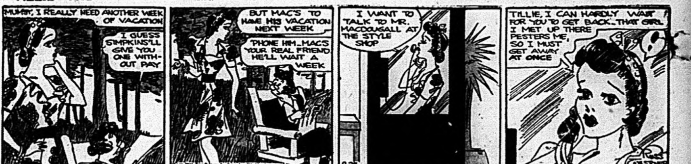
By J. Millar Watt



IS HE A BOOK WORM?
NO! JUST AN ORDINARY ONE !
8-25
!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

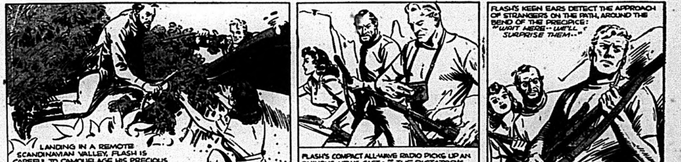
TILLIE THE TOILER — Mac's [illegible] Get Away

By Russ Westover



MUMSY, I REALLY NEED ANOTHER WEEK OF VACATION
I GUESS SIMPKINS'LL GIVE YOU ONE WITHOUT PAY
BUT MAC'S TO HAVE HIS VACATION NEXT WEEK
PHONE HIM—MAC'S YOUR REAL FRIEND HE'LL WAIT A WEEK
I WANT TO TALK TO MR. MACDOUGALL AT THE STYLE SHOP
8-25
TILLIE, I CAN HARDLY WAIT FOR YOU TO GET BACK—THAT GIRL I MET UP THERE PESTERS ME, SO I MUST GET AWAY AT ONCE

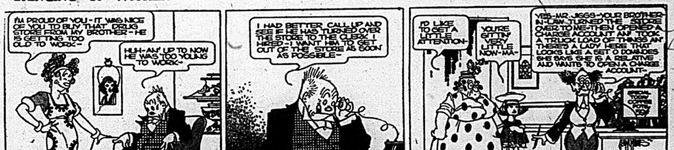
FLASH GORDON



LANDING IN A REMOTE SCANDINAVIAN VALLEY, FLASH IS CAREFUL TO CAMOUFLAGE HIS PRECIOUS ROCKET BEFORE SETTING OUT TO SCOUT FOR THE INVADER'S ADVANCE GUARD.
FLASH'S COMPACT ALL-WAVE RADIO PICKS UP AN OMINOUS NEWS-CAST: "THE DICTATOR'S MECHANIZED ARMY IS SWEEPING NORTH AT TOP SPEED...."
FLASH'S KEEN EARS DETECT THE APPROACH OF STRANGERS ON THE PATH, AROUND THE BEND OF THE PRECIPICE: "WAIT HERE—WE'LL SURPRISE THEM—"

BRINGING UP FATHER —

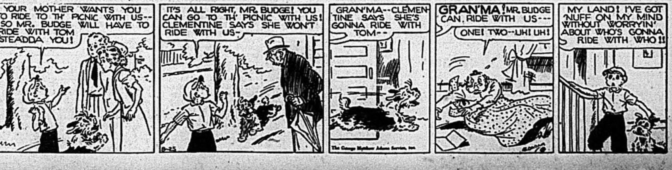
By George McManus



I'M PROUD OF YOU - IT WAS NICE OF YOU TO BUY THAT DRUG STORE FROM MY BROTHER - HE IS GETTING TOO OLD TO WORK-
HUH-AN' UP TO NOW HE WAS TOO YOUNG TO WORK-
8-25
I HAD BETTER CALL UP AND SEE IF HE HAS TURNED OVER THE STORE TO THE CLERK I HIRED - I WANT HIM TO GET OUT OF THE STORE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE-
I'D LIKE TO GET A LITTLE ATTENTION-
YOU'RE GITTIN' VERY LITTLE NOW-MA-
YES-MR. JIGGS-YOUR BROTHER-IN-LAW TURNED THE STORE OVER TO ME-THEN OPENED A CHARGE ACCOUNT AN' TOOK A TRUCK LOAD OF THINGS AN' THERE'S A LADY HERE THAT LOOKS LIKE A SET O DOMINOES SHE SAYS SHE IS A RELATIVE AND WANTS TO OPEN A CHARGE ACCOUNT-
SPECIAL TODAY COFFEE POTS 59¢

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



YOUR MOTHER WANTS YOU TO RIDE TO TH' PICNIC WITH US--SO MR. BUDGE WILL HAVE TO RIDE WITH TOM -STEADDA YOU!
IT'S ALL RIGHT, MR. BUDGE! YOU CAN GO TO TH' PICNIC WITH US! CLEMENTINE SAYS SHE WON'T RIDE WITH US-
8-25
GRAN'MA--CLEMENTINE SAYS SHE'S GONNA RIDE WITH TOM--
GRAN'MA! MR. BUDGE CAN RIDE WITH US---
ONE! TWO--UH! UH!
MY LAND! I'VE GOT 'NUFF ON MY MIND WITHOUT WORRYIN' ABOUT WHO'S GONNA RIDE WITH WHO!!

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.30 p.m.

MINES

Anglo Hur. 200
Aunor 172
Bankfield 5
Beattie 111
Bidgood 9
Bralorne 11 ¼
Broulan 74
Buffalo Ank. 400
Calgary and Ed. 137
Central Pat. 190
Chesterville 134
Coniaurum 121
Dome 22½
Eldorado 42
East Mal. 225
Falconbridge 230
Francoeur 45
Gillies L. 5
Gunnar 25
Hardrock 73
Home Oil 238
Hollinger 12½
Howey 20
Hudson Bay 28
Kerr Add. 445
Kirk. Lake 68
Lake Shore 14½
Leitch 46
Little L. L. 185
Macassa 385
McIntyre 49¾
McLeod 190
McKenzie 109
Mining Corp. 133
O'Brien 145
Okalta 55
Omega 13
Paymaster 19
Paymour 98
Perron 140
Pend Oreille 160
Pickle Crow 298
Pioneer 245
Powell 80
Premier 298
Preston E.D. 310
Royalite 22 1-2
San Antonio 235
Sherritt G. 80
Siscoe 52
Sud. Basin 150
Sullivan 62
Steep Rock 176
Sylvanite 250
T. Hughes 280
Tex. Can. Oil 100
Toburn 135
Ventures 450
W. Amulet 465
Wr. Hargreaves 400

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 149
B. A. Oil 16
Brewing Corp. 115
Braz. Trac. 7 1-4
Can. Bud Brewery 5
Can. Cement 5 3-8
Can. Ind. Alcohol 2 3-4
C.P.R. 6 1-2
Canada Car 6 5-8
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-2
Cons. Bakeries 11
Con. Smelting 37 1-4
Dominion Foundries 18 1-2
Dominion Stores 5
Fanny Farmer 22 1-2
Ford "A" 15 3-4
Gypsum 3 1-8
Imp. Oil 9 3-8
Int. Nickel 34 1-2
Inter. Pet. 13 1-2
Loblaw 26 1-2
Massey Harris 2 3-4
Mont. Power 22
McColl-Frontenac 4 1-4
Steel of Canada 66
Walkerville Brewery 90
Cons. Paper 3 5-8

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 154½
Anaconda 28⅜
Bethlehem Steel 68°
Chrysler 56⅝
General Electric 32
General Motors 38⅜
Montgomery Ward 34¼
Radio 4⅛
Standard Oil of N. J. 43
Standard Brands 5⅜
U. S. Steel 57½
United Aircraft 40 5-8
Vanadium 25
Westinghouse 91½

Livestock

Montreal, Aug. 25.--(CP)—All classes of livestock were uneven on the Montreal livestock markets, it was reported today by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Receipts Cattle 1,064; calves 2,824; hogs 856; sheep and lambs 3,653.

There were not enough cattle sold early to establish prices. A few good steers made $5.50 to $9.25 but the bulk of te cattle including good steers were not sold in early trading.

Veal calves ranged from $8.50 to $12.50. Good quality calves made $11.50 to $12.00, with a few selling at $22.50 and medium kinds $10.50 to $11.50.

Hogs were about steady, selling at $14.75 for B-1 dressed, $11.10 for B-1 alive fed and watered and up to $11.25 off trucks delivered. Grade A drew $1.00 premium with discounts on off grades. Sows made $7.50 to $8.50 with tops at $9.00 liveweight.

Good ewes and wethers were moving slowly at $11.50 to $12.00, several loads were delivered on former contracts at $12.00. Sheep ranged from $3.00 to $6.50, selling mostly between $5.00 and $6.00.

Toronto, Aug. 25 —(CP)— Cattle trade was active with prices high on cows and bulls and strong on other grades on the livestock market here up to the mid-session today. Veal calves, sheep and lambs were steady. No price was established on hogs and the holdover from last week was 100 head of cattle.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Market Service were: cattle 4,360, calves 1,670, hogs 1,300, sheep and lambs 1,920.

Weighty steers sold at $8.50-$9.75, butcher steers and heifers at $8-$8. A few light sold up to $9. Common boners sold downward to $5.25. Butcher cows were $5-$7. Good bulls brought $7 to $7.35 with bolognas at $5.25 to $6.75. Fed calves were $9 to $11.

Good light fed calves sold at $8 to $8.25 with common downward to $6.25.

Veal calves were $12.50 to $1? with a few tops at $15.50. Common vealers sold downward to $... Grassers were $7.

Lambs sold at $12 for good ewes and wethers. Bucks brought $10 to $11 and culls $9. Sheep were $3 to $6.50.

The previous close on hogs was $14.50 to $14.65.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.37-.38
A-medium	.36-.37
A-pullet	.32
Grade "B"	.31-.32
Grade "C"	.27

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1	.36 1-2—.36 3-4
Butter, No. 2	.35—.36
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Graded Eggs Up As Demand Holds

Toronto, Aug. 25—All qualities of graded eggs registered further increases of 1-2 cent a dozen in the country dealer section, and 1 cent a dozen in wholesale-to-retail action, in trading on the Toronto open produce market Saturday. The butter market passed through its third consecutive day at a complete standstill. No sales were reported and nominal quotations were 1-4 cent a pound below those at Friday's close. The white cheese market also spent the day in idleness.

With receipts light and barely sufficient to meet the exceptionally good demand, a general price advance was the order of the day on the egg market Spot prices increased 1-2 cent, while retail dealers found themselves paying an additional cent a dozen. Grades A-large, A-medium and A-pullets closed at 39, 38 and 33 cents a dozen respectively in the wholesale-to-retail section of trading, while the two lower grades rested at 32 and 27 to 28 cents a dozen.

Thou[illegible] offerings were not heavy, th[illegible] no demand at all evi-den[illegible] trading on the butter market. Buyers were reported to have assumed an exceptionally cautious attitude and have apparently decided to stay out of the market until a firmer trend is established. First - grade creamery solids were quoted nominally at 36 1-2 cents a pound, down 1-4 cent from Friday's nominal quotations.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 25—(CP)Produce market prices Saturday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, follow:

Butter: First - grade creamery prints, jobbing price, 38c; first-grade solids, jobbing price, 37 1-2c; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized, current receipt price, 35 3-4c; No. 2, 34 3-4c; No. 1 wholesale price, 36 1-8c; No. 2, 35 3-8c. Receipts for week, 15,009 boxes. Same week last year, 15,776 boxes.

Eggs: Graded shipments offering at A-large, 36 1-2c; A-medium, 35c to 35 1-2c; pullets, 29c to 29 1-2s; B-grade 28c to 29c; C grade, 24c. Receipts for week, 6,099 cases. Same week last year, 8,706 cases.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 25—(CP)—Prices were unchanged on all bacon-hog markets reporting today.

Liveweight: Chatham $10.

Dressedweight: Chatham $12.75; Brantford $14.10 plus transportation; Hamilton $14.50 delivered; Hull $14; Kitchener $14 plus transportation; London $14.35 delivered; Stratford $14.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 25 (CP)—Minor gains out-numbered losses in industrials and base metals on Toronto exchange today. Volume was small at 88,000 shares.

O'Brien, Toburn and MacLeod-Cockshutt weakened about 5 and prices were a little stronger for Upper Canada, Broulan and Aunor. In early afternoon the tone for base metals turned a bit soft with Smelters, Hudson Bay and Steep Rock showing small losses.

Canadian Celanese up 1 1-4 to 27 and Weston, up 1-2 to 10 1-2, were the strongest of industrials. National Steel Car dropped 3-4 to 35.

OFFICE INTERIOR IS DECORATED

Completion of the interior decoration of the County Registrar Office is expected within a day or so. Workmen have been busy for some time and the offices now present an attractive and colorful appearance.

MILITARY MEASURES

(Continued from Page One)

effort would be made by British ambassador Sir Reading Bullard at Teheran, the rlan capital, to convince the Iranians of the "futility and waste" of fighting both British and Russians.

An invasion from the east, from Baluchistan, also was a possibility, but forces from that direction would face a long march over difficult terrain and against bad weather. It was more likely the forces there would execute a holding attack to prevent concentration of Iran forces to the west of the Persian plains.

MOVING THROUGH PASSES

The Russian troops presumably were moving through the difficult passes from Armenia, west of the Caspian Sea, with Tabriz their first objective. The Russians charge a tentative German headquarters has been established there near the Caucasian frontier.

The British push from Basra was intended first to cut the railway from Bandar Shapur on the Persian Gulf, to Teheran, the most important means of communication in the country. It runs on to the Caspian Sea.

The British then could turn southward toward the port of Bushire.

The British foreign office declared there was no intention to threaten the independence or sovereignty of Iran, and that as soon as the German threat diminished the British troops would be withdrawn.

The double move into the oil-rich desert kingdom backed up with military operations the demands of London and Moscow that modern Persia be rid of any German influences.

General Sir Archibald Wavell, former commander-in-chief in Egypt, who was shifted several months ago to India, was reported in London to be in full charge of the new British operation.

NAVAL FORCES ASSIST

British naval forces in the Persian Gulf, commanded by Admiral Sir Geoffrey Arbuthnot, commander of the East Indian Station, were said to have "taken necessary steps" to support the move.

British sources said they were unable to say whether Indian troops were involved in the advance and it was not known whether British forces had reached Iran's vast oil fields, which lie only about 80 miles northeast of neighboring Iraq's big southern port of Basra.

There is no official disclosure of exact points of entry into Iran either by British or Soviet troops—and none was expected until contact was made with Iranian forces.

LIKELY ROUTES OUTLINED

(The most likely routes into the Moslem Monarchy seemed to be northeast from southern Iraq for the British and south along the shores of the Caspian Sea from the Azeraijn Republic for the Russians.

(Iranian border guards, recently heavily reinforced, were reported yesterday to have been withdrawn several miles from their frontiers during the week-end to avoid precipitating an incident.)

The Red fleet's control of the Caspian Sea, observers in London said, made a direct expedition against Iran's seat of government at Teheran possible.

Troops might be landed on the coast at the little ports of Abbasabad, Aliabad or Mahmudabad—all within 75 miles of Teheran on the vast Iranian plateau.

It was considered here unlikely that Soviet forces would attack from the Turkmen Republic east of the Caspian because they would have to cross the mountains along the frontier and then the Persian Desert.

VULNERABLE TO AIR ATTACK

Iran was described as particularly vulnerable to air attack—with the Red air fleet operating from the Baku base on the Caspian Sea within 330 miles of Teheran and British bombers within striking distance of the Persian Gulf ports of Bushire and Bandar Abbas.

Belief was expressed here, however, that little or no such bombing could be expected unless the British and Russian commands were convinced Iranian resistance could not be broken by other means.

Instead, it seemed likely that pleas would be made for the Iranians to give in without a fight.

ROUGH AND LONG ROAD

Any British advance from Baluchistan on the east, though it probably would encounter the least resistance, would have the roughest and longest road to travel before reaching any major objective.

One of these prime objectives is the oil pipe line running from Jasmidi-I-Sulaiman to Abadan on the Iraq frontier, near Basra.

It was probable that troops from Iraq would make this their first objective.

It was considered here that the British forces were faced with a race against time, since it was assumed that German agents, whose presence brought about the invasion, would attempt to blow up or destroy the pipe line and smash oil fields north of Jasmidi-I-Sulaiman.

The foreign office said Britain wished to interfere as little as possible with Iran trade and that British forces would be withdrawn "as soon as military conditions permit."

Turkey, Iraq, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Afghanistan, the countries most immediately concerned in the area, were notified of the British-Russian action and informed of the reasons.

Both the British and Russian governments had demanded of Iran that she expel some 3,000 German tourists and technicians reported to have filtrated into the country and taken key communication posts. The Iranian reply was declared unsatisfactory at the end of last week and swift action then was predicted to end what both London and Moscow considered a potential threat to their interests.

An authoritative source said:

"The Iranian government's reply to representations August 16 shows that it is not prepared to give adequate satisfaction to the recommendations of His Majesty's government and the Soviet government in this important matter.

"It is now clear that further friendly representations to the Iranian government on the same lines as hitherto would serve no useful purpose and that His Majesty's government and the Soviet government must have recourse to other measures to safeguard their essential interests.

"These measures will in no way be directed against the Iranian people; His Majesty's government have no designs against the independence and territorial integrity of Iran and any measures they may take will be directed solely against attempts of the Axis powers to establish their control of Iran."

At the same time the Moscow radio was heard broadcasting a note handed the Iranian government in Teheran by the Soviet ambassador which announced the Soviet government was compelled to take immediate measures on Iranian territory "in order to secure the Soviet frontiers in the fight with Germany."

Based on 1921 Agreement

The Russian note based its measures on an agreement between the Soviet Union and Iran in 1921 and said the Soviet government, since the German attack on Russia, had brought to Iran's attention Nazi activities in that country directed against the Soviet Union.

It referred to simultaneous action with Britain in asking the expulsion of German nationals.

The Soviet government also assured Iran that it moved only as a defensive measure and not against the integrity and independence of Iran.

The authoritative British source said the Iranian government appeared to recognise in principle the wisdom of the advice offered by the British and Soviet governments since it took some steps to reduce the number of Germans and admitted the obligation to control those who remained.

Very Small Removal

"No doubt, however, because they were reluctant to offend the German government even in defence of their own vital interests, the proportion of Germans whom the Iranian authorities actually removed from the country was very small," he said.

"On Aug. 16 the British Ambassador and the Soviet Ambassador accordingly repeated the Iranian government in the most formal and emphatic manner the view of their two governments that the German community in Iran should be required to leave the country without further delay.

"The Iranian government was told by His Majesty's government and the Soviet government that they accepted and endorsed the Iranian policy of neutrality, the territorial integrity and that it was their sincere desire to maintain the policy of friendship and co-operation with Iran.

To Meet Special Needs

"This communication contained a proposal devised in order to meet Iran's special needs by which a few German technicians engaged on specially important work might be retained temporarily; and His Majesty's government and the Soviet Government offered to assist the Iranian government by endeavoring to find suitably qualified experts to replace departing German technicians.

"They also stated they would gladly concur with Iranian government measuers by the simultaneous departure of large numbers of trained personnel."

The British Foreign Office News Agency said today that Britain had warned Iran repeatedly of potential danger from her German colony and cited the danger not only to Iran but to British interests in neighboring countries.

"India clearly cannot disinterest herself from such a development in adjacent territory.

2ND ADD MILITARY MEAS .....

Iraq is also closely concerned, especially since the Germans in Iran are known to have played a part in the revolt last April against the legal government at Baghdad and in subsequent events when rebels were induced to take up arms against Iraq's British Allies. Soviet Russia, also, when she was attacked by Germany took a serious view of the threat to Russian interests caused by German activities in Iran."

Nazis Claim Britain Guilty

Berlin, Aug. 25 (AP)—Nazi sources declared today that Great Britain was "undeniably guilty" of assault on Iran and had delivered a neutral country over to Bolshevism.

"Iran's neutrality cannot be doubted," they added.

The limousine of the Iranian minister to Berlin was seen in front of the German foreign ministry at noon.

PATROLS QUITE ACTTVE

Cairo, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Patrols of Empire troops from the besieged port of Tobruk, Libya, were described by the British Middle East command today as active "despite continuous enemy artillery and mortar fire".

The garrison, a constant menace to Axis supply lines to the Egyptian frontier, was by-passed in the German-Italian drive eastward last April and has held out since against attacks by both land and air.

BOOING OF PREMIER

(Continued from Page One)

Anxious for More Action

Mr. King said no doubt the troops were anxious for more warlike action but disclosed that Prime Minister Churchill had expressed himself as being "most thankful" the Canadians are defending a key position and had stressed the impatience of the Canadians being available in Britain for this work.

In the nature of a reply to those soldiers who held the Prime Minister personally responsible for the Canadian Corps being confined to the United Kingdom, was this comment by Mr. King:

"The British government knows and the War Office knows that the Canadian Corps could be sent to any part of the world where it could most assist the war effort. Our whole aim is to strengthen the war effort."

Will Make Further Visits

The Prime Minister said he would make further visits to Canadian camps and also visit Canadian naval personnel in Britain as soon as possible. He also will attend his second war cabinet meeting and later will sit in at a meeting of the committee of the main cabinet.

"After my four days here and my many conferences with Mr. Churchill and others, who have spared no pains to give me all the information about everything we discussed, I am deeply impressed with how fully and accurately my colleagues and myself in Ottawa have been advised on all these matters," he said.

Mr. King spent the week-end with Mr. Churchill and listened in an adjoining room, while the British Prime Minister broadcast to the world yesterday.

"I thought it was the best broadcast the Prime Minister ever made," Mr. King remarked. "It was most significant and most important."

Mr. Churchill's other week-end guests included Lord Beaverbrook whose return to Britain from Canada and the United States was announced Sunday, and Capt. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President. Mr. King said he had several long conversations with Mr. Churchill dealing with all phases of the war effort.

Returns to London

Mr. King returned to London wearing a blue suit. He and his party were fitted today with gas-masks and tin hats which the Prime Minister said he intended to carry with him.

The sporadic booing which at times was more voluminous than hand clapping and cheering during Mr. King's appearance Saturday at the sports meeting was generally written off today as a soldier-like lark.

Of many officers commenting on the incident only one was heard to describe the soldiers as "naughty." He accused them further of staging "a poor show of discipline."

Sunday newspapers made no mention of the incident and during last night's regular British Broadcasting Corporation news broadcast a recording of Mr. King's address ran only a few seconds during which only a few sentences were heard.

In military quarters there were indications there would be no repercussions. One captain said: "You can tell an officer to forget politics in the army but you can't tell that to a soldier. . . . These chaps are over here fighting for democracy and the right to boo is a democratic principle. There's nothing in army regulations to prevent soldiers from booing civilians."

Another officer, asked if he had learned from the men the reason for their conduct replied: "Booing is contagious."

Days before the Prime Minister's visit threats were heard that he would be given a "warm reception." From the men who made these threats came suggestions they held him personally responsible for lack of conscription in Canada and failure of the Canadian army to be given a place alongside Australians in the eastern campaign.

Soldiers Laugh Mischievously

Long after Mr. King had left the scene to spend the weekend in the country with Prime Minister Churchill, the soldiers were laughing mischievously about the incident, though none was anxious to admit he was among the ones who booed. Of those who claimed to have been in the stands and to have understood the reason for the mixed reception, the majority said: "The gang all want more action."

Most officers summed it up as a "soldier-like lark" and of many commenting, only one was heard to accuse them of staging a "poor show of discipline."

As an indication the booing was not considered "malicious" one officer stressed the fact the men mixed their booing with "good-natured laughter."

Anxiety for activity on the part of the men was reflected in the enthusiastic reception given the Prime Minister when he shouted into the microphone: "I gather from the applause that many of you are impatient and would rather be engaged in more active operations than you are today."

Greatest Volume of Day

The cheering, clapping and whistling which greeted these words — a retort to previous boos—made the greatest sound volume of the day.

The booing was comparatively mild when Mr. King first stepped into the view of the crowd to inspect the guard of honor, but became more audible even though handclapping increased among the officers in the forward part of the grandstand.

Later, when during on interval in the sports he crossed the field with Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Commander of the Canadian Corps, to make his brief address, the reception was again mixed. As the Corps Commander finished his words of introduction the booing outdid the applause. During the outburst, which lasted several seconds, Gen. McNaughton never changed his stern expression, staring straight ahead into the stands. Handclapping accompanied the Prime Minister's return to the stand where he resumed his seat to watch the remainder of the meet.

TWO NAZI

(Continued from Page One)

the assault on Lenigrad from the north had been renewed yesterday in a drive toward Kakisalmi in the northeastern sector of the heavily-fortified Karelian Isthmus.

Russian military dispatches pictured the Nazi push toward Leningrad from the west and south as checked by a Red Army defence so strengthened that the Russian forces were counter-attacking successfully.

A dispatch to the government newspaper Izvestia reported that massive Russian tanks rammed, burned and smashed with shells 135 Ligoter German tanks and led the way in beating back a division whose losses were described as heavy.

Red Army Hold East of Kingisepp

The Red Army lines apparently still held just east of Kingisepp, less than 75 miles from Leningrad, and near Novgorod, 100 miles south-east of the heavily-fortified port.

Red Star, organ of the Red Army credited Soviet General Konev's forces in the Gomel area between Smolensk and Kiev with hurling back the Nazis there in a plane-supported assault which was said to have left more than 100 German armored vehicles and cars wrecked and flaming like torches in the half-light of pre-dawn.

Kiev, itself, was not mentioned by name. A Moscow communique, however, told of strenuous fighting at approaches to the town of "K". There, the communique declared, massed German forces were hurled forward in waves in an attempt to capture the town's railroad station and bridges across a river. Two Nazi battalions were reported destroyed.

South and east of Kiev the Red Army was reported battling desperately to save Odessa and the big Hydro-electric power centre, Dnieperopetrovsk, at the Dnieper bend.

Russian forces were reported holding the west bank of the river in a strong rear-guard action, and Russian cavalry recaptured one town.

Most of Budenny's Army Safe

Reports reaching Moscow indicated that most of Marshal Semeon Budenny's Ukraine army had withdrawn successfully to Dnieper East bank defence positions.

The Red Army acknowledged withdrawals closer to pocketed Odessa, but said Rumanian forces were paying a tremendous price for their gains.

The fifth Rumanian infantry was said to have lost 9,000 men in killed and wounded during five days of fighting. The Russians said the Rumanian seventh division suffered 7,000 casualties within a week.

These losses were in addition to those reported in a Moscow communique yesterday which said the third Rumanian infantry was smashed with a loss of 10,000 men and the 15th Rumanian infantry had been routed.

The Soviet Information Bureau said two more transports had been sunk by Russia's northern fleet—presumably in the Baltic or the Barents Sea.

CHURCHILL

(Continued from Page One)

said.

In Europe, Mr. Churchill said, "awful and horrible things are happening in these days. The whole of Europe has been wrecked and trampled down by the mechanical weapons and the barbaric fury of the Nazis."

Some of his most trenchant prose was used in describing how Hitler turned on Russia.

"Here is a devil," he said, "who in the mere spasms of his pride and lust for domination can condemn two or three million—perhaps it may be many more of human beings to speedy and violent death.

Not All One Way

"Ah, but this time is was not so easy. This time it was not all one way—perhaps a million and a half, perhaps two millions, of Nazi cannon fodder have bit the dust of the endless plains of Russia . . .

"The aggressor is surprised, startled, staggered. For the first time in his experience, mass murder has become unprofitable . . ."

He emphasized that contrasted with the Allied attitude adopted during the latter part of the First Great War, there were "two distinct and marked differences" in the 8-point declaration drawn up by Mr. Roosevelt and himself.

He said:

Will Try to Prevent Another War

"The United States and Great Britain do not now assume that there will never be any more war again. On the contrary, we intend to take ample precautions to prevent its renewal in any period we can foresee by effectivly disarming the guilty nations while remaining suitably protected ourselves.

"The second difference is this: That instead of trying to ruin German trade . . . we have definitely adopted the view that it is not in the interests of the world and of our two countries that any large nation should be unprosperous or shut off from means of making a decent living for itself and its people by its industry and enterprise."

To the peoples of the conquered European nations he said:

"Help is coming. Mighty forces are arming in your behalf. Have faith, have hope. Deliverance is sure."

In addition to his half-hour speech, Mr. Churchill conferred with Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply, who returned to London yesterday on a ferry plane from Canada after discussing additional aid to Britain in conferences at Washington.

DNB CLAIMS

(Continued from Page One)

The commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland called attention to a hitherto relatively quiet sector on the front between Lake Ilmen, some 110 miles south of Leningrad and Smolensk—which, it said, "now has been set in motion."

Extensive operations are in progress in that salient, Dienst added, while DNB dispatches claimed destruction by the Nazi air force north of Smolensk, which is the south border of this new salient. The drive in the region enhances the threat to the Moscow-Leningrad rail connections, the Nazis claimed.

With Marshal Ion Antonescu's Rumanian and German forces continuing the siege of Odessa in the south, military reports claimed that Tallinn, capital of Sovietized Estoniz in the north, also was cut off from rear-line communications.

Czech's Medal Brought Trade

Refugee Farmer Turned Shoemaker and is Making Good

St. Walburg, Sask (CP) — Dolfi Lobel, 22, one of a group of refugees who just before the war broke out in September, 1939, fled to Canada from the Sudetenland of Czecho-Slovakia, is making a name for himself in northwestern Saskatchewan.

Lobel came to Canada to take up farming but soon realised he would be more useful in his adopted community if he reverted to his own trade — shoemaker. He rented a shop in St. Walburg and in the window hung a bronze medal, which says that in 1937 Dolfi won a shoe-making competition in Prague in which 400 other members of his craft participated.

Within two years Dolfi learned to speak English almost flawlessly. Using the few tools which he had managed to salvage before fleeing from Europe, and with the medal as his only advertisement, the Sudeten soon established himself and built up an impressive clientele.

Forced to Drive Says Taxi Driver

Toronto, Aug. 25—(CP)—Toronto and Provincial Police officials are investigating a complaint of Wm. Martin, Toronto taxi driver, that he was forced by an armed soldier to drive east as far as Odessa, Ont., Friday night.

Martin said the soldier kept a revolver pointed into his, Martin's, back all the way and ordered Martin to drive until his car ran out of gas. He quoted the soldier as saying he was going 35 miles east of Montreal "because I've got a job to do on the north side of the river."

When the car ran out of gas at Odessa, the soldier took $6 from the driver and continued east.

Full Partners In Great Crusade Says N. Y. Times

New York, Aug. 25—(CP)—The New York Times said editorially today that Prime Minister Churchill in his broadcast address made it clear "that in his view, the United States and Great Britain had become full partners in the crusade to end aggression."

The newspaper added that Mr. Churchill's statement on British policy in the Pacific "should destroy any lingering doubts in the minds of Japanese statesmen that the policy of appeasement in the Far East has ended for Great Britain."

The Herald Tribune said that even more important than the Prime Minister's support of the United States in its dealings with Japan was his "restatement of the fundamental truths enunciated in the 'Charter of the Atlantic,' " and continued:

"The simple list of conquered peoples, with those few evocative words to each by which Mr. Churchill summed up the tragic and heroic history of the last five years, told of a rule of law and decency overthrown; a rule that must be restored, not for the sake of any one nation.... but only that the common men of every nation may earn their bread and live their lives with some assurance of comfort and security...."

Aluminum Workers At Kingston Plant Want Higher Wages

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 25—(CP)—John Timmerman, chairman of an employees' organizing committee in the Aluminum Company of Canada plant here, told an employees' meeting Sunday that a letter went to the Company management Friday requesting a meeting between the Management and the Committee. He said a strike vote would not be taken until Company officials had reasonable time to reply.

The workers passed a resolution favoring a new Labor Relations Act for Canada, another supporting the stand of company workers in the Arvida, Que., plant in their current dispute with the managament and heard a report from their organizing committee.

The first resolution, directed to Federal authorities urged Labor Legislation to "safeguard in law the democratic rights of labor." George Harris of Toronto, representing the C.I.O. United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, said the proposed legislation should be modelled on the Wagner Act in the United States.

A telegram was sent to the Arvida workers in these words: "We greet the aluminum workers of Arvida and are fully behind them in their efforts to secure bargaining rights with the Aluminum Company.

The organizing committee reported that it had drawn up a nine-point list of demands including a wage increase of 10 cents an hour with time and a half for overtime in excess of 40 hours a week and double time for Sundays and holidays worked.

BRITISH FOREIGN

(Continued from Page One)

It has also been made clear to the Iranian government that the British government regard this as a matter of grave concern to themselves.

Underground measures taken by the German government to spread German influence in Iran and to establish eventually German control and domination in that country obviously constitute serious danger for the Iranian government themselves, as well as British interests in Iran; but they are also a danger to neighboring countries.

India clearly cannot disinterest herself from such developments in adjacent territory.

Iran's Concern

Iraq also is closely concerned, especially since the Germans in Iran are known to have played a part in the revolt last April against the legal government at Baghdad and in subsequent events when the rebels were induced to take up arms against Iraq's British allies. Soviet Russia also when she was attacked by Germany took a serious view of the threat to Russian interests caused by German activities in Iran.

Towards the middle of July the British government, realizing that representations made at Teheran for many months past had remained without effect, instructed the British minister again to impress upon the Iranian government as a matter of utmost urgency the need for taking immediate action.

The German invasion of Soviet Russia, by extending the zone of hostilities to include one of the countries adjacent to Iran, had obviously greatly increased the necessity for an early settlement of the problem.

Sir R. Bullard was accordingly instructed to press for a drastic reduction in the number of Germans who were permitted to remain in the country.

Parallel action was taken by the Soviet ambassador at Teheran on instructions from this government.

In their reply to this strong recommendation Iranian authorities appeared to recognize in principle the wisdom of the advice offered them by His Majesty's government and the Soviet government. They indicated they were taking some steps to reduce the number of Germans in Iran and admitted the obligation incumbent upon them to keep under strict control the activities of those Germans who remained.

No doubt, however, because they were reluctant to offend the German government even in defence of their own vital interests, the proportion of Germans whom Iranian authorities actually removed from the country was very small and on August 16, Sir R. Bullard and the Soviet ambassador accordingly repeated to the Iranian government in the most formal and emphatic manner the view of their two governments that the German community in Iran should be required to leave the country without further delay.

Allies Have No Designs on Iran Integrity

The Iranian government was told by His Majesty's government and the Soviet government that they accepted and endorsed the Iranian policy of neutrality and that they had no designs against Iran's political independence or territorial integrity and that it was their sincere desire to maintain a policy of friendship and co-operation with Iran.

This communication contained a proposal devised in order to meet Iran's special needs by which a few German technicians engaged on specially important work might be retained temporarily; and His Majesty's Government by endeavoring to find suitably qualified experts to replace departing German technicians, and also stated that they gladly would concert with the Iranian Government on measures to alleviate any temporary hardships which might be caused by the simultaneous departure of large numbers of trained personnel.

The Iranian Government's reply to the communications addressed to them on Aug. 16, shows that they are not prepared to give adequate satisfaction to the recommendations of the British Government and the Soviet Government in this important matter.

Necessity of Other Measures

It is now clear that further friendly representations to the Iranian Governmen on the same lines as hitherto would serve no useful purpose and that His Majesty's Government and the Soviet Government must have recourse to other measures to safeguard their essential interests.

These measures will in no way be directed against the Iranian people; His Majesty's Government have no designs against the independence and territorial integrity of Iran and any measures they may take will be directed solely against attempts of Axis powers to establish their control of Iran.

Capital Ponders Premier's Remarks On the Far East

Washington, Aug. 25—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's pointed emphasis on the delicate situation in the Far East attracted much attention here today. Some sources thought Mr. Churchill appeared to intimate that the danger of trouble between the United States and Japan was greater than between Japan and Britain.

Pending a careful study of Mr. Churchill's report on his historic Atlantic meeting with President Roosevelt, Congressional comment was slow in forthcoming, but the opinion among administration supporters seemed to be Japan had been given a warning that could not be misunderstood.

Mr. Churchill, diplomatic sources noted, bracketed Singapore and the Philippines specifically as the two present Japanese expansion southward in Asia. Thereafter, however, the stress was on the efforts of the United States to preserve peace in the Far East.

Until Mr. Churchill spoke yesterday, general belief was that British interests would be the ones immediately menaced by any new Japanese move. However, the Prime Minister's words indicated the situation contained elements of importance to the United States not apparent on the surface.

Besides the Far East, another discussion-provoking topic was the length to which Mr. Churchill went in admonishing the United States to have no illusions about its place on Hitler's program of conquest.

In some diplomatic quarters, this part of his speech was interpreted as an effort to bring home to the people of the United States a realization of the undiminished gravity of the situation, and to impress the nation with the vital importance of its role as "the arsenal of democracy."

To Give Destroyer To Dutch Queen On Her Birthday

Ottawa, Aug. 25 —(CP)— The Bureau of Public Information announced today that funds are being raised to pay for a destroyer which will be presented to Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands as a birthday gift Aug. 31.

The destroyer will be named the Van Galen to perpetuate the name of the ship, later sunk, in which the Queen and her Ministers escaped to England after the German invasion in May, 1940.

Total cost of the birthday gift is expected to be 6,500,000 guilders (about $4,000,000). The Netherlands Indies is contributing 5,000,000 guilders and the balance will be made up from contributions of Netherlanders in other countries and from friends of Holland.

FINNS CLAIM TROOPS NEARING VIIPURI GATES

Helsinki, Finland, Aug. 25 (AP)—Finnish shock troops were reported today approaching the gates of Viipuri, once Finland's second-greatest city, in a drive down the Karelian Isthmus.

Red army forces, guarding this northern approach to Leningrad, were claimed to have been forced into retreat by a threatened encircling flank attack even before the main offensive was launched.

Finnish reports yesterday placed the Finns 18 miles from the city but new dispatches claimed gains had been so swift vanguards already might be storming Viipuri's suburbs.

Countless mines, snares and barbed-wire entanglements were said to have caused the Finns some trouble. The brunt of the attack, as everywhere on the Finish front, was borne by infantry.

James Stephenson, sensational success of "The Letter," and Geraldine Fitzgerald of "Wuthering Heights," and "Dark Victory" fame are the stars of A. J. Cronin's "Shining Victory," now at the Capitol Theatre. A comedy, "She Couldn't Say No," is shown on the same program.

$400 IN TOBACCO STOLEN AT MADOC OVER WEEKEND

Warehouse and Shop of Frank Curry, Wholesaler and Retailer, Entered

FRONT LOCK BROKEN

Madoc, Aug. 25.—(Special) — Unidentified robbers breaking into the warehouse and shop of Mr. Frank Curry, wholesale tobbaconist of Madoc, some time over the week end, looted the store and successfully made off with tobacco, cigarettes and cigarette papers, etc., to the value of approximately $400.

The loss was discovered by Mr. Curry when he opened the shop for business on Monday morning, the thieves apparently naving attempted to break in the back door of the premises but unsucessful in their attempts finally gained entrance to the building through the front door, the lock of which was found broken.

Mr. Curry notified Douglas Smith, Madoc village policeman and later communicated with O.P.P. Constable Clare Hayes of Tweed, who investigated the break-in. The robbers or robber made their getaway without leaving the slightest clue to their identity, it is reported.

JAPANESE PRESS VERY INDIGNANT

Attack Speech of Winston Churchill Stating Facts Misinterpreted

Tokyo, Aug. 25 —(AP)— Domei news agency, in an apparently government-inspired story quoting a "well-qualified commentator," declared today that Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast yesterday was based on a three-point misinterpretation of the facts.

The article was part of a vigorous attack in the Japanese press against the speech in which Mr. Churchill promised aid to the United States if attempts to stop Japan's expansion were not accomplished peacefully.

"First, it must be borne in mind that the China incident broke out two years before the European war," the agency said. "Therefore, Churchill's allegation that Japan followed the example of Hitler and Mussolini is preposterous and totally devoid of a sense of time.

"Second, Japan is going ahead for reconstruction of the Chinese continent in full co-operation with China. Therefore, Churchill's saying Japan is encroaching upon 500,000,000 Chinese people is totally groundless.

"Thirdly, Japan made a peaceful advance into French Indo-China according to terms freely and peacefully entered into through amicable diplomatic relations by the two parties. Therefore, Japan never has taken French Indo-China by force."

Moreover, said Domei, Japan never has intimidated Thailand.

"Nay, it is Britain herself who is making violent pressure from the south in an attempt to encircle Japan," added the agencies commentator.

The militaristic Daily Kokumin called the address a "propaganda plot."

Declaring Mr. Churchill's speech was propaganda based on threats, Kokumin said the Prime Minister's purpose was to estrange Japan from Thailand and cause a split in the Axis camp by saying that American Japanese negotiations were under way.

Quinte Tennis Club Defeats Trenton In All But One Match

With the exception of one match, the men's singles, the Quinte Tennis Club made a clean sweep over the Trenton Tennis Club in an inter-club tournament played on Point Anne courts on Sunday afternoon. Team members and scores of the matches played were as follows:

Men's Singles: Trenton, Boneau; Belleville, T. Donihee; Trenton won 3-6, 7-5 and 6-2.

Mens Doubles: Trenton, Seldman and Lesperance; Belleville, Howard Kerr and Dawson McLean. Belleville won 6-4 and 7-5.

2nd Men's Doubles: Trenton, Jones and Pilion; Belleville, A. Sea-Kerr and Dawson MacLean, Belleville, won 6-4 and 7-5.

1st Mixed Doubles: Trenton: Mrs. Peggy Whyte and G. Ackerman; Belleville, M. Howard and G. Bucher. Belleville won 7-5, 3-6 and 8-6.

2nd. Mixed Doubles: Trenton: E. Westfall and B. Whyte; Belleville, Marion MacLean and Harold Mott. Belleville won 6-4 and 6-4 .

Ladies' Doubles: Trenton, G. Blaschke and F. Blaschke; Belleville, D. Maraskas and J. Cruji. Belleville 7-5, 11-9.

LABOR MINISTER IN HOSPITAL

Ottawa, Aug. 25 (CP)—Labor Minister McLarty is in hospital today undergoing treatment for an eye condition which has been troubling him for a short time. It is expected he will be away from the office for a few days.

Tongs to gaff a fish weighing up to 20 pounds have been invented that are operated by one hand squeezing the handle.

Haiti's Consuls Ordered Home By Third Reich

Berlin, Aug. 25.— (AP)—Germany today ordered the closing of Haiti's consulates in this country "for political reasons". There was no further explanation.

Haitian consuls were given until September 15 to wind up their business. At the same time, it was announced German consulates in Cuba and Haiti have been closed.

The Haitian government announced Saturday night that all privileges of German consuls were being withdrawn "for internal and international reasons" and also said Haiti was closing her consulates in Germany and German-occupied countries.

Thus Haiti is added to three other Latin American countries, Mexico, Honduras and Cuba, which have ceased consular exchanges with Germany.

TIMES SUPPORTS MACKENZIE KING

Claims There Is No Need for Formation of Imperial War Cabinet

London, Aug. 25 —(CP) Cable)—The Times today supported Prime Minister Mackenzie King's view, expressed at a press conference last week, that there is no need for the formation of an imperial war cabinet.

"So far as an exchange of full information is concerned Mr. Mackenzie King is undoubtedly right . . .. in thinking the present system of communication between the British government and those of the Dominions is amply sufficient,' the newspaper said in an editorial. It added, however:

"No system of communication at long range can ever quite dispense with personal intercourse when occasion requires it."

"The question is how these personal consultations can be made most convenient and most effectively. There is no serious support nowadays for the establishment of a permanent imperial war cabinet of the kind which emerged in the last war . . ."

The newspaper suggested that the "best solution for the problem . . . surely is to perpetuate the practice which has grown up almost haphazardly, by which any Dominion prime minister sits ex officio in the war cabinet in London whenever his duties at home give him time to attend it."

The newspaper held, however, that "they should be members by right and not merely by invitation ad hoc . . . It is important also for the sake of those whose prime ministers are not available that the Secretary of State for Dominions should at all times be a member of the war cabinet. It is not enough that he should attend on occasions when the special interests of the Dominions are under discussion."

DUKE ARRIVES AT NORFOLK, VA.

Spends Day at Naval Station and Hampton Roads Area

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Duke of Kent, youngest brother of the King, arrived at the United States naval air station here today, for a one-day inspection tour of defence activities in the Hampton Roads area.

The Duke, who came in a United States navy plane from Washington, planned to inspect the naval air station, the naval training, the navy yard, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company and Langley Field before flying back to the National capital for a White House dinner tonight.

Washington, Aug. 25.— (CP)—A special train sped toward the capital today, bringing the Duke of Kent and President Roosevelt here after a week-end of relaxation at the Presidents Hyde Park, N.Y., home on the Hudson River.

Inspect Defences Operations

On arrival the member of the royal family will fly immediately to Norfolk, Va., to inspect United States defence operations, while the President was to confer with Congressional leaders on important questions of the day.

No newspapermen were permitted to enter the Hyde Park grounds during the week-end and what the Duke and Mr. Roosevelt discussed was a secret. There was nothing to indicate, however, that the Duke went to the Roosevelt estate on anything more than a social call that offered further proof of the strength of Anglo-American friendship.

There was none of the fanfare which came with the visit of the King and Queen a little more than two years ago. The Duke was greeted at the Roosevelt home Saturday night by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and sat down to a family dinner following a brief chat.

LARGEST FORCE OF R.A.F. ARRIVES AT SINGAPORE

Transports Bring Strong Army Reinforcements To Malayan Ports

AUSSIE AIRMEN TOO

Singapore, Aug. 25 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's words pledging support to the United States in event of trouble with Japan in the Far East were backed today by the arrival of the largest single body of Royal Air Force officers and men sent to Malaya in more than a year. The force came from the United Kingdom.

Besides the largest single body of Royal Air Force personnel to arrive here in more than a year, transports disgorged strong Indian army reinforcements at Malayan ports.

One great liner docked here after a 20,000-mile voyage from the United Kingdom without the loss of one man of the hundreds who will staff Britain's steadily expanding chain of East Asia air bases and fly the growing number of bomber and fighter squadrons in the Far East.

The new arrivals, who included Australian airmen from the Middle East, said their ship turned back to rescue the survivors of one vessel which was sunk after it had dropped behind the convoy because of its insufficient speed.

Powerful Warships Escort

For most of the trip, the convoy was escorted by a force of warships so powerful one flier remarked, "I bet old Winston didn't have a better escort when he went to meet Roosevelt."

3,000 WORKERS RETURN TO WORK

U.S. Navy Takes Over Management of Shipbuilding Company

Washington, Aug. 25—(AP)—Three thousand workers, vanguard of 18,000, headed back to work today under United States Navy management at the plant of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Company in Kearny, N.Y.

C.I.O.'s industrial union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers who tied up $500,000,000 worth of ship construction with their strike call Aug. 7, voted yesterday to end their walkout in view of President Roosevelt's order Saturday that the Navy take over the yards. It was expected full operations will be under way tomorrow.

The union will negotiate with the Navy over its demand for a maintenance-of-union contract clause which would provide for dismissal of workers who failed to pay their dues. This clause was what caused the company to balk at accepting a National Mediation recommendation for settlement of the dispute."

Canada Expected To Name Consul To French Islands

Ottawa, Aug. 25—(CP)—Appointment of a Canadian Consul to the French-owned islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon off the Newfoundland Coast was expected today to be announced in the near future.

While there were indications the appointment is forthcoming the Department of External Affairs refused comment before making an official statement and the full significance of any such move was not immediately apparent.

The islands and their status have been in the news several times since the outbreak of war and particularly since the French capitulation to the Nazis and the decision of the French Government to collaborate with Germany.

The islands, situated as they are off the southeastern corner of Newfoundland, come into the territory which is of particular interest to the joint Canadian-American Defence Board.

At present, as part of the East Coast defence measures, the Royal Canadian Navy and the Royal Canadian Air Force already patrol the area about the islands.

Only last night it was announced by the National Revenue Department that exports of Canadian coal to the French-owned islands had been prohibited due to shortage of coal in the Maritimes.

EXEMPTIONS LOWERED

Washington, Aug. 25—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee voted today to broaden the United States Income Tax base lowering exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals.

The lower exemptions would bring an additional 6,000,000 persons under the Income Tax structure and would add between $300,000,000 and $350,000,000 to federal revenues. Most of the increase would come from persons already paying income taxes.

4 RCAF MEMBERS KILLED IN CRASH AT LIVERPOOL, N.S.

Plane Was Searching for Another Machine Whose Crew, Including Belleville Boy, Bailed Out Safely

Liverpool, N.S., Aug 25—(CP)—All four members of the crew of a Royal Canadian Air Force training bomber were killed near here early today when their plane crashed while searching for a missing aircraft of the same type from which five airmen had parachuted to safety.

All four apparently were killed instantly when their plane crashed into an orchard at Beech Hill, six miles from Liverpool, and was destroyed by flames. Two of the bodies were thrown from the craft. The plane was said to be based at Woodstock, N.B.

Meanwhile, only one of the five men who bailed out of the other bomber required hospial attention. He was taken to a hospital in Bridgewater with a broken arm.

It was reported here that they parachuted to earth when their plane, out on night manoeuvres, los its bearings and ran out of gas about four o'clock this morning. The plane was said to have taken off from Pennfield Ridge, N.B., near Saint John.

The second plane, one of several sent out to search for the other craft when its radio went dead, crashed into the Nova Scotian countryside about an hour after the first.

Named Are Announced

Headquarters of the Eastern Air Command announced here today that four men—two Britons and two Canadians—were killed early today in the crash of a training aircraft near Liverpool, N. S.

The dead were listed as:

Flt. Lt. W. F. L. Smallman, R. A.
Sgt. S. Street of England.
Sgt. Observer G. T. S. Woodham, Huronville, Sask.
AC. G. J. Elliot, Calgary, the wireless operator.

At the same time the R.C.A.F. announced that five other airmen parachuted to safety early today before another plane, of similar type, crashed in the same vicinity.

Names of these men were given as:

FO. J. Barneson, San Francisco.
Sgt. J. H. McKey, Montreal.
Sgt. D. J. Robertson, Cornwall, Ont.
Sgt. J. Martin, Forestburg, Alta.
AC1 D. B. Douglas, Belleville, Ont.

The official statement did not link the two crashes but reports from Liverpool said the four men were killed instantly when their plane plunged into an orchard at Beech Hill, six miles away, while searching for the craft from which the five had parachuted.

Abolition of Chief Coroners in 38 Counties Forecast

Toronto, Aug. 25—(CP)—Attorney-General G. D. Conant today forecast abolition of chief coroners in 38 counties in Ontario. He said the present system has led to abuses and when the change is effected the County Crown Attorney, in conjunction with the police, would designate the coroner to be engaged."

Mr. Conant said the major abuse has been that the Chief County Coroner has taken the majority of the work, while another is that fewer inquests are being held due to a ruling that where criminal charges are laid an inquest is not compulsory.

He added that the Crown Attorney determines whether an inquest is to be held, having in mind criminal charges. Necessity for collaboration and direction of the coroner's is not required as formerly.

Discuss Methods Of Obtaining Men For Army Service

Ottawa, Aug. 25 (CP)—Recruiting officers from all military districts met at National Defence headquarters today to discuss methods of obtaining men for army service.

The defence department, it is understood is anxious to keep up the flow of men into the army attained during the recent recruiting drive which went over its objective of 32,000 men for a two-month period.

The need for men in the army is continuous it was stated at headquarters today and the campaign carried on in July and August was not a temporary drive but one designed to set the pace for permanent recruiting activity.

"There must be no lull. We must keep up the pace" an official said.

MAKING SOME PROGRESS

Vancouver, Aug. 25—(CP)—Government officials working to bring an end to a strike at the American Can Company, Limited, where more than 400 employees walked out at midnight Thursday, reported today they were making "some progress."

Hon. George Pearson, British Columbia Minister of Labor, who arrived here from Victoria, said: with the hope of bringing them to "We are working on both sides meet on common ground."

No further statement was made and union officials were equally reticent.

THE WAR TODAY

By ELMER DULMAGE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

The road to India, down which many people have feared Hitler some day might send his war machine, passes through Iran, plateau country rich in oil and minerals that stretches from the Persian Gulf to the inland Caspian.

Iran's great wealth in oil was developed by British capital and by Britons.

And in the capital a Teheran are 3,000 Germans—technical experts familiar with Iran's railways, her oil pipe lines; an advance guard of fifth columnists that would dominate Teheran when the time came for Hitler to exert pressure there.

Thus British and Russian forces moved into Iran today. Apparently the British troops entered the southern part, either from Iraq or Baluchistan, and the Russians went in from the Azerbaijan Republic.

For several weeks it has appeared inevitable that a show of force would be necessary to eliminate Nazi influences in Teheran, just as it was in Iraq. And it seemed likely that the man who would carry out the military operations would be General Sir Archibald Wavell.

So it was no surprise this morning when authoritative quarters in London, reticent about most details of the significant new moves, said General Wavell was in complete charge of the British end of the invasion. A few months ago he was transferred from his command in the Middle East to Inida, apparently to prepare for today's operation.

The famed commander whose forces conquered the Italians in Libya and Ethiopia, and who conducted the Allied operations in Syria, may be leading Imperial or Indian native troops—or both—in Iran.

The 15,000,000 Iranians are mostly Moslems. The constitutional Monarch, Riza Khan, Pahlevi elected Shah in 1925, commands an army of perhaps 150,000 civilian soldiers. The Iranian air force has been reported to have 280 planes, mostly British-made. The pocket navy of two sloops, five patrol vessels, tugs and motor patrol boats operates in the Caspian Sea and Persian Gulf. The ships were built in Italy.

F, the pilot.

Escaped Italian Seaman Captured Near U.S. Border

Stanbridge Station, Que., Aug. 25 (CP)—Tullie Festa, 38-year-old escaped prisoner of war, was captured today by a Canadian customs officer near this village a few miles from the United States border.

His captor, E. Campbell of the customs service, turned Festa over to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who were reported to have taken the internee to Montreal.

(At Montreal, internment officials said they had "nothing definite" concerning the capture.)

Escaped Friday Night

Festa, an Italian seaman, escaped from an internment camp near Montreal late last Friday while working with a fatigue squad of about three dozen men. His escape was discovered at the 6:30 p.m. roll call that evening.

Campbell was reported to have captured the swarthy internee while working on his farm near here. After the capture he was said to have accompanied the prisoner to Montreal.

"It was my husband's day off and he was working on the farm," said Mrs. Campbell here. "I wasn't here but I understand this man came up to my husband and asked him for a drink. My husband recognized him and jumped on him."

Mrs. Campbell said there had been a brief struggle but neither Festa nor his captor were hurt.

Festa, regarded as a non-dangerous class "C" alien, was the 63rd prisoner to escape from a Canadian internment camp and the 58th to be re-captured. One escaped to the United States and four others were shot to death.

Ban on Exports Of Mill Feeds Stands Another Week

Ottawa, Aug. 25.— (CP)—The ban on the export of mill feeds from Canada, imposed last week, stands for another week it was learned at the Department of Agriculture today.

The Agricultue Supply Board is expected to meet Wednesday when reports from millers to the exports permits branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce for the week ending tonight will be considered.

The ban was imposed because of a shortage of feed for hogs and cattle in Eastern Canada. Decision on continuance or modification of the order is expected to be made at the meeting on Wednesday on the basis of the feed situation is it then exists.

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON—British and Russian troops move into Iran and oust German agents; Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell commands British forces.

SINGAPORE—Big British air reinforcements arrive in Singapore.

MOSCOW—Red army reports counter - attacks in Leningrad, Gomel and Dnieperopetrovsk sectors, declares one Rumanian and two German divisions routed.

BERLIN—Nazis say large Russian forces being encircled between Gomel and Kiev.

TOKYO—Japanese press assails Prime Minister Churchill's references to speech to Japanese expansion and say Britain trying to encircle Japan.

LONDON—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, after week-end with Mr. Churchill, smiles at troop booing and says Canadian corps will go anywhere in world to help war effort most.

They dodged bombs and U-boats!

See Exhibits from SWITZERLAND...CZECHOSLOVAKIA
...BRITAIN...FREE FRANCE... and the four corners of the world!

● In spite of submarines and Nazi "statistics"—in defiance of bombs and bombast—you'll see eye-opening exhibits from all around the world! Canada's greatest Exhibition brings you a dramatic picture of life today in a war-torn world.

SEE Canada's Fighting Men 'n Action!

Canada's Navy, Army and Air Force will give you a "ring-side seat" for today's war of swift, smashing movement. Canadian-built fighting machines go through gruelling tests on a specially constructed "battle-field". Guns and shells and other tools of war will be finished and shipped to Empire armies. Humbled Messerschmitts from the Battle of Britain will be on display.

Music Everywhere! On the continent's largest dance floor in the C.N.E. Dance Pavilion, you'll swing and sway to the rhythms of Tommy Dorsey, Guy Lombardo, Tony Pastor, Vaughan Monroe, Ina Ray Hutton, and The Modernaires. The U.S. Navy Band and hundreds of other outstanding musical organizations will fill the Exhibition air with grand, martial music! Indian Native Dances and Old-Time Fiddlers' Contests are part of the colour and charm of this 2-week Wonderland.

SEE Agriculture on a war-time basis; a Woman's World of Tomorrow; sports classics every hour, every day; the brilliant C.N.E. Horse Show. See it all and see it often—the most dramatic, important and inspiring Exhibition of all time.

"See Canada's Answer"

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION
TORONTO · 1941

AUG·22 to SEPT·6
EXCLUSIVE OF SUNDAYS

Probabilities

Lower Lake Region—Fresh to strong northwest winds; fair today and Wednesday; much cooler tonight; Thursday, fair and cool.

The Ontario Intelligencer

★★ BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	74	68
Year ago	72	44.1

Rainfall—.48 inches.
Weather—Cloudy.

BRITISH CONTROL THREE VITAL POINTS IN IRAN

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

NAZIS NEARING MOSCOW-LENINGRAD RAILWAY

British Command Said to Be Using Air-Borne Troops

Establishment of All-Weather Route For Supplies to Russia Forecast

MAY NOT MEET RUSSIANS

By DREW MIDDLETON

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

London, Aug. 26 (AP)—Indian and British troops controlled three vital strategic points in Iran today after brief skirmishes—Bandar Shapur, Qasr-I-Shirin and Abadan, occupying at the latter one of the world's three largest oil refineries.

Air-borne troops took part in the British thrusts, co-ordinated with Russian drives from the north, they swiftly throttled communications of the defenders.

Movements Very Important

British sources said the lightning movements of these airborne troops were believed to have saved the large foreign colonies of Iran from possible harm and to have prevented sabotage of vital oil properties.

A communique reported that four German merchant ships, two of them beached and two damaged, and three slightly damaged Italian vessels were seized at Bandar Shahpur. The crews of these tankers and freighters apparently were caught by surprise.

A spokesman said Iran has ignored repeated British protests that Iran was violating international law in harboring the craft, which he declared would be useful to the British merchant fleet later.

Forecasts Capture of Railway

He forecast swift capture of the trans-Iranian railway.

It was emphasized in Simla, India, that the British Government was conducting the campaign, although the Indian command, headed by Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, is directing land operations.

Under naval and air protection the advancing Tommies now hold Bandar Shapur, southern terminus of the Trans-Iranian railroad which leads directly to Teheran, the modern capital on the mountain slopes 70 miles south of the Caspian Sea.

Dash Across Tigris River

Indian troops who dashed across the Tigris River occupied Abadan and its island oil refinery, thus gaining possession of the southern end of the pipeline from the rich oil field at Masjid-I'Ulaiman.

(The Abadan refinery is comparable in size to the oil processing plant at Port Arthur, Tex., and production is normally between 200,000 and 300,000 barrels a day. The refinery could produce enough fuel to keep the entire Royal Navy in operation.)

Other British and Indian units, including tank and armored car detachments, crossed the Iraq frontier at Khanaquin, secured the oil installation at Naft-I-Shah and took the town of Qasr-I-Shirin.

Hold Two Terminals

Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's desert fighters now hold the western and southern terminals of Iran's only two modern highways.

A threat of invasion of India seemed to British observers to be removed by the Russian-British action against Iran. Since Afghanistan forms the longest barrier between India and Iran it was assumed that

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

Four German Ships And Three Italian Vessels Seized at Bandar Shahpur

SEIZE OIL INSTALLATIONS

Simla, India, Aug. 26 — (AP)—British and Indian troops, striking into Iran at three points in the first day of their invasion, seized Abadan and Bandar Shahpur at the head of the Persian Gulf and two points nearly 400 miles to the north, a British communique announced today.

While air-borne troops were speeded into the country to protect British families in the employ of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, other air forces and the navy co-operated in the occupation of Abadan and Bandar Shahpur.

Four German ships, two of them beached and two damaged, and three Italian vessels, slightly damaged, were seized at Bandar Shahpur the announcement said.

Oil Installations Seized

To the north, a short distance inside the Iranian frontier from Iraq, British and Indian troops from Khanaquin seized oil installations at Naft-I-Shah and the town of Qasr-I-Shirin. There was no serious opposition, the communique said. Armored units formed part of the striking force.

Bombers rained leaflets on Teheran, Irania capital and other towns, declaring the Allies had no quarrel with the Iranian people and no designs on their independence or territory.

The announcement said there was no indication of hostile feeling on the part of inhabitants of the places occupied.

The rapidity of the British operations so far has resulted in a minimum loss among Iranian personnel, it added.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 26—(CP)—Synopsis: The weather has been mostly fair and cool in the western provinces with showers in some southern sections of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Showers have been general in Ontario.

PLACE	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Vancouver	—	62	—
Calgary	—	58	—
Winnipeg	—	64	—
Toronto	67	78	66
Ottawa	69	75	64
S. S. Marie	54	74	51
New York	77	77	73
Kenora	46	63	46
Miami	84	91	77
Los Angeles	64	70	61

Belgian Family Sentenced to Death For Sheltering Airman

Geneva, Aug. 26 (CP)—An elderly couple and their 34-year-old daughter have been sentenced to death in Belgium for sheltering a Royal Air Force pilot, according to word reaching here.

A report published in the Brusseler Zeitung, Nazi newspaper printed in Brussels, said the airman, who bailed out after an air battle in June, landed in a field near a small house.

The injured airman was found by Jeanne Tarpoint who took him home and with her 70-year-old father and 60-year-old mother, sheltered him for a month.

Somebody finally informed the Germans who searched the house, found the airman and hauled the family to jail.

"BERTIE WOOSTER" BANNED

Sheffield, England (CP)— The Sheffield Libraries Committee has announced that it will buy no more books by P. G. Wodehouse, British humorist who has broadcast over German radio stations recently.

Much Heartache, Suffering Revealed In R. C. Prisoners' Bureau Records

(Editor's Note: The centre of mercury in a world of war is now, as often before, the International headquarters of the Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland. Out of the files and reports of its burdened body of workers, Betty Sargent, Associated Press Staff Writer, has put together a picture of the backwash of war in Europe today.)

By BETTY SARGENT
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Geneva Aug. 26 (AP)—If you would know the misery and suffering and heartache in a modern warring world you must go to a building which was dedicated to a peace that failed.

For the present home of the International Red Cross Prisoners' Bureau once housed the League of Nations assemblies.

There impersonally recorded on filing cards you will find 8,000,000 stories of the fate of prisoners of war, or sick and wounded, of civilians interned in belligerent countries, of refugees.

You learn from the cards how some of these people have died, and their families have been informed; how others have exchanged news with their relatives; how food packages were sent to this or that prisoner.

Other cards say only: "Family asks information; last heard from on Maginot front."

(Continued on Page Five, Col. 6)

WIRELESS STATION NEAR CHERBOURG HEAVILY ATTACKED

R. A. F. Fighter Squadron Follows Up Overnight Raids on Germany

NAZI ACTIVITY LIGHT

London, Aug. 26. (CP)—A Royal Air Force fighter squadron, diving over the white cliffs of Dover to skim at times just above the sea, roared toward the French coast today as a follow-up to overnight raids on Germany.

Principal objectives of the bomber raid overnight were the industrial centres of Mannheim and Karlsruhe in the Rhineland.

The Air Ministry said that despite unfavorable weather conditions there were clear intervals over the target areas and large fires were observed as the bombers turned home after dropping huge explosives. Six British planes were lost.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted fires were started by British planes raiding southwestern Germany during the night.)

Nazi aerial activity over the British Isles continued on a small scale. No casualties were suffered when bombs dropped at two points on the coast of South Wales and at one point in Southwest England.

The Admiralty reported today that British torpedo-carrying seaplanes have attacked "military objectives north and south of Tempio on the Island of Sardinia, starting large fires. One Nazi plane was shot down into the sea.

The date of the attack was not given.

Three R.A.F. Spitfires on a Straffing raid caused a violent explosion by spraying a wireless station near Cherbourg with machine gun and cannon fire last night, the Air Ministry said.

Extravagant Claims Made

Berlin, Aug. 26 (AP)—The German Command today claimed its air force had sunk a 6,000-ton British freighter from a convoy in St. George's Channel, between Ireland and Wales, and that it had made a damaging attack on the harbor of Tobruk, North African port in which British forces are besieged.

The Germans acknowledged British planes raided western and southwestern German territory last night, but said the attack was "without noteworthy effect." Seven British planes were shot down, the communique claimed.

The Command said military objectives on the British east coast were bombed yesterday. Earlier Nazi sources claimed a colliery, railway stations, freight train and anti-aircraft positions were attacked.

Body of Denbigh Woman Exhumed

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 26 (CP) — Interred about four months ago, the body of Mrs. Olive Colby has been exhumed at Denbigh, 70 miles north of here it was learned today, by order of Dr. A. R. Frankish, medico legal expert of the Ontario Government. Dr. Frankish conducted an examination of the body after the exhumation.

Mrs. Colby was 34 years old.

Duke of Kent Another Good Guy Named 'Joe' Says Writer

Tom Hanes, managing editor of the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch, accompanied the Duke of Kent on his inspection tour of defence activities in the Norfolk area Monday and was granted an interview with the Peer. He wrote this story for the Associated Press.

By TOM HANES

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 26 —(AP)—As far as I am concerned, the Duke of Kent is just another good guy named Joe who is trying his level best to handle a tough job.

And don't think keeping on the move about 18 hours a day, flying from pillar to post, shaking hands with several hundred persons and watching every little word and move to keep from being tagged a stuffed shirt isn't a tough job.

When the interview was arranged I didn't know what to ask him. After all it was my first experience at interviewing a duke.

"What do you think," I began, groping for the rest of the question, "What do you think of American Labor's defence effort?"

"Marvelous. The spirit is wonderful. Please say for me that we deeply appreciate the tremendous accomplishments of American industry."

The next question slipped out.

"How about a shot of Scotch?"

"No thank you," he replied. "I have a drink here on the window sill. It's Bourbon. I don't like Scotch."

And that's when I began to realize that he was just another good guy named Joe. A Bourbon drinker, just like plain folks.

And then I asked him about that trip across the Atlantic in a bomber.

"It was miserable. Bombers are not built for comfort. We had to sit for 15½ hours without a chance to stretch. No place to lie down, you know. Precautions? No, we simply went to the field and took off. Just another routine flight."

About that time somebody said it was time for lunch. So Joe and I hustled into the dining room.

World-Sweeping Plagues May Cause More Deaths Than War Says Expert

Denver, Aug. 26 (AP)—As an eminently successful killer, war may turn out to be a piker compared with an enemy facing humanity as one of its by-products, Hugh S. Cumming, former Director of the United States Public Health Service, said in an interview Monday.

That enemy is world-sweeping plagues.

"We thought yellow fever had been abolished," Cumming said. "It has appeared again, and unless checked, may have a far fling when Indian troops serving in Africa come down from the mountains and out of the jungles and return to their native land.

Cumming declared that in this war as in the last, more deaths will probably result from disease than from bullets. Head of the Pan American Sanitary Commission of the League of Nations, Cummings said Britain's continued existence is partly due to its health record.

"Defeat of disease in spite of bombings, hunger, malnutrition and homelessness, is part of the miracle of its defence against evil."

BEAVERBROOK LAUDS PRODUCTION IN UNITED STATES

Asked if He Thought U.S. Near Entry Into War, He Said That Was Business of People of U.S., but 'I'd Like to See Them In'

PRAISES U.S. TANKS

London, Aug. 26 (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply who has just returned from conferences in Washington, declared today that the United States is in the full swing of production and that there had been no slowdown since Germany invaded Russia.

Asked at a press conference if the United States was near to entry into the war, Lord Beaverbrook replied that such a decision was the business of the people of the United States.

"What do you think?" reporters persisted.

"I'd like to see them in," he said, lifting his voice.

Then, repeating this statement, he said:-

"It's nobody's business other than citizens of the United States, but if I am not to be hypocritical I'd like to see them in now."

"Fine Light Tanks in M-3"

"They have fine light tanks in the M-3," he said, adding that United States tanks are arriving in Britain "in considerable numbers."

"I feel no pessimism about increasing United States production," he said.

Of American airplanes he said, "they are just as fine as any produced in this country or any other country."

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

Sanger's Circus One of Oldest Goes on Block

London, Aug. 26 (CP)—One of the world's oldest circuses is going on the auction block Sept. 15 because the big top apparently is one of those things a country at war can do without.

James Sanger, descendant of the man who founded Sanger's Circus in 1821, said: "I'm afraid it's all over. The blackout beat us."

MACKENZIE KING IS BACK AMONG CANADIAN TROOPS

Prime Minister Inspects and Chats With Personnel of First Division

GUARD OF HONOR

By DOUGLAS AMARON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Somewhere in England, Aug. 26—(CP Cable)—Standing bare-headed amid a stylish formation of troops of Canada's 1st Division, Prime Minister Mackenzie King was given three vigorous cheers today after he explained how it had been left to the men of the Dominion to play an essential part in the defence of the United Kingdom.

The British Government, he said, considered Britain itself the "most important theatre of operations in the world."

In the middle of a busy round of inspections of various units of the Division, Mr. King stood on the troop-crowded green of this picturesque town and sympathized with the men for their long period of military inactivity.

He told them that his government was behind the leaders of the Canadian army and assured them that it would "support them in whatever they think should be carried out."

Continued on Page 11, Col. 4)

6 Merchant Ships, 1 Tug, Escorting Corvette Sunk, Total Tonnage 11,094

London, Aug. 26 (CP)—The Admiralty announced today the loss of six merchant vessels and one tug, totalling 11,094 tons, from a Gibraltar-bound convoy which put into Lisbon yesterday.

(Fourteen merchantmen arrived at [illegible] yesterday to report that six [illegible] ships, a tug and an [illegible] corvette were sunk in a running four-day encounter with German planes and submarines. The Nazi High Command claimed Sunday that 21 ships totalling 122,000 tons and three warships in the convoy had been sunk.)

MENZIES' CABINET REJECTS DEMAND THAT IT RESIGN

Official Statement Issued After Five-Hour Cabinet Meeting in Australia

NO NATIONAL GOV'T

Canberra, Aug. 26 —(CP)— The Menzies cabinet today rejected the Labor Party demand that it resign. An official statement to that effect was issued after Prime Minister R. G. Menzies and his colleagues held a five-hour cabinet meeting.

The cabinet meeting was called shortly after a Labor caucus rejected Mr. Menzies invitation to Labor to join in a national government.

Labor instead demanded the cabinet's resignation to make way for a Labor government.

The Labor caucus had deliberated only a few minutes early today before unanimously rejecting the suggestion of an all-party government with Mr. Menzies at its head.

In a letter to the Prime Minister John Curtin, Labor leader, suggested his resignation on the ground that Mr. Menzies was "unable to provide any longer stability of government and effective leadership of the nation."

Windstorm Causes Much Property Damage At Kansas City

Kansas City, Kas., Aug. 26—(AP)—A terrific windstorm, approaching hurricane force, struck Kansas City last night inflicting extensive property damage and paralyzing traffic for nearly an hour.

Three huge radio towers were blown over, store fronts smashed, trees uprooted and cornices pitched into downtown streets. The spire of the First Presbyterian Church in Kansas City, Kas., was blown onto the roof.

The 544-foot broadcasting tower of a radio station in suburban Johnson County, Kas., crashed onto the home of Frank Angus. No one was hurt.

The broadcasting mast of another station here was blown into the street.

Despite the extensive damage only three injuries were reported and only one of these was serious.

Huge Munition Plant Increase

Melbourne, Aug. 26 (AP)— The number of munitions plants in Australia has increased 2,000 per cent since the war began and the total is increasing monthly. More than $100,000,000 capital expenditure for munitions expansion has been approved by the machine tool precision industry.

Manifesto Smuggled From Poland Charges Nazis With Mass Murders

London, Aug. 26 (CP)—A manifesto charging the Germans with mass executions and murder in an attempt to transform the Poles into Nazi slaves has been smuggled out of Poland six months after it was drafted at a secret conference of delegates representing more than 2,000 organized groups of Polish workers.

The document, signed by the leaders of the "working masses of Poland" appealed to the people of the world to resist Nazi aggression and resolved to continue an underground fight in Poland against German domination.

The Germans made public only a few of the death sentences passed during the early days of occupation, the manifesto said in reviewing conditions. The Germans have ceased to announce death sentences—the list of executions grew too long.

The manifesto continued:-

"Nowadays murders and executions are shrouded in the deepest mystery. The Germans, however, cannot conceal the inhuman brutality of the wholesale butchery in Bydgoszcz where about 10,000 Poles were massacred. All know of the mass executions at Wawer, Czestochowa, Starachowice, Skarzyski and other places.

"At least 150,000 men and women were shot in the course of the first year of occupation. In one place, Palmiry, near Warsaw, 5,000 persons were murdered and buried in ditches and in an attempt to hide the crime these ditches were plowed up and roads built over them. . .

"Many more are dying a lingering death in concentration camps, where hundreds of thousands of Polish citizens languish in durance vile. . .

"Prisoners are kept standing in the icy cold for hours on end, clad only in cotton overalls or made to drill until they collapse. They are beaten on the slightest pretext. . .

"A monstrous plan is being carried out for the creation of a 'herrenvolk' (ruling class) and the transformation of masses of Poles into German slaves. . .

"Hitler has promised every German soldier that when the war is over he shall be a lord in Poland. If there should not be enough room in Poland, there are other countries . . . with space enough to enable Hitler to fulfil his promise of 'herrenvolk'."

Fortified City Of Novgorod Now In German Hands

Leningrad Citizens To Fight at Every Street Corner to Defend City

MILITIA IN FIGHT

Moscow, Aug. 26—(AP)—Smashing another link in the chain of Leningrad's outer defences, the Germans have captured fortified Novgorod and driven their battle lines within 35 miles of the main Moscow-Leningrad railway.

An early-morning communique said today that Red Army defence forces withdrew from the manufacturing city 100 miles southeast of Leningrad after days of stubborn resistance.

A later war bulletin added that fierce fighting continued overnight along the entire front.

Soviet Press dispatches said Leningrad's hastily-drilled People's Army had gone into action alongside the regular Red troops—checking the Finnish thrust toward Leningrad from the north and the German drive past Kingisepp from the west.

Dispatches to Pravda, Communist party organ, said the Nazis were forced to bring up reinforcements to fill gaps in their ranks caused by tremendous losses.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 3)

Thailand Premier Yields All Posts But Premiership

Bangkok, Thailand, Aug. 25—(Delayed)—(AP)—Premier Luang Bipul Songgram has retired from active participation in Thailand's government, giving up three important cabinet positions and retaining the premiership in name only, an announcement said tonight.

The premier held for three years the portfolios of Defence, Foreign Affairs and Interior. The announcement said the changes were made for convenience and to relieve Bipul Songgram from pressure of work.

Lt.-Gen. Luang Promoyodhi was promoted to Defence Minister a week ago, Nai Direk Jaanam, Deputy Foreign Affairs Minister moved up today to be minister and Luang Chaveng Sakdi-Songgram, a Deputy Minister of the Interior, became minister.

Police Maj.-Gen. Aduldet Charas, Deputy Minister of the Interior and Director General of the Police was appointed to act for Bipul Songgram in all his capacities as premier. The premiership includes the title of Supreme Commander of Thailand's armed forces.

Eskimos Sentenced For 'Satan' Slaying

(By JAMES McCOOK)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Belcher Islands, Hudson Bay, Aug. 26— (CP) — When other Eskimos decided that Ekpuk was Satan only the manner of his execution was left to be decided.

In the wave of hysteria which swept Belcher Island Eskimo encampments early this year two men and a girl were killed because relatives said they were "satans."

The men implicated in the death of Ekpuk were Charlie Ouyerack who had accepted the title of Jesus given him by other Eskimos, and Peter Quarack, best hunter on the islands and Ekpuk's father-in-law. Both were found guilty of manslaughter. Ouyerack was sentenced to two years' at hard labor at the Chesterfield Inlet, N.W.T., Royal Canadian Mounted Police Post and Quarack was given a year's suspended sentence.

Young Moses, an Eskimo witness, testified that Ouyerack told him to kill Ekpuk but that he did not do it. Ouyerack had said Ekpuk was Satan.

"They told Ekpuk to walk out on the sea ice," said Moses.

"Charlie said there was a little black mark on the ice and Ekpuk should go and see what it was. Ekpuk was near a crack in the ice when he was shot.

"When Quarack fired the first shot, Ekpuk fell down, and Quarack fired another shot when closer. He fired a third shot even closer."

Eva, Ekpuk's widow, said "Charlie told me to be glad because Ekpuk was dead. Charlie told me I was Satan, too. I believed Charlie."

Quarack, called to the stand, admitted killing Ekpuk.

It was indicated by evidence that the "Great Hunter" Quarack usually lived apart from other Eskimos.

But the hysteria associated with the belief an Eskimo named Peter Sala and Ouyerack had Divine powers spread to his home. He said that Ouyerack told him Ekpuk was Satan and should not be in the world.

International at a Glance

By The Canadian Press

LONDON—British and Indian troops capture three key Iranian towns including large oil refinery; Russian Cossacks sweep down from north amid indications Iranian resistance is light.

MOSCOW— Russia acknowledges loss of Novgorod, 100 miles south of Leningrad; People's army prepares to defend Leningrad.

BERLIN—Nazis claim operations are proceeding successfully on eastern front; Germans and Iranian government reported in contact.

SIMLA—Gen. Wavell's headquarters announce Iran operations are proceeding "without serious opposition;" States air-borne British troops are protecting British families there.

CANBERRA— Labor caucus rejects Menzies' offer of a national Australian government.

LONDON—British bombers attack Mannheim and Karlsruhe overnight; fighters today swarm over channel on offensive sweep.

LONDON—Bath, former United States destroyer manned by Royal Norwegian Navy, lost.

AUSTRALIAN ALUMINIUM

Canberra (CP)—The Australian government will begin manufacture of ingot aluminium, using local bauxite. Rolling mills are now available and extrusion plants are being installed.

Coming Events

LAWN SOCIAL, WEDNESDAY, August 27, at E. E. Wallbridge's, Huff's Island. Bingo, Fish Pond, Fortune-telling; Air Force entertainers. Admission 15c. A25-2t

HEAR REV. H. D. LINNEN OF British Israel World Federation, in Y.M.C.A., 8 p.m. on this 27 and 28. Subject, first night, "Israel in the Common Prayer," second night, "The Strangest Place in Israel." A26-3t

PROMPT DELIVERY — 8 A.M. to 9.30 P.M.
CALL 131
In Sickness and Health You Will Always Find
GEEN'S I. D. A. DRUG STORE
Give You Efficient and Friendly Drug Store Service

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

NO ARRESTS

All was quiet on the police front last night with not a single local arrest being recorded. The only thing to mar an otherwise perfect record was the apprehension of an aged vagrant who was picked up in Sidney Township by provincial police officers and remanded in the county jail.

Lee Ward, resident of Hamilton, Ont., reported to police that he had lost a wallet containing his registration card, driver's licence and an amount of money.

LOCAL POLICE HELP OUT MOTORIST

Cobourg police, publicized through their generous efforts in aiding a "gasless" motorist to reach the Belleville General Hospital in time to see a brand new baby, "haven't a thing" on the Belleville lads in blue.

Today it was learned that an employee of the Reliance Aircraft and Tool Company here, upon receipt of a telephone message that his wife was seriously ill in Cornwall, discovered that his car was "out of gas." The hour was 2 a.m. and in his need he applied to the local police station. A few minutes later a grateful husband was speeding his way east to see his wife.

MARKET PRICES GENERALLY STEADY

Seasonal fruits and vegetables with price levels maintaining a steady tone featured a fairly good early week city market today.

Top-grade eggs sold at 37c the dozen with a few pounds of butter offered at 40c each. Peaches, first-grade, priced at 65c the basket with lesser quality going at 55c. Apples were plentiful with Transparents selling at 25c the half-peck; Duchess, 30c basket and Wolf Rivers at $1 the bushel. Crab-apples priced at 25c the basket.

Home grown tomatoes sold at 25c the basket; corn 20c and 25c the dozen ears; potatoes 35c the peck and $1.25 the bushel. Late raspberries sold at 30c the box.

LARGE MUSKIE LANDED

The big muskies are still biting in the Moira River. Evidence of this is seen in the twenty-one and three-quarter pounder landed by Ray Lockyer and Roy Anderson. The duo landed the big fish after a strenuous battle and hauled him in the boat with the benefit of a gaff-hook. The fish is the third big muskie to be landed this season by Lockyer.

BELLEVILLE BOY COMPETES IN MODEL AIRPLANE RACES

Belleville will have an entrant in the International Aircraft Races sponsored by the Canadian National Exhibition and held today at the Toronto Flying Club when Kaye Martin competes for the third consecutive year. Last year his plane came fifth in a field of ninety contestants. The gas model planes have to be assembled according to plan by the competitors themselves and are equipped with motors. Kaye is competing in two classes. He was fortunate in being able to secure a special motor from Los Angeles, from the factory operated by Reginald Denny, movie star, who specializes in the manufacture of these small motors called "Denny-might." Mrs. F. C. Martin accompanied her grandson to Toronto for the meet today.

It Pays to Shop
At the Rexall Store.

START TO SCHOOL with a WATERMAN'S
SKYWRITER
FOUNTAIN PEN
FULLY GUARANTEED
$1.50

McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

BRING YOUR HARNESS
to
J. W. Daniels, Foxboro
SAVE MONEY!
—Prompt, Satisfactory Service.—
A21-22-28

HEATING SYSTEM FOR TRENTON AIRPORT

Among the construction contracts issued by the Department of Munitions and Supply during the past week as announced from Ottawa yesterday was one for the installation of heating systems at the Trenton R.C.A.F. station at a cost of approximately $30,000. Waterous Limited of Brantford, Ont., were the successful tenderers, the contract calling for completion of the job in October.

HARD TO PURCHASE DIRECT FROM GROWER

The scarcity of the grain crop throughout the Quinte district is prompting local farmers to retain all grain grown on their farms this season as is indicated by the fact that it is almost impossible to purchase oats direct from the grower. One local man who lives near Foxboro and who annually buys about 100 bushels of grain to feed his small herd of cows and chickens stated he had tried unsuccessfully to purchase the usual amount.

This is in direct contrast to the conditions existant last season when shortly after the threshing season commenced, oats could be purchased from the farmer for as little as 20c per bushel. Dealers are at present offering ,50c per bushel for oats but they are hard to acquire even at this price.

THRESHING WORK WELL ALONG WAY

Threshing operations are well along in the Belleville district with the last of the oat crop expected to be cleaned up during the present week, according to farmers attending markt this morning. Yields of lower than last year with the oats are as expected considerably highest returns reported being approximately 40 bushels to the acre, although the average is far below this figure. The harvest season will be completed about two weeks earlier than usual it is expected.

TELEGRAPH CONSCIOUS

Canberra—(CP)—Australia uses its telegraph system—186,000 miles of wire — more than any other country in the world. Australians each average 2.4 telegrams a year. The United States is next with 1.5 and the United Kingdom third with 1.3.

FULL OF WORDS

It has been estimated that the average person knows from 25,000 to 35,000 words.

Tonight & Wednesday
THE PICTURE THAT BELLEVILLE IS PROCLAIMING THE FINEST OF THE YEAR!
WHAT EVERY WOMAN NEEDS!...

shining victory

STEPHENSON · FITZGERALD
DONALD CRISP · BARBARA O'NEIL
Directed by IRVING RAPPER
From a Play by A. J. CRONIN
— HIT No. 2 —
—AND IT'S A RIOT!

She Couldn't Say No

ADULTS, EVE., 25c plus tax.
WED. IS FOTO - NITE
$230.
FOR A PHOTOGRAPH
First Show 6.30
CAPITOL
LOOK! STARTS SAT.!
GENE AUTRY'S
Latest and Best
"Sunset in Wyoming"

Michael Shea, Stirling Farmer, Dies in Sleep

Stirling, August 26 (Special) — Michael Shea died in his sleep at his residence in this village during last night as the result of a heart seizure. When he retired he was apparently in good health and his sudden passing was a great shock to the members of his family and to his many friends.

The late Mr. Shea was born seventy-six years ago in Sidney Township being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Shea. All his life was passed in this district and he was held in high esteem. For many years he was engaged in farming and specialised in purebred Holstein cattle. He was widely known in the county and to many friends his sudden death has brought sincere regret. In religion he was a faithful member of St. James' Roman Catholic Church, Stirling.

Surviving him are his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Mary Fitzpatrick; one son, Dr. John T. Shea, State Hospital, Foxboro, Mass.; six daughters, Mrs. F. Long, Trenton; Miss Evelyn Shea, Buffalo, N.Y.; Mrs. Edward M. Powers, Buffalo, N.Y.; Mrs. David W. Dalrymple, New York City; Miss Madeline Shea and Miss Pauline Shea, both at home; three brothers, Dr. W. A. Shea, Dr. P. J. Shea and Mr. George Shea, all of Camrose, Alberta.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this paper.

Chief Coroner In Hastings Received $449

Hastings and thirty-seven other counties of the province may be without the services of a chief coroner if a forecast predicted by Attorney-General G. D. Conant yesterday proves true.

According to the Attorney-General the change is due partly to abuse of the system and partly to the fact that the number of inquests which are held has been reduced by recent changes in procedure.

Under the proposed new arrangements the Crown Attorney in conjunction with the police will decide if an inquest will be held and if held will designate the coroner.

The number of inquests has been cut down by the decision that in cases where a criminal charge is laid no inquest is compulsory and also because there are fewer inquests in railroad fatalities. It has been ascertained the Attorney-General charged that in most of the counties the chief coroner has taken the majority of the inquests in some case, more than his assistants combined.

In support of his statement, the Attorney-General presented figures for thirty-eight counties. In seven of these the chief coroner's remuneration was greater than the total for his assistants. In Hastings County, however, the chief coroner received $449, while his assistants received $574.

Special Announcement

MR. ROBERT R. TURNEY announces that he is closing his PHOTOGRAPH STUDIO at 25 BRIDGE STREET E. for the duration of the war, as he is joining the engineering staff of the Aluminum Company of Canada.

Any of his patrons who have had portraits taken at his Studio can have the original negatives and any existing salon size photos of themselves now in his studio, by calling at his studio this week between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

By obtaining their negatives each patron will be able to obtain copies of their photographs at a negligible fraction of the original cost.

Mr. Turney wishes to thanks all his patrons for their generous support.

A26-27

Elwood Bateman Seriously Burned

When a pail of gasoline or some other highly inflammable liquid suddenly exploded at the Clifford Baragar Garage on Dundas Street East, shortly after the garage was opened for the day's business this morning, Elwood Bateman, aged 17, formerly of Springbrook, was severally burned about the hands and face.

The Bateman youth, an employee of the garage, was near the open street door when the explosion occurred, setting fire to a commercial calendar which hung on a near-by wall. It was while extinguishing the flames consuming the calendar that the youth was burned, but his presence of mind and resultant quick action in subduing the flames undoubtedly saved the woodwork of the garage from catching afire.

Constable Bill Evans of the City Police force took the injured youth to the office of Dr. G. S. Cronk where emergency dressings were applied, the lad later being admitted to the hospital. City firemen were called to the scene following the explosion but their assistance was not required.

Belleville Public Utilities Commission

Operating
HYDRO-ELECTRIC, GAS AND WATER DEPARTMENTS
277 FRONT STREET — PHONE 264

Belleville, Ont., August 26th., 1941

His Worship the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Belleville,
City Hall,
Belleville, Ontario.

Re: BELLEVILLE GAS PLANT

Gentlemen:

The Commission acknowledges receipt of a letter from the City Clerk to its Secretary under date of July 18th., 1941, wherein it was advised of the Council's action in refusing to advance the sum of $13,000.00 as requested by the Commission under date of May 8th., 1941. The Council states that if the Commission is unable to operate from profits that the plant should be returned to the City for further operation or disposal as it may deem advisable. Apart from the wisdom of such a course, may the Commission point out that legally, it has no power to transfer the gas utility to the City until the qualified electors of the Municipality by an affirmative vote have signified their desire that this be done. In that connection, the Commission would respectfully point out to the Council that the electors, on December 2nd., 1940, in response to a question submitted to them by the Council as to whether or not they desired that the gas utility continue under its present management or be transferred to the Council voted by a substantial majority to leave the management of the utility where it is.

The Commission does not wish to approach this very important matter in any spirit of acrimony, but in fairness to the customers of the gas utility and to the taxpayers generally may the Commission again point out to the Council that IT IS ABSOLUTELY IMPERATIVE, if the operation of the utility is to be continued, that the retorts MUST BE RE-LINED. From expert advice obtained it is the Commission's opinion that the gas plant in its present condition should not be operated and cannot be operated for a period of more than TWO MONTHS, and it may very well be that there will be a break-down well within that period.

As the Council is no doubt aware, the utility has industrial and commercial customers who would, to say the least, be seriously inconvenienced by any abrupt closing of the plant due to circumstances over which the Commission has no control and the Commission feels that you gentlemen of the Council should show these citizens some consideration.

The Commission has pointed out to your Council, and to previous Councils, on several occasions, verbally and in writing the imperative necessity of these repairs, but the matter has unfortunately been allowed to drift until it has reached its present stage, which, to put the matter quite plainly and briefly is in the Commission's opinion, that unless the Council votes the money requisitioned by the Commission for the purposes asked for therein the plant may not be "closed down" but will "break down." The responsibility however, as all are aware, is that of the City Council solely. The 1937 Council by By-Law passed with the assent of the electors entrusted the control and management to this Commission, and there its authority ends. The Council alone has the power, the Commission is advised, to advance the requested monies, and if it does not see fit to do so that is its responsibility.

In closing may the Commission respectfully point out that it is its considered opinion, that the Commission is passing it along to the Council, as it trusts a helpful suggestion, that the point has long since been reached where the Council should decide finally whether or not it intends to continue the operation of the gas utility. If the Council decides to continue its operation, THE COMMISSION REPEATS THAT THE REPAIRS SHOULD BE PROCEEDED WITH IMMEDIATELY.

Yours very truly,

BELLEVILLE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION.

M. P. DUFF, Chairman.
GEO. A. REID, Commissioner.
G. E. THOMPSON, Mayor.

Gordon Brown Forms V-Club

Sweeping the country from coast to coast, the "V" for "Victory" campaign has struck a popular note in the hearts and minds of all Canadians.

In Montreal, Gordon Brown, a former Belleville resident whose mother still resides here, has formed a "V for Victory" organization which has been registered in his name. A number of prominent Canadian firms as well as individuals have joined the organization and many more are expected to fall in line.

Mr. Brown, whose company, is the Standard Sticker and Label Company, Ltd., 370 Inspector St., Montreal, states that 75 per cent of amounts derived from the sale of "V" buttons, stickers, etc., will be donated to the Royal Air Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force Benevolent Funds.

He has registered in his name the V-Club of Canada and also the V-Club of America. The V-Club of Canada will be issuing memberships at $1 for adults and 25c for children. Anyone sending this amount will receive a membership card and a button for the amount subscribed.

$6,400,000 Loss In Sales During Arvida Strike

Chicoutimi, Que., Aug. 26—(CP)—The first Royal Commission to make an inquiry into the cause of a strike in a Canadian war industry since the start of the present war will continue its investigation today into the reason for a five-day walk-out last July in the Aluminum Company of Canada plant at nearby Arvida.

The commission, under the joint chairmanship of Mr. Justice W. L. Bond, and Mr. Justice Severin Letourneau, both of Montreal, began its inquiry yesterday, hearing the evidence of A. C. Johnston, works manager at the Arvida plant.

George Lamountain, director of company personnel, is scheduled to take the stand when the hearing resumes.

Johnston, testifying at both the morning and afternoon sittings of the opening day, said the strike caused the company a loss of $6,400,000 in sales. The walk-out delayed production of about 32,000,000 pounds of aluminum which sells at 20 cents a pound, he said. No material damage was caused by the strikers, however, from the time the strike started July 24 until it ended July 28.

800 Men Affected

The strike first affected about 800 men, but later during July 24 bands of strikers went through other parts of the plant and practically demanded that the other men go on strike.

"The strikers," he said, "refused to go back to work despite appeals from company officials who explained that the strike was illegal."

Mr. Campbell, a conciliator from the Dominion Department of Labor, also was unsuccessful in getting the men to go back to work, Johnston said.

Some of the strikers remained in the plant until the third day, Johnston said, when all pickets were removed from inside the buildings. On the fourth day, the strikers voted 2,452 to 51 against returning to work, but on the following day reversed their decision practically unanimously and went back to their posts.

Obituary

FREDERICK C. YULL

Frederick Charles Yull, age two years and six months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Yull, 21 Railway Terrace, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Monday, August 25th., after an illness of two months' duration.

Surviving besides the parents, are one brother, Norman William Yull, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, Belleville; grandfather, Mr. Frederick C. Yull, Montreal.

The family attend the Tabernacle United Church.

Resting at the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this paper.

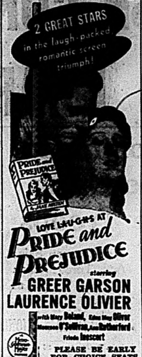
LATE JACOB HOMER DEMILL
(Melrose)

The funeral of Jacob Homer DeMill took place on Monday afternoon, August 25th., from his late residence in Melrose to the Melrose United Church where service was conducted by the Rev. W. Sterling, the pastor on the circuit, who also conducted the service at the graveside in Melrose cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. William McMechan, Russell McFarlane, Frank Bennett, John Weese, Fred Jeffery and Edward Lazier, all of whom are members of L.O.L. No. 242, Melrose under which auspices the funeral was held. The last rites of the Orange Order were conducted at the graveside by Chaplain, Rev. W. Sterling; Director of ceremonies, Peter Coutts; Master of the Lodge, Earl Whiteman and Deputy Master, Lorne Weese.

There was a large attendance of friends.

AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE
MATINEE WEDNESDAY..... 2.30
EVENINGS 7.15. Last Show 8.30
Now Playing



2 GREAT STARS in the laugh-packed romantic screen triumph!
LOVE LAUGHS AT
Pride and Prejudice

starring
GREER GARSON
LAURENCE OLIVIER
with Mary Boland, Edna May Oliver, Maureen O'Sullivan, Ann Rutherford, Frieda Inescort
PLEASE BE EARLY FOR CHOICE SEATS.

SECOND THRILL-PACKED FEATURE.
BELA LUGOSI
IN
"INVISIBLE GHOST"
The Screen's "merchant of menace" at his terrifying best!
Extra: Latest Fox News
"GLASBAKE" CUSTARD CUP AND COUPON FOR ? ? ?

Opinion Divided On Effectiveness Of New Gas Cut

Belleville service station operators are definitely not all of one accord as to whether the new cuts in gasoline deliveries to service stations will materially affect motor car operators and gasoline sales. Ivan E. Scott, local Cities Service retail distributor, while admitting that the new restrictions would not be conductive to greater volume of business nevertheless was of the belief that the new order would have but little affect on the actual sales of gasoline.

Mr. Scott was of the opinion that throughout September there would be a natural decrease in driving of approximately 20 per cent, giving as the reason that the tourist season would be completed and the vacationing period would be over. This would result in much less travelling by motor and might possibly reduce gasoline sales below that which is indicated by the new orders restricting deliveries to service stations on a basis of 75 per cent of their July sales.

Clarence Clapp was of different opinion, however. It was his contention that service station operators would stand to have their sales forcibly cut almost the amount of the restriction. "It certainly will not do us any good," was his comment.

The fact that service stations this week will receive only an amount equal to 20 perent of their July sales was taken to mean that there would be a sharp cut, but this would last only for this week. This would cause a slight curtailment in driving, it was agreed.

Eleven-Pound Smoke Bomb Lands Near Boat

Point Traverse, Aug. 26.—Mr. Roy Spafford and son Keith, commercial fishermen here, escaped possible inujry by a few feet and had an experience they do not wish to have occur again, when returning home from bringing in their nets from South Bay.

A bomber, flying several thousand feet over the lake, in some unkonwn manner, accidently dropped from its rack, an eleven-pound smoke bomb, which falling with terrific velocity, struck the water within twenty feet of their small boat. The missile exploding as it struck the water with great force, threw up a great cloud of spray over the boat, but fortunately missed the boat and its two occupants.

The fishermen were outside the danger area, about a mile and a half off shore, when the incident occurred, said Mr. Spafford.

Northerly Post Office

Willis Metcalfe, avid philatelist, received this week an interesting cover bearing the post mark of Penasse, Minnesota. The Penasse post office is the most northerly in the United States. Miss Helen Arnold is the post mistress.

Visitors From N. Y.

Guests at the "White House" include Mr. Halton Blye, Mr. Ben Forsythe, Mr. John Keenan and Mr. Howard Wood, Rochester, N.Y. The men are all members of the American Bar Association.

Mr. Nelson Minaker, who for many years has been engaged in commercial fishing operations at this colony, has discontinued operations.

AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE
THURS. - FRI. - SAT.

BACK...IN THEIR BATTLING BEST!
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR

IF YOU THOROUGHLY ENJOY A GOOD LAUGH . . . PLENTY OF THRILLS . . . MYSTERY AND ROMANCE . . . THIS IS THE PROGRAM!
MAISIE'S BEST FUN-FEST!

RINGSIDE MAISIE
starring Ann SOTHERN

GEORGE MURPHY with ROBERT STERLING
Virginia O'BRIEN · Natalie THOMPSON
This Feature at 2.40 - 8.30
PLUS — Slick Screen Mystery Blended with Romance and Comedy.

The most amazing mystery Scotland Yard ever was asked to solve!
SCOTLAND YARD
NANCY KELLY
EDMUND GWENN
JOHN LODER

This Feature 4.00: 7.20: 10.00
EXTRA! SPECIAL!
FIRST PICTURES OF CHURCHILL - ROOSEVELT MEETING.
Tonight & Wednesday
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE.
Daily 2.30 7.10. Last Show 8.30

Son of Ex-Warden Attacked by Bull

Elmer Churcher Sustains Broken Leg — Leading Animal to Water

Bancroft, Aug. 26 (Special) — Elmer Churcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Churcher of Bancroft, sustained a broken leg Monday evening, when he was attacked by a bull on their farm. The boy, as usual, was taking the animal to water and on previous occasions he was just in the habit of leading it by a rope but for some reason he snapped on the pole lead. On their return to the stable the bull charged the lad breaking the nose pole in two and had Elmer in a corner of the stall after striking the boy first. The only salvation the boy had was that the animal's horns did not allow it to get close enough into the corner to further attack him. The boy's cries for help were heard by a neighbor, a Mr. Griggs, who immediately ran over to the barn and forgetting his own danger got the bull from the stall and recovered the boy from his precarious position. Elmer's people were not around at the time of the accident. After being made as comfortable as possible by Dr. O. W. Anderson, Elmer was later taken to Toronto by his father and the limb was set at the Toronto General Hospital.

Arrested at Coe Hill

George Boyd of Coe Hill was arrested last week in Coe Hill by Provincial Constable S. W. Palmateer of Bancroft on a charge of supplying liquor to minors. As the result of his allegedly supplying beer to two girls and two boys in the village under the age of twenty one years, he was taken to Belleville county jail.

Fight Takes Place

As the result of a fight, which took place in Coe Hill last week, Frank Cross was charged with causing a disturbance by swearing and being drunk. Those taking part in the fight against him were Ira Smith, Donald Giles, Roy Wilson, Vernon Peters, Harry Tremley and Albert Gilroy all of the latter group being charged with taking part in the affray. They will appear in Bancroft police court on August 26th. Frank Cross was severely beaten up and finally knocked out and left on the street. Three men passing by feeling sorry for the unfortunate laid him up on a nearby bench. These men were Glen Gunter, Mervin Reid and Oliver Hill.

Acting on a complaint from Howard McLean of Boulter that three men had approached his home about three o'colck on the morning of August 23rd attempting to break into his place by trying to knock the door in and also trying to persuade Mr. McLean to come out that they might beat him up. Provincial Constable S. W. Palmateer investigated, arresting Carl Kennedy, Roy Wilson and Douglas Prentice all of Boulter and lodged them in Belleville county jail on a charge of attempting to break and enter. They will appear in Bancroft police court August 26.

Bridge, Euchre Success

The Bridge, Euchre and Dance held in the Community Hall, Bancroft, Friday evening August 22nd, in aid of the British War Victims Fund was a great success, in that over one hundred and sixty-two dollars were raised for the fund. A great deal of preparation was made to make the party as full of enjoyment as possible for those attending. The hall was nicely decorated with red, white and blue pennants, Union Jacks and several large vases of beautiful gladioli.

The early part of the evening saw many tables of card players eagerly indulged. Prizes being won by: Ladies' bridge, Mrs. R. W. Blatherwick; Gentlemen's bridge, Mr. W. George Davy; Gentlemen's euchre, Mr. Ford Rupert of Hearst, Ont. Following the completion of the card playing, bingo developed into full swing and continued throughout the remainder of the evening. Prizes for the bingo were donated by the merchants of the village. The Bancroft Orchestra supplied the music providing plenty of enjoyment for the young folk who indulged in both round and square dancing.

Draw for Donated Articles

Immediately after lunch the drawing for the donated articles took place on which tickets had been sold during the summer months. A permanent wave donated by Miss Ada Hawley netted $62.00 and was won by Mrs. U. Beaudrie of Hardwood Lake. A hand embroidered table cloth and serviettes done in colors donated by Miss Selina Thompson brought in $36.00 and was won by Mrs. W. Ernest Wiggins of Cobourg. A hand embroidered cut-work centre piece done in white donated by Miss Bradshaw of Detlor raised a sum of $24.25 and was won by Private Hugh Flindall of Belleville, he incidently, buying the ticket just prior to the drawing. Door receipts amounted to $23.50 and the bingo swelled the pot by another $17.00. Mr. H. M. Price, editor of the Bancroft Times had, as a result of such a successful function, a total of over $162.00 to forward to the Toronto Evening Telegram for the British War Victims Fund.

Mr. W. E. Wiggins and Mr. R. W. Blatherwick were in Belleville on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chancy Rae motored to Belleville on Tuesday.

Miss Marie McAlpine, a nurse at the Red Cross hospital in Bancroft, left Tuesday for Jellicoe, Ont., where she will take over her new assignment as nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones returned home from Montreal, Wednesday completing a business trip which occupied the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hawkins were in Belleville Saturday.

Mr. Ford Rupert of Hearst, Ont., and Miss Mary Rupert of Ottawa, are visiting this week at the home of their brother, Mr. Arthur Rupert of Bancroft.

Mrs. Charles LaBarge of Peterboro is spending a few days in town visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hawley.

Mrs. C. W. Mullett returned from Toronto Saturday evening, having spent the past week with relatives in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Broad of Belleville spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Broad of Bancroft.

Dr. A. T. Embury and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Embury and family who are camping at the latter's cottage near Denbigh were in town this week renewing acquaintances.

Mr. J. L. Churcher returned home from Toronto Saturday reporting that his son, Elmer, whom he left in hospital is recoving as well as could be expected from an accident he had suffered on their farm earlier in the week.

Mr. C. O. Fuller has transformed the outward appearance of his home this week by having it painted and also roof shingled.

None of Passengers Injured

An accident occurred Saturday afternoon about five miles west of Bancroft on Highway No. 28 when a car driven by Mrs. Abrams of New York collided with a car carrying soldiers on leave to Bancroft. The accident took place on a straight stretch of road but apparently they misjudged their clearance and the crash sent each vehicle into the ditch. The Abrams car, a twelve cylinder vehicle coming to rest on the opposite side of the road on its side after it had crashed a fence, while the car carrying the soldiers came to rest against an embankment. None of the passengers were injured other than some slight cuts and bruises. Town Constable R. P. Delyea investigated the accident.

Mrs. J. M. Joynt returned home from Toronto Tuesday afternoon where she had been attending the McKay-Trimm wedding in Toronto at the St. George of the Martyr Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Little of California, Mrs. J. Livingstone and Mrs. Thompson of Douglas, Miss Wherritt, Mr. W. A. Joynt, daughter and niece of Ottawa, were visitors this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Joynt.

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Creeggan and family returned home to Picton on Saturday after spending a two week vacation at Trout Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Doney left for Toronto Sunday morning after spending the summer at their cottage on Trout Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Landon of Toronto arrived in Bancroft Sunday morning and will spend a two week vacation at Trout Lake.

Donald Spence was arrested Friday evening by Constable Palmateer in the Grand Cafe for causing a disturbance.

Truman McDonald had a charge of careless driving laid against him Friday night, when he was allegedly handling a car in a most careless manner on Main Street, Bancroft.

Merle Coe was arrested Friday evening charged with allegedly blowing a car horn incessantly thereby causing a disturabnce.

RELIEVE SUFFERING QUICKLY WITH KELLOGG'S
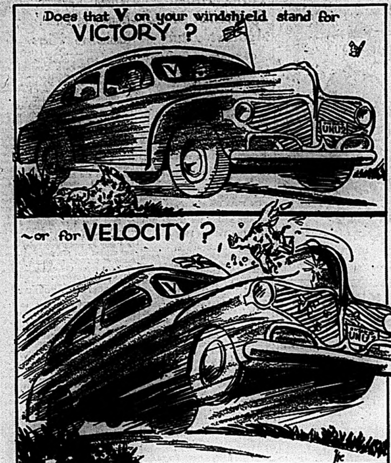
ASTHMA RELIEF



Does that V on your windshield stand for VICTORY ?
V
UNU
—or for VELOCITY ?

Pupils Present Gifts To Teacher Leaving For New Position

Madoc Junction—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fitchett of Stirling spent part of last week at Mr. and Mrs. C. Fitchett's.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard, Sr., of Lindsay spent a few days this week at Mr. and Mrs. Ross Woodward's.

Most of the pupils of S.S. No. 24 Sidney and a few of the parents gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stapley on Friday night to spend an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stapley before their departure to Cherry Valley, where Mr. Stapley has been engaged as principal of the school there.

Mr. Stapley has taught in the school here for the past four years, so during the evening an address was read by Gladys Clarke expressing regret that Mr. Stapley would not be their teacher for the coming term and Rosella Fitchett on behalf of the pupils presented Mr. Stapley with a safety razor and leather bill fold.

Mr. Stapley in a few well-chosen words thanked the pupils for the gifts. After this lunch was served and a social half hour enjoyed together.

Eggleton W.M.S. and W.A.

On Thursday afternoon the August meeting of the Eggleton W.M.S. and W.A. was held in the church.

After the opening hymn Mr. K. Stewart led in prayer. Mrs. Russell Stapley read the Scripture lesson. Mrs. Woodward gave a reading from the "Missionary Monthly." The meeting closed with Hymn 380 and prayer.

Miss Lorena Haight of Belleville is spending this week at Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chambers'.

A number from here motored to West Huntingdon last Saturday evening to attend the Carson-Elliott wedding in the West Huntingdon United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stapley, Mrs. Russell Stapley and Joan Stapley, visited relatives near Picton one day recently and on the journey home spent the tea hour with Mrs. E. Danford in Belleville.

Miss Rosella Fitchett spent Monday and Tuesday of this week with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sarles of Zion's Hill were Sunday guests at Mr. and Mrs. George Eggleton's.

Mr. J. Hubble spent a day this week at Mr. Warren Harlow's.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stapley spent last week camping at Salmon Lake.

Mrs. Woodward, Gerald and Joyce visited relatives in Lindsay on Tuesday.

Wooler

Wooler — Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Austin recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Austin of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Mowat Austin of Toronto.

Miss Jean Dawson of Trenton spent a few days with relatives in the village.

After spending holidays with relatives Miss Marguerite Stacey and Keith returned to their home in Bloomfield.

Master Buddy Murray has returned to his home in Toronto.

Miss Dorothy Rowe spent a day with her friend, Miss Marion Smith at Smithfield.

Mrs. Wm. Nancarraw, who has been seriously ill, is able to sit up in a chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rogers entertained their daughter, Mrs. J. Wilson, the Doctor and baby of Richmond Hill.

Born—On Monday, August 18th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coltman, a son.

The Forty Hours Devotion opened at St. Alphonsus Church, Wooler, on Sunday morning, August 17th, with High Mass sung by the pastor, Rev. Father Rishea. At the evening devotion Father Rishea preached the sermon and Rev. Father McAuley of Campbellford was present in the Sanctuary. On Monday evening Rev. Father Hanley of Trenton was the speaker and Father McAuley took the devotions. The Forty Hours closed on Tuesday night with Dr. Masterson of Peterboro as guest preacher. The altar was most beautiful with the decoration of flowers donated by the ladies of the parish and all services were largely attended by the congregation and visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott are having the front verandah of their home remodelled into a sun porch.

Miss Agnes McColl, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McColl, has been accepted into the Sisterhood and with taking the habit became Sister Inez Marie and was here attending The Forty Hours. She was accompanied by Reverend Sister Wilfred and was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John McColl of the ninth concession of Murray Township during her vacation.

Mrs. Ellen Murray received as callers recently her niece, Mrs. E. A. Covell and husband of Toronto.

Miss Mabel Rogers entertained her uncle, Rev. F. A. Lawson and Mrs. Lawson to dinner recently.

Mrs. George Murray is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. R. Springett of Warsaw, N.Y., and Mr. Springett for a few days.

Miss Evelyn Crews is home from her summer course at Queen's University, Kingston.

TROUT SEASON EXTENDED

Toronto, Aug. 26—(CP) — D. J. Taylor, the Deputy Minister of Game and Fisheries, announced that the season for speckled trout has been extended to Sept 15. This gives an additional two weeks to the previous closing date.

Cheese Gradings Running Ahead Of Last Year

Ottawa, Aug. 26—(CP)—Cheese gradings, of particular importance because they show Canada is doing with commitments to supply 112,000,000 pounds of cheese to Britain in the current fiscal year, are running ahead of last year, the Agriculture Department made known.

Gradings in the week ended Aug. 23 were 59,264 boxes, an increase of .84 per cent compared with the same week in 1940 when gradings totalled 58,767 boxes. In the week ended Aug. 16 last gradings totalled 61,601 boxes compared with 58,337 boxes during the same week of 1940.

"There was little decline last week as compared with the previous week but it is the comparison between this year's figures and last year's figures we are particularly interested in," a Department spokesman said.

The present slight decline was to be expected because milk production reaches its peak about July 1. The current rate of cheese gradings, it was added, indicate Canadian contracts with the British Ministry of Food will be filled on schedule.

Stirling

Stirling — Mr. William Alcombrack, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Alcombrack, Mrs. Ernest Gamble and son Horace, all of Watertown, N.Y., were recent visitors of the former's sisters, Mrs. Herbret Bush, Murray; Mrs. G. W. Hockey and Mrs. Arthur Hulin, Stirling. Mr. Alcombrack Sr. will remain in the Stirling district to continue his visit and the remainder of the party returned last week to their home in N.Y.

Mrs. Fred Elgie and Audrey May are visiting in Muncey, Ont., where Mr. Elgie is engaged in directing work on the building of the new United Church.

Mrs. Harry Stairs of Rochester, N.Y., was recent guest at the home of her sister, Miss Charlotte McCann, Front Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Good left on Wednesday for a week's motor trip to Haliburton and other points in Northern Ontario.

Mrs. Robt. Christie is spending a few days visiting her sister, Mrs. G. E. Simmons, in Toronto.

Miss Lucy Williams has returned to her home in Toronto after spending a week visiting friends and relatives in Stirling.

Mr. Archie Campbell, Pontiac, Mich., was a recent guest of his brother, Mr. James Campbell, Oak Hills.

Mr. Arthur Girdwood of Barrie, Ont., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Robt. Girdwood, Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeffrey and family of Oshawa spent the week-end visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jeffrey, Belleville, and renewed old acquaintances in Stirling.

Messrs. George Mason and Jack Ackers have returned to their work in Oshawa after spending the week-end visiting their respective homes in Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hulin spent Sunday visiting relatives in Frankford and Trenton.

Springbrook United Church resumed services on Sunday morning after being closed for three weeks during which the church underwent complete re-decoration of its interior. The work was completed early this week by Arthur Duncan of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cranston and family left on Friday last to attend the Canadian National Exhibition. Miss Dorothy Hulin of Stirling accompanied them and will spend a few days visiting her mother in Toronto.

Pte. Ed McDonald of Camp Borden spent the week-end visiting his home in Stirling.

Among the soldiers home for week-end leave were Pte. Fred Dainard and Elmer West, of Camp Borden; A. C. Desmond Jackman of Trenton Airport.

A dispenser for packaged candy has been invented to be attached to an automobile dashboard with suction cups or screws.

New Zealand will begin the use of fertilizers containing serpentine, a silicate mineral found in commercial quantities in the dominion.

Conciliation Board Recommends Payment Of Living Bonus

Ottawa, Aug. 26—(CP)—Payment of a wartime cost of living bonus to about 3,700 employees of McKinnon Industries, Ltd., St. Catharines, Ont., was recommended unanimously by a Conciliation Board which investigated a labor dispute in the plant, the Labor Minister, Hon. Norman McLarty, announced in a statement Monday.

"This recommendation has already been implemented by the employing company," the minister said. The employees are members of Local 199 of the United Automobile Workers of America.

Personnel of the Conciliation Board was:: Judge J. T. Mulcahy of Pembroke, Ont., chairman; Drummond Wren, of Toronto, nominated by the employees; and J. J. Bench, K.C., of St. Catharines, nominated by the employer.

The dispute arose out of a request for wage increases of 10 cents per hour to hourly-paid workers and of 15 per cent to piece workers and incentive plan workers.

The chairman and Mr. Bench recommended against an increase in the present basic rates, which they found fair and reasonable, while Mr. Wren expressed opinion the employees' arguments in favor of wage increases were well founded. However the board was unanimous in recommending payment of cost-of-living bonuses.

Marmora

Marmora — Frank Hulsman of the R.C.A.F., Toronto, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hulsman.

Sapper George Osborne, who has been visiting at his home here left on Saturday for Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Skelley of Rochester, N.Y., are visiting the latter's father Mr. Hugh Shannon and other relatives here.

Mr. E. Shannon is spending holidays in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Fletcher have returned home after spending holidays in Oshawa. Their daughter, Marilyn, is still in Oshawa with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. De Guerse.

Mrs. Jolly, of Toronto, has returned home after spending several weeks with Miss Violet Deacon.

Miss Ruth Koski has returned home from Thistledown hospital, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelcoskey of Hobart, Indiana, visited the latter's mother, Mrs. W. Holland for a few days this week.

Master Tommy Banks of Windsor is visiting Master Earl Cousins.

Billie Bulkuk is spending a week with friends in West Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Neal and Mr. Don Neal motored to London and Hamilton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neal have returned to their home in London after visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Neal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lambert and son Ralph of Toronto, are guests at Marble Point Lodge.

Members of Marmora Women's Institute held a picnic at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sabine on Friday afternoon.

Messrs. Walker Caldwell, Ewan Caldwell and John McQuaig of Shanty Bay visited Rural Dean and Mrs. Caldwell on Friday evening.

Mrs. James Auger of Perrin, Quebec, is visiting relatives here.

Born on Friday Aug 22 in Marmora, to Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lynch, a daughter.

Born in Marmora on Friday, Aug. 2nd, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Philips, a daughter.

Miss Lois Skelley of Rochester, N.Y., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hughes and other relatives here.

Thomas and James McGrath of Oshawa spent the weekend with relatives at Crowe Lake.

Mr. M. Jones of Oshawa, spent the weekend with relatives here.

Mr. Ralph Morton of Petermoro, spent the weekend with his mother at Crowe Lake.

Miss Betty Wright of Toronto, spent the weekend at her home at Delsoo.

Flowers on the altar at St. Paul's on Sunday were in memory of Geo. Percy McGarvey.

Miss Peggy Hewitt, of Toronto, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hewitt.

Lieut. Percy Gray of Kingston, spent Sunday at his home here.

How to climb a 12-foot stone wall
answer:
GET A LADDER WITH 12 RUNGS

● Perhaps the answer to your life insurance problem is just as simple as the one illustrated. If the annual premium on a policy adequate for your needs looks like a stone wall to you, get a ladder . . . take it in twelve easy steps . . . pay your premium in twelve small monthly amounts.

North American Life's new Budget Payment Plan is the modern, easy way to financial independence. This plan applies on any type of policy to suit your needs. Instead of paying a year's premium in advance, you pay only one month's premium. You won't have the bother of monthly payments because this service includes the acceptance of twelve post-dated checks. You get your insurance receipt each month automatically.

Send the coupon for folder telling how as little as $5 monthly will buy protection for your family and a guaranteed income for your own later years.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE
HEAD OFFICE: 112 King Street West, Toronto, Ont.

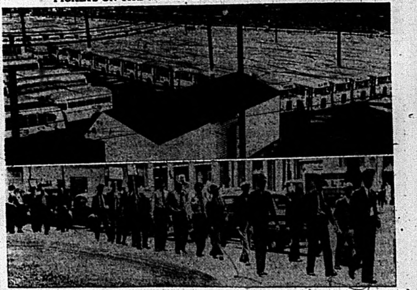
Please send me information about your special Budget Policy, together with free Pocket Memo Budget Booklet.

Name________________________

Address______________________ 114

DISTRICT OFFICE
203 EAST ROBERTSON BLOCK

PICKETS ON THE MARCH IN DETROIT'S TRANSIT STRIKE



Hundreds of buses stand idle in a Detroit parking lot, TOP, as a result of a strike by the city's transport operators, which forced many of the Motor City's 400,000 workers to walk or hitch-hike to work. BELOW, strikers are shown picketing Detroit City Hall. The strike against the municipal transit system was called in a battle between rival A.F. of L. and C.I.O. unions, with both demanding exclusive bargaining rights.

WE'RE MR. BARLEY AND MR. WHEAT AND WE MAKE GRAPE-NUTS TASTE NUT-SWEET!
TWO GRAINS INSTEAD OF ONLY ONE BRINGS FOLKS TO GRAPE-NUTS ON THE RUN!
UM-M—NO OTHER FLAVOUR LIKE GRAPE-NUTS
GRAPE-NUTS GO OVER BIG WITH ME BECAUSE THEY COMBINE REAL FLAVOUR WITH VALUABLE NOURISHMENT
GRAPE-NUTS ARE A REAL ECONOMY—THEY COST LESS THAN ONE CENT A SERVING Grape-Nuts
GET A PACKAGE TODAY
G-151

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

GAS DELIVERIES REDUCED

Gas restrictions have been placed. For the present week, including next Sunday, the amount of gasoline supplied to retailers will be 20 per cent of the total deliveries of July. For September and October the deliveries will be cut 25 per cent from the July figures, that is, only 75% will be supplied.

What has been accomplished by voluntary restriction is not enough. So the limit is set to deliveries.

Many have put themselves on a voluntarily restricted basis. Now they and others will be asked to continue doing so. That is the enforced limitation on deliveries is an supplementary measure in the plea to conserve more gasoline.

Those who have not harkened to the appeal must now realize that the necessity for saving of motor fuel is absolutely great, for gasoline is one of the supreme needs and tankers are required to carry the production of American oil wells to Britain.

The limitation of delivery to retailers should have two effects, the saving of a definite amount of gas in delivery and teaching the motorist that he must cut down consumption. With this action there should be greater saving.

RUSSIAN STRENGTH

The strength of the Russian army, the importance of its mechanism and equipment, the fortitude of her soldiers, have surprised the world. Joseph Stalin had not been idle. He had wisely prepared for that day when the Hun would send his armies against the Russian Empire to satisfy Hitler's greed for the rich lands of the Ukraine and the oil fields of the Caucasus.

In that surprised world is also Adolf Hitler and the millions of Germans who bolster the German Reich. Hitler is in the fine words of Prime Minister Churchill, "surprised, startled and staggered" by Russia and there is also Mr. Churchill's reference to the gallantry and loyalty of the Russian soldiers.

A short passage in the London Times substantiates the point of the unity in Russia which Hitler did not expect. Recently the paper said: The centenarians of Russia are turning out to beat Hitler, according to the Moscow wireless, which broadcast the following story: "The day after the announcement of the Nazi attack on the Soviet 110-year-old Abbas and his friend Teymour, who is 100 years of age, turned up for work in the fields of Azerbaijan. They are still quite hearty and scarcely yielding to the young in the amount of work performed . . . Before going to work, Abbas is reported to have remarked to his lifelong friend, Teymour, 'While the enemy lives, we must not die.' "

British officers who have been in Russia observing the campaign have been greatly impressed by the Russian efficiency and morale of the troops and people. Moscow is said to have very stout defences and few Nazi airmen reach the city of Moscow. On one occasion when Berlin said that five hundred Nazi planes had flown over Moscow, in fact not one appeared, according to Britishers. Russian figures, according to one official, as to loss of German planes, are considered conservative.

This unity and loyalty of the Russian to the Russia which is his home are something that the Hun does not understand. An aggressor, even the aggressor soldier, cannot be fired by greed to such deeds and sacrifices as the men who are fighting for the defence of their acres against a bloody murderous conqueror.

It is something like this which must explain the defence of the Russians today, in the success of their strategy, the fine equipment of their well-trained armies, and the loyalty of the Russian people, united against the enemy Hitler.

The best turn of events which could come to Iran (Persia) has come. The entry of British and Russian troops, not against the people, but to guard the interests of the two countries against the machinations and the menace which so many German experts and tourists signify to Britain and Russia will in fact prove to be the best thing that could have happened to them. It will save them from the Nazi blight. The nation's integrity will be maintained and preserved.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

SILK STOCKINGS IN ENGLAND

The story of what happened to a pair of Canadian silk stockings, sent as a present to England, is told in a letter from Suffolk received by Miss B. J. Johnstone of Swift Current recently. Canadian women who read it may appreciate their sheer stockings a little more.

Here's the letter from Miss Johnstone's sister: "You will be interested in hearing the latest chapter regarding those silk stockings you sent me. I happened to be in a shop last week where the saleswoman showed me a pair of awful looking lisle stockings that had just come in, at 3/11d (about 88 cents). I mentioned my present that I had thought of giving away. 'Oh! don't do it!' said the saleswoman, 'they are worth a goldmine now!'

"I explained that mine came from Canada, as all silk are not to be obtained over here. It gave me an idea. Every town and village throughout England has its 'War Weapons Week' as you have probably read, with whist drives, dances, raffles, etc. This happened to be our week, so I offered the silk stockings for a raffle to be held in the school. They were very gladly accepted. The woman who won them was not the 'silk stocking leg' type, but the schoolmaster's wife, having examined them previously (being a member of the committee) had set her heart on them. Her husband had won a War Savings Certificate for 7/6 (about $1.70) for a prize at the whist drive, so he gave the thrifty woman that in exchange for the luxurious silk stockings his wife so desired. Wasn't she delighted, as she was down to her last pair! ......

"I know you will be proud to think a gift from you—and a real Canadian article—played a little part in a village 'War Weapons Week' and will be glad I passed them on to this cause."

This war has brought about some strange circumstances. Women are playing an important part in the titanic struggle both overseas and at home. Not only are they joining the women's forces but are doing their bit in personal ways as well. Over in England they have given up that luxury so dear to the heart of the average woman, silk stockings, and are wearing those of other material. The latest article to take the place of the silk stocking is colored paint for milady's legs.

The new innovation has reached Canada, and is especially popular in the Maritime provinces. The sweet young thing mixes her color, be it flesh, sun-tan, chocolate, or what have you, draws a black line neatly upon the limb where the seam of the stocking would appear and paints the surrounding areas with the color. They tell us the new color is hard to detect from the silk apparel.

However, there is the case of the young fifteen-year-old miss, a "down-easter," who purchased her first package of leg-paint. Apparently she got the mixing directions a bit confused, for all went well until she retired. The next morning the sheets of her bed resembled the camouflaged side of a destroyer.

So clear, however, is the resemblance to the real article, that we were informed yesterday that a Belleville lady who experimented with the new substitute for silk stockings, "fooled" her friends until she actually drew their attention to the fact that her limbs were "painted" and not silk-shod.

While the latest war exigency strikes hardest at the feminine love of personal appearance, Canadian women, now doing their bit with the Empire's best, will meet the new "threat" to their vanity with a calmness and resignation characteristic of their national traditions.

A SOURCE OF PRIDE

Those lovers of music who turned their radios to station CBL on Sunday night thrilled at the splendid music played by the Toronto Symphony Band, especially the numbers written and composed by Belleville's own E. Reg. Hinchey. Mr. Hinchey, who is rapidly being recognized as one of Canada's foremost music composers and arrangers, is well known to local and district music lovers, and that his efforts are receiving recognition by those in the seats of the music mighty is but the tribute due to an outstanding musician and writer of music.

Mr. Hinchey's "International Patrol" was a masterpiece of music writing, while his "Freemen's March, 'V for Victory'" was but another exemplification of genius.

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed Reed

"Convey, Madam?"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 26th, 1921.

The picnic arranged by Mayor Charles Hanna, the members of the city council and the city officials which was held in Herman's Park, Rednersville, was a most enjoyable and successful event. Mayor Charlie Hanna was the moving spirit of the outing and had an able assistant in Teddie Austin, who won the prize for the best sport present. Sid Fisher was another live wire and Billy Woodley had the time of his young life. Ald. Adams showed marvelous form as a ball player. Ald. Ballinger is some athlete and the way he played ball and tossed the hundred pound shot was surprising. Ald. French as pitcher in the ball game showed an assortment of curves and spit balls which was amazing.

George Ostrom arrived too late for the ball game and his place was taken by Robert Tannahill and he played a fine game, knocking a three bagger. Ald. Wensley stole four bases and was given a walk. Sam Treverton had a tendency to hold the ball, but got a hit every time up but Sam is some runner, believe us. Charlie Mott knocked out a home run. Ted Austin manipulated a double play and Billy Woodley hit a three-bagger over the grandstand. Harry Stock is some pitcher and didn't hit more than ten batters, so he was permitted to live. Billy Harden, the gas man, was there and told the ladies to say it to his face, but Billy was so pleasant that he got away with it; he is some ball player, too.

The line-up for the ball game was as follows: City Council—Woodley, Wensley, Adams, Ballinger, Fisher, French, Treverton, Bleecker, Tannahill. City Officials — Stock, Colden, Harden, Austin, Kerr, Harris, Mills, Mott, and Rowlands. Mayor Hanna was the umpire and he escaped with minor injuries. The score was 63 to 55 in favor of the city council. In the races John Kerr, Bleecker, Colden, Mills, Mott and Rowlands showed surprising speed. In the putting of the shot, Charlie Mott was first and Sid Fisher second.

30 YEARS AGO

Mr. Owen Jones of Peoria, Ill., a former Belleville boy, is here on a visit to friends.

Mr. Thomas Kelso of Wichita, Kansas, an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit.

The Rev. R. S. Forneri, B.D., Rector of St. Luke's Church, Kingston, is spending a few days in the city.

At the Belleville Cheese Board 1,525 boxes of white cheese and 100 boxes of colored cheese were boarded and were all sold at 13 3-16 cents and 13 1-4 cents, which is an exceptionally high price.

Miss Agnes Cassidy returned to her home in Canandaigua, N.Y., today after visiting relatives here.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 26th, 1901.

Mr. George Brooker of Chicago, Ill., an old Belleville boy, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. S. W. Vermilyea left today for Quebec City on business.

The Rev. Father Stalsy of Kingston is spending a few days in town.

Dr. W. W. Boyce is visiting the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo.

Mr. William L. Binnger of the Dominion Express Co. is spending some time at the Toronto Fair.

Mr. Alf. Wills, drug clerk, left today for Renfrew where he has accepted a position.

Mr. Mark Sprague left today for Toronto where he will act as Superintendent of the Dairy Department at the Toronto Exhibition.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 26th, 1891.

Mr. S. M. Daly of the Bank of Commerce, Stratford, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. W. L. Hamilton, Inspector of Inland Revenue, was in town today.

Front Street is receiving a good cleaning. Merchants should instruct their employees not to deposit loose papers and shop sweepings on the main street, which hitherto has been a great source of annoyance.

Miss Lucy W. Cross of Rochester, N.Y., is visiting Miss Dulmage, Hillside Street.

Mrs. A. Shannon left last evening to spend some time in the Old Country.

PARROT HAD RIGHT IDEA

Harisburg, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Henrietta Shieeley's parrot had the right idea but didn't know the words. Investigating squawking of the pet, she discovered a thief had entered the living room in which the parrot was caged and made off with $30 from a buffet drawer.

NORTHERN ISLANDS

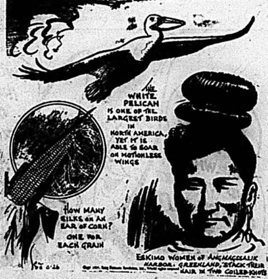
The principal islands in Hudson and James Bay have an estimated area of 23,714 square miles.

TUNNEL BUILDER DIES

Detroit, Aug. 26 (CP)— Charles E. Baisley, 76, builder of the Michigan Central Railway tunnel under the Detroit River between Windsor, Ont., and Detroit, died last night. He was former General Manager of the Great Lakes Engineering Works.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT



THE WHITE PELICAN IS ONE OF THE LARGEST BIRDS IN NORTH AMERICA, YET IT IS ABLE TO SOAR ON MOTIONLESS WINGS
HOW MANY SILKS ON AN EAR OF CORN? ONE FOR EACH GRAIN
ESKIMO WOMEN OF ANGMAGSSALIK HARBOR, GREENLAND, STACK THEIR HAIR IN TWO COILED KNOTS

Turks Aided By British Move Against Iran

(By EDWARD E. BOMAR)

Washington, Aug. 26.—(AP)—One probable effect of the Anglo-Russian push into Iran is that it will strengthen Turkey as a bulwark against the Nazi tide.

From the British and Russian viewpoint it is vital that the guardian of the Dardanelles gateway to the Black Sea continue steadfast against the Axis pressure which has been increasing relentlessly in recent weeks.

If Turkey will not join Hitler's foes as a belligerent, at least she must bar the passage of Italian warships from the Mediterranean to the Black Sea and refuse to become a channel for a Nazi winter campaign against the Middle East.

Can Validate Pledges

Now, by setting up a common frontier with each other and with Turkey, Britain and Russia can validate further the pledges made this month that they would come to the Turks' aid in event of an attack by a European aggressor.

The pulling and tugging to which Britains' non-belligerent ally has been subjected since the Balkans were overrun this spring has been obscured by the drama of the fighting fronts, but both London and Berlin have been nonetheless keenly alert to the stakes.

Germany forced on the Turks a ten-year non-aggression compact. Signed just four days before the invasion of Russia, it was hailed in Berlin as a triumph equivalent to a military victory.

There followed a flood of rumors of secret clauses binding Turkey to benevolent neutrality toward the Axis. Subsequently there were reports of pressure for concessions that would make the country in effect a Nazi Puppet State.

Proposal Side-Stepped

France Von Papen, the Nazi ambassador, was understood a month ago to be sounding out the possibility of transporting troops and supplies across Turkey, assuming a Nazi victory over Russia by September. The Turks side-stepped that proposal by contending that the matter was premature.

More recently, however, they were reported to be considering permitting food to be shipped, when and if the Nazi legions reached the Russian oil fields in the Caucasus.

Turkey has been on a hot spot twice recently over the permission given an armed Italian oil tanker to go through the Dardanelles on the way to Rumania, since a treaty bars the straits to belligerent war craft. British and Russian envoys protested heatedly but vainly.

London gave assurances this month that no agreement with Soviet Russia concerning the post-war spheres of influence would infringe on Turkish interests.

There followed the joint pledge by Britain and Russia that they had no designs on the Dardanelles and that both would rid Turkey if she were attacked by a European power.

By the Anglo-Russian move into Iran Turkey has been made an island in a sea of war.

Newest Notes of Science

The Union of South Africa has consumed about 22,500,000 pounds of tobacco annually for the last three years.

Radio sets to entertain the passengers have been installed in elevators in a tall Philadelphia office building.

Unfavorable weather in May is expected to reduce Argentina's corn crop this year by at least half a million tons.

A new double boiler for preparing smooth icing is bowl shaped to enable a spoon to reach every portion of its contents.

A device to enable a man to hold a telephone on a shoulder, leaving both hands free, has been invented by a Chicago man.

Mexico's population has been officially estimated at 19,478,791, compared with the 1930 census figures of 16,553,000.

Guatemala has prohibited the use of sound trucks for advertising purposes to curb necessary noises in Guatamala City.

An electric locomotive for use in mines has been developed that is only 26 inches high and can operate in a 40-inch vein.

The first Diesel-electric driven ship to be constructed in Denmark will be built for the government postal and telegraph service.

LITERATURE SEIZED

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 26 (AP)—Federal police in the Avenches region of Vaud Canton arrested today nine Communists, including two women, under a year-old law banning Communist activity. A quantity of Communist literature was seized.

KILLS RATTLESNAKE

Jeffersonville, Ga., Aug. 26 (AP)—E. G. McCants killed a rattlesnake at the front door of a tenant's house, discovered he had to pry the porch steps apart to pull the reptile out. Post mortem disclosed a large wood-knot in the snake's stomach which had jammed tight when its swallower attempted to glide beneath the steps.

Would Reserve Names of Fliers' Ranks to Fliers

There are so many flight lieutenants in the Royal Canadian Air Force that something should be done about it, and we hope they don't mind if we say so. The proper definition of a flight lieutenant is a pilot who commands a flight of three planes. Under the present plan, men have been added to the air force and given the rank of flight lieutenant who were never in a plane in their lives and probably are not aware until now that a flight of planes is three planes. We are not doubting that these men are not entitled to rank but to call them flight lieutenants is a misnomer. Much better it would be, we think, and we believe they would not mind it, if they were called simply Lieut. Brown or Capt. Smith or Major Jones. Thus the well-honored and historic rank of flight lieutenant would be held only by pilots who know their way around and are really in command of a flight of planes in the air lanes or on the ground.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

A SURPRISED TOURIST

When clearing customs at the international boundary bridge at St. Stephen, N.B., recently, after a motor trip through New Brunswick, a tourist from Quincy, Mass., was surprised to find himself the object of unusual official attention. He was addressed by name by the Canadian customs officer and, according to his own statement, immediately began wondering just what traffic, immigration or customs law he had unwittingly broken.

However, the officer merely asked him, "Have you all the money you should have?" The tourist replied that he had and, as a matter of routine, clapped his hand over his wallet pocket. But the pocket was empty.

The officer then explained to the bewildered tourist that that morning, more than 100 miles away at Riverside, N.B., a tourist cabin proprietor found a bulging wallet containing $700 in bills under the pillow in the tourist's room, where he evidently had put it the night before for safe keeping. The proprietor had notified a constable of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who broadcast a description of the tourist and his car. With the aid of the customs officers they "got their man."—National Revenue Review.

WINNIPEG'S OWN

A souvenir plaque of the defeat of Napoleon's "grand armee" by the Russians in the retreat from Moscow 129 years ago in a Winnipeg collection is believed to be the only one in North America.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

Will Antiseptic Throat Sprays Give Protection From Illness?

In the air raid shelters in London where there is much over crowding, there has naturally been an increased number of sore throats and colds in the head. In order to see if there was any method of protection against colds and sore throats, Dr. R. E. King, London, reports in the British Medical Journal the results of such an investigation.

Two groups living under exactly the same conditions were selected for study. Each morning for five weeks the group chosen for treatment had their throats sprayed with an antiseptic throat spray of a 15 to 20 per cent solution of sodium hypochlorite. During this five weeks the number of cases of illness was much less in the group which had received their throat spray. Further, the number of cases requiring hospital treatment, as well as those receiving treatment though able to be about, was only half that of the group which had not had their throats sprayed.

This great reduction in mild and severe illnesses was due to the decreased number of throat infections—streptococcic tonsillitis, and inflammation of the throat.

On the other hand, the number of cases of the common cold (head cold) was as large in the group which had the throat sprays as in the group which did not receive this treatment.

The above results show that the antiseptic throat spray should be used to prevent such common ailments as the streptococcic infections and influenza.

It is known that there is a great variety of these streptococci and that some of them are extremely dangerous, death occurring within a very short time.

The knowledge that this simple but powerful antiseptic —sodium hypochlorite—will destroy these organisms should prevent much illness due in the first place to the entrance of these organisms into the throat.

It will be remembered that this same antiseptic —sodium hypochlorite—in such a weak solution as 1 per cent, placed in tubs adjoining swimming pools and baths so that the individual has to step into it going and coming from the bath or pool, prevent ringworm of the feet—athlete's foot.

As a result of research a rubber company has developed a form of rubber for clothing that will transmit electricity and give off heat.

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

WALKING ALONE

"This," said my father, "whatever you do,
Remember that boasting does nothing for you.
Remember that courage, achievement and skill
Can speak for themselves and forever they will."
But this is a triumph I think should be known;
Ellen Elizabeth's walking alone!

If it were a credit belonging to me
As mum as an oyster about it I'd be.
If it were something which I had achieved
No word would I utter to be disbelieved.
But this is a glory we're happy to own;
Ellen Elizabeth's walking alone!

Were I promoted beyond my desert
Or granted a medal to pin on my shirt!
Did fortune or fame smile upon me today
Never a word of my triumph I'd say,
But this I must shout in my proudest of tone:
Ellen Elizabeth's walking alone!

Nine months or under, the date is in doubt
But already unaided she's walking about!
Already to reach you with arms in the air,
She'll come at your bidding unaided I swear.
If boasting be sinful, my fault, Lord, condone;
Ellen Elizabeth's walking alone!

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

BUTCHER BIRD

The shrike is a remarkable bird.

Altogether there are about 90 species of shrikes throughout the world.

Two species—the northern shrike and the loggerhead shrike—inhabit the United States and Canada.

These birds are carnivorous and feed on small lizards, frogs, snakes, birds, rodents and large insects.

They are often called butcher birds, because they have the habit of impaling their prey on thorns or the barbs of wire fences, much as a butcher hangs up his meat.

The red-backed shrike of Britain and Europe is called the nine-killer from an old belief that this bird impales exactly nine tidbits on thorns before it starts to eat.

Naturalists never have explained satisfactorily just why the shrike impales its victims on thorns and barbs of wire fences.

For a long time it was erroneously supposed that the shrike impaled insects to decoy other birds to the spot with the purpose of killing and devouring them.

Another doubtful supposition is that the butcher bird impales extra food in a time of plenty against a time of scarcity.

It seems, however, that this peculiar habit of impaling reptiles, rodents, birds and large insects on thorns grows out of the fact that the shrike, unlike typical birds of prey, has very weak feet and impales its victims to hold them firmly while it breaks their skulls with its strong, slightly hooked beak and sups up their brains.

Still this theory does not explain the fact that a shrike often kills more victims than it can eat and without touching them again leaves them impaled on thorns to decay.

The butcher bird does so much good in destroying vermin and so much harm in killing useful birds that opinion is divided as to whether it should be protected as a benefactor or exterminated as a malefactor.

Despite its ugly name, the butcher bird is a songbird of no mean ability at certain times. Its song consists of loud snatches of various whistles and imitations after the catbird manner.

A confined butcher bird, no matter how much it is fed, will persist in sticking pieces of its food between the bars of its cage.

Sales of Foodstuffs in City Continue to Be Good Despite General Increase in Prices

Despite sharp increases in the prices of meat and certain lines of groceries, reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to be about 12 per cent., retail sales continue to be good, according to Belleville merchants contacted this morning.

Pork and pork products have set the pace in price increases of stable meat products, while tea and coffee and jams are now selling at prices in some cases almost double the figure asked at the outbreak of the war or even last year.

Bacon which sold at from 25-27c per pound at the outbreak of the war is now going for 41c over most local counters, while peameal rolls are now 33c where formerly they could be purchased for 23c per pound. Bologna is now 18c instead of two pounds for 25c. Beef, however, has not raised in price correspondingly, it being possible to purchase steaks for as low as 29c per pound, an increase of only four cents from last year.

The scarcity of salmon and other canned fish has caused these products to be almost impossible to procure, it is stated. Eggs are worth more money than they were at this time last year, while butter is from eight to 10 cents higher.

Prices of the general line of groceries is up but little with canned goods such as canned milk, pork and beans etc. practically the same. Flour and sugar are likewise about the same, but soap is higher. Canned goods such as tomatoes etc. are up from 10 to 15 per cent.

Tea is one item on the list which has increased in price sharply, brands which formerly sold at 39c and 40c now selling for 65c and 70c, while coffee has taken on an almost equal increase. Jams are up about 20 per cent. it was stated.

Not only is it costing more to eat at home these days, but restaurant meals have likewise gone up slightly since 1939. With increased costs of food production having not yet been reflected in prices, the ceiling in food prices is expected to be reached some time next spring.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics the cost of living in Canada has risen from 100.8 in August, 1939, to 110.5 in June, 1941, but food costs alone have moved from 99.3 to 112.5. These figures are based upon the costs of 1935-1939 as par.

While prices have increased sharply the rise is not as abrupt as that recorded in 1918 when the cost of living figures was 152.8. At the outset of the war they had been only 91.9.

By this comparison living costs are still below what they were during the last war, despite two years of intensive warfare against the Germans. While costs during the last war stood at the tremendous figures indicated above it will be recalled that earnings in that period were also much greater than those of the last two years.

Fine Exhibits in Flower Show Of Tweed Horticultural Society

Tweed—Tweed Horticultural Society held a very successful Flower Show and Tea at Tweed Memorial Park Pavilion on Friday afternoon. There was a fine display of beautiful blooms, with the Gladioli predominating. Mr. S. H. Connor won the T. Eaton Co. Trophy, a flower bowl, sterling silver deposit on Crystal for the greatest number of points. Mrs. Howard Countryman, with one point less, won the Robert Simpson Co. Silver and Pyrex Pie Plate. Mrs. Albert Porter and Miss Cosey Meiklejohn were tied for the Horticultural Society Prize, a flower vase.

There was a good crowd at the Junior Farmers Dance at the Pavilion on Friday night.

Tweed High School Medal and Scholarship winers are:

Upper School Medal—Margaret Elliott.

Senior Middle School Medal — Hilda Benny.

Junior Middle School Medal — Martin Rivers.

Commercial Medal—Elaine Gehan.

First Grade X Scholarship — Florence McCaw.

Second Grade X Scholarship — Shirley Leal.

First Grade IX Scholarship — Louise Morrison.

Second Grade IX Scholarship — Williamian Ward.

Upper School Staff Prizes — English; Margaret Elliott; History, Margaret Elliott; Mathematics, Margaret Elliott; Science, Wm. Archer; Latin, Yvonne Rivers; French, Margaret Elliott.

The best fishing in some years is being enjoyed in the waters of Stoco Lake. During the past week two additional muskies in the heavyweight class were caught in addition to two smaller specimens. Both of the large fish tipped the scales at 28 pounds each and were captured by Mr. Robert Smith of Niagara Falls, N.Y. He was fishing with Mr. Chas. Reese of Toronto when the first was taken early in the week. The second was taken while casting with Ross Petterley on Thursday last. Mr. J. Wagner of Rochester, N.Y., landed a 13-pounder when accompanied by Mr. Petterley. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fix hooked a nice 16-pound muskie on Friday morning and landed him after a 20-minute battle.

Miss Bernice Langevin of Sulphide was presented by her friends with a travelling bag and a set of jasmine cosmetics prior to her departure for Ottawa where she has entered the Civil Service.

The rails have been removed on the C.N.R. line to Yarker by a crew of workers. Efforts to have railroad service on the line had proved fruitless. The Hungerford Township Council will endeavor to secure the right-of-way as a highway to Stoco and Larkins as it will shorten the route to Tweed materially.

WELSH POTATO BLIGHT

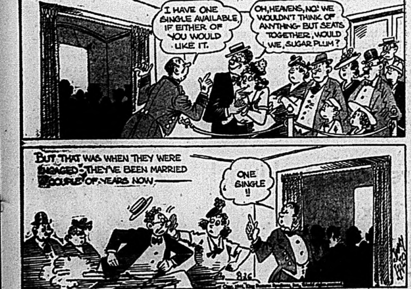
Swansea, Wales (CP)—A blight is threatening potato crops in South Wales. Crops are late this year, and it is feared that the 1941 yield will be greatly reduced.

GROWING INDUSTRY

A prominent feature of Canadian manufacturing development in recent years has been the growth of non-ferrous smelting.

FOUNTAIN PENS
FOR SCHOOL
39c — 69c — $1.00
to $10.00
NAME ENGRAVED
F-R-E-E
ON ANY PEN OVER $1.00
DOLAN
THE DRUGGIST
PHONE 138
FOR PROMPT DELIVERY.

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



I HAVE ONE SINGLE AVAILABLE, IF EITHER OF YOU WOULD LIKE IT.
OH, HEAVENS, NO! WE WOULDN'T THINK OF ANYTHING BUT SEATS TOGETHER, WOULD WE, SUGAR PLUM?
BUT THAT WAS WHEN THEY WERE ENGAGED—THEY'VE BEEN MARRIED A COUPLE OF YEARS NOW—ONE SINGLE !!
8-26

CALLS U.S. UN JUST TO VICHY

Gaston Henri-Haye, Vichy ambassador to the U.S., is shown, SECOND from LEFT, as he told Washington reporters about a conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull. The envoy contended his government has been unjustly accused of planning to surrender the French fleet and Atlantic naval bases to Germany as a result of Chief of State Henri Petain's announcement of collaboration with the Nazis.

Rotary District Governor Pays Official Visit to Local Club

Dan McQuarrie of Lindsay Urges Rotarians to Carry on Work

CALL FOR MEMBERS

"Britain's might is not so much in her armies, her navy or her air force, as it is in the breasts of every resident of the Empire in which glows the desire to maintain their freedom," Rotary District Governor, Dan McQuarrie, Lindsay, told the Belleville Rotary Club at his official visit yesterday.

"This desire is another of England's famous thin red lines which courses through the blood of every resident of the Commonwealth of British Nations," he said. "This cannot be computed in facts or figures."

He urged the clubmen to carry on the work of Rotary in the city and district, "for everything you do for the community directly or indirectly helps the great cause for which we are fighting. If you think you have done enough, then do a little more for everything counts now in this titanic struggles."

Referring to Rotary, the district governor told the clubmen it was the result of a dream, but there has been a great evolution since its inception until it is the great organization of the present time.

Friendship in Rotary

One of the greatest things in Rotary, he pointed out, was friendship. It is the key anchor of the whole organization and represents one of the deepest longings in human nature. He referred to many men of today as Methuselahs, Midases and Scrooges. "All they need," he said, "was the touch of a small boy's or girl's hand, and contact with children to bring them to their senses. Rotary can do this, and help these men get in touch with the world."

The district governor suggested that the local clubmen make a classification survey of the city whereby additional members could be brought into membership. "And don't forget the young fellows," he urged. "The older members have done a magnificent job, but Rotary the world over needs new and young blood."

Does Wonderful Work

In his home town of Lindsay and native county of Victoria, Rotary has done a wonderful work, he said. "There are boys and girls walking now who would not have walked at all had it not been for the work the club is doing along these lines. What has been done by small clubs can be multiplied by larger ones. You, in Belleville, have likewise done a fine job and your city and the county of Hastings are the better for it."

He urged greater efforts on the part of local Rotarians to form clubs in outlying towns and communities. "They need it," he said, "but they cannot get it unless you give it to them."

Drawing attention to the fact that Rotary and other organization meetings are banned in Europe, District Governor McQuarrie stated that many members of European clubs are now in concentration camps. He stated that Rotary International sends eleven packages of concentrated foods to incarcerated members in Europe and suggested that local clubs assist in the financing of this venture. "Rotary is banned over there," he said, "but the seed has been sown and the movement will flourish greater than ever after the war."

Points Out Feature

He pointed out that a feature of the recent international convention at Denver, Colorado, was a broadcast from a dugout somewhere in England, by a British Rotarian. "There was a dead silence in the great hall, which accommodated seven thousand people, as the voice came over the airwaves," he said. "The message it carried was 'We are carrying on over here. Don't worry about us. Keep carrying on at the home front.'

"The huge audience rose to its feet as one, and cheered the cheery English voice to the echo."

The speaker was introduced by Past District Governor Owen Herity in his usual eloquent manner, while club appreciation was expressed by Rotarian Oswald Scott. A feature of the luncheon was the rendition of three vocal numbers by John Deacon with Leo Riggs at the piano. President Bill Morrison was in the chair.

James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Margaret Lindsay, the happy-go-lucky threesome heading the cast of the smash hit "Devil Dogs of the Air," coming this week to the McCarthy Theatre.

DESTROYER REPORTED LOST

London, Aug. 26 CP)—The Royal Norwegian Navy reported today the former United States destroyer Bath had been sunk.

The announcement said the destroyer was manned by Norwegians, an undisclosed number of whom lost their lives.

No indication was given as to when or where the destroyer was lost.

11 Planes Wrecked In Heavy Storm

New York, Aug. 26—(AP)—High winds and flood waters caused property damage in the Eastern United States today while rain fell in showers or thunderstorms over most of the country.

At least one man died and twenty persons were injured by a windstorm which swept through a tri-State area around Philadelphia, where streams of water two feet deep poured through some streets.

Lansdowne, Pa., residents reported the worst flood conditions in years, and the wind struck terrific blows in Swedesboro and Woodbridge, N.J., and in Wilmington, Del. Twenty houses were smashed in Woodbridge and more than fifteen persons were injured.

[illegible] airplanes were smashed at the du Pont Airport in Wilmington and only three appeared worth repairing, airport officials said.

Electric service and communications were disrupted in many areas of Delaware and New Jersey.

Unfavorable weather compelled the American Clipper from Lisbon, due at La Guardia Field in New York City, to turn back to Bermuda after the plane was 300 miles out from the island.

The heaviest rain of the year (1.7 inches in seven hours) flooded Charleston. W. Va. streets.

Communist Activity Expected to Drop

Ottawa, Aug. 26—(CP)—Communist activity in promotion of labor and other troubles for subversive reasons is expected to decline as a result of the German invasion of the Soviet Union, an official in close touch with invesitgations of subversive activities said today.

New instructions issued through under-cover channels to agents of the party lead authorities to look for this result but Canada's official attitude towards Communist activities has not changed, this informant said. The Communist party was still an illegal organization and numbers of its adherents were in internment camps.

"All aid to the Soviet Union" now was the slogan of the party, but the party instructions still called for opposition to the capitalistic and Imperialistic powers and contained bitter denunciations of Prime Minister Churchill. Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other leaders.

He said the authorities look for fewer arrests of Communists because in the new situation they are less likely to commit offences which will call for their arrest.

WOMAN IN COMMAND

Moscow, Aug. 26 (AP)— Nadia Angelina, one of Russia's most noted women drivers, is assistant commander of a tractor unit formed as part of the new Soviet militia called to arms. Disclosing incorporation of forces into the people's army, which is in front-line fighting around Leningrad, Moscow afternoon papers printed a picture of the unit in which the woman is serving.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE Bandmasters of the Air"
STEWART-WARNER Radio
EVERYTHING from EVERYWHERE

MUCH HEARTACHE

(Continued from Page One)

The cards are the work of a bureau which already has surpassed the total of its work during the 1914-1918 war.

10,000,000 Letters and Inquiries

At the end of May of this year—19 months after war began—10,000,000 letters and inquiries had been received or sent by the War Prisoners' Bureau, as compared with a total of barely 3,000,000 at the end of the First Great War.

The International Red Cross Committee is composed solely of Swiss members, and its prisoners' bureau where more than 2,300 Swiss citizens are employed, work largely in a voluntary capacity.

In an effort to keep down overhead and speed results, volunteer groups were formed in 20 Swiss cities to aid the Geneva Bureau. More than 1,200 men, women, and young people offered their services free of charge.

The major work of the Bureau is to centralize information relating to captured or missing military and naval men.

Information is gathered from official lists of prisoners and lists of those who died in battle sent in by belligerent governments; cards announcing capture sent in by prisoners themselves, special inquiries, and other sources.

Through this exchange the "unknown soldiers" of today's war sometimes are brought back to life—located in a prison camp or perhaps in a hospital.

Among the best sources of information on missing persons are cards sent in by soldiers reporting deaths of comrades buried in line of battle.

Each belligerent or former belligerent country has a separate room of files and records in the huge headquarters. To date, the French room has been busiest of all.

Records for each belligerent country are kept on different colored cards—green for the French, rose for Germans, mauve for Poles. Inquiries concerning each prisoner are kept on white cards attached to the appropriate file.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

How to Prepare Green Vegetables For Maximum Benefit

In every approved diet developed by experts in the field of nutrition or similar agencies, green vegetables play a prominent part. The diet developed by the National Conference on Nutrition for Defence recommended at least two leafy green vegetables daily. However, the preparation of such vegetables for the table often destroys some of the very values which doctors wish to preserve.

The Medical Research Committee of the British National Research Council has considered the matter sufficiently important to get out a special memorandum on the subject. They point out that Vitamin A, which is a fat soluble vitamin, is not likely to suffer much damage, but preparation and cooking may seriously affect the content of water soluble Vitamins B and C. Since these are soluble in water, they are dissolved by soaking, and they run out in watery juice. Furthermore, raw vegetables contain ferments which can destroy vitamins, praticularly if the vegetable is allowed to lie around after being bruised or cut.

These vitamins are also destroyed by heat, depending on the length and severity of the heating. Salt or sugar added to vegetables before cooking tends to lessen the amount of destruction. These vitamins are fairly stable in the presence of acids such as vinegar. However, the addition of soda tends to destroy the vitamins. Soda is frequently added to preserve color.

The following are simple instructions:

1. Green vegetables should be obtained as fresh as possible and kept in a cool, damp place to reduce wilting.

2. Avoid as much as possible crushing or bruising during carrying and handling.

3. In soaking vegetables, use salt water; two tablespoonfuls to a pint.

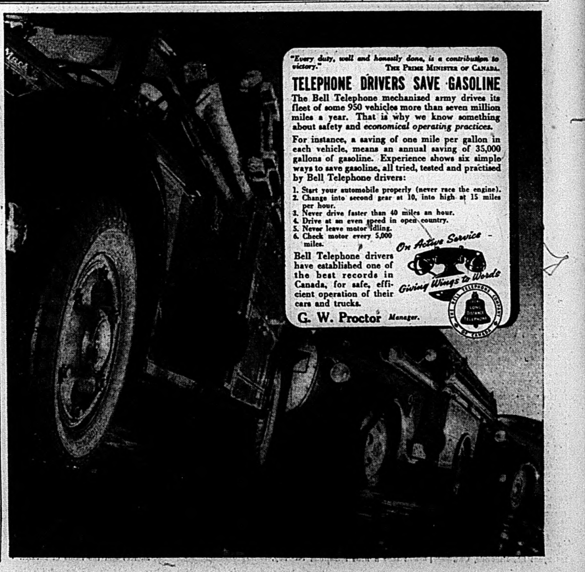
4. If vegetables are to be shredded or finely chopped for salads, they should be prepared immediately before serving.

5. The smallest amount of water should be used for cooking! water should be boiling before vegetables are put in it.

6. Vegetables should be cooked no longer than is necessary to make them tender and should be served immediately after cooking.

7. The water left after cooking should be drained off and used to make soups or gravies. It will be found to contain many of the important vitamins and mineral salts.

Geraldine Fitzgerald, who made a name for herself in "Dark Victory" and "Wuthering Heights," again turns in a fine performance opposite James Stephenson of the "Letter," in "Shining Victory," now at the Capitol Theatre. A riotous comedy, "She Couldn't Say No," is shown on the same program.



"Every duty, well and honestly done, is a contribution to victory." THE PRIME MINISTER OF CANADA.

TELEPHONE DRIVERS SAVE GASOLINE

The Bell Telephone mechanized army drives its fleet of some 950 vehicles more than seven million miles a year. That is why we know something about safety and economical operating practices.

For instance, a saving of one mile per gallon in each vehicle, means an annual saving of 35,000 gallons of gasoline. Experience shows six simple ways to save gasoline, all tried, tested and practised by Bell Telephone drivers:

1. Start your automobile properly (never race the engine).
2. Change into second gear at 10, into high at 15 miles per hour.
3. Never drive faster than 40 miles an hour.
4. Drive at an even speed in open country.
5. Never leave motor idling.
6. Check motor every 5,000 miles.

Bell Telephone drivers have established one of the best records in Canada, for safe, efficient operation of their cars and trucks.

G. W. Proctor Manager.

PERSONALS

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. A. Keene of 22 Donald Street, Belleville, wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Laura, to Corporal Harvey Murkett of the R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Murkett, Regina, Saskatchewan. Marriage to take place in the Tabernacle United Church on September 26, at seven p.m., D.S.T.

Mrs. Gladys Mullin is visiting Mrs. B. Redner at Rednersville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel (Gunner) Arnott, Preston, Ont., are visiting relatives in the city.

Mrs. Sandy Smith and son Donnie of Toronto, are visiting at Belleville, Rednersville and Kingston.

Mr. C. S. Phillips of Aurora, Ont., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clubine, 147 Pinnacle St., this week.

Mrs. J. A. Floyd, Toronto, and Mrs. C. C. Floyd of St. Catharines, also Miss Edna Ross, Erickson, Manitoba, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fahey, 8 Cedar Street.

Mrs. W. S. Jackson and Bobby, have returned to the city after visiting in Rivers, Man., the guests of Mrs. Jackson's daughter, Mrs. Szastkiw, and Flight-Sergeant S. Szastkiw.

AC2 Jim Dallyn, No. 5 A.T.S., spent the week-end in Brockville, with relatives.

The staff of the Bowra Electric and Hardware, presented Miss Eula McCoy, bride-to-be, with a beautiful Hotpoint iron and toaster on Saturday night.

Miss Marion Varley has returned to the city after holidaying at Silver Birches' Camp, Twelve-Mile Lake.

Mrs. Madge Macbeth, Ottawa, who visited Belleville on several occasions to address the Women's Canadian Club was re-elected president of the Canadian Authors' Association in annual convention in Vancouver.

Corp. J. M. Fraser, S.P., R.C.A.F., of Ottawa Headquarters, spent the week-end with his family on the Trent Road, returning to Ottawa today.

Mrs. E. G. Burley entertained many girl friends of Miss Eula McCoy, bride-to-be, at a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening. Many lovely and useful gifts were received. Miss McCoy suitably thanked her friends for the gifts. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. E. G. Burley and Mrs. Ben Burley.

Mr. Arnold Rigby of 316 Bleecker Ave, just returned home from Hamilton on completion of a seven months' course as toolmaker. He is employed at the Bata Shoe Co., and will commence work there after a week's holidays. Mr. Rigby has an exhibit of his work as toolmaker at the Toronto Exhibition.

Mrs. Frank O'Connor was hostess at a delightful shower held in honor of Miss Eula McCoy, bride-to-be, on Friday evening. An enjoyable evening was spent playing cards and other games. A mock wedding provided much fun for those present. Miss Ethel Adams, as bride, Mrs. Pitt as groom, and Miss Frances Reid acted as minister. Miss McCoy was presented with a beautiful candlewick bedspread, and she suitably expressed her thanks for the lovely gift. A daintily prepared lunch was served by Mrs. O'Connor and Mrs. Lorne Thomas.

Weddings

STEWART—SPRY

Marmora, (Special)—At St. Paul's Rectory on Saturday evening the marriage was solemnized of Clara Beatrice Spry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spry of Cordova and Bernard Kemp Stewart of Peterborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart of Rawdon Township. Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell officiated. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Pressick of Cordova.

LAKE—WILSON

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, August 20, at seven o'clock, in Belleville, by Rev. W. J. Walker when Almina (Stapley) Wilson, became the bride of Alfred Lake.

The bride looked charming in a gown of dusty rose alpaca crepe with rose accessories. She was attended by Mrs. Milton Reid, wearing navy sheer with white accessories. The groom was supported by Mr. Milton Reid.

The happy couple will reside on the groom's farm, 9th Concession of Sidney.

BUTCHER—ADAMS

A very pretty wedding took place at Christ Church at eight o'clock last evening, when Vella Marie (Bette), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adams became the bride of Edwin Butcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Butcher, Montreal. Rev. A. Beauchamp Payne officiated at the ceremony.

Phlox and gladioli were artistically used in the decoration of the church. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Calvert as the bride entered the church with her father. She was charming in a floor length gown of shell pink triple sheer with matching veil and carried Briarcliffe roses and bouvardia. Miss Eva Adams was bridesmaid and wore Elizabeth blue sheer, in floor length style, with small turban and matching veil. She carried Talisman roses. Mr. George Butcher, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Andrew Gray and Mr. William Phillips.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Cedar Street. Mrs. Adams in navy and powder blue crepe with navy accessories and corsage of Premier roses and Mrs. Butcher wearing a Windsor rose gown with matching hat and corsage of Premier roses received with the bride and groom.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Butcher left on a wedding trip to Muskoka and Toronto, the bride travelling in a navy wool suit trimmed with touches of white and navy hat and accessories. Upon their return they will take up residence at 27 Boswell Street.

Out of town guests were present from Montreal, Peterborough, Frankford, Millbridge, Whitby and Toronto.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Wants to Do the Right Thing

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Five years ago, when I was a youngster just out of high school, I ran around with a girl and it was very unfortunate for both of us. The girl was as wild as I was, but I was convinced that her boy was my son. She was heroic the way she worked and denied herself everything to support the child.

She was a whole lot better than I in this respect, but after a while I grew fond of the kid who looked exactly like my family, and I helped to support him too. The boy's mother and I have drifted entirely apart. We don't hate each other; we don't quarrel, but we are indifferent.

Meanwhile, I have fallen in love with a beautiful girl only 18 years of age, and she is in love with me. But somehow or other, I cannot bear to leave this boy and his mother without my name. I've told the girl I love all about my past life—the boy and his mother. She tells me to do what I think is right. It's going to be an awful wrench to let this girl go, and still my conscience will torment me if I leave my son's mother living in the hand-to-mouth way she has, since the boy's birth.

There isn't anything wild about her now. She just seems sad and resigned. What do you think of this case?

Soldier.

I think, my dear soldier boy, that you are made of very fine stuff to accept your responsibilities of parenthood even when it keeps you from marrying the girl with whom you are in love. An uneasy conscience is an uncomfortable companion. The boy's mother must be made of pretty fine clay, or she would not have been so heroic about keeping her child and doing for him. You love the boy who reminds you of your own family.

So the fates will doubtless reward you in the years to come for doing the right thing as you see it.

Engaged Three Years But No Ring

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My sister, who is 22 years old, has been going steady with a young man for the last three years, but has no engagement ring. She always says her boy friend never really takes her places she'd like to go, such as dances and among people, but always to the movies.

One evening she accidentally met one of her boy acquaintances who asked her to go to a dance, and she went. When her boy friend found out about it he wrote and told her everything between them was over and not to try to explain. Now she doesn't know whether to get in touch with him or to call it quits.

To me they always seemed such a devoted couple, and I believe they did love each other very much.

Sympathetic.

As your sister and her fiance were engaged for three years, and there was never any question of an engagement ring, and he declined to take her to places to which she wanted to go, this engagement does not sound like a very serious affair on his part. The fact that he told her everything was over between them because she went to a dance with another boy, seems to confirm that he was pretty lukewarm. At 22, your sister has plenty of time to become engaged to a man who is more serious and less selfish.

Wrong Time to Leave Husband

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My husband has been good to men our seven years together. We have a boy and a girl and were very happy until recently. He became acquainted with another woman whom he has been taking out. He always told me he was working late at the office, but a friend of mine saw him with this woman several times. I want to leave him, but I am expecting my third child, and need his help very much right now. Please advise me what to do—to go on living with him, or leave him?

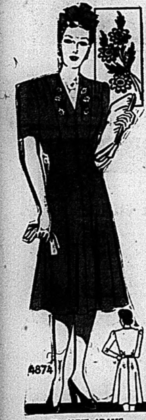
Troubled One.

I can well understand that you feel tempted to leave your husband at the present time. You're about to bear your third child, and at such times women should have consideration and sympathy, the physical stages of pregnancy being hard enough to bear, under any circumstances. Your husband takes this time to be silly over another woman.

Don't think of leaving him. Stand pat. You've got your home and your children to consider. More often than not men come out of these trances, if for no other reason than that they do not want to be regarded with contempt by their friends. A man whose wife is about to bear a child, and who goes flying off the handle with another woman, seems to the community at large a pretty poor specimen.

Embroidered Slimming Frock

Pattern 4874



By ANNE ADAMS

That first dark afternoon dress of the season is all-important! If you're smart and youthful but not-so-slim, Pattern 4874 by Anne Adams is just the style you want. The lovely, colorful flower embroidery that lights up the bodice at either side of the deep V-neck, is optional but so enchanting. Make the motifs quickly from their easy transfer pattern, aided by directions in the Sewing Instructor. Notice the slenderizing lines given by those two bodice panels that "square-off" into a double-pointed front waistband. A buckled sash finishes off the waist in back. The side-front bodice sections are soft-cut, with gathers above the waist and darts at the shoulder. A row of buttons in front makes a nice finishing touch to this chic frock.

Pattern 4874 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48. Size 36 takes 3 1-2 yards 39-inch material.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

CLOTHES PROBLEM

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I are to receive an invitation soon to spend a week-end with a school friend of my husband's. I am worried about the problem of what clothes to take. We are just an average young couple with little money, but we do want to accept this invitation, and I do want to feel as well-dressed as possible. This friend and his wife and three children live in the country, and I don't think we'll attend any formal affairs.

1. I am planning on buying a two-piece cotton dress or a linen suit for travelling, and then packing a "dressy" dress in case we go to some special party. Do you think this will be enough to take?
2. I have never met this man's wife. Shall I take a gift to her, or shall I buy something for each of their three small children?
3. If you tell me it would be well to take the gifts, when is the best time to present them?
4. As there is no maid in their home, will it be all right to ask permission to press my clothes?
5. Am I right in assuming that a "bread-and-butter" letter should be written as soon as is possible after I return home?

Marie.

1. Instead of buying anything special to travel in—linen suits are apt to crush or at least get "travel-worn"—couldn't you wear something you already have, and spend that money for two inexpensive cotton dresses to wear while you are on your visit?
2. Since you have not met your hostess, it would be especially nice if you take her a little gift. By all means take a little something for each small child—a toy, or a scrapbook, or a game, perhaps. You know how children look forward to a present from an arriving guest!
3. Give the gifts soon after you have finished unpacking.
4. Yes, your hostess will be co-operative about giving you the opportunity of doing some pressing. Since there will be no maid, you should make a point of doing your own room and your bathroom, or keeping in order your part of the family bathroom. You might also suggest that you would like to help. If this offer is not taken up, you will see some things that you can do without seeming to make a point of it.
5. It is very important that you write your appreciative letter as soon as you possibly can after you return home. This letter is especially important in your case, since it is so generous and hospitable of your hostess to ask a guest whom she has not met. In your bread-and-butter letter thank your hostess not only for her hospitality in general, but for special plans she and her husband make for the happiness and comfort of you and your husband. By special plans, I mean not only parties, but, for example, the comfort and charm of her guest room, your delight in her garden, your enjoyment of chatting with her and her husband, the good time you had with her children.

COURTESY TIP

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

When you are stopping to speak with a person you meet on the street, don't monopolize the centre of the sidewalk. Ask your friend to step with you to one side, where you will be out of other people's way.

Presentation Made To Miss Mary Roblin By Centenary Friends

Centenary—A social time was enjoyed on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Roblin, when Miss Mary Roblin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Roblin was honored by friends and neighbors. Miss Coza Calvet read an appropriate address and Mrs. Peter Murry presented Mary, with a beautiful electric coffee percolator, cream and sugar set and tray.

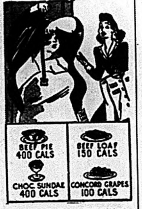
Mary though surprised, found words to express to her appreciation to all for their kindness. Refreshments were served and a very happy evening was brought to a close about midnight. Miss Roblin is being married in Huntsville, on Monday, September first.

WHERE CROPS STARTED

The first agricultural process carried on by Europeans in what is now Canada probably was the raising of a grain crop at Port Royal, N. S., in 1605.

Home Service

Awkward Fat Melts Away When You Cut Calories



Too Big for Smart Fall Styles?

Needed—a much larger size dress! How ever did she gain so shockingly in one summer?

Though you may think you eat lightly in summer, even "peckish" meals can fatten you if they're of high-calory dishes. So do an about-face, go on a low-calory diet! On good meals you lose two pounds a week!

Instead of beef pie (400 calories) choose beef loaf (150). When you MUST nibble, switch from chocolate sundaes (400 each) to a juicy bunch of Concord grapes (100).

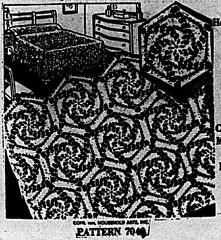
The difference in calories quickly shows itself in your figure. For every 4,000 calories you took that you didn't need, you gained a pound. Now, cutting your calories to 1,200 a day for a while, you're short on calories. When your body wants 4,000 of them it "burns up" a pound.

You don't lose pep in this process, for your low-calory diet has lots of vitamin-high dishes. Orange juice is only 100 calories a cup, an egg 70, string beans 45.

In our 32-page booklet is a calory chart to guide you while dieting, 42 get-slim menus, 3-day liquid diet to start reducing. Has recipes for slimming desserts.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of THE NEW WAY TO A YOUTHFUL FIGURE to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Lovely Crochet That's So Easy



COPR. 194_ HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Easy Crocheted Medallion Forms Effective Design

PATTERN 7040

This medallion so quickly crocheted in string, makes accessories that will be an heirloom, they are so lovely. Use finer cotton for cloths and scarfs. Pattern 7040 contains instructions for medallion; illustrations of it and stitches; photograph of medallion; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, August 27

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A MODERATE degree of success and satisfaction should mark this day, although there are openings for advancement, favor and preferment knocking at the door. These may be attended by temptations to do the wrong thing, or make hazardous decisions. While the mind will be clever and the wits swift and keen, yet certain obscurities or confusions may pull in unprofitable directions, causing unfavorable results. A tendency to romantic ideas, sentimental fancies or social glamor may be the defeating factor.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should be assured a year of good opportunity for success, advancement, promotion or tokens of preferment from superiors or those in power. An urge to grasp such advantage and to expand the field of action and ambition carefully developed may be encouraged, but the same may be imperiled by extravagance, over-enthusiasm, undue haste in forcing issues, or other unwise temptations, precipitating reversals or false moves. Sentimental, glomorous or romantic ideas may confuse and perplex, particularly where public or collective demands are involved.

A child born on this day should be versatile, resourceful, highly intellectual, attracting the support of its superiors and attaining success.

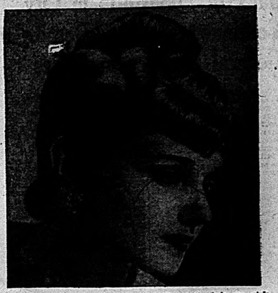
Fashion Flashes

The same handling accorded fabrics is used for furs this season, giving fur coats a soft dressmaker look. Black Persian lamb is again in high favor, and is used for a handsome fitted coat which has heavy black grosgrain ribbon defining the diagonal seams. Bell sleeves, big pockets.

New importance marks the brimmed casual hat that goes so well with tweeds. A new model, in gray-green beaver felt has a wide, dipped brim and a tall, tapering crown. A bandeau of red jersey passes under the hair, through the brim and over the crown.

Noted in various collections is the use of a printed fabric with solid monotones. A white crepe with big vividly-colored flowers is used for the top of a new evening frock. The flowers are outlined with sequins to tone. The slim black crepe skirt has godets of the printed fabric, which is also sequined.

As Clothes Go, So Go Coiffures



This pretty model is wearing a new version of the hair up style.

By HELEN FOLLETT

FUNNY how girls change along with the fashions. When clothes are elegant and suave, so are women. One lives up to one's sartorial draperies, takes one's cue from lovely dry goods. When the boyish bob and the slab-sided figure prevailed girls were hoydenish. With full skirts and posies in their hair, they behave like ladies, as they should.

As clothes go, so go coiffures. When evening skirts got wider, curly-cues got longer. Many women now are joining up with the amalgamated hair growing association, being firm in the belief that the high hairdress will prevail after all. We may drift back to the pigtail period, who knows? Short hair has been in style for nearly twenty years; that's a long time.

New Arrangements

The uppity hairdo offers wonderful possibilities for slick arrangements. We acknowledge that it does not make for youthful appearance and belongs to the matronly type. When a girl in her late teens elevates her tresses she looks older than her mother.

Should it happen that you're keen about having rolls and curls atop your dome, and rear hair swept upward, you can fill out with "extra pieces." That's what the hair stylists call them. Grandma called them puffs and switches when she wore demountable locks.

Since lofty arrangements cannot sustain themselves without tuck combs and stacks of hairpins, it is a help to wear a fillet. For daytime, there is the narrow ribbon. For evening you can use diamante or imitation pearls, and tiny laurel leaves.

Beauty shop owners say that girls are ever eager for new styles, but that some of the oldsters don't quite know about it. They have to do a lot of heavy thinking before changing the hairdress. They say they want a change, then fight the operator when she tries to make it. Bad business. To keep in the parade one's ideas must be fluid.

STOCKINGS

These simple rules will SAVE THEM!

It's more important than ever to cut down on stocking runs . . . keep precious silk and nylon stockings like new a long time.

These simple rules will help you, as they have helped thousands:

1. Wash immediately after each wearing, so that perspiration acids don't remain in the stocking to weaken the fibers.

2. Turn inside out before washing. Remove rings from your fingers so you do not catch the threads.

3. Never rub with cake soap. Never use soaps containing harmful alkali. These weaken elasticity, leave the delicate threads more apt to break under strain. Then you have a run.

4. Dip in lukewarm Lux suds, squeeze the suds gently through the stocking, rinse well. Dipping in Lux saves the elasticity that makes stockings fit and wear.

5. Dry away from heat — never on radiators or in the sun.

SO EASY TO SAVE STOCKINGS THE LUX WAY!

Lux makes this safe daily care so easy! It suds in lukewarm water, water the temperature of your hand, ideal for washing stockings.

These speedy diamonds give rich, abundant suds, even in hard water . . . suds that float away every trace of perspiration acids and soil fast.

There is no harmful alkali in Lux . . . nothing to injure fibers or color. By dipping in Lux you avoid injurious cake-soap rubbing.

Thousands prove it works! Thousands of women know how daily dipping in Lux cuts down runs, prolongs stocking life . . . they have made daily dipping in Lux Canada's favorite stocking care by far.

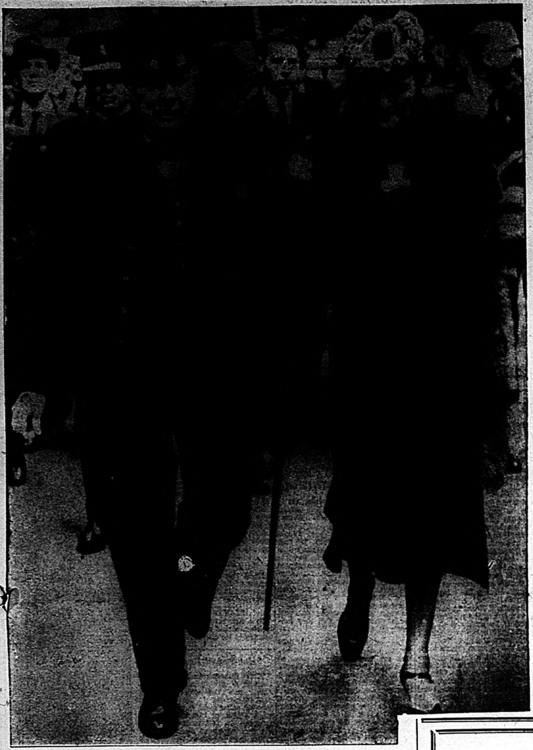
So don't take chances now. Guard your stockings and your husband's socks this easy, quick Lux way.

Save your precious stockings! DIP them in Lux Tonight and EVERY NIGHT!

LUX

A Lever product

THE CAMERA CATCHES THE NEWS



Mrs. Churchill Greets Illustrious Husband on Return to London

Arriving back in London from his mid-Atlantic conference with President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill was greeted by Mrs. Churchill. How proud she is may be seen as she walks down the station platform with her illustrious husband.

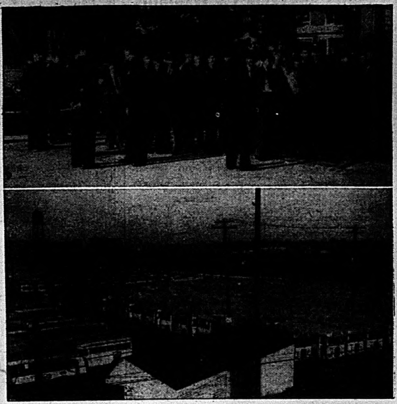
Brigadier Overnight

Frederick H. Osborn

Made a brigadier-general overnight, Frederick H. Osborn, 52, 6-foot-8 New York banker, is shown in Washington as he started work directing the army's morale branch. Appointed to the post by President Roosevelt, he previously had served as chairman of a special war department committee handling army recreation and welfare problems.

Stubborn Iran's Ruler

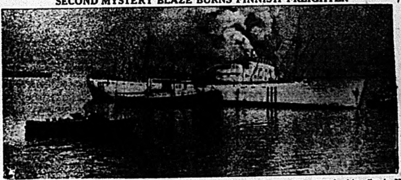
Sending an "unsatisfactory" reply to British and Russian demands that thousands of German agents be expelled from the country, strategic and oil-rich Iran (Persia) was invaded by the Allies as a precaution against a German move on the country via Turkey. Ruler—and dictator—of Iran is the former laborer, Sha Riza Khan Pehlevi, shown here.



STRIKERS PARALYZE DETROIT'S TRANSIT SYSTEM

Striking operators of Detroit's Municipal transportation system are pictured (top photo) outside one of the car barns awaiting instructions from the A. F. of L. union which called the strike after a jurisdictional dispute with a rival C. I. O. union. Bottom photo shows some of the 1,650 busses that stood idle in the terminals while the Motor City's 400,000 workers were left without conveyance.

SECOND MYSTERY BLAZE BURNS FINNISH FREIGHTER



A view of the S.S. Aurora, 4,956-ton Finnish freighter, as she burned in the Hudson river at New York, after her 18 crew members had been removed in safety. The fire, of unknown origin, broke out suddenly and various crew members were burned, none seriously, before being taken off. The vessel had been anchored in mid-Hudson, near the George Washington bridge. This was the second ship fire in New York in a week. When the Cuban mail line freighter Panuco burned at its pier a few days ago, 19 men were believed to have been killed.

CANADA'S ASBESTOS DADDY

The Eastern Townships of Quebec have for many years been the most productive asbestos-mining area in the world.

ARCTIC EXCHANGE

Practically the only medium of exchange used by Eskimos in their dealing with traders is the pelt of the white fox.

Blasts Army Tactics

Lieut.-General Walter Krueger, commanding-general of the third U.S. army, who made a blistering criticism of the handling of troops in the Louisiana manoeuvres, claiming that the tactics they used would have laid them open to annihilation by an enemy force, if they were engaged in actual war instead of manoeuvres.

100 POUND SALMON

The king salmon has been known to weigh as much as 100 pounds.

Quality in Printing

There is no commodity you buy that shows lack of quality more than poor printing.

YOUR GREATEST ASSURANCE OF CRAFTSMANSHIP IS THE HALLMARK.

PHONE 99.

Ontario Intelligencer Print

WHO uses newspaper advertising successfully?

Any product or business serving the Canadian family.

The Ontario Intelligencer

Wrestling Cready, Wins Cy Williams

Results

INTERNATIONAL

	W.	L.	Pct.
ark	89	49	.645
ntreal	83	57	.593
falo	80	60	.571
hester	75	65	.536
sey City	66	68	.493
acuse	63	74	.460
timore	[illegible]	83	.381
onto	45	96	.319

Monday's Results

uffalo 5, Montreal 1
altimore at Jersey City (2) tponed.
ewark at Syracuse postponed.
Only games scheduled).

NATIONAL

	W.	L.	Pct.
oklyn	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Louis	76	44	.633
cinnati	68	50	.576
sburgh	64	55	.538
York	57	61	.483
cago	52	70	.426
ston	48	71	.403
ladelphia	35	84	.294

Monday's Results

Cincinnati at New York postned.
t. Louis at Brooklyn postponed.
ittsburgh at Boston postponed.
Only games scheduled.)

AMERICAN

	W.	L.	Pct.
w York	84	44	.565
icago	67	59	.532
veland	63	59	.517
ston	64	61	.512
troit	58	66	.466
. Louis	54	68	.443
iladelphia	53	69	.434
ashington	52	69	.430

Monday's Results

Chicago 9, New York 1
Boston 1, Cleveland 0
St. Louis 6-x3, Washington 3-3.
x—Called end 10th darkness.
Philadelphia at Detroit postned.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Louisville 9, Milwaukee 6
Indianapolis at Kansas City postned rain
Columbus at Minneapolis night ubleheader postponed.

IGHT REGULARS F ROUGH RIDERS UT FOR SEASON

Many in Army and Ross Trimble Will Have to Rebuild Squad

SWARD WITH BEACHES

Ottawa, Aug. 26 (CP)—As far as ttawa Rough Riders are concerned, oach Ross Trimble is right back here he started five years ago.

The only difference seems to be hat his position today is even more ismaying than in 1937 when he ame east to take over the coaching eins from Bill Hughes.

The year before Hughes had uided Rough Riders to the Interrovincial Rugby Football Union itle and Trimble fell heir to the emnants of a once-great machine.

Two seasons passed before he roduced a winner but at the end f that time he had moulded one of he most powerful teams in Canadian rugby. Under his sound coaching Riders marched to the Dominon final in 1939 and the following year gained Canadian Rugby Union recognition as all-Canadian champs.

This season Trimble faces another big rebuilding program. Only eight members of the 1940 Eastern Canada championship team turned out at the first practice last night to welcome him back from Toronto, where he spent the summer months with an insurance firm.

Among the missing are Sammy Sward, kicking and plunging half now with Toronto Balmy Beach; Charles (Toe-Timing Tiny) Herman, placement kicker now on Active Service in the navy; and Dave Sprague, line-smasher who has retired after 11 seasons.

Many in the Army

Outside Rick Perley is stationed with the Canadian (Active) army at Petawawa, Ont.; and Wilf Tremblay is training with the reserve; Carl (Soggy) Norton won't throw any more spirals from the snapback position; he's in the Royal Canadian Air Force now.

And Jack (Pooch) Taylor, another centre, has decided the time has come to call it quits.

Trimble may also lose Tony Golab, described as the hardest-hitting plunnger in eastern Canadian rugby. Golab, on the shelf most of last season with a back injury, is awaiting a call from the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Quarterback Orville Burke is a Lieutenant in the Governor-General's Foot Guards and he can't say for certain whether he'll be able to report for training. Stan (Windy) O'Neil says he hasn't time for the game.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago—Willie Davis, 138 1-2, Philadelphia, outpointed Harvey Dubs, 142, Windsor, Ont., (10).

San Francisco—Mello Bettina, 189 1-2, Beacon, N.Y., outpointed Pat Valentino, 180, San Francisco (10); Ray Lunny, 135, San Francisco, outpointed Ritchie Fontaine, 133, Missoula, Mont., (10).

BOWLING 'EM OVER—

Centrefielder Pete Reiser, of the Brooklyn Dodgers bowls over Catcher McCullough of the Chicago Cubs as he slides safely into home plate in the first inning of the game at Ebbets Field. Reiser scored after Lew Riggs hit a sacrifice fly which was taken by Bill Nicholson of the Cubs in right field. The umpire is Sears. The Brooklyn Dodgers were leading the Cubs by a score of 8-4 in the 8th inning.

ALEXANDER LEADS QUALIFIERS WITH A BRILLIANT 67

Comparative "Unknown" Shoots Strong Golf in First Round of Open

BURKE IS SECOND

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 26—(AP)—The "anything can happen" golf tournament—the 45th national amateur championship—followed that suspense-packed pattern into the stretch drive for medalist honors at the field club today.

Out in front as the field swung into the final 18 holes of qualifying play was a comparative "unknown," Stewart (Skip) Alexander, Jr., of Burlington, N.C., the pace-maker on a brilliant five-under-par 67. One strike back was John P. Burke of Chicago, while far back were such favorites as Bud Ward, Ray Billows and Harry Todd. And right ahead was the day's qualifying windup and a Wednesday-through-Saturday match play program which promised to hold to the wide-open, free-for-all groove.

Alexander's own game executed a remarkable reversal which set the tempo for the opening day of surprise showings. The former Duke University player scrambled badly on his final practice rounds, but he showed his mettle with the pressure on, coming through with a four-under 32 going out and clipping par a stroke on the home trip for a 35. At No. 18 this tall, bespectacled young man gave a final demonstration of his nerve under fire, when after banging his second over the green, a brilliant chip saved his par and the leadership.

Had Eyes of an Eagle

The 23-year-old Southerner who has been classified 1-B in the draft because of defective vision, had the eyes of an eagle yesterday as he ran down putts of from four to 20 feet for six birdies. He bogied one hole, the 10th, where his tee shot and second iron caught the field club's tough crab-grass rough.

Burke, former National Intercollegiate champion, preceeded Alexander to the showers with a 68 which showed five birdies and one bogie. Three shots back, bracketed at par 72, were Otto Greiner of Baltimore, the ex-tennis king, Ellsworth Vines, and Ted Bishop the New England champion.

Ward, the Spokane star who won the championship in 1939 and is the general favorite, came in with a 73 after bogying the 15th and 17th holes. He was bracketted with another ex-champion and the hometown pride, Johnny Goodman, the 1937 amateur king. A third 73 shooter was Glenn Oatman of Kansas City. Then at 74 came defending champion Dick Chapman, who fell off to an "in" nine of 39, Rodney Bliss of Omaha; Edwin McClure of Shreveport, La., Mario Gonzales of Sao Paulo, Brazil, the only foreign entrant, and Bob Cochran of St. Louis.

AFTER YOU III WINS NICKEL CUP

Race Sailed in Light Breeze Off Victoria Park

The Mikel Cup race was sailed on Sunday afternoon, which was a lively struggle between the three boats, getting away with a perfect start on the three times around the buoy, of the longer course. A big crowd watched the race in a light breeze finishing in the following order:

Callaghan's "After You"	3.09	3.08	4.38
Wilson's "Annie C"	3.11	4.00	4.50
Duke Smith's "Joka"	3.9½	8.59	4.51

Pressure on Redbirds as Teams Square Off in Brooklyn in Twin Bill for League Championship

Cardinals Game and a Half Away From Lead of the Dodgers

FELLER BEATEN

By JUDSON BAILEY

(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

With echoes of Sunday's ding-dong twin bill ringing in everybody's ears, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers squared off for another double date today with the pressure more obviously than ever on the Redbirds.

The rain which caused yesterday's scheduled single game to be converted into a doubleheader this afternoon left the Cardinals confronted with the task of beating the Dodgers twice in one day or retreating from Brooklyn with their National League pennant chances damaged badly.

Brooklyn has held a game-an-a-half lead over the Cards since last Wednesday. They won together and they lost together.

Nominates Southpaw

Manager Billy Southworth nominated Max Lanier, a young southpaw, for the first encounter. Lanier, bothered by elbow trouble, had not made a start since Aug. 12. For the nightcap Southworth groomed Morton Cooper, a capable righthander who nevertheless looked bad and was beaten by the last-place Phillies on his previous mound turn.

Brooklyn banked on two veterans, Curt Davis and Fred Fitzsimmons, each of whom had had a week's rest and had been going great. The 40-year-old Fitzsimmons had won five games without a defeat this year and the last time Brooklyn was in St. Louis he beat the Cards with a magnificent relief performance.

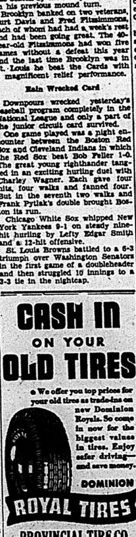
Rain Wrecked Card

Downpours wrecked yesterday's baseball program completely in the National League and only a part of the junior circuit card survived.

One game played was a night encounter between the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians in which the Red Sox beat Bob Feller 1-0. The great young righthander tangled in an exciting hurling duel with Charley Wagner. Each gave four hits, four walks and fanned four. But in the seventh two walks and Frank Pytlak's double brought Boston its run.

Chicago White Sox whipped New York Yankees 9-1 on steady nine-hit hurling by Lefty Edgar Smith and a 12-hit offensive.

St. Louis Browns battled to a 6-3 triumph over Washington Senators in the first game of a doubleheader and then struggled 10 innings to a 3-3 tie in the nightcap.



CASH IN ON YOUR OLD TIRES

We offer you top prices for your old tires as trade-ins on new Dominion Royals. So come in now for the biggest values in tires. Enjoy safer driving—and save money.

DOMINION ROYAL TIRES

PROVINCIAL TIRE CO.
3 DUNDAS ST. E. PHONE 606

GUS LESNEVICH FAVORED TO WIN

Meets Tami Mauriello for Light - Heavyweight Title Vacated by Conn

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)— Gus Lesnevich and Tami Mauriello won't actually be fighting for the light-heavyweight title tonight with one eye on the heavyweight championship—they'll be too busy with the matter at hand. But they won't be entirely forgetful of the more important class, either.

Gus, who hails from Newark, N.J., and who is recognized by the National Boxing Association as 175-pound boss, already has taken on several full-fledged heavyweights. Tami, a youthful Bronx bomber, has just grown out of the middleweight class and if he continues to pack on pounds, he'll be up with the big fellows in another year or two.

At any rate, they're due to settle the ownership of the light-heavy crown for good in tonight's 15-round tussle in Madison Square Garden. The New York Athletic Commission, which hasn't listed a champion since Billy Conn resigned, has agreed to string along with the N.B.A. in recognizing the winner. Lesnevich earned his claim by beating Anton Christoforidis a few months ago.

Each have a large following of homefolks from the Bronx just across the river and they're expected to form a large part of a crowd of 10,000 which is expected to pay about $25,000.

FLOYD GIEBELL'S FINE PITCHING ASSISTS BISONS

Buffalo Scores 5-1 Win Over Montreal Royals to Edge Closer to Second Placers

ONLY GAME PLAYED

(By The Associated Press)

As long as Buffalo's pitching staff holds up, it appears there'll be a real battle for runner-up honors in the International Baseball League even though all concerned have practically conceded the pennant to Newark Bears.

The Bisons slashed Montreal's second-place margin to 3½ games last night, due mainly to Floyd Giebell's fine pitching, and they still have their two aces, Fredey Hutchinson and Virgil Trucks ready to toss at the Royals. Giebell, recently sent down by Detroit to help in the final drive pitched Buffalo to a 5-1 triumph and narrowly missed getting his second straight shutout.

Only the one game was played last night as a Newark-Syracuse tussle and a Baltimore-Jersey City doubleheader were rained out while Rochester and Toronto weren't scheduled.

Giebell, who blanked Syracuse with four hits the last time out, was touched for eight blows this time, but he didn't allow a run until the ninth, making it 18 consecutive scoreless innings. He got into one tight spot in the sixth, but the only result was to clinch the decision for Buffalo.

When an opportunity to tie the score at 1-1 presented itself in the sixth, manager Clyde Sukeforth yanked pitcher Ed Head for a pinch-hitter. The Royals not only didn't get the run but when Chet Kehn took over in the seventh, Eric McNair greeted him with a home run and he gave two more hits and a pair of walks without retiring a man. Tex Carleton finally checked the rally but not until the Bisons scored four runs.

Sports Roundup

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.)
(Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)
(Associated Press Sport Writer)

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—That rain yesterday cost the Brooks about $25,000. . . .Even if they have a sellout today they can't pack enough folks into Ebbets Field to make up for the ones who wanted to see yesterday's game. . . .Anyway, it gave the umps a chance to get their nerves claimed down after Sunday . . . .The players knew they wouldn't get the heave-ho from such an important series for anything minor and they hollered all afternoon.

Did you notice that the new date for the Louis-Nova fight is just before the World Series is due to start . . . If the Yanks and Brooks are in it, all the fighters will collect is what the ball clubs have to turn back because there's no more room.

Bob Feller is trying to add a slider to his pitching repertoire, which leads a lot of baseball men to wonder why the guy with the best fast ball in the majors ever bothers with anything else . . .If Del Baker goes out, Detroit may bring Al Vincent up from Buffalo, where he's been doing a bang-up job of developing young players . . Al never played a big league ball, but neither did a gent named Joe McCarthy.

The Amarillo (Tex.) Gold Sox took 16-year-old peanuts Thurman off his job of selling 'em in the stands the other night and let him pitch against Wichita Falls. . . The kid won, too . . . A Boston football coach has just discovered why one of his linemen hadn't been following orders hollered from the bench for the last two seasons. The draft board doctor told the player he was deaf in one ear.

POOR FISHING

Blind fish and crabs live in the depths of Echo River, 360 feet underground in Mammoth Cave, Kentucky.

PLANTS SHOW OIL

In a new method of locating petroleum, plants are burned and the ash tested for chemical elements.

"Hot Papa" Really Hot

While demonstrating how to extinguish a fire bomb at Boston, Mass., this fire-fighter narrowly escaped serious injury when his asbestos suit caught fire. Only the quick action of others nearby in stripping the suit from him saved the "hot papa," as these men are called, from bad burns. The ABOVE photo was made as he stepped into the flames of an incendiary bomb during an exhibition of air raid defence for the International Fire Chiefs' convention.

The 'Sarge' is right.

TRUMP *IS a good cigar!

"I don't always agree with the 'Sarge' but he's got something in these Trump cigars at 2 for 5¢. They're a big league smoke because they've got the class. At 2 for 5¢? Yes, sir! Read this guarantee . . ."

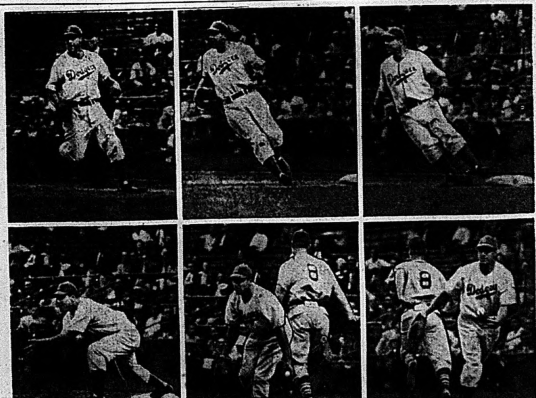
*Guarantee
We guarantee that these cigars today at 2 for 5¢ contain Havana filler of the same quality as used in higher priced cigars blended with fine imported tobaccos . . .

2 for 5¢

ACTUAL SIZE

Double Value — Double enjoyment

For a Good 5¢ Cigar—Try B. & H. No. 7 or Admiration



DOLF HANDLES A PUTOUT IN NICE STYLE

Dolf Camilli, the Brooklyn Dodgers' first baseman who is a slugger of merit, gallops around first base during the Dodgers-Pittsburgh game at Brooklyn recently, handing a putout as the magic eye camera watches. You don't see him yet and won't for a while, but Bob Elliott, Pirate outfielder, has just connected and, TOP LEFT, Camilli moves toward the sack as his eyes follow the ball. Umpire Larry Goetz is behind Dolf. You see Dolf veer in, foot on bag, taking the throw and then Elliott lumbering in — and out. Camilli, satisfied, juggles the ball.

Want Ads Are Used All Over the World for the Same Reason—Results

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per

Insertion	30c
Two Insertions	60c
Three Insertions	75c

Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.

Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS

REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

7 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073

Representing

CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE

Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

CEMENT MIXER AND MAN TO operate same is for rent. Apply 2238. A26-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chiropodist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J., 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE", 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 213 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900. Lady attendant.

R. R. and VERA B. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville, Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS

and

HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE

249½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass

278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

RINGSIDE MAISIE

Ann Sothern, George Murphy

2.40 — 8.30

SCOTLAND YARD

John Loder, Nancy Kelly

4.00 — 7.20 — 10.00

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Greer Garson, Laurence Olivier

2.45 — 8.30

THE INVISIBLE GHOST

Bela Lugosi

4.45 — 7.30 — 10.40

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

SHINING VICTORY

James Stephenson, Geraldine Fitzgerald

7.20 — 10.00

SHE COULDN'T SAY NO

8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27

WANTED

AT ONCE, AN EXPERIENCED cook at the County Home. Phone 425. A26-3t

RELIABLE MIDDLE AGED housekeeper, able to take full charge. References. Good wages. Evenings free. Write Box 39, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-2t

USED ELECTRIC RADIO OF good make and in good condition, for cash. Phone 932W. 26-3t

DELIVERY BOY WITH BICYCLE. Phone 1698. A26

DELIVERY BOY AT ONCE. Apply Dennis' Grocery, Pine St. A26

FURNISHED APARTMENT OR rooms in Belleville or Mountain View. Write Box 21, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

TO BUY—FOR CASH, A MODERN house on East Hill. Central. Write Box 10, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-2t

GIRL 16 WANTS LIGHT HOUSEwork in plain home. Apply Lois Knox, 251 Ann Street, Belleville. A26

THREE OR FOUR ROOMS OR apartment by September 1st. Write Box 12, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

EXPERIENCED PRESSER BY Odorless Cleaners. Apply Front St., Belleville. A26-3t

TO BUY — GIRL'S SMALL USED bicycle; must be in good condition. Phone 868. A26-3t

POSITION AS HOUSEMAN AND Cook. Good references. Apply Box 46, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

WAITRESS, AT ONCE. MUST BE neat. Experienced only required. Apply in person only. Paragon Cafe. A26-3t

MAN DISHWASHER AT ONCE. Apply Guild. A26-2t

PLUMBERS' HELPERS. APPLY Chas. L. Hyde. A26

COOK, GENERAL, BY AUGUST 29th. Mrs. Crossland, 277 William St. Phone 2494. A26-3t

GIRL FOR WAITRESS. APPLY in person, Guild Restaurant. A26

USED ALTO SAXOPHONE. WILL pay cash. G. Brown, Phone 2119R. A26

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEwork in North Toronto. Small family. Good wages. Sleep in or out. Sundays free. Phone Belleville 1945M. A26

GIRL FOR GROCERY STORE, honest and reliable, good reference. State wages expected. Phone 2069W. A25-3t

BOY FOR BAKESHOP. APPLY in person only. Ed. F. Dickens and Son, 215 Front St. A26-2t

RELIABLE MIDDLE AGED MAN to clean up around hotel. Apply Docter's Hotel. A26

AN EXPERIENCED MIDDLE AGed woman or girl for housework; capable of taking full charge. Must have reference. Highest wages paid to suitable party. Apply 23 Bridge St. W. A25-3t

FOUR OR FIVE ROOMED HOUSE or apartment by September 1, by couple; no children. Phone 1733. A25-3t

AN HONEST, INDUSTRIOUS BOY to learn trade. Apply Millard Dental Lab., 271½ Front St. A25-2t

WANTED, A GIRL WITH SOME experience at light housekeeping. Apply 65 Grier St. A25-3t

RELIABLE MAN FOR NIGHT Porter at Crystal Hotel. A25-3t

HOUSEKEEPER TO TAKE FULL charge of home. 3 adults. No objection to child. C. H. Palmer, Consecon. A25-6t

4 OR 5 ROOM HEATED APARTment, permanent tenants, or furnished bed sitting room with kitchenette. Write Box 35, Ontario Intelligencer. A23-3t

EXPERIENCED FARM COUPLE, $600 yearly, if satisfactory. Live in. No children. State age. Write 21 Rose St., Oshawa. A13-12t

LOST

AT THE ARMY AND NAVY VETerans' Hall, a Wrist Watch. Reward of $15 will be given if left at Ontario Intelligencer office. A25-3t

SMALL YELLOW GOLD WRIST watch in McCarthy Theatre, or in parking lots. Reward. Leave at Ontario Intelligencer Office. A26

TENDERS WANTED
COUNTY OF HASTINGS

Tenders will be received by the undersigned, up until NOON, MONDAY, September 8th, 1941, for 30 tons of stove and nut coal, delivered at the County Buildings, Belleville.

Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

ERLE S. DENYES,

230 Church St. County Clerk,

Belleville, Ont. A26-28

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN RESULTS ARE OBTAINED YEARLY FROM WANT ADS.

—YET YOU CAN BUY ONE FOR AS LITTLE AS THIRTY CENTS.

FOR SALE

GOOD WORK HORSE; 8 GRADE Oxford ewes; one thoroughbred Oxford ram. Apply F. McDonald, half mile west Stirling. A26-3t

ON LARGE LOT, FIVE ROOMED house on West Hill; modern, except furnace; hardwood floors downstairs; chestnut trim; full basement; screened porch. Interested parties write Box 28 Ontario Intelligencer. A26-6t

BAY GELDING, RISING 4. E. N. Wilson, Roslin. A23-26-28

OR RENT, THREE FARMS FROM 50 to 150 acres; plenty water and wood. Stock and implements if desired. Easy terms. Dr. Carleton, Thomasburg. A19-23-26-30

MATURE PURE BRED HOLstein and Jersey calves, both sex, from T.B. and blood tested herd, with good milking record. V. J. Baker, R. 3, Belleville. Phone 134r34. A22-26

LEGHORN PULLETS. H. Brenton, Corbyville. Phone 320r5. A25-3t

BUILDING LOT. REASONABLE price. Apply 17 Reid St. A25-3t

GOVERNMENT TESTED DAWson's Golden Chaff Wheat; free from weeds, $1.15 per bushel. Gordon Snider, Melrose. A25-3t

OR RENT, FARM 120 ACRES, 3rd. Con. Thurlow, Lot 19; all good land; never failing spring; two barns; one extra good house and tenant house. Geo. F. Hamilton, R. 6, Belleville. A25-3t

200 ACRE FARM, 7TH. CON. SIDney; wooded; fair buildings, $4,000. Good location. John Prest, R.R. 2, Holloway. A25-3t

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGerator, 6 cu. ft. Deluxe Model. Splendid condition, $175 cash. Apply Ford Derry, Foxboro. A22-4t

THREE PIECE CHESTERFIELD suite; cabinet radio; mattress, all in good condition. Apply Apt. 3, 287½ Front St. A23-3t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOTS on the East Hill—Foster Avenue—Victoria Avenue and Burnham Street, near Bridge. Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators) 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

QUANTITY HARD BODY WOOD, and soft slabs. Write H. C. Lloyd, Bannockburn, or Phone 1222, Belleville. J29-24t

9 JANE STREET, CORNER OF Everett Street; very attractive and compact brick house, living room, dining room, den, kitchen (wired for range); 2 bed rooms, bath; hardwood floors throughout—a bright, well decorated and comfortable house. This is worth investigating if you desire a nice, small home. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A12tf

214 CHURCH STREET, A SHORT distance north of Bridge Street; brick house with large double rooms, dining room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath, hot water heating. This property is worth investigating. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent, Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A19tf

90 CHATHAM ST., NORTH OF Victoria Ave. Large living room with coal fire place, hardwood floors, dining room, kitchen wired for range, four bed rooms and sleeping porch, full basement, hot air heating; garage; house in good state of repair; bright and easily heated. This is worth investigating. Exclusive agents, Belleville Locators (George N. Gorman, Prop.), 166 Front Street Phone 99. A19tf

OVERLOOKING THE BAY (A beautiful view)—brick house, No. 8 Warham Street, off Highland Ave. Large double rooms, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms and bath; cellar; hot water heating; garage; large lot. This is a rare opportunity to obtain a desirable property overlooking the bay and being close in. Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agents, Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A19-tf

FOR SALE

2½ H. P. JOHNSTON TWIN. A1 condition. Bargain if sold today. 7 Grove St. Phone 493. A26-3t

1 TEAM WORK HORSES FOR sale cheap. Leo Brennan, Corbyville. A26-3t

1931 CHEVROLET DELUXE Coach in good condition. Phone 1964W. A26

100 ACRES, MOSTLY WOODLAND —8th. of Sidney, part of Hamilton estate. Apply Nelson Stapley, Stirling, or John Wilson, 40 Olive St. A26-3t

DOUBLE, SOLID BRICK HOUSE; all conveniences; wired for electric stove; hardwood floors; large garden. Thirty-two Hundred. Apply Norman Montgomery. A26-2t

SILO, 12 x 30, WITH ROOF; ENsilage cutter, 13". two knives. Geo. McCullough, Foxboro. A26

SIX ROOMED HOUSE ON ALbert St. Very finest of condition, nearly all hardwood floors, combination heating. Taxes only one hundred and thirteen. Price: Thirty-seven Hundred. Cash to handle Fifteen Hundred. Norman Montgomery, Phone 1170, Belleville. A26-2t

STUDIO FURNITURE, FIXTURES and large quantity of 2 x 4, 12 ft. long. Robt. Turney, 25 Bridge St. East. A26-3t

5 ACRES ON HERCHIMER, choicest of garden land, 7 room house and well, lights available. Thirty-two Hundred. One Thousand cash to handle. Norman Montgomery, Phone 1170, Belleville. A26-2t

TO LET

HOUSE AND LOT ON TRENTON Highway. Phone 1932. W. J. Hall. A26-2t

FURNISHED BEDROOM FOR 2 gentlemen at 75 N. Front Street. Phone 1689J. A26

COMFORTABLE BEDROOM IN private home. Close to business section. Every convenience. Breakfast if desired. Gentleman preferred. Phone 1056W. A26

MODERN 2 OR 3 ROOMED APartment on Trent Road. Phone 72r3. A25-3t

FRONT BEDROOM, BRIGHT, hot water heated, hardwood floors, nicely furnished, private washroom, continuous hot water. Possession immediately. Apply in person to 33 Queen St. A25-3t

THREE ROOM, HEATED UPPER flat; all conveniences; front entrance; garage. No children. Apply Box 32, Ontario Intelligencer. A25-3t

ONE THREE ROOMED APARTment, unheated. Apply 156 W. Moira. A25-2t

TWO COMPLETELY FURNISHED house keeping rooms, upstairs, outside city limits on Bridge St. East. Phone 15r1-1, before 5 p.m. A25-2t

100 ACRE FARM, LOT 27, 4TH. concession Thurlow. Hydro; brick house, frame barn. Good outbuildings. O. M. Roblin, Corbyville. A23-3t

BUSINESS LINERS

SEED GRAIN FOR FALL SEEDING: Dawson's Golden Chaff Wheat, Number One Grade and Registered; Fall Rye and Timothy, at BISHOP'S SEED STORE, 172 Front. Phone 283. A26

TENDERS WANTED
COUNTY OF HASTINGS

Tenders will be received by the undersigned, up until NOON, MONDAY, September 8th, 1941, for 100 cords, more or less, of dry body hardwood, delivered at the County Buildings, Belleville, Ont.

Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

ERLE S. DENYES,

230 Church St. County Clerk,

Belleville, Ont. A26-28

HIS HEATING PROBLEM—

SOLVED!

THROUGH THE FRIENDLY SERVICE OF THE QUINTE FINANCE

Now, if you want to play safe you may borrow for your winter's coal and pay it back in 15 easy monthly payments.

QUINTE FINANCE

and

SECURITIES LIMITED.

168 Front St. Phone 168

THE REASON

People like to Insure with the

BAY OF QUINTE FIRE INSURANCE CO.

is because of prompt settlement of claims. Consult our office for all lines of insurance except life.

C. W. BURR

219 FRONT ST.

Phones: 964W Office; 2306J Residence.

IF YOU NEED $100 HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $500 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. 24 hour service, or sooner if necessary. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment.

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan: 6 payments	10 payments	12 payments	15 payments
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2% monthly as authorized by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE

Corporation of Canada

Established in Canada 1928

PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

Second Floor, Lansfield Block

177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws

M. E. Holt, Manager Phone 5841

32 Queen St.

Between

WILLIAM and GEORGE STS.

FOR SALE

Residence of the late Mrs. W. N. Perry. Spacious rooms, hardwood floors; three fire-places; 4 bedrooms, sun room, sleeping porch, garage, hot air heating.

ATTRACTIVE PRICE FOR QUICK SALE.

Inspection by appointment only. Exclusive agent,

GEO. N. GORMAN

(BELLEVILLE LOCATORS)

166 Front St. Phone 99

Those scrappy lovers, Roger Pryor and Eve Arden, are co-starred in the comedy hit, "She Couldn't Say No," now at the Capitol with "Shining Victory," starring Geraldine Fitzgerald and James Stephenson.

BIRTH

BOYD — At the Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday, August 26, 1941, to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Boyd (nee Lillian Kennedy), 158 Dundas Street East, a son, Robert John. A26

DEATHS

SHEA — Suddenly at his residence in Stirling, on Tuesday, August 26th., 1941, Michael Shea, aged 76 years.

The funeral will be held from his late residence on Thursday, August 28th., 1941, to St. James Church, Stirling, for Requiem Mass at 10.00 a.m., D.S.T.

Interment St. James Cemetery. A26

YULL—In the Belleville General Hospital on Monday, August 25, 1941, Frederick Charles Yull, age two years and six months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Yull, 21 Railway Terrace, Belleville.

Resting at the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street, from where the funeral will take place Thursday afternoon, August 28th. Service in the Chapel at 2 o'clock.

Interment Belleville Cemetery. A26

AT THE CAPITOL

"Shining Victory"

"Shining Victory," has its local showing now at the Capitol Theatre, James Stephenson and Geraldine Fitzgerald are co-starred in the drama, which was written by world-famous novelist, A. J. Cronin, author of "The Citadel," and directed by Irving Rapper.

"Shining Victory" brings to the screen for the first time the mysteries of psychiatry. With bold, masterful strokes, the film lays bare the innermost secrets of a woman's mind. Stephenson, who scored such a sensational success in "The Letter," is cast as a psychiatrist, a brilliant young man so intent on his work that he very nearly misses the happiness and love that is his for the taking. Charming and talented Irish Geraldine Fitzgerald, who won so many plaudits for her work in "Wuthering Heights" and "Dark Victory," portrays a young woman doctor who assists Stephenson in his work and falls in love with him after hours. The tender story of their romance is woven through one of the most exciting and unusual dramas ever screened.

The fine supporting cast is headed by Barbara O'Neil and Donald Crisp and includes such well-known players as Montagu Love, Sig Ruman, Frank Reicher, G. P. Huntley, Jr., Richard Ainley, Bruce Lester, Doris Lloyd and many others.

"She Couldn't Say No"

He's a lawyer and she's a lawyer and they're sweethearts. Instead of poetry he reads her passages from the New York Statute's Modus Operendi, and she loves it. But the sparks fly when they try to tear each other apart in court in Warner Bros.' gay new film, "She Couldn't Say No" now at the Capitol.

In the film's leading role are talented Roger Pryor and one of the screen's outstanding personality girls, Eve Arden.

The same program includes an interesting short subject, "Going Places."

AT THE BELLE

"Ringside Maisie"

When Maisie starts going the rounds with a prizefighter and his hardboiled manager, the entertainment banners fly high. This is exactly what happens at the Belle Theatre starting today when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Ringside Maisie," starring Ann Sothern, goes on display.

All of the previous adventures of the popular Brooklyn chorus girl seem only build-ups for this, the fastest-moving, funniest of the lot. Miss Sothern has never been afforded better lines and situations and she makes the most of every one of them. Her jitterbug number in the early sequences of the film is something that old as well as new Maisie fans will never forget.

Cast as the manager is George Murphy, recently seen in "A Girl, A Guy and A Gob". Murphy has a straight dramatic role, sans song or dance, in this film, and turns in a top performance. As the youthful boxer is Robert Sterling, remembered for his excellent work in the leading role of "The Get-Away". Natalie Thompson, a little theatre discovery, plays her first screen role as Sterling's girl friend, and comic Virginia O'Brien completes the cast of featured players.

"Scotland Yard", Gripping

Slick screen mystery at its best is blended with romance and comedy in "Scotland Yard", 20th Century-Fox's fast-moving thrill drama which is the accompanying feature attraction with Nancy Kelly, Edmund Gwenn and John Loder heading a powerful featured cast.

The first pictures of Churchill-Roosevelt meeting and other world-wide events will be shown in the Belle news of the day.

LOOK! LOOK!

Not a Bad One in the Bunch

AND THERE IS ONE IN THE BUNCH OF MANY MAKES AND MODELS TO SUIT Y-O-U.

1941 PLYMOUTH CUSTOM SEDAN. Demonstrator.
1941 PLYMOUTH ROADKING SPECIAL COACH. Dem.
1940 PLYMOUTH CUSTOM SEDAN.
1940 FORD DELUXE COACH.
1939 HUDSON DELUXE SEDAN.
1939 PLYMOUTH CUSTOM SEDAN.
1939 BUICK SPECIAL COACH.
1938 PONTIAC 224 SEDAN.
1938 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL COACH.
1938 PLYMOUTH DELUXE SEDAN.
1938 CHEV. MASTER DELUXE SEDAN.
1937 DODGE DELUXE COACH.
1937 CHEV. DELUXE COACH.
1937 TERRAPLANE SEDAN.
1936 CHRYSLER DELUXE SEDAN.
1936 FORD DELUXE COACH.
1936 TERRAPLANE SEDAN.
1935 PLYMOUTH DELUXE SEDAN.
1935 FORD DELUXE COACH.
1935 OLDSMOBILE DELUXE COACH.
1934 FORD DELUXE SEDAN.
1934 FORD DELUXE COACH.
1934 CHEVROLET DELUXE COACH.
1934 CHEVROLET DELUXE SEDAN.
1933 PLYMOUTH SEDAN.
1932 PLYMOUTH SEDAN.

Trudeau Motor Sales

125 Front St. BELLEVILLE 41 Station St.

PICTON STIRLING TWEED

CLAIM BRITISH CRUISER DAMAGED

Rome, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Italian High Command claimed today that an Italian, torpedo-carrying plane had damaged a British cruiser of the Dido class of the Libyan coast near Salum.

(There was no immediate British comment.)

FREE FRENCH FROM INDIA

Pondicherry, India (CP) — The first group of volunteers to the Free French forces of Gen. de Gaulle to be recruited by the government of French India, left here for a fighting front.

Sir William Glasgow Tours Commonwealth Air Training Establishments

Winnipeg, Aug. 26—(CP)—Sir William Glasgow, Australian High Commissioner to Canada, today started a tour of establishments of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

He will visit all Western training centres where Australian airmen are stationed. Sir William will be accompanied by Air Vice-Marshal S. J. Goble, Chief Liaison Officer of the Royal Australian Air Force.

TO SAVE PETROL

It is now against the law in England for a motorist to stop his car without stopping his engine.

BEAUTY SPOTS IN WARTIME

London (CP)—National Trust for Places of Historic Interest or Natural Beauty will hold more than 100,000 acres by the end of the year. New properties acquired in 12 months cover 10,000 acres in 19 counties.

Lovely Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier, principals in the delightful comedy, "Pride and Prejudice," now at the McCarthy Theatre. Others in the important cast include Edna May Oliver, Mary Boland and Maureen O'Sullivan.

AUGUST FUR SALE

BEAT RISING PRICES .. BUY NOW AND SAVE .. NEW 1942 STYLES .. BUDGET TERMS .. FREE STORAGE. REPAIRS .. LININGS .. AT LOW SUMMER PRICES.

Ashley Furs

294 FRONT ST. PHONE 2340

"Walk Upstairs and Save."

Dazzling Promise

By

KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER TWENTY

Mutual Confessions

The waiter went away with the dinner orders.

Tom Castor tightened his locked fingers on the table and leaned toward the trembling Dona.

"You must know why I came here, Dona. I deliberately followed you. What I encountered—was a painful shock. I can't yet make it come out right in my mind."

"I—I don't blame you," she said, and dropped her eyes.

She was thinking frantically, "Oh, must I tell him—must I?"

"Dona, I came to let you know how I'd been falling about you — for long months. I couldn't step in when I thought you cared for De Lane—he's too much of a prince. But when I knew you weren't in love with him, I wanted to plead my own cause. You must have seen how it was with me. That's why seeing you last night, realizing you must have come here to be with that fellow—made me see red."

Imploringly, her tear-blurred eyes lifted. She said, brokenly, "Please, Tom—please don't go on."

His gaze locking with hers, suddenly hardened. An expression crossed his face she had never seen there before. It made her afraid. A strong, purposeful man like Tom Castor did not love lightly and she had stirred something within him that was living torment.

"You—you mean—it's Tug Nash?" came from him hoarsely.

"Yes," she breathed unsteadily. "It—it has to be."

Tom's broad shoulders slumped. He sank back in his chair as though she had dealt him a mortal blow. He stroked his straight light brown hair with an unsteady hand, as if to gain time for his reason to reassert itself. His mouth twitched, his chalk-white face stabbed Dona to the quick, made her want to cry out that he must go on loving her as she knew he loved her—as she loved him.

She drew a quivering breath and forced herself to speak.

"Bob must have given you her version of last night's incident—but she doesn't know the truth, Tom."

She paused, halted by the look of torture in his eyes. "Oh, dear God—how could she tell him?"

"The—truth?"

"Yes. I once thought I loved Tug Nash—so—I married him."

"No! Not that! You—you couldn't—"

"Yes, Tom—it was a grave mistake. But now—I'm trying to do the best I can for him. I'm hoping he'll be—different, when he gets out of the hospital."

The waiter came now with grapefruit cocktails.

Dona's labored breath was sending the dainty lace ruffle on her blouse rapidly up and down, and her face above it was completely drained of color.

Quickly, she clutched the slender stem of the cocktail glass to steady her unsure fingers.

"What a tragedy," came in an agonized whisper from Tom when he and Dona were alone again. "You poor, poor girl."

Her heart stopped, then began to beat faster and faster. She could not trust her voice. But now that Tom knew she had every right to be at Tug's side, he could no longer believe any incriminating thing Bob Platt had insinuated. At least, there was a vestige of comfort in this.

"But, darling—if you no longer care for the man—why are you here? Why make yourself miserable? Or—aren't you?"

She said flatly, "Yes—I am miserable. But—"

"Dona—I love you very, very dearly."

He was leaning over the small table again and his eyes were sick with pleading.

She told him, her voice almost gone, "Yes, Tom—I know—and we must face facts. We must—forget each other."

"You mean—you could love me, darling?"

"Not only could—I do, Tom. I supposed you and Bob Platt—"

"Can't you understand, dear? I had to include Bob in our little foursome to see you at all. I thought it was a hopeless situation—that you never could mean anything to me so long as George De Lane was around—but I had to be near you. If I'd known—in time."

"My marriage dates back to before our nice little parties began—it would have been too late, even then."

"And you insist upon clinging to a broken reed?"

"Yes. He has no one but me to turn to. I can't desert him when he's down. You wouldn't ask that."

"Hardly. But any other woman would—and take her own happiness."

A rasping sigh escaped him. "Well—I can at least make it easier for you. Forgive me for inquiring—but how is your—your husband fixed financially?"

"Badly. I'm about to look for a job that will support both of us. I'd rather not go back to the Platt's after what has happened."

"I don't blame you. But I'd better explain a few things to Bob—about you and Tug Nash. She might let him alone—if that would make any difference to you."

"Not specially—only Bob shouldn't get involved. It would break her mother's heart. Yes—please tell her."

He nodded soberly. Then he said, "Let me advance you enough for current expenses. Your husband can square accounts with me when he gets back on his feet."

"No, not that—but I do thank you, Tom. I'll have to work this problem out alone. What if we never could repay you? Then I'd feel no mean—so ungrateful—so—"

"Nonsense. Please, Dona."

"Emphatically no. You're a kind friend—"

"And nothing more." He laughed mirthlessly.

"At any rate, we're having this evening," he continued after a minute. "A good meal is what you need. Drink the cocktail, dear."

He asked a passing waiter, "What about those steaks? Hurry them, please — and bring coffee right away."

"Yes, sir," returned the waiter.

"Hot coffee will send color into those cheeks of yours," Tom said, all solicitude.

She wanly smiled her gratitude and gulped down the refreshing grapefruit juice.

Although their love seemed so futile, the beautiful new understanding between them now made her heart soar to uncontrollable heights. She knew it was sheer foolishness, that she had no right to feel this way, but she was unable to control herself. No matter what happened from now on, she had one heavenly conviction to hug close to her heart. Tom Castor loved her and he knew she loved him!

This sort of bond no man or woman ever wholly forgets. Even if long years separated them, Tom would never lose sight of the fact that he had once loved her and she him. There was this that was eternal about love—real love.

The dinner soon came on, warm and tasteful and nourishing. Tom coaxed Dona to sample everything that the waiter brought. His talk became general but arresting, and he adroitly skirted around and over any further mention of her present dilemma, for which she was grateful.

It was as if they had entirely obliterated all obstacles when, as a matter of fact, they had only shut the door on stark cold realities for the space of a few minutes. They were doing this even when knowing that, the instant they were apart, the pain in the depths of their hearts would come out to taunt them again.

Eddying wisps of fine blond hair had escaped from Dona's little white hat and now framed her sweetly serious face, enhancing the graceful setting of her head and driving Tom Castor nearly to distraction. Her dear little mouth with its well-defined, but not too brightly rouged lips, was grievous temptation. He knew it was all for the best that they were in a public dining room with a table between them.

Dona's color deepened as the dinner progressed, and the excellent food and the steadying influence of Tom's presence filled her with high resolve. It wouldn't, she decided, be such a difficult world to battle after this.

They finally came to the end of the meal. Dona used her fingerbowl and flung Tom a straightforward look as she dried her fingertips on her napkin.

She tried to be brave as she said, "Well, Tom, out little party has ended. It was—beautiful. I shall always remember."

He winced perceptibly. "Dona—I can't—can't let you go like this!"

There was desperation in his voice. She knew he was struggling not to say a great deal more.

She thought rebelliously, "What a fool I am! Oh, I love him so! Oh, dear God—why must I lose him?"

(To be continued)

Every 10c Packet of WILSON'S
FLY PADS
WILL KILL MORE FLIES THAN SEVERAL DOLLARS WORTH OF ANY OTHER FLY KILLER

10c WHY PAY MORE

Best of all fly killers. Clean, quick, sure, cheap. Ask your Druggist, Grocer or General Store.

THE WILSON FLY PAD CO., HAMILTON, ONT.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop was reading his paper and ma was tinking to herself, saying, O deer, I wish you could see Mrs. Iopler's new little grand daughter, Willyum.

I'll see her, pop said. She'll probably grow up and get a pair of skates and come rolling passed the house, he said, and ma said, I dropped in to see her today and I was more than repaid for the effort. She's the darlingest little morsel I ever saw, andj they haven't even named her yet, she said.

They can continue to call her Baby for at least a year without exciting any surprise, pop said, and ma said, She's the color of peaches and cream, and those little hands, O my, Willyum, those tiny hands and those little cerly tocs.

Sounds like quite a child, pop said keeping on reading his paper, and ma said, She's divine, so beautiful and yet so helpless, lying there without even a name.

There's nothing helpless about this big boy I'm reading about, pop said. He's Iceland Ike the bearded Eskimo, and he ways 294 pounds and he claims he's going to throw Pieface Pillsky at the wressling matches tomorrow even if he has to break his leg to do it. He's quite a site in his little striped pants, do you want to take a look? he said, and ma said, Certainly not, I cant bare those overgrown creatures. I wish you could of seen the tiny dimples in her tiny knees, Willyum, she said.

Iceland Ike's got dimples in his knees, too, pop said. There's nothing tiny about them, but from nature's viewpoint a dimple is a dimple, and after Pieface Pisssky sinks his teeth in them they'll be still bigger. Take a look at these dimples, they're collossal, he said, and ma said, O, read your paper.

Wich pop did looking glad of the chance.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

TUESDAY, AUGUST 26.

4.15—Club Matinee—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring's Orchestra — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Johnny Presents Ray Bloch's Orch.—WEAF
8.00—Court of Missing Heirs — WABC, WGR
8.30—Horace Heidt's Treasure Chest—WEAF, WGY
8.30—First Nighter—WABC, CFRB, WHAM, WJZ
8.30—Musical Rendezvous—CBL
9.00—Masterworks of the Pianoforte—CBL
9.00—We, the People—WABC
9.00—Battle of the Sexes, Frank Crumit and Julia Sanderson —WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hap Hazard Show—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Report to the Nation—WABC, WGR
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orchestra — WABC, WGR
10.00—Grant Park Concert—WJZ, CBL
10.15 — Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
10.30—College Humor — WEAF, WGY
10.45—News of the World—WABC, WGR
11.00—Fred Waring's Orch. — WTAM
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Dolly Dawn's Orch.—WJZ

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27.

7.45—News—CKCL
8.00—News—CBL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
11.00—Treet Time; Buddy Clark, vocalist—WABC, WGR
12.30—Nat'l Farm and Home Hour; Defense News—WJZ, WHAM
1.15—Vincent Lopez' Orchestra — WHAM
4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
7.30—Defense of Canada Regulations—CBL
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Adventures of the Thin Man WEAF, WGY
8.00—Grand Central Station—WABC, CFRB
8.00—Quiz Kids—WJZ, WHAM CBL
8.30—Manhattan at Midnight — WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Dr. Christian, sketch —WJR WABC
8.30—Plantation Party — WEAF, WGY
9.00—Quizzer Baseball; Budd Hulick, m.c.—WEAF, WGY
9.00—Treasury Hour; Millions for Defence; Al. Goodman's Orch.; Guests: Eddie Cantor comedian; James Melton, tenor, and Jascha Heifetz, violinist—WABC, WGR
9.00—Hemisphere Revue; Ben Grauer, M.C.—WJZ
9.00—Canada's Answer—CBL
9.20—From Vancouver—CBL
10.00—Kay Kyser's Program — WEAF, WGY
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch. — WABC, WGR
10.00—Serenade for Strings—CBL
10.15—Public Affairs—WABC, WGR
10.30—They Fly For Freedom—CBL
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—BBC Newsreel—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orchestra—WJZ, WHAM

RADIO DIRECTORY

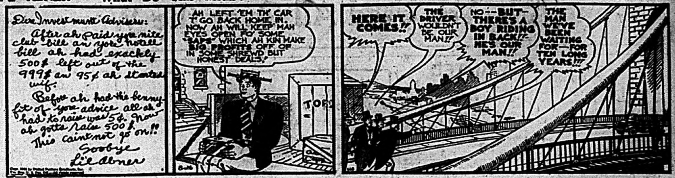
CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

FEMALE PAIN

Women who suffer painful, irregular periods with nervous, moody spells due to functional causes should find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very effective to relieve such distress. Pinkham's Compound is made especially to help such weak, tired women during difficult days. Thousands of women have reported remarkable benefits. Made in Canada. WORTH TRYING! Any drugstore.

LI'L ABNER — Whut Do This Mean?

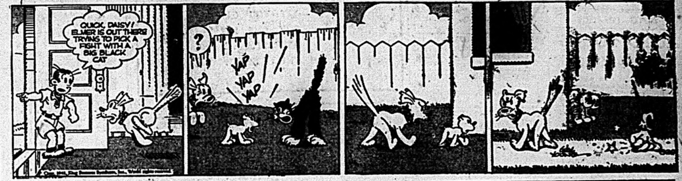
By Al Capp



Dere Invest-munt Adviserr:
After ah paid yore nite club bill an yore hotell bill ah had exackly 500$ left out of the 999$ an 95¢ ah started wif.
Before ah had the benny-fit of yore advice all ah had to raise was 5¢. Now ah gotta raise 500$. This caint not go on!!
Goobye
Li'l Abner
AH LEFT 'EM TH' CAR T' GO BACK HOME IN. NOW AH WILL KEEP MAH EYES OPEN FO' SOME "SAPS" WHICH AH KIN MAKE BIG PROFITS OFF OF IN SOME SHREWD BUT HONEST DEALS.
TOP
HERE IT COMES!!
THE DRIVER WOULDN'T BE OUR MAN!!
NO--BUT--THERE'S A BOY RIDING IN BACK!!-HE'S OUR MAN!!
THE MAN WE'VE BEEN WAITING FOR—FOR TEN LONG YEARS!!!

BLONDIE — An Object Lesson

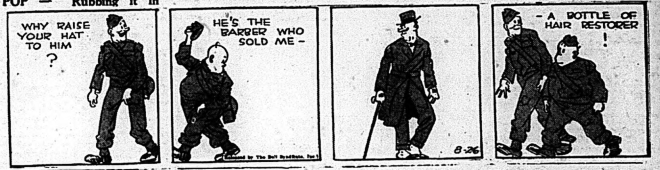
By Chic Young



QUICK, DAISY! ELMER IS OUT THERE TRYING TO PICK A FIGHT WITH A BIG BLACK CAT
?
YAP
YAP
YAP

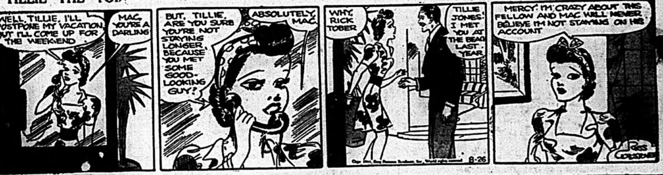
POP — Rubbing it in

By J. Millar Watt



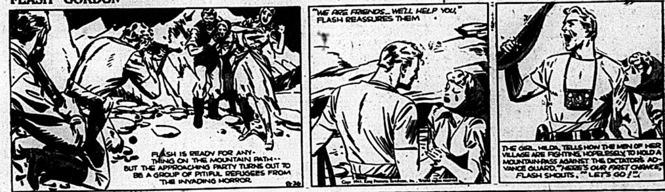
WHY RAISE YOUR HAT TO HIM ?
HE'S THE BARBER WHO SOLD ME -
- A BOTTLE OF HAIR RESTORER !
8-26

TILLIE THE TOILER — That's Something to Explain!



WELL, TILLIE, I'LL POSTPONE MY VACATION, BUT I'LL COME UP FOR THE WEEK-END
MAC, YOU'RE A DARLING
BUT, TILLIE, ARE YOU SURE YOU'RE NOT STAYING LONGER BECAUSE YOU MET SOME GOOD-LOOKING GUY?
ABSOLUTELY, MAC
WHY, RICK TOBER
TILLIE JONES! I MET YOU AT THE BEACH LAST YEAR
MERCY! I'M CRAZY ABOUT THIS FELLOW AND MAC WILL NEVER BELIEVE I'M NOT STAYING ON HIS ACCOUNT
8-26

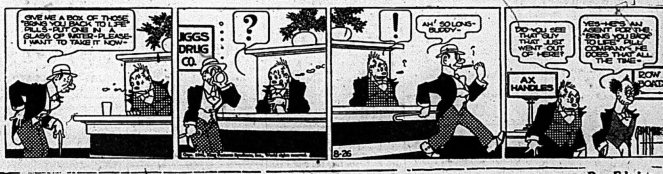
FLASH GORDON



FLASH IS READY FOR ANYTHING ON THE MOUNTAIN PATH-- BUT THE APPROACHING PARTY TURNS OUT TO BE A GROUP OF PITIFUL REFUGEES FROM THE INVADING HORROR.
"WE ARE FRIENDS.. WE'LL HELP YOU," FLASH REASSURES THEM
THE GIRL, HILDA, TELLS HOW THE MEN OF HER VILLAGE ARE FIGHTING, HOPELESSLY, TO HOLD A MOUNTAIN-PASS AGAINST THE DICTATOR'S ADVANCE GUARD. "HERE'S OUR FIRST CHANCE," FLASH SHOUTS. "LET'S GO!"
8-26

BRINGING UP FATHER —

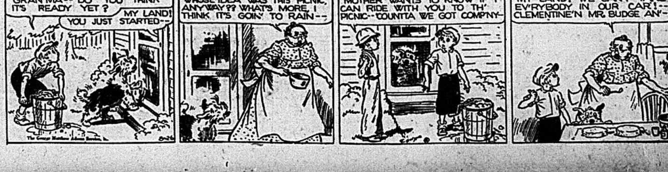
By George McManus



GIVE ME A BOX OF THOSE "BRING YOU BACK TO LIFE" PILLS-PUT ONE IN A GLASS OF WATER-PLEASE- I WANT TO TAKE IT NOW-
JIGGS DRUG CO.
?
!
AH! SO LONG-BUDDY-
DO YOU SEE THAT GUY THAT JUST WENT OUT OF HERE?
YES-HE'S AN AGENT FOR THE "BRING YOU BACK TO LIFE" PILL COMPANY-HE DOES THAT ALL THE TIME-
AX HANDLES
ROW BOATS
8-26

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



GRAN'MA-- DO YOU THINK IT'S READY YET?
MY LAND! YOU JUST STARTED--
WHOSE IDEA WAS THIS PICNIC, ANYWAY?? WHAT'S MORE, I THINK IT'S GOIN' TO RAIN--
MOTHER WANTS TO KNOW IF I CAN RIDE WITH YOU TO TH' PICNIC--COUNTTA WE GOT COMP'NY-MY LAND! WE CAN'T TAKE EV'RYBODY IN OUR CAR!-- CLEMENTINE'N MR. BUDGE AN'-- 8-26

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.45 p.m.

MINES

Aldermac 14B
Anglo Hur. 270B
Aunor 170B
Beattie 110
Bidgood 9
Bralorne 11 1-2B
Broulan 75
Buffalo Ank. 410B
Calgary and Ed. 137B
Central Pat. 195
Chesterville 135
Eldorado 4[illegible]
East Mal. 220
Francoeur 40
Gillies L. 5 1-2B
Gunnar 25
Hardrock 76A
Home Oil 238
Hollinger 12 1-2B
Howey 20B
Jason 36B
Kerr Add. 445
Kirk. L. 68
Lake Shore 14 5-8
Leitch 46
McLeod 186
McKenzie 110
Mining Corp. 133
Moneta 35
O'Brien 141
Perron 143
Pend Oreille 180
Pickle Crow 295
Pioneer 250
Powell 80B
Preston E.D. 310
San Antonio 245A
Sherritt G. 78
Siscoe 52
Sud. Basin 165A
Sullivan 65
Steep Rock 178
Sylvanite 260A
T. Hughes 278
Toburn 148A
Ventures 475A
W. Amulet 465
Wr. Hargreaves 400A
Upper Can. 174

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 149 1-2
B. A. Oil 16 1-4
Braz. Trac. 7 3-8
Can. Bud Brewery 4 3-4B
Can. Cement 5B
Can. Ind. Alcohol 2 3-4B
C.P.R. 6 1-2
Can. Malting 33 1-2B
Can. Vinegar 6 3-8B
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-2
Cons. Bakeries 13A
Con. Smelting 37 3-4
Dominion Foundries 18 1-2B
Dominion Stores 5B
Fanny Farmer 23
Ford "A" 15 3-4
Imp. Oil 8 3-8
Int. Nickel 34 1-2
Inter. Pet. 13 1-2
Mont. Power 21 3-8B
McColl-Frontenac 4 1-4B
Price Bros 10B
Steel of Canada 66B
Walker's 41B

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 154 3-4
Anaconda 26 7-8
Bethlehem Steel 66 1-4
Chrysler 57
General Electric 32 1-2
General Motors 39 1-8
North American 12 3-4
Montgomery Ward 34 3-8
Phillips Pet. 44 3-4
Radio 4
Standard Oil of N.J. 43 3-8
Standard Brands 5 5-8
U.S. Steel 57 5-8
United Aircraft 40 5-8
Vanadium 25 1-8
Westinghouse 91 1-2

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 26—(CP) — Golds lagged on Toronto Exchange today. Other groups posted moderate gains. Volume was fair at 104,000 shares.

Utilities, Senior Oils and miscellaneous Industrials were unchanged to higher. Brazilian, Bell Telephone, British American Oil, Dominion Tar and Steamship issues were among the strong spots.

Narrowly lower prices were chalked up in the Golds by Macleod-Cockshutt, O'Brien, Kerr-Addison, East Malartic and Upper Canada. Malartic Gold Fields firmed 5 to 1.35 in active trading. Nickel and Smelters were stronger base metals.

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 26 —(AP)— The stock market today sat up and took a little more interest in recovery. Gains ranged from fractions to a point or so near the fourth hour.

Among the Canadian issues, Distillers Seagram lost 3-8 while Lake Shore gained 1-8. In the Bond Market Canada 4s lost 3-8.

Stocks drawing support included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, N. Z. Central, Southern Railway, American Telephone, Anaconda, Standard Mill (N.J.), Pepsi-Cola, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Allied Chemical, Du Pont and U.S. Rubber.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 26—(CP)—Prices were unchanged on the Bacon-Hog Markets reporting here today.

Liveweight: Chatham $10.

Dressedweight: Brantford $14.10 plus transportation.

Chatham $12.70, Hamilton $14.50 delivered, Hull $14, Kitchener $14 plus transportation, Stratford $14 plus transportation.

NOT MATTER OF MONEY

Bath, England (CP)—A 16-year-old boy was put on probation here recently for stealing women's underwear. In court it was stated that he was earning £8 ($36) a week and was "careful with his money."

ARCTIC'S AREAS

Islands in the Arctic Archipelego north of Hudson Bay cover an area of 419,841 square miles.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS
A-large	.39
A-medium	.38
A-pullet	.33
Grade "B"	.32
Grade "C"	.27
BUTTER
Butter, No. 1	.36¼-.36½
Butter, No. 2	.34¾-.35¾
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Eggs on Uptrend, Butter Prices Sag

Toronto, Aug. 26—With volume of fresh receipts not sufficient to meet demand, spot prices on top-quality eggs advanced an additional 1-2 cent a dozen in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday. Butter dropped 1-4 cent a pound in trading so light that the number of sales were barely enough to establish prices.

With receipts continuing very light and demand improving, top-grade egg prices chalked up their now almost customary increase of 1-2 cent a dozen. The market opened on a firm tone and grew even stronger as trading progressed. Grades A-large, A-medium and A-pullets closed at 36 1-2 to 37, 35 1-2 to 36 and 30 1-2 to 31 cents a dozen resepectively in the country dealer section, while the two lower grades held very firm. All grades closed steady in wholesale-to-retail action.

The butter market was very quiet with an exceptionally unsettled undertone. Most sellers were reported to have been asking at least 36 1-2 cents a pound for first-grade creamery solids, but a few sales were said to have been made at the decreased price of 36 1-4 cents. The volume of sales was very small.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 26—(CP)—Produce market prices here yesterday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, follow:

Butter — First-grade solids, jobbing price, 37c; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized current receipt price, 35 3-4; No. 2 34 3-4; No. 1 wholesale price, 36 1-8; No. 2 35 3-8. Receipts, nil.

Eggs—Graded shipments selling at A-large, 36 1-2 to 37c; A-medium, 35 to 36c; pullets, 29 to 30c; B-grade, 28 to 29c; C-grade, 24 to 24 1-2c. Receipts, 991 cases.

Livestock

Montreal, Aug. 26—(CP) — The Dominion Department of Agriculture reported today that all classes of livestock on Montreal markets remained steady. Receipts: Cattle 161; calves 316; hogs 568; sheep and lambs 245.

The few cattle offered were mostly cows and bulls. Butcher cows were $4.75 to $7 with an odd one a shade higher. Canners and cutters made $3.50 to $4.50, common bulls $4.50 to $5.75 averaging around $5.

Veal calves ranged from $8.50 to $12.50. Good veals drew $11.50 to $12, with tops at $12.50 and medium kinds $10.50 to $11.50.

Most common price for hogs was $14.75 for B-1 dressed, $11.10 for B-1 alive, fed and watered and up to $11.25 for those off trucks delivered. Grade A drew $1 premium with discounts on off grades. Sows were $7.50 to $9 liveweight.

Good ewes and wethers drew $11.50. Sheep sold from $3.50 to $6.50.

Toronto, Aug. 26. —(CP)—Cattle were active and strong on the Livestock Market up to mid-session here today. Veal calves, sheep and lambs were also steady. No price was established on hogs. Unsold from yesterday were 900 head of cattle.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Market Service were—Cattle 1,060, calves 1,020, hogs 900, sheep and lambs 490.

Weighty steers sold from $8.75 to $9.85. Butcher steers and heifers ranged from $8 to $9 with boners selling downward to $5.50. Butcher cows sold from $5 to $7. Canners and cutters brought $3.50 to $4.50. Good bulls were $7 to $7.25. With common downward to $5.50. Fed calves brought $9 to $11.25. Stockers were $6.50 to $8.25.

Veal calves sold from $12.50 to $13 for choice with a few tops at $13.50. Common vealers cold downward to $8. Grassers were $6 to $7.

Lambs were $12 for good ewes and wethers with bucks $10 to $11. Sheep sold at $3 to $6.50.

Previous close on hogs $14.55 to $14.65 at yards and plants.

'TWAS FIERY IMPULSE

Weybridge, England (CP)—Peter Pearce, 18, charged with destroying a factory in this Surrey town by setting it on fire, has been sent for trial at the Old Bailey. In court he said he "acted on a sudden bad impulse."

FORTIFIED CITY

(Continued from Page One)

The militia, called to arms by Premier Stalin, was described by Pravda as "taking the test in heroic battles for their city—fighting courageously side by side with the Red Army."

(The British Broadcasting Corporation quoted a Moscow broadcast last night that Nazi forces had reached the approaches to Leningrad and reporting that the big port's armed citizenry would fight at every street corner.)

Twenty-four hours of drenching rain was reported to have soaked the whole vast battlefront from Leningrad to the Ukraine and Russians counted on increasingly-bad weather to help bog down the Nazis.

The early-morning communique made no specific mention of sectors outside the Leningrad area. Russians took this as an indication there had been no changes in the battlefront in the Gomel area, where Red Army counter-attacks were reported yesterday, or in the Ukraine where Russian forces were reported holding out at Odessa and on the west bank of the Dnieper around Dnieperopetrmvsk.

German Claims Modest

Berlin (AP)—Hitler's headquarters on the eastern front for the second day in succession devoted but one brief sentence to the war with Russia today, again simply claiming successful progress without mention of specific sectors.

"On the entire east front operations proceed according to plan and successfully," the daily communique said.

Yesterday it was "operations in the east are making good progress everywhere."

Other sources claimed that the Nazi air force struck yesterday beyond Dnieperopetrovsk at Russian troops described as "retreating" east of the Dnieper River.

The bombers were claimed to have taken a heavy toll of the troops and left smashed guns and trucks along the road.

The Germans claimed their own losses during yesterday's air operations along the eastern front were five planes—to 68 Russian planes reported destroyed.

Blitzbits

By FOSTER BARCLAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 26 — (CP)—The Government has introduced "pep" methods in a campaign to increase war supplies. Production managers broadcast talks to the workers and posters urging increased output have been tacked to factory walls

The leader of a Hurricane squadron rescued in the North Sea owes his life to two pilots who kept guard in the air. The pilot of a plane which circled about sending out SOS signals until his gas supply ran low was about to leave when another plane appeared and took over. It guided a destroyer to the spot.

Some of the factories making war materials in Britain are so large workers are taken from one department to another in buses.

Sir Godfrey Baring, chairman of the Royal National Lifesaving Institute, said that once the war began 3,900 persons have been saved by lifeboats which put to sea during air attacks and bad weather.

Ten persons, including a vicar and three magistrates, were fined the equivalent of $9 each at Tavistock for receiving extra meat rations. The butcher who supplied them was fined the equivalent of $135.

CONSTABLE'S LUCKY ESCAPE

North-East Coast Scottish Town—(CP)—Although a hut in which he was standing was blown to pieces, Neil Gordon of the War Police Reserve escaped with a cut hand during a recent air raid.

THROUGH SWINGING DOORS

Douglas, Isle of Man (CP)—When the air raid warning is sounded here school children head for the local public house, the beer-barrel-filled cellar being the official air raid shelter approved for children by the Man education authorities.

Ann Sothern has a new romance in her new film, "Ringside Maisie," in George Murphy who plays a hard-boiled prize fight manager until Maisie proves the punch that knocks him out. The picture is now at the Belle Theatre.

THE WAR TODAY

By H. M. PETERS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Britain and Russia today permitted a glimpse of the tactics being used in their joint drive into Iran, undertaken Monday to prevent Adolf Hitler from grabbing that oil-rich kingdom.

Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's headquarters at Simla, summer capital of India, disclosed that troops from Britain and India had advanced from three points: Khanaqin on the Iraq border and Abadan and Bandar Shahpur on the Persian Gulf.

Simultaneously the Russians announced that Cossacks from the Caucasus were half way to Tabriz, Iran's second largest city, at the close of the first day of the joint invasion. Other Russian troops moved in from Krosnovodsk in an encircling move apparently aimed at Teheran, capital of Iran, and still others followed the western shores of the Caspian Sea.

A sentence in the Simla communique indicated Britain may have used her small but growing parachute detachments for the second time.

It said: "Steps were taken by air-borne troops to give protection to British families in the employ of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company." The last time Britain used parachutists was in southern Italy, at the time of the Greek campaign, when water and power works were the objectives.

Difficult mountainous terrain faces the Russian movements south-west into Iran.

Dispatches from all Allied centres by mentioning only slight resistance gave the impression that the Shah's little army was merely making a token stand against the Allied forces.

Some authoritative commentators in London indicated British and Russian forces in Persia would not need to join forces but would regard their purpose attained as soon as all Nazis were expelled. Others, however, believed that a joining of forces was one of the principal objectives of the Allied grand strategy of the war.

MACKENZIE KING

(Continued from Page One)

Realizes Difficulty of Waiting

"We realize how difficult a thing it is to find the moment of action postponed," the Prime Minister said. "We know how hard it is to wait and wait and wait for that moment to come."

But Mr. King said that only last week-end he had talked with Mr. Churchill and the British Prime Minister had expressed the hope that Mr. King would "realize the reason the Canadians had been kept here was because he and his colleagues considered Britain the most important theatre of operations in the world."

Necessity Realised

Everyone in Canada realizes why the Canadian troops are being held in the United Kingdom, Mr King said, reminding his hearers that "there can be no defeat until this Island itself is subjugated. And this Island never can be subjugated".

The Canadian Government had placed no restrictions on the movement of Dominion troops," he said, "beyond those which the British Government in conferences with our military authorities decided upon, providing they keep us informed".

"Our Government", he told the men, "wants to do all it can for you" and he himself wanted "men and officers to speak to me about those things which they think can be improved".

Division Congratulated

Mr. King told the troops how pleased he was to have the opportunity of seeing them and said he had been anxious to come overseas ever since the war began. The real purpose of this visit, he said, was to see for himself "the condition of the armed forces and how they are carrying on". Too, he wanted to hear "from as many sources as possible about the real situation".

He congratulated the 1st Division on winning Saturday's sports meet which he attended and at which he spoke briefly. He said he wished to express thanks in behalf of the soldiers and the people back home for the way in which the Canadians had been received by the people of the United Kingdom.

The Prime Minister expressed regret that because of his hurried plans he had been unable to bring over many messages for the men but he hoped he would be able to carry back messages from the men to their people

"All the heart of Canada is beating for you day in, day out," Mr. King told the troops. "Our thoughts and prayers are with you all the time and will be with you to the end."

Hand clapping broke out among some 200 civilians standing at the edge of the green as Mr. King made his way to his car and drove to the outer section of the formation where he alighted and talked with many men. Finally he returned to the spot where he made his address, received three cheers and again returned to the car to make an inspection of further units.

The Prime Minister spent the whole day inspecting units of the division and much of their equipment.

Mr. King arrived by car from London, driving immediately to the Division's spacious headquarters where he was greeted by Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian Corps Commander, and Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, Commander of the Division, Mr. King then inspected the smart-looking guard of honor formed by a Saskatchewan Infantry Regiment.

The Prime Minister wearing a grey lounge suit and grey felt hat walked among the rows of soldiers in battledress with tin hat and respirators at action position, halting momentarily to talk with two subalterns from his own constituency of Prince Albert: Lieuts. R. E. LeBlonde and James Quinn.

Inspects Guard

As Mr. King made his inspection of the Guard of Honor under Capt. R. C. Irvine of Regina, the commanding officers of the Division's various units, brigadiers and headquarters staff, stood watching from a sloping terrace outside the rambling estate used as headquarters. Overhead two aircraft, glistening in the sun, roared about practising dive bombing.

After inspecting the guard the Prime Minister, Gen. McNaughton and Gen. Pearkes, and the Commanding Officer of the Saskatchewan regiment, a lieutenant colonel from Saskatoon, stood at the side of the road while the Guard marched past.

Mr. King appeared to be more than enjoying himself, smiling most of the time and moving around to talk to officers even after most of the party had entered the mess for lunch. Remaining out on the lawn, he chatted with the commanding officer of a Nova Scotia regiment.

Not a Bit Doubtful

He also spoke to the commanding officer of a French-Canadian regiment, Maj. L. P. Payan of St. Hyacinthe, Que., and told the officer he had heard from Lieut. Hughes Lapointe, son of the Minister of Justice, that recruiting in Quebec is "going very well among French Canadiens." Maj. Payan replied he had no doubt it would continue to go well.

Though most of the officers by this time had disappeared into the mess to join a sherry party, Mr. King still remained on the lawn, talking with the commanding officers of the New Brunswick and Alberta regiments to whom the King presented colors July 1. The officers presented Mr. King with a bound volume recording that event and he spent some minutes reading it and looking at its photographs.

Finally he went into the "A" mess for lunch, after which he planned to inspect about 15,000 troops including those of a Western Canada brigade, a guard of honor from a French-Canadian regiment and practically every unit of the 1st Division.

It was the Prime Minister's second appearance with Canada's overseas soldiers since he arrived in Britain last Wednesday. He spoke Saturday to 10,000 troops at a sports field.

Kearny Yards In Full Swing Of Production

Kearny, N.J., Aug. 26 (AP)—The vast yards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, stilled for 19 days by a strike, buzzed with activity today as the men resumed work with the United States navy as their boss.

No official figure of the number reporting for work on the day shift was available, but a telephone operator at the plant said the complete shift was in.

Local 16, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, has estimated the day group numbered 10,000 men, largest of the three shifts working on $493,000,000 worth of naval and maritime ships.

The men were the first to report for work since the early night shift came out of the plant Aug. 6. The strike was called by Local 16, an affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organization at midnight that night and affected 18,000 men.

Two cruisers, six destroyers and several merchant vessels were on the ways at the time. One cruiser, the U.S.S. Atlanta, was to have been launched Aug. 9.

The navy took over operation of the plant last Saturday after the union and company were unable to come to an agreement. Last night the company offered to sell the whole business to the government.

The offer to sell the entire plant, with all its buildings, machinery, land and ships under construction, was made by President L. H. Korndorff in a letter to Navy Secretary Frank Knox.

3 Escaped Prisoners Are Still at Large

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 26.— (CP)— Three prisoners who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory here yesterday still were free today as police combed the area in an effort to re-capture the men.

Every available member of the guard staff of the Reformatory was participating in the search, with the hunt being concentrated in the Campbellville-Milton area, 15 miles south of Guelph.

The three were working with the greenhouse gang, most of whom are trusties, when they escaped. They are John Landers, 19, of Hamilton, George Carpenter, 18, of New Westminster, B.C., and Patrick McCullough, 18, of Napanee, Ont.

CONFERS AT KREMLIN

Moscow, Aug. 26 AP)—Japanese Ambassador Yoshitsugu Tatekawa conferred last night at the Kremlin with Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov.

BRITISH COMMAND

(Continued from Page One)

British operations would all be primarily directed from Iraq. Arid Baluchistan only has common frontiers with India and Iran.

Air-borne troops were flown into Iran to protect the families of Britons employed by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. Details of their operations, presumably involving use of both parachutists and aerial transports for landing of ground troops, were not disclosed.

Fighting Acknowledged

"Some fighting at Abadan" was authoritatively acknowledged.

(The cities of Bandar Shahpur and Bandar Shah are as similar in strategic military value as in their names. "Bandar" means harbor in the Persian tongue. Bandar Shahpur held by British troops is at the head of the Persian gulf, the southern terminus of Iran's single, 800-mile rail line. Bandar Shah, which would be the first logical objective of any Russian drive from the Soviet Turkmen frontier, is the northern terminus of the railroad on the Caspian Sea.)

Generally, however, resistance by Iranian forces on the second day of the simultaneous British-Russian drives into modern Persia was very slight, an authoritative source declared.

This source indicated the British command was using air-borne troops. Details of such operations were not disclosed, but they were described as "interesting."

Quick capitulation of Iran and establishment of an all-weather route for transport of war supplies to Russia were forecast by British observers.

Some quarters expressed belief, however, that British forces moving into Iran from the west and south-west might not meet the Soviet troops coming down from the north.

If Iranian opposition crumbled and Nazi influence were wiped out of the Middle East Moslem Monarchy, these sources said, no actual juncture of British and Russian forces might be necessary.

Only 'Token Resistance'

A neutral military source said that unless Iran's army of 190,000 men was to upset all expectations, the allies probably would meet only "token resistance."

(A British communique issued in Simla, India, today announced occupation of oil installations at Naft-i-shah and the town of Qasr-i-shrin, a short distance outside Iran from Iraq and about 80 miles northeast of Baghdad.

(The occupation took place without serious opposition and rapidity of British operations kept loss among Iranian forces to a minimum, the communique added.)

Premier Ali Mansur told the Iranian Parliament yesterday that British forces had bombed and shelled Iranian towns and attacked Iranian ships in harbor—presumably the Persian Gulf port of Bandar Ma'shur.

The Premier was quoted by the Teheran radio as saying "all necessary measures to face this attack" had been taken. The measures were not specified.

Take Special Measures

He contended his government had endeavored to maintain a neutral policy and had even taken "special measures to reduce the number of Germans in the country" in an attempt to satisfy British and Russian demands.

The Russians announced that their Cossacks sweeping down from Caucasus, were half-way to Tabriz, Iran's second-largest city, which is situated approximately 60 miles south of the Soviet frontier. Russian forces were reported also to have penetrated 25 miles toward Ardebil, on the west shore of the Caspian.

Concentrate on Caspian Sea

It was known the Russians also had concentrated troops on the frontier on the eastern side of the Caspian Sea where their first logical objective would be Bandar Shah, northern terminus of the railroad running through the Iranian capital of Teheran to the Persian Gulf. Whether they had crossed the border there was uncertain.

The British press took the view that expulsion of some 3,000 Nazi technicians—official reason for the invasion — was of less importance than establishment of a new land link with Russia.

Newspapers welcomed the first joint action by Britain and Russia as the beginning of what the Daily Mail called "a no nonsense phase in British policy."

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express went so far as to call the expulsion of the German elements a "subsidiary object."

The two prime purposes, an editorial said, are:—

The Duke of York About Ready

London (CP Cable)—Britain's latest battleship, the Duke of York, launched by the Queen last year, was reported today as ready to take her place with the fleet.

It was understood that shipyard men working day and night shifts have completed the arming of the 35,000-ton battleship, a sistership of the King George V and the Prince of Wales.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, recently inspected the Duke of York.

Naval sources which refused to confirm or deny that the Duke of York is actually ready for action, also would not comment on the present stage of construction of the Jellicoe and Beatty, the remaining battleships of the King George V class of five ships all laid down in 1937.

There has been no authoritative information on the progress of the lion class of four ships of around 40,000 tons each which were laid down in 1939 and originally scheduled for completion in 1943.

(The King George V carried Viscount Halifax, ambassador to the United States, into Baltimore on her maiden voyage last winter. President Roosevelt conferred with Prime Minister Churchill aboard the Prince of Wales in their recent Atlantic meeting.

Prime Purposes

"First, to close the last gap in the land boom against any eastward drive of Hitler, and second, to keep a carriageway open for British-American aid to our fighting Russian Allies."

A neutral military source said that reservoirs of war materials in Egypt, swelled by lease-lend goods from the United States, would be "within comparatively easy reach of trans - Caucasian Russia by sea, rail and highway once occupation of Iran is complete."

Such a supply line could "just as easily be used to transport troops as supplies" to Russia, this source observed.

From the direction of the Mediterranean, he said, there are some fairly good rail and motor routes that cross the Iraq frontier and link with lines to Tabriz and the Russian frontier in the Caucasus.

From the Persian Gulf, over which British forces apparently have undisputed control, there are rail and motor routes running northward through Teheran to Iran's Caspian ports. Normal commercial shipping brings more than 500,000 tons of trade from Russia into these ports each year, and their facilities could easily be strengthened for war purposes, it was pointed out.

Move Troops Overland

It would be perfectly feasible, one source said, to move British armored divisions overland into Russia from Iraq or the Persian Gulf.

The London Press reiterated that neither Britain nor Russia desired to shed Iranian blood needlessly, and the Times, urging Iran to "face the realities of the situation," said "an agreement can still be reached and this unhappy incident brought to an end."

Some British sources expressed belief the joint British-Russian action in Iran would strengthen Turkish resistance to reported German demands for the right to move troops and supplies across Turkey.

The Turkish embassy in London, however, displayed anxiety last night over the invasion of Iran. A spokesman said the development "hedges Turkey with war and makes the maintenance of neutrality more difficult than ever."

Government Sources Silent

Berlin, Aug. 26 —(AP)— Front pages of the Berlin press were filled today with news and maps of the British-Russian invasion of Iran, but government sources were silent on the possibility of German aid for the Moslem kingdom.

Prime Minister Churchill was described by Berlin writers as the chief instigator of what was termed "the latest act of violence by aggressors."

Dienst Aus Deutschland, Nazi commentary, indicated Germany would not be an uninterested spectator.

Unquestionably, Dienst said, the British-Soviet move was regarded as demanding "strongest German attention." Dienst did not predict, however, what Nazi reaction could be expected.

Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz, commentary with Foreign Office connections, likewise gave no hint of what Germany might do.

The invasion of Iran by the British and Russians, Korrespondenz contended "was the best possible demonstration to all nations from which side danger, permanent threat, extortion and finally oppression can be expected."

Turkey's attitude toward the Iran invasion was a principal topic of conversation in Berlin political and diplomatic circles. Belief was expressed the invasion might influence Turkish policy.

Teheran Dispatch

Teheran, Iran, Aug. 25.—(Delayed)—(AP)—An indication that the Iranian government might reach an understanding with Britain and Russia came today in the issuance by Teheran police of orders to 16 small, obscure German businessmen to get out of Iran within a fortnight.

Expulsion of German agents from Iran was demanded by both London and Moscow in negotiations before the joint invasion started today (Monday) and this was the first police action since the Nazi issue was raised.

Officially, the government made no comment.

The Germans ordered expelled included two beauty shop operators. (British sources charge there are from 3,000 to 8,000 Germans in the Kingdom, a potential base for operations against the Middle East and India, with many of them skilled specialists and technicians in the key railroad and communications industries.)

About 50 passports of other Germans were taken to police headquarters in the capital for examination.

The German legation was said to be prepared to intervene in behalf of the 16 ordered out, but no serious protest was expected since the Legation itself is advising German Nationals "not engaged in successful enterprises" to return to the Reich.

More than one German woman and children are seeking to withdraw, but are having difficulties in obtaining Turkish visas and transportation out of Iran.

Nazis Claim Contact

Berlin, Aug. 26—(AP)—Germany and Iran are in active contact with each other over the situation arising from the British-Soviet invasion of Iran, an authorized spokesman said today.

He declined to disclose the nature of their negotiations. Reports of German offers of support to the Iranians were called "mere trial balloons."

MACLEANS
LARGEST SELLING TOOTH PASTE IN GREAT BRITAIN:
MACLEANS TOOTH PASTE
ECONOMICAL LARGE SIZE
REG. SIZE 29¢ 47¢
George Pauley
DRUGGIST Phone 105

THREE BRITISH SUPER-WARSHIPS NEARLY READY

The Jellicoe, Beatty and Duke of York Likely Ready This Autumn

SPEED OVER 30 KNOTS

New York, Aug. 26—(CP)—A broadcast heard last night by the National Broadcasting Company said that three British super-battleships, the Jellicoe, Beatty, and Duke of York, will be in service during the autumn.

(NBC first identified the broadcast as by the British Broadcasting Corporation but later withdrew this as it was unable to confirm it. Cable advices from London said the report was not on the BBC's English-language broadcasts. A check on the BBC's broadcasts in other languages could not be made immediately.)

The ships will be of the George V class of which the Prince of Wales and the George V are commissioned.

Observers in London Sunday believed that at least one of these units was on the verge of completion since Prime Minister Churchill, in his broadcast, spoke of the Prince of Wales as "almost the newest" British battleship.

She had been regarded hitherto as the newest.

The George V was disclosed to have been completed last winter when she suddenly arrived off the United States coast bringing Viscount Halifax, then newly-named ambassador to Washington. Also aboard her on that voyage was Hon. C. D. Howe, Canada's Supply Minister, who had been aboard a ship torpedoed on his journey to Britain.

Launched Feb. 21, 1939, she displaces 35,000 tons, and is considered with the Prince of Wales to be the most up-to-date battleship afloat. She has enhanced armor defence against air attack including an improved system of under-sea protection.

Hunted For Bismarck

The Prince of Wales first came into the news during the great hunt for the Bismarck. Her guns pounded the giant Nazi battleship before the coup de grace was administered by torpedoes. She was launched May 3, 1939. More recently Mr. Churchill travelled aboard her to and from the Atlantic conference.

The Duke of York was launched Sept. 16, 1939, and is believed to be just about complete. The Beatty was launched two months later, Nov. 11, 1939, and the Jellicoe on an undisclosed date in 1940 and will first be heard of when they participate in action or in some important voyage—as in the case of the George V.

Heavy Armaments

They carry four aircraft; 10 14-inch guns, 16 5.25-inchers, four multiple pom-poms and several smaller guns but no torpedo tubes. The 14-inch guns are a new model with an effective range greater than the 15-inch guns mounted in earlier ships, as measured by the perforation of any given thickness of armor.

Improvements in boiler design have reduced boiler weights by about 15 per cent as compared with the Nelson and the Rodney.

Unofficial reports give the weight of the armor of the ships of the George V class as 14,000 tons and the waterline thickness as 16 inches.

Their speed is described in Jane's fighting ships simply as "over 30 knots."

BEAVERBROOK

(Continued from Page One)

Biggest Tank, Output in Britain

Lord Beaverbrook said that last week was the biggest Britain ever had in tank production.

He called Britain's gun output good and added that production of explosives was "entirely pleasing for the moment."

However, he continued, "we now are in the unhappy state of having more troops than weapons," and said that while production in Britain was improving it was not up to his expectations after two years of war.

Work Harder to Do More

He remarked that he was going to ask the United States for permission to send an exhibition of weapons to Washington.

Speaking of the progress of the war, Lord Beaverbrook said, "we must work harder and do more. We should not depend on America to take tasks off our shoulders or on Russia to do our job."

Take The
John Deere Way

- TO LOWER COSTS,
- TO EASIER, MORE PROFITABLE FARMING.

Still the leader in the things you want in a tractor; still unequalled for simplicity of construction, economy of operation, dependability and performance.

A Model for
Every Farm
Every Crop
Every Purpose

ASK FOR A DEMONSTRATON ON YOUR OWN FARM.

Trudeau Motor Sales
DISTRIBUTORS

Mrs. Churchill Lends Name to Fund for British Service Women

Toronto, Aug. 26 (CP)—National officials of the Y.W.C.A. here announced today that they have received a cable from Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the British Prime Minister, saying a current campaign for funds in aid of the British Y. W. C. A. might be titled: "Mrs. Winston Churchill's Fund For British Service Women."

Mrs. Churchill is President of the British Y.W.C.A. Warime Fund.

Objective of the campaign in Canada is $50,000. The British Y. W. C. A. will use the money to maintain huts and build new ones, establish recreation centres and assist in other ways the women who are serving in Britain's various war and auxiliary services.

OPEN FOR VETERANS

Calcutta (CP)—Fifty per cent of the annual vacancies in the Indian Civil Service and the Indian Police Service will be left unfilled during the war. Indians and Britons with approved war service will be nominated to the posts after the war.

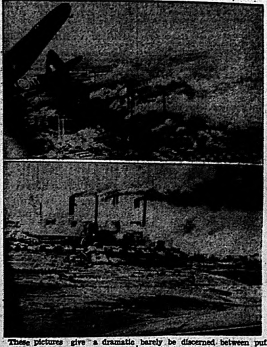
ESKIMO ORIGIN

The origin of the Eskimo remains a mystery despite intensive research during the past 50-odd years.

U.S. VOLUNTEER SERVICE HEAD IN LONDON

Mrs. Dwight Davis, national director of the Volunteer Special Services of the American Red Cross, is shown here as she talks with a Red Cross dispatch rider during an inspection at the Red Cross headquarters in London recently. Mrs. Davis is in London on a short visit and has made a fine comb inspection of the Red Cross and St. John war organization departments.

First R.A.F. Bombing Pictures—From 100 Feet



These pictures give a dramatic record of the sensational daylight air raid on the huge Knapsack power station at Cologne, Germany, on August 12th. The R.A.F. bombers flew at a height of less than 100 feet at times. The TOP photo shows the power station below and one plane (far in background) can barely be discerned between puffs of anti-aircraft explosions. Much of the smoke was caused by air raid missiles. And then in the BOTTOM photo the same plane descends even lower to get this record of the damage that has been done. Many direct hits were scored. The wing of the plane can be seen LOWER RIGHT.

AMERICAN CAN CO. STRIKE IS ENDED

Workers Granted All Four-Point Demands Made to Conciliation Board

Vancouver, Aug. 26 (CP) — The strike of 425 employees from the big American Can Company plant here, which threatened to tie up British Columbia's fruit and salmon packing industries at the height of the canning season, ended last night when the company and union officials acting for the men reached an agreement granting all of the workers' four-point remands.

The men, members of the Vancouver Metal Workers Union, Local No. 3 will return to their jobs at 8 a.m. (11 a.m. E.D.T.) today. They went on strike last Thursday midnight after arbitration proceedings collapsed.

William O'Toole, member of the union executive, said the new agreement granted the men their demands for union recognition. Seniority rights, holidays with pay and increased wages.

Wages Increased

O'Toole said five-cent an hour increase in wages had been granted by the company in place of the 10-cent demand made by the employees, but the company also granted a $2.50 weekly bonus.

F. E. Harrison, western representative of the Federal Department of Labor, said an agreement had been reached after long conciliation sessions.

Mr. Harrison stepped in to mediate the strike late Saturday after scores of telegrams had been received by the Provincial and Dominion governments from British Columbia canners who feared a "can famine." The American Can Company's Vancouver plant supplied the major portion of containers for the canning industry in the rovince.

Pilot Says He Had 'No Trouble At All' in Shooting Down Nazi

Somewhere in England, Aug. 26—(CP)—Pilot Officer Don Ball of Edmonton described casually tonight how he had "no trouble at all" in shooting down one of four Nazi planes his squadron accounted for on Aug. 19 last.

This was the fight in which P. O. D R. Dick of Canora, Sask., shot down two Messerschmitts and saved the lives of at least two companions when his cannon fire literally blasted the Nazis out of the air.

P.O. Ball said his one-sided joust occurred over Northern France. He dived for the Messerschmitts below his squadron leader, who also got one.

"Mine was a Messerschmitt 109F. I stuck with him. It was over in five seconds," Ball said.

Dick, a slim, blond Spitfire pilot, returned to his station after a few days' leave today to find he was the hero of the group of Channel-hopping Canadian airmen with whom he is flying in one of the first Royal Canadian Air Force fighter squadrons formed in Britain under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

His mates still were talking of the Aug. 19 bag when the squadron boosted by four Messerschmitts the station's score to more than 1,000 planes downed and probably downed. In addition, the Canadians were credited with a probable and with two others damaged.

Dick, who will be 21 this week, had a hairsbreadth escape, but it "wasn't so bad" while it lasted, he said. The young airman managed to get what was left of his machine almost all the way across the Channel after the sweep, but before it landed off the English coast, he shot down the two Messerschmitts and came to the rescue of his companions.

While Dick had his brush with his pair, his commanding officer, a member of the Royal Air Force, since posted as missing, and P.O. Ball got the other two. Another pilot officer of the R.A.F. attached to the squadron, was credited with a probable, and Sergt. Pilot J. Rainville, of St. John's, Que., was credited with damaging two Messerschmitts.

A veteran of more than a dozen sweeps over France, Dick confessed that "this is the first time anything has happened to me, and they shot everything but me."

He had to pause a moment when asked to list the damage to his plane.

"Engine hit. Control column put out of commission. Right wing tip torn off right to the aileron. Three cannon shells through the wing. Covering of one machine-gun completely ripped off. Left wing riddled. Fuselage riddled, reflector sight splintered and radio, I think, also hit. Elevators damaged.

"All I had was good rudder control and left aileron control."

Rome Communique

Rome, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Fascist High Command today reported a Sunday battle on the Gondar front in northern Ethiopia, in which Italian forces were claimed to have routed several thousand British troops.

British planes attacked Italian motorized columns while they were returning yesterday to their bases from the battle, but four of the aircraft were shot down, the daily war bulletin claimed.

On the North African front, the Italians said, their troops repulsed British forces attempting a sally from the besieged Libyan port of Tobruk and threw back other British units trying to approach axis positions near Salum, Egypt.

German dive bombers, protected by Italian fighters, were claimed to have blasted defence works at Tobruk and damaged a 2,000-ton ship in the harbor.

The Italians said their bombers had again attacked Malta, and acknowledged British planes had made another attack on Tripoli, in western Libya, causing some casualties and damaging several buildings.

(The Cairo communique was expected later in the day.)

Japan Would Welcome Negotiations With U. S.

Tokyo, Aug. 26 —(AP)— Japan would welcome negotiations with the United States to ease tension in the Far East "if we can come to a reasonable conclusion," Koh Ishii, Japanese Cabinet Information Bureau spokesman, said today.

Ishii, who made this statement in response to questions at a press conference, said, however, he had no information that any such negotiations were under way.

Asked about the purpose of recent talks between Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura and State Secretary Cordell Hull in Washington, the spokesman replied:

"I am not informed."

Commenting on the British-Russian invasion of Iran, Ishii said:

"The peace-loving American nations must have been shocked by this unprovoked act."

Japan, he said, was "shocked" also.

ITCHING TOES
May Mean
ATHLETE'S FOOT

J. S. McKeown's store will return your money if just one bottle of Cortisol does not show you the quick, easy way to get rid of itching toes or Athlete's Foot. The very first application of Cortisol will stop the itching and burning and a few days' use will completely kill the germ causing the infection. Easy and pleasant to use, not at all expensive, here at last is a formula that will give immediate results in all cases of Athlete's Foot infection. Try it and see. Remember money back if you are not pleased.

DIES FROM FLEA-BITE

Brisbane (CP)—A city council rat-catcher died of murine typhus after being bitten by a flea. His was the first fatal case here and the Workers' Compensation Court awarded his widow £750 ($2,700).

C. D. S.
Miss Ida Martyn
NEMO STYLIST
will be in our
CORSET DEPARTMENT
Thursday and Friday
August 28th and 29th

Have you a figure problem? Then you'll be interested to know that Miss Ida Martyn, Nemo Stylist, will be in our corset department for two days—August 28th and 29th. Get Miss Martyn's expert advice on what particular type of garment you should wear. We suggest you make an appointment. Phone 2000.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

Japanese Report Denied Second Time

Moscow, Aug. 26 (AP)—Tass, Russian News Agency, with government connections, denied today a Japanese report that representatives of the Soviet and Chungking governments met at Chita, Siberia, and discussed in a week-long conference problems affecting Japan.

An announcement by Tass said: "Despite an official Soviet denial made as early as Aug. 5th, on Aug. 23rd the newspaper Ashai printed a report stating that in the first half of August a conference allegedly took place in Chita between representatives of the Soviet and Chinese governments, that this conference was attended by 16 Chinese delegates, that it lasted a whole week, that problems affecting Japan were discussed at this conference, et cetera. Tass is authorized to refute this report of Asahi as fabricated."

SKYSCRAPER CAPITAL

La Jaz, Bolivia, situated in the Andes, is the world's highest capital.

Gasps, laughs and thrills combine to make "Scotland Yard," now at the Belle Theatre, an entertaining film. John Loder, Nancy Kelly and Edmund Gwenn, portray the leading roles.

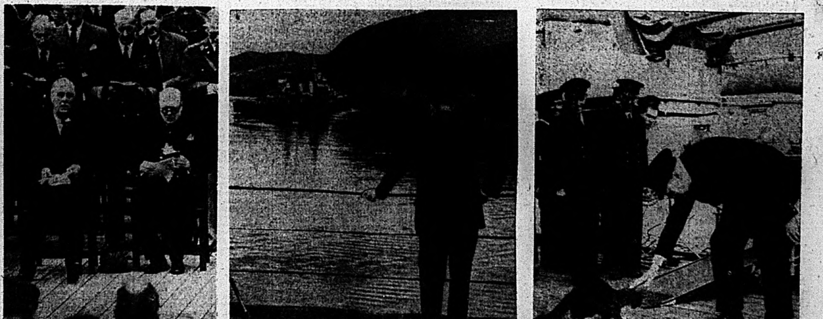
HE CERTAINLY GETS AROUND

That man about the world, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, is here again, only this time he is pictured as he left the British "War Dog" and set foot on Iceland. Directly behind Mr. Churchill is Franklin D. Roosevelt, son of the president, who accompanied the British Prime Minister on this trip. This photo was cabled to New York from London.

DUKE OF KENT WELCOMED TO NEW YORK

His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, is welcomed to New York city by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia. The Duke in a plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force, landed at La Guardia Field where this picture was made. He took an automobile for Hyde Park where he spent the week-end with President Roosevelt.

LATE SCENES FROM HISTORIC CHURCHILL - ROOSEVELT MEETING AT SEA



These are scenes from the historic conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill "somewhere on the Atlantic." The leaders of the two great countries are pictured, LEFT, raising their voices in hymn singing during religious devotions aboard H.M.S. Prince of Wales. Leaning against the rail, CENTRE, the Prime Minister watches the departing U.S. destroyer McDougal carrying President Roosevelt from the last of the mid-ocean conferences. The mountainous background suggests that they were held near land, possibly Newfoundland. Mr. Churchill pauses during a deck stroll, RIGHT, to pat the ship mascot "Blackie."

Take The
John Deere Way

- TO LOWER COSTS,
- TO EASIER, MORE PROFITABLE FARMING.

Still the leader in the things you want in a tractor; still unequalled for simplicity of construction, economy of operation, dependability and performance.

A Model for Every Farm
Every Crop
Every Purpose

ASK FOR A DEMONSTRATON ON YOUR OWN FARM.

Trudeau Motor Sales
DISTRIBUTORS

Mrs. Churchill Leads Name to Fund for British Service Women

Toronto, Aug. 26 (CP)—National officials of the Y.W.C.A. here announced today that they have received a cable from Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the British Prime Minister, saying a current campaign for funds in aid of the British Y. W. C. A. might be titled: "Mrs. Winston Churchill's Fund For British Service Women."

Mrs. Churchill is President of the British Y.W.C.A. Warime Fund.

Objective of the campaign in Canada is $50,000. The British Y. W. C. A. will use the money to maintain huts and build new ones, establish recreation centres and assist in other ways the women who are serving in Britain's various war and auxiliary services.

OPEN FOR VETERANS

Calcutta (CP)—Fifty per cent of the annual vacancies in the Indian Civil Service and the Indian Police Service will be left unfilled during the war. Indians and Britons with approved war service will be nominated to the posts after the war.

ESKIMO ORIGIN

The origin of the Eskimo remains a mystery despite intensive research during the past 50-odd years.

AMERICAN CAN CO. STRIKE IS ENDED

Workers Granted All Four-Point Demands Made to Conciliation Board

Vancouver, Aug. 26 (CP) — The strike of 425 employees from the big American Can Company plant here, which threatened to tie up British Columbia's fruit and salmon packing industries at the height of the canning season, ended last night when the company and union officials acting for the men reached an agreement granting all of the workers' four-point remands.

The men, members of the Vancouver Metal Workers Union, Local No. 8 will return to their jobs at 8 a.m. (11 a.m. E.D.T.) today. They went on strike last Thursday midnight after arbitration proceedings collapsed.

William O'Toole, member of the union executive, said the new agreement granted the men their demands for union recognition. Seniority rights, holidays with pay and increased wages.

Wages Increased

O'Toole said five-cent an hour increase in wages had been granted by the company in place of the 10-cent demand made by the employees, but the company also granted a $2.50 weekly bonus.

F. E. Harrison, western representative of the Federal Department of Labor, said an agreement had been reached after long conciliation sessions.

Mr. Harrison stepped in to mediate the strike late Saturday after scores of telegrams had been received by the Provincial and Dominion governments from British Columbia canners who feared a "can famine." The American Can Company's Vancouver plant supplied the major portion of containers for the canning industry in the rovince.

Pilot Says He Had 'No Trouble At All' in Shooting Down Nazi

Somewhere in England, Aug. 26—(CP)—Pilot Officer Don Ball of Edmonton described casually tonight how he had "no trouble at all" in shooting down one of four Nazi planes his squadron accounted for on Aug. 19 last.

This was the fight in which P. O. D. R. Dick of Canora, Sask., shot down two Messerschmitts and saved the lives of at least two companions when his cannon fire literally blasted the Nazis out of the air.

P.O. Ball said his one-sided joust occurred over Northern France. He dived for the Messerschmitts below his squadron leader, who also got one.

"Mine was a Messerschmitt 109F. I stuck with him. It was over in five seconds," Ball said.

Dick, a slim, blond Spitfire pilot, returned to his station after a few days' leave today to find he was the hero of the group of Channel-hopping Canadian airmen with whom he is flying in one of the first Royal Canadian Air Force fighter squadrons formed in Britain under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

His mates still were talking of the Aug. 19 bag when the squadron boosted by four Messerschmitts the station's score to more than 1,000 planes downed and probably downed. In addition, the Canadians were credited with a probable and with two others damaged.

Dick, who will be 21 this week, had a hairsbreadth escape, but it "wasn't so bad" while it lasted, he said. The young airman managed to get what was left of his machine almost all the way across the Channel after the sweep, but before it landed off the English coast, he shot down the two Messerschmitts and came to the rescue of his companions.

While Dick had his brush with his pair, his commanding officer, a member of the Royal Air Force, since posted as missing, and P.O. Ball got the other two. Another pilot officer of the R.A.F. attached to the squadron, was credited with a probable, and Sergt. Pilot J. Rainville, of St. John's, Que., was credited with damaging two Messerschmitts.

A veteran of more than a dozen sweeps over France, Dick confessed that "this is the first time anything has happened to me, and they shot everything but me."

He had to pause a moment when asked to list the damage to his plane.

"Engine hit. Control column put out of commission. Right wing tip torn off right to the aileron. Three cannon shells through the wing. Covering of one machine-gun completely ripped off. Left wing riddled. Fuselage riddled, reflector sight splintered and radio, I think, also hit. Elevators damaged.

"All I had was good rudder control and left aileron control."

Rome Communique

Rome, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Fascist High Command today reported a Sunday battle on the Gondar front in northern Ethiopia, in which Italian forces were claimed to have routed several thousand British troops.

British planes attacked Italian motorized columns while they were returning yesterday to their bases from the battle, but four of the aircraft were shot down, the daily war bulletin claimed.

On the North African front, the Italians said, their troops repulsed British forces attempting a sally from the besieged Libyan port of Tobruk and threw back other British units trying to approach axis positions near Salum, Egypt.

German dive bombers, protected by Italian fighters, were claimed to have blasted defence works at Tobruk and damaged a 2,000-ton ship in the harbor.

The Italians said their bombers had again attacked Malta, and acknowledged British planes had made another attack on Tripoli, in western Libya, causing some casualties and damaging several buildings.

(The Cairo communique was expected later in the day.)

Japan Would Welcome Negotiations With U. S.

Tokyo, Aug. 26 —(AP)— Japan would welcome negotiations with the United States to ease tension in the Far East "if we can come to a reasonable conclusion," Koh Ishii, Japanese Cabinet Information Bureau spokesman, said today.

Ishii, who made this statement in response to questions at a press conference, said, however, he had no information that any such negotiations were under way.

Asked about the purpose of recent talks between Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura and State Secretary Cordell Hull in Washington, the spokesman replied:

"I am not informed."

Commenting on the British-Russian invasion of Iran, Ishii said:

"The peace-loving American nations must have been shocked by this unprovoked act."

Japan, he said, was "shocked" also.

ITCHING TOES
May Mean
ATHLETE'S FOOT

J. S. McKeown's store will return your money if just one bottle of Cortisol does not show you the quick, easy way to get rid of itching toes or Athlete's Foot. The very first application of Cortisol will stop the itching and burning and a few days' use will completely kill the germ causing the infection. Easy and pleasant to use, not at all expensive, here at last is a formula that will give immediate results in all cases of Athlete's Foot infection. Try it and see. Remember money back if you are not pleased.

DIES FROM FLEA-BITE

Brisbane (CP)—A city council rat-catcher died of murine typhus after being bitten by a flea. His was the first fatal case here and the Workers' Compensation Court awarded his widow £750 ($2,700).

C. D. S.
Miss Ida Martyn
NEMO STYLIST
will be in our
CORSET DEPARTMENT
Thursday and Friday
August 28th and 29th

Have you a figure problem? Then you'll be interested to know that Miss Ida Martyn, Nemo Stylist, will be in our corset department for two days—August 28th, and 29th. Get Miss Martyn's expert advice on what particular type of garment you should wear. We suggest you make an appointment. Phone 2000.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

Japanese Report Denied Second Time

Moscow, Aug. 26 (AP)—Tass, Russian News Agency, with government connections, denied today a Japanese report that representatives of the Soviet and Chungking governments met at Chita, Siberia, and discussed in a week-long conference problems affecting Japan.

An announcement by Tass said: "Despite an official Soviet denial made as early as Aug. 5th, on Aug. 23rd the newspaper Ashai printed a report stating that in the first half of August a conference allegedly took place in Chita between representatives of the Soviet and Chinese governments, that this conference was attended by 16 Chinese delegates, that it lasted a whole week, that problems affecting Japan were discussed at this conference, et cetera. Tass is authorized to refute this report of Asahi as fabricated."

SKYSCRAPER CAPITAL

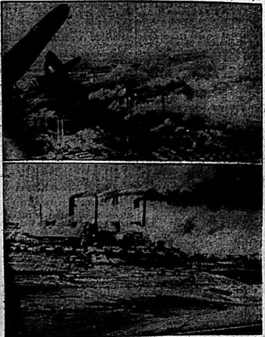
La Jaz, Bolivia, situated in the Andes, is the world's highest capital.

Gasps, laughs and thrills combine to make "Scotland Yard," now at the Belle Theatre, an entertaining film. John Loder, Nancy Kelly and Edmund Gwenn, portray the leading roles.

U.S. VOLUNTEER SERVICE HEAD IN LONDON

Mrs. Dwight Davis, national director of the Volunteer Special Services of the American Red Cross, is shown here as she talks with a Red Cross dispatch rider during an inspection at the Red Cross headquarters in London recently. Mrs. Davis is in London on a short visit and has made a fine comb inspection of the Red Cross and St. John war organization departments.

First R.A.F. Bombing Pictures—From 100 Feet



These pictures give a dramatic record of the sensational daylight air raid on the huge Knapsack power station at Cologne, Germany, on August 12th. The R.A.F. bombers flew at a height of less than 100 feet at times. The TOP photo shows the power station below and one plane (far in background) can barely be discerned between puffs of anti-aircraft explosions. Much of the smoke was caused by air raid missiles. And then in the BOTTOM photo the same plane descends even lower to get this record of the damage that has been done. Many direct hits were scored. The wing of the plane can be seen LOWER RIGHT.

HE CERTAINLY GETS AROUND

That man about the world, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, is here again, only this time he is pictured as he left the British "War Dog" and set foot on Iceland. Directly behind Mr. Churchill is Franklin D. Roosevelt, son of the president, who accompanied the British Prime Minister on this trip. This photo was cabled to New York from London.

DUKE OF KENT WELCOMED TO NEW YORK

His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, is welcomed to New York city by Mayor Fiorello H. La-Guardia. The Duke in a plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force, landed at La Guardia Field where this picture was made. He took an automobile for Hyde Park where he spent the week-end with President Roosevelt.

LATE SCENES FROM HISTORIC CHURCHILL - ROOSEVELT MEETING AT SEA

These are scenes from the historic conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill "somewhere on the Atlantic." The leaders of the two great countries are pictured, LEFT, raising their voices in hymn singing during religious devotions aboard H.M.S. Prince of Wales. Leaning against the rail, CENTRE, the Prime Minister watches the departing U.S. destroyer McDougal carrying President Roosevelt from the last of the mid-ocean conferences. The mountainous background suggests that they were held near land, possibly Newfoundland. Mr. Churchill pauses during a deck stroll, RIGHT, to pat the ship mascot "Blackie."

Probabilities

Lower Lake region — Fair today and Thursday; quite cool tonight; moderate to fresh northwest winds today, becoming variable on Thursday.

The Ontario Intelligencer

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	67	55
Year Ago	73	42.5

Weather—Fair.

★★

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1941

COLLAPSE OF IRAN RESISTANCE PREDICTED

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

TREMENDOUS AERIAL BATTLE OVER LENINGRAD

Tabriz, Country's 2nd Largest City, Taken by Russians

British Armies Striking North Advance Forty Miles—Port of Abadan Taken

ARMISTICE NEAR

By DREW MIDDLETON

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 27—(AP)—Collapse of Iranian resistance within the next three days was predicted by informed diplomatic sources today as Russian forces smashing southward into Iran were reported to have captured the country's second city, Tabriz, and British armies striking northward advanced 40 miles.

Riza Shah Pahlevi, these sources believed, realizes that Iran's position is hopeless, and British and Soviet representatives in his capital of Teheran have convinced him he ought to come to terms.

So far there has been no indication, these diplomatic sources said, that the Iranian defence has been anything more than of the "token" variety.

An armistice to be followed by [illegible] was predicted, with [illegible] agreement possibly allowing the Shah to retain power and definitely permitting British and Russian forces to police Iran [illegible] the duration of the war.

German technicians would be replaced with Britons or Russians, and the Allies would have a right-of-way from the Persian Gulf to the Caspian Sea and the Russian Caucasus for shipment of British and American war supplies for the Soviet army.

The British command reported today that its forces had driven 40 miles north of the port of Abadan to capture the town of Marid.

Advancing to Pass

British authorities in a communique issued from Simla, also declared that their columns advancing eastward from Iraq had occupied the frontier town of Gilan and were advancing beyond Sar-I-Pul toward fortified Paytak Pass.

Gilan is about 20 miles inside Iran. Sar-I-Pul is about 25 miles from the Iraq border and about 35 miles north of Gilan.

The British advances in this area were made against light opposition and gunfire.

The reported capture of Tabriz represented an advance of 60 miles by Russian forces, apparently driving southward from the Caucasus on a broad front stretching from the Iraq frontier to the Caspian Sea.

A broadcast by the Moscow radio said the city, which has a population of 200,000 and is linked with the Russian border by railway, fell yesterday—the second day of a joint British-Russian invasion.

(The British Broadcasting Corporation, in a broadcast heard in New York by the NBC, quoted the Moscow radio as saying that an unconfirmed message said Soviet troops also had captured Shahpur, about 80 miles west of Tabriz, and Ardebil, 120 miles to the east near the Caspian Sea.)

With Tabriz in Russian hands and British forces having control of Iran's vast western oil reservoir, hopes rose in London that the new campaign in the east would be ended speedily.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

Iran Pleads for Cessation of War, Guaranteeing Expulsion Of All Germans

PREMIER GIVES TALK

Teheran, Iran, Aug. 26—(Tuesday, Delayed)—(AP)—It was reported reliably today that the British and Soviet ministers, after an audience with the Shah, have transmitted to their governments an Iranian plea that the war cease and a guarantee that virtually all Germans would be expelled from the country within a week.

A few Germans in "indispensable technical posts" would be kept for a while until substitutes could be trained to take their places, under the reported offer.

Premier Ali Mansur in a 10-minute address before parliament claimed that the Russians were bombing "open, undefended towns" in Azerbaijan Province along the Russian frontier. He told the legislators that the Soviet army was driving toward Tabriz, Iran's second largest city 80 miles south of [illegible] border, "with a great number of troops." (The Russians said Wednesday they have taken Tabriz.)

Some Clashes

British forces, he said, attacked the ports of Bandar Shahpur and Khorramshahr in Southwestern Iran and "took by surprise our ships and damaged them."

"Their aircraft," the Premier continued, "have thrown bombs at the city of Ahwaz in the heart of the oil fields about 75 miles north-east of Bandar Shahpur.) Their motorized units moved from Iraq toward Kermanshah.

"Wherever the transgressing armies encountered the Iranian army, there naturally were clashes and fighting."

The major Iranian forces were stationed, as the attack came, in the districts around Abadan to defend one of the world's richest oil fields—British operated. The British forces now are in complete control of these fields after some fighting.)

Iranian garrisons also were stationed along the Baluchistan frontier on the east.

Travel Through Turkey

Germans in Iran appeared anxious lest their evacuation of Iran through Turkey be prevented. Scores were at the Turkish legation seeking courier visas to travel through Turkey. A German diplomat started Sunday for Turkey, was unable to cross the frontier and returned.

About 800 men, women and children with German passports began collecting today at the German summer estate of Shemran, outside the capital, preparing tents and other facilities for self-made internment.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 27—(CP)—Weather synopsis: The weather has been cool in Ontario and the Western Provinces with light showers in the Lake Superior district and in Southern Alberta.

PLACE	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Victoria	52	66	52
Vancouver	56	63	54
Calgary	47	57	47
Edmonton	36	67	35
Winnipeg	38	60	36
Toronto	57	72	54
Ottawa	57	72	52
Montreal	60	78	57
S.S. Marie	47	64	45
Detroit	56	69	52
New York	69	92	68
Miami	83	93	76
Los Angeles	—	74	—

FOLLOW NIGHT OFFENSIVE WITH DAYLIGHT SWEEPS

Cologne and Other Targets in Western Germany Heavily Attacked

SHIPPING RAIDED

London, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Royal Air Force roared across the English Channel in two attacks on occupied France this morning following a heavy overnight offensive and daylight attacks yesterday.

On Large Scale

The Air Ministry said today that operations last night were on a larger scale than usual. Industrial districts of the German city of Cologne were bombed heavily and successful attacks also were made on docks at Le Havre and Boulogne. Three bombers were lost in these attacks.

Fighter planes machine-gunned enemy airdromes and runways in Northern France during the night.

In operations over Northern France today it was reported that British fighters shot down ten Nazi planes and lost eight.

Cologne and other targets in western Germany were the British targets in the Reich.

As the sun rose today, squadrons of planes roared over the Kent coast toward northern France, some flying so high they could only be heard.

One great formation passed over a southeast coast town, heading for Calais. A few minutes later another formation was sighted coming in after an offensive sweep.

French Coast Raided

During the night the French coast opposite Dover was heavily attacked following daylight sweeps against shipping and German-occupied airdromes. From yesterday's operations, the government announced, seven bombers and four fighters were lost.

Over the British Isles there was slight activity by hostile planes and a communique said there was a small number of casualties at one point.

Several bombs were reported to have been dropped on the Scilly Islands, off the southwest tip of England, killing two persons and injuring a number of others.

During last night's attacks on the French coast, Nazi anti-aircraft batteries were observed firing from Boulogne to Calais.

Earlier yesterday, a new type of twin-motored fighter—the Whirlwind—took part with Spitfires in two attacks on an airdrome near Cherbourg. Many Nazi aircraft on the ground were seen to take fire from accurate blasts of machine-gun and cannon fire.

Blenheim bombers attacked a convoy off the German Frisian Islands yesterday, while others blasted another convoy off the Netherlands coast. One ship sank and others were left in flames. An enemy patrol vessel was sunk and another damaged.

Torpedo-Pierced Tanker Saved By Crew Outfighting a U-Boat

By The Canadian Press

How a handful of men of the crew of a torpedo-pierced tanker saved their ship by outfighting the attacking U-boat as it surfaced for the kill was revealed last night by some of the ship's seamen, now in Canada.

Ignoring the order to abandon ship after two torpedoes had struck, the little band shelled the submarine until it disappeared. Then the badly damaged vessel was sailed to the nearest port.

Here is the story as the sailors told it, with the names and the time and place deleted:

The vessel, a tanker, was outward bound from England and travelling light to pick up a cargo on this side of the Atlantic when the first torpedo struck without warning. A second smashed through the hull and the tanker began to list heavily.

The order came to abandon ship. The crew members launched the boats and headed away from the apparently doomed tanker. But one boat's complement decided to remain aboard in the faint hope of saving their vessel.

They gathered in a group behind the defensive gun on the stern, waiting for the sub to rise. Soon it did, a machine gun swung on its deck.

Before the U-boat's guns could be manned, the tanker's men had opened fire. Two shells whined away in the direction of the sub, and the raider quickly vanished under the surface.

Some of the seamen said it may have been struck, though they declared it left no oil patch as it went down.

With the gun still ready, the men on the tanker waited for an attack from a new quarter. But none came.

The crewmen who had left were called back. They found the tanker still seaworthy. Some of its compartments had not been pierced, and they kept her afloat. A few days later she was safe in port.

Liberator Bomber Delivered Overseas In Seven, Half Hours

Speed Average Over 300 Miles Hour — Crew of Five Wear Oxygen Masks as Flight Made at High Altitude

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP)—Consolidated Aircraft Corporation reported today that a Liberator bomber, averaging more than 300 miles an hour in sub-zero weather, had made a delivery flight across the Atlantic in 7 1-2 hours.

Details of the flight from Newfoundland to Ireland were in an account released by the British Ministry of Aircraft Production to Consolidated, based on a report of the bomber's navigator.

The four-motor land bomber made the 2,3g0 mile trip at such a high altitude the crew of five wore oxygen masks.

First of a large British order of Consolidated land bombers, known as the B-24, took off from here Feb. 15 for Britain, landing at New York. The company said the bomber's time of 9 hours, 57 minutes constituted a record non-stop flight, coast to coast, for ships of more than 50,000 pounds gross weight.

Russia Warns Japan Against Interfering With Shipments Of War Supplies From U.S.

Says Supplies Are Required for Use on Western Front and Agricultural Needs in East

PASS NEAR JAPAN

Moscow, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Soviet government has informed Japan it would regard as an unfriendly act any attempt to hinder normal trade relations between Russia and the United States by way of far eastern Soviet ports, it was announced today.

At the same time Japan was assured that goods purchased by the U.S.S.R. in the United States "are destined in the first place for the satisfaction of the growing needs of the U.S.S.R. in the west in connection with the defensive war imposed upon the Soviet Union, as well as for agricultural needs in the Soviet Far East."

These declarations were made Monday to the Japanese Ambassador, Yoshitsugu, Tatekawa, by the Soviet Foreign Commissar, Vyacheslav Molotov, and also in Tokyo.

A Russian statement said the Japanese Ambassador had declared shipment by the United States to Vladivostok of goods purchased by the Soviet Union, such as oil and gasoline, "is creating an extremely delicate and difficult situation for Japan because these goods have to pass in the proximity of Japanese territory."

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)
RUSSIA WARNS

Japan Makes Representation to U.S. Against Aviation Fuel Shipments to Vladivostock

CAUSES CONCERN

Tokyo, August 27—(AP)—Domei, News Agency, quoting what it described as reliable sources, said the Japanese Government had made representations to both the United States and Russia against shipments of American aviation fuel to the Soviet via Vladivostok.

The Government, said the News Agency, is taking a serious view of the situation.

Reports that both Russian and American ships are transporting not only gasoline but other supplies through Vladivostok was said to be "greatly irritating Japanese sentiment."

The fact that high octane fuel denied Japan was reported "passing under the very noses of the Japanese" was described as especially displeasing.

Premier Fumimaro Konoye was received in audience this morning by Emperor Hirohito. Foreign Minister Teijiro Toyoda later received at the palace, presumably for a report on the complex international situation, but no details of the audience were disclosed.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)
JAPAN MAKES

HOUSE-BY-HOUSE SEARCH MADE BY PARISIAN POLICE

Take Into Custody Jews and Communists in Workers' Section

ONE OF MANY RAIDS

Paris, Aug. 26—(Delayed)—(AP)—French police of this German-occupied city, proceeding systematically house by house, today blocked off a large section of the Fourth Arrondissement, a workers' district around the City Hall, and took into custody a number of persons described as Jews and Communists.

All residents in the area, which lies along the River Seine, were required to remain inside their home and submit identification papers to the police.

(This raid followed others in two Paris Arrondissements last week—the 11th and 20th—in which more than 10,000 persons were arrested.)

The Germans also were said to be investigating the possibility that increasing sabotage, particularly against railroads in the occupied zone, might be due to British parachutists.

The first of German-occupied France's new courts "for unmerciful repression of Communist activities" started functioning in the Palace of Justice. A special panel of judges from the Paris Court of Appeals was, named to direct speedy trials with power to order imprisonment or death.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

IRANIAN ADMIRAL KILLED LEADING COUNTER-ATTACK

Iran's Small Navy Virtually Wiped Out by British Vessels

ACTION IN GULF

London, Aug. 27 (CP)—Iran's small navy has been virtually wiped out by British war vessels and Iranian Admiral Bayendor killed leading a counter attack, Reuters news agency reported from Simla, India, today.

The agency said two sloops were sunk and four gunboats captured by British ships in an encounter apparently in the Persian Gulf. A depot ship, two tugs and a floating dock capable of taking a 6,000-ton ship also were captured, Reuters said, while British forces suffered no naval losses.

The Iranian navy consisted of two sloops of 950 tons each, carrying guns of three and four inches; six gunboats; three patrol boats, tugs and motor launches. All were built by Italy except one gunboat, the Shahin, a converted German minesweeper bought in 1923.

The navy consisted of 850 officers and men. The sloops carried 85 men each and the gunboats 44.

SOLDIER A'D WIFE

Bristol, England (CP)—Private R. Raybone and his wife were found dead in their home here by a warden who said he had heard shots. A service rifle was found near.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO DESTROY WORKS CAUSES 3 ARRESTS

Police Say Reserve Tanks at Municipal Gas Works Plugged With Copper Cylinders

BAIL IS REFUSED

Kitchener, Ont., Aug. 27—(CP)—Three men are being held here after what police described as an attempt to destroy the municipal gas works. Specifically the three are charged "that they did agree and conspire together to commit the indictable offence of mischief contrary to section 573 of the criminal code." Bail has been refused.

In custody are Harry Schust, Herman Walters and Thomas Roberts.

Police said that one of the reserve tanks at the Public Utilities plant—situated in the centre of the city—was plugged with copper cylinders. They said this would distribute the mixture of gas and air so that an explosion would have resulted, probably destroying all gas mains in the community.

Schust was arrested in Toronto last night.

The other two, both Kitchener residents, were taken into custody here.

Police Chief Hicks of Kitchener said today that "a certain machine in the company was fitted up with a contraption so that when the machine was started it would have blown up the mains in the city.

"Companies working on war orders would have been paralyzed. It would have been a serious situation."

Retaken Fugitives Will Face Charges

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP)— The three prisoners who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory here Monday and were recaptured last night, will face court charges, the reformatory superintendent, Dr. J. D. Heaslip, said today.

He would not comment on the nature of the charges, Dr. Heaslip said.

The three men were re-captured by reformatory guards near the Canadian National Railways tracks at Acton, 16 miles east of Guelph. Although armed with a .22 calibre rifle, no effort was made at resistance by the three.

The men, John Manders, 19, of Hamilton, George Carpenter, 18, of New Westminster, B.C., and Patrick McCullough, 18, of Napanee, Ont., all would have completed their terms before Christmas.

Sept. 10-17 Set Apart as 'Week of Reconsecration of Canadian People'

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—(CP)—Setting aside of the week Sept. 10 to 17 as a "week of reconsecration of the Canadian people to the democratic cause against Nazi tyranny", was announced today by War Services Minister Thorson.

Reconsecration week will mark the beginning of the third year of Canada's participation in the war.

Mr. Thorson said the government has proclaimed reconsecration week "in the national honor for those who on land, on the sea and in the air are the defenders of our country, and in proud memory for those valiant hearts who have gone out from among us in the most precious of all sacrifices of our common freedom".

Likewise, he added, the week is proclaimed as "one of reconsecration of our lives and possessions, of everything we have and everything we are, for the principles which, under divine providence, have been our stay and help in the past, to the end that torment may be lifted from men's hearts and peace and safety come for all nations and peoples".

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other ministers will speak during the week in a series of talks over a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation National hookup.

The aid of the press, the radio and the motion picture is being mobilized, Mr. Thorson emphasized, to further the objectives of reconsecration week, the co-operation of the nine premiers of the provinces, of members of the House of Commons, of the members of the provincial legislatures, of the mayors of all Canadian cities and towns and the heads of smaller municipalities is being sought to make reconsecration week a real success.

Churches are being asked to arrange special events to mark the week and the reconsecration theme. Service-clubs, Canadian clubs and organizations of every kind will be mustered and by gatherings and functions to be held by them, the objective of reconsecration week will be impressed upon the Canadian people.

Exercises will be held throughout Canadian schools during the week to impress upon youth the fact that Canada is at war, why Canada is at war, the issues involved in the successful outcome of the war.

Mastery of Skies Prize Being Sought By Both Armies

Leningrad's Defences Stiffened for Last-Ditch Stand Against Invading Germans

101 NAZI PLANES DOWNED

Moscow, Aug. 27 —(AP)— A tremendous aerial battle for the mastery of the skies over Leningrad was reported today to have developed as the big city's army and militia defence stiffened for a last-ditch fight against German and Finnish drives from the north, west and south.

An early-morning communique said 101 of 156 German planes listed as destroyed during last Sunday and Monday were shot down in fierce dogfights along the approaches to the old capital of the Czars, or smashed in raids on nearby airdromes from which the Nazi attacks were sprung.

Defenders of the city declared that despite repeated German raids, not a bomb had fallen within the city limits.

A mid-day war bulletin made no mention of specific fighting sectors but declared:

"During the night of Aug. 26-27 our troops continued to fight the enemy on the entire front."

The Russians reported withering machine-gun fire from camouflaged defence works manned by the Red and People's armies holding the attacking waves in check while Leningrad's civilian reinforcements drilled under arms in sandbagged barricaded streets.

There was no confirmation in Moscow of Nazi claims last night of the capture of Luga, 60 miles south of Leningrad on the rail line to Pskov, and of the great hydro-electric power centre of Dnieperopetrovsk, on the west bank of the Dnieper.

An early-morning communique declared specifically that Finnish forces fighting along the Karelian Isthmus had not advanced beyond Kakisalmi, 75 miles north of Leningrad.

A Soviet submarine commanded by Captain Lieutenant Stekhanovich was officially credited with sinking a 2,000-ton Axis transport at the entrance to the Gulf of "S" and making a "successful attack" by torpedo on another transport in an Axis port, identified only as "one of the most important enemy harbors."

LIFT COVERS FOR SCRAP

Cleveland, Aug. 27 (AP)— Cleveland suburbs today warned their residents to beware of open manholes. Encouraged by the boost in scrap prices thieves have been lifting the metal covers off catch basins and manholes in South Euclid, Garfield Heights and Maple Heights.

German Command Claims Annihilation of 22nd Russian Army in Pincer Movement

400 GUNS TAKEN

Berlin, Aug. 27 (AP)—The German High Command claimed today that it had "annihilated" the 22nd Russian army in a pincer encirclement behind the most advanced lines, killing more than 40,000 Russians and capturing another 30,000 in an unusually bloody battle.

The battle occurred, the Germans said, on the north central front between Smolensk and Lake Ilmen, and resulted in the capture of the town of Velikie Luki, which lies 275 miles west of Moscow and 250 miles south of Leningrad.

The text of the announcement said:

"In fighting lasting several days between Smolensk and Lake Ilmen the mass of the 22nd Soviet army was encircled and annihilated east of Velikie Luki.

400 Guns Captured

"The town of Velikie Luki was taken after fierce fighting. More than 30,000 prisoners and 400 guns fell into our hands. Uncommonly high bloody losses of the enemy are stated at more than 40,000 men killed."

(The previously reported front as established by reports from both sides has run through the vicinity of Novgorod, 150 miles north of Velikie Luki, and Vyazama, 150 miles east. Today's report indicates the Germans have straightened out a deep bend in their lines on this central front, important in the drives both on Moscow and Leningrad.)

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

HELSINKI — Tallinn, besieged capital of former Estonia, reported in flames with Russians believed destroying city preparatory to sea evacuation.

LONDON — Collapse of Iran resistance within three days predicted; Russian troops capture Tabriz; British control oil fields; small Iran navy reported wiped out.

TEHERAN — Reliable reports say Iran government asks London and Moscow to end campaign.

BERLIN — High command reports 40,000 Russians killed in "annihilation" of 22nd Soviet army.

MOSCOW — Aerial struggle proceeds for mastery of Lenigrad's skies; heavy fighting on all fronts reported; Russia warns Japan against "unfriendly act" in any attempt to block U.S. war supplies to Vladivostok.

TOKYO — Japan protests to Washington, Moscow, against shipment aviation fuel to Soviets.

PARIS — German - dominated French police seize asserted Communists, Jews, in Paris roundups.

Coming Events

PLAN NOW TO SEE THE BEST of all comedy hits, "HERE COMES MR. JORDAN", starting Sunday Midnight, at the McCarthy Theatre. Continuous Show Monday. A27-3t

ALL BRITISH ISRAEL WORLD Federation lectures have been cancelled until further notice. A27

TONIGHT (WEDNESDAY)—Dance, Arena Gardens, auspices St. Julien Chapter I.O.D.E. War Work. R.C.A.F. twelve piece orchestra. Dancing 9-12 Gents 50c; Ladies 25c. A27.

OAK LAKE CASINO PRESENTS dancing every Wednesday and Friday evenings. Music by The Commodores. Jitney plan. Oak Lake Casino, just a short drive on Stirling road. A13W-Ftf

PROMPT DELIVERY — 8 A.M. to 9.30 P.M.
CALL 131
In Sickness and Health You Will Always Find
GEEN'S I. D. A. DRUG STORE
Give You Efficient and Friendly Drug Store Service

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

REPAIR DEPOT TO COST $14,000

The general contract for construction of a repair depot at the Trenton R.C.A.F. station at a cost of $14,000 has been awarded to Hill-Clark and Francis of New Liskeard, it has been announced by R. H. Turnbull, Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa.

EAST LAKE WILL SOON BE SCENE OF BOMBING PRACTICE BY R.C.A.F.

East Lake will soon be the scene of practice bombing by planes of nearby Royal Canadian Air Force squadrons.

Two floating targets have been placed in the danger area of the lake and erection of observation towers along the shoreline has been completed. Firing, it is expected, will start in the near future.

The danger area of the bombing range will be used by No. 6 Bombing and Gunnery School at Mountain View in the initial stages.

Danger Area No. 4 is a circle of 1,000 yards radius, the centre of which is a floating target situated approximately in the centre of the lake. For night bombing the target will be illuminated.

Residents of East Lake and environs recently petitioned the Federal Government protesting against the location of the bombing areas in the lake, adding that it would be a decided detriment to the tourist industry.

93-YEAR-OLD WILLOW TO BE CUT DOWN

A ninety-three-year-old willow tree, eighteen feet in diameter, trunk measurement, and one of the village of Wellington's famous landmarks, will fall beneath the woodman's axe this week.

The tree was planted by the late Mrs. Phoebe Rorabeck, who died in December, 1938, in her 101st year. Interviewed by newspapermen on the occasion of her 100th birthday, the aged lady recalled planting the tree with others when she was ten years old.

The tree is the second oldest landmark in the village, the oldest being "The Manor," stone residence now owned by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Garratt, and which was erected by Indians in 1792 under the supervision of the famous "Smoke" Reynolds, founder of the village.

SUNSET
in WYOMING
with...
GENE AUTRY
Smiley
BURNETTE

He wins a million-dollar bride on a ten-cent ride!
REPENT at LEISURE
TAYLOR · BARRIE
GEORGE BARBIER

LOOK! Starts TOMORROW
TWO FAMILY HITS!
GENE AUTRY...
THE SIX-GUN ACTION KING ...BACK IN ANOTHER RANGE-LAND HIT!
PLUS THIS GRAND COMEDY - ROMANCE!
TONIGHT IS FOTO - NITE
$230.00
FOR A PHOTOGRAPH.
— On the Screen —
Last Times Tonight.
"SHINING VICTORY"
"SHE COULDN'T SAY NO"
First Show at 6.30 P.M.
Adults: Eve., 25c plus tax.
CAPITOL

Heaven-Sent
A heavenly new fragrance by
HELENA RUBINSTEIN
Here is a heavenly new scent like the light, fresh fragrance of flowers-in-the-rain. Heaven-Sent for your Summer flower prints . . . your white angel-ruffle dresses. Helena Rubinstein's Heaven-Sent is heaven sent indeed to make you feel like an angel this Summer!
Heaven-Sent Cologne, 1.50
Heaven-Sent Eau de Toilette, 2.00, 2.50
Heaven-Sent Body Powder, 1.65
Heaven-Sent Bath Oil, 2.75
Heaven-Sent Soap in cloud cake, .55. Box of 2, 1.00
McKeown's
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

Kiwanis Club Members Thanked

Members of the Kiwanis Club were jubilant as they gathered for their weekly luncheon at the Queens Hotel on Tuesday due to the wonderful success enjoyed by the Street Karnival, sponsored by the organization. A large sum was realized from the efforts of the club but a financial statement will be given in the near future as soon as all the bills are in according to the Secretary Treasurer, Bruce Lattimer.

There was no special speaker at the luncheon but Jack McVeigh, general chairman of the Karnival in well chosen words expressed appreciation to all chairmen and organizations, which in any way assisted in the success. Jim Barclay, President of the club, led off the praise and expressed his own appreciation for the wonderful support given himself and the committees appointed. Harold Carruthers led in the community singing. Clarence Jewell collected the fines and Leo B. Riggs presided at the piano. Eddie Shapiro past president of the club a former director and a popular member had a Kiwanis birthday and was fittingly introduced by George Lee. The prize donated by Eddie was won by the President after considerable discussion and drawing.

Jack McVeigh won a Kiwanis prize by selling the most books on the car with 88 of a total and was followed by Bruce Lattimer with 84, Ed Willing with 65 and Gordon Barclay with 60. Each of the members were rewarded for their fine efforts. Mr. McVeigh in thanking the members for their support especially mentioned Mills Marr, chairman of the car committee, his co-worker George Lee, Bill Lynch, chairman of construction, Frank Domenico, chairman of games, Vince Freeman, in charge of special prizes, Al Reynolds, chairman of publicity, Mrs. Stuart Lazier of the Red Cross for the use of the Red Cross room on Campbell Street, Charlie Richardson and Bruce Lattimer for their handling of the finances, George Fordyce; chairman of refreshments, and the ladies who worked so hard on the Hope hest. The members on the games were especially thanked and those non-members, who so ably assisted. These were guests of the club at the luncheon.

Belleville Sailors Attend Historic Church Service With Churchill, Roosevelt

It is morning on the broad decks of Britain's powerful battleship H.M.S. Prince of Wales. Aboard an historic meeting has taken place, between Britain's dynamic Prime Minister, Winston Churchill and President F. D. Roosevelt of the United States. Surrounding them are naval and military attaches and other high dignitaries of both democracies.

In the green waters that surround the battleship riding at anchor in the secret meeting place, is the sleek destroyer of the Canadian Navy the "Assiniboine," American destroyers and "battle-wagons" of the line. United States marines, and sailors are lined up in the traditional naval formation. Overhead roar big Catalina flying boats of the United States Air Force with those of the Royal Canadian Air Force Atlantic patrols.

A church service is in progress. Seated on two chairs on the deck are the illustrious visitors, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill. Near them are lined up American sailors, British Jack Tars and a special detachment of ten Canadian sailors representing the Royal Canadian Navy.

Familiar Hymns Sung

The band softly plays the famous sailor hymn, "For Those in Peril on the Sea." All sing the beautiful words.

In the Canadian detachment are two Belleville youths, Seaman Gunners Don Strickland, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Strickland, 231 William Street, and Kenneth Cherry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil G. Cherry, 5 Jane Street.

It was a proud moment in the lives of the Canadian youths, whose ages are 19 and 20 respectively. They felt a glow of pride as they gazed upon the men on whose shoulders rest the salvation of civilization. They had a similar moment later when Mr. Churchill boarded their ship the "Assiniboine" and inspected it from bow to stern, later commending the Canadian tars and asking them to "keep up the good work."

But here is Don Strickland's version of the famous meeting as written in a letter to his parents.

"We picked up the Prince of Wales at sea with Prime Minister Churchill aboard, and escorted her to the meeting place, the name of which I am not allowed to tell. The United States President had a number of ships with him. It sure was a wonderful sight to see. There were ten ratings selected from the Canadian crews to take part in the church service on board the Prince of Wales and Ken (Cherry) and myself were lucky enough to be chosen.

"We went over to the Prince of Wales and fell in on the quarter-deck. Pretty soon a United States destroyer and the president's yacht tied up alongside and President Roosevelt came aboard. It was a great sight, marines, sailors, bands and everything.

Sat Side by Side

"Churchill and Roosevelt sat together side by side. After the church service, we were taken through the ship while the two great men sat and chatted together. We were taken inside the gun turrets and what a wonderful sight that was, especially as Ken and I are gunners. We spent about three hours aboard the "Prince" and then returned to the "Assiniboine." Some time later we weighed anchor.

"At one time we had Mr. Churchill, President Roosevelt's son and Sir Dudley Pound, together with a lot of gold-braided naval officers aboard our ship which Mr. Churchill inspected. It was a wonderful experience."

Both lads, whose experiences will be the envy of many a Canadian Jack Tar, attended Belleville Collegiate Institute and joined the navy nearly two years ago together with a chum, Jack Hickey. Strickland and Cherry trained together and are inseparable "buddies" aboard their ship and ashore.

Frankford and District

Harvey Pitcher Injured When Run Over by Wagon

Frankford, (Special)—Mr. Harvey Pitcher was badly injured on Saturday, while driving a team of horses. He was thrown from the wagon and the wheels passed over his body breaking some ribs and injuring his shoulder and head.

Arm Crushed at Mill

While at work at the pulp mill, Mr. Arthur Howard met with a painful accident. In some manner the arm was badly crushed and he was rushed to Belleville hospital.

Boy Breaks Wrist

Wayne Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wyatt, is suffering with a broken wrist. While climbing in the large poplar trees along the mill pond he fell out of the tree in the pond. He managed to crawl to shore and secure help. Dr. Moran was called and he was rushed to Belleville hospital, where the arm was placed in a cast.

Miscellaneous Shower

A miscellaneous shower was presented to Mrs. Geo. Montgomery, (nee Doreen Loney), on Monday evening at the Sunday School hall.

Mr. Arthur Southworth has returned home from Kingston hospital after his operation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Scott and Raymond, spent the tea hour with Mrs. Acker and family on Sunday.

Mrs. (Dr.) Richards and family of Tillsonburg and Mr. Alfred Higgs visited their aunt, Mrs. Latta this week.

Little Dorothy and Frank Moran have returned home after visiting relatives in Rawdon last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Maines called at Mr. Sarles one day this week en route to Kitchener.

The members of the Goodwill Group held a meeting in the S.S. hall this week.

Mr. Chas. Scott visited his sister and family in Trenton.

Mrs. Cooper of Bloomfield, visited her daughter Mrs. D. O. Leavitt.

Mrs. Annie Chapin of Toronto, spent a few days visiting friends in town.

Mr. Mac Bowen of New York, spent a few days the guest of his sister, Miss Margaret Bowen.

Mrs. G. W. Dickson returned to her home after spending the past few weeks with relatives in the West, and is camping at Oak Lake with her family.

Mrs. D. A. Vandervoort spent a few days visiting friends in Colborne.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warren have returned home after spending their holidays with their parents.

Mr. Harry Ketcheson, Bancroft, called on his mother, Mrs. Eliza Ketcheson, one evening recently.

WOMEN REPLACE MEN

London (CP)—A number of women who have been specially trained as balloon operators are being experimentally posted to certain balloon sites in place of men.

Capt. J. Roosevelt Joins Col. Donovan Information Co-ordinator

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—Capt. James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, has joined the staff of Col. William J Donovan co-ordinator of information. Capt. Roosevelt's job will be that of military advisor and liaison man between the information office and other branches of the United States government.

Special Announcement

MR. ROBERT R. TURNEY announces that he is closing his PHOTOGRAPH STUDIO at 25 BRIDGE STREET E. for the duration of the war, as he is joining the engineering staff of the Aluminum Company of Canada.

Any of his patrons who have had portraits taken at his Studio can have the original negatives and any existing salon size photos of themselves now in his studio, by calling at his studio this week between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

By obtaining their negatives each patron will be able to obtain copies of their photographs at a negligible fraction of the original cost.

Mr. Turney wishes to thanks all his patrons for their generous support.

JAMES
CAGNEY
PAT
O'BRIEN
The stars of "Here Comes The Navy" in
DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR
MARGARET LINDSAY · FRANK McHUGH
Directed by LLOYD BACON
A WARNER BROS.-First Nat'l Picture

THURSDAY
FRIDAY
SATURDAY
MATINEE TOMORROW 2.30 P.M.
ADDED COMEDY SCREAM
THE 3 STOOGES
in
"I'LL NEVER HEIL AGAIN"
LAST TIMES
T-O-N-I-G-H-T
STARTS 7.15 P.M.
Last Complete Show 8.30
GREER GARSON
LAURENCE OLIVIER
in
"PRIDE and PREJUDICE"
2nd. FEATURE
BELA LUGOSI
in
"THE INVISIBLE GHOST"
FOX NEWS 'GLASBAKE' OVENWARE
AIR-CONDITIONED
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

Obituary

JAMES CAIN

Mr. James Cain, native of Rawdon Township and of New York City, but during the past eight years a resident of Belleville, passed away at the home of Mrs. C. C. Dalrymple, 163 Pinnacle St, on Tuesday after an illness of about one month duration. He was in his 78th year and was a member of St. Michael's Church.

A bachelor all his life, Mr. Cain leaves only one sister, Miss Catherine Cain, of Rawdon Township, to mourn his passing.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

WILLIAM PAUL
(Flinton)

William Paul, aged fifty-one years and late residence, Flinton, Ontario, died in the Belleville General Hospital late Tuesday afternoon, August 26th. He was a patient in the hospital since August twenty-third.

MRS. MARGARET McCALLUM
(Napanee)

The death occurred in the Belleville General Hospital late Tuesday afternoon, August 26th of Mrs. Margaret McCallum, age 65 years, wife of the Rev. Archibald McCallum of Napanee. She was a patient in the hospital since August 14th.

LATE MRS. T. NUGENT

(Sanford, Man.)

The funeral service for Mrs. Sarah Jane Nugent, widow of Theodore Nugent, of Sanford, Man., who died Sunday evening, took place from the home of her son, Frank, to Sanford church and cemetery, Tuesday. Dr. F. Letts conducted the services. Mrs. Nugent was born at Marlboro, Ont., and came west in 1878, living for some years at Big Island, Manigotagan, and near Osborne, and going to Sanford in 1892. Surviving her are four daughters, Mrs. Annie Wood, at home; Mrs. M. C. Burgess, of Belleville, Ont.; Mrs. H. W. Baragar of Elm Creek, and Mrs. F. W. Alguire, of Neepawa; and three sons, William, James and Frank, of Sanford, Mrs. Frances Birnie, of Gilbert Plains, and Mrs. I. Bradshaw, of Calgary, are sisters, and F. A. Moore, of Winnipeg, and R. Moore, of Sanford, are brothers.

LATE IVAN HILL

The funeral of the late Ivan Hill was held from the home of his cousin, Mrs. B. Noyes, of Shannonville, on Wednesday, Aug. 20, and was very largely attended. The service at the home was conducted by Rev. C. P. Heaven, of Shannonville and at All Saints Church by Rev. Mr. Pringle, of Deseronto. The late Mr. Hill had made his home with his uncle, Mr. John Bardy, who had adopted him when a small boy and was residing near Hamilton at the time of his decease. He was employed by a contractor in the city of Hamilton and was engaged on the roof of a building when he accidentally fell resulting in his death a few days later.

Many beautiful floral tributes gave silent testimony of the respect in which he was held. Uncles of the deceased acted as his pallbearers.

Outstanding Program of Entertainment And Exhibits to Feature Belleville Fair

Long a proud representative of one of Canada's national institutions, the autumn fair, Belleville's fall exhibition, now under a live-wire management, and scheduled for September 8, 9 and 10th, augurs well to be one of the most entertaining, educational and progressive displays since its inception.

In an effort, which has entailed many hours of research into the entertainment and show fields, the present management has finally produced an exhibition which, if the program of the various phases of the fair can be judged as a criterion, will be second to none of any of its class in Eastern Canada.

Realising that the exhibition was gradually declining in its power to attract enough patronage, Secretary Arthur L. Burke went far and wide in his efforts to secure outstanding attractions for the entertainment of the fair-going public, not to mention many facilities for exhibitors and other phases of the fair.

No Expense Spared

That he has succeeded is evidenced in the attractive program that is practically at completion. No expense has been spared, and the fair directorate have realized that the general public in order to patronize the fall attractions must not only have faith in the governing body, but demand at least a fair return for their money and efforts.

This thought has been uppermost in the minds of the directors and has been the end to which all efforts, both individual and collective have been directed.

The program is as variable as it is brilliant and entertaining. Outstanding radio artists including Harry "Red" Foster, well-known Toronto news commentator, who will conduct one of his broadcasts from the Fair Grounds, have been included in the program

Black Stallions on Display

Six magnificent black stallions, the property of the Dawes' Brewery, Montreal, will be here for exhibitive purposes and not in competition.

There will be a "Warrior's Day" when all ranks of the country's fighting services will be admitted free. School children will be invited to attend on a certain date. The finest trotting horses in the country will be here in races that will bear comparison with any held in this part of the Dominion. Conklin's Midway, Canada's outstanding outdoor carnival of fun, will be here for the entire three days.

These are but a minor part of the elaborate program arranged for the Fair.

All in all the efforts of the 1941 directorate of the fair are bidding fair to once more raise upon its rightful pedestal of quality, an exhibition that for many decades enjoyed the reputation of being one of the most colorful and entertaining functions of its kind in Eastern Canada.

Much Thought Given to Program

These men did not rely upon past performances or sources of supply for the current exhibition. They went far afield and sought the advice of directors of other fairs which have met with more than a passing amount of success despite lean years, and those of depression. They profited by the experience and advice of others, besides securing a general knowledge of what the fair-going public demands through personal and general contact.

There is an even balance in the general program. The entertainment phase is rangy and colorful. But by no means have the entire efforts of the directorate been confined to entertainment alone. Exhibits and exhibitors have received their full share of attention. Merchants, business and other displays and activities have also received the earnest consideration of the board. All in all, the 1941 edition of Belleville's Fair points to being one of the best in its long history.

Seven Persons Slightly Hurt

Marmora, Aug. 27—(Special)—Seven persons received a shaking up and three persons sustained lacerations to their faces when cut by flying glass as two motor cars were in head-on collision about four miles east of Marmora on No. 7 Highway late Tuesday night.

Rev. Dr. W. P. Fletcher, United Church minister of Marmora was driving west with his son, Percy Fletcher and wife when they collided with an east-bound American-owned vehicle driven by Michael L. Rooney, of Almonte, Ontario. In the car were Mrs. A. Doolan, Mrs. P. J. Rooney and Mrs. A. Newton, all of Almonte.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher received a deep cut over the left eye and Percy Fletcher sustained lacerations to the face. The only occupant of the second vehicle to suffer serious injury was Mrs. Doolan, who sustained a deeply lacerated eye. Damage of approximately $300 was caused to each of the autos, the accident being investigated by Constable William Lavender.

Rumored Cagney May Not Visit Trenton

Trenton, (Special)—Rumor has it that James Cagney, famed motion picture star, in Canada making the new picture "Captain of the Clouds," may not give Trenton and vicinity their anticipated thrill. Jimmy is now supposed to be engaged elsewhere while shots of various kinds are being made from the airport here. Today planes of numerous makes and descriptions were to be seen in the beautiful clear afternoon sky flying in formation which made one wonder if the "V for Victory" was being worked out in the clouds. Behind the formation could be seen a gorgeous blue tri-motor Stinson supposedly carrying camera equipment and crew. All around the spacious firmament could be seen dozens of other planes of all makes, each taking its own small part in the filming of this epic story of Canada's gallant knights of the air.

This is not the first time Hollywood has invaded Trenton. The last picture made here was "Carry on Sergeant" by Capt. Bruce Bairnsfather, better known as the cartoonist of the "Better 'Ole."

Kingston Magistrate Dismisses Charge

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP) — Magistrate James B. Garvin last night dismissed a charge of driving while intoxicated that had been laid against John Andrew Middleton Kingston business man, by County Constable Gordon Silver of Inverary and referred to "objectionable police methods" in Middleton's arrest.

Nearly 20 witnesses were heard in the trial which lasted more than six hours. The main evidence was that Middleton and members of his family were leaving a dance near Inverary when Silver, with eight or nine men in his car, overtook the Middleton car and arrested Middleton.

The Magistrate found evidence that a blackjack had been used unnecessarily in making the arrest, that Middleton was not informed of what charges faced him when he was arrested, that after the arrest the speed of the car taking Middleton to Kingston jail was 65 miles an hour, and he added: "It seems there was a regular little donnybrook created when there was no occasion for it."

Last Chance
LADIES:
Nellie Smith
Clears TOMORROW, Aug. 28th., balance of SPRING and SUMMER
DRESSES
5.00 & 7.95
Including Women's Printed Crepes and Sheers for 20½ to 24½.
DRESSES WORTH MUCH MORE.
This is your opportunity to buy now at low sale price and keep for next season.

THE 'FIND' OF 'KITTY FOYLE' FINDS A SWELL NEW DISH!
"Kisses FOR BREAKFAST
Yum-Yum.. Some Fun!

IT'S A CLINCH YOU'LL HAVE A SWELL TIME!
CAROLE LANDIS
CESAR ROMERO
DANCE HALL
A 20th Century-Fox Picture

EDWARD G. ROBINSON! MARLENE DIETRICH! GEORGE RAFT!
All Together in "MANPOWER"
A WARNER BROS. HIT with ALAN HALE · FRANK McHUGH · Directed by Raoul Walsh

Graced with Greatness . . Chockful of Fun!
THE COMEDY SPECIAL FOR EVERYONE WHO LOVES LIVING, LOVES LAUGHING, LOVES LOVING! SEE IT FOR THE FUN OF IT!
A WARNER BROS. HIT with DENNIS MORGAN
JANE WYATT · SHIRLEY ROSS
LEE PATRICK · JEROME COWAN · UNA O'CONNOR
AND . . . A BIG TOWN DRAMA CRACKLING WITH FAST FUN AND ACTION.
EXTRA! SKINNY ENNIS AND BAND — CLEVER REVUE.
Tomorrow & Friday
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE
Daily 2.30: 7.10. Last Show 8.30
CLOSING TONIGHT
ANN SOTHERN
"RINGSIDE MAISIE"
SCOTLAND YARD
CHURCHILL - ROOSEVELT MEETING — Other World-Wide Events.
SUNDAY AFTER MIDNIGHT, 12.05—PREVIEW SHOWING
Filmdom's Toughest Threesome in a T.N.T. Dramatic Bombshell.

Punch Germany Now Says Field Marshal

Lord Birdwood, G.C.B., in the London Telegraph.

SHEFFIELD, Eng. — For the Nazis I can see the war taking a new and ominous change. For Britain I can see it offer a chance that may never be repeated. Decisive victory may be snatched by certain swift, brilliant moves on the part of our war leaders. It would be foolish to waste time. Have we a deliberate campaign ready to wade into the fight with the determination to deal the knockout blow and settle the conflict within the next few months?

It is at least gratifying to see that the Russians, whose resources nobody can accurately estimate, have followed the lines I suggested in a previous article—the retreat of devastation so that the enemy cannot rely on living on the land. This is no time for half measures. It may be, however, that the Russians in some sections may not have been able to destroy everything that would be of value to the Nazis, but a great deal has been done.

Even if the Germans make another thrust, it can be accepted that Stalin will see to it that the "scorched earth" plan is carried out.

The great encouraging news is that the Russians are counter-attacking now and giving Hitler's forces something more to think about than advancing into Russia. And while this great effort is being made by Russia, it is up to us to make great efforts to aid her and so catch the Germans on both sides. M. Litvinov has well said Britain and the Soviet must strike together.

No clear estimate can be made of Russia's equipment or number of troops available.

Numbers do not matter so much in this war, but what matters is swift blows, and unexpected ones at that. Now that Russia is helping so valiantly to fight our battle it is more incumbent on us to help her if we are to save ourselves.

America's Help

How then can we help her and ourselves best? Only now has America taken a step that will aid us in the matter of transport and troops.

The move to occupy Iceland by American troops may ultimately release the Canadians and British there, and it should release a certain amount of shipping too. We have a large army in Britain waiting and ready to go into action.

I am unaware of the actual amount of transport and men at our disposal; but presuming that these are considerable, and if tanks, guns, munitions are ready, there is to my mind only one course open —and that course is to intensify our blows on Germany.

There is nothing so rattles an army or army commanders as to be constantly looking back over their shoulders to see what is going to hit them from the rear. Add to that the signs we have been having of late that there is gloomy foreboding inside Germany itself.

So, strike and complete demoralisation, or if not that, then the beginning of the defeat. For, I repeat, the chance is great, and may never occur again.

How could these blows be delivered? We have our wonderful R.A.F. It is true that heavy bombers, while they could go to the east of Germany and harass the lines of communications that are attacking, they could not have the protection of fighters. Fighters have not the long range of bombers, but fighters can go over to Berlin and maybe slightly farther. So let them go!

Attack Berlin

Is Berlin a military objective? One may hear some talk about killing civilians, but that is a risk which we unfortunately must take in the destruction of military objectives.

The Nazis did not stand on niceties when they bombed London, Coventry, and elsewhere. Berlin is distinctly a military objective. Hitler is a military objective, and so is Goering and all the gang. The brain of the German army is in Berlin. Their War Office is there. So is their Admiralty, and their whole war organization. If we smash that we smash military objectives.

Field Marshal Lizst, the Nazi commander who is thrusting towards Moscow, is only one of the Nazi leaders who have laid it down that military objectives are even civilians who are in the path of the troops.

It has been since the World War No. 1 an axiom of the Germans to spread terror among civilians as part of a campaign's object. What is to hinder us spreading some terror among the German population by bombing their military G.H.Q. in Berlin? I declare that Berlin is not an open city, and should therefore be treated as a military objective.

But, apart from these bombing excursions by our expanding R.A.F., there is another factor. We have facing us on the other side of the Channel and along the North Sea many miles of enemy coast or enemy-occupied coast. We should carry out military raids on these coasts as heavily and as often as we can.

Many Heavy Raids

I do not suggest that we should attempt to establish bridgeheads and land a large expeditionary force. If we have the troops and the equipment available we might with advantage do it, but as things are it would be of great service to make heavy raids, destroying gun positions, taking prisoners, and disturbing garrisons and blowing up ammunition dumps and firing stores.

These raids, if they were heavy enough and persistent enough, wolld rattle the Nazis and compel them to withdraw or to surrender. We might disturb their communications so badly that we could land forces of some value to push them back here, and a few hundred tanks would give them a big fright.

If we could spare 50,000 or even 100,000 men to make a number of raids simultaneously, all the better.

The best places I think to strike with such a force would probably be through Holland and Belgium. There would not be the same vital possibilities farther south, and we have plenty of friends in these occupied countries who would give us aid and information.

Last war in the East it was the persistent raiding by Lawrence's men that ultimately broke up the Turks, whose lines were never safe from destruction by Arab bands. The Germans may be able to give punishment, but it is fairly well known that they cannot take it, so now is our chance with our troops, soon, let us hope, free from the Iceland post, and with the release of transport and materials to hit the Nazis when and where they least expect it.

GO PLACES
LABOR DAY!

Summer's Last Long Week-End

GO: From Noon Friday, Aug. 29, until 2.00 P.M. Monday, Sept. 1.
RETURN: Leave destination up to midnight, Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1941.
Times shown are Standard.

FARE and ONE QUARTER for the round trip
Plus 10% Government Tax

For fares and further information apply to your nearest Ticket Agent.

CANADIAN PACIFIC
CANADIAN NATIONAL

200 H. S. Girls Needed For Peach Picking To Save Crop

Toronto, Aug. 27—(CP)—A. Maclaren, Director of Farm Service Force, Ontario Department of Labor, said Tuesday that unless 200 high school girls can be recruited for peach picking at once, a large portion of the Niagara Peninsula peach crop will be lost.

Mr. Maclaren said "the fruit growers are in desperate need of help and must have it immediately to save their crops. Warm weather after Monday's heavy rain will add to the grower's troubles, as the peaches will come out with a terrific rush."

He added that much of the crop to be canned is wanted in Britain and "we must not allow any waste of food products." Mr. Maclaren said anyone desirous of performing this service should communicate with the Ontario Department of Labor.

Every job is a war job!

Every job must go faster!

DOUBLEMINT helps you stand the pace!

WRIGLEY'S DOUBLEMINT CHEWING GUM PEPPERMINT FLAVOR
THE FLAVOR LASTS

CV18

• Speed and efficiency are vital. Keep fit—refresh yourself while working by chewing Wrigley's Doublemint Gum—the pleasant chewing helps relieve fatigue, and soothes the nerves. And the delicious peppermint flavor cools your mouth and throat —freshens you up! Carry a package or two with you— CHEW IT WHILE YOU WORK—millions do—only 5¢.

BUY SOME TODAY!

CORNED BEEF "HEAVY"

Willington, England (CP)— Reputed heaviest man in England, Victor Gray, 41, weighing 476 pounds, was sentenced to six months hard labor for stealing 104 cases of corned beef.

FREIGHT COMES FIRST

London (CP)—Freight will have priority on British railways this winter and there is a possibility that buffet and sleeping cars will be withdrawn from service by the British Ministry of War Transport.

BY SWEDISH SHELLS

Stockholm—(CP)—Two German planes with permits to pass over forbidden areas Aug. 9, and were warned off by shells. They resumed their correct course.

Turkey, Surrounded by War, Finds Position of Neutrality Difficult

By PRESTON GROVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Ankara, Turkey, Aug. 25.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Turkey found herself surrounded by battling world powers today through the Anglo-Russian invasion of Iran, her eastern neighbor, and many observers in this neutral capital said they expected an active German reaction.

Whether Germany might attempt a headlong drive through Turkey from her plentiful Aegean and Black Sea bases or reopen the African campaign as a threat to Egypt and Suez was a subject of speculation in foreign military circles.

Officially, Turkey appeared to take the situation philosophically.

(The Turkish Embassy Staff in London, however, expressed worry over the situation yesterday and a spokesman said it "hedges Turkey with war and makes the maintenance of neutrality more difficult than ever.")

Saracoglu Informed

British and Russian ambassadors visited Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu to advise him that troops of the two countries had crossed Iranian borders to terminate months of wrangling as to whether the Shah, Reza Kahn Pahlavi, would accept British suggestions that German specialists, "tourists and technicians" be expelled.

Saracoglu was reported to be pleased that he had been kept informed of the developments on Turkey's borders. It was understood also the meeting was in a most cordial atmosphere.

Britons were expected to occupy at least Southern Persia swiftly, which would give Britain a virtually unbroken land route across Southern Asia and the Middle East from Singapore to the Aegean. More important, it would give her a solid front barrier between the vital Suez Canal and the German drive eastward through the Ukraine.

Russian troops were in position to cut connections between Turkey and Iran quickly.

Meawhile, evidence of increasing success of the German drive through Southern Russia depressed allied representatives here. They said developments indicated rapid approach of a time when the Germans could hit at the Middle East either through Turkey or southward across the Caucasus into Iran.

'Shot' Scenes of Atlantic Rendezvous, Cameraman Lionized in Hollywood

Hollywood, Aug. 27—(AP)—Cameraman Richard Rosson is just about the most sought after man in Hollywood right now.

Earlier this month he boarded the battleship Prince of Wales at a Scottish port—to accompany Prime Minister Churchill to his famous meeting with President Roosevelt. Not only that, he shot reels of film of their meeting at sea, then came on to the United States.

He assumes his pictures were placed in official archives in Washington and will be released later.

Rosson said "the actual meeting of the Prime Minister with President Roosevelt was very dramatic, and both men were conscious of its importance.... It was thrilling to see the British and American ships anchored together, a fleet in themselves ready for any emergency.

Arranges Shakespeare Scenes, Speeches To Dramatize Call to Britain in Time of War

London, Aug. 27 (CP) — Shakespeare as "the poet and prophet of a free and virile people" was presented to London theatre-goers by G. Wilson Knight, who gave up a professorship at University of Toronto to be with his people in England during the war.

Mr. Knight arranged the production of "This Sceptred Isle," a series of scenes and speeches dramatizing Shakespeare's call to Great Britain in time of war.

The presentation, drawn from King John, Richard II, Richard III, Henry V, Hamlet, MacBeth, Timon of Athens, and Henry VIII, fell into three parts—"St. George for England," "Patriotism is not Enough," and "The Royal Phoenix."

The methods used by Mr. Knight, known for his productions at Hart House, Toronto, were simple and illuminating. He appeared before the curtain, gave an informal, yet informative, lecture on the speech he was about to deliver, and then launched into the speech itself.

For part of his production, such as the Richard and Henry speeches, he dispensed with scenery and makeup, but in three scenes from Timon of Athens had the paraphernalia of a full production.

Reviewers praised the program highly and spoke approvingly of Mr. Knight's performance.

Mr. Knight, although somewhat disappointed by the support of the public, described the results as "highly successful."

Netherlanders Are United In Resistance to Nazis

All Doing What They Can to Irk the Germans, Says Seaman

INVADERS HARRIED

Halifax, Aug 27—(CP)—Defiant Netherlanders are united in their resistance to Nazidom and are working steadily to "make life uneasy for Hitler and his gang", according to a Netherland seaman who recently escaped from his invaded homeland.

"Everyone —from children to old men and women—is doing what he can to irk the Nazis" said the sandy-haired sailor. Besides sabotage—"and there is plenty of it" —the invaders were harried in many other ways.

Less than two months ago, the sailor was taking part in these activities. He and some companions escaped together, but their means of escape, as well as their identities, are secret.

In Holland, he said, there is a growing faith that the day of victory is not far off Youngsters mock the German soldiers and "keep on reminding them they haven't made that promised journey to England"

People run out into the streets of Rotterdam to cheer Royal Air Force planes openly, he said.

German Reports a Lie

"German propaganda says the British have bombed homes in Holland", he declared. "Like other German news, it is a lie. I have seen bombers over many times. They fly low and pick out their targets on the waterfront area.

"We're not afraid of the British planes. 'Here come the Tommies', is the word flashed around when the planes come over. People wave and cheer them. With each bomb explosion there is a chorus of cheers from Dutchmen all over the city."

"While 99.9 per cent of our people are loyal" he said, "there are still a few traitors. Every day, almost, bodies of Dutch Nazis are found floating in the canals. It is not uncommon, either, to find bodies of German soldiers and officers floating with them".

German efforts to fraternize with the Dutch get the cold shoulder. "One time—it wasn't so long ago—Goering visited Amsterdam, with all his medals. As he walked into a hotel, all Dutchmen—including the entire staff—walked out. He had the hotel to himself".

Paris Authorities Discuss Measures To Suppress Disorders

Vichy, France, Aug. 27—(AP)— All ranking German and French police authorities of German-occupied Paris were reported to have discussed measures for the repression of anti-Nazi disorders at a meeting in the former capital yesterday.

Interior Minister Pierre Pucheu was busy arranging with occupying officials the means to apply the latest decree against Anarchists and Communists, who are to be tried by court martial in the occupied zone and by a special appeal court in unoccupied territory.

The Lyon edition of Paris-Soir reported tonight that a Parisian and his wife were arrested on a charge of trafficking in forged ration cards had been turned over to the German army after they were found to possess two automatic pistols and Communist leaflets.

The Versailles barracks were being prepared to receive anti-Soviet volunteers. Estimates of the number of Frenchmen enlisted ranged as low as 1,800. The volunteers probably will be sent to Camp Posen, Poland, for training.

VICHY GOV'T FALLS IN LINE

Vichy, Aug. 27—(AP)—The Vichy government fell into step Tuesday with regulations of German authorities in Occupied France for the "Aryanizing" of Jewish business and extension of the regulations to shares, property and real estate holdings.

Jewish Commissioner Xavier Vallat was empowered to name Aryan administrators for any Jewish-owned business, building, real estate or furnishings except actual homes. The regulations will apply throughout France.

BETTER THAN GUNGHA DIN

Brisbane, Australia (CP)—A local inventor has submitted to defence authorities a water bottle which will produce ice-water at any temperature. Crystals lower the temperature of the water 30 degrees in 15 minutes.

CAR OWNERS SAVE 20% ON TIRE COSTS

Finest Tire in B. F. Goodrich History

Orders Swamp Local Dealers! Duramin-Made Tire Combines Super Safe—20% Extra Mileage

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 27—To motorists who have been worried about an increase in tire costs and replacing worn out tires to ensure safe driving, the bright spot in the news is the recent B. F. Goodrich announcement—20% cut in tire costs. The 1941 "Life-Saver" Silvertown, with two new developments—"Duramin" and "Safety-Weld"—gives you five miles where the original Silvertown gave you four. To Canada, geared to all out production of war materials, this new tire means a notable saving in vital rubber supply. To Canadian motorists this new tire means down-to-earth saving of 20%.

"Duramin" is a combination of chemicals proven to be the finest defence against rubber's great enemies — heat, sunlight and oxygen — keeps rubber young and alive—resistant to the grinding wear of the roughest roads. Not content with a 20% reduction in tire costs alone, B. F. Goodrich went even further . . . added one "super" on top of another . . . super mileage . . . super blow-out protection . . . super safety from skids. Result— this year's Life-Saver Silvertown is the toughest-wearing, safest-riding, smoothest-rolling tire in B. F. Goodrich history. It gives you more protection against blow-outs, more safety from skids, more riding comfort—without any premium in price.

"Safety-Weld" Makes Steel-Strong Tire Carcass!
Exclusive with B. F. Goodrich

B. F. Goodrich scientists have discovered the method for putting the famous "Golden-Ply" blow-out protection into every ply of the tire by the "Safety-Weld" process. This new process welds "Hi-Flex" cords with Duramin-toughened rubber — makes tires steel-strong, able to resist internal heat, withstand grinding, gruelling wear of the toughest roads . . . guards against ply separation . . . the deadly menace of high-speed driving in summer heat. "Safety-Weld" makes this new "Life Saver" Silvertown tire the safest thing on wheels.

EXTRA MILEAGE
EXTRA SAFETY
AT NO EXTRA COST

Cut TIRE COSTS 20%
MADE WITH Duramin
B.F.Goodrich
SILVERTOWNS
WITH THE
LIFE-SAVER TREAD

Uptown Tire & Battery Service
"SCOTTY" and "SMITTY"
382 Front St. - - - - Phone 2288

PRINCE'S GIFT

Hyderabad, India—(CP) — H. E. H. the Nizam of Hyderabad State has offered a contribution of 20 lakhs ($675,000) for the building of a corvette.

SCIENTIST DEAD

London (CP)—Dr. James Charles Philip, former president of the Society of Chemical Industry and Fellow of the Royal Society, is dead at 68.

You trust its quality

Pause... Go refreshed
Coca-Cola

Each time you taste ice-cold "Coca-Cola", you are reminded that here is the quality of genuine goodness. Experience . . . many a refreshing experience . . . has taught people everywhere to trust the quality of "Coca-Cola".

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

SERVICE ON QUARTER DECK

What a picture Prime Minister Winston Churchill drew in his broadcast of one scene during the conference recently held "in our Atlantic Bay" when the President of the United States and he joined with hundreds of high ranking officers and sailors and marines of the American and British navies on the quarter deck of the British warship Prince of Wales in religious worship, while the sun shone bright and warm upon them.

> "We all sang the old hymns which are our common inheritance and which we learned as children in our homes. We sang the hymn founded on the psalm which John Hampden's soldiers sang when they bore his body to the grave and in which the brief precarious span of life is contrasted with One to whom a thousand ages are but as yesterday and which pass as a watch in the night.
>
> "We sang the sailors' hymn, 'For Those'—and there are very many—'in Peril on the Sea.' We sang 'Onward Christian Soldiers.'"

The hymn founded on the psalm which Hampden's soldiers chanted was "O God Our Help in Ages Past," written by Rev. Isaac Watts in 1719. The lines to which the Prime Minister referred were

"A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are as an evening gone,
Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun."

The hymn was based on the 90th Psalm which has a prominent place in the liturgy of the Church of England. Mr. Churchill's words were almost identical with the words of the Psalmist,

"For a thousand years in Thy sight are but as yesterday:
seeing that is past as a watch in the night."

This hymn and the others which were sung are familiar as any lines in the language.

These great statesmen and the company of sailors and marines did not forget their religious duties and in such a setting well might Mr. Churchill feel > "this was no vain presumption but that we had a right to feel we were serving the cause for the sake of which the trumpet has sounded from on high.

>
> "When I looked upon this closely packed company of fighting men of the same language, of the same faith, of the same fundamental laws, of the same ideals, and now, to a large extent, of the same interest and certainly, in different degrees, facing the same dangers, it swept across me that here was not only the hope, but also the sure hope of saving the world from measureless degradation."

Like a poet-prophet-statesman of old, he spoke in words of high mortal content, signifying the importance of the task to which the democratic nations have dedicated themselves,

> "And so we came back across the ocean waves, uplifted in spirit and fortified in resolve."

STRANGE POSSIBILITIES

Strange possibilities are foreseen, in science as indicated by the proposal from Louisiana State University Medical School that blood be drawn from the veins of every soldier and be returned to him in the form of a powdered plasma which he may keep in his kit against an emergency. Plasma is the liquid part of the blood that remains when the red and white corpuscles are separated; its proteins can be reduced to a dry powder and almost indefinitely preserved.

New York Times refers to what it calls "the even more dramatic efforts" at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit to develop, from non-human sources, a substitute for plasma. At Rochester, casein, the cheesemaking ingredient of milk, is being tested as substitute and at Detroit, pectin, the jelling ingredient of fruit-jelly, is the subject of experiment.

These studies show what possibilities lie before science.

See first that the design is wise and just; that ascertained pursue it resolutely; do not for one repulse forego the purpose that you resolved to effect.—Shakespeare.

No rock so hard but that a little wave may beat admission in a thousand years.—Tennyson.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

DESIGN FOR LOVING

Whenever the moon is shaped like a sickle,
I usually manage to get in a pickle.
There's something about the shape of the thing
That makes the alarm inside of me ring.

One time it was Spring when I answered the call
One time I went overboard in the Fall,
Somehow my romances seem to burst through
Whenever the moon is breathtakingly new.

Last evening we met, and it must have been fate—
The moon was on hand in its silver-like state.
I know all the symptoms — I've got them down pat,
So here we go, brother — hold on to your hat!

—Ruth Shapiro.

IF ANY potential business magnates are thinking of applying for a job in a business office, here is the way a youthful Hong-Kong resident wrote his application:—

"Dear Sir,—I am Sing Eu. It is for my personal benefit I write for a position in your Honourable firm. I have a flexible brain that will adapt itself to your business and in consequence bring good efforts to your honourable Selves. My education was being impressed upon me in the Peking University in which place I graduate Number One. I can drive a typewriter with good noise, and my English is simple and great. My reference are of good class and shall you hope to see me, they will be read by you with great pleasure. My last job has left itself from me, for the good reason that the large man had died. It was on account of no fault of mine at all. So, Honourable Sir, What about it? If I can be of big uses to you, I will arrive on the same date that you should guess."

A HAND FOR BIDDY

The country is hearing from the hen this year as never before, remarks an exchange. While "birds" of another calibre are guarding the east and west horizons, the hen enlists in the battle of production in a big way. Last month she did her bit and more, exceeding her egg-laying record by over four per cent. This month she is going strong. From every mountainside her cackle rings.

A hand fo the hen, a new feather for her topknot. She has her failings, true. At times she is broody, at others, hysterical. As a bird of prey she can boast few conquests greater than grasshoppers. As a songbird she is no canary. By nature an isolationist, trustful of anything but defence and inclined to nest unguarded in the weeds of a predatory world, she is an easy mark for the wily weasel or the stealthy skunk.

All the same, she sets a pattern of industry for the nation at a time of crisis. For her the twelve-hour day and the seven-hour week.

Faithfully at rosy dawn she rises to toe the scratch. Sensibly at sundown she turns in. And no friend of man does more than she to perpetuate breakfast and the other institutions of a humane civilization.

AN OLDTIMER, remarks a reader, is one who remembers when all we had to worry about was the length of the ladies skirts next season.

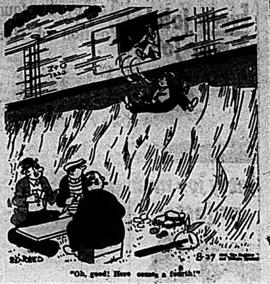
DEFINITION of the bagpipes heard at a recent Rotary Club luncheon: "An ill wind that nobody blows good."

IF THE NATION rations pork, what are we going to put in beans? queries the Ottawa Journal. The Journal writer must have a sharp eye. Personally we could never discover which bean the pork was hiding behind.

TRUE ENOUGH — Don't complain if you read too much criticism. If there had been enough criticism in time, France wouldn't be enslaved now.—Detroit Free Press.

SMALL VOICE — In this scientific age, the little voice inside one is no longer his conscience. It's just one of those new pocket radios—Calgary Albertan.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed



"Oh, good! Here comes a fourth!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 27th, 1921.

Capt. Harper of the Bank of Montreal here is visiting his mother in Cornwall, Ontario.

Mr. S. E. Warren has returned home from Toronto where he spent several days.

Mr. Stanley Gerow of Cleveland is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gerow at Rossomre.

Mr. E. H. Little, Secretary of the local branch of the G.W.V.A., left today for Toronto where he will attend a meeting of the G.W.V.A. Secretaries for Ontario.

Dr. A. H. Tickell of Nevada City, California, an old Belleville boy, accompanied by his wife are visiting relatives in the city. Dr. Tickell has been a resident of California for the past twenty-four years.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 27th, 1911.

Anglers have been having some good catches recently in the bay. Bass are numerous and of good size. Oswego bass which have been scarce for some time are numerous this season and many have been caught.

Mr. Herbert Wrightmeyer is in Toronto on business.

Mr. Harold O. D. Wilkins left today for Kingston where he will enter the Royal Military College as a cadet.

Mr. Maurice Lynch, Chicago, a popular Belleville old boy, is home on a visit.

Mr. Percy O. Davis has returned to Toronto after visiting his parents here.

Mr. Phil Harrison of the Intelligencer staff, is on a week's vacation.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 27th, 1901.

Mr. Corby's yacht, the Skylark, is back in port here after a cruise down the St. Lawrence River.

Mrs. G. B. W. Nelson and son of Kamloops, B.C., have left for their home after visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Lynd have returned to their home in Rochester, N.Y., after visiting friends here.

Mr. S. Spencer is spending a vacation in Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. Fred R. Langham arrived home yesterday from South Africa.

Mr. E. W. Horne, ledger keeper in the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, has been transferred to the bank's branch in Paris, Ontario. He will be missed by many friends.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 27th, 1891.

In drilling for natural gas here a depth of 230 feet has been reached and instead of finding gas, salt water has been found. A stream seven inches in diameter is now flowing at the rate of 600 barrels a day and there is a general opinion that a good salt well has been discovered. Drilling has been stopped until a complete analysis is made.

The water in the public well at the corner of Sinclair and Catherine Streets is unfit for use and should be closed at once until cleaned as many residents in the district obtain water from this well.

The members of the Young Ladies' Bible Class in Bridge Street Church will run an excursion this evening. The I.O.O.F. Silver Band will be on board and will furnish a program. One hour will be allowed in Trenton.

Two buggies collided on Front Street this morning. There is too much fast driving in this town and the practice should be stopped.

Newest Notes of Science

Three oilstones of as many degrees of fineness have been combined in a triangular tool sharpening device for home workshops.

India is expected to produce 29 per cent more jute, 23 per cent more sugar cane and 15 per cent more cotton this year than last.

Machines operated by eight men invented by a Californian are asserted to equal the hand labor of 100 persons in harvesting hops.

Cuba exported 202,593,956 gallons of molasses and syrups in the first five months this year, a record amount for a similar period.

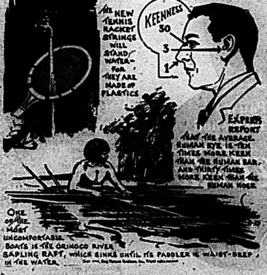
Fire and vermin proof building blocks fastened together with spring wire have been invented that are stamped from noncorrosive sheet steel.

The Swiss government has planned to clear nearly 5000 acres of forest land, divided among all the cantons, for the production of food crops.

An ultraviolet ray lamp has been installed in a home laundry machine developed by a New York concern to kill germs in clothing being washed.

Made of latex saturated fibre, new shoe trees are asserted to conform to the shape of individual toes and also supply positive support to shoes.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT



THE NEW TENNIS RACKET STRINGS WILL STAND WATER—FOR THEY ARE MADE OF PLASTICS KEENNESS
30
3
1
EXPERTS REPORT THAT THE AVERAGE HUMAN EYE IS TEN TIMES MORE KEEN THAN THE HUMAN EAR, AND THIRTY TIMES MORE KEEN THAN THE HUMAN NOSE
ONE OF THE MOST UNCOMFORTABLE BOATS IS THE ORINOCO RIVER SAPLING RAFT, WHICH SINKS UNTIL ITS PADDLER IS WAIST-DEEP IN THE WATER

Bird Flights Puzzle Scientists

By GRAHAM CHADWICK

Many strange mysteries, connected with the annual migration of birds and fishes, are still baffling scientists after years of patient investigation. Why do birds migrate? For some time research workers have been trying to find an answer to this question, but without success.

It has long been known that, twice a year, almost the whole of the bird population of the world migrates to a greater or less extent, some of the little creatures journeying thousands of miles to make a new home in another hemisphere, while others remain always in the same land; moving only from town to country, or vice versa.

Recently, much information about the movements of individual birds has been gained by systematic ringing. For example, swallows ringed in England, have been found in East and South Africa; white storks, marked in Denmark, have reached India, while starlings, from Poland and Finland, have come to Britain.

But the reason behind all this migration is still a complete mystery. Birds are warm-blooded and also provided with a most efficient protective covering of feathers and, therefore, are able to withstand quite cold weather, so they do not necessarily migrate to escape severe winter conditions, as was at one time believed. Besides, many birds leave Britain in July, when the weather is yet warm.

Some scientists declare that the coming of autumn in temperate latitudes means the failure of food supplies for enormous numbers of birds, hence vast hordes migrate to warmer regions, where food is plentiful at all seasons. But if that is the case, why do not birds, when once they have reached tropical lands, remain there throughout the year instead of undertaking the long, hazardous journey back to northern countries in the spring?

Many naturalists now believe that migration is an old custom transmitted by inheritance and that migrating birds are the descendants of a long line of forebears with similar habits extending far back in time. But the cause which originally sent the ancestors of our modern birds journeying so far, to spend a few months on another continent, remains as great a mystery as ever.

An even more difficult problem, which scientists are endeavouring to solve, is how migrating birds find their way. It has been discovered that individual birds often return to the same summer locality in a subsequent year, although they have journeyed half way round the world and back in the interval.

More extraordinary still, young swallows, which have just left the nest, set out from England in the autumn before their parents and find their way, without guides and apparently unaided, to their winter quarters in Africa. Young cuckoos and red-backed shrikes also accomplish this difficult feat.

There is every reason to suppose that birds are not wholly dependent on the visibility of land-marks for finding their way, mysterious as this fact may seem. It is now thought that they must have some inherited memory of the path and goal, since the knowledge can not be traditional where young birds migrate for the first time.

All migrating animals possess this uncanny sense of direction. Among fishes, marked salmon, for example, often return to the same rivers in which they were born. And eels, too, perform the most amazing journeys.

The common eel lives nearly all of its life in the fresh water rivers and ponds of western Europe, but in the late summer the older eels leave their place of residence, descend streams and rivers and make their way into the Atlantic, proceeding far out to some deep part now believed to be near the Azores. Here they lay their eggs and then die. But the young eels, unaccompanied by adults, are able to find their way from the open Atlantic to the rivers and ponds of Europe, a journey which takes them about three years to perform.

Do migrating birds fly fast? At one time it was claimed they flew at not less than 200 miles per hour. Modern scientists, however, say that birds have an ordinary speed and an accelerated speed (employed only when pursuing prey or when in danger), the ordinary speed being used on migration.

Much valuable information on this point has been collected by observers in the Royal Air Force, who have often checked the speed of miggrating birds encountered on their flights and found that it seldom exceeds 80 miles per hour. A peewit, ringed in Cumberland and reported 24 hours later in Newfoundland, must have crossed the Atlantic at an average speed of 100 miles per hour, but this was probably an exceptionally swift little aeronaut.

Another puzzling problem concerns the height at which migrating birds fly. In the past it was believed that birds travelled at great altitudes, such as 20,000 or 40,000 feet. It is true that many migrants cross the Himalayas, in which the lowest passes are 18,000 feet above sea level, but generally birds do not fly at a height of more than 5,000 feet, and airmen report the almost total absence of bird life above that height.

Birds, however, of all living creatures, have the finest breathing apparatus; and an additional advantage in the fact that their bones are filled with air instead of marrow.

Whatever the reason for migration may be, it is certainly a costly business, since thousands of the courageous little voyagers never reach their destinations. Some die from starvation or exhaustion, while others are killed by birds of prey, which are particularly active during the migration seasons.

Hawks often take up their quarters on an island near the route followed by the smaller birds and then pounce upon the stragglers. And the peregrine falcon migrates to Arctic regions at the same time as the ducks and thus feeds as he flies.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Who Stands Up Best in the Blitz?

London — My own technique in reporting is to ask the same question of as many different sorts of people as I can reach and then see what the sum of the answers is. So I have asked a question which is interesting either from a social, military, biological or psychological viewpoint:

What sort of person stands up best in the blitz? Who runs to cover and who doesn't? Who thinks first of the other fellow and who thinks first of himself? Who suffers a nervous collapse and who emerges cool and smiling?

There is no doubt about the answer. The replies have been unanimous. Persons who have shown the most cool-headedness, swiftness in action in an emergency and sheer courage are that long-despised middle class.

The so-called "Maidenhead refugees," those who have gotten out of it all by evacuating themselves to pleasant places in the country far from military objectives and near good inns and golf courses, have been the well-to-do.

The very poor often have gone to pieces, at least for the moment. But men and women from five-room flats and seven-room houses have been cool, nonchalant heroes.

Which middle-class occupations have shown the highest standard of behaviour?

Again the aswer is unanimous—the free professions. Curiously, perhaps astonishingly, the intellectuals. Doctors, lawyers, school teachers, pastors, engineers, dentists, journalists, writers, artists and actors — they are far above the small or large businessmen; they and skilled workers — railroad men, skilled mechanics, machine-tool makers and operators.

Persons whom their friends always have regarded as neurotics, highly-strung, nervous ladies, gentlemen with tendencies to develop stomach ulcers, get gold stars for their blitz behaviour.

Race doesn't count. The record is the same for Englishmen and for the French, Dutch, Scandinavian, Belgian and Jewish refugees.

It is the journalist, dentist or engineer in the block who gets out first and stands exposed on the roof of a building, watching a fire, douses incendiary bombs or mans ambulances (women do the same) and then wisecracks through the horror of the blitz.

The behavior of everybody in the islands even though they have been a hell on earth is above praise. But the supers are boys and girls who are earning their living by their brains. Why?

Well first of all they are accustomed to concentrated intellectual effort and the emergency calls it forth. Second they are persons accustomed to objective thinking, and apparently that has some effect on character. Their minds look out rather than in. Third, they have had an education that has induced certain standards of behaviour. Fourth, and despite a tendency to dyspepsia and taut nerves, they apparently have good health, for statistics show they live long. Fifth, they belong to occupations in which the individual had to think for himself. Sixth, they have an intellectual curiosity which makes even the most terrible experience interesting. They are the only persons who get a sort of grim, intellectual or artistic pleasure out of the weird phenomenon.

While the house rocks under them they note the beauty of the thin fingers of the searchlights reaching across the dark skies for Nazi bombers. They learn quickly to differentiate sounds, gauge the distance and type of explosions. They estimate their chances mathematically.

A famous woman writer told me she had resigned herself calmly to the air raids when she realised that the mortality in the blitzes was lower than British mortality in childbirth. "And after all, I have had three children," she said.

At any rate, when others run to shelters the intellectuals are likely to go out and look around to see what they can do. Sitting in the fire stations they learnedly discuss physical explanations of blasts and the chemistry contained in various kinds of high explosives, the psychological treatment of shock, the relative resilience of bricks laid with one mortar, the genius of Sir Christopher Wren, the quantum theory and the various moves in chess.

Being accustomed to take notice of things they even make notes on their own misery and so somehow find everything interesting. Those who have despised the absent-minded professor are likely to find him the one person in the community with all his wits about him.

The stock of the intellectual, therefore, is going up in England, and this perhaps augurs a happier, more intelligent time to come.

(Released by the Belle Syndicate, Inc.)

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

EMPEROR

I'm glad I need not be the man
Known as The Emperor of Japan,
Shut off by pomp and circumstance
From every friend who would advance;
Denied the right to hear or see
The caller, whosoe'er he be,
And barred to every source of news,
Save those his army generals use.

The Emperor of Japan must stay
Aloof from people day by day,
He's not allowed to walk the street
Or talk with strangers he may meet.
He's not allowed with friends to dine.
All invitations must decline,
And as the Son of Heaven must stay
Away from ordinary clay.

Though now and then I make mistakes,
And oft at night my body aches;
Though now and then long hours I sit
To talk with men of borrowed wit,
And tired I grow and sick of strife
And pray to know an easier life,
I'm glad I'm not the little man
Known as the Emperor of Japan.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

DEAD CHINAMEN

In "Out of the Night" Jan Valtin tells how once he discovered he was on the wrong ship by the presence of a dead Chinaman on board.

The communist agent at Shanghai boarded the President Wilson at night and hid himself in a lifeboat on the assumption that she would sail at dawn for her home port of San Francisco.

While exploring the after deck during the second night out from Shanghai he discovered a small tent containing a coffin with a Chinese corpse in it.

He concluded the President Wilson was sailing toward Hong Kong instead of San Francisco because Chinese are never carried from China to America for burial, while they are often carried from America to China for that purpose.

Many Chinese who die in foreign countries are removed to their homeland for burial because of their belief in ancestor worship.

They want to be reunited in death to their ancestral clan and to receive the reverence paid by descendants to ancestors twice a year.

As a rule Chinese who die in foreign lands are not sent to China at once, but are buried in ordinary cemeteries, where they often remain ten, twenty, or even thirty years before the bones are disinterred and shipped to China.

In normal times the bones of Chinese who have died in America and who have made requests to be sent back to their homeland are exhumed every ten years and shipped in large numbers by special arrangement with steamship companies.

The removal is made by the tong, clan or social organization to which the deceased belonged and all expenses are borne by the organization with funds raised by voluntary offerings.

Chinese are not supposed to be buried at sea and China has understandings with other nations whereby the bodies of Chinese who die on the ocean are kept on the ship in a coffin and returned to China by the next vessel. Coffins for this purpose are carried on most Pacific ships.

WAR GUEST SAYS YEAR IN CANADA TAUGHT HER LOT

Finds Sound Reason for Most Customs and Seeks to Explain Some Things They Do in England

By GLADYS ARNOLD

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa (CP) — The first time Mrs. C. saw a man in shirt-sleeves eating an ice-cream cone she thought it looked "sissy."

Today this Englishwoman who arrived in Canada little more than a year ago to remain for the duration of the war says she has changed her viewpoint.

"I've learned a lot of things during my year in Canada—chiefly that there's usually a perfectly sound reason for customs she said. "These hot days I've been only too glad to eat ice-cream cones and wear the equivalent of shirt-sleeves myself."

Mrs. C. has been in Ottawa with her children since July, 1940. She asked to be designated by the initial because she didn't "want to get in a controversy with any of my countrymen who might not share my views."

It Takes Time

Nothing can be more deceptive than to visit a country for a few weeks and then go home and pretend to be an authority on its customs or people, Mrs. C. thought. Usually only "differences" are observed, and not being understood, they look foolish. One must live under similar climatic conditions and be subjected to the same conditions of space, travel, communication and economy to understand why "people act the way they do."

Mrs. C. said she had heard people laugh about the eternal tea-drinking habit of Englishmen — minimum consumption in peacetime being "at least 11 cups a day."

"To see men solemnly filling all the tea-rooms in the afternoon looks strange to visitors sometimes, but when you live in England and know how the dampness gets into your bones, you know the reason." Even in summer, she said, one wants something to warm you up instead of "cool you down" as in Canada.

It's the Rain

Quite frank and unaffected in her comparisons of customs this English visitor said her own countrywomen were sometimes accused of looking a bit frumpy, of wearing heavy shoes and sacrificing 'line' to the wool industry. A London girl wouldn't dare put on the dainty footgear worn by Canadian girls because by noon a downpour could cost her half-a-week's salary.

"She can't afford to risk having them ruined the first time out, so she just buys a pair of good, solid, rain-proof brogues and tramps off in them rain or shine," said Mrs. C.

Another question which has aroused international discussion for half a century is the English muffler. In Canada, she has discovered, mufflers and Englishmen are regarded as inseparable.

"Yet they soon shed them here because of different weather conditions, you notice," she explained. "At home drafts have a knack of hitting you in the back of the neck. In winter raincoats and hats replace umbrellas and water has a habit of dripping into the back of your coat collar. So a muffler is as necessary as sickness insurance."

A year in Canada has been an invaluable experience in learning the reasons for hundreds of small details and differences which make Canadians Canadian, she said.

From being "amused and scoffing a bit" because to unaccustomed eyes many things in a new country look queer and illogical, "we soon find ourselves doing exactly the same thing and defending them hotly to newcomers making exactly the same remarks we did."

Put Donald Duck In War Services

Canada's Peace Tower and Other Ottawa Landmarks to Figure in Films

Ottawa (CP)—Donald Duck, the Three Little Pigs and the Seven Dwarfs—or a host of their contemporaries from the animal cartoons—will be pressed into service soon to aid Canada's war effort.

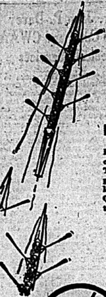
John Grierson, British film expert and a member of the National Film Board, disclosed several Hollywood-produced cartoons with Canadian backgrounds will be shown here in November to add impetus to the war savings certificates campaign.

Mr. Grierson said he visited Walt Disney, internationally - famous creator of animal cartoons, at Burbank, Calif., recently. He said Disney was willing to co-operate "100 per cent" in putting over the drive.

"He has since placed his entire studio at the disposal of the Canadian government together with the services of some 1,000 employees," Mr. Grierson said.

Ub Iwerks, technical supervisor at the Disney studios, and Robert Carr, chief of the educational technical film department at Burbank, arrived here by plane recently to obtain Canadian backgrounds for the cartoons. Drawings of Parliament Hill, the Peace Tower and the National War Memorial have been made and probably will be used in the cartoons.

Speaking of public reception to the Disney cartoons, Iwerks said the animal characters have as big a following among adults as among children. "So apparently there is little difference between the adult and child except in size," Iwerks said.



Henley

IS AWAY AHEAD

Real class—quality—that's what counts—and HENLEY has both. The smart red-and-gold pouch pack has class, but because it costs less, you have quality too—REAL QUALITY cigarettes, made with the very best Virginia tobacco.

It's out to win—cheer it on—

Try HENLEY today.

20 for 22¢
BENSON & HEDGES
Henley
CIGARETTES

Canada-U. S. Trade Boomed Both Ways In First Quarter

Exports and Imports Increase While Uncle Sam's Non - Military Shipments to Europe About Wiped Out

Ottawa, Aug. 27 (CP)—W. D. Wallace of the Canadian Trade Commissioner's office in New York reported to Ottawa that heavy increases have occurred in United States exports of war materials and so-called critical commodities but there have been "severe declines" in non-military exports and trade with continental Europe has been practically eliminated.

"The wars in Europe, Asia and Africa have increasingly determined the channels and characters of the foreign trade of the United States" he said. "Exporters have had to face obstacles resulting from increased diversion and requisitioning of shipping voluntary shipping priorities and gradually expanding government control over exports."

During the first three months of this year United States trade with Canada rose to $298,967,000 from $213,826,000 in the same period of 1940, and accounted for 12.7 per cent of total United States trade. United States exports to Canada increased from $133,603,000 to $194,912,000 while imports from Canada rose from $80,223,000 to $104,475,000.

U.S.-U.K. Trade

In the same period, total United States trade with the United Kingdom also increased, from $209,579,000 to $320,701,000. "Total foreign trade with Canada and the United Kingdom combined thus rose from $423,405,000 to $619,668,000, and accounted for 36.9 per cent of the total foreign trade of the United States," Mr. Wallace said.

The United Kingdom was far and away the United States' best customer in the three-month period under review, with Canada in second place and British South Africa third. Japan was fourth but while exports to the three leading countries showed substantial increases, exports to Japan declined 47.6 per cent from the corresponding 1940 period. U.S. exports to the British Empire accounted for 63 per cent of the grand total.

Canada shipped more goods to the United States than any other nation, with British Malaya in second place and Netherlands Indies third. Japan was well down in the list with shipments to the United States amounting to less than one-third of Canada's.

Principal exports from the United States during the three-month period (with percentage increase in value from same quarter of 1940 in brackets) were: aircraft, parts and accessories (86.1); automobiles, parts and accessories (2.1); power-driven metal-working machinery (5.2); firearms and ammunition (1,029); electrical machinery (3.9) and iron and steel excluding scrap (62).

GO 50 50 WITH OUR FIGHTING FORCES

LET'S WALK to the movies and . .

Save Gasoline

It's no hardship to walk or use a public conveyance when going to and from entertainments or visiting friends. But it is a real gasoline saver, particularly if you make it a regular part of your 50/50 Pledge programme. Yes, do as thousands of others are doing: walk more, drive less. Use your car only as a last resort and so help Canada's Fighting Forces.

REMEMBER: The slower you drive, the more you save!

Shortcuts to a 50% Gasoline Saving

(Approved by Automobile Experts)

Reduce driving speeds from 50 to 40 on the open road.
Avoid fast-rabbit starts.
Avoid useless or non-essential driving.
Turn motor off when not in use, do not leave idling.
Don't race your engine; let it warm up slowly.
Don't grind your engine; change gears.
Keep carburetor cleaned and properly adjusted.
Tune up motor, timing, etc.
Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. [illegible]

Spare and Share your Gasoline for VICTORY!

How to climb a 12-foot stone wall
answer: GET A LADDER WITH 12-RUNGS

● Perhaps the answer to your life insurance problem is just as simple as the one illustrated. If the annual premium on a policy adequate for your needs looks like a stone wall to you, get a ladder . . . take it in twelve easy steps . . . pay your premium in twelve small monthly amounts.

North American Life's new Budget Payment Plan is the modern, easy way to financial independence. This plan applies on any type of policy to suit your needs. Instead of paying a year's premium in advance, you pay only one month's premium. You won't have the bother of monthly payments because this service includes the acceptance of twelve post-dated checks. You get your insurance receipt each month automatically.

Send the coupon for folder telling how as little as $5 monthly will buy protection for your family and a guaranteed income for your own later years.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE

HEAD OFFICE: 112 King Street West, Toronto, Ont.

Please send me information about your special Budget Policy, together with free Pocket Memo Budget Booklet.

Name______________________________

Address______________________________114

DISTRICT OFFICE
208 EAST ROBERTSON BLOCK

Now, Isn't There A Canadian Sue?

U.S. Girl Writes Letters Mornings and Earns Postage in Afternoons

Oklahoma City (CP)—Sue Kennard spends her mornings writing to boys in the armed services and her afternoons working at a roadside cafe so she can buy more stamps to write more letters to more boys in the armed services.

So far Sue's mailing list is mostly in Uncle Sam's territory but maybe she wouldn't mind a few Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen for correspondents.

"I can't go to camp," said the 17-year-old, "and I really don't think I'd like being a nurse.

"But I like to write and get a thrill out of getting letters, so I choose to be a pen pal to the navy, the marines and the army."

Huff's Island

Huff's Island—Miss G. Nightingale, Belleville, spent the week end at Mr. T. Nightingale's.

Rev. E. N. Grant spent the dinner hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. Black.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Motley and Sylvia are spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. Jas. Mackenzie with her children leave on Wednesday to join her husband who is stationed at the R. C. A. F. training school at Prince Albert, Sask.

This week should see heavy pickings of tomatoes in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Barber, Marilyn and John are spending a few days in Toronto and during their absence, Mrs. Howard Walt is in charge.

PRISONERS GIVE HAND

Melbourne (CP)—Prisoners in a jail here are working overtime in the woollens mills and tailors' shops to help reduce the clothes shortage caused by the reduction of imports. Their wages are paid upon discharge.

Beaverbrook Says Production Of War Supplies in Canada On Far Larger Scale Than in 1914-18

London, Aug. 27—(CP Cable)—Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply, today said that Canada's production of war supplies is on a much larger scale now than during the last war and "it compares probably for population with any country in the world."

Commending the work of Hon. C. D. Howe, Canadian Supply Minister, Lord Beaverbrook said he "has his hand on the machine and he makes it go. He is a model to ministers of supply."

He disclosed at his press conference that Britain has a tank coming up to be called "the Coventry" and when asked if the idea behind it was to avenge Coventry he said "I hope so."

Nazi Terror in the Baltic

A letter to the Editor of the New York Sun.

SIR:—I have just arrived from Leningrad, passing through the terror-ruled lands of the Baltic States and Scandinavia with a message of the Russian and Baltic intellectuals to the American people; to extend their moral and military help as soon as possible. "Help, help us now any way you can," is the appeal of the Russians, Estonians, Letts, Lithuanians, Poles, Norwegians and Danes.

The horrors that I witnessed in the Nazi-conquered regions of the Baltic States and Russia surpass those of the Dark Ages. All the towns and rural regions so far overrun by the Nazi troops look like devastated roads of some wild barbarians, with houses and institutions burnt and people tortured and killed everywhere. That the civilized German people have become such vandalistic destroyers and mad murderers on the command of Nazi gangsters by acting as mere robots under the order of their haloed Hitler is a haunting shock.

Hitler will be crushed with his barbaric rule in his Russian campaign this Winter, even if he should succeed in capturing Leningrad and Moscow. To conquer Russia is not to seize its capitals, but to get the control of the vast Russian rural regions, which will never tolerate a Nazi rule.

Russia is not like France or other Nazi-seized lands of Europe, but a vast kind of continent—one-sixth of the world's territory—with 150,000,000 population, which neither the Tartars, Turks, Poles or the Napoleonic armies could conquer. The Russian rural regions, vast forests and racial spirit have remained unconquerable for a thousand years. Hitler's blitzkrieg method will not work in Russia. The Russians think that Hitler, with his deluded followers, should be seized as a mad murderer as soon as possible, with the help of the American people.

I am delivering my message of the Russian people and the Baltic nations to the American press, to act as soon as possible in helping to crush the crazy Nazi gang with its leaders.

P. RIMSKY-KORSAKOV,
West Cornwall, Conn., Aug. 12.

Woman's Husband Requests Exhumation

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 27—(CP)—Police said here last night that the body of 33-year-old Mrs. Olive Colby was exhumed recently for post-mortem examination because the woman's husband, a soldier serving overseas, requested a police investigation.

Mrs. Colby died at Denbigh, 70 miles north of here, last May 12 and the death certificate gave heart disease as the cause of death.

When Colby received word of his wife's death and its cause he at once wrote to the Ontario Attorney-General saying his wife never had suffered from heart disease and he was not satisfied that that was the cause of death.

The body was exhumed last Friday and Dr. E. R. Frankish, provincial medico-legal expert, performed the examination. The results of the examination have not been made known.

Centenary

Centenary—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hay, Mr. David Hubble, Mrs. Emily Tyler, Mrs. Hay Sr., and Archie of Rednersville, Mr. and Mrs. S. Westover, Mr. Bowers and Mrs. Harley Hubble, 3rd line and Miss Storms of Rednersville, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Hubble on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Holton, Mr. Charlie Holton, Mack and Bruce spent Sunday in Kingston, visiting with friends.

Miss M. Roblin left on Friday for Huntsville.

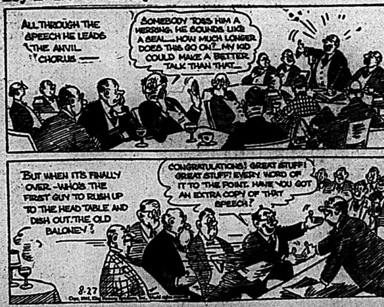
MOTHER RECOVERS SIGHT

Reading, England (CP)—Mrs. G. Pearsey, 48, totally blind for eight years and half blind for 25, fell two feet off a chair recently—and regained the use of both eyes. She had never seen her youngest child.

LOW HEELS A "MUST"

Leicester, England (CP)—New "national" footwear is not expected to be available until later this autumn, it was stated by a shoe manufacturer here recently. "Very high heels will not be obtainable in the proposed national ranges," he added.

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



ALL THROUGH THE SPEECH HE LEADS THE ANVIL CHORUS —
SOMEBODY TOSS HIM A HERRING, HE SOUNDS LIKE A SEAL... HOW MUCH LONGER DOES THIS GO ON?... MY KID COULD MAKE A BETTER TALK THAN THAT...
BUT WHEN IT'S FINALLY OVER — WHO'S THE FIRST GUY TO RUSH UP TO THE HEAD TABLE AND DISH OUT THE OLD BALONEY?
CONGRATULATIONS! GREAT STUFF! GREAT STUFF! EVERY WORD OF IT TO THE POINT. HAVE YOU GOT AN EXTRA COPY OF THAT SPEECH?
8-27

Cottrelle Predicts More Severe Control Of Gas Consumption

Toronto, Aug. 27 (CP) — George R. Cottrelle, Federal Oil Controller, told a group of automobile officials at a luncheon marking "Automotive Day" at the Canadian National Exhibition here, that of 27 tankers serving Canada before the outbreak of war, only eight were in service at the present time and that drivers of private vehicles could anticipate more stringent control of gasoline consumption so that the war needs of the nation could be fulfilled.

Mr. Cottrelle said he could give no assurance that the United States would make larger tanker tonnage available to Canada for other than war use.

He said that upon depletion of present gasoline stocks — possibly within a few weeks — motorists would be limited to two grades of gasoline "and they will have to choose which one they want." The grades which will be available will be gasoline of 75-78 octane rating and 66-70 octane rating.

Mr. Cottrelle said oil fields of the Turner Valley in Alberta could not serve the requirements of the West. He added that 1,500,000 barrels of gasoline were shipped from Ontario to Western Canada last year.

"We have done everything possible to increase production outside of financial aid," Mr. Cottrelle said.

I COULD DANCE WITH YOU FOREVER!

Now She Dances Like a Leaf in the Wind

. . . but then she's learned how to keep herself fit

A common obstacle to doing things well—whether at work or play—is a sluggish system. Thousands have it. They feel tired, listless—can't put their best foot forward.

Sluggish System Slows You Up
Do This to Help Prevent It

Sluggish system often results from a lack of bulk in the diet. Such cases should yield to Post's Bran Flakes. They provide natural bulk that keeps food wastes moving.

Try starting each day with crisp, appetizing Post's Bran Flakes. You'll love their fine, nut-like flavour. If this does not readily relieve the trouble, see a physician.

331

POST'S BRAND BRAN FLAKES WITH OTHER PARTS OF WHEAT

Post's Bran Flakes
I WOULDN'T MISS MY MORNING BOWL OF POST'S BRAN FLAKES FOR ANYTHING... THEY TASTE SIMPLY DELICIOUS AND THEY'RE SUCH A HELP IN KEEPING FIT!

PERSONALS

Mr. Leonard Fry is a patient in Hotel Dieu, Kingston.

Gunner Bernard Whalen, Gaspe, is home on a few days' leave.

Miss Maude Campbell and Miss Harrison are in Toronto, attending the Millinery Openings.

Mrs. Harry Gimblett of Oshawa, with her little daughter, Jean, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Burgess, Trent Road.

Miss Margaret Young, Bettes Street, is holidaying in Toronto, where she will visit the Canadian National Exhibition.

Mrs. T. H. Crosier, Forin Street, has just returned from Goderich, where she was visiting Squadron-Leader F. W. Ball and Mrs. Ball, (nee Athol Crosier).

Chief W. Lynch and Mrs. Lynch are in Peterborough, attending sessions of the annual convention of the Dominion Fire Chiefs' Association.

Mrs. E. Ransier is visiting in Oshawa, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sharpe.

Rev. Sister Mary Romana has returned to Kingston after visiting her brother, J. L. Mulligan, and Mrs. Mulligan.

Mrs. Frank M. Anderson and sons, Billy and John of Cleveland, O., who have been visiting in Kingston, are guests of Mrs. Anderson's father, Mr. A. Wallbridge before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan MacMullin have returned from Sydney, N.S., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald MacMullin. While in Saint John, they were the guests of Mrs. MacMullin's mother, Mrs. L. Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lent and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Chicago, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Lent and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lent have left for their home and will visit relatives in Toronto and Michigan, en route.

Mr. G. C. Pollard of Lexington, Ky., has returned home following a month's visit with his sister, Mrs. Stewart Collins, Cannifton Road.

Donald Whalen in training at Kitchener, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Whalen. He was accompanied by his two brothers as far as Toronto.

Mr. G. L. Johnson, Mrs. Johnson, Miss L. D. Johnson of Toronto, and Pilot Officer W. S. Johnson of Brandon, Man., have been enjoying a holiday at "White Fish Lodge", White Fish Lake, Algonquin Park.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenton of Rochester, and Mr. James Larkin and brother, Henry, spent Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. D. Whalen.

Aircraftman Fred Rogers of No. 11, S.F.T.S., Yorkton, Sask., is home on 14 days' leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Rogers, Cedar Street.

Weddings

FOX—FINNEMORE

The marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon at three-thirty by Rev. J. D. P. Knox, at 104 West Moira Street, of Mary Kathleen Finnemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Finnemore, Prince Edward County and John Edward Fox of Prince Edward County, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fox. The bride who was unattended wore a blue street length frock with matching accessories.

TUFTS—ROBERTSON

Roslin, (Special)—The Manse was the scene of a quiet wedding on Saturday evening, August 23, when Rev. J. W. MacDonald united in marriage Bessie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Robertson and Arthur Herman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo E. Tufts. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vance of Roslin.

NUNN—STORR

At Bridge Street United Church parsonage, Belleville, on Saturday August 23, at eleven o'clock, a quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized by Flt.-Lt. Rev. G. W. Porter when Ruby Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Storr, Selby, was married to John Thomas Nunn of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nunn, Belleville, in the presence of both families.

The bride looked lovely in a redingote costume of Alpaca sheer street length, in the new Venetian blue with white accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Leola Storr, sister of the bride, wore rose sheer, with white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. George Nunn of Toronto.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests gathered at the Queen's Hotel, where a delicious dinner was served.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for their home in Toronto.

GUNSOLUS—WARD

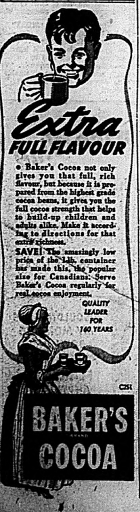
A quiet wedding took place on Saturday evening at eight-thirty o'clock, when Bridget Olga, eldest daughter of E. J. Ward, Tweed, became the bride of Daniel Foster Gunsolus, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gunsolus, Belleville. Rev. J. D. P. Knox officiated.

The bride looked charming in a street length dress of rose lace with blue accessories and corsage of roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Ray Langton, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore a street length dress of navy with white accessories and a corsage of sweet peas and baby's breath. Mr. Ray Langton supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. A Gunsolus, 24 North Front Street.

The happy couple will take up residence on College Street, Belleville.



• Baker's Cocoa not only gives you that full, rich flavour, but because it is prepared from the highest grade cocoa beans, it gives you the full cocoa strength that helps to build-up children and adults alike. Make it according to directions for that extra richness.

SAVE! The amazingly low price of the 1-lb. container has made this, the popular size for Canadians. Serve Baker's Cocoa regularly for real cocoa enjoyment.

Nellie Smith

Invites You

TO VIEW

HER NEW SELECTION OF

FALL DRESSES

NOW ON DISPLAY

Nellie Smith

KRESGE BLDG.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Shall She Return His Ring?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I went steady with a young man before he was called to service. We became engaged and expected to marry before he left, but decided to wait. He gave me a ring and he has been gone six months.

I missed him a great deal at first, and still do, but I wonder if I really love him. I go out with other boys and tell him about some of my dates, but not all. I wear his ring sometimes.

Do you think I ought to return his ring or would it be unkind to do this? I really don't want to hurt him. He is out of the state, and may change also. Sometimes I feel as if I like someone else better.

Is it right for an engaged girl to go out with other boys? Some say I ought to be ashamed; others are more broad-minded. Please advise me, as I don't I know what to do.

Worried.

If there are times when you feel you like someone better than your absent fiance, whether it hurts him or not, it would be the square thing to let him know this and give him back his ring. I think yours was a case of being more in love with love than with this young draftee. That often happens.

Shall She Give Him a Photograph?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My boy friend and I are in the same class at school. He has taken me out many times; has given me gifts. Would it be all right if I gave him a photograph of myself for his birthday or for Christmas? He has asked several times for my picture.

Wondering

It will be all right to give the boy a photograph since you're classmates and seem to have a genuine friendship for each other.

Perhaps I'm a trifle straight-laced about the promiscuous handing out of photographs to which some girls yield. When I was a schoolgirl of 15, I happened to be visiting in a home where there was about to be a big wedding reception. The son of the house had been married a couple of weeks before and his mother was having a party for the newlyweds.

There was a hasty call over the telephone and the young man said, "For goodness sake, mother, go through the bottom drawer of my bureau, the old wardrobe in the back hall and that packing case in the woodshed, and burn up all those photographs". The young man was very handsome and attractive and had amassed a tremendous collection of girls' pictures.

Snapshots are always O.K. but unless you're pretty sure the young man is serious and does not just collect girls' pictures for the sake of having a collection, better be a little slow about handing out yours.

Mother Nags Her to Elope to Avoid Wedding Expense

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm 19 years old and employed, but make only $8.00 a week doing office work which I enjoy. When I first started, my mother said I needn't give her any, but now she's nagging me for some money, which I know she doesn't need. My father makes enough money; we own our home and have everything we want. In fact, it wouldn't be necessary for me to work at all, but I'm glad to get away from the nagging.

Now she's worrying me to get married. I've gone with a nice young man for a year and a half. My parents like him and his parents like me, but we can't marry yet as he has to help support his family, his father being ill at present. We want to announce our engagement at Christmas and then save money for our marriage. My mother wants me to elope, as my older brother did, so she won't have the expense of a big wedding, which she can well afford.

I don't know how long I can stand the nagging, and I can't afford to leave home either. My boy friend said he'd rather we'd marry and go into debt than allow me to leave my home and board out. What shall I do?

E. C.

Some mothers never realize their daughters have grown up. As you expect to be married in the not distant future, I should think your mother would be glad to let you save your pay envelope to help you furnish your house and buy your wedding clothes. That seems the logical thing for a mother to do under the circumstances you relate.

I wouldn't elope, if I were you. If your mother is unwilling to give you a home wedding, just put on your best dress and ask a few of your closest friends to go to the clergyman's house where the ceremony can be performed openly, decently and above board.

VERY CRITICAL OF INVASION

Berlin, Aug. 27—(AP)—Karl Megerle in an editorial today in Berliner Boersen Zeitung called the Russian-British invasion of Iran "a classical case of brutal attack on a neutral state which has done nothing to prevent war and respect the interests of third parties and dedicated itself entirely toward peaceful internal reconstruction."

YOU CAN ECONOMIZE ON FOOD

without stinting on flavour

IF YOU want to go gaily on your way, cutting costs in kitchen expenses, you will find your best helper in a bottle of H. P. Sauce. Here is an unusually good sauce which gives added flavour to cheaper cuts of meat and will come to your rescue when you plan meals with an eye to economy. Take stews for instance—and meat pies, macaroni, salmon and meat loaf, fresh and cured sausage and so on. These and many other low-cost foods are eaten with great relish when the flavour is improved with H. P. Sauce. Try this famous sauce for one week. Use it in your cooking; serve it at the table; add it to salads and sandwiches. You can always count on this thick, fruity sauce from England to help you economise without stinting on flavour.

Camping Trip Made by Canoe

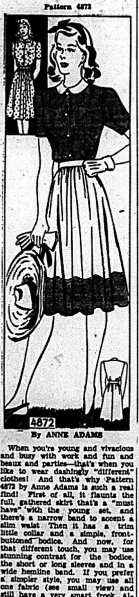
Using the Indian's time honored method of travel, seven Toronto youths this week began on the return leg of a month long camping trip and have started on a 150-mile canoe trip from Campbellford back to the Queen City.

The boys, all members of the Scarboro Canoe Club, have for the past week been camping on the Trent River about a mile below Campbellford. They left Toronto on July 27 and with five canoes followed the shore line of Lake Ontario east as far as the Bay of Quinte and then through the Murray Canal and up the Trent River.

The leader of the group and oldest of the boys is Reid Scott, who last year paddled as far north as Georgian Bay. He belongs to Toronto's 31st Boy Scout Troop. They have no set rules about eating and sleeping but the expenses of the holiday were divided evenly among the group each taking twenty dollars with them for the trip. Among the group are several ardent fishermen who reported the luck "just fair". They have caught one lunge weighing six pounds and have had very good luck at bass, the largest being about three pounds.

Young Mode Has Contrast News

Pattern 4872



By ANNE ADAMS

When you're young and vivacious and busy with work and fun and beaux and parties—that's when you like to wear dashingly "different" clothes! And that's why Pattern 4872 by Anne Adams is such a real find! First of all, it flaunts the full, gathered skirt that's a "must have" with the young set, and there's a narrow band to accent a slim waist. Then it has a trim little collar and a simple, front-buttoned bodice. And now, for that different touch, you may use stunning contrast for the bodice, the short or long sleeves and in a wide hemline band. If you prefer a simpler style, you may use all one fabric (see small view) and still have a very smart frock. Altogether, an indispensable style!

Pattern 4872 is available in junior miss sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18. Size 13 takes 2 1-2 yards 35-inch fabric and 2 1-8 yards contrast.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Dr. Jean P. Davey To Command CWAAF Medical Services

Second Canadian woman to be commissioned in the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force, Dr. Jean P. Davey, of Toronto, has been appointed as C.W.A.A.F. officer attached to the staff of the Director of Medical Services, the Air Ministry has announced. Dr. Davey will carry the rank of Flight Officer.

General supervision of the health of the airwomen will be the main occupation of Flight Officer Davey. Pending active recruiting for the service, she will be responsible for the preparation and delivery of lectures in hygiene and medicine to 150 women attending the preliminary instructional course at Toronto in October. She will attend the course. These women will subsequently be appointed as officers and non-commissioned officers of the C.W.A.A.F.

Flight Officer Davey was born in Hamilton, Ontario, thirty years ago. She graduated from the University of Toronto in arts in 1933 and three years later won her "M.D." at the same institution. Following two years as interne at the Toronto General Hospital and a year as resident in medicine at the Women's College Hospital, Toronto, she served as medical advisor for women at the University of Toronto. Her father, Dr. J. E. Davey, now medical health officer at Hamilton served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps as Lieutenant-Colonel.

One Woman's Job Is Camp Queries

Knows the Answers About Military Life and Tells Anxious Wives and Mothers

Washington, Aug. 27—(CP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, wife of the publisher of the Houston Post, has one of the biggest women's jobs in Uncle Sam's defence program.

As head of the Women's Division of the Army's Bureau of Public Relations she has tackled the tall task of answering questions of American wives and mothers about the food, health and recreation of the boys in camps.

Mrs. Hobby who is the executive vice-president of the Houston Post, an active radio executive, a lawyer and mother, is bringing her past experience to play in her new job. Her office in the Munitions Building in Washington will answer women's letters and prepare press releases on army news of interest to them. She also is said to have lined up a radio program to give news of the camps.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, August 28

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

AN EVENTFUL and surprising day is presaged by the interesting lunar and mutual configurations. An element of the curious, subtle, and unfathomable seems at the root of distinctly thrilling, intriguing and successful adventures, in which public issues of recognition is at stake. These may be major projects in which rich and powerful bodies or personages figure both openly and directly as well in a rather concealed or silent mode of co-operation. Constructive ideas and objectives should be advanced by hidden forces or faculties, shrewdly utilized.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year in which unknown, subtle or singular forces and faculties may be cunningly utilized to advance projects of major importance to the public or influential bodies of wealth and power. Intrigue, cleverly organized strategy, inspired or intuitional factors figure with determination and effect. Unusual ideas and ideals practically applied, as well as logic and sound methods, should prove winners, creating progress and pleasure.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents, with shrewd insight as well as idealistic impulses, all constructively allied to make an intriguing, progressive and pleasant life.

New under-arm Cream Deodorant safely Stops Perspiration

1. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts. Does not irritate skin.
2. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.
3. Instantly stops perspiration for 1 to 3 days. Removes odor from perspiration.
4. A pure, white, greaseless, stainless vanishing cream.
5. Arrid has been awarded the Approval Seal of the American Institute of Laundering for being harmless to fabrics

Arrid is the LARGEST SELLING DEODORANT. Try a jar today!

ARRID

39¢ a jar

At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 15¢ and 59¢ jars)

"I CAN'T HELP BEING PROUD THE WAY FOLKS ENVY MY SUNLIGHT WASHES!"
OVERHEARD JIM'S BROTHER ENVYING HIM HIS SPOTLESS WHITE SHIRTS. JIM TOLD HIM I USED SUNLIGHT.
I'VE WASHED MY OLD CHINTZES AGAIN WITH SUNLIGHT. THEY LOOK SO BRIGHT THE NEIGHBOURS THINK THEY'RE NEW!
YOUR WASH ALWAYS SMELLS FRESH AND SWEET" REMARKED A FRIEND. "THAT'S SUNLIGHT," I TOLD HER.
SUNLIGHT SOAP
A Lever product

You, too, will be proud of your wash when you use Sunlight. Clothes washed with Sunlight are naturally whiter and brighter, have a natural fresh, sweet smell. Sunlight contains no harmful adulterants. It's all-pure—thrifty and safe for all washables. Get Sunlight at your store today.

FOR WHITENESS AND NATURAL BRIGHTNESS—it's all-PURE soap

Home Service

Dream May Guide You to Solving a Problem

Even Silly Ones Are Revealing

An idiotic dream!

It seems that in his kitchen, frying bacon and eggs, was a man from the office whom he disliked. Though he protested, his visitor just laughed confidently and presented the platter to the dreamer's wife who said, "Bacon is sweet and so are you."

It sounds silly enough, but any psychologist will tell you that your silliest dream may contain the clue to inner conflicts, conflicts you may not realize.

Perhaps you, like this man, suffer from a fear of competition. In his dream, his subconscious wove a revealing drama based on the common phrase, "Bring home the bacon." He feared other men were better able than he to hold his wife's affection and to provide for her.

Your subconscious may also use common objects or images as symbols of your secret emotions. A dream of a screen hints you're making excuses for yourself; a dark place symbolizes marriage. Or do you dream of prison, snakes, music, a burning house?

Our 32-page booklet scientifically explains many common dreams and dream symbols, helps you understand their relation to your problems. Discusses sex dreams, dreams that come true.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of THE MEANING OF DREAMS to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Leonard H. Millard New Deputy Warden

Kingston, Ont, Aug. 27—(CP)—Chief Clerk Leonard H. Millard has been appointed Deputy Warden of Kingston Penitentiary, it was announced. He succeeds the late George Sullivan, and has already assumed his new duties.

The new Deputy Warden joined the staff of the Penitentiary in 1921 as a guard, being appointed chief clerk in 1933. He served Overseas in the First Great War with a machine-gun unit. He is married and has two children.

Prison clerk stenographer Sydney Davidson has been appointed chief clerk.

Feminine Curves A Real Headache For Army Doctors

By GLADYS ARNOLD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Aug. 27—(CP)—Those feminine curves may be fine in their place but on the word of army doctors they were primarily a headache when it came to drawing up the physical standards for the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

"The worst headache of all was deciding about chest measurements," said one male officer of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps today.

"We worked day and night trying to draw up a suitable scale and after about 15 trials decided that chest measurements won't be taken or recorded."

Regulations and physical standards for women recruits have been drawn up now. And one thing they disclose is that women who are overweight will have to diet if they want to be accepted.

Minimum Height Is Five Feet

Minimum height set for women recruits is five feet; minimum weight 105 pounds. The scale of weights is taken from insurance charts on the basis of height and age of the applicant.

"Any woman 10 pounds under or over the weight she should be for her height just can't be accepted," the R.C.A.M.C. doctor said.

He said women doctors will be asked to examine prospective C.W.A.C. recruits whenever possible. Provision was being made for special inspection rooms with a nurse in attendance.

Hospital accommodation in army camps already was at a premium so there was not likely to be any room for women. Civilian hospital space would in all probability be used for women whenever the need arose.

The doctor said many applications are being received by army officials, but "it's going to be hard to get anybody to domestic work."

"All the women want to be chauffeurs and use the mechanical courses they took last winter," he said.

"V" is Victor With Fashions

Has Become Popular Trend in Dress Gadgets, Ornaments and Accessories

New York, Aug. 27—(CP)—The V is victorious in fashion, anyway.

Aside from stunts such as hairdos and painted motifs on arms and legs, the V theme is playing a functional part in fashion design.

Stripes and plaids, well-liked this season, spell a bold V in bias-cut dresses and coats. Many new hats, both American and British, blatantly depict the theme as a morale booster, while others take advantage of the pleasing motif for subtle, wearable line or trim. Gloves, purses and even shoes follow suit.

In the novelty lines, countless gadgets such as vanities, eye glasses, scarfs, and clips, pins and jewels, bear testimony to the popular acceptance of the V theme. Innumerable buttons parading the symbol in outline or super-imposed upon a disc are reported selling well.

People seem, unconsciously or not, to be making V formations. Stylists report the V theme has been accepted to a point where, in their belief, it will continue in unexpected ways for a reasonably long time.

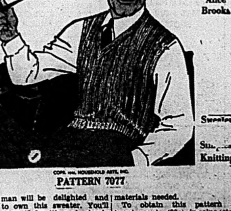
FAVORS CANADA'S DECISION

Buenos Aires, Aug. 27—(CP Cable)—The foreign ministry looks with favor upon Canada's decision to send W. F. A. Turgeon, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan, here as the Dominion's First Minister to Argentina, it was announced today. A reply to that effect has been sent to Ottawa.

Pablo Santos Munoz was recently designated as the First Argentine Minister to Ottawa.

Please Him with Hand Knit Sweater

Household Arts by Alice Brooks



COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 7077

Any man will be delighted and proud to own this sweater. You'll love making it for it's such simple knitting. Make it for that boy who's in service. Pattern 7077 contains instructions for making sweater with or without sleeves in a small, medium and large size; illustrations of it and of stitches; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

MACHINE SHOPS BY SCORES TIED TO WAR PROGRAM

Maximum Possible Use to be Made of Equipment and Skilled Labor

PLAN FORMULATED

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Aug. 27 (CP)— Scores of machine shops across Canada, hitherto maintained for the private use of industrial concerns, are being tied into Canada's industrial war program under a plan formulated by the Wartime Bureau of Technical Personnel in the Department of Labor.

The pulp and paper, mining, public utilities and petroleum industries have already organised themselves to place their shops at the disposal of the national's war effort in one or more of the following ways:

Accepting sub-contracts for the manufacture of machine parts for war industries;

Providing facilities for training of skilled tradesmen for the armed services or for employment in war industry;

Maintenance and repair of army vehicles and other equipment in connection with trade training.

Maximum Possible Use

The organization of other industries in the same way is in progress, all with the object of making the maximum possible use of the equipment and skilled manpower available in Canada.

The organization set up for the public utilities industry may be taken as typical of those set up or contemplated for others. It is called the "public utilities wartime workshop board."

Its membership includes representatives of telephone, electric light and street railway companies, all organizations which maintain large and efficient workshops for the servicing of their own equipment, trucks, buses, street cars which in the ordinary course of operation never service any outside equipment.

The Board's training program contemplates the assignment of soldiers to shops of member companies to receive practical training as driver mechanics, electricians, fitters, mechanics and turneqs. During training the soldiers will be in uniform and draw army pay and allowances.

With each group of soldiers assigned to a shop it is expected the army will send a truck or other vehicle which needs complete overhaul. Thus the men will be able to use the shop equipment under the supervision of the regular shop staff and thus carry on army maintenance work while learning their trades.

The manufacturing program undertaken by Public Utilities Wartime Workshop Board contemplates acceptance of sub-contracts from companies engaged in war production for the manufacture of machine parts, particularly those which tend to form bottlenecks in munition-producing industries.

The work will be done either on a fixed price or cost plus basis. On all work the board will collect a levy on the invoiced value of the goods dedlivered to defray administration costs. For the time being the levy is fixed at five per cent.

Civilian Training Program

In addition to the army training and manufacturing activities the public utilities industries represented on the board have a civilian training program. They are training a number of civilians in their shops in addition to the number they would ordinarily train for their own future staff requirements.

The Canadian Pulp and Paper Association has organized its own Wartime Machine Shop Board which is primarily concerned with manufacturing on a sub-contract basis.

This industry however, is also co-operating in army training and at least one company has taken a number of troops into the bush to give them practical experience in operation of heavy tractors, in hauling operations and the servicing of Diesel engines.

Mines and War Industry

The large mining companies are turning their workshops maintained for the servicing of mining machinery, to the task of supplying parts for the war industry and the training of civilian workers.

The petroleum industry plan contemplates the training of army tradesmen as well as manufacturing of parts on sub-contracts.

Shops to which soldiers are assigned for trade training are provided with the army syllabus and a statement of qualifications required for passing army trade tests. At completion of a training course in a plant, which may take up to three months, the trainees are given a test.

PUSHING HIS CAR AWAY

Columbus, O., Aug. 27 (AP)—Two men pushing a stalled automobile asked C. W. Heaton to help them. Instead, he called police who booked the pair on a suspicious person charge.

The automobile belonged to Heaton.

Mission Buildings Destroyed by Japs

Chungking, China, Aug. 27—(AP) The Chinese Central Press reported today that buildings of a North American Mission—possibly the Methodist Missionary Society—had been destroyed by Japanese planes in a raid Sunday on Changsha, capital of Hunan Province.

TOP GENERALS MEET AT SEA

A picture just received in the United States showing General George Marshall, LEFT, chief of staff of the United States army, chatting with the number one soldier of England, Sir John Dill. The photo was made aboard a battleship during the historic Roosevelt-Churchill conferences at sea.

Fifteen Hundred Miles In an Open Boat

By an Officer of the R.N.V.R.

in the London Listener

I was travelling as a passenger on a British liner when she was attacked by an enemy armed merchant cruiser one morning about 8 o'clock. She was shelled for a little over one hour and received several direct hits and near misses.

We were ordered to take to the boats at nine-twenty. My own lifeboat was successfully lowered and got away before the raider sank the ship; and after picking up persons from several rafts, there were 64 Indians and 18 Europeans, a total of 82 persons, in a lifeboat designed to hold 58. A considerable amount of water was leaking into the boat and we had to bale frantically throughout the first day and night.

Next morning we discussed our position. We decided to try to make for the African coast and hoisted the mainsail, but found it quite impossible to go in an easterly direction as the boat would not sail into the wind, so we had no alternative but to try for the coast of Brazil, which we estimated to be 1,200 miles away.

We then found that much of the water was coming in through holes made by shell splinters. We managed to plug these with bits of blanket and to nail pieces of tin over them. This made a great difference, and although we had to bail throughout the voyage, it was not such hard and continuous work as before.

We found that we had about 16 gallons of water, 48 tins of condensed milk, and two tins of biscuits. As we estimated it would take 24 days to reach Brazil we worked out that we could only have a third of a dipper of water each per day (that is a little less than an eggcupful) two tins of milk divided and one biscuit each. One tin of milk was used at sunrise by dipping a spoon made from boxwood into the milk and then cleaning it on the palm of each man in turn . With a little practice is was soon possible to divide a tin of milk accurately and fairly between the 82 persons.

The biscuit was issued at sundown followed by the water ration. After about 10 days we had several storms and were able to catch some rainwater which permitted an increase in the water ration to about an eggcupful, and later still it was possible to double the water ration as more water was caught and the number in the boat decreased. After the second day most of us found we were unable to swallow our daily biscuit and had only milk and water, until later in the voyage we soaked biscuits in rainwater which was too brackish to drink and so made them moist.

The heat during the day was terrible and we suffered greatly from thirst. Some of the men sucked buttons which made them feel less thirsty. It is strange that we at no time felt really hungry. Quite a number of the Indians drank salt water during the first few days, and, despite my warnings, continued to do so, but it was not after about 10 days that it affected them and they eventually died.

During the first week we saw four ships and made frantic efforts to attract their attention by burning flares, but with no success. During our twenty-three days afloat we saw altogether seven ships.

We were soon all covered with salt water sores and boils and later many abcesses, and those were greatly aggravated by the crowded conditions and the constant rolling of the boat, which threw us against each other. It was also impossible to sit, lie or even stand in comfort, owing to overcrowding, and we used to take it in turn to lie down for an hour at a time on a thwart cleared for the purpose. After about ten days the hardship and privation began to tell, and each day three or four persons died.

We had no charts and our only aid to navigation was a compass, but we usually steered by sun or stars. At noon each day the three officers who had a knowledge of novigation conferred and estimated our latitude and longitude, and also average speed and distance run. Our navigation was not a great deal out, for we sighted land when we expected to and were only two degrees of latitude and three of longitude out after travelling 1,535 miles in twenty-three days.

On the day before we saw land I wrote in my diary: "We expect to see land any time now."

Our first intimation that we were near land was the "earthy" land smell which came with the slight breeze at dawn on the Tuesday three weeks after the sinking, and when it got light enough, we were able to see that the sea was a shore green instead of deep sea blue. We were very excited, especially when we saw pieces of driftwood, which made us think we were off the mouth of a large river.

At 11.40 we sighted long, low sandhills, and at three o'clock were close to a flat beach, but as there was such a heavy surf a landing was out of the question, for the waters were shark-infested, we were very weak, and the boat would never have got through.

We saw a lighthouse and kept this in sight all night, but at daylight next morning there was no sight of land, so we altered course to S.S.W. and eventually sighted land again at noon, and by four o'clock we were close into the shore in a small bay. We grounded in about two feet of water some 250 yards out, and I gave the order for everyone to get ashore as best he could.

With the help of another officer I threw overboard everything from the lifeboat that would float and which might be useful for building a camp, and then, carrying the ship's bag containing the papers and valuables of the men who had died, the two revolvers, the last of the first-aid gear, the few remaining matches, the ship's lamp, a can of oil, and the only remaining baling tin, we set off ourselves to wade ashore.

It took a very long time, for we could only shuffle along a few yards at a time and then stop to rest. The other men got ashore in small groups, some helping each other by holding hands or arms round waists and others crawled on their hands and knees, for the water was quite shallow.

It was nearly dusk when we all got ashore and we walked up to the scrub-covered sandhills and built a fire and boiled some water from a pool for drinking and then scooped holes in the sand and lay down.

Early the next morning we met some fishermen who fed us with native farinha—a meal made from mandioca roots and boiled fish. Never has food tasted so good.

Later in the morning a horseman passed and we gave him a written message addressed to "anyone speaking English." This eventually reached the police and British vice-consul in Sao Luis de Maranhao, a very old city in North Brazil, and they sent assistance. We eventually reached Sao Luis and went to hospital.

Of the 82 persons who were originally in the lifeboat, 13 Europeans and 25 natives survived.

NOTE: To this dramatic story the Editor of the Listener adds: Further steps are being taken to increase the safety and comfort of occupants of lifeboats and rafts. These measures include the provision of an automatic wireless set capable of sending out distress signals by an unskilled person, increased supplies of water and more varied and nutritious foods, oil for massaging feet and legs (this is very important), protection for the occupants of rafts to prevent their being washed off, and the provision of a hand pump to keep ships' boats as dry as possible. All these will soon be made compulsory equipment.

Albury

Albury—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Weese, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Weese, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walkom, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Onderdonk spent the tea hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Onderdonk.

The Past Worthy Matrons' Club met at the home of Mrs. Clifford Peck on Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance. The President, Mrs. Harry Peck, took charge of the meeting. The afternoon was spent in playing euchre. A dainty lunch was served. Mrs. Hugh Weese, Mrs. Beuford Peck assisted the hostess.

The Albury Ladies' Aid held a cake and ice cream social at the church on Wednesday evening. Proceeds cleared $21.13. The program was put on by the R.C.A.F. of Mountain View.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walkom spent the tea hour on Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Beuford Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickie of Hamilton, spent a week with their son, Mr. Alec Dickie.

Mrs. E. LaBarr spent Wednesday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Peck.

Diane and Carroll Bonter are spending a few days with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevenson, Wellington.

Rev. and Mrs. G. Roland and family of Port Hope are spending a few days with their relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peck, Mrs. L. Cary spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bellyou.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williamson and Ronald accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Young and Evelyn to Ivy Lea on Sunday.

Mrs. W. C. Dempsey of Toronto spent a few days with Mrs. R. Onderdonk.

Roslin

Roslin—Dr. J. D. Empson and Mrs. Empson spent several days last week at Salmon Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. French and little daughter of New Jersey spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. H. Sayers.

Mr. Wannamaker's threshing machine is making the rounds of this neighborhood again.

Mrs. H. B. Wilson spent the week end with Mrs. Clapsaddle.

Mrs. R. Clare spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Clare of Thurlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coulter spent the dinner hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. Gillespie.

Mrs. W. Alford entertained a few friends at a quilting at her home on Tuesday.

Miss Annie Stirk has returned to her home in Ottawa.

Mrs. Fraser with her children of Point Anne, visited recently at the home of her sister Mrs. J. Hart.

Mrs. H. Sayers entertained a few friends and neighbors at her home on Wednesday. During the day the ladies quilted a quilt.

Marmora

Marmora—Mr. Jack Hickey of Peterborough spent the week end with relatives here.

Mrs. J. Hatch and family of Belleville visited friends here on Sunday.

Born—In Oshawa General Hospital, on Wednesday, August 20th to Mr. and Mrs. Murvis Jones, a daughter.

Born—On Wednesday, Aug. 20th, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Belanger, a daughter.

Tweed Salvation Army Band held open air services on Forsythe St. on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. McColl have moved into the residence, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Darrah.

Miss Dorothy Gray of Belleville is spending a week's vacation at Deloro with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Manley Lavender and daughter, Anne, and son Dean, visited relatives at Glanmire on Sunday.

A former resident, Private Don Conley, who is stationed at Petawawa Camp, renewed acquaintances here on Monday.

Mesdames E. Rose, C. Nichol and A. Smith and Mr. G. W. Steenburgh visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Henderson at Woodlawn over the weekend.

SNOWPLOW USED ON ROADS

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 27 (AP)—A hailstorm of such intensity that a snowplow was called into service to open the Denver highway struck north of here last night. Hailstones piled up from eight to 10 inches deep on a nine-mile stretch. A few flakes of snow fell with the hail.

Bancroft Youth Hit by a Truck

Campbellford, Ont., Aug. 27.—(CP)—Struck by a heavy gasoline truck while crossing the road on Highway No. 30 near Woodland cheese factory, six-year-old Everett Brinklow of Bancroft, was taken to Peterborough hospital, where his condition is said to be critical. The lad was visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baker and was returning with the mail when the accident happened. He suffered a broken leg and serious head injuries. Dr. H. B. Longmore of Campbellford, rendered First Aid. Richard Dowpey of Belleville, driver of the truck, did all in his power to avoid the accident, according to Provincial Constable Donald Carruthers, who investigated.

Address on Patriotism Feature of Program At Ice Cream Social

Burrs—The ice cream social sponsored by the Allisonville Unit of the W. E. C. held on Tuesday evening at the Orange Hall was a decided success. An interesting and entertaining program followed the serving of cake and ice cream. The Margetson trio of Melville were heard in two musical numbers. Mrs. Geo. Valleau, Melville, favored with a humorous reading, Miss Pauline Burr sang an amusing song.

Rev. Gifford, Consecon, gave an address on "Patriotism", choosing Winston Churchill as being a living example of the word and telling many of his characteristics, exploits and glimpses from his family life. He has a mind of his own which is exemplified in the fact that he has changed political parties eight times. An added pleasure was the presence of Geo. Tustin, M. P., Prince Edward-Lennox who was heard in a brief address on the "Value of the work being carried on by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Tom Alexander, 3rd concession Hillier, donated a quilt on which tickets were sold. Little Miss Marlyn Maxwell, Bowermans, drew for the lucky ticket which showed Mrs. C. Cassidy, Hillier, to be the winner of the lovely quilt. Mrs. Garfield French, Melville, presided at the piano and Mr. Chas. Kinnear, Melville acted as chairman. Proceeds at the door amounted to $38.65 while $14.95 was realized from sale of tickets on quilt.

Members of Burrs W. A. enjoyed the hospitality of Crofton W.A. ladies when they were entertained at an afternoon tea and social time at Crofton Hall on Thursday afternoon. Other guests included members from Doxsees, Mount Pleasant and Bowermans.

Mrs. Geo. Huffman and Mrs. J. E. Moran in company with Miss Lily Anderson, Mrs. Ben Anderson and Mrs. Stanley Valleau were Wednesday afternoon callers at Mr. and Mrs. Russell Campbell's, Hillier.

Mrs. Martin Foster, Northport, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Frank Burkitt during the past week. Miss Marie Foster was a recent guest at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vincent spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Adams, Ameliasburg, were Sunday guests at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osterhout's.

Friends and former neighbors were saddened to hear of the passing of the late Mrs. Sam Adams at Brighton.

Several from this vicinity attended her funeral at Ameliasburg United Church on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lough, Mountain View, visited Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lough on Sunday.

Mr. William Way was a Sunday caller at Mr. Stillman Mastin's.

Mrs. Taylor has returned home after spending some time with Mrs. Harold Regensburg, Belleville.

Mr. Clarence Vincent has been assisting laying roofing with Mr. Will Adams, Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burr visited Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Munro, Crofton, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Don Munro were guests at the same home. Mr. Don Munro has enlisted in the R. C. A. F. and is at present stationed at Mountain View Airport.

Tomato picking and tomato canning are the popular occupation of the day. Several from this neighborhood are assisting at the Sprague Canning Co., Mountain View.

Mrs. J. E. Moran returned to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Spencer's, Centre, on Sunday after being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Huffman for several days.

Cpl. and Mrs. Will Soble, Peterboro, were Saturday night guests at Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Burrs', returning to their home on Sunday. Mr. Rodney Burr returned to his home after being their guest for the past week.

Miss Hilda Morton, Miss Jean Morton, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Mr. Douglas Harns and Mr. Ronald Burr were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Cochrane, Peterboro.

Mr. Floyd Huffman motored to Whitby on Sunday.

Russian Aviator Rams Second Nazi

Moscow, Aug. 27 —(AP)— A Russian flier named Kharitonov, recently acclaimed hero of the Soviet Union for bringing down a German plane by ramming it with his own fighter, was reported today to have downed a second Nazi plane by the same method.

(The dispatch did not indicate whether Krahitonov survived the second ramming.)

Allan Mills

Allan Mills—Miss Vera McInroy of Peterboro is visiting Mrs. H. Haselett and Mrs. M. McInroy.

Misses Dorothy McInroy of Peterboro and Irene Preston of Sine are holidaying with Edna McComb.

Over 40 attended the pot luck dinner held on Tuesday at St. Mark's Church. In the afternoon two quilts were quilted for the Red Cross. Mrs. Geo. Eastwood, convener for Ward 6, took charge of the meeting.

A dance sponsored by L.O.L. No. 2322 of Petherick's Corners was held on Friday evening. A splendid time was enjoyed and a good crowd attended.

The sympathy of the neighbors goes out to Mrs. Frank Dorie in her recent sad bereavement of the death of her father, the late Edward Carr at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro, on Saturday evening. After a short illness at the age of 69. The funeral was held from his late residence in Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kidd of Belleville have returned home after spending a two weeks' holiday at their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and children of Toronto, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holden at "Holdenourown."

Mr. and Mrs. R. Scott and daughter, Donna Jean, of Alliance, Ohio, have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott for the past week.

Mr. Kenneth Allan has been visiting his brother, Mrs. Wm. Allan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry White and baby Barry, also Miss Mary McManus, of Toronto, have been holidaying the past week with Mr. and Mrs. H. White at "The Cedars."

Birdie Simpson has been holidaying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rowe of Campbellford.

Mrs. E. Jones returned home after visiting her son, Mr. Maylin Jones and Mrs. Jones at Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lain visited Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott on Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Dutton is much improved and able to be about again after her recent illness.

Mrs. Alex Stewart and Mrs. Ray Stewart visited at their parent's home on Friday.

The Happy Helpers Club was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Roy Stewart. The meeting was opened with a hymn and the Lord's prayer. Scripture lesson was read by Miss Leah Stewart and the secretary's report was given. The program included hymns, reading by Mrs. Carl Reid; piano solo, Mrs. Alex Stewart; solo, Margaret Spencer; contest by Miss Vera Stewart. The meeting was brought to a close with the Mizpah Benediction.

The hostess served candy.

Signaller Jas. Barnett returned to Petawawa on Wednesday after spending a few days with Mrs. Barnett and Keith.

The W. A. held their August meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred McKeown on Wednesday evening. The meeting opened with a hymn. Plans were made for an afternoon tea to be held on Friday afternoon at Rylestone Church. Readings were given by Mrs. Fred McKeown, Mrs. Lillie Anderson, Miss Betty McKeown and Mrs. John McKeown. A hymn was sung and the meeting closed with the Lord's prayer. Lunch was served.

The Morton family met in the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Fred McKeown Wednesday evening. Over thirty enjoyed supper.

About forty ladies attended the afternoon tea at Rylestone on Friday. Rev. Mr. Harding acted as chairman. A solo was given by Miss Isabelle Irwin; readings by Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Harding and Mrs. A. V. Brown. A contest was given by Mrs. Geo. Bailey and a reading by Mrs. Roy Brown. After a hymn and prayer a dainty tea was served by the ladies.

Lindbergh Refused Use Of Civic Auditorium

Oklahoma City, Aug. 27 (AP)— The City Council today refused Charles A. Lindbergh use of municipal auditorium for a speech Friday night under auspices of the America First Committee.

The council's action followed protests by American Legion Post No. 35; Harmony Chapter No. 3 of American War Mothers; The Women's Ambulance and Transport Corps of Oklahoma; Knights of Pythias and American Legion Post No. 13 of Capitol Hill.

"He's running down the morale of our country, and doing it under the guise of free speech," was the complaint of the Capitol Hill Legion group.

On the motion of A. P. Van Meter, councilman, who said that "We're not denying the right of free speech by refusing to rent a public building," the council voted unanimously to cancel an advance booking.

"Let him go somewhere else to speak, and when he gets tired talking, he can go home, Van Meter said.

Gov't Gives Contract For $100,000 At the O. S. D.

Ottawa, Aug. 27—(CP)—Award of 16 construction contracts totalling $1,713,000 was announced last night by the Munitions and Supply Department. Contracts, approximate cost, type of construction, approximate completion dates and contractors emloyed included the School of Deaf, Belleville, Ont., $100,000, alterations and additions, shortly Hill-Clark-Francis, New Liskeard, Ont.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE ROMAN "INVASION"?

SEE BRITANNIA
MIGHTY PAGEANT OF THE EMPIRE
on the 1000 foot Grandstand Stage

● And see Canada's fighting men and fighting machines in action. Enjoy the music by the U.S. Navy Band. See "Lucky" Teter's Hell Drivers do mad things with motor cars. See Canada's women at war work. See special exhibits by Canadian industry and agriculture. Relax in the new Frolexland. Cheer new champions over the finish line. Get there early. Get a programme —and see everything at this dramatic, wartime Exhibition.

Armed Forces Athletic Meet Aug. 30
Famous C.N.E. HORSE SHOW opens Sept. 1
Dancing Afternoon and Evening to America's Top Bands
"Elsie the Cow" — Coliseum Shows
C.N.E. Cooking School Every Day

CANADA'S ANSWER at the CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION
TORONTO AUG. 22 SEPT. 6 1941
JOHN MILLAR, President
ELWOOD A. HUGHES, General Manager

Britain is Determined That Russia Be Given All Possible Supplies

By HAROLD FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Aug. 27 (CP Cable) — The British government is firmly determined that Russia must be given all possible war supplies, especially in view of losses of territory in the industrial Ukraine.

It was authoritatively disclosed today that the initial Nazi territorial gains were not so harmful to the Russian industrial plant but "now they (the Russians) are losing valuable territory and we must make up for that production." Moreover the drain on the Russian war establishment—and of course on the Nazis too—is terrific along the unprecedented 2,000-mile battlefront.

Supply routes are naturally undisclosable, but British authorities desire early establishment of an unhampered maintenance route through Iran, an authoritative source said that all the British Government desired from Iran was establishment of such a route and expulsion of Axis residents "because we do not want to wander all over the country."

If the forthcoming Moscow Conference is designed to deal solely with supplies, it was learned that the British mission will be headed by Lord Beaverbrook, Britain's Minister of Supply who dealt with the matters of assistance to Russia both before and since his recent visit to Washington.

Escaped Prisoners Captured Near Acton

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 27—(CP)— Three prisoners who escaped Monday from the Ontario Reformatory here were captured by Reformatory guards near the Canadian National Railways tracks at Acton, 16 miles east of Guelph, last night. Although armed with a .22 calibre rifle, the trio made no resistance when the guards approached them.

The three, John Manders, 19, of Hamilton, George Carpenter, 18, of New Westminster, B.C., and Patrick McCullough, 18, of Napanee, Ont., escaped unnoticed through a corn field.

At Arkell, six miles away, they entered the farm house of Howitt Carter, a former Reformatory guard, and took the rifle and some cartridges.

Later at the home of a farmer named Carson at Campellville, near Milton, they tried to force Carson to give them the keys to his car but he threw a chair at them and they fled.

Gene Autry has a brand new and lovely partner to sing his songs to in the new action picture, "Sunset in Wyoming," starting next at the Capitol. Her name is Maris Wrixon. A delightful comedy hit, "Repent at Leisure," will be shown on the same program.

Dodgers-Cards Split Leaves National Loop Race Wide Open But Schedule Favors Dodgers

Each Team Has 30 Games to Play but Brooklyn Has Nine With Phillies

CINCINNATI DIVIDES

(By JUDSON BAILEY)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Brooklyn's beloved bums have met the enemy and although they didn't conquer, neither were they conquered.

It had been apparent that the Dodgers and their fierce foes, St. Louis Cardinals, were evenly matched even before they came up to their crucial four-game series at Brooklyn this week and everything that was done in their two doubleheaders served to emphasize the fact.

Brooklyn looked like a whirlwind in winning yesterday's opener 8-3, then subsided into a zephyr before the magnificent pitching of Mort Cooper in losing the eight-inning nightcap 3-1.

However, the series was not quite as much of a stalemate as the scores would indicate, because the Dodgers came out with their 1½ game lead intact and seemed to have an edge in the remaining schedule.

After meeting the sizzling Cincinnati Reds tonight at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn will have 30 contests left to play. Ten, including three at St. Louis, are against the western clubs and all the others are against the second-division eastern group— no less than nine with the last-place Phillies, who have beaten Brooklyn only once this season.

Without Moore And Slaughter

The Cardinals without Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter in the outfield did not look like the same club and except for Cooper's great pitching and a fielding breakdown by Peewee Reese of the Dodgers in yesterday's nightcap, St. Louis would have been outed.

Brooklyn made a dozen hits off four pitchers in the first tilt. Six were for extra bases and all except two home runs might have been held to singles by good fielding. Curt Davis pitched an effective seven-hitter and smashed his second circuit blow of the season. Dolph Camilli blasted his 26th.

Don Padgett and Johnny Mize made six of St. Louis' hits and produced all the Cards' runs, two on Mize's 14th homer.

Cooper pitched a seven-hitter in the nightcap and would have had a shutout except for another homer by Camilli in the eighth inning. Cooper was matched for six scoreless innings by 40-year-old Fred Fitzsimmons, but in the seventh Reese made two consecutive errors at shortstop and Johnny Hopp, who had been held hitless all day, doubled to score both runners.

The doubleheader drew a crowd of 39,107, five thousand more than the park could seat.

Because of Monday's rain, all National League contests were doubleheaders. The world champion Reds split with New York Giants, Pittsburgh divided at Boston, and Chicago Cubs captured two from the Phillies.

The Giants beat Bucky Walters, 7-6, then had the Reds retaliate with a 5-4 decision on six-hit hurling by Junior Thompson.

Jib Tobin, using his newly-developed knuckleball, pitched a four-hit game to stop the Pirates, 4-3, and Max Butcher came back with a six-hitter to win the nightcap, 6-1.

The Cubs collected three home runs for a 5-4 victory, then romped to an 11-3 triumph in the afterpiece with Don Dallessandro hitting a grandslam homer and Paul Erickson pitching six-hit ball.

In the American League the Boston Red Sox regained third place by beating Cleveland Indians, 9-4. Dick Newsome hurled a careful eight-hit game and cleaned the loaded bases in the third inning with a double.

Dutch Leonard was touched for ten hits, but managed to evade trouble as Washington Senators shut out St. Louis Browns 3-0.

Philadelphia Athletics swept a double bill from the Detroit Tigers, who were held to six hits in each game. Sam Chapman's homer with the bases loaded climaxed the 9-1 triumph in the opener. The A's bunched their hits for two runs in the fourth inning of the nightcap to win 2-1. Winning pitcher in the opener was Phil Marchildon, an Ontario product who came up from Toronto Leafs. It was his ninth victory against ten defeats this season. He allowed six hits and one run and was relieved in the eighth inning.

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT
MINORA?
FITS ALL DOUBLE EDGE RAZORS
Minora BLADES
MADE IN CANADA
GUARANTEED TO PLEASE OR YOUR MONEY BACK
4 FOR 10¢
MINORA BLADES SAVE YOU MONEY ON EASY GOOD LOOKING SHAVES

Results

CANAM

Rome 0-3; Three Rivers 6-3.
Oneonta 4-3; Gloversville 0-2.
Pittsfield 5-8; Utica 0-7.
Amsterdam 1-2; Quebec 5-1.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Columbus 8-3; Minneapolis 0-6.
(2nd game called end fifth to allow Columbus to catch train.
Louisville 3; Milwaukee 2.
Toledo 0-4; St. Paul 4-2.

ESQUIRE KIDS DOWN OSHAWA IN FIRST GAME

Score 8-7 Victory and Gain Distinct Edge in Junior Playdowns

PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Staying off a determined late inning assault by Billy Taylor's Oshawa Juniors after building up a short lead from the first inning on, Belleville Esquire Juniors are one up in their quest for a possible provincial softball championship this morning and need only a win here on Friday evening when the return game is played to pass the first hurdle toward their goal. With Ralph Campbell limiting the Oshawa nine to three runs for seven innings, the locals weathered a Merriwell finish by Taylor's charges and won out 8-7.

In turning back the slugging Oshawa nine the lion's share of the victory must go to Campbell, who although nicked hard, managed to pitch himself out of the tough spots to limit the homesters to single runs in the first, third and fifth, while his teammates gave him a working margin in the first added another in the third, another in the fifth and two in the eighth.

Wildness on the part of Woods, Oshawa stating twirler, aided the Belleville cause considerably as four free passes later developed into runs. Belleville outhit the Taylor-led aggregation however, 9-8 but the Oshawa drives were of the extra base variety, with Wilson, conking out a million-dollar four base clout in the eighth with two aboard to come within an ace of tying the score. Powers then went in to relieve Campbell and limited the opposition to one run for the balance of the game.

Four consecutive hits by the top of the batting order gave Oshawa a scare as the game got under way with the local lads pushing two runs across to attain a lead which was never relinquished, despite some concerted clouting on the part of the home team.

Offensively the top half of the Esquire batting order delivered the punch necessary to win with Yerrow and Guay between them scoring six runs. Reid robbed an Oshawa batter of a sure home run, when he raced in behind a fence to make a sensational catch.

One in the Bag

Esquire Jrs.	ab.	r	h
Whiting, 3b	5	1	1
Yerrow lf	4	3	2
Guay, ss	3	3	2
Spencer, c	3	0	1
Mansfield 2b	5	0	1
Reid cf	4	0	1
Cook rf	5	0	0
Peacock 1b	5	0	0
Campbell p	1	1	0
Powers x	0	0	0
	35	8	9
Oshawa	ab.	r	h
McIntyre 2b	5	0	0
Conacher ss	4	2	1
McAtee 3b	5	2	3
Eddols c	5	0	2
Mortimer cf	5	1	1
McNaught lf	4	1	0
Wilson 1b	3	1	1
McLaughlin rf	3	0	1
Woods p	3	0	1
Turner p	1	0	0
	38	7	10

Score by innings:
Belleville ...... 201 012 020—8 runs
Oshawa .... 101 010 031—3 runs

Summary—Home runs, McAtee and Wilson; two base its, McAtee and Eddols; Reid and Quay; three base hits, Mansfield. Hits off Woods, 9 in eight innings, off Turner none; off Campbell 6 in seven innings, off Powers, one. Bases on balls, off Woods, 9; off Campbell 3, off Powers 1. Struck out by Woods, 9; by Campbell, 3, by Powers 1. Winning pitcher, Campbell; losing pitcher, Woods. Umpires—Campbell and Cain, Oshawa. Time of game, 1 hour, 45 min.

FELL 100 FEET

London—CP)—Arthur Soley, 67, engineer's fitter, was killed when he fell 100 feet down an elevator shaft in a Wst End hotel. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

WAR SAVINGS

Canberra—(CP)—Aussie deposits in Australian banks now total more than $1,000,000,000—the highest ever recorded. Since the outbreak of war, deposits in Australia have increased by $24,000,000.

SKIP ALEXANDER TOPS QUALIFIERS IN U. S. AMATEUR

Two Rounds, of 77 and 67 Good Enough to Lead the Field

MATCH PLAY STARTS

Omaha, Aug. 27 (AP)—If these high-scoring national amateur golf championship seekers will take a tip from Omaha's own Johnny Goodman, they'll start shooting for pars instead of birdies.

That was Johnny's advice today as 64 qualifiers for match play in the 45th amateur, none too successful in their medal-play battles with the field club's stubborn par-72, turned to personal engagements, with two 18-hole rounds on the "black Wednesday" program.

Goodman, who wants to regain the title he won in 1937, credited unusually high qualifying scores, particularly on the back nine, to the fact the strangers to the field club's deceptive contours and distances were playing too boldly.

Goodman himself qualified with rounds of 73 and 75, four shots off Ship Alexander's medal-winning pace.

The final 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying test produced some of the highest scoring in the history of the tournament. Ten players with 159's had to play off for the last seven match-play places, compared with a limit of 155 at winged foot a year ago.

Evans Fails to Qualify

Charles (Chick) Evans, two-time champion, must have chuckled today despite the fact he failed to pass the qualifying test with his 166. He had warned the boys that the qualifying line would break around the 160 mark, but some of the sharpshooters politely scoffed behind his back.

The qualifying medal went to the popular Stewart (Skip) Alexander, the 23-year-old former University collegian who added a stupendous 77 to his first round 67. Skip's 144, exactly even par and set up early, held through the day as at least seven challengers saw their hopes go glimmering on the field club's trouble-filled area.

Johnny Burke, the former intercollegiate champion, had the best chance to overtake Alexander but after a first nine 36 he finished with a 41, his 77 leaving him a stroke behind Skip at 145.

With the competition switching to match play, there will be only 16 contestants remaining at nightfall tonight.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—They really were hanging 'em from the rafters at Ebbets Field yesterday.. ....Lots of the stancees found they could see better by climbing up on to the beams, and if the Dodgers had been anywhere near winning that second game it probably would have hailed fans when the storm came up..... The press box was so jammed that the Dodgers' secretary, John McDonald, tried to make room for another working man by asking President Ford Frick of the National League to sit in Larry MacPhail's box. Frick said he didn't want to take a chance on getting into an argument and stayed where he was...... Ethel Barrymore, the theatre's No. 1 baseball fan, came early and brought a box lunch so she could sit through both games without missing a play....

Today's Guest Stars

Austin Goodwin, Portland (Me.) Evening Express: "National inflation will soon be upon us—not of currency but of the pig-skin." pkUm;;;kn K0-HuO..w $mpHaad

Irv Kupcinet, Chicago Times: "The football season must be here now that even F.D.R. is giving eight points."...... The boys are all getting the idea.

Owner Warren Wright says he's definitely going to send Whirlaway after Seabiscuit's money winning record, because it would increase the colt's value when he's retired to stud...... Promoter Henry Levy of Little Rock, Ark., made a tremendous hit with his money-back guarantee on a fight show and now sports writers down that way are boosting him as the guy to stage the first honest wrestling match.. ....The gasoline shortage may be harder on Eastern football than the draft this season.

LEAGUE LEADERS

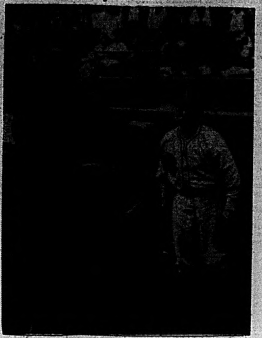
AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting: Williams, Boston, .404.
Runs: DiMaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in: DiMaggio, New York, 112.
Hits: Travis, Washington, 178.
Doubles: DiMaggio, New York, 38.
Triples :Travis, Washington, 15.
Home runs: Keller, New York, 32.
Stolen bases :Case, Washington, and Kuhel, Chicago, 19.
Pitching: Gomez, New York, 12-4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting: Etten, Philadelphia, .332.
Runs: Hack, Chicago, 93.
Runs batted in: Mise, St. Louis, 93.
Hits: Litwhiler, Philadelphia, 155.
Doubles: Reiser, Brooklyn, 35.
Triples: Six players tied with 9.
Home runs: Camilli, Brooklyn, 27.
Stolen bases: Frey, Cincinnati, 15.
Pitching: Riddle, Cincinnati, 15-2.

WHO WON? IT WASN'T FRISCH



Frankie Frisch, LEFT, "Jaws" With Umpire Conlan

Manager Frankie Frisch, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, LEFT ABOVE, thought this game in Brooklyn should be stopped because of the rain that was pouring down. The umpire didn't. Frisch stood on the dugout steps with an umbrella and became emphatic. Umpire John B. Conlan became emphatic, too. Frisch went to the clubhouse. The game continued.

WICKER BIG HELP SINCE JOINING HIS OLD MATES

Wins Five Games and Loses One for Montreal Royals

STILL SECOND PLACE

(By The Associated Press)

With less than two weeks left to the close of the season, it's about time for that section of baseball's society of second guessers handling International League business to swing into action. They will find the case of Montreal Royals and Kemp Wicker worthy of immediate consideration.

Unless they slump considerably during the remaining eleven days the Royals should have little trouble finishing in second place behind the league-leading Newark Bears who are as good as in right now. The problem confronting the grandstand managers is whether or not they could have beaten out the Bears, given (as always) certain ifs and buts. Chief among these would be pitcher Kemp Wicker, returned three weeks ago by the parent Brooklyn Dodgers.

Since rejoining his former mates, Wicker has won five games and lost only one and has been a big help in keeping the Royals ahead of the threatening Buffalo Bisons. As the veteran southpaw was of little help to the Dodgers, winning only one game and losing two, the second guessers argue their case on Montreal's chances of taking the pennant providing the club had Wicker a longer period of time. There's no denying that the lanky lefthander is playing a big part in keeping his club in the runner-up spot.

Wicker Wins 2-1 Victory

Last night Wicker pitched Royals to a 2-1 victory over the Bisons to increase their lead to 4½ games and square the current series at one-all. Bob Boken's seventh-inning homer prevented a shutout.

Despite the victory, Newark picked up a half game on Montreal, sweeping both ends of a doubleheader with Syracuse Chiefs, 3-1 and 1-0, extending their lead to 7½ games.

Steve Peek, playing his last game for the Bruins before rejoining New York Yankees Saturday, allowed only three hits in the opener, which went 11 innings. Allen Gettel blanked the Chiefs with eight safeties in the nightcap, to nose out Les Hinckle who limited the Bears to three. Newark's only run was unearned.

In the only other game, Rochester Red Wings moved a step closer toward clinching the last playoff spot, pounding out a 10-1 triumph over the last place Toronto Leafs. Clem Drieswerd chalked up his 13th victory, holding the Leafs to five hits, while his mates slammed out 12. Erv Dusak paced the attack against Porter Vaughan and Walter Lanfranconi, rapping out a home run and a double.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Billy Herman, Dodgers, and Mort Cooper, Cardinals: Herman had perfect turn at bat to lead Brooklyn to victory in opener; Cooper pitched seven-hit ball to win nightcap.

Babe Young, Giants, and Gene Thompson, Reds: Young singled with bases loaded in first inning to start New York to first-game triumph; Thompson pitched six-hitter to take second contest.

Jim Tobin, Braves, and Max Butcher, Pirates: Tobin hurled four-hit ball to win first half of double-header; Butcher retaliated with six-hit performance for victory in nightcap.

Bill Nicholson and Dom Dallessandro, Cubs: Nicholson's two-run homer turned tide in Chicago's favor in opener against Phillies; Dallessandro hit for circuit with bases loaded to spark winning attack in second session.

Dutch Leonard, Senators: Kept 10 hits scattered to shut out Browns.

Dick Newsome, Red Sox: Pitched eight-hit ball and knocked in three runs with double to beat Indians.

Sam Chapman and Dick Siebert, Athletics: Chapman hit homer with bases loaded to climax attack in first-game triumph over Tigers; Siebert knocked in deciding run with double in second game.

AND NOW WHIRLY TAKES THE AMERICAN DERBY

The redoubtable Whirlaway does it again. Robertson brings the champion Warren Wright colt across the finish line to win the 31st running of the historic and rich American derby at Washington Park. Whirly tied the American derby record of 2.04 for the mile and a quarter which had been set by the Great Cavalcade in 1934. This gave him $270,000 in two years of racing but puts him still behind the $437,730 record earnings of Seabiscuit. Buckwacker is second here and Delray, third.

SWACO LASSIES GAIN A GAME ON DEACON GIRLS

Score 19-18 Victory in Third Game of Semi-Final Series

HEAVY HITTING

The black-shirted Deacon Ladies' Softball squad couldn't stand prosperity at the Armouries diamond last night, and wilted before the withering batting attack of a determined SWACO nine to be nosed out by a 19-18 score in a pastime that belonged to anyone after the winner had whittled down a six-run lead in a disastrous Deacon fifth inning.

The win gives the Stewart-Warner lassies a two-game to one advantage in the three-out-of-five semi-final series.

Deacons pounded the offerings of elongated Danny Stead, SWACO hurler for four innings sending ten runners across the plate while the best the opposition could do was four. SWACO's got another three in the fourth and then came the turning point of the game. The Deacon manager replaced McMurter, who had been doing a fine hurling chore, with Sharp, and the replacement was the signal for a general uprising on the part of the SWACO batters. Before the smoke had cleared they had pounded out eight hits including two homers and two doubles, for six runs to take a three run lead.

Six in the Eighht

The winners added another one in the seventh and in an effort to put the game on ice they again got to Sharp for five runs in the final frame.. But they had reckoned without the fighting power of the Deacons. The black-shirts in an eleventh hour rally pounded Stead for six runs in the eighth.

The winners added another one in the seventh and it looked like a certain SWACO victory. But the Deacon girls suddenly came to life and they sent Stead's offerings all over the abbreviated diamond for six runs to once more surge into the lead. Norma Corneal was rushed into the pitching breach and she stemmed the Deacon tide.

Facing a two run deficit in the ninth the SWACO's again found their batting eyes and sent five markers scurrying across the plate to assume a slim one-run advantage. Deacons fought desperately in their half of the inning but Corneal confined them to one hit and no runs, and the loss of the game.

Swing Wicked Bats

Both squads swung wicked warclubs the winners getting 24 hits and the Deacons 21. SWACO's sent five round-trippers out of the diamond with Deacons getting a lone homer with Sharp doing the honors. Rowbotham led the SWACO hit parade with two homers, two doubles and a single. Ronsky likewise got a brace of four-baggers and a single with Colden getting the fifth homer. Sharp for Deacons got a triple besides her home run and walked three times. Hansey and Weeks got three hits each.

Score by innings:
SWASCOS ... 400 360 105—19 24 7
Deacons ..... 262 001 160—18 21 9
Umpires: Young and Bawden.

WARDENS' BATTLE-DRESS

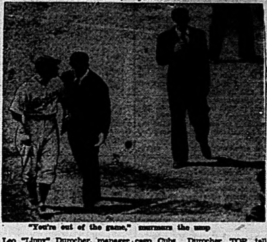
London (CP)—All male air raid wardens and civil defence workers who do 48 hours duty a month are to receive a blue battle-dress uniform with beret, boots, leather anklets and greatcoats.

FOUND BETTER JOBS

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 27 —(AP)— A 13-month furniture company strike is over—without a settlement —and everybody's happy. Explained a union spokesman: the strikers and picketers found other jobs at better salaries.

LEO THE LIP TALKS, THEN WALKS

"You're blind," sputters Leo



"You're out of the game," murmurs the ump

Leo "Lippy" Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is known for his outspokenness, but occaoutspoken to suit the men in blue. One such instance is pictured ABOVE during a game at Brooklyn between the Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs. Durocher, TOP, tells Umpires George Barr, John Sears and Lou Jorda individually and collectively that they don't know a ball from a strike. Sears tells Leo, BELOW, that if the "Lip" doesn't know the way to the showers, he'll show him.

STANLEY HORNE LEADING PROS.

Holds Leadership at Half-Way Mark of Canadian Open

Islesmere Golf and Country Club, Ste. Dorothee, Que., Aug. 27 (CP)— The elusive art of putting came back to slender Stan Horne yesterday to give him a par-shattering 68 on his second round and leadership at the half-way mark in the Canadian Professional Golfers Association's 72-hole medal-play annual championship.

Thrice winner of the important Canadian tournament Horne added his four-under-par 68 to a morning score of 72, for a 36-hole total of 140, two better than that of stampeding Stan Leonard of Calgary, the defending champion, who also had a 68 for the afternoon round, and Bob Burns of Toronto, the Ontario open champion.

Putting Big Factor

"I was putting better today than I have any time this year," said Horne as he laid his clubs aside in the caddy house after his par-busting round. Horne, who learned to play as a caddy in his boyhood and won the P.G.A. title in 1936, '37 and '38 as a representative of the Ottawa Hunt Club, moved to Montreal two years ago and was playing his home course today.

Horne's putting was very much awry a few weeks ago when he and Jules Huot of Quebec competed in a Western tour against Leonard and Fred Wood of Vancouver and the Easterners took somewhat of a trimming.

As an indication of how he had regained his magic touch, Horne had only one three-putt green throughout the day—the sixth on the second round.

Diminutive Jules Huot of Quebec's Kent Golf Club, who paced the morning round with a two-underpar 70, fell back to a 74 with a couple of heartbreaking holes in the afternoon to take fourth place with 144.

A strong and gusty north wind which swept over the course during the morning without bothering the players to any great extent cleared away in the afternoon, but only five other players behind the first four were able to break 150 on this difficult, tree-lined 6.575-yard course whose par is 72.

Strung behind Huot were Bobby Gray of Toronto, the runner-up to Slammin' Sam Snead in the recent Canadian open at Toronto, with 72-74—146; Bob Lamb of Toronto with 73-73—146; Gordon Brydson of Toronto with 73-74—147; Fred Wood of Vancouver, 71-77—148; Bill Kerr, 79-70—149, and Ernie Wakelam, Ottawa, 75-74—149.

Despite a lack of rain the Netherlands Indies tobacco crop this year is expected to reach from 100,000 to 110,000 bales.

Lesnevich Holds Crown Defeating Jersey City Boxer

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Aug. 27 (CP) — Gus Lesnevich, the fellow who was always the bridesmaid and never the bride in the light-heavyweight picture, was boss of the 175-pounders today, but he's going to have to prove it again to make it stick.

The rugged Russian from Jersey, who waited through Billy Conn's reign for two years, whipping every one but the head man, gained sole and undisputed possession of the championship last night before 8,694 fans in Madison Square Garden by outpointing the young baby faced flailer from the Bronx, Tami Mauriello.

But he did it by a margin as close as a fresh shave, and there was such a question left in the minds of the fans after it was over that promoter Mike Jacobs announced immediately Gus would have to defend the title Nov. 14 in the Garden against Tami.

Piles Up Big Lead

By flooring the 21-year-old kid in the second round, cutting his eye in the fourth bloodying his nose in the sixth and generally running away with the match through the first 10 rounds, Lesnevich piled up so tremendous an edge he just had enough to hold off against Mauriello's closing drive. Tami was fighting his first 15-round match and his first bout against a light-heavyweight and this led many to expect he'd have to do his winning early.

But he actually worked just in reverse and all but won. So, for the first time in nearly a half year, there is only one light-heavyweight champion of the world today.

The National Boxing Association took the title away from Billy Conn some months ago and gave it to Anton Christoforidis, the groping Greek, from whom Lesnevich won the N.B.A. blessing several weeks back. The New York State Athletic Commission refused to go along with this sanction, but received Conn's abdication before Billy fought Louis, and did nothing about a new boss until last night.

BLUE BOMBERS WIN

Winnipeg, Aug. 27—(CP)— The husky Winnipeg Blue Bombers, displaying a sparkling aerial attack and shifty running behind a solid forward line, romped to a 19-12 exhibition football victory last night over Columbus Bulls, American professional league monarch. The teams tangle in a second exhibition game Monday night.

ONE IN FOUR BRITISH

London (CP)—Total length of registered films in British theatres during the year ending Sept. 30, 1940 was 45,741,000,000 feet, compared with 45,776,000,000 feet in 1939. British films totalled 11,020,000,000 feet.

Want Ads Are Used All Over the World for the Same Reason—Results

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per

Insertion 30c
Two Insertions 60c
Three Insertions 75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073

Representing CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

CEMENT MIXER AND MAN TO operate same is for rent. Apply 2238. A26-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Fibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J. 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A13-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE", 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist, Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 219 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 868. Lady attendant.

E. E. and VERA B. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East. Belleville, Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS and HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE
40½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass
278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

RINGSIDE MAISIE
Ann Sothern, George Murphy
2.40 — 8.30

SCOTLAND YARD
John Loder, Nancy Kelly
4.00 — 7.20 — 10.00

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE
Greer Garson, Laurence Olivier
2.45 — 8.30

THE INVISIBLE GHOST
Bela Lugosi
4.45 — 7.30 — 10.40

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

SHINING VICTORY
James Stephenson, Geraldine Fitzgerald
7.20 — 10.00

SHE COULDN'T SAY NO
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27

WANTED

ROOM AND BOARD BY YOUNG single man. Central. Write Box 11 Ontario Intelligencer. A27-3t

HOUSE WANTED — 3 OR MORE bedrooms. Possession soon as possible. East Hill preferred. Phone 706. A27-4t

EXPERIENCED. MALE. BOOKKEEPER. Apply stating experience, qualifications and salary expected to Box 310, Trenton. A27

GIRL FOR HOUSEWORK. PHONE 1234R or apply 170 Dufferin Ave. A27

MAN DISHWASHER AND CHEF'S assistant. Apply Guild Restaurant, 245 Front St. A27

PERSON WHO CAN PROVIDE room and board for students, to call Ontario Business College, 275 Front St., Belleville. Telephone 124. A27-2t

BOY WANTED WITH BICYCLE. Geen's Drug Store. A27

2 OR 3 HEATED ROOMS, UNfurnished and Phone 1091M. A27-3t

EXPERIENCED HOUSE MAID and waitress. Apply in person only. Hotel Belvedere. A27-6t

CAR OWNERS, ATTENTION! Cash paid weekly for selling guaranteed quality Nursery Stock. Full or part time. New sales plan. Luke Brothers Nurseries, Montreal. A27

AT ONCE, AN EXPERIENCED cook at the County Home. Phone 425. A26-3t

RELIABLE MIDDLE AGED housekeeper, able to take full charge. References. Good wages. Evenings free. Write Box 29, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-2t

USED ELECTRIC RADIO OF good make and in good condition, for cash. Phone 932W. 26-3t

FURNISHED APARTMENT OR rooms in Belleville or Mountain View. Write Box 21, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

TO BUY—FOR CASH, A MODERN house on East Hill. Central. Write Box 10, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-2t

THREE OR FOUR ROOMS OR apartment by September 1st. Write Box 12, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

EXPERIENCED PRESSER BY Odorless Cleaners. Apply Front St., Belleville. A26-3t

TO BUY — GIRL'S SMALL USED bicycle; must be in good condition. Phone 868. A26-3t

POSITION AS HOUSEMAN AND Cook. Good references. Apply Box 46, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

WAITRESS, AT ONCE. MUST BE neat. Experienced only required. Apply in person only. Paragon Cafe. A26-3t

MAN DISHWASHER AT ONCE. Apply Guild. A26-2t

COOK, GENERAL, BY AUGUST 29th. Mrs. Crossland, 277 William St. Phone 2494. A26-3t

GIRL FOR GROCERY STORE, honest and reliable, good reference. State wages expected. Phone 2059W. A25-3t

BOY FOR BAKESHOP. APPLY in person only. Ed. F. Dickens and Son, 215 Front St. A26-2t

AN EXPERIENCED MIDDLE AGED woman or girl for housework; capable of taking full charge. Must have reference. Highest wages paid to suitable party. Apply 23 Bridge St. W. A25-3t

FOUR OR FIVE ROOMED HOUSE or apartment by September 1, by couple; no children. Phone 1733. A25-3t

WANTED, A GIRL WITH SOME experience at light housekeeping. Apply 65 Grier St. A25-3t

RELIABLE MAN FOR NIGHT Porter at Crystal Hotel. A25-3t

HOUSEKEEPER TO TAKE FULL charge of home. 3 adults. No objection to child. C. H. Palmer, Consecon. A25-6t

MEN AND WOMEN WANTED

MEN AND WOMEN OF NEAT APpearance, willing to work, can earn a nice salary every week, by selling JITO PRODUCTS. We offer two hundred Household necessities including: Toilet articles, family remedies, Tea, Coffee, etc. THIRTY DAY TRIAL WITHOUT RISK. Inquire immediately: JITO, 1435 Montcalm, Montreal. A23,27,30,S3,6,10,13,17

NOW IS THE TIME TO QUALIFY for a Government job as Clerk, Postman, Customs Clerk, Steno., etc. Five Dominion-wide exams held since war began. Free booklet. M. C. C. Schools Ltd., Toronto 10. Oldest in Canada. No agents.

INDIAN AIRPLANES

Bombay—(CP)—The first airplane ever built in India will be produced this year by a company which has American technical assistance. The government is helping the company to obtain materials from overseas.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN RESULTS ARE OBTAINED YEARLY FROM WANT ADS.

—YET YOU CAN BUY ONE FOR AS LITTLE AS THIRTY CENTS.

FOR SALE

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, good condition. 6 ft. box. Call 721W or 169 Albert St. A27-3t

MOTORCYCLE, 1940 INDIAN Scout, and side-car. Only six thousand miles. Excellent condition. See at Red Indian Service Station, Bridge and Front 7 to 9 p.m. A27-3t

GOOD USED ELECTRIC PLATE and twenty gallon stone container cheap. Apply 305 MacDonald Ave., Belleville. A27

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOOKS, HALF price, good as new. Apply 20 Forin or Phone 2460. A27

THAT FINE BRICK HOME, GIVins Estate, 281 Bleecker. Four bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, back and front verandahs, lot 50 x 150. Laundry tubs in cellar. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

OLDSMOBILE COUPE, 1930, IN good condition. F. McCracken, R.C.A.F., Mountain View. A27-2t

A BLACK AND TAN FOX AND deer hound; two years old. Fred Aikens, R.R. 2, Belleville. A27-3t

VERY MODERN HOME, 154 ALbert. Back and front verandahs, newly painted, living room, dining room, kitchen, reception hall, French doors, hardwood floors throughout, 3 bedrooms, one with wash basin, 3 piece bath, modern hot water system, with low type radiators, laundry tubs, screens and storm windows. Lot 50 x 100. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

MASSEY HARRIS COM. BINDER, almost new. John Jeffrey, West Huntingdon. Phone Stirling, 641. A27-3t

SEVEN ROOM HOUSE, ALL CONveniences; garage and garden; near C.N.R. Could be made into duplex. 10 Emily. A25-27-29

7 ROOM FRAME HOUSE AND barn, 5 acres garden land, situated on Foxboro Highway, just outside city limits. This is a real bargain at $2000.00. Taxes only $33.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

GOOD WORK HORSE; 8 GRADE Oxford ewes; one thoroughbred Oxford ram. Apply F. McDonald, half mile west Stirling. A26-3t

ON LARGE LOT, FIVE ROOMED house on West Hill; modern, except furnace; hardwood floors downstairs; chestnut trim; full basement; screened porch. Interested parties write Box 28 Ontario Intelligencer. A26-6t

7 ROOM FRAME, 312 CHARLES Street. 4 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 piece bath, garage, large lot. Full particulars as to price and terms on application. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

LEGHORN PULLETS. H. BRENton, Corbyville. Phone 320r5. A25-3t

BUILDING LOT. REASONABLE price. Apply 17 Reid St. A26-3t

GOVERNMENT TESTED DAWson's Golden Chaff Wheat; free from weeds, $1.15 per bushel. Gordon Snider, Melrose. A25-3t

9 ROOM BRICK, FOSTER AVE., converted into three apartments of 3 rooms each. Hardwood floors, furnace, good basement. Tax is only $115.00. Lot 100 x 132. This is a real money maker and a bargain at $3000.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

OR RENT, FARM 120 ACRES, 3rd. Con. Thurlow, Lot 19; all good land; never failing spring; two barns; one extra good house and tenant house. Geo. F. Hamilton, R. 6, Belleville. A25-3t

200 ACRE FARM, 7TH. CON. SIDney; wooded; fair buildings. $4,000. Good location. John Prest, R.R. 2, Holloway. A25-3t

FOR SALE

94 ACRE FARM, LOT 30, CON. 6, Thurlow; well watered and fenced. Apply Oran Conley, Plainfield. A27-3t

FARM, 2 MILES EAST MADOC Village, 120 acres work land. Good buildings. Equipped with Hydro, telephone. Apply Geo. Walsh, R. 3, Madoc. A27-3t

175 WEST MOIRA STREET, substantial brick house in good state of repair. Living room, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms, bath, hot air heating, garage for three cars. This is a desirable property in a nice location. Reasonable price for cash. Inspection by appointment only. Apply Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A27-tf

2½ H. P. JOHNSTON TWIN. A1 condition. Bargain if sold today. 7 Grove St. Phone 493. A26-3t

1 TEAM WORK HORSES FOR sale cheap. Leo Brennan, Corbyville. A26-3t

100 ACRES, MOSTLY WOODLAND —8th. of Sidney, part of Hamilton estate. Apply Nelson Stapley, Stirling, or John Wilson, 40 Olive St. A26-3t

DOUBLE, SOLID BRICK HOUSE; all conveniences; wired for electric stove; hardwood floors; large garden. Thirty-two Hundred. Apply Norman Montgomery. A26-2t

SIX ROOMED HOUSE ON ALbert St. Very finest of condition, nearly all hardwood floors, combination heating. Taxes only one hundred and thirteen. Price: Thirty-seven Hundred. Cash to handle Fifteen Hundred. Norman Montgomery, Phone 1170, Belleville. A26-2t

STUDIO FURNITURE, FIXTURES and large quantity of 2 x 4, 12 ft. long. Robt. Turney, 25 Bridge St. East. A26-3t

5 ACRES ON HERCHIMER, choicest of garden land, 7 room house and well, lights available. Thirty-two Hundred. One Thousand cash to handle. Norman Montgomery, Phone 1170, Belleville. A26-2t

TO LET

HEATED AND FURNISHED light housekeeping rooms, or bed sitting room with kitchen privileges. Apply 118 Bridge West. A27-2t

ROOM, SUITABLE FOR TWO people, with or without board. Phone 2480. A27

FREE ROOM AND BOARD FOR school girl in exchange for help. Phone 1874M. A27-30

4 UNFURNISHED ROOMS, 18 Sydney St., opposite end of W. Moira St. A27

HOUSE AND LOT ON TRENTON Highway. Phone 19r3-2. W. J. Hall. A26-2t

MODERN 2 OR 3 ROOMED APartment on Trent Road. Phone 72r3. A25-3t

THREE ROOM, HEATED UPPER flat; all conveniences; front entrance; garage. No children. Apply Box 32, Ontario Intelligencer. A25-3t

James Cagney and Pat O'Brien are at it again with wisecracks and breath-taking adventure in the smash hit, "Devil Dogs of the Air," which opens next at the McCarthy Theatre.

HIS HEATING PROBLEM—

SOLVED!

THROUGH THE FRIENDLY SERVICE OF THE QUINTE FINANCE

Now, if you want to play safe you may borrow for your winter's coal and pay it back in 15 easy monthly payments.

QUINTE FINANCE and SECURITIES LIMITED.

168 Front St. Phone 168

IF YOU NEED $100 HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $300 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment.

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan
	6 payments	10 payments	12 payments	15 payments
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2% monthly as authorised by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
Corporation of Canada
Established in Canada 1928
PETERBOROUGH, ONT.
Second Floor, Lansfield Block
177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws
M. E. Holt, Manager Phone 5841

LOST

AT THE ARMY AND NAVY VETerans' Hall, a Wrist Watch. Reward of $15 will be given if left at Ontario Intelligencer office. A25-3t

A RED BRINDLE CAIRN TERrier with black muzzle, answers to the name of Copper. Tattoo WEV4 in the right ear. Please return to 51 Victoria Avenue or Phone 557. A27

SMALL GOLD LOCKET BEtween Church Street and Mead Johnson, via. Dundas St. Finder kindly Phone 2461R. A27-3t

BUSINESS LINERS

POULTRY KEEPERS tune up your flock with O. K. Poultry Tonic, 25c a bottle, at BISHOP'S SEED STORE, 172 Front. Phone 283. A27

DUCHESS IN RETIREMENT

London, Aug. 27 (CP Cable) — Buckingham Palace announced Tuesday that the Duchess of Gloucester "will not undertake any further public engagements during the next few months."

This is the formal way in which it is indicated that a member of the Royal family is expecting a child.

The Duchess of Gloucester—the former Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott—married the Duke of Gloucester the King's younger brother Nov. 6, 1935. This would be their first child.

BABY ROBIN MOOR

Johannesburg, South Africa (CP) —A baby born here at the time of the Robin Moor torpedoing has been named after the American vessel.

IN MEMORIAM

STEWART — In cherished memory of a dear husband and father, Mr. James Stewart, who passed away just three years ago today, August 27th., 1938.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who though absent is just as dear.

—Lovingly remembered by Wife, Sons, Daughters, and Grandchildren. A27

DEATHS

CAIN — At the residence of Mrs. C. C. Dalrymple, 163 Pinnacle Street, on Tuesday, August 26. 1941, Mr. James Cain, native of Rawdon Township, in his 78th. year.

Resting at the Martin Funeral Home, Church Street, until Thursday, August 28, and then to St. Michael's Church where Requiem Mass, will take place at 9.30 a.m.

Interment St. James Cemetery, Stirling. A27

Duke of Kent Inspects RCAF At Hamilton

Hamilton, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Duke of Kent arrived in Hamilton by train at 11.30 a.m. E.D.T. and was greeted by civic officials, officers of the Royal Canadian Air Force and Royal Air Force from Mount Hope and the local C.C.A.F. recruiting centre.

His Royal Highness was escorted through uptown streets, lined by a guard of honor from the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (Princess Louise's.) The procession was headed by a detachment of R.C.A. personnel.

The parade travelled to the new plant of the Canadian Westinghouse Company on Aberdeen Ave., when the Duke inspected the huge munitions factory.

From there the Duke journeyed by motor to the mountain top and then out to No. 33 Air Navigation School, and No. 10 Elementary Flying Training School at Mount Hope.

After luncheon at Mount Hope, the Duke and his party will board a plane and fly to No. 1 Bombing and Gunnery School at Jarvis, Ont. where he is to spend the night, moving on to St. Thomas in the morning.

The Duke, bronzed and smiling, stepped from the private coach which brought him to Hamilton from Washington, in the uniform of an air commodore of the Royal Air Force.

He smartly returned the salute of Air Commodore G. E. Brookes who, as air officer commanding the No. 1 Training Command, R.C.A.F., was the senior officer present to greet him. Then he shook hands with Mayor William Morrison and after a few moments conversation the group moved slowly toward the line of cars waiting outside the station.

Blitzbits

(By WILLIAM STEWART)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 27—Shorter and neater hair-does are becoming fashionable among London women. The new trend is credited to Britain's WAAFs who wear their hair short since it cuts down the time needed in keeping themselves trim.

Royal Air Force planes are "dive-bombing" Home Guard units in their training to withstand that form of attack.

A "Churchill Week" will be held September 13-20 at Wanstead and Woodford, part of the Epping constituency represented in parliament by the Prime Minister.

Private George Swan, 23, member of the Royal Army Catering Corps, is Britain's champion cook. He got first place and a silver medal in a contest, open to the whole country, held by the London School of Cookery.

Sgt. Elsie Gray of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force escaped unhurt when a Nazi bomb scored a direct hit on her billet. Bomb splinters left 32 holes in the ceiling of her room.

The invention of a Home Guard officer will make war games held by British forces more realistic. The device is a clay imitation of a Mills bomb which explodes harmlessly.

LONGEVITY FORMULA

Melbourne—CP)—Granny Musgrove, one of Australia's oldest women, says: "I have lived to 108 because I never danced my insides out."

HURRAY!—OH YEAH?

St. Albans, England (CP)—"Business as Usual" read the large printed sign. and beside it another, handwritten, "Sorry—no cigarettes, tobacco, sweets, chocolates, ices or lemonade."

AT THE BELLE

"Kisses For Breakfast"

An effervescent comedy with a novel, gay-hearted twist, is Warner Bros.' new film, "Kisses For Breakfast," starring Dennis Morgan, Jane Wyatt and Shirley Ross, which bows in at the Belle theatre next.

To romp through the madcap pace of the story of an amnesia victim in love with two girls, swinging from one to the other with alternate bops on the head, three popular players have gay opportunities for their talents.

Dennis Morgan, whose recent fine performance have been demanding attention, is the love-torn amnesia victim. His first wife is the sparkling Shirley Ross and wife number two is the lovely Jane Wyatt.

It all starts right after the Morgan Ross wedding, when Dennis is kidnapped by an ex-girl friend. She has him beaten up. Dennis' car having gone over a cliff, circumstantial evidence points to his having been killed and his body washed to sea.

But he comes to very much alive, although he can't remember a thing. He finds a North Carolina address in his pocket, and heads South. The address belongs to Shirley's cousin, Jane, who runs a once prosperous plantation. Dennis gets a job with her and before long makes it pay. The two fall in love and get married.

They head North to attend a new wedding of Shirley's. After a quick faint, Shirley comprehends the situation and puts a psychiatrist to work, bringing back her husband's memory. Now he doesn't remember Jane. In desperation, Jane knocks him out. As he regains consciousness, the girls wait breathlessly and so will you!

"Dance Hall" New Comedy

Cesar Romero, as the great lover, meets up with his first resistance when he runs into Carole Landis in the new 20th Century-Fox comedy, "Dance Hall" which is the added feature comedy attraction.

As the manager of a dance hall, Romero gets only trouble when he tries to date the pretty girl who walks in alone. And is his face red when she cleans him out in a crap game!

William Henry, June Storey and J. Edward Bromberg are featured in this picture which was directed by Irving Pichel.

Skinny Ennis' orchestra presenting a smart revue will be presented on the same program.

AT THE McCARTHY

"Devil Dogs of the Air"

James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Frank McHugh and Margaret Lindsay, in the eagerly awaited hit "Devil Dogs of the Air" opens next at the McCarthy Theatre. The funniest of the Three Stooges comedies, "I'll Never Hell Again," a splendid sport subject, and the third chapter of the Buck Jones serial, "White Eagle" will also be presented.

"Pride and Prejudice"

Co-starring Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier, the grand romantic comedy "Pride and Prejudice" plus Bela Lugosi in the new screen thriller, "The Invisible Ghost" now at the McCarthy Theatre. Latest Fox News is also presented. The "Glasbake" piece given out is the custard cup and a coupon for the top of the large Casserole. The entire set will be finished in three weeks and therefore you are urged not to miss receiving the coupon as it entitles you to part of the major article of entire set.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordon"

The season's top comedy "Here Comes Mr. Jordon" with Robert Montgomery, Claude Rains, Edward Everett Horton, James Gleason, Rita Johnson and scores of Hollywood's foremost funsters, will be presented at the McCarthy Theatre starting Sunday midnight. Plan now, make up your party, to enjoy your grandest film treat, see "Here Comes Mr. Jordon."

USING SOME POLES

Berlin, Aug. 27 (AP)—Nazi sources disclosed today that Germany now is using Poles of German extraction in her military forces.

A spokesman said that "Volksdeutsche" in Poland had been registered and that "volunteers are accepted from these lists."

It was denied the Poles had been first drafted into labor service and then urged to become "volunteers."

(Polish armies are forming in Russia to fight the Germans.)

AT THE CAPITOL

"Sunset in Wyoming"

Republic has utilised the pressing need for conservation of our soil and natural resources for the background of "Sunset in Wyoming" it's current Gene Autry starring western, which starts next at the Capitol Theatre.

Autry, as a conscientious young cowboy, is distressed by the depredations committed by the Wentworth Lumber Company, which is stripping the top of Mount Warner without planting new trees for replacement. As a result, the ranchers below are washed out during the rains and Gene, as their spokesman and ringleader, undertakes the task of persuading the Wentworth officials to change their tactics.

Gene meets with a curious problem when he at last faces old Asa Wentworth. Asa is actually on Gene's side; he realizes that reforestration is necessary and essential; however, in any attempt to change the policies of Larry Drew, his general manager, he will clash with his beautiful, imperious granddaughter, Billie, who believes herself in love with Drew. And by opposing Drew, he will inevitably drive Billie into an elopement with him.

Thus, he appears outwardly to oppose Gene's efforts, but he is secretly in league with the boys, and the action that ensues therefrom provides most entertaining screen fare.

Smiley Burnette's comedy is gay and spontaneous as usual, and Maris Wrixon contributes a decorative note in the feminine lead. Other supporting players who add to the general excellence of the film are George Cleveland, Robert Kent, Sarah Edwards, Dick Elliott, Stanley Blystone, Monte Blue, Fred Burns and Eddie Drew.

"Repent at Leisure"

How a hasty marriage of convenience boomerangs when it gets to be too convenient, forms the plot of "Repent at Leisure", in which Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie have the top roles next at the Capitol.

Miss Barrie is cast as a runaway heiress who meets and falls in love with a lowly employee working in her wealthy father's department store. When he is scheduled to be laid off because he is unmarried the impulsive young lady suggests they wed and adopt a child. Real romance develops from their impulsive marriage, the pretty wife secretly induces her rich father to further the hard-working husband's career and everything progresses smoothly until the young man learns that he's married to the boss' daughter.

Too proud to continue living under this embarrassing situation, he quits his job, separates from his contrite wife, joins a rival concern, but the bitter conflict between the two stores eventually leads to the couple's reconciliation and happiness.

Replete with hilarious comedy and warm, human drama, "Repent at Leisure" was directed by Frank Woodruff for RKO Radio. Portraying important supporting roles are George Barbier, Thurston Hall, Charles Lane and Nella Walker.

The same program includes a late news reel and the eighth chapter of "The Mysterious Dr. Satan".

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE

Rome Aug. 27 (AP)—Italian forces in the Gondar region of Ethiopia especially at Uolchefit, were reported by the Italian High Command today to be battling numerically superior British forces.

The command claimed heavy losses were inflicted on British troops in fierce skirmishes. Italian planes were reported assisting the defending Fascists.

In North Africa, Tripoli and Bengasi, two of Libya's biggest ports, were raided by the Royal Air Force which dropped numerous bombs and caused some casualties and damage.

Malta, British naval base in the Mediterranean, was reported raided by Italian aircraft.

(This was the second consecutive day that Rome has mentioned fighting in Ethiopia. Cairo has not confirmed that any action is taking place there.)

BREAK FOR DIABETICS

London—(CP)—Vegetarian diabetics in the United Kingdom are to be allowed a double ration of cheese—one pound a week.

Shirley Ross, Dennis Morgan and Jane Wyatt all get married in the merry matrimonial mix-up, "Kisses for Breakfast," next at the Belle Theatre. "Dance Hall," co-starring Cesare Romero and Carole Landis, is the added comedy hit.

CANADA'S PRESS THANKED FOR CO-OPERATION

Three Cabinet Ministers Express Appreciation for Support in War Effort

EDITORS ON TOUR

Ottawa, Aug. 27 (CP)—Three cabinet ministers and a deputy minister gave thanks last night to Canadian newspapers and periodicals for their co-operation in Canada's national war effort, at a government dinner to a group of 60 editors touring Eastern Canada.

The Defence Minister, Hon. J. L. Ralston, the Air Minister, Hon. C. G. Power and the Munitions Minister, Hon. C. D. Howe, spoke for the government, describing some of its problems and developments in the war effort and warmly thanked the publishers for their support.

Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, Associate Deputy Minister of National War Services, presided at the dinner.

Hon. Joseph Thorson, Minister of National War Services, was to have presided but was unable to get back to Ottawa in time from a business trip to the United States.

W. Rupert Davies, President of The Canadian Press and publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard, replied for the daily newspapers; Walter Legge of Granby, Que., President of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association for the weeklies; and Floyd Chalmers of The Financial Post, Toronto, for the periodicals.

All assured the government of the continued co-operation of the press in working for the greater efficiency of Canada's war effort.

See Canada's War Efforts

The editors have been shown training activities in Ontario, munitions plants and army trade schools, including visits to Camp Borden and Petawawa, and Tuesday came to Ottawa where they were entertained by the government at tea and at dinner.

They left late last night for Brockville, Ont., from where they will go to Montreal, Quebec and centres in the Maritime Provinces. The tour is being handled by the National War Services Department under direction of G. H. Lash, Director of Public Information, and was planned as a means of enabling Canadian editors to become informed at first hand of the progress of the war effort.

Surprised at Progress

Ottawa (CP)—Members of the party of Canadian editors who are on a conducted tour of Eastern Canada military establishments and war industries in interviews last night commented on progress they said had been made during the past year in training the fighting forces, mechanization of the army and munitions production.

Several of the group before their departure for Brockville, Ont., en route to Quebec Province and the Maritimes, expressed belief the progress amounted to 100 per cent since American publishers and newspapermen were taken on a similar tour last year.

W. Rupert Davies, President of The Canadian Press and publisher of the Kingston (Ont.) Whig-Standard, said "the progress revealed in the war effort is really amazing."

"If the Germans are any more efficient than our own war effort is revealed to be then they are very efficient," he said. "I was on the tour a year ago and thought things were going well then, but 100-percent progress has been shown."

He described the John Inglis Co. plant in Toronto where automatic weapons are manufactured as "the smartest, completest and most efficient-looking plant I have ever been in."

Torrential Rain Visits New York

New York, Aug. 27. —(CP)—New York's subway lines returned to normal schedules early today after service was disrupted for hours last night by a torrential rainstorm that indirectly caused at least two deaths.

An unidentified pencil peddler was killed by a truck as the driver's vision was obscured by the downpour. Martin Costello, 66, attempting to turn on the lights in the flooded and darkened St. Catharine's Maternity hospital, was electrocuted as he touched a fuse box while standing in water.

The 2.13-inch rainfall short-circuited power lines in the subways in various sections of the city as thousands headed for home during the suddenly-darkened dinner hour.

The resulting transportation tie-up, William J. Daly, secretary of the City Board of Transportation, said, was the worst in the city's history.

During the storm, 179 fire alarms were sounded and the fire department received 236 calls requesting pumps to free cellars of houses and business buildings of water.

OLD SOCK WELL STUFFED

Winnipeg, Aug. 27—(CP)—After John Smith ,84, Winnipeg Old-Age Pensioner, fell down the stairs of his residence yesterday and suffered a possible fractured skull, he was taken to hospital, where authorities removed three pairs of trousers, the last containing an old sock stuffed with $2,500 in English and Canadian currency.

How Nazis 'Cover' the War Fronts

British newspapers and war correspondents may well envy the way Germany handles first-hand accounts, by experts, of the German military machine in action, writes a correspondent.

Realizing the shortcomings of the old method, the Nazis evolved a novel system. There was no earthly reason, they argued, with a journalist, artist or photographer should not make a first-class Army, Navy or Luftwaffe officer or N.C.O. Indeed there was every reason why they should excel in the military art, reacting to training quicker than the average recruit.

So, instead of "wasting" manpower Hitler and Goebbels between them decided that their war correspondents should also fight; and how better could they provide first-hand accounts than by themselves taking leading parts in encounters with the enemy?

True, the writer or artist might let his enthusiasm run away with him; his proximity to danger might color his subsequent account of the battle almost to the point of sheer fiction, but this would be no disadvantage! And it bettered the British system in so far as the German did "color" what he actually saw and not what he was told by a Press Officer who had not himself been an eye-witness.

Germany chooses her journalists and then gives them a thorough training in the Army, Navy or Luftwaffe. They are among her most efficient infantry officers, naval gunners and members of bomber crews. Trained in the arts of warfare, they are then formed into Propaganda Companies.

They have the same rank as their comrades-in-arms and the same duties in action. They wear no distinctive uniforms or special markings. In battle they are fighters only, but observant fighters, men trained to see all that goes on and with a knowledge of the objective of the engagement.

Compared with their comrades they suffer only disadvantages. Instead of a well-earned rest after battle, their lot is a hectic period in which they must write their stories, develop their pictures, sketch their impressions.

Pictures are developed in mobile dark-rooms, close behind the lines, manner by soldiers. Articles and photographs are rushed off for immediate distribution to the German newspapers.

Many members of "Propaganda Companies" have been decorated for military bravery as well as for their propaganda work. Inevitably many have lost their lives. They are armed with typewriters and automatic rifles. — From Worlds Press News, London.

Finns Report Russians May Be Destroying Talinn Before Leaving

Helsinki, Aug. 27—(AP)—Finnish observers claimed today that a tremendous blaze in the southern horizon which could be seen from Finland indicated that Russian forces were devastating Tallinn preparatory to withdrawing from the city under German pressure from the east and south.

The glow on the horizon first was seen last night and continued on into this morning, observers said.

Tallinn, capital of Sovietized Estonia, is directly across the Gulf of Finland from Helsinki, a distance of 50 miles.

Listeners said they heard the sound of artillery fire and interpreted it to mean German guns had found the range of the Estonian capital.

The last Soviet broadcast from Tallinn was heard at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, the newspaper Helsingin Sanomet said.

On the approach to Leningrad down the Karelian Isthmus from the north, a Finnish air communique said, the Russians were being forced out of Viipuri under heavy Finnish aerial bombardment.

An air alarm sounded this morning in Helsinki and two alarms were reported before noon in Porvoo.

The German drive into Soviet Russia through the U.S.S.R.'s Baltic Buffer states so far has bypassed Tallinn but the Estonian capital, once known as Revel, is now totally cut off by land.

It has been a besieged city since the early days of the 67-day-old campaign, when the Germans swept into Russia proper through Poland and across Lithuania and Latvia into Estonia.

The Red Army's hold-out garrison in Tallinn has been supplied by sea since its land communications were cut and any hope Russia may have of saving the garrison rests on the ability of the Red Navy to carry out an evacuation.

U.S. Telephone Tie-up Threat is Averted

Washington, Aug. 27 —(AP)—Threat of a telephone tie-up throughout the United States was averted today by settlement of a dispute between union installation men and the Western Electric Company.

Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the U.S. Conciliation Service, won an understanding between the disputants after 61 hours of nearly constant negotiations.

"At the crucial moment of this manoeuvre....he says 'Pass the sugar!'"

Letters From the Troops

Following is a letter sent to a member of the editorial staff of this newspaper by Sergeant-Major J. Laney, who writes for a number of Belleville boys now serving with him Somewhere in England;-

Somewhere in England

"Thanks a million for the copies of the Ontario Intelligencer that arrived in our last lot of Canadian mail. They are very acceptable and after I read them I pass them on to the other Belleville chaps, namely Chuck Wilkins L. Sgt., Dick Laney, Bdr., J. Asselstine, Gnr., F. Law, L. Bdr., A. Benford, Bdr., who are all in the artillery. We all enlisted in Cobourg. We often see chaps from Belleville who have enlisted in different units and they tell us all about what the various groups in Belleville are doing for the local boys over here and believe me, we get envious sometimes as we seem to have lost touch with the local groups and the Cobourg Clubs seem to overlook us as we are not actually from Cobourg.

"But enough for the beefing, we are still happy in the service.

"Some of the ads in the papers made our mouths water as a lot of the items we read of are unobtainable over here and some only with ration books. I wonder how many housewives in Belleville could manage on 3 pounds of meat, 6 oz. of tea, 12 oz. of sugar, the odd egg or two, etc., for a family of three a week. Onions, lemons and oranges are a novelty. Tobacco and cigarettes practically unobtainable. I suppose you already know that even clothes are rationed, a tie or a pair of socks, 1 coupon. At least we are getting quite a varied experience. Well, thanks again for the papers and the best of luck to all at home, For the Boys from Belleville in the R.C.A.

"Sgt. Maj. J. Laney."

Women 'Chutists Hospital Unit Is Recruited

California State Guard Forms Battalion to Land Complete Ambulance Sections Behind Lines

Los Angeles, Aug. 27 (AP)—The California State Guard is recruiting a hospital battalion of women parachutists to land complete ambulance sections behind battle lines.

The women will be equipped to give blood transfusions from powdered or liquid blood, also dropped from planes, and to administer other treatment to war casualties ordinarily available only at field hospitals.

"So far as I know, nothing of the sort ever has been attempted either by the United States army or in the present war," said Maj. Frank G. Nolan of the California State Guard Medical Corps. He has been placed in command of two battalions—one of women; the other of men.

"It's purely an experiment, of which I believe the Federal government should take cognizance. The State Guard should provide a good proving ground for the tryout."

Maj. Nolan already has received applications from half a dozen trained women parachute jumpers and from nine women fliers holding pilots' licences. He has enlisted 89 women of the personnel of 402 required for the four companies, one of which will consist of negroes.

Dearth of News On Counter Attack In Gomel Area

London, Aug. 27 —(CP)— The dearth of news on a Russian counter attack on the Gomel area of the south-central front is "a little disquieting," authoritative quarters in London declared oday.

It was in that sector that Russian dispatches last week reported a counter-attack, but Germany almost immediately claimed a great victory there, and the Russians subsequently admitted a withdrawal.

If the German thrust in that area succeeds fully, the London quarters said, "the Kiev salient will be cut off."

Gomel is 140 miles north of Kiev. A German drive southeastward would be "very serious," it was declared.

MENZIES HAS NO NEWS

Canberra, Aug. 27—(AP)—Prime Minister Menzies told parliament today that the Commonwealth had on information suggesting that Australian troops are taking part in the Iran campaign. He said that before Australian forces are engaged in any new theatre of war the Australian government would be consulted.

Mercy Packages Move Smoothly To Prisoners

By BETTY SARGENT

Associated Press Staff Writer

Geneva, Aug. 27 (AP)—The packages of mercy—gifts of food, clothing, tobacco, soap and books — are moving smoothly to the millions left in prison by war in the west.

But officials of the International Red Cross already are grappling with the problem of new armies of prisoners on the eastern front between Russia and Germany.

Postal bags of prisoners' packages are piled high in the warehouses of Geneva's railway station, and a dozen Swiss postal clerks work swiftly and carefully to dispatch them to their goals.

The packages come from relatives and friends, from Red Cross Chapters or other humanitarian agencies in the homelands.

In each prisoners' camp there is "a man of confidence" appointed by the prisoners from among their group to find out which men have no relatives or friends in a position to send them packages. These lists are then sent to National Red Cross Societies or other organizations.

Some 20,000 Polish prisoners whose families had disappeared or were unable to send them any sort of relief were thus helped after the Polish campaign.

Faced With Problem

Faced with the problem of almost 2,00,000 French prisoners in camps all over Germany and occupied France whose needs were great in the summer of 1940, a Red Cross committee organized mass collections and deliveries of food, clothes, medical supplier, jam and tobacco.

Fifteen hundred freight cars and trucks carried 20,000,000 pounds of bread, canned goods and clothes to French prisoners as gifts of the French Red Cross.

British prisoners in Germany fared less well for a long while, because of transport difficulties across Spain. Before the Geneva Red Cross was able to negotiate with Portugal and Spain for better transport, it bought 282 tons of food on the continent to send to British prisoners' camps.

Takes Four Months

Later in the year negotiations at Lisbon enabled packages to be shipped to Mediterranean ports, thus avoiding the uncertain rail trip across Spain. Even now, it usually takes about four months before packages from the United States reachs the camps.

Carl J. Burckhardt, active member of the International Red Cross Committee since his post as League of Nations High Commissioner at Danzig was suppressed, says every British prisoner now is able to receive at least one package a week. During the first 3½ months of this year 329,092 parcels arrived in Geneva for distribution to British prisoners in Germany, Italy and occupied France.

RECTOR AT DOVER RECORDS SHELLING

Vestry Book Diary Contains Strange Reading by Contrast With Entries of Pre-War Days

Dover, England, Aug. 27—(CP)—"Evensong—shelling during service" is a typical entry in a wartime diary kept by a front-line parson.

He is Rev. W. E. Purcell, 32-year-old priest-in-charge of the ancient parish church of Dover, only 20 miles from German-occupied France.

The diary he keeps in the leather-bound Vestry Book makes strange reading by contrast with the formal entries of prewar days.

"Service discontinued due to shelling," is one remark.

Mr. Purcell explained, "I started making these entries because I was so impressed by the persistence of the parishioners in coming regularly to church under front line conditions. They still come as regularly as ever."

The column for last Easter Sunday had these comments: "Service tattended by the mayor and corporation—heavy machine-gunning of balloons during service."

Mr. Purcell said the congregation "didn't turn a hair" when Messerschmitts tried to shoot up the balloon barrage. Two Bren guns near the church fired at the raiders as the preacher entered the pulpit. He asked the congregation to sing a hymn and by the time it was finished the attackers had been driven away.

Murray Twp. Farmer Missing From Home

Trenton, Aug. 27 (Special)—Town police under Chief William Bain, and posses of farmers combed the countryside here today in a search for 73-year-old Richard Arlen, 2nd Concession, Sidney, missing since Monday morning at eight o'clock.

The aged man is approximately five feet nine inches in height and weighs in the vicinity of 150 pounds. He is of fair complexion with grey hair and when last seen was wearing a dark suit. Anyone seeing him or who have knowledge of his whereabouts are requested to communicate with the Trenton police department immediately.

The missing man was last seen when he was passing the farm owned by Miss Hazel Farley. He was travelling in the direction of Smithfield at the time.

5 Men Do Not Want C. of L. Bonus

Victoria, Aug. 27 (CP)—Five married employees of the nearby municipality of Saanich recently granted a $5 cost of living bonus are going to ask the municipal council to take back the raise—and they have their reasons.

The employees found that the increase raised their salaries to $105 per month—thus making them liable for National Defence Tax. In addition ,their superannuation assessment was increased by 20 cents.

The way they figured it out they would be making 20 cents less per month than before they got the raise.

Names of Thousands Written on Bomb Destined for Huns

Toronto, Aug. 27—(CP)—Thousands of Canadians are in process of sending a personal greeting to Hitler—via bomb. Their names are being written on the bomb in the booth of the War Savings Committee at the Canadian National Exhibition. The 500-pound missile at some future date will whistle down on an enemy objective.

Purchasers of War Savings Stamps are entitled to inscribe their names on the bomb but anyone anxious to affix their name to it is not denied the privilege.

MOTHER, 3 CHILDREN DEAD

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Morey, 34, and three of her four children were found dead, their throats slashed, in their first floor Brooklyn apartment today. Police said the woman's husband, William, 36, a former policeman, and a son, William Jr., 11, had been taken to hospital. The son was not expected to live.

The children who died with their mother were identified by the police as Marcella, seven, Claire, four, and Paul, three.

Police quoted Morey as saying: "My wife did it. My wife did it."

STATIONS SHORT OF FUEL

Albany, N.Y., Aug. 27 — (AP)—Many gasoline stations in New York State either ran out of fuel or reported supplies nearing exhaustion today as result of a Federal order cutting August quotas.

Hundreds of operators were limiting the amount to individuals in an effort to keep at least a small supply until allowed to draw on their September quotas Saturday preparatory to the Labor Day week-end travel.

SWISS REPORT ROUND-UP

Berne, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss police continued an anti-Communist drive today, rounding up a large number of suspects in Basel after house searches.

"In past weeks Communist agitators have attacked the police of the Federal and Cantonal governmen :, and have urged the country to intervene in foreign conflicts," said a police communique.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE SEEN IN CERTAIN RAW MATERIALS

U.S. Defence Officials Foresee 'Period of Public Confusion' Within Next Few Weeks

Washington, Aug. 27 — (AP)—United States defence officials foresaw today " a period of public confusion" within the next few weeks because of the mounting demands of arms industries for raw materials normally used for consumer goods.

A serious shortage in a number of defence-important raw materials was said to be imminent, and indications were there would be a sharp curtailment or complete stoppage of their use for civilian needs.

Dr. R. E. McConnell, conservation expert for the office of production management, pictured the situation as grave in an address yesterday to a priorities clinic for representatives of trade publications

"The next few weeks," he predicted, "will bring a period of public confusion, because government restrictions will come as a shock to the people. The first period will be one of privation . . . and even great privations may be suffered in the future. But we will have to get used to the dislocation because we all know we can't live on the same earth with Hitler.

"We are moving into a war economy," he went on. "War economy is not a comfortable economy. We can have all the guns and some of the butter, or all the butter and some of the guns, but we cannot have all the guns and all the butter."

Frenchman Describes Terrible Toll Taken By RAF on Nazi Forces

London—The terrible toll taken by R.A.F. pilots on the German troops gathered at the Havre for an invasion of England nearly a year ago has just been told by a young Frenchman of 19, who escaped from a French ship to join Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French Forces after many adventures.

"I was at Le Havre in occupied France," states Z . . . . , the 19-year-old soldier. "I could see each daye the German flag and the swastika flying over French monuments. The Germans were everywhere, in administrative buildings, barracks, hospitals, etc., and were preparing to invade England.

During the month of September last, I witnessed one of these attempts. At least thirty thousand Germans were drowned. The Royal Air Force was well informed and their warcraft arrived at the psychological moment to bomb the Germans. As the latter were not over enthusiastic to cross the Channel, their officers had locked them in their ships or tied them to their rafts. They were unable to escape and when the R.A.F. bombers arrived we could hear their screams.

I left La Havre on June 25th last on my way to Marseilles believing it would be more easy to reach the Free French Forces from there. On June 27, I was arrested by the Germans when I crossed from the occupied zone to unoccupied France. I was sent to jail in Tours. I found three hundred men there who had also attempted to leave in order to join Gen. de Gaulle. Immediately on my release, I managed to get through and thumbing my way, arrived in Marseilles on July 14th.

My luck beginning to turn, I joined a ship leaving for Syria. As we neared the coast, the strictest watch was kept in order to prevent anyone from leaving the ship.

I managed to squeeze through a porthole, but as I am not a good swimmer, I would have certainly drowned if I had not been saved by a brave Australian soldier who threw me a rope."

Doctor and Sergt.-Pilot Escape

How a young doctor and his companion managed to escape from France to join the Free French Forces of Gen. Charles de Gaulle is vividly related by Sergeant Pilot X . . . , who was demobilized on August 15th, 1940, and has finally reached his goal, to fight with the Allies.

Here is the story in his own words: "As soon as I was demobilized, I decided to reach England, and with a comrade who was a mechanic, we proceeded to La Rochelle and then to Paris, where we had been told there were possibilities of joining Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French Forces.

Having failed, we went to Lyon and then Marseilles, seeking an opportunity. I attempted to enter Spain, but was stopped when I had reached 15 miles inside the border and was brought back to France. I returned to Marseilles, Lyon and finally to Paris, where my companion and myself succeeded in helping a number of French and British prisoners to escape.

Still seeking the means to reach England, I returned to Marseilles which seemed the only place from which it was possible to leave France. On July 14th last, I learned that some ships would shortly leave for Syria to repatriate French troops. This was the long sought for opportunity. I joined as a stoker on one of the ships.

The watch on board was most strict, and when we neared Syria, we were told that contact with the shore was prohibited. As the watch prevent any escape, I decided to try my chance, and with another stoker, who turned out to be a young doctor, we squeezed through the porthole and swam for shore in the darkness.

The greeting which the Free French Forces gave us was most touching. I had finally attained the aim which I had been pursuing since the armistice, which was to join the Allies and help liberate France from German oppression."

Post-War Reconstruction Plans Must Include Social Security

Hon. Ian Mackenzie Says If Old Dogmas Fail to Solve Unemployment and Distress, 'We Must Look to New Remedies'

POST-WAR PROGRAM.

Toronto, Aug. 27.— (CP)—Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions and National Health, said in an address to the Board of Directors of The Canadian National Exhibition today that after the war if "old dogmas and dotcrines and old philosophies of government cannot solve the problems of unemployment and relief and distress, we must look to newer remedies and newer faiths and newer solutions".

Mr. Mackenzie said that collective security would be based upon collective force and collective preparedness, and not upon collective idealism. "We are already laying plans for bridging the gap between the impervious necessities of wartime industry and the constructive necessities of the peacetime industries that will come".

Adequate Employment for Returning Service Men

He added that the first essential "is to provide adequate employment opportunities for our returning service men and those who are no longer required in the munition factories of the nation".

Reconstruction plans must be coordinated with those in the United States and other portions of the Empire. "We must form a carefully planned national effort to meet the problems of the aftermath".

Mr. Mackenzie said that such plans include providing a public works program; co-ordinated municipal, provincial and federal effort; a sound and progressive agricultural policy; development of natural resources and development an extensive highway construction program.

However he added, "above all and transcending all must be the development of a great national scheme of social security by which the masses of our people shall never again know those fears that come from insecurity and poverty and want and distress."

The standard of living that is low in some nations should be "universalized and maintained by a real League of Nations or a freedom area which shall be the guardian of the liberties and comforts of mankind."

"We must have a peace dictated by the peoples themselves. The post-war problems that will inevitably come will be solved by the will of the people," Mr. Mackenzie said.

"Our task on the home front may be divided into two parts. We must support the efforts of the armed forces with equipment and supplies, seeing that they lack nothing which will help them to defeat the enemy. We must maintain the home institutions and see to it that the country which our men have gone forth to defend continues to move forward in the path of orderly progress."

EIGHT MINERS REFUSED LAMPS

Company Official Claims Men Did Not Do "Full Day's Work"

Glace Bay, N.S., Aug. 27—(CP)—Eight miners were refused their lamps today when they reported for work at the Caledonia pit of Dominion Coal Company and a company official said they had been laid off because they "have not done a full day's work in the mine."

The other workers of the mine, one of 10 Cape Breton collieries in which the miners have engaged for more than three months in a slowdown production policy, continued at their toil despite the action. The Caledonia local of District 26 of the United Mine Workers of America will meet tonight to decide on a course of action.

There was speculation over further layoffs when the next shift reports for work at three o'clock. Those at Caledonia were the only layoffs reported in any of the collieries.

The eight men were said to have been refused their lamps when they checked in this morning and told to report to the office of the management. There they were informed of their layoff.

GREENBERG "GROUNDED"

Fort Custer, Mich., Aug. 27 (AP)—Corporal Hank Greenberg, former outfielder of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, was arrested by military police at 1230 a.m. today for speeding inside the Fort Custer grounds.

As an immediate result, press relations officers said Greenberg automatically is "grounded"—deprived for 30 days of the privilege of driving on the military reservation.

Refugee Describes Hun Treachery

By a Former Paris Correspondent in the Yorkshire Post

Among refugees still in Leeds after having escaped from France is Madame Reynard (an assumed name to avoid reprisals against her family still in France), the French wife of an Englishman who is at present in India.

She formerly lived in Saumur, but had to flee from there, before the German advance. On the road to Tours she was twice wounded, in the arm and in the face. "The German planes flew so low," she said, "that as they machine-gunned us we could have grabbed the hair of the pilots.

"Since I have made the journey to England," she told me, "I am more than ever convinced that England is on the way to victory.

"In Unoccupied France conditions are terrible. There is no freedom of any sort. Although over 80 percent. of the people are pro-British and de Gaullist, there is still a proportion which supports Vichy, and no one dare talk freely in public for fear of betrayal. We know nothing of what is really happening except through the British broadcasts. We do not even know the armistice terms, and all the papers are directed by Germans so we do not bother to read them.

"There are continual raids on homes, supposedly made to see if the owners are sheltering Communists, but really to make sure that no arms are being kept in secret. We have to hide our wireless sets, for it is forbidden to listen to the British broadcasts. If the police find more than four pounds of sugar in a house they confiscate it and take anything else they fancy.

"Food is a terrible problem. I have had to eat sausages made of dog meat. Many people are having their pets destroyed, because otherwise they are collected for food. Without the cats and dogs, the rats are increasing and we fear a plague.

"Often the butchers' shops are closed because they have no meat to sell. Old people are not even given a meat ration card. We have to manage with less than a pound of fat a month, and with just over a hundredweight of coal a month.

"We have seen no potatoes for six months. Marshal Petain appealed to people to plant potatoes in their gardens but when the crop was nearly ready for use the Germans forbade anyone to lift it. They came and took 80 percent of it for themselves.

"We do not know what coffee is. The national coffee is made from burnt barley or beans of different sorts. Our bread is black and in very small quantities. The American Red Cross distributed food to us — dried milk for the babies and white bread for the adults. We had the white bread on three successive Sundays, but we had hoped it would be a supplement to our rations, as the Americans had intended it to be. Instead, our ordinary ration was taken away for those days.

"None of the fruits and vegetables from Algeria reach France—they are taken to Italy by way of Genoa, and German trains wait on the docks at Marseilles to take away any other products that French ships bring in.

"The Italians, however, are no more popular with the Germans than with the French. Often quarrels break out in the streets and develop into fights."

British Farmer Grows Sweet Corn

London, Aug. 27.— (CP)—The London newspapers discovered today that an interpid British farmer is growing 1 1-2 acres of sweet corn which will go on sale for cob eating at 15 cents per ear, and one writer undertook to explain it this way:

"Corn is a favorite food in North America where it is grown largely in the Southern States. It is also regarded as a great delicacy by Anglo-Indians throughout the West.

"The cob is boiled for fifteen minutes and served like a potato in its jacket. The leaves are removed butter or margarine is spread over the corn and it is sprinkled with pepper and salt.

"Then, holding it at the ends, you nibble the corn like a rabbit".

Two Planes Collide Over Blackpool, England, Six Persons Killed

Blackpool England, Aug. 27—(CP)—The collision of two planes over Blackpool today resulted in the death of six persons, including the crews of both aircraft, the hospitalization of 16 and minor injuries for scores of others.

Thirty persons were injured by the fall of one of the planes on a central station. The other dropped upon a house.

The fuel tank of one exploded as the plane dived, scattering fragments of metal over a one-mile radius. The severed tail of the other plane fell into the sea, barely missing a crowded promenade at a seaside resort.

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.45 p.m.—

MINES
Aldermac	13B
Anglo Hur	270B
Aunor	172
Bankfield	5
Beattie	110
Bidgood	8 1-2B
Bralorne	11 1-4
Broulan	75
Calgary and Ed.	134B
Can. Malar	54A
Central Pat.	190
Chesterville	136
Coniaurum	122
Dome	22 5-8A
Eldorado	41B
East Mal.	225
Falconbridge	325
Francoeur	40
Gunnar	25 1-2
Hardrock	80
Home Oil	242
Hollinger	12 3-4
Howey	20B
Hudson Bay	27B
Jason	36 1-2
Kerr Add.	450
Kirk. Lake	69
Lake Shore	15A
Leitch	46
Little L.L.	185
Macassa	385B
McIntyre	49 1-4
McLeod	205
McKenzie	112
Mining Corp.	120B
Moneta	35 1-2
O'Brien	137
Okalta	54B
Paymaster	19B
Pamour	98
Perron	140
Pend Oreille	160
Pickle Crow	300
Pioneer	250
Powell	80
Premier	85
Preston E. D.	310
Reno	13A
Royalite	22 1-2B
San Antonio	245A
Sherritt G.	75B
Siscoe	52 1-2
Sladen M.	19B
Sud. Basin	154B
Sullivan	63B
Steep Rock	180
Sylvanite	250
T. Hughes	278
Tex Can. Oil	95B
Toburn	148A
Ventures	475
W. Amulet	470
Wr. Hargreaves	400
Upper Can.	178
TORONTO
Bell Telephone	149 7-8
B.A. Oil	16 3-8
Brewing Corp.	115B
Braz. Trac.	7 3-4
Can. Bud Brewery	4 3-4B
Can. Cement	5B
Can. Ind. Alcohol	2 1-4
C.P.R.	1-2
Can. Malting	33B
Can. Vinegar	6 3-8B
Canada Car	6 3-4B
Cons. Bakeries	13A
Con. Smelting	38
Dominion Foundries	18 3-4
Dominion Stores	5 1-8
Dist. Seagrams	22 1-2B
Fanny Farmer	23 1-8
Ford "A"	13 7-8
Gypsum	3 1-8B
Imp. Oil	9 3-8
Int. Nickel	34 1-2
Inter. Pet.	13 1-2
Imp. Tobacco	12 1-4B
Loblaw	26 1-2B
Massey Harris	2 3-4
Mont. Power	22
McColl-Frontenac	4 1-4B
Price Bros.	10 1-4B
Shawinigan	13 1-4
Walker's	41 7-8
Walker's, Pfd.	20 1-8A
C.P.A.	3 3-4
NEW YORK
Bethlehem Steel	69
Chrysler	57 1-2
General Electric	32 5-8
General Motors	39 1-8
North American	12 7-8
Montgomery Ward	34 1-8
Phillips Pet	44 5-8
Radio	4 1-8
Standard Brands	5 1-2
U.S. Steel	57 3-4
United Aircraft	40 3-4
Vanadium	25 1-2
Westinghouse	91 3-8

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 27 —(AP)— A small flow of buying orders today permitted the stock market to extend its late August rally. Rails, Coppers and Selected Aircrafts, Motors, Rubbers and Specialties were fractionally ahead near the fourth hour. Dealings were light.

Tending toward improvement the greater part of the time were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, U.S. Rubber, Boeing, Sperry, Kennecott, American Smelting, Johns-Manville, Chesapeake & Ohio, Great Northern Pfd. and Texas Corp.

Canadian stocks were higher. Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagram each gained 1-8 point while Dome was 3-8 higher. In the Bond Market Canada 4s were unquoted.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 27—(CP)—Stocks advanced moderately, led by Golds in trading on Toronto Exchange today. Secondary Golds, including Macleod-Cockshutt, Malartic Gold Fields, Sylvanite, Kerr-Addison, Little Long Lac and Hard Rock, advanced 5 or more. Macleod-Cockshutt was up 17 to 2.06. Trading tempo picked up with the price advances and turnover was 184,000 shares.

In Industrials the interlisted leaders, including Brazilian, Ford A, Bell Telephone, Industrial Alcohol A, Distillers-Seagrams, Fanny Farmer and Dominion Stores, advanced moderately.

Base metals were quiet with prices up for Noranda, Smelters, Steep Rock and Waite-Amulet. In the Junior Oils a loss of 2 for Home Oil to 2.40 was the only change.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS
A-large	.40
A-medium	.39
A-pullet	.33-.34
Grade "B"	.32-.33
Grade "C"	.27-.28
BUTTER
Butter, No. 1	.36 1-4
Butter, No. 2	.34 3-4-.35 1-2
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Further Increase In Egg Prices Seen

Toronto, Aug. 27—With the volume of fresh receipts so light as to almost approximate a scarcity, graded egg prices were further increased 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday. Butter slipped an additional 1-4 cent a pound in very light trading.

The egg market continued on a very firm tone as exceptionally light receipts were met by keen local demand. Addvances of 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen in spot prices and 1 cent a dozen in prices paid by the retail trade were made by all grades but C, which remained steady in both sections of trading. Grades A-large, A-medium, A-pullet and B closed at 37 to 37 1-2, 36 to 36 1-2, 31 to 32, and 30 cents a dozen respectively in the country dealer section and 40, 39, 34 and 33 cents a dozen in wholesale-to-retail action.

The butter market continued quiet, though there was a little more enquiry evident in late afternoon trading. Prices on all grades of creamery solids sagged another 1-4 cent a pound. Some sales of first grade solids were reported at the lowered price of 36 1-4 cents a pound.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 27—(CP) — Produce market prices here yesterday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter—First-grade solids, jobbing price, 37c; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized current receipt price, 35 7-8c; No. 2, 34 7-8c; No. 1 wholesale price, 36 3-4c; No. 2, 35 1-2c. Receipts: 457 boxes.

Eggs: Graded shipments selling at A-large, 37c to 37 1-2c; A-medium, 35 1-2c to 36c, pullets, 29c to 30c; B-grade, 28c to 29c; C-grade, 24c to 24 1-2c. Receipts: 1,890 cases.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 27 —(CP)— Bacon-hog prices were unchanged on all markets reporting here today:

Liveweight: Chatham $10.

Dressedweight: Brantford $14.10 plus transportation, Chatham $13.70, Hamilton $14.50 delivered, Hull $14, London $14.35 delivered, Stratford $14 plus transportation.

Livestock

Toronto, Aug. 27 (CP)—The cattle market was fairly active with prices steady. Hogs, lambs and sheep were also steady. Unsold from yesterday were 700 head of cattle.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 670, calves 330, hogs 680, sheep and lambs 350.

Weighty steers sold at $8.25-$9.60, butcher steers and heifers sold mostly at $8-$8.85 with a few light steers up to $9.50, butcher cows sold at $5-$7 with good bulls selling at $7-$7.25, bolognas at $5.50-$6.75, fed calves brought $9-$11 and stockers $5.75-$8.25.

Veal calves sold at 12.50-$13 for choice with common vealers selling downward to $8, grassers brought $6-$7.

Hogs sold at $14.30-$14.65 and sows for $9.75-$10.25.

Lambs brought $12 for good ewes and wethers with bucks bringing $10-$11, sheep selling at $3-$6.50.

Montreal, Aug. 27—(CP)—Prices on all classes of the Montreal Livestock Markets remained unchanged, it was reported today by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Receipts: Cattle 32; calves 131; hogs 121; sheep and lambs 74.

Common to medium quality steers made $6.25-$8.50, heifers $4.50-$8 and butcher cows made $4.75-$7, with tops at $7.25.

Veal calves drew $8.50-$12 and good veals 11.50 or higher. Common to medium kinds were sold mostly $9-$11.

Hogs were sold $14.75 for B-1 dressed, $11.10 for B-1 alive fed and watered and $11.25 off trucks delivered. Grade A drew $1 premium with discounts on off grades. Sows made $7.50-$9 live weight.

Good ewes and wethers drew $11.50, sheep ranged from $4-$6.50.

Outlaw Strikes Claim of Society

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—The United States Army Ordnance Association, a semi-official body, today condemned strikes for a "disgraceful blot" on the record of defence progress and listed as a companion debit the lack of a single administrative lead for armaments production.

On the subject of defence strikes the Association asserted: "They should be outlawed once and for all in order that the vast majority of willing hands may do their share in defence production."

The Ordnance organization also deplored the delay in fixing "a ceiling on all prices"—a delay which it said "has added millions to the cost of national defence and points the way to monetary inflation which may defeat the very purpose of the defence effort."

The opinions of the Association were set forth in an editorial analysis of the accomplishments and defects of the defence effort which appears in the current issue of the organization's journal, Army Ordnance.

Turning to the question of public attitude toward defence, the editorial declared:

"There is yet no realization on the part of our people as a whole of the full meaning of an all-out defence effort. Until there is such realization, much stress will be at cross-purpose and the selfish interests of various groups will continue to be given consideration over the national defence needs."

$11,500,000 Issued To Soldiers' Dependents During Month of July

Ottawa, Aug. 27 (CP)—Dependents of Canadian (Active) Army and Royal Canadian Air Force personnel were issued 218,000 cheques totalling $11,500,000 during July, figures issued in the last monthly statement of the Dependent's Allowance and Assigned Pay Branch of the Comptroller of the Treasury's Office announced today.

"Of this amount," a statement said, "$6,000,000 was issued for dependent's allowance on authority of the Dependent's Allowance Board, Department of National Defence, and the remaining $5,500,000 was issued from the pay of the personnel of the forces on assignments to their dependents or relatives."

McNaughton Praises Equipment Received For Canadian Forces

Somewhere in England Aug. 27—(CP Cable)—Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Commander of the Canadian Corps, yesterday praised highly the equipment received for the Canadian forces from the Dominion.

Speaking to newsmen during Prime Minister Mackenzie King's visit to the 1st Division, he said that everything from boats and battledress to Bren guns and carirers had proved of the highest quality.

The Canadian-built carriers with their superior engine power soon will be used throughout the Canadian Corps.

Gen. McNaughton said he received the specifications of a new tank being built in Montreal. He said he was awaiting the arrival of a sample which would be put through practical tests.

The boots of the Canadian soldiers, coming from factories back home, were described as the finest obtainable anywhere.

Gen. McNaughton said the Canada-made battle dress, developed after rigid durability tests, has greater wool content and better cut than the British version. It is the envy of men in other forces, he said.

The Canadian Bren gun has revealed itself to be an efficient high-class weapon, he added.

Ann Sothern dons boxing gloves to slug her way through her latest funny adventures as Maisie, in "Ringside Maisie," featuring George Murphy, now at the Belle. "Scotland Yard," is the second feature.

High Ranking British Officers Captured by Italians Spend Time Growing Crops, Raising Chicks

London, Aug. 27 (CP)—Four British Generals, an Air Marshal and a Flight-Lieutenant captured by the Italians are spending their time raising chickens and growing vegetables at a villa near Rome, according to letters reaching London.

Gen. Carton De Wiart, 60-year-old one-armed and one-eyed leader of the British Expeditionary Force in Norway, was chosen "commander in chief of the vegetable garden" and hopes to have fresh onions, carrots and lettuce soon.

In a letter to his daughter, Mrs. R. Walker, the General said he spent two hours in the water after his plane was forced down in the Mediterranean last April and that the Italians were treating him "excellently."

He was suffering from concussion when interned with other captured Britons in a villa at Sulmona in the Sabine hills. After he recovered he dug up a plot of ground and planted vegetables. Maj.-Gen. M. D. Gambier-Parry, 49-year-old tank expert captured in Cyrenaica, helps him hoe and water the garden.

Other interned officers are Lieut.-Gen. Philip Neame, former General Officer Commanding in Palestine, Lieut.-Gen. Sir Richard O'Connor who have 11 hens in a chicken run, Air Marshal O. T. Boyd and Flt.-Lieut. Leeming.

Air Marshal Boyd is "commander-in-chief" of the villa's carpenter shop and Flt.-Lieut. Leeming mess officer.

THE WAR TODAY

(By H. M. PETERS)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The Japanese today reopened the war of nerves in the Far East by revealing Tokyo had made "representations" to both the United States and Russia, over shipments of American aircraft gasoline to aid the Soviet in beating off Hitler's attack.

Possibly one reason why the Japanese have chosen this time to bring up the matter of United States aid for Russia can be found in yesterday's announcement from Washington that Mr. Roosevelt is sending a military mission to Chungking.

Such a mission will be charged with studying Chinese needs so as to facilitate the delivery of lease-lend supplies to Chiang Kai-Shek's government which has fought off the invading Japanese for four years.

The Russians, to whom uninterrupted flow of American supplies is of increasing importance because they are losing a number of industrial points in the Ukraine to Hitler's forces, sought to stave off any precipitate action by Tokyo.

The Soviet government would regard it as an unfriendly act if Japan made any attempt to hinder normal trade relations between the United States and Russia, the Japanese were informed. Importation of American supplies was in no sense a threat to Japan, Moscow said, such goods were destined for use in "the defensive war imposed upon the Soviet Union, as well as for agricultural needs."

Exportation of Feed Wheat, Oats, Barley Prohibited by Gov't

Ottawa, Aug. 27—(CP)—Exportation of feed wheat, oats and barley or mixtures of oats and barley with other feed grains is prohibited except by special permission from the Trade and Commerce Department, under government orders published Tuesday in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette.

The orders were signed by the Agriculture Minister, Hon. J. G. Gardiner and take effect immediately.

One order prohibited exportation except under special licence of "oats, barley and any combination or mixture of them with other feed grains, whole or ground," and the other referred to "wheat of grade four or lower grades."

The ban on such exportation followed an earlier prohibition on export of millfeeds from the Dominion, which was imposed last week. It was imposed because of a shortage of feed for hogs and cattle, particularly in Eastern Canada.

The millfeeds situation will be reviewed by the Agricultural Supplies Board at a meeting scheduled for today. This particular control is on a week-to-week basis.

Exempted Property Increases Yearly, O. M. A. is Told

Toronto, Aug. 27 (CP)—Exempted property in Ontario cities is increasing yearly, and there is a widespread agitation for a complete revision of the Assessment Act, C. W. McCrea, President of the Ontario Municipal Association, said in his presidential address before the convention of the Association at City Hall today.

Mr. McCrea estimated that one-quarter of the property in a group of 26 cities in Ontario was exempt from taxation.

"Revision may be overdue, but the present is not an opportune time to recommend drastic measures," Mr. McCrea said.

"In 1940, 26 cities in Ontario, not including Windsor, had an assessed value of approximately $1,680,000,000, while the assessed valuation of exempted properties for the same year in cities amounted to $383,000,000. These figures would indicate that almost one-quarter of the property in these 26 cities was exempt from taxation."

The retiring president put the Dominion's war effort first on the list of the important duties of the association. He expressed pride that Ontario had subscribed to 52 per cent of the entire Victory Loan during the recent campaign.

62,343 Red Cross Articles Contributed By Quebec Women

Montreal, Aug. 27 —(CP)— Thirty-five thousand women, working for the Quebec provincial division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, completed during July 62,343 articles valued at $24,352, it was announced today.

Garments for air raid victims in Great Britain and for members of the Women's Auxiliary Services of England, valued at $14,841, totalled 26,257.

The remaining 36,000 finished articles, valued at $9,511, were distributed among hospitals, army and navy centres overseas and in Canada.

Allies Opening New Roads Into Russia

(By EDWARD E. BOMAR)

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—There are signs that the two principal gateways to Russia, through Iran and Siberia, may be opened with a minimum use of actual force.

Iran now indicates a willingness to reach an understanding with Britain and Russia, ordering expulsion of some of the German nationals whose presence occasioned the invasion of the ancient Moslem land.

Japan, it is hinted in a roundabout manner from Shanghai, may be less inclined to make an issue of the delivery of United States aviation gasoline and other war supplies to Russia by way of Vladivostok.

Both developments demonstrate that the foes of the Axis are able to bring considerable power to bear just now. Moreover, they are determined to use their power to the full, while Hitler struggles to bring his Russian adventure to a decision.

"No Nonsense" Policy

In the Far East, as well as in Iran, what London terms a "no nonsense" policy continues to manifest itself almost daily. British forces in the South Pacific have just been further reinforced, even as the Japanese hurl maledictions at Prime Minister Churchill for his warning to abandon aggression. Arrivals at Singapore included the largest single group of Royal Air Force personnel to reach there in a year.

Across the China Sea in the Philippines, a thousand Filipino commissioned and non-commissioned officers are donning uniforms, preparing for the mobilization next week of 30,000 troops for Lieut.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur's American Far Eastern command.

Official permission now has been given for resumption of shipments of strategic Philippine minerals and cocoanut oil to Russia. They were halted at a time when it was suspected that a large proportion was finding its way to Germany.

China concurrently has been reassured by Secretary of State Hull that in the continuing diplomatic talks with Japan there will be no compromise of American principles and no agreement that would permit Japan to enjoy the fruits of aggression.

Develop Burma Road

All the while American equipment and management appear to be rapidly developing the Burma Road to its full capacity.

This steady unfolding of British and American measures to restrain Japan—Tokyo prefers to call it an encirclement plot — makes the Shanghai report especially interesting reading.

It is a French despatch from Tokyo quoting well-informed quarters as saying the Japanese Government had decided to tolerate temporarily the passage of American war materials to Vladivostok. This toleration, it was added, will be used as a lever to obtain relaxation of the Anglo-British economic blockade, and Russia will be asked to pledge that United States arms will not be used against Japan.

Despite this despatch, however there is no certainty as to just what Japan will do. Meanwhile the first American tanker plods toward Vladivostok, where it is due within two weeks.

ASK "NO TREATING"

Glasgow—CP)—Sixty-eight thousand Scottish teetotallers have signed a petition asking the government to re-enact the "not treating" (especially for soldiers) liquor regulation of the First Great War.

CONFER ON COST OF ARP SET-UP FOR ONTARIO

Complete Equipment Set-up Said Estimated at $10,000,000

Toronto, August 27—(CP)—Dr. W. E. Glidden, Federal Air Raid Precautions Officer, and Attorney-General G. D. Conant were conferring Tuesday regarding cost of a complete air raid precaution equipment set-up for Ontario. Government officials are said to have estimated the cost at $10,000,000.

Mr. Conant, who also is chairman of the Ontario A.R.P. Committee, said he had been in communication for some time with Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions and National Health, regarding the Ontario A. R. P. situation. He added the province's position in the matter has been placed before officials at Ottawa and as soon as the latter's attitude is known a meeting of all municipal A. R. P. Committees will be called.

"I intend to inform this meeting which may be called next week, just where they stand as to equipment," Mr. Conant said. Blackouts could not be made effective without adequate synchronizing of a siren warning system and such a system for the present 14 vulnerable A. R. P. areas would cost about $500,000.

"Assuming the next blackout in Toronto is unannounced and carried out with the utmost secrecy," Mr. Conant said. "Under those conditions, only senior officials would be informed. Consequently, you cannot make it effective without a system of sirens. Such a system cannot be introduced or put into effect until we know what the Dominion Government are ready to do about it."

Officials are said to have estimated cost of air raid shelters in the vital areas at $5,000,000 or $8,000,000 and other equipment at $2,000,000 to $3,000,000.

GERMAN

(Continued from Page One)

The Nazis have claimed capture of Dnieperopetrovsk, last Russian stronghold on the west bank of the Dnieper south of Kiev. Berlin observers consequently expressed belief the southern army would continue to fight eastward toward the rich Donest river basin between the Dnieper and the Don.

No Russian Comment

"Operations between Lake Ilmen and the Gulf of Finland as well as before Tallinn (the besieged capital of Estonia) and on the Finnish front proceed successfully," the high command claimed.

The report said Nazi aircraft struck heavily at Soviet troop concentrations east of Kiev overnight, destroyed railway networks west of Moscow and in the Leningrad area, sank four Soviet transports totalling 9,000 tons, damaged four additional ships in the Finnish Gulf, and scored on three destroyers and another unspecified war vessel.

(There was no Russian comment on these claims. Some speculation was aroused as to whether the Russians were attempting an evacuation by sea from Tallinn.)

In the Dnieper estuary and south of Kiev, the High Command said, "the last enemy forces which were still resisting on the western bank of the Dnieper were overcome, partly in hand-to-hand fighting."

It was in this district that the Germans were expected here to drive towards the Donets Basin.

Changed Mind About Arabs

Australian Trooper Found Them Helpful in 40 Days on Desert

London (CP)—Forty days in the desert behind enemy lines, living on bread and water given to him by friendly Arabs, then escape with the help of a Senussi guide, was the experience of an Australian soldier, J. H. Jenkins, son of Rev. C. Hanmer Jenkins, a Bristol Baptist minister.

"I am now as well as ever despite about a 400-mile hike through enemy territory to rejoin our troops," he wrote. "We had a bit of a scrap and were more or less cut off from the rest of the unit and missed the transport back so had to come on shank's pony. Fortunately for us, the Arabs all along the route were friendly and would always give us food and water when we went up to their tents.

"When we first came we rather despised the Arabs but from now on I will think of nothing but good of them."

Expresses Condolences To Lady Willingdon

London, Aug. 27—(CP Cable) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King after spending a busy day Tuesday with the Canadian 1st Division, planned to remain today in his hotel suite dealing with correspondence which reached him during his absence 'Somewhere in England'.

After returning from his visit to the troops, Mr. King left his hotel last night to express his condolences to Lady Willingdon widow of the former Governor-General of Canada with whom the Prime Minister was closely acquainted for many years.

EARL OF ATHLONE TOSSES SHEAVES

Takes Part in Threshing Operation on Farm Near Brandon

Brandon, Man., Aug. 27 (CP) — The Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, yesterday visited a threshing gang on the farm of Austin Brownridge, near Brandon.

He watched threshing operations for a while and then took a hand himself.

The Governor-General tossed sheaves into a separator and watched the grain flow out while straw swirled from a blower into a huge stack.

The Vice-Regal party spent three hours in the Brandon district during which the Governor-General and Princess Alice visited military establishments, women's war work centres, and the agricultural communities.

RUSSIA WARNS

(Continued from Page One)

Russian Statement

The statement follows:

"The official Soviet News Agency announces that on Aug. 25 the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow. Lt.-Gen. Tatekawa, made a statement to the Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, Comrade Molotov, to the effect that shipment by the United States to Vladivostok of goods purchased by the Soviet Union, such as oil and gasoline, is creating an extremely delicate and difficult situation for Japan because these goods have to pass in the proximity of Japanese territory.

"In view of this fact the Japanese government requested the Soviet government to elucidate the question of routes and method of transport of said shipments.

"Comrade Molotov declared to the Japanese Ambassador that since a similar statement had been made by the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Toyoda, to the Soviet Ambassador in Japan, Mr. Smetanin, the Soviet government entrusted its Ambassador in Tokyo to inform the Minister for Foreign Affairs as follows:

"The Soviet government sees no grounds for anxiety on the part of Japan in the fact that goods purchased by the Soviet Union in the United States, such as the oil and gasoline which you have mentioned, will be shipped to the Soviet Union by usual trade routes, including Far Eastern Soviet ports.

No Reason For Anxiety

"Likewise the Soviet government sees no reason on its own account for anxiety in the fact that Japan imports for her needs food from other states.

"The Soviet government deems it necessary in this connection to state that it could not help regarding any attempt to hinder normal trade relations between the Soviet Union and the United States via Far Eastern Soviet ports otherwise than as an unfriendly act to the U.S.S.R.

"At the same time the Soviet government confirms that goods purchased by the Soviet Union in the United States are destined in the first place for the satisfaction of the growing needs of the U.S.S.R. In the west in connection with the defensive war imposed upon the Soviet Union, as well as for agricultural needs in the Soviet Far East."

JAPAN MAKES

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 3)

Domei asserted that about 10,000,000 gallons of high octane gasoline already had left the United States, bound for Soviet Russia, including four shiploads which sailed from west coast ports around Aug. 16th.

Japanese-language evening newspapers, giving prominence to news of the representations, said the Government was viewing the situation with the utmost concern and awaited replies either verbally or in the form of action.

The Japanese representations were said by Domei to have been made in Washington.

The newspaper Kokumin said Foreign Minister Toyoda took formal action because "the Imperial Government was unable to remain indifferent to aid shipments from the standpoint of preserving peace in East Asia."

The newspaper Yomiuri said Japan was adhering faithfully to her neutrality pact with Russia and must pay the most serious attention to shipments passing near Japanese territory.

Consequently, it said, formal diplomatic steps were taken, while at the same time "the government is taking other appropriate measures."

Tokyo Markets Decline

Tokyo (AP)—The Tokyo stock market dropped drastically today because of the Anglo-Soviet invasion of Iran. Japan has been getting oil from Iran.

Washington Uninformed

Washington (AP)—Official quarters disclaimed knowledge today of any formal Japanese representations concerning United States war supply shipments to Russia via Vladivostok.

They indicated that if there had been any discussions on the subject, they arose only from informal Japanese inquiries.

State Secretary Cordell Hull was asked yesterday whether there had been any representations and replied by saying that until there were definite developments, if there should be any, there was nothing he could say.

TABRIZ, COUNTRY'S

(Continued from Page One)

Relations Remain Unbroken

Authorities noted that British and Russian diplomatic relations with Iran remained unbroken and that communications between London and the British legation in Teheran remained open.

Official quarters declined to speculate on possibility of a sudden end to the campaign, but the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Herald said:

"The next diplomatic move, if any, will presumably come from the Iranian government, which may make some kind of proposal for peaceful settlement.

"Any proposal from the Iranian government would obviously be given careful consideration. But it is equally obvious that military operations would continue. There could be no question of diplomatic 'delaying action.'"

Reports reaching London indicated that neither British nor Russian forces had met with serious opposition thus far.

Capture of Tabriz by the Russians brought the Soviet forces within nearly 250 miles of British units which yesterday pushed across the Iraq border to occupy the oil town of Nafti-Shah.

It appeared the Russians were advancing on a front of 260 miles extending from the Iraq border to the Caspian Sea.

Moscow, Aug. 27—(AP)—Russian troops driving southeastward into Iran directly toward Teheran have captured the town of Dilman, 100 miles northwest of the capital, the official Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

Dilman is 150 miles inside Iran from the Soviet Azerbaijan frontier, and was occupied yesterday on the second day of the British-Russian invasion, Tass stated. The town is 20 miles from the Caspian coast.

The Russians announced also the occupation of Tabriz, Iran's second largest city, in another thrust taking them 60 miles south of the Soviet border.

Also occupied was the town of Ardebil, which lies about 20 miles inside Iran, presumably by the forces which continued on toward Teheran along the southern shore of the Caspian Sea to take Dilman in their sweep.

The Russians also occupied Lissar, on the Caspian coast, 40 miles from the Azerbaijan border, Tass said.

"The advance is continiung and developing according to plan," the Russians stated.

IRAN PLEADS

(Continued from Page One)

A trial blackout was held in Teheran for about two hours last night.

The Premier's speech has been the only official war news. Otherwise, peace-time items filled the front pages of the Teheran press.

Mansur Appears Before Parliament

Mansur first appeared before parliament at a 25-minute session begun at 3:30 p.m. Monday to tell the 136 members about the invasion that morning.

"The government believes," he said, "that it is necessary to recommend that all people of the country preserve calm and order and peace at this moment."

"True," the members shouted back.

The British and Russian ministers at 4 a.m. Monday called upon Mansur at his home. They carried official notes saying that force was being used to eradicate dangerous German activities in Iran.

Mansur in his address to parliament claimed that "in this country no danger ever faced anybody," and he asserted that the government had assured both London and Moscow in recent weeks that the necessary steps would be taken to reduce to a great extent the number of German residents here.

HOUSE-BY-HOUSE

(Continued from Page One)

Hold Special Conference

(Advices reaching Vichy from Paris today said Justice Minister Joseph Barthelemy had held a special conference with the President of the Appelate Court and the Solicitor General before turning over the indictments of 300 Communists suspects on whom summary judgments were to begin today before a special section.

(Transfer of the cases from the civil courts and 12th correctional chambre was in accordance with the recent German-inspired decree making regular judicial procedure unnecessary.)

Eugene Deloncle, now head of a legion of French volunteers against Russia, accused Communists of having plotted an armed attack to overthrow the French Republican government four years ago. It was thwarted, he claimed, by armed resistance of his Cagoulard Organization (a hooded, Fascist group suppressed by the republic in 1937.)

According to his account, the Communists planned their coup for the night of Nov. 15, 1937, starting in the belt of Lefist workers' suburbs in the Paris area, but called it off when they learned that his forces had armed themselves from private stocks of munitions.

THE PATHS OF GLORY

London — (CP)—Two months after he was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry and leadership in action, Maj. Noel Christopher Fellows, of the British Army, died of wounds.

Dazzling Promise

By

KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER 21

Dismal Outlook

Then the vision of that desperately ill man on the hospital bed came to Dona and she got hold of herself.

"Thank you, Tom — for everything." She stood up. "I'm going to the hospital now."

Tom was instantly beside her, taking her jacket from the back of her chair and helping her into it.

She tried not to see his set jaw, the look of suffering on his dear face, but it was there and it would, she knew, haunt her forever.

"I'm going with you," he told her suddenly. "It's too long a trip for you to take alone at night."

"Oh, no—I can manage," she said, her pulses racing.

The respite of a few more minutes with him! Would it greatly matter?

"I insist," he told her firmly.

"You're—I should like it," she said truthfully.

She waited while he paid the dinner check, then they walked together out through the lobby and took a taxicab.

They rode in absolute silence through the brilliantly lighted streets and out through the darker boulevards of the city where the night seemed vast and deeply mysterious. As they were in the dazzling light of a corner street lamp for an instant, Tom reached out a hand without turning his head. Unhesitatingly laid hers in it. She was glad now that her gloves lay in her lap with her handbag; it was good to feel the warmth and vibration of his fingers directly on hers. They sent her that world-old message. Love! That lovely agony in the heart which every woman prays to experience! Even if it came when it could not be entertained, still it was a lovely symbol to live by. Love! She shuddered a little.

She left Tom sitting in the cab smoking a cigar while she went into the hospital. It was near the close of the visiting hours, so Dona hurried through the long corridors and up to Tug's room to have a word with his night nurse before she'd be violating rules.

The very quietness of this place seemed systematized. The bare dead white walls and pungent odor of disinfectants reminded her of what she faced and made that old bugbear, Duty, stand out harshly in her consciousness. Yes, sometimes duty was too supreme to be overlooked. Love? Was it possible for a woman to be completely unselfish? She wondered.

She knocked gently on the door of Tug's room and Miss Hammer, the night nurse, promptly appeared. But she placed a finger on her lips, stepped into the hall and closed the door behind her.

"How is he?" Dona asked, just above a whisper.

"You'd better not come in, Mrs. Nash. He's had a bad day. When I came on duty, it was all Miss Bond and I could do to keep him in bed." Miss Bond was the day nurse.

"Is he—is he in great danger?"

"Don't worry, dear. He'll come out all right. I've handled lots of these cases. It may take time—but we'll pull him out of it. We'll save him for you, Mrs. Nash."

Dona's troubled eyes traveled vaguely up and down pretty Miss Hammer's stiffly starched white uniform.

"Yes—I'm sure you will," she got out, a little helplessly.

Her shoulders slumped as she went slowly back along the hall. She was thinking, "Save him for me! Yes—any wife would want that. That pretty Miss Hammer meant to be kind. She was kind. Tug will be glad she's pretty."

"How'd you find everything?" asked Tom, when she got back into the taxicab.

"Not very encouraging. It will be a long-drawn-out session, I'm afraid."

"Just what do you propose to do now?"

"After a few days, when Tug is better, I'll go to see Mrs. Platt, pick up my few belongings and return here—try to find a job."

"Dona—it's all so senseless."

"Please, Tom—I must work it out my own way."

He sighed.

The driver had started the engine and now they began moving out to the street again.

"You won't forget I'm standing by—ready to help?"

"Indeed I won't. It will be a comfort to know—to know somebody—cares."

Her voice broke. She turned her head and looked out the window trying to pierce the darkness, but only a tall trim row of palms showed in the parking, now and then, as the taxicab sped swiftly along.

"When you're ready to go to Unadilla, I'd like to get you a plane reservation. You can let me do that much, I hope.

"Yes, thank you—saving time is a big item with me just now."

"It will be a red-letter day for me—because I'll go back with you. And about that job—father can find a vacancy, I'm sure, in one of his companies. He's been made a director so many times, I've lost count—so he's in a position to do something. Besides, father's very fond of you, Dona."

"I'm glad," she said sincerely, if somewhat unsteadily.

Then she added gratefully, "You think of everything, Tom. What would I do without you?"

"I scarcely know what you'll do with me in the end," he said, discreetly low, because of the driver.

She laughed on the edge of happiness, then remembered too much and sobered.

"You couldn't be other than you are, Tom—and that's so generous—so splendid—it chokes me all up to think about it."

It was his turn to laugh now. "Making a little tin god of me, are you? Better snap out of that before you're rudely disillusioned, my dear. I'm only a man—and I'm in love."

"It's such a gorgeous night—even without the stars," she remarked, purposely irrelevant.

He shrugged and was silent.

Soon the taxicab stopped in front of the hotel and they got out and entered the hotel lobby, arm in arm.

They stood there talking in circles, dreading to say good night when a tall, olive-skinned young man interrupted with, "Tom Castor, 'pon my word! This is luck!"

Tom's face lighted and he heartily shook the man's hand. "It's great to see you, Chris!" he exclaimed.

Turning to Dona, he said, "May I present the one and only Christopher Cupp—Miss Nickelson? Chris is the artist who puts all the pretty girls on magazine covers."

Unconsciously, the "Miss Nickelson" had slipped out, instead of the "Mrs. Nash" he could have used. But Dona was satisfied to let it pass. The less explaining she had to do about a husband just now, the better it suited her.

"Not all the magazine cover girls, Tom," Chris Cupp said, with a laugh.

"Nice modesty some of you famous fellows have," flung back Tom, almost enviously.

But Chris Cupp apparently was not listening. His dark eyes were fastened directly upon Dona, appraising her feature by feature.

He suddenly asked, "Why are we standing here? Let's have a drink."

"I'm on my way to my room, Mr. Cupp—sorry," murmured Dona, because his invitation seemed directed to her rather than to Tom.

"So—you're staying here?"

"Yes," she told him, wondering at his evident interest.

She managed to leave the two men now and she was secretly relieved that Cupp had intervened when he did. It made it far easier to walk away from Tom.

At last she got to her room and quickly undressed.

But now that the stimulation of Tom's presence was somewhat wearing off, the heavy weight of responsibility began settling on her again. She could not sort out her sad confusion of thought and the hopelessness of her position seemed like a turning, twisting, endless road leading to nowhere.

(To be continued)

A Sweater worn day after day without a wash keeps Beaux away

Here's how to keep woolens dainty . . . new-looking

Want lots of dates? Then never risk daintiness by wearing a sweater day after day without washing it. Wool carries perspiration odor . . . it's never safe to take a chance!

Dip sweaters in Lux often — to keep them fresh, to protect your own daintiness! A dip in Lux and horrid odor vanishes. And Lux keeps wool soft and fluffy, colors bright. Sweaters dipped regularly in Lux keep in shape, stay new-looking far longer.

SEE HOW QUICK LUX DOES THE TRICK

1. Whip up rich suds with fast-dissolving Lux and lukewarm water.
2. Squeeze garment gently through suds. Do not stretch or twist.
3. Pin into shape and dry flat, away from heat.

LUX

Doesn't your sweater NEED a DIP in Lux TONIGHT?

A Lever product

NOW IT'S PIG'S TOENAILS

London—(CP) — During discussion of a Pharmacy amendment George Griffiths, Labor M.P. for Hemsworth, told the House a Blackburn woman had told him pigs' crushed toenails in water was a sure cure for diabetes.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27.

4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
7.30—Defense of Canada Regulations—CBL
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Adventures of the Thin Man WEAF, WGY
8.00—Grand Central Station—WABC, CFRB
8.00—Quiz Kids—WJZ, WHAM CBL
8.30—Manhattan at Midnight — WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Dr. Christian, sketch —WJR WABC
8.30—Plantation Party — WEAF, WGY
9.00—Quizzer Baseball; Budd Hulick, m.c.—WEAF, WGY
9.00—Treasury Hour; Millions for Defence; Al. Goodman's Orch.; Guests: Eddie Cantor comedian; James Melton, tenor, and Jascha Heifetz, violinist—WABC, WGR
9.00—Hemisphere Revue; Ben Grauer, M.C.—WJZ
9.00—Canada's Answer—CBL
9.30—From Vancouver—CBL
10.00—Kay Kyser's Program — WEAF, WGY
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch. — WABC, WGR
10.00—Serenade for Strings—CBL
10.15—Public Affairs—WABC, WGR
10.30—They Fly For Freedom—CBL
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—BBC Newsreel—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orchestra—WJZ, WHAM

THURSDAY, AUGUST 28.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
9.45—Edward McHugh, the Gospel Singer—CBL
10.45—Prescott Presents — WJZ, CBL
12.00—Kate Smith Speaks; News—WABC
12.30—Nat'l Farm and Home Hour —WHAM
1.30—Vincent Lopez' Orch.—WEAF, WHAM
4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL
5.00—I Like Calgary—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.15—News of the World—WEAF, WGY
7.30—Cugat Rumba Revue; Lina Romay and Carmen Castille, vocalists — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.30—Camp Life Overseas—CBL WEAF, WGY
8.00—The Housewarming; Benny Goodman's Orch.; Guests:
9.00—Major Bowes—WABC, CFRB
9.00—Music Hall; Don Ameche, m.c.—WEAF, CBL
9.00—Grant Park Concert—WJZ
9.30—All-Star Football Game—WJZ, CBL
10.00—Les Concerts Symphoniques—CBL
10.00—Rudy Vallee Program — WEAF, WHAM
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch.—WJR, WABC
10.30—Good Neighbors, drama—WEAF
10.30—Toronto Symphony Concert—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orch.—WJZ

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150
UNITED STATES STATIONS
KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

WAC TO BE ALLOTTED REGIMENTAL NUMBERS

Ottawa, Aug 27 —(CP)— On enrolment volunteers in the Canadian Women's Army Corps will be allotted regimental numbers prefaced by the letter "W" defence headquarters said Tuesday.

The first figure of the group will indicate the military district in which the individual is serving, and provision is made for an allotment of 1,000 for each district.

Military District No. 1 with headquarters at London, Ont., has the first block, the numbers being W1000 to W1999. No. 2 (Toronto) has W2000 to W2999. No. 3 (Kingston) has W3000 to W3999 and so on through the various districts.

IRANIAN PLANES STRAFED

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 27—(AP)—The Royal Air Force strafed three planes "on a hostile landing ground" in Iran as the planes were taking off "to attack our troops," the Middle East Command of the Royal Air Force reported Tuesday.

(The nationality of the hostile craft was not mentioned, but they were described as of the Hawker type, a British make, indicating the likelihood that they were Iranian.)

SOUNDS REASONABLE

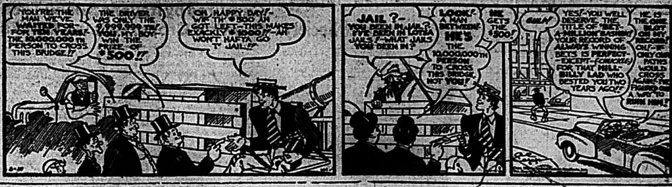
Melbourne (CP)—Heard at a local recruiting station—Sergeant: "Are you willing to die for your country?" Recruit: "No. I want to make a few Germans die for theirs."

BOMBED PORT GIVES MILLION

Southampton—(CP) — A War Weapons Week conducted here realized more than $4,590,000.

LI'L ABNER — Bashby Rides Again!

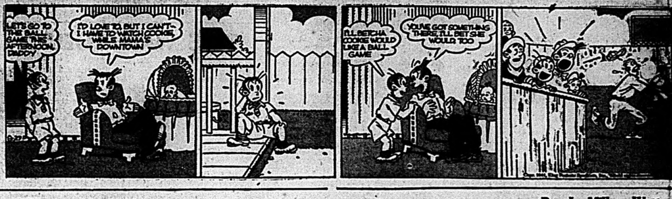
By Al Capp



YOU'RE THE MAN WE'VE WAITED FOR—FOR TEN YEARS!—THE 10,000,000TH PERSON TO CROSS THIS BRIDGE!!
THE DRIVER WAS ONLY THE 9,999,999TH! YOU, MY BOY—WIN THE PRIZE OF $500!!
OH, HAPPY DAY!—WIF TH' $500 AH GOT LEFT—THIS MAKES EXACKLY $1000!!—AH WON'T HAFTA GO T' JAIL!!
JAIL?—YOU BEEN IN JAIL? I'VE BEEN IN LOTSA JAILS!—WHAT JAILS YOU BEEN IN?
LOOK!—A MAN BETWEEN! HE'S THE 10,000,000TH PERSON TO CROSS THIS BRIDGE, NOT YOU!
HE GETS THE $500!
GULP!
YES!—YOU WELL DESERVE THE TITLE OF "BET-A-MILLION BASHBY!" YOUR RECORD OF ALWAYS WINNING BETS IS PERFECT—EXCEPT—FOR THAT HILL-BILLY LAD WHO BESTED YOU TWO YEARS AGO!!
HE IS THE ONE BLOT ON MY RECORD! OH!—IF ONLY OUR PATHS WOULD CROSS AGAIN!—I'D FIGURE OUT A WAY TO RUIN HIM!!

BLONDIE — A Trio of Fans

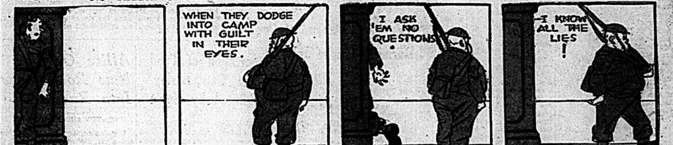
By Chic Young



LET'S GO TO THE BALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON, DADDY
I'D LOVE TO, BUT I CAN'T—I HAVE TO WATCH COOKIE, WHILE MAMA'S DOWNTOWN
I'LL BETCHA COOKIE WOULD LIKE A BALL GAME
YOU'VE GOT SOMETHING THERE, I'LL BET SHE WOULD, TOO

POP — No Hidden Answers

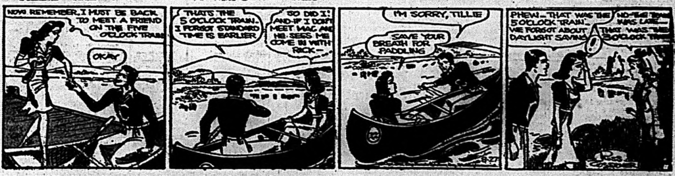
By J. Millar Watt



WHEN THEY DODGE INTO CAMP WITH GUILT IN THEIR EYES.
I ASK 'EM NO QUESTIONS
—I KNOW ALL THE LIES !
8-27

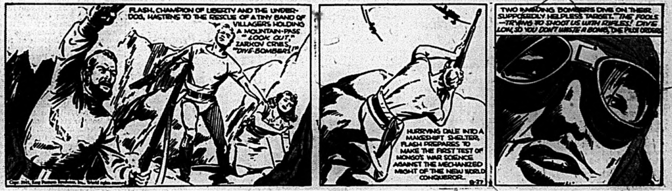
TILLIE THE TOILER — A Mix-Up in Time

By Russ Westover



NOW REMEMBER, I MUST BE BACK TO MEET A FRIEND ON THE FIVE O'CLOCK TRAIN
OKAY
THAT'S THE 5 O'CLOCK TRAIN. I FORGOT STANDARD TIME IS EARLIER
SO DID I! AND—IF I DON'T MEET MAC AND HE SEES ME COME IN WITH RICK—
I'M SORRY, TILLIE
SAVE YOUR BREATH FOR PADDLING
PHEW—THAT WAS THE 5 O'CLOCK TRAIN—WE FORGOT ABOUT DAYLIGHT SAVING
NO—THE TRAIN WAS LATE—THAT WAS THE 5 O'CLOCK TRAIN
!
8-27

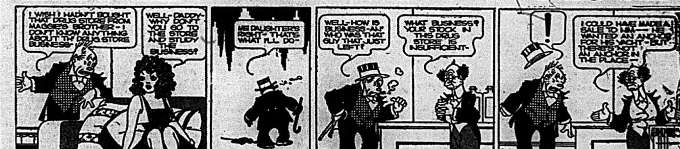
FLASH GORDON



FLASH, CHAMPION OF LIBERTY AND THE UNDERDOG, HASTENS TO THE RESCUE OF A TINY BAND OF VILLAGERS HOLDING A MOUNTAIN-PASS "LOOK OUT," ZARKOV CRIES, "DIVE-BOMBERS!"
HURRYING DALE INTO A MAKESHIFT SHELTER, FLASH PREPARES TO MAKE THE FIRST TEST OF MONGO'S WAR SCIENCE AGAINST THE MECHANIZED MIGHT OF THE NEW WORLD CONQUEROR.
TWO BANKING BOMBERS DIVE ON THEIR SUPPOSEDLY HELPLESS TARGET. "THE FOOLS—TRYING TO SHOOT US WITH RIFLES! DIVE LOW, SO YOU DON'T WASTE A BOMB," THE PILOT ORDERS
8-27

BRINGING UP FATHER —

By George McManus



I WISH I HADN'T BOUGHT THAT DRUG STORE FROM MAGGIE'S BROTHER—I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT TH' DRUG STORE BUSINESS—WELL—DADDY—WHY DON'T YOU GO TO THE STORE AND STUDY THE BUSINESS?
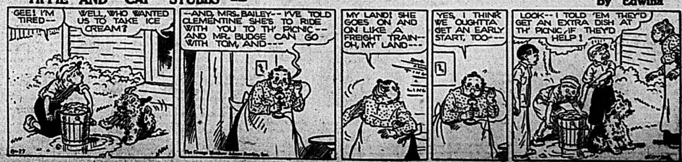
ME DAUGHTER'S RIGHT—THAT'S WHAT I'LL DO—
WELL—HOW IS BUSINESS—AN' WHO WAS THAT GUY THAT JUST LEFT?
WHAT BUSINESS? YOUR STOCK IN THIS DRUG STORE IS INSUFFICIENT—
!
I COULD HAVE MADE A SALE TO HIM—HE WANTED AN ANCHOR FOR HIS YACHT—BUT THERE'S NOT AN ANCHOR IN THE PLACE—
8-27

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



GEE! I'M TIRED—
WELL, WHO WANTED US TO TAKE ICE CREAM?
—AND, MRS. BAILEY—I'VE TOLD CLEMENTINE SHE'S TO RIDE WITH YOU TO TH' PICNIC—AND MR. BUDGE CAN GO WITH TOM, AND—
MY LAND! SHE GOES ON AND ON LIKE A FREIGHT TRAIN—OH, MY LAND—
YES, I THINK WE OUGHTTA GET AN EARLY START, TOO—
LOOK—I TOLD 'EM THEY'D GET AN EXTRA DISH AT TH' PICNIC, IF THEY'D HELP!
8-27

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

V

FEATURE DAYS

SHOP EARLY!

Thursday • Friday • Saturday Aug. 28th 29th 30th

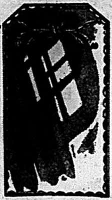
Special Value!

3 Piece Chesterfield Suite

Serviceable cotton repp upholstering—spring filling in seats and backs — webb bottom construction — these and many other features go to make this outstanding value at this price. All show wood parts in rich walnut finish. Choice of rich mulberry or rust tone. A suite that should add much to anyone's living room. Featured, the 3 pieces of chesterfield and two chairs at

59.50

Buiget Plan Terms on This Suite if Desired.



British Plate Mirrors

(seconds)

In console style, with attractive pie-crust edge — grand value at this price. Size about 10" x [illegible]". Each

69c

Room Group In Maple Finish

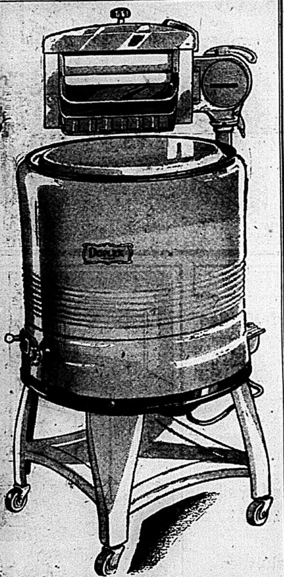
And it's Eaton specified Canadian Solid Rock Maple.

Think what a charming room this will make—and how inexpensive. This suite is of Eaton famous specified construction with dust resisting interiors. Centre drawer guides and hand rubbed polished finish. Regular maple finish. This offer includes bed 4'6" spring, mattress, chest, dressing table with plate glass mirror. Special value at

89.95

—third floor.

Budget Plan Terms on This Suite if Desired.



Outstanding Value! "Duplex" Electric Washer

Truly outstanding value at 67.50—constructed of heavy gauge 'Bonderized' (rust resisting) steel, and then finished with three coats of white porcelain enamel...a finish that is easy to clean and one that should last for years. Besides these important features it also has a tub capacity of 7 lbs...the 3 fin aluminum gyrator gently but thoroughly washes the dirt from your clothes without undue wear on them. Ask for a demonstration — see for yourself just how easy it is to operate...how safe it is. Cash price

67.50

Also Available on Budget Plan Terms if you Desire

—basement.

BUY FOR CASH

The Thriftiest and Soundest Way

But if you prefer to spread your payments over a number of months use the

C.D.S. BUDGET PLAN

Terms for Furniture, Rugs, House Furnishings, Stoves, Washing Machines and Certain Other Merchandise*

10% DOWN

10 MONTHS TO PAY

On Purchases of $15.00 and Over

When you buy on the C.D.S. Budget Plan, you pay the C.D.S. LOW PRICE plus a reasonable charge for the accommodation.

*For full list, ask at the Budget Plan Office.

Look! Sale of Seconds in

"Feltol" Floor Rugs

Save at these prices.

A line of seconds in this well known make of floor covering ...the flaws really amount to a slight imperfection in pattern only. Choice of moderne and the conventional type of pattern...in several smart color schemes. Check the sizes below — check your own room sizes..THEN come to the C. D. S. and save money.

Size 6'9" x 9' each	3.75
7'6" x 9' each	4.75
9' x 9' each	5.95
9' x 10'6" each	6.95
9' x 12' each	7.95
9' x 13'6" each	8.45
9' x 15' each	9.45

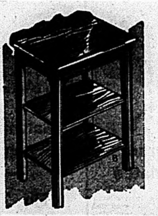
—second floor.

9 pc. Solid Oak Dining Room Suite

A well built suite in soft fumed finish...of serviceable oak, specially selected for its beauty of grain and rich appearance. A suite that should give years of service with care. Suite consists of buffet, extension table and six diners, with seats upholstered in rich maroon colored leatherette. Buffet is 60 inches long, with full length linen drawer. Be sure and see this smart suite ....

139.50

Budget Plan Terms Available on this Suite if Desired.



Novelty and Occasional Tables

For Your Rooms

Grand choice from this selection — end tables, occasional tables, end table and book trough and so many others you'll find no trouble in selecting just what you want for your various rooms. Your choice includes:—walnut, and walnut finished birch pieces. Priced, each

1.98 to 14.95

Grand Selection of Comfortable

Occasional Chairs

A splendid choice of styles — and upholsterings in this grand selection — with walnut, mahogany and walnut finished frames. Prices, too are moderate, from each

6.95 to 15.95

Furniture Department Now Located on Third Floor

Dainty Ruffled Marquisette

Curtains

Choice of white, with rose, green orchid, wine or gold color dots. Exceptionally fine quality curtain — in an excellent size, about 42" x 2¼ yards long. Pair 2.79

Clearance of Drapery

Chintz and Damasks

Pretty floral patterned chintzes — and rich rayon damasks in this clearance group and you'll find many pieces that should add color to your home for Fall and Winter months, and at a saving in price, too! 48 to 50 inches...in a choice of colors and patterns. Special, yard

69c to 2.25

—second floor

Dainty Cotton Marquisette

Cottage Set

A dainty cotton marquisette cottage set that should look well in kitchens, breakfast rooms, and bathrooms. In white with patterns in blue, green or red. Set 1.39

Folding Type

Card Tables

Well made card tables, with hardwood frame, well braced, folding legs, and serviceable fabric covered top. Green color only. Each 1.29

48" Cotton

Shadowcloth

The very material to add a bright, attractive appearance to your rooms, whether used as curtains, slip covers, or cushions. 48" width makes it cut to advantage, too. Priced, yard 79c

Seamless Axminster

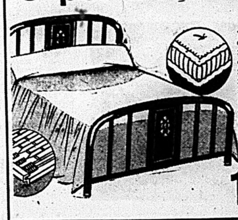
Floor Rugs

In Two Popular Room Sizes

Well known seamless axminster quality with soft, thick pile and sturdy back. In fawn colored grounds ... in copies of rich Oriental type patterns —in rich, well blended colorings. Limited quantity in both sizes.

Size 4'6"x7'6". Each	18.50
6' x 9' 9" Each	31.50

Here's Good Value in 3 pc. Bed Outfits



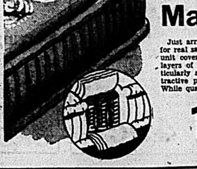
You get good value when you buy such an outfit as this at such a moderate price. Outfit consists of metal bed in walnut enamel finish —cable type spring and cotton filled mattress that has roll edge and is well tufted. All standard sizes of 3'3", 4'0" and 4'6". Complete at

17.95

Better Quality Layer Felt Mattresses

Dependable quality mattresses—made with layers and layers of white cotton felt, firmly tied and tufted to hold filling in place. Finished with rolled edges.....and covered with a sturdy cotton ticking in an attractive pattern. Standard sizes of 3'3" and 4'6". Priced, each ....

9.98



Sale!

Innerspring Mattresses

Just arrived for this event—and priced for real savings! Has 190 open coil spring unit covered over and under with thick layers of cotton felt. Covering is a particularly sturdy cotton ticking in an attractive pattern. Sizes 3'3", 4' and 4'6". While quantity lasts, each

11.95

—third floor.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

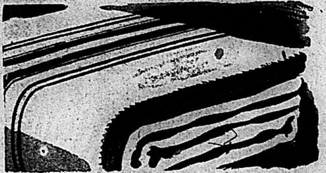
V

FEATURE DAYS

SHOP EARLY!

70" x 90"

Soft, Fluffy Flannelette Blankets



Those cosy, warm blankets one welcomes on chilly Fall and Winter nights. Whipped singly, with soft thick nap, for warmth, and in an excellent size of 70" x 90". In white, sand or grey with contrasting colored stripes of rose or blue.

Each

1.19

Look! Cotton Homespun Weave (effect)

Bedspreads

Attractive for home or the cottage... popular cotton homespun weave (style) material...in light grounds, with rose, blue, orchid or green check patterns. Splendid size of 80" x 100". Each 1.98

Large Size Cotton

Bed Sheets

Bleached to a snowy whiteness—finished with hemstitched hems, and in a strong, even weave that denotes long and satisfactory service. Each pair individually encased in cellophane wrapper. 81" x 100" in size. Pair 3.59

Eatonia
FINE QUALITY

Eatonia All Wool Blankets

Are a Delight to Every Housekeeper.

Soft, all wool blankets, with long, soft nap for real comfort and warmth on even the chilliest of nights. Every one whipped singly — and obtainable in two popular sizes at prices that are unbeatable for this quality merchandise. Creamy white, with bar borders of rose, blue or green.

60" x 90", pair 11.50

72" x 90", pair 14.50

—main floor rear.

Eatonia Cotton Towels

Can't be beat for Reliability and Value.

You'll like the soft, thick nap, that makes them very absorbent — the firm strong weave that gives you extra service. In three smart sizes...in lovely pastel shades of maize, pink, blue, or mauve.

14" x 28", pair 49c

20" x 40", pair 89c

24" x 45", pair 1.29

Face cloths 14"x14", to match, each 15c

—main floor rear

For Reliability — for Value

Eatonia Cotton Bed Sheets

Lovely finely woven cotton bed sheets — bleached to a snowy whiteness that every woman loves. A choice of 4 different sizes — in either plain hem or hemstitched style ......

Size		Plain hem	Hemstitched
63"x104"	pair	3.50	3.75
72"x104"	pair	4.00	4.25
80"x104"	pair	4.50	4.75
90"x104"	pair	5.00	5.25

Eatonia hemstitched pillow cases. 42 inch size. Pair 79c

—main floor rear.

English Cotton Terry Towels

Soft, absorbent cotton terry towel of English manufacture...in natural colors with stripes in blue or red. Fringed end style. Size about 18"x36". .. .. 3 pairs 1.00

Colorful Cotton Lunch Sets

1 Cloth 36" x 36" 4 Naps to Match

Colorful for they portray smart Mexican designs in vivid shades — creamy sand colored grounds, with patterns in a variety of different color combinations.

5 Piece Set, Only 98c

Pretty Cotton

Lace Cloths

Every woman loves these dainty, cotton lace cloths...and these come direct from Scotland, too, and show smart designs, and neat scalloped edges. The size a popular one too, about 72" x 90". Moderately priced, each

3.25

PILLOW SLIPS

H. S. Cotton

Pillow Cases

Fully bleached cotton pillow cases —in popular 42 inch size..finished with hemstitched hems...and in a weight that should launder nicely. Priced, pair

49c

Feature!

36" English Cotton Broadcloths

A lovely fine, strong quality, so useful for making quilt linings, lingerie, linings, curtains and a dozen and one other things. In white, black, navy, brown, peach, rose, sand or red.

Full yard wide. Special .... 8 yards 1.00

New for Fall!

Herringbone Stripe Rayon Crepe

You'll admire this smart material — and probably want enough for two or more Fall dresses at this modest pricing. In smart new Herringbone stripe design on a lustrous rayon crepe. And you've an excellent shade choice too, such as navy, powder blue, white, black, navy, pale blue, peach, pink, rose, mauve, moss green or grey.

38 inches wide. Priced, yard 98c

PIECE GOODS DEPT. NEW LOCATION

You'll find the new location of the Piece Goods Dept. offers more convenience and greater ease in shopping. It is now situated on the Main Floor at the rear.

Additional Attractions from the Main Floor

Look! 9 Pc.

Fruit Bowl and Nappy Set

Of clear glass in an attractive design. Set of large fruit bowl and 8 matching nappies. Special value, set 79c

Glass Tumblers

Clear glass tumblers in smart shapes, with narrow stripe design at top to simulate cut glass. Handy size for water glasses.

Special, each 7c

Writing Tablets

Handy size for family use — good quality paper — sheet size about 8" x 10"

Special, each 10c

Cleansing Tissues

400 Sheets to

Soft, cleansing tissues for use as hankies for removing face creams etc. White only. 400 Sheets to each. box ...... 2 boxes for 37c

New Handbags for Fall

Smart looking simulated leather bags for Fall, in a clever array of the newer styles—in a grand array of colors to match Fall outfits. All nicely lined—some with snap, others with slide fasteners. Envelope, top-handle and pouch styles. Special, each.. 1.00

Silverplated Flatware

Grand value at this price — good quality silver-plated flatware — in a selection that includes — FORKS, SPOONS, KNIVES, TEASPOONS, BUTTER KNIVES, TABLE SPOONS, etc. All knives made with stainless steel blades. Your choice, each 15c

Where Else Can You Find Such a Truly Fine Radio For Less Than Twenty Dollars?

A Compact Model With Big-Set Features At Small-Set Cost

Even though you pay many, many dollars more: what additional features can you ask for, than the VIKING "Navigator" offers here?— ....

A beautiful wooden cabinet (not a "plastic")

Outstanding performance — superheterodyne circuit

Attractive straight line slider type dial

Fine tone quality from P.M. dynamic speaker; resonant wood cabinet.

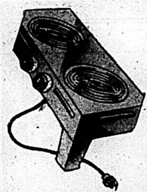
AC-DC operation.

Outside aerial connection, also a built-in loop for use without an aerial.

If you can use an extra set for the living-room, bedroom, office, playroom, or Summer cottage, then BUY ONE TOMORROW for only:

$19.95

BASEMENT FEATURES



2 Burner Hot Plates

A well constructed hot plate, 2 burner style ... complete with cord and plug. Requires no special wiring, simply plugs in base receptacle or socket.

Each 3.79

Preserving Kettles

Of enamelware — in white with red trim.... fitted with tin lid or cover. Strong bail type handle with wood grip. An excellent buy now that preserving and canning season is in full swing.

Special, each 83c

Willow

Clothes Baskets

Strongly made, woven willow clothes baskets, reinforced at top and around end handles. Special, each 85c

8 Quart

Galvanized Pails

Sturdy hot galvanized metal pails for general purpose use. Bail type handle. Buy two or more at this price.

Each 29c

Tin Teakettles

Good size, of heavy tin, with wood grip on bail type handle.

Priced, each 45c

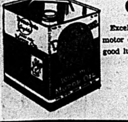
—basement.

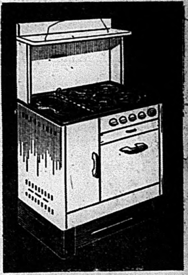


Graphited Motor Oil

Excellent quality lubricant in grades S.A.E. 20-30 and 40. A motor oil you can count on to give excellent performance and good lubrication. 6 quart tin. Special value at

1.49

—basement.



The Acme Coal and Electric Combination Range

Built into this electric range is a very effecient coal (or wood) heater. Heat radiates from all four sides under this heater. Inquire about the long flue travel down underneath the ashpan. This helps heat the floor and retains more heat in the kitchen, saving fuel. The electric section with extra sized electric oven and four Chromalox elements in the cooking top combined with the Quebec type heater section built in very compact proportions make this a very popular combination. Salesmen will be very glad to explain and show you it's many other important features. Priced,

199.00

—basement.

Budget Plan Terms Available on This Range.

REMEMBER THE CDS GUARANTEE "GOODS SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED"

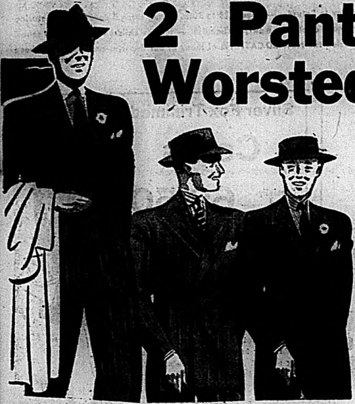
THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

V

FEATURE DAYS

SHOP EARLY!

Men's and Young Men's 2 Pant Wool Worsted Suits



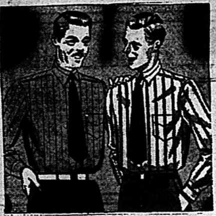
In New Fall Styles

In rich colors and smart up-to-date styles for Fall . . . a big range of smart looking suits that should meet with both men's and young men's approval. Good looking, smartly tailored, they come in natty double breasted affairs or in single breasted styles. Considering quality, their high standard of tailoring and the range of patterns they come in, you are assured of excellent value for the money you invest. See these new arrivals—the first day of this event. Make your selection early! One trouser suit

18.50

EXTRA TROUSERS .... pair 4.00

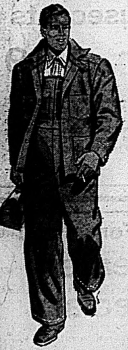
— Main floor, left



Men! Grand Value In NEGLIGEE SHIRTS

Mostly all with popular fused collars — and a grand variety of patterns. A shirt that is smartly cut, tailored for good fit — made of fine cotton broadcloths . . . in blue, tan or green. Better stock up for sometime ahead at this low price. Sizes 14½ to 17½ in the lot. Special, each 79c

—main floor left.



Here's Value in Men's

Overalls and Smocks

Sturdy 8 oz. red back cotton denim overalls and smocks, cut full and roomy for real comfort. Overalls with semi-high back and double knees. Smocks with four pockets. Sizes 34 to 44 in the lot. Each 1.59

Men's

Worsted Trousers

Trimly tailored trousers — of wool and rayon and all wool materials. Cut on smart fitting lines in a range of good looking patterns. You may select from green, greys, blues, tans, etc. Sizes 30 to 44. Pair.... 3.95 and 4.95

Men's Eatonia

Cotton Combinations

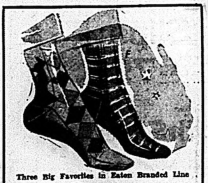
Spring needle knit — in a weight that is welcomed for Fall wear. Of fine balbriggan cotton yarns . . . full cut for good fit and comfort — in short sleeve ankle length leg or long sleeves and ankle length legs. White only, sizes 36 to 46. You can't beat Eatonia for Reliability and Value. Suit 1.50

Special Value! Men's

Broadcloth Pyjamas

Excellent quality cotton broadcloth pyjamas . . . in a good range of stripe designs in several smart color combinations. Smartly trimmed, finished with pipings. Convertible collar style. Sizes 36 to 44. Feature value, suit 1.69

—main floor left.



Three Big Favorites in Eaton Branded Line

Socks

"Thrift" Socks — Economy — and smart appearance makes this line one of our biggest sellers. Of cotton and wool mixture — in attractive patterns in a range of pleasing colors. Sizes 10 to 11½. Pair 45c

"Renown" Socks — Knit from wool and cotton yarns this line of smart socks comes in patterns and colors to suit both men and young men . . . conservative patterns — or brighter ones to suit the young man. Sizes 10 to 11½. Pair 55c

"Eatonia" Socks — A fine quality all wool sock — that has to measure up to certain rigid specifications before it can bear the Eatonia label. You'll find both patterns and colors to suit your taste. In bar stripes—diamond checks, clock effects etc. No need to mention the smart range of colors in which they come. Sizes 10 to 12. Eatonia value, pair 69c

Shop Often!
Shop Early!

Feature! Men's Dress Socks

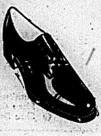
Limited quantity at this special low price so plan on coming early for your needs! Sturdy cotton and wool mixture . . . in a pleasing variety of patterns and colors. Sizes 10 to 11½ in the lot. Special, pair 29c

SHOE DEPARTMENT NEW LOCATION

Our Shoe Dept. is now located at the rear of the Main Floor . . . You'll find these new quarters more spacious and laid out to offer greater ease in shopping.

Men's Famous Dr. McCann (trade name)

Shoes for Fall



Encourage natural support and normal posture by balanced construction — that's what you get when you buy Dr. McCann shoes. And this year's styles are smarter than ever . . . in kid or calf leathers, with substantial welted soles with rubber heels. C. D. E. widths, sizes 6 to 10 in the group. Pair 4.50

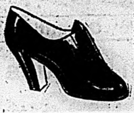
[illegible]

Dr. McCann's

[illegible] Shoes

Women's Dr. McCann (trade name)

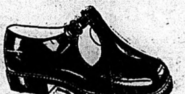
Footwear for Fall



If you need the extra support that a built-in arch support shoe gives then you'll appreciate the comfort and value this well known make of footwear offers. Excellent quality black kid leather styled right for comfort in a neat 4 eyelet tie . . . with Cuban leather heel and rubber lift. AA to EE fittings. Sizes 4 to 9. Pair 3.69

Send them back to School in

"Naturfit" Shoes

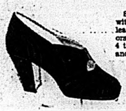


Built to take the roughing they get, yet properly lasted to help growing feet grow correctly and comfortably. Designed with cushion, welted soles, choice of black or brown calf oxfords, and shiny patent leathers in neat Monk strap style.

Sizes 5 to 7½, pair	1.99
Sizes 8 to 10½, pair	2.19
Sizes 11 to 3, pair	2.49

Special Selling!

Women's Dress Shoes



Smart tie and gore models, carefully designed, with leather Cuban heel or high heel. Of soft kid leathers or in classic suedes. A choice of such colors as brown, blue, or black. A to C widths, sizes 4 to 9 in the group. For street and dress wear... and a saving too, at pair 2.98

Specially Reduced! Women's Smart

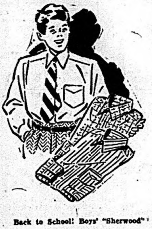
Ties, Pumps and Straps

Stylish footwear, in neat ties, smart looking straps and classic pumps. Choice of cuban and high heels, in suede leathers, gabardines, patent and calf leathers ... in black, blue, wine, and brown. Clearing lines that offer splendid opportunity for real savings. Widths A to C. Sizes 3 to 8 in the lot. Special pair 1.49

Women's Felt Slippers

Comfortably designed with padded chrome tanned leather soles, with padded low heels. Neat and attractive in appearance, finished off with pom pom on the vamp. Sizes 3 to 8 in wine, black, blue, brown, grey and American Beauty. Pair 49c

Everything They Need for SCHOOL



Back to School! Boys' "Sherwood"

Shirts

A popular choice with most mothers for her boy ... sturdy, well made "Sherwood" shirts — one of Eaton's famous brands it offers excellent value at the price marked. Of serviceable cotton broadcloths — collar attached — and in a good choice of patterns and colours. Sizes 11½ to 14½. Each 79c

Boys' Broadcloth

Pyjamas

Gay mannish stripe patterns on these sturdy cotton broadcloth pyjamas, should catch any boy's eye... They are comfortably cut, and smartly trimmed, with contrasting color, or neatly piped on edges. Sizes 26 to 34... Limited quantity. Special, suit 1.00

Boys' V Neck

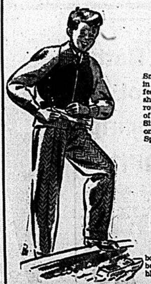
Pullovers

Serviceable wool and cotton pullovers in favored V neck style, are the very thing for your boy when he returns to school this Fall. They present a neat appearance and are very attractive in maroon, blue, or heather shades. Contrasting trimmed on cuffs, collar and at waist. Sizes 26 to 34. Each 1.00

Children's Golf Hose

Sturdy wool and cotton mixture — with snug fitting elastic cuff. In fawn, maroon, sand, blue or brown, with contrasting striped cuff. Sizes 7½ to 9½. Buy these for "Back to School" wear, for boy or girl. Pair 29c

—main floor right.



Boys'

Cotton Jerseys

Smart little pullovers in natty striped effects — finished with short sleeve and round neck. A choice of color combinations. Sizes 2, 4 and 6 years only at this low price. Special, each 25c

Growing Girls'

Footwear

In brown, and tan and brown—fitted with sturdy leather soles with rubber lifts on heels. Also included is a suede oxford with resilient crepe rubber soles in black, brown or blue. A splendid opportunity for savings on shoes for girls who are going back to school this Fall. C width. Sizes 4 to 8 in the group. Pair 1.98

—main floor rear.

Back to School Special!

Boys' Tweed Longs

Worsted finish cotton tweed longs, for boys, made with smart pleated fronts, belt loops, and cuff bottoms. Choice of blue, green or grey. Sizes 28 to 36. Pair.. 1.98

REMEMBER THE CDS GUARANTEE "GOODS SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED"

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

V

FEATURE DAYS

SHOP EARLY!

Thursday • Friday • Saturday Aug. 28th 29th 30th

It's just a year since the Opening of our New Mechanized Store in Belleville .... and we are celebrating with 3 big FEATURE DAYS — Thursday to Saturday—August 28 to 30th. During these 3 days we are featuring many grand specials — as well as outstanding regular values that have made a name for the C. D. S. in Belleville — It's store-wide — every department displaying new merchandise — for the children returning to school — for the entire family — for the home, etc. Plan on attending the very first day — shop early — shop often. For your convenience we have listed below the NEW LOCATIONS of many of our departments which have been further Modernized to make shopping just that much easier for you. Read every page of the 4 pages in this newspaper!

Door Opening Specials

On Sale While Quantities Last!

Women's Printed Cotton Hankies (seconds)

Fine quality cotton hankies for women — printed with colorful floral and modernistic patterns. Though marked seconds you'll find the flaws are very slight. Grand value at this low price .... 3 for 10c

—main floor centre.

Women's Crisp Cotton Neckwear

Here's value for you — a grand purchase of women's dainty cotton lace and cotton pique neckwear...in a choice of styles...crisp and new to add a freshening appearance to your frocks. Invest in several pieces at this price. Door Opening Special, each, while they last 19c

—main floor centre.

Clearance! Women's Shoes

A variety of smart stylish footwear for women in this clearance group. You'll find ties and pumps in gabardine, patent leathers and suedes either Cuban or high heel styles. Black, blue, brown, wine in the lot — in C width ... sizes 3½ to 7½ in the group, but not a complete range of sizes in any one particular style or color. Door Opening Special, pair 79c

Main floor, rear

Greatly Reduced! Children's Frocks

Cotton organdies, cotton prints, cotton voiles, all cool summery frocks for little tots 1 to 3 and 4 to 6 years. A clever style assortment—in a good range of colors and patterns. Regularly 98c to 1.98. Door Opening Special, each .... 79c to 1.49

—second floor.

Boys' Windbreakers (seconds)

Door Opening Special! Sturdy cotton herringbone weave, windbreakers for boys, finished with full length slide fasteners ... shirred at bottoms—and with front slash pockets. A smart garment for boys going back to school this Fall. In tan, and rust tones — some with motif on fronts. Sizes 26 to 34 in the lot. While they last, each 1.39

Men's Ankle Sox and Half Hose

Grand value, men, at this price — a big clearance group of men's ankle socks and half hose — nicely knit from cotton yarns — in a variety of neat check patterns...in a host of good looking colors. Sizes 10 to 11½ in the lot. While they last, pair 19c

—main floor left.

Sale! 4-String Brooms

Of selected corn, strongly made and well finished ... with smooth wood handle. Special value, each 37c

New Locations of Many Departments

- Women's Ready to Wear Dept. — Second Floor.
- Lingerie and Infants' Wear Dept. — Second Floor.
- Linoleums and Floor Coverings — Second Floor.
- Furniture and Mattresses — Third Floor.
- Piece Goods Dept. — Main Floor Rear.
- Shoe Department — Main Floor Rear.

Grand Value in Rayon Knit

Lingerie

● Panties ● Bloomers

Really lovely quality knit rayon in this group — and at the price one should stock up for some time ahead. In white, or tearose — BLOOMERS with elastic fittings — PANTIES with band at knee — a few briefs also included in this special selling. Sizes small, medium, large and outsize in the lot. Special, each

55c

—second floor.

Front and Back Lace

Corsets

A splendid garment for average type figures . . . made of strong peach colored cotton corset cloth with strong elastic waist inserts ... lightly boned. Fitted with four garters. Sizes in the lot from 25 to 35. Special, each 1.00

Cosy, Warm

Flannelette Gowns

Short sleeve and V neck style — in soft, white flannelette with contrasting colored trimmings. Sizes small, medium and large and outsizes. Priced, each ... 59c

Striped

Rayon Slips

These are popular bias cut style — with adjustable shoulder straps — some with plain double tops, others in midriff effect. Tearose or white — sizes 32 to 42 in the lot. Better stock up at this price. Each ... 98c

—second floor.

Another Grand Value in Striped

Rayon Slips

Lovely quality rayon slips with neat self stripe. These feature adjustable strap shoulders — and come in bias cut. Sizes 32 to 42. White only. Special, each 79c

Women's Cotton

Broadcloth Slips

Fitted style, with narrow strap shoulders ...of fine quality cotton broadcloths, in white, pink or black. Excellent size range, too, 34 to 44. Special price, each 25c

—second floor.

Silver Fox Trimmed

Coats

Specially Priced 69.50

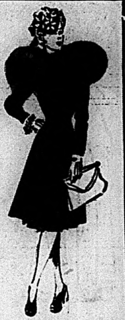
High fashion — beautiful Silver Fox trimmed coats — specially priced during this featured event! Rich looking with its lovely collar making such an attractive frame for the face and rippling down to the waist in notched shawl style. It crowns with beauty this slim fitted coat of fine all wool black boucle coating — with its gored and swingy back. Styled with padded shoulders, real satin lining in coat and scarf; chamois to hig and full flannelette interlining. Sizes 34 to 44 in the group.

— Second group



Smart New

Wool Felts

There's excellent variety in this smart group of new Wool Felts for Fall. In exciting styles—many copies of higher priced fashion successes for the new Season. And at these prices they scarcely make a dent in the pocketbook. In black, navy and brown —everyone cleverly trimmed and smartly shaped. Types for misses and women. Each

1.98 to 2.98

— Second floor

Crisp New Cotton

Housecoats

Special Value, Each 1.19

Popular wraparound style — with short puff sleeves — and full swingy skirts. A clever array of floral and check patterns, in a wealth of colors. You'll probably want two or more at this featured low price. Sizes 32 to 42 in the lot. Shop early for them!

— Second floor

Grand Value in

"Lady Beth" Wool Fingering Yarn

A lovely soft, evenly spun wool fingering yarn, that knitters should welcome at this low price. Approximately 1 oz. balls in 4 ply. Choose from Buttercup yellow, Cantaloupe (coral) Spring green, Scarlet, Rust, Mauve, Blue, Pink.

2 balls for 25c

Women's Colored

Lawn Hankies

Dainty lawn hankies, with gay colored borders, some with neat floral designs in colors on white. Good size, and of fine quality cotton lawn .. .. 4 for 29c

Oiled Silk

Umbrellas

Colorful oiled silk umbrellas, in red, green, brown, blue, black, wine or navy blue. In lovely flower and modernistic designs, in a choice of smart handles. Grand value, at each 1.98

Women's

Linen Hankies

Fine quality Irish linen hankies—for women, with neat hemstitched hems. About 10" x 10" in size. Buy a dozen or more at this attractive price .. .. 2 for 15c

"Eclipse" Thread

A good strong sewing cotton in either black or white, numbers 10 to 70. 200 yard spools. Save on a dozen or more spools at this price

12 for 69c

SPECIAL!

Pretty Cotton Aprons

Of crisp cotton prints, in neat floral designs, nicely bound with tape and finished off with tape ties and handy pocket. Buy several at this low price. Each 25c

Special! Oilcloth

Chair Pads

Good size, with thick cotton felt pad covered in bright colored oilcloths, in a choice of designs. Neatly bound. Special

4 for 89c

New For Fall!

Sweater Special

These are little "darbs" that you really must have to round out your Fall wardrobe. Fine quality all wool sweaters — in fancy knit, with short sleeves. And look at the colors you can select from: Mauve, Grey, White, Aqua Green, Beige and Rose. Sizes 34 to 40. Special, each

Each 1.79

— Second floor

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Probabilities
Lower Lake region — Moderate variable winds; fair and cool today and Friday, followed by showers on Saturday.

The Ontario Intelligencer

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	68	43
One Year Ago	64.8	53.8

Bay Water—68 degrees.
Weather—Clear.

★★ BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THRSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1941

LAVAL AND DEAT IN CRITICAL CONDITION

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

IRAN ORDERS TROOPS TO CEASE RESISTANCE

French Attacker Poses as Recruit To Fight Russia

Laval is Hit Four Times and Deat Twice, Both Seriously Wounded

ATTACK DESCRIBED

Versailles, German - Occupied France, Aug. 28—(AP)—Authorities of German-occupied France made a sweeping round-up of enemies of the Nazi occupation authorities today in the wake of the Laval-Deat assassination attempt and by mid-afternoon had placed more than 300 persons in "protective custody," some of them from the very ranks of the newly-mobilized anti-Bolshevist legion.

In Paris, the first three so-called Communists to be convicted by special courts were executed. They were condemned to death yesterday for alleged misdeeds not connected with the Laval shooting.

Authorities apparently feared that the anti-Bolshevist legion, formed to fight Russia alongside Germany, contains many more members who, like Pierre Laval's youthful assassin, Paul Colette, had joined purposely to be able to act at the French leaders favoring strong collaboration with Germany.

Today's arrests were made in Paris and Versailles while both Laval and Marcel Deat lay seriously ill in hospital with bullet wounds in their bodies.

Follower of De Gaulle

Colette, a ship staker who proudly said he was a Free French follower of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, was rushed toward trial before one of the special "anti-Communist" courts just set up by the German-controlled French authorities. It was said the opening of the trial was "a matter of hours."

Pro-Nazi circles said it was evident Colette had been pushed into the attack "by Communist- De Gaullist (Free French) elements."

Colette said he was glad he had hit the two pro-Nazi politicians, both of whom, while in serious condition, are expected to recover.

When asked why he shot the Frenchmen instead of firing on the high German officers present at a ceremony here, Colette told the magistrate:

"Why would you want me to fire at a German officer? I have no reason to do that, because they are in France to carry out their duty."

Opposition Rounded Up

In Paris, outright opposition elements were being rounded up in what were called preventive arrests in order to keep the Versailles shootings from serving as a signal for general demonstrations against the Nazis.

Here in Versailles a heavy guard was thrown about the barracks where the shooting occurred and in the early morning hours three anti-Communist Legionnaires were taken into custody. They were carrying revolvers of the same type which Colette had stuck in his leather belt.

Still other arrests were made in Versailles—either to prevent new outbreaks or to block open fighting between collaborationists and pro-Allied elements.

3,250 Arrested Since Monday

Fernand De Brinon, Vichy's representative at Paris, announced that a total of 3,250 alleged Communists had been arrested in the Paris region from July, 1940 to last Monday. This figure, he said, does not include a large number of Jews

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 4)

German and French Police Retaliate by Mass Arrests in Workers' Districts

LAVAL NEVER TRUSTED

Vichy, Aug. 28 (AP)—Advises from German -occupied Paris said today police were rounding up opposition elements in preventive arrests throughout the city to keep the attempted assassination of Pierre Laval and Marcel Deat from serving as a signal for general disorder.

The new and so-called preventive arrests in Paris began early this morning after conferences between Vichy authorities and police officials.

Vichy sources claimed that the attack on Versailles on Laval and the others "fully justifies the measures which have been taken by Marshal Petain's government against the Communists."

Deat was reported to be in serious condition with a bullet lodged in his intestines. Hospital officials were to attempt an operation, it was said.

A bullet in Laval's arm has been extracted, but another lodged in his chest could not be removed and it was reported medical opinion he would have to carry the bullet for the rest of his life. Laval's condition was said to be satisfactory.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 28 (CP)— General cool in the Western Provinces with synopsis:— The weather has been showers in many districts, and fair, cool weather has prevailed in Ontario.

PLACE	9 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Vancouver	57	68	56
Calgary	42	49	41
Saskatoon	54	72	54
Winnipeg	53	68	52
Toronto	50	70	47
Ottawa	47	64	40
Montreal	52	66	47
S. S. Marie	40	57	37
New York	60	76	57
Miami	78	94	74
Los Angeles	64	76	61

British Flotilla Controls Waters Of Fr. Somaliland

Vichy, Aug. 28. (AP)—The Jibuti radio announced today that four British warships and a flotilla of armed launches and planes have established control over French Somaliland territorial waters. The speaker said the situation had reached a dramatic point with all French blockade-running launches stopped and their cargoes dumped overboard or seized.

British ships have not left territorial waters of the French East African colony for ten days, the broadcast said.

It reported that Jibuti, chief port of Somaliland and Gulf of Aden terminus of the railroad to Addis Ababa, has been cut off from Turba, in the tiny French possession of Sheikh-Said across the Gulf on the Arabian shore, and the nearby British-controlled Perim Island on which it is dependent for its water supply.

The French-Somaliland governor was said to have made another formal protest against the British blockade Monday.

Home Guard Members of London Conduct Training on Roller Skates

London, Aug. 28 (CP)—Ten hardy members of the Home Guard who risk their necks every time they go on parade are learning a new kind of warfare to meet the threat of Nazi parachute invaders.

If and when invasion comes, "the 10 loonies" as their comrades have nicknamed them will go out to battle wearing roller skates.

Gladwyn Clements described their tactics in an article in The Star after spending an afternoon watching them.

"It must be the craziest, hair-raising method yet attempted of training modern home guardsmen to become tough warriors of London Streets," he wrote.

Leader of this "suicide squad" is Harry Lee, Britain's champion roller skater. He collected champions from rinks all over London and has given them instruction and intensive training to operate as mobile home guards.

It is hoped these experts will form the nucleus of a school where home guards who can skate will come for training.

"It is the street boys of yesterday we want," said Lee, "the nuisances who used to skim around the pavements, darting about on their skates in and out of the pedestrians, missing violent collisions at breakneck speeds by the skin of their teeth, dodging around lamp-posts and darting past policemen like lightning, flashing past the green grocer's shop, grabbing a juicy apple in flight, and away on their iron-clad feet, as sure as you or I would be in ordinary shoes.

"These are the boys we intend to use, with their knowledge of local streets, to carry messages and fight the Nazi invader with the added advantage of their easy mobility."

These roller-skating home guards can attain a speed of 40 miles an hour as messengers. They can travel over bombed roads evading obstructions which would halt motorcycle dispatch riders. They practice climbing ladders without removing their skates and sliding down ropes.

At street fighting, Clements wrote, these men presented a formidable method of attack and defence. Armed with revolvers, knives, knuckle-dusters and heavier weapons like tommy guns, they made rings around ordinary foot soldiers.

RAF RAINS BOMBS IN HEAVY ATTACK OVER GERMANY

Mannheim Principal Target But Boulogne, Ostend, Dunkirk Visited

BRITAIN ENJOYS RESPITE

London, Aug. 28 (CP)—British bombers rained explosives in Germany and occupied France during the night and returned without the loss of a single plane, the Air Ministry said today.

Mannheim was the principal target of the Royal Air Force, while smaller raids were made on other targets in western Germany and on docks at Boulogne, Ostend and Dunkirk.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted British planes bombed several places in southwestern Germany overnight.)

Residents of the British Isles continued to enjoy their lengthy respite from mass Nazi air raids. A small number of enemy planes flew over the east coast of England and dropped a few bombs but no casualties or damage were reported.

The R. A. F. also attacked occupied France in two daylight raids yesterday. Ten Nazi fighters were shot down while the R.A.F. lost eight planes.

In a raid on Cologne Tuesday night many great fires were started. One fire resulted in a terrific explosion and flames were visible 50 miles away.

ADMIRAL NOMURA EXPECTED TO SEE THE PRESIDENT

Japan Ambassador Will Discuss With Roosevelt Policies in Pacific

A MAJOR ISSUE

Washington, Aug. 28 —(AP)— A personal message from the Japanese prime minister to President Roosevelt was delivered to the President today by Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador.

Nomura came to the White House after days of rapidly developing tension growing out of the conflict of Japanese and American policies in the Pacific.

He conferred with the President and State Secretary Cordell Hull.

Refused to Elaborate

Nomura refused to elaborate in reply to a barrage of questions

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 7)

Say Hitler Warns Turkey He May Need Use of Black Sea Waters

Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 27—(Delayed)—(AP)—Well informed Axis quarters today said. Hitler has warned Turkey that he may sen need to use Turkish territoal waters in the Black Sea but has assured the Turks he has no othr demands.

This source said the Turkish Ambassador to Germany, Husv Gerede, was asked to transmit is information to his government d-ing an interview with Hitler ed German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop at Hitler's eastern fnt headquarters.

This report said Germany has intention of asking Turkey for concessions concerning Dardanelles other Turkish territory, nor will ask for permission for Germ troops and war supplies to cross t country.

Say Use of Black Sea Waters May Be Asked

The use of Black Sea waters may be demanded, however, if and when German forces reach the eastern extremity of the Black Sea in their Russian drive. The extent that the Germans might then seek to use Turkish waters was not stated.

Movements of German and Italian troops and aircraft crews into Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Greece, where they appeared to be menacing Turkish frontiers, were characterized in conversations with the Turkish envoy as "purely a diversion" to worry Britain, this Axis report said.

British quarters reported anew today that these movements were continuing.

NAZI SOURCES SAY VITAL RAILROAD TO MOSCOW CUT

Straddle Line East of Novogorod — Also Claim to Have Crossed Lower Dnieper River

TAKE RAIL JUNCTION

Berlin, Aug. 28 (AP)—The German High Command today claimed two Red Army mechanized divisions have been beaten and all but destroyed on the northern Finnish front, east of Salla, and the German operations on the entire Russian front "continue according to plan."

German and Finnish forces, the war bulletin said, won this "important success" after "days-long fighting under difficult terrain and weather conditions" and only weak Russian remnants escaped.

Red airforce losses yesterday were placed at 127 planes of which 109 were credited to the Germans, 10 to Hungarian fighter planes and eight to Italian.

Nazis claimed German infantry have cut the Moscow-Leningrad railway. Military commentators claimed German, Hungarian and Rumanian troops had entered Zaporozhe, Ukrainian rail junction east of the lower Dnieper river, and bombers had interrupted traffic as far east as Slavyanks, 140 miles deeper into Russia. Five trains were said to have been damaged.

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)

N. Z. Premier Will Visit Canada For Five Days

Ottawa, Aug. 28 (CP)— Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand has accepted an invitation from the Canadian government to visit the Dominion and will arrive in Toronto Saturday, the Prime Minister's office announced last night.

Mr. Fraser arrived recently in the United States after an extended stay in London. He will spend five days in Canada before continuing his journey back to New Zealand.

Mr. Fraser will travel to Toronto by plane and inspect New Zealand air trainees on his arrival.

He will reach Ottawa Tuesday, as a guest of the government.

Further inspections of New Zealand airmen are scheduled for Monday at Mountain View, Ont., Kingston, Ont., and Montreal.

HIT BY LOADING CRANE

Three Rivers, Que., Aug. 28—(CP)—Philippe Heroux, 24, was killed almost instantly today when hit by a loading crane on the pier. He suffered a fractured skull. A mate, Norbert Auger, 33, was seriously injured.

PLENTY OF BRAID ORDERED

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)— The United States War Department has ordered enough neck ties and cap braid to supply every man in the army with two ties and a yard of braid and have some left over. Orders were placed for 1,400,000 black ties, 2,300,000 khaki ties and 1,740,090 yards of cord braid for caps.

SOVIET CONTINUES HARDY DEFENCE OF LENINGRAD

Nazis Make Concerted Attacks Also Against Odessa and Central Front

FEW DETAILS

(By HENRY CASSIDY)

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Moscow, Aug. 28 —(AP)— The Russians said tonight that two successive German defence lines had been taken in a counter attack on the central front which has continued for six days.

The offensive by troops under Gen. Konev was in the Gomel area.

The southwestern command of Marshal Semeon Budenny issued an appeal to besieged Russian forces at Odessa to defend that Black Sea port "to the last drop of blood."

Other dispatches reported fighting continued on all major sectors of the front.

Russian sailors, reinforcing the Red army, were reported today to have gone into action against the Germans at both the Arctic and Black Sea ends of the long front.

Naval detachments, which at least once before had engaged in land fighting with the army on the Baltic front, were reported to have joined in a stubborn defence by landing behind the German lines.

Sector Not Named

The government newspaper Izvestia reported one of the landings. Although it did not name the sector, the Arctic front obviously was the scene. Izvestia described the sailors' equipment to keep warm and told of barren rocks and cliffs. The dispatch said the sailors scaled the cliffs and attacked the Germans in a continuing battle.

Autumn weather set in early this week with a heavy two-day downpour of rain. Bright, cool days, which marked the end of the summer season, followed.

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 7)

ACCEPT OFFER TO BUILD 50 HOUSES IN OSHAWA

Oshawa, Ont., Aug. 28 (CP) — Oshawa city council last night passed a resolution accepting the offer of Wartime Housing Ltd., to erect 50 houses here.

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE

Rome, Aug. 28 —(AP)— The Italian High Command claimed Italian torpedo planes have damaged a light cruiser and a 12,000-ton auxiliary cruiser of the British fleet in the Mediterranean.

An attack on Tobruk by Italian and German planes in which defence installation and batteries were hit, and the bombing of British positions at the oasis position of Giarabub also were reported.

British aviators renewed their attacks on Tripoli and Bengasi, it said.

317-POUND STURGEON CAUGHT

Framilode, Gloucester, England, Aug. 28 (CP)—A 317-pound sturgeon, measuring nine feet, six inches, was caught in the river Severn. In accordance with tradition the fish was sent to the King at Buckingham Palace.

AUSTRALIAN PRIME MINISTER RESIGNS OFFICE

Possibility Menzies Will Go to London as Australian Member of Cabinet

A. W. FADDEN PREMIER

Canberra, Australia, Aug 28. (CP) — Prime Minister R. G. Menzies, who has been engaged in a bitter quarrel with the Labor party over his desire to go to London, resigned today, and Arthur W. Fadden, the Deputy Prime Minister, was chosen to succeed him.

Fadden was elected unanimously at a joint meeting of the United Australian party and the Country party.

Earlier the British and Australian governments had agree that an Australian Minister other than the Prime Minister would go to London to represent Australia in the British War Cabinet. Whether this would be Menzies still was doubtful.

The crisis arose when Menzies announced he was going to London. The Labor Party, not represented in the government, objected, turned down a proposal from the government that it join the Cabinet, and called for Menzies' resignation.

Member Since 1936

The new Prime Minister, a former chartered accountant of Brisbane, has been a member of the House of Representatives since 1936, representing the Darling Down constituency of Queensland.

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)

PRIME MINISTER PAYS QUEEN MARY VISIT IN COUNTRY

Mackenzie King Given a Message to Bring Home to People of Canada

BUSY WITH PARLEYS

By R. K. CARNEGIE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 28—(CP Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King returned to London today after a visit with Queen Mary in the country. He conferred with several officials in his hotel suite before attending a meeting of the British War Cabinet.

"I was delighted to find Queen Mary looking so well," said Mr. King, who last saw Queen Mary during Coronation ceremonies in 1937. "She's changed remarkably little in appearance since last I saw her, despite the heavy strain she has been under."

Mr. King said Her Majesty was deeply impressed when he conveyed to her the greeting of the people of Canada. She talked easily of Canada, which she visited with her husband when they were the Duke and Duchess of York.

Queen Mary asked Mr. King many questions concerning the tour throughout Canada and part of the United States by her son, the Duke of Kent. The Queen Mother has collected clippings of the tour, also pictures taken during the Duke's visit to Ottawa and other points.

(Continued on Page Twelve, Col. 8)

Report Dnieper Dam Still Standing But Turbines Dynamited by Russians

New York, Aug. 28—(CP)—The New York Times said today that according to word reaching commercial circles here Russia's great Dnieper Dam is still standing but the turbines and other machinery that made it possible to generate power have been dynamited.

"Reporters who have been in close touch with the Soviet said that, under a prearranged plan, a charge of dynamite was placed in each of the huge turbines to make them useless when the Nazi invasion threatened the site," said the paper.

"According to the explanation given to foreign traders, the Russians decided to leave the dam structure itself undamaged because it would require years to rebuild. By wrecking the machinery, however, they would prevent the Germans from making use of the dam for more than a year, since it would take at least that long to replace the turbines."

New Iran Premier Informs Parliament Of Cabinet's Stand

Informed Sources in London Believe Situation Tending Toward Solution

OPERATIONS PROCEED

By DREW MIDDLETON

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

London, Aug. 28 (AP)—A reorganized Iran government headed by Premier Ali Furanghi announced to parliament today, the Teheran radio said, that orders had been issued to Iran troops to cease resistance to British and Russian forces which are rapidly advancing toward vital centres of the country.

News of quick abandonment of armed opposition, on the third day of the Anglo-Russian intervention in the Middle East kingdom, was contained in dispatches of D.N.B., German News Agency, heard on the radio. The German dispatches said Ali Furanghi was seeking an armistice.

(A BBC broadcast, heard in New York by NBC, said, "All fighting in Iran had ceased"; that the British-Russian invasion had turned into a peaceful occupation.)

"We shall do our utmost to maintain good relations with the foreign powers, and especially our neighbors and to continue improvements which are the aims of His Majesty and the whole nation," Reuters quoted the Premier as saying.

Given Vote of Confidence

"In order that these intentions should be made clear to the world at large, we declare at this moment when the governments of Soviet Russia and Great Britain have ordered certain actions be taken, that the government of Iran, in pursuance of the peace-loving policy of His Majesty, is issuing orders to all armed forces of the country to refrain from any resistance so that the causes for bloodshed and disturbance of security shall be removed and public peace and security assured.

". . .The nation, anxious about present developments naturally has expected that because of the complete confidence it has always had in its government's peaceful itnentions, effective steps would be taken immediately to maintain friendly relations with our two great neighboring governments (presumably Britain and Russia.)

"Now with the advent of the new cabinet and because of the great confidence the nation has in the present government, that hope will be increased."

After the Premier's speech the parliament gave the government a unanimous vote of confidence.

Associated Press dispatches of Wednesday from Teheran, delayed in transmission, affirmed the old Iran Government had resigned because it would not make an agreement with Britain and Russia. The regime hard tried to stop the conflict by promising to expel all Germans quickly.

There was a conflicting dispatch from the Indian Command Headquarters at Simla which said that full mobilizatoin was in progress in Iran.

No Official Explanation

There was no official explanation of this report, which came from headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, Commander in Chief of British operations in Iran although some observers said it might be intended as a "face saving gesture." Military experts said most of

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 5)

Iranians Hotly Defend Abadan But Big Oil Refinery Taken Intact

AIR FORCE ELIMINATED

(By EDWARD KENNEDY)

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

With the British Forces in Iran, Aug. 27 — (delayed) — (AP) — Fighting across flat desert and marshlands in 130-degree heat, Indian troops led by British officers were in control today of Iran's three main outlets to the sea, Khorramshahr, Abadan and Bandar Shapur.

Ever since the Imperial troops crossed into Iran from Basra, Iraq, at dawn last Monday they have been advancing toward the rich Iranian oil fields, still a long way ahead and beyond difficult mountain terrain.

No Iranian planes have interfered with Indian progress. Royal Air Force attacks on a Persian airfield caused destruction of numerous planes and it was believed the country's air force was eliminated.

Taking Abadan was not easy. The city lies on an island and the Iranians damaged a ferry connecting it with the mainland. Twice British attacks were turned back by the Iranians who were equipped with machine guns, mortars and mountain artillery.

One Colonel Wounded

The colonel commanding the landing of troops on the island by improvised boats was wounded almost the moment he set foot in Abadan. The Iranians fought in the streets throughout Abadan, but its big oil refinery was taken intact.

Troops attacking Bandar Shapur also encountered street fighting, but the Indians soon got the better of their opponents.

Some 700 Iranian prisoners in bright yellowish khaki uniforms already have been sent back by truck to Basra. Iranian casualties appeared to be several hundreds while British losses seemed not so high.

IRANIANS HOTLY

(Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)

International at a Glance

By The Canadian Press

LONDON — Roundabout reports indicate new government of Iran seeks armistice with Britain and Russia; Russians advance 70 miles on main road to Teheran; British press on from east and south.

BERLIN—Germans claim Moscow-Leningrad railway severed and lower Dnieper river crossed at Zaporodzhe.

MOSCOW—Heavy fighting reported along entire front with sailors aiding the army at the Baltic and Black Sea extremes.

London—R.A.F. bombs Mannheim and other targets in western Germany.

VERSAILLES—Assailant of Laval and Deat declares himself a free Frenchman.

CANBERRA—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies resigns, presumably to become Australia's representative in London.

Coming Events

PLAN NOW TO SEE THE BEST of all comedy hits, "HERE COMES MR. JORDAN", starting Sunday Midnight, at the McCarthy Theatre. Continuous Show Monday. A27-3t

SECOND GAME JUNIOR SOFTball playdowns. Bill's Place, Oshawa versus Esquire Juniors, Belleville, at Coleman Flats on Friday evening at 6:15. Admission: fifteen cents. A28

BRITISH ISRAEL WORLD FEDERATION. Rev. H. D. Linnen of the British Israel World Federation will speak this evening, August 28 at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m. "Israel in the Book of Common Prayer." A28

PROVINCIAL SEMI-FINAL Intermediate C. Port McNicoll at Point Anne, Saturday, August 30; 6 p.m. A28

School Books and Supplies

FOR OPENING DAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd.

We carry, as is our custom, perhaps the Most Complete Stock of all Authorized Text Books and necessary School Supplies in Belleville. This includes a complete and ample stock of the Public and Separate School Text Books as well as Collegiate Texts and Supplies. Our prices for School Supplies are low. We suggest, while the prices are low, that you obtain your term's supply of Scribblers, Pencils, Ink, etc. You will be agreeably surprised at the saving.

No Waiting on School Opening Day, Sept. 2nd.

We can GUARANTEE that you will not have to wait long at our store September 2nd. while obtaining your School List. We will have plenty of experienced clerks to help you select your books and parcel them in a convenient manner.

The Home of the Famous Five Hundred
School Helps Which Make Success Certain

REMEMBER THIS STORE ON SCHOOL OPENING DAY

THE JAMES TEXTS' BOOK STORE

183 FRONT STREET PHONE 892 BELLEVILLE, ONT.

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

RECENT RAINS HELP PASTURES

Recent rains have encouraged growth of grass with pastures being better than the average for this time of year throughout Hastings and Prince Edward Counties according to the weekly crop report as published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture from reports submitted by district agricultural representatives.

Practically all the grain is either threshed or under cover, while the showers have promoted good growth of corn, roots and potatoes. A considerable acreage of second crop red clover has been left for seed and reports indicate a good set of seed. Canning factories are now processing tomatoes with the quality of the crop being good. The milk flow is holding up well with the present volume being considerably ahead of last year at this time.

PLENTY OF PEACHES ON THURS. MARKET

Peaches struck a slightly easier tone on the mid-week produce market this morning with increased offerings selling generally at 50c and 55c the small basket for No. 1's and ranging down to 35c for No. 3's. Selects sold at 65c the basket. Pears were 50c the basket and plums, Bradshaw and Lombard, sold at 60c and 80c respectively.

It Pays to Shop
At the Rexall Store.

NEW, GIANT SIZE
WILDROOT
Hair Tonic
WITH OIL.
INTRODUCTORY BARGAIN
Regular $1.25 size
Now 98c
LIMITED TIME ONLY.

McKEOWN'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 135

St. Lawrence apples made their initial appearance, being quoted at 25c the small basket while Wolf Rivers were $1 the hamper. Tomatoes dropped to 75c the hamper and potatoes were 35c the peck or $1.25 the bushel. Corn on the cob remained at 25c and 30c the dozen, long blackberries 25c the box with watermelons and muskmelons ranging up to 35c, each.

CAR COLLIDES WITH ROAD GRADER

GEEN'S
Liquid Corn Remedy
for CORNS and BUNIONS
25 CENTS
TIRED FEET

FIND INSTANT EASE WHEN YOU RUB IN
MINARD'S
GREAT CANADIAN RUBBING LINIMENT
MINARD'S LINIMENT

100
GEEN'S
PHONE 131

ADVANCE STYLES
LADIES' FUR COATS.
Buy Now! Lay Away Prices!
R. A. BACKUS
EXPERT FURRIER
32 Bridge St. West. BELLEVILLE

THE QUINTE
BOOK SHOP
48 BRIDGE ST. EAST
For All
SCHOOL SUPPLIES
McCALL'S NEEDLEWORK
BOOK ON SALE FRIDAY

Fender and other damage to his car resulted when A. E. Phillips, Rednersville, collided with a heavy road grader two miles west of his native village yesterday afternoon. According to investigating Provincial Police Constable J. P. Laperriere the Phillips car struck an arm of the grader which was located on its right side of the highway. The arm was broken by the impact of the collision.

Charges will be laid against Phillips following further investigation, the officer stated.

BOY, 15, INJURED IN CAR-BIKE ACCIDEDNT

Charges of reckless driving will be laid against a resident of this city following a bicycle-car accident at the Station Street-Cannifton Road intersection yesterday afternoon.

Fifteen-year-old William Nickle, 397 Bleecker Avenue, is in hospital suffering with facial bruises and lacerations as a result of the collision.

The car, police stated, was proceeding east along Station Street and had turned toward Cannifton Road when the accident occurred. Young Nickle was thrown to the pavement by the force of the impact. He was later treated by Dr. G. S. Cronk and sent to hospital. Constable William Evans investigated.

POLICE BLOTTER

Two gentlemen who had gazed upon the wine when it was too ruby, enjoyed a night's rest in the police cells last night. Otherwise, perhaps with the exception that two bicycles were reported stolen from the McCarthy Theatre, all was quiet on the police front.

POLICE COURT

Pleading guilty to charges of having intoxicating beverages in an illegal place and theft of beer from the Albion Hotel, Shannonville, Albert Lindsay, Shannonville, was fined ten dollars and costs on the first charge and placed on suspended sentence for one month on the second with the condition that he does not frequent the hotel in that time, by Magistrate E. J. Butler in County Police Court today.

Lindsay was granted a stay of thirty days to pay his fine. A former employer came to his aid and paid the court costs of five dollars.

Melvin C. Miller, eighty-four year old vagrant, apprehended in Sidney Township on a charge of vagrancy, insisted that he had means of support in his alleged ability as an organ tuner.

"I'm afraid I wouldn't want you to tune my organ," Crown Attorney Donnan smiled, as he asked for a remand until Sept. 4th in order that a probe into the possibility of securing a home for the aged man, could be conducted.

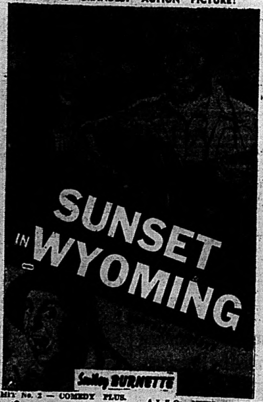
Four county residents pleaded guilty in writing to infringements of the Highway Traffic Act and paid the conventional fines.

Another resident pleaded guilty to charges laid by Fish and Game Inspector Herbert McCabe, of operating a gill-net without a license. He was fined ten dollars and costs.

Large Freak Snake Killed at Marmora

Marmora — (Special) — What turned out to be a strange hybrid of a reptile was killed by fifteen-year-old Donald Donaldson in the lane leading into his home in Marmora Township on Saturday afternoon. The reptile resembled a black snake in girth, being about three feet in length. Its markings however were green, yellow and grey. Its chief peculiarity was seen in two little feet about eight inches from its tail, one red and the other green. One who saw these appendages said they resembled the paws of a three-months-old kitten and that there was a covering of hair.

Tonight - Friday - Saturday
TWO HAPPINESS HITS!
YOUR FAVOURITE COWBOY IS BACK IN HIS GRANDEST ACTION PICTURE!



HIT No. 2 — COMEDY PLUS.

REPENT AT LEISURE
TAYLOR · BARRIE

A-L-S-O: NEWS — SERIAL
PRICES: ADULTS, Eve. 25c
Plus Tax
CAPITOL

TINY SCHOO FOR TINY TOTS
Reopens Tuesday, Sept. 2
at
St. Anes Manor
KINDERGARTEN AD PRIMARY WORK TAUGHT
PUPILS PREPARED FOR P. S. GRADES.
Call or Phone for Reservations.
L. D. WILKIN, teacher.
A28-3t

Week End Specials

GOOD QUALITY PILLOW CASES	each 25c
KRINKLETTE BED SPREADS, 70 x 90	each $1.89
ALL FEATHER PILLOWS. Special	pair $1.49
PLAID FLANNELETTE BLANKETS, 70 x 84	pr. $2.19
BLOWN FELT MATTRESSES, all sizes	each $4.95
BORDERLESS REXFEL, 6 x 9	$1.79

CLEARANCE OF SUNWORTHY WALLPAPERS.
COME IN AND SEE OR DISPLAY OF 4-YARD LINOLEUM.
YOUR FLOOR COVERING DOLLAR GOES FARTHER
at
THOMPSON'S
296 FRONT ST. Op. Victoria Ave. PHONE 295

Used Truck Clearance Sale Now on at Trudeau's

LIGHT DELIVERIES — PANELS — STAKE AND DUMP TRUCKS.
All in Excellent Condition and Priced to Clear.

1940 DODGE ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1939 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1938 DODGE ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1938 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1936 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1937 DODGE ½-TON PANEL.
1936 CHEVROLET ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1934 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1936 FORD ½-TON PANEL.
1932 CHEVROLET SEDAN DELIVERY.
1931 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1930 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1929 FORD ½-TON LIGHT DELIVERY.
1937 STUDEBAKER 2-TON STAKE.
1936 FORD 2-TON STAKE.
1937 CHEVROLET 2-TON STAKE.
1935 FORD 2-TON STAKE.
1934 FORD 2-TON STAKE.
1932 CHEVROLET STAKE BODY.
1931 FORD STAKE BODY.
1931 REO STAKE TRUCK.

MANY OTHERS NOT LISTED.

Trudeau Motor Sales
125 Front St. BELLEVILLE 41 Station St.

No Tenders Submitted For Thurlow Snow Plow

That the scarcity of metals, caused by their being diverted into the production of armament and other vital war materials, is beginning to have its effect in the slowing up of commercial machinery deliveries was evidenced this week when Thurlow Township received no answers following an advertisement asking for tenders re the supply and delivery of a snow plow for use on township roads this coming winter.

Difficulty of manufacturers acquiring steel to fill such orders was suggested as the reason for the non-interest of supply firms for this type of machinery. Failing purchase of a new plow to fit their recently purchased tractor, Thurlow Township residents may have to resort to the time-honored method of clearing sideroads of snow by use of the shovel.

Hastings County officials have as yet experienced no real difficulty in getting delivery of road machinery ordered, although the shipment of a new road grader ordered early in the spring was delayed approximately two months. Tar and asphalt compositions for road repairs however are getting more difficult to acquire it was admitted. Asphalt is shipped in from Trinidad and the shortage of shipping space is beginning to be felt in this field, while tar, having a petroleum base, is apparently being affected by the shortage of crudes.

FOOD SHIPMENTS ARRIVE IN SATISFACTORY QUANTITIES

London, Aug. 28 (CP)—An informed United States source said today that lease-lend food shipments to Britain are arriving in quantities highly satisfactory to the British Food Ministry.

WILL SPEAK AT PRESS DAY LUNCHEON AT C.N.E.

Toronto, Aug. 28 (CP)—W. Rupert Davies, President of The Canadian Press and publisher of the Kingston-Whig Standard, will speak at the luncheon meeting of Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition here tomorrow, Press Day at the fair.

Obituary

LATE NORMAN EDISON RION

The funeral of Norman Edison Rion, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Rion of Rossmore, took place from the residence of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dermott, 23 Pine Street, on Wednesday afternoon, August 27th. The service in the home and at the graveside in Belleville Cemetery was conducted by the Rev. W. J. Walker, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The bearers were Ross Empey, Arthur Empey, William Moore and William Boulter.

MRS. AGNES MARY McGEE (Stirling)

Stirling, Aug. 28 (Special)—Mrs. Agnes Mary McGee, widow of John E. McGee, died here on Wednesday, August 27th, after a lengthy illness at the nursing home of Mrs. George E Greene.

The late Mrs. McGee was born sixty-five years ago at West Huntingdon, her parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. James Tulloch. For the past forty years she resided in Stirling and was most highly esteemed. She possessed many fine traits of character and by her friendly disposition she attracted many friends to whom her death has brought sincere regret. In religion she was a faithful member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and when health permitted she took an active part in church work. Fraternally she was a member of Rebekah Lodge.

Surviving her are three sons, Mr. Donald McGee of Chesterville, Ont., Mr. Arthur McGee and Mr. Harry McGee, both of Detroit; four brothers, Mr. William Tulloch, Nevada; Mr. Thomas Tulloch, Red Deer, Alberta; Mr. Henry Tulloch, Stirling and Mr. Clarence Tulloch of Vernon, B.C.; four sisters Mrs. Darius Greene, Bay Side, Sidney Township; Mrs. A. O. Hutchison, Toronto; Mrs. C. R. Lalonde, Toronto and Mrs. Alex Durie, Oshawa.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, August 29th, to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, for service at 2.30 o'clock. (D.S.T.)

FOR
More Miles
PER GALLON
USE
J. B. BOYCE
MOTOR TUNE-UP
SERVICE
and
Nu-Blue Sunoco

Letter To The Editor

Airman Anxious To Get Accommodation

To the Editor

In times of war and stress through the country in which we live, the question has often been raised "Why can't the nations of the world get along like one big family" to which the humorist will probably answer "They do." The joke is evident, and yet underlying the the query is the basic principle of our much dreamed of 'Utopia.' Psychologists tell us that the success or downfall of any country is entirely dependent on the home life and loves of its occupants. From the comfortable, satisfied home-loving man we produce the best fighters for the freedom of our people. It is this type of man that is wearing and wearing proudly the uniform of Canada's fighting forces.

This man today has a problem to face that, never before in the whole of his past life has reached such proportions—and this problem is the housing of his wife and family within travelling distance of the station at which he is employed. In order to properly appreciate the problem, you must place yourself in this man's position and ask yourself just what you would do if you were faced with the task of housing your most precious possession on earth as comfortably and respectably as your limited purse will allow.

You find that you have enough money that, under ordinary circumstances, it is not necessary to beg, and yet on the other hand, you are not prepared to pay the exorbitant prices that the increase in demand has produced. You feel that, although some conscientious citizens are doing their best to help you out, they are more than out numbered by the inevitable Shylocks who are continually on the alert to rob their fellow men of every ounce of flesh that the law will permit. You search for days and weeks and months and the very best you can find is not good enough. People will say that you are too fussy—but—is it other than only natural that you should want a home for your wife that is any less respectable than the people from whom you are renting? You don't want to move her into someone's attic, their back kitchen nor their cellar. What you want is the ordinary run of every-day living conveniences at a price that will not deprive you of the right to fall ill occasionally without running into debt.

With this thought in mind, sit back in your easy chair tonight and think—not with the idea in mind of 'now is the time to make a few dollars from the spare room' but rather—have I a place in my home where I could conscientiously help out one of these fellow men who are in this predicament in an effort to protect me and mine. If they are willing to sacrifice all that they have, would it be asking too much for volunteers—not to knit sox for the boys overseas, or yet to donate sums of hard-earned money to their aid—but just to provide comfortable accommodation, within reason, to the fighting forces right in your own home town.

To you people who are living in large homes with room to spare, now is the time when you could bolster the backbone of your country and supply that love of his fellow man that makes our military men forget personalities in an effort to hold intact that thing which he respects the most—his home.

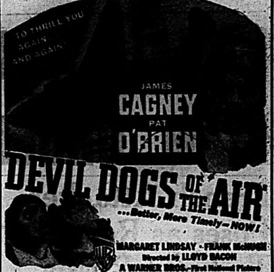
Cpl. F. Williams.

Editor's Note: The appeal by Cpl. Williams is made to those home owners who have an extra room or so not now in use and who might consider taking in a quiet young Canadian couple well educated and of pleasing appearance. Cpl. Williams is a draftsman serving at Mt. View Air Station. Replies may be sent to him or to this office.

Budapest Bureau Says Thrace Closed To Foreigners

Budapest, Aug. 28—(AP)—The Hungarian News Bureau said today that Turkish authorities had closed Thrace European Turkey, to all foreigners except those who hold general staff permits, and have prohibited automobile and rail traffic between Turkey and the rest of Europe.

GRAND WEEK-END ENTERTAINMENT!
Tonight - Friday - Saturday
A LIFETIME OF FUN-FILLED ACTION....



TO THRILL YOU AGAIN AND AGAIN
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR
...Better, More Timely—NOW!
MARGARET LINDSAY · FRANK McHUGH
Directed by LLOYD BACON
A WARNER BROS.-First National Picture

AND FOR ADDED LAUGHS
S-E-E
The Three Stooges
in
"I'LL NEVER HEIL AGAIN"
Excellent "SPORTS" Subject — BUCK JONES SERIAL
MATINEE FRIDAY 2.30 P.M.
COMPLETE SHOWS TONIGHT, 7.00 and 9.10
PLEASE BE EARLY FOR CHOICE SEATS
FREE PARKING
McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE
— HEALTHFULLY AIR - CONDITIONED —

Continuous Shows Saturday & Monday
B-E-L-L-E
STARTS SATURDAY
IT'S THE YEAR'S TOP ADVENTURE.

"I've been waiting for you to kiss me for days!"
Clark GABLE · Rosalind RUSSELL
in CLARENCE BROWN'S Production
"THEY Met IN BOMBAY"
PETER LORRE · JESSIE RALPH · REGINALD OWEN · MATTHEW BOULTON
THE WOMAN FROM "THE WOMEN" TAMES THE "RHETT BUTLER" OF THE CHINA SEAS!

BELLE WORLD-WIDE NEWS
MATS. ONLY: THREE COLOR FUN CARTOONS
SUNDAY AFTER MIDNIGHT, 12.05—PREVIEW SHOWING
Filmdom's Toughest Threesome in a T.N.T. Dramatic Bombshell.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON! MARLENE DIETRICH! GEORGE RAFT!
"All Together in MANPOWER"
A WARNER BROS. HIT with ALAN HALE · FRANK McHUGH · Directed by Raoul Walsh

A Whole Show Full of Gay Good Fun!

He's Raising HADES with the LADIES!
"Kisses FOR BREAKFAST"

A WARNER BROS. HIT
Devilish DENNIS MORGAN has fun with
JANE WYATT · SHIRLEY ROSS
LEE PATRICK · JEROME COWAN · UNA O'CONNOR
AND... A New Kind of Bright Romantic Comedy.

"I'M DIFFERENT!"
CAROLE LANDIS · CESAR ROMERO
DANCE HALL
"Step outside in the moonlight and say that!"

E-X-T-R-A — SKINNY ENNIS AND ORCHESTRA.
TONIGHT & FRIDAY
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS' THEATRE
Daily 2.30; 7.00. Last Show 8.30.
Don't Miss the Novel Display of Famous Players Theatres at the Canadian National Exhibition, east end of Manufacturers' Building, near the Fountain. A CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU!

New Classes of Cheese Exhibits Replace Those for Colored Cheese at Annual Dairy Show

Despite the fact that the original number of classes of cheese exhibits planned for the British Empire Dairy Show held in Belleville each autumn, will be curtailed owing to the restriction of the British Food Ministry in disallowing the manfacture of colored cheese in Canada this year, the cash prize list offered to cheesemakers at the exhibition will not be decreased from the original estimates, it has been announced by J. L. Irwin, Chief Dairy Grader for Central Ontario, on authority from the exhibition officials.

In lieu of the six classes which were forced to be discontinued from the prize list, new classes for novices, or cheesemakers who have never won a prize at the exhibition, will be inaugurated, it was stated.

The classes affected by the restriction of the British Food Ministry against the manufacture of colored cheese were number five, seven, eight and nine in the section open to the Dominion of Canada for colored cheese made in the month of September and during October and also the classes for flats and stilsons. Cheese under 75 pounds weight cannot be manufactured under the new restrictions, therefore the classes for these cheese had to be struck off the lists.

In the $200 Special Class open to the Dominion of Canada, (Ontario excluded) the classes for colored cheese made in September and October have been struck from the lists. In the six classes affected the amount of prize money involved was $427.

The inauguration of the novice classes to replace those struck off the lists was two-fold in meaning — first to keep the prize money in accordance with that originally planned and secondly to create a greater interest in the exhibition by young cheese makers and former non-prize-winners. Entrance of the exhibitor in the novice class would not bar him from competition in the regular classes open to the Dominion of Canada or other special classes, it was stated.

Very Grave Situation At Leningrad

(By EDWARD E. BOMAR)

Washington, Aug. 28. (AP)— The battles just opening for mastery of the skies over Leningrad appear to be a prelude to a last-ditch struggle for the city which the Russians promise to make as desperate as Poland's defense of Warsaw.

Not a bomb had fallen on the roofs of the city itself up to Wednesday morning, it was asserted, but the progress of Nazi and Finnish forces increases almost hourly the acknowledged peril of the historic capital of the Czars.

The advance from three sides which Marshal Klementy Voroshilov last week termed a "terrible danger" is even more threatening now. A main paved highway to Moscow long since has been severed at Novgorod, and a German vanguard is reported at the direct railway link which is the communication jugular vein.

Assuming no weakening of Voroshilov's determination to fight from door to door, Leningrad's defenders seem fully capable of keeping up the struggle well into the autumn. Execution of the Nazi threat to raze the second Soviet city in a manner of Warsaw and Belgrade may be a long and costly undertaking.

Defenses Reinforced

To a degree which the Russians have carefully kept secret, the ground and anti-aircraft defenses of Leningrad had been reinforced substantially since Hitler came to power in Germany and put the finger on Red Russia as the Nazis' ultimate foe.

The nearby island base of Kronstadt, which guards the Baltic Sea approach, has been made as nearly impregnable as Russian engineers knew how. It's colossal three-decker forts which beat off an attack by an Anglo-French fleet in the Crimean War are supported now by numerous fortifications, including the less pretentious but more effective Fort Constantine.

The manner in which the British naval base of Malta and, to a lesser degree, Gibraltar, has withstood aerial pounding for nearly two years suggests that Kronstadt will be able to absorb punishment for a long time.

Voroshilov has had weeks to prepare bunkers, barricades and batteries for the defense of the city itself, with no interference from the explosion of bombs on the galvanized roofs which make Leningrad vulnerable in this respect. Three railway lines are still open to bring in munitions, food and other war supplies, and to evacuate troops that may be dispensed with.

Good Military Prize

The northern wing commander is credited with a force of 1,000,000 men, aside from civilians from the city's 3,200,000 population who have rallied to Leningrad's defense.

As much reason exists to assume that the metropolis will be defended without thought of surrender as to expect that the invaders' drive to capture it will be pressed relentlessly.

Concentration there of the manufacture of munitions, machinery, precision tools and other vital products makes Leningrad a military prize second in importance only to the Ukraine, aside from political and other considerations.

The city could not be given up without imperilling the whole Red Army's main defense line, of which it is the northern anchor. Joseph Stalin's scorched earth policy is as applicable to Leningrad as to the lesser towns destroyed in the path of the German legions.

Of vital importance, to, is the fate of the Soviet Baltic Sea fleet, which is tied up directly with that of Kronstadt and Leningrad. Capture or destruction of this force of a battleship, seven or more cruisers, a number of destroyers and a mystery fleet of several score submarines would make the strategic Baltic a complete Axis lake and solve many of the invaders' transport difficulties.

Rent Control Extended To Brockville, Camrose

Ottawa, Aug. 28 (CP)—Extension of rent control to Brockville, Ont., and Camrose, Alta., was announced last night by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

"This new board order provides that effective Sept. 1, 1941, the highest rent that may be charged for housing accommodation in these areas is that which prevailed on Jan. 2, 1941, or, if the accommodation was not rented on that date, the rental payable under the latest lease in 1940," explained Mr. Justice W. M. Martin, rentals administrator.

Lawrence Marriott Elected Treasurer Of Tweed Red Cross

Tweed—At the August meeting of Tweed Red Cross held in the Veterans' Hall, Mr. Lawrence Marriott was elected treasurer as successor to Lieut. Geo. Elwood, who had recently joined the Canadian Forces on active service.

Mrs. Geo. E. Clark, convenor of Hospital and Refugee Supplies, reported that during the past year excellent work had been done by the girls of the High School and Consolidated School under the direction of their teachers. She expressed the hope that they would resume their activities with the reopening of school. Mrs. Clark suggested that the assistance of the school girls would be much more effective if they would devote their time to sewing and knitting only those articles stated in the quota to Tweed Red Cross. In this way there would be no wasted effort since every article specified in the quota was required, whereas some of the other articles made were not required by the Red Cross. To this end, Mrs. Clark suggested that those in charge of School Red Cross activities should consult her before beginning work in the fall.

A motion of appreciation was passed thanking the Parks Board for their generosity in donating the net proceeds of a Wednesday night dance at the Pavilion to Tweed Red Cross. This amounted to $52.00, with receipts from the booth and other contributions, the total net receipts amounted to $107.64.

It was announced that activities in the Work Room would be resumed on the first Tuesday in September.

Harold W. Kerby Is Wing Commander

Toronto, Aug. 28 (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Royden D. Kerby of Toronto said Wednesday they had received word that their son, Sqdn. Ldr. Harold W. Kerby has been promoted to the rank of Wing Commander and to command of the 400th Squadron in England.

Wing Comdr. Kerby began flying at the age of 15, in 1932. He was in his second year at Osgoode Hall, when he went on active service with the Royal Canadian Air Force. When Air Chief Marshal Brooke-Popham visited Toronto last year, he assigned Wing Cmdr. Kerby to his staff as special assistant. Later he was transferred to the 112th Squadron of Winnipeg and went overseas in May, 1940.

3rd Thurlow

3rd. Thurlow—Miss Vera Pound is spending a few days at the Toronto Exhibition.

Mrs. W. Cole is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Clazie, Front Road.

Tomato picking has started among many tomato growers, a good crop is reported.

Mr. Wilson from the Albert College had charge of the service at Cannifton on Sunday evening.

Miss Grace Pound of Trenton spet the past week at the home of her father, Mr. John R. Pound.

6th Tyendinaga

6th Tyendinaga—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Treverton spent the week-end in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ashbury and family, Belleville, Mrs. V. Bradshaw and family, 3rd line, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McKenzie, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lancaster and Evelyn, Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ashley, Belleville, visited Mr. Percy Lancaster and family recently.

Marguerite and Donna Lancaster have returned home after spending a week with their cousin at Stirling.

HERE IT IS—
New IMPROVED
OLD DUTCH
MADE IN CANADA

OLD DUTCH CLEANSER

NO CHANGE IN THE PACKAGE...
THE DIFFERENCE IS ALL INSIDE!

And what a difference!

For New Improved Old Dutch Cleanser is 50% faster. It contains an amazing ingredient that dissolves grease almost like magic, giving you double-action cleaning and cutting your cleaning time almost in half. Just a few quick wipes, and sinks, stoves, bathtubs become sparkling, immaculately clean.

New Improved Old Dutch is safety itself because it's made with safe, flaky Seismotite and DOESN'T SCRATCH. It's kind to your hands, too.

Ask your grocer today for New Improved Old Dutch Cleanser. You'll be glad you did.

RED & WHITE
LABOR DAY SPECIALS

Be prepared for a long week-end and the last holiday of the Summer season. Stores closed all day Monday.

AYLMER BRAND
Sweet Mixed Pickles 7-oz. Bottles 10c
McCORMICK'S
Fireside Marshmallows 1-lb. Bags 23c

POURING SPOUT
BEE HIVE

BEE HIVE GOLDEN CORN SYRUP
Delicious on cereals or hot buttered toast.
2-lb. tin .. 25c

Quaker Corn Flakes 3 pkgs. 23c
Quaker Puffed Wheat 3 pkgs. 25c
Quaker Puffed Rice 2 pkgs. 19c
Magic Baking Powder 1-lb. tin 28c

Aurora Blend Coffee lb. 39c
ANGLER BRAND
Fancy Keta Salmon 2 1-lb. tin 37c
LIBBY'S ORANGE AND GRAPEFRUIT
Blended Fruit Juice 20-oz. tins 19c 46-oz. tins 39c
FANCY QUALITY
Assorted Biscuits FRESH 2 lbs. 29c

VI-TONE 8-oz. Tins 29c

SNOWFLAKE AMMONIA
2 packages 11c

HAWES LEMON OIL
Cleans and polishes furniture, easy to apply 23c

P & G SOAP 10 bars 49c

LUX FLAKES 25c

INFANTS' DELIGHT TOILET SOAP

INFANTS' DELIGHT

3 for 14c

FOR THE FINAL RINSE ON WASHDAY!
RECKITT'S BLUE

Pkg. 3 cubes 9c

QUALITY ALWAYS HIGHER THAN PRICE

YOUNG CANADA HEARS THE CALL
BACK TO SCHOOL

SCHOOL "BUYS" at ZELLER'S
RETAILERS TO THRIFTY CANADIANS

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS who are going "Back to School" — and for those who will be off to school for the first time — Zeller's have a fine assortment of Things To Wear, priced to please Thrifty Parents. Too, ever so many School Supplies at small cost. Featured Thursday, Friday, Saturday!

GIRLS' HATS
Lovely felt Hats in poke bonnet and pork pie styles. Popular colours. Some with chin straps 1.29

PENCIL BOXES: Single Decker Boxes with snap fastener; "Flying Fortress" design. Containing ruler, eraser, two pencils, pen holder and two crayons. Double Decker—"Canadian Defence" design; containing ruler, three pencils, pen holder, four crayons, eraser and a Canadian map. Zeller-Thrift-priced at .... 15c - 25c

BOYS' CAPS
8-piece style, all wool tweed with unbreakable peak. Sizes 6⅝ to 7. Zeller-Thrift-priced 59c

BOYS' TIES
Your choice of striped and check mogadores, printed poplins and tartan plaids. Four-in-hand and ready-tied styles. Zeller-Thrift-priced 19c

"SUPERTEX" "BUDDY'S BEST" SHIRTS
85c
Made of tubfast Printed Broadcloth or All White. Tested quality. Negligee-style collar and cuffs. Pocket. Sizes 11 to 14½. Zeller-Thrift-priced.

SUSPENDERS
Of Rayon faced elastic web, tuxedo-back style. With leather ends. Sizes 26, 30 and 32. Zeller-Thrift-priced 25c

PYJAMAS
Of striped Slumber Cloth flannelette. Kite front or lapel collar style. Sizes 6 to 16. Zeller-Thrift-priced 1.09

COMBINATIONS
Boys' Plum Brushed Combinations with long sleeves and ankle length. Prepare for cool days ahead and be wise. Good value, price varies according to sizes.
Size 20, 22 for 79c
Size 24, 26, 28 for 89c
Size 30, 32, 34 for 1.00

KNEE PANTS
Of grey, blue, brown or green tweed; or blue cheviot. Lined, and with elastic insert at back. Three pockets. Sizes 24 to 28. Zeller-Thrift-priced 1.00

"LONGS"
$1.98
Sizes 8 to 18: Long Trousers of wool and cotton tweeds in blue, grey, green, brown; or navy cheviot. With five pockets; cuffed bottoms, six belt loops. Zeller-Thrift-priced.

BOYS' BLOUSES SHIRTS
59c 69c
A good supply of Blouses and Shirts will see the Young Fellow well set for School. Thrifty Mothers will choose "Warrendale" or "Buddy's Best", made of 100 x 60 Broadcloth. Guaranteed tubfast. Ever so many patterns to choose from! Also: all white! Sizes 11 to 13½. Exceedingly good value at Zeller's Thrift price!

Breeches
- ● Sizes 6 to 16
- ● Tweeds ● Cheviot
- ● Whipcord

1.49 - 1.59
What a grand and timely Value! Boys' Breeches, lined and reinforced at seat and knees; of wool and cotton Tweeds in popular shades; or blue Cheviot. Also Breeches of Cotton Whipcord, laced and reinforced at knees, reinforced at seat. All of them made with plenty of pockets; and careful attention to workmanship and detail. Zeller-Thrift-priced!

CHILDREN'S SHOES
Strap Shoes! Oxfords! Your choice of black patent or gunmetal, made of side leather. Sturdy and good looking. Sizes 8 to 2. Zeller-Thrift-priced, pair 1.15

SWEATERS FOR SCHOOL BOYS
$1.00
Sweaters of brushed wool backed with cotton; or ribbed wool and cotton. Cadet-neck style, zippered. Colours: maroon and royal in sizes 26 to 34.

KNEE-LENGTH STOCKINGS
Of wool and cotton mixture. Striped "Lastex" tops. Sizes 6 to 8½ in navy, red, royal, brown. Zeller-Thrift-priced, pair 29c

FULL-LENGTH STOCKINGS
Ribbed cotton Hose in sizes 5 to 10. Popular fawn shade. Zeller-Thrift-priced, pair 15c

BOYS' HOSE
● Golf Style. ● Great Variety
COTTON: blue, brown or grey with striped "Lastex" tops in sizes 7 to 10. Pair 19c
WOOL & COTTON MIXTURE: in grey, fawn brown or blue with fancy jacquard cuffs. Sizes 8 to 10. Pr. 45c
WOOL & COTTON MIXTURE: in grey, brown, blue, fawn, green—with "Lastex"-ed fancy jacquard cuffs. Sizes 8 to 10. Pair .. 59c

RAYON & COTTON STOCKINGS
Full length. Rib-knit. Popular fawn shade. Sizes 5 to 9½. Priced at 29c-39c

RAYON & WOOL STOCKINGS
Full length, ribbed. Fawn. Sizes 5 to 9½. Priced at ... 29c 49c

RAYON & COTTON STOCKINGS
Ribbed. Fawn. Sizes 5 to 9½. At per pair . 29c

GIRLS' HANDBAGS
Pouch style with chain or top handles. Of simulated leather in black, brown, red, or navy. Fitted with mirror and change purse. Only... 29c

ZELLER'S LIMITED

SCHOOL BAGS
29c
COVERT CLOTH BAG WITH SHOULDER STRAP: open pocket in front. Size 9 x 12 inches. Blue, grey.
HANDLE STYLE: made of Covert Cloth with two metal fasteners and open pocket in front. Blue, grey. Size 9 x 12.
Sturdy handle style, black leatherette finish, dome fastened pocket in front, firm bound edges 59c

SCHOOL BAGS: Quebec style. Leatherette; or of striped Cotton Twill with heavy rubber lining. Extra sturdy! 79c

GIRLS' SLIPS
RAYON-TAFFETA SLIPS with two-inch lace hem. Built-up shoulders. Sizes 8 to 14. Colours: Tearose. Zeller-Thrift-priced 49c
WHITE COTTON SLIPS: in sizes 8 to 14. Zeller-Thrift-priced 29c
RAYON SATIN SLIPS: in sizes 8 to 14. With built-up shoulders. Frilled at bottom. Colours: Tearose, White. Zeller-Thrift-priced 69c – 79c

GIRLS' BLOOMERS PANTIES BRIEFS
25c-29c
In these two low-priced groups you will find a grand assortment of Undies for missies, age 8 to 14. The kind of dainty styles that young girls will adore. Tearose, white. Splendid Values!

BE SURE TO ASK ABOUT ZELLER'S LAY-AWAY PLAN

GIRLS' CARDIGANS
Of splendid quality Botany Wool. Six-button front. Round-neck style; long sleeves. Sizes 28 to 34 in popular colours. 1.59

PLAID DRESSES
$1.00
Sizes 7 to 14; smartly styled little Frocks of Cotton Plaid, that will "look right" for School Days—and will wear ever so well. A grand assortment of styles and colour combinations, Zeller-Thrift-priced.

GIRLS' BLOUSES
Neat little Blouses to wear with skirt, gym bloomers or jumpers. Made of splendid quality broadcloth. Tubbable and easy to launder. Sizes 7 to 14. Colours white 79c

SKIRTS
CIRCULAR STYLE: of pretty cotton plaids. With suspenders attached to waist band. Sizes 7 to 14 1.00
PLEATED SKIRTS: Plaid patterns. Spun fabrics. Sizes 8 to 14 .... 1.59
JUMPER STYLES: of spun rayon in sizes 7 to 12. Gored. Colours: rosewood, red, royal, navy. 1.00

DAINTY DRESSES
Of Rayon Spun fabric; trimmed with white. Colours: Rose, Navy, Wine. Also Celanese Crepe Frocks—plaid patterned. Sizes 7 to 14 1.98

RAYON SPUN FROCKS
Great Variety. Colours: Rose, Wine and striped. Many trimmed with plaid. Sizes 7 to 14...... 1.59

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.

MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION

MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING

MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

"WEEK OF RECONSECRATION"

The week from September 10th to 17th has been set apart as a "week of reconsecration of the Canadian people to the democratic cause against Nazi tyranny." Thus Canada will mark the beginning of the third year of participation in the war.

The entire nation will unite in this observance as "one of reconsecration of our lives and possessions, of everything we have and everything we are for the principles which, under divine Providence, have been our stay and help in the past to the end that torment may be lifted from men's hearts and peace and safety come for all nations and peoples."

In every possible form the observance will be marked so that upon every Canadian will be impressed the importance of the fight which the democracies are making against the tyranny of the Nazis. There will be municipal and governmental observances, schools and churches will participate.

The people of the Dominion will rededicate their lives anew to the task "in national honor for those who on land, on sea and in the air are the defenders of our country and in proud memory for those valiant hearts who have gone out from among us in the most precious of all sacrifices for our common freedom."

With thoughts upon those who are serving in the forces or who have given their lives, with minds intent upon the task for the individual and the task for the nation in fighting on to victory, Canadians will feel the call upon them to use all their talents and gifts and possessions in the national cause in this hour when Nazi tyranny and oppression must be crushed,

THE OLD MILL

The old mill figures in landscapes, songs and story, even when it is but a pile of ruins of stone walls.

So it may be with that old mill in the famous English town of Stratford-on-Avon which was recently burned to the ground. It may, in its ruins, continue to adorn one of the most famous English centres. It was a landmark in Midlands, says the Birmingham Mail, for centuries. "There was a 'mille' at 'Stratforde' at the time of Doomsday Book for William the Conqueror's famous register shows that the town included a church, a mill yielding 10 shillings per annum. In Shakespeare's time the tenant of the mill beyond the church was Alderman John Sadler, whose children are recorded as having been among Shakespeare's earliest friends.

"References in ancient Corporation records to 'the repayre' of the Myll bridge' indicate there was a mill there also in 1615."

MUSSOLINI UNHEARD

Mussolini has quite disappeared from the world's stage. Nobody troubles about him. The man that put Italy in the grasp of Germany who had been the enemy of Italy all through the Middle Ages and who had never done a good deed for Italy in modern times, has had his reward. It was coming to him. In the clash of the great armies on the Russian battlefront, there is no thought of Mussolini. Even if he did raise his voice he could not be heard. He is just trampled under.

The man who has been called "the greatest flop in military history" was administered a rebuke by Britain in that great swift series of victories in North and East Africa when British and Empire troops tore Mussolini's empire to shreds, smashed his fleet and his air force. The other day Italy made a weak gesture of strength along the east coast of the Adriatic, claiming that the Axis plans were not going forward as speedily as they might in Yugoslavia and the world was told that Italy undertook to amend the situation.

What glory Mussolini had was all in pre-war days when he blustered and threatened the world of peace, particularly his good neighbor, France, and Britain, which had been the friend of Italy. Bully-like he attacked Greece and learned what heroes the modern Greeks were. They covered themselves with glory and helped to shove Mussolini off the stage.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

SAGA OF THE SEA

The trim white sloop swung at anchor at her moorings in a small coastal port near Halifax. The green Atlantic water lapped softly at the hulls of other member craft of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron, summering some miles down the coast due to war exigencies.

Ex Rear-Commodore Ernest Bell of the squadron smiled as he helped this reporter aboard the handsome yacht. Overhead grey sullen clouds scudded swiftly past. A light drizzle of rain was falling. From outside the harbor entrance came the sound of Atlantic swells as they dashed into foam on the rocky coastline. In the distance the first searchlights over Halifax were stabbing the dusk like golden spears laid against black velvet.

Minutes later, hot toddies at elbow in the warmth of the comfortable cabin, reminiscences of earlier days formed the topic of conversation. Former boats and crews were recalled. Racing days were relived. Old times swept back over the chasm of time. Then a simple question, prompted by the oddness of the yacht's name, the "Gemitra," unearthed a stirring nautical saga of the present war.

"Where did you get this craft?" the ex-commodore was asked.

"The answer to that query," he smiled, is a story in itself. Here it is:"

Norway had been invaded, Nazi panzer divisions and troops had taken over the heroic little country. The British troops had been transported to England, and brave Norge patriots were fighting guerilla warfare.

Down to the coast the grey hordes swept. Betrayed by Quisling and his satellites the historic country was in the hands of the oppressors.

In the Norwegian capital a small group of patriots held secret conclave. Twenty-five millions of dollars in gold bullion had not yet fallen into Nazi hands. The question, how to get it out of the country to England.

The group decided on desperate measures. In a tiny harbor, one recalled, two English yachts lay at anchor. Their owners, believed to be wealthy Englishmen who had been vacationing in Norwegian waters when war was declared, left hurriedly for home, leaving the yachts tied to piers in the little coastal village.

This fact, they believed, was one solution to their problem. Time called for immediate action. A night later, trucks driven by Norwegians dressed in Nazi uniforms, drove along the coastal roads, laden, unknown to the unsuspecting Germans, with good Norwegian gold bullion.

Ten miles out to sea, a dirty tramp freighter lay at anchor. On her decks were roughly constructed crates large enough to hold a medium sized yacht.

Under the noses of the Nazi guards the trucks drove to the little quay in the village. Here the bullion was loaded in the two yachts, the weight replacing their natural ballast. Under cover of darkness the trim sloops slipped out to sea.

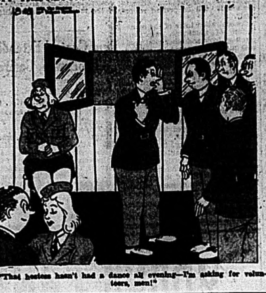
Swiftly, efficiently, the crew of the freighter worked as the yachts came under the lee of the ship. Slings were fashioned which would fit under the bow and stern of the yachts and hoist them bodily to the dacks. Masts of the yachts were unstepped and all superfluous gear removed. Finally the boats were slung aboard and placed in the cradles or crates.

This, it was later revealed, was done so that in event of the freighter being torpedoed the yachts would float away from the wreckage and unsuspecting submarine commanders would pay no attention to two empty boats floating away. The hope was in a British destroyer or other naval craft discovering the yachts and their precious cargoes.

In the foggy mist of the night the little tramp freighter slipped away to sea. She crossed the Atlantic unmolested and several days later poked a grimy, sea-scarred bow into Halifax harbor.

The owners of the yachts have not as yet been discovered. "The boats," the ex-commodore disclosed, bore the letters "R.C.Y.S.," but these later were revealed to signify the "Royal Clyde Yacht Squadron." The boats were sold through a world-known English insurance company with the condition that they could be repurchased at the same price when the identity of the owners was discovered.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed



"That hostess hasn't had a dance all evening—I'm asking for volunteers, men!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 28TH, 1921

The Rev. A. M. Hubly, former pastor of Emmanuel Church here and now of Toronto is visiting in town.

Mr. James Booth will sing a solo in Bridge Street Church on Sunday evening.

The Misses Rowlands, Ihabel St. have returned home after a vacation of two weeks spent in Watertown, N.Y., and at the 1000 Islands Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Shane and family have returned to the city after spending their holidays at Vanessa Cottage, Jones' Creek.

The Rev. H. H. Mutton of Bayside will conduct the services in Holloway Street Methodist Church on Sunday.

Dr. J. J. Robertson is spending a few days in Toronto.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 28TH, 1911

Although the drought is so severe that some trees are shedding their leaves and fields and gardens are parched, yet the weeds which fringe the sidewalks fronting the armouries on Pinnacle and Bridge Streets are flourishing in luxuriant greenness. In consequence the locality has one of the features of a deserted village. It is a disgrace to the city and the remedy should be applied at once.

Mr. Fred D. Wilkins of the Bank of Toronto, Toronto, has returned to Toronto after visiting Miss Wilkins, Albert Street.

Mrs. W. R. Wilson, North Front Street, has returned home from Rochester, N.Y., where she visited friends.

Mrs. Fred Sullivan of Grand Rapids, Mich., is visiting her sister-in-law, Miss Emma Sullivan in this city.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 28TH, 1901

The black bass fishing is good in our bay this season and transportation companies and others need not be afraid to speak highly of and advertise the good fishing obtained along the Bay of Quinte.

Mr. J. A. McFee has returned home after a trip to Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Fred Walters of Chicago, Ill., an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit.

Mr. H. Rose has returned home from the Old Country.

Mr. J. Finkle and family will leave tomorrow to visit Toronto and Buffalo.

Mr. J. M. Farley has leased his farm in Sidney Township and will take up residence in the city.

The streets in Marmora Village are to be lighted with electricity.

Mr. Ernest Fraleck is spending a few days in New York City on business.

Mr. J. S. McKeown is taking in the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, N. Y.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 28TH, 1891

The bay yesterday and today was dotted with boats carrying fishing parties. Some good catches of bass and other fish are being made.

The Oddfellows' and Military Band of this city has been engaged to play at the Central Fair, Ottawa on Sept. 29th and 30th.

Mr. Harry Neilson is home on a visit to his mother at her home on John Street.

Capt. C. F. Filliter left today to spend two months in the Old Country.

Mr. Thomas Ritchie will arrive home this evening after a business trip to the Old Country.

Mr. W. H. Holden of Detroit, Mich., is here on a vacation and is the guest of his grandfather, Mr. M. Sawyer, William Street.

There was a light frost last night but no damage has been reported.

Newest Notes of Science

Brazil will establish a seaport for small coastwise steamers at Ubatuba, 95 miles northeast of Santos, to serve as an outlet for the hinterland's increasingly important agricultural products.

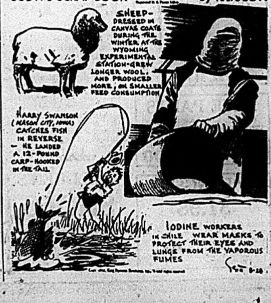
Of European invention is a nickel-zinc storage battery having the negative electrode made predominently of zinc and using a slightly alkaline solution of potash lye and boric acid as its electrolyte.

Three rare metals are used instead of silicates in a new glass for optical purposes that has a higher refractive power than ordinary glass, lenses made from it requiring less than the usual curvature.

To save as much milk as possible for butter production Sweden has prohibited the manufacture of cheese with more than 20 per cent fat content and the use of cream containing more than 15 per cent butter fat.

An Illinois watch factory has installed a device that magnifies images of watch parts more than 100 times to enable workmen to detect and discard defective parts by comparing their images with standard drawings.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT



SHEEP- DRESSED IN CANVAS COATS DURING THE WINTER AT THE WYOMING EXPERIMENTAL STATION-GREW LONGER WOOL, AND PRODUCED MORE, ON SMALLER FEED CONSUMPTION
HARRY SWANSON (MASON CITY, IOWA) CATCHES FISH IN REVERSE — HE LANDED A 12-POUND CARP-HOOKED IN THE TAIL
IODINE WORKERS IN CHILE WEAR MASKS TO PROTECT THEIR EYES AND LUNGS FROM THE VAPOROUS FUMES
8-28

Canada's Manpower

Grant Dexter, writing in The Winnipeg Free Press, makes a useful contribution toward understanding of the problem of manpower.

Mr. Dexter begins by taking the age groups of 20 to 39 as Canada's reservoir of military manpower, estimating (on the basis of official figures) a total number of 1,800,000 men. From this he subtracts:

About 600,000 — one third — as physically unfit.

About 222,000 already in the army.

About 62,000 in the air force.

About 20,000 in the navy

This brings the pool, or reservoir, down to 894,000. But all of this number is not available for military service. From it must be deducted men directly or indirectly engaged in war industries, foreign - born elements unacceptable as recruits, conscientious objectors like the Doukhobors, married men whose family responsibilities forbid enlistment and others.

These further deductions, writes Mr. Dexter, bring the pool down to not more than 500,000 men.

What of our needs from this pool? Mr. Dexter says that, according to the calculations of the authorites, the army will require at least 90,000 recruits each year as long as the war lasts, the air force 25,000 and the navy 7,000, making a total of 122,000 per year. On top of that war industry, according to the Ministry of Labor, will need a reinforcement of 200,000 workers. The total need, therefore, counting war services and war industries will be 320,000 men per year. That many with only two recruits out of three being fit for military service.

Now according to the data of the national registration of 1940 some 91,000 young men reach the age of 21 each year. Mr. Dexter shows that the usual elimination of one-third of these on account of physical unfitness will leave available for the fighting forces only about 61,000, or less than half of the number they require. Meanwhile there will be the growing demands of the war industries.

There is, of course, always a margin of error in all such figures (this Mr. Dexter admits), but what seems clear is that our manpower problem is likely soon to become an acute one, and that it calls for study. Mr. Dexter, sympathetic to the Government stresses this, and casts grave doubt upon the dependability and usefulness of the national registration of last year. Not a soul in Ottawa he holds (and he has made painstaking inquiries) knows where Canada stands in terms of manpower, adding: "The basic facts upon which the whole war effort rests have yet to be discovered."

With the war's beginning, Canada's manpower problem was simple: We had hundreds of thousands of unemployed. Today it is different; the unemployed, those who were employable, are in war industries, the war services have absorbed some 300,000 and others have grown unfit for either industry or war. The task now therefore, is to know with some precision just what our manpower pool is and how it can be tapped effectively.

That can't be done without study; without organization. — Ottawa Journal.

'Muzzling Policy' Strongly Protested

Peterborough, Ont., Aug. 28—CP)—Fire Chief Clarence J. DeFields, of Windsor, Ont., protested at the annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs here Wednesday against "this muzzling policy" in censorship that had been imposed on newsmen reporting a speech by District Officer Daniel Ivall, of London, Eng.

"If we are in peril," the Windsor chief said, "then the people of Canada should know about it. It's time to quit passing the buck and let's face the facts."

(The Press Censors' office in Ottawa said the Ontario Fire Marshal before the Peterborough meeting had advised them that Ivall, in his speech, might discuss matters of value to the enemy and passed on a request from British authorities that such matters be kept from the general public.

(Accordingly, Peterborough newspapermen had been requested not to report those sections of his speech, but no objection had been raised to covering parts of it which did not disclose war secrets.)

Other speakers protested against the censorship and as a result the association president, Chief George Gimblett of Peterborough, named a committee to draft a resolution that would be presented to the convention later.

Named to the committee were Chief DeFields, Chief Kapelle, of Stratford, Ont., the Ontario Fire Marshal, W. J. Scott, and Federal Fire Commissioner Claremont.

Ivall had spoken Tuesday of fire fighting as a phase of the defence of Britain.

Howard Johnson, former A.R.P. control officer in Britain, spoke yesterday of conditions that could prevail in Canada and the United States if the Battle of the Atlantic should go against Britain, and again the censorship was applied to sections of the address.

THREE YEAR JOB

Brighton, England (CP)— George Hole, an auxiliary fire service man who is a member of the British Astronomical Association, has completed, after three years' work, a 14-inch reflecting telescope valued at about £2,000 ($8,900).

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

Delaying Old Age

An employee of a large coal and wood company was called into the office one day and the president of the company said,

"Jack, today completes fifty years of service with us and the directors have asked me to do three things. First, I am presenting you with a gold watch suitably engraved telling of your long and faithful service. Second, I am presenting you with Five Hundred Dollars in cash. Third, I am instructed to inform you that your salary is to be paid regularly as before, but you need not report for work any more; you have done enough work for the company"

The employee replied, "I am taking the watch and the Five Hundred Dollars but I will be here at eight o'clock for work tomorrow and every day thereafter".

This man's whole life was bound up in that company, his superiors, his fellow employees, customers and others whom he had met at his daily tasks. He knew that to tear himself away from this, which was his whole life, would be much harder on him than the physical work of the yard.

What happens to many individuals when they are pensioned, retired, superannuated?

They lie in bed instead of getting up in the morning; their meals become irregular. Not getting a "good" or "regular" breakfast, they lose the regular intestinal habit (which regularity of arising and eating had established), and they become constipated. A common cause for this type of constipation is the sluggishness of the liver which now misses the "squeezings" it received when exercise was an everyday habit. With this sluggishness and constipation comes depression of spirits, which depression would not be present if they were mixing with others more.

Physicians who make the treatment of the old their special work geriatricians as they are called, advise that the biggest factor in making old people get older sooner is letting them spend too much time in bed. This prevents regular exercise which heart, lungs, and digestive systems need. It also makes them moody or melancholy as they have too much opportunity to be thinking inwardly. Getting about and meeting people and having a hobby, keeps body and mind active.

Following six years of experimental work a plant will be built in Norway to compress fresh fish under a pressure of 25 tons into briquets that are expected to keep for ten years, regardless of climatic conditions.

Frances Perkins Gives Opinion On Labor Dispute

New York, Aug. 28—(AP)—Looking back over eight years as United States secretary of Labor, Frances Perkins blames the split between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations for the failure of collective bargaining to settle more disputes without strikes.

Writing in the September issue of Fortune magazine, the first woman to hold Cabinet office in the United States describes the A. F. L.-C. I. O. schism as "largely an internal fight for control," and declares that "a reunion could be made tomorrow without ugly scars of hatred and rancor between the wage earners in each group."

"I have been called incompetent (and worse) because I have not prevented strikes," Miss Perkins writes, "and I am aware that there is a theory that if I were a two-fisted male I should be able to stop strikes.

"The accusation that I am a woman is incontrovertible. As for being two-fisted, I'm sure that it is unrealistic and lacking in human knowledge to believe that getting tough or cracking down on working people would make things better.

"The only power I have," she declares, "is to act as labor's spokesman in the government."

She says that collective bargaining, carried on with mutual responsibility and intention to conclude a bargain, is a constructive process, ad labor's efforts to organize are not disorder.

Allows Gasoline Sale In Cans for Homes

Midland, Aug. 28 (CP)—Gasoline may be sold in cans or other containers, providing it is for use in lamps, stoves, washing machines, or for domestic purposes. Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle stated in a wire to a Midland washing machine agency. The agency asked for a ruling and reported to the Oil Controller that gasoline station operators had refused to sell gasoline in containers under any condition, and domestic consumers were suffering. "Prohibition applies only to gasoline for use in private passenger vehicles," stated the wire.

MINERS REJECT

London (CP)—Conditions attached to the attendance bonus which miners receive for full-time work were rejected at a meeting of the Mine Workers' Federation executive. The scheme was designed to increase production in the mines.

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

PARSON'S GOOD EXAMPLE

What does the golfing parson think
When he has failed a putt to sink?
Sometimes I wonder as we play
What are the words he doesn't say?

What are the thoughts he mutters not
When he has dubbed a simple shot?

I watch him hook and slice and top
And see his fine right shoulder drop;

I note his failure at the cup
Due to his fault of looking up.

And though fine language he commands,
So strangely silent there he stands!

No word of bitterness and rage
Unsuited for the printed page;

No phase expressive from his lips
In that sad moment ever slips.

Just silence, solemn silence, grave!
Oh, would that I could be so brave;

Could bear misfortune with such grace
And of ill temper show no trace!

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

LOOK OUT FOR THE COWS!

Two engines and eight coaches of a streamliner were derailed in Georgia when the train struck a cow on the tracks and opened a switch.

Which proves that a cowcatcher is still a necessary part of a railroad locomotive.

Back more than a hundred years ago, when railroads were still in their infancy and were not fenced and guarded as they now are, the presence of cattle and other livestock on the tracks presented a really serious problem.

The first device to solve this problem was designed by a young mechanical engineer named Isaac Dripps who was employed by the Camden & Amboy Railroad in New Jersey (now part of the Pennsylvania Railroad).

Dripps installed on the front of the John Bull, a locomotive made in England by George Stephenson, a small two-wheeled truck supporting two prongs or spears.

This device was given the picturesque name "cowcatcher" because it was designed to impale the trespassing cow and carry her along ahead of the engine.

The original cowcatcher was effective as far as it went, but it had two serious objections.

In the first place this original cowcatcher actually caught the cow and generally either killed or seriously injured her, with the result that damage suits were brought against the railroad. In the second place it was too much trouble to get the impaled cows off the spears. Besides the railroads were not interested in catching cows but in getting them off the track.

The ingenious Dripps then substituted a cross bar supported on a frame somewhat like a modern automobile bumper, and from this evolved the present-day plow-like cowcatcher which brushes aside livestock and other obstructions.

What Americans call a cowcatcher the British call a plough.

In the open spaces of the West railway engineers find that cattle are much more likely to get excited and run down instead of off the track if the whistle is blown a long distance away.

To obviate this engineers generally wait until the locomotive is fairly close to cattle along the track and then sound the whistle loud and abruptly, which causes the cattle to bolt away from the tracks.

Lipson's

Furniture House

PRESENT LOW PRICES ON FURNITURE CAN'T LAST!

FOR THE FALL BRIDE

3 Rooms Completely Furnished $198.50

$20 Down Delivers $3 per Week

3 ROOMS CONSISTING OF:

7 PC. WATERFALL BEDROOM SUITE
Bed, Dresser or Vanity, Chest, Spring, Mattress, Two Pillows.

6 PC. BREAKFAST ROOM SUITE
Buffet, Table, 4 Chairs, Natural and Red or Natural and Green.

10 PC. CHESTERFIELD SUITE
3 Pc. Modern Suite — Walnut End Table, Smoker, Footstool, 2 Pictures, 2 Silk Cushions.

10 Piece Modern
Chesterfield Suite

A Glamorous Living Room Ensemble at such low cost. A real luxurious modern 3 pc. Chesterfield Suite, also included Walnut End Table — Smoker — Ewo Silk Cushions — Footstool and two Pictures.

COMPLETE OUTFIT AT $79.50

$7 DOWN Delivers Pay Only $1.50 per Week

9 Piece
Dining Room Suite

Walnut Veneer Reproduction. Exactly as Illustrated.

See this strikingly attractive Dining Room Suite. Double Waterfall fronts on Buffet and China Cabinet. Built of select Birch with all surface parts of 3 ply Birch Veneer. Streamlined pulls. Credenza style Buffet and China Cabinet. Specifications: Buffet 19" x 56", Height 38". Two large drawers at top. Centre drawer has plush lined sectional sliding cutlery tray. China Cabinet: top 16 x 32 ins. height 60", upper cupboard has three wide shelves, lower cupboard extra large storage space and two doors. Full length linen drawer in centre. Extension Table: 38 x 50" closed and 38 x 68" open. Chairs, set of six, five side chairs and one arm chair.

Complete 9 Piece Suite $129.00

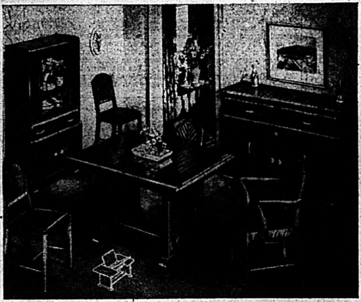
$10 Down Delivers $2 Per Week



7 Piece
Bedroom Suite

Of Waterfall Design

Consisting of large size bed, dresser or vanity, chest, spring, mattress, pair of pillows

August Sale Price $79.50

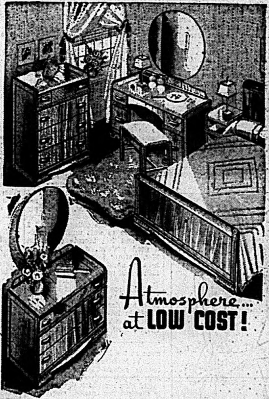
$7 Down Delivers $1.50 WEEK



Atmosphere... at LOW COST!

9-Pce Walnut Finish Dining Room Suite

Another exceptional outstanding value exactly as illustrated. This suite enhances the beauty of your Dining Room at this low price. Complete suite consists of Buffet, Table, China Cabinet and six Chairs. A Truly Exceptional Opportunity in these times.

Complete 9 Pc. Suite $99.50

$10 Down $2 Per Week

STUDIO COUCH

AUGUST SALE PRICE $27.50

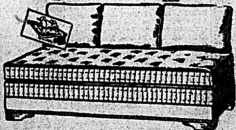
$3 DOWN Delivers $1 WEEK



While they last. These exceptionaly finel studios, heavy, durable covers, spring filled construction throughout. A truly outstanding value.

SPRING FILLED MATTRESSES

Supremely comfortable mattress. Will endure for years. Durable striped ticking.

An Exceptional Value Only $14.95

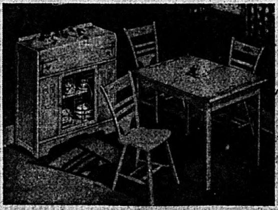
$2 DOWN $1 PER WEEK

6 Piece
Breakfast Room Suite

See this Honey-Tone modern styled suite. Gracefully styled, Buffet is exceptionally well made with plenty of cupboard space. Heavily constructed table with jacknife leaf. 4 sturdily built chairs. A kitchen you will be proud of. While they last. Complete 6 Piece Suite $52.50

$5 DOWN DELIVERS Pay Only $1.50 Per Week



FELT MATTRESSES $5.95
All sizes. Reg. 7.95 ....

Coal & Wood Stoves

BE WISE — BUY YOUR STOVE NOW!

Exclusive Agents for the Renowned Empire Coal and Wood Stoves.

Terms as Low as $1.50 PER WEEK

PERSONALS

Sergeant Bill McQuaid, R.C.A.F., left yesterday for Halifax, after spending leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McQuaid.

Mrs. W. Yates of Montreal, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mills, 15 Grove Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lang and daughter, Gladys of Toronto, have returned home after visiting Mr. Lang's sister, Mrs. Maud Butler.

Miss Marion Rickard, Bowmanville, entertained at a delightfully-arranged miscellaneous shower and tea last Tuesday in honour of Miss Phyllis Clemence, bride-to-be.

Master Teddy Boyce, Gilbert St., who underwent an operation at Belleville General Hospital yesterday is progressing favorably.

Mr. W. H. Gilbert, Kingston, formerly of Belleville, is visiting his son, Mr. Will Gilbert, 30 Everett Street.

Mrs. J. J. Morch of Port Credit, who is spending the summer in this city was a guest this week of Mrs. R. T. F. Brain, Peterborough.

Mr. C. D. Stevenson, senior fruit inspector, Department of Agriculture, and Mrs. Stevenson, formerly of Belleville, but now residing in Wellington are observing the forty-second anniversary of their wedding today.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Diamond 89 1-2 Grier Street, on Monday evening in honour of Mrs. E. G. Adams, (nee Jean Croft), a recent bride of this city. Mrs Adams was the recipient of many lovely gifts for which she so graciously thanked her many friends. During the evening bingo was played and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Last evening, Mrs. Kenneth Yorke, Everett Street, acted as hostess to a birthday party given in honor of Mr. Kenneth Yorke. After spending a social evening, a dainty luncheon was served amid birthday decorations. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips, Wallbridge, Miss Jean Shorey, Wallbridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. Collins, Miss Hazel Shillington, Miss Helen Jones, Mr. Raymond Roo and Mr. Don Bodrick all of Belleville.

Miss Aleita Horton, bride-to-be, was honoured at a lovely miscellaneous shower held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Dorothy Reid of Halloway. About forty girl friends gathered and presented Miss Horton with beautiful and useful gifts for which she graciously thanked her friends. Mrs. Gerald Frederick read an address expressing the high esteem in which the guest of honour is held in that community. The rooms were tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers, balloons conteining confetti, and multi-coloured gladioli. A dainty buffet supper was served by Mrs. Arthur Reid, Mrs. Gerald Irwin, the hostess and her mother. A novelty in fun and usefulness was the three layer mock wedding cake which contained many tiny gifts plus apprqopriate verses which Miss Reid had prepared and had the bride-to-be read aloud to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mumby entertained on Sunday, August 17, in honour of the birthday of Mrs. Mumby's mother, Mrs. Linn, who was 80 years of age. She is still very active. The table was decorated in pink and white with vases of gladioli, gifts of Dorothy Linn and Andy Addison of Toronto, centred with a birthday cake decorated with pink candles. Mrs Linn received many beautiful and useful gifts and a buffet luncheon was served to the following relatives:— Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Parr, Miami, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Jas Linn and Muriel, Dwight, Mr. and Mrs. A. Linn, Dorothy and Harry, Port Hope, David Linn, Andy Addison and Miss Walford, Toronto, Mr. G. Ketcheson, Havelock, Mr and Mrs. W. Spencer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bogart Linn and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Linn and family all of Campbellford, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Thain and Clara, Mr. and Mrs. S. Wallace and Edna, Mr. and Mrs. Boulter Joanston and Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wilson, all of Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Linn, Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. Will Linn, Mr. H. Naylor, Bobbie and Helen, of Marmora. Helen Naylor celebrated her eighth birthday that day with her great great aunt. Mrs. Linn accompanied her son home to Dwight, Ont., for an extended visit. Mr. and Mrs. Parr who have spent the past six weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mumby and Mrs. Linn, returned home on Monday.

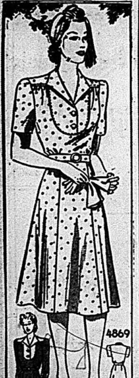
Mrs. T. H. Clemence, Fair View Farm, Bowmanville, was hostess to about sixty relatives and friends at a charming trousseau tea last Saturday for her daughter, Phyllis, formerly a teacher in Queen Alexandra School Belleville, who is being married August 30, to Mr. Bruce Ross, Leaside, formerly of Belleville. The spacious living room was beautifully decorated with varying shades of pink gladioli. Yellow and mauve gladioli formed the entrance to the dining room which was tastefully decorated in the same color sceme. Two yellow arcs with dainty mauve and yellow rosettes and a table centre of mauve sweet sultans and baby yellow 'mums made a delightful setting for the lunch. Mrs. H. G. Martyn of Stratford, aunt of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. G. A. Ferguson of Belleville, aunt of the groom-to-be, poured tea. The assistants were Mrs. Ewart Clemence, Bowmanville, Misses Mary Clemence, Marion Rickard, and Marion Lashbrook, Belleville. Miss Florence Martyn of Stratford, had charge of the gift room upstairs and Miss Margery Lashbrook, Belleville, the room where the many articles of lovely linen and personal articles were displayed.

Miss Ruby Bray of Belleville, arranged a very delightful party in honour of Miss Jean Thompson, bride-to-be, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bray, West Huntingdon, on Wednesday afternoon. Over thirty of Jean's friends assembled and Ruby Bray directed the activities of the program, which consisted of readings by Mrs. John McInroy and Mrs. Clarke of Carmel. Miss Muriel Thompson contributed a piano solo. The gifts were presented in a large basket representing the old oaken bucket and when unwrapped revealed many costly and useful kitchen articles. Mrs. William Bray, Mrs. Morley Smith and Mrs. James Bray supervised the dainty lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. White have returned home to Brampton, after having visited Mr. White's brother, Mr. Harold White and family of Belleville, and his niece, Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Jr., of Glen Miller.

Smartly Yoked Shirtwaister

Pattern 4869



By ANNE ADAMS

This is it—that trim little slim little dress you've been needing for round-about-town wear! It's Pattern 4869 and—you've guessed it—an Anne Adams style! You can tell THAT by those smart lines, original touches and the simplicity that spells easy making. The shoulder yoke unexpectedly dips into a deep U-shape that gives a slimming "break-up" effect to your width-across. The tailored collar is neatly pointed in front, and there's a front buttoning down the yoke. You'll like the way those soft bodice lines are gathered-in below the yokes and above the waist. One simple panel goes down the front skirt. And, if you like extra color, the collar and yoking may be in refreshing contrast.

Pattern 4869 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 5-8 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Price:
$3.95

THE NEW "JOAN"
TAILORED BY CAVERLY

Exclusive with WOODLEY'S in Belleville.

A FAMED CAVERLY HAT, known to all casual hat fans, smart in line, precise in tailoring; one of a large variety of Autumn beauties. Fur Felt; Autumn color. Headsizes 21½ to 23.

WOODLEY'S
272 Front Street

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

WHICH SHALL SHE MARRY?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm 21 years old and it seems to me I ought to have enough sense to know which man I love most. Somehow or other, I don't Two young men want to marry me. One is rather handsome, has money, also a bad temper, and lives on a farm. The other has another year in college, so he doesn't have much ready cash.

Both of these young men claim to be in love with me, and both have asked me to marry them, but I can't make up my mind which one to marry. And I'm equally fond of each one.

The college boy and I went 'steady' for three years; then broke up because his parents didn't like me. The farmer boy's mother and father approve very highly of me as a daughter-in-law. I simply can't choose.

If I marry the college student I shall have to wait until he graduates and has become settled in a good position. And I could be Mrs. Farmer immediately. Please help me decide which one of these men would make the best husband.

Marcia.

I think you're more "in love with love" than with either of these boys, my dear. If you were genuinely in love, you wouldn't hesitate over which young man to choose. How fortunate you are in having two of them, when some girls haven't even one boy friend! My advice is to keep on having a good time, until your heart decides for you which one you love the most.

GIRL WANTS CAREER

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm very much in love with a girl who was just graduated from high school, while I have one year more to go. She also loves me but since we are so young we can't get married. I have asked her to be engaged to me, but she's afraid her parents won't approve and, anyway, she wants a career.

We've gone together for almost all of two years, having tried to go with other boys and girls without success. We just can't see others.

Do you see any harm in becoming engaged about Christmas, or what do you suggest that we do?

Puzzled.

Why consider becoming engaged at all when you are both so young and you have still another year in high school? Your girl says she wants a career. Patience is a dreary thing to counsel when one is in the grip of the ecstasy of first love. You'll both probably look back on this affair as one of the most beautiful experiences of your life. Keep it on a high plane, and try not to think of becoming engaged or married until you are both older.

Under the auspices of St. Julien Chapter, I.O.D.E., a very successful dance was held last evening in the Hume Arena Dance Gardens. The affair was most enjoyable and was well attended. One hundred and eighteen dollars was raised to assist in the Chapter's war work. The music provided by the R.C.A.F. orchestra was exceptionally fine and received high praise from the delighted dancers. The members of the Chapter are grateful to all those who attended, the officers, management and staff of the Arena, Mr. Millard and Mr. Charles Wong for their co-operation in making the event so successful.

Dr. Douglas Bankier leaves on Friday for Baltimore, Maryland, where he has been appointed to the staff of the Johns Hopkins University, as instructor in mathematics. En route Dr. Bankier will visit Chicago where he will speak at the meeting of the American Mathematical Society.

Community Honors Popular Pride-to-be

West Huntingdon— Friends from far and near gathered in extra large numbers on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, to tender their daughter, Jean, a farewell party and to honour her on her approaching marriage. Mr. Arthur Wilson was chairman for the program which consisted of humorous readings by Mrs. Ben Clarke of Carmel. Instrumental numbers by the Misses Retta and Jean Farrell and Mr. Vincent Farrell, Miss Marguerite Elliott, Mrs. G. Welsh, Mrs. Arthur Emerson and Miss Dorothy Elliott. Miss Theda Moorcroft read an address embodying the good wishes of Jean's many friends which was signed by Georgia Pitman, Dorothy Elliott, Theda Moorcroft and Madeline McGee.

Mrs. John Wallace representing St. Andrew's congregation also read an address and Mrs. Don Haggerty on behalf of congregation presented Jean with a linen table cloth.

Both George and Jean made suitable replies and appreciated very much the kindness of their many firends. The beautiful and costly gifts showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

Home Service

Letter May Decide Fate of Your Romance or Job

Her Note Needs a Few Tips

How quickly you can kill a summer romance with a boring letter! And yet good letters are as easy to write as bad ones.

Easier! For it's hard, dull work to grind out "Dear Bill, How are you? I am writing to say—" but it's nothing to scrawl your gay, natural greeting, "Hi, Bill!"

And why waste words "writing to say"? Just SAY! At once Bill recognizes the real, the attractive you he knows. He loves your characteristic description of the old car that "wants to die but nobody'll let it," the "glorious purple sunset at Clear Lake."

It's the same in business letters. You don't hem and haw, "In reply to your letter—" You write directly: "The salary you mentioned will be satisfactory."

That positive note is important in closing, too. Not "Regretting the delay, we are—" but "We will see that such a delay does not occur again. Sincerely yours . . ."

Our 32-page booklet tells how to make your letters vivid and correct. Has samples of 24 letters—formal, friendly, business. Helps improve your grammar, suggests topics to write about.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of GOOD LETTER - WRITING MADE EASY to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

BABY'S CRY
IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

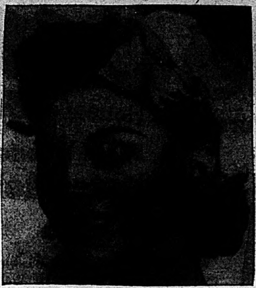
DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. When it's the "pain cry" give Baby's Own Tablets at once. Mrs. May Mundy, of Toronto, finds they work every time.

"I am the mother of nine children, three of them prize babies, and Baby's Own Tablets have been my only medicine in raising them to the healthy children they now are. As soon as my children became a little feverish I at once gave them Baby's Own Tablets and in a very short time the fever disappeared and the children were normal again."

Equally effective for diarrhoea, upset stomach, simple croup, teething troubles and other minor ailments of babies.

Easy to take as candy. Quickly effective. Safe and harmless. Contain no opiates or stupefying drugs. Each package gives an analyst's report. Get a package today. Sickness often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

Save on Luxuries; Not Dentistry



Hildegard has so vely white teeth.

By HELEN FOLLETT

OF DISCOLORED or defective teeth one is painfully conscious. Since vivacity and smiling good nature are important ingredients in the beauty formula, it is high time that every beauty quester should buckle down to fastidious care of the pretty fangs.

Neglected teeth often become infected and are a menace to the health. Undiscovered enemies in the form of bacteria may be lurking in the gums, and that is why the semi-yearly visit to the dentist is the proper procedure. It is the only way to safegaurd oneself against oral troubles.

Removing Tartar

Tartar will form despite the most vigorous brushings, can be removed only by those wicked little instruments that the dentist wields so casually and skillfully. It banks up under the gums, causes them to recede, presses against the teeth, and may produce abrasions in the enamel.

A dentist tells me that many women begrudge the money spent for tooth repair. They go shopping, get estimates on work, instead of entrusting themselves to specialists of established reputation. An inexperienced operator can make conditions worse. Better to forego the new fur coat; be sure of getting the best professional care. The science of dentistry has marched far during the last decade.

After each meal the teeth should be brushed, because chemical changes in food elements take place quickly. If you have a sweet tooth, you must be especially vigilant. When using the brush, place the ends of the bristles close to the gums, sweep downward to the ends of the teeth with a rolling motion. Brushing from side to side means that some surfaces are not cleaned and polished.

After the brushing use a mouth wash to flood away foreign particles. If the gums bleed, massage them lightly after each brushing. Dip the finger in a dentifrice, do little circles to make the blood streams rush around.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

British Medicos Find Eye Wounds Frequent Following Air Raids

The frequency of air raids in Great Britain during the winter months of 1940 brought to the attention of British doctors involved in civilian defense the extreme frequency of injuries to the eyes. They were also concerned with the methods that are to be used when an eye is damaged in an air raid.

Far too often the damage to other parts of the body may be so serious that the eye injuries seem to be of secondary importance. Nevertheless, as time goes on inflammations may occur which may bring about blindness of one eye and sometimes of both. For this reason British authorities recommend that suitable equipment and personnel be available in all special centres where defence against air raids is being established.

The chief causes of injuries to the eye are explosive incendiary bombs; the sudden compression and expansion of the air caused by the blast, and finally direct blows on the eye.

In Great Britain Dr. Dorothy R. Campbell was assigned especially to handle such injuries to the eye in an air raid center. When an incendiary bomb strikes, the eye may be damaged by particles of sand and oil which become embedded in the eyelids and the surfaces of the eye. The first step is to get the foreign material out of the eye, making certain that damage is not done to the eye in the process. The next step is to put in material that keeps the pupil dilated, and antiseptic treatment to prevent infection.

When theeye is burned, the lids and surface of the eye are swollen. In fact, the swelling may occur so suddenly and so greatly that it is impossible to remove the foreign materials for a week. These patients suffer severe pain and must be removed to a hospital in which they receive expert medical attention to relieve the pain and the swelling. There, also, it becomes possible for the experts to remove one or two of the foreign substances at the time when the eye is cleaned. The incendiary bombs also cause burns of the eyelids and face. In other severe burns there may be scarring which requires plastic surgery for rehabilitation.

When the eye is burned, the lids following explosion of a bomb, the effects of hemorrhages in, and at the back of, the eye and actual tearing of the muscles which are concerned with movement of the eye and dilation of the pupil. Everyone of these injuries is a serious matter for the future of the vision and should have prompt attention from a competent specialist in diseases of the eye.

In cases in which fragments of metal or stone have struck the eye direct blows, the damage may be so serious as to compel immediate removal. There are conditions known as sympathetic ophthalmia—an inflammation or infection of one eye reflected in the other. It is for this reason that prompt removal of a seriously damaged eye is recommended. The British authorities report that there were no instances in which iron or similar metal fragments penetrating the eye demanded the use of the electric magnet to remove the fragments.

British doctors who have participated in first aid after air raids have described the equipment that is required. One doctor recommended that each physician be instructed to provide himself with a muffler, an overcoat, an old pair of trousers and gauntlet gloves for use in getting at injured air raid victims. The first aid equipment of the doctor should contain an electric flashlight, a hypodermic outfit in alcohol, and a rubber-capped bottle filled with morphine solution for injection.

Out of 250 casualties which the doctor attended, over one-half were injuries or burns of the eye. Many of them were firemen whose eyes had been damaged by hot smoke. These eyes were relieved by washing thoroughly with a suitable solution and putting in liquid petrolatum or mineral oil as a preventive of pain and irritation. Most important preparation to be used in these cases is a solution for washing damaged eyes, slightly alkaline and anesthetic character.

SISTER WON'T MIND going back to school when she can wear a smart suit. A good-looking suit for the early teens is in woolen in a red, tan and brown plaid. The 32-inch jacket is cut on boxy lines and looks well with the all-around pleated skirt.

FINE FEATHERS make fine hats. A smart hat of black velvet has its broad brim softened with a fringed border of iridescent coq feathers.

FOR WOMEN ONLY!

If fidgety nerves, restless nights and other distress from female functional disorders keep you from enjoying life—take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—well known for over 60 years in helping weak, nervous women during "difficult" days. Made in Canada.

VIRGINIA BRUCE!

with a charm hint for YOU

A DAILY LUX TOILET SOAP BATH MAKES YOU SURE OF DAINTINESS—OF SKIN THAT'S FRAGRANT, SWEET. AND THAT'S IMPORTANT TO CHARM!
PURE! COSTLY PERFUME! MILDER!
LUX TOILET SOAP
HOLLYWOOD'S Whipped Cream Lather BEAUTY CARE
A Lever product

● This lovely star gives you a tip! Lux Toilet Soap's Whipped Cream Lather removes perspiration, dust and dirt thoroughly—leaves skin really fresh!

9 out of 10 Screen Stars use Lux Toilet Soap

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

GIFT FOR BOY FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have been going with a young man rather steady for about nine months. His birthday is in September and I would like to give him a gift, but I do not know what to get for him. I did not receive a gift from him on my birthday because I knew him only a few months at that time, but he did give me a lovely corsage for Christmas. I didn't give him a Christmas gift, but I would like to remember him on his birthday. Do you think it permissable for me to buy a gift for him? If so, have you any suggestions? I thought of a book or tie or something of that sort.

P.

Yes, it would be friendly and thoroughly proper for you to give this young man a birthday gift, but under the circumstances your gift should definitely be on the discreet side. You would show sure taste if you give him a book, time-honored for its appropriateness for just such a situation as yours. You might also, if you wish, write him a note of good wishes, or send a birthday telegram, to arrive on the important morning.

INITIALS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please tell me which of the three initials are correct to use on linens, bags and so forth, if one's name is Mary Elizabeth Leroy Haines, the "Leroy" being the maiden name?

M.

Customarily, when a girl marries she drops her middle name, and for her informal name uses her first name, her maiden name and her married surname. So Mary Elizabeth Leroy would, if she followed the general custom, drop the Elizabeth, and adopt for her informal name, Mary Leroy Haines. That is, most girls consider their middle name of less importance than their first name and maiden name.

However, this is by no means a definite rule since personal choice takes precedence over all rules. Therefore, Mary Elizabeth Leroy may, if she has a special fondness for all her names, keep them all in her informal married name, although this obviously usually makes a pretty cumbersome array.

Or Mary may have more fondness for her middle name than she has for her maiden name, and so she may keep the Elizabeth and drop the Leroy. This isn't usual and isn't very practical, since often the maiden surname serves for many purposes of identification.

Therefore, unless this Mary of ours wishes to step out of the usual custom, she uses the initials "MLH" on her linens and on her personal accessories.

IS PRESENT NECESSARY?

1. Does receiving an announcement of a child's birth mean sending a present? I am to have a baby soon, and because I live a distance away from most of my relatives and friends, I plan to send announcement cards. Some of these friends used to be co-workers of mine. I would like to have them know about the birth of my baby, but I don't want them to think that sending them an announcement means that they have to send a gift. Is there anything I can do about this?

2. If the girl is married, should the birth announcement be addressed to "Mr. and Mrs."?

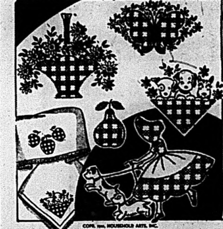
B.

1. You do not need to worry at all about the fact that these birth announcement cards may indicate to your friends that they should send gifts. Just regard them in your mind as what they are—announcement cards. They do not at all call for a present. Your friends will be happy that you took this way of telling them the happy news. Some of your relatives and close friends may send you gifts for the new baby. Many of them will undoubtedly write you of their happiness. The thing for you to do is to tell them the good news in this way, and let them use their own choice as to what they wish to do.

2. Yes, these formal birth announcements should be addressed to Mr. and Mrs., as in any other formal announcement.

Sure To Delight In Colors Bright

Household Arts by Alice Brooks



COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 7004

Easy Motifs to Beautify Many Linens

How gay your linens will look embroidered in these varied motifs! It's an applique effect that's really cross stitch with a touch of other easy stitchery. Pattern 7004 contains a transfer pattern of 30 motifs ranging from 6 1-4 x 5 to 1 1-2 x 1 3-8 inches; materials needed; illustrations of stitches.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

NO MATTER what fur is being promoted and high-lighted silver fox more than holds its own. Bright with silver is a pretty silver fox jacket made with a flaring peplum of fox paws. The cuffs are of fox paws too.

HIGH IN FRONT and deep in back is the line taken by many new turbans. Using this silhouette is a handsome hat in amethyst, ruby, sapphire and topaze velvet. The back is elaborately draped, the front is twisted to a point.

HOME FURNISHINGS Style Show

THE STORE THAT MAKES A HOUSE - - - A HOME —

HAPPINESS
Begins at Home

Trade In Your Old Furniture on New --enjoy a Modern Home

GENEROUS ALLOWANCE

Modern As Tomorrow

BEDROOM SUITES

In newest two-tone walnut reproduction of genuine veneers. Large roomy pieces. Bed, Chestorobe and choice of Vanity or Dresser. An unusual value for 89.50

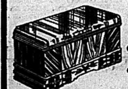
89.50 As Illustrated

USE OUR BUDGET PLAN

CEDAR CHEST

GENUINE WALNUT
TENNESSEE RED CEDAR LINED.
BEAUTIFULLY MATCHED VENEERS.
LARGE SIZE.

Reg. 34.50



26.50

PAY AS LOW AS
1.00 DOWN 1.00 WEEK

BED OUTFIT

WALNUT METAL BED
SAGLESS SPRING
Cotton Filled MATTRESS
ALL SIZES

REG. PRICE $22.95

NOW $19.95

Spring Filled Mattress

ALL SIZES
LIMITED QUANTITY

$12.95

OCCASIONAL CHAIRS

WALNUT ARMS. Upholstered back and seats. Choice of fabrics to select from.

$6.95

SOLID WALNUT VELOURS

$12.95

Grand New Suites for Your Home of Happiness!

EXTRA SPECIAL!

Walnut Dining Room Suite

Buffet, Table, 5 Small and 1 Arm Chair; in blue leather. China Cabinet may be had at extra of $20.00. 8 pieces. Reg. price $119.00. NOW $79.50

"KROEHLER"

CHESTERFIELD SUITE

A real buy! Large suite, massive walnut show wood frame, upholstered in highest grade "Krovel" Velour all over. 3 pieces. Reg. price $189.00. NOW 149.00

You Must See This Set to Appreciate Its Value

BREAKFAST SUITE

6 PIECES

BUFFET, TABLE and 4 CHAIRS. Natural trimmed Green or Red. Reg. Price $44.50. NOW

$39.50

WALNUT DINETTE SUITE

6 Pieces. Waterfall. Buffet, Extension Table with jack-knife leaf, 4 Chairs and upholstered seats. Reg. price $99.50. NOW

$79.00

Studio

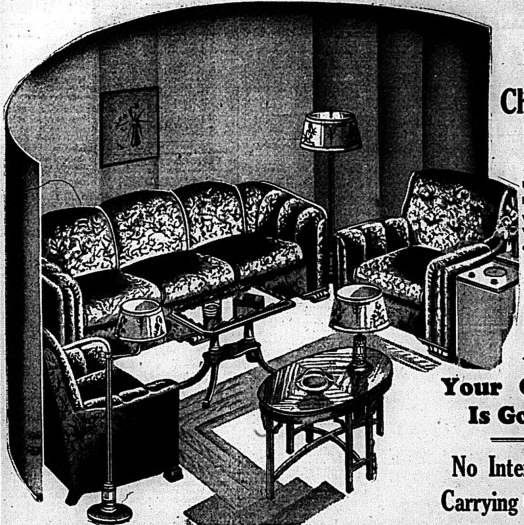
Spring filled Cushions and Mattress. Opens into double or twin beds. Reg. $37.50. NOW

$26.95

Studio Suite

3 Pieces. Walnut arms. Complete with back and wardrobe. Upholstered in heavy repp, opens into double or twin beds. Spring filled mattress and cushions. Reg. $95.00. Complete. Now ....

$69.50



3 Piece Beautiful Chesterfield SUITE

Upholstered all over in high grade velour. Show wood frame, 2 pieces in Wine and large fan back chair in green.

REG. $129.00

NOW

$98.00

Your Credit Is Good!

No Interest or Carrying Charges

FRIENDLY CREDIT IS YOURS

PERCIVAL

FRONT STREET
OPPOSITE VICTORIA AVENUE
Phone 2265

The Store that Makes a House — a Home

ZELLERS SCORE 9 TO 5 VICTORY OVER VIKINGS

Vikings Eliminated From Playdowns by Three Games to One

Playing superb ball behind the seven hit spot pitching of "Lofty" Colden the Big-Z lasses eliminactd Vikings from the girls' softball playdowns at the Armories' lawn last evening, when in what was easily the best played game of the year they scored a 9-5 triumph to win their semi-final series three games to one. Zellers will now await a winner to be declared between SWACO'S and Deacon's to tie up in the championship series.

After a rather slow start, when both teams scored unearned runs but with Vikings taking a one-run advantage, last night's game was comparable to big league play with the Big-Z girls being shut out by Rita Rabbi for five innings of the nine played, while Vikings were goose-egged by "Lofty" Colden for two-thirds of the route.

Starting the second inning until the first of the seventh Vikings did not get one runner aboard as the winners played heads up ball to retire the side in order for five frames. Zellers on the other hand continued to peck away at Rabbi's offerings and out-hit the losers by six safeties. Colden struck out five and walked an equal number, while Rabbi fanned one, but failed to issue a single free ticket to first base.

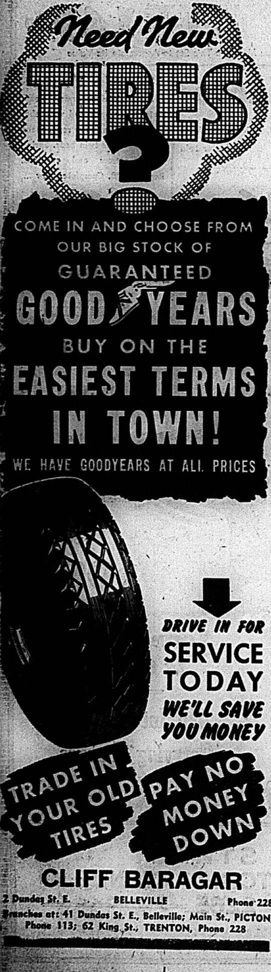
With Zellers getting one in the second to offset a lone run advantage gained by the losers in the initial frame, the teams battled at even terms until the fifth inning, when Zellers went into the lead as Gwen Bennett and Helen Garrow hit safely with both scoring on an error. The winners maintained their margin until the seventh when Norma Maker doubled to score on B. Cook's single, then M. Chambers tied the game in the next frame, when she cracked out a homer, but the Zeller war-clubs broke out in the ninth to count four runs and win the game and series.

The entire Zeller team came nobly to their pitcher's support while for Vikings, M. Tummon at first and M. Chambers at short stood out. Offensively Norma Maker led all the hitters connecting for two doubles and a single, while M. Chambers got a double and a round tripper. The winners' hitting prowess was quite evenly divided with Bennett, Stewart, Douglas, Colden and Sherry getting a pair of safeties each.

The teams: Zellers—Bennett 3b; Stewart 2b; Garrow ss; Douglas lf; Donovan c; Colden p; Sherry 1b; Hunter cf; and McClelland rf. Vikings—B. Cook, lf; S. Adams, cf; R. Rabble p; M. Chambers ss; M. Zebedee c; Maker 2b; E. Adams 3b; M. Tummon 1b, and Fletcher rf.

Zellers .... 210 020 004—9 runs
Vikings .. .... 300 000 110—5 runs

Umpires—Bawden and Colling.



COME IN AND CHOOSE FROM OUR BIG STOCK OF GUARANTEED GOODYEARS

BUY ON THE EASIEST TERMS IN TOWN!

WE HAVE GOODYEARS AT ALL PRICES

DRIVE IN FOR SERVICE TODAY WE'LL SAVE YOU MONEY

TRADE IN YOUR OLD TIRES

PAY NO MONEY DOWN

CLIFF BARAGAR

2 Dundas St. E. BELLEVILLE Phone 228

Branches at: 41 Dundas St. E., Belleville; Main St., PICTON, Phone 113; 62 King St., TRENTON, Phone 228

Cincinnati Reds Blow Chance To Get into Thick of Loop Race By Losing to Brooklyn Dodgers

Cardinals Keep Pace With Dodgers by Downing Giants 8-5

YANKEES WIN

By JUDSON BAILEY

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The desperate hopes of Cincinnati Reds for a miracle that would return them to a third straight World Series have been engulfed in the slow tide that seems to be carrying the Brooklyn Dodgers on its crest.

They had their best and perhaps last chance to break into the thick of the National League baseball pennant scramble last night and failed, as Kirby Higbe whipped Johnny Vander Meer 4-2 before 30,000 fans at Brooklyn.

It was an important triumph for the Dodgers, preserving their game and a half margin over St. Louis Cardinals, who beat New York Giants 8-5 in another night game.

But it was even more important for the Reds. The loss dropped them to 9½ behind Brooklyn and eight back of St. Louis.

Scores 18th Triumph

Higbe pitched seven-hit ball for his 18th triumph and except for a brief lapse in the eighth inning never was in trouble. Brooklyn also was held to seven hits, but was helped by a donation of eight bases on balls from Vandy.

The Cardinals had to come from behind to beat the Giants. The Redbirds made three errors in the early innings and Babe Young hit his 20th homer with one on. As the result, Ernie White lasted only five innings. Then Harry Gumbert took over and pitched four scoreless innings in relief and the powerful St. Louis artillery opened up. They tallied six runs in the three final frames tying the score with three in the seventh to end Carl Hubbell's stay, breaking the deadlock with two in the eighth and finishing with a home run by Walker Cooper in the ninth.

Pirates Wallop Phillies

In the other National League games Pittsburgh walloped the Phillies 12-2 with a 21-hit bombardment, including three doubles and two singles by Arky Vaughan, and the Chicago Cubs divided a double-header with the Boston Braves. Manny Salvo shut out the Cubs 6-0 on five hits in the opener and Charley Root pitched 8 2-3 innings in relief to win the second session 6-4 and rain the 200th victory of his 16-year-career. Root provided the winning margin for himself by hitting a single with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Yanks Add Another Game

New York Yankees added another game to their immense American League led by overwhelming St. Louis Browns 11-1 in a night game. Ernie Bonham pitched three-hit ball.

The last-place Washington Senators crushed the second-place Chicago White Sox 11-3 with an 18-hit barrage while Lefty Ken Chase pitched seven-hit ball.

Lefty Grove pulled a muscle in his side, possibly meaning his loss for the remainder of the season, and Boston Red Sox dropped a 6-3 verdict to Detroit tigers.

Jeff Heath drove in seven runs with two homers and a triple as the Cleveland Indians whipped the Athletics 11-4.

Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	91	50	.646
Montreal	84	56	.592
Buffalo	81	61	.570
Rochester	76	65	.539
Jersey City	67	69	.492
Syracuse	64	76	.457
Baltimore	52	84	.382
Toronto	45	97	.317

Wednesday Results

Jersey City 1-6; Baltimore 9-0.
Buffalo 4; Montreal 1.
Syracuse 9; Newark 7.
Only games scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	85	44	.659
Chicago	67	60	.528
Boston	66	61	.520
Cleveland	64	60	.516
Detroit	59	68	.465
Philadelphia	55	70	.440
St. Louis	54	70	.435
Washington	53	70	.431

Wednesday Results

Cleveland 11; Philadelphia 4
Washington 11; Chicago 3.
Detroit 6; Boston 3.
New York 11; St. Louis 3.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	80	44	.645
St. Louis	78	45	.634
Cincinnati	69	52	.570
Pittsburgh	66	56	.541
New York	58	63	.479
Chicago	55	71	.437
Boston	50	73	.407
Philadelphia	35	87	.287

Wednesday Results

Boston 6-4; Chicago 0-6.
Pittsburgh 12; Philadelphia 2.
Brooklyn 4; Cincinnati 2.
St. Louis 8; New York 5.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Milwaukee 6; Minneapolis 4 (10 innings).
Columbus 4; Louisville 5.
Toledo 3; Indianapolis 5.
Kansas City 0; St. Paul 3.

CANAM.

Oneonta 8; Gloversville 0.
Pittsfield 9; Utica 2.
Rome 1; Three Rivers 11.
Amsterdam 1; Quebec 3.

STAN LEONARD, VANCOUVER PRO., WINS GOLF TITLE

Repeats in Canadian Professional Golfers Tourney With Mark of 286

STAN HORNE SECOND

Ste. Dorothee, Que., Aug. 28—(CP)—The advantages of all-year play for a Canadian golfer find emphasis in the powerful drives and lofty approaches of Stan Leonard.

The Vancouver-bred pro, who has spent the last two summers in Calgary but keeps his eye on the ball through the winter on the Pacific Coast, yesterday won the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship for the second year in a row with a two-under-par 72-hole total of 286.

Leonard is not the only ranking golfer that play has produced in Canada's only Evergreen province. Among others, there are Freddie Wood of Vancouver, who placed fourth in the C.P.G.A. tournament with 292, and Ken Black, a Vancouver amateur who nosed out Leonard by one stroke to win the Western Canadian open which concluded last week. Black was the Canadian amateur champion last year.

Stan Horne Second

In winning the C.P.G.A. title over the difficult Islesmere Golf and Country Club course here yesterday, Leonard added a two-under-par 70 and 74 to the 142 he marked up in Tuesday's 36 holes to end up three strokes ahead of Stan Horne, a three-time winner of the event who was playing his home course. Horne led the field after the opening day's play with an even 140, two better than Leonard at that time.

Strung out behind Horne as the two-day tournament concluded were Bob Burns of Toronto, the Ontario open champion, who had 290, Fred Wood, Jules Huot of Quebec with 293, Bobby Gray of Toronto, runner-up to Sam Snead in the recent Canadian open, and Gordie Brydson also of Toronto, who each had 294.

That group, along with Bob Lamb of Toronto, who had 298 and William Kerr of Toronto, with 299, were the only players of the two-score entrants to break the 300-mark. A treacherous cross-wind sent most of the scores soaring yesterday.

Leonard got the edge on Horne in the first round of the final day's play. His 70 put him three strokes ahead of the Islesmere pro who needed a three-over-par 75 on the round. Each of them had 74's on the final 18.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Manuel Salvo, Braves, and Chas. Root, Cubs—Former pitched five-hit shutout in first game and latter answered relief call in first inning of nightcap to acquire 200th victory of his career.

Arky Vaughan, Pirates—Made five hits, including three consecutive doubles, in leading 21-hit attack on Phillies.

Jeff Heath, Indians—Knocked in seven runs with two homers and triple to beat Athletics.

Johnny Gorsica, Tigers—Pitched seven-hit ball to beat Red Sox after relieving in first inning.

Ken Chase, Senators—Whipped White Sox with seven-hit hurling.

Kirby Higbe, Dodgers—Held Reds to seven hits to achieve 18th victory of season.

Ernie Bonham, Yankees—Stopped Browns on three hits.

Harry Gumbert, Cardinals—Pitched four scoreless relief innings and made two timely singles himself to conquer Giants.

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By The Associated Press)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting—Hopp, St. Louis, .332.
Runs—Hack, Chicago, 93.
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 93.
Hits—Litwhiler, Philadelphia, 156.
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 36.
Triples—Fletcher, Pittsburgh, 10.
Home runs—Camilli, Brooklyn, 27.
Stolen bases—Frey, Cincinnati, 15.
Pitching—Riddle, Cincinnati, 15-2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting—Williams, Boston, .405.
Runs—Dimaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in—Dimaggio, New York, 112.
Hits—Travis, Washington, 179.
Doubles—Dimaggio, New York, and Judnich, St. Louis, 35.
Triples—Travis, Washington, 16.
Home Runs—Keller, New York, 32.
Stolen bases—Case, Washington, 21.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 12-4.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

EATON MADE-TO-MEASURE CLOTHES
ONE-TROUSER SUIT

$27.50

TWO-TROUSER SUITS $33.50.

Other 3-Piece Suits at $35.00 and $40.00

MILITARY UNIFORMS cut by hand

T. EATON Co

BUFFALO BISONS STILL IN FIGHT FOR SECOND SPOT

Defeat Montreal Royals With Their Ace, Freddie Hutchinson, on the Mound

NEWARK DEFEATED

(By the Associated Press)

The Montreal-Buffalo battle for second place, the only worthwhile struggle left in the fading International League baseball season, promises to be one of those down to the wire affairs.

Montreal occupies the runner-up spot today, but the 3 1-2 game margin over the Bisons is far from comfortable, despite the fact each club has 12 games left to play. Four of those tilts will be played against each other from Sept. 3rd to the 6th, and each club meets the same opposition, fourth-place Rochester and last place Toronto in between. The season ends Sept. 7.

Buffalo kept within striking distance last night by taking the rubber game of a three-game series 4-1 from the Royals, behind the brilliant hurling of the Bison ace, Freddy Hutchinson. The young righthander doled out five hits in registering his 24th conquest of the year and struck out 13. The run scored against him came on a homer by Don Ross. Ned Harris and Eric McNair paced the Bisons' nine-hit assault on three Royal pitchers, the former clouting four successive hits, including a homer and double, and the latter three singles.

Bears Drop Decision

Newark's league - leading Bears dropped a 9-7 decision to Syracuse Chiefs, but continued 7 1-2 games out in front. Gene Lambert was the hero for Syracuse, relieving Nate Andrews in the first inning and holding the Bears to two blows until the ninth, when two more hits produced the only earned run off him. He also drove home two tallies with a single.

Jersey City and Baltimore divided a doubleheader, the Little Giants taking the seven inning opener 1-0, and the Orioles coming back to win the nightcap 9-6.

Jim Lynn stopped Baltimore with four hits in the twilight contest to win, although Don Kerr and Bill Sickles combined to limit the J's to three safe blows. A walk to Red Davis, Herschel Martin's infield out and M. Witek's single provided Jersey City with the winning run. The Orioles fell on Starter Hugh East for eight runs in the first inning of the nightcap, making Russ Niller's job comparatively easy. The 19-year-old rookie righthander had a three-hitter going into the ninth, but weakened under a five-run Jersey rally.

Freemen of Siam—

Thailand's name, changed from Siam in 1939, means "land of free people."

TRAPSHOOT CHAMP

Walter Tulburt, Detroit, Mich., grins happily after winning the Grand American Handicap and its first prize of $1,000 at Vandalia, Ohio. He has been a trapshooter only one month.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER

New York, Aug. 28 — (AP) — Scoopie - whoopie: If George Abrams looks good against N.B.A. middleweight champ Tony Zale Sept. 12 in Madison Square Garden, they'll tangle for Tony's title later in Chicago. . . . The winner to meet the guy who finishes on top in the Billy Soose-Ken Overlin fuss, thereby settling all the middleweight mess. . . . No matter what they tell you. Whirlaway's next start will be in the Lawrence Realization at Belmont this fall.

Hit-and-run:

Eddie Joost has other National Leaguers in stitches these days wearing sun glasses to play the infield. . . . Submarines at the new London (Conn.) base may torpedo the Yale-Harvard regatta right out of the Thames next year. . . . Oddity: Four gray hosses won in one day at Agua Caliente recently. . . . Which is like saying Lefty Gomez hit three homers in one game.

Headline: Charley Root Wins 200th Big League Pitching Victory.

Old Charley Root's passing cigars
Because he's very happy.
All the kids pat his arm and brag:
"He's our very own Gran'pappy."

Today's guest star:

Jerry Mitchell, New York Post: Asked why they have more trouble than American League umpires, a National League umpire said: "In the American League you only have one Jimmy Dykes; in the National you have six or seven."

Bashed beak bits:

Bantamweight champ Lou Salica is promising all the boys he'll bring 'em back a hula skirt (unfilled) from his overweight fight in Honolulu with Rush Dalmar Oct. 9. . . . And on Sept. 8, Sammy Angott, who's been a pro six years, makes his first start in Washington, Pa, where he was born and raised. . . . Reason Henry Armstrong's thinking about a comeback is that $50,000 annuity doesn't start paying for nine more years.

THE 'OLD GUARD' OF AMATEUR GOLF ON SIDELINES

Ex-Champions of Event Go Out in First and Second Rounds of Match Play

BUD WARD FAVORED

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 28 (AP)—The "old guard" of amateur golf—its ranks thinned by the charge of an amazing longshot legion—dug in for a last ditch fight in the National Amateur Championship today.

As the 45th classic swung into third round and quarter-final engagements, gone from the field club's divot-scarred battleground were such greats as Dick Chapman, Johnny Goodman and Johnny Fischer, ex-champions all, and genial Charley Yates who took the last British amateur title.

Valiantly carrying on for the favorites' cause against mounting odds were such standouts as former titleholders and current favorite Marvin (Bud) Ward, Harry Todd, Pat Abbott and Ray Billows. But lined up against them was a youthful brigade of brash and comparatively little known challengers — Bob Reigel, Neil White, Skee Riegel and Lou Jennings, to mention only a few—whose daring play has made this scrap, in many respects, the liveliest in the United States Golf Association's 45-year history.

Scores Two Triumphs

Ward, stout-hearted Spokane star who won this championship in 1939, blazed his way to two triumphs yesterday to become the only ex-titleholder still in the running. With a performance bulkwarking his position as favorite, Ward downed Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill., 7 and 6, then whipped Otto Greiner of Baltimore, 2 and 1.

Billows, twice a finalist in this event in the past four years defeated Art Atkinson of New York, 5 and 3. Then the Poughkeepsie star won 4 and 3, from Lloyd Ramsey of Lexington, Ky.

Todd, the Texan who finished second to Ward in last month's western amateur, took a 4 and 3 win over Jim Lewis of Toledo then won eight of 10 holes to trim Matt Zadalis of Ralston, Neb., 9 and 8. His opponent this morning was Abbott, one-time movie extra from Los Angeles and 1938 finalist against Willie Turnesa. Abbott had to travel the full 18 holes to oust Johnny Vavra, Cedar Rapids, Ia., then defeated Wilford Wehrle of Chicago, semi-finalist last year, 3 and 2.

Shaving's just a picnic now,
For Blue Gillettes are slick—and how!
These blades lick wiry whiskers fast—
You get clean, easy shaves that last!

Gillette
5 for 25¢
Ask your dealer for—
You always get easier shaves with Blue Gillette Blades, because they have the sharpest edges ever put on steel.

Diamonds—the world's hardest substance—are used to test the temper of Gillette steel.

FINEST RAZOR BLADES YOU EVER USED! . . OR YOUR MONEY BACK

NETHERLANDS LINER SUNK

Batavia, N.E.I., Aug. 28—(CP)—The 11,636-ton Netherlands liner Slamat has been sunk by dive bombers in the Mediterranean while on war duty, it was announced here today.

The passenger vessel, a veteran in the service between Rotterdam and the East Indies, was put into use as a troopship soon after the German invasion of Holland. It was not disclosed whether any lives were lost.

Sport of the Ages—

Falconry is said to be the oldest sport in the world.

ADVISES THEM TO WORK ON STALIN

Washington, Aug. 28 — (AP) — Navy Secretary Frank Knox said today he wished the Russian Government would permit United States observers to go up to the Russo-German front lines and observe the fighting.

"So far this has been a very private war," he told reporters at a Press conference. "I wish you fellows would try to work on Joe Stalin to get some observers up to the front."

"MAKE MY 'V' CHEST OVERFLOW!" says Elsie THE BORDEN COW

Thousands of C.N.E. Visitors have already boosted The Toronto Evening Telegram British War Victims' Fund!

HONESTLY, FOLKS, I'm absolutely thrilled at how generously everyone has responded to my appeal on behalf of the Toronto Evening Telegram British War Victims' Fund! Up at the "Ex" a regular Niagara has been pouring into my "V" Chest! Every penny goes directly to the Lord Mayor's National Air Raid Distress Fund, bringing swift practical aid in the form of food, clothing and medical attention to the stout-hearted defenders of the British Isles.—So come and see me in my "barn-boudoir" in the Food Products Building. Make whatever contribution you can to help overflow my "V" Chest, and get a personal moo-mento of your visit!

v v v

LINE UP ON THE RIGHT, FOLKS!—There's always a crowd on hand when Borden's offer splendid premiums like these! You can get these and a hundred others just as fine—scores of handsome FREE GIFTS for the whole family if you save the wrappers from Borden's Evaporated Milk, Silver Cow Brand. Borden's is grand in soups, sauces, salad dressings—and it makes a good cup of coffee taste better!

FAST-FROZEN

PICK O' THE MONTH! . . . It's the peach crop, of course—and that's exactly why Borden's special "Brick of the Month" is the glorious Peach Melba. I just get all worked up and start licking my lips when I think of the Peach Melba Brick! M-m-m! Just imagine a smooth golden brick of luscious, mouth-watering, taste-tempting, solid peach ice cream, rich with sun-mellowed peach juice—and it has a delicious centre of deep red raspberry sherbet! It's really a masterpiece, ladies! Ask your dealer for Borden's Peach Melba Brick to-morrow.

Fill my "V" Chest for Victory!

Elsie

ELSIE THE COW

IF IT'S Borden's IT'S GOT TO BE GOOD!

Copyright, 1941 The Borden Company Ltd.

Letters From the Troops

Mrs. R. Robinson, 99 Pinnacle Street has received the following letter from her husband, Gunner J. R. Robinson, with the Canadian Army overseas telling of his trip crossing the Atlantic:

Dear Doris:

Hello, honey, how are you? I'm fine and enjoying a very delightful trip. As you notice I am writing this letter "somewhere on the Atlantic." Sometime when we have the time and, of course, the necessary cash, we will take in one of these ocean cruises. They are really swell and you would enjoy one.

I won't be able to mail this letter until we land so will tell all about the days' happenings until we land. After doing a lot of standing and waiting and getting our berthing cards and meal cards we all walked up the gangplank and boarded the ship by noon. We took all our equipment down to our sleeping quarters, then went to dinner. After dinner we were allowed to prowl around at our own leisure and look over the ship.

She is still a nice ship but in peace time I imagine she was a great deal nicer. Well, to put it briefly, it is just like a floating hotel. What used to be the dance hall is now the mess hall for the troops. The first class lounging room, is now used by the officers. With its easy chairs and things made for comfort it is a smart joint. There is an art gallery on the ship but it is void of any pictures now. There is also a swimming pool.

There are a lot of sailors on board who lost their ships at the Battle of Crete. They tell some good yarns and are interesting to listen to. The meals on the ship are pretty good but kind of small. We only get a small portion of butter twice a day, tea twice and nearly everything is unsweetened. There are about one hundred of us sleeping in one place below decks. When the boys get their hammocks slung there isn't much room to move about. The hammocks are quite a comfortable rig to sleep in. Cigarettes are cheap on board but they aren't very good. They are South African. The beer is, too.

As I said before we boarded ship Friday noon. Monday at noon when the ship was loaded three tugs hooked out and pulled us out into the harbor. Our ship which was the flagship of the convoy pulled out to sea first and the rest followed. When we got out a way we picked up destroyers to escort the convoy across.

The ocean has been calm so far and the weather has been nice. Not many of the fellows have been seasick yet. I felt kind of funny for the first couple of hours but I got all right soon and now I hardly notice the ship roll at all. We all got issued with life belts Monday afternoon and we have to lug them with us wherever we go. Tuesday morning we were all given five dollars and as you walk around the ship in every corner there would be either a card game or a crap game going on. We saw a sailor buried at sea this morning from the . . . Well, I think I will quit writing for tonight and go to the canteen and get myself a drink of beer.

Well, this is Wednesday and everything is still running smooth. But the day was very eventful and one to be remembered. We had chicken for dinner. Thursday when we got up there was a dense fog over the seas and we couldn't see the other ships until later in the day when the fog lifted. In the afternoon quite a wind came up and the sea got somewhat rougher and the ship did quite a lot of rocking and swaying. Quite a few of the boys made a hurry up call to the ship's rail and fed the fishes. Friday, the sea is still rough. It is quite cold. We went to the picture show this afternoon and saw "The Perfect Specimen." It was a good picture. Saturday we are still going strong. The weather is quite squally, raining and blowing. Sunday there has been no change in the weather. Had an air raid alarm but fortunately the planes were British.

Monday morning, the weather is still squally and foggy. Sighted land the first time since we left port. It won't be long now. The weather cleared up this afternoon and it is nice again. Well, at last we have sighted the bonny banks of Scotland and are sailing along quite close to the shore. Boy, it sure is a pretty country. The shoreline is all high rolling green hills. Every once in a while we pass a town. The towns are all at the bottom of the slopes at the water's edge. Everything seems to be so quiet and peaceful it is hard to realize there is a war going on.

We anchored overnight in some harbor. We expect to move again today sometime. Well, we all disembarked at some port in Britain. I supopse maybe you will have heard about it over the radio before you get this letter. Gee whizz the trains are funny little things over here. Some of the freight cars are so small they won't hold as much as a motor truck. But talk about go! They will go to beat h . . . We boarded the train at nine o'clock, passing a few places that had been bombed, mostly homes. When you go by the people don't exactly wave at you; they either stick up their thumbs or put their two fingers in the shape of a "V".

The country is really pretty and very picturesque. The people's homes are very nice. I never noticed a dilapidated home on the whole trip. Most of the people in the towns usually live in large tenement houses. It is really nice to see them, just to see how nice and straight the rows of houses are, and how neat and tidy the whole town is kept. Outside nearly every tenement there is a large air raid shelter and I guess every house has an air raid shelter and garden. There are even gardens along the railway right of way. In one place I saw onions growing atop an air raid shelter. The gardens are kept real nice and neat and look very pretty with the flowers growing around the borders.

You know the pictures you have seen of those pretty little cottages with roses growing around them. Well, you see them in reality over here.

Well, honey, I think I will close for this time. With all love and kisses,

"Pop."

C51049 J. R. Robinson, Gnr.
R.C.A.,
Canadian Army Overseas.

3rd Sidney

3rd Sidney — Aikens' Woman's Association held their August meeting at the Dining Hall on the church grounds on Thursday last. The ladies met at ten o'clock for the purpose of quilting two Red Cross quilts. Pot luck dinner was served at the noon hour. Mrs. Perry Hamilton the President, was in charge of the afternoon meeting.

A pleasant afternoon was spent at the Hogle School on Friday afternoon when the former teacher, Miss Clara Wilson, called the pupils to the school for a treat of ice-cream and cake and to bid them farewell as she has been accepted as a teacher on the staff of the Belleville Public Schools. Miss Wilson, who has been very popular with pupils and parents, has many loyal friends in the neighbrohood, who wish her success in her new position.

Miss Clara Wilson of Bayside spent the tea hour on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Bailey.

Mrs. Wm. Jeffrey of White's Church, Mrs. Elwin Hartt, Centenary, Mrs. Fred Westover and Mrs. Stanley Spafford from Aikens left on Monday for Whitby to attend the School for Leaders held under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hay, Mrs. Hay, Sr., Mrs. Emily Tyler, Mr. David Hubble, Mr. Archie Hay of Prince Edward, and Mr. and Mrs. Selburn Westover, Mrs. Harley Hubble and Mr. Wm. Bowers were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Hubble.

Mrs. B. Palmer who has spent the last two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Saylor, returned to her home in Napanee on Tuesday.

Miss Julia Jeffrey of Belleville is spending her holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hubbs, The Gore, and Mr. Smith Brown, Carrying Place, Mr. and Mrs. Percy White, Muriel and Mack of Avondale were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bush.

The Misses Bernice and Beulah Wellman, 2nd of Thurlow, spent a few days last week with their sister, Miss Betty Wellman.

Miss Estelle Wellman of Lennoxville, Que., is holidaying at the home of her father, Mr. Jas. F. Wellman, and sister, Mrs. Edgar Ray.

Master Harley Hubble has returned home after spending several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ritz, 4th of Thurlow.

Master Ray Scott has been visiting relatives in Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Westover were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Westover, 2nd line.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dyck of Belleville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard May.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bush and daughter, Shirley, visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Green of Rawdon, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Judd of Chicago and the latter's sister were dinner guests on Wednesday at the home of Mr. Judd's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Bailey, 2nd. line.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown and baby, Freda, and Miss Eva Brown of Carrying Place, Mr. Malcolm Hubble of The Gore, and Mr. Don White of Avondale, visited Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bush on Sunday.

Mrs. Kenneth Bush spent a day last week with her mother, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, 2nd of Thurlow, and attended the W.A.

Mr. Arthur Ellis of Bethesda, Prince Edward County, visited on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wheeler.

Miss Clara Adams motored to Toronto on Friday, returning on Tuesday. She was accompanied by Miss Estelle Wellman who spent the week-end with Miss Edna Barker and Messrs. Donald and Burton Hubble who visited their grandfather, Mr. T. A. Hinchliffe, and attended the Canadian National Exhibition.

My dear, have you heard! Quaker Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are "SHOT-FROM-GUNS"

Continuous Fireworks—

Lightning flickers in the sky almost every night in some sections of the Dutch East Indies.

Ancient P.O.—

The first post office in what is now Canada was established at Halifax in 1775.

VISIT LOBLAWS TEA & COFFEE BOOTH IN THE FOOD PRODUCTS BLDG CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION

COFFEE TEA
SERVING
PRIDE of ARABIA COFFEE
LOBLAWS RED LABEL TEA

LOBLAW'S Rich, Fragrant, Mellow Pride of Arabia COFFEE - - - and - - - LOBLAW'S REFRESHING ORANGE PEKOE Red Label TEA . . . together with a generous portion of LOBLAW'S Master-Baked CHERRY CAKE

Prices Effective Until Saturday Night, Aug. 30th. We reserve the right to limit quantities of all merchandise to family weekly requirements.

ROSE Brand Sweet Orange Marmalade 32-oz. Jar 31¢

PURITY FLOUR 7-lb. Bag 26¢

Special— McCORMICK'S DATE COOKIES A delicious home-made type of cookie made up of an oatmeal biscuit with a delightful date filling. A decidedly economical purchase. Average 21 Biscuits to the pound .... Per Pound 19c

NEW STORE HOURS!
STORES now OPEN at 8.30 A.M.
Instead of 8 a.m. as formerly
LABOUR DAY, Mon., Sept. 1st, CLOSED ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 3RD, OPEN UNTIL 6 P.M.

"Be Wise Drink Fry's" FRY'S COCOA	½-lb. Tin	19¢
Allen's Pure Unsweetened APPLE JUICE	2 20 Fl. oz. Tins	15¢
Nabisco Shredded Wheat	2 Pkgs.	23¢
Glenwood Pure VANILLA EXTRACT	¾ Fl. oz. Bottle	10¢

TENDER-EATING MEATS

Special—Meaty BLADE Roast Prime Beef	lb.	21¢
Special—Thick SHORT RIB Roast	Prime Beef lb.	22¢
Special—Lean Prime Beef BONELESS BRISKET	lb.	18¢
Special—Lean Prime Beef BONELESS POT Roast	lb.	19¢
Special—Lean Tender Prime Beef Prime RIB Roast	lb.	26¢

GENUINE FRESH SPRING LAMB

Special—Meaty LAMB LEGS	lb.	32¢
Special—Lean LAMB LOINS	Flank On lb. 28¢	Flank Off lb. 33¢
Special—Thick LAMB FRONTS	lb.	21¢

FOR PIES
FOR DESSERT
FOR PRESERVES FOR SALADS

ONTARIO PEACHES

During this week, peaches are in "FULL BLOOM" and in plentiful supply for EATING, SHORTCAKE, PIES and PRESERVING. Enjoy this famous Ontario Fruit rich in vitamins A, B, C, Phosphorous, Calcium, Iron, etc., while prices are reasonable.

SPECIAL — SELECTED GOLDEN RIPE Bananas (Scientifically Ripened in our Ripening Rooms)	Per Pound	8c
CALIFORNIA — FRESH ARRIVAL SEEDLESS Grapes	2 lbs.	19c
SELECTED ONTARIO WHITE CELERY STALKS	large size each	5c
ONTARIO NO. 1 LARGE COOKING ONIONS	3 lbs.	10c
SELECTED ONTARIO WASHED CARROTS	3 lbs.	13c
COTTAGE BRAND BREAD (White, Whole Wheat, Cracked Wheat)	2 24-oz. Loaves	15c

EAGLE Brand CONDENSED MILK	15-oz. Tin	18¢
QUAKER CORN FLAKES	2 8-oz. Pkgs.	15¢
FRENCH'S PREPARED MUSTARD	6-oz. Jar	8¢

The 3-Flavoured Dog Food RED HEART DOG FOOD Feed in Rotation
Diet "A" Beef
Diet "B" Fish
Diet "C" Cheese
3 16-oz. Tins 29¢

Beehive Brand (2-lb. tin) CORN SYRUP		23c
Johnson's Paste (½-lb. tin) FLOOR WAX		34c
DAVIS GELATINE	2-oz. Pkg.	17¢
LAING'S C.C. SAUCE	8-oz. Bottle	18¢
Bovril Cubes	10 Cube Pkg.	23¢

SerVe by ConserVing

NOW is the time to PRESERVE the Pick of the Crops . . . of Ontario Grown Fruits and Vegetables. At LOBLAW'S you'll find a complete assortment of PRESERVING and PICKLING SUPPLIES.

SEALERS	Small Size Dozen 89¢	Med. Size Doz. $1.05
IMPERIAL PAROWAX	1-lb. Pkg.	12¢
For More and Better Jams and Jellies CERTO	8-oz. Bottle	25¢
RED or WHITE RUBBER JAR RINGS	Doz.	5¢
MALT, CIDER, WHITE HEINZ VINEGAR	16½-oz. Bottle 2 for	25¢
GROUND CATSUP SPICE	2-oz. Pkg.	9¢
PARA SANI WAXED PAPER	24 Sheet Roll	10¢

English Pure Raspberry or Strawberry JAM 12-oz. Carton 16¢

RED RIVER CEREAL 18-oz. Pkg. 13¢

RINSO For Whiter Washes	Large Pkg.	23¢
LIFEBUOY SOAP	2 Cakes	11¢
SUPER SUDS	Concentrated Reg. Size Pkg.	20¢
PALMOLIVE SOAP	2 Reg. Size Cakes	11¢

OXYDOL	Small Package	9c
CAMAY TOILET SOAP	2 Cakes	11c
IVORY SOAP	6-oz. Bar	6c

HARRY HORNE'S FOODS!

NU-JELL Jelly Powders	2 Pkgs.	15¢
DOUBLE CREAM Custard Powders	2 Pkgs.	19¢
5-MINUTE TAPIOCA	2 Pkgs.	21¢
DESSERT POWDERS JELL-A-MILK	2 4-oz. Pkgs.	15¢

Alpine Club GINGER ALE

SPECIAL! SPARKLING and REFRESHING Alpine Club BEVERAGES LARGE SIZE, 30-oz. Bottles
GINGER ALE, LIME RICKEY 2 for 21¢
DOUBLE SODA - - - 2 for 19¢
Plus the Usual 5¢ deposit on each Bottle.

LOBLAW GROCETERIAS CO. LIMITED

Your breakfast ought to make you say:

BOY, DO I GO FOR THIS FLAVOUR!

...for then you'll know it really is Kellogg's Corn Flakes!

Yes! The exclusive, mellow Kellogg's flavour tells you right away that you're eating the cereal an overwhelming majority of Canadian families vote their favourite : : : the cereal that taste experts chose in blindfold tests!

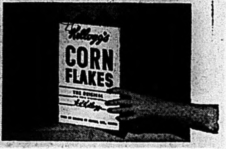
And don't forget! That gorgeous, mouth-watering flavour gives you the kind of appetite which helps digestion. Make sure you have Kellogg's Corn Flakes for tomorrow's breakfast. Order two or three packages right away! Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Kellogg's carry family vote!

Through three succeeding years more than 5000 women have been asked, "What is your family's favourite cereal?" And each year Kellogg's Corn Flakes won by an enormous majority. Then last year, the investigators said, "Which brand of corn flakes do you think tastes best?" Four out of five said "Kellogg's"!

Your family too will enjoy Kellogg's. And a serving for all of them costs only a few pennies. In two convenient sizes for the home: Or if you eat out, ask for the triple-wrapped individual package.

SERVE BY SAVING!
BUY WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES!



TWO MACHINES COLLIDE IN AIR

Pilots of Both Planes Killed When Machines Crash Near Brantford

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 28—(CP)—Two members of the Royal Canadian Air Force were killed when the Harvard bombing planes they were piloting collided in the air as they came in to land at No. 5 Service Training School.

Identification of the two pilots killed was not released pending notification of the next-of-kin.

The wings of one of the planes crumpled at the impact and both crashed within a few feet of each other on the farm of John Mordue, four miles southwest of Brantford.

RETURNS TO TORONTO

Ottawa, Aug. 27 (CP)—H. G. Colebrook, Director of the Robert Simpson Company, who was loaned by his firm to act as liaison officer between the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Munitions Department is returning to Toronto and his firm, the Air Ministry said today.

Bonarlaw

Bonarlaw, Ont., Aug. 28—The annual Barlow family reunion was held on Friday Aug. 22nd, the birthday of John Barlow of Havelock. About seventy persons gathered at the summer cottage of Jesse Barlow on the shore of Crowe Lake and spent a most enjoyable time boating, swimming, fishing, etc.

A collection taken for the British War Victims Fund amounted to $6.50.

The Rawdon Branch of the Red Cross shipped to headquarters Toronto last week a large number of articles. The following cash has been handed in since last report, Ward 2, Mrs. McKeown, $100.00 donations; Ward 3, Mrs. Bailey, donations and teas $56.30; Ward 4, Mrs. L. Tanner, $75.00 which includes a $35.00 donation from the Minto ball team; Ward 6 Mrs. G. S. Eastwood $13.80 pot luck dinner and includes $5.00 donation from Springbrook W.I. Two wards to hear from.

Mr. and Mrs Carl Caldwell of Wyandotte, Mich., and Mrs. Disinger of Chicago, Ill., are visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Caldwell's for a few days this week.

Misses Helen and Ruth Eastwood visited Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Baker at Crowe Lake for a few days last week.

Miss Marjorie McCoy returned from a four weeks' visit in Toronto on Tuesday of this week.

On Wednesday of last week Messrs. Jas. Fitzpatrick and W. J. Barlow again had wonderful success on their fishing trip bringing home a dozen beauties (bass).

EXPERIENCING NORMAL YEAR

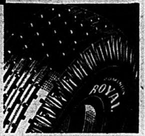
Toronto, Aug. 27—(CP)—Ontario is experiencing a normal year in poliomyelitis, Hon. H. J. Kirby, Minister of Health, said today in discussing the situation in view of the outbreak in Manitoba. There have been 37 cases up to today, comparing favorably with figures of other years.

N.B.'s Many Rivers—

Because of its many rivers New Brunswick has been called the "best watered country in the world."

TOP PRICES FOR YOUR OLD TIRES

Trade In Unsafe Tires on NEW DOMINION ROYALS

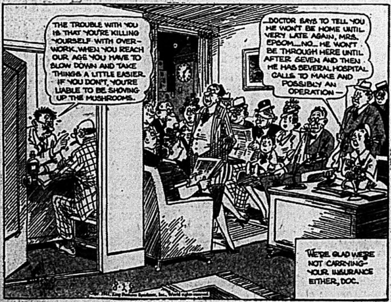


● Play safe. You can't afford the risk of smooth-worn tires, particularly when our high trade-in allowances make it so cheap to own super-safe, high-mileage DOMINION ROYALS. Come in today and let us quote you top prices on your old tires.

PROVINCIAL TIRE CO.

2 DUNDAS ST. E. PHONE 686

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



THE TROUBLE WITH YOU IS THAT YOU'RE KILLING YOURSELF WITH OVER-WORK. WHEN YOU REACH OUR AGE YOU HAVE TO SLOW DOWN AND TAKE THINGS A LITTLE EASIER. IF YOU DON'T, YOU'RE LIABLE TO BE SHOVING UP THE MUSHROOMS.
...DOCTOR SAYS TO TELL YOU HE WON'T BE HOME UNTIL VERY LATE AGAIN, MRS. EPSOM...NO...HE WON'T BE THROUGH HERE UNTIL AFTER SEVEN AND THEN HE HAS SEVERAL HOSPITAL CALLS TO MAKE AND POSSIBLY AN OPERATION—
WE'RE GLAD WE'RE NOT CARRYING YOUR INSURANCE EITHER, DOC.
8-28

Mountain View

Mountain View—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christie returned home on Saturday after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walsh of Napanee. Miss Madeline Walsh returned with them for a week's holidays.

Mrs. Cooper, wife of Capt. Cooper of the Veterans Guard of Canada, 3B Company, Farnham, Que., called on Mrs. George Neal on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ben Anderson, Mrs. John Black and Miss Lillian Sprague attended Past Matrons' Club at the home of Mrs. Clifford Peck, Albury, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Alfred Poste and Yvonne spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Val Squire of Burrs.

Mrs. Ben Anderson and Miss Lillian Anderson were Wednesday afternoon callers of Mrs. Campbell and baby near Wellington.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanna entertained Eleanor, Pauline, Nellie and Roger Sprague also Yvonne Poste to supper.

Quite a number from this neighborhood attended the Kiwanis Karnival in Belleville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hanna also Mr. and Mrs. Tracey were Friday evening callers at the home of Mr. J. G. Sprague.

Mr. and Mrs. Passmore of Toronto spent Friday evening with Mrs. George Neal.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walsh of Napanee also Miss Eileen Minaker were dinner guests on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christie.

Miss Doris Minaker of Belleville spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Bernice Minaker.

Mrs. Asa Foster of Bethel was a Sunday evening caller with Miss Elizabeth Jordon.

Mrs. Richard Carveth and Mrs. Ted Sturgeon of Guelph spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and family.

Miss Hazel Minaker accompanied friends to Whitby on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rikley and family of Wallbridge were supper guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. Everett Minaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sprague and family were Sunday evening callers with Mrs. James Way and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Weir of Bowermans.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sprague and family were Sunday callers with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wallbridge of Massassaga.

Madoc

Madoc—Miss Phyllis Stockloser of Toronto spent the week-end at her home in Madoc.

Miss Betty Ferguson of Perth spent Sunday at her home in Madoc.

William Hawthorne of Ottawa is spending a few days with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tayler, Mrs. B. Tanner and Miss Aileen Tanner spent Friday at Canoe Lake, Algonquin Park. Miss Elaine Tayler who has been spending a month at Camp Woponeo, Algonquin Park, returned home with them.

Mr. A. May of Ottawa is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cochran.

On Saturday afternoon O'Hara's Unit Red Cross held a very successful home-cooking sale in Madoc village. The proceeds to be used by the energetic workers of the unit for war work.

The members of St. John's Anglican W. A. met at the home of Mrs. Harry Major on Tuesday evening to bid farewell to Mrs. Arthur Dymond. After a social hour had been spent, the guests were called to attention and the president, Jean Phillips, thanked Mrs. Dymond for everything she had so willingly done for the W. A. and asked her to accept as a token of their appreciation a pair of crystal candle holders. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Union Vale

Union Vale—Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bloomfield and family, of Detroit, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vincent.

Mrs. C. Wilson and Miss Aileen Pearsall attended the shower for the bride-to-be, Miss Phyllis Leavitt, of Picton, at the home of Mrs. Ray Clapp, on Monday night.

Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vincent's were: Mr. and Mrs. N. Orser and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. McQueen of Kingston, and Mrs. M. Riedell and Lambert of Kingston.

Mrs. Celia Walker has returned home after several weeks' stay with Mrs. Harrison, of Cressy.

Mrs. C. A. Vincent and Mrs. Earl Pearsall were last Tuesday afternoon callers of Mrs. W. Clow, of Picton.

Mr. George Vincent has returned home after holidaying a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. McConnell on Main Duck Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tubbs and Karen were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. M. Brummell of Waring's Corners.

Miss Aileen Pearsall and Mrs. Clifford Wilson attended the afternoon tea given by Mrs. M. Taylor of Wellington on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walker and son Winson, of Belleville, spent Sunday his mother, Mrs. Celia Walker.

Mrs. Adam Brummell of Massassaga spent Wednesday with Mrs. M. Terwilliger, also called on Mrs. Jack Tubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wright, Mr. G. Hudgins and Miss M. Hudgins spent a recent week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vincent.

Mrs. M. Brummell and daughter, Miss Pearl Brummell of Massassaga visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tubbs on Wednesday.

HAVE YOU A GOOD FOUNTAIN PEN FOR SCHOOL?

SEE OUR LARGE ASSORTMENT.
WATERMAN — PARKER
SHEAFFER
Name Engraved
F-R-E-E
On Any Pen Over $1.00

DOLAN
THE DRUGGIST
PHONE 128
FOR PROMPT DELIVERY.

Eldorado

Eldorado—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hollands spent the week-end at Marysville, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McAdam.

Mr. Jack Fitzgerald is holidaying with relatives at Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davey and Mrs. Davey of Toronto have returned home after spending the past week at the parsonage, the guests of Rev. and Mrs. G. Crabbe.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Brinklow and four children of Oshawa called on Miss Annie Holmes on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin McCann of Niagara Falls, N.Y., were week-end guests of Mr. McCann's mother, Mrs. Robt. McCann.

Quite a number from here attended the Decoration Service held at Hazzard's Church on Sunday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Greaves of New York City called on Mr. and Mrs. J. Donly last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wannamaker spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Russell Pigden.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pigden left for a week's holiday last week and will visit Toronto and Chatham and other points on their trip.

Mrs. S. L. McEwen of Toronto was a caller in Bannockburn last week.

Mrs. John Green is spending a few weeks in Toronto with her daughter, Mrs. W. Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd spent Sunday with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Walter Conley and family are visiting in Gilmour.

Miss Winona Bickel of Stirling is a visitor at Bannockburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cockrem, Winnipeg are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. T. Nicol at their cottage at Wealemkoon.

Mrs. Elvin Foster and family are visiting in Bancroft.

Mr. R. R. Hannah visited his son near Stockdale last week.

Mrs. F. Parks is spending a few days with Mrs. John Thompson near Queensboro.

Mr. Robert Doughty was rushed to Belleville General Hospital on Friday for an appendicitis operation. Reports are that he is coming along nicely.

Mrs. Stanley Rollins spent Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cassidy in Queensboro.

Mrs. D. Wright of Trenton is visiting at her home at Cooper.

Mrs. John Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reynolds were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds.

Mr. Fred Irwin has had a new milking machine installed in his barn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rollins, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rollins spent the week-end with Miss Ferne Rollins at Ottawa.

W. M. S.

The August meeting of the Eldorado and Union W.M.S. was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. Comerford. The meeting opened with Hymn 399, after which all read four verses of Hymn 410 as a prayer. The roll call was responded to by 18 members, two visitors and six children. The business period was presided over by the President, Mrs. Will Blackburn. The Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. George Robinson and was quite encouraging. Four sick calls were reported made during the month. An open meeting was then discussed and plans made.

The worship service was in charge of Mrs. L. Robinson. Mrs. Jack Empey read the Bible lesson and Mrs. J. Blackburn gave the prayer. The worship story was read by Miss Annie Holmes. Mrs. A. Empey gave a splendid report of the branch meeting held at Brockville. Mrs. Harold Pigden, convenor for the program then opened by all singing Hymn 148. Readings were given by Mrs. Gerald Blackburn and Mrs. Charles McCann, with Mrs. A. Empey rendering a musical number. The meeting closed with Hymn 96, and the singing of the National Anthem, after which lunch was enjoyed by all.

The Eldorado and Bannockburn Women's Institute held their August meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Clayton Blackburn. A large number of the ladies were in attendance.

An open meeting of the local W. M.S. and Mission Bands and Baby Band members met at the Eldorado United Church on Thursday afternoon. A short program was given then games, races and a ball game were enjoyed outside by the children and grown-ups. A fish pond gave much fun for all from which a nice sum was realized. Lunch was served at the close.

Quite a number from here are attending camp meeting at Ivanhoe this week.

Messrs. Merton and Fred Wright spent the week-end at their home here.

Miss M. Mutton of Brighton spent a week at the home of Mrs. Harry Blakley.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughters who have been spending the holiday at Mr. and Mrs. A. Empey's have returned to their home in New York State.

Meyers Studios

announce the Opening of Their New

BELLEVILLE STUDIO
229 Front Street

on

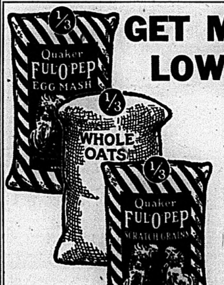
Saturday, Aug. 30, '41

Three Opening Specials

ONE 8 x 10 Colored Portrait in attractive frame. $1.99 Obtainable through Representatives Only.	5 x 7 COLORED Enlargement from your own negative in Natural Wood frame. 89c	FILMS DEVELOPED and PRINTS made Larja (Double Size) at no extra cost. ONE 5 x 7 COLORED PRINT FREE WITH EVERY ORDER

RATHER ATTRACTIVE WEDDING PORTRAITURE BY APPOINTMENT AT THE STUDIO OR AT HOME.

TELEPHONE 2500



GET MORE EGGS AT A LOWER FEED COST

With the Ful-O-Pep Plan

● Put your layers on this common-sense, economical feeding program now. Hens fed Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash the Ful-O-Pep Way get just what they need to make eggs. It is a simple, labor-saving feeding method. Just ⅓ each of Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash, whole oats and scratch grains. No wet mash or supplements needed. With its liberal oatmeal content it supplies just what hens need to produce more eggs and, fed the Ful-O-Pep Way, get more eggs at a lower feed cost.

FUL-O-PEP EGG MASH

FOR SALE AND RECOMMENDED BY

C. E. BISHOP & SON

172 Front Street AUTHORIZED QUAKER FEED DEALER Phone 283

"We voted QUAKER CORN FLAKES our Favourite Breakfast"
says Mrs. F. C. LAWRENCE, Toronto, Ont.

YOU'RE RIGHT MOTHER – THESE MALTED CORN FLAKES TASTE THE BEST EVER. LET'S HAVE THEM OFTEN.
M-M-M! MORE DADDY – THEY'RE CRISPY AS TOAST!
QUAKER CORN FLAKES
"They're Malted"

YOUR FAMILY IS SURE TO ENJOY QUAKER CORN FLAKES TOO!

● Take this sensational opportunity to try Quaker Corn Flakes. Taste the delicious difference malt makes. We are so sure your whole family will like them that we say: Buy Quaker Corn Flakes now. Then, put them to every taste test... compare them for crispness, freshness, flavour—with any corn flakes you've ever eaten. Then, if you don't agree they're the most delicious corn flakes you've ever eaten, just return the partly-used package and you will get double your money back. Join the millions of happy families who enjoy Quaker Corn Flakes as a daily treat. Remember — they're malted. Buy several packages from your grocer today.

What Makes Coffee ECONOMICAL?
More FLAVOUR—more GOODNESS to Every Pound
TRY MAXWELL HOUSE AGAINST THE COFFEE YOU ARE NOW USING... SEE IF YOU DON'T GET MORE RICH GOODNESS AND REAL SATISFACTION FROM EVERY POUND
VITA-FRESH MAXWELL HOUSE Coffee

Here's Why Maxwell House is SO Economical—

Enriched Blend
Always famous for its abundant flavour, Maxwell House has been still further enriched in blend. It's now richer, smoother and more deliciously full-bodied than ever before!

Unique Roast
This improved blend is roasted by a remarkable new process that radiates heat evenly right through every bean. It captures more completely the rich, tempting coffee goodness.

Roaster Freshness
Maxwell House is packed in a Super-Vacuum tin—the one and only way known to bring you coffee without any loss of its original flavour and goodness. Maxwell House really is roaster-fresh!

DRIP GRIND—for Drip Pot and Glass Coffee-Makers
REGULAR GRIND—for Percolator or Boiled Coffee

Serve by Saving—Buy War Savings Certificates

MH171

For Economy, Drink
MAXWELL HOUSE Coffee
BRAND

Queensboro

Queensboro — Mrs. J. Clemens and Elizabeth Willman, Deloro, also Mr. and Mrs. John Van Henkelom of Garson, Ont., were last Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Franklin.

The Red Cross Society held their regular meeting in the Hall on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Adam Roushorn has been spending some time as a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Mrs. Ford Tumelty and Billie, Madoc, spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Delyea.

Mrs. J. Wiggins, Belleville, and Mrs. Miles Dyer spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Wallace Kincaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bateman, also Misses Jean and Ines Bateman were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Rourke on Thursday.

Mrs. John Moore, Jean and Patricia and Miss Hazel Thompson spent Thursday with Mrs. S. S. Ashley at Moira Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rogers of Toronto have been visiting the later's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sager at Pine View.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sager and Mr. Leslie Holmes spent the week-end in Toronto.

Mrs. Nelson Sharpe spent Thursday with Miss Amy Delyea in Madoc.

Mr. Sam Palmer spent a few days last week with friends in Madoc.

Mrs. Allan Holmes and Miss Marion Love spent Thursday with Mrs. H. Moorcroft and Mrs. Electa Tanner, Harts.

Mrs. J. Wiggins and Mr. James Delyea were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb McCoy, Cooper, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Laird and family spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. C. Parks, Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. V. McMurray, Gilmour, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McMurray.

Mrs. Ella Holmes spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Irwin, Cooper.

Barbara Sager and Jean Arnott spent Saturday afternoon at Cooper.

Mr. Percy Franklin and Dora were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E Shangraw, Yarker, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Collins' Bay, were in the village on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ash, Madoc, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holmes.

Miss Emma Lynn, Reg. N., Cobourg, spent Sunday with her father, Mr. John Lynn.

Mr. Vernon Spencer and Miss Joyce Spencer were in Trenton on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holmes and Miss Irene Holmes, Remington, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. John Lynn.

Mr. Ed. Alexander, R.C.A.F., Brantford, Mrs Alexander and daughter, Orillia, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander.

Miss Annie Bateman, Belleville, spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. John O'Rourke.

Miss Marion Love spent Sunday with Miss Alma Keene at Hazzards.

A number from Queensboro attended the L.O.L. Decoration Service which was held in Hazzards United Church and Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The church service was conducted by the partor, Rev. W. W. Patterson.

Miss Margaret Leslie spent last week with relatives in Roslin.

Miss Jean Howes, Roslin, has been visiting Dorothy Leslie.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holland spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Holmes.

Mr. Albert Sager and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sager and baby, Toronto, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sager.

Miss Hilda Sexsmith, Toronto, has been visiting at her home.

Miss Betty Lynn, Bancroft, is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Will Lynn.

Mr. John Groves, Stirling, has been visiting friends in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fraser, Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Comerford, Madoc, were Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Rourke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sexsmith, Madoc, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. Miles Dyer spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sager.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Fleming and Alex attended the Fleming re-union held at Stirling on Wednesday.

Miss Anastasia Mahoney has returned home after spending some time in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Clark, Eldorado, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. A. Sharp spent the week-end with Miss Amy Delyea, Madoc.

Mr. Alfred Wilson has returned to Sulphide after spending a few days at his home.

Point Anne

Point Anne—Mrs. George Carter underwent a serious operation on Tuesday last in Belleville General Hospital and is improving nicely.

Rev. W. T. Keough of Belleville spent a day last week calling on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weedon of Toronto spent a few days recently with Mrs. Weedon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitehead.

Congratulaions to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liddle (nee Ethel Insley), who were married on Aug. 22.

Signalman Leonard Sweete and Mrs. Sweete and daughter of Barrie spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. William Insley.

Master Ronald Cummings spent holidays with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Akey.

Mrs. Dan Sweeney, Barbara and Jimmie returned home on Tuesday last from Toronto where they spent two weeks holidays.

Mrs. W. Files, Mrs. Ross Akey and Paula of Newburg were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Files.

Mr. Dick Simpson and niece, Mrs. P. K. Butland and Master Teddy Bauder of Trenton, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Insley.

Mrs. W. Woodcock and Mrs. Lesli Douglas of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. Roderick Akey of Sulphide spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Akey and also called on Mr. and Mrs. W. Akey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Akey and Donald spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Daly Cummings. Mrs. Reg. Cox and sons, Carl and Donald, returned home with them for a few days.

Pte. Harry Ellis of Sherbrooke, Que., is spending a few days leave with his family.

Mr. Henry Liddle and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Westcott of Shannonville and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Liddle and daughters, Dorothy and Helen, were guests on Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. W. Insley.

On Tuesday evening, Aug. 19, Mrs. James Fowler entertained a few friends of Mrs. E. Kelsey who left for her new home in Port Colborne. A social time was spent and Mrs. Kelsey was presented with a beautiful wall plaque.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Frank Tulk entertained the members of St. John's Guild at the Club House with Mrs. Kelsey as guest of honor. Mrs. Insley read an address and presented Mrs. Kelsey with a silver casserole on behalf of the members of St. John's Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Masters of Trenton called on Mr. and Mrs. Percy Akey on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Akey motored to Cooper on Sunday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parks.

Mrs. Grace Ryan, Belleville, spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. E. Wilson.

Mrs. Edith Wilson and Miss Elsie Ryan returned home on Sunday after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilson of Oshawa.

6th Sidney

6th Sidney—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McFaul and two children of Newark, N. J., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McFaul.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Loucks and mother of Cannifton were Monday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Copeland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rose spent Monday with friends in Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Shorey of Wallbridge were Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Scott.

Miss Evelyn Rombough and niece Joyce Rombough of Toronto spent a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Carman Frost returning home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Moon and Mrs. Gerald Sine spent a couple of days in Toronto this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dafoe and sons spent Sunday in Thurlow, guests at the home of Mr. W. Badgley.

Vera Houlden has returned home from a two weeks' visit with friends in Toronto.

Earl Woodley who spent the last seven weeks with Mr. J. A. Lott, has returned to his home in Belleville.

Mr. Maitland Sine also Mrs. G. Sine and children were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frost and Lyra spent Sunday with relatives in Thurlow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rose were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Trenton.

Rev. E. B. Cooke of Toronto called on a few friends here on Thursday.

Miss Hazel Paul of Trenton was a recent guest of Miss Kietha Paul.

The Stars Say

For Friday, August 29

THE ASTRAL testimonies for this day are for a very conflicting and contradictory state of affairs, with individual stamina, enterprise and determination as well as courage and patience operating as a balance wheel between adversity and progress. Static conditions may be suddenly disintegrated, calling for sound judgment as well as quick action in order to avert defeat and loss.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year in which all results and advantages must depend upon self responsibility, persistent and sound manipulation of perverse and difficult situations. Patience, hard work, quick grasp of frustrating and disintegrating factors may avert devastation, with little or no help from outsiders.

A child born on this day should have many sterling qualities despite some erratic and wavering tendencies and debilitating physical handicaps.

Allan Mills

Allan Mills — Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wellman visited Mrs. Doc Wellman at Whitby on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Frost of Frankford visited Mr. and Mrs. P. Bateman on Friday.

Mrs. G. Stiles is spending a few days in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Myles of Havelock, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wellman visited Mr. and Mrs. D. Wellman on Sunday.

Mrs. H. McAdam and David and Miss Lois McAdam called on Mrs. A. Burkitt on Friday.

Mrs. Lizzie Reid of Toronto, called on Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Eastwood on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKeown and Don visited Mr. and Mrs. Mel McKeown of Campbellford on Sunday.

Miss Marjorie McKeown spent Tuesday with Mrs. V. Irwin.

North Lakeside

North Lakeside—Mr. Jack Skinkle of Peterboro spent the week-end with Mrs. Skinkle and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Huyck, Mrs. H. Huyck and Mrs. Lela Weeks spent the tea hour on Friday with Mr. and Mrs Harry Chase of Consecon.

Mrs. Patterson of Toronto who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Jinks, for the past three weeks returned home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Biard Bush, Delbert and Mildred spent the dinner hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rowe and family of Consecon Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Chase were Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Mellville Campbell of Consecon.

Quite a number from this vicinity were in Trenton on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Chase, Miss Vivian Chase and Mr. Arnold Chase of Melville were dinner hour guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. S. Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jinks and family, 4th of Ameliasburg were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs. John Jinks.

Group II of the W.A. held a quilting and pot-luck dinner in the vestry on Wednesday.

Mr James Way, Mr. Gerald Way and Miss Lora Way of Bowermans were dinner and tea hour guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. Chase.

Plainfield

Plainfield — Rev. Walter Beach, Minnesota, and Mr. George Bunnett, Zion Hill, were callers at the Hazard home on Thursday.

Mrs. F. Goodfellow and Carrie spent the dinner hour on Wednesday last with Mrs. Goodfellow, Carmel.

Mrs. Lena Latta and Mrs. M. A. Latta spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall, Sr., and Mr. Robert Hall.

Mrs. Fred Prindle, Hazel and Iner spent Thursday with the former's mother, Mrs. A. Shaw, Foxboro.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Parks, Mrs. O. Bates and Mrs. W. Elder spent tea Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Chapman.

Master Bobbie Sullivan is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sills.

Miss Hazel Prindle is visiting friends in Foxboro.

Miss Jean Sills is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sills.

Mrs. Harry McCreary spent a few days in Belleville.

Miss Ruth McMullen is visiting Miss Jean Marshall.

Mrs. M. Hubel called Sunday evening on Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell.

Miss A. Hamilton called Sunday evening on Mrs. Ida Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Salisbury were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. M. Salisbury.

JIF'S SO THRIFTY – GIVES MORE SUDS, SAFE SUDS – WORKS FAST!
Get JIF Tomorrow
CANADA'S NEWEST WASHING SENSATION!

1000 ROOMS WITH BATH
RATES AS LOW AS $2.00
Coming to TORONTO?
Stop at Toronto's Favored Hotel
KING EDWARD
P. KIRBY HUNT Manager

GARDEN FRESH
HIGHEST QUALITY
A&P FRUITS AND Vegetables

Now Is the Time to Buy Delicious Niagara PEACHES At Attractive Prices

CORN Ontario Grown Sweet, Fresh Tender Good Source of Vitamins "B" & "C" Doz. 21c
POTATOES Ontario Grown Canada No. 1 Good Source of Vitamin "B" & "C" 10 lbs. 20c
BLUE BERRIES Canadian Selected Quality Quart Box 25c
LEMONS California Fresh Arrivals—300 Size Excellent Source Vitamin "C" Doz. 23c
RED GRAPES California Sweet Luscious lb. 10c
ORANGES California Valencia Good Size Doz. 37c
YAMS Louisiana: The Finest of Sweet Potatoes. Excellent Source Vitamin "A" 3 lbs. 21c
GRAPES . . . . . . lb. 11c

STORE CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY Sept. 1st
CLOSE WEDNESDAY, Sept. 3, 12.30

ANN PAGE BAKED GOODS
DOUGHNUTS Doz. 12c
ANGEL CAKE plain 16-oz. Cake 29c
LAYER CAKE small Ea. 13c
FRUIT CAKE English Ea. 25c

BREAD Ann Page White 2 24-oz. Wrap Loaves 15c

A & P BOKAR COFFEE
Vigorous and Winey
1-lb. bag 39c

Save By Checking Every Food Price in This Adv't.

TOMATO JUICE A & P NEW PACK 3 28-oz. Tins 25c
LOGANBERRIES CHOICE NEW PACK 16-oz. Tin 15c
PEAS GARDEN PATCH NEW PACK 16-oz. Tin 9c
WAFER PICKLES AYLMER SWEET NEW PACK 17-oz. Jar 19c
SOUPS Heinz except Turtle or Consomme 2 16-oz. Tins 25c
APPLE JUICE 2 20-oz. Tins 15c
LOBSTER Choice ½'s Tin 28c
SPREADS Hedlund's Meat 2 Tins 17c
CHICKEN Boneless ½'s Tin 21c
JEWEL Shortening lb. 17c
OLD CHEESE lb. 27c
LARD Sunnyfield Pure lb. 14c
CHEESE Chateau Plain or Pimento ½-lb. Pkg. 18c
HAM Underwood's Devilled 2 2¼-oz. Tins 25c
SARDINES Captain Kidd 2 Tins 21c
IRISH STEW Clark's 2 Tin 25c

A&P HIGH QUALITY GUARANTEED MEATS
STEAKS OR ROASTS lb. 29c
Porterhouse, Sirloin, Wing, Cube or Face Rump
HAMBURG STEAK Extra Lean lb. 17c
BRISKET POT ROAST lb. 16c
PRIME RIB ROAST lb. 27c
BLADE ROAST Meaty lb. 19c
SHORT RIB ROAST lb. 21c
Genuine Spring LAMB
Legs lb. 32c Loins lb. 28c Fronts lb. 21c
VEAL ROAST Boneless lb. 21c
BEEF BOLOGNA Sliced lb. 18c
BREAKFAST BACON, sliced .... lb 35c
MAC. & CHEESE LOAF Sliced lb. 25c
CORNED BRISKET Mild Cured lb. 19c

FLOUR SUNNYFIELD PASTRY 5-lb. Bag 14c 24-lb. Bag 61c
MARMALADE IONA ORANGE & GRAPEFRUIT 32-oz. Jar 22c
PORK & BEANS Libby's 3 20-oz. Tins 23c
KETCHUP Clark's 2 12-oz. Btl. 23c
PLUM JAM Color & Pectin 32-oz. Jar 22c
MEATS Clark's Potted 2 Tins 15c
SPORK Burn's Tin 29c
CHILE CON CARNE Burn's Tin 19c

Lipton's Tea
RED LABEL
½-lb. pkg. [illegible]
1-lb. Pkg. [illegible]
YELLOW LABEL
½-lb. Pkg. 44c
ORANGE PEKOE
½-lb. Pkg. 44c

SOAP FLAKES MAPLE LEAF 16-oz. Pkg. 18c Lge. Pkg. 63c
TOILET SOAP MAPLE LEAF Cake 4c
MAYONNAISE ANN PAGE 16-oz. Jar 23c 32-oz. Jar 37c
LUNCH LOAF HEDLUND'S ½-lb. Tin 19c
CERTO - - - Bottle 25c
PAROWAX Pkg. 12c
RUBBER RINGS Doz. 5c
SPICE PICKLING 2 pkgs. 15c
SEALERS SMALL Doz. 89c
SEALERS MED. Doz. 1.05
VINEGAR Blended - - - Gal. 35c

Prices subject to market changes. — Purchases limited to family weekly requirements.

A & P SELF-SERVICE FOOD STORES
Owned and Operated by The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. Ltd.

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury. Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.30 p.m.—

MINES

Aldermac 16
Anglo Hur 270B
Aunor 170
Bankfield 5
Beattie 110
Bidgood 8 1-2
Bralorne 11 3-8
Broulan 75
Buffalo Ank. 425
Calgary and Ed. 134B
Can. Malar. 55A
Central Pat. 194A
Chesterville 135
Coast Copper 130B
Coniaurum 136
Dome 22 5-8B
Eldorado 43
East Mal. 225
Falconbridge 325B
Francoeur 49 1-2
Gillies L. 5 1-2
Gunnar 26
Hardrock 78
Home Oil 242
Hollinger 12 3-4
Howey 21
Hudson Bay 27 5-8B
Jason 35
Kerr Add. 445
Kirk. Lake 68
Lake Shore 14 1-2
Leitch 45
Little L.L. 195
Macassa 380B
McIntyre 48 1-2B
McLeod 212
McKenzie 106
Mining Corp. 125B
Moneta 34B
Nipissing 118
Obien 136
Okalta 55
Paymaster 19B
Pamour 96A
Perron 142
Pend Oreille 160
Pickle Crow 295
Pioneer 230B
Powell 80
Preston E. D. 315
Reno 10B
Royalite 24
San Antonio 235
Sherritt G. 78
Siscoe 52
Sud. Basin 155B
Sullivan 66
Steep Rock 183
Sylvanite 240B
T. Hughes 285
Tex. Can. Oil 95B
Toburn 140B
Ventures 450B
W. Amulet 475
Wr. Hargreaves 400
Upper Can. 181

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 149
B. A. Oil 16 3-8
Brewing Corp. 135B
Braz. Trac. 7 3-4
Can. Bud Brewery 4 3-4B
Can. Cement 5 1-8B
Can. Ind. Alcohol 3 1-8
C.P.R. 6 1-2B
Can. Malting 33 1-2B
Can. Vinegar 6 3-8B
Canada Car 6 7-8
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-4B
Con. Smelting 38
Dominion Foundries 18 3-4
Dominion Stores 5B
Dist. Seagrams 22 1-4B
Ford "A" 15 7-8
Gypsum 3 3-8
Imp. Oil 9 1-2
Int. Nickel 34 1-2
Inter. Pet. 13 1-2B
Loblaw 26 3-4B
Massey Harris 2 5-8B
Mont. Power 21 5-8B
Steel of Canada 67B
Walker's 42 1-4B
Walker's Pfd. 19 3-4
C.P.A. 3 3-4

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 155 5-8
Anaconda 29 1-8
Bethlehem Steel 70
Chrysler 57 3-4
General Electric 32 3-4
General Motors 39 1-4
North American 12 7-8
Montgomery Ward 34 5-8
Phillips Pet. 44 7-8
Radio 4 1-8
Standard Oil of N.J. 43 1-4
Standard Brands 5 3-4
U. S. Steel 57 7-8
United Aircraft 41
Vanadium 25 1-4
Westinghouse 92

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 28—(CP) — The Stock Market displayed strength and activity in the first hour but it quieted down later to show only modest index gains for the Industrials, Base Metals and Western Metals. Golds leaned narrowly to the downside. Volume was 157,000 shares for the first three hours.

Malartic Goldfields, Macleod Cockshutt and Little Long Lac extended their gains and in the base metals slightly better prices appeared for International Nickel, Noranda and Steep Rock. Macassa, McKenzie, Aunor and Pickle Crow were narrowly lower.

Hamilton Bridge, Gypsum, Great Lakes Paper and Canada Steamships Pfd. were stronger industrials. Massey Harris Pfd. gained 1-2 to 46 1-2. Bell Telephone weakened a point to 149.

Home Oil and Dalhousie firmed moderately and other Western Oils were steady.

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 28 (AP) — The stock market played around with the idea of another modest rally today but most leaders seemed to lack rising stamina. Near the fourth hour there was an assortment of minus signs and numerous issues were unchanged.

Boeing was among scattered stocks making new highs for the year. Ahead occasionally were American Telephone, Great Northern, Kennecott, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil (NJ) and U.S. Rubber.

Pepsi-Cola stumbled over profit-selling, as did Richfield oil. Both were recent prominent climbers. Backward at times were U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Western Union and Southern Pacific.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Dome lost 1-8 while Walkers gained 1-4. In the Bond market Canada 4s were unquoted.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS
A-large	.40-.41
A-medium	.39-.40
A-pullet	.34-.35
Grade "B"	.33-.34
Grade "C"	.28-.29
BUTTER
Butter, No. 1	.36 1-2
Butter, No. 2	.35-.35 3-4
Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Graded Egg Prices Again Stepped Up

Graded egg prices stepped up 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen in both country dealer and wholesale-to-retail section of trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday. The butter market snapped out of its recent slump and prices strengthened 1-4 cent a pound under fair demand.

Very keen local demand and exceptionally light receipts boosted egg prices a further 1-2 cent in country dealer trading and 1 cent a dozen in wholesale-to-retail action on a very firm market.

First grade creamery butter solids advanced 1-4 cent to 36 1-2 cents a pound as fair demand and light offerings tended to steady the recently weak butter market. Offerings at 36 1-2 cents were reported to have moved without any difficulty.

The Ontario Creamery Association last night revealed that production of creamery butter in this Province for the week ended Aug. 16 amounted to 1,067,904 pounds, compared with 1,081,189 pounds for the same week a year ago. This represents a decrease of 1.22 per cent.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 28 (CP)—Produce market prices here yesterday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter: First grade creamery prints jobbing price, 37 1-2c; first grade solids jobbing price 37c; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized, current receipt price, 36 1-8c; No. 2, 35 3-8c; No. 1 wholesale price, 36 1-2c; No. 2, 35 3-4c. Receipts: 7 boxes.

Eggs: Graded shipments selling at A-large, 36 1-2c; A-medium 36c; pullets, 30c; B grade, 29c; C grade 24 1-2c to 25c Receipts: 1,514 cases.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 28—(CP)—Prices were unchanged on all Bacon-Hog markets reporting here today.

Liveweight: Chatham $10.

Dressedweight: Brantford $14.10 plus transportation, Chatham $13.70, Hamilton $14.50 delivered, Hull $14, Kitchener $14 plus transportation, London $14.35 delivered, Peterborough $14, Stratford $14 plus transportation.

Livestock

Toronto, Aug. 28 —(CP)— The cattle trade was weak on the livestock market here today with only two sales up to mid-session. Unsold from yesterday were 500 head of cattle. No sheep were offered.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 220, calves 160, hogs 290, lambs 80.

Butcher steers sold at $7.50-$8.75 with good bulls selling at $7, a few good stockers were sold at $7.75-$8.

Veal calves sold at $12.50 for choice with common selling downward to $8.

Hogs were steady at $14.60-$14.65 at yards and plants, sows selling at $9.75-$10.25.

Lambs sold at $11.50-$12 for good ewes and wethers.

FROST REPORTED AT COE HILL

Although Belleville and district apparently escaped frost last night when the temperature failed officially to get below the 43 degree mark, the northern townships of the county were not so fortunate with a heavy frost being reported at Coe Hill, in Wollaston Township.

Transport drivers contacted this morning stated that all garden vegetables in the Coe Hill district have now been touched heavily with frost, this being the fourth time in the past two weeks the district has been visited with freezing temperatures.

HEALTHY PLANT GROWING

Oneonta, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP) — Last fall someone hurled a ripe tomato at Presidential candidate Wendell L. Willkie's picture in a window of the Donald Baird home. Today a healthy plant under the window provides fresh tomatoes for the Bairds' dinner table.

Obituary

JAMES H. DIAMOND

James Howard Diamond died suddenly as the result of a heart seizure at his residence, 244 George Street, this Thursday morning.

The late Mr. Diamond was born in Belleville, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Diamond. His father died some years ago and his mother, who survives him, later became Mrs. William Black. All his life was passed in this city and for some time he was engaged in the plumbing business on his own account and also for some years he was a member of the old firm of Diamond & Hyde, plumbers. He was well known in the city and to many friends his sudden passing has brought much regret. In religion he was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Surviving him are his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Annie Caskey, his mother, Mrs. William Black, one son, Graham Diamond, with the Royal Canadian Navy at Kingston, three daughters, Miss Helen, Miss Marion and Miss Jean, all at home; one sister, Mrs. C. W. Rainbow, St. Thomas, Ont.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home, Everett Street; the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this paper.

LATE JAMES CAIN

The funeral of the late James Cain took place from St. Michael's Church this morning where Requiem Mass was sung by the Right Reverend J. F. Nicholson, V.G. Burial prayers at St. James' Cemetery, Stirling, were said by Reverend Father S. E. LeSage.

The bearers were Messrs. James McAvoy, John Lafferty, Hugh Reid, Leo McCauley, Leo Ryan and Peter Cote.

600 Million Pounds Bacon, Ham to U. K. Under New Contract

Ottawa, Aug. 28. —(AP)—Agreement has been reached between Canada and the British Food Ministry for the Dominion to supply 600,000,000 pounds of bacon and hams to the United Kindom during the year following conclusion of the present agreement which ends October. 31, it was learned on good authority today.

Formal and official announcement that the new contract has been signed is expected to be made soon by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

The Minister, who has been visiting in the West, was in Winnipeg today and is expected back in Ottawa next Tuesday.

He previously indicated the new agreement would call for 600,000,000 pounds of pork products as compared with the 425,000,000 pounds contracted for in the soon-to-expire agreement.

While there was no official indication here as to prices contained in the new agreement it was indicated they will be better than those of the present contract which originally called for $15.82 per 100 pounds for all Grade "A" Wiltshire sides delivered at the Canadian seaboard.

66th Casualty List Of R.C.A.F. Issued

Ottawa, Aug. 28—(CP)—Twenty-nine airmen were reported dead or missing in Canada and overseas today in the Royal Canadian Air Force's 66th casualty list of the war raising the total air force dead and missing officially reported since war began to 595.

Eight men were reported killed during air operations overseas, one overseas flyer was reported killed in a flying accident and 14 were listed as missing after overseas air operations.

Two men previously reported missing were listed as prisoners of war and another previously reported missing was reported interned in Algiers.

In Canada three deaths were listed from flying accidents and three from natural causes. Two were reported seriously injured in a flying accident, one seriously injured and two dangerously ill.

Trenton and District

Two Youths Arrested

Prompt action on the part of Trenton police after two suspicious looking characters were seen loitering in the vicinity of Lamorre's grocery and tobacco store resulted in the apprehension early today of two Trenton youths, Alfred Squires and Melville Sexsmith, as they were entering the premises.

Just at midnight Sergeant Probert of the Trenton force noticed the two youths loitering in the vicinity of the store and despatched Constable Lozo to investigate. The constable found the locks to the rear doors to the store and garage were unfastened. He left the doors as they were and concealed himself and a short time later was rewarded for his vigilance by the appearance of the two youths who were accosted as they entered the store from the rear.

Trenton police are of the opinion that several thefts reported in Trenton recently may have been committed by the two youths. Both were charged with breaking and entering.

CONDUCT CENSUS

London, Aug. 28 (CP)— Seeking to build up a reserve of women prepared to go into employment, the Ministry of Labor and National Service is conducting a census of domestic labor. Employers are being asked to state the size of their house, the number of servants, and whether there are any special reasons why they should be retained.

FRENCH ATTACKER

(Continued from Page One)

recently arrested in round-ups in several Paris arrondisements.

Through the intervention of French authorities with German military authorities, Paris temporarily has been spared reprisals over the shooting a week ago today of a German officer in a subway station. Police have been unable to trace two attackers who shot the German in the back.

De Brinon claimed the French themselves have taken "full responsibility" for maintaining order in the German-occupied zone.

The three men condemned by the special Paris court in secret session were ordered executed immediately. They were Andrew Brechet, an electrician who formerly was secretary to a Communist deputy; Emil Jean Bastard, a militant Communist and a Russian, Abraham Trzebruche.

Lucien Sampaix, noted Communist journalist and former secretary general of the Paris Communist newspaper L'Humanite, who escaped from a concentration camp in the Department of Hautes Alpes in the unoccupied zone, was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Some Given Prison Terms

Three others, Pierre Lanant, Bernard Friednann and Leon Ladondeau, were sentenced respectively to 15, 10 and seven years at hard labor. Three more were sentenced for distributing Communist tracts.

Admiral Bard, chief of police forces in the Paris region, took personal charge of police measures in co-operation with March Chevalier, prefect of the Seine-et-Oise department, of which Versailles is the capital. The two visited Laval and Deat.

Deat was in considerably more danger than Laval, running a high temperature.

A bulletin issued at 1 p.m. said that both were doing as well as could be expected and that hope of saving Deat had not been given up.

Laval was reported to have been struck four times, including wounds near the heart and throat. Deat was hit in the throat and an intestine.

Paul Colette, 29-year-old Norman, who surrendeded after the attack he made by posing as a recruit for the anti-Bolshevik Legion, faced a quick military trial and almost certain execution under week-old anti-Communist regulations.

A description of how the assassination attempt occurred was given last night by Fernand Debrinon, Vichy representative in Paris.

Were Addressing Troops

Laval and Deat, along with other leading French collaborationists and Nazi officers, had gathered in the Burgnis De Bordes barracks near the Palace of Versailles to address a group of French Legionnaires formed to fight with the Germans against Russia.

Laval, a former Premier, one of the leaders in obtaining the Armistice with Germany 13 months ago and active in ranging France alongside Germany, talked to the men.

The Marseillaise, French National anthem, was sung for the first time in occupied France and the officials started to file out.

"I had left the barracks," Debrinon said. "Laval and Deat were behind me. Suddenly five shots rang out, three in rapid succession followed by two more."

(Reports of the wounds inflicted, however, indicated more than five shots were fired.)

"I turned and saw Laval stumbling along and holding his side with Legionnaires all around him.

"I called my car quickly and rushed Laval to the Municipal Hospital. In the other car we put Deat who never stopped protesting 'it's nothing, it's nothing'."

DeBrinon then commented, "we are faced with a terroristic organization."

Colonel Durvy, Commander of the barracks, and a Legionnaire named Besset also were reported hit by bullets.

Some reports said Colette hid beneath a balcony waiting until the group left the speakers' platform and passed near him en route to the door. Others said he rose from his seat among the Legionnaires to fire his revolver.

Authorities said he told them he posed as a recruit for the sole purpose of killing Laval.

The attack continued a wave of demonstrations, sabotage and attacks against the Germans in France. Germans and French police had retaliated by mass arrests in workers' districts of Paris. Germans warned that all arrested Frenchmen would be held as hostages for future attacks and the Vichy government issued regulations providing the death penalty for Communist agitators.

Vichy police expressed the opinion the attack was retaliation by extreme Leftists for the bomb murder July 26 of Marx Dormoy, former Socialist Interior Minister.

Many Reasons to Hate Laval

Many groups had reason to hate Laval who himself admitted his unpopularity in France in recent years. Communists hated him as a turncoat Leftist, as supporter of repressive measures against them, as executive for extreme Rightist groups and as the man most active in bringing France into the Nazi [illegible] pro-British French blamed him for the armistice and for anti-British measures. The average Frenchman frequently expressed mistrust of him as a politician who had often reversed himself and as representative of the pre-war political cliques.

Even Marshal Petain and his administration mistrusted Laval and openly censured Deat, whose newspaper L'Oeuvre frequently attacked "the men of Vichy."

Laurie Lewis' Oak Lake Cottage Destroyed by Fire

Originating from an over-heated iron, which had been left connected for a few moments, fire broke out in the summer home of Mr. Laurie Lewis at Oak Lake shortly before noon this morning and quickly swept through the lavishly furnished structure, burning the building to the ground together with the entire contents with the loss estimated by the owner at approximately $6,000.

Mr. Lewis' daughter, Laurene was alone in the cottage at the time the fire broke out and had been engaged in ironing with the electric iron, when after walking out of the room for a minute returned to find the room afire and the place full of smoke. Picking up two pet dogs, a Pekinese and a Kerry Blue, Miss Lewis carried them from the cottage, and saved them from the flames but many valuable articles belonging to the Lewis family, together with clothing and furnishings of the building were destroyed. All of Mr. Lewis' collection of war medals was lost in the fire.

A volunteer fire brigade hastily summoned by residents of the lake district managed to save the nearby Lewis garage from the flames, there being no other cottages close by the burning building. Belleville and Stirling fire departments answered the call for assistance to fight the flames but upon their arrival the fire was beyond control and it was impossible to save the structure.

Formerly owned by Clifford Baker of Stirling, the Lewis cottage was the best equipped summer home on Oak Lake, it being of frame construction and trimmed with British Columbia fir and with fine oak floors.

Gas Supplies For Eastern U. S. To Be Cut 15 P. C.

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—Ralph K. Davies, acting United States Petroleum Coordinator, announced today that gasoline supplies for filling stations in the east would be reduced 15 per cent in September compared with July.

Davies' testimony opened a Senate investigation of threatened oil shortages. He presented a mass of figures which he said showed that the eastern coast faced an actual shortage of both gasoline and oil for heating and industry this winter.

FIREMAN LOSES CAP

En route to Oak Lake this afternoon with a unit of the Belleville Fire Department, Fireman Bob Fair had the misfortune to lose his official cap. The headgear bears the number "7" and anyone finding it is requested to leave it at the Fire Hall.

The unit, under Deputy Chief Gerald Vance, was called to a fire which destroyed the cottage of Laurie Lewis.

NEW IRAN

(Continued from Page One)

Iran's troops were mobilized already.

Informed sources in London believed the situation was tending toward a peaceful settlement, especially since the British Minister in Teheran was still in contact with his government.

There was a possibility the British and Russian advance would continue until the allies are satisfied with their military positions there. British authorities want to secure an all-weather supply lane to Russia through Iran.

Proceeding at Great Speed

Dispatches from Cairo said last reports indicated military operations in the Iran area were going ahead at great speed and not likely to last long. The Russians also were said to be advancing rapidly from the north

British troops capped a 100-mile drie of their northern column from Iraq by thrusting through Paitak Pass, one of the strongest natural positions of the Iranians in that section, and reaching Shahabad, a communique said. The Iranians were said to have been fortifying the pass for the past month.

Both Britain and Russia are determined to take full precautions to prevent Iran from becoming a base for future German operations and there is no chance of military operations being halted for peace discussions, it was stated here. The time is past for promises such as Iran's recent offer to expel all Germans, except a few holding indispensable technical posts, within a week.

Herald Comments

The Daily Herald said "there can be no stopping until full Allied demands are met" and expressed hope that "once Iran's communications are cleared war materials will begin to pour into Russia without stint."

The Times declared editorially that the first condition for peace negotiations must be that "the show of resistance still apparently being maintained by some Iranian units be brought to an end and that Nazi agents whose activities have provoked the present action should be placed in safe custody."

ST. PATRICK RETURNS

Oxford, England (CP)—Missing for 300 years, two folios of the "Tripartite Life" of St. Patrick, one of the only two original manuscripts in existence, were found in the Bodleian Library here.

IRANIANS HOTLY

(Continued from Page One)

A company of Indian troops was reported landed by airplane in the oil fields to protect British employees of the Anglo-Iranian oil company.

Iranian Navy Destroyed

The Iranian navy was destroyed in the first four hours of fighting. Two sloops were sunk and the remainder of the fleet of three gunboats and one depot ship were taken after a battle in the Shatt-El-Arab River and the Karun River which runs into it. The Iranian boats were attacked from land as well as from sea.

Indian troops moved downstream from Basra, where the Tigris and Eupphrates join to form the broad Shatt-El-Arab, after dusk Sunday to start the attack Monday morning. Others moved eastward out of Basra during the night across long pontoon bridges.

Admiral Bayendor, head of the Iran navy, was surprised in his home at Khorramshahr by the attack. He went to an army post, grabbed a rifle and kept firing until bullets from a Tommy gun killed him. He was accorded full military honors at a funeral which senior British officers attended.

Iranian troops offered stiff but short-lived resistance at several points but in southern Iran the population welcomed the British.

Their welcome was attributed largely to the fact that the inhabitants of this region are Arabs, rather than Iranians, and many resent the present Shah's smashing of the Arab tribal system under which they and their forebears lived for centuries.

NAZI SOURCES SAY

(Continued from Page One)

Cutting of the Moscow-Leningrad line south of Leningrad was claimed in a sector somewhere east of captured Novgorod.

DNB, Nazi propaganda agency, claimed that straddling the Moscow-Leningrad line means the choking off of raw materials essential to the Baltic port's ship building, armament, machine and electrical industries and the hampering of other work by Soviet plants dependent upon Leningrad's production.

Commentators claimed the alleged occupation of Zaporozhe, 50 miles south of Dnieperopetrovsk, by German, Rumanian and Hungarian troops gives Hitler's armies in the south a jump-off spot for pursuit of Marshal Semeon Budenny's forces and throttles Russian iron supply lines.

They claimed possession of the city also was a severe blow to Sebastopol because the only direct rail line connecting that main Soviet naval base on the Black Sea with northern industrial and supply centres runs through Zaporozhe.

By victory at Velikie Luki, claimed yesterday by the High Command, German troops tore a gap in the Soviet front defending Moscow, commentators said. They claimed elimination of the 22nd Russian army in this battle.

Along the northern sector, Finnish and German forces were claimed to be continuing their advance on Tallinn, Estonian capital. Further progress by these troops in the region between Lake Ilmen and the Bay of Finland has been reported.

AUSTRALIAN

(Continued from Page One)

Fadden was born in 1895 at Ingham, North Queensland, the son of Richard Fadden and was educated at Mackay. He later became town clerk of Mackay. He married in 1916 and has two sons and two daughters.

The Australian political crisis, brought to a head with Japan's southward drive in the Pacific, really began when Menzies failed to obtain a clear majority at the general election last fall. He controlled 37 votes in the House while the Labor Party, his opponents, had 36. With the election of a non-voting speaker, that made the parties even and gave to an independent member from Victoria, the actual control of the House.

Menzies became Prime Minister on the death of Joseph Lyons in 1939.

At a press conference today Menzies said: "A frank discussion among my colleagues of the cabinet has shown that while there is personal goodwill toward me, many feel that I am unpopular with large sections of the press and people and that this unpopularity handicaps the effectiveness of the government.

"It is not for me to judge except that I believe my relinquishing the leadership will offer a real prospect of unity between the government and all parties."

NO GERMANS TO SHARE

London, Aug. 28 (CP)— Baron Rudolf Schroder, wealthy banker who died last December, left an estate valued at $2,500,000. A codicil in his will stated: "I hereby revoke any legacy to a person of German nationality."

MEN OF 30, 40, 50

PEP, VIM, VIGOR, Subnormal? Want normal pep, vim, vigor, vitality? Try Ostrex Tonic Tablets. Contains tonics, stimulants, oyster elements aids to normal pep after 30, 40 or 50. Get a special introductory size for only 35c. Try this aid to normal pep and vim today. For sale at all good drug stores J12eTh

SOVIET CONTINUES

(Continued from Page One)

One or two more brief warm, dry spells may come, but in general the two-months-long fall has begun, after which the severe Russian winter will set in.

Heavy fighting which raged all day yesterday in the Kingisepp area north of Leningrad and in the vicinity of besieged Odessa continued unabated throughout the night, the afternoon communique of the Soviet information bureau declared.

The bulletin also reported fierce action around Gomel on the central front and in the vicinity of Dnieperopetrovsk, Ukraine industrial centre at the great bend of the Dnieper river.

The communique was virtually identical with the early morning announcement which preceded it, except for the omission of mention of fighting in the Smolensk sector on the road to Moscow.

6,000 Germans Killed

A Russian dispatch from Hango, fortress off the southwestern Finnish coast, said that Finnish-German attacks by land, sea and air had been repulsed but that artillery duels continued.

In fighting which lasted several days near town "R" on the right bank of the Dnieper River, Russians under Lt.-Col. Chigrin killed more than 6,000 Germans of the 132nd infantry division and inflicted other losses upon this group, the Soviet Information Bureau stated.

Advancing along several lines the Germans stormed the Russian positions "without halting," the Russians said, but the defenders held fast, "skillfully making use of the terrain and their fire-arms," and exhausted the Germans before they reached the advance defence lines.

On German battalion was reported destroyed by a Red machine-gun unit, while a second was beaten after fighting its way to the centre of the town. The Germans then received reinforcements and attacked the Russians in waves with the help of artillery and airplane bombardment.

Terrific fighting ensued, after which, according to the Russian communique, "within a few days' fighting the 132nd Fascist division buried more than 6,000 of its men killed in action near town 'R'."

ADMIRAL NOMURA

(Continued from Page One)

from reporters as to what the message from Prime Minister Konoye contained.

Before the conference, however, it was reported the envoy would discuss with Mr. Roosevelt the strained relations between the two countries, including reported Japanese representations to Russia and the United States against shipments of American oil and other supplies to Russia via Vladivostok.

Asked specifically whether the message he carried related to shipments to Russia, Nomura replied he did not think so.

The ambassador requested the conference, it was learned, presumably on instructions from Tokyo. The Japanese Government has exhibited increasing concern over any decision Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may have reached on the Far East and there has been resentment at the dispatch of American war supplies to China and Russia.

The Japanese embassy declined to say whether Nomura would present a formal communication from his government, and no information was forthcoming as to specific questions the ambassador might take up.

During the past few days the Japanese Government has created a major issue out of the shipment of American gasoline and oil to Vladivostok, the Soviet's Pacific port which is almost encircled by Japanese islands.

The major friction between the United States and Japan, however, stems from the Japanese policy of Asiatic expansion.

Japan's major objections to American policies include aid to China, the refusal to countenance Japan's scheme for a "greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere," and a long list of economic measures, climaxed by the freezing of Japanese assets here, which virtually paralyzed all Japanese shipping and exports to the United States.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"
WAKES YOU UP INSIDE!
ECONOMY SIZE 98¢
OTHER SIZES 59¢ 30¢
GEORGE PAULEY
DRUGGIST Phone 105

PRIME MINISTER

(Continued from Page One)

During the visit, Queen Mary asked Mr. King to carry a message from her to the Canadian people, the Prime Minister said.

To Pay Another Visit

This afternoon Mr. King will pay his third visit to the Canadian troops since his arrival in Britain by bomber eight days ago. He will be the guest of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Commander of the Canadian Corps, who will be his host overnight.

Much of Mr. King's busy schedule in Britain has been made up of conferences with British ministers in relation to planning of the British Empire's continued war effort. He has discussed both the military and civil side of the effort.

"One of the problems we are studying," Mr. King told The Canadian Press "is how the manpower of the Empire can best be utilized to obtain the maximum effectiveness in the war effort."

In explanation, he said, a careful study is being made in an effort to determine how Canada's manpower can best be allocated to fit in with the manpower of the British Isles.

Mr. King is being assisted in the study by Norman Robertson, Under Secretary of State for External Affairs at Ottawa who accompanied Mr. King to Britain.

Tear Gas Test Made in London Over Wide Areas

London, Aug. 28 —(CP Cable)— Tear gas was released over wide areas of the capital late Wednesday in the first extensive test here of the dangers of chemical warfare.

Warned by the newspapers, most office workers reached for their respirators.

Wardens sounded their rattles as the signal for the gas alert. Buses continued to run with drivers and conductresses, and most passengers, donning their protective masks. Police said that more people than usual had their masks with them, but a good many were caught unprepared.

Later, Sir Archibald Sinclair, the air secretary, inspecting the home guard, said: "It is not at all impossible that the enemy may decide to make a sudden descent on the centre of London. Your mobile detachment would quickly mop up parachutists who had the misfortune to descend in this part of London."

BRINGS INSTANT EASE from PAINS, SPRAINS BRUISES, BURNS RHEUMATIC ACHES
MINARD'S
GREAT CANADIAN RUBBING LINIMENT
SCHRYVER'S
PHARMACY
Phone 49

Robert Montgomery, Rita Johnson and Evelyn Keyes who, with Claude Rains and an all star cast of funmakers, bring to the screen the big surprise entertainment of the year, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," opening Sunday midnight at the McCarthy Theatre.

37th. YEAR IN BELLEVILLE.

Last Few Days AUGUST FUR SALE.

"NORTHERN SEAL" COATS

$125.00

EXCLUSIVE IN BELLEVILLE WITH WOODLEY'S

One of the finest seal type fur coats that money may buy. Guaranteed extra choice quality French pelts, of which a very limited supply is to be had — in the newest 1942 styles. Quality linings. Swagger and Princess Models. Sizes 14 to 44. Future orders on these coats will cost $25.00 more.

CHOOSE YOURS TODAY!

BUDGET PLAN — FREE STORAGE.

Woodley . Furriers

273 Front Street

Montreal Recruiting Committee Complains of Lack of Recruits

Montreal, Aug. 28 (CP)— W. B. Scott, K. C., joint chairman of a special recruiting committee for overseas service in this military district, said in a written statement today that "it is time for the public to know and realize that we are not getting the recruits we need for the active army."

"It is also time for the public to do something to encourage recruiting, for the answer to this most important question rests with the public," said Mr. Scott, who shares with Brig. G. P. Vanier the chairmanship of the recruiting committee in Military District No. 4.

"The public seem to have lapsed into an apathetic unconsciousness of the war. A certain amount of enthusiasm was born of the recent recruiting campaign, but the results of this drive in M.D. 4 proved it to have been short lived."

There is a "crying need for realization of individual and collective responsibility by all classes of society," said Mr. Scott's statement, adding:

"People do not seem to realize that recruiting is something which must be constantly maintained. Daily, weekly and monthly quotas are not being filled.

(The monthly quota in M. D. 4 calls for enlistment of more than 1,000 men.)

"There is a continued and growing need for men, both for the Fourth, Fifth (Armored) and Sixth Divisions of the Canadiain Active Army and also to fill the gaps developed from day to day in the divisions already established. If one considers the picture when Canadian troops actually get under fire, the situation becomes just that much more serious."

The recruiting problem, said Mr. Scott, calls for "more active co-operation of all men in public life." The committee is asking the help of all members of Parliament, members of the Legislature and mayors, in addition to leaders of business and social organizations.

"We have received a good deal of co-operation from a number of large industries, who have allowed recruiting to be conducted on their premises. Others have been definitely less hopeful.

Mr. Scott suggested that in war and other industries young men could be replaced by older men and women.

DEATH ROBS BOY OF CHAMPIONSHIP

Lexington, Neb., Aug. 28—(AP)—Death robbed Darrell Timm, 15, of the pride that would have been his when his calf won the Dawson County Fair baby beef grand championship. The lad died a month ago after an operation. A fellow 4-H club member, Robert Smith, showed Darrell's animal to victory.

16 CARS DERAILED

Toronto, Aug. 28—(CP)—Sixteen cars were derailed when a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train left the track 34 miles east of Ridout, Ont., in the Algoma district today. In Toronto Canadian Pacific Railway officials said no one was injured and that the accident was due to a broken rail.

Officials said the line will be opened agani at one o'clock today.

GIVE MORE THOUGHT TO YOUR BREAKFAST

Here's the Way to enjoy THE WHEAT GERM

Serve Cubs

THE NEW WHOLE WHEAT CEREAL

Cubs are made from whole wheat in which the wheat germ is retained in its entirety.

A product of The Canadian Shredded Wheat Company Limited

Cubs contain the whole wheat —the precious wheat germ, the bran, the minerals. And in addition to being a source of nourishment and energy, they are also delightfully tasty. The nut-like flavor of the wheat is blended with mellow malt to make it more enticing still. Give the family a real treat. Serve Cubs tomorrow for breakfast.

SPOON-SIZE READY TO EAT CEREAL

IRAN INVASION FORESEEN IN WAVELL TRANSFER

Fills Out Important Segment of British Grand Strategy

TIP-OFF OF FUTURE

By PAUL K. LEE

Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, Aug. 28 (AP)— When Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell was transferred suddenly on July 2 from Britain's Middle East Command to India, there was talk in some quarters that this most successful British General had been kicked upstairs.

Now, eight weeks later, the transfer has fallen snugly into place like a curiously-shaped piece in a great jigsaw puzzle, filling out an important segment in the panorama of the war and of British grand strategy.

With Wavell in command of the British forces, the Anglo-Russian thrust against Iran appears on the verge of success in the fourth day of a smoothly-operating invasion like that with which Wavell dumfounded the Italians in Libya.

It seems virtually certain that a safe route for British and United States material aid for Russia in her war with Germany, and possibly for British troops as well, is to be opened up across Iran to Russia's Caspian Sea and Caucasus areas.

At the time of his transfer, Wavell was the subject of considerable gossip to the effect that he was in semi-disgrace because, his sweep into Libya was followed by reverses from German-reinforced axis troops and Australian criticism of the Greek and Crete campaigns.

Tip-off of Future

Prime Minister Churchill and the General himself kept silent. Today, the fact that his Indian command is handling the Iranian situation appears to be both an explanation of the past and a tip-off of the future.

The oil of Iran makes that ancient kingdom a worthy prize in itself, but Iran alone could have been taken care of by the Middle East Command. The implication is that much of the material aid for Russia, and possible military aid as well, will come from India.

Whether the United States had any foreknowledge of British intentions with regard to Iran is a matter of pure speculation, but she apparently was alive to the possibilities of the situation. On July 25 it was announced that Lt.-Col. W. P. Draper and Lieut. V. H. Sutro had arrived in India as U. S. military observers.

Details Are Secret

As an arsenal and troop reservoir for Britain, India has been active already. Details are secret, but British sources say India's war effort is increasing every day.

Two weeks ago Wavell made his first broadcast from India, saying: "Our future efforts must continue to prevent the enemy, wherever possible, from getting within striking distance of this country."

He paid tribute to the 60,000 Indian troops who aided him in the Middle East campaigns, and disclosed that 750,000 Indians already were under arms, with recruits flocking to the colors daily.

The Secretary of State for India, L. S. Amery, has estimated that India can raise a tleast 2,000,000 soldiers.

Capt. Mountbatten Given Command Of Aircraft Carrier

Aboard H.M.S. Illustrious, Aug. 28 (AP)—Capt. Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of the King and one of Great Britain's most distinguished naval officers, formally took command of the repaired aircraft carrier Illustrious this morning in a colorful ceremony aboard the ship's flight deck.

(The Illustrious, it was announced last week in New York by the British Press Service, has been undergoing repairs at an undisclosed United States port.)

Lord Mountbatten, who has had two ships of his command sunk, succeeds Capt. G. Seymour Tuck, D.S.O.

The new commanding officer's first official duty was an inspection of the marine guard of honor, after which he was presented to the ship's officer and then to Lt.-Cmdr. Robert Vining, Public Relations Officer for the fifth U.S. naval district, and his staff of officers.

Today was the first time newspaper and newsreel men were permitted aboard the Illustrious, damaged last January in a seven-hour attack by Nazi planes in the Mediterranean.

Syria's Ex-President Visits Free French Leaders at Damascus

Damascus, Aug. 27 —(Delayed)—(AP)—Hachem Bey El Atassi, President of the former Syrian Republic, arrived here today to confer with Gen. Georges Catroux and other Free French leaders.

It was presumed the Syrian leader wished to discuss collaboration with the new Free French regime and the future status of Syria.

Atassi resigned as President of Syria in July, 1939, in protest against Republican France's failure to grant his country independence.

GIRLS' TUNIC BLOUSES

Made of fine quality white cotton broadcloth, neatly trimmed with buttons or bow.

98c

Girls' Early Fall Coats

TEN ONLY GIRLS' COATS, suitable for Early Fall wear. The colors are Sand, Rust, Blue and Green. Sizes 7 to 12 years. EACH 5.95

School Tunics

Tailored in a fine quality navy serge, with box pleats and belts. Sizes 6 to 14.

2.98

Ribbed Hose

Children's fine quality 1 and 1 rib cotton hose. Sand shade. Sizes 7 to 8½.

29c

Girls' Dresses

Made of good quality tubfast Prints; smart new styles and neatly trimmed with Peter Pan collars, braid and buttons.

SIZES 8 TO 14

98c

Girls' Sweaters

Girls' Fall Sweaters in Coat and Pullover style. The colors are Scarlet, Royal, Wine, Copen, Rose and Light Blue.

SIZES 8 TO 14

1.29

KERCHIEFS

Fine lawn Kerchiefs, in attractive printed patterns. Narrow hems.

6 for 25c

BOYS' WOOL Sweater Coats

All wool Coat Sweaters, in brown, grey and blue heather colors, with contrasting trimmings. Sizes 26 to 34.

1.98

LONG PANTS

Tailored from a heavy quality striped drill. High waistbands, side pockets and cuffs. Sizes 26 to 34.

1.69

BOYS' Shirt Waists

Boys' cotton broadcloth shirt waists in a good assortment of striped patterns to choose from. Sizes 10½ to 13.

59c

BOYS' Dress Shirts

Boys' collar attached broadcloth shirts in an assortment of new stripe patterns. Sizes 12½ to 14.

89c

CAMPUS SOCKS

Knit of a fine quality Rayon yarns; Elastic tops; reinforced heels and toes. The colors are Red Earth and Alpine Rose. Pair 49c

WALKER STORES, LIMITED

BELLEVILLE

Back to School

Trenton and District

Trenton Police Investigate Two Accidents

Trenton, Aug. 28 (Special) — A motor accident occurred last night at the intersection of Dufferin Ave., and McGill Street with a terrific impact causing the residents in the neighborhood to gather at the scene with a rush. Fortunately no one was injured but considerable damage was done to both cars. A car owned by the Continental Can Co., of Trenton was proceeding South on Dufferin Ave., driven by Wm. Parnell, Division Street, Trenton, when it collided with a sedan driven by Newman H. Mains of North Gower, Ont. Parnell's car skidded for a considerable distance after the impact striking the east curb on Dufferin Ave., careening across the street striking the west curb, coming to rest on the sidewalk. Three wheels were damaged, the rear left fender crushed so tightly over the wheels that they were locked. Charges will likely be laid.

Allegedly Fails to Observe Signal

The Trenton patrol car was directed by the officer in charge at the police station on Wednesday evening to corner of Dundas and Dufferin Ave. According to Constable Lozo, who investigated the accident, Miss Bessie Fitzgerald, of Wellington, was driving a coupe west on Dundas, proceeding across Dufferin Ave., on the green light when a car owned and driver by Laird Adams, Consecon, travelling south on Dufferin Ave., allegedly failed to observe the traffic signal and crashed into the rear right fender of Miss Fitzgerald's car. Both cars were considerably damaged and according to the investigating officer charges may be laid.

Many Children Lost

The recent influx of residents to Trenton has brought many problems to the police department, not the least of these being the number of children lost every day. This morning a little chap around three years with light blue eyes and fair hair was picked up by a police officer in the middle of the street at the east end of the bridge. Traffic was very heavy at the time and the child narrowly escaped being run over. The officer called the police station and the cruiser was sent out to pick the child up. After three quarters of an hour of extensive enquiry the parents were located on Princess Street and the little lad returned safely to the open arms of his mother who had been frantically searching the neighborhood. The little lad was heard to remark "Gee Mom, can I be a policeman when I grow up."

Apartment Nearing Completion

Trenton's second new apartment house is nearing completion and makes a very fine addition to residential Henry Street. It is extremely modern in every detail and when finished will greatly facilitate the housing problem.

A FRIEND TO EVERY BUDGET
Budget
Carnation
MILK

● If you're looking for ways to economize, try Irradiated Carnation Milk. Costs less, saves refrigeration, most widely useful form of milk, extra vitamin D adds nothing to cost.

A CANADIAN PRODUCT

Picton and District

Picton, Aug. 28 — Mrs. G. M. Hicks entertained a large party of guests at the I.O.D.E. tea at the Chapter House on Saturday afternoon in honour of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Merlin Hicks of Victoriaville, Que., who is her house guest.

Mrs. Vance, Bridge St, is spending this week in Toronto to be near her daughter, Miss Marjorie Vance, who underwent a major operation in Lockwood Clinic on Friday and is making progress towards recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Palmatier are leaving this week for their home in Florida after a five-weeks' vacation with relatives in Prince Edward County.

Mr. John McLellan has accepted a position in Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashby arrived in town last week from England and have taken up residence in Mrs. F. Kelner's house on Union St. Mrs. Ashby finds shopping in Canada a thrill, after the restrictions in the Old Country and refers to Canada as the "land of plenty." In England, she says, one has plenty but little choice of food.

Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Philp left on Monday to spend a few days in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bond are spending a few days in Toronto the guest of their daughter, Mrs. Thos. Desjardin and family.

THE WAR TODAY

By H. M. PETERS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The greatest test of Russia's ability to continue to fight off Hitler's mechanized hordes appears to be approaching rapidly now that the Nazis are penetrating territory which is more important economically to the Soviets than that lost in the first two months of the onslaught.

The Germans claim the Leningrad-Moscow railway has been cut and that to the south they have established bridgeheads on the far bank of the Dnieper River to menace the basin between the Dnieper and the Don. Neither claim has been confirmed or denied by Moscow but both appear probable in view of the general situation.

Now the Russians are ready to embark upon a stout military-civilian defence of Leningrad while yielding scorched ground in attacks as slowly as possible, and at the highest cost to the foe.

Earned World's Praise

All summer the Russians have earned the world's praise for the stubborn, unflinching defence they have put up against Hitler's armored columns. Now they can be expected to show what extent they have developed their secondary line of economic defence—whether the new factories far behind the present battlelines are equipped and ready to take up the slack in the supply lines caused by loss of much industrial capacity in the Ukraine and replace the normal losses in the battlefield.

Open Backdoor Route

Meanwhile the British and Russian forces seeking to open a new backdoor supply route to the Soviet report appreciable progress in the invasion of Iran. Russian troops pushing southward into Iran from the Caucasus have reached Turkmanchai on the road to Teheran after an advance of 70 miles from Tabriz. British troops advancing eastward and northward from the Persian Gulf continue to make steady progress.

Announcement that Riza Shah Pahlevi, the Iranian ruler, had accepted the resignation of his cabinet and was forming a new government was taken in London as an indication that peace overtures were near.

Whatever the significance of these developments, London sources expressed belief that the British-Russian Allies would not cease military operations until they had established a corridor to the Soviet and expelled all Germans from Iran.

ANTS DISPERSE HOME GUARDS

Tallahassee, Fla., Aug. 28 —(AP)—Captain Hugh Mays was dismayed when his company of home guards, neatly dressed in new uniforms, broke ranks without orders and dispersed, yelling in pain. Mays had halted the unit on a big ant bed.

MAIL SHIP LOST

London, Aug. 28 —(CP)— The Postmaster General announced today that ship mail sent from the United States to the United Kingdom from June 3 to June 10 has been lost through enemy action.

WITH A John Deere TRACTOR

● YOUR WORK IS EASIER.
● YOUR HOURS ARE SHORTER.
● YOUR COST IS LESS.

Nothing has been overlooked. Nothing has been neglected. Nothing has been left undone to make the John Deere the GREATEST OF ALL STANDARD TREAD TRACTORS.

WHETHER YOUR JOB IS BIG OR SMALL THERE IS A MODEL TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS.

See the John Deere Tractors at Trudeau Motor Sales

Wife meets wife and Dennis Morgan is in the middle. He's protecting wife number two, Jane Wyatt, from wife number one, Shirley Ross, in the above scene from the sparkling comedy romance, "Kisses For Breakfast," now on the Belle screen.

Want Ads Are Used All Over the World for the Same Reason—Results

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per insertion 30c

Two insertions 60c

Three insertions 75c

Over Twenty Words, [illegible] per word per insertion.

Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS
REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1673

Representing

CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE

Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

CEMENT MIXER AND MAN TO operate same is for rent. Apply 2238. A26-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J. 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A15-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 148 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE", 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 230 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 300. Lady attendant.

H. R. and VERA B. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE

269½ Front St. Phone 492

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass

278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

KISSES FOR BREAKFAST
Dennis Morgan, Jane Wyatt, Shirley Ross
2.40 — 7.00 — 9.50

DANCE HALL
Cesar Romero, Carole Landis
4.00 — 8.35

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR
James Cagney, Pat O'Brien
Frank McHugh
2.15 — 7.45 — 10.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

SUNSET IN WYOMING
Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette
7.35 — 10.00

REPENT AT LEISURE
Kent Taylor, Wendy Barrie
8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 18-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27

WANTED

BY SEPTEMBER 15, TWO OR three light housekeeping rooms, West Hill preferred. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer. A28-3t

GIRL FOR LIGHT HOUSEWORK. Sleep out. Apply 55 East Moira. A28-3t

WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE $35 to $50 or more weekly and be your own boss? Let me show you how I am doing it with no worries of losing job. It will cost nothing to enquire and see if you can qualify for present opening. Apply Gus Olsson, 257 John Street, Belleville, after 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 1 p.m. Saturday, August 28, 29 and 30. A28-3t

GIRL TO ASSIST WITH HOUSEwork. Write Mrs. H. M. Wannamaker, Carrying Place, or Phone 39, Mountain View, reversing charges. A28

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEwork. Experienced. Phone, Trenton 881. A28-3t

POSITION AS HOUSEKEEPER IN Adult home. Apply at 272 Coleman Street c/o Mrs. Cooney. A28-2t

YOUNG MAN TO DELIVER ON bicycle and help in store. Must be sixteen or over. Clarke and Miles. A28

A DELIVERY BOY, WITH OR without bicycle. Steady position if satisfactory. Livesey Meat Market, 18½ W. Bridge Street. A28-3t

FURNISHED APARTMENT OR house for first of October— no objection to children. Apply Box 1, Ontario Intelligencer. A28

CAPABLE GIRL FOR GENERAL housework; good with children. References required. Phone 1454M. after 7 evenings. A28-2t

ROOM AND BOARD BY YOUNG single man. Central. Write Box 11 Ontario Intelligencer. A27-2t

HOUSE WANTED — 2 OR MORE bedrooms. Possession soon as possible. East Hill preferred. Phone 706. A27-4t

PERSON WHO CAN PROVIDE room and board for students, to call Ontario Business College, 275 Front St., Belleville. Telephone 134. A27-2t

2 OR 3 HEATED ROOMS, UNfurnished and Phone 1091M. A27-3t

EXPERIENCED HOUSE MAID and waitress. Apply in person only. Hotel Belvedere. A27-6t

AT ONCE, AN EXPERIENCED cook at the County Home. Phone 425. A26-3t

FURNISHED APARTMENT OR rooms in Belleville or Mountain View. Write Box 21, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

THREE OR FOUR ROOMS OR apartment by September 1st. Write Box 12, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

EXPERIENCED PRESSER BY Odorless Cleaners. Apply Front St., Belleville. A26-3t

TO BUY — GIRL'S SMALL USED bicycle; must be in good condition. Phone 868. A26-3t

POSITION AS HOUSEMAN AND Cook. Good references. Apply Box 46, Ontario Intelligencer. A26-3t

WAITRESS, AT ONCE. MUST BE neat. Experienced only required. Apply in person only. Paragon Cafe. A26-3t

HOUSEKEEPER TO TAKE FULL charge of home. 3 adults. No objection to child. C. H. Palmer, Consecon. A25-6t

TENDERS WANTED
COUNTY OF HASTINGS

Tenders will be received by the undersigned, up until NOON, MONDAY, September 8th, 1941, for 30 tons of stove and nut coal, delivered at the County Buildings, Belleville.

Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

ERLE S. DENYES,
230 Church St. County Clerk,
Belleville, Ont. A26-28

TENDERS WANTED
COUNTY OF HASTINGS

Tenders will be received by the undersigned, up until NOON, MONDAY, September 8th, 1941, for 100 cords, more or less, of dry body hardwood, delivered at the County Buildings, Belleville, Ont.

Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

ERLE S. DENYES,
230 Church St. County Clerk,
Belleville, Ont. A26-28

LOST

AERIAL OFF CAR ON WEDnesday afternoon on road between Belleville and Oak Hill Lake. Finder return to Ontario Intelligencer office for reward.

LOWER HALF OF MAN'S FOUNtain pen, green, Wahl Eversharp; between Dundas and Front Sts. Return to 156 Dundas Street E. A28

SMALL GOLD LOCKET BEtween Church Street and Mead Johnson, via. Dundas St. Finder kindly Phone 2461R. A27-3t

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN RESULTS ARE OBTAINED YEARLY FROM WANT ADS.

—YET YOU CAN BUY ONE FOR
AS LITTLE AS THIRTY CENTS.

FOR SALE

GOOD GRAIN AND HAY FARM, mile north Stirling. George Griffin farm. Apply on premises or Mrs. Garney Reid, 228 Coleman Street, Belleville. A28

1941 MODEL BEATTY WASHER; all white. Must be sold this week for balance owing; big saving. Terms can be arranged. Call at 225 Front St. A28-2t

BABY'S GO-CART AND MAN'S and lady's fall coats, sizes 40 and 16. Excellent condition. Phone 2320W. A28

BAY GELDING, RISING 4. E. N. Wilson, Roslin. A23-26-28

SECOND CROP ALFALFA, COILed in field. W. A. Clazie, R.R. 4, Belleville, No. 2 Highway, east of Belleville. A28

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, good condition. 6 ft. box. Call 721W or 169 Albert St. A27-3t

94 ACRE FARM, LOT 30, CON. 6, Thurlow; well watered and fenced. Apply Oran Conley, Plainfield. A27-3t

FARM, 2 MILES EAST MADOC Village, 120 acres work land. Good buildings. Equipped with Hydro, telephone. Apply Geo. Walsh, R. 3, Madoc. A27-3t

2½ H. P. JOHNSTON TWIN. A1 condition. Bargain if sold today. 7 Grove St. Phone 493. A26-3t

1 TEAM WORK HORSES FOR sale cheap. Leo Brennan, Corbyville. A26-3t

MOTORCYCLE, 1940 INDIAN Scout, and side-car. Only six thousand miles. Excellent condition. See at Red Indian Service Station, Bridge and Front 7 to 9 p.m. A27-3t

THAT FINE BRICK HOME, GIVins Estate, 281 Bleecker. Four bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, back and front verandahs, lot 50 x 150. Laundry tubs in cellar. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

OLDSMOBILE COUPE, 1930, IN good condition. F. McCracken, R.C.A.F., Mountain View. A27-2t

A BLACK AND TAN FOX AND deer hound; two years old. Fred Aikens, R.R. 2, Belleville. A27-3t

VERY MODERN HOME, 154 ALbert. Back and front verandahs, newly painted, living room, dining room, kitchen, reception hall, French doors, hardwood floors throughout, 3 bedrooms, one with wash basin, 3 piece bath, modern hot water system, with low type radiators, laundry tubs, screens and storm windows. Lot 50 x 100. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

MASSEY HARRIS COM. BINDER, almost new. John Jeffrey, West Huntingdon. Phone Stirling, 641. A27-3t

7 ROOM FRAME HOUSE AND barn, 5 acres garden land, situated on Foxboro Highway, just outside city limits. This is a real bargain at $2000.00. Taxes only $33.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

GOOD WORK HORSE; 8 GRADE Oxford ewes; one thoroughbred Oxford ram. Apply F. McDonald, half mile west Stirling. A26-3t

ON LARGE LOT, FIVE ROOMED house on West Hill; modern, except furnace; hardwood floors downstairs; chestnut trim; full basement; screened porch. Interested parties write Box 28 Ontario Intelligencer. A26-6t

7 ROOM FRAME, 312 CHARLES Street. 4 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 piece bath, garage, large lot. Full particulars as to price and terms on application. Belleville Realty Co. Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

9 ROOM BRICK, FOSTER AVE., converted into three apartments of 3 rooms each. Hardwood floors, furnace, good basement. Tax is only $115.00. Lot 100 x 132 This is a real money maker and a bargain at $3000.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

FOR SALE

SOUTH HALF OF LOT 15 AND south quarter of Lot 16, Concession 5, Thurlow; consisting of 150 acres of good land, modern frame dwelling, steel truss barn, 36' x 84', basement stables, and other necessary buildings; never failing water, water in front of cattle, Hydro and telephone. Fred A. Treverton, Corbyville. A7-14-21-28

175 WEST MOIRA STREET, substantial brick house in good state of repair. Living room, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms, bath, hot air heating, garage for three cars. This is a desirable property in a nice location. Reasonable price for cash. Inspection by appointment only. Apply Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A27-tf

100 ACRES, MOSTLY WOODLAND —8th. of Sidney, part of Hamilton estate. Apply Nelson Stapley, Stirling, or John Wilson, 40 Olive St. A26-3t

STUDIO FURNITURE, FIXTURES and large quantity of 2 x 4, 12 ft. long. Robt. Turney, 25 Bridge St. East. A26-3t

TO LET

APARTMENT, FURNISHED AND heated. Every convenience. Central. Phone 1651W. Immediate possession. A28

3 ROOMED HEATED UPPER APartment; hot water; private entrance. No children. 27 Queen St. Phone 827J. A28-3t

FOR SEPTEMEBER - OCTOBER, furnished summer cottage, Trenton Road. Electricity, fireplace, bathroom. Apply Mrs. Cooper. Phone 951W. A28-3t

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF SARAH JANE ROSS, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Widow, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1937, Chapter 165, Section 51, that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of Sarah Jane Ross, late of the City of Belleville in the County of Hastings, who died on or about the 17th. of May, 1941, are requested to forward their claims, duly proven, to the undersigned on or before the 22nd. of September, 1941.

AND NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that after the said date the executrix will proceed to distribute the estate among the parties entitled thereto having regard only to such claims of which she shall then have notice.

Dated at Belleville this 20th. day of August, 1941.

CAMERON & SPRAGUE.
Barristers, Etc.
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitors for the executrix.
A21-28-S4.

Low-lying P.E.I.—

No point on Prince Edward Island is more than 450 feet above sea level.

Smiley Burnette and his pal, Gene Autry, are back in their latest musical western, "Sunset in Wyoming," now at the Capitol Theatre. The same program includes "Repent at Leisure," a delightful romantic comedy.

IN MEMORIAM

FORDYCE — In loving memory of our Georgie, who passed away August 28, 1939.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Mother, Daddy, Francis and Ronna. A28

FORDYCE — In loving memory of Georgie Fordyce, who passed away August 28th., 1939.
Till memory fades and life departs
She will live forever in our hearts.
—Sadly missed by Nana, Papa, Eva and Marian. A28

DEATHS

DIAMOND — Suddenly on Thursday morning, August 28th., 1941 at his residence, 244 George St. Belleville, James Howard Diamond.

Resting at Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home, 38 Everett St., from where the funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon, August 30th. Service in the Chapel at 2.30 o'clock.

Interment Belleville Cemetery. A28

HIS HEATING PROBLEM—

SOLVED!

THROUGH THE FRIENDLY SERVICE OF THE QUINTE FINANCE

Now, if you want to play safe you may borrow for your winter's coal and pay it back in 15 easy monthly payments.

QUINTE FINANCE
and
SECURITIES LIMITED.

168 Front St. Phone 168

'39 STUDEBAKER CHAMPION with radio. This is a beautiful car.

'38 PLYMOUTH SEDAN with heater. An exceptionally good car.

'38 DODGE COACH with heater. Motor just completely reconditioned.

'38 DODGE SEDAN with heater. Perfect condition.

'35 HUDSON SEDAN. Good condition. Good family car.

'29 DESOTO COUPE. A real buy.

'29 CHEVROLET SEDAN. Especially priced for quick sale.

'28 CHEVROLET SEDAN. All new tires. Motor overhauled.

THESE CARS MUST BE SOLD.

— EASY TERMS —

QUINTE MOTORS

11 Moira St. Phone 1400

IF YOU NEED $100
HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $500 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan
	6 paymts	10 paymts	12 paymts	15 paymts
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.26	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2% monthly as authorized by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
Corporation of Canada
Established in Canada 1878
PETERBOROUGH, ONT.
Second Floor, Lansfield Block
177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws
M. E. Hall, Manager Phone 5841

AT THE McCARTHY

"Devil Dogs of the Air"

James Cagney is here. Pat O'Brien is here. The two scrappiest, happiest, flyin' devil dogs are now on the McCarthy Theatre screen in Warner Bros. fun-filled thriller, "Devil Dogs of the Air."

Cagney and O'Brien play the roles of the two tough marines in the Aviation Corps who are determined to outsmart each other both in flying and in romance. The romance comes when each makes a play for lovely Margaret Lindsay who has the constant task of trying to keep them from tearing each other apart, to be head man and her sweetheart. Frank McHugh plays the part of an ambulance driver who is sad because no one gets hurt. For grand week-end entertainment, don't miss "Devil Dogs of the Air." Rounding out the program in fine style is the new Three Stooges comedy-scream "I'll Never Heil Again," also an excellent sports subject and the third chapter of "White Eagle" featuring Buck Jones, the most thrilling serial attraction ever presented at the McCarthy Theatre.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordon"

Remember "The Doctor Takes a Wife," "He Stayed For Breakfast" and the recent hit, "This Thing Called Love," well they were good, but just wait until Sunday midnight when "Here Comes Mr. Jordon" starring Robert Montgomery, opens at the McCarthy Theatre, and you will call it the greatest of all screen comedies. Daring in story. Different in characters. Delightful in the way it envelopes you in laughter, "Here Comes Mr. Jordon" can be best appreciated by the following statement by Walter Winchell: " 'Here Comes Mr. Jordon' is one of the finest pictures I've ever seen."

AT THE BELLE

"Kisses for Breakfast"

Amnesia may not be very funny to the victims but it provides a riotous theme for Warner Bros.' gay new comedy, "Kisses For Breakfast," which is now playing at the Belle Theatre.

Dennis Morgan portrays the victim of the loss of memory and Jane Wyatt and Shirley Ross are a couple of girls he marries.

Right after Dennis marries Shirley he's beaten up by a jealous girl friend. His memory completely gone, he wanders South, meets and marries Jane. Soon after, she takes him to her cousin's wedding, and the cousin turns out to be none other than Shirley, who imagines herself a widow.

Shirley sics a doctor onto Dennis and the amnesia is cured. Now he doesn't remember Jane. Jane gets angry and knocks him out. After much tearing about it's Dennis himself who finds a solution as unique as the problem.

To help with the merry pace a roster of talented players including Lee Patrick, Jerome Cowan, Una O'Connor, Louise Beavers and Clarence Muse.

"Dance Hall," Comedy-Drama

Romantic Cesar Romero meets up with blonde and beautiful Carol Landis in the new 20th Century-Fox comedy, "Dance Hall," the companion feature attraction.

Romero as Duke, the manager of a dance hall, has quite a reputation as a local Casanova. But he fails to impress Carole, who is a newcomer to the dance palace. And when this same blonde barges into a crap game in which Duke is a big winner and then cleans him out, he really loses his ego. From that moment, Duke is out to get even — and how he does it makes for top-flight entertainment.

Romero is given the opportunity to play the same type of role he did so well in "Tall, Dark and Handsome," while Miss Landis as "Venus," the entertainer, is outstanding.

The fine supporting cast is headed by William Henry, June Storey and J. Edward Bromberg.

Skinny Ennis and his orchestra presenting a smart musical revue will be exhibited on the same program.

"Dance Hall," at the Belle Theatre is packed with laughs and romance. Cesar Romero and Carole Landis are starred, while June Storey and William Henry are importantly featured.

USED CARS
Aselstine's Shell Service

Operating at head of UPPER BRIDGE, BELLEVILLE, in collaboration with NAPANEE MOTORS, LIMITED, are offering for sale at these premises, GUARANTEED USED CARS. A call is solicited. Offerings at present are as follows:

1940 PLYMOUTH COACH.
1940 DODGE.
1938 DESOTO SEDAN.
1937 PACKARD SEDAN.

PHONE 480

A28-3t

AT THE CAPITOL

"Sunset in Wyoming"

The shocking rate at which our forests are being denuded, with the resultant soil erosion, is the subject on which Republic has based its newest Gene Autry musical western, "Sunset in Wyoming," which is now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Autry is his usual engaging self in the current film, with plenty of opportunities to sing the type of western ballad which has made him the world's most popular cowboy.

For comedy relief, he has the able support of Smiley Burnette, who is one of the screen's few true comedians, his laughs coming not from the lines of a clever gag writer, or the ingenuity of a clever make-up man, but from the antics of the actor himself.

Lovely Maris Wrixon scores in the feminine lead, portraying with conviction the role of the pampered society beauty who is brought to time by the handsome cowboy.

"Repent at Leisure"

A platonic romance that blossoms into true love only to pursue a stormy road after wedding bells ring out, forms the absorbing plot of "Repent at Leisure," now at the Capitol.

Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie enact the principal roles in "Repent at Leisure," a comedy-drama, which presents Miss Barrie as a runaway heiress who falls in love with an energetic tie salesman in her millionaire father's department store. Thinking she is an unemployed model, he befriends her, gives her food and lodging and soon a warm romance develops.

But their subsequent marriage almost goes on the rocks when the proud young man, whose advancement at the store has been phenomenal due to his wife's secret efforts in his behalf) suddenly learns he is married to his boss' daughter and that his own ability apparently isn't responsible for his amazing progress.

Drama, laughs and excitement are said to mark the ensuing events which lead to the story's surprise climax. Directed by Frank Woodruff, for RKO Radio, "Repent at Leisure" offers in supporting roles such notable players as George Barbier, Rafael Storm, Thurston Hall and Nella Walker.

The same program includes the eighth chapter of "The Mysterious Doctor Satan" and the latest news reel.

'Labor's Loyalty Is Unquestioned' Says Tom Moore

Montreal, Aug. 28 (CP)—In a Labor Day message to workers, Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, says "labor's loyalty is unquestioned; it seeks not to retard the war effort but to intensify it and strongly objects to being charged with being either unpatriotic or obstructionist when it presses claims, proper consideration of which it is firmly convinced is necessary to maintain and strengthen civilian morale."

The message was released here by the Montreal Trades and Labor council and the Quebec Federation of Labor.

"While recognizing that it is better temporarily to accept any essential modification of its established conditions than to lose all, labor does insist that these shall be affected by consultation and accepted only when the need for same is shown," the message said. "In doing this, it looks ahead and sees no reason why even in the midst of war, foundations should not be strengthened on which a more just and equitable democracy can be built in the post-war reconstruction period."

BUSINESS LINERS

Fall is the Best Time to Reseed your Lawn. Sow yours with our Lawn Seed. 30c and 50c lb., at BISHOP'S SEED STORE. A28

Blitzbits

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 28. (CP)—Blitz Bits: James Rimmer, a former Kennelman of Windsor, got a baker to bake him some bread to save his greyhounds from starving. He was fined $225 for wasting the bread and the baker was fined $45.

Most Bristol people have put on weight during air raids even when spending night after night in shelters, says Miss M. I. Dunsdon, Bristol City Psychologist.

London's bus girls wear trousers instead of skirts this winter and three-quarter length overcoats. Officials of the London passenger transport board believe the slacks will solve the stocking shortage problem.

Explosion of the boilers of a torpedo and sinking ship blew a seaman to the surf and saved his life, said another survivor, Charles Harris. The seaman bumped against the side of the ship after jumping into the water and was dragged down by the suction as it sank. The explosion of the boilers blew him to the surface again.

A bullock climbed a spiral staircase 180 feet high at the old hall, Costessy, near Norwich, and then became trapped on a narrow ledge. Rescuers couldn't get it down so they shot it.

• • • •

Shortage of automobile spare parts is acute. Motorists whose cars break down may have to do without them for months.

• • • •

In 20 months the town of Ashford, Kent, with a population of 16,000, has raised $4,500,000 in war savings.

• • • •

Lt.-Cmdr. Victor (Monkey) Grenfell, who led his squadron in a heavy fleet air arm raid on Petsamo, is safe, his mother has been advised. Previously it was feared he was among the men in the 16 planes lost in the attack.

• • • •

The navy has ordered a large number of Ferro-Concrete barges, each capable of carrying up to 200 tons of cargo.

• • • •

The Royal National Lifeboat Institution received £7 13 shillings ninepence (about $33) from officers and men of the destroyer Fearless sunk in the Mediterranean.

CURED AFTER 20 YEARS

Sydney, N.S.W.—(CP) — After 20 years in a military mental hospital here, a soldier has been discharged as cured by advanced methods of treatment, including occupational therapy.

SEA CADET ADMIRAL

Plymouth (CP)—Sir Lionel Halsey, Naval Equerry to King George, has accepted the post of Admiral of the Sea Cadet Corps. There are more than 100 sea cadet units in Britain.

Your favorite western star, Gene Autry, is back in his newest music and action picture, "Sunset in Wyoming," now at the Capitol Theatre. The same program includes a delightful romantic comedy "Repent at Leisure," starring Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie.

FREE! Pictures of Britain's Fighting Planes and Warships

"SPITFIRE" - "HURRICANE" - "DEFIANT"
"BLENHEIM BOMBER" "WELLINGTON BOMBER"
"SUNDERLAND FLYING BOAT"
H.M.S. HOOD - RODNEY - ARK ROYAL
H.M. DESTROYER ([illegible]) SUBMARINE ([illegible])
MOTOR TORPEDO BOAT and others

Send two box tops from packages of Canada Corn Starch for each picture requested. Write your name and address on one of the box tops, with the name of the desired picture—then mail them to Dept. C.B., The Canada Starch Company, 49 Wellington St. E., Toronto, Ont.

These wonderful Pictures are also obtainable for 2 box-tops from packages of BENSON'S CORN STARCH or
SILVER GLOSS LAUNDRY STARCH or 1 complete label from a tin of CROWN BRAND SYRUP,
LILY WHITE SYRUP
KARO
(for each picture desired).

FOR BETTER DESSERTS! CANADA CORN STARCH

Dazzling Promise

By
KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

Chris Cupp's Surprise

One thing was certain, Dona thought, as she drew a flowing robe over her pajamas, she'd have to move into a cheaper hotel for the remainder of her stay in Los Angeles. Her money was running low. If she didn't get something to do soon, she'd be in a serious situation.

She went to a small desk, got out pen and hotel stationery, and jotted down a set of figures, in an effort to make Tug's hospital bills and her own living expenses come out even with her savings.

But she finally threw down the pen in disgust, wadded the paper into a ball and sent it flying viciously into the wastebasket.

It was no use. All these expenses of hers added up to catastrophe. She must go to an employment agency the first thing in the morning and locate an immediate job. She couldn't allow Tom or his father to assist her out of sympathy. Besides, they'd be certain to settle her in Unadilla and she shouldn't be so near Tom. If she were a great distance from him, not obliged to encounter him too often, her life might become fairly bearable.

Yes, it would be best to put long miles between them.

In the morning, she was shocked into wakefulness by the sharp ring of the telephone beside her bed.

She bounced upright in bed and snatched the receiver.

"Hello," she said, in swift alarm. Was Tug worse? Was the hospital calling?

"Miss Nickelson?" asked a voice she did not immediately recognise.

"Yes."

"This is Christopher Cupp. Excuse the early call. I wanted to reach you before you went out."

"Oh yes — good morning, Mr. Cupp," she said, her anxiety relieved.

She glanced hastily at her wrist watch and was surprised to find it was after 9 o'clock. She'd have to hurry and dress, get down town to an agency She hoped this man wasn't going to delay her.

"Could you manage to give me a few minutes soon?" he was asking now. "I'd like to discuss a matter of business with you."

"Business?" came from her in astonishment.

"Yes. Tom thought you'd be interested."

Oh. Why—yes, certainly—I'll be down in the lounge within an hour, if you wish."

"Thank you. I'll be waiting for you, Miss Nickelson."

She hung up excitedly. This famous man probably had a great deal of business to attend to. Perhaps he was looking for a secretary. Precious Tom! He'd recommended her!

She jumped out of bed and rushed through bathing and dressing, tingling with anticipation.

She breakfasted quickly in the hotel's coffee shop where prices were reasonable and met Christopher Cupp in the hotel lounge exactly within the hour, as she had agreed.

They dropped into high-backed, red velvet chairs by the tall front windows. Mulberry velvet draperies formed a backdrop now for Dona's exquisite, intent little face under her white hat. Her lithe little figure in the blue suit poised expectantly in the big chair, and the perfectly shaped legs and ankles below her knee-length skirt were not lost upon Christopher Cupp, connoisseur of beautiful women.

"This is very nice of you, Mr. Cupp," Dona told him, in her sweetly modulated voice. "I hope Mr. Castor gave me a good recommendation. I've been doing secretarial work long enough to know something about it, I believe, and —"

"What a pity!"

Dona's blue eyes widened in surprise. She felt herself flushing under the cooly competent scrutiny of this artist. His large black eyes with their long-fringed lashes, his black wavy hair worn long, and his features almost too delicate for a man, made him look weakly sensual. The nervous way he moved his long artistic fingers was disquieting and she wondered if she liked him.

"I'll come directly to the point, Miss Nickelson," he told her now. "I admired your face last night — this morning I see an even rarer beauty in it. Will you model for me?"

Dona was amazed. She got out nervously, "Why—I—I'd like it, of course. But I've never done anything like it. Perhaps I—"

"You can learn. I think you're the exact type for my next Yellowbook cover. Sparkling, gay, petite—yet a certain sweet underlying somberness—the unsophisticated June graduate. Perfect! We'll begin at once!"

"You mean—today?" asked Dona, fairly startled at this speed.

"Either today or tomorrow. Your salary will be seventy-five a week to start. I'll raise it later if you continue with me. I furnish your wardrobe. After I've drawn the clothes you can keep them."

"This is too marvelous, Mr. Cupp!" she burst out breathlessly. "Thank you so much! I'll try so hard to make good!"

Seventy-five a week! It made her dizzy.

Christopher Cupp went on to explain further about her work. He said that he was temporarily located in this hotel—he had a studio on the roof—and it would be best for her to continue to live in the hotel, also.

He ended by sending her downtown to purchase a suitable graduation dress, a large floppy hat and slippers.

"A distinctly girlish outfit, you see. Like you wore when you were graduated from some place or other. You understand?"

It was only his eyes that caressed her. His voice was strictly business. A queer combination, she thought a little dubiously.

But she quickly assured him that she understood perfectly what he wanted and she left him, feeling she had at last come into her grand opportunity, so far as jobs went. No letters to write, no irritable supercilious women to pacify! All she had to do from now on was to look beautiful. And she'd be closer to making ends meet on that seventy-five than she'd ever dreamed of being.

A wave of tender gratitude toward Tom and all the nice kind people in the world was sailing through her when late that afternoon she returned to the hotel. She had found exactly what she wanted after trying on dozens of dresses, hats and shoes in various smart shops. She was now beautifully prepared, so far as clothes went, to be the sweet girl graduate in lovely fragile simplicity tomorrow morning in Mr. Cupp's studio.

But when she passed the desk in the lobby, the clerk handed her two slips of paper. He said that two people had called and wished her to telephone them when she returned.

On one slip was Tom's name and she was glad, because she wanted to thank him for the incredible luck he had been instrumental in sending her. But the other call worried her. It had been from Bob Platt, the unpredictable.

What could Bob want now, after all the trouble she had tried to make? How could she have the face to ask for bare courtesy, after the way she apparently had maligned Dona Nickelson in an attempt to save herself?

Upon reaching her room, Dona called up Tom before removing her hat and coat. He was in his room waiting to hear from her.

"I don't know how to say thank you again," she began eagerly. "It's beginning to sound trite—I say it so often."

"Why bother then?" he laughed. "I'm glad Chris got in touch with you." Tom was quite impersonal over this hotel wire.

"I thought it might help you temporarily," he added.

"Temporarily?" she asked.

"That's what I gathered from Chris. He employs a number of models, you know—but they're in New York. He does most of his work there."

Dona's spirits wilted somewhat. Then she remembered what Mr. Cupp had said about raising her salary, if she continued with him. She wondered if Mr. Cupp had sensed Tom's interest in her and tried to be diplomatic.

Well, only time would tell whether she had to be especially aware of Christopher Cupp. Just now she didn't intend to allow anything to spoil her lovely new job. She would make such a fine model, Mr. Christopher Cup couldn't get along without her.

"Oh, I'm sure Mr. Cupp can find hundreds of girls to pose—but I'm glad of the golden opportunity," she told Tom lightly.

"Yes, it's fortunate. Chris pays well and working for him a few days will tide you over until I hear definitely from father."

So he had already started the ball rolling in her direction!

She didn't propose to return to Unadilla to st[illegible]rmanently. But this di[illegible] the or place to te[illegible]

(TO [illegible]ED)

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

THURSDAY, AUGUST 28.

4.00—News; Recital Series—CBL.
5.00—I Like Calgary—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.15—News of the World—WEAF, WGY
7.30—Cugat Rumba Revue; Lina Romay and Carmen Castille, vocalists — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.30—Camp Life Overseas—CBL WEAF, WGY
8.00—The Housewarming; Benny Goodman's Orch.; Guests:
9.00—Major Bowes—WABC, CFRB
9.00—Music Hall; Don Ameche, m.c.—WEAF, CBL
9.00—Grant Park Concert—WJZ
9.30—All-Star Football Game—WJZ, CBL
10.00—Les Concerts Symphoniques—CBL
10.00—Rudy Vallee Program — WEAF, WHAM
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orch.—WJR, WABC
10.30—Good Neighbors, drama—WEAF
10.30—Toronto Symphony Concert—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
12.00—News; Benny Goodman's Orch.—WJZ

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
11.00—Treet Time; Buddy Clark—WABC, WGR
12.00—News—CBL
1.15—Vincent Lopez' Orch.—CBL
2.30—"Pops" Concert—CBL
5.15—Wishart Campbell, songs—CBL
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.00—Bridge to Yesterday—WJZ, WHAM
7.30—Rhyme and Rhythm Club — WEAF
7.30—Southern Cruise; Frances Langford and Dick Powell—WABC, WGR
8.00—Concert with Lucille Manners, quartet, Frank Black's Orch.—WEAF, WBEN, CBL
8.00—Claudia and David; Patricia Ryan and Richard Kollmar WABC, WGR
8.30—Woodland Concert; News—CBL
8.30—Information Please; Quiz Program—WEAF, WGY
8.30—Proudly We Hail—WABC, WGR
9.00—Great Moments from Great Plays—WABC, WGR
9.00—Vox Pop—WJZ
9.00—Waltz Time—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Canadian Theatre of the Air—CBL
9.30—Uncle Walter's Dog House—WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hollywood Premiere—WGR
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ, WHAM
10.00—Quiet Victory—CBL
10.00—Romance and Rhythm—WJZ WHAM
10.00—Penthouse Party; Ilka Chase, m.c.; Paul Barron's Orch.—WABC, WGR
10.30—First Piano Quartet—WJZ
10.30—Listen, America — WEAF, WGY
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—World Affairs—CBL
11.30—BBC News Reel—CBL
12.00—News; Teddy Powell's Orch.—WABC

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS

	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150

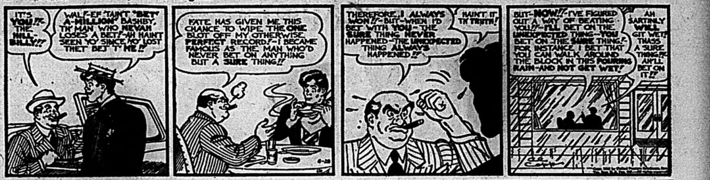
UNITED STATES STATIONS

KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

Good Old Capt. Cook—

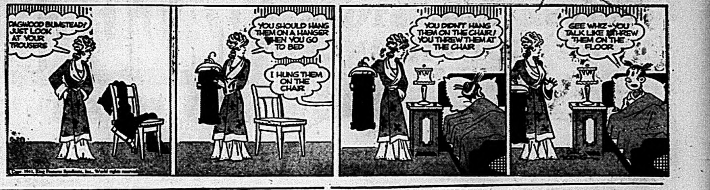
Captain James Cook explored Nootka Sound on Vancouver Island an dclaimed the northwest coast of North America for Britain in 1778.

LI'L ABNER — Bashly Bets Again ! By Al Capp



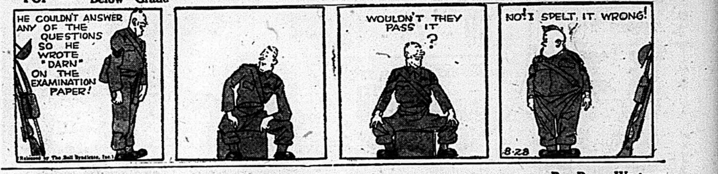
IT'S YOU!!-THE HILL-BILLY!!
WAL!-EF 'TAINT "BET" A-MILLION" BASHBY, TH' MAN WHO NEVAH LOSES A BET!-AH HAINT SEEN YO' SINCE YO' LOST THET BET T' ME!!
FATE HAS GIVEN ME THIS CHANCE TO WIPE THE ONE BLOT OFF MY OTHERWISE PERFECT RECORD!-I BECAME FAMOUS AS THE MAN WHO'D NEVER BET ON ANYTHING BUT A SURE THING!!
THEREFORE, I ALWAYS WON!!-BUT-WHEN I'D BET WITH YOU-THE SURE THING NEVER HAPPENED-THE UNEXPECTED THING ALWAYS HAPPENED!!
HAIN'T IT TH' TRUTH!
BUT-NOW!!-I'VE FIGURED OUT A WAY OF BEATING YOU!!-I'LL BET ON THE UNEXPECTED THING-YOU BET ON THE SURE THING!-FOR INSTANCE I BET THAT YOU CAN WALK AROUND THE BLOCK IN THIS POURING RAIN-AND NOT GET WET!
AH SARTINLY WILL GIT WET!! THASS A SURE THING!!-AH'LL BET ON IT!!
8-28

BLONDIE — Harsh Language! By Chic Young



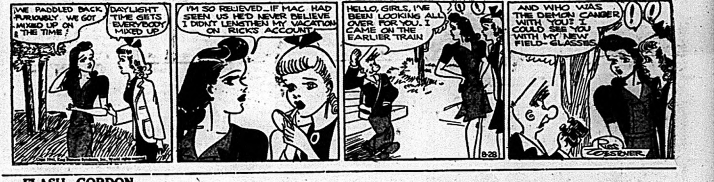
DAGWOOD BUMSTEAD! JUST LOOK AT YOUR TROUSERS
YOU SHOULD HANG THEM ON A HANGER WHEN YOU GO TO BED
I HUNG THEM ON THE CHAIR
YOU DIDN'T HANG THEM ON THE CHAIR! YOU THREW THEM AT THE CHAIR
GEE WHIZ-YOU TALK LIKE I THREW THEM ON THE FLOOR
8-28

POP — Below Grade By J. Millar Watt



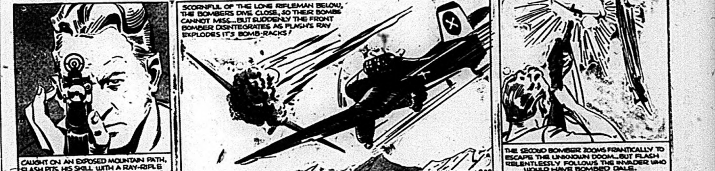
HE COULDN'T ANSWER ANY OF THE QUESTIONS SO HE WROTE "DARN" ON THE EXAMINATION PAPER!
WOULDN'T THEY PASS IT
?
NO! I SPELT IT WRONG!
8·28
Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.

TILLIE THE TOILER — Mac is For-Sighted! By Russ Westover



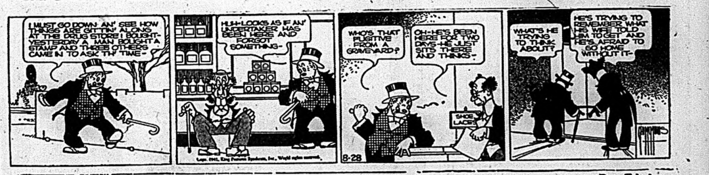
WE PADDLED BACK FURIOUSLY. WE GOT MIXED UP ON THE TIME!
DAYLIGHT TIME GETS EVERYBODY MIXED UP
I'M SO RELIEVED_IF MAC HAD SEEN US HE'D NEVER BELIEVE I DIDN'T LENGTHEN MY VACATION ON RICK'S ACCOUNT
HELLO, GIRLS, I'VE BEEN LOOKING ALL OVER FOR YOU. I CAME ON THE EARLIER TRAIN
!
!
AND WHO WAS THE DEMON CANOER WITH YOU? I COULD SEE YOU WITH MY NEW FIELD-GLASSES
!
!
8-28
RUSS WESTOVER

FLASH GORDON



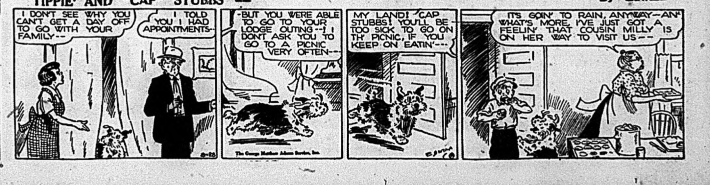
CAUGHT ON AN EXPOSED MOUNTAIN PATH, FLASH PITS HIS SKILL WITH A RAY-RIFLE AGAINST THE INVADER'S DIVE-BOMBERS.
SCORNFUL OF THE LONE RIFLEMAN BELOW, THE BOMBERS DIVE CLOSE, SO THEIR BOMBS CANNOT MISS...BUT SUDDENLY THE FRONT BOMBER DISINTEGRATES AS FLASH'S RAY EXPLODES IT'S BOMB-RACKS!
THE SECOND BOMBER ZOOMS FRANTICALLY TO ESCAPE THE UNKNOWN DOOM...BUT FLASH RELENTLESSLY FOLLOWS THE INVADER WHO WOULD HAVE BOMBED DALE.
8-28

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus



I MUST GO DOWN AN' SEE HOW THINGS ARE GITTIN' ALONG AT THE DRUG STORE! I BOUGHT-YESTERDAY A MAN BOUGHT A STAMP AND THREE OTHERS CAME IN TO ASK TH' TIME-
HUH-LOOKS AS IF AN' UNDERTAKER HAS BEEN HERE AND FORGOT SOMETHING-
WHO'S THAT FUGITIVE FROM A GRAVEYARD?
OH-HE'S BEEN HERE FOR TWO DAYS-HE JUST SITS THERE AND THINKS-
SHOE LACES
WHAT'S HE TRYING TO THINK ABOUT?
HE'S TRYING TO REMEMBER WHAT HIS WIFE TOLD HIM TO GET AND HE'S AFRAID TO GO HOME WITHOUT IT-
8-28

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Edwina



I DON'T SEE WHY YOU CAN'T GET A DAY OFF TO GO WITH YOUR FAMILY--
I TOLD YOU I HAD APPOINTMENTS--
-BUT YOU WERE ABLE TO GO TO YOUR LODGE OUTING--! I DON'T ASK YOU TO GO TO A PICNIC VERY OFTEN--
MY LAND! CAP STUBBS! YOU'LL BE TOO SICK TO GO ON TH' PICNIC, IF YOU KEEP ON EATIN'---
IT'S GOIN' TO RAIN, ANYWAY--AN' WHAT'S MORE, I'VE JUST GOT A FEELIN' THAT COUSIN MILLY IS ON HER WAY TO VISIT US--
8-28
The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.
EDWINA

GREATER LIPSON'S BACK TO SCHOOL VALUES

CHOOSE THE STORE THAT CONFIDENCE BUILT

Values with More Thrills Than "An Apple for The Teacher"

AND LIPSON'S ARE STILL THE HEAD OF THE CLASS

Kiddies' Print Dresses

Hundreds of new styles to choose from. Gay prints that are guaranteed washable and fast color. Styles to suit everyone in sizes 7 to 14 years. Three Big Groups.

.69 - .79 - 1.00

Girls' Blouses

Smartly styled cotton blouses in several colors. Sizes 8 to 14 .... .69

Boys' Longs

Sturdy materials in all new patterns. A grand selection to choose from. All the new shades of blues, greens and browns, in sizes from 26 to 36. ..See this group at 1.98

Girls' Knee-Length STOCKINGS

Girls' knee length hose, of fine knit wool. All colors to match the new school outfit. Lastex cuffs in sizes 8½ to 8½. .. ..,.. .. .. .29

Boys' Golf STOCKINGS

Boys' cotton golf hose in the popular brownish shade with fancy cuff. Long wearing and serviceable. All sizes in this group at . .29

Kiddies' Plaid DRESSES

Smartly styled and smartly trimmed. Made out of exceptionally fine quality cottons

2 to 6 Years .79

7 to 14 Years 1.00

Boys' SHORTS

Boys' navy cheviot shorts of super quality. A good $1.00 value at a real saving. Well made and well finished in sizes from 26 to 32 ... .89

Boys' Sweaters

Boys' cotton jacquard sweaters with long sleeves and zipper neck. Good quality and well made. The colours are new and very serviceable for Fall. Sizes from 26 to 34.

.59

Girls' Sweaters

All wool Cardigans for the Junior Miss. New styles in every color imaginable. Long sleeves and button fronts. See this value at 1.69

BOYS' Shirts

Just like Dad's. Smart new patterns in printed broadcloths. Fine textured materials and well cut styles. Sizes 12 to 14.

.69

GIRLS' STURDY SHOES

Smart looking, long wearing Shoes for back to school. Black or brown in several good styles.

8 to 10½ $1.29

11 to 2 $1.49

Boys' Windbreakers

Smart imitation Grenfell Jackets with full length zipper fastenings. Sand colour with contrasting collars and cuffs. A good $2.49 value. Sizes 26 to 34 .... 1.98

Boys' SHOES

Black side leather Oxfords. Exceptional quality. Sizes 1 to 5½. 1.79

Youths' SHOES

Black side leather oxfords. Composition soles and rubber heels —sizes 11 to 13. 1.69

Girls' Imitation Grenfell Sport Jackets

Ideal for school and for cool evenings. Several colors in smart jackets with the side zipper fastenings. Sizes are 8 to 14 years. Special 1.98

GREATER Lipson's

"Belleville's Favorite Store"

Probabilities

Lower Lake Region: Light southeast winds; fair and a little warmer. Saturday: Moderate southerly winds, fair and moderately warm, followed by showers toward night or on Sunday.

★ ★

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	71	47.2
One year ago..	78.2	60.4

Weather—Clear.

BATTLE OF UKRAINE OPENS ON NEW PHASE

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

ALLIES TO CAPITALIZE ON GAINS IN IRAN

Budenny's Army Entrenched on East Bank of Dnieper

Russians Cover Retreat by Blowing Up Dnieperstroy Dam—Dniepropetrovsk Falls

KIEV STILL INTACT

Moscow, Aug. 29 (AP)— The southwestern Red army of Marshal Semeon Budenny, much of which apparently has been saved from Nazi encirclement by a fighting retreat, opened a new phase of the battle of the Ukraine today from strong defence lines on the east bank of the lower Dnieper river.

The Russians covered the retreat by blasting to rubble their great Dnieperstroy dam and power plant, largest in Europe, and said they exacted a heavy toll of Germans before yielding the industrial city of Dnieperopetrovsk, 50 miles up the river from the dam.

Dnieperopetrovsk, with a population of more than 500,000 produced a large proportion of the Soviet's cast iron and steel.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

Eight New Planes Tested in One Day

Montreal, Aug. 29—(CP)—Officials of Noorduyn Aircraft Limited announced today what they believe to be a new Canadian record for the testing and acceptance of planes used in the Dominion's war effort.

They said that yesterday the company's test pilot, E. L. Capreol and F.O. G. R. Lortie tested eight new planes and seven repaired machines. So far as they knew, officials added, the mark never has been equalled in wartime either in Canada or the United States.

Toronto Traffic Toll Reaches All-Time High

Toronto, Aug. 29 —(CP)—Traffic toll in Toronto for the first eight months of 1941 reached the highest in the history of the city for any equivalent period of time with three deaths in the last 24 hours, bringing the total to 68 fatalities. This is 11 more than Toronto had during the whole of 1940.

The latest traffic victims are George E. Johnston, 35, Charles Selling, 84, and David Coutts, 73.

Johnston died from a fractured skull and internal injuries while being removed to hospital. He fell from his bicycle when he collided with a car he was following, and landed in the path of a truck which hit him.

Selling suffered a broken leg and shock when struck by a car last Wednesday and died yesterday in hospital.

Unconscious several days after receiving a fractured skull when hit by a truck, also Coutts died yesterday.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 29 (CP)—Synopsis: The weather has been cool with scattered showers in the Western Provinces and Northern Ontario, and fair and cool in Southern Ontario.

PLACE:	8 a.m.	High Yesterday	Low During Night
Victoria	52	63	51
Vancouver	54	68	52
Calgary	39	59	37
Edmonton	38	66	38
Winnipeg	53	57	51
Toronto	58	70	53
Ottawa	50	67	43
Montreal	54	64	52
S. S. Marie	57	57	52
New York	62	76	59

Germans Claim Tallinn is Captured and 19 Troop Transports Sunk in Harbor—Many Prisoners

WARSHIPS DAMAGED

Berlin, Aug. 29—(AP)—The High Command claimed today German forces have taken Tallinn, fighting a naval battle which apparently is still continuing, and have delivered a severe blow to the Red naval forces in the Baltic.

Besides capturing the Estonian capital, naval base on the Gulf of Finland less than an hour by bomber from Leningrad, Nazi announcemets claimed air and naval attacks had sunk 32 Russian ships—22 transports and 10 war vessels—and heavily damaged seven others.

The Russians, who defended Tallinn fiercely, were said by the Germans to have been literally pushed into the sea. Frantic efforts were made to evacuate trapped Red Army forces by water, they said, and this accounted for the great concentration of transports.

German spokesmen called the end of Russian resistance in Tallinn "another Dunkerque" but there was no indication how many Russians escaped.

Pocket of Russian Resistance

The Hanseatic port had been a pocket of Russian resistance in German-conquered territory, choked off and besieged by forces which had passed it in the eastward push through Estonia into Russia proper.

Violent naval battles were believed still to be raging in the Finnish Gulf with Finnish and German fleets and air forces attacking troopships and warships. The din of the conflict was heard in Helsinki, 50 miles away.

Besides Tallinn itself, the Germans claim they took Paldiski, the Estonian capital's modern harbor 20 miles to the West, and thousands of prisoners.

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)

R. A. F. Havoc in Hamburg Terrific States Eye-Witness on Return Home

London, Aug. 29—(CP)—An eyewitness account of the Royal Air Force bombing of Hamburg, told by a neutral conscripted by the Germans for war work in that city's shipyards, has been issued by the Ministry of Information. Ill-health enabled him to get permission to leave Germany.

The neutral, who formerly lived in Hamburg, was ordered back there from Belgium.

"There I worked—and was bombed —for Hitler until a few weeks ago," he said. "I took the oath that every German workman has to take to serve Adolf Hitler.

"The army of Hitler's war workers includes a large percentage of foreigners. We were given the most dangerous tasks, such as fire-fighting in the shipyards and factories. So I can give first-hand facts of the R.A.F. raids.

Few Allowed to See Havoc

"I have heard those new, powerful British bombs explode in the shipyards of Hamburg. Few people are allowed to see the worst of the havoc, but the nature of my work qualified me for a special pass which took me into all four of the big yards.

"Bombed areas are ringed for a radius of 500 yards; the official communiques grossly understate the damage and casualties; but I can say that the damage has been terrific.

"Fires have caused more havoc than they might have done because of the Nazi system of calling first on foreign labor for compulsory firefighting. I have seen men when an alert has sounded being hastily marshalled for duty, marching out into the death zone, dropping from fatigue after a long day's work.

Stopped For Lack of Supplies

"I worked for several months at the Norddeutsche Affinerie, the largest metal refinery plant of its kind in the country and invaluable to Germany's war effort. I can state definitely that in the past year its plant has been stopped or slowed down several times because of lack of metal supplies.

"Terror by time-clock is one of the methods used by the Gestapo in Hamburg shipyards. As each worker clocks in, a glass disc lights up. If it shows white, the worker's pockets are patted; if red, he is taken out of the line and stripped.

"One of my colleagues was sent to prison for two years. His offence was to observe aloud that Britain had a bigger navy when a fellow-worker was praising the Tirpitz, sister-ship of the Bismarck.

50,000 Seamen Wait For Ships

"There are usually about 50,000 seamen waiting for ships in Hamburg. There is always a rush when crews are wanted for the Baltic coasting trade but when hands are wanted for ships going into the North Sea, to the ports of occupied countries the seamen find various means of keeping out of the way.

"At the time of the flight of Hess to Britain the Nazi youth accepted the official statements on the flight without question. Their parents remained silent, but their looks portrayed their conviction that there was a grave split in the Nazi party.

"In the final stages of my stay in Germany, I saw unmistakable signs of the weakness of the Nazi war effort.

"The fall of Nazism will come without shadow of doubt, and I believe that when Germany cracks she will crack suddenly. But nothing but unremitting effort will be sufficient to meet Hitler's maximum onslaught in the next few months."

RAF BOMBERS ROAR ACROSS CHANNEL TO CONTINUE RAIDS

Industrial Area of Germany Heavily Bombed And 'Very Large' Fires Started

SHIPPING ATTACKED

London, Aug. 29 —(CP)— Royal Air Force daylight offensive against the German-held continent cost the rival air forces 10 planes each today, an authoritative source reported.

These daylight operations followed a night in which R.A.F. bombers roared over the German industrial city of Duisburg causing large fires and explosions.

The Air Ministry described the Duisburg raid as heavy and successful. Docks at Ostend, Belgium, were attacked by a smaller force of bombers and several other targets in western Germany and occupied territory also were blasted.

Nine British planes were lost.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted that British bombers caused damage in attacks on western Germany during the night.)

The sustained lull in aerial activity over the British Isles continued but a communique said that bombs were dropped at points in Eastern England, from one of which a small

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

BERLIN—Nazi High Command claims capture of Tallinn and tightening or ring around Leningrad.

MOSCOW—Russians battle to save Odessa, Kiev, while announcing destruction of Dnieperopetrovsk dam.

TOKYO—Japanese cabinet meets in emergency session to consider Japanese - American relations; spokesman declares ABCD powers (American-British-Chinese - Dutch) are encircling Nippon.

LONDON—British and Russian Allies hasten completion Iran occupation as resistance ends; British bombers smash at Duisburg by night French coast by day.

ISTANBUL—British and Nazi diplomats actively seek Turkey's support.

Turkey Steps Up Emergency Measures

Ankara, Aug. 28 (Delayed) (AP)— Turkey stepped up her emergency preparedness today.

The General administering martial law in Istanbul, European Turkey and the sector surrounding the strategic Dardenelles Straits issued a communique stating it is "considered necessary" that beginning Sept. 5 all male citizens must at all times carry a birth certificate or other positive identification.

After Sept. 5, it was decreed, all men will be subject at any time to examination for identification. This measure apparently is designed to guard against sabotage or fifth column activity, especially in the region of the Dardanelles, gateway to the Black Sea.

The veteran Nazi diplomat, Ambassador Franz Von Papen, today revised plans to quit Ankara for Istanbul and instead called on President Ismet Inonu to let him feel once more the weight of German influence. The call was made after the British Ambassador, Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, had just outlined the recent accomplishments of the British war effort.

The possibility is recognized by Turks that the Russian campaign may compel Germany to confront them with demands to use her waters or for passage through the Dardanelles to make easier the supplying of German armies which may be deep in the Caucasus.

Hitler and Mussolini Conclude Five-Day Talk on Eastern Front

Berlin, Aug. 29.— (AP)— Hitler and Mussolini have been meeting at Hitler's headquarters on the Eastern front since Monday, an official anouncement said today.

The five day discussions, which ended today, covered political and military developments, the announcements said.

It was indicated that particular attention was paid to the duration of the war.

The text of the statement from Hitler's headquarters said:

"The Fuehrer and Il Duce met at the Fuehrer's headquarters between Aug. 25-29 in discussions which took place at the Fuehrer's headquarters for the north and south fronts. There was thorough discussions of all military and political questions concerning the development and duration of the war.

"The questions were studied in a spirit of close companionship and unity of fate which characterized relations of the Axis Powers.

The discussions were permeated with the unchangeable will of both peoples and their leaders to wage war to a victorious end."

Axis "New Order"

"The new European order which will emanate from this victory shall remove as extensively as possible the causes which gave rise in the past to European wars.

"Destruction of the Bolshevist danger and of plutocartic exploitation will create the possibility of peaceful, harmonious and profitable co-operation of all peoples of the European continent in the political as well as in the economic and cultural spheres.

"In the course of these discussions the Fuehrer and Il Duce went to important points on the eastern front when also one of the Italian divisions employed in the fight against Bolshevism was inspected.

"On the occasion of their visit to the south front, the Fuehrer and Il Duce were greeted by General Field Marshal Von Runstedt.

KENT GIVEN WARM WELCOME BY MONTREAL FRENCH

Thousands Cheer Royal Visitor as He Journeys to Hotel

SIGNS GOLDEN BOOK

Montreal, Aug. 29 (CP)—Another busy schedule of inspection today confronted the touring Duke of Kent —happy in the knowledge of a warm French-Canadian greeting, evidenced by the thousands who welcomed him from airport to hotel on his arrival here last night.

The Duke started his day early with a visit to headquarters of the Royal Air Force ferry command, the organization charged with flying warcraft to beleaguered Britain. Later he will visit No. 1 wireless school of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

His itinerary also includes an inspection of tank production at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus shop and a tour of the Fairchild Aircraft factory at Longeuil, where a special display of all the types of war planes, now in production in Canada, has been arranged.

He will wind up the day by having tea as guest of the City of Montreal in the Chalet atop Mount Royal. Tomorrow he will leave for Sorel on the next leg of his Dominion-wide tour.

Last night Montreal, displaying some of the bunting that had been left over from the Royal Visit of 1939, welcomed His Royal Highness.

When he stepped from his plane at the airport after a flight from St. Thomas, Ont., the Duke, wearing a broad smile, grasped the hand of Mayor Adhemar Raynault and heard the traditional French-Canadian welcome—"Bienvenue."

At the city hall the Duke signed the Golden Book which already contains the signatures of the King and Queen. Here he switched easily to the French language and chatted informally with members of the city's governing body. He showed a keen interest in the affairs of French Canada.

When he left city hall he entered an open car amid rousing cheers which followed him to his hotel.

CONGRESS TOLD 60,000 NAZIS IN ARGENTINA

Report Says Germans Organized Into Cells to Follow Leaders "to the Death"

AMBASSADOR BLAMED

Buenos Aires, Aug. 29.—(AP) — Nazi Ambassador Edmund Von Thermann was charged by a Congressional investigating committee today with receiving money from ostensible German welfare organizations and using it for ends "foreign to his diplomatic character".

The committee, which has been investigating anti-Argentine activities for two months, submitted to the House of Deputies its report on Nazi penetration.

It said there were 60,000 Germans in Argentina organized into cells and under oath to obey Hitler and other Nazi leaders "to the death".

Raul Damonte Taborda, committee chairman, in a synopsis of the report cited a receipt for 10,000 pesos allegedly bearing Von Thermann's signature and acknowledging payments by German welfare organizations which the committee charged were the "Nazi political machine in disguise".

He said a special report on activities of the German Embassy staff would be presented later to Congress.

The committee, formed June 21, after newspaper charges that military officers and civilians had plotted to overthrow the government, revealed that the Argentine Foreign office protested to Berlin against Von Thermann's activities as much as three years ago

In 1938, the report said, the Foreign Office protested that Von Thermann "pretended to control Argentine sons of Germans" on the ground they were Germans.

The report mentioned books bearing hundreds of names listed as contributors to the German winter relief fund and grouped in tens. Each 10, or cell, was accompanied by a name—presumably of the cell leader—on the margin of the page. One of the margin names was Von

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

U.S. AND JAPANESE RELATIONS MAY UNDERGO REVISION

Roosevelt and Nomura Hold Conference in Washington — Prince Konoye Sends Message

HULL PRESENT

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

(Associate Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—Discussion of United States-Japanese relations by President Roosevelt and Ambassador Nomura impressed diplomatic quarters here today as a possible first step toward a sweeping review of all important points at issue between the two nations.

Bolstering this conclusion was an official announcement from Tokyo this morning that the message which Admiral Nomura delivered to the President here yesterday outlined the "Imperial Government's attitude toward the Pacific situation."

The message, this announcement said, was delivered at the behest of Prince Fuminaro Konoye, Japanese Premier, after a special Cabinet meeting.

The fact the Japanese initiated yesterday's conference, in which State Secretary Cordell Hull also took part, was held deeply significant — indicative, perhaps, of Tokyo's desire to achieve a peaceful solution of at least some of the pending problems.

The White House, the State Department, and the Japanese Embassy here gave no hint of what Prince Konoye said or suggested in his personal message to Mr. Roosevelt.

Neither did the Tokyo announcement divulge any details of the special communication.

Much Speculation

Since the Japanese Premier made the unusual gesture of communicating directly with Mr. Roosevelt, the intensely-interested diplomatic observers envisaged possibility of some spectacular suggestion for a conference designed to clarify the tense situation in the Far East.

The simplest interpretation of the potentialities of the Japanese Premier's message was that Prince Konoye wished to set the diplomatic stage for a series of conferences between the President, Secretary of State, and Japanese Ambassador, to explore possibilities of a peaceful agreement on conflicting policies.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

Nazi Ace, Credited With 70 Air Victories, 'Lost in Action'

Berlin, Aug. 29 —(AP)— The Nazi High Command announced today the loss in action of Capt. Hermann Joppien, fighter pilot credited with 70 aerial victories.

REGULAR HOURS OF SALE

Toronto, Aug. 29 —(CP)— J. L. Stewart, Deputy Oil Controller, said today that the regular hours of sale will be observed by gasoline service stations on Labor Day, Monday Sept. 1. He added there are no special restrictions regarding holiday sale.

Regulations call for service stations to close from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. and all day on Sunday.

Britain and Russia Move to Complete Occupation of Iran

May Demand the Handing Over of All 3,000 Germans Still In Country

WILL IMPROVE ROADS

London, Aug. 29 (CP)—Britain and Russia moved swiftly today to complete their occupation of Iran and capitalize on gains of a joint invasion which ended in victory. The Iranian army laid down its arms yesterday after a four-day show of resistance.

Official quarters declined to say whether the Allies had presented peace terms to Riza Shah Pahlevi's government, but informed sources expressed belief London and Moscow would stand on these points:

1. That the Iranian government hand over all Germans still in the country—estimated to include some 3,000 technicians.

2. That Iran guarantee facilities for transport of war supplies from the Persian Gulf to Russia.

3. That a steady flow of oil be maintained to feed the British navy, army and air force in the Middle East.

Retain Military Control

It was regarded as a foregone conclusion that the British and Russians would insist on retaining military control of all strategic points in Iran until the end of the war. The Allies, however, have no designs on Iran's independence or territorial integrity, and it was assumed the Teheran government would be permitted to retain control of the domestic administration.

(Martin Agronsk, National Broadcasting Company representative in Turkey, said last night in a broadcast from Ankara that British, Russian and Iranian representatives were concluding a peace agreement which would include the aforementioned points and also provide a sizeable loan to Iran and compensation for loss of life and damage to property. Allied troops would occupy all important points save Teheran, but would be withdrawn at the end of the war.

As soon as the occupation is completed the Allies are expected to hasten improvement of Iranian transportation facilities to implement the shipment of supplies from Britain and the United States to Russia.

Bombing Seen Brings Results

Teheran, Iran, Aug. 28 (Delayed) (AP)—Thirty minutes after a formation of four Soviet aircraft dropped six bombs on a Teheran suburb today, orders by the new government of Premier Ali Furanghi went into effect for Iranian troops to cease resisting the invading British and Russian forces.

Refugees brought to the capital reports that hundreds of casualties resulted yesterday when Russian air raiders bombed Zenjan, a city of 85,000 northwest of Teheran.

The raiders were said to have blasted the railway station to bits and damaged mosques and monastaries in the ancient town. No guns answered the attack, the refugees said.

Azin, the Holy City of Meshet and Karaj, 20 miles west of Teheran, al-

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

Says Horsepower in Air Will Win War, British in Control of Channel

Los Angeles, August 29—(AP)— Control of the air is based on horsepower, and horsepower will settle the war in Europe, says Col. Charles Sweeny, commander and founder of the Eagle Squadron.

"At the start of the war," said Col. Sweeny in an interview, "the German Messerschmitt 109 had 600 horsepower. Now it has 1,350. Our own planes are developing 2,000 horsepower and over.

Sweeny, on an inspection tour of Royal Air Force training facilities here, said Britain had regained control of the Channel. Enemy planes seldom venture more than a few miles beyond the British coast, and German planes now must base themselves 25 miles or more inland from the French coast.

With Col. Sweeny is Luke Allen, one of the five original members of the Eagle Squadron, the all-American unit with the R.A.F. Allen said ages of American pilots range from 19 to 32.

"There are three Fighter Eeagle squadrons of about 25 men each, with a bomber squadron now in formation. There are 163 American pilots in England now, most of them in British Squadrons, and 412 more men in training.

"What do these American boys get out of it? The chance of becoming officers, the thrill of being in on a big thing, all of their living expenses and $2.20 a day.'"

DOCTORS DECIDE TO REMOVE BULLET IN LAVAL'S CHEST

Emergency Operation Attempted to Save Former French Premier's Life

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Paris, Aug. 29 (AP)—Doctors decided to attempt an emergency operation on Pierre Laval late this afternoon to remove a bullet from just below his heart.

Fears for the 58-year-old pro-German leader mounted through the day as physicians attributed a sustained fever to a possible infection from the bullet wound, inflicted two days ago.

The possibility of peritonitis was regarded as a mortal peril.

Physicians were said to be considering an operation to extract the bullet in those circumstances even though they had rejected surgery at first as too dangerous and had ordered the bullet left untouched.

The doctors evidently were anxious as Laval's temperature stayed at 39 degrees centigrade (102.2 degrees fahrenheit) from early this morning until 4 p.m. this afternoon.

Turn Occurred Overnight

The sudden turn for the worse occurred overnight. If the high temperature should prove due to the beginning of the infection, it was pointed out, vital organs may be affected since the bullet is lodged only about one tenth of an inch from Laval's heart.

Because of the danger of disturbing Laval, the examining Magistrate for Paul Colette, who shot Laval and Marcel Deat Wednesday, and the prosecuting attorney were barred from the hospital room when they called before noon.

At the same time, it was learned that French police had broadened their counter drive against opposi-

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

Sub Commander Awarded D. S. C.

London, Aug. 29 (CP)—Award of the D.S.C. to Lt.-Cmdr. H. A. V. Haggard of the submarine Truant which has an impressive record of daring exploits is announced in the London Gazette.

The award was for skill and enterprise during successful patrols.

Under Lt.-Cmdr. Haggard the Truant, 1,090-ton submersible has sunk at least three enemy supply ships and damaged others in the Mediterranean.

In September, 1940, she rescued the captain and crew of 23 of the British steamship Haxby who were prisoners on a Norwegian vessel captured by the Germans.

The Truant also sank the 6,000-ton German cruiser Karlsruhe after nosing her way through minefields in Oslofjord.

Coming Events

PLAN NOW TO SEE THE BEST of all comedy hits, "HERE COMES MR. JORDAN", starting Sunday Midnight, at the McCarthy Theatre. Continuous Show Monday. A27-31

OAK LAKE CASINO PRESENTS dancing every Wednesday and Friday evenings. Music by The Commodores. Jitney plan. Oak Lake Casino, just a short drive on Stirling road A13W-Fti

SECOND GAME JUNIOR SOFTball playdowns. Bill's Place, Oshawa versus Esquire Juniors, Belleville, at Coleman Flats on Friday evening at 6:15. Admission: fifteen cents. A29

Probabilities

Lower Lake Region: Light southeast winds; fair and a little warmer. Saturday: Moderate southerly winds, fair and moderately warm, followed by showers toward night or on Sunday.

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1941

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	71	47.2
One year ago	73.2	60.4

Weather—Clear.

BATTLE OF UKRAINE OPENS ON NEW PHASE

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

ALLIES TO CAPITALIZE ON GAINS IN IRAN

Budenny's Army Entrenched on East Bank of Dnieper

Russians Cover Retreat by Blowing Up Dnieperstroy Dam—Dniepropetrovsk Falls

KIEV STILL INTACT

Moscow, Aug. 29 (AP)— The southwestern Red army of Marshal Semeon Budenny, much of which apparently has been saved from Nazi encirclement by a fighting retreat, opened a new phase of the battle of the Ukraine today from strong defence lines on the east bank of the lower Dnieper river.

The Russians covered the retreat by blasting to rubble their great Dnieperstroy dam and power plant, largest in Europe, and said they exacted a heavy toll of Germans before yielding the industrial city of Dnieperopetrovsk, 50 miles up the river from the dam.

Dnieperopetrovsk, with a population of more than 500,000 produced a large proportion of the Soviet's cast iron and steel.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 6)

Eight New Planes Tested in One Day

Montreal, Aug. 29—(CP)—Officials of Noorduyn Aircraft Limited announced today what they believe to be a new Canadian record for the testing and acceptance of planes used in the Dominion's war effort.

They said that yesterday the company's test pilot, E. L. Capreol and F.O. G. R. Lortie tested eight new planes and seven repaired machines. So far as they knew, officials added, the mark never has been equalled in wartime either in Canada or the United States.

Toronto Traffic Toll Reaches All-Time High

Toronto, Aug. 29 —(CP)—Traffic toll in Toronto for the first eight months of 1941 reached the highest in the history of the city for any equivalent period of time with three deaths in the last 24 hours, bringing the total to 63 fatalities. This is 11 more than Toronto had during the whole of 1940.

The latest traffic victims are George E. Johnston, 35, Charles Selling, 64, and David Coutts, 73.

Johnston died from a fractured skull and internal injuries while being removed to hospital. He fell from his bicycle when he collided with a car he was following, and landed in the path of a truck which hit him.

Selling suffered a broken leg and shock when struck by a car last Wednesday and died yesterday in hospital.

Unconscious several days after receiving a fractured skull when hit by a truck, also Coutts died yesterday.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 29 (CP)—Synopsis: The weather has been cool with scattered showers in the Western Provinces and Northern Ontario, and fair and cool in Southern Ontario.

PLACE:	8 a.m.	High Yesterday	Low During Night
Victoria	52	63	51
Vancouver	54	68	52
Calgary	39	59	37
Edmonton	38	66	38
Winnipeg	53	57	51
Toronto	58	70	53
Ottawa	50	67	43
Montreal	54	64	52
S. S. Marie	57	57	52
New York	62	76	59

Germans Claim Tallinn is Captured and 19 Troop Transports Sunk in Harbor—Many Prisoners

WARSHIPS DAMAGED

Berlin, Aug. 29—(AP)—The High Command claimed today German forces have taken Tallinn, fighting a naval battle which apparently is still continuing, and have delivered a severe blow to the Red naval forces in the Baltic.

Besides capturing the Estonian capital, naval base on the Gulf of Finland less than an hour by bomber from Leningrad, Nazi announcemets claimed air and naval attacks had sunk 32 Russian ships—22 transports and 10 war vessels—and heavily damaged seven others.

The Russians, who defended Tallinn fiercely, were said by the Germans to have been literally pushed into the sea. Frantic efforts were made to evacuate trapped Red Army forces by water, they said, and this accounted for the great concentration of transports.

German spokesmen called the end of Russian resistance in Tallinn "another Dunkerque" but there was no indication how many Russians escaped.

Pocket of Russian Resistance

The Hanseatic port had been a pocket of Russian resistance in German-conquered territory, choked off and besieged by forces which had passed it in the eastward push through Estonia into Russia proper.

Violent naval battles were believed still to be raging in the Finnish Gulf with Finnish and German fleets and air forces attacking troopships and warships. The din of the conflict was heard in Helsinki, 50 miles away.

Besides Tallinn itself, the Germans claim they took Paldiski, the Estonian capital's modern harbor 30 miles to the West, and thousands of prisoners.

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)

R. A. F. Havoc in Hamburg Terrific States Eye-Witness on Return Home

London, Aug. 29—(CP)—An eye-witness account of the Royal Air Force bombing of Hamburg, told by a neutral conscripted by the Germans for war work in that city's shipyards, has been issued by the Ministry of Information. Ill-health enabled him to get permission to leave Germany.

The neutral, who formerly lived in Hamburg, was ordered back there from Belgium.

"There I worked—and was bombed—for Hitler until a few weeks ago," he said. "I took the oath that every German workman has to take to serve Adolf Hitler.

"The army of Hitler's war workers includes a large percentage of foreigners. We were given the most dangerous tasks, such as fire-fighting in the shipyards and factories. So I can give first-hand facts of the R.A.F. raids.

Few Allowed to See Havoc

"I have heard those new, powerful British bombs explode in the shipyards of Hamburg. Few people are allowed to see the worst of the havoc, but the nature of my work qualified me for a special pass which took me into all four of the big yards.

"Bombed areas are ringed for a radius of 500 yards; the official communiques grossly understate the damage and casualties; but I can say that the damage has been terrific.

"Fires have caused more havoc than they might have done because of the Nazi system of calling first on foreign labor for compulsory firefighting. I have seen men when an alert has sounded being hastily marshalled for duty, marching out into the death zone, dropping from fatigue after a long day's work.

Stopped For Lack of Supplies

"I worked for several months at the Norddeutsche Affinerie, the largest metal refinery plant of its kind in the country and invaluable to Germany's war effort. I can state definitely that in the past year its plant has been stopped or slowed down several times because of lack of metal supplies.

"Terror by time-clock is one of the methods used by the Gestapo in Hamburg shipyards. As each worker clocks in, a glass disc lights up. If it shows white, the worker's pockets are patted; if red, he is taken out of the line and stripped.

"One of my colleagues was sent to prison for two years. His offence was to observe aloud that Britain had a bigger navy when a fellow-worker was praising the Tirpitz, sister-ship of the Bismarck.

50,000 Seamen Wait For Ships

"There are usually about 50,000 seamen waiting for ships in Hamburg. There is always a rush when crews are wanted for the Baltic coasting trade but when hands are wanted for ships going into the North Sea, to the ports of occupied countries the seamen find various means of keeping out of the way.

"At the time of the flight of Hess to Britain the Nazi youth accepted the official statements on the flight without question. Their parents remained silent, but their looks portrayed their conviction that there was a grave split in the Nazi party.

"In the final stages of my stay in Germany I saw unmistakable signs of the weakness of the Nazi war effort.

"The fall of Nazism will come without shadow of doubt, and I believe that when Germany cracks she will crack suddenly. But nothing but unremitting effort will be sufficient to meet Hitler's maximum onslaught in the next few months."

RAF BOMBERS ROAR ACROSS CHANNEL TO CONTINUE RAIDS

Industrial Area of Germany Heavily Bombed And 'Very Large' Fires Started

SHIPPING ATTACKED

London, Aug. 29 —)CP)— Royal Air Force daylight offensive against the German-held continent cost the rival air forces 10 planes each today, an authoritative source reported.

These daylight operations followed a night in which R.A.F. bombers roared over the German industrial city of Duisburg causing large fires and explosions.

The Air Ministry described the Duisburg raid as heavy and successful. Docks at Ostend, Belgium, were attacked by a smaller force of bombers and several other targets in western Germany and occupied territory also were blasted.

Nine British planes were lost.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted that British bombers caused damage in attacks on western Germany during the night.)

The sustained lull in aerial activity over the British Isles continued but a communique said that bombs were dropped at points in Eastern England, from one of which a small

(Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

BERLIN—Nazi High Command claims capture of Tallinn and tightening or ring around Leningrad.

MOSCOW—Russians battle to save Odessa, Kiev, while announcing destruction of Dnieperopetrovsk dam.

TOKYO—Japanese cabinet meets in emergency session to consider Japanese - American relations; spokesman declares ABCD powers (American-British-Chinese -Dutch) are encircling Nippon.

LONDON—British and Russian Allies hasten completion Iran occupation as resistance ends; British bombers smash at Duisburg by night French coast by day.

ISTANBUL—British and Nazi diplomats actively seek Turkey's support.

Turkey Steps Up Emergency Measures

Ankara, Aug. 28 (Delayed) (AP)—Turkey stepped up her emergency preparedness today.

The General administering martial law in Istanbul, European Turkey and the sector surrounding the strategic Dardenelles Straits issued a communique stating it is "considered necessary" that beginning Sept. 5 all male citizens must at all times carry a birth certificate or other positive identification.

After Sept. 5, it was decreed, all men will be subject at any time to examination for identification. This measure apparently is designed to guard against sabotage or fifth column activity, especially in the region of the Dardanelles, gateway to the Black Sea.

The veteran Nazi diplomat, Ambassador Franz Von Papen, today revised plans to quit Ankara for Istanbul and instead called on President Ismet Inonu to let him feel once more the weight of German influence. The call was made after the British Ambassador, Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, had just outlined the recent accomplishments of the British war effort.

The possibility is recognized by Turks that the Russian campaign may compel Germany to confront them with demands to use her waters or for passage through the Dardanelles to make easier the supplying of German armies which may be deep in the Caucasus.

Hitler and Mussolini Conclude Five-Day Talk on Eastern Front

Berlin, Aug. 29.— (AP)— Hitler and Mussolini have been meeting at Hitler's headquarters on the Eastern front since Monday, an official anouncement said today.

The five day discussions, which ended today, covered political and military developments, the announcements said.

It was indicated that particular attention was paid to the duration of the war.

The text of the statement from Hitler's headquarters said:

"The Fuehrer and Il Duce met at the Fuehrer's headquarters between Aug. 25-29 in discussions which took place at the Fuehrer's headquarters for the north and south fronts. There was thorough discussions of all military and political questions concerning the development and duration of the war.

"The questions were studied in a spirit of close companionship and unity of fate which characterized relations of the Axis Powers.

The discussions were permeated with the unchangeable will of both peoples and their leaders to wage war to a victorious end."

Axis "New Order"

"The new European order which will emanate from this victory shall remove as extensively as possible the causes which gave rise in the past to European wars.

"Destruction of the Bolshevist danger and of plutocartic exploitation will create the possibility of peaceful, harmonious and profitable co-operation of all peoples of the European continent in the political as well as in the economic and cultural spheres.

"In the course of these discussions the Fuehrer and Il Duce went to important points on the eastern front when also one of the Italian divisions employed in the fight against Bolshevism was inspected.

"On the occasion of their visit to the south front, the Fuehrer and Il Duce were greeted by General Field Marshal Von Runstedt.

KENT GIVEN WARM WELCOME BY MONTREAL FRENCH

Thousands Cheer Royal Visitor as He Journeys to Hotel

SIGNS GOLDEN BOOK

Montreal, Aug. 29 (CP)—Another busy schedule of inspection today confronted the touring Duke of Kent—happy in the knowledge of a warm French-Canadian greeting, evideneed by the thousands who welcomed him from airport to hotel on his arrival here last night.

The Duke started his day early with a visit to headquarters of the Royal Air Force ferry command, the organization charged with flying warcraft to beleaguered Britain. Later he will visit No. 1 wireless school of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

His itinerary also includes an inspection of tank production at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus shop and a tour of the Fairchild Aircraft factory at Longeuil, where a special display of all the types of war planes, now in production in Canada, has been arranged.

He will wind up the day by having tea as guest of the City of Montreal in the Chalet atop Mount Royal. Tomorrow he will leave for Sorel on the next leg of his Dominion-wide tour.

Last night Montreal, displaying some of the bunting that had been left over from the Royal Visit of 1939, welcomed His Royal Highness.

When he stepped from his plane at the airport after a flight from St. Thomas, Ont., the Duke, wearing a broad smile, grasped the hand of Mayor Adhemar Raynault and heard the traditional French-Canadian welcome—"Bienvenue."

At the city hall the Duke signed the Golden Book which already contains the signatures of the King and Queen. Here he switched easily to the French language and chatted informally with members of the city's governing body. He showed a keen interest in the affairs of French Canada.

When he left city hall he entered an open car amid rousing cheers which followed him to his hotel.

CONGRESS TOLD 60,000 NAZIS IN ARGENTINA

Report Says Germans Organized Into Cells to Follow Leaders "to the Death"

AMBASSADOR BLAMED

Buenos Aires, Aug. 29.—(AP) — Nazi Ambassador Edmund Von Thermann was charged by a Congressional investigating committee today with receiving money from ostensible German welfare organizations and using it for ends "foreign to his diplomatic character".

The committee, which has been investigating anti-Argentine activities for two months, submitted to the House of Deputies its report on Nazi penetration.

It said there were 60,000 Germans in Argentina organized into cells and under oath to obey Hitler and other Nazi leaders "to the death".

Raul Damonte Taborda, committee chairman, in a synopsis of the report cited a receipt for 10,000 pesos allegedly bearing Von Thermann's signature and acknowledging payments by German welfare organizations which the committee charged were the "Nazi political machine in disguise".

He said a special report on activities of the German Embassy staff would be presented later to Congress.

The committee, formed June 21, after newspaper charges that military officers and civilians had plotted to overthrow the government, revealed that the Argentine Foreign office protested to Berlin against Von Thermann's activities as much as three years ago

In 1938, the report said, the Foreign Office protested that Von Thermann "pretended to control Argentine sons of Germans" on the ground they were Germans.

The report mentioned books bearing hundreds of names listed as contributors to the German winter relief fund and grouped in tens. Each 10, or cell, was accompanied by a name—presumably of the cell leader—on the margin of the page. One of the margin names was Von

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

U.S. AND JAPANESE RELATIONS MAY UNDERGO REVISION

Roosevelt and Nomura Hold Conference in Washington — Prince Konoye Sends Message

HULL PRESENT

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

(Associate Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—Discussion of United States-Japanese relations by President Roosevelt and Ambassador Nomura impressed diplomatic quarters here today as a possible first step toward a sweeping review of all important points at issue between the two nations.

Bolstering this conclusion was an official announcement from Tokyo this morning that the message which Admiral Nomura delivered to the President here yesterday outlined the "Imperial Government's attitude toward the Pacific situation."

The message, this announcement said, was delivered at the behest of Prince Fuminaro Konoye, Japanese Premier, after a special Cabinet meeting.

The fact the Japanese initiated yesterday's conference, in which State Secretary Cordell Hull also took part, was held deeply significant — indicative, perhaps, of Tokyo's desire to achieve a peaceful solution of at least some of the pending problems.

The White House, the State Department, and the Japanese Embassy here gave no hint of what Prince Konoye said or suggested in his personal message to Mr. Roosevelt.

Neither did the Tokyo announcement divulge any details of the special communication.

Much Speculation

Since the Japanese Premier made the unusual gesture of communicating directly with Mr. Roosevelt, the intensely-interested diplomatic observers envisaged possibility of some spectacular suggestion for a conference designed to clarify the tense situation in the Far East.

The simplest interpretation of the potentialities of the Japanese Premier's message was that Prince Konoye wished to set the diplomatic stage for a series of conferences between the President, Secretary of State, and Japanese Ambassador, to explore possibilities of a peaceful agreement on conflicting policies.

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

Nazi Ace, Credited With 70 Air Victories, 'Lost in Action'

Berlin, Aug. 29 —(AP)— The Nazi High Command announced today the loss in action of Capt. Hermann Joppien, fighter pilot credited with 70 aerial victories.

REGULAR HOURS OF SALE

Toronto, Aug. 29 —(CP)— J. L. Stewart, Deputy Oil Controller, said today that the regular hours of sale will be observed by gasoline service stations on Labor Day, Monday Sept. 1. He added there are no special restrictions regarding holiday sale.

Regulations call for service stations to close from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. and all day on Sunday.

Britain and Russia Move to Complete Occupation of Iran

May Demand the Handing Over of All 3,000 Germans Still In Country

WILL IMPROVE ROADS

London, Aug. 29 (CP)—Britain and Russia moved swiftly today to complete their occupation of Iran and capitalize on gains of a joint invasion which ended in victory. The Iranian army laid down its arms yesterday after a four-day show of resistance.

Official quarters declined to say whether the Allies had presented peace terms to Riza Shah Pahlevi's government, but informed sources expressed belief London and Moscow would stand on these points:

1. That the Iranian government hand over all Germans still in the country—estimated to include some 3,000 technicians.
2. That Iran guarantee facilities for transport of war supplies from the Persian Gulf to Russia.
3. That a steady flow of oil be maintained to feed the British navy, army and air force in the Middle East.

Retain Military Control

It was regarded as a foregone conclusion that the British and Russians would insist on retaining military control of all strategic points in Iran until the end of the war. The Allies, however, have no designs on Iran's independence or territorial integrity, and it was assumed the Teheran government would be permitted to retain control of the domestic administration.

(Martin Agronsk, National Broadcasting Company representative in Turkey, said last night in a broadcast from Ankara that British, Russian and Iranian representatives were concluding a peace agreement which would include the aforementioned points and also provide a sizeable loan to Iran and compensation for loss of life and damage to property. Allied troops would occupy all important points save Teheran, but would be withdrawn at the end of the war.

As soon as the occupation is completed the Allies are expected to hasten improvement of Iranian transportation facilities to implement the shipment of supplies from Britain and the United States to Russia.

Bombing Seen Brings Results

Teheran, Iran, Aug. 28 (Delayed) (AP)—Thirty minutes after a formation of four Soviet aircraft dropped six bombs on a Teheran suburb today, orders by the new government of Premier Ali Furanghi went into effect for Iranian troops to cease resisting the invading British and Russian forces.

Refugees brought to the capital reports that hundreds of casualties resulted yesterday when Russian air raiders bombed Zenjan, a city of 85,000 northwest of Teheran.

The raiders were said to have blasted the railway station to bits and damaged mosques and monastaries in the ancient town. No guns answered the attack, the refugees said.

Azin, the Holy City of Meshet and Karaj, 20 miles west of Teheran, al-

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 8)

Says Horsepower in Air Will Win War, British in Control of Channel

Los Angeles, August 29—(AP)—Control of the air is based on horsepower, and horsepower will settle the war in Europe, says Col. Charles Sweeny, commander and founder of the Eagle Squadron.

"At the start of the war," said Col. Sweeny in an interview, "the German Messerschmitt 109 had 600 horsepower. Now it has 1,350. Our own planes are developing 2,000 horsepower and over.

Sweeny, on an inspection tour of Royal Air Force training facilities here, said Britain had regained control of the Channel. Enemy planes seldom venture more than a few miles beyond the British coast, and German planes now must base themselves 25 miles or more inland from the French coast.

With Col. Sweeny is Luke Allen, one of the five original members of the Eagle Squadron, the all-American unit with the R.A.F. Allen said ages of American pilots range from 19 to 32.

"There are three Fighter Eeagle squadrons of about 25 men each, with a bomber squadron now in formation. There are 163 American pilots in England now, most of them in British Squadrons, and 412 more men in training.

"What do these American boys get out of it? The chance of becoming officers, the thrill of being in on a big thing, all of their living expenses and $2.20 a day.'"

DOCTORS DECIDE TO REMOVE BULLET IN LAVAL'S CHEST

Emergency Operation Attempted to Save Former French Premier's Life

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Paris, Aug. 29 (AP)—Doctors decided to attempt an emergency operation on Pierre Laval late this afternoon to remove a bullet from just below his heart.

Fears for the 58-year-old pro-German leader mounted through the day as physicians attributed a sustained fever to a possible infection from the bullet wound, inflicted two days ago.

The possibility of peritonitis was regarded as a mortal peril.

Physicians were said to be considering an operation to extract the bullet in those circumstances even though they had rejected surgery at first as too dangerous and had ordered the bullet left untouched.

The doctors evidently were anxious as Laval's temperature stayed at 39 degrees centigrade (102.2 degrees fahrenheit) from early this morning until 4 p.m. this afternoon.

Turn Occurred Overnight

The sudden turn for the worse occurred overnight. If the high temperature should prove due to the beginning of the infection, it was pointed out, vital organs may be affected since the bullet is lodged only about one tenth of an inch from Laval's heart.

Because of the danger of disturbing Laval, the examining Magistrate for Paul Colette, who shot Laval and Marcel Deat Wednesday, and the prosecuting attorney were barred from the hospital room when they called before noon.

At the same time, it was learned that French police had broadened their counter drive against opposi-

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

Sub Commander Awarded D. S. C.

London, Aug. 29 (CP)—Award of the D.S.C. to Lt.-Cmdr. H. A. V. Haggard of the submarine Truant which has an impressive record of daring exploits is announced in the London Gazette.

The award was for skill and enterprise during successful patrols.

Under Lt.-Cmdr. Haggard the Truant, 1,090-ton submersible has sunk at least three enemy supply ships and damaged others in the Mediterranean.

In September, 1940, she rescued the captain and crew of 23 of the British steamship Haxby who were prisoners on a Norwegian vessel captured by the Germans.

The Truant also sank the 6,000-ton German cruiser Karlsruhe after nosing her way through minefields in Oslofjord.

Coming Events

PLAN NOW TO SEE THE BEST of all comedy hits, "HERE COMES MR. JORDAN", starting Sunday Midnight, at the McCarthy Theatre. Continuous Show Monday. A37-3t

OAK LAKE CASINO PRESENTS dancing every Wednesday and Friday evenings. Music by The Commodores. Jitney plan. Oak Lake Casino, just a short drive on Stirling road A13W-Ftf

SECOND GAME JUNIOR SOFTball playdowns. Bill's Place, Oshawa versus Esquire Juniors, Belleville, at Coleman Flats on Friday evening at 6:15. Admission: fifteen cents. A29

School Books and Supplies

FOR OPENING DAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd.

We carry, as is our custom, perhaps the Most Complete Stock of all Authorized Text Books and necessary School Supplies in Belleville. This includes a complete and ample stock of the Public and Separate School Text Books as well as Collegiate Texts and Supplies. Our prices for School Supplies are low. We suggest, while the prices are low, that you obtain your term's supply of Scribblers, Pencils, Ink, etc. You will be agreeably surprised at the saving.

No Waiting on School Opening Day, Sept. 2nd.

We can GUARANTEE that you will not have to wait long at our store September 2nd. while obtaining your School List. We will have plenty of experienced clerks to help you select your books and parcel them in a convenient manner.

The Home of the Famous Five Hundred
School Helps Which Make Success Certain

REMEMBER THIS STORE ON SCHOOL OPENING DAY

THE JAMES TEXTS' BOOK STORE

183 FRONT STREET PHONE 892 BELLEVILLE, ONT.

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

OFFICE HOURS AT POST OFFICE

Monday, September 1st, being Labor Day, the post office lobby will be open for regular business from 6.30 a.m. until 6.00 p.m. and all wickets from 8.00 a.m. to 10.00 a.m.

There will be no letter carrier delivery but street letter box collections will be made as usual, Standard Time being observed. Special delivery and air mail will receive the usual attention.

TRUCK, CAR DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Seventy-five dollars damage was done to each vehicle when a car driven by Joseph Walsh, Read, Ont., collided with a Francis Bakery truck from Deseronto, five miles north of Shannonville early today.

Highway Traffic Officer William Milton, who investigated, stated that the car had emerged from a side road when it came in collision with the truck driven by Dorian LeVick. No injuries to the drivers occurred. Charges against Walsh are pending further investigation.

BRISTOL AIRCRAFT EMPLOYS TRAINEES

Eighteen remaining members of a class of twenty-four trainees placed in the Belleville Collegiate War Emergency Classes for special training by the Bristol Aircraft Company here, were placed in employment at the company's plant today. The other members of the class were placed in the plant a week ago.

DRIVER EXONERATED IN DEATH OF DOG

Little did the children of a Front Street family named Burley dream that their usual morning play with the family pet dog would end in tragedy, when they gamboled with their pet this morning.

They threw stones and sticks across the street and enjoyed watching the dog bring them back. But they failed to reckon with a heavy truck-trailer. Dashing across the street, yelping its enjoyment, the pet was crushed to death beneath the wheels of the heavy truck, before the vehicle could stop. City Pound-Keeper Thos. Thorne, who investigated, exonerated the driver.

It Pays to Shop At the Rexall Store.

NEW, GIANT SIZE WILDROOT Hair Tonic WITH OIL.

INTRODUCTORY BARGAIN
Regular $1.35 size
Now 98c
LIMITED TIME ONLY.

McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 135

DAFOE TAXI
CALL 1886

U.S. NAVY BAND TO PLAY MARCH

The famous United States Navy Band, one of the feature attractions at the Canadian National Exhibition, will pay tribute to one of Belleville's residents on Monday, Labor Day, when it will include in its program the "International Patrol," a military march composed by Mr. E. Reg. Hinchey.

The composition attracted the attention of the Navy Band officials on Sunday night last when it was broadcast over Canadian and United States radio networks.

Mr. Hinchey, who is rapidly nearing top rating as a Canadian composer and arranger, also heard his new march "V for Victory" played by the Toronto Symphony Band on the same program.

Tight Chain Around Neck Causes Pet Bear to Go Berserk

A pet bear which went berserk whenever a human being approached was despatched with a shot from the revolver of Provincial Police Officer Laperriere after investigation by City Pound-keeper Thomas Thorne.

The animal, the property of O. Cook, Shannonville, had been tied up with a chain, and its everyday efforts had tightened this to such an extent that it was buried deeply in the animal's neck, a post-death examination revealed.

The owner had been warned, Thorne stated, to remove the chain and had been informed that a veterinary would be called in. Eventually the pain of the wound caused by chain friction became so great that it went wild whenever a human being drew near.

Madoc Township Farmer Found Dead in Field

Failing to return home after leaving for the back pasture to bring up the cows for milking about five o'clock on Thursday evening, the body of George A. Harris, 83-year-old Madoc Township farmer, resident 8 miles northeast of Madoc Village near Queensboro, was found in a corn field shortly before midnight last night by a search party.

The aged farmer had apparently been enjoying the best of health and no undue alarm was felt by the family when he failed to return with the cows within the customary time. As the period of his absence lengthened, however, the family became alarmed and after notifying Provincial Constable R. S. Patterson, now stationed at Madoc, a search party was organized, the man's body being found several hours later in the centre of a large corn field. Death had apparently been due to heart failure.

GENE AUTRY
SUNSET WYOMING
Smiley BURNETTE
REPENT AT LEISURE
TAYLOR • BARRIE
GEORGE BARBIER

TONIGHT SATURDAY
YOUR FAVOURITE STAR IN HIS GREATEST HIT!

EXTRA! COMEDY PLUS.

ALSO: NEWS ● SERIAL.

SPECIAL MATINEE SATURDAY AT 2.30

GALA FUN SHOW!
SUNDAY AFTER MIDNIGHT
RUDY VALLEE and a Host of Radio Stars, in
'TOO MANY BLONDES'
Also: "MEN OF THE TIMBERLANDS."

20 CAPITOL
ADULTS, EVE.: 25c plus tax

Truck Will Be Stationed At Market on Saturday To Receive Salvage Material

"Save more waste." Today that call echoes across the broad stretches of the Dominion. In the old days, itinerant hawkers shouted from city streets "Any rags, bones or bottles today."

Today a nation and an Empire calls. The need is urgent, vital. Those things you once tossed away, have become overnight the sinews of war. The Army, the Navy, the Air Force need them if they are to maintain the splendid efforts they are contributing to civilization.

Metals, papers, rags, old clothing, brass, practically every phase of waste material with the exception of bottles and tin have now become an important part of the war effort. It takes no longer to place such materials in a convenient place, wrap it up and leave it at a collection spot, than it does to run down cellar and put them in the garbage can.

There is no question of shortage of waste material. It is a natural accumulation. Belleville has just as much as any city with a similar population. All that is necessary is a little extra effort on the part of householders, and they will be doing an important duty to their country.

Tomorrow (Saturday) a collection truck will be stationed on the city market. While you are getting ready for the weekly market foray, ask the children to wrap up your collections of waste and bring it to the market. Or, if you haven't started to collect, make it a point to begin now and help fill that truck to overflowing.

If the package is too heavy to carry, leave it until next week when house calls will be made by the Salvage Committee here.

Regardless, the important point is save that waste material now. It costs nothing except a few moments of your time. Potential bombers and tanks are even now lying in cellars and attics. Bring out the waste material and make them actual realities.

Informal Dinner Party Held By War Emergency Classes

Trainees Presented With Certificates on Finishing Course

INSTRUCTOR HONORED

Representative of a cross section of the young mechanically inclined men of the Bay of Quinte district, men who are undergoing training that they may assist in producing the tools needed to assure victory, approximately 100 trainees of the War Emergency Classes of the Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School, congregated with instructors and personnel men of district industrial plants at Christ Church Parish Hall on Thursday evening, when class "C" in the machinists' department was presented with graduation certificates at an informal dinner party.

Indicative of the feeling of cooperation and goodwill existent between the trainees and their instructors members of the classes, machinists, welders and woodworkers took advantage of the occasion in a gesture of appreciation toward their instructors by presenting them with suitable mementos. Included on the program was a talk by Mr. Cranfield of the personnel department of Canadian General Electric, guest speaker for the occasion.

Undergoes Further Course

Mr. Cranfield gave the trainees of the graduating class and other students a comprehensive incite into the working conditions prevalent at their plant in Peterboro and particularly stressed that although graduates have a certificate as their accomplishments in elementary training, warned that they were not yet machinists or mechanics. Graduates going to their plant in Peterboro would undergo a further course of instruction on special machines to fit them for war production, he said.

The need for employees to exercise safety measures while at work was emphasized by Mr. Cranfield, he stating that most accidents were due to the human element and not to the lack of sufficient safety guards on machinrey. He also stressed the importance, when trainees apply for a position in industry, to state exactly their accomplishments and not try ot "bluff their way through. The rate of pay prevalent at the company's plant was stated by the speaker as he pointed out the opportunity of advancement for the conscientious worker.

Need is Tremendous

Expressing his own and his company's views on the procedure of training mechanics to fill places in industry, Mr. Cranfield stated he did not believe in "spoonfeeding" the trainee. They did believe, however, in supplying the facilities for training. Any apprentice in their plant attending a vocational night course and attaining a standing of 70 per cent efficiency would automatically receive a pay increase equivalent of a year's service, he said.

"The need for trained machinists and mechanics in industry today is tremendous. We are on the lookout for hundreds of men who can make $1 per hour—and earn it," he stated.

In conclusion the speaker complimented Mr. G. A. Ferguson, chief instructor of the Belleville War Emergency classes, on the work which is being done here, stating that some of the best trainees entering the General Electric plant in Peteboro come from Belleville.

Out of a class of 34 students taking machine instruction in "C" class, which was tutored by Mr. Ferguson, 16 received their certificates at last night's function, the remainder having already quit the courses to enter employment with district industrial firms. A special class taking woodworking instruction will within the next week enter the employment of Bristol Aircraft Products who are soon to open their plant in Belleville for the production of plastic products. The members of the class which received their certificates last night will either enter the employment of General Electric in Peterboro; Kingston Locomotive Works or Stephen Adamson of Belleville.

Dinner Provided by Ladies

Mr. Ferguson introduced the speaker of the evening, while the appreciation of the students and instructors was expressed by Mr. Hamilton of the instructor staff. Instructors to receive recognition by the trainees were Mr. Ferguson from the graduating class; Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Pinkle, Mr. Wright, Mr. Howard and Mr. Baird.

Mr. Howard acted as master of ceremonies with Mr. Wright proposing the toast to the guests. Entertainment was afforded by a lively period of community singing with Alec Gordon at the piano while Mr. Howard favored with appreciated vocal numbers. The dinner was provided by the ladies of Christ Church.

Trainees to receive their certificates last evening were: H. E. Arthur, D. Angelo, W. G. Bryer, J. Green, D. Hay, A. W. Hayes, W. K. Johns, T. Lepore, L. A. Lidster, V. McMurter, B. H. McMillan, W. H. Morrow, L. W. Smith, G. R. Sharp, G. Tilling, J. Thomas and R. W. Walker.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES
PUBLIC SCHOOL and COLLEGIATE.

Waterman's Special School Pen	$1.50
Waterman's School Sets	$2.25
Other Waterman's Pens and Sets up to	$15.00

GEEN'S DRUG STORE
EFFICIENT STAFF AND PROMPT SERVICE.

A28-2t

TINY SCHOOL FOR TINY TOTS
Reopens Tuesday, Sept. 2
at
St. Agnes Manor
KINDERGARTEN AND PRIMARY WORK TAUGHT
PUPILS PREPARED FOR P. S. GRADES.
Call or Phone for Reservations.
L. D. WILKIN, teacher.

A28-2t

Get set for
ONE OF THE YEAR'S GREATEST COMEDIES!
HERE COMES MR. JORDAN

To Every Ontario Intelligencer
READER

IF YOU DO NOT HAVE YOUR GRANDEST LAUGH TREAT SEEING "HERE COMES MR. JORDAN", WE WILL BE PLEASED TO PRESENT YOU WITH FREE COURTESY TICKETS TO SEE THE FORTHCOMING COMEDY HIT "OUR WIFE", STARRING MELVYN DOUGLAS AND RUTH HUSSEY, WHICH OPENS SOON AT THE McCARTHY THEATRE.

VINCE FREEMAN,
Manager.

S-T-A-R-T-S
Sunday After Midnight 12.05
— ALSO SHOWING —
CONTINUOUS MONDAY
DOORS OPEN 1.00 P.M.

FREE PARKING McCARTHY THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

Four Staff Changes Announced At the Belleville Collegiate

While registrations at the Belleville Collegiate and Vocational Schoo which have been received this week, have not as yet been completed, the number is expected to be slightly less than that of a year ago, Principal P. C. McLaurin announced today. It is expected that when registrations are completed a number in the vicinity of eight hundred will be enrolled.

Four changes in the Collegiate staff were announced today. Miss Mildred J. Caughey will assume the duties of physical education instructress for the girl students. Mr. A. E. Robinson is in charge of the science work formerly done by Dr. James H. Howard. W. S. Turner will take over the teaching of science performed previously by Mr. C. G. Heard, now teaching vocation work, while Mr. Harold Mott, former teacher at Queen Alexandra Public School, will fill the vacancy caused by the enlistment of Mr. Homer Thomas, former teacher of English and History.

POLICE COURT

Remanded Week On Theft Charges

A youthful city resident appearing in a Police Court for the first time today was remanded one week for sentence by Magistrate E. J. Butler, after pleading guilty to two charges of theft of automobile tires. E. Ormonde Butler, appearing for the accused man, asked for the week's remand in order to secure information regarding the value of the tires for restitution purposes.

Plainclothes Officer Fred Izard, who investigated the case stated that the first pair of tires stolen from the Belleville Motor Company had been sold in Trenton and then resold. The other pair, he said, had been disposed of in Belleville and had been recovered.

The Same Drunk

"It is not a second offence, it was the same drunk," an amiable inebriate agreed with Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, when he appeared charged with being intoxicated in a public place.

"You are not supposed to do this every other day," the Crown remarked, "but in your case it appears to be a daily affair." The accused, fined the conventional amount, was given one week to pay. Three other inebriates were assessed the ordinary fines.

Traffic Cases Heard

Two city residents charged with minor breaches of the Highway Traffic Act were fined the usual amount. Another case resulting in charges of reckless driving, in which the accused pleaded not guilty was laid over until the next court.

Identified by Girls

Complaints of four young girls that a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Trenton station, had used insulting language to them in the Hume Arena last night led to the apprehension of the man involved.

Following the complaint, Police Constable Arnott, in company with the young women drove along Front St. The girls identified the airman as he was leaving a restaurant. Admitting he had been drinking, he told the police officer he had not cared what happened. He was brought to the police station and this morning members of the station service police escorted him to the air station.

Victim Former Beacon Operator At Main Duck Is.

Point Traverse, Aug. 29—Word has been received by friends here, that wireless operator Bruce Brammer, former radio beacon operator at the Main Duck Island, off here, was one of the twenty-two men, that were killed when their plane cracked up in the United Kingdom on Sunday, Aug. 10th.

Ralph Bruce Brammer was born in Toronto and was 22 years of age. He attended Northern Vocational School and was afterwards employed by the Department of Transport at the radio range statio nat Earlton, Ont. He had experience as ship beam operator at the Main Ducks during the season of 1939 and part of 1940. He later went to North Bay as wireless operator and returned to Toronto for an advance course of radio operational work.

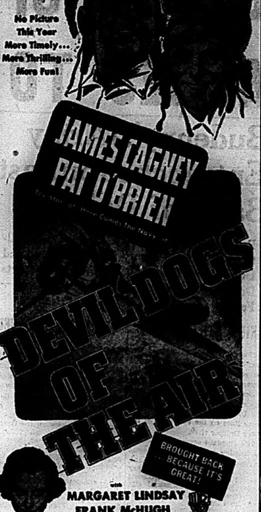
"Previous to his death, he wrote his father, that he enjoyed his work as radio officer with the R.A.F. overseas.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON • MARLENE DIETRICH • GEORGE RAFT
PACK ALL THEIR SMASHING POWER INTO "MANPOWER"
Don't Miss it!

Special Showing SUNDAY AT 12.05
B-E-L-L-E

SEE IT FOLKS—
IT'LL BE AGES BEFORE THERE'LL BE ANOTHER PICTURE THIS EXCITING!

A WARNER BROS. HIT with Alan HALE • Frank McHUGH
3 OTHER TREATS.
REGULAR PRICES.



JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
The Stars of "Here Comes the Navy" in
DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR
BROUGHT BACK ... BECAUSE IT'S GREAT!

Your Best Recommend! It's Swell!
Continuous Show Saturday
DOORS OPEN 1.00 P.M.

See It Tonight

No Picture This Year More Timely... More Thrilling... More Fun!

with MARGARET LINDSAY
FRANK McHUGH
A WARNER BROS.–First National Picture
Directed by LLOYD BACON

ADDED COMEDY RIOT
THE THREE STOOGES in "I'LL NEVER HEIL AGAIN"

AIR-CONDITIONED McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

LUMINOUS PARACHUTE

Manchester (CP)—Moscow radio says that one Nazi plane brought down over the Soviet capital contained a luminous parachute.

CLARENCE BROWN Production
CLARK GABLE
Rosalind RUSSELL
They Met in Bombay

Continuous Show Saturday & Monday
STARTING 2.30 — MATINEE PRICES UNTIL 6.00 P.M.
Clark's New Hit is a HONEY!

Teamed with lovely Rosalind ... fighting and kissing in the clinches from Bombay to Mandalay! A duo of daring in spectacular entertainment!

with PETER LORRE • JESSIE RALPH
REGINALD OWEN • MATTHEW BOULTON

TONIGHT ONLY! — 2 HITS!
"KISSES FOR BREAKFAST"
"DANCE HALL"
7.00 —Last Show 8.30

MORE!
B-E-L-L-E WORLD - WIDE NEWS EVENTS
"OUT OF DARKNESS"
Unusual, Entertaining 6
"ALLEY CATS"
Color Fun Cartoon.
SAT. MAT: THREE COLOR FUN CARTOONS.

TOMORROW - MON. - TUES.
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE
"Where Happiness Costs So Little"

YOU'RE INVITED!
Don't Miss the Novel Display of Famous Players Theatres at the Canadian National Exhibition, East End of the Manufacturer's Building.
CORDIAL WELCOME AWAITS YOU

SPECIAL PROGRAM
Canadian National Exhibition

Tuesday, September 2nd at 8:30 P.M. in the Band Shell

Artists

MISS LILY PONS
Coloratura Soprano, Metropolitan Opera Association

MR. LAWRENCE TIBBETT
Baritone, Metropolitan Opera Association

Members of the
TORONTO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Under the direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan

Brief addresses will be made by

MR. JOHN MILLAR
President, Canadian National Exhibition

His WORSHIP MAYOR FREDERICK J. CONBOY

HONOURABLE CAIRINE R. WILSON
Chairman, National Refugee Committee

DR. JAMES T. SHOTWELL
Professor of History, Columbia University

MRS. AUGUST BELMONT
Chairman of the Metropolitan Opera Guild, Inc.

MR. THOMAS J. WATSON
President, International Business Machines Corporation

MR. WALTER D. JONES
Chairman of the Board
International Business Machines Company, Limited
WILL PRESIDE

This program presented through the courtesy of International Business Machines Company Limited, Canada

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

SHOOTING AT VERSAILLES

There is concern felt by the Germans over recent events in Nazi-occupied Europe, particularly over the attempt made at Versailles on the life of Pierre Laval who was seriously wounded by several bullets fired at him by a young Frenchman and when Marcel Deat was also badly wounded. Arrests have followed the shootings and Vichy despatches tell how attempts are being made by the authorities to prevent the shooting from serving as a signal for general trouble.

Whether the event of Wednesday is to be associated with the events leading up to recent repressive measures taken in occupied France in which thousands were arrested after disturbances or is a spontaneous occurrence breaking out of the general state of feeling in the occupied country is to be seen. The Germans, however, appear to recognize that trouble is now brewing and take the incident seriously.

The attempted assassination is a blow at collaboration with the German oppressors for the two wounded men, especially Laval, are hated and detested in France for the part they played towards collaboration.

The pro-Nazi official circles try to place the blame on Communism but Paul Colette, who fired the shots, is not a Communist. It is reported that he said he posed as a recruit in order to try to kill Laval.

It would be natural for the Nazis to take this attitude in order to draw the attention from the possibility or probability that the attack was the result of the condition of occupied France under the German yoke. The Germans would not want to allow out any suggestion that there was a serious feeling of restlessness among the French people because of German occupation.

Laval is a strong advocate of collaboration with Germany and Deat shares this attitude. Laval had no official position in the government of Vichy France for he was ousted last December on the ground that he went over the head of Petain in regard to collaboration with Germany.

The tragic dismal story of Vichy France is well known. The Vichy French government has been under heavy pressure from Germany.

It is interesting to note that just a moment before the shooting occurred, the Marseillaise, national anthem of France, was sung in occupied France for the first time since the collapse of the country.

There is no doubt of the deep feeling in German-held Europe. Anti-Nazi spirit is strong and will some day break out. How far away that time is no one can tell. So Nazis are very much concerned about the shooting at Versailles.

HOLIDAYS NEAR END

Summer's lease is shortening. As for holidays for the schoolboy and schoolgirl summer's lease has all but expired, only Labor Day remaining. For those who follow the almanac summer has three weeks to go. But with the end of August holidaying ends and the people set to work on the undertakings of autumn. To the scholar this means beginning new studies or continuing studies already begun, to the housewife it brings preserving, to the man of the house it means preparations for autumn. To the entire public it brings fall fairs.

On Thursday night there was one sign that summer is soon to merge into that of autumn for in the Coe Hill section there was frost, according to reports reaching the city. In the city the temperature was a good eleven degrees above the frost mark, though the dip in temperature brought chill into many houses here.

But if the holiday season is at its close, there are compensations. Reopening of school opens new vistas of interest for the boys and girls, brings reunions in classes and on campuses of little friends separated for nine weeks or so, by the gap of summer holidays. Other compensations are the renewal of activities of organizations, though those who labor in the war effort know no holidays for this duty is imperative and brooks no cessation of work, especially for the women, who work incessantly all the year round for the sake of the troops, the cause of the bomb victims in Great Britain, and other efforts associated with the Canadian program of war effort.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

ADOLF'S ALPHABET

A is for Arrant and Arrogant Ass,
B is for Breaker of pledges like glass,
C is for Clown who with Clap-trap entices,
D is for the Dastard of Dirty Devices
E is for Egoist, often Ecstatic
F is the Frenzy he thinks is dramatic;
G is for Guttersnipe, Gangster and Goat,
H is the Horror his doings denote.
I is for Idol (the Germans adore him),
J is for the Jitters that now lie before him;
K is for Kennel, where curs are kept back,
L is for Old Lousy, the pride of the pack;
M for the Mouthings he thinks are orations,
N is for the Nazi-led Nitwit of Nations.
O's for Obsession and Outrages hasty,
P is for Psychopath, Pop-eyed and Pasty;
Q is for Quagmire and Quicksand and Quack,
R is the Rogue now awaiting the Rack.
S is for Sweep and Superlative Swine,
T is the Terror on which he shall dine;
U is for Upstart, Unlettered and Ugly,
V is the Velvet on which he sat snugly;
W stands for the Wreck he's now reaching,
X for Xtinction past praying or preaching.
Y's for a Yellow-Souled, Yapping Yahoo,
Z's for just Zany—and I think that will do.

—Lucio in the Manchester Guardian

—V—

PEDRO PLAYED
WHILE CABIN BURNED

Pedro is a large playful dog, part mastiff and part police. His master, Baptiste Lapointe, who lived in a cabin on Clear Lake near Tamworth, liked to play with his pet and the pair spent many enjoyable hours together. A particular prank which Baptiste and Pedro enjoyed was when the dog grabbed his master by the seat of the trousers or the coat-tail while Baptiste made frantic make-belief efforts to get away. The ensuing tug-of-war would sometimes take as long as fifteen minutes.

Then Baptiste's cabin caught fire, and it was the playful prank of man and dog that prevented reduction of the blaze and the saving of their little home.

It happened this way:

Baptiste was working in the small garden patch a short distance from his cabin home when he noticed wisps of smoke curling from the roof near the chimney. A spark had fallen on the shingles and in a minute the roof was blazing merrily.

It was a minor blaze. A quick dash of water from a pail would have reduced it and this story would never have been written. Still there was no time to lose and Baptiste started on the run for the cabin.

Pedro, who had been sitting quietly nearby, thought it was the signal for a game. As Baptiste passed hom on the dead run he grabbed him by the seat of the trousers and grimly held on.

Baptiste used English, his mother's tongue; he used French, his father's language, then in desperation he turned to Mohawk in his entreaties to the dog to loose him. But Pedro thought it was all part of the game and hung on.

The cabin was burned to the ground.

—V—

NO INTERFERENCE......

This story has arrived from the seaport of Bergen. A party of German soldiers in an automobile, apparently in a state of hilarity, came driving at great speed through the streets of Bergen and down to the water front. But there, instead of halting or turning, they continued straight on and plunged to the bottom of the harbor.

Shortly afterwards the Gestapo rounded up some Norwegians who had witnessed the accident, questioning first of all a stalwart fisherwife on the the quay.

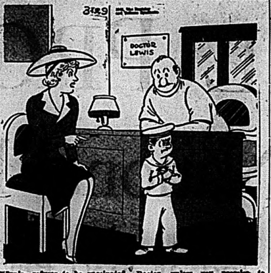
"You saw the soldiers coming, didn't you? And you saw they were headed for the water?"

"Yes," admitted the woman.

"Then why didn't you stop them?"

"Me, stop them?" she replied, "why. I thought they were on their way to England."

OFF THE RECORD By Ed Reed



"Junior refuses to be vaccinated, Doctor, unless you promise to tattoo an anchor."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES
OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 29th, 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Sills have returned to the city from Cobourg where they spent a vacation.

Messrs. Harry McConnell, George Reid, Clarence Ostrom and Jack Maracle have returned home after visiting the Toronto Exhibition.

Mr. Harold Arnott is spending his vacation in Toronto.

Mr. N. Wilder, Pine Street, is spending a few days in Ottawa.

Master Billy Parrell is visiting friends in Toronto and taking in the fair.

Mr. L. Hamilton of Montreal is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. Leeming, Grove Street.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 29th, 1911.

The Band of the 15th Argyll Light Infantry will give three concerts at the Tornoto Exhibiconcerts at the Toronto Exhibi-

Mr. P. J. Wims went to Toronto today on business.

Mr. Fred Cook, Coleman Street left today to visit friends in Winipeg and Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lake have returned to Deseronto after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henry, South Albert Street.

Mr. T. E. Rothwell has returned from Deseronto where he visited his brother.

Mr. H. McGonigal of Rochester, N.Y., is visiting friends in the city and vicinity.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 29th, 1901.

Mr. W. P. Hudson went to Madoc today on business.

Mr. D. R. Leavens is visiting the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo.

Mr. Bert Naylor is home from Rochester, N.Y., on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chown are visiting friends in Rochester, N.Y.

Chief of Police Coleman of Trenton was in town today.

Mrs. Stephen Eustace and daughter, Miss May Eustace, are spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. William Colling entertained a number of friends at Massassaga Park today.

Mr. Daniel Coyle left on the steamer North King last night for Rochester and Buffalo.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 29th, 1891.

Mrs. Bates and daughter, of Cleveland, Ohio, are the guests of Mrs. Furnival, Bridge Street East.

Mr. W. J. Hudson of Rochester, N.Y., formerly of Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

Dr. Dumble spent yesterday here with friends.

The largest maskinonge caught so far this season in the Forest and Stream Club's competition was registered yesterday by Mr. William Ormond. The fish weighed 22 pounds and was caught in Mosquito Bay.

The expert has arrived here and will proceed at once to put in place the chimes for St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Just Folks
by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

SECOND CHOICE

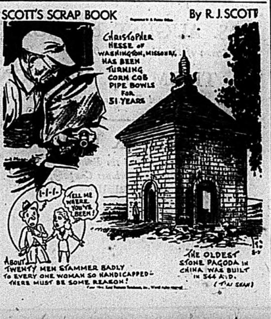
I think had things been otherwise a farmer I'd have made,
And could have ploughed and seeded ground in springtime unafraid.
I could have loved the open field and God's great arch of sky
And gloried in my patch of corn when it was shoulder high.

I sometimes think of Plymouth Rocks or maybe Leghorns white
As fowl I had been proud to own and shelter day and night.
And had my path been different turned I often fancy now
I had been very happy owning dog and horse and cow.

They set me down to figures in the days when I was small.
My father knew the tables I could never learn at all.
I tried the business office, but before the year had fled
"The editorial fellows have a vacancy," they said.

Too late at last my ways to change I hear a rooster crow
Or look at blooming orchards as along my way I go.
And seeing herds of cattle and the fruits of field and vine
I think I'll be a farmer should a second chance be mine.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT



CHRISTOPHER HESSE OF WASHINGTON, MISSOURI, HAS BEEN TURNING CORN COB PIPE BOWLS FOR 51 YEARS
I-I-I-
TELL ME WHERE YOU'VE BEEN!
ABOUT TWENTY MEN STAMMER BADLY TO EVERY ONE WOMAN SO HANDICAPPED—THERE MUST BE SOME REASON!
THE OLDEST STONE PAGODA IN CHINA WAS BUILT IN 544 A.D. (T'AI SHAN)

ON THE RECORD
By DOROTHY THOMPSON

The British Revolution

New York, August 29.—In twenty-four hours of quiet and solitude in Lisbon I reviewed my mind in search of the answer to a leading question: What is it that is so peculiarly impressive about Britain at war that it has made the whole crowded experience a continual intellectual excitement? What revealing clue runs through the epic story, as it unfolds from so many angles and through so many groups and characters? What is it that I have found and put no words to yet?

• • •

The answer, I think, is this: This war is not destroying British civilization. It is recreating it. It is shattering buildings, but it is also testing in a fiery furnace all social habits and political and economic institutions and modifying them at breath-taking pace. Despite the rubble, the Britain of August, 1941, is infinitely more civilized than the Britain of September, 1939.

This particular and unique war, that invades every phase of life, is the greatest purge in human history, and with all its destruction and misery, it is blasting windows into minds as well as glass into the streets. It is causing things to be done that the intelligence of the few long ago recommended, but that never would have been done had not imagination and intelligence become wedded by a shotgun marriage to the ultimate necessity—survival.

To take a few examples: It is decentralizing industry, breaking up cities, deconcentrating populations. It is conjoining the education of children with their care and feeding. It is forcing a radical and universal reconsideration of dietary habits. It is compelling the elimination of that waste in materials and energy that comes from the cooking of ten million meals three times a day in ten million separate homes.

It is destroying the social parasite, who lives by levies on, and interventions in, the productive system, and is absorbing him as a person into genuine creative or conserving activity. It is welcoming fresher and younger blood from all classes into the offices of the state. It is shattering a financial system that keeps production bound and gagged. It is shattering a financial system that keeps production bound and gagged. It is cultivating the human body. It is releasing the hitherto hardly tapped energies and emotions of women into grandiose social organization and service.

It is making the scientist into a priest and the priest into a minister. It is reclaiming agriculture. It is revivifying and democratizing the interest in books, music and real culture. It is enforcing more solitude as well as more social co-operation.

It is compelling radical readjustments in the relations between management and labor. It is fostering courtesy and the most intimate friendliness between classes. It is humanizing work by making all work serve essential social purposes. It is creating a freedom based upon obligations as well as rights. It is rediscovering poetry, chivalry and heroism.

It is democratizing the aristocrat and ennobling the democrat. It is restoring the basic meaning of the word virtue, as manliness in the humane sense rather than masculinity in the physical sense.

• • •

In short, this war that has scarred the face of every British city is releasing the British mind and soul and is bringing about the Anglo-Saxon revolution of humanism, socialism and freedom. Or, if you like of fraternity, equality and liberty—but in this order, and not the other way around.

It is creating the synthesis between socialism and private enterprise, between the state and the free instruments of society, between the aristocratic and democratic spirit, between nationalism and internationalism.

• • •

And this revolution is occurring with the collaboration of men and women of every country of Europe, gathered in the British Isles as in a gigantic Noah's Ark—Slavs from all the eastern nations, Greeks and Frenchmen, emigre Spaniards, Jews of course, even a few "Aryan" Germans, together with a constant flow of contacts between itself and the United States and now between itself and the Soviet Union. The Anglo-Saxon revolution proceeding in revolutionary form, without ideology, with the bloodshed all caused by external enemies—a revolution that transcends and breaks down classes—is also a revolution that transcends nations and nationalism. It avows the principle of nationality, while diluting and modifying the nationalism that has divided the world since the eighteenth century.

It is, therefore, a revolution of all-European and world-wide significance. It is occurring in a European stronghold and for the liberation and equality of all European nationalities; but it is also occurring in an island, of Europe and yet not in it, an island that is the heart-centre of a world commonwealth, and allied with Russia, China and, in all but a technical sense, with the United States.

• • •

It must not be inferred that these developments are occurring without hitches or opposition, that they proceed equally on all fronts and in all places, or that they are in any way complete. Actually, they are more apparent and appear more coherent to the fresh eye than to Britons themselves. Britons have either the time nor the opportunity abstractly to analyze what they are doing or its probable effect on the world at large.

The visitor to England enters a besieged country, cut off from the wider contacts with either Europe or America. He is eagerly received and eagerly questioned. If he has known Britain before, he is more conscious than his hosts of the radical sweep of change, that is the more remarkable because it has left the characteristic forms and traditions intact. The House of Commons functions continually; property is not being expropriated but being socially used; the courtesies do not relax; the amenities are more modest but not more boorish; the press is as free as it has ever been and much more free than in the Munich era; criticism is candid; the Prime Minister is a Prime Minister and not a Fuehrer; the Crown and the constitutional monarchy are unchallenged—the most popular woman in England is the Queen, and popular in the exact meaning of the word.

• • •

It is the sense of the progress of a revolution longed for—a revolution based on reason, realism, and humanism, that engages the enthusiasm of the visitor. It is not that one is or becomes more "pro-British", it is that one sees so much in besieged Britain that can be emulated. One is constantly asking oneself, 'Why don't we do this?' "Why must a nation be driven to the wall in order to act with intelligence, energy and brotherhood?"

And yet one also asks oneself, "What if it should have to surrender to superior brute force?" No Briton asks this question of himself, as far as I can find, but the visitor asks it. The visitor asks: "What if, in the ultimate showdown, America should wash her hands and say 'Enough'!"

Only in the beclouding doubt of that still dubious question does the heart sink, knowing that were that "enough" to be spoken too soon, the Ark of Mankind might tumble broken into the flood, and the brazen-browed tread here and everywhere—until in some far, far future, out of slavery and bloody rebellion, humanity should be rediscovered as one must believe it always would be.

Newest Notes of Science

Held in contact with an upper sash by a spring, a roller has been invented to be attached to a lower window sash to prevent windows rattling.

After experiments with various Australian hardwoods covering several years it has been found that swamp gum can be used successfully in the manufacture of newsprint.

An inventor has equipped a floating thermometer with a chart to show a housewife the correct temperatures at which different fabrics should be laundered.

A research laboratory in Scotland tests samples of soils used for agricultural purposes by burning them, the resulting light being spread out in a spectrum for study.

Locked with a special key, a cabinet that can be inserted inside a bathroom medicine cabinet has been invented by a New York man to prevent children handling poisons.

THAT BODY OF YOURS
James W. Barton, M.D.

There Should Not Be an Increase in Cases of Breast Cancer

A prominent surgeon operated on three women, within one month, for the removal of an enlarged milk gland of the breast. These three women had all believed they had cancer and had suffered for many months in silence, afraid to tell their families of their fears. Most of us naturally think this waiting and hiding of their secret fears was a big mistake because they either had or had not cancer. If no cancer was present, they were worrying unnecessarily; if cancer was present, they were losing all this valuable time because cancer of the breast can be readily cured by surgery, radium or X-rays, if treated early.

There will always be unnecessary deaths from cancer of the breast if women will not report any lump in the breast as soon as it is discovered. They should not consider it just an enlarged milk gland, as so many of these lumps prove to be, but should consider it cancer until it has been proven otherwise.

Statistics show that there has been a steady increase in breast cancer for the past few years, mainly because so many women, as with men, also, now live so much longer and so reach the cancer age, 40 to 60 years of age. Thus, it is found "that for every eight women who in 1920 derveloped cancer of the breast, today there are eleven who do so, an increase of more than 30 per cent in twenty years."

Now, while this great increase is due in part to the fact that there is a greater percentage of women today in the cancer-age group, some of the increase is due to the fact that physicians are thinking about cancer more than ever, and thus more cases of cancer are discovered and reported than in former years.

Do these two factors—more women living to the cancer age and physicians more alert and report findings more accurately than formerly—account for all the increase in cancer of the breast?

No! "There is an unexplained "actual" increase and that emphasizes the importance of alertness for symptoms that may mean that the disease is present".

If women would realize that cancer of the breast is so readily curable, they would not ignore the lump which they think may be only an enlarged milk gland, but would consult their physician at once.

Cargo Owners Win Millions

House of Lords Finally Decides Against Underwriters

London (CP)—Litigation in three test cases between underwriters and owners of cargoes aboard German ships when war began has just been decided in favor of the owners. The decision affects millions of dollars worth of cargoes in enemy shipping.

Judgement was handed down in the House of Lords (final court of appeal for United Kingdom legal actions) in these cases—Richards v. Forestal Land, Timber and Railways Co., Ltd., Robertson v. Middow's, Ltd., and Kann v. W. W. Howard, Brothers and Co., Ltd. Appellants were representative Lloyds' underwriters with whom the owners had insured their cargoes.

The goods had been shipped before the outbreak of war. Two ships have since been scuttled and one reached a German port. The owners lost their cargoes in each case.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!
By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

THE TWELVE APOSTLES

It is surprising how few persons, even when they are generally familiar with the Bible, are able to name the Twelve Apostles.

Try it on your friends and see whether it isn't so.

Many, when asked to name the Twelve Apostles, will start out by naming Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

But Mark and Luke were not among the original Twelve Apostles and it is doubtful whether either one of them ever saw Jesus.

The Bible itself is vague as to the identity of several of the Apostles and virtually nothing is known definitely about them.

Besides, the term "apostle" is not restricted to the original twelve disciples of Jesus.

St. Paul, for instance, was not one of Twelve disciples, but he is generally called the Apostle Paul.

Certain Christian writers who lived in the time of the original twelve apostles are known as the Apostolic Fathers.

"apo," off, and "stello," send, and "apa," off, and "stello," send, and means envoy, messenger or missionary.

"Disciple" is from Latin "discipulus," student or pupil.

"Evangelist" is derived from Greek "eu," well, and "angelistes," messenger, and signifies a bearer of the "gospel," which itself is from Anglo-Saxon "godspell," literally meaning good news. Matthew, Mark Luke and John, supposed authors of the four Gospels, are called Evangelists.

The original Twelve Apostles, that is, the original twelve disciples of Jesus, were:

Simon Peter and Andrew (brothers), James the Greater and John (also brothers), Philip, Bartholomew (Nathanael), Thomas, Matthew, James the Less, Thaddaeus (Jude), Simon the Cananite or the Zealot, and Judas Iscariot.

Although Jesus had only twelve disciples, there were really thirteen original Apostles, because after Judas Iscariot hanged himself Matthias was chosen by lot to succeed him as one of the twelve.

Of the original twelve, the deaths of only Judas and James the Greater are recorded in the Bible.

In Acts 12 it is related that Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church and he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

His brother John, although one of the original twelve apostles and disciples and one of the four evangelists, is known as St. John the Divine.

LENGTHY BATTLES MARK SHORT TALE OF TWO-YEAR WAR

Highlights of Giant Conflict in Europe, North Africa and Asia Minor in 12 Paragraphs

By The Associated Press

War began with German invasion of Poland, Sept. 1, 1939. Two days later Great Britain and France declared war. Within three weeks Polish conquest was completed as Nazi High Command unfolded pattern of lightning war. Russia occupied eastern Poland Sept. 17.

Next big flareup came April 9, 1940, as German forces rapidly overran Denmark and Norway. Burning buildings were a common sight in Norway as fire followed the march of conquest.

Lowlands and France.

France's highly-touted Maginot line was rendered useless as German armies rolled across Holland and Belgium in a flanking movement. Four days after the campaign began, on May 10, 1940, Holland capitulated, Leopold II surrendered the Belgian army May 18.

Hitler's forces rolled through the big hole created in the Allied line, pocketed the British Expeditionary force in France. Evacuation of the troops from Dunkerque began May 30 and within five days 350,000 men fled safely across the channel to England.

Britain and the Atlantic

Torpedoing of the British aircraft carrier Courageous on Sept. 19, 1939, with loss of more than 500 British seamen was but a prelude to the full fury of the Battles of Britain and the Atlantic. The complete power of the German air armadas and submarines was turned loose against the "tight little isle" Aug. 11,1940, six weeks after France asked for armistice. Hundreds of Nazi planes roared daily over industrial cities and big navy bases at Portsmouth and along the Thames estuary, pounding relentlessly to cripple British production of war goods and knock out her shipping. London was bombed 58 nights running as the war passed its first aniversary.

Britain countered with air raids on Berlin and the industrial Ruhr valley. At sea Britain blockaded continental ports. German U-boats, cruisers and raiders harassed convoys carrying food and battle essentials from British dominions and the United States, played a hit-and-run game.

Libya, Ethiopia and Syria.. .. .. ..

Control of the Mediterranean and [illegible] carried the war into Africa, started in July, 1940, between British and Italian forces along the Kenya and the Anglo-Egyptian-Sudan border. In September, after taking British Somaliland, Italians invaded Egypt from Libya. In December the British recaptured Sidi Barrani and moved into Libya to take Bardia, Tobruk and Bengasi. Italy yielded Ethiopia May 19, but the British retreated from Bengasi to Tobruk, under siege for months. The attack and counter-attack continue. The British took over Iraq from a rebel government and with the aid of the Free French won Syria from the Vichy French. An armistice agreement was signed July 14, 1941.

Balkans and Crete

War spread to the Balkans Oct. 28, 1940, when Greece rejected an Italian territorial demand and fought aggressively through the winter. In November, Hungary, Rumania and Slovakia joined the Axis; in March Bulgaria and Yugoslavia capitulated. The Germans crossed Yugoslavia and Greece's downfall was swift. The Germans broke through the British rear guard at Thermopylae April 24, 1941, and the war moved to Crete, where after an air-borne German invasion (above) the Allies moved out June 1.

Russia—Then What?

Another unpredictable turn of the war came June 22, 1941, when Germany, Italy and Rumania declared war on Russia. Three days later Finnish troops fought with the Axis. The Germans announced immediate successes and heavy Russian losses. Censorship prevented a clear view of the war's progress, but weather, surprising resistance and distances slowed the German machine. More than 9,000,000 men were reported to be fighting in July on a front virtually from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

German raiders switched from London to Moscow, and British and Russian planes hammered Berlin. Leningrad to the north, Smolensk in the centre, and Kiev in the southern Ukraine became Nazi objectives. Smolensk, 230 miles from Moscow, fell in German hands on July 16, after fierce figthing and many claims and counter-claims.

By Aug. 12, 1941, the Germans claimed capture of 350,000 square miles of Soviet territory. Five days later the Russian army admitted withdrawing from Nikolaev, vital port of 140,000 on the Bug river, near Odessa, Russia's strategic base on the Black Sea.

Meanwhile came the announcement of the historic secret conference of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt at sea and the democracies renewed their faith and confidence.

CALCUTTA IS READY

Calcutta—(CP)—Several experimental blackouts have been conducted here with shelters in the form of slit trenches. Business firms have received detailed instructions concerning precautions to be taken.

BELLEVILLE FAIR
Sept. 8-9-10
THE BIGGEST MIDWAY EVER SEEN IN BELLEVILLE
ALBERTA SASKATCHEWAN
ONTARIO
QUEBEC
MANITOBA
NEW BRUNSWICK
NOVA SCOTIA
BRITISH COLUMBIA
PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
SHOWS
AQUACADE ARCADE
WORLD'S FAIR FREAKS
RO-LO FUN HOUSE
ARTISTS AND MODELS
GLOBE OF DEATH
GLASS HOUSE
ORIENTAL FOLLIES
MIDGET SHOW
NUKI
SUKI
RIDES
MERRY-GO-ROUND
2 FERRIS WHEELS
CATERPILLAR
TILT-A-WHIRL
MOON ROCKET
AUTO SPEEDWAY
FLYING SCOOTER
THE SPITFIRE
LOOP-O-PLANE
FLY-O-PLANE
AUTO SCOOTER
3 KIDDIE RIDES
30 R. R. CAR LOADS OF MODERN STREAM-LINED EQUIPMENT.
FROLICLAND
BELLEVILLE FAIR

Allan Bailey of Mount Pleasant Marks 84th Birthday

Rawdon — Mr. Allan Bailey of Mount Pleasant quietly celebrated his 84th birthday on Sunday, August 24th. Mrs. Bailey entertained as dinner guests in his honour: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey, Foxboro, Mrs. Mary Reid, Corbyville, Mr. George Belshaw, Mrs. Wm. Gunning, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rollins and Carlyn, Stirling, Miss Isobel Turner, Belleville, Mrs. Emma Laver, Warkworth. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey also attended the evening service at Mount Pleasant and Rawdon friends extend birthday felicitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McAdam entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Farley Vermilyea and Jack of Thurlow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McAdam and David.

Messrs. Harold Elliott and Geo. Judd of the R. C. A. F. attended service at Mount Pleasant on Sunday evening.

Mr. J. Fitzgerald is holidaying with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes.

Private Granville Cobbledick called on relatives here one evening last week.

Miss Gladys Summers, Ottawa, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Summers.

Mr. and Mrs. David John White, Smithfield, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooney on Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Laver, Warkworth, formerly of Vancouver, B. C., spent last week with her friend, Mrs. Allan Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Montgomery and Maurice of Stirling spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen.

Mrs. Cyrus Summers spent a few days with friends at Wellmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Sine and Mrs. H. Sine spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Patrick, Frankford.

Mrs. John McMullen spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson, Frankford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoard spent last week at Ottawa and attended the Exhibition.

A large number of Rawdon folks attended the Red Cross concert at Springbrook Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clancy, George, Doreen and Dorothy Clancy Centreville, with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hubble, Mrs. Clancy attended the W. M. S. quilting.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Wrightman entertained on the occasion of Mrs. Wrightman's birthday, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Farrar and Mary, Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Farrar and Keitha, New York, U. S. A., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cretney, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCroaden, Trenton, and Mr. Gerald Farrar and Mrs. Donald Farrar, Frankford.

Master Elton Richardson, River Valley, is holidaying with Master Neil Hubble.

Mr. Billy McAdam is attending Toronto Exhibition.

Mrs. Ross Hoard and her sister, Mrs. Harry Ketcheson, spent a few days in Toronto and attended the exhibition.

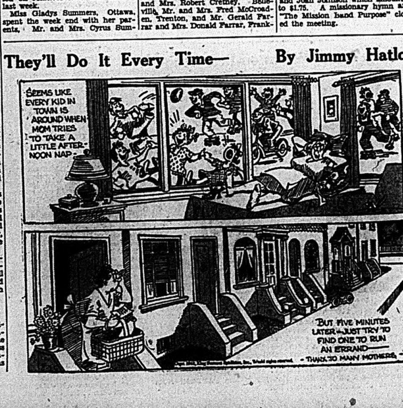
Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen and Miss Marie Montgomery attended a shower Monday evening in the Rose-Lowery Hall, Frankford, in honour of their cousin, Mr. Geo. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Montgomery and his bride, formerly Miss Doreen Loney. During the program Miss Marie Montgomery sang "My sister and I".

Mission Band

Mount Pleasant Mission Band convened after Sunday school for their August meeting. Quiet music was played by Master John Reid. The president gave the call to worship and all sang a Temperance hymn. Mrs. James Sharp offered prayer and Miss Marian Johnson gave a Scripture alphabet.

Mrs. Cyrus Summers presented the "Highway of Friendship" and later she outlined the study story on "Trinidad". The Treasurer reported $13.88 to date. Readings were given by Jerry Melville and Gordon Reid. The offering was gathered by Misses Ruth Dunham and Joan Johnson which amounted to $1.75. A missionary hymn and "The Mission band Purpose" closed the meeting.

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



SEEMS LIKE EVERY KID IN TOWN IS AROUND WHEN MOM TRIES TO TAKE A LITTLE AFTERNOON NAP—
BUT FIVE MINUTES LATER—JUST TRY TO FIND ONE TO RUN AN ERRAND—
THANX TO MANY MOTHERS

Miss Anna Sharpe Honoured

On Tuesday evening, August 26th Mrs. Carleton Potts entertained twenty girls in honour of Miss Anna Sharp, bride-to-be. The girls enjoyed a game of bingo and a novelty game. The guest of honour opened the various gifts, each one of which expressed individual appreciation of Anna's worth and usefulness in the community. The gifts were kitchenware in blue and white. Anna graciously thanked her friends for their kind thoughtfulness and invited the girls to visit her in her new home at Moira. The hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Ray Shortt and Miss Esma Cole served a dainty lunch and all enjoyed a social time together.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross entertained on Tuesday evening, August 19th in honour of the birthday of Miss Gertie McMullen. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. John McMullen and Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMullen.

Master Maurice Clancy is very ill with scarlet fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hay spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sine attended the McCoy-Sine nuptials on Wednesday.

Miss Lois McAdam is holidaying this week with Mrs. Alfred Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer recently entertained Miss Margaret Guernsey, Mrs. Hannah Landon, Mrs. Will Mackenzie and Hazel and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bailey.

Master Robert Hoard spent last week with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ketcheson.

Master Marvin Sine is holidaying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrews.

Miss Marie Montgomery and Miss Phyllis Downs exchanged visits.

Friends and relatives were sorry to hear of the critical illness of Mr. Harvey Pitcher, Frankford, following an accident Saturday afternoon when he was hitching a team of horses. Several ribs were fractured and other injuries sustained.

On Tuesday August 26th, Mount Pleasant W. M. S. sponsored a quilting at the hall when two lovely bale quilts which had been pieced by Mrs. John Bailey were quilted and these will go north in the December bale. There was a total attendance of seventeen and the dinner money amounting to 2.35 went to the mission band. A small quilt pieced by Mrs. Sarah McKeown was received as a donation and it had been finished by Mrs. Edgar McKeown in readiness for the packing of the bale.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Higgs, Oshawa, spent the week end at Mount Pleasant.

SWEDISH WIEWPOINT

Gothenburg, Sweden (CP)—Torgny Segerstedt, editor of Handels-och Sjofarts Tidningen, compares the recently-published "eight-points" program of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt to the American Bill of Rights of 1789.

Wooler

Wooler — Mr. and Mrs. R. Putnam are entertaining Mrs. Wm. Ruttan of Rossmore.

After visiting their son, Mr. Don Lawson and his wife, their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McColl and other relatives and friends, Rev. F. A. and Mrs. Lawson returned to their home in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sheppard and small daughter of Brighton were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Terrill entertained Mrs. S. Herrington of Frankford and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Herrington of Richmond Hill on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wessel were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Norman White of Brooklyn, N. Y., for a few days.

Mrs. R. Plimpton was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Putnam for a few days.

After enjoying a holiday at Barcovan Beach, Mr. and Mrs. N. Haggarty and family have returned home.

The Misses Edith and Cora Valentine entertained Mrs. Wm. Montgomery and son, Francis, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gooding are entertaining Mrs. Bartholemew and daughter of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush of Glen Miller spent Sunday last at the United Church parsonage.

Harold Rowe spent a few days in Wellington at Fellowship Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dauncey of Frankford were guests of Mrs. Dauncey's mother, Mrs. Henry during a week end.

Mrs. Earl Doonan of Brighton was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nelson recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cook of Peterboro for a week. While here they made several calls among other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts of Toronto attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hill (nee Marion Nelson).

Mrs. Alice Gunter of York Road is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bert Rowe for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wiley spent a day at Lindsay.

The following spent last Sunday at Crowe Lake: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maybee and daughter, Helen; Mr. and Mrs. H. Ireland and daughters, Gala and Ruth, Mrs. Walter Ireland, Mrs. A. P. German, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stewart, Miss Mabel Jackson and Miss M. Yule of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maybee spent a day at Trent Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rowe called on Mr. Rowe's sister, Mrs. Perry and Rev. Harry Perry at Fellowship Lodge in Wellington.

Mr. Vaughn Adams was in Toronto for a few days.

Miss Mabel Jackson and Miss M. Yule of Montreal, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. K. Maybee, have returned home.

Mrs. Stanley Maybee entertained her sister, Miss C. Morgan of Toronto for a week's holiday.

After spending a number of weeks with his son, Curtis, at Haliburton, Mr. D. I. Way has returned home.

Messrs. Hubert and Eali Herrington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Frostt of Crowe Lake on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Adams were at Barcovan Beach Sunday, calling on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan of York Road were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morgan.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lew McColl on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis and baby of Peterboro.

Mr. W. J. Lawson spent Sunday among friends at Peterboro.

Relatives living at Rednersville visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown on Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Morrow recently entertained her cousin from Frankford, Miss Jean Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Dorland were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arthur on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McColl were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ames of Codrington on Sunday.

Mrs. E. M. Wessel is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mrs. S. L. Terrill, who has been the guest of Mrs. A. Poulter at Barcovan Beach, has returned home. Mrs. Terrill enjoyed the outing immensely and feels that her health has been benefitted thereby.

Mr. and Mrs. Bulman and family were guests of their daughters at Presqu'Ile Point on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Springett of Warsaw, N. Y., are spending their holidays with the latter's mother, Mrs. Jessie Murray.

Messrs. Herman Morrow and Robert Walker, who have been attending the training school at Belleville have finished their respective courses satisfactorily and have accepted positions at the Bata Co., Frankford. They started to work on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tackabury of Brighton were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Whitney.

Miss Annie Richards of Queensboro was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Putnam.

Mr. and Mrs. F. McGinnis and Mrs. Will Sharpe of Fonthill arrived on Saturday to visit relatives and friends.

Miss Leah Wessel of Rochester, N. Y., is holidaying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Wessel.

Mr. Milton Bryant has been confined to the house the past week, suffering from a cold.

Mrs. Ada Boneham entertained to noon dinner on Monday the following ladies: Mrs. Will Sharpe and daughter, Mrs. F. McGinnis of Fonthill, Mrs. Hugh Gainsforth, Mrs. Leland Bryant, and Mrs. Roy Putnam.

Mrs. A. Sharpe and Mrs. S. Sharpe were hostesses at the tea hour on Monday to Mr. and Mrs. H. Gainsforth, Mrs. Ada Boneham, Mrs. W. Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. F. McGinnis.

Murray Canal

Murray Canal — Mr. and Mrs. A. Flindall and Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor spent Thursday with Mr. H. Flindall, Barcovan Beach.

The York Road Women's Institute held their August meeting at the English Settlement School.

Mrs. F. Moran spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. L. Crooks.

Pte. Frank Chapman of Kingston spent Sunday at his home here.

Miss May Tackabury spent the week end with Mrs. Westfall, Smithfield.

Crawford and Bobbie McCullough of Trenton spent a few days last week with their grandmother, Mrs. M. McCullough.

A number of friends were entertained at a wedding anniversary on Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. Flindall in honour of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor of Toronto.

Miss J. Waite and Mr. C. Dyer spent the week end in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. W. Powers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bedal and sons spent Sunday with Mrs. F. Moran.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tackabury entertained friends from the States on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simpson left on Sunday for a trip to the north country.

Pte. Gerald Simpson of Camp Borden is home on furlough.

Mr. W. Seward is spending a few days in Toronto.

Rev. and Mrs. B. Harrison and Ruby were dinner guests on Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. F. Chapman.

Mr. Walter Moran is spending a few weeks at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor of Toronto have returned after spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Flindall.

Sgt. and Mrs. J. Gibson and Donnie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. P. Coulter.

Thomasburg

Thomasburg — The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Thomasburg was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Brown on August 13 with twenty-four visitors and members in attendance. The president Mrs. Harold Morton, conducted the opening devotions, with hymns and the Theme song, and prayer by Mrs. M. Adams. Plans were made for packing the bail. The Worship Service was conducted by the president. A hymn was sung. Mrs. G. Walker opened the program with a hymn. The Temperance reading was given by Mrs. G. Jones and Mrs. M. English gave a peace reading. Mrs. Harrison Mullett of China, was the guest speaker of the afternoon. Her address, "The Women of China" was of unusual interest and much enjoyed. The meeting closed with the hymn "More Love to Thee" and the Mizpah Benediction. Cake and lemonade was served and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Earl Bateman and little son of Cobalt, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Bateman.

Miss Emma Porter, William Morton, Mr. Albert Porter, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Porter to Alexandria for a few days visit last week with Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Cheeney.

Master James Diamond of Lakeport is holidaying with Mrs. Wesley Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy and Joe of Flint, Mich., are visiting relatives here.

Master Johnny Houston of Belleville is spending a few days with Mrs. Ella Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram McTaggart are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John Farrell.

Miss Ruth Coulson spent a few days last week with Miss Margaret Gunning of Tweed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wayling of Toronto, Mr. Bill Brown, B. A., and Miss Sadie Gerrard of Buffalo have returned home after spending the past week with Mrs. J. E. Brown.

A number from here attended the anniversary services and chicken supper at Knox Presbyterian Church, Fuller, on Sunday and Tuesday evenings. There was a large attendance from the surrounding communities from which the program was composed of local talent, the proceeds amounting to $85.75.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard McTaggart spent Friday at Napanee.

Master Ray Sullivan is holidaying with Master Ronald Adams.

Marmora

Marmora — Mrs. William Smith returned home from Nicholl's Hospital, Peterboro, on Wednesday.

Lieut. Percy Gray of Kingston visited at his home here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gano left on Wednesday on a trip to Western Canada.

Mrs. Comerford of Sudbury is visiting her mother, Mrs. Catharine Forestell.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Fortier and children and Mrs. M. McGrath are visiting relatives in North Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Welland McCutcheon and two children of Cliffside, N. J., visited Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Quinn on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boyd are visiting relatives in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens and Mrs. Dan Oakley of Norwood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hector Auger of Marmora.

Sgt. Pilot Atkinson of Campbellford is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Dennis at Crowe Lake.

4th Sidney

4th Sidney — W. M. S. and L. A. met at the home of Mrs. J. Detlor on Wednesday last with a good attendance.

Tomato and corn picking is underway for the canning factories and a fair crop is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Phillips and son, Ivan, called on Mrs. S. Phillips recently.

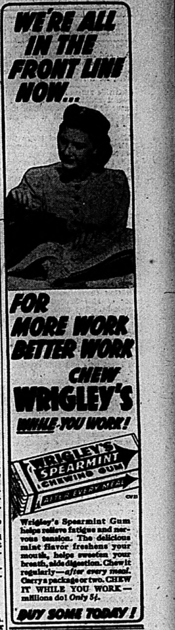
Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. C. Holmes.

Mrs. E. Tucker, Mrs. Claude Tucker and children were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris.

Miss J. Kierman and sister, Mrs. Geo. Booth of Hamilton called at their home on Friday evening.

Mrs. Ed. Phillips called on Mrs. Rob't. Elliott recently.

The recent rain has filled the wells and the farmers are busy with their ploughing as the rain has gone down considerably.



WE'RE ALL IN THE FRONT LINE NOW...
FOR MORE WORK BETTER WORK
CHEW WRIGLEY'S WHILE YOU WORK!

Wrigley's Spearmint Gum helps relieve fatigue and nervous tension. The delicious mint flavor freshens your mouth, helps sweeten your breath, aids digestion. Chew it regularly—after every meal. Carry a package or two. CHEW IT WHILE YOU WORK—millions do! Only 5¢.
BUY SOME TODAY!

IT'S A 2-WEEK WONDER LAND!
IT'S A WAR-TIME EXHIBITION
with fighting men and fighting machines in thrilling action—with grand martial music—with captured Messerschmitts and other "trophies" from the Battle of Britain—with war weapons being made for Empire armies.
It's an education . . .
with exhibits from the four corners of the world—with dramatic, informative displays by Agriculture and Industry—with war-time fashions and foods—with Red Cross demonstrations, and women working for bombed cities.
And it has its lighter moments . . .
with the brilliant C.N.E. Horse Show (starts Sept. 1)—with new rides, new laughs, new thrills in Frolexland—with glamorous Canadian models—with beautiful floral displays—with championship sports events every day—with Canada's finest Dogs, Cats and Livestock—with gay dance music by foremost American bands.
. . .
Get there early, get a Souvenir Program (10c at the Park) and see everything in this unique Exhibition.
CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION
AUG-22 SEPT-6

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wynne of Toronto, are visiting at the home of the former's parents, North Park Street, for a few days.

Belleville nurses held a delightful personal shower last evening in honour of Miss Edna Sullivan and Miss Helen Fitzgerald at the latter's home.

Mrs. Keough wife of Major W. T. Keough, E.D., has returned from Montreal after spending three weeks in the Ross Memorial of the Royal Victoria Hospital under the care of Dr. W. Gordon Byers and is now convalescing at her home, Crag-an Mor, 221 Bleecker Ave.

Mrs. J. Scott and Mrs. H. Hoagie were tea hostesses at the Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club yesterday afternoon. The members of the winning rink were Mrs. L. Gerow, Mrs. B. J. Black and Mrs. C. I. Lent, (skip.)

Mrs. Olive Ryan and Mrs. Don Sargent were hostesses at a delightfully arranged shower at the Belleville Golf Club last evening in honor of Miss Marjorie McLean, bride-to-be. The guest of hoour was presented with kitchenware in red and white. Cards were enjoyed during the evening, the winners being Mrs. John Spafford and Miss Grace Hogle. The tea table was lovely with its centrepiece of pink sweet peas and pink candles. Mrs. E. E. Timmerman and Mrs. Margaret Eames, Chicago, aunts of the bride-to-be, poured tea.

Mrs. D. Brant and son, Carl, Mr. Vernon Claus and Mr. H. Snarr are leaving on Saturday morning for points West where they will visit Mrs. Brant's brother, Mr. J. Claus and Mrs. Claus of Hamilton and will attend the C.N.E. on Monday.

On Thursday evening the Girls' Juvenile Orange Lodge entertained a number of the Boys' Juvenile Orange Lodge, at the Orange Hall, Front Street. The evening was spent very harmoniously. Different suggestions were made for the Welfare of the Order and a church parade was planned. General remarks were made by the members of the Lodges. A number of patriotic songs were sung by the gathering after which the girls served refreshments. At ten o'clock all left for home with many compliments regarding the hospitality of the Girls' J.O.L.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, August 30

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

HIGH TENSION and aggression may mark this day, judging by very active planetary operations. Although things may move under energetic and strenuous force, with important projects and high ambitions at stake, yet an exaggerated or rash measure of initiative and attack might end disastrously. Deliberation, cool judgment, practical methods and a conservative use of funds as well as force would prove lucrative. Beware entangling alliances and duplicity.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which all matters may move at high tempo, and into currents of success and prosperity if they are manipulated with calm and restrained consideration and not tempest, impetuosity, strife and wild urges, and also with some conservation and sanity in use of funds as well as energies.

A child born on this day should have much energy, initiative and ambition which properly developed and restrained might bring fine success.

NERVOUS NAZIS

London (CP)—Word comes from Norway that the Nazis have forbidden farmers on the island of Feie to allow their sheep to graze at night. One night, seeing shadowy figures (sheep) in the dark, soldiers of the German garrison bolted.

"DUD" BLEW UP

Bristol (CP)—Thought to be a harmless "dud" an incendiary bomb being used as a cigaret cuspidor blew up and injured three men employed as fire-watchers.

BATHERS' GAS MASK

London (CP)—Relenting Wembley authorities have withdrawn the order that bathers at civic pools must have their gas masks with them but they are still "advised" to carry them.

HOUSEHOLD USE No. 5
MAKES THE WASHING SNOWY WHITE
A little Javex in washing machine or rinse water produces a sparkling white wash. Stubborn stains disappear like magic. Use every wash-day.
AT YOUR GROCER'S
Javex
DIRT'S WORST ENEMY
15¢

Weddings

BOUND—THOMPSON

West Huntingdon, (Special) —A very pretty Autumn wedding took place at St. Andrew's manse, Stirling, on Wednesday, August 27, at one-thirty p.m., when Lillian Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, West Huntingdon, became the bride of George Arthur Bound, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bound, Campbellford. The W. H. V. Walker officiated.

The bride was charmingly gowned in Air Force blue wool crepe and wore a corsage of Talisman roses Her travelling dress was grey wool with navy accessories.

Miss Muriel Thompson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was dressed in navy crepe and navy accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The groom was supported by Mr. Harold Thompson.

The ceremony was attended by a number of the immediate relatives.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silver, to the bridesmaid, a music case and to the groomsman a tie clip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bound left on a wedding trip to Midland and Toronto, and on their return will reside on the groom's farm at Campbellford.

PALMER—CRAGG

Christ Church was the scene of a quiet wedding Wednesday evening, August 27, when Rev. A. Beauchamp Payne united in marriage, Bernice Saigh, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Cragg, to Douglas Ross Palmer, son of Mrs. C. H. White and the late Ercy Palmer. They were attended by Mrs. John Chaumont and Mr. Vernon Rump. They will reside in Belleville.

JONES—TURNER

Marmora, (Special)—The wedding took place in Deer Park United Church chapel, on Saturday, August 23, with Rev. F. H. Joblin officiating, of Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Turner of Islington, and William L. Jones, Guelph, son of Mrs. W. Jones, Tweed, and the late Mr. Jones. Mrs. Jones for the past two years has been on the teaching staff of the Marmora High School and was very popular with the staff and the pupils.

McCOY—SINE

Rawdon, (Special)—The home of Mrs. A. C. Sine, Harold, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding at eleven o'clock, on Wednesday, August 27, when her younger daughter, Josephine Kathleen, became the bride of Durwood Allan, son of Mrs. C. A. McCoy and the late Mr. McCoy, of Madoc.

The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her brother, Mr. Delbert Sine, and took her place against a bank of gladioli and ferns. The Wedding March was played by Mrs. A. Haggerty, sister of the groom. Rev. J. E. Beckel of Stirling, performed the ceremony.

The bride looked charming in a gown of turquoise blue silk jersey. She wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and baby's breath.

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served to the immediate relatives and friends. The bride's table was centred with a pink wedding cake while pink and white flowers and streamers completed the colour scheme. The luncheon was served by four friends of the bride, the Misses Bertha Long, Norwood, Bessie King, Shannonville, Vera Heagie, Toronto and Norma Sarles, Harold.

Later the happy couple left for points west and north, the bride travelling in dusky rose sheer with brown accessories.

On their return they will reside on the farm of the groom's father, near Madoc.

BURLEY—McCOY

Cherry Valley United Church, beautifully decorated with pink and white flowers with fern, was the scene of an interesting mid summer wedding at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when Eula Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McCoy, Cherry Valley, became the bride of Clayton Ernest Burley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burley, Belleville. Rev. Dr. Young, Belleville, officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a white silk net frock over taffeta in floor length style. Her finger tip veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried Johanna Hill roses.

Miss Jennie Burris, Madoc, was bridesmaid, wearing baby blue silk net over taffeta, with a pleated net halo caught with pink flowers. She wore a cameo bracelet, the gift of the groom and carried Braircliffe roses. Miss Wilma McCoy, Picton, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a floor length gown of pale green organdy trimmed with pink and a garland of pink roses in her hair. She carried a nosegay of lace flowers. Mr. Tom Burley, Belleville, brother of the groom, was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Keith Cole, Milford, and Mr. Herbert Burley, Belleville, brother of the groom. Wedding music was played by Mrs. G. Bell.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms being prettily decorated in pink and white. A buffet luncheon was served the guests, Mrs. McCoy, mother of the bride, wore Marina blue flowered Bemberg sheer with navy accessories and corsage of roses. Mrs. Burley, mother of the groom, was in Queen's blue with black accessories and corsage of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Burley left on a wedding trip to Ottawa and points west, the bride travelling in a grey and blue wool dress with grey accessories and a blue three quarter length coat. She wore a corsage of roses and a silver pin, the gift of the groom. Upon their return they will take up residence in Belleville.

McKNIGHT—THOMPSON

Empey Hill, (Special)—A quiet wedding was performed by Rev. C. D. McLellan at Grace Church parsonage on Saturday, August 23, when Ethel Maude, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson Napanee, became the bride of George Troll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McKnight. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride looked lovely in a dusty rose dress with Empire blue accessories and wore a corsage of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Jeanne Thompson, sister of the bride, was attired in Air Force blue with black accessories.

The groom was attended by his brother, Wallace of Bowmanville.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Later the bride and groom left on a trip to Toronto, Hamilton, and Muskoka. For travelling the bride chose a grey-blue dress, grey plaid coat with matching accessories. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm here, where Mrs. McKnight is re-engaged for teacher in the Swamp School.

MIRON—DAVIS

Wooler, (Special)—The rectory of St. Alphonsus' Church at Wooler, on Saturday afternoon, August 23, was the setting for a beautiful wedding, when Edna Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, of Trenton, became the bride of Edward Miron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miron of Wooler. The Rev. Father Rishea of St. Alphonsus' Church officiated.

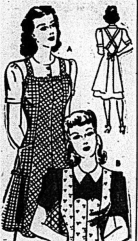
The bride was gowned in a street length frock with long full sleeves and Princess lines, matching turban with navy accessories. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Katheline Davis, as bridesmaid, who was dressed in a street length gown with long full sleeves of turquoise jersey silk and matching turban with beige accessories. The bride and bridesmaid both wore corsages of roses and forget me nots. Joseph Miron, brother of the groom was best man.

A reception was held at Rene's Whitehouse Tearoom at Brighton, where Mrs. Davis, the mother of the bride, received in a black dress trimmed with white and black accessories. Mrs. Miron, mother of the groom, received in a navy dress with white accessories.

The happy couple left on a motor trip through Northern Ontario. Upon their return they will reside in Trenton.

Crisp Apron in Two Versions

PATTERN 4861



Busy days ahead! Be sure that you're well-supplied by ordering Pattern 4861, a new Anne Adams style that's quick-as-a-flash to cut and sew. The front of this well-designed apron is panelled; the sides are high and curved for protection. The straps criss-cross smartly in back. You may choose between two gay versions. Apron A shows a squared, plastron top, bis-cut center panels, and dainty ruffle trim. Apron B is cut with the straps in-one with the bodice and a scalloped top. Do start these aprons as soon as possible, letting the Sewing Instructor show you all the short-cuts!

Pattern 4861 is available in sizes small (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Small size, apron A, takes 3 yards 35 inch fabric and 2 3-4 yards ruffling; apron B, 2 1-2 yards 35 inch fabric.

Send TWENTY CENTS (20c in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER... .. ....

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Fron St., Belleville, Ont.

Fleming Re-Union Held at Oak Lake

Preceded and followed by cold wet weather came a perfect day August 20th, 1941, on which 154 members of the Fleming clan gathered at Searles Beach, Oak Lake, for their sixth annual reunion.

A delicious lunch was served at 1 p.m. The gathering was called to order by the singing of O Canada, followed by an address of welcome given by President Harry Rollins. Secretary's report was given by Miss Bessie Fleming, Ivanhoe, Historian's report was given by Mrs. Ray Grant, Belleville, in which were recorded births, marriages and deaths in the past year. It was with regret we record the death of one of our oldest members Mr. Richard Haggerty. Mr. Haggerty was well known and will be greatly missed by all memmers of the clan. We also regret the sudden deaths of Mrs. Edgar Matthews (nee Bessie Richardson) and Walter French two of the younger members. The sympathy of the clan was extended to their families and a two minute silence was observed in their memory. James W. Haggerty, Belleville, gave the Treasurer's report showing a substantial balance, it was moved and seconded that the treasurer send the amount of $15.00 to the British War Victims Fund. D. L. Fleming, Belleville, sang a stirring song "The Highland Man's Toast" which was greatly enjoyed. Interesting short addresses were made by Denis Fleming, Stoco, W. J. Moore, Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reid, Bowmanville, Mrs. Roy Boake, Montreal, Mr. J. Dafoe, Frankford, Wm. Holbert, Thomasburg, Mrs. D. T. Fleming, Belleville, Miss Annie Fleming, Belleville.

Prizes were given for the oldest member present, Miss Annie Fleming, Belleville, youngest member, Carol Bonisteel, Frankford, one coming the farthest, Mrs. Leland Richardson, Sudbury, latest bride, Mrs. Delbert Francis, Crookston.

The following officers were elected, Honor President, Mr. C. A. Fleming, Owen Sound; President, Volney Richardson, Stirling; 1st. Vice President, Ray Grant, Belleville; 2nd. Vice President, J. Dafoe, Frankford; Treasurer, James Haggerty, Belleville, Secretary, Miss B. Fleming, Ivanhoe; Historian, Mrs. R. Grant, Belleville. Special mention was made of those members of the clan who are now serving their country.

Private Wm. Pilling, R.A.F., Capt. Edgar Matthews, Private Sheldon Calver, Private Clare Wright, B.S.M., Ronald Joslyn, Douglas Richardson. Letters of regret were received from Mr. C. A. Fleming, Owen Sound, Mrs. Bell Symons, Mr. and Mrs. W. Parry, Toronto, Mrs. Fred Hanson, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sutherland, Carstairs, Alta., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Richardson, Davis, California, Mrs. W. Hubbell, Smith's Falls, Mrs. Fred Girdwood, Perth, Rev. S. A. R. Delve, Ivanhoe, Marion Boyce, Reg. N., Montreal, Marion Homan, Belleville, Betty Nicol, Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnston, Central Patricia, T. A. Fleming, New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clements, Ivanhoe.

Flowers were sent to those unable to attend through illness. The remainder of the day was spent in the following sports. The competition was keen in each of the events; Girls' under six, Doreen Adams; Boys' under six, Wayne Calver; Girls' 6 to 8, Marilyn Calver; Boys' 6 to 8, John Lanigon; Girls' 8 to 12, Joyce Wallace; Boys' 8 to 12, Ken Runnals; Girls' 13 to 15, Aileen Fleming; Boys' 13 to 15, Maurice Rollins; Boys' over 16, Malcolm Richardson; Girls' over 16, Mrs. Clifford Ray; Peanut Race, Mrs. Bonisteel; Rolling Pin Throwing, Mrs. Arthur Reid; Fat Women's Race, Mrs. Leslie Adams; Balloon Race, Mrs. Reginald Reid; Grandmothers Nail Driving, Mrs. Wm. Holbert; Spot Race, Mrs. C. Clancey; Paper Plate Race, Melville Tanner and Mrs. Gordon Kennedy; Young Women's Nail Driving, Mrs. Don Campbell; Horseshoe Pitching, Mr. Wm. Holbert and Arthur Reid.

In a closely contested ball game Ray Grant's Southerners took Tom Fleming's Northerners into camp to the tune of seven to four.

The families represented at the gathering on Wednesday were descendants of Anne Haggerty, Robt. Fleming, Eliza Wright, John Fleming, James Fleming, David Fleming and Janet Read.

SHORTAGE OF FUEL

Brussels, Aug. 29—(CP Reuters) —Inbel, independent Belgian news agency, says sabotage and passive resistance of miners have caused a shortage of industrial fuel in Belgium.

Clarke Gable and Rosalind Russell form the fascinating new screen team seen in "They Met in Bombay," high-adventure drama, opening next at the Belle Theatre.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Chicago — Physical fitness continues to be a subject of prime importance in relationship to Selective Service and the whole question of national preparedness. In South Africa, Drs. Ernst Jokl and E. H. Cluver studied thirty-two young men who were unable to obtain or retain employment in the period 1935 to 1936, because tests indicated that their power of endurance, strength and skill were low.

In South Africa, a special battalion was established to study how to combat the deteriorating influence of unemployment and how to provide discipline and training for unemployed boys and young men. Studies were made of the physical power of all of the races in South Africa, and the investigators concluded that there is a similarity between the standards of physiologic performance in different racial groups. Some races mature earlier than do others, so that at an earlier age they are capable of larger physical performance.

The investigators point out that the badly nourished people among the white, black, brown and yellow carbohydrate eaters perform the bulk of manual labor on the six continents of the globe. Strangely, they found that unless nutritional conditions are physiologically unbearable, which means that there is scurvy or pellagra, or some other deficiency disease, the human being is capable of upholding, during the years of growth, a normal level of physical efficiency. When, however, the boy or girl passes into adolescence the diet must be improved or the working capacity decreases.

The South African investigators are convinced that physical fitness is a relative matter, and that it is quite possible with certain types of physical disability to make excellent performance. They investigated sixty-seven deaths which occurred during or after exertion. Thus one woman died after dancing for four hours at a ball. When the postmortem examination was made, it was discovered that she had a seriously deficient heart. A young man who was known as the "iron man" of South African Rugby football died suddenly after a game. Postmortem examination indicated he had a seriously enlarged heart, a greatly damaged kidney, and a persistent thymus gland. All of these investigations show that the limits of adaptation of the human body are much wider than is generally believed.

Newest of the sulfonamide drugs is sulfadiazine, which has just been accepted by the Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association. In some ways it is slightly less effective than sulfathiazole or sulfapyridine, but in other ways it is better because it is less rapidly absorbed from the intestinal tract. It seems to be less effective in the treatment of pneumonia, but it is of special value in the treatment of streptococcic and staphylococcic infections in the human being. The use of this drug produces little nausea or vomiting. Extensive experiments are now being carried on in many hospitals to establish limitations of its use.

Pointing out that a number of serious motor accidents have occurred because drivers of motor vehicles suffer from epilepsy and other attacks while driving, The Journal of the American Medical Association emphasizes the new law which has just been passed in California. This law requires all doctors to report to the health officer every person diagnosed as having epilepsy or similar disorder characterized by "lapse of consciousness." The health officer must then transmit this report to the department of health, which, in turn, passes on the information to the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Children, too, may have high blood pressure, although it is rare. A New York physician has just reported seven cases of children between the ages of four and twelve years who had high blood pressure. In each instance the parents also had this condition. Tests have been outlined which indicate whether or not a child with high blood pressure is likely o have a continuation of the condition as he grows older.

The average age of the American people continues to increase. In 1890, 2.4 per cent of our population were over 65 years of age; in 1900, 4.1 per cent had reached this age; today 9,000,000 people, or 6.8 per cent, are over 65. Statisticians say that in 1980, 22,000,000 people in the United States will be over 65 years of age. The chances of a newborn child reaching 65 years of age today are as great as were the chances of a new-born child reaching 50 years in 1910. The health and physical problems associated with the care of the aged are making a new specialty in medicine.

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

DEATH IN FAMILY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

After a death in the family is it correct to send Thank-you cards to friends who have sent you sympathy cards?

Marie.

Printed (or engraved) cards of sympathy and thanks are in bad taste. However, if ready-made cards of sympathy are sent, the best thing the family can do is to use good taste and acknowledge them as any other kind of condolence message should be acknowledged, with a note of thanks. This note may be very brief, only a sentence or two is enough. Like this, perhaps:

Dear Mrs. Rogers,

Thank you for your friendly message of sympathy. We appreciated your kindness very much.

Sincerely yours,

Anne Fuller.

WEAR HATS AT CHURCH WEDDING?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

At my eight-in-the-evening church wedding, should my mother and sisters wear hats?

Anne.

This depends on the denomination of the church in which you are to be married. If you are not familiar with the regulations of your denomination, find out about this from the minister who is to perform the ceremony.

DAD WON'T WEAR TUXEDO

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I'm to be married soon, and of course I want my Dad to give me in marriage. He's consented but refuses to wear a tuxedo. The other men in the wedding party will wear Tuxedo suits. I wonder if it would be permissable for him to wear a dark business suit. What do you think, Mrs. Beeckman?

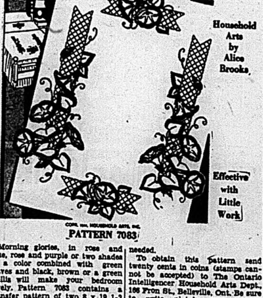
Anne.

If you can't persuade him how handsome he'd look in a Tuxedo, accept the dark business suit and be proud.

COURTESY TIP

Are you a cigarette-moocher. You'll soon get a reputation for being one if you don't provide your own cigarettes, or if, having them, it never occurs to you to offer them.

Gay Posies Bloom on Bedspread



Household Arts by Alice Brooks
Effective with Little Work
COPR. 1941, HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 7083

Morning glories, in rose and blue, rose and purple or two shades of a color combined with green leaves and black, brown or a green trellis will make your bedroom lovely. Pattern 7083 contains a transfer pattern of two 8 x 19 1-2 and two 4 1-2 x 9 1-2 inch motifs; illustrations of stitches; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Fron St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

J. F. Fair Speaks At Joint Meeting of Ladies' Aid Societies

2nd Thurlow — The Neighbours' Aid of the Second Line entertained the Front Road Ladies Aid and St. John's Guild, Herchimer Avenue, on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Grills. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. W. Gray, with Mrs. Haight at the piano and opened by Ode and Lord's Prayer in unison. On behalf of the Aid, Mrs. J. Donalson extended a hearty welcome to the visitors and Mrs. Price responded on behalf of their organization. The following numbers were enjoyed: a reading, Mrs. N. Brown, "Where do you live"; community singing; solo, Mrs. Goldley, accompanied by Mrs. Putman; reading, Mrs. Price.

Mr. J. F. Fair, the Agriculture representative, Stirling, was introduced by the president. He spoke on the dairy industry, Hastings being the largest milk producing centre in Ontario. Canada was doing a great deal for England by production of wheat in the Western provinces and cheese and butter in the East. Many interesting facts were given and on conclusion a discussion on poultry with questions was very efficiently answered.

Mrs. D. Leeming moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Fair for his valuable talk. The meeting closed by God Save the King and Grace. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and Aid members. Collection $3.26.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gray and Vera had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. W. Gray Jr., Kingston, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymore Shaw, Toronto, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Conners.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coulter and June had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. D. Atkins on Sunday.

Mrs. N. Mitchell and Lulu had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. F. Mitchell and attended Decoration Day at the cemetery in afternoon recently.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McGowan, Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. Leeming and attended the Band Concert at fair grounds in the evening.

Mrs. A. Greatrix spent Tuesday with Mrs. E. Vivian.

Miss Doris Atkins spent the week end with Miss Lulu Mitchell.

Little Miss Barbara Conners who has been spending the past six weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Conners returned to her home in Toronto.

Miss Lorena Haight has returned home after spending a few days with her cousin, Miss Mary Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Brenan and children and Mr. Chas. Bird, Belleville, had tea with Mr. and Mrs. G. Atkins on Sunday.

Mrs. Merle Robinson spent Wednesday with her parents, West Huntingdon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Atkins and Ronald had dinner on Monday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Hillman, Prince Edward.

Mrs. G. Woods spent Tuesday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. P. Mitchell and Freda accompanied her home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Foster and Mr. E. Salisbury, Madoc, and Miss Edna Salisbury, Toronto, called on Mr. and Mrs. F. Haight on Thursday evening.

Mr. Donald Whalen who is training at the military camp, Kitchener, spent the week end at his home here.

Little Miss Barbara Conners entertained little Miss Freda Mitchell to dinner on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Leeming and boys had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Millard on Sunday.

Miss Lillian Sprackett, Belleville, and sister, Mrs. Dave Houston, Toronto, visited with their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sprackett on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. G. Clapp and Gordon, 3rd line, and Mr. E. Clapp, Chicago, called on Mrs. C. Clapp on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Helen Thompson visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. Vivian last week.

Miss St. Charles, Belleville, and sister of Loretto Abbey, Toronto, called at Mrs. J. Lynch's also Mrs. A. McDonnell on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Belle Clazie is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Hall, Front Road.

Mrs. A. Milne spent the week end with her sister in Ottawa.

Mrs. Geo. Hall, Front Road and Mrs. J. F. Wilder, Rochester, spent Tuesday with Mrs. J. Donaldson.

Several on this line have lost cattle with bloating.

Miss McKeever of Callander has returned home after spending some time with her sister, Mrs. D. C. Condie.

Miss Flossie Condie is spending a few days with her aunt in Belleville.

Mr. Gordon Vivian, Brampton, received word shortly after arriving at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Vivian, that his wife was taken suddenly ill and returned home immediately. Mrs. Vivian underwent an emergency operation and is doing nicely at the hospital at Brampton.

Miss Mary Chambers spent a few days this week with her cousin, Miss Lorena Haight.

Mrs. R. Bush and Shirley, Sidney, spent Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. F. Mitchell.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. E. Rien and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Boulstridge in the sudden death of the former's son, Master Norman Rion.

The Whalen Bros. attended the Toronto Exhibition on Monday. Mr. Donald Whalen accompanied them and spent the day, before leaving for Kitchener, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Crosby and Bobbie, Campbellford, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. D. Atkins.

Mrs. Merle Robinson spent the dinner hour on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. F. Haight.

I DON'T FEAR STOCKING RUNS—I'M A LUX DAILY DIPPER!
● A dip in Lux suds at bedtime will keep today's stockings free from runs tomorrow. LUX removes the perspiration acids which cause runs and holes, keeps silk threads e-l-a-s-t-i-c. Silk stockings will soon be hard to get . . . join the DAILY DIPPERS today!
TO CUT DOWN RUNS, HOLES—
Dip your stockings in Lux TONIGHT
LUX
A Lever product

Mrs. C. Clapp and Mrs. G. Atkins called on Mrs. C. Bunnett on Thursday afternoon.

Showers Held For Bride-to-be

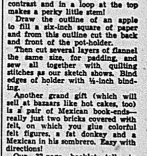
Madoc — The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Riordan was a perfect setting for a delightful cup and saucer shower in honour of Miss Helen Meraw, bride-to-be, on the evening of Friday, August 22. An enjoyable hour of music and contests was followed by the opening of presents and Helen suitably expressed her thanks for each and every lovely gift. A daintily prepared lunch was served by the hostess who was assisted by Mrs. Hector Fraser and Mrs. R. Meraw.

The following Tuesday afternoon, the members of the Catholic Women's League of the Sacred Heart Parish, Madoc, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meraw to honour their daughter Helen, with a linen shower. At four o'clock, the gathering was called to order. An address was read by Mrs. George Walsh, president of the C. W. L. The address was signed by the members of the Catholic Women's League of the Sacred Heart Parish, Madoc.

In a few well-chosen words, Helen thanked these life-long friends for the many splendid presents each of which would have its own special place in her new home. The serving of a delicious lunch brought a very pleasant visit to a close.

Home Service

Start Your Gift-Making With These Pot-Holders



Apple-Shaped in Red Gingham

A welcome gift or a sizzling seller at your club's bazaar—these jolly pot-holders.

You can make a dozen at a time, apple-shaped ones of red checked gingham and, in the same easy way, wild-rose shapes in pink gingham. Their green binding is smart color contrast and in a loop at the top makes a perky little stem!

Draw the outline of an apple to fill a six-inch square of paper and from this outline cut the back and front of the pot-holder.

Then cut several layers of flannel the same size, for padding, and sew all together with quilting stitches as our sketch shows. Bind edges of holder with ½-inch binding.

Another grand gift (which will sell at bazaars like hot cakes, too) is a pair of Mexican book-ends—really just two bricks covered with felt, on which you glue colorful felt figures, a fat donkey and a Mexican in his sombrero. Easy with directions!

Our 32-page booklet tells in detail how to make the clever Mexican bookends and pot-holders. Has attractive gifts easily made from materials on hand—vanity table, bathroom utility box, bookrack table; many other pretty items.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of HAND-MADE GIFT NOVELTIES to The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St, Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

WARNS AGAINST COMPLACENCY IN WAR ATTITUDE

Hon. J. L. Ralston Says 1941 Year of Preparation and '1942 Year of Getting Ready for Grim Struggle Ahead'

WAR EFFORT SUMMARY

Ottawa, Aug. 28—(CP) — Those who think the war is won because Russia may be holding up the German war machine for the time being are laboring under a dangerous delusion, the Defence Minister, Hon. J. L. Ralston said Wednesday.

He was speaking to a group of weekly newspaper editors and publishers from New York State who stopped here on a tour which has taken them to Camp Borden, Ont., and to Callander, Ont., to visit the Dionne quintuplets.

The delusion, the minister said, was prevalent in Canada but he did not know whether it was entertained in the United States. He warned against it.

"We haven't begun to win this war so far," he said. "All we have done is avoid losing it.

"If we begin to slacken and become complacent we are going to lose it. The year 1941 is a year of preparation; 1942 is a year of getting ready for the grim struggle which lies ahead.

Says Offensive Necessary

"Don't believe this man (Hitler) is going to fold up. There is going to come a time when we have got to take the offensive. What we are doing now is to get ready for it."

Col. Ralston said to any one who had followed Prime Minister Churchill's recent speech in which he described the "one by one" process of undermining opposition followed by Hitler it was unnecessary to explain why Canadians were fighting. Hitler would not be content with one continent. His methods in conquered countries were well known.

In a brief summary of the Canadian war effort the minister said Canadian army forces had been increased from 10,000 men to over 300,000 in two years, the Canadian navy had been sent to patrol the seas, the air force was producing men for action on the war fronts and Canadian industry, starting from scratch, was producing weapons and ammunition never before made in Canada.

Canada's war expenditure this year, from less than 12,000,000 people, would equal on a per capita basis an expenditure of $35,000,000,000 by the United States. Its armed forces would correspond to an American army of 3,500,000 men.

Message of Best Wishes Sent to Swimming Star

Last year Joan Bennett officially started the Ontario Mile Swim for the Ontario amateur swimming championship and the Wrigley Trophy. Despite other engagements at Exhibition, Miss Bennett joined the swim officials in the referee's launch and was thrilled by the spectacular race between Irene Barr Bernice Looney and Dot Hobson. When Miss Bennett learned that thirteen-year-old Bernice Looney, from down Cleveland way, was forcing senior swimmers, including the Canadian champion, Dorothy Hobson, the King's horses could not have pulled Miss Bennett away from that race. Miss Bennett watched the finish of the swim from a float, congratulated the winner, Irene Barr, and as a gesture of admiration for the great effort by Bernice Looney, Miss Bennett removed a piece of jewelry from her own costume and pinned it on Bernice Looney's "Lakeshores" swimming suit, congratulated Bernice and said "Good work, Bernice, you'll win next time," and Bernice shyly and modestly replied, "I don't know, Miss Bennett, but I would love to win it and will keep trying." Miss Bennett's gift was a generous gesture from a famous movie star to a coming great swimming star. And, Miss Bennett has not forgotten Bernice Looney, because Bernice has just received a telegram from Miss Bennett—here it is: from West Los Angeles, California, August 26: "Dear Bernice, Hope I am not too late in wishing you a great deal of luck for your Wrigley Mile championship swim. Would love to be there to see you win it. Sincerely, signed, Joan Bennett." Bernice Looney is very happy over this telegram and Gus Ryder, coach, says it has put added enthusiasm into Bernice's training and he looks for a great race between his Lakeshores' protege and the champion, Irene Barr, of Hamilton "Aquatics."

Old Quebec—

First road from Quebec to Montreal was opened in 1734.

Golf at Grand Mere

EIGHTEEN HOLES OF THE MOST INTERESTING Golf IN Eastern Canada—PICTURESQUE FAIRWAYS and BEAUTIFUL ROLLING GREENS add zest to your game — COMBINED WITH COMFORTABLE MODERATELY PRICED ACCOMMODATION MAKES THIS AN IDEAL HOLIDAY ARRANGEMENT

Grand'Mere
LAURENTIDE INN

10,000 JAPANESE TROOPS MOVED

Reported Taken From Central China for Positions at Hainan or Indo-China

Shanghai, Aug. 26—(AP)— At least 10,000 Japanese troops are being withdrawn from Central China each week to take up positions either at Hainan or French Indo-China, foreign military sources said today.

They said the withdrawals began a month ago, but there were no reports that the Japanese were abandoning any Central China points held for the last 2 1-2 years. The sources believed the Japanese were reducing garrisons rather than completely withdrawing from any front.

At the same time increased Chinese military activity has been reported from the Yangtse River Valley. Domei, News Agency, also reported the Chinese opened two small scale offensives in Anhwei province and claimed they were repulsed.

(A Chinese Central News dispatch to Hong Kong said the Chinese suddenly attacked Min River Japanese garrisons in Fukien province and recaptured Futsing, a coastal town south of Foochow.)

Military men said the Japanese withdrawals might mean the Japanese planned invasion of Thailand later this year. Moving into Thailand from Indo-China at present would not be feasible beause the rainy season has hit Cambodia protectorate, facing the Thais, they said.

Travellers from Saigon reported Japanese strength in Indo-China to be at least 100,000 troops.

That the Japanese military in South Indo-China does not want information of its activities there made know was indicated when censorship was enforced soon after occupation forces landed.

Foxboro

Foxboro—Mrs. Arthur Ward and son, Walter, of Peterboro visited relatives in the village last week.

Mrs. Harry Ketcheson and Helen of L'Amable spent a few days with relatives here.

Mrs. Ford Derry has been entertaining a sister, Miss Howes of Toronto recently.

Mrs. Wanda Sine and family and Miss M. Milligan have moved into an apartment of Mrs. Harry Scott's.

Mrs. Harold Stewart and sister, Miss B. Dainard, spent a few holidays in Toronto.

Miss Hazel Prindle of Plainfield is spending the week with her grandmother, Mrs. A. Shaw.

Rev. E. B. Scott visited last week at the home of Mr. E. Tummon.

Friends are pleased to have Mr. Reginald Helliwell home for a few holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scott of Calgary were Sunday evening callers at Mr. J. W. Daniels'.

Mrs. Fred Prindle, Hazel and Iner of Plainfield spent a day last week with Mrs. A. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and family and Miss B. Dainard spent Sunday with relatives in Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Murney Reynolds and James and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hodgen and Betty were Sunday guests at Mr. Arthur Walt's.

Entertained at the home of Mr. J. W. Daniels one evening recently were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCutcheon and Nancy Ann of Saginaw, Mich., Mrs. Annie McCutcheon of Stirling and Mr. and Mrs. Archie McGee, Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Carter of Belleville were Sunday guests at Mr. Harry Carter's.

Miss Marion Daniels was a week-end guest of Miss Muriel Milligan of Newburg.

Moira

Moira — On Tuesday the Red Cross meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Clare with a goodly number in attendance. A dresden plate quilt was quilted and ten blouses were cut out. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting and a collection taken up for the Red Cross.

Relatives over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderwater to see Mrs. Sarah Vanderwater were: Mr. and Mrs. A. MacPherson of Mattawachan and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vanderwater of Belleville.

Misses Connie and Joyce Williams have returned from visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw of Ivanhoe.

Mr. Clarence Mullett is ill and is under the doctor's care.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Emerson and boys of Holloway spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emerson.

Miss Ruth Grier of Cobourg was a guest several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ketcheson.

Mrs. L. Brickman spent last week with her sons, Mr. Charles and Mr. Wilbert Caverly of Belleville.

Miss Joan Williams of Stirling is visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harrison.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McInroy are Miss Joyce and Master Allan Wallace of West Huntingdon, also Master Gerald Clancy of Rawdon.

Masters Douglas and David Mumby visited last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Good of Thomasburg.

Master Ivan Clare is spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Berson Mitts of Halloway.

Consecon

Consecon — Rev. A. Strother spent the dinner hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor.

Miss Muriel Howe and Mrs. Mary Howe spent Sunday with Miss Annis Johnson.

Miss Donna Boulter, Trenton, spent a week with Miss Gwen Alyea.

Mr. Jack Viant, Camp Borden, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Viant.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen James and family, Ottawa, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. G. Giles and Phyllis, Coe Hill, are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Alyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Alyea, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Spencer and Norman and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alyea and Doreen spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Morris Alyea.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Cooke and family, Belleville, and Mrs. Jules Ethier, Oshawa, are spending two weeks at Mrs. Anderson's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman French, Kathleen and Buddy, spent Monday afternoon in Trenton.

Mrs. George Bush is spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bush.

Mrs. R. Alyea and Mr. and Mrs. Robin Adair have moved into Mrs. G. Bush's house.

Deseronto

Deseronto — Mr. Morris has resigned from the High School staff having accepted a position on the Orillia staff.

Mrs. W. H. Mulligan and Mr. Basil Mulligan of Toronto were the guests of Miss M. Stoddart.

Miss Irene Mark of Peterboro spent the week end with Mrs. W. C. Blackwell.

Mr. Howard Van Dusen has returned to his duties on the steamer Harmonica.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke of Rochester are the guests of latter's sister, Mrs. Thos. Sweanor and Mr. Sweanor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hough are in Peterboro for the week end.

Mrs. Jordan of Belleville has returned home after spending some time with Mrs. L. H. Jordan; St. George St.

Mr. Joseph Roach is a patient in Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Matthews, Billy and Kay Matthews of Belleville, and Mrs. Robertson of New York spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Whalen.

Mr. W. B. Stoddart has returned to Peterboro.

Miss Helen Therrien of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of her parents Mayor L. G. and Mrs. Therrien.

Rev. G. L. Martin is spending the week in Toronto.

Mrs. Hodgson of Montreal is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. F. O'Neill.

Lorne O'Ray, R. C. A. F., of St. Thomas spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. L. O'Ray.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitton have returned from camp.

Shannonville

Shannonville — A. C. William Hill, R. C. A. F., Kingston, spent a few days with his parents on Tyendinaga Reserve.

Mr. Jack Larone has been very ill at his home.

Miss Lois Larone, Miss Helen Vivian, Mr. Charles Mayell, Master LeRoy Liddle and Mrs. Bert Liddle were Sunday tea hour guests of Miss Ruth Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Howard, Milltown, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Belleville, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burtt.

Mrs. Dave Houston is visiting her daughter Mrs. Earl in Detroit.

Mr. Lloyd Yates, Rochester, is a guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fuller.

Schoharie

Schoharie — Mrs. Mildred Benson is spending a couple of weeks in Picton with her mother, Mrs. John Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster and family were recent Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Calnan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walters entertained Cpl. Robert Smale and Cpl. E. McNamara of the R. A. F. Picton, and Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Tayler at dinner on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster and family were Sunday afternoon and tea hour guests of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Wiltse, Wellington.

Mrs. Carman Hobson and wee daughter spent several days last week in Picton with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster and family were dinner guests on Friday of the former's sister, Miss Mabel Foster, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Scratt and three young sons left early in the week for their home at Staten Island, N. Y., after spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. H. M. Williams and at the Cooper Cottage, Outlet Beach.

Mrs. Raymond Kleinsteuber and two children who have been with her mother, Mrs. Walter Taylor, for several weeks moved to Picton on Saturday. Mr. Kleinsteuber is stationed with the R. C. A. F. at Dafoe, Sask.

Misses Mary and Irene Walters are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook of Toronto this week and will also attend the Exhibition.

Mrs. Charles Leavitt and John spent the tea hour on Monday with Mrs. Gordon Leavitt.

SIR AUCKLAND BETTER

London (CP)—Eye-sight of Sir Auckland Geddes, Principal of McGill University in 1919-20, impaired by a cataract condition, improved "beyond anticipation" following a delicate eye operation here.

West Huntingdon

West Huntingdon — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herlikey and Mr. Harry Herlikey were guests at the parsonage on Friday.

The Young People of Fuller United Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mitts Jr., on Tuesday evening.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Moorcroft were: Mr. Sherin Mills, Marjorie and Marion of Toronto.

Congratulations to Mr. Frank Brough and Miss Leona Christie, who were quietly married in Stirling on Saturday afternoon.

The Daly Tea Company made their annual visit to this community on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fargey and Carol and Raymond Calbury were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cosby of Campbellford.

Miss Alice Bell of Belleville is spending a few days with her niece Mrs. Foster Wilson.

Mrs. V. Barragar is visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Harold Reid of Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Don. Haggerty and family and Mrs. Richard Haggerty were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Clancy of Wellmans.

Mr. Kenneth Stewart is spending a few days with friends at Gelbert.

Mrs. Morley Haggerty and Margie are visiting friends in Toronto this week and attending the C. N. E.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ashley were: Mr. and Mrs. William Adams and Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adams and Eric of Thomasburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chambers of Stirling.

Miss Joan McCurdy is holidaying with her cousin Miss Eleanor McQuarry of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bray are camping this week with Dr. and Mrs. V. Moran at their cottage at Fort Erie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Brough and Ruth and Miss Ellen Innis of Zions Hill and Mrs. Geo. Post were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McCurdy.

Mrs. Keith Scott of Calgary spent a few days this week, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Elmer Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dawson of Batavia, U. S. A., are guests this week of Mrs. Edward Pitman and Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Carson of Belleville were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott.

Daisy Mission Band

Mrs. Howard Cooke entertained the members of the Daisy Mission Band on Friday for their regular meeting. Miss Theda Moorcroft presided over a very fine program. She was assisted in the Worship Service by Joan McCurdy who gave the prayer. Following a sing-song, Mrs. Sandy McCurdy gave a Bible story. The roll call was answered by each member contributing something for the bale. Those contributing to the Watch Tower were: Joan McCurdy, Theda Moorcroft and Glen Wilson. Mrs. John Moorcroft gave a reading. Mr. Stewart gave a fine address to the children in the form of children's stories which were listened to with rapt attention. After the closing, the members enjoyed games and races on the lawn and at the close lemonade, cake and sandwiches were served.

Mr. Jimmie McQuarry of Lindsay is visiting with Alex McCurdy.

Mrs. E. T. Sarles spent Sunday the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. Spencer of Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fargey, Barbara and Allen spent Saturday with friends at Cameron, Barbara remaining for a brief visit.

Miss Marjorie Wright spent a few days recently with her aunt, Mrs. Lee Purdy of Belleville.

Mr. Milton Wannamaker has returned home after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Snyder of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Ackers and baby of Frankford were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott.

Mrs. Geo. Post spent a few days recently with Mrs. Rollins of Ivanhoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Maxwell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wannamaker of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fitchett and Marilyn were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Fitchett of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Emerson of Moira were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott.

Mrs. R. Townsend of Belleville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brough were given a rousing charivari on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott and Mrs. Geo. Elliott spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. Simpson of Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Homans of Corbyville visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wannamaker on Sunday.

Mrs. R. Fleming, Jean and Lorne spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Morgan of Springbrook.

Miss Pearl Wannamaker of Belleville was a Sunday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wannamaker.

The anniversary season was officially opened on Sunday when the Knox Presbyterian Church at Fuller held their annual anniversary services. A fowl supper was held on Tuesday evening and was well attended. A number of other churches in this district have plans under way for anniversity services in September.

The great holiday season for the school children is drawing to a close and next Tuesday will hear the school bells calling all children to school to start the 1941-42 school year. There will be a number of new teachers in this district. Miss Helen Thain of Harold commences her teaching profession at the Fuller school. Miss Margaret Wright will begin her third term as principal of the West Huntingdon School and Mrs. Bruce Bell will be the new teacher in the Ridge Road school and Mrs. Armstrong at the Red school. A large number of little folks will also start their educational career on Tuesday. There will be no school fairs this year sponsored by the government.

Big Island of N.S.—

Cape Breton Island of Nova Scotia has an area of 3,970 square miles.

Sidney Crossing

Sidney Crossing — Several ladies around this vicinity are at Whitby this week attending the school for leaders in connection with the missionary work of the United Church.

Master Arnold Ketcheson has been entertaining his cousin, Master Allen Bailey of Stirling for the past week.

Miss Joyce Elmy, Belleville, who has been spending the past two weeks with her grandparents, is spending this week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Millard before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith, 4th line, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Rogers. Lois, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lorne Rogers, returned home with her parents.

A number of the members of the Bay of Quinte Institute met at the home of Mrs. C. Stickle for their sewing day on Tuesday of this week. Many quilt blocks were pieced, shirts and bed jackets were made.

Miss Loreen May and Marilyn, Lois and Ronald Elmy, all of Belleville are spending this week at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hogle.

NO INTERFERENCE

New York (CP)—"I thought they were on the way to England," said a stalwart fishwife at Bergen, German-occupied Norway, when she was asked why she didn't stop a car full of Germans which drove over a cliff and plunged into the sea.

. . . Out of Gas!

Don't let this happen

It hasn't happened. It could happen. Unless we continue to decrease our private consumption of gasoline by 50%, it may happen.

With tankers diverted for overseas service, Canada is faced with an acute shortage of gasoline and fuel oil so vital to the Commonwealth Air Training Plan, our mechanized army and our navy.

The Government believes that every Canadian would gladly forego driving altogether rather than see these fighting units suffer. But the Government doesn't ask you to give up driving; it asks you only to be sparing of your gasoline. It asks you to drive less—to drive carefully—to drive slowly.

Now is the time to act. Do your part by reducing your gasoline consumption by 50%. Pledge yourself to go 50-50 with our fighting forces . . . and follow the 17 easy ways toward this saving listed here.

It is also vitally important that you reduce the use of domestic and commercial fuel oil.

17 easy ways towards a 50% GASOLINE SAVING
(Approved by Automobile Experts)

Reduce driving speed from 60 to 40 on the open road.
Avoid jack-rabbit starts.
Avoid useless or non-essential driving.
Turn motor off when not in use; do not leave idling.
Don't race your engine; let it warm up slowly.
Don't strain your engine; change gears.
Keep carburetor cleaned and properly adjusted.
Tune up motor, timing, etc.
Keep spark plugs and valves clean.
Check cooling system; overheating wastes gasoline.
Maintain tires at right pressure.
Lubricate efficiently; worn engines waste gasoline.
Drive in groups to and from work, using cars alternate days.
For golf, picnics and other outings, use one car instead of four.
Take those short shopping trips ON FOOT and carry parcels home.
Walk to and from the movies.
Boat owners, too, can help by reducing speed.

Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. Consult him.

GO 50 50 WITH OUR FIGHTING FORCES

Save Gasoline

REMEMBER:
The slower you drive, the more you save!

The Government of the
DOMINION OF CANADA
Acting through:
THE HONOURABLE C. D. HOWE, Minister of Munitions and Supply
G. R. COTTRELLE, Oil Controller for Canada

Spare and Share your Gasoline for VICTORY!

Howard Pollet Pitches Cards To Within 1 Game of Dodgers By Defeating N.Y. Giants 5-0

Swarthy Southpaw Allows but Three Hits, Two of Them in Infield

DODGERS IDLE

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sport Writer)

Howard Pollet is a young fellow baseball fans might as well get acquainted with quickly because he is going to be a great star and may help squeeze St. Louis Cardinals into this year's National League championship.

He is the 20-year-old southpaw who turned the Texas League upside down for Houston before the Cards promoted him a couple of weeks ago. Down there he won 20 games and lost four, had an earned-run average of 1.06, and pitched five shutouts including a no-hitter.

He is a slim, swarthy kid with a lot of black hair on his chest and a business-like look in his dark eyes. He is ready, willing and able to do a man's work in the major leagues.

Yesterday he shut out New York Giants 5-0 on three scattered singles. Previously he had beaten Boston Braves 3-2 on four hits and lost to Brooklyn Dodgers 3-2 while giving seven safeties.

Dodgers Only Game Ahead

His triumph over the Giants came while the Dodgers had an open day and shaved Brooklyn's first-place margin to one game.

Two of the hits off Pollet were of the infield variety and all three were made after he had two outs. On the other hand the Cardinals clustered five singles and a double-error by Pitcher Cliff Melton to score all their five runs in a rowdy fourth inning.

The National League had another spectacular pitching show as Boston downed Chicago Cubs 2-1. Tom Early held the Cubs to two hits, one of them a homer by Phil Cavarretta in the ninth. Vallie Eaves pitched four-hit ball in opposition, but forced in a run in the first with a walk and gave another on Max West's homer in the fourth.

Pittsburgh edged out the Phillies 3-2 with three runs in the ninth inning, two of them on a double by Lee Handley.

Yanks Maintain Lead

New York Yankees maintained their 17-game lead in the American League by bopping St. Louis Browns 8-5 in 10 innings. The Yanks punched over five runs in the first three innings and then settled down to coast home. But George McQuinn, who had knocked in a run with a double in the first inning, tied the score with a two-bagger in the ninth.

The resourceful Yankees blasted across three tallies in the extra frame with apparent ease. Tom Henrich knocked in two of them with a double and also hit his 26th homer with one on in the third.

Lee Gains 17th Victory

Thornton Lee, the year's outstanding lefthander in the American League, chalked up his 17th victory by holding Washington Senators to four singles while Chicago White Sox rolled to a 4-0 shutout. Taft Wright had a perfect day at bat with a double and two singles and Luke Appling hit two singles. Each player drove in two runs.

Rudy York hit a home run with the bases loaded in the seventh inning to give Detroit Tigers an 8-7 triumph over Boston Red Sox after homers by Ted Williams and Joe Cronin had headed the Sox into an early lead.

Dick Seibert singled with the bases loaded to score three runs in the seventh inning and propel Philadelphia Athletics to a 5-3 victory over the staggering Cleveland Indians.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Howard Pollet, Cardinals— Shut out Giants on three singles.

Tom Earley, Braves—Beat Cubs with two-hit pitching.

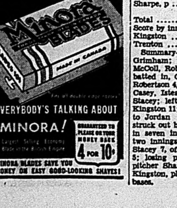
Lee Handley, Pirates—Knocked in two runs with ninth-inning double to nose out Phillies.

Thorton Lee, White Sox—Earned 17th victory by shutting out Senators on four scattered singles.

Rudy York, Tigers—Hit grand slam home run in seventh inning to down Red Sox.

Dick Siebert, Athletics—Hit single with bases loaded to drive in three runs and beat Indians.

Tom Henrich, Yankees—Hit homer with one on in third and then accounted for two more with double in 10th inning to beat Browns.



NOW MADE IN CANADA
EVERYBODY'S TALKING ABOUT MINORA!
Largest Selling Economy Blade in the British Empire
GUARANTEED TO PLEASE OR YOUR MONEY BACK 4 FOR 10¢
MINORA BLADES SAVE YOU MONEY ON EASY GOOD-LOOKING SHAVES!

Results

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	86	44	.662
Chicago	68	60	.531
Boston	66	62	.516
Cleveland	64	61	.512
Detroit	60	68	.469
Philadelphia	56	70	.444
St. Louis	54	71	.432
Washington	53	71	.477

Thursday Results

Detroit 8; Boston 7.
New York 8; St. Louis 5.
Philadelphia 5; Cleveland 3.
Chicago 4; Washington 0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn	80	44	.645
St. Louis	79	45	.637
Cincinnati	69	52	.570
Pittsburgh	67	56	.545
New York	58	64	.475
Chicago	55	72	.433
Boston	51	73	.411
Philadelphia	35	88	.285

Thursday Results

St. Louis 5; New York 0.
Pittsburgh 3; Philadelphia 2.
Boston 2; Chicago 1.
(Only games scheduled.)

CANAM

Three Rivers 4-2; Oneonta 8-8.
Quebec 2-7; Pittsfield 5-8.
Amsterdam 11; Rome 6.
Utica 12; Gloversville 7.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Kansas City 10-14; St. Paul 1-3.
Columbus 1-2; Louisville 4-5.
Toledo 7; Indianapolis 4.
Milwaukee 2; Minneapolis 3.

KINGSTON WINS SECOND GAME OF OASA PLAYOFFS

Trenton Eliminated by 13-7 Score Due to Wildness of Hurlers

HEAVY HITTING

Trenton, Aug. 28 (Special)—Wildness on the part of Trenton pitchers put runners in scoring position for Kingston as the latter rubbed the locals out of the current O.A.S.A. picture here last night with a 13 to 7 drubbing, winning the second round in the provincial softball playdowns in successive games.

Two local pitchers, Jim Stacey and Barney McColl, walked no less than 13 Kingston batters, all of which added to the locals' downfall and elimination as the Trenton batters could not solve the slants of youthful Billie Sharpe in the clutches and succumbed to his pitches. Kingston scored four runs in the initial frame on two walks and hits by Grimham, Robertson's double and Jordan's infield single. Trenton came back with two as Istead and Cook hit. A mid-game attack that gave Kingston eight runs salted the piece, as Sharpe finished strong. Stacey started for Trenton and was relieved by McColl in the fourth, but Stacey had to return to the local mound in the sixth, after McColl developed a wild streak. Casey hit a home run for the homesters in the ninth, while Grimham had a round-tripper for Kingston in the fourth.

Grimham, Boneham and Jordan paced the Kingston Victorias on the attack, while Casey, McColl, Istead and Stacey counted two hits each for Trenton, as the "Vics" only garnered three more hits than the losing locals. Tonight in Belleville the "Quinte City" juniors meet Oshawa in the second game of the junior O.A.S.A. playdowns, Belleville having won the initial contest 8 to 7 in Oshawa.

THE BOX SCORE

Trenton	AB	R	H
Austin, 1b	4	1	0
Casey, 3b	5	3	2
McColl, cf and p.	2	1	2
Istead, rf	2	0	2
Gauthier, rf	2	0	0
Ellis, ss	5	0	0
Cook, lf	4	0	1
Henry, c	5	0	1
Morin, 2b	4	1	0
Stacey, p and cf	4	1	2
Total	37	7	10
Kingston	AB	R	H
Rawley, cf	2	1	0
Grimham, lf	6	2	4
Harrison, rf	5	1	1
Boneham, ss	5	2	2
See, 2b	4	1	1
Robertson, c	4	2	1
Jordan, 3b	5	1	3
Collins, 1b	4	1	0
Sharpe, p	4	2	1
Total	39	13	13

Score by innings:		R	H	E
Kingston	401 314 000	13	13	2
Trenton	201 012 001	7	10	6

Summary—Home runs, Casey, Grimham; two base hits, Stacey, McColl, Robertson, Boneham; runs batted in, Grimham 3, Harrison 2, Robertson 4, Jordan, Sharpe, Austin, Casey, Istead, Ellis 2; Cook and Stacey; left on base, Trenton 9, Kingston 11; double plays, Grimham to Jordan and Austin to Morin; struck out by Sharpe 3, by Stacey 3 in seven innings and McColl 2 in two innings; bases on balls, off Stacey 7, off McColl 6, off Sharpe 5; losing pitcher Stacey, winning pitcher Sharpe; umpires, Reynolds, Kingston, plate, Steenberg, Trenton, bases.

CHICAGO BEARS CRUSH COLLEGE ALL-STARS 37-13

Pros. Led by Brilliant Sid Luckman Score in Every Quarter

98,200 PRESENT

Chicago, Aug. 29—(AP)—From the latest available evidence, it's going to take a lot of blasting to jar Chicago's professional football champion Bears loose from their National League honors.

The evidence was presented last night at historic Soldier Field before a series record throng of 98,200 who saw the Bears, led by brilliant Sid Luckman, crush a battling squad of the headline stars of 1940 college football, 37 to 13, in the Chicago Tribune's eighth annual all-star spectacle.

The margin was nothing like the 73 to 0 rolled up over the Washington Redskins in last year's league championship game, but it looked highly impressive for an early season effort. The triumph, the third in a row for the professional brand of football, was accomplished in a manner which indicated the bulging Bears and their "T" formation could have done better if necessary.

Harmon Played

The All-Stars with such 1940 greats as Michigan's Tommy Harmon, sturdy George Franck of Minnesota, both All-Americas, and Norman Standlee of Stanford's undefeated Rose Bowl victors in the battle front, made a contest of it for one period, came up with thrilling plays and battled every minute of the way—but didn't have what was needed to slow up the power packed pro titleholders.

Luckman, whose passing and leadership were at concert pitch, fired a touchdown pass to Ken Kavanaugh in the first quarter, another to George McAfee in the fourth, one to Kavanaugh which set up another score, along with completing numerous others. To complement his passing, Luckman mixed in powerful line-crashing from fullbacks Bill Osmanski, Gary Famiglietti and Joe Maniaci, and smart runing by McAfee, Ray Nolting and Harry Clark.

The all-stars' big moment of glory came in the first period when Harmon whipped a pass to Franck for a score-tying touchdown, and in the final quarter when Charlie O'Rourke, the little fellow from Boston College, shot a handsome 40-yard pass to Jackie Robinson, negro star from U.C.L.A., who ran six yards for the other touchdown.

Hogan is Man To Beat in Hershey Open Golf Tourney

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 29 — (AP)—Ben Hogan, an accomplished fellow with golf clubs when a prize is at stake, brought his winning ways home today and after a brilliant first-round 69 appeared to be the man to beat in the 72-hole $5,000 Hershey open championship.

Hogan made his playing debut as the Hershey professional as the tournament started yesterday and equalled the back nine record of 32 strokes. His 69 tied Clayton Heafner, George Fazio and Harry Nettlebladt, all four under par.

The Texas powerhouse took on the Hershey job from Henry Picard last winter and since has won more than any other pro, scored lower on an average and has an unbroken string of 53 tournaments in which he finished in the money.

Hogan had to be good before the home folks to match the kind of golf shot on the 7,000-yard par-73 course.

Smith; Teri Johnson, of Norristown, Lloys Mangrum and Denny Shute held their own well with 70's. Shute had reason to remember this course. He was stricken with appendicitis on it last year during the P.G.A. championship.

Also to be reckoned with are Felix Serafin, of Scranton, Pa., 1939 Hershey Open Champion; Bill Stackhouse, of Sequin, Tex., and Tom Harmon, Montclair, N.J., at 71; Sammy Snead, Canadian Open Champion, Louie Worsham, Bethesda, Md. and Rut Coffey, Hagerstown, Md., at 72.

JOCK TOSSED IN MARYLAND RACE

Jockey A. F. Martines, veteran Cuban rider, lies motionless in the dust of the Marlboro track as his mount Arboreal gallops after the field at Marlboro, Maryland, recently. To spectators it appeared that Arboreal stumbled, tossing Martinez in front of the field.

BUFFALO BISONS NOT GETTING HELP FROM OTHER CLUBS

Beat Rochester 9-5 but Royals Did Not Lose Ground, Defeating Leafs

BEARS DOWNED AGAIN

(By The Canadian Press)

Buffalo Bison, striving to close the three-game gap which separates them from the second-place Montreal Royals, aren't getting any co-operation from other International League baseball clubs.

Last night the Bisons, scoring five runs in the last two innings, beat Rochester 9-5 while Montreal was taking an easy 7-5 verdict over Toronto Leafs.

Royals pushed across five tallies on three hits in the first two frames, with the help of a bit of wildness on the part of Rookie Ralph Hammond, Leaf starting hurler. Hammon walked four men and the Leafs committed two errors. Toronto fought back, pounding Wes Flowers to cover in five innings, but were stopped by Steve Rachunok's relief hurling.

Pinch-hitter Mayo Smith capped Buffalo's closing spurt with a three-run homer in the ninth. The blow was off relief hurler Roy Brumer, who replaced Ed Wissman during the Bison uprising. Charlie Fuchs went the distance for Buffalo, yielding ten hits to notch his sixth victory of the year.

In the only other game the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles nosed ot the league-leading Newark Bears 5-4, cutting the Bears lead over Montreal to 6 1-2 games.

Syracuse Chiefs lost an exhibition game 5-3 to the world champion Cincinnati Reds.

LEAGUE LEADERS

By The Associated Press

NATIONAL

Batting—Hopp, St. Louis .333
Runs—Hack, Chicago, 93
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis 93
Hits—Litwhiler, Philadelphia, 157
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 36
Triples—Fletcher, Pittsburgh, 10
Home runs—Camilli, Brooklyn 27
Stolen bases—Frey, Cincinnati 15
Pitching—Riddle, Cincinnati, 15-2

AMERICAN

Batting—Williams, Boston .407
Runs—DiMaggio, New York 113
Runs batted in—DiMaggio, New York, 112
Hits—Travis, Washington, 179
Doubles—Judnich, St. Louis and DiMaggio, New York, 38
Triples—Travis, Washington, 16
Home runs—Keller, New York, 32
Stolen bases—Case, Washington, 21.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 12-4.

Horseshoe Throwers Enjoy Competition

Napanee horseshoe throwers, W. Higgs and Rev. Swayne were high point getters in the singles contest at the annual district horseshoe tournament played in Belleville on Wednesday evening on the well-lighted courts of Mr. W. Leslie, local shoe throwing enthusiast.

Players from a distance taking part in the tournament were Chas. Tatlock of Rochester, N.Y., Rev. Swayne and W. Higgs of Napanee, Rev. Doggett of Roslin, Mr. A. Morden and N. Morden of Bloomfield. About twenty local devotees of the sport also took part in the tournament after which the host, Mr. Leslie served lunch to the participants.

About twenty prizes were distributed to successful contestants, the winners being, in the doubles contest, G. Lent and N. Morden, 2nd. prize, R. Stiver and W. Warren. In the singles, best eight shoes the winners were W. Higgs 12, Rev. Swayne 10, Rev. Doggett 8 and C. Tatlock 8.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch Hitting For Eddie Brietz)
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Mike Jacobs admits he "ain't had a laugh like it since the petunias came up" ....Here everybody's mourning that the World Series cut into the Louis-Nova gate—and Uncle Mike only has $125,000 advance orders in the till already....In case you haven't noticed, the next game the Yanks wins puts the old mathematical slug on the Tigers—who took last year's flag.

The Baltimore Sun's C. M. Gibbs, hearing that Bobby Feller is working on a new pitch, wonders if "a new team probably woudin't be of more help".

Genius:

The winner of this week's fur-lined handkerchief is the brilliant mind in Joliet, Ill., who invented a softball game with three teams playing at the same time. One bats, one fields and one's on the bench ....When a side's retired, it takes over the bench, the fielding team comes in to hit and the outfit that was resting takes the field.

Collinsville (Ill.) home-town fans gave Yankee coach Art Fletcher a shotgun, a dog and a gilt baseball in St. Louis yesterday....To go along will all the American League goats he's collected, no doubt....What's this about Jimmy Wilson and the Cubs' front office?....The whisper is the latest frowns came when Jimmy wanted Burleigh Grimes as coach and the office signed Kiki Cuyler....There's more than $21,000 in unclaimed winning bets piled up in the Saratoga Secretary's office waiting to be collected....Don't throw your mutuel tickets away till

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS
POLO HAS GIVEN RISE TO A NEW TYPE OF HORSE AND HERE'S WHAT IT MUST BE AND HAVE TO QUALIFY
SO YOU WANT TO PLAY POLO, HA! HA!
14 HANDS 3 IN. HIGH
THE POWER OF A HUNTER
COURAGE OF A RACE HORSE
DOCILITY OF A PONY
MUST PASS AN OFFICIAL MEASURER

We measure up to any man's requirements of courteous service, quality merchandise and smart style.
Esquire
PHONE 105 - 209 FRONT ST.

ESQUIRE KIDS READY FOR GAME

Mike Powers Will Go to Mound Against Oshawa to Wind Up Series in Two Straight

The second game of the Junior O.A.S.A. playdowns between Bill's Place, Oshawa, and the local Esquire Juniors takes place at Coleman Flats this evening with the local kids enjoying a one game advantage in their best of three series.

Although the locals failed to pound out a flock of extra base hits on the Oshawa diamond, the kids hit when hits meant runs and after establishing an early game lead weathered a late inning rally by the homesters and came home with a 8-7 win tucked under their belts. Skipper Townsend reports that his charges never played to better advantage than hey did in the western town, their fielding was nothing less than sensational and they are all primed to take the series in two straight.

Townsend reserved his ace twirler Mike Powers, for the all-important tussle on the local mound and if Mike is right, Oshawa will have a task ahead of them to down the locals on their own back yard. Campbell, the Junior's late season hurling find, is right and ready to step into the breach should Powers show signs of weakening and would like nothing better than to get a chance to subdue the heavy-hitting Oshawa nine two game in succession. Regardless of the outcome, however, tonight's game is bound to be a sterling tussle between two well-balanced Junior squads and one which local fans would be advised not to pass up.

WARD IS PICKED TO WIN NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF

Former Amateur Champion Reaches the Semi-Final Round

ABBATT STILL IN

By L. E. SKELLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Omaha, Aug. 29 (AP)—The boys in the Field Club's locker rooms will tell you that Marvin (Bud) Ward, the husky from the far west, is heading toward another United States amateur golf championship.

Belting Bud, a hard-hitting shooter, was rated tops in the semi-final field which battled down the Field Club's narrow, trouble dotted fairways in 36-hole matches today.

"Say that guy could beat any amateur in the country," said one of the boys who dropped out in the quarter-final.

Bud's semi-final foe is Bobby Riegel of Houston, Tex. The other match is between Pat Abbott, former movie extra, and tall T. Bishop of Boston.

Ward says he isn't taking anything for granted.

Ward came into the semi-final with a convincing 5 and 4 decision over little Steve Kovach, Pennsylvania kid who couldn't match Bud's skill on the second nine of their quarter-final round. Ward's third round foe, Glenn Oatman of Kansas City, went down 3 and 1.

Riegel's accomplishments yesterday included a 4 and 3 victory over young Walter Burkemo of Chicago and a 1 up triumph over Bruce McCormick, California fireman.

Abbott a gallery favorite, was the general choice over Bishop, New England champion. Handsome Pat did a two-under par job as he eliminated two stout shooters, Ray Billows, New York salesman, 3 and 2 and Harry Todd, the lanky Texan, 2 up.

Bishop, a 28-year-old salesman who once was a professional, tripped Hal Stone Jr., of Bloomington, Ill., up in the third round and then surprised with a 5 and 3 victory over Lou Jennings of Portland, Ore.

CAUGHT SLIDING

A remarkable action picture snapped in the fourth inning of the first game of the double-header in the New York Polo Grounds between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants. Fletcher of the Pirates is show sliding home to be tagged out by Catcher Harry Danning of the Giants. Gustine's hit to right field was fielded by Ott, who threw to Whitehead for the successful relay to Danning.

DAVIS TO MIZE

Curt Davis, Brooklyn Dodger and former St Louis Card hurler, serves up one of his best for his old teammate Johnny Mize, Card's first-baseman, at Brooklyn. Mize hit the pitch back to Davis, who threw him out at first.

Playgrounds

Dashes—

25 Yard, 8 years and under, boys: B. Campbell, T. Stephens, L. Palmer.

25 Yard, 8 years and under, girls: Frances Thompson.

50 Yard, 12 years and under, boys: Earl Bush, Allen Burley, Bob Carey.

50 Yard, 12 years and under, girls: Connie Maker, Jean Campbell, Olive Thompson.

75 yard, 14 years and under, girls: No contest.

100 yard, 14 years and under, boys: Jerry Moher, Stew Blake, Bill Hunter.

100 yard, 15 years and over, girls: Connie Maker, Jean Campbell and Jean Diamond (tied), Barbara Kyle.

100 yard, 15 years and over, boys: Bob Wilson, George Wilson, Ed. Thompson.

Running Relay, 1-8 mile, 12 years and under, boys: teams, 1st. Earl Bush, Art Wright, Glen Young, Allen Burley. 2nd. Bob Carey, Owen Moher, Bob Moher, A. Duffy.

Running Relay, 1-8 miles, 12 years and under, girls: 1st. Jean Diamond, Connie Maker (only 2 on team). 2nd. Jean Campbell, Barbara Kyle.

Running Relay, 1-4 mile, 14 years and under, boys: 1st. Jerry Moher, Bill Hunter, Bob Bunton, Sonny Dopovan. 2nd. Doug Day, Frank Bush, Stew Blake, Reg. Campbell.

Running Relap, 1-4 mile, 14 years and under, girls: 1st. Connie Maker, Betty Johns, Jean Diamond, (3 on team). 2nd. Jean Campbell, Barbara Kyle, Olive Thompson.

Running Relay, 1-2 miles, 15 years and over, boys: 1st. Bob Wilson, Ed. Thomas, Chas. Hewson, George Wilson. 2nd. Stew Blake, Bing Cross, Norman Mills, R. Bush.

Running Relay, 1-2 mile, 15 years and over, girls: No contest.

Softball Throw, 12 years and under, boys: Sam Simmons, Earl Bush, Glen Young.

Softball Throw, 12 years and under, girls: Barbara Kyle, Jean Diamond, Connie Maker.

Softball Throw, 14 years and under, boys: Art Cherry, Bill Hunter, G. McNally.

Softball Throw, 14 years and under, girls: Barbara Kyle, Connie Maker, Jean Diamond.

Softball Throw, 15 years and over, boys: Bruce Sword, Bob Bunton, Norman Mills.

Softball Throw, 15 years and over, girls: No contest.

High Jump, 12 years and under, boys: Reg. Campbell, B. Moher, B. Orr.

High Jump, 12 years and under, girls: Betty Zebedee, Olive Thompson, Betty Jeffs.

High Jump, 8 years and under, girls: Frances Thompson, Kay Bush, Marg. Bedford.

High Jump, 14 years and under, boys: Bill Hunter, Bob Bunton, Moher.

High Jump, 14 years and under, girls: Connie Maker, Jean Diamond, Barbara Kyle.

High Jump, 15 years and over, boys: Jerry Forster, Norman Mills, R. Bush.

Running Broad Jump, 12 years and under, boys: Not held.

Running Broad Jump, 12 years and under, girls: Doris Simmons, Kay Bush, Betty Jeffs.

Running Broad Jump, 14 years and under, boys: George McNally, Bill Hunter, Doug Day.

Running Broad Jump, 14 years and under, girls: Connie Maker, Jean Diamond, Betty Johns.

Running Broad Jump, 15 years and over, boys: Bob Wilson, Norman Mills, E. Thomas.

Running Broad Jump, 15 years and over, girls: No contest.

Bicycle Race, 1-4 mile, 12 years and under, boys: Allan Burley, M. Massey, E. Bush.

Bicycle Race, 1-4 mile, 12 years and under, girls: No race.

Bicycle Race, 1-2 mile, 14 years and under, boys: Jerry Moher, Bill Hunter, Stew Blake.

Bicycle Race, 1-2 mile, 14 years and under, girls: Connie Maker, Barbara Kyle.

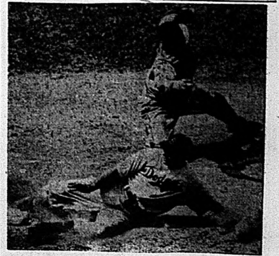
Bicycle Race, 1-2 mile, 15 years and over, boys: Ed. Thomas, Bill Hunter, Chas. Hewson, Time 1 min. 45 seconds.

Bicycle Race, 1-2 mile, 15 years and over, girls: No contest.

Ball Relay Contest, 12 years and under, boys vs. girls. Girls won.

1-2 Mile Running Race, open: 1 Chas Hewson, 2 Bob Wilson, 3 G. Wilson. Time 2 min., 52 seconds.

Hop Step and Jump, open: 1 Bob Wilson, 2 Ed. Thomas, G. Wilson.



SAFE AT HOME AS DODGERS WIN

Billy Herman, infielding star of the pennant - battling Brooklyn Dodgers, sliding home in a cloud of dust in the fourth inning of the first game of the double-header against the St. Louis Cardinals, Aug. 26. Umpire Dunn calls Billy "safe" as Card Catcher Gus Mancuso takes the late throw. Herman scored from third on Lavagetto's socrifice fly to the outfield. Dodgers won.

Here Is One of the Great Values for Little

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per

Insertion	30c
Two Insertions	60c
Three Insertions	75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number	extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.

Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS

REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL

17 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073

Representing

CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE

Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

CEMENT MIXER AND MAN TO operate same is for rent. Apply 2238. A26-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J., 223 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE. The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate. Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE". 233 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 213 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900. Lady attendant.

H. E. and VERA B. PITCHER, Sp.C. Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 42½ Bridge St., East, Belleville. Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS

and

HOWARD FROST

LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE

243½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE

General Insurance, Fire, Automobile. Accident and Plate Glass. 278 Front St. Phone 1154W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES

KISSES FOR BREAKFAST

Dennis Morgan, Jane Wyatt, Shirley Ross

2.40 — 7.00 — 9.50

DANCE HALL

Cesar Romero, Carole Landis

4.00 — 8.35

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES

DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR

James Cagney, Pat O'Brien

Frank McHugh

2.15 — 7.45 — 10.00

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES

SUNSET IN WYOMING

Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette

7.35 — 10.00

REPENT AT LEISURE

Kent Taylor, Wendy Barrie

8.45

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27

WANTED

UNFURNISHED ROOMS OR small apartment, suitable for two adults. Phone 808 during day. A29

A BOY FOR DELIVERY AND general store work. Apply Riverside Grocery, 1 East Moira. A29

FARM LABORER, MARRIED. Write Box 33, Ontario Intelligencer or Phone 247. A29-2t

TO BUY, OR RENT, SMALL home or apartment, with garden. City or country. Immediately. Box 2, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-2t

YOUNG WOMAN DESIRES WORK by day. Write Box 22, Ontario Intelligencer. A29

KITCHEN MAID FOR INSTITUTION work. Experience not essential. Apply in writing to Box 30, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-3t

WAITRESS, GOOD SALARY — Working hours about 49 per week. Not paid by the hour. Apply The Guild Restaurant, 345 Front St. A29

MAID BY SEPTEMBER 1. SLEEP out. Mrs. Crossland, 277 William St. Phone 2494. A29tf

EXPERIENCED SALESLADY FOR gift and novelty store. State age, experience, etc., to Box 34, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-2t

SMALL HOUSE, APARTMENT OR flat, centrally located; reasonable rent. No children. Phone 2306W. A29-3t

ASSISTANT BOOKKEEPER — young lady; experienced. Apply Lipson's Furniture House. A29-2t

AGENTS WANTED

MAN WANTED FOR RAWLEIGH Route of 800 families. Write today. Rawleigh's, Dept. ML-132-SA-H, Montreal, Canada. A29

ONE OR TWO FURNISHED rooms, with kitchenette, immediately. Apply Box 44, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-3t

POSITION AS TRUCK DRIVER. Experienced. Write Howard Clark, c/o Fred Chambers, Napanee R. 3. A29-2t

BOY FOR GLOBE AND MAIL route immediately. Phone 1463. A29

3 OR 4 ROOM APARTMENT with water. Phone 36. A29-2t

WOMAN WANTS HOUSEWORK by the day. Phone 2223W between seven and nine-thirty. A29-2t

DELIVERY BOY, STEADY. APply Empire Fruit Market. A29-2t

MARRIED MAN TO WORK ON farm by the year. Apply Harry O'Neill. Phone 33-32. A29-3t

CARPENTERS. APPLY ARTHUR Sills. 285 Coleman in person. A29

BY SEPTEMBER 15, TWO OR three light housekeeping rooms, West Hill preferred. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer. A28-3t

GIRL FOR LIGHT HOUSEWORK. Sleep out. Apply 55 East Moira. A28-3t

WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE $35 to $50 or more weekly and be your own boss? Let me show you how I am doing it with no worries of losing job. It will cost nothing to enquire and see if you can qualify for present opening. Apply Gus Olsson, 257 John Street, Belleville, after 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 1 p.m. Saturday, August 28, 29 and 30. A28-3t

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEwork. Experienced. Phone, Trenton 881. A28-3t

POSITION AS HOUSEKEEPER IN Adult home. Apply at 272 Coleman Street, c/o Mrs. Cooney. A28-2t

A DELIVERY BOY, WITH OR without bicycle. Steady position if satisfactory. Livesey Meat Market, 18½ W. Bridge Street. A28-3t

CAPABLE GIRL FOR GENERAL housework; good with children. References required. Phone 1454M. after 7 evenings. A28-2t

HOUSE WANTED — 2 OR MORE bedrooms. Possession soon as possible. East Hill preferred. Phone 706. A27-4t

EXPERIENCED HOUSE MAID and waitress. Apply in person only. Hotel Belvedere. A27-6t

HOUSEKEEPER TO TAKE FULL charge of home. 3 adults. No objection to child. C. H. Palmer, Consecon. A25-6t

LOST

AERIAL OFF CAR ON WEDnesday afternoon on road between Belleville and Oak Hill Lake. Finder return to Ontario Intelligencer office for reward.

MONS V. C. JOINS R.A.F.

London (CP)—Frederick Luke, a V. C. of the First Great War, has joined the Royal Air Force as a ground gunner. He won his V.C. for saving British guns at Le Cateau during the retreat from Mons.

NOWHERE CAN YOU GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY THAN ON THE WANT AD. PAGE

Results for 30c—

FOR SALE

BERKEL ELECTRIC COFFEE Mill; first class condition; late model. Cash price $50.00. Time payments if desired. Strouds' Gift Shop. A29-2t

90 ONE-YEAR OLD LAYING hens. Apply Ray Pound, Third Thurlow. A29

OR RENT, FARM, 92 ACRES; good state of cultivation; clay loam; electricity; five miles from Belleville. Edwin Adams, R. 5, Trenton. A29-3t

DOUBLE BED WITH SPRINGS and spring filled mattress. Excellent condition. Phone 2515. A29-3t

50 QUEEN ST., CORNER OF Ann Street—well built brick house, in good state of repair—large living room with coal fire place and French doors, den; dining room, kitchen, five bedrooms, bath, good basement, hot air heating. A bright and easily heated house in a desirable location. Would make an excellent duplex. Inspection by appointment. Exclusive agent, George N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A29-tf

WE HAVE SOLD MANY PROPerties so far this year. If you desire to sell list your place with us and if you wish to buy see us. Belleville Locators (Geo. N. Gorman, Prop.), Licensed and Registered Real Estate Brokers and Associate Members of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards —166 Front St., opposite City Hall. Phone 99. A29tf

'35 CADILLAC DELUXE SEDAN; real good tires and motor. A real bargain for cash. Phone 152J. A29-2t

'36 TERRAPLANE COACH, LOW mileage; good tires and motor. A bargain and terms. Hopkins' Garage, Foxboro. A29-2t

SEVEN ROOM HOUSE, ALL CONveniences; garage and garden; near C.N.R. Could be made into duplex. 10 Emily. A25-27-29

1941 MODEL BEATTY WASHER; all white. Must be sold this week for balance owing; big saving. Terms can be arranged. Call at 225 Front St. A28-2t

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, good condition. 6 ft. box. Call 721W or 169 Albert St. A27-3t

94 ACRE FARM, LOT 30, CON. 6, Thurlow; well watered and fenced. Apply Oran Conley, Plainfield. A27-3t

FARM, 2 MILES EAST MADOC Village, 120 acres work land. Good buildings. Equipped with Hydro, telephone. Apply Geo. Walsh, R. 3, Madoc. A27-3t

MOTORCYCLE, 1940 INDIAN Scout, and side-car. Only six thousand miles. Excellent condition. See at Red Indian Service Station, Bridge and Front 7 to 9 p.m. A27-3t

THAT FINE BRICK HOME, GIVins Estate, 281 Bleecker. Four bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, back and front verandahs, lot 50 x 150. Laundry tubs in cellar. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

A BLACK AND TAN FOX AND deer hound; two years old. Fred Aikens, R.R. 2, Belleville. A27-3t

VERY MODERN HOME, 154 ALbert. Back and front verandahs, newly painted, living room, dining room, kitchen, reception hall, French doors, hardwood floors throughout, 3 bedrooms, one with wash basin, 3 piece bath, modern hot water system, with low type radiators, laundry tubs, screens and storm windows. Lot 50 x 100. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

MASSEY HARRIS COM. BINDER, almost new. John Jeffrey, West Huntingdon. Phone Stirling, 641. A27-3t

7 ROOM FRAME HOUSE AND barn, 5 acres garden land, situated on Foxboro Highway, just outside city limits. This is a real bargain at $2000.00. Taxes only $33.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

FOR SALE

'31 DURANT SEDAN, GOOD CONdition; new tires. Best offer for cash. Evenings only. Apt. 1, 257 Bleecker Ave. A29-2t

ON LARGE LOT, FIVE ROOMED house on West Hill; modern, except furnace; hardwood floors downstairs; chestnut trim; full basement; screened porch. Interested parties write Box 28 Ontario Intelligencer. A26-6t

7 ROOM FRAME, 312 CHARLES Street. 4 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 piece bath, garage, large lot. Full particulars as to price and terms on application. Belleville Realty Co. Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

9 ROOM BRICK, FOSTER AVE., converted into three apartments of 3 rooms each. Hardwood floors, furnace, good basement. Tax is only $115.00. Lot 100 x 132. This is a real money maker and a bargain at $3000.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

175 WEST MOIRA STREET, substantial brick house in good state of repair. Living room, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms, bath, hot air heating, garage for three cars. This is a desirable property in a nice location. Reasonable price for cash. Inspection by appointment only. Apply Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A27-tf

TO LET

FURNISHED COTTAGE, FOUR miles from Belleville on Bay Shore, near Rednersville; September and October. Electric stove and Frigidaire. Apply 359 Bleecker. Phone 1749. A29-3t

COMFORTABLE FRONT BEDroom; suit one or two gentlemen; hot water. 51½ North Front. Phone 2630W. A29-3t

FURNISHED AND HEATED house on West Bridge Street. Close in. Combined living room and dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms. Sixty dollars per month. Possession October 1st. Apply Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A29-tf

3 ROOMED HEATED UPPER APartment; hot water; private entrance. No children. 27 Queen St. Phone 827J. A28-3t

FOR SEPTEMEBER - OCTOBER, furnished summer cottage, Trenton Road. Electricity, fireplace, bathroom. Apply Mrs. Cooper. Phone 951W. A28-3t

HIS HEATING PROBLEM—

SOLVED!

THROUGH THE FRIENDLY SERVICE OF THE QUINTE FINANCE

Now, if you want to play safe you may borrow for your winter's coal and pay it back in 15 easy monthly payments.

QUINTE FINANCE

and

SECURITIES LIMITED.

168 Front St. Phone 168

NEW WORKS DIRECTOR

London (CP)—T. P. Bennett, founder of a London firm of architects, has been appointed Director of Works in London.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rion and family, also grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dermott wish to thank the Ontario Provincial Police Department, friends and neighbors who so kindly helped in their hour of need: also for the many beautiful floral tributes and cars loaned. A29

BIRTH

PLUMMER — In Belleville General Hospital on Thursday, August 28th., 1941, to Lieutenant and Mrs. H. E. Plummer (nee Phyllis Goyer), a son. A29

IF YOU NEED $100 HERE'S WHAT TO DO

Just come in, phone, or write us. $20 to $500 loans made on your own signature. No endorsers. Others not notified. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment

Cash Loan You Get	Choose a monthly payment plan
	6 payments	10 payments	12 payments	15 payments
$ 25	$ 4.46	$ 2.78	$ 2.36
50	8.93	5.57	4.73
75	13.39	8.35	7.09
100	17.85	11.13	9.46	$7.78
125	22.32	13.92	11.82	9.73
150	26.78	16.70	14.18	11.67
200	35.71	22.27	18.91	15.57
300	53.56	33.40	28.37	23.35
400	71.41	44.53	37.82	31.13
500	89.25	55.66	47.28	38.91

Payments include charges at 2% monthly as authorised by the Small Loans Act, 1939. No obligation if you do not borrow.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE

Corporation of Canada

Established in Canada [illegible]

PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

Second Floor, Lansfield Block

177 Charlotte St., Opp. Loblaws

M. E. Nell, Manager Phone 5841

AT THE BELLE

"Kisses For Breakfast"

Dennis Morgan, Shirley Ross and Jane Wyatt make up the riotous triumvirate that cavorts through the laugh-making, blues-chasing Warner Bros. comedy, "Kisses For Breakfast," which is now closing a highly successful engagement at the Belle.

As an amnesia victim married to two girls, Dennis has the opportunity to display his winning personality. Wife number one, Shirley Ross, is a dynamic little number, while wife number two, Jane Wyatt, is the sweet and understanding one.

"Dance Hall" Funny

A steady stream of laughs greeted "Dance Hall," the new 20th Century-Fox comedy romance which is the added comedy feature.

Cesar Romero, in the same type of role he did so well in "Tall, Dark and Handsome," scores another personal triumph as Duke, the local Casanova who thought all women had to fall for him. Carole Landis is excellent as the pretty singer who makes Duke doubt his own ability as a lady killer. It's a knock-down-drag-out romance that's tops in entertainment.

The supporting cast, features William Henry, June Storey and J. Edward Bromberg.

"They Met in Bombay"

Combining the versatile talents of Clark Gable and Rosalind Russell as co-stars, M-G-M's "They Met in Bombay" coming next to the Belle Theatre, is a romantic melodrama graphically keyed into international complications in the Orient.

With this headlined news front seething with intrigue and violence as their dramatic background, Gable and Miss Russell, as a pair of intrepid adventurers, are given wide latitude in bringing their unusual talents to the screen.

Gable's role is cut smartly to the dictates of his outstanding work as a two-fisted man of action. Here, as a one-time British army officer, he assumes with equal nonchalance the part of a clever modern crook operating in smart social circles.

Miss Russell forsakes many roles to invest her versatile talents and charm in the unusual part of a feminine Raffles matching her cleverness with Gable's.

Their involved adventures are backgrounded in Bombay as the story opens. Colorful India, enhanced by the celebration of Empire Day, is divertingly pictured with its custom. The actionful panorama lavish display of festival garb and then takes the principals to sea and to Hong Kong for later episodes.

Sunday Midnight Show

Filmdom's most dynamic threesome are starred in Warner Bros.' exciting film, "Manpower" which will be presented at the Belle Theatre Sunday after midnight, 12.05, for one performance only. The unbeatable star combination which heads the cast is Edward G. Robinson, Marlene Dietrich and George Raft. You can imagine the action and excitement that sweeps through the film when those three get together!

Regular adult prices will prevail.

SWEDES PREFER ENGLISH

Stockholm (CP)—A three-weeks' course in English, delivered at the University by English-born teachers, has an enrollment of 179 students. A corresponding course in German was abandoned, only 15 students enrolled.

WHO CAN DO IT?

AUTO BODY & PAINT SHOPS

MADILL'S GARAGE. 334A FRONT St. Phone 2270.

CARTAGE & TRANSPORT

WALLBRIDGE'S CARTAGE AND Transport. Phone 1811.

SMITH & SONS — CLOSED FURniture Vans. Phone 311.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

W. H. OLIPHANT, 292 FRONT ST. Wiring. Fixtures.

GARAGE

GRILLS' GARAGE. WALKER E. Grills. 85 Moira W. Ph. 1151.

BROWN'S GARAGE. GENERAL Auto Repairs. 29 Dundas. Ph. 846.

MOXAM & WOOD. BODY AND Fender repairs. 65 Dundas. Ph. 890

HEATING CONTRACTORS

THOMAS J. HOLLAND CO. 132 Pinnacle St. Phone 1025.

HOME APPLIANCE STORE, OPerated by Adams & VanDusen Co. 191 Front. Phone 1181. Plumbing, Heating, Air Conditioning.

JEWELLERS

W. WONNACOTT, JEWELLER, 29 Bridge St. E. Phone 745W.

MACHINE SHOP & REPAIRS

COOKE'S REPAIR SERVICE. CAR Keys, and Locks Repaired. 142 Front St. Phone 453M.

JOE'S WELDING AND BICYCLE Shop. 384 Front St., Belleville.

MUSIC

RESIDENT PIANO TUNER. Bruce C. Sills. Ph. 1031. Res. 1708.

MISCELLANEOUS

H. LAVENDER, UPHOLSTERER. 44 Station St. Phone 1100.

WATCHMAKERS

A. E. WONNACOTT, TWO EXpert Watchmakers. 292 Front St. Phone 2477.

PLUMBING AND HEATING

SMITH HARDWARE. 314 FRONT Phone 2260. Belleville.

JOHN LEWIS CO. 265 FRONT Phone 204. Belleville.

MODERN PLUMBING & HEATing, Murray Black. phone 1335-379.

RADIO REPAIRS

FRALICK'S RADIO SERVICE — "Everything for Your Radio." 32 Bridge St. E. Phone 1491.

RADIO & WASHER SERVICE. All work done in our Service Dept. Weaver's. 217 Front. Ph. 1031

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP. — Standard Radio Parts and Service. 340 Front St. Phone 659.

HITCHON RADIO SERVICE, 24 Victoria Ave, Phone 854. We have the new 1941-42 Radio Licenses.

EATON & ROSS, SALES AND Service. Complete Stock Rogers Parts. 325 Front St. Ph. 468.

REAL ESTATE

IF IT'S BUYING OR SELLING,— Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg.

ROOFING & INSULATION

ALEX. W. CARMICHAEL, ROOFing and Flooring Contractor, 336-340 Pinnacle. Ph. 1137. Belleville.

REFRIGERATION

REFRIGERATION SERVICE, REpairs. Everything electrical. Geo. Sweetnam. Phone 861.

SHOE REPAIRS

BROWN'S SHOE REPAIR — 10 Campbell St. Phone 1317.

TIRE & BATTERY SERVICE

UPTOWN TIRE & BATTERY. "Scotty—Vulcanizing—Smitty" — 383 Front St. Phone 2288.

WOODYARD

HANNA'S WOODYARD, HARD & Soft Wood. 13 Baldwin. Ph. 1140.

MASON'S—COAL AND WOOD. 13 Geddes. Ph. 1723.

USED CARS

Aselstine's Shell Service

Operating at head of UPPER BRIDGE, BELLEVILLE, in collaboration with NAPANEE MOTORS, LIMITED, are offering for sale at these premises, GUARANTEED USED CARS. A call is solicited. Offerings at present are as follows:

1940 PLYMOUTH COACH.
1940 DODGE.
1938 DESOTO SEDAN.
1937 PACKARD SEDAN.

PHONE 480

A28-3t

Gene Autry, your favorite western star, is back in his latest music and action picture "Sunset in Wyoming," now at the Capitol Theatre. The same program includes a delightful romantic comedy "Repent at Leisure," starring Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie.

GERMAN LOOTING

London—Inbel, the Free Belgian news agency, quotes a letter from occupied Belgium which says, in part, "We are short of everything because the Germans have stolen everything. For two months there has been no meat."

IN SWEDISH SCHOOLS

Stockholm (CP)—All boys and girls of college and high-school age have been ordered to take a oneweek course in military preparedness. They study in air-defence, first aid and messenger service. In addition, the boys study marksmanship.

AT THE McCARTHY

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan"

One of the finest casts ever assembled, in what Hollywood and every critic regards as one of the finest pictures ever made, may be seen starting Sunday midnight at the McCarthy Theatre where Columbia's "Here Comes Mr. Jordon" will star likeable Robert Montgomery. Principal supporting players include Claude Rains, Evelyn Keyes, James Gleason, Edward Everett Horton, Rita Johnson and John Emery.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" was directed by Alexander Hall, the maker of such exceptional comedies as "This Thing Called Love," "He Stayed for Breakfast" and "The Doctor Takes a Wife." Sidney Buchanan, who write the screenplays for "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," "Theodora Goes Wild" and other hits and Seton I. Miller, of "Robin Hood" and "Dawn Patrol" fame, collaborated on the screen play, an adaptation of Harry Segall's play, "Heaven Can Wait." Everett Riskin produced the new comedy for Columbia.

According to advance report, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" is a story never told on the screen before, a comedy which dares to break every rule of film-making, even as it achieves a high level of entertainment. Its characters are said to be gay, adorable, hateful, human; its story still has Hollywood chuckling.

Montgomery is seen as a fellow named Joe, a likeable guy with a sense of humor who is obsessed with one overwhelming ambition. In pursuit of that ambition he is helped by sympathetic, kindly, dignified Mr. Jordan and by Mr. Jordan's unique understanding of problems and of their solutions.

In the role of Mr. Jordan, Claude Rains is said to provide one of the year's most magnificent performances. Similarly, James Gleason tops even his outstanding "Meet John Doe" characterization, with his work in "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" and Edward Everett Horton contributes another of his delightful fuddled roles.

Miss Keyes, as the romantic lead, is said to fulfill that promise of early stardom revealed by her in "Gone With the Wind" and "The Lady in Question." Similarly, lovely Rita Johnson contributes a performance which in a motion picture less capably cast, would have won her immediate and scintillant stardom.

AT THE CAPITOL

"Sunset In Wyoming"

"Sunset In Wyoming," which is the newest of Gene Autry's Republic musical westerns, is now at the Capitol Theatre.

Fashioned with the usual robust ingenuity of all Autry pilots, it has to do with the tribulations of Gene as a youthful rancher in a valley facing flood devastation unless reforestation is adopted by the Wentworth Lumber Company.

Unable to make much headway with the lumber camp foreman, Gene and his pal, Frog Millhouse—which role is always played by Smiley Burnette—go straight to the owner of the lumber company, old Asa Wentworth, hoping to appeal to his sense of justice to preserve the ranches that lie below the lumber properties on the top of Mount Warner.

Old Asa is dominated by his willful granddaughter, Billie Wentworth, who imagines herself to be in love with Larry Drew, ruthless general manager of the Wenworth lumber interests. Asa does not approve of the unscrupulous tactics of Drew, but he fears that to openly oppose him would be to drive the obstinate Billie to elope with him. Therefore, when Gene and Frog present themselves, he lines up on their side and helps them connive an elaborate plot to outsmart Drew and his henchmen.

Maris Wrixon is cast in the feminine lead, and the supporting cast includes George Cleveland as old Asa, Robert Kent as Drew, and Dick Elliott.

"Repent At Leisure"

The unique complications which arise when a conscientious young department store clerk unwittingly marries his wealthy boss' beautiful daughter, provide the excitement in "Repent at Leisure" featuring Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie, now at the Capitol.

Miss Barrie is cast as an impulsive heiress who flees from a distasteful marriage to a nobleman and then meets the young salesman on a bus. Pretending to be a model who has just lost her job, she accepts the young man's proffer of food and lodging until she finds another position.

When her handsome benefactor is threatened with losing his job because he is unmarried, she manoeuvres him into marriage, the young groom unaware his bride is the daughter of his rich employer. How the happy wife persuades her father to advance her ambitious husband until he is soon manager of the establishment, the bitter disillusionment of the young man when he learns the truth, their subsequent separation and their dramatic reunion through their mutual affection for an adopted child, all make for interest-compelling entertainment.

The same program includes the latest news and the eighth chapter of "The Mysterious Doctor Satan."

Dazzling Promise

By

KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER 23

Tom — And Tug

"How about having dinner with me?" Tom invited, his voice over the wire filling Dona with courage.

"I'd love it," she told him. Tonight she would make him realize that putting distance between them was the only solution to their problem. They could meet occasionally during the few remaining days they were in town. Then they'd fly to Unadilla and she'd get her personal belongings and come back here alone. That would be the end of it.

"Around seven?" he asked, filling her with glad anticipation.

"Yes, Tom—seven," she told him liltingly and hung up.

Close to gay abandon, she snatched off her coat and hat. She pushed her hair back from her hot brow and tried to stop the foolish beating of her heart.

She called the hospital, inquired about Tug and received the usual maddening report. "Mr. Nash is resting comfortably." She got Tug's day nurse on the telephone and pinned her down to a really informative statement.

"He's much better, but he'll be here all of two weeks more, Mrs. Nash," she said, "You may see him in a few days."

Somehow the whole procedure was too cut and dried for her present mood. People left their nearest and dearest ones in hospitals to be cared for by utter strangers and weren't even allowed to look in on them. Not that Tug could be called her dearest—only her nearest responsibility. Still, she'd feel easier if she were allowed to talk to him. That pretty night nurse! Perhaps the day one was just as pretty. Not so long ago she would have been extremely jealous of pretty nurses. How she'd changed!

The call to the Dexter residence, where Bob Platt was staying, was difficult in another way. Bob's deceit, along with her other faults, was difficult for Dona to forgive or to understand. Her crafty play at being angelic to her mother for weeks, so that she could run away and live her own life without benefit of a glorified companion, showed exactly how far she would go to gain an objective. Bob Platt was dangerous. She was also a little idiot If fate hadn't intervened that night and made Tug desperately ill, Bob might have found herself in an ugly spot. Even a girl with her wealth couldn't get away with everything.

"Oh, it's you, Dona!" Bob sang out carelessly.

"You called me."

"I only wanted to wish you happiness. Tom told me about you and Tug. Perhaps I wouldn't have given him a second thought if I'd known he belonged to you. I do think, Dona you should have told me."

"Do you?" said Dona noncommittally. Then she added, "I'm writing your mother—quitting my job."

"But, Dona—you're not telling her—everything, are you?" There was a thread of fear in Bob's voice.

"Don't worry—I won't mention you. It would make too many complications just now. You can tell her what you wish."

She would anyway, thought Dona. She'd tell a story and turn it to her own advantage.

Dona said good-bye to Bob shortly after this and promised herself to have nothing more to do with her. However, Dona forgot that the course of a future is not always our preference.

Dona wrote Grace Platt a friendly little note, expressing her gratitude for her many kindnesses and resigning her position. She explained that her husband was very ill and that as soon as she could leave town, she would come to Unadilla and gather up her effects.

Dinner that night with Tom was only the beginning of a two-weeks repetition of them. Dona also lunched with him as often as possible and their evenings together were so nearly perfect, she longed to have them continue forever. But altogether too often to suit Dona, Chris Cupp had luncheon for two sent up to his roof studio, and he and Dona ate hurriedly, after which he continued to work until daylight began to fade.

Frequently, he expressed surprise and satisfaction at the speed with which Dona adapted herself to her new work, and she was feeling fairly confident of continuing with him. She realized now how exceptionally talented the man was and, although he treated her with the utmost consideration and courtesy, she sensed there was another side to him which might, without warning, come to the surface. There were too many pretty women surrounding him to make it otherwise.

They were continually dropping into his studio while he was seated before his easel, and he accepted their frank worship either with complete indifference or with impetuous fervor, as best suited his mood. Dona was slightly contemptuous of all this. Besides, it made her ashamed that any of her sex could be so blind to Chris Cupp's childish egotism and play it up so willingly.

Dona visted the hospital as often as possible and finally had several serious conversations with Tug about himself. He talked as if he were altogether penitent. But this did not register too forcibly with the disillusioned Dona, who knew that Tug's illness had scared him into this mood—for the time being.

She realized that he was in no condition to be criticised, so she avoided mentioning financial matters to him, until he asked her outright how she could afford to remain so long away from the Platts. Then she explained about the modelling.

He brightened and exclaimed, "Swell! There's real money in that!"

She sighed and hoped that he was not counting upon borrowing any of the "real money" later. The work was tiresome but she liked it. But it might not last forever, and trying to establish Tug in business was like pouring water through a sieve.

When Tug graduated from a wheel chair to his own two feet, the doctors advised that he be sent to a sanatorium in San Diego. They said he now needed a great deal of rest, sunshine and nourishing food and, if his will power held out, in a year he'd be as well as ever.

Dona bore this news stocially and realized that she must continue to live from day to day, without thinking of the future. Tug must get well. She was his sole support.

She had a long talk with him after this, and he seemed delighted at the prospect of living in a place where he could have a few privileges and a degree of freedom. He declared that never would he repeat his old mistakes and all he wanted from now on was to be strong enough to support his "darling, brave little wife."

But even the most fervent of Tug's promises and declarations of loyalty didn't impress Dona too deeply. She attempted to imagine herself settling down with him in that cozy little cottage he declared he was going to get for her but, ironically enough, she couldn't visualize it. She scolded herself severely for this and wondered if she were wicked.

She mentioned none of this to Tug, however. It would be time enough to blast his hopes when he was entirely well and, undoubtedly by that time he might be of different mind. His attitude toward his pretty nurses—the day one was pretty, too—told Dona he was the same old Tug. And when he finally needed only a day nurse, it was, Dona observed the prettier girl who remained.

Dona was beyond caring about this. But she was concerned about the girl. She hoped that she had sense enough not to put too much faith in Tug's promises.

Tug departed for San Diego on the morning of the day that Chris Cupp was giving a large smart party on the hotel roof. Chris and the maitre d'hotel had been in consultation for days over the party arrangements, because Chris was determined to stage an affair that would be long remembered in Los Angeles society.

So after seeing Tug off at the station, Dona went to the exclusive shop where a gown had been created for her under Chris Cupp's explicit directions.

She was in no state of mind to go through the annoyance of a last fitting, but it had to be done. She felt completely forlorn. She was worried about Tug. Her life stretched ahead now like one long weary sentence.

One whole year of slaving to make a man well who perhaps wouldn't have the will power even to assist himself! One whole year, which easily could expand into dozens of them.

But she had to do the decent thing. Tug Nash was her responsibility.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Little Benny's Note Book

We were eating supper, being liver and onions in pop's honor, and ma said, I've decided to have a new picture of myself taken after all, Willyum. You remember I told you my old graduation class is getting out an anniversity book and they want every member to send in an up to date photograph to be printed alongside their old graduation picture from the original class book. It's a very nice idea for anybody who hasn't changed too much and I have a very nice picture of myself taken to send in but after all Willyum 6 years ago isn't strictly up to date even in these rapidly changing times and I wouldn't want any of the girls to be able to accuse me of cheating, and for that matter I wouldn't want to even accuse myself of a sispicion of vanity, so I've decided to send in a picture of myself just as I am today. I'm going to drop in at the Wall and Pine Studios tomorrow, she said.

But for Peet sake that's the most expensive outfit in town, they want your shirt in exchange for your face, pop said. Yee gods, it's too bad you cant strain your conscience still further and bend over backwards by sending a preview of yourself 10 years from now, he said, and ma said, Now that's silly. My conscience doesn't need to be strained as long as it's clear, so I don't need to bend over either backwards or fallwards, she said.

But why pick out Wall and Pine for Peet sake? pop said, and ma said, The bridge game was at Blantch Hipple's this afternoon and I saw a really stunning picture of Blantch that I could of sworn was taken at least 15 years ago, and Blantch comes out with the information that it was taken only last week by Wall and Pine without a single stroke of retouching. So really, Willyum, I mean really, ability like that should be patronized, dont you agree with me? ma said.

To the death, pop said.

And he got in back of the sporting page looking weak.

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29.

5.15—Wishart Campbell, songs—CBL
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.00—Bridge to Yesterday—WJZ, WHAM
7.30—Rhyme and Rhythm Club—WEAF
7.30—Southern Cruise; Frances Langford and Dick Powell—WABC, WGR
8.00—Concert with Lucille Manners, quartet, Frank Black's Orch.—WEAF, WBEN, CBL
8.00—Claudia and David; Patricia Ryan and Richard Kollmar WABC, WGR
8.30—Woodland Concert; News—CBL
8.30—Information Please; Quiz Program—WEAF, WGY
8.30—Proudly We Hail—WABC, WGR
9.00—Great Moments from Great Plays—WABC, WGR
9.00—Vox Pop—WJZ
9.00—Waltz Time—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Canadian Theatre of the Air—CBL
9.30—Uncle Walter's Dog House—WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hollywood Premiere—WGR
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ, WHAM
10.00—Quiet Victory—CBL
10.00—Romance and Rhythm—WJZ WHAM
10.00—Penthouse Party; Ilka Chase, m.c.; Paul Barron's Orch.—WABC, WGR
10.30—First Piano Quartet—WJZ
10.30—Listen, America — WEAF, WGY
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—World Affairs—CBL
11.30—BBC News Reel—CBL
12.00—News; Teddy Powell's Orch.—WABC

SATURDAY, AUGUST 30.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club; Don McNeill, M.C.—CBL
10.00—Andrini Continentals—WJZ
11.00—The Band Played On—CBL
11.45—Nat'l Amateur Golf—WABC, CFRB, WGR
2.45—Nelson Eddy, songs—CBL
5.15—Saratoga Races—CBL
7.00—Gentlemen with Wings—CBL
7.00—People's Platform — WABC,
7.15—Canada Calls From London—CBL
7.30—Wayne King's Orch.—WGR
7.30—Little Ol' Hollywood—CBL
7.45—H. V. Kaltenborn, news — WEAF, WBEN
7.45—The Inside of Sports—WOR
8.00—Latitude Zero, drama—WEAF WBEN
8.00—Guy Lombardo's Orch—WABC
8.30—Hawaii Calls —CBL
8.30—Truth or Consequences — WEAF, WGY
8.30—The Bishop and the Gargoyle, mystery drama—WJZ
9.00—Your Hit Parade—WABC, WGR
9.00—Nat'l. Barn Dance — WEAF, WBEN
9.00—Coliseum Chorus—CBL
9.30—Summer Symphony — WJZ, WHAM
9.45—Saturday Night Serenade — WJR, WGR
10.00—Summer Symphony — WJZ, CBL
10.00—Grant Park Concert—WEAF, WGY
10.15—Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
11.00—News—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Ray Heatherton's Orch.—WJZ, WHAM

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS

	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150

UNITED STATES STATIONS

KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

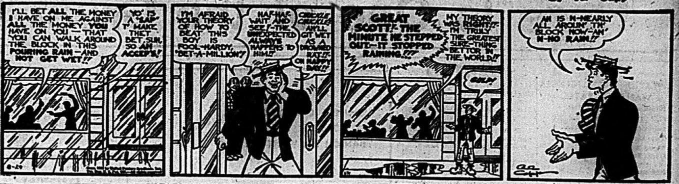
FIVE MEN BURNED

San Jose, Calif., Aug. 28—(AP)—Five men were burned, three critically, in a fire today in the new $12,000,000 magnesium plant at Monta Vista. The plant, producing magnesium by secret process for defence work, started operation Monday. The Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in to investigate the blaze.

WILSON'S
FLY PADS
REALLY KILL
One pad kills flies all day and every day for 2 or 3 weeks. 3 pads in each packet. No spraying, no stickiness, no bad odor. Ask your Druggist, Grocery or General Store.
10 CENTS PER PACKET
WHY PAY MORE?
THE WILSON FLY PAD CO., Hamilton, Ont.

LI'L ABNER — Yokum Writhes Again

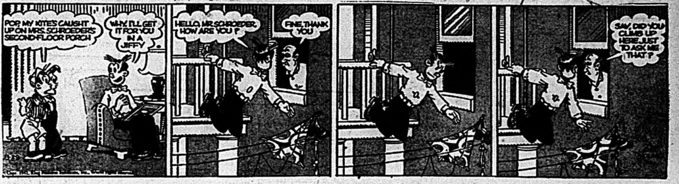
By Al Capp



I'LL BET ALL THE MONEY I HAVE ON ME AGAINST ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE ON YOU — THAT YOU CAN WALK AROUND THE BLOCK IN THIS POURING RAIN — AND NOT GET WET!!
YO' IS A "SAP" T' MAKE THET BET, SUH, SO AH ACCEP'S!
I'M AFRAID YOUR THEORY OF HOW TO BEAT THIS BOY IS FOOL-HARDY, "BET-A-MILLION"!
HAF-HA! WAIT AND SEE! - THE UNEXPECTED ALWAYS HAPPENS TO HIM!!
CHUCKLE CHUCKLE AH'LL GIT WET AS A DROWNED RAT!! ON HAPPY DAY!!
GREAT SCOTT!! - THE MINUTE HE STEPPED OUT — IT STOPPED RAINING!!!
MY THEORY WAS RIGHT!! - I'M TRULY THE GREATEST SURE-THING BETTOR IN THE WORLD!!
GULP!
AH IS N-NEARLY ALL AROUN' TH' BLOCK NOW-AN' N-NO RAIN!!
8-29
Al Capp

BLONDIE — Going to a Lot of Trouble!

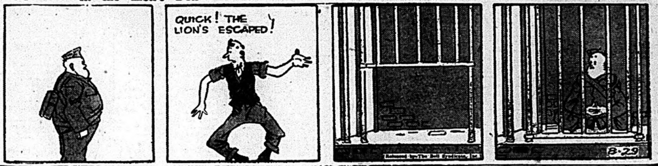
By Chic Young



POP, MY KITE'S CAUGHT UP ON MRS. SCHROEDER'S SECOND-FLOOR PORCH
WHY, I'LL GET IT FOR YOU IN A JIFFY
HELLO, MR. SCHROEDER, HOW ARE YOU?
FINE, THANK YOU
SAY, DID YOU CLIMB UP HERE JUST TO ASK ME THAT?
8-29

POP — In the Lion's Den

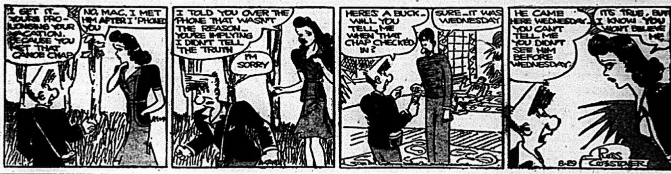
By J. Millar Watt



QUICK! THE LION'S ESCAPED!
Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.
8-29

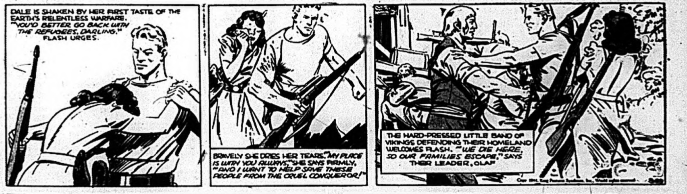
TILLIE THE TOILER — The Unbelievable Truth

By Russ Westover



I GET IT - YOU'RE PROLONGING YOUR VACATION, BECAUSE YOU MET THAT CANOE CHAP
NO, MAC, I MET HIM AFTER I 'PHONED YOU
I TOLD YOU OVER THE PHONE THAT WASN'T THE REASON - YOU'RE IMPLYING I DIDN'T TELL THE TRUTH
I'M SORRY
HERE'S A BUCK - WILL YOU TELL ME WHEN THAT CHAP CHECKED IN?
SURE - IT WAS WEDNESDAY
HE CAME HERE WEDNESDAY - YOU CAN'T TELL ME YOU DIDN'T SEE HIM BEFORE WEDNESDAY
IT'S TRUE, BUT I KNOW YOU WON'T BELIEVE ME
8-29
RUSS WESTOVER

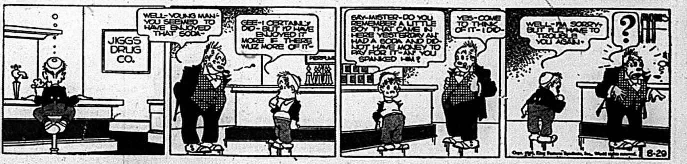
FLASH GORDON



DALE IS SHAKEN BY HER FIRST TASTE OF THE EARTH'S RELENTLESS WARFARE. "YOU'D BETTER GO BACK WITH THE REFUGEES, DARLING." FLASH URGES.
BRAVELY SHE DRIES HER TEARS. "MY PLACE IS WITH YOU ALWAYS," SHE SAYS FIRMLY, "AND I WANT TO HELP SAVE THESE PEOPLE FROM THE CRUEL CONQUEROR!"
THE HARD-PRESSED LITTLE BAND OF VIKINGS DEFENDING THEIR HOMELAND WELCOMES FLASH. "WE DIE HERE, SO OUR FAMILIES ESCAPE," SAYS THEIR LEADER, OLAF

BRINGING UP FATHER —

By George McManus



JIGGS DRUG CO.
WELL-YOUNG MAN-YOU SEEMED TO HAVE ENJOYED THAT SODA-
GEE-I CERTAINLY DID-BUT I'D HAVE ENJOYED IT MORE IF THERE WUZ MORE OF IT-PERFUME
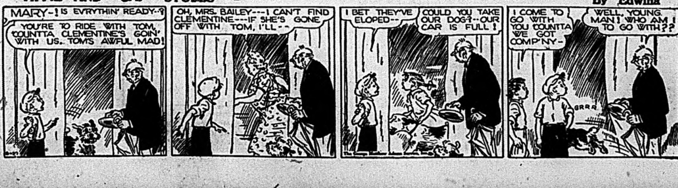
SAY-MISTER-DO YOU REMEMBER A LITTLE BOY THAT CAME IN HERE YESTERDAY AN' HAD A SODA AND DID NOT HAVE MONEY TO PAY FOR IT-AN' YOU SPANKED HIM?
YES-COME TO THINK OF IT-I DID-
WELL-I'M SORRY-BUT I'LL HAVE TO TROUBLE YOU AGAIN-
?
8-29

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



MARY-! IS EV'RYTHIN' READY-?
YOU'RE TO RIDE WITH TOM, COUNTTA CLEMENTINE'S GOIN' WITH US. TOM'S AWFUL MAD!
OH, MRS. BAILEY---I CAN'T FIND CLEMENTINE---IF SHE'S GONE OFF WITH TOM, I'LL--
I BET THEY'VE ELOPED--
COULD YOU TAKE OUR DOG?--OUR CAR IS FULL!
I COME TO GO WITH YOU COUNTTA WE GOT COMP'NY-WELL, YOUNG MAN! WHO AM I TO GO WITH??
GRRR

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 1.30 p.m.

MINES

Aldermac 15
Aunor 170
Bidgood 10½A
Bralorne 11¼
Broulan 75
Buffalo Ank. 420B
Calgary and Ed. 132
Can. Malar. 53B
Central Pat 186B
Chesterville 142
Coast Copper 130B
Coniaurum 124
Dome 32½B
Eldorado 40B
East Mal. 224
Falconbridge 350A
Francoeur 47½
Gillies L. 5½B
Gunnar 27A
Hardrock 76B
Home Oil 237
Hollinger 12¾
Howey 20½
Hudson Bay 26B
Jason 27
Kerr Add. 450
Kirk Lake 73
Lake Shore 14¾A
Leitch 46B
Little L. L. 186B
Macassa 385
McIntyre 48½B
McLeod 20 5
McKenzie 106
Mining Corp. 130B
Moneta 36
Nipissing 116B
O'Brien 136
Okalta 54
Omega 12
Paymaster 17
Pamour 96
Perron 140A
Pend Oreille 160
Pickle Crow 287
Pioneer 235B
Powell 95A
Preston E. D. 315
Reno 11
Royalite 24 7-8A
San Antonio 236B
Sherritt G. 77
Siscoe 51 1-2
Sladen M. 22
Sud. Basin 160B
Sullivan 65
Steep Rock 180
Slyvanite 250A
T. Hughes 285
Tex. Can. Oil 95B
Toburn 142
Ventures 485
W. Amulet 465B
Wr. Hargreaves 400B
Upper Can. 177

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 150
B. A. Oil 16 1-4
Brewing Corp. 106B
Braz. Trac. 7 3-4
Can Ind. Alcohol 3 1-8
C.P.R. 6 1-2
Can Malting 33B
Canada Car 6 7-8
Cockshutt Plow 5 1-2
Con. Smelting 36 3-4A
Dominion Foundries 19
Dominion Stores 5B
Dist. Seagrams 24A
Fanny Farmer 23 1-8
Ford "A" 15 7-8
Gypsum 3 3-8
Imp. Oil 9 3-8B
Int. Nickel 34 1-2
Inter Pet. 13 3-4
Imp. Tobacco 12 1-2
Loblaw 26 1-2B
Massey Harris 2 5-8
Mont Power 21 5-8B
Steel of Canada 67B
Walker's 44 1-2
Walker's Pfd. 19 3-4
C.P.A. 3 3-4B

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 156 3-4
Anaconda 26 3-4
Bethlehem Steel 69 1-4
Chrysler 58 1-8
General Electric 32 3-4
General Motors 39 1-8
North American 13 1-8
Montgomery Ward 34 5-8
Phillips Pet. 44 3-8
Radio 4 1-8
Standard Oil of N.J. 43 5-8
Standard Brands 5 3-4
U.S. Steel 57 7-8
United Aircraft 41
Vanadium 25 3-8
Westinghouse 89 3-8

WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 29 — (AP) — Specialties took on rising power in today's Stock Market but many leaders limped after a fair amount of resistance at the start. Near the fourth hour, considerable price irregularity prevailed.

New 1941 highs were posted for American Woollen Pfd, American CCommercial Alcohol and Schenley. Supported also were Douglas Aircraft, National Distillers, Standard Oil (N.J.) and U.S. Rubber.

Canadian stocks were slightly higher. Walkers gained a full point and Distillers Seagram 3-8. In the bond market Canada 4s were 1-4 point lower.

Westinghouse was a weak spot.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.41
A-medium	.40
A-pullet	.35
Grade "B"	.34
Grade "C"	.29

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1		.36 3-4
Butter, No. 2	.35 3-4	.36

Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

Egg Prices Continue On Upward Trend

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Continuing on the uptrend which had been evident for the past four sessions, graded eggs again moved up in trading on the Toronto open produce market yesterday. Butter held steady to firm under light receipts and fair demand.

Egg prices advanced another half cent a dozen as demand continued very good and fresh receipts were light. Dealers report that even at these newly-increased quotations, demand is in excess of supply. Grades A-large, A-medium, and A-pullet gained 1-2 cent to close at 38, 37 and 32 cents a dozen respectively, in the country dealer section of trading. Grade C held unchanged while B managed to move up 1-2 cent to 31 cents a dozen, however, grades were slightly stronger in wholesale-to-retail action.

Creamery butter solids were strengthened slightly on a firm butter market. Though most dealers were reported to have been asking 36 3-4 cents a pound for the product, 1-4 cent above the previous day's close, sales in fair volume were also made at 35 1-2 cents. A little more action was evident on the market yesterday but there was still no rush to buy.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 29.—(CP)—Produce market prices here today as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter—First grade solids, jobbing price, 37-37 1-2c; Quebec No. 1 pasteurized current receipt price, 36-36 1-8c; No 2 35-35 1-8c; No 1 wholesale price 36 3-8-36 1-2c; No. 2, 35-35 3-4c. Receipts, nil.

Eggs— Graded shipments offering at A-large, 37 1-2 to 38 1-2c; A-medium 36 1-2c; pullets 33 1-2 to 33 1-2c; B-grade 29 1-2 to 30c; C-grade 25 to 26 1-2c Receipts 2,624 cases.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 29 (CP)—The market was moderately heavy on Toronto exchange today and minor losses were showing for all groups. Volume was 140,000 shares.

Malartic Gold Fields moved against the trend to post a price of 1.62 up 4 and Chesterville was another strong spot. Prices were down for Pickle Crow, Preston, MacLeod-Cockshutt, East Malartic and Coniaurum. A gain of 10 to 4.85 for Ventures was the main change in base metals.

Walkers common stood out in industrials with a gain of 1 1-2 to 44 1-2, Great Lakes Paper firmed 1 to 18 and Canada Steamships Pfd added a small fraction. Imperial Oil, Cosmos Mills, Imperial Tobacco, Consolidated Bakeries and Gatineau Pfd posted losses.

Weekly Livestock Report

Toronto, Aug. 29 (CP)—All suitable slaughter cattle were cleared at prices 15 cents cwt higher for the week. Calves held steady during the week but eased off at the close. Hogs were unchanged. Lambs also eased off at the close after a steady three day market. Sheep were unchanged.

A heavy run of beef cattle met with active trade. Weighty steers made a top of $9.90 with others downward to $8.25. Butcher steers and heifers were $8 to $9 with a few tops at $9.25. Boners and plain butchers sold at $5.50 to $7.50. Butcher cows were $5 to $7 with canners and cutters at $3.50 to $4.75.

Good bulls sold at $7 to $7.25 one at $7.50. Bolognas were $5.50 to $6.75. Fed calves brought $9 to $11 with some at $11.25. Opening trade was active on stockers at $6.50 to $8.35 but about 200 head were unsold at the close. Good milkers and springers sold at $85 to $95 each.

A good steady market prevailed on calves up to Thursday. Choice vealers sold at $12.50 to $13 with a few tops at $13.50. Common vealers sold downward to $8. Grass calves were from $6 to $7 cwt.

Hogs were steady for the week at $14.55-$14.65 dressed for yards and plants with yard sales mostly at $14.65. Sows sold at $9.75-$10.25 dressed.

A liberal supply of lambs sold steady at $12 for good ewes and wethers, at $10-$11 for bucks and at $9-$10 for culls. Thursday's trade was easier at $11.50-$12 for the 100 head offered. Sheep sold steady at from $3-$6.50 cwt. according to quality.

The Toronto market will be closed Labor Day.

	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep & Lambs
This week	8,105	3,903	4,010	5,036
Last week	7,365	3,357	3,587	4,353
1941 to date	173,576	94,435	152,030	80,397
1940 to date	182,169	101,270	151,211	71,578
This week 1940	8,353	3,660	3,972	3,582

Cheese Board

The Belleville Cheese Board boarded 4,611 white cheese at the regular board meeting last night. All cheese, sold at 15 5-8 cents. The following factories offered:

Shannonville	63
Bronk	96
Harold	113
Central	136
Union	87
Eclipse	63
Holloway	56
Northport	72
Sidney	130
Wooler	90
Sidney T. H.	104
Cloverdale	220
W. Huntingdon	79
Melrose	83
Zion	162
Foxboro	132
East Hastings	90
Springbrook	78
Mountain	136
Weller's Bay	126
Moira Valley	76
Albert	128
Bloomfield	185
Roslin	56
Kingsford	92
Mountain View	46
Quinte	93
Evergreen	92
Frankford	100
Rogers	119
Moneymore	35
Stirling	107
Victoria	81
Roblin	100
Glen	37
Beulah	67
Shamrock	88
Ben Gill	115
Enterprise	68
Waupoos	32
Black River	104
Cressy	38
Elmbrook	175
Royal Street	115
Claire River	56
Pine Grove	55
Otter Creek	34
Clairview	65

Eastern Ontario Cheese Boards

Alexandria, Ont., Aug. 29—(CP)—Boarded, 2,671 boxes white cheese No price given.

Casselman—Boarded, 2,154 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Cornwall—Boarded, 2,216 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Napanee — Boarded, 2,029 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Perth— Boarded, 1,052 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Vankleek Hill— Boarded, 3,447 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Kemptville—Boarded, 4,314 boxes white. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Ingersoll—Boarded 3,064 boxes large white cheese with the exception of 400 boxes all were sold at 15 5-8 cents F.O.B. Montreal.

Belleville—Belleville boarded today 4,611 boxes cheese all sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Campbellford — Boarded, 2,427 boxes white cheese. All sold at 15 5-8 cents.

Obituary

LATE ANDREW PHILLIPS

(Formerly of Marmora Township)

Marmora (Special)—The death occurred at Weyburn, Sask., on Monday, August 18th of Andrew Phillips, son of the late William Phillips and Jane Gawley of Marmora Township. Deceased was seventy-two years of age and unmarried. He took up farming in the west about forty years ago.

On August 15th though he had been in failing health for some time, he went about his farm duties as usual, but was taken ill and removed to Weyburn Hospital where he passed away three days later.

He is survived by three brothers, John Ogema, Sask.; Robert, Marmora; Samuel, Marmora Township; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, Paradise Valley, Alta.; and Mrs. Benjamin Wort, Ivanhoe. The funeral was held at Weyburn on August 20th.

Hog Quotations

Toronto, Aug. 29 —(CP)— Chatham was up 35 cents on dressedweight and 25 cents on liveweight, all other bacon-hog markets reporting here today are unchanged.

Liveweight: Chatham $10.25.

Dressedweight: Barrie $14.40, Brantford $14.10 plus transportation, Chatham $14.05, Hamilton $14.50 delivered, Hull $14, Kitchener $14 plus transportation, London $14.25 delivered, Peterborough $14, Stratford $14 plus transportation.

93 of 145 Factories Have Cooling Systems

Demonstrating the favour which mechanized cooling equipment has met with cheese factory officials and patrons out of a total of 145 cheese factories in the Central Ontario district, 93 now have electrically refrigerated curing rooms, according to J. L. Irwin, chief dairy grader for the district.

Practically all the factories in the immediate vicinity of Belleville now have refrigerated cooling rooms and this holds true in almost every section served by the Hydro, it was stated.

The advatages of electrical refrigeration over the former ice-cooled systems is the fact that proper curing temperatures may be maintained at all times despite weather conditions resulting in the factory obtaining a higher grading cheese and also in preventing the cheese from drying out. During hot weather this drying out process amounts to one to two pounds for each cheese cured in the old type ice-cooled curing rooms, according to Mr. Irwin.

THE WAR TODAY

By H. M. PETERS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Nothing has symbolized so exactly the unflinching determination of the Russians to fight to victory as the destruction of the great Dnieperstroy dam.

With this dam and its hydro-electric system destroyed the Nazis when they occupied Dnieperopetrovsk after a fierce fight took over only the hulk of a vast industrial development on the lower Dnieuer River.

It had supplied an area of 70,000 square miles and a population of 16,000,000 persons with an annual output of 2,500,000 kilowatt hours of electric current.

While the world admired the Russians for the uncompromising manner in which they carried out this new manifestation of Stalin's "scorched earth" policy, it was not forgotten that the forced giving up of this territory was a setback of importance to the Soviets.

New Burden on Other Factories

Loss of the factories powered by the Dnieperstroy hydro-electric development immediately put a new burden on factories further east. It also made necessary a speeding up of supplies from the democracies to Russia. On the credit side of the ledger Britain and Russia established a new backdoor supply route through Iran which capitulated in the 4th day of an allied invasion.

Reports from Finland earlier this week that Tallinn, the capital of Estonia, was ablaze appeared to have been borne out today when Hitler's high command claimed, and the Russians did not deny, that the city had fallen. Presumably the Russians destroyed all military objectives in the city.

The immediate question now was whether Marshal Budenny would be able to hold his new defence line on the east side of the Dnieper River, guarding the rich Donets Basin.

Reports indicated he had succeeded in safely withdrawing a large part of his army across the stream.

Tweed and District

Several Traffic Cases Are Tried At Tweed Before Magistrate

Tweed, (Special)—A number of cases of infractions of the Highway Traffic Act were tried before Magistrate J. L. Lloyd in police court in Tweed on Thursday afternoon. Clement Herrington of Ottawa, charged with careless driving, pleaded guilty. The charge arose out of an accident which occurred at the junction of Highways 37 and 7 near the Log Cabin, at Actinolite. Herrington, on approaching the corner, glanced for a moment at the sign-board. His car crashed into another automobile proceeding eastwardly along No. 7 completely wrecking it and injuring its several occupants. Herrington's wife was badly cut about the face and head, necessitating twenty-four stitches. His car was also badly damaged. He was fined five dollars and costs.

Left Scene of Accident

Vernon Simmons, Tweed, charged with leaving the scene of an accident, was fined $35.85 on pleading guilty. The offence occurred near Actinolite. He was given two weeks' to pay, or one month in jail.

Resisted Arrest

Donald Hill, Point Anne, charged with being intoxicated in a public place, resisting arrest and assaulting a police officer, pleaded guilty to the charge. He was given one month in jail on the last charge and fined $10 and costs or an additional 30 days for the first offence. The arrest was made by Chief J. C. Hayes at the dance at Memorial Park pavilion in Tweed on August 21st.

Charged With Careless Driving

On the same night Thomas Barley Point Anne, was charged with careless driving at the park. He paid $5.00 and costs.

Took Car Without Owner's Consent

Melvin Thompson charged with taking an automobile without the consent of the owner pleaded guilty and was assessed $10.00 and costs, a total of $27.00 or one month in jail. The offence occurred at Tweed Park on the night of August 21st.

German Legions Are in Sight Of Big Prize

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The reported crossing of the lower Dnieper River by German and Hungarian forces may forecast fast-moving developments in the Nazi drive to seize the Ukraine.

It appears to represent the jump-off for the second major stage of the campaign in South Russia, a race toward Rostov on the Don, some 250 miles farther eastward, coupled with a continuing effort to destroy Marshal Budenny's battered defending armies.

Somewhat overshadowed for the moment by events elsewhere, what is taking place in the Ukraine tends to bear out Berlin's repeated claims that operations are proceeding "according to plan".

Whether operations are on schedule and to what extent the Nazis can continue to carry out their plans are other matters. But just now it is only realism to note that Hitler's legions are in sight of another of the war's great prizes.

If German troops have occupied Zaporozhe, a railway junction town, as claimed by Berlin, the defense line of the Dnieper River has been definitely bent if not broken. The next natural defense line is the Don River, which the Kaiser's troops reached in 1918.

Threat to Oil Fields

With the Russians driven back to the Don defense line of which Rostov is the southern anchor, the Nazis would possess most of the Ukraine that matters and menace the oil fields of the Caucasus.

The next few days promise to shed more light on the strength of the one immediate military obstacle—the remnants of Marshal Budenny's armies which withdrew across the Dnieper after being forced out of the Western Ukraine leaving Odessa besieged and Kiev imperilled.

By some estimates, 500,000 of his troops made the crossing, though with the loss of much mechanized equipment. At the start of the invasion the Russian southern forces—the so-called Kiev group of armies—were credited by neutral experts with a strength of at least 1,200,000 men.

Upon the fight that this force may be able to put up depends the immediate fate of the Donets industrial area, and very likely control of the Black Sea.

The importance of the Donets area to Russia's war effort is attested by authoritative official estimates that this section produced 10 per cent of the Soviets' total iron and steel output.

At Kharkov, the Soviet administrative capital of the Ukraine, is one of the three major tractor plants in Russia, now devoted largely to the manufacture of tanks.

Not Crippling Blow

Apparently, however, the German occupation of this section would not represent a crippling blow at Russia's sources of explosives, guns and other such munitions. The manufacture of these is concentrated around Moscow and Leningrad and in the strategic centres far to the east.

Moreover, the extent to which the Germans could make use of the Ukraine's industrial resources is questionable, particularly in view of the destrutcion of the great Dnieper dam—officially announced by Moscow—which supplied hydro-electric power for a large sector of the area.

Further, oil will still be beyond the Nazis' grasp. West by the Don River, there is one small new field near Romley, but only preliminary drilling has been carried out there.

Grinding pebbles are believed by the Newfoundland Geological Society to exist in unlimited quantities along the coast, particularly in the vicinity of Conception Bay.

ELITE CREDIT JEWELLERS
301½ FRONT STREET
NO EXTRA CHARGE for TERMS
Your Choice
Fontaine WATCHES
$22.50
We proudly recommend these watches for men and women . . . They are expensive in everything but the price! 15 jewels! Natural or rose-tinted cases.
SPECIAL:
A number of LADIES' WATCHES. Regularly $22.50, have been reduced to Each 17.50
We Must Make Room for Christmas Stock.
Get Yours Tomorrow
CASH PRICES ON CREDIT

BUDENNY'S ARMY

(Continued from Page One)

The single important island of resistance to the Germans and their Allies in the southwestern Ukraine west of the Dnieper was Odessa, on the Black Sea. There, Red sailors and soldiers cut off from help by land, were prepared to defend the port of more than 600,000 persons to the end.

Battle to Save Kiev

Farther north, the Red army battled to save Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, on the west bank of the Dnieper.

Fighting was reported raging in pouring rain on the central front, with Russian counter attacks gaining ground and routing a German infantry division. It was said at least 3,000 members of the division had been killed.

Compelled to Abandon Attack

At one undesignated point, the communique said, the Germans lost 40 tanks and more than 900 men and officers in an attack they were compelled to abandon. In a first wave, it said, 25 tanks and almost 700 men were wiped out by the Russian defenders and the rest were destroyed in a futile follow-up assault.

The war report said also the 530th German infantry regiment was destroyed when Red army forces stormed its heavily-defended positions, charging through deep gulleys under sharp artillery fire. Nazi losses were several hundred men.

On the northern sector, the Red army and its volunteer civilian units were reported fighting off Nazi assaults on the approaches to Leningrad.

A communique last night said Red planes had raided the East Prussian city of Koenigsberg and had sunk two German transports in the Baltic.

Dam is Sacrificed

Soviet spokesman S. A. Losovsky, Vice Commissar of Foreign Affairs, announced late yesterday the giant concrete Dnieperstroy dam and all its works had been sacrificed in line with Stalin's "scorched earth" policy.

A few hours later the Soviet information bureau acknowledged Dnieperopetrovsk had fallen.

These two developments appeared to mark the end of the great battle of the Dnieper bulge.

(When the dam and power plant were destroyed and when the city fell were not revealed.)

Losovsky drew a comparison between the destruction of the dam and the way the war was conducted in western Europe.

In the west, he said, "factories, supplies, ammunition and equipment were seized by the Germans, strengthening them. In the occupied territory, the manufacture of planes and arms is going on in addition to what is being made in Germany.

"Here they get neither raw materials nor plants nor food supplies.

"That is the profound difference between the wars on the eastern and western fronts."

RAFBOMBERSROAR

(Continued from Page One)

number of casualties was reported.

Last night's attack on Germany was preceded by sweeps over Northern France, where Britain controls the air, during daylight yesterday. Late in the afternoon, Blenheim bombers—used widely against shipping—attacked vessels in the Netherlands harbor of Rotterdam.

The speedy Blenheims scored direct hits on ships, docks and buildings despite intense Nazi anti-aircraft fire.

Wednesday night the R.A.F. centred its blasting on the industrial German city of Mannheim, docks at Cologne, Ostend and Dunkerque also were bombed.

Tourist Traffic Holding its Own Says W. P. Zeller

Ottawa, Aug. 29—(CP)—Walter P. Zeller, executive assistant to the War Services Minister, Hon. J. T. Thorson, announced Thursday that 38,091 60-day automobile permits were issued to tourists entering Canada at border points during the week ended Aug. 23.

He said the figures were based on reports frwom 15 border points and represented more than 75 per cent of total border traffic for the week.

The figure compared with 29,409 permits in the corresponding week in 1940 and 42,540 in the corresponding week of 1939.

Windsor, Ont., which in the week ended Aug. 16 showed a slight decrease in tourist traffic compared with 1940, last week reported a "substantial increase." The Windsor figure was 9,339 compared with 6,951 in 1940 and 11,403 in 1939.

Total number of 60 day permits for the week ended Aug. 16 was 39,330 compared with 33,372 in 1940 and 59,941 in 1939.

LEPROSY HOSPITALS

Canada maintains hospitals at Tracadie, N.B., and Bentinck Island, B.C., for treatment of all cases of leprosy found in Canada.

FORMER MEMBER DIES

Colwyn Bay, Wales, Aug. 29—(CP)—Sir Harold Elverton, former Liberal member of parliament for Gateshead, died here. He was 75.

Fatal Fall From Freight Train

Pembroke, Ont., Aug. 29 —(CP)— Clayton Samuel Stille, 18, of Ottawa, critically injured Wednesday in a fall from a freight train near Pembroke died today in hospital. No inquest will be held.

CONGRESS TOLD

(Continued from Page One)

Thermann's. Another was that of Gottfried Sandstede, German Embassy Press attache, who fled the country in a Nazi plane recently while the committee sought him for questioning.

It was charged that Germans in Argentina, in order to avoid reprisals, were forced to take this oath:

"In spite of having gone to local schools and having performed my profession in local circles I am a German".

Another oath was:

"We swear to thee, Adolf Hitler, Fuehrer and Chancellor of the Reich our courage and loyalty. We promise obedience to the death to you and to the chiefs you appoint, so help us God".

The committee reported that Germans were individually numbered and registered in Berlin for punishment if they failed to aid the Nazi organization.

Documents showed, said the report, that Germans were spied on to test their allegience to Hitler.

GERMANS CLAIM

(Continued from Page One)

Claim Soviet Warships Damaged

The 8,000-ton Soviet cruiser Korov, a destroyer and five other warships were reported damaged heavily.

Occupation of Paldiski would put the Germans close to the strategically important Russian-held islands of Dagof and Oesel at the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, which provide excellent naval and air bases for attacks on Germany. (The Russians have raided Berlin from these islands.)

The regular communique said that "operations are progressing swiftly on other parts of the east front."

Finnish observers at Helsinki, 50 miles across the bay of Finland from Tallinn, reported last Tuesday night a tremendous blaze on the horizon, indicating the Russians were devastating the Estonian capital preparatory to abandoning it.

Hear Artillery Fire

Listeners caught the sound of artillery fire early next day and interpreted it to mean Nazi guns had found the range of the city.

A special communique from Hitler's headquarters telling of the fall of Tallinn said the heavy cruiser Kirov, one destroyer and five other war vessels were heavily damaged."

The Kirov, one of Russia's latest warships, was completed in 1936 and has a complement of 824 men. The cruiser carries nine 7.1-inch guns, six 21-inch torpedo tubes, mine-sowing equipment and lesser weapons. It also has one airplane.

Ready to Move North

Other German armies in the northern sector were reported to be concentrating for a northward thrust aimed at enveloping Leningrad.

Commentators claimed Germans were advancing from Narva and Novgorod and some divisions already were within 32 miles of the great Russian port.

They said Finns were approaching the former Czarist capital from the north and that an iron ring was gradually being tightened about the city.

The commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland claimed operations on the central and southern sectors of the front were proceeding favorably.

DOCTORS DECIDE

(Continued from Page One)

tion elements to include the French Empire. A military tribunal at Meknes, French Morocco, sentenced two men to six years at hard labor for "an attack on the external security of the state."

A woman was condemned to three years in jail.

The condition of Marcel Deat—also one of the leaders of the group favoring stronger collaboration with Germany and who was shot at the same time as Laval—was declared improved. Deat's temperature had returned almost to normal.

An investigation of the Caen home of the assassin, Paul Collette, was said to have disclosed he had fought side by side with British troops at Dunkerque and had been evacuated with them to England. He was reported to have tried to return to England recently, presumably to join the Free French forces under Gen. Charles De Gaulle. How he got back to France in the first place was not explained.

Search For Accomplices

Police pressed a search for possible accomplices and pushed investigation on each of Collette's statements. Three anti-Soviet volunteers arrested yesterday were still held.

Authorities feared that others, like Collette, may have joined the anti-Soviet legion solely to get close enough to French leaders favoring collaboration with Germany to harm them.

It was announced Collette will be tried by the new "Red" section of the Appellate Court, set up especially to try Communists, and that the investigation of the assassination attempts still will be aimed at uncovering possible Communist links.

Presence Unexplained

The presence of German military police at indictment proceedings last night was unexplained. They cross examined Collette closely, although theoretically the new court takes its cases out of the hands of the German authorities and the Germans issued a statement indicating the shooting was an affair to be settled among Frenchmen alone.

Laval was reported to have asked mercy for Collette on the grounds he had been misled.

The Vichy Ambassador to the occupied zone, Fernando de Brinon, attacked the foreign press and radio today in connection with the Laval-Deat assassination attempt.

He said in a broadcast "the stirring up of Moscow, London and Boston radios had done their work" in bringing about the shooting.

KOLYNOS
47c
SCHRYVER'S
PHARMACY
Phone 49

U.S. AND JAPANESE

(Continued from Page One)

Within the realm of possibilities, one informed diplomat said, was that Prince Konoye, taking a leaf from Mr. Roosevelt's own book, may have suggested a personal meeting "somewhere in the Pacific" patterned after the historic conference between the President and Prime Minister Churchill.

Conference of Nations

Another possibility was that Prince Konoye may have suggested a conference of the Pacific nations—the United States, Britain, Canada, Russia, Japan, the Netherlands and China—to which might also be invited Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and possibly French Indo-China.

In view of the deep-seated differences in American and Japanese policies—stemming largely from Japanese ambitions to expand southward—there was acknowledgement that any general settlement presented innumerable difficulties since the United States has ruled out anything that smacks of appeasement.

It was said that some Japanese quarters were chagrined because of the disclosure several days ago of the Japanese representations to Moscow and Washington over the shipment of U.S. supplies, particularly gasoline, to Russia via Vladivostok.

It was said they regarded the disclosure as premature.

BRITAIN AND

(Continued from Page One)

so were reported heavily attacked.

All day yesterday throngs of countryfolk moved slowly into Teheran with their possessions loaded on carts.

Premier Furanghi completed meanwhile his new cabinet which was sworn in before parliament. Furanghi named as his Foreign Minister Alo Soheilly, whose wife is a Russian. There were no other important cabinet changes.

Food Supply Short

Simla, India, Aug. 29 (AP) — A communique issued here today on yesterday's developments in Iran said Iranian envoys met the British forward troops and notified them their ruler, Riza Shah Pahlevi, had ordered cessation of hostilities.

It said Indian troops in the southern sector occupied Ahwaz, which is about 90 miles airline inland from the head of the Gulf of Persia. Royal Air Force fighters paced the advance.

The announcement also said a general shortage of foodstuffs existed throughout Iran and that arrangements had been made to send 700 tons of wheat into the southern sector occupied by Imperial forces.

Continue to Capital

Moscow, Aug. 29 (AP)—An announcement today said Russian troops moving into Iran on both sides of the Caspian Sea occupied five towns yesterday and were continuing in the direction of Teheran, the capital.

Rizaiyeh, Maraghen and Mianeh, about 400 miles northwest of Teheran, and Bandar Shah and Gurgan, about 200 miles northeast of the capital, have been taken, it was said. Bandar Shah, terminus of the railroad from Teheran, is a port on the southeastern shore of the Caspian.

Robert Montgomery and Claude Rains who are featured with an all star cast of funmakers in the acclaimed great picture "Here Comes Mr. Jordon," which opens Sunday midnight at the McCarthy Theatre.

First Class of New Officers Graduate From Training Centre

Take 12-Week's Course and Most of Them From the Ranks

TRAIN 6,000 YEARLY

Brockville, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP) — The first class of new officers for the Canadian army to be trained in the recently-established officers' training centre here graduates today, receiving certificates of qualification for commissioned rank from Defence Minister Ralston.

As is the case in graduation of airmen from schools in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, authorities placed a ban on mentioning the number of graduates from the officer's training centre. This might be valuable information for the enemy.

But when the system is in full operation between 4,000 and 6,000 new officers will be trained each year. They are men recommended for promotion by their officers commanding.

They may be either non-commissioned officers and men who have shown merit in an active service unit or they can be chosen from the ranks of the training centres. The third group in attendance at the officers' training centres are reserve army junior officers, members of Canadian officers' training corps or non-commissioned officers of reserve units obtaining active service qualification.

Candidates for commissions in the active service take a 12-week course. If successful, the candidates become 2nd Lieutenants and proceed to one of 21 advanced training centres to qualify for Lieutenant. The advanced course varies with the army, from four weeks for infantry (rifle) and eight weeks for the artillery, to 12 weeks for the signal corps.

Two Training Centres

Establishment of officers' training centres at Brockville and Victoria resulted from adoption of the regulation that a candidate for a commission must first serve in the ranks. This, the Defence Department said, is continuing a 1914-1918 innovation which proved itself in the stress of action.

"In the new lightning warfare in which the Canadian army is being trained, the conditions of the last war when lines of communication remained fairly intact no longer obtain," said the Defence Department in outlining the need for officers' training.

"Men waging war today have no time to wait for long detailed orders from superiors—they must act quickly. Their training, for this reason, is more intensive."

On entering a training centre the future officers and those who already hold commissions relinquish their authority and join the ranks." Through a system of mutual instruction and by lectures and practical work under skilled specialists in training they learn their basic work thoroughly.

OFFICERS TRAINING CENTRE BROCKVILLE

Front Row, Left to Right: L. G. Smith, Renfrew; F. J. Lorriman, Toronto; W. J. Ridge, Millbrook; H. I. Wahman, Lindsay; D. W. Smillie, Hamilton. Rear Row, Left to Right: R. T. Currelly, Port Hope; A. R. Bowles, Barrie; J. L. Downey, Hamilton; R. F. Wakeling, Brantford; J. G. Fulton, Belleville, W. A. Nelson, Hamilton; E. T. Harsgman, Hamilton.

Front Row, Left to Right: W. O. Wareham, Kingston; C. M. Thom, Kingston; W. G. Lamb, Kingston; S. P. Lafontaine, Tweed; W. R. Travers, Kingston; J. Foreman, Kingston; G. E. Kyer, Cornwall; C. E. McGuire, Cornwall; C. E. Petepiece, Cornwall. Rear Row, Left to Right: A. H. Smedmor, Peterborough; E. M. Stewart, Lakefield; W. E. Blake, Kingston; J. M. Padden, Kingston; J. E. Armstrong, Cobalt, Ont., C. V. Colley, Whitby; J. M. Hitsman, Kingston.

Front Row, Left to Right: W. L. Graydon, Picton, Ont.; W. A. Pattison, Ottawa; R. C. Bindoff, Ottawa; J. Grieves, Ottawa; C. F. Blair, Ottawa. Rear Row, Left to Right: F. G. Megill, Ottawa; J. D. W. Clarke, Ottawa; R. H. Smith, Pembroke, Ont.; R. A. E. McPherson, Ottawa; H. Mayoh, Ottawa; C. M. Watts, Ottawa; D. A. Brennan, Ottawa; W. J. Preston, Ottawa; E. C. Bradley, Ottawa.

Robert Montgomery, Rita Johnson and Evelyn Keyes, who, with Claude Rains and an all star cast of funmakers, bring to the screen the big surprise entertainment of the year, "Here Comes Mr. Jordon," opening Sunday midnight at the McCarthy Theatre.

Axis Force in Libya Abandoning Hope Of Taking Tobruk

London, Aug. 29 (CP)—Axis forces in Libya, abandoning hope of taking Tobruk, have constructed a by-pass around the city to move supplies to troops, according to a dispatch in the Daily Mail from its correspondent in the western desert.

"The new highway is well designed and constructed," the dispatch said. "It is meant to be permanent—the Germans and Italians have given up hope of taking Tobruk by assault.

"It must be the heaviest guarded 40 miles of road in the world. It is separated from Tobruk's perimeter by minefields, barbed wire, booby traps, tank ditches, machine-gun nests and anti-tank posts. Along it are the best part of three divisions."

Lawn Bowling

COMMENT.

(By CLIFF ARGUE)

Well, I suppose it had to happen, but it was kind of tough to lose out in the semi-final game in the playdowns for the Governor General's Cup. The game was played in Prescott last Friday night.

At that we only lost out by one measly point.

We were playing against two crack rinks from the Ottawa Lawn Bowling Club, who had gone through all other competing teams in District No. 16.

The rink of Ernie Vanner, skip, with Jack Bean, Cliff Argue and Harvey Stewart defeated the rink of A. Lyons, W. Cheyne, S. Gibson and E. D. Berry, skip, by the score of 19 to 15.

Ab. Wonnacott, with his rink of D. Row, Clarence Clapp and J. W. Davison, went down before the rink of J. Hebert, D. Wormington, L. Wood and A. Mackenzie by score of 20 to 15.

The double game was thus lost by the score of 35 to 34. We made it close but not quite good enough.

Our double team was down three going into the last end, and while each got the end with one, we just could not get the one to tie or two to win out.

It was a nice game for them to win, but a tough one for us to lose. It might easily have gone either way.

There had been a tremendous downpour of rain early in the evening. We had just started the first end when it started to rain again. After waiting some time we tried it again, only to be driven again to the clubhouse by a deluge that lasted almost a half hour. During the rain one of the large illuminating bulbs exploded, scattering glass all over one end, causing further delay before replacement was made.

As a result the greens were left in a very wet and soggy condition, which reduced the draw to a minimum. At that it was as fair for one team as the other.

The Ottawa team were in a game and they well knew it.

Ab Wonnacott was in his element. In the skip and vice-skip of his opposing team he met two who played running shots at every opportunity, and he sure retaliated, feeling that if that was the kind of the game they wanted he was well equipped to give it to them, and I do not think he came off second best at that type of game.

At such type of game the breaks can go to any team, and it happened to go on to the other. On one occasion the skip put down a running shot, was wide with it but struck an outside bowl, wicked in and cleaned out three Belleville shots. That was a lucky break for Ottawa and was the difference between a win and a loss.

That is not meant to be an alibi, but I simply wanted to point out that fortunes of war may well decide any event.

For some reason Davie Davison was kind of quiet throughout, figure that one out if you can.

Wednesday afternoon four Belleville teams competed in district open rinks tournament at Kingston.

Rink of Wonnacott, Davison, Row and myself managed to win out three games, but lacked three points of being high three game winner, but we were satisfied to win all three. Every team we played were dying to beat us, and openly showed that spirit. They evidently felt that it would be something to defeat the rink that won the gold cup in Oshawa last week. We were legitimate game for one and all, and all wanted to take a piece of us, but they just could not make it.

At that we had to play under a mental handicap. The Kingston paper had announced that the crack team from Belleville, the one who had won the General Motors Cup, was going to compete in the tournament. Then before the first game we were introduced as the winners of that event, and had to retire in confusion and applause. It is too bad that we all are so extremely modest, especially Ab and Davie.

Harvey Stewart and his rink of Alf Simmons, Art. Wesley and Joe Blackburn had two wins, just missing out for two wins high.

Fred Harper with Joe Black, Charlie Hyde and Herb Tilley just missed out for one win high.

Rod Mitchell, with George Pauley, Bert Backus and Norm Edwards just did not have any luck. At that they lost this first game on the last end after having it in the bag, Rod being just too strong with his last bowl, and they lost their last game after being tied on last end and losing out on an extra one.

Friday night we are holding a 25c mixed jitney, and we expect that man and lady member will turn out to make this a banner event. We have extended invitations to Deseronto, Madoc, Tweed and Campbellford and Stirling and expect a fair representation from those towns. There will be two 10 or 12 end games. The games committee are relying on your wholesome support.

Ab Wonnacott evidently appreciates the difference in riding in a good car. He slept all the way home from Kingston not one would ever think of doing so or could, in his car with him driving. At that, we the carriers of the torch on his rink, have come to the conclusion unanimously that half the time he goes to sleep standing up while on the green.

'Nuf sed.

International Goodwill Achievements Of I.B.M. Company Given Recognition By Canadian National Exhibition

This year particular significance is attached to the celebration of "International Day" Tuesday, September 2nd, at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. It has been dedicated by Officials of the Canadian National Exhibition to the International Business Machines Company in recognition of its achievements in promoting international goodwill between the peoples of Canada, United States, the British Empire and the democratic peoples of the Western Hemisphere; as well as for its leadership in bringing Art and Science to the service of business. This is the first time that any exhibitor has been so honored.

Operatic and Symphony Concert

The outstanding ceremony on International Day will be an operatic and symphony concert. For this event two world-famous stars from the Metropolitan Opera have been brought especially from New York as soloists. They are Miss Lily Pons, coloratura soprano, and Mr. Lawrence Tibbett, baritone. They will be accompanied by members of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Sir Ernest MacMillan. The entire program is presented by courtesy of the International Business Machines Company, and it will be broadcast throughout the British Empire, United States and South America. During the program, appropriate addresses on International Goodwill will be made by Honorable Cairine R. Wilson; Mrs. August Belmont, Chairman of the Metropolitan Opera Guild, New York; Dr. James T. Shotwell, Professor of History, Columbia University; Mr. Thomas J. Watson, President, International Business Machines Corporation of New York; and Mr. Walter D. Jones, Chairman of the Board, International Business Machines Company Limited, Canada.

Come by Special Train

The parent organization, International Business Machines Corporation, is bringing by special train from New York, Rochester and Endicott, 200 of its Chief Officers and Executives, and the Canadian organization is bringing 500 of its factory, office, sales and customers' service men from Halifax to Vancouver to visit the Exhibition and participate in the "International Day" ceremonies. It is believed that these men, particularly those from the United States, will become ambassadors of goodwill in furthering Canadian-American relations.

Art Collection Shown

Through the courtesy of Mr. Thomas J. Watson, there is being shown during the entire period of the Exhibition, the famous collection of 103 paintings representing the Art of the Western Hemisphere. This collection comprises pictures by contemporary artists from each province in Canada and Newfoundland; from each of the forty-eight States in the Union and U. S. Possessions; and from Mexico and Latin American countries. After the Exhibition, these paintings are to be shown at the leading art centres throughout Canada.

The "International Day" program will close with the mass singing of "God Save The King", "My Country 'Tis of Thee", "O Canada", and "There'll Always be an England", led by Mr. Lawrence Tibbett, and accompanied by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra and massed bands.

Trenton and District

Aged Resident Found by Police Near Lakeport

Trenton, Aug. 29 (Special)—The aged Mr. Richard Ireland, of R.R. No. 6 Trenton, who had been missing since Monday, was found Thursday afternoon by Provincial Police of Cobourg, near Lakeport, about 15 miles from his house, wandering along the side road, all unaware that searching parties had been frantically combing the woods and surrounding country for him.

Mr. Ireland left home early Monday to walk three miles to White's Store, but had apparently wandered absent-mindedly through the bush. He had slept in the open and when found was quite exhausted and after being examined by a doctor was found to be none the worse for his experience. Mr. Ireland is in his 84th year but needless to say is one of the good old Murray Township stock of pioneers.

Presented with Lamp

Miss Elsie Jackson, Scott St., was pleasantly surprised Thursday night when her numerous friends gathered at the home of the Misses Doris and Clara Heaslip and presented her with a beautiful desk lamp. Elsie is leaving on Tuesday to enter Belleville General Hospital as a nurse-in-training.

Numerous games were played by the guests and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Elsie will be greatly missed by her many friends here who all extend to her best wishes for great success in her new work.

Another New Store Added to Trenton

"The Fashion Shoppe," owned and operated by Mr. Art Black was moved today to its new location on the south side of Dundas St. and is very modern in every detail. The new windows as well as showing the latest fall fashions were artistically decorated with gorgeous baskets of flowers from admirers and customers of Mr. and Mrs. Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Black are well-known in Trenton, having moved here some six years ago from Ottawa. "Art" as he is better known here, is a keen sportsman and is interested, along with Mrs. Black in all welfare work of the town.

Trenton, Aug. 29.—A twenty dollar cheque was turned over to the Trenton police yesterday by a seven-year-old girl, Betty Simpson of College Street.

The little girl found the cheque being tossed by the wind down College Street and immediately picked it up. She took it home to her mother, Mrs. W. S. Simpson and later it was turned over to the police.

New Faces on Board

There will be a number of new faces on the public and high school teaching staffs for the opening of school next Tuesday morning, due to the fact that a number of teachers are now serving with the army and air force.

Miss Reta McCormick, B. A., Toronto, takes the place of Miss McAlpine at the high school. The latter was recently married and has taken up residence in Tweed. The staff, which was formerly comprised of ten teachers has been reduced to nine, including Principal W. Geo. Spencer, B.A.; teachers: Miss Hazel Farley, B.A.; Miss Marjorie Gothard, B.A., Miss Alta McIntyre, B.A.; Miss McCormick; Miss Evelyn Little; John Garrett, B.A.; William Wood, B.A., and Thorne Spear, B.A.

The Public School Board announces the appointment of two new teachers. They are George McIlwain, former principal of the Point Anne School and Miss Marguerite Jackson of Carrying Place.

HOLIDAY WEEK - END SPECIALS AT

Black's Meat Market

GENUINE PEAMEAL
COTTAGE ROLLS
lb. 29c

FIRST GRADE CREAMERY
BUTTER
lb. 38c
— With Meat Order —

Steak or Roasts lb. 27c
Tender Juicy ROUND, SIRLOIN or T-BONE
DELICATED STEAK .... lb 30c

Rolled Prime Rib .... lb 25c
Rump Roast .... lb 20c
Blade Roast .... lb 18c
Rib Stew .... lb 12c

GENUINE SPRING
Lamb Legs
lb. 32c

Phone 1761 — WE DELIVER — 21 Bridge St.

How to Get Rid of ATHLETE'S FOOT

If you want the quick, sure way to clean up a case of Athlete's Foot, on either the hands or the feet, go to J. S. Mckeown's and get a bottle of Cortisol. The first application will stop the itching and burning and a few days' use will completely kill the germ causing the infection. Easy and pleasant to use, not expensive, Cortisol must please you or your money back. A day or two will convince you and we take all the risk because we know what Corisol will do. Try it today.

ZOO FOR ROYAL CREAMS

London (CP)—Last survivors of their breed—a stallion and 2 mares of the "royal cream" blue-eyed horses used for generations on state occasions have been presented to the Whipsnade Zoo.

Tell It In B.C.—

Mistletoe is a parasitic evergreen shrub which grows hanging from various trees.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

"THRIFT" READY-MADE TWO-TROUSER SUITS

$26.50 EACH

Made in our own clothing workrooms

Contemplating a new suit for Fall? . . . then be sure to see the smart selection offered in EATON'S "Thrift" range! Colourful, up-to-the-minute woollens in trim worsteds featuring stripes and checks . . . as well as more sportive tweeds. Blues! Browns! Greens! Teals! . . . in both single and double-breasted styles, including special "type" models for "talls", "mediums". Come in soon, look through the low-priced "Thrift" range at the C.D.S.

You many purchase these suits on EATON'S Budget Plan Terms if you wish.

T. EATON Co.

Who's the best man? Marlene Dietrich is the bride, and Edward G. Robinson the lucky groom but George Raft looks as though he may have plans of his own about changing that situation. The picture will be presented at the Belle Sunday after midnight as a preview presentation.

ONIONS AS FLOWERS

Southend-by-Sea, England (CP)—Seeing onions growing in a flower-bed on the cliff a visiting foundry-worker pulled seven of them (value sixpence) and was fined £2 ($9).

INFERIOR COMPLEX

Bath, England (CP)—"I am useless as a doctor," read a note left by Capt. S. B. Greenburgh, 35, a military medical officer who shot himself after illness in hospital.

Probabilities
Lower Lake Region—Moderate southwest winds; fair and warm today. Sunday, moderate southwest winds; partly cloudy and warm with scattered thundershowers. Monday, partly cloudy and probably rain.

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1941

★★

Temperatures

	Max.	Min.
Today	70.4	54.1
One year ago	76.5	65.3

Weather—Cloudy.

TONS OF BOMBS DROP ON INDUSTRIAL GERMANY

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

GREATER WAR PRODUCTION URGED BY EDEN

Docks and Railway Yards at Le Havre, Other Targets Hit

'Round-The-Clock' Offensive Continued as Daylight Sweeps Made on Occupied France

ATTACK AT LOW LEVELS

London, Aug. 30.—(CP)—A large force of British bombers, despite adverse weather conditions, dropped tons of bombs on Germany last night with the main attacks directed against the industrial districts of Frankfurt and Mannheim, the Air Ministry said today.

Docks and railway yards at the Port of Le Havre in Occupied France also were bombed. Five planes were lost in the night's operations.

The Royal Air Force 'round-the-clock offensive continued today as a squadron of planes roared across the English Channel at dawn for attacks on enemy-Occupied France.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted the R.A.F. blasted at several points in Germany causing many casualties.)

One German plane was destroyed during a "nuisance raid" on the British Isles last night. Only a few Nazi planes flew over England and dropped bombs at two points. Little damage was caused and no casualties were reported.

Oppressed Heartened

During daylight yesterday British planes heartened Nazi-oppressed citizens of Occupied France and the low countries in roaring to the attack from low levels and engaging Nazi fighters when they met. Ten Nazi planes were shot down during the day. Ten British planes also were lost but the pilot of one was saved.

In one of the attacks yesterday, a squadron of Spitfires interrupted a practice session by two German bomber-fighters on smoke floats in the North Sea. The R.A.F. "quickly broke up the party", an announcement said.

In another attack, a Free French pilot gunned his plane into a formation of 13 Nazi fighters and destroyed one. It was at least the 10th German plane he had shot down.

Gunner Says Havoc Terrific

An indication of havoc wrought on the Industrial City of Duisburg in Germany during a British raid Thursday night was given by the gunner of a Whitley bomber. He told authorities that when his plane was 100 miles from Duisburg on the return to its base, he saw an explosion from that city that lighted up the skies in a red glow.

An official report said the raid caused heavy explosions among industrial buildings and that great fires started immediately. Flaming debris was blown high into the air.

Pilots reported that during the raid they experienced the heaviest anti-aircraft fire they yet have experienced but that the attacking force broke through every barrier. Among targets struck besides factories were a large railway yard and inland docks.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Aug. 30 (CP)—Synopsis: —Showers have occurred in some sections of Alberta and Northern Ontario, while in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Southern Ontario the weather has been fair and moderately warm.

PLACE:	8 a.m.	High Yest'dy	Low During Night
Vancouver	58	71	56
Calgary	46	59	46
Edmonton	36	71	36
Winnipeg	43	72	42
Toronto	65	75	53
Ottawa	61	73	57
Montreal	61	70	59
S.S. Marie	59	67	—
New York	66	67	64
Miami	76	90	75
Los Angeles	60	78	59

No Paper On Monday

Monday, September 1st, being Labor Day, there will be no issue of The Ontario Intelligencer.

BRITISH TROOPS AT KERMANSHAH IN IRAN INVASION

Resistance to British Forces Ceases Everywhere and Population Cordial

CONTROL OIL LINES

Simla, India, Aug. 30 (AP)—British troops, hastening to complete occupation of Iran, have reached the town of Kermanshah, approximately 80 miles east of the Iraq frontier, British headquarters here announced today.

Resistance to British forces has ceased everywhere, a communique said, and the Iranian capital, Tehran, was quiet.

Control of the oil pipe line from the southwestern oil fields was assured by complete control of the Ahwaz-Haft Kel area which the British troops now occupy.

Naval forces which convoyed troops to the Karun River to reach Ahwaz, 75 miles from the frontier, were reported withdrawing in view of the cessation of hostilities.

From Meshed in the west Persian officials were described as cordial toward British subjects.

"The situation in areas occupied by our troops is fast returning to normal," a communique declared.

(The cease-fire order was given Thursday by Iranian Premier Ali Furanghi—after a four-day show of resistance by Iranian troops.)

London, Aug. 30—(CP)—Anglo-Russian terms for a settlement in Iran are being presented to the government at Teheran, authoritative quarters declared today.

The terms were not disclosed since it was not known definitely here whether they had reached the Iranian Government.

It was assumed, however, the allied forces would undertake to interfere as little as possible with internal conditions in Iran.

International at a Glance

(By The Canadian Press)

MOSCOW — Russians announce stopping of German offensive toward Moscow.

ROME — Need for oil and other raw materials for third year of war among pressing problems discussed at Hitler-Mussolini meeting.

BERLIN — Nazi High Command claims Russian evacuation fleet from Tallinn heavily damaged. (No Russian comment expected until movement is completed.)

LONDON—British bombers attack channel ports after striking at southwestern Germany overnight.

VICHY—Laval's condition grows worse.

TOKYO — Japanese press looks to Roosevelt to indicate U.S. desire for settlement Pacific issues; British embassy arranges evacuation of Nationals from Japan.

COVENTRY — Eden calls for speeded up arms production.

HELSINKI — Finns claim capture of Viipuri, Karelian Isthmus city.

MEETING HAILED AS SEALING AXIS' PLAN FOR EUROPE

German Writers Claim Talks Would End Continental Wars For All Times

SIXTH MEETING

(By LOUIS P. LOCHNER)
(Associated Staff Writer)

Berlin, Aug. 30 —(AP)— Nazi spokesmen argued today that the Britain of the present mentality can have no share in Europe's new order as designed by Hitler and Mussolini. The comment was made following the sixth and longest meeting of the two dictators since the war began.

"England arrogates to itself the right of playing minister of interior everywhere," the spokesman said, "hence she is unfit for a Europe of co-operation."

Remarks of A.A. Berle, assistant U.S. Secretary of State, that the next era would be American were described as another example of plutocratic powers tyring to meddle in world affairs.

(Berle, in a speech before the Williamstown, Mass., Institute of Human Affairs, said Thursday night that the next era would be the "American century" only if "the word 'American' is taken in its broadest, finest sense." He added that "it is plain destiny" that the future falls in a large measure to the United States.)

New Serbian State

As proof that the "European New Order" is in the process of development the source cited the creation of the new "Serbian state" under Field Marshal Milan Nedic, former Yugoslav Minister of War and Navy. Creation of the state was announced yesterday.

"This occurrence shows how the Axis is willing to give opportunity to the individual European peoples to assume responsibility within their own living space," the comment continued."

When it was called to the attention of the Germans that the principles proclaimed by Hitler and Mussolini following their conferences contained nothing new, these sources responded:

"Perfectly true—when one has a good thing there is no need of substituting something else for it. These principles were enunciated long before the eight-point program and in their simplicity contrast favorably with the far-flung, impractical Roosevelt-Churchill program."

The five-day meeting which ended yesterday was claimed by the German press to have brought forth a "clearer and more constructive plan" than the eight points Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt formulated at sea earlier this month.

The Essen National Zeitung condemned the eight points as containing "the makings of new wars" and repeating "Wilsonian phrases and injustices." The National Zeitung declared the Axis plan "will eliminate the causes which in the past led to wars in Europe."

Nazi Commentary

Dienst Aus Deutschland, Nazi commentary, said the war "which not unjustly can already be characterized as a European war for unity, shall be the last continental war."

The latest meeting of Hitler and Mussolini, their 11th since the Axis was formed, was announced in a communique yesterday.

The communique pledged the Axis to fight to victory and promised a post-war Europe based on peaceful and harmonious cooperation among all nations of Europe.

(Continued on page 7, Col. 8.)

Ships and Naval Aircraft Destroy Or Damage Over 1,000 Nazi Planes

London, Aug. 30 (CP)— Gunfire from ships and naval aircraft destroyed or damaged more than 1,000 German planes from the start of the war to Aug. 1, the Admiralty announced today.

The statement said 537 of those destroyed were shot down into the sea and 581 additional planes were damaged. Of the latter, 203 were observed to be so heavily damaged as to be classed as probably destroyed although they were not seen to crash".

The Admiralty credited certain destruction of planes as follows:

55 to armed merchant ships and fishing vessels.

348 to Royal Navy ships including 73 to minesweepers, trawlers and other small vessels.

122 to the Fleet Air Arm.

12 to Allied vessels.

Nazi Drive on Moscow Brought to Standstill With Heavy Losses

Russians Destroy Five Hundred Nazi Planes in Past Week

SINK NAZI SUB

Moscow, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Red Army announced today it had brought the German offensive toward Moscow to a standstill and had swept back some German forces in battles which cost the Nazis 10,000 dead and wounded.

Frontline dispatches said that battlefields west of the Soviet capital had become a deep series of trenches, anti-tank barriers, minefields and barbed wire over which torrential rain was pouring.

Fighting continued along the entire front but Soviet reports indicated that the centre was stalemated and the Germans were attempting to press in on both flanks.

A dispatch to the government newspaper, Isvestia, said Russian detachments had been ordered to halt at the river "V" attacks by German troops who carried maps with routes marked out directly to Moscow.

This was a month ago, the account said, and the Germans not only have been unable to move an inch forward but also some of the territory they held has been recaptured.

Besides the casualties, it said, the Germans lost many prisoners.

The German 7th. Tank Division and 161st. Infantry Division bore the brunt of the counter attacks by Russian forces smaller in number but waging offensive battles.

The Soviet information bureau once again used a brief communique at noon which gave no indication of where action was taking place.

An earlier communique said the Red air forces destroyed 500 German planes and lost 262 aircraft between Aug. 21 and 27. The Nazi craft were shot down in combat or destroyed on the ground, it was said.

The communique said a German submarine was sunk in the Black Sea by a Russian submarine and the Red air force was credited with destroying an additional 28 Messerschmitt fighters in an attack on a German airdrome.

Nazis Say Forty-Three Red Transports Sunk When Tallinn Falls

MANY SHIPS DAMAGED

Berlin, Aug. 30—(AP)—The German High Command today claimed at least 43 and possibly as many as 82 Russian transports have been sunk in the Gulf of Finland by German mines and aircraft in the Russian evacuation of captured Tallinn.

(For more than two days the Nazis and the Finns have talked of attacking Russian ships leaving Estonian waters. There has been no Russian comment, nor is any expected for the present in view of the fact the Russians presumably are engaged in a large scale evacuation of Tallinn, a movement of troops which may have attained the proportions of a new Dunkirk.)

The communique also claimed the Russian Baltic fleet also lost a cruiser, four destroyers, nine minesweepers and three patrol boats, sunk by mines and air bombs.

Five destroyers, an auxiliary cruiser and a minesweeper were heavily damaged, it said.

As aircraft hammered at the ships carrying Russian forces east from the Estonian capital taken by the Germans yesterday, the High Command issued this summary of the alleged Soviet losses on the sea:

"Sinkings to date amount to 21 transport ships totalling 48,300 tons and eight transports badly damaged, by mines.

"Bombers destroyed 22 merchantmen chiefly troop transports, totalling 74,000 tons, and so badly damaged an additional 39 ships that the loss of a great number of these vessels also is apparent."

(The Finnish High Command reported last night that its planes were helping the Germans bomb 123 Russian ships carrying Red army forces from Estonia.)

The Nazis boasted the capture of Tallinn increased the danger to Leningrad and its protecting naval base of Kronstadt, and cut off the Russian island bases of Dagoe and Oesel in the Baltic outside the Gulf of Finland.

In the south the Germans reported the besieged Black Sea port of Odessa still holding out.

Further Tightening of Oil Shipments to Japan Likely

U.S. Considering Setting Quotas on Exports Before Invasion of China

NO OIL SHIPPED LATELY

(By LLOYD LEHBRAS)
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—A further tightening of restrictions on petroleum shipments to Japan is under study by United States export control authorities, it was learned in informed quarters today, despite Japanese overtures designed to achieve a peaceful solution of the critical Far East situation.

Oil has been responsible in part for the strained relations between the two nations.

Pending outcome of talks to be held by President Roosevelt, State Secretary Cordell Hull, and Japanese Ambassador Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, however, officials indicated no final decisions would be made on the export control administrative measures under consideration.

The Roosevelt-Hull-Nomura conferences are expected as a result of a personal message from Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japanese premier, to the President.

While the text of Konoye's message remained a secret between the White House, State Departmnt and Japanese embassy, it is generally believed to open the way for a candid discussion of conflicting American and Japanese policies.

Officials explained the proposed tightening of oil export restrictions was not a new regulation, but revolved around the interpretation of Mr. Roosevelt's order placing all petroleum exports on a quota basis and limiting the issuance of licences to "usual or pre-war quantities."

(Continued on page 7, Col. 3.)

Japanese Press Hopes for Settlement of Crisis by Friendly Reply by F.D.R.

HOPE FOR PEACE

Tokyo, Aug. 30 —(AP)— The Japanese press looked today to President Roosevelt to answer a message from Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye by indicating the definite desire of the United States to maintain peace in the Pacific and bring about settlement of issues there.

Newspapers said they regarded the chances of Japan coming to an agreement with the United States as better than the prospects for an understanding between Japan and Britain.

There was no official elaboration, however, of the brief statement yesterday that Japan's ambassador in Washington, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, had handed Mr. Roosevelt the premier's message outlining the "Imperial government's attitude toward the Pacific situation."

One reliable source said any speculation that an understanding had been reached between Japan and the United States is "premature."

The newspaper Asahi commented: "We expect President Roosevelt will send a sincere and well-considered reply to Prince Konoye which, more than anything else, will testify to Anglo-American desire for maintenance of peace and settlement of pending issues with their so-called patience."

Nichi Nichi claimed that Japan's position is complicated because the present "delicate situation" reached a crisis after the outbreak of war between Germany and Russia.

"Japan wants to locate the cancer in the Pacific and find the means of cutting it out," Nichi Nichi declared. "This was the main motive of Prince Konoye's message."

WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD CONTROLS PRICES

Order-in-Council Gives Board Authority to Control Commodities

McKINNON AT HEAD

Ottawa, Aug. 30—(CP)—By inter-locking the activities of the Wartime Control Boards and enlarging their powers the government today advanced another step in its efforts to "fight inflationary tendencies hampering Canada's effective participation in the present conflict."

By order-in-council it made the Wartime Prices and Trade Board under Chairmanship of Hector McKinnon the supreme authority throughout Canada in the price-fixing field, and reconstituted the Wartime Industries Control Board under R. C. Berkinshaw so as to give it complete control of supply and allocation of commodities and materials essential to the war effort.

To provide for close collaboration between these two bodies, Mr. McKinnon was appointed a member of the Industries Control Board and Mr. Berkinshaw was appointed to the Prices and Trade Board.

Joint Statement

The changes were made public last night in a joint statement by Finance Minister Ilsley and Munitions Minister Howe only a few hours after signing of two orders-in-council putting them into effect.

The statement gave a broad hint that government action to curb instalment buying is impending, but there was no indication just when it would be taken. Some move along that line has been anticipated for weeks.

(Continued on Page 7, Col. 3)

Chinese Forces Go on Offensive in 5 Provinces

Chungking, China, Aug. 30. —(AP)—Chinese forces have gone on the offensive in five provinces and are threatening the capitals of two of them in operations begun Monday, says the Chinese War Ministry.

Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi, and Foochow, capital of Fukien, are menaced by strong forces of Chinese, and small-scale attacks have been launched against Japanese posts in Chekiang, Southern Kiangsu and Southern Anhwei provinces the Ministry said.

(Chinese troops have reached a point on the Min River ten miles northwest of Foochow, and severe fighting has been in progress in the Lienkong area northeast of the capital, a Chinese Central News dispatch to Hong Kong said today.)

So far the Japanese have suffered 2,500 casualties, the ministry said. Chinese troops have reached the walls of Shahink, famous Chekiang province wine centre and Japanese were expected to withdraw.

Meanwhile, more than 100 Japanese bombers, swarming over in five waves attacked this city today in its 141st raid. The alarm lasted five hours and 15 minutes.

Spectators said one of the bombers apparently was hit by anti-aircraft fire.

Chungking's university district was singled out for bombing by the first wave of 27 planes.

Several thousand Chinese were reported left homeless.

DOUBT EXPRESSED

Shanghai, Aug. 30 (AP)—British and United States residents of Shanghai expressed doubt today that any comprehensive, permanent solution of problems in the Pacific could grow out of the Washington conference between President Roosevelt and the Japanese Ambassador, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura.

Their pessimism was based on doubts that Nomura was in a position to speak for the Japanese army or that Tokyo could control strong militaristic elements.

Foreign Secretary Says War Materials Far Short of Needs

Britain Must Help Meet Needs of Russian Fighting Forces, Eden Warns

MUST MATCH ENEMY

Coventry, England, Aug. 30—(CP)—Foreign Secretary Eden said today that the output of war material by the Allies and the United States "still falls far short of our needs."

War needs will grow, he warned in a speech, "as the tide of war sweeps wider until it engulfs the world."

Britain must help meet the needs of the Russian fighting forces, Mr. Eden said. "Here is a call to duty which we cannot fail."

Strongly urging greater war production, he warned that the battles of the war show that "to be short of materials is the most costly method of waging war."

Britons cannot be content, he said, "until our men command in every army weapons which in design and execution are fully a match for the best the enemy can do."

The Foreign Secretary, told his audience, made up largely of munitions workers, that the cause for which the Russian soldier is "giving everything," is "ours as well as his." "All over the world," he declared, "we need your weapons in Russia, in the Far East, in Libya and over Germany."

Discussing the British intervention in Iran, Mr. Eden said he had warned Riza Shah Pahlevi last January 1 of the danger to Iran inherent in the Nazi colony there. The Iran government replied that Britain exaggerated the number of these Germans and the peril to Iran.

The pro-Nazi rebellion earlier this year in Iraq "was organized by German agents acting from Iran," Mr. Eden declared. "After collapse of this rebellion, Raschid Ali (its leader) and many of his partisans fled to Iran."

In her efforts to induce the Iranians to deal with the Germans, Britain practised the "Iranian proverb 'patience is from God and haste is from the devil'," Mr. Eden said.

Britain, however, got "no adequate response; pretexts, excuses, and insignificant concessions were all we obtained."

He declared that "as soon as military conditions permit" Russian and British forces will be withdrawn from Iran and henceforth the independence and territorial integrity of Iran will be respected.

Conditions which the Allies will impose on Iran "will not be extravagant and they of course are only temporary."

The Allies "covet neither Iranian lands nor her wealth" and Britain and Russia know that "a strong, independent Iran is an essential element in the stability of the Middle East."

The Foreign Secretary declared the Nazi "locusts" in Iran "are trapped or away on the wing to their German homeland."

Turning to Turkey, Mr. Eden said the Soviet Government had declared to the Ankara Government it would "observe the territorial integrity of the Turkish Republic and render Turkey every help and assistance in the event of her being attacked by any European power."

Both Turkey and Poland, "our gallant ally on the battlefield," will be called on to play "an important role in international affairs after the war."

Mr. Eden said the eight-point declaration of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt "establishes principles which will be equally valid for all nations" and "excludes all idea of hegemony or zone leadership in East or West."

TALLIN STILL HELD

Moscow, Aug. 30 —(AP)— Tass, Soviet news agency, today circulated a dispatch, dated yesterday, from Tallinn, reporting that the Estonian capital still was in Soviet hands.

(The Germans, claiming capture of the Gulf of Finland fort yesterday, said forces stormed and took it in the early morning).

Tallinn, according to the news agency dispatch, was then leading

Heart Seizure Cause of Death

Tweed (Special)—Apparently the victim of heart failure, George Sallans, aged 69, of Vennacher, Frontenac County, dropped dead in the village of Tweed last evening shortly after he had visited a physician.

Mr. Sallans had come to Tweed to consult Dr. George regarding his health which had been ailing for some time. After visiting the doctor he attempted to climb into his automobile which was parked at the curb, when he dropped to the sidewalk and expired almost immediately.

EIGHT EXECUTED BY FIRING SQUAD IN OCCUPIED PARIS

Brings to Eleven Those Put Away Since Pierre Laval Was Hit

NEW LEGION PROBED

Vichy, Aug. 30—(AP)—Eight men including a French count and a Netherlander, were reported today to have died before a French firing squad in Nazi-occupied Paris yesterday, bringing to 11 the number of persons executed since Pierre Laval, former vice-premier, was gravely wounded Tuesday by a young French opponent of collaboration with Germany.

Three of the eight, including Naval Lieut. Count Henri Destienne Dorbes and a Netherlands citizen named Jean Doornik, were executed for alleged espionage. The other five were condemned under a new law for activity against Nazi occupation authorities.

Physicians at a Versailles hospital, meanwhile, anxiously watched the condition of Laval after a sudden operation had been decided upon to remove a bullet lodged near his heart.

(Continued on Page 7, Col. 2)

Coming Events

PIE SOCIAL, ORANGE HALL, Holloway, aid of the Red Cross, Thursday, September 4. Draw on quilt. Good program. Admission 25 and 15c. A30

THIRD GAME BETWEEN OSHAWA Juniors and Esquire at Coleman Flats, Wednesday, September 3rd., at six-fifteen. Admission 15 cents. A30-S2

THE WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASsociation will hold their first fall meeting on Tuesday, September 2, at 3 o'clock in the Board Room of Hospital. A30

SOCIAL EVENING AND EUCHRE, Monday, September 1, at Parish Hall, Read. Ace's Orchestra. Supper at midnight. Dancing from 9.30. A30

EMMANUEL CHURCH, SUNDAY evening. Service at 7 p.m. Rev. S. R. Forman, speaker. A30

AFTERNOON TEA AND SALE OF Home Cooking at Mrs. Price's, 210 MacDonald Ave., Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 3. Auspices St. John's Club, for refugees — 15c. A30

CLOSING DANCE OF SEASON AT Oak Lake Casino, Wednesday, September 3. Music by The Commodores. Regular Jitney Plan. Trianon Ball Room, under same management, opening Saturday, Sept. 6. A30-S2

PLAN TO DANCE TO OSSIE Williams and his Band, Hume Arena Gardens, Wednesday, September Third. Admission fifteen cents. Jitney dancing. Regular price. A30

School Books and Supplies

FOR OPENING DAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd.

We carry, as is our custom, perhaps the Most Complete Stock of all Authorized Text Books and necessary School Supplies in Belleville. This includes a complete and ample stock of the Public and Separate School Text Books as well as Collegiate Texts and Supplies. Our prices for School Supplies are low. We suggest, while the prices are low, that you obtain your term's supply of Scribblers, Pencils, Ink, etc. You will be agreeably surprised at the saving.

No Waiting on School Opening Day, Sept. 2nd.

We can GUARANTEE that you will not have to wait long at our store September 2nd. while obtaining your School List. We will have plenty of experienced clerks to help you select your books and parcel them in a convenient manner.

The Home of the Famous Five Hundred
School Helps Which Make Success Certain

REMEMBER THIS STORE ON SCHOOL OPENING DAY

THE JAMES TEXTS' BOOK STORE

183 FRONT STREET PHONE 892 BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Jobs Seeking Men On Labor Day Eve

(By Frank Flaherty)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Aug. 30 (CP)— Jobs are seeking men in Canada on the eve of Labor Day 1941, instead of men seeking jobs as was the case last year and more emphatically two years ago.

The nation is rapidly passing from a state of unemployment to a condition in which men are scarce and more must be found if the war program is to keep on expanding.

Governmental machinery set up to find jobs for unemployed and provide relief for those for whom no work could be found is being revamped to find and train men and women for jobs.

Despite phenomenal increases in industrial employment within the past year Canada presents a comparatively peaceful labor scene. Only five strikes are in progress and they keep only 1,954 men from work, Labor Department spokesmen said.

The only large one is at the Acme Screw and Gear Company plant in Toronto where some 1,700 men are idle. At Fort William, Ontario, 154 sawmill workers are on strike; at Calgary, 35 truck drivers; at Toronto, 35 beverage room workers; and at Bromptonville, Quebec, 30 pulp and paper mill employees. The slowdown policy adopted by miners in some Cape Breton coal pits is not classed as a strike since the men still are at work.

New machinery exists for the adjustment of labor disputes but wartime regulations have curtailed the right to strike in certain industries.

It Pays to Shop
At the Rexall Store.

NEW, GIANT SIZE WILDROOT
Hair Tonic
WITH OIL.

INTRODUCTORY BARGAIN
Regular $1.35 size
Now 98c
LIMITED TIME ONLY.

McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 135

Seeking New Members

With larger numbers employed trade unions are actively seeking new members and pressing for improved wages and conditions. New groups of workers are becoming organized.

Unemployment Insurance became operative July 1, its aim the provision of a new measure of Social Security. The cost of living bonus Order-in-Council also provides a measure of protection to labor against increasing costs of necessities of life, but at the same time it eliminates prospects for increases in basic wages above the highest level which prevailed from 1926 to 1929.

A rough estimate by Labor Department officials placed the number of workers now employed directly or indirectly in war production at 500,000. That represents an increase of some 300,000 from the start of the year and indications are that another 100,000 will be needed before the end of 1941.

The last employment report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for June, placed the employment index, based on 1926 at 100, at the all-time high of 153.0. That was an increase from 120.9 in June, 1940. When the next report comes out in a few days a further increase is expected.

War industries have reported some shortages of men in the more highly-skilled trades but so far no serious shortage of unskilled workers have developed.

CHARLES D. TRIPP IN GOV'T. SERVICE

Manager of Beatty Washer Store Given Leave of Absence by His Firm

Charles D. Tripp, manager of the Beatty Washer Store in this city has been given leave of absence from this firm for the duration of war and will enter the government service, leaving for Ottawa over the week-end. Since coming to the city, Mr. Tripp has interested himself in the welfare of the community and assisted in many worthy campaigns as part of Canada's war effort. He has been a resident of the city for the past eight years and the last three years has been a popular and energetic member of the Belleville Kiwanis Club. At present he is a director of the Club and Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, who so successfully has managed the Poultry Project of the organization. Charlie was in charge of this committee last year and is was the biggest year the project has enjoyed. At the luncheon on Tuesday he was bid goodbye by the President of the club, James Barclay, who expressed the hope that Charlie would again take up where he left off after the war is concluded and peace again reigns on earth.

Mrs. Tripp will remain in the city for at least ten days until Mr. Tripp can secure accommodation where he will be located. Both children of Mr. and Mrs. Tripp are serving in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Wade being a Sergeant Pilot overseas and Charles Jr. studying to become a Sergeant Pilot.

TWEED RESIDENT INSTANTLY KILLED

John Hotts Struck by Car Whose Driver is Held for Manslaughter

John Hotts, aged 67, of Tweed, was instantly killed Friday night on Highway No. 37 two miles north of Tweed, when he was struck by a car and thrown fifty feet by the impact.

Chief Constable Clare Hayes, of Tweed, investigated the fatal accident and arrested Albert Sparks, of Madoc, on a charge of manslaughter. Mr. Sparks was in charge of the vehicle which struck Hotts.

It was charged that Spark's car ran the pedestrian down as he was walking on the right side of the highway; then proceeded some distance, striking and killing a cow. The car then continued on for a short distance, when it was stopped with the motorist backing up to where Hotts lay in the roadway.

Canadian Navy Officers Mentioned in Dispatches

Ottawa. Aug. 30 (CP)—Naval service headquarters announced last night that Capt. C. R. H. Taylor of Halifax and Ottawa, Captain commanding Canadian ships in United Kingdom waters, and a number of other officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy have been mentioned in despatches as a result of their conduct and behavior during heavy air raids on Plymouth and Davonport last April.

"All have been warmly commended for their work by Admiral of the Fleet Sir L. M. Forbes, Commander in Chief, Plymouth command," the navy statement said.

"The officers and men played prominent parts in the work of combatting the destructive effects of the raids in civil as well as in naval establishments, in fire prevention, in fire-fighting, rescue and in salvage work."

THE BIG SURPRISE ENTERTAINMENT OF THE YEAR!
HERE COMES MR. JORDAN
starring
ROBERT MONTGOMERY
with
Claude RAINS • Evelyn KEYES • James GLEASON
Edw. Everett HORTON • Rita JOHNSON • John EMERY
Screen play by Sidney Buchman and Seton I. Miller
Directed by ALEXANDER HALL • Produced by EVERETT RISKIN
A COLUMBIA PICTURE
For your fullest enjoyment we urge you to see "HERE COMES MR. JORDAN" from the beginning.

The most surprising plot!
The most surprising characters!
The most surprising comedy that ever dared break all rules... to make you roar and realize with delight how much memorable mirth can be packed into a great motion picture designed for laughter!

Continuous Show Monday
FEATURE SHOWN AT
2.00 — 4.00 — 6.00 — 8.00 and 10.00 P.M.

PREVIEW Sunday After Midnight 12.05
ALSO SHOWING Monday - Tuesday - Wednesday

Added Fun:— "BLACK EYES AND BLUE"—All Star Comedy.

LATEST FOX NEWS ● COMMUNITY SING.

ENDS TONIGHT—
JAMES CAGNEY, PAT O'BRIEN in 'DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR'

McCARTHY
THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE.

Grade 'A' Eggs Reach 40 Cents Dozen on Market

Eggs again struck a firmer tone on the local produce market this morning when Grade 'A' large sold at a new high of 40 cents per dozen as other lines of seasonal fruits and vegetables offered in profusion held at approximately the same as last week's quotations. Mediums sold at 37c and 38c with pullets eggs being offered at 33c the dozen.

Peaches in some instances were a trifle easier than during the mid-week market, although specials still sold at 65c per six-quart basket. No 1's sold at 50c and 55c while No. 2's were 45c. Plums of all varieties ranged from 50c to 60c the basket.

Apples were quite plentiful with all varieties of cooking apples selling at 25c the basket or at $1 the bushel for Wolf Rivers. Pears, Clapp's Favorite, were 50c the basket, blueberries 25c the box and the long blackberries the same price. Grapes appearing for the first time were 50c the basket and 10c the quart box.

Prices on the vegetable market held practically stationary with tomatoes selling at 20c the basket and 75c to 80c the bushel. Cauliflower ranged downward from 50c each, with squash and pumpkins 15c to 25c each. Watermelons were to be had ranging from 15c to 40c while muskmelons ranged up to 25c each. Potatoes sold at the usual 35c per peck and $1.25 per bushel. Seasonal vegetables were offered in profusion at the usual prices. Corn sold at 20c and 25c the dozen.

Only whitefish were offered on the fish market, selling at 25c per pound. Young porkers were quite plentiful, prices holding steady and ranging from $5 to $7 each according to size and quality.

Albert College
BELLEVILLE - ONTARIO

Reopening Date Wed., Sept. 10th

COURSES OFFERED
ALL PUBLIC AND COLLEGIATE WORK, INCLUDING SENIOR MATRICULATION.
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AND COMMERCE.
SECRETARIAL AND STENOGRAPHIC.
DRAMATIC ART, PIANOFORTE, AND VOCAL MUSIC.

Day School Tuition in all Courses

Indications Now Point to a Capacity Enrollment.
REGISTER EARLY!

Phone 2250 for Appointment.

REV. BERT HOWARD, D.D.,
PRINCIPAL

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP) —Jarvis R. Catoe, 36-year-old negro who calmly told police he had choked to death "about 10" women, today attributed the sex slayings in part to the reading of detective thrillers.

SEINED AN ALLIGATOR

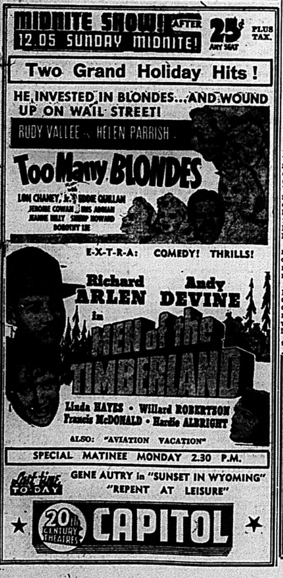
Albermaire, N.C., Aug. 30 (AP)—A party of sportsmen seining for fish in Rocky River near here, more than 200 miles inland, came up with a hefty catch—an alligator. J. W. Murray said he tethered it beside a fishpond on his farm.

ADOPT DEFENCE THEME

Oelwein, Ia., Anug. 30 (AP)— A group of girls adopted a National Defence theme for a dance they sponsored. They amplified it with this motto: "If you don't get him, the draft will."

MIDNITE SHOW! AFTER 12.05 SUNDAY MIDNITE! 25¢ ANY SEAT PLUS TAX.

Two Grand Holiday Hits!



HE INVESTED IN BLONDES... AND WOUND UP ON WAIL STREET!
RUDY VALLEE HELEN PARRISH
Too Many BLONDES
with LON CHANEY, Jr. EDDIE QUILLAN JEROME COWAN IRIS ADRIAN JEANNE KELLY SHEMP HOWARD DOROTHY LEE
Richard ARLEN Andy DEVINE in MEN of the TIMBERLAND
Linda HAYES • Willard ROBERTSON
Francis McDONALD • Hardie ALBRIGHT

E-X-T-R-A: COMEDY! THRILLS!

ALSO: "AVIATION VACATION"

SPECIAL MATINEE MONDAY 2.30 P.M.

Last time TO-DAY GENE AUTRY in "SUNSET IN WYOMING"
"REPENT AT LEISURE"

20th CENTURY THEATRES CAPITOL

Office Help Wanted
With O. B. C. Training

This year scores of young people have been trained and placed by us in office positions and requests received for many more.

Now is your opportunity! Prepare yourself quickly for success by attending O. B. C., thus getting the benefit of the experience and prestige of the best known and most widely attended business college in Canada. Send for new catalogue.

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE, Limited
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO

It's Show Time
THAT MEANS RELAX
and Go to the Movies!

If the Belle Has It . . . It's a Hit!

1.—Today, Monday, Tuesday—
CLARK GABLE ● ROSALIND RUSSELL in "THEY MET IN BOMBAY".

2.—Wed., Thurs., Fri.—Sept. 3, 4, 5—
All in Glorious TECHNICOLOR, Harold Bell Wright's "THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS." John Wayne, Betty Field, Harry Carey.

3.—Sat., Mon., Tues., Wed.—Sept. 6, 8, 9, 10—
These "Buck Privates" are in the Navy . . . BUD ABBOTT - LOU COSTELLO in "IN THE NAVY". The Andrew Sisters, Dick Powell.

4.—Coming Real Soon—
GINGER ROGERS in "TOM, DICK and HARRY". In a year of comedy hits . . the funniest one of all!

A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

SEPTEMBER AT THE B-E-L-L-E — YOU'LL REMEMBER.

Continuous Show Today & Monday
REGULAR MATINEE PRICES UNTIL 6.00 P.M.

WHEN THIEVES FALL OUT... THEY FALL IN LOVE!
GABLE
RUSSELL
in CLARENCE BROWN'S Production of
They Met IN Bombay
with PETER LORRE • Jessie RALPH • Edward CIANNELLI

EXTRA! B-E-L-L-E WORLD WIDE NEWS EVENTS. COLOR FUN CARTOON, "OUT OF DARKNESS". SCREEN ODDITY.

EXTRA!—SAT. & MON. MATS.—THREE Color Fun Cartoons

BELLE
IF THE B-E-L-L-E HAS IT . . . IT'S A HIT!

A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

TODAY
MONDAY
TUESDAY

SUNDAY AFTER MIDNIGHT 12.05 a.m.
THE T.N.T. STAR COMBINATION
They Pack All Their Dramatic Dynamite into this story.
EDW. G. ROBINSON ● MARLENE DIETRICH ● GEORGE RAFT
in
"MANPOWER"
GREAT SURROUNDING SHOW — REGULAR PRICES.

A30-56

SCHOOL SUPPLIES
PUBLIC SCHOOL and COLLEGIATE.
Waterman's Special School Pen $1.50
Waterman's School Sets $2.25
Other Waterman's Pens and Sets up to $15.00
GEEN'S DRUG STORE
EFFICIENT STAFF AND PROMPT SERVICE.
A29-2t

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

JOHN L. NEWTON FARM SOLD TO DR. G. HUNT

Tweed, Aug. 30.—The John L. Newton farm was recently sold to Dr. George Hunt of Marlbank, reports the Tweed News. The farm will be operated by his brother, Bernard, who has already taken possession. Mrs. Newton, who has managed the farm since the death of her husband, will take up residence elsewhere in the near future.

RESIDENT WALKS INTO SIDE OF CAR

Jack Smith, 160 Mary Street, was taken to Belleville General Hospital early last night suffering with internal injuries and shock as a reshult of an accident at the corner of Mary Street and Dundas Street.

According to P. C. Horace Wright, Smith walked directly into the path of an automobile driven by Henry Lamb of Rednersville which was proceeding east on Dundas Street.

COMPLAINT BRINGS ARREST OF MAN

Complaints of Miss Audrey Sheffield that a motor car driver whom she thought had been drinking, had caused damage to her car parked on Campbell Street last night, led to the arrest of Joseph McCormick, R. R. 5, Belleville.

Miss Sheffield took the number of McCormick's car and later it was discovered proceeding through the city with McCormick's son at the wheel. The father was found in the rear seat of the vehicle and according to police officers had been drinking. He was brought to the police station and placed in the cell-block.

SCUFFLE SEEN IN LOCAL CAFE

Two members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, AC2's E. A. Colekan and S. L. Norman are in the "brig" today as the result of a disturbance in a local restaurant early this morning. The two men were in a fighting mood when police were called in and a merry melee ensued before the two airmen were finally subdued and taken to the police station.

Glasses flew as did soft drink bottles when Police Constables Arnott, Evans and Taylor endeavored to bring about an armistice. One heavy glass hurled across the restaurant crashed through a valuable mirror. In the scuffle Constable Taylor had his wrist watch broken. Police stated the men had been drinking.

The airmen were escorted by Air Force Service Police later this morning to await hearing.

MOTORING PUBLIC DRIVING SLOWER

There is a definite trend on the part of the motoring public to drive at reduced speeds, at least on the main arteries of the highways system, Traffic Sergeant Sidney Hunter stated today.

"I personally patrolled No. 2 Highway between here and Kingston yesterday," the sergeant said, "and did not find one motorist who was driving over fifty miles an hour. As a matter of fact I drove fifty miles an hour myself as a test and not one car passed me."

American cars are still touring the district in holiday numbers, Sergeant Hunter said. He was of the opinion that Canadian traffic has reduced somewhat but a better idea of that will be gained when the tourist season draws to a close.

BRITISH "WAAFS" TRIED AND TRUE IN REAL BATTLE

Veteran Sister Corps of Canadian Unit Under Organization Has Added Duties After Tests Under Fire

By WILLIAM STEWART

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Aug. 28.—(CP)— The Royal Air Force continually increasing its punch-power, counts more and more on the assistance of its little sister—the Women's Auxiliary Air Force.

The Canadian Air Ministry has announced the recruiting of women immediately for training as officers and non-commissioned officers of the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force which will be organized probably along the same lines as the comparatively veteran W.A.A.F. in the Old Country.

The scope of Britains W.A.A.F. has widened steadily since last fall's Battle of Britain when the R.A.F. turned back the best that Nazi air strength had to offer. The Battle of Britain was the W.A.A.F.'s baptism of fire and the voluntary organization emerged with a good deal of credit in its successful outcome. Now the Waafs, as the women are known, are taking on a greater number of ground jobs thereby releasing airmen for new R.A.F. squadrons.

More Responsibilities

The growth of the Waafs' responsibilities reflects the enthusiasm felt over the way they have done all duties already given them. The example they have set has been partly responsible for the formation of a similar body in Canada. Two Waafs, Wing Officer L. M. Crowther and Squadron Officer E. B. Bather are in Canada helping its organization.

The auxiliary force numbers some 48,000 in Britain but at the present rate of growth the figure may reach 100,000. Enlistment is open to women, married and single, between the ages of 17 1-2 and 48. It is for the duration of the war.

Once enrolled a woman is sent to a depot for two weeks disciplinary training. She learns about the R.A.F., its duties and how the W.A.A.F. helps. She is taught W.A.A.F administration and policy. Work is allotted according to qualifications in civil life. Some Waafs become armorers, electricians, air frame or engine mechanics. Others perform wireless or telephone operation. There are Waafs working at instrument repair, parachute packing and mending and airplane fabric. Many are transport drivers, transport mechanics, accountants and even pigeon keepers.

Lately Waafs have been trained in Britain's new system of radio-location of enemy aircraft and as weather observers and interpreters of reconnaissance photographs.

Paid Accordingly

Their pay is governed by their work. For non-commissioned Waafs it ranges from the equivalent of 32 cents a day to $1.60. Uniforms, accommodation and medical and dental care are free. There are allowances for dependents and compensation for disability. Officers are chosen from the ranks because of special ability. Their pay rates are from the equivalent of $1.80 a day to $5.

The W.A.A.F. equivalent of an R.A.F. or R.C.A.F. Pilot Officer is an Assistant Section Officer. Other comparative ranks are:

Flying Officer— Section Officer; Flight Lieutenant— Flight Officer; Squadron Leader— Squadron Officer; Wing Commander—Wing Officer; Group Captain—Group Officer; Air Commodore—Air Commandant; Air Vice Marshal— Air Chief Commandant; Air Marshal—Commandant in Chief.

The Waafs' work has been distinguished by their courage. There are many records of individual cases of bravery. One Waaf received the British Empire Medal for Gallantry after she pulled the injured pilot from a burning, bomb-laden plane which had crashed. The girl threw herself upon the unconscious pilot to protect him from splinters when the bombs exploded.

The Waafs were on duty as telephone operators at an R.A.F. station when Nazi bombers roared over. Their building received a direct hit but they remained on duty until it caught fire and they were ordered out. Each was awarded the Military Medal.

Another Waaf on telephone duty stayed in her office during a raid although the neighbouring building at the air field was packed with explosives. When the raid was over, she gathered an armful of red flags and went out to stick them in the ground above spots where unexploded bombs lay buried. She also received the Military Medal.

Edward Everett Horton, Robert Montgomery and Claude Rains in a scene from the new and most hilarious screen attraction ever filmed "Here Comes Mr. Jordon," which opens Sunday midnight at the McCarthy Theatre.

Trenton and District

Changes in The Teaching Staffs of Public And High Schools

Dufferin Street School Will Have Same Staff as Last Year

OTHER ITEMS

Trenton, Aug. 30 —(Special)— Pupils and teachers alike are bustling about these days in preparation for school opening next Tuesday. There will be two new public school teachers while T.H.S. will have one new member. Mr. George McIlwain, until recently principal of Point Anne school, is to succeed Mr. W. D. Whyte, who has joined the R.C.A.F. and Miss Marguerite Jackson of Carrying Place is also to be added to the teaching staff. Other teachers at College Street School are Mr. V. P. Carswell, principal; and the Misses Beal, Brundage, Broatch, Black, Fowler, Heaslip, Gallbraith, McPhail, Stauffer, Ste. Croix, Walker and Young.

Dufferin School staff remains the same as last year with Capt. F. W. Sherbert as principal, with teachers Mr. H. G. Campbell and the Misses Porter, May, Harrison, McKibbon, Dempsey, Sweetman, Meyers, Cochrane and Justus.

Changes at High School

The High School will have Miss Reta McCormick, B.A., of Toronto, as its new member along with Principal George Spencer, B.A., Miss Hazel Farley, B.A., Miss Evelyn Little, Miss Alta McIntyre, B.A., Miss M. Gothard, B.A., and Mr. Thorne Spear, B.A., Mr. William Wood, B.A., and Mr. John Garrett, B.A.

Trenton High School has already given a goodly number of her manhood to the different services, 21 having joined since war was declared, eleven going to the R.C.A.F. namely: Donald Armstrong, Taylor Beale, Ray Dolan, Ken Mann, Nelson McKibbon, Reg. Batchelor, Tom Berry, Ernest Reid, Douglas Reid, Bruce Wilson, Bob Jackson; five to the navy: Bob Armstrong, Donald Sutherland, Jimmy and Bob Heath, Bill Paro, and six to the army: Hubert Campbell, Peter C. Dempsey, Douglas Hull, Russell Moon, Allen Miller and Doug. Ritzie.

As well as giving pupils to the services the Trenton High School also gave up a valuable teacher last year in the person of Flt.-Lt. Shaw McKeown who is at present stationed at the Trenton R.C.A.F. station.

Money Making Hobby

Certainly necessity is the "Mother of Invention" for Jesse Baker, fire chief, Trenton, although he didn't actually invent the decoy necessity for a natural one led him to his present hobby.

Being an ardent duck hunter and never able to locate the right type of decoy Jesse started to carve his own and now, between fires in Trenton is always busy carving. So for this year he has made some 200 decoys and is now only anxiously waiting the opening of the duck season. His fame as a duck decoy carver has travelled far and wide and he has sold hundreds all over this continent.

Given Suspended Sentences

The two Trenton youths Alfred Squires and Melville Sexsmith who were arrested early Thursday a.m. by Constable Lozo for breaking and entering Lamore's grocery and tobacco shop on East Dundas Street were today brought before Magistrate Butler. Both lads pleaded guilty but after a severe reprimand by the Magistrate were allowed to go on suspended sentence of six months and paying cost of $19.50 each. Both youths were first offenders.

Another Lost "Bairn" Found in Trenton

Today another lost child was found wandering on the street in Trenton and taken to the police station. Wee three-year-old Roy O'Hara of Consecon, was found crying lustily on Dundas Street. Apparently Mrs. O'Hara had gone shopping in town and the little one had become lured to the intersection of Dundas Street and Front Street to watch the traffic. After a brief stay with the Chief, Roy was returned safely to his anxious mother.

Trenton Police Blotter

Thirty-five cases came before Magistrate Butler in Trenton Police Court today including everything from parking tickets to reckless driving under the code, traffic cases, theft, shop breaking and non-support. Traffic cases brought fines from one dollar to twenty-five and shop-breakers being first offenders received suspended sentence for six months' on payment of cost of $19.50 each.

The War This Week

(By LEON EDEL)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Britain and Russia won a 72-hour conflict in Iran this week to round out the second year of the war, while the shadow of the guillotine fell across the shackled former republic of France, symptom of a possible new French revolution in the making.

Bullets from the pistol of a young De Gaullist felled Pierre Laval and Marcel Deat, leading French quislings seeking "collaboration" with Germany, and the guillotine was pressed into use by Vichy to stamp out the rebellious trend, as an adjunct to Nazi firing squads.

On the Eastern front Hitler and Mussolini held what was apparently a counter-meeting to the recent Atlantic conference. For five days the would-be Caesar and the would-be Napoleon were reported to have surveyed the results of their two years' handiwork. The communique on the meeting said they discussed the "duration" of the war, a matter, which, obviously has caused them increasing concern.

Example of Speedy Conquest

Britain and Russia showed them the example of a quickly won conflict in Iran, where German infiltration had presented a serious threat to the Allied position in the Middle East and the Russian Caucasus. Resistance in the ancient land of the Persians was reported insignificant, and a reorganized cabinet at Teheran announced itself ready to discuss terms. Presence of Germans in key positions in Iran had caused Britain to fear a coup such as occurred last Spring in Iraq.

Wounding of Laval and Deat was the most dramatic of a series of events in occupied and unoccupied France that included sabotaging of railways and supplies and assassination of a Nazi colonel. Nazi threats to put masses of hostages before firing squads apparently did not frighten the resolute French.

Promises Delivery

Prime Minister Churchill struck a hopeful note for this 104th. week of the war in an eloquent broadcast in which he pointed to Germany's great losses in Russia and promised deliverance to the occupied countries. At the same time he gave a pledge of the British assistance to the United States if it should be unable to reach an understanding with Japan. The Japanese showed considerable exasperation during the week over movement of American supplies to Russia through Japanese waters and this precipitated increased tension between Washington and Tokyo.

After nine days of rumor Moscow confirmed that the great Dnieperstoy Dam, symbol of Russia's industrial coming-of-age, had been destroyed to block the path of the Nazi invader, loosing tons of water and paralyzing a great industrial area.

The Russians withdrew from Novgorod, on the road to endangered Leningrad, but fought a fierce counter-offensive in the central sector. Everywhere along the great front there were signs that Russian resistance was undiminished, particularly its capacity for counter-attack. At the end of ten weeks of war the Nazis had not reached a single major objective in Russia—these being Leningrad, Moscow, Kiev and Odessa, although Odessa is besieged and Leningrad is in grave danger. However, the Nazis claimed Tallinn in Russia's Estonian buffer, which would give them control of the Baltic waters, although not necessarily its air.

Premier Inspects Troops

In the imperial scene Prime Minister Mackenzie King inspected troops, attended war cabinet meetings, and a spent a week-end with Mr. Churchill, filling in crowded days in London and the English countryside during his first visit to Britain since war began. In far-off Australia Prime Minister Robert Menzies terminated a political storm that centred about his desire to go to London to attend war cabinet meetings by resigning. He was succeeded by Arthur Fadden, who heads the coalition which will attempt to stay in power against a strong Labor opposition.

Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand conferred with officials in Washington during a visit to the United States after conferences in London, and the Duke of Kent, during a three day visit as guest of President Roosevelt renewed the ties established between the Royal Family and the American leader during the historic visit of the King and Queen in 1939.

Glancing Back 25 Years.

Rumania joined the Entente Allies August 27, 1916, by declaring war on Austria-Hungary. Italy declared war on Germany the same day. Rumanian troops attacked immediately on the west and advanced into Transylvania.

BANCROFT

27 Police Court Cases Heard at Bancroft Before J. L. Lloyd

Bancroft (Special)—Magistrate J. L. Lloyd, of Northbrook, presided over the biggest court held in Bancroft in the past three years which consisted of twenty-seven cases, twenty-five found guilty and two adjourned.

Three residents of Boulter, Douglas Prentice, Carl Kennedy and Roy Wilson charged with attempting to break and enter at the home of Howard McLean, were found guilty and each party paid $7.25 costs and placed on suspended sentence.

Isaac Stein of Whitby charged with careless driving was represented in court by W. J. A. Fair, of Peterborough, was found guilty and assessed $5.00 and $14.25 costs.

Harvey Nell, of Coe Hill, charged with obstruction of a police officer when he refused to leave the office when requested to by the police was found guilty and was placed on a year's suspended sentence and paid $5.75 court costs.

Frank Cross of Coe Hill, charged with causing a disturbance was fined $10.00 and costs.

As the result of taking part in an affray in Coe Hill on August 15th, Albert Gilroy, Ira Smith, Roy Wilson, Vernal Peters and Harry Trembley were found guilty being placed on one month's suspended sentence and each paying costs amounting to $7.25.

Ira Smith and Robert Anderson of Coe Hill, were convicted under the L.C.A. were assessed each $10.00 and costs.

George Boyd, of Coe Hill, was found guilty on a charge of supplying liquor to minors received a one month's jail sentence.

M. J. McGhee, of Bancroft, was convicted on the second offence within one year of breach of the L.C.A. and was fined $50.00 and costs.

R. W. Robinson was found guilty of drunk driving and was sentenced to ten days in jail dating from day of arrest August 16th and costs of $4.75. On a charge of careless driving he was found guilty and paid a total of $24.55. Found guilty on a charge of obstruction of a police officer while on duty and also resisting arrest and was remanded for sentence until September 9th.

Alec Carmichael and Phil Switzer were found guilty on breach of the L.C.A. and each paid $10.00 and costs.

Donald Spence charged with causing disturbance in a public place had his case laid over until next court.

Truman McDonald convicted on a charge of careless driving.

Merle Coe convicted on a charge of making unnecessary noise by honking a car horn after midnight and paid $5.00 and costs.

As a result of an investigation by Provincial Constable S. W. Palmateer and County Constable G. P. Wells which resulted in the arrest of George Boyd of Coe Hill on August 18th a quantity of liquor was seized from Charles Wease of Glenalda, Chandos Township, Peterborough County. The case will be prosecuted in Peterborough court and Wease will be charged with keeping liquor for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, of Bancroft motored to Locksley on Tuesday to attend the funeral of their cousin, the late Mr. Keith Sparling, who was killed recently in an accident at Coppercliff while in the employ of the International Nickle Company.

Miss Kathleen Reid, of Toronto, is vacationing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reid, of Bancroft.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Blatherwick and Bobbie, and Mrs. R. G. Kellar motored to Belleville on Monday.

Miss Verna Kelusky spent Monday shopping in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Maxwell and family returned home Monday evening, having spent the week-end motoring through sections of Western Ontario and also attending the Toronto exhibition.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Maxwell and family attended the Toronto exhibition the fore part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Brinklow motored to Campbellford Monday, visiting with relatives.

Mrs. D. E. Nawley was removed to the local Red Cross Hospital in Bancroft Monday evening where her condition is improving steadily.

Mrs. E. Hagerman, Mrs. Clarence Marston and Miss Dorothy Hagerman motored to Belleville on Thursday.

Mrs. James Price and her sister, Mrs. A. Jordison, returned home Wednesday evening from Cobourg where they had spent a two week vacation visiting at the home of their niece, Mrs. Roy Rogers.

She Does Her Bit

She lives alone at 68 East Moira Street and has no near relatives in Canada, the land of her adoption. Although she had lived in Belleville for 53 years, she is an unnaturalized citizen and circumstances insist that she report to the Police Station monthly.

Nevertheless, the heart within her breast beats in compassion for the innocent sufferers of ruthless bombing raids against a civilian population and she despises the leaders of the regime who have caused this untold suffering.

She is an old lady. She could not possibly give active assistance in the relief of bombed victims, but she did what she could. Mrs. N. Argentine, that is her name, sold flowers from her garden, flowers which she has tenderly cared for and the proceeds of the sale amounting to two dollars has been turned over to the British War Victims' Fund.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop was home this afternoon on account of Sattiday, and it was pretty hot and pop was upstairs reading the paper in his shorts and undershirt, saying, Where's my pipe, a pipe is the proper smoke with this costume if I remember my Emily Post corectly.

And he started to look around for it, saying, Confound it, why should a pipe always be harder to find than a cigar?

And he went down to the living room to see if it was there and just then we heard ma coming in the front door and we could hear her talking to another lady, proving she wasn't alone, and pop said, Yee gods I'm trapped.

Meaning he only had his underware on, being more than most bathing suits but it was underware just a same, and he quick took the glass thing full of flowers off the piano and put it on the floor and grabbed the piano cover and put it around him and ran upstairs, and ma came in with the lady, being Mrs. Hews, and the first thing ma saw was hte flowers on the floor, saying, Well what's this, and where's the piano cover? Benny, what have you been up to? she said, and I said, Who, me?

Now dont play sweet innocents, I know you too well, ma said. If you didn't remove that piano cover, who did? she said.

Me thinking, Good night, if they hear it was pop it will be just as bad as seeing him, and I said Some man took it.

Now Benny I hope you're not telling me a deliberate story, ma said, and I said, No mam, G wizzickers and ma said, Well then what man are you talking about, please be definite, and I said, It wasn't the laundry man, that's definite, ma. It was just some man that needed protection, I said.

Benny Potts where is my piano cover for the last time? ma said, and just then pop called down Benny, come up here.

Proving he was listening and wanted to end the argument, and I quick ran upstairs to pop and we heard ma and Mrs. Hews laughing like anything.

Proving ladies are good guesser

TINY TRIO BOOKED FOR 'FROLIC-LAND'

Jack, Pearl and Duke are a trio of singing and dancing "little folks" and they are featured in Al Thels' "Tiny Town Revue," one of the smash hit attractions booked for "Frolic-Land" at the Belleville Fair beginning Sept. 8th. The lilliputians have toured in vaudeville and have made several Hollywood sojourns. They had roles in the movie version of the "Wizard of Oz" and played important parts in a more recent cinema with Dorothy Lamour. They did not, however, don sarongs.

Bridge Street United Church
REV. J. SEMPLE, B.A., S.T.B., Th.D., Minister
August Supply:
HON. FLT. LT. REV. G. W. PORTER, M.A., B.D.
Morning Worship 11.00 a.m.
PREACHER:
PILOT OFFICER GEORGE LAMBERT, of Vancouver
Soloist—MISS MARGARET HOUSTON—"The King of Love."
Evening Worship 7.00 p.m.
"WAR AND THE WRATH OF GOD"
PREACHER:
FLT. LT. REV. G. W. PORTER, M.A., B.D.
Soloist—MR. JAMES BANKIER.
A WELCOME TO ALL.
Alec Gordon, Organist. Leona Riggs, Choir Leader

TABERNACLE UNITED CHURCH
REV. J. W. HOUSTON, B.A., B.D. - - Minister
GUEST PREACHER FOR AUGUST.
THE REVEREND ARCHIBALD YOUNG, M.A., D.D.
ILDERTON, ONTARIO
A Series of Sermons on "The Christian Way of Life"
SERMON V—
"The Contagious Life"
Sunday mornings at 11 a.m. Come and bring your friends.
Organist and Choir Leader:—MRS. DUFF.

HOLLOWAY STREET UNITED CHURCH
REV. J. A. DILTS - - Minister
9.45 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
11.00 a.m.—REV. J. D. P. KNOX.
8.00 p.m.—GOSPEL SERVICE IN S.S. ROOM.
"Cool as a Cave"
Wm. Conner, organist. S. M. Anglin, choir leader

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
REV. W. J. WALKER, B.A., B.D., Minister.
11.00 A.M.
The Minister Will be in Charge
No Evening Services During July and August.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND
CHRIST CHURCH ST. THOMAS CHURCH
12th Sunday after Trinity. Rev. Rural Dean A. Beauchamp Payne in Charge During August
8 a.m.—Holy Communion Christ Church. 11 a.m.—Matins. Church of St. Thomas.
7.00 p.m.—Evensong in Christ Church.

EMMANUEL CHURCH
(Reformed Episcopal) (Victoria Ave.)
10.00 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
NO MORNING SERVICE.
7.00 p.m.—Speaker: REV. S. R. FORMAN.

VICTORIA AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. H. O. EASTMAN
11.00 a.m.—"THIS IS VICTORY."
7.00 p.m.—"GEMS FOR HIS CROWN"
10.15 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
Music:—Mr. and Mrs. John Deacon

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
(I.O.O.F TEMPLE, 271½ FRONT STREET)
SERVICE 11 a.m. SUNDAY SCHOOL 11.00 a.m.
Testimonial Meeting First Wednesday of Each Month at 8 p.m.
Subject: "CHRIST JESUS".
THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND THESE SERVICES

BETHEL HALL
Corner Church and Station Streets
9.45 a.m.—Sunday School. Classes for all Ages.
11.00 a.m.—REMEMBERING THE LORD.
7.00 p.m.—EVENING SERVICE.
Speaker: MR. F. R. PEER.
Prayer Meeting and Bible Study, THURSDAY, 8 p.m.

ALLIANCE TABERNACLE
Cor. West Moira and Coleman Sts. REV. C. V. FREEMAN, Pastor
11.00 a.m.—THE CHRISTIAN'S RESPONSIBILITY.
10.00 a.m.—Sunday School.
7.00 p.m.—A CHANGE OF CLOTHING.
Tuesday, 8 p.m. Prayer Meeting. Friday, 8 p.m. Young Peoples'.

HOW TO BECOME A CHILD OF GOD will be the subject at 7.30 Sunday Evening D. V. in EVANGEL TEMPLE
"Belleville's Evangelistic Centre Where All Are Welcome."
Bridge West and Coleman Streets. E. N. O. KULBECK, Pastor
10 a.m. Sunday School. 11 a.m. "My Servant is Dead, Therefore Arise."
Heart-Warming Week Night Services, TUESDAY and THURSDAY at 8.
STIRRING SING-SONG OF GOSPEL HYMNS. SPECIAL MUSIC

THE
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER
THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon (Sundays and holidays excepted) at The Ontario Intelligencer Building, Front Street, Belleville.
MEMBER OF CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION
MEMBER OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
MEMBER OF THE CANADIAN PRESS
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or to The Associated Press in this paper and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.
W. H. MORTON, Publisher.

THE DICTATORS' STATEMENT

Hitler's headquarters has issued a statement at the close of the Axis conference which ended Friday on the Eastern front. It is brief and offers very little detail. There is no promise of approaching success. One of the first things mentioned as having been under discussion is "the duration of the war." But not a word is said in amplification of this. There is no doubt this reference to duration is injected to give a very broad hint to the Germans and Italians that the time is not near as they had been led to believe. A few words farther on in the statement there is this high-sounding remark, "the discussions were permeated with the unchangeable will of both peoples and their leaders to wage a war to a victorious end." That suggests that the end, as the Axis wishes it, is farther away than ever.

The official statement mentioned the Axis "new order for Europe." But it gives no data. Hitler's pledges of a "new order" are to be looked upon in the light of his past record for broken pledges and deceit.

The statement took space twice to mention the menace of Bolshevism. Hitler has been very anxious that he might be looked on as the champion of the nations against Bolshevism. This is generally believed to have been the hope in his mind when he went to war against Russia. But no one looks upon Hitler, the breaker of pledges, as a champion against Communism, for the world knows that the war is one of aggression on Hitler's part to try to loot Russia and remove her from the possible ranks of opponents against him in his march to dominate the world.

A little reference is injected maybe for the glorification of Mussolini and the Fascists, when the statement mentions "one of the Italian divisions employed in the fight against Bolshevism."

There is no direct mention of the campaign against Russia. The German leader and the high command are growing anxious as time flies and brings nearer autumn and winter.

It is sometimes said that the Axis dictators meet on the eve of a surprise. Is Hitler preparing a surprise? Time will tell, if there is to be a new piece of strategy.

How different from this vague Axis statement was the story of the declaration of the Atlantic Conference recently of Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt! Premising their statement with the pledge to crush the tyranny of Nazism, the democratic leaders were concrete in their references to their ideals for the post-war world and these bear the stamp of truth upon them but there is no evidence of sincerity or truth in the Axis statement. Dictators who have done what Hitler and Mussolini have done or tried to do to the world can hardly be expected to make a statement that rings with truth. The actions of Hitler and his Fascist henchman speak too loud.

"PARCHED EARTH"

The great Dnieper dam has been blown up by the Russians as the price they were ready to pay to leave the Hun nothing but ruins as the reward of his attacks.

This dam has been looked upon by the Russians as their proudest undertaking for the development of the Russia of the future. Its building is proof of the imaginative grasp of the Russian mind. It was the year 1927 before the project was started with engineers brought from abroad.

It was a dream come true. It was to the Russian mind the symbol of a Russia with a vast future.

Some said it would be a real test whether the Soviet could decide on the destruction. Russia did stand the test and orders were given for its destruction "as not to allow this first child of the first five year plan" to be used by and become one of profit to the enemy.

This is an example of the 'parched earth policy.' Russia is in a peculiar position to adopt such a plan because of her vast resources and vast extent of territory. In the words of Vice-Commissar Lozovsky "they (the enemy) get neither raw materials nor plants nor food supplies." Russia will hurl her armies as well as her armed forces against the Huns and will use time, autumn and winter as her allies.

OURSELVES AND OTHERS...

BY

Geo. Lerouy

GET GLASSES, LADS, YOU HADN'T "OUGHTER" LOOK, WHEN SKIRTS ARE THIS MUCH (3") SHORTER

The suggestion on the part of the National Women's. Undergarment Manufacturer's Association convention held recently in New York City that milady's dresses be shortened three inches, met with a decided thumbs down on the part of Belleville maids and matrons in a consensus garnered yestereve.

No siree! the female hereabouts both married and sensible will pitch hay in the fields, press the old man's pants, weed the garden, mow the lawn, drive the kids to school on rainy days, pack lunches, work in factories, drive trucks, and numerous other things, but when it comes to going on parade in skirts that show three inches of expanse above the knee-cap—that's out, definitely.

"Ridiculous," snorted a blimp-like gal who tips the scales at one-eighty pounds. "Look at me? Isn't it bad enough to trot down the street looking like two animated captive balloons? If I have to wear shorter dresses some smart-alec circus talent scout would offer me a job. Quote me as saying a great big 'NO.' "

"Not a bad idea, buddy," murmured a svelte steno in a downtown office. "I'm not so bad in a bathing suit, and that three inches clipped off the kilts would get me some of the popularity I had while vacationing on the beach."

"So the idea of shortening the skirts is to conserve textiles, is it?" said a comely young matron with a dangerous glint in her eye.

"Well, knowing my husband as I do, they had better keep the skirts at the same length or longer. If they shorten them, between the eyestrain he's going to suffer trying to look both sides of the street at once, and the shiners he is liable to get if I catch him, they had better open a clinic here for eyesore husbands."

"I should say not," snorted an elderly gal who recently celebrated the fourth anniversary of her 42nd birthday. "It is bad enough as it is. What with these young things already showing their knee-caps just to catch men, what chance would we girls have, who through no fault of our own, have missed Cupid's darts! And especially when so many young handsome lonely airmen who desire sensible company are in the vicinity."

"O.K." we murmured, as a friendly cop threw water in the reportorial face. "We're all right now."

Opinion was divided with the male of the species. "Keep 'em the same length," grinned a Front Street apothecary. "I've still got an imagination, even if I am married, and I want to keep on using it."

"It isn't exactly fair to the boys, or to the gals either," ruminated a middle-aged business executive. "Why I know three guys who married three sisters in the days when skirts kissed boot-tops. They went to the same place on their honeymoon and imagine the boys' surprise when one day they saw the gals strolling along the beach. Two were so bow-legged and the other so knock-kneed, that they spelt a perfect "OXO" as they walked. That was tough on the lads, but the gals got a break."

"Why not shorten the skirts?" said the proprietor of a shop which sells ladies apparel. "Shucks, on the beach they wear abbreviated bathing suits, and love it. It is as fair for the men as the women. See the three gals coming down the street. Two have everything, but the one in the centre couldn't catch a pig in an alley if she tried a year."

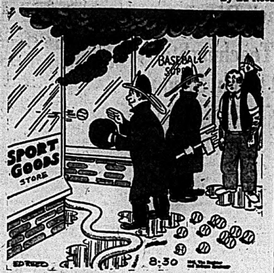
"Keep 'em the same length," growled a confirmed bachelor. "In fact let em wear them to their ankles. After all, it is the men who control women's fashions and the short skirt was originally invented by some fashion nut who had a bad memory."

"Legs, legs," grunted another middle-aged business exec. "That is all the young fry think about. Why don't they study a woman's face. There they will find intellect, charm and beauty. Don't quote my opinion, and please get out of here. I've got an appointment in Toronto as judge for a bathing beauty contest."

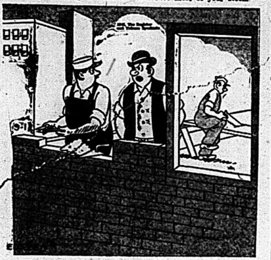
So in the near future we may, in this fair city, see its good youth, and beauty of all ages, dressed in slacks or johdpurs. They may even invade the realm of men's suits, which after all, is about the only thing the gals haven't taken over.

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed Reed



"Stop worrying! I think we can save most of your stock."



"Kindly remember, only the carpenters' union handles pencil sharpening here!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 30th., 1921.

Lord Byng, Governor General of Canada, will open the Picton Fair on Sept. 21st.

In front of Mr. C. E. Bishop's Seed Store there was displayed to day a stock of corn which measured in height 15 feet and 4 inches. The corn was grown by Mr. Hillman, Sr., of Rossmore from seed supplied by Mr. Bishop. The corn is named No. 7 Wisconsin.

The tax rate of Marmora Village this year will be 56 mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barrett and Miss Barrett motored to Napanee yesterday and visited Mr. and Mrs. John Welsh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Esmond, Foster Avenue, left to day for Toronto where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Fred Ketcheson.

30 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 30th., 1911.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Reid left to day for St. Louis after visiting relatives here.

Messrs. C. E. Hamilton and W. F. Diamond left to day for Calgary, Alberta.

"Cap." Robinson of Chicago, Ill., a popular Belleville old boy, is being welcomed home by many friends.

The Clan Johnston Pipers' Band of this city has been engaged to play for two days at the Perth Fair.

Mr. W. Bentley of Trenton was in town to day.

Mr. R. F. Anderson of Detroit, Mich., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson in this city.

40 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 30th., 1901.

Mr. J. P. Byrne of Oswego, and Miss Maggie Byrne of New York City, are here to visit their mother.

Mrs. B. Smith of Watertown, N. Y., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Falls, Frank Street.

Dr. Faulkner of Foxboro has been selected as one of the delegates to the Supreme Court of Independent Foresters which will meet in Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Charles Taylor of Toronto, formerly of Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. W. B. Deacon will leave on Monday for New York City.

Mr. J. P. C. Phillips is spending a few days in Toronto.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 30th., 1891.

The Rev. M. W. Maclean, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Maclean have arrived home after spending some time in the Old Country and on the continent.

Mr. A. E. Sager of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Trail and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gibson of Rochester, N. Y., are visiting friends here.

Prof. Strough of Belleville Business College has returned home after spending some time with friends in New York State.

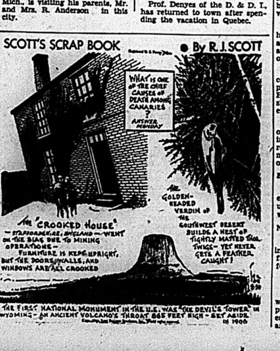
Dr. and Mrs. Farley have returned home from Old Orchard Beach where they spent the summer.

Mrs. Miller of Chicago, Ill., is visiting her father, Mr. S. A. Moore, Ann Street.

Prof. Denyes of the D. & D. I., has returned to town after spending the vacation in Quebec.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

● By R. J. SCOTT



WHAT IS ONE OF THE CHIEF CAUSES OF DEATH AMONG CANARIES ? ANSWER MONDAY
THE "CROOKED HOUSE" —STAFFORDSHIRE, ENGLAND—WENT ON THE BIAS DUE TO MINING OPERATIONS— FURNITURE IS KEPT UPRIGHT, BUT THE DOORS, WALLS, AND WINDOWS ARE ALL CROOKED
THE GOLDEN-HEADED VERDIN OF THE SOUTHWEST DESERT BUILDS A NEST OF TIGHTLY MATTED THORN TWIGS—YET NEVER GETS A FEATHER CAUGHT!
THE FIRST NATIONAL MONUMENT IN THE U.S. WAS "THE DEVIL'S TOWER" IN WYOMING—AN ANCIENT VOLCANO'S THROAT 865 FEET HIGH—SET ASIDE IN 1906
8-30

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

The Stomach in War and Peace

We have all heard the expression that "An army marches on its stomach". This means that unless food can be transported to the soldiers regularly and in sufficient quantities the soldiers will be unable to march or fight.

While this will always be true, it is now known that even if food is present and in abundance, the stomach can still be the cause of the feaiure of soldiers to be able to march and fight. This is because war, the tenseness of war, can so upset the nervous system that the stomach, nervous in turn, cannot properly handle food and so digestive disturbances particularly ulcer of stomach and first part of small intestine (peptic ulcer) result.

In an editorial in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. A. G. Nicholls editor, states that peptic ulcer is the main or major disability of war time.

"So frequent were the ulcer cases during the early months of the war that a Commission was appointed in Britain to investigate the matter. It was found that about 12 in every 100 cases returned from the war zone to Britain were suffering with peptic ulcer."

It is known that even in peace time, worry is a big factor in causing peptic ulcer. It was found that while worry was still a big factor in war time there were other factors also that were causes of peptic ulcer. These other factors are: family history or characteristic of ulcer, unsuitable food and overwork. While they cause the ulcer in war time, they can also cause ulcer in peace time.

"In the opinion of the Commission, the most important single factor in the causation of peptic ulcer is the change from the "selected" diet of home to the rigid routine of the army ration". They noted too that 38 per cent of the ulcer patients had teeth that were not equal to the task of chewing the food properly though only 15 per cent had infected teeth.

As a matter of fact, the man had the peptic ulcer before the war but at home he could select his food; in the army he cannot do so. At home he can rest when he feels like it; in the army he cannot. At home his worries can sometimes be avoided or lessened; in the army they are unavoidable and more intense.

Newest Notes of Science

The government of Bombay has begun a visual education plan under which motion pictures will be shown by battery operated projectors regularly even in the smallest villages.

Field survey cars that travel over 60,000 miles of back roads each year are used by radio broadcasting system to chart the strength of signals from its network of stations.

The Brazilian state of Bahia is estimated to have produced 200,000 60 kilogram bags of coffee in the season ending with June and expects to have a larger crop in the coming year.

An aircraft corporation has developed a two seated airplane that is operated by only a hand throttle and steering wheel, its only pedal being used to operate its brake.

Two hundred private water and steam power plants, power transmitting lines and transformer stations in Japan will be taken over by a government controlled company beginning in October.

Nails with the heads covered with grids have been invented to be inserted between wall boards instead of through them for use in places where walls are subjected to strains and vibrations.

A new signal system for motor trucks sounds a buzzer and switches on dashboard lights when the pressure in a tire falls below a desired minimum, a different light bebing used for each tire on a vehicle.

An inventor has combined a holder for a package of cigarettes, a packet of paper matches and an ash tray in a device to be mounted on an automobile steering column.

The Haitian government has contracted with a European company to establish a shoe factory in Haiti to train Haitians to become skilled workers and administrative employes.

Resembling the familiar crank operated egg beater is a kitchen implement invented by a woman resident of Tacoma, Wash., for mashing and fluffing potatoes in one operation.

B.C. Lead Mines—

Lead is obtained in Canada largely from the ores of British Columbia where production began with 88,665 pounds in 1891.

Nickel for Aye!—

The proved deposits of nickel ore in Canada are estimated to be sufficient to meet world requirements for many years.

CHILI SAUCE FOR SOUP

If you want to pep up soup—when it is ready for the table—put a little chili sauce on top of each portion. This steps up flavor and color appeal.

RED AIR FORCE STILL A POTENT FORCE IN WAR

Believed it is Likely to Remain Major Worry to Nazis During Winter

PERSONNEL INTACT

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, Aug. 30—(AP)—After more than two months of warfare it is becoming evident, military sources said today, that Russia's air force not only retains its striking power but also is likely to remain a major worry to the invading Germans throughout the winter.

A seeming contradiction exists between the maintenance of Russian air power and the progressive retreat of the Red armies.

Actually, the inability of the Germans to establish air superiority, well-informed authorities point out, has been largely responsible for the failure of the Germans to carry on their lightning war tactics so successful in Poland, Norway, the Low Countries, France and the Balkans.

It is safe to assume Russian air power, moreover, has been a considerable drain on the Nazi air force.

In spite of a concentration of the German air force on the eastern front, the Russians continue to strike regularly from the air both at the offending German columns and behind the German lines as well.

The Russian raid on the East Prussian city of Konigsberg yesterday is a case in point. At the same time Russian planes claimed to have sunk two German transports in the Baltic.

Significance is attached to the failure of the Germans to continue their air attacks on Moscow. Leningrad, threatened for weeks, has put up a successful resistance with the help of the Red air force.

Contributing to the Russian air strength is the fact the High Command has had no worry over the replacement of personnel lost in combat. No evidence has appeared that such replacements will be a problem in the months to come.

The most telling evidence of the Germans' failure to establish air superiority lies in Marshal Budenny's apparent successful effort to withdraw the bulk of his army on the southern front across the Dnieper River. The task never could have been accomplished without exceptionally strong support from the air.

MYSTERY KNIGHT ON SECRET WORK

No Doubt Somebody Knows Why George Binney Now "Sir" but Public Doesn't

London, August 30 — (CP) — Forty-year-old Sir George Binney is called Britain's mystery knight. He has been knighted by King George at Buckingham Palace for work likely to remain secret until after the war. The only official explanation is that Sir George rendered "special services in the supply of valuable war material."

An explorer, Sir George led an expedition into the Arctic in 1929. He was then at Oxford. He has headed a number of other exploration parties.

After leaving the university, he joined the United Steel Company. Since the war, he has been with the Iron and Steel Control of the Ministry of Supply.

Gold Producer, 75 Years—

Canada has been a gold-producing country for more than 75 years.

How They Rank Navy, Army, Air

Officers of the Royal Navy, the Army and the Royal Air Force rank with one another as follows in the United Kingdom and the Dominions:

	ROYAL NAVY	ARMY	ROYAL AIR FORCE
1.	Admiral of the Fleet	Field Marshal	Marshal of the Royal Air Force
2.	Admiral	General	Air Chief Marshal
3.	Vice-Admiral	Lieutenant-General	Air Marshal
4.	Rear-Admiral	Major - General	Air Vice-Marshal
5.	Commodore	Brigadier	Air Commodore
6.	Captain	Colonel	Group Captain
7.	Commander	Lieutenant-Colonel	Wing Commander
8.	Lieutenant Com.	Major	Squadron Leader
9.	Lieutenant	Captain	Flight Lieutenant
10.	Sub-Lieutenant (and Mate)	Lieutenant	Flying Officer (or Observer)
11.	Commissioned Officer from Warrant Rank	Second Lieutenant	Pilot Officer

x (Commissioned Officers of the Royal Maritimes rank at all times according to seniority with army officers of the same titles.)

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

(Copyright, 1941, Edgar A. Guest.)

THE POOR FISH

A fish there was, a small mouthed bass,
Who saw a gleaming bit of white,
A minnow he refused to pass;
An easy morsel of delight,
A tempting mouthful he could take
And not the slightest effort make.

"Ah," thought the wily bass, "'tis plain
The foolish to the wise are prey,
Disdaining laws of loss and gain
A trusting role in life they play,
While others who are much more shrewd
With little labor win their food.

"Something for nothing can be had
If one is sharp and wise as I.
The bass that's clever, I may add,
With little pains his meal may buy.
Here is a dinner wholly free
Offered in friendship unto me."

He gulped, and then the hook was struck!
And man above exclaimed with glee:
"Another fish is out of luck,
Thinking to get his dinner free.
Another landed in the net
Seeking an easy meal to get!"

YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

By GEORGE W. STIMPSON

Protected, 1941, by The George Adams Service.

SKIMBLE SKAMBLE STUFF

Clayton Blowers, of Boonton, New Jersey, walked 40,000 miles during the 20 years he served as a caddy for golfers.

Caddy (also spelled "caddie") is derived from French "cadet" meaning a younger son or a student.

Mary Queen of Scots, who was educated in France, is supposed to have been the first to call the boy who carried her golf clubs a "cadet" which the Scotch corrupted into "caddie."

American "cadet," a young man in military or naval training, and the British "cad," a person devoid of gentlemanly instincts, are from the same source.

"Farewell" is merely a shortened form of "Fare you well," meaning may you fare well while we are separated.

"Good-by" is an altered form of "God be with you."

"Adieu" is French from Latin "ad Deum," to God, and implies that the one using it as a parting word asks the blessing of Heaven on the one departing.

The more informal "So long" suggests that those parting expect to meet again soon.

It is familiar and friendly but not quite so cheery as the British parting words "Toodle-oo," "Ta-Ta" and "Pip-Pip."

The treaty of Quadalupe-Hildago, by which the United States acquired more than 500,000 square miles of territory from Mexico, was negotiated by a private American citizen in violation of a federal statute.

This treaty was negotiated by Nicholas P. Trist in 1848 after President Polk had revoked his commission and asserted that "he possesses no diplomatic powers."

Although Polk branded Trist as "an impudent and unqualified scoundrel," he submitted the Trist treaty to the U.S. Senate and it was ratified by both the United States and Mexico.

Technically Trist had negotiated the treaty in the capacity of a private citizen and in direct violation of the Logan act forbidding private citizens to deal on behalf of the government with foreign nations.

There are about 4,000 different species of mammals living in the world today.

Although pandas have a bear-like appearance, scientifically they are more closely related to the racoon than they are to the bears.

The secretary bird is so called because its crest is fancied to resemble a bunch of goose-quill pens stuck behind a clerk's ear.

THIRD YEAR WAR FINDS DOMINION TRIPLY GUARDED

Huge Increases in Sea, Land and Air Power Gives Canada Striking Forces for Defence and March on Enemy

By FRANK FLAHERTY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa (CP)—Canada, one of the most disarmed of all nations two years ago now boasts a navy of 250 ships, an army corps ready for instant action and an air force striking at the enemy.

Apart from actual increases in the size of the fighting forces, the first two years of war against Germany brought sweeping changes in methods of recruiting, training and organization as Canada pieced emphasis on air power, mechanizing and speeding up of land forces.

The air force was the only arm to come into steady fighting. The navy has suffered losses in convoy protection, submarine hunting and other brushes with the enemy. The army has yet to get into battle with the enemy although there have been casualties in some branches of the service in Britain.

Canada's small military force of 4,500 permanent soldiers and 55,000 militiamen has grown to more than 23,000 in the active army and 170,000 in the reserve army. Of the Active Army personnel more than 90,000 are overseas, in the United Kingdom, the West Indies or Newfoundland.

In the United Kingdom a Canadian army corps of two divisions forms part of the regular defences of Great Britain. The 3rd Division and an army tank brigade areon British soil completing final training before joining the corps. A Canadian armored division is due there some time this year. In Canada parts of another fully organized division stands guard in the coastal areas and another, the sixth, is in process of organization.

Modernization

When war broke out the equipment of the Canadian army consisted of rifles and machine guns, left over from the First Great War, some field artillery pieces and coastal defence guns.

Since then tanks, bren-gun carriers, thousands of various types of trucks and trackers and motorcycles, bren machine guns, anti-tank and anti-aircraft guns, new 25-pounder field guns, have been added to the army's fighting tools. Perhaps the most notable change in army organization since the start of hostilities has been the inclusion of an army tank brigade as a standard part of a division and the creation of the new type armored division, complete itself.

Training of officers and men for such an army demands concentration ad much specialization. Thus soldiers, in the main, now are schooled in training centres rather than in the units with which they will fight.

Enactment of the national resources Mobilization Act which was followed by the introduction of compulsory military training brought changes in methods of recruiting. Up to date more than 100,000 men in the age classes of 21 to 24 have been called up. Many of them enlisted for active service during or on completion of their compulsory training. Those now being calle daze retained in the army for service in Canada if they do not volunteer for overseas service.

From 13 ships and 3,600 men at the outbreak of war the Canadian navy has grown to 250 ships and more than 28,000 men. Additions in numbers of ships include six destroyers acquired from the United States, three passenger ships converted into armed merchant cruisers, large numbers of corvettes and minesweepers.

One destroyer was lost in a collision off the coast of France and another in a similar mishap while crossing the Atlantic. One was badly damaged by a torpedo. A minesweeper was lost in a storm.

The armed merchant cruiser Prince Robert captured a German freighter, The Wesser, off the west coast of Mexico and the destroyer Assiniboine aided in the capture of the German passenger ship Hannover in the Carribean.

For more than a year and a half Canadian destroyers have been on active service in British waters and since the start of the war they have played an active role in the convoying of ships from Canadian ports. A few weeks ago ships of the Canadian navy aided in protecting President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill during their ship-board meeting.

Air Activities

In air activity Canada fills a special role as the operating centre of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. The major task assigned to the Royal Canadian Air Froce which has grown from a few thousand men on the outbreak of war to more than 60,000 today was the setting up and operation of the 90 odd schools and other establishments needed to turn out pilots, air observers and air gunners at a rate designed to give the British Empire air forces overwhelming strength.

That training system now approaches full operation and Canadian, British, Australian, and New Zealand airmen in appreciable but undisclosed numbers receive their wings each month and proceed overseas to man the squadrons which go out each night to bomb territory or which fight off enemy raiders attacking Great Britain.

Canada's Air Force

From the first of the war, however, Canada has maintained its own fighting air force distinct from the air training plan. That force includes the home war establishment assigned to the defence of Canadian coasts and inland areas and a umber of squadros overseas.

With the inflow of large numbers of Canadian volunteers into the Royal Air Force, as distinct from the Royal Canadian Air Force through the operation of the plan it was decided to group them in Canadian formations under Canadian command.

That process now is under way and according to the latest official statement on the matter 13 out of 25 proposed Canadian squadrons have been organized overseas. These are in addition to two fighter and an army co-operation squadron which went overseas as units in 1940 and served under Canadian command from the start.

As a further move to Canadianize that section of the Royal Air Force in which Canadians serve it has now been decided to staff the 25 squadrons with Canadian ground crews. At first it was contemplated that only air crews would be sent overseas and that they would serve in squadrons manned by British ground crews.

HARRIS' BREAD

Invitation to Quality

WE have been asked by the Government to go 50/50 with our fighting forces in the conservation of Gasoline, so vitally needed to propel our vehicles of defence.

Never in the history of our Empire have we been called upon to defeat as great a job as the Nazis. Our RESOURSES ARE and WILL have to be used with the greatest of caution, in order that our Army, Navy and Airforce are supplied with the sinews of war and feed our population making guns, shells, planes, tanks, etc.

Our city like all other centres is geared with enough equipment to supply local consumption.

Our city is being flooded with Bread trucked hundreds of miles by people who pay no taxes, who in a great many cases sell their product at 10c per unit at the point of manufacture, dump it here for 8c at your expense and mine, Mr. Taxpayer.

It is a vicious system in peace time, but absolutely ridiculous in war time, when our liberty depends on the support given our gallant fighting forces, both here and in the Motherland.

You can help our fighting forces both here and abroad, by buying your bakery products from the Harris Bread, bakers of Quality Products since 1897—may we say serving the citizens of Belleville diligently and faithfully before trucks were made.

Read This and Show it to Your Neighbour!

Marmora

Marmora—Mr. M. Lavendes, son Glen and daughter Anne and Mr. H. Hewitt spent Wednesday in Toronto.

Mr. J. W. Hickey and daughter, Isobel, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Forestell, spent a few days in Toronto this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meehan and family have returned home from a motor trip in Northern Ontario.

Mr. Gordon Davis has resigned his position on the teaching staff of Marmora Public School and he and Mrs. Davis moved to Buckhorn on Friday where he has been appointed teacher of the Public School.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gowling and daughter Joan of Ottawa are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Reynolds.

Mrs. Leo M. Sullivan of Ottawa and Mrs. (Dr.) Cassidy of Montreal visited the Misses Sullivan on Wednesday.

Richard Arlen and Andy Devine are back in their latest action and comedy picture, "Men of the Timberland." It starts Sunday midnight at the Capitol with Rudy Vallee in "Too Many Blondes."

Hero Engine Men Get Many Awards

Engineers and Stokers in the British Patrol Service Receive Recognition

London (CP) — Engine men in the Patrol Service of the Royal Navy have been awarded a total of 52 decorations for distinguished service. Stokers in the same service have received 11 awards.

Among awards was one to the engineer officer of one of the Navy's older destroyers which was kept staggering along until it reached port after a bombing attack. Six of the Nazi plane's bombs exploded in the water under the destroyer and 12 were within 20 yards' distance.

The shocks ruptured steam pipes to the ship's dynamos, and broke a cooling water pipe, bringing the sea into the shaken hull with a rush. The engineer sent all hands but one assistant from the engine room. Then, with the aid of a flashlight, the two worked in the black, steam-filled room repairing the damaged pipes under risk of being scalded. Water had risen above floor plates before the job was finished and they were able to get up enough steam to take the ship to safety.

The second engineer of a patrol vessel received an award for keeping the bullet-riddled hull of his craft afloat until it reached its base. That ship was attacked by another Nazi plane which dove repeatedly with machine-guns blazing. The German's bullets penetrated the engine room killed the engineer and punctured steam pipes. Thirty holes were opend below the water line. The second engineer kept the ship afloat until a tug arrived and towed it to port.

EXPLODED IN HEAT

Beckley, W. Va., Aug. 29—(AP)—A powder plant engineer went fishing and hooked a catfish, which he took home, cleaned and placed in a frying pan In a moment an explosion blew fish, skillet and hot grease over the kitchen. The engineer concluded that the fish, living in the stream below the powder plant, became so impregnated with nitro cotton it exploded in the heat.

AWARDS FOR MEN HEROES OF SEAS IN MANY CLIMES

British Naval and Merchant Sailors Named for High Honors for Bravery in Action or Under Fire

London (CP)—Officers and men of the Royal Navy and Merchant Marine who fought Italians and Germans in the Mediterranean and Atlantic have been cited for honors in a recent supplement of the London Gazette.

Behind the award of the Distinguished Service Order to Lt.-Cmdr. John Blackburn for "courage and skill" inoperations off the Libyan coast lay the trilling story of bravery aboard the gunboat Ladybird, one of the smallest and most famous ships in the navy.

The battle-scarred craft fought to the bitter end when she aws attacked and sunk by 47 Nazi bombers while anchored in Tobruk harbor. The crew remained at their guns, destroying the two-bombers before the little warship, "burning like hell," sank by the stern.

During her career the Ladybird har been in action against Chinese pirates, bombed and shelled by Japanese; during the period Bardia was occupied by the Italians she steamed into the harbor under darkness, bombarded the defences at point-blank range and withdrew withuot dmaage.

Recalling Matapan

Many officers and men of the Formidable, one of Britain's newest aircraft carriers, and the battleship Warspite, Admiral Andrew Cunningham's flagship, were decorated for their part in the victory over the Italian fleet off Cape Matapan—the greatest naval victory of the war.

Ten officers of the Formidable were awarded the D.S.C., five the D.S.M., and 38 officers and men were mentioned in dispatches. Cmdr. Geoffrey Barnard of the Warspite received the D.S.O. and Lieut.-Cmdr. Arthur Scott mfwy x Lieut. Cmdr. Arthur Bolt a bar to the D.S.C.

Others rewarded for heroism in the Middle East included Cmdr. Ronald Dewhurst, a submarine captain, and Cmdr. Richard Jennings who commanded the cruiser Exeter in the Battle of the River Platte which ended in the destruction of the Graf Spee. They were awarded the bar to the D.S.O. for "courage enterprise and skill," but no details were given.

Lloyd's Medal to Youth

Foremost among the Merchant Marine decorations was the posthumous award of the Lloyd's War Medal to 16-year-old Ordinary Seaman Stanley Anderson, who refused to leave his gun when wounded after a merchant ship was attacked by a submarine.

He remained at his post until killed when the gun was put out of action by a direct hit. The vessel battled the U-boat for more than two hours and the master did not order the crew to abandon ship until the bridgehouse and holds were burning fiercely.

Edward Dingle, a second-officer, who navigated an open boat containing 26 sailors more than 1000 miles rather than be taken prisoner, was made a member of the Order of the British Empire.

The ship was abandoned when attacked by a raider, but while the raider's searchlights swept the sea for the lifeboat the sailors hid on the bottom and escaped detection. After the raider sailed away Dingle steered the boat for land with only a boat's compass as a navigation aid.

Massassaga

Massassaga — The Sunday school held their picnic at Oak Lake on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. R. A. Lazier and daughter, Miss Mary Lou Lazier, Miss Eileen Swain and friend of Belleville, also Miss Margaret Valleau were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. Nightingale on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Wallace of Belleville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Dulmage.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alder and little son Keith of Bethel, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Wallbridge on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grills of Belleville spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sprague and family of Mountain View called on Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wallbridge on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ackerman called on Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ackerman in Belleville on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Laura Bell of Front Road spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Burton Thompson and Mr. Thompson.

Mrs. Will Gray and June called on Mrs. Norman Wallbridge and Mrs. Howard Wallbridge on Monday evening.

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE

Rome, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Italian High Command claimed today Fascist warships had sunk four British submarines in the Mediterranean and that some of the survivors were prisoners.

(This report lacked any British confirmation.)

Italian aircraft guided the attacking warships to their targets after spotting the submarines while on reconnaissance, the High Command claimed.

Vacation Bible School, Hazzards, Presents Interesting Program

Queensboro — A vacation school was held in Hazzards United Church in the second week in August. An average attendance of forty-six children from Queensboro, Hazzards and Harts enjoyed the very pleasant and profitable hours spent together under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. W. Patterson and Mrs. Patterson, also Misses Minnie Moorcroft, Helen Tumelty and Doris Broad. The days were spent in Bible study, handcraft, recreation and singing. Miss Frances Harris acted as pianist and Misses Dorothea Harris, Jean Love and others had charge of the singing.

On Friday evening the parents and friends were invited to attend the closing session and the large number present enjoyed the splendid program given by the children. A number of Queensboro children attended a similar school held at Actinolite United Church the week previous.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rollins, Mrs. Walker and Mr. Bruce Rollins, Peterboro, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson.

Miss Mollie James is visiting relatives in Madoc this week.

Mrs. J. Wiggins and Jean Arnott returned to Belleville on Tuesday after spending two weeks with relatives here.

Mrs. W. Patterson spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Vernon Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hark Rollins, Jr., Cooper, called on Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. James Delyea and Kevin Barry spent Tuesday in Belleville.

COMES LABOR DAY AT ITS EARLIEST

No Sept. 1 Holiday Again Till 1947 — Started by Knights of Labor

(By The Canadian Press)

A trick played by the Gregorian Calendar brings Labor Day on the earliest date possible this year—Sept. 1. Not since 1930 has the holiday fallen on the first of the month, nor will it come again that early until 1947.

At one time Labor Day was always celebrated Sept. 1. When the holiday was made statutory in Canada in 1894, through legislation enacted by the government of Prime Minister Sir John Thompson, the date was so fixed. But in later years demands for the long weekend resulted in making the holiday the first Monday in September.

Celebrated throughout Canada and the United States for 48 years, the September Labor Day is peculiar to this continent. Its European counterpart is May Day—a celebration often accompanied by workers' demonstrations of a revolutionary character. Although the North American holiday is marked by labor parades and speeches exalting the worker and the powers and responsibilities of workers, the majority of Canadians regard it as an opportunity for rest—the last holiday of the summer.

Early Guilds

Medieval records tell of processions organized by trade guilds to demonstrate the working man's pride in his craftmanship and to obtain wider recognition of the importance of the guilds. The inauguration of a recognized Labor Day on this continent came as a result of the activities of the Knights of Labor, a powerful organization which existed in the '80s. It dropped out of existence in 1894 when other labor organizations took the lead.

Demonsrtations were held by laborites in New York, Montreal and Toronto during the years 1882-86, and the demand for a Labor Day became a political issue. In 1894 the United States Congress passed a bill providing for such a holiday and the Canadian House of Commons enacted a similar measure.

Much of the credit for the passage of Labor Day legislation in Canada is given to Alexander W. Wright, a newspaperman who wrote for the Guelph Herald and the Stratford Herald and later became the editor of a journal published by the Knights of Labor. He went to Ottawa and "lobbied" for the measure while it was being discussed in the House, apparently influencing many of the members in favor of it.

Girls as Cadets In British Army

Schools Arranged for Personnel in Various Branches of Service

London, Aug. 30(CP)—Cadet corps are being formed in girls' school to train personnel for the women's services on similar lines to the Officers' Training Corps and cadet corps in boys' schools. The corps was established by the Mechanized Transport Corps, the voluntary organization of women's drivers. The A. T. S. is considering a similar scheme.

LAURA SECORDS FOR SUNDAY

No Other Candy Just so Delicious.

30c — 60c — $1.00

HAVE PLENTY OF FILMS FOR THE HOLIDAY WEEK - END.

Kodak — Selo — Agfa

Films left before Nine in the Morning, finished same day.

DOLAN

THE DRUGGIST

PHONE 128

PROMPT DELIVERY.

HARRIMAN HEADS U.S. DELEGATION

Will Visit Moscow to Deal With Question of Aid to Russia

Washington, Aug. 29 —(AP)— President Roosevelt announced today he would appoint W. Averell Harriman head of an American delegation which will go to Moscow to consider the problem of aid to Russia.

Harriman has been in London handling lease-lend operations, and Mr. Roosevelt said John Biggers, who has been in charge of production for the office of production management, would take over Harriman's duties in the British capital.

The delegation to Moscow, which will meet with corresponding British and Russian groups, may be appointed within a few days, the President told a press conference, and may have a half dozen members.

Harriman originally was sent to London, the President explained, chiefly to handle shipping problems and assist in getting aid to nations resisting aggression.

But the position enlarged itself, Mr. Roosevelt said, to take in problems of production and supplies of all kinds, and the point was reached where another general trouble shooter was needed.

Not only will Biggers take over Harriman's duties, but he also will attempt, Mr. Roosevelt said, to tie British production problems more closely with those of this country.

Melrose

Melrose — The funeral of Mr. Homer Demille which took place on Monday afternoon from his late residence to Melrose United Church was largely attended by relatives and friends. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family in their sorrow.

The Women's Institute held a quilting at the hall on Wednesday and completed five more quilts which makes ten quilts for war work this month.

Mrs. R. McMeachan has returned home from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Nicholson, Sydney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley and daughter Jean of Boston and Mrs. J. F. Hill, Belleville, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Pringle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Macfarlane, Mrs. A. Pringle and Mr. and Mrs. F. Davis were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sayers, Phillipston.

Mrs. S. Haight and Mrs. L. McLaren, Salem, visited their father, Mr. Ryerson Badgley, who is ill.

Miss Margaret Hicks, Reg. N., has returned home after nursing Mr. H. Demill.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Badgley and Mr. and Mrs. T. Blatherwick and Miss Marion also Miss Ruth Blatherwick, Belleville, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Badgley.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaren and Jack of Rochester, N. Y., spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. McLaren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Milligan were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Badgley, Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walker and family left last week to take up residence at Deseronto.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McMeachan and family enjoyed a trip to Kingston, returning by Glenora, Picton, and Belleville.

Mr. Alex. Allison of the R.C.A.F., who has been in training at Alberta and other places in the West, spent over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. English and other friends enroute to Halifax.

Among those from here who left to attend the C. N. E. at Toronto this week are: Mr. and Mrs. F. Bennett, Mrs. J. Macfarlane, Mrs. C. Haight and Mrs. Ed. Lazier.

Mr. Wilfred Miller, Napanee, Mr. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wood, Selby, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hudgins, Miss L. Hudgins, Selby, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Kimmerly, Miss Doris and Delma, Mrs. Price and Marjorie of Empey Hill attended the funeral of the late Mr. H. Demill.

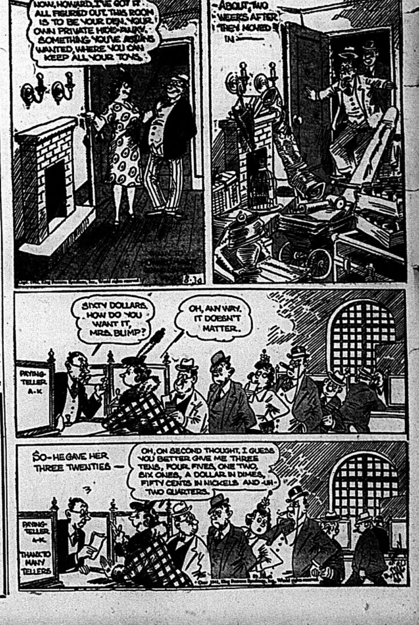
"BUT I TOLD YOU TO PHONE 1677 FOR A FREE ESTIMATE!"

Just because you've never seen evidence of leaks doesn't mean there are none. It takes an expert to detect those weak spots. Neglect them and you'll have more than roofing repairs to worry you. It means decorating bills and even new furniture, sometimes. Get an estimate on our dependable Johns-Manville or Building Products Roofing Materials today. They're beautifully styled in many attractive, non-fading colors and cost just a few dollars a month.

QUALITY PRODUCTS FOR QUALITY CONSTRUCTION OF ALL TYPES.

The HOUSTON Company Limited
BELLEVILLE CANADA
PHONE 1677
ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL

They'll Do It Every Time— By Jimmy Hatlo



NOW, HOWARD, I'VE GOT IT ALL FIGURED OUT. THIS ROOM IS TO BE YOUR DEN. YOUR OWN PRIVATE HIDE-AWAY. SOMETHING YOU'VE ALWAYS WANTED, WHERE YOU CAN KEEP ALL YOUR TOYS.
8-30
ABOUT TWO WEEKS AFTER THEY MOVED IN—
SIXTY DOLLARS. HOW DO YOU WANT IT, MRS. BLUMP?
OH, ANY WAY. IT DOESN'T MATTER.
PAYING-TELLER A-K
SO—HE GAVE HER THREE TWENTIES—
OH, ON SECOND THOUGHT, I GUESS YOU BETTER GIVE ME THREE TENS, FOUR FIVES, ONE TWO, SIX ONES, A DOLLAR IN DIMES, FIFTY CENTS IN NICKELS AND—UH—TWO QUARTERS.
PAYING-TELLER A-K
THANKS TO MANY TELLERS

PERSONALS

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

The engagement is announced of Helen M. Maybee, Reg. N., elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maybee, Hilton, Ontario, to Vaughan R. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, Hilton, Ontario, the marriage to take place September tenth.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. A. Breach, 46 North Park Street, Belleville, wish to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Mildred, to Signalman Malcolm McClelland, R.C.C.S., son of Lieut. and Mrs. J. McClelland of Belleville, the marriage to take place September twentieth, in Tabernacle United Church.

W. H. Gerrie, 155 Anne Street, who is a patient in Belleville General Hospital and underwent an operation Thursday evening is slightly improved but his condition is still serious.

Miss Dorothy Grant and Mrs. F. J. Temple were tea hostesses at the Belleville Golf Club this afternoon.

Rev. Dr Young who has been in Belleville for the past month taking charge of services at Tabernacle United Church is leaving shortly and preaches his farewell sermon on Sunday morning. Rev. J. W. Houston is returning next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Ferguson accompanied by Miss Margery Lashbrook, are in Bowmanville, today attending the wedding of their nephew, Mr. Bruce Ross and Miss Phyllis Clemence, which takes place at the bride's home "Fair View Farm".

Dr. Lily B. Mathieson is in Toronto, today attending the wedding of her niece, Miss Isabel Farrell, daughter of Mrs. Farrell and the late Dr. Andrew Farrell, formerly of Tweed, to Mr. Robert Lovelace. The ceremony is taking place in Westmoreland Church.

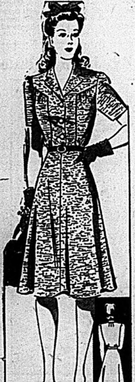
Mr. and Mrs. John Neal, 5 Ridley Street, are observing their 52nd wedding anniversary quietly at their home on Sunday. They have been residents of Belleville for the past thirty-three years, coming to Canada from Bedfordshire, England, and living for a short time in Napanee. They have three sons and four daughters, William, Montreal; Reg, Detroit; Walter of Belleville; Mrs. John Collyer, Weston, and Mrs. Boston, Bath. Mr. Neal retired from gardening five years ago. He and his wife are faithful members of Bethel Hall.

Dr. James Semple is returning to the city on September first.

Mrs. G. S. Cronk entertained at the tea hour on Friday in honour of her niece, Miss Lucille Bertram, Reg.N., a September bride-to-be.

Bodice Novelty In Shirtfrock

Pattern 4685



By ANNE ADAMS

If there's a shirtwaist shortage in your clothes closet . . . or if you just need a becoming, all-around sort of a frock, choose Pattern 4685. It's an Anne Adams design, a fact which any dressmaker will recognize in its perfect fit, simplified cutting and sewing and up-to-the-minute style. A smart fashion note is the in-one yoke and front panel treatment, with the yoke lines in a novel slant. Notice the soft gathering through the sides of the bodice—so flattering to your bustline. The notched collar may match or contrast; the belt may be of grosgrain ribbon or of leather. Have the sleeves straight and short or in long or three-quarter length. And start this style soon!

Pattern 4685 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1-4 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Ontario Intelligencer Pattern Department, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Woollen Goods Going Neutral Vivid Touches

(Written for The Canadian Press)

By ALISON SETTLE

London, Aug. 28—(CP)—The distinctive mark of the new woollens and tweeds for the fall—in convoy for Canada and U.S. too—is that they are becoming neutral. A contradiction in words for a country at war, yet it is true that the thoroughbred woollens no longer use the brilliant checks and overchecks of the past years. It is the neutrals which will be outstanding successes, whipped up with color in the accessories.

There are muted pastels, muted apricot yellows, muted pinks, greens, lilacs, greys, with grey-greens for tweeds, heather-wines, storm wines for deeper tones.

The International Wool Secretariat gave a preview of fabrics in the making which are about to be shipped overseas. The neutral colorings, picked up by vivid touches, were noticeable throughout. "Paper beige" made a constantly recurring background (this in a shade reminiscent of brown wrapping paper). Bleached browns came second, with a faint cocoa as a third favorite.

Feminine Turn

Contrast colors against these neutral background were saddle yellow, cinnamon and heather, a violet tone. Some worsted mills use saddle yellow with particular success for the suits marked by longer tunic jackets, stressed waists, straight hanging skirts which nevertheless incorporate pleats.

There has been an excellent turnover from all-man materials to femininity in worsteds. There are woven Yorkshire woollens and no worsteds which look like jerseys, so soft and loosened up is the weave. The sheers in worsteds are in whispering beige tones greys and naturals with lavender for contrast. Patterns, woven in, are miniatures.

Miniature patterns recurr throughout the 100 per cent woollens and worsteds, in tiny shirting designs. Shirting stripes in sheer worsteds are often in grey, green and palest grey, again saddle yellow and grey with white for a broken stripe.

Trend of Design

One designer uses pleated mobile godets in his skirts, longer jackets, some with highwayman or riding coat influence, well waisted. New points concentrate in lapels and collars, but discreet distinction is what he aims at. Skirts are 18 inches from the ground

Suits and topcoats have gloves to match, with leather palms, also hats in the woollen fabric Another makes the tweed hats in shades of elegant simplicity, well on to the face and completely lacking in chis-chis. The miniature checks lend themselves well to this accessory making. Travel outfits are a specialty to one house, with button-in and button-out linings and building up variants beginning with a silk dress. All British silks make the dress, woollens, the overskirts, the cardigans, the double-temperature topcoats.

AT THE CAPITOL

"Too Many Blondes"

Rudy Vallee, one of the kings of the show world, is said to have an unusually entertaining role in Universal's new romantic comedy, "Too Many Blondes", which opens Sunday midnight, at the Capitol Theatre.

Co-starring with Vallee in the character of his jealous bride is Helen Parrish. The supporting cast includes such well known players as Lon Chaney Jr., Eddie Quillan, Jerome Cowan, Iris Adrian, Jeahne Kelly and Dorothy Lee.

Several new hit tunes are presented in the picture, among them "Whistle Your Blues to a Bluebird"; "Don't Mind If I Do" and "Let's Love Again", all by Everett Carter and Milton Rosen. In addition, Vallee revives his perennial hit novelty song, "The Man on the Flying Trapeze", by Walter O'Keefe

"Men of the Timberland"

Based on the government's drive to protect the national forest reserves, Universal's "Men of the Timberland", now at the Capitol Theatre, is said to provide a smashing action vehicle for the talents of the popular adventure film team, Richard Arlen and Andy Devine.

Arlen portrays a two-fisted forestry inspector who comes to grips with a crooked lumber operator. Devine plays the gullible henchman of the ruthless lumber king.

The same program includes a splendid short subject on aviation.

Stinging Wit No Passport to Popularity

Lynn Bari has charm as well as beauty.

By HELEN FOLLETT

PERHAPS charm cannot be defined exactly. But if one is gay and agreeable, has pleasing manners, is thoughtful and tactful, one is certainly on the way toward the goal of popularity.

It is easy enough to make a list of girls who are not charming. Let the mind dwell on these misguided ladies and one knows how not to behave. There's the smarty whose humor has sting. She isn't cruel, has just got into the habit of making biting remarks. To the back seat for her. She doesn't realize that practically all human beings are sensitive to even the slightest ridicule, that men as well as women are easily hurt.

Unattractive Behaviour

There is the death's head at the feast, the woman with stiff backbone and pursed lips who sits by herself when the party is going strong, expressing disapproval by silence. If she isn't popular she ought to know the reason why.

Deporable are the actions of the sharp-eyed wife who is always catching up her husband on social errors. What if he does tell the same old stories? A lot of men do that, the dumb things. What if he does spill ashes on the rug? No matter what he does she shouldn't bawl him out before others. She only gets herself disliked.

There's the show-off. She does imitations. Takes a stand in the middle of the floor and stays there, demanding everyone's attention. That's not being charming. There is the girl who dramatizes herself. She poses, sighs, tries to look alluring and romantic. As if men aren't wise to affectations of that kind.

Worse than all the foregoing types that lack charm is the lady who wants to start an argument on all occasions. The war situation is nuts and raisins to her. As if we were not all of us distraught, greatly desiring to forget a mad world!

AT THE BELLE

"They Met in Bombay"

The crossroads of the colorful Far East lend a dramatic panorama to the adventured-packed, romantic exploits of Clark Gable and Rosalind Russell as co-stars of "They Met in Bombay," which is now on the Belle Theatre screen. There, where East meets West, Gable and Miss Russell pit their resourceful talents against each other in a streamlined drama which offers both new acting opportunities.

Gable portrays a devil-may-care adventurer who, having been cashiered out of the army, turns to crime in a reckless but nevertheless clever attempt to maintain the outward appearance of a gentleman. He carries off the masquerade with all the nonchalance that might be expected, outwitting his victims when he can and meeting extraordinary situations with typical he-man violence when he has to.

As a perfect foil, Miss Russell, in a challenging reversal from many roles, portrays a feminine Raffles with a penchant for annexing title aliases and any loose diamonds that attract her eye. She masks her motives under a suavity as studiously finished as Gable's.

Their meeting in Bombay at the height of the Empire Day celebrations lavishly sets the exotic scenic backgrounds of "They Met in Bombay." Their dual attempts to make off with a fortune in diamonds forces them into a compromising position in which they must flee together from hotly pursuing police. They take refuge on a tram freighter, only to find themselves trapped. From that point on they are constantly in hot water.

In Hong Kong their fortunes become involved inl a delicate matter of international affairs. How they extricate themselves and how Gable redeems himself through his heroic assumption of the uniform to whish he was once entitled, builds the story to a surprise dramatic climax.

Sunday Midnight Show

Step right up and call Edward G. Robinson "Hank." Go ahead. It'll be alright. That's his name.

He's "a vigorous, jovial, simple, cording to the script of his new generous, excitable line-man," ac- Warner Bros. picture, "Manpower" in which he stars with Marlene Dietrich and George Raft. The picture is scheduled for a preview presentation at the Belle Theatre Sunday after midnight, 12.05 a.m.

It's an old story in Hollywood—actors are forever coming up with entirely new roles, something they have never done before. But it's a cinch that the "jovial, simple, generous lineman" is a far cry for Edward G. Robinson.

He has done characterizations of various kinds, from the earnest, brilliant Dr. Ehrlich to the brutal, intelligent Larsen in "The Sea Wolf," but all of his characters have had at least one thing in common: Robinson has never been less than a dominant man.

Romance has always been rather incidental in the roles Robinson played up until now, but in "Manpower," he makes love to and marries Marlene Dietrich a lady who could never be a mere incident in any man's life.

One of the year's outstanding productions comes to the Belle Theatre screen with the showing of "They Met in Bombay," now playing, which co-stars Clark Gable and Rosalind Russell for the first time in an adventure packed story of romance and intrigue.

Empey Hill

Empey Hill—Mrs. W. Whittington spent Saturday in Napanee.

Mrs. Arthur Breen and Mary of Kingston, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denison and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson.

Mrs. Roy McMath is seriously ill in Kingston General Hospital where she was taken on Sunday following an illness of a couple of months' duration at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Alexander, of Kingston, spent an evening recently with Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Winter.

Mrs. Timmerman of Kingston, spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. John Mowers and Mr. Mowers.

Mrs. William Penny visited her sister, Miss Carrie Oliver a couple of days.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winter on the birth of a son in the Campbell nursing home, Napanee on Friday, Aug. 22nd.

Services were resumed on the circuit on Sunday after the return of Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Merrick from their annual holidays spent at Gananoque.

Mrs. James McMath Sr., is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kimmerly.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denison, Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craig and family of Odessa had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson.

Mrs. Kate Tucker spent several days in Napanee with her sister, Mrs. John Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thompson of Napanee, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Abbott.

Misses Mary and Betty Waddingham spent Wednesday in Toronto.

Messrs. Edward Aull, Raymond Stewart and Harold Mather of Keene spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kimmerly.

Misses Ann and Dorothy Weese spent last week with Miss Marjorie Price.

Mr. and Mrs. James Barnes are visit Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gibson, Gananoque.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kimmerly had tea on Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kimmerly.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Ashley have returned home after spending three weeks' in Belleville.

Mr. Ed. Kimmerly was a visitor at Mr. Elias Stafford's on Thursday.

Marjorie Lockridge of Wesley, was the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCutcheon during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lockhead, Mrs. McGill and Mrs. Hugh Ramsay and Beverly of Newburgh, called on Mrs. McKim on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Farrett, Hugh, Paul and Lorne of Newmarket visited friends over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Winter of Morveen, called on Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McCormick on Sunday afternoon.

Sergt. Major Harry Warman of the R.C.A.F., recently returned from London, England, who was serving on the headquarters staff of Canada House, spent the week end at the parsonage.

Mrs. S. E. Winter and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson spent Monday in Kingston.

FOUNDER OF FIRM DIES

Farnham, Que., Aug. 30 —(CP)— Robert C. Wilkins, 81, founder of the cloth-manufacturing firm here bearing his name, died today after an illness of about a year.

A native of Syracuse, N.Y., Mr. Wilkins lived in Trenton, Ont., for some time before coming here in 1911.

He is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Funeral services will be held Monday.

J. A. McFee Says It's a Fact!

QUEEN VICTORIA OF ENGLAND WAS NOT A QUEEN!

And He Can Prove It!

(Proof Next Tuesday)

Modern authorities say about 85% of children's learning depends largely upon the eyes. The safe precaution is to learn the true condition of your child's eyes from McFee's Visual Analysis—by appointment.

(Proof of Monday's Ad.)

THERE IS NO GREATER LEGAL PENALTY FOR STRIKING A PERSON WEARING GLASSES

There are no laws specifically providing any greater penalty, however, as a person wearing glasses would be more likely to be injured from a blow in the face, the court might take the fact into consideration in an assault and battery case. 1.—"Uncommon Knowledge"—Geo. W. Stimpson.

J. A. McFEE
EXPERIENCED OPTOMETRIST
PHONE 26
BELLEVILLE ONT

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 31

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a rather contradictory one. There are auguries for promotion, favors and endorsement from superiors and those in influential position, with prospects of worthwhile good fortune and expanded horizons, yet proclivities to make blunders, or foolish mistakes, may incite loss and defeat.

Those whose birthday it is may be given the opportunity to rise to good heights of success, advancement, good fortune and prosperity. Superiors and those in power may contribute to this.

A child born on this day should be resourceful, have keen energies and mentality, winning support of those in high places.

For Monday, September 1

Monday's astrological forecast is for a particularly active and eventful day with much stirring in business as well as in the personal life. There should be much encouragement for writings, publicity, travel, communications, and all youthful interests, but some precaution and vigilance are demanded in order to avoid dangers and pitfalls. In social, domestic and romance there may be much pleasure in spite of petty vexations or anxieties.

A child born on this day should be exceptionally talented, versatile, with energy, keen wit and good nature. It should also be artistic, with love of beauty and refinements of living.

Home Service

You Can Learn Dancing in Simple Home Lessons

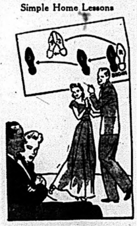


Diagram Shows Conga Side Step

What fon to go to dances with a man who knows the new steps! How glum to be the stiff couple on the sidelines!

And how unnecessary. It's easy, these days, to learn steps like the Conga—right at home, private as you please. With footprint diagrams like those in the sketch, you become an expert.

Is the Conga complicated to do? Not a bit; when you get on to its catchy jungle rhythm you easily fit the hip action and kicks to it.

Counting one-two, one-TWO, a heavy accent on every fourth count: 1—Step to side on left foot, hips sway left. 2—Cross right foot over left, hips sway right. 3—Step to side on left foot, hips sway left. 4 (here's your heavy accent)—A sideward thrust of hips, accompanied by a slight nicking movement of right foot, turning body slightly to right.

And other popular steps? With our 32-page booklet of diagrams and crystal-clear instructions you'll soon become expert in the Conga, tango, rumba, waltz, fox-trot, slow fox-trot, shag. Explains how to lead, follow.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of HOME COURSE IN NEW DANCES at The Ontario Intelligencer Home Service, 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Medicine in the News

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Scientists Investigate Sensitivity To Blisters Caused by Sun

Blisters that follow exposure to sunlight have just received special attention from a physician in Hawaii, where the sun shines often and stronger. Some people blister much more easily in response to the sun than do others, and many physicians are convinced that some people are especially sensitive to sunlight. Therefore, specialists in diseases of the skin have given the name urticaria solarus to this condition. Translated into English, that merely means blisters and wheals due to sunlight.

Since it is now possible to reproduce the ultraviolet rays of the sun with aritficial ultraviolet light, it has become possible to determine the special portions of the sun's rays which are responsible for the blistering. The Hawaiian investigators say that such blisters appear immediately on exposure of the skin to that portion of the spectrum which is in the violet and blue areas and occasionally in the ear ultra-violet.

In people who are sensitive, there is apparently some substance in the skin which responds promptly to wave lengths of light of the proper length. Some investigators have endeavored to determine exactly the wave lengths which are able to energize the photosensitive substance. Chemical materials derived from the blood have been investigated; also products like quinine.

The general opinion is that these chemical substances derived from the blood, which seems to be associated with the sensitization, are not the cause of the sensitization but perhaps the result of it. Incidentally, the light from an overloaded tungsten-filament incandescent lamp, such as the photoflood lights which are used in making motion pictures or indoor exposures for photographic purposes, seem to be as capable of producing the blisters in people who are sensitive as are the near ultraviolet rays.

A case is described of a man who complained that swelling and itching of his skin occurred whenever any part of it was exposed to sunlight for more than five minutes. It occurred particularly while swimming. At some times the sensitivity of his skin was increased so that even a ten-minute walk would result in swelling and itching of the face. From five to ten minutes of sunlight on any part of his body would produce a blister.

The investigators in Hawaii made a careful study of this man and his blood. However, transfer of his blood to another person failed to make that person sensitive to sunlight. It was impossible to bring about any cure of this patient and eventually he had to leave Hawaii.

GOOD MANNERS

MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

How Should Child Address Mother?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. Is it proper for a child to say "Yes'm" and "No'm" to his or her mother?

2. Can the engagement ring be worn before an annoucement in the newspapers?

T.

1. These forms are not so good as the mentioning of the words "Mother" and "Father", after the "Yes" or "No". "Yes, Mother," or "No, Father." There is something so wondrous about the words Mother and Father that they should be given their full charm by teaching the little children to use them when they address their mothers and Father. Certainly, they sound infinitely better.

2. Usually the engagement ring is not worn until the public announcement of the engagement is made.

Two Guests of Honor

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am going to have a luncheon for twelve guests, including two guests of honor, engaged girls. How shall I seat these two guests of honor without offending either? My table is oval.

P.

Seat the guests of honor next to you, one on the right and one on the left. If one is perhaps a bit older than the other, seat the older one on your right. If you wish to give the more honored seat on your right to the one whom you have known longer, this will be correct. As a matter of fact, since you are honoring both, neither one will, I am sure, see, any distinction between them as to seating arrangement.

Calling Husband's Office

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. In calling my husband's office and asking to speak with him, should I ask to "speak with John" or should I ask to speak with "Mr. Brown." He is called John by all the men in the office and I am acquainted with all of them.

2. A friend of ours living in our town just passed away. My husband and I sent a floral offering and attended the funeral. A few days after the funeral, I called at their home to offer our sympathy. Should we have called at their home before the funeral and offered our sympathy?

Reader.

1. Dignity and good form demand that you ask to speak to "Mr. Brown."

2. If you knew these people very well you might have called before the funeral to offer your sympathy and to see if there were any way in which you could be of service. But, unless you do know them exceptionally well, this is not done. You probably did just the right thing and the appropriate thing.

AT THE McCARTHY

"Here Comes Mr. Jordon"

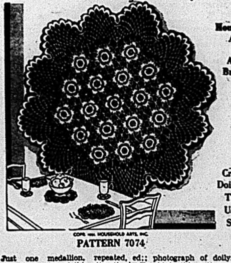
Packed with entertainment that will please every patron, a picture that offers something that never before has been done on the screen will be seen at the McCarthy Theatre starting Sunday midnight.

This new wonderful motion picture attraction is "Here Comes Mr. Jordon" starring Robert Montgomery, with an all-star supporting cast including Claude Rains, Evelyn Keyes, James Gleason, Edward Everett Horton, Rita Johnson and John Emery.

Briefly it is a picture that offers comedy you'll chuckle over for years and years to come. Characters, gay, adorable, hateful, human, real, you'll never forget! A story you'll tell and retell to all your friends.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordon" is the one type of motion picture entertainment which will never be forgotten. We urge you to see "Here Comes Mr. Jordon" and for your fullest enjoyment we urge you to see it from the start, either Sunday midnight or at the continuous show presentation Monday.

Doilies Give Table Dainty Touch



Household Arts by Alice Brooks
Crochet Doilies in Three Useful Sizes
COPR. 1941 HOUSEHOLD ARTS, INC.

PATTERN 7074

Just one medallion, repeated, makes the centre of this attractive dolly. Then just add the mesh edge and the dolly is finished. It's given in three graded sizes. Pattern 7074 contains directions for making doilies; illustrations of them and stitches; materials needed;; photograph of dolly.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents in coins stamps cannot be accepted) to The Ontario Intelligencer Household Arts Dept., 166 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

STOCK MARKETS

QUOTATIONS FURNISHED BY BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
V. Salisbury, Branch Manager.

Quotations at 11.30 a.m.

MINES

Aldermac 15B
Bankfied 6 1-2
Beattie 106B
Bidgood 10 1-2
Bralorne 11 3-8B
Broulan 76
Buffalo Ank 405B
Calgary and Ed. 137A
Central Pat. 189
Chesterville 153
Coniaurum 124
Eldorado 40B
East Mal 290
Francoeur 46B
Gunnar 25B
Hardrock 80
Home Oil 235
Hollinger 12 3-4B
Hudson Bay 28B
Jason 36B
Kerr Add 460
Kirk Lake 76
Leitch 47
Little L L 190A
McIntyre 49 1-4A
McLeod 204
McKenzie 107
Mining Corp. 125B
Moneta 35B
O'Brien 153
Paymaster 19
Pamour 98
Perron 140A
Pend Oreille 158B
Pickle Crow 285
Premier 90A
Preston E.D. 320
Reno 11B
San Antonio 235B
Sherritt G. 78B
Siscoe 53
Sud. Basin 167
Steep Rock 175
Sylvanite 250A
T. Hughes 286
Ventures 490A
W. Amulet 485
Wr. Hargreaves 400B
Upper Can. 175A

TORONTO

Bell Telephone 151A
B. A. Oil 16 3-8A
Brewing Corp. 110B
Braz. Trac. 7 1-2B
Can. Bud Brewery 4 3-4B
Can. Cement 5B
Can. Ind. Alcohol 3 1-4A
C.P.R. 6 1-2B
Canada Car 7B
Dominion Foundries 19 1-4
Dominion Stores 5B
Dist. Seagrams 24
Ford "A" 15 7-8A
Int. Nickel 34B
Int. Pet 13 1-2B
Massey Harris 2 7-8A
Walker's 45
Walker's Pfd. 19 3-4B
C.P.A. 3

NEW YORK

American T. and T. 155 3-4
U.S. Steel 57 3-4
United Aircraft 41 1-2

Eggs Advance Further Under Heavy Demand

Toronto, Aug. 30—Under keen demand of late on the Toronto open produce market, top-quality graded eggs registered a further advance of 1-2 to 1 cent a dozen Friday. Butter prices eased 1-4 cent a pound in very quiet trading. Demand was so poor that no sales were reported during the afternoon session.

With receipts of fresh eggs lower and with a heavier demand on current production than in past years, coupled with increased consumer purchasing power, the local demand has been in excess of supply throughout this week and prices on all grades of eggs have advanced steadily day by day. The gain added yesterday brought prices on Grades A-large, A-medium and A-pullets up to 38 1-2 to 39, 37 1-2 to 38, and 32 1-2 to 33 cents a dozen respectively in the country dealer section of the market.

For the time being at least prevailing higher prices appear to be having little or no effect on consumption, retail outlets having reported recent sales as "very good."

The butter market took on a slightly easier undertone yesterday, as prices slipped 1-4 cent a pound under very poor demand in morning trading and no sales at all during the afternoon. Buyers were said to have assumed a reluctant attitude and appeared willing to stand by until after the long week-end.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Aug. 30 — (CP)—Produce market prices here Friday as reported by the Dominion Department of Agriculture follow:

Butter: First-grade solids, jobbing price, 37c to 37 1-2c; Que. No. 1 pasteurized current receipts price 35 3-4c; No. 2, 34 3-4c; No. 1 wholesale price, 36 1-8c; No. 2, 35 3-8c. Receipts; One box.

Eggs: Graded shipments selling at A-large, 39c; A-medium, 37 1-2c; pullets, 32c to 33c; B-grade, 29c to 30c; C grade, 25c to 25 1-2c. Receipts: 400 cases.

Produce Markets

Toronto—Wholesale prices (Ontario Department of Agriculture) today were:

EGGS

A-large	.41
A-medium	.40
A-pullet	.35
Grade "B"	.34
Grade "C"	.29

BUTTER

Butter, No. 1		.36 3-4
Butter, No. 2	.35 3-4	.36

Churning Cream, No 1	.38
Churning Cream, No. 2	.35

POULTRY

	Dressed Select "A"
Spring Broilers:
1¼ to 1¾ lbs.	21	to	00
1¾ to 2½ lbs.	22	to	00
Spring Chickens:
2½ to 4 lbs.	20	to	00
4 to 4½ lbs.	24	to	00
4½ to 5 lbs.	25	to	00
5 lbs. and up	26	to	27
Fatted Hens:
5 lbs. and over	20	to	21
4 to 5 lbs.	19	to	20
3 to 4 lbs.	17	to	18
Old Roosters:
Over 5 lbs.	16	to	00

EIGHT EXECUTED

(Continued on Page Eleven, Col. 7)

Although his condition had not been described as critical at first, he took a sudden turn for the worse yesterday, his temperature rose alarmingly and doctors said they feared infection. So ill was he that Nazi officials as well as Vichy officials investigating the attempt on his life were refused admittance to his room.

Part of the investigation centred on the new legion being recruited to fight against Russia, which Paul Colette, Laval's would-be assassin, was said to have joined in order to create an opportunity for the shooting at Versailles.

Won't Leave Till Tuesday

Three members of the unit are under arrest and leaders announced the legion would not leave Paris until next Wednesday.

The Nazi controlled Paris press sought to identify Colette as a Communist and stressed Communist convictions at Lyon, but police investigations appeared aimed principally at Free French followers. New prison sentences for British sympathizers were reported at Meknes, Morocco, and Marseille. Police in Toulouse said they arrested a ring of leaflet distributors after a house to house search.

Anti-Communist courts in Paris were reported to have condemned unnamed high Communist official to a lifetime of forced labor for attempting to revive a Communist cell, and several other minor officials were given up to 20 years forced labor for distribution of tracts.

THE WAR TODAY

By H. M. PETERS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Hitler finally has brought out his counterpart to the inspiring conference of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt "in our Atlantic Bay" and it turned out to be another talk with his gauleiter of Italy, the deflated Mussolini.

For five days, the Germans announced the senior and junior dictators have conferred along the German-Russian front—but this meeting differed in its announced results from the others they have held periodically since the war began.

In the first place, the emphasis placed in the official announcement on the duration of the war was quite new in Axis phraseology. "All military and political questions that affect the development and duration of the war were intensively discussed," the statement said.

Usually the two men finish their conversations in an hour or two, or at most a couple of days, which are enough for the German to tell the Italian of his plans and what he expects from Italy. But this time they needed almost a week to discuss "all military and political questions."

Showing the sting suffered when the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting came out with a flat declaration that Nazi tyranny must be ended, Hitler and Mussolini said they could destroy "the Bolshevist danger and plutocratic exploitation."

In the Nazi lexicon plutocratic exploitation means the whole western system of liberalized trade, free speech, parliaments and anything else which would interfere with the "new order" of grinding down peoples for the benefit of the state.

Military Questions Discussed

"All military and political questions" necessarily included such matters as the stubborn Russian resistance, the plight of Italy in Africa and the Mediterranean (only yesterday, for instance, it was reported Italy cannot finish two battleships because supplies are scarce), the growing United States aid to Britain and Russia, and the state of unrest in occupied Europe.

"The new European order that will emerge from this (Axis) victory," said the Hitler-Mussolini communique, "as far as possible will remove the causes that in the past have given rise to European wars."

It predicted "peaceful and harmonous collaboration by all the peoples of the European continent in the political as well as in the economic and cultural spheres."

The bodies which fell from the guillotine in Paris this week now are "peaceful and harmonious." The stout-hearted Greeks, ground under the rigors of brutal occupation will have to be crushed a long time to remove the "cause" of their next fight—a fight to get rid of their oppressors.

Another point of interest in the communique was the emphasis placed on the presence in the east of Goering and Field Marshal Von Rundstet. Obviously they were singled out for mention to counteract rumors which the Russians spread over the world: That Goering was in disgrace and that Von Rundstedt had been killed by one of his officers.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Aug. 30 (CP)—The Toronto stock market finished the week and the month on a strong note, especially in industrial and gold divisions. Volume was fairly heavy with about 200,000 shares changing hands in the two-hour session. he market will remain closed on Monday, Sept. 1, Labor Day.

Bell Telephone, Western Canada Flour, Consummers Gas and Canadian Celanese held point gains. Walker's Common, Distillers-Seagrams, Ford A and Brazilian all were narrowly higher and Abitibib Pfd. firmed slightly in active buying.

Malartic Gold Fields was again the bell-wether of the Gold group, advancing to 1.70 for a gain of 11 cents while turning over in heavy volume. Prices were up narrowly for Kerr-Addison, Central Patricia, Chesteville, Teck Hughes and East Malartic. McIntyre firmed 1-4 to 49 1-4.

WARTIME PRICES

(Continued from Page One)

Under the new set-up the Wartime Prices and Trade Board:

1. Was given control in the price field 'over all boards of the Federal and Provincial Governments including the controls established by the departments of Munitions and Supply, Agriculture and Fisheries, and provincial bodies exercising control over such commodities as milk, fruit, vegetables and other products and services."

Fix Minimum Prices

2. Automatically assumed jurisdiction over all goods and services not previously taken under jurisdiction of the 11 controllers in the munitions and supply department.

3. Was granted the right to fix minimum prices, in addition to the maximum prices and mark-ups which it could set previously, and authority to prohibit purchase, sale or supply of goods at variance with such minimum prices.

4. Was given power to prescribe the "terms and conditions under which any goods or services may be sold or supplied, whether on terms of deferred payment or otherwise." The statement said "this reference in the order obviously is to the so-called 'instalment buying' plan, restriction of which would appear to be in the national interest under wartime conditions."

In the wartime industries control board, Chairman Berkinshaw, newly-appointed to the post, was given broader authority, including the right to approve or disapprove of orders by any of the 11 munitions department controllers, if they involve problems of supply and allocation of civilian requirements.

Orders by controllers affecting prices, margins or mark-ups will also require concurrence of the prices board.

Appoint Additional Controllers

Provision is made for the appointment of additional controllers with jurisdiction over matter now under jurisdiction of the prices board, if Munitions Minister Howe so decides.

Some sources considered that under the new arrangement the prices board assumes seniority over the industries control board, since it, to a certain extent at least, will have authority over actions by the controllers, all members of the industries board.

Specific provision in the order—8, —council that the prices board has jurisdiction over provincial price-fixing bodies is the first time the board's postion in this matter has been clearly defined.

While board spokesmen in the past have expressed belief they had power to interfere with prices set by provincial bodies if such action were considered necessary, the board has previously not attempted to interfere in such matters, leaving control of milk, fruit, vegetable and other such products to provincial authorities who were in the field first.

Now the federal board has been given explicit power to pass on prices set by provincial organizations.

FURTHER

(Continued from Page One)

When the order was issued August 2 it was authoritatively reported that "pre-war" meant before the Japanese invasion of China in July, 1937, but it was learned in informed quarters today that export control authorities were considering setting the quotas on exports made before Japan's invasion of China's Manchurian provinces (Manchoukuo) in 1931, which would drastically reduce the amounts permitted to be exported.

Officials said today no oil had been shipped to Japan since issuance of the President's new restriction orders. Two Japanese tankers sailed from west coast ports on August 3 and 4, after waiting vainly for oil to be loaded. Another vessel, which loaded oil at San Pedro before the new order, unloaded at Seattle when it put in there after the President's order was announced.

SCHOOLS IN CITY TO OPEN TUESDAY

Summer holidays over, school children of Belleville will wend their way to class rooms on Tuesday morning, when the fall term for all public schools and the Belleville Collegiate commences. Registration of students at the Belleville Collegiate, which was completed yesterday, has been underway most of this week with a decreased enrollment from last year expected. This is due to the fact that many of the older pupils have accepted work in industry or are assisting in harvesting operations due to a shortage of farm labor.

Canada's War Training Approved

Corps Commander's OK Placed Upon General Staff Plan

Methods Completely Revamped After Fall of France Are Building Entirely New Canadian Army

by

KIM BEATTIE

When Lieut.-General A. G. L. McNaughton recently cabled to Major-General H. D. G. Crerar his sweeping approval of the latter's army-in-training in Canada, and its methods, the Canadian Corps Commander was not merely being polite to the Chief of the General Staff. McNaughton of the Canadians does not present unearned bouquets. The Corps Commander was expressing his gratification that the long-range plans of creating a hard-hitting army for mechanised war is now rolling into full operation — on schedule — throughout the great chain of training centres and reinforcement depots stretched across the Dominion. This is the training plan which British and Canadian military brains evolved after the Fall of France.

General McNaughton's approval of training methods in Canada was unqualified. It ranged from the system of training all future combat troops (from tank crews to depot clerks) in the same basic weapons, to the policy which advances the recruit as far, in his knowledge of team-work and fighting tactics, as his time in Canada permits, and to the training of staff and field officers.

In part General McNaughton's cable stated: "It is most satisfactory to know that attention in Canada is being concentrated on Basic Training, which is of fundamental importance". He was referring to the careful progression of training which has a rigid regulation that every recruit must be trained for two months in the basic weapons and fundamentals of soldiering (no matter to which arm of the service the recruit belongs) many of which were taught only to the Infantrymen. Because even troops far in the rear must protect themselves in five directions, north, south, east, west—and from above—every officer or man is taught the infantrymen's personal weapons, the rifle, bayonet, revolver, Bren and Lewis gun, Tommy gun, anti-tank rifle and anti-aircraft machine-gun. His basic training is not finished even then, as he must take another two months at least in the basic training of his particular arm or corps.

The quality of officer and man going overseas also passed his discerning judgment. Undoubtedly their calibre is equalling the finest battalions of the last war, and the troops arriving in England in 1941 are the same high-hearted, free-ranging fighting men who made the Canadian Corps great in the offensive battles of 1918. Further, the stage of the training process which they are reaching as they leave Canada in this summer of 1941 is exactly what had been planned for this time during the dark hours of the summer of 1940. Their training is effectively coordinated with the British Army and the Canadian Corps; all reinforcements are able to fit into their units overseas and new units are able to proceed with more advanced training at a stage depending upon the time spent in training in Canada, and the equipment which has been available for them.

It is clear that everything that was learned in the battle of France, and in all the campaigns since, is being reflected in the Canadian system of making a modern army which will some day meet and defeat the Wehrmacht in pitched battle.

Gen. McNaughton's congratulatory cable to the Chief of the General Staff should remove the last doubt that the Canadian Army is not being built to the pattern he considers most desirable.

The cable was his spontaneous reaction to a full report on the Army program after a year's progress since its adoption following the German blitzkriegs. It had been taken overseas by Brigadier Kenneth Stuart, D.S.O., M.C., the Vice-Chief of the General Staff. It discloses not only General McNaughton's approval of our training policy here in Canada but indicates that between himself and Gen. Crerar there is closest co-operation and greatest mutual trust.

These facts were always known by close observers but they have been missed by some Canadians. The instance of the cable, however, should be all the confirmation any Canadian should require of the full understanding which exists between the men who are creating, training and leading the field and home army.

Even if General McNaughton had not been moved to express his satisfaction with the training organization at home, the facts themselves can only inspire complete confidence that the General Staff is ably carrying out the difficult task which was assigned to it as a result of post-blitzkrieg conferences between the British and Canadian High Commands and government war leaders. Those same facts did not require General McNaughton's official and public endorsement; they already were so well known that they left little scope for grousing by the inevitable amateur strategist on the side-lines and in newspaper columns. The critic who does not want to be convinced must deliberately avoid informing himself in order to complain.

As early as last January, it was clear that the entirely new army which Canada was creating amid the crowding handicaps of the stress of war and the enormous expansion already in progress, was aimed directly at the coming clash between the Empire's forces and the highly mechanized Germans in the battles of decision.

We are building an army which will have tremendous striking weight from its armoured regiments and tank battalions. The entire army is dehorsed and motorized. There is evidence everywhere that tactical training is based on the theory that seconds are precious in today's warfare and that the "organized speed" of an offensive army is the secret of success in mechanized war. That can only be obtained from the compact strength of perfectly trained shock-troops and ancillary corps striking with smooth co-ordination. And that, in turn, can only be obtained by a long and careful training grind.

We are creating an army of machines, officered and manned by fighting men who are both self-reliant individualists and experts in team-work.

We are building an army which has a high percentage of armoured to infantry troops, and even the infantry are actually light machine-gun battalions. Their present equipment of a Bren and a Tommy gun per section is to be increased; already riflemen are mainly snipers in the sense that the Bren gun produces volume of fire while the rifleman is required to produce accurate individual fire.

We are raising an army which will be able to produce its own paratroop corps. The men who man such units must be superbly fit and possessed of exceptional initiative, self-reliance and fighting spirit. But first of all they must be fully trained soldiers in the modern meaning of that description. They are getting that training now. In the basic and advanced training centres they are acquiring the knowledge of weapons and devices, and developing their adaptability to lone-hawk adventuring, which will fit them for selection as paratroopers when the time comes for the second phase, actual air-work.

We are forming an army that is trained to fight in constant and close co-operation with aircraft — despite criticism over lack of such training facilities in Canada. Air-land co-operation has always been a major feature of Canadian Corps manoeuvres in England. Detailed account of Canadian field practices overseas have not been available, but some idea of their speed and sweep can be seen in the fact that General McNaughton always has aircraft at his command. Army Co-operation Squadrons are permanently attached to the armoured division acting on Canadian Corps Commander's orders, as they will be when the 5th (Armoured) Division goes overseas.

Only senior and staff officers who have confidence in each other and mutual faith in a common objective, could have re-organized an army and its training methods in the midst of war and then brought it to such an advanced state of efficiency as the Canadian Army has been brought since Dunkirk. Perhaps the real value of the Army Plan which, under the Chief of the General Staff, has been adopted for the training of the new Canadian Army, can best be seen in the fact that it has been drawn up in close co-operation with General McNaughton and with liaison constantly maintained through personal visits and interchange between officers on the staff in Ottawa and those in the Canadian Corps.

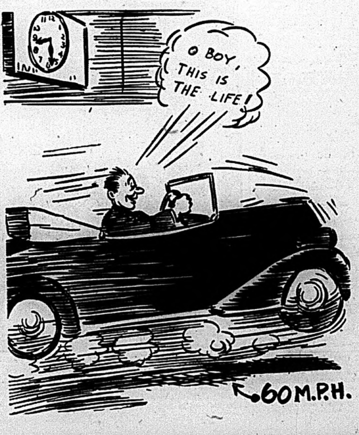
ARMY TRAINING STAFF

CRERAR
STUART
CHISHOLM
BALL
LAWSON
SPARLING
BELL

The Canadian Army-in-Training is building to the army plan which was born in the wake of the German blitzkrieg last year, and which necessitated complete reorganization of tactical training. Above are the two officers largely responsible for putting the long range program of training troops for the new warfare into effect, Major-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, D.S.O., and Brigadier Keneth Stuart, D.S.O., M.C., the Chief and Vice Chief of the General Staff.

Below are the staff officers of the Directorate of Training who are adding knowledge of the new tactics and weapons to the Canadian soldier's natural shock troop propensities. Centre, Col. J. K. Lawson, M.C., Director of Training, and left to right, Col. G. B. Chisholm, M.C., Lt.-Col. Spencer Ball, Lt.-Col. H. A. Sparling and Major A. A. Bell.

SABOTAGE



O BOY, THIS IS THE LIFE!
60 M.P.H.

67TH CASUALTY LIST

Ottawa, Aug. 30 (CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force, in its 67th casualty list, today reported 22 men dead and missing overseas and four men dead in Canada.

MEETING HAILED

(Continued from Page One)

A precondition to the establishment of such a new Europe, Dienst argued, was "destruction of the Bolshevist danger and plutocratic exploitation . . . the political powers presently united in the fight against the European continent."

Determined to Fight War

Dienst interpreted the statement that the Axis leaders were determined to carry the war to a successful conclusion as eliminating any possibility the conflict would be terminated by compromise.

All other questions Hitler and Mussolini discussed, such as the duration and further development of the war, were described by the commentary as of only "secondary importance" to the attainment of the goal of victory.

(Reports from Rome said Mussolini returned to Italy by special train after the talks.

(Italian correspondents said Mussolini himself was at the controls of Hitler's airplane on a return flight from one of their aerial trips to the front.

(In a telegram, Mussolini told Hitler "I am returning to Italy with the indelible version of a great work undertaken and with the absolute certainty of its victorious fulfillment.")

Finnish Forces Capture Viipuri is Claim Made

Helsinki, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Finnish command claimed today Finnish forces have captured Viipur, 75 miles north of Leningrad, in their drive down the Karelian Isthmus.

Finnish air observers reported two days ago that many fires were raging in Viipuri, indicating the Russians were destroying the city before withdrawing. The fires could be seen as far away as Lappeenranta, 32 miles to the northwest, they said.

The Helsinki radio said a large part of the city, the second largest in Finland before it was taken by Russia in the winter war of 1939-40, had been laid waste.

REFUGEES STILL REACH BRITAIN

London, Aug. 30—(CP)—British refugees from invaded countries are still reaching England. Some have taken a year to get back to their homeland. They have employed all sorts of ruses to escape and have endured unbelievable hardships on their circuitous journeys.

Forced to leave behind most of their possessions, they arrive destitute in many cases. A number of them have found employment in the Air Raid Precautions Service and other forms of war work.

The British War Refugees Fund has dealt with 4,500 cases. The Fund serves to educate children and feed and clothe elderly refugees. Some £50,000 ($225,000) has been raised.

DUKE VISITS U.S. NAVAL BASE

Air Commodore H.R.H. the Duke of Kent inspects marine guard of honor who turned out to welcome him upon arrival at the U.S. naval air station for tour of defence activities in the Norfolk area. He visited the air station, the naval operating base, the navy yard at Portsmouth, Newport News Shipbuilding plant and British vessels in the Hampton Roads area.

Joe Medwick is "Solid Man" of The Dodgers as Brooklynites Battle With Cardinals For Lead

Saved Game From the Giants With Leaping One-Hand Catch

WHITE SOX DOWNED

By GAYLE TALBOT

(Associated Press Sport Writer.)

Sufficient having been written for the time being about Howard Pollet, the Cardinals' sensational new pitcher, and it being a matter of common consent that Howard is tagged for baseball greatness, the writer hastens to grasp an opportunity to put in a few words for Joe Medwick, an elderly sort of outfielder for the Brooklyns.

Joe cost the Dodgers something over $100,000 last season, was beaned soon thereafter, and by the time the campaign closed was being referred to as "Larry MacPhail's folly." The great comeback he has made this season stamps Joe as one of the game's supreme gamesters, and if the Dodgers should manage to hold their slim lead over St. Louis right to the finish of the National League race it will be because Medwick has been in there scrapping like a rookie.

"Solid Man" of Dodgers

He is the "solid man" of the Dodgers these days. He is crowding the league leaders with a batting average of .316(has hit 17 homers, and has slugged 74 runs across the plate, counting the two that proved the eventual undoing of the Giants yesterday.

Some observers think Joe is fielding better than in his palmier days with the Cards. At least, he gives the impression he is hustling harder. In yesterday's game, with the Dodgers clinging worriedly to a 5-4 lead in the ninth inning Dick Bartell of the Giants whammed one far into left field that looked like the business but Medwick made a running, leaping stab of the pellet that gained him a great hand from the crowd and wrapped up the victory for pitcher Whit Wyatt.

Important Victory

It was an important victory for the Dodgers, as it fattened their lead over the idle Cards to a game and a half. Manager Leo Durocher's tired athletes realize all too well that they need to take full advantage of the weak eastern opposition at this point before starting on their winal do-or-die tour of the wild west.

They won yesterday's game (the only one played in the National League) by jumping on Hal Schumacher for six hits and five runs in the fifth inning before Manager Bill Terry decided they weren't fooling and got Schumacher out of there. Wyatt wasn't at his best, yielding 10 hits, but with a lead like that he was a cinch to get his 18th victory.

The American League also was busy changing partners and in the only contest played St. Louis Browns smote Chicago White Sox, 5-2, as Elden Auker recorded his 13th triumph. Johnny Berardino's double with the bases loaded in the third put the Browns in front 5-0, and from there on it was a breeze for Auker.

That dropped the second-place Sox to a remote position 17 1-2 games behind the Yankees and probably caused President Ed Barrow of the Yanks to breathe easier about his daring decision to start printing World Series tickets.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz,
Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Aug. 30—(AP)—Another record for the Yanks. They'll start accepting applications for World Series tickets next Tuesday, which is two weeks earlier than they've ever done it before. . . . You can bet anything you want that the Dodgers will play their series games if any at Ebbets Field, but it probably makes Larry MacPhail very sad to know that the park's capacity is just 6,000 more than the 28,000 seats the Yanks will sell the day of each game. . . The boys and girls out at Forest Hills have been hollering because only five grass courts have been available for practice and they can't get ready for the Nationals on any other kind. . . . But that is nothing compared to some of the bellow put up by Jersey City baseball fans. One writer described the club (barring pitchers) as "the lethargic misfits Horace Stoneham, Bill Terry & Co. asked local fans to support."

Sign of the times

First indication that winter is on way: Les Patrick is in town getting things rolling for the hockey season. . . . Muzz Patrick, Lester's younger son, is doing M.P. duty out at Camp Upton, which isn't much of a change from his old job as defenceman for the Rangers. . . . When old Ching Johnson goes to Washington to manage the new American League Club there, his children will be entered in their 19th school. . . . Angelo Bertelli, of West Springfield, Mass., passed up a chance for a good pro hockey job to enter Notre Dame. And why not? Frank Leahy has been hinting that Angelo may be another Charley O'Rourke.

Write your own gag:

Governors John Moses of North Dakota and Harlan J. Bushfield of South Dakota have a bet of one lamb on the outcome of the game between their state amateur baseball champions. . . . Might say the loser will go in with a lamb and come out a lyin' or do governors have to stick to truthful alibis?

SWACOS TO MEET BIG-Z LASSIES FOR CITY TITLE

Deacons Eliminated in 4th Game by Stewart-Warner-Alemite Crew

SCORE IS 9-8

"Danny" Stead's single followed by Norma Corneal's safety scored the run for SWACO's in the last half of the ninth inning at the Armouries lawn last evening, which not only won for them the ball game but which also eliminated Deacon's lassies from the city girls' softball pladowns. Needing only one more victory in their best-of-five series against Deacon's the SWACO's emerged from the semi-finals by a close 9-8 victory.

For the first three innings last night's tussle on the Armouries lawn was about the best pitching duel seen in the girls' softball circles this season as not until the fourth inning got under way did Deacon's forge to a short lead when they counted twice. SWACO's came back strong however and clouting McMurter's offerings for eight runs in the next three frames to take what seemed a commanding advantage.

With their backs to the wall and facing elimination in defeat, Deacon's fought back strongly however and with two runs in the sixth, one in the seventh and two in the eighth came near to tying the count. Starting the ninth left fielder Weeks conked out a double for the losers to score on a SWACO error and the fat was in the fire, necessitating the last half of the inning to be played. It was Stead's timely single and Norma Corneal's million dollar safety that decided the issue.

Although outhit twelve to nine, the Deacon's were more inclined to make their hits count than were the victorious SWACO nine as the score would indicate. Irene Colden for the winners led all the hitters of the night when she connected for four safeties in six official trips to the plate, while Langman and Ronsky got a brace of safeties each. For the losers Ridley and Sharp hit well, they likewise getting two htis each.

SWACO'S will now engage last year's champion Zeller girls in a best-in-seven series for the city championship.

The teams: Deacon's—Ridley, 2b; Samain, ss; McMurter, p; Sharp, lf; Dolder, 3b; Woodhouse, c; Corneal, 1b; Hansey, cf, and Weeks, rf. SWACO's—Colden, 3b; Stead, p; Rowbotham, 1b; Corneal, rf; Langman, c; Kelleher, cf; Ronsky, ly; Richardson, ss, and Fralick, 2b.

Score by innings:
Deacon's ...... 000 202 121—8 runs.
SWACO'S .. .. 000 242 001—9 runs
Umpires—Young and Carver.

GORDON BRYDSON WINS QUE. OPEN

Ben Hogan Fires a 67 to Lead Field by Two Strokes

Laval Sur Le Lac Golf Club, Laval, Que., Aug. 30—(CP)—Gordon Brydson of Toronto held the Quebec open golf championship today, chiefly because of a blazing five-under-par 66 on the final 18 holes.

That 66—made up of a two-under-par 34 going out and a three-under-par 32 coming home—shot the Toronto pro out of the pack into the championship a stroke ahead of Montreal's Stan Horne. Added to a rather ordinary 73 in the morning, it left Brydson with a three-under-par 139.

Horne shot a par 71 in the morning and his 69 in the afternoon appeared to have given him the title until Brydson came in a minute later with his 66.

Bill Kerr of Toronto and Rodolphe Huot of Quebec tied for third place, two strokes behind the winner. Huot had shot a 71 in the morning and added a 70 to it in the afternoon, while Kerr got his 70 in the morning and followed it with par figures for the afternoon.

Ernie Wakelam of Ottawa faded on the final round to card a 75 after leading the field in the morning with a 68. His 143 total left him in a fifth-place tie with Lex Robson of Peterborough, two strokes ahead of the two leading amateurs, Phil Farley of Toronto and Marcel Pinsonneault of Laval. Farley later won a playoff with Pinsonneault to capture top amateur honors.

WINANT PRAISED BRITISH SEAMEN

London (CP) — The "quiet and unobtrusive bravery" of British seamen was praised by John G. Winant, United States Ambassador to Britain, in a message to officers and men of the merchant navy. "Some of us," he said, "are in a position to know the scope of the task with its tremendous problems and difficulties, which you are mastering so well. . . All of us the world over who have the cause of true democracy at heart can only say, we thank you."

SOX TRADE SOCKS BUT RUNNER IS CALLED OUT

It's early for football. This looks like Bill Knickerbocker of the Chicago White Sox and Catcher Johnny Peacock of the Boston Red Sox are getting in training for football. But it's really baseball and both are going down after Knickerbocker was tagged at the plate in the third inning of a game at Chicago, in one of the best action pictures of the season. Knickerbocker tried to score from first base on Hoag's double and was out. The umpire in the picture is Steve Basil.

WARD, ABBOTT BATTLE FOR TITLE IN AMATEUR GOLF

Both Finalists Are 28 Years Old and Have Excellent Records

BOTH REAL HITTERS

Omaha, Aug. 30—(AP)—A steel-nerved star who's been in before and an unemployed former movie extra—both up from the ranks of public links competition—knocked on the door of amateur golf's hall of fame today.

Seeking the 45th national amateur championship in a 36-hole battle over the rugged Field Club layout, were Marvin (Bud) Ward, of Spake, Wash., winner in 1939, and Slim Pat Abbott of Los Angles whose best previous bid for the crown was his loss to Willie Turnesa in the 1938 finals.

Their duel shaped up as a perfect climax to a week of sensational golf for Ward, who yesterday moved ahead with a rousing 9 and 8 triumph over Bob Riegel of Houston, Tex., was the long-hitting 'slugger' type of competitor as contrasted to the shorter but straighter shooting little California Irishman, who moved into this finals with a one up victory over Ted Bishop of Boston.

Never Gave Riegel Chance

Ward, a public links tourney performer back in 1933 and in recent years the acknowledged top Simon-pure of the country, never gave Riegel a chance He won the first four holes with par golf and from that point on it was just a matter of time. The Texas entry didn't have the distance off the tee nor the cool experience of Ward, who did his share of scrambling and yet had the "clutch" shots to pull him out of trouble.

The match ended as Ward took the 27th and 28th with pars to go nine up.

Abbott, playing a deliberate game and allowing no tight spots to ruffle his swing, held a two-hole edge over Bishop through 32 holes. He three-putted the 33rd, however, and the easterner appeared to have a chance But Abbott refused to crack, matching his opponent shot for shot to the 36th, where a half gave him his triumph.

Both finalists are 28 years old and both have excellent records behind them.

LEAGUE LEADERS

(By The Associated Press)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting—Hopp, St. Louis, .333.
Runs—Hack, Chicago, 93.
Runs batted in—Mize, St. Louis, 93.
Hits—Litwhiler, Philadelphia, 157.
Doubles—Reiser, Brooklyn, 36.
Tripels—Fletcher, Pittsburgh, 10.
Home Runs—Camilli, Brooklyn, 27.
Stolen Bases—Frey, Cincinnati, 15.
Pitching—Riddle, Cincinnati, 15-2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting—Williams, Boston, .407.
Runs—Dimaggio, New York, 113.
Runs batted in—Dimaggio, New York, 112.
Hits—Travis, Washington, 179.
Doubles—Judnich, St. Louis and Dimaggio, New York, 38.
Triples—Travis, Washington, 16.
Home Runs—Keller, New York, 32.
Stolen bases—Case, Washington, 21.
Pitching—Gomez, New York, 12-4.

BY CHARCOAL GAS

Stockholm — (CP) — At least 100,000 motor vehicles in Sweden are now run with producer gas from charcoal or wood. This includes army trucks and cars.

SUB-PAR ROUNDS DIME A DOZEN

Five - Under - Par 66 on Final 18 Holes Clinches Tourney

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 30 (AP) — Though he holds a two-stroke lead, Ben Hogan, golf's best money winner, has to contend today with 16 fellow professionals, who have broken par for 36 holes for the $5,000 Hershey open championship.

Hogan fired a brilliant 67 yesterday to go with a first-round 69 for 136, two shots in front of Lloyd Mangrum, of Monterey, Calif.

The 7,000-yard par-73 Hershey layout was almost perfect for good scoring. As a result, scores of 157 or better were required to qualify the low 62 professionals and nine amateurs for today's and tomorrow's 18 holes.

Sub-par rounds were a dime a dozen. Hogan's 67 was good but not the best to date. Jack Grout, formerly assistant professional here, had a field day with his second shots on the long four-par holes to rack up a 66 and though he had a 77 in his first round, he still is in a contending position.

Best amateur in the field was Dick Chapman, 1940 United States amateur champion, at 149. Dick took a 74 yesterday with his earlier 75 and blew only at the 18th hole. There he hit a trap from the tee, topped an explosion shot and wound up with a six on a three-par hole.

For example Sam Snead, open champion had a 69 yesterday for 141 and it was an unfortunate 141 because Sam had putts hang on the edge of the cup all day long.

Snead was tied with Teri Johnson, Norristown, Pa., and Denny Shute, twice P.G.A. champion. At 143 along with Grout were Clayton Heafner, Johnny Bulla, Gene Kunes, Bill Stackhouse, Sequin Texas and Horton Smith.

Y.W.C.A. CADETS

Croydon, (CP)—Girls over 14 here are now receiving preliminary training for all branches of the auxiliary services through the auspices of the British Y.W.C.A.

Results

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	86	44	.662
Chicago	68	61	.527
Boston	66	62	.516
Cleveland	64	61	.512
Detroit	60	68	.469
Philadelphia	56	70	.444
St. Louis	55	71	.437
Washington	53	71	.427

Friday Results.

St. Louis 5; Chicago 2.
Only games scheduled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Brooklyn	81	44	.648
St. Louis	79	45	.637
Cincinnati	69	52	.570
Pittsburg	67	56	.545
New York	58	65	.472
Chicago	55	72	.433
Boston	51	73	.411
Philadelphia	35	88	.285

Friday Results.

Brooklyn 5; New York 4.
Only games scheduled.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Newark	92	51	.643
Montreal	85	58	.594
Buffalo	82	62	.569
Rochester	77	66	.538
Jersey City	68	70	.493
Syracuse	65	77	.458
Baltimore	53	85	.384
Toronto	45	98	.315

Friday Results.

Rochester 7; Buffalo 0.
Syracuse 2-5; Jersey City 1-6.
Newark 11; Baltimore 2.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Results

Louisville 3; Columbus 2.
Minneapolis 1; Milwaukee 0.
Toledo 6; Indianapolis 0.

CAN-AM RESULTS

Three Rivers 6-15; Oneonta 1-5.
Quebec 4; Pittsfield 4 (called in eighth, darkness)
Gloversville 2-12; Utica 3-6.
Amsterdam 3; Rome 4.

First Apostolic Delegate—

Mgr. Diomede Falconio, first permanent apostolic delegate to Canada, arrived at Quebec, Oct.1, 1899.

LIGHT-HEAVY CHAMP SENDS A HAIR-RAISER

Gus Lesenvich, RIGHT, of Cliffside, N.J., hits Tami Mueriello so hard with a left to the jaw that the Bronx, N.Y., fighter's hair dances all over his head in their 15-round world light-heavyweight title bout at Madison Square Garden, New York city. Lesnevich took the decision but the young Bronx fighter made it close with a rousing comeback in the last few rounds.

OSHAWA JUNIORS EVEN SERIES WITH ESQUIRE KIDS

Pack Plenty of Power and Play Airtight Ball Afield

SCORE IS 12-5

Packing too much power in their war clubs and playing airtight ball afield, Bill's Place, Oshawa Juniors, showed to advantage at Coleman Flats last evening when they gave the Esquire Juniors a sound 12-5 trouncing and to their O.A.S.A. playdown series with the locals at one game each. The third and deciding game will be played in Belleville next Wednesday night when the chips for both teams will be down, the winners to go on in the provincial playdowns and the vanquished to hang up their spikes for the season.

Outhit eleven to six the locals could not just seem to solve Wilson's, the Oshawa hurlers' slants, and with the exception of Art Mansfield the team as a whole failed miserably at the plate. Art easily led all hitters of the night when he connected for a homer and two doubles in four official trips to the plate, while the Oshawa powerhouse nine banged out eleven safeties off the combined offerings of Powers and Campbell.

Score Two Cheap Runs

The visitors scored two cheap runs in the first inning when a walk, an attempted sacrifice and a fielder's choice sent McIntyre and Eddolls scampering across the plate. The locals evened matters in their half however as a wild throw and hits by Guay and Mansfield tallied. Starting the third Oshawa went into the lead as a hit and a wild throw by Catcher Braddon in fielding a bunt permitted a lone counter.

Oshawa again threatened in the third when a single and double put men in scoring position but Powers bore down to force the next batter to hit to left for the final out. They went well out in front in the fifth when four runs scampered across and had scored two in the sixth when Campbell was brought in to finish the game. Campbell limited the slugging Oshawa nine to three hits and as many runs for the balance of the game but damage already was done.

Conacher Stood Out

Conacher at short for the winners stood out and with the exception of one wild throw in the first inning fielded his position perfectly while the outfield, especially McNaught in left, gave their hurler superb support. Guay at short for Esquire played well as did Mansfield, but the infield as a whole did not have the zip that has been prevalent in other games during the season.

Offensively Mansfield, Conacher, McAtee and McIntyre stood out head and shoulders above their teammates, with Mansfield batting in four runs and scoring the fifth himself. Conacher cracked out two doubles and a single while Mortimer hit a homer and two singles.

All Even

OSHAWA	AB.	R.	H.
McIntyre, 2b	4	3	2
Eddolls, c	6	2	1
Conacher, ss	5	3	3
McAtee, 3b	5	1	3
Mortimer, cf	4	0	1
W. Wilson, 1b	5	2	1
McLaughlin, rf	5	0	0
McNaught, lf	4	0	0
B. Wilson, p	4	1	0
	42	12	11

ESQUIRE	AB.	R.	H.
Whiting, 3b	5	1	0
Yerrow, lf	4	0	0
Guay, ss	4	1	1
Clare, rf	4	1	1
Mansfield, 2b	4	2	3
Reid, cf	4	0	0
Braddon, c	2	0	0
Callaghan, 1b	2	0	1
Powers, p	2	0	0
Spencer x	2	0	0
Campbell xx	1	0	0
Cook xxx	1	0	0
Peacock xxxx	1	0	0
	36	5	6

x—Replaced Braddon in sixth.
xx—Replaced Powers in sixth.
xxx—Batted for Callaghan in ninth.
xxxx—Batted for Campbell in ninth.

Summary: Home runs, Mansfield and McAtee; two base hits, Conacher 2, Mortimer, and Mansfield 2. Hits off Wilson 6, off Powers in five and one-third innings 9, off Campbell 2; bases on balls, off Wilson, 1; off Powers, 1; off Cambell 3; struck out by Wilson 5, by Powers 2, by Campbell 4. Umpires—Trott, Oshawa, plate, and Bawden, bases.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Oshawa	210 043 020—	12	11	3
Esquire	200 001 020—	5	6	5

YESTERDAY'S STARS

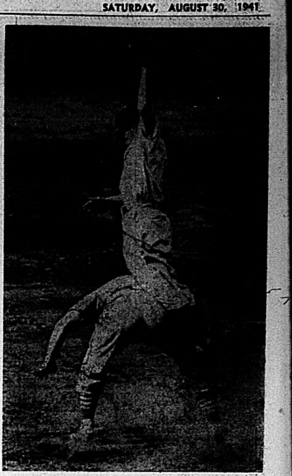
(By The Associated Press)

Whit Wyatt and Joe Medwick, Dodgers—Former scored his 18th victory, striking out eight, and latter knocked in deciding runs in 5-4 win over Giants.

Johnny Berardino, Browns—Doubled with bases loaded to defeat Chicago White Sox.

Arctic N.W. Passage—

The first traverse of the Northwest Passage was made by Ronald Amundsen in 1906 aboard the schooner Gjoa.



GOING UP IN THE BASEBALL WORLD

Shortstop Harold (Pee Wee) Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers, reaches for the sky in going after Catcher Herman Franks' high throw in the fourth inning of a "croocial" twin bill between the first-place Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals, in second place. Franks tried to catch Left Fielder Don Padgett napping off second, but the Cardinal scurries back safely.

FRANK KELLEHER OF NEWARK BEARS TIES A RECORD

Hits 37 Home Runs to Tie Alex Kampouris' Record of Last Lear

A'S DEFEAT LEAFS

(By the Associated Press)

Frank Kelleher, slugging outfielder of Newark Bears in the International Baseball League, has kicked around a lot in baseball for his 24 years, but he seems to be on the right track now.

Until this season Kelleher never knew what position he would be called upon to play from day to day He started out as a shortstop, but since joining the Bears late in 1937 has taken his turn in almost every position on the diamond. However, Manager Johnny Neun ended all that last spring when he announced that Kelleher would be his regular leftfielder.

How well Kelleher vindicated his manager's faith in him can be seen by the records. Today, despite a batting average well below .300, he leads the league in runs batted in with 117 and has collected 36 home runs, to top the circuit in that department.

Tries All-Time Record

He connected for round-tripper No. 36 last night to tie the all-time Newark record set by Alex Kampouris last year, as the Bears drubbed Baltimore Orioles 11-2. Victory put Newark 7 games out in front in the flag race, with only 11 left to play.

John Lindell took care of the pitching for the Bruins, racking up his 22nd victory behind his mates' 17-hit support. Orlin Collier, Oriole starting hurler, bore the brunt of Newark's assault, yielding nine hits and six runs in less than four innings.

With second-place Montreal idle, Buffalo Bisons dropped 3 1-2 games behind in third by losing 7-0 to Rochester Red Wings. Max Surkont, who recently hurled a seven-inning no-hitter for the Wings, blanked Buffalo with three hits for his ninth triumph. Whitey Kurowski's second-inning homer with Harry Davis aboard, featured Rochester's seven-hit attack on four Buffalo pitchers.

Jersey Giants Split

Jersey City and Syracuse split a twin-bill, the Chiefs winning a 13-inning thriller, and the Little Giants coming back to take the nightcap 6-5.

Rube Fischer limited Syracuse to five hits in the first game but poor support cost him the verdict. Lynn Nelson, who relieved starter Johnny Whitehead in the 12th and pitched two hitless innings, was the winning hurler. A single by Del Young, which scored Mickey Witek from second base, gave the Jerseys the second game.

Toronto Maple Leafs, cellar occupants, lost an exhibition game 4-3 to Philadelphia Athletics at Toronto.

THROW AWAY MANY CIGARETTES

London, Aug. 29—(CP) — After spending six months collecting cigaret butts from roads, research workers figured smokers in Britain throw away the equivalent of 2,500,000,000 cigaretes a year. They sniped 40,000 buts, each about an inch long.

PERFECT TIMING MARKS SWIM STARS

Bunmei Nakama, Bob Tribble, Takashi Hirose and Paul Herron, FRONT to BACK, members of the Hawaiian swim team who competed against an all-star Pacific coast aggregation at the Los Angeles, Cal., Swimming stadium, churn the water with machine-like precision.

Here Is One of the Great Values for Little

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER WANT AD. RATES.

Minimum Charge for the first twenty words, per Insertion 30c
Two Insertions 50c
Three Insertions 75c
Over Twenty Words, 1½c per word per insertion.
Box number .... extra 10c

Copy accepted until 12.30 noon on day of publication. Saturdays until 10 a.m.
Telephone 99

AUTO FINANCE

AUTO LOANS
REFINANCING

On terms and at rates which you will find suitable to your requirements. Your car is a quick and gilt-edge asset for borrowing. Only the owner signs. Deal with confidence with the largest company of its kind in Canada.

D. H. MARSHALL
71 Bridge St. E. Phone 1073
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE
Windsor. Hamilton. Toronto. Ottawa.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

CEMENT MIXER AND MAN TO operate same is for rent. Apply 2238. A26-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

HERBERT W. ROBESON, Chartopaedist. All foot, leg and knee troubles, such as Swollen Ankles, Fallen Arches, Metatarsals, Callouses, Bunions and cases arising therefrom, such as Arthritis, Flibitis, Sciatica, Varicose Ulcers. Interviews free. Phone 1439J.. 222 Coleman Street, Belleville. Associate of Wade's of Toronto. A18-tf

CONTRACTOR

ALFRED SKINNER, 149 PINNACLE Street, Contractor and Builder. All repairs from cellar to roof. Estimates, free. Telephone 2238. A13-tf

MINERAL BATHS

MINERAL BATHS AND MASSAGE The finest treatment for Neuritis, Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Colds, etc. Separate parlors for Ladies and Gentlemen. Graduate Nurse. Registered Masseur. Phone 1182. "THE HEALTH INSTITUTE". 231 William St., Belleville.

CHIROPRACTOR

E. A. WYATT, Ph.C., Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub; coagulation of tonsils. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions. 210 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 366. Lady attendant.

E. E. and VERA B. PITCHER, Sp.C., Chiropractors, and Drugless Therapists. Adjustments. Radioclast Diagnosis and Treatment. Ultra-Violet and Infra-Red Radiations. Coagulation of Tonsils and Electrical Treatments. 48½ Bridge St., East, Belleville, Ont. Phone 1274.

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.

SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE AND FIRE INSURANCE
249½ Front St. Phone 482

HALL & EARLE
General Insurance, Fire, Automobile, Accident and Plate Glass
272 Front St. Phone 1134W

Screen Clock

BELLE THEATRE TIMES
THEY MET IN BOMBAY
Clark Gable, Rosalind Russell
2.00 — 5.25 — 7.30 — 9.45

McCARTHY THEATRE TIMES
DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR
James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Frank McHugh
2.40 — 5.05 — 7.30 — 9.55

CAPITOL THEATRE TIMES
SUNSET IN WYOMING
Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette
7.35 — 10.00
REPENT AT LEISURE
Kent Taylor, Wendy Barrie
8.45

Nazis Sterilize Poland's Youth

London, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Reports from Poland published by the anti-Nazi German newspaper "Die Zietung" say that the Nazis have undertaken methodical sterilization of Polish youth.

The reports say the Nazis declare openly that the fertility of the Polish young married population must be reduced by every means possible. The paper tells how boys and girls in the province of Pomorz are seized in the streets and sterilized in groups of 100 or more.

WANTED

MAN DISHWASHER AND CHEF'S assistant. Apply 245 Front St. A30

2 OR 3 ROOMED FURNISHED apartment, all conveniences, good location. Immediate possession. Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer. A30-3t

IMMEDIATELY APARTMENT OR flat, 3 or more rooms furnished. Reliable tenants. Phone Mrs. Collins, 2050. A30

WAITRESS, GOOD SALARY — Working hours about 49 per week. Not paid by the hour. Apply The Guild Restaurant, 245 Front St. A30

FREE ROOM AND BOARD FOR school girl in exchange for help. Phone 1874M. A27-30

FARM LABORER, MARRIED. Write Box 33, Ontario Intelligencer or Phone 247. A29-2t

TO BUY, OR RENT, SMALL home or apartment, with garden. City or country. Immediately. Box 2, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-2t

KITCHEN MAID FOR INSTITUTION work. Experience not essential. Apply in writing to Box 30, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-3t

MAID BY SEPTEMBER 1. SLEEP out. Mrs. Crossland, 277 William St. Phone 2494. A29tf

EXPERIENCED SALESLADY FOR gift and novelty store. State age, experience, etc., to Box 34, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-2t

SMALL HOUSE, APARTMENT OR flat, centrally located; reasonable rent. No children. Phone 2306W. A29-3t

ASSISTANT BOOKKEEPER — young lady; experienced. Apply Lipson's Furniture House. A29-2t

ONE OR TWO FURNISHED rooms, with kitchenette, immediately. Apply Box 44, Ontario Intelligencer. A29-3t

POSITION AS TRUCK DRIVER. Experienced. Write Howard Clark, c/o Fred Chambers, Napanee R. 3. A29-2t

3 OR 4 ROOM APARTMENT with water. Phone 36. A29-2t

WOMAN WANTS HOUSEWORK by the day. Phone 2223W between seven and nine-thirty. A29-2t

DELIVERY BOY, STEADY. Apply Empire Fruit Market. A29-2t

MARRIED MAN TO WORK ON farm by the year. Apply Harry O'Neill. Phone 33-32. A29-3t

BY SEPTEMBER 15, TWO OR three light housekeeping rooms, West Hill preferred. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer. A28-3t

GIRL FOR LIGHT HOUSEWORK. Sleep out. Apply 55 East Moira. A28-3t

WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE $35 to $50 or more weekly and be your own boss? Let me show you how I am doing it with no worries of losing job. It will cost nothing to enquire and see if you can qualify for present opening. Apply Gus Olsson, 257 John Street, Belleville, after 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 1 p.m. Saturday, August 28, 29 and 30. A28-3t

GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEwork. Experienced. Phone, Trenton 881. A28-3t

A DELIVERY BOY, WITH OR without bicycle. Steady position if satisfactory. Livesey Meat Market, 18½ W. Bridge Street. A28-3t

HOUSE WANTED — 2 OR MORE bedrooms. Possession soon as possible. East Hill preferred. Phone 706. A27-4t

EXPERIENCED HOUSE MAID and waitress. Apply in person only. Hotel Belvedere. A27-6t

HOUSEKEEPER TO TAKE FULL charge of home. 3 adults. No objection to child. C. H. Palmer, Consecon. A25-6t

NOW IS THE TIME TO QUALIFY for a Government job as Clerk, Postman, Customs Clerk, Steno., etc. Five Dominion-wide exams held since war began. Free booklet. M. C. C. Schools Ltd.. Toronto 10. Oldest in Canada. No agents.

CASH EVERY WEEK! SELL UNiversally used RED TAG Nursery Stock full or part time. 1500 varieties. Free samples, sales help, no investment. Dominion Nurseries, Montreal. J19

MEN AND WOMEN WANTED

MEN AND WOMEN OF NEAT APpearance, willing to work, can earn a nice salary every week, by selling JITO PRODUCTS. We offer two hundred Household necessities including: Toilet articles, family remedies, Tea, Coffee, etc. THIRTY DAY TRIAL WITHOUT RISK. Inquire immediately: JITO, 1436 Montcalm, Montreal. A23,27,30,S3,6,10,13,17

NOWHERE CAN YOU GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY THAN ON THE WANT AD. PAGE

Results for 30c—

FOR SALE

27 GOOD EWES, ALL YOUNG. Henry McWilliams, Corbyville. A30-2t

LARGE BUILDING LOT, CORNer Bridge Street and Herchimer Ave. Apply A. C. Frost, Herchimer Ave. A30

ONE CHILD'S COT; ONE WICKer baby buggy; ¾ bed size mattress. Apply 35 Ridley Ave. or Phone 1883. A30

'37 HUDSON TERRAPLANE Coupe; good condition; owner leaving city. Reasonable for cash. Phone 1438J. A30-3t

OR RENT, THREE FARMS FROM 50 to 150 acres; plenty water and wood. Stock and implements if desired. Easy terms. Dr. Carleton, Thomasburg. A19-23-26-30

'31 DURANT SEDAN, GOOD CONdition; new tires. Best offer for cash. Evenings only. Apt. 1, 257 Bleecker Ave. A29-2t

ON LARGE LOT, FIVE ROOMED house on West Hill; modern, except furnace; hardwood floors downstairs; chestnut trim; full basement; screened porch. Interested parties write Box 28 Ontario Intelligencer. A26-6t

7 ROOM FRAME, 312 CHARLES Street. 4 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 piece bath, garage, large lot. Full particulars as to price and terms on application. Belleville Realty Co. Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

BERKEL ELECTRIC COFFEE Mill; first class condition; late model. Cash price $50.00. Time payments if desired. Strouds' Gift Shop. A29-2t

OR RENT, FARM, 92 ACRES; good state of cultivation; clay loam; electricity; five miles from Belleville. Edwin Adams, R. 5, Trenton. A29-3t

DOUBLE BED WITH SPRINGS and spring filled mattress. Excellent condition. Phone 2515. A29-3t

50 QUEEN ST., CORNER OF Ann Street — well built brick house, in good state of repair—large living room with coal fire place and French doors, den, dining room, kitchen, five bedrooms, bath, good basement, hot air heating. A bright and easily heated house in a desirable location. Would make an excellent duplex. Inspection by appointment. Exclusive agent, George N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A29-tf

WE HAVE SOLD MANY PROPerties so far this year. If you desire to sell list your place with us and if you wish to buy see us. Belleville Locators (Geo. N. Gorman, Prop.), Licensed and Registered Real Estate Brokers and Associate Members of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards —166 Front St., opposite City Hall. Phone 99. A29tf

'35 CADILLAC DELUXE SEDAN; real good tires and motor. A real bargain for cash. Phone 152J. A29-2t

'36 TERRAPLANE COACH. LOW mileage; good tires and motor. A bargain and terms. Hopkins' Garage, Foxboro. A29-2t

THAT FINE BRICK HOME, GIVins Estate, 281 Bleecker. Four bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, back and front verandahs, lot 50 x 150. Laundry tubs in cellar. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

VERY MODERN HOME, 154 ALbert. Back and front verandahs, newly painted, living room, dining room, kitchen, reception hall, French doors, hardwood floors throughout, 3 bedrooms, one with wash basin, 3 piece bath, modern hot water system, with low type radiators, laundry tubs, screens and storm windows. Lot 50 x 100. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

7 ROOM FRAME HOUSE AND barn, 5 acres garden land, situated on Foxboro Highway, just outside city limits. This is a real bargain at $2000.00. Taxes only $33.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson, Prop. A27-tf

FOR SALE

9 ROOM BRICK, FOSTER AVE., converted into three apartments of 3 rooms each. Hardwood floors, furnace, good basement. Tax is only $115.00. Lot 100 x 132. This is a real money maker and a bargain at $3000.00. Belleville Realty Co., Kresge Bldg. H. B. Wilson Prop. A27-tf

175 WEST MOIRA STREET, substantial brick house in good state of repair. Living room, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms, bath, hot air heating, garage for three cars. This is a desirable property in a nice location. Reasonable price for cash. Inspection by appointment only. Apply Geo. N. Gorman, (Belleville Locators), 166 Front Street. Phone 99. A27-tf

TO LET

FURNISHED HOUSE. HARDwood floors, modern kitchen; rent $40. Phone 313J. A30-3t

HEATED AND WELL FURNISHED apartment; one bed room with shower bath; den; living room and dining room combined; fireplace; kitchen facilities; garage; close in; immediate possession. Rent $50 per month. Apply Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A30tf

COMFORTABLE FRONT BEDroom; suit one or two gentlemen; hot water. 51½ North Front. Phone 2630W. A29-3t

FURNISHED AND HEATED house on West Bridge Street. Close in. Combined living room and dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms. Sixty dollars per month. Possession October 1st. Apply Geo. N. Gorman (Belleville Locators), 166 Front St. Phone 99. A29-tf

3 ROOMED HEATED UPPER APartment; hot water; private entrance. No children. 27 Queen St. Phone 827J. A28-3t

FOR SEPTEMEBER - OCTOBER, furnished summer cottage, Trenton Road. Electricity, fireplace, bathroom. Apply Mrs. Cooper. Phone 951W. A28-3t

PERSONAL

YOU CAN RUN A HOME KINDergarten with our help. Canadian Kindergarten Institute, Toronto 10, Ontario. f4-estf

TAXPAYERS TAKE NOTICE

The last day for paying the third instalment of 1941 Taxes without penalty being added will be Wednesday, September 3rd., 1941.

H. B. STOCK,
Tax Collector.
A30-S2

LOST

AERIAL OFF CAR ON WEDnesday afternoon on road between Belleville and Oak Hill Lake. Finder return to Ontario Intelligencer office for reward.

LEATHER ZIPPERED PURSE containing large amount of money and driver's licence. Finder kindly leave at Police Station. Reward. A30

FOUND

THE WRIST WATCH ADVERTISed last week erroneously by an advertiser as lost in the Army and Navy Veterans' Hall, has been recovered. A30

AUCHINLECK AT DAMASCUS

Damascus, Aug. 29—(Delayed)—(AP)—Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, British Middle East commander, arrived here Thursday and had a long conference with Gen. Georges Catroux, Free French Commander.

Gen. Auchinleck was accompanied by Gen. Sir Maitland Wilson, Commander in Palestine and Transjordan.

(Gen. Auchinleck visited London recently to confer with Prime Minister Churchill and other leaders.)

LATTIMER'S
DRUG STORE
Open Sunday

SELDON'S
DRUG STORE
Open Sunday

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE of William Donahue, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Contractor, Deceased.

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to Sections 51 and 56 of the Trustees Act, R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 165, that all creditors and others having claims or demands against the estate of the said William Donahue, who died on or about the 18th. day of June, A.D. 1941, at the City of Belleville, are required, on or before the 9th. day of September, A.D. 1941, to send by post, prepaid, or deliver to E. Ormonde Butler, solicitor for the executrix of the last Will and Testament of the said deceased, their Christian names and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars, in writing, of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of the security, if any, held by them.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after such last mentioned date the said executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which she shall then have notice, and that the said executrix will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received by her at the time of such distribution.

E. ORMONDE BUTLER,
28 Bridge Street East,
Belleville, Ontario,
Solicitor for the said Executrix.
DATED at Belleville this 9th. day of August, A.D. 1941.
A12-23-30

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE of William Clement, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Car Inspector, C.N.R.

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to Sections 51 and 56 of the Trustees Act, R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 165, that all creditors and others having claims or demands against the estate of the said William Clement, who died on or about the 5th day of April, A.D. 1941, at the City of Belleville, are required, on or before the 9th. day of September, A.D. 1941, to send by post, prepaid, or deliver to E. Ormonde Butler, solicitor for the Administratrix of the said deceased, their Christian names and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars, in writing, of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of the security, if any, held by them.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after such last mentioned date the said administratrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which she shall then have notice, and that the said administratrix will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received by her at the time of such distribution.

E. ORMONDE BUTLER,
28 Bridge Street East,
Belleville, Ontario,
Solicitor for the said Administratrix
DATED at Belleville this 9th. day of August, A.D. 1941.
A12-23-30

TREASURER'S SALE OF LANDS.

In the County of Hastings, in the Province of Ontario.
To Wit:

By Virtue of a Warrant issued by the Warden of the County of Hastings bearing date of the Fifteenth day of July, 1941, sale of lands in arrears of taxes in the County of Hastings will be held in Shire Hall, in the City of Belleville, at the hour of Ten o'clock in the morning on Tuesday, the Fourth day of November, 1941, unless the taxes and costs are sooner paid. Notice is hereby given that the list of lands for sale for arrears of taxes is being published in the Ontario Gazette on the Second day of August, 1941, and that copies of said list may be had at my office, 228 Church Street, Belleville.

Treasurer's Office this Seventh day of August, 1941.

JAMES W. HAGGERTY,
Treasurer
A9,16,23,30S6,13,20,27, O4,11,18,25N1

NURSES QUIT IN PROTEST

Oslo, Norway (CP)—All the directors, office staff and most of 3,700 members of the Norwegian Nurses' Association resigned when the Germans removed President Berta Helgested and put in a Nazi sympathizer.

USED CARS
Aselstine's Shell Service

Operating at head of UPPER BRIDGE, BELLEVILLE, in collaboration with NAPANEE MOTORS, LIMITED, are offering for sale at these premises, GUARANTEED USED CARS. A call is solicited. Offerings at present are as follows:

1940 PLYMOUTH COACH.
1940 DODGE.
1938 DESOTO SEDAN.
1937 PACKARD SEDAN.

PHONE 480
A28-3t

PERSONAL LOANS
One Year to Repay
Apply to Nearest Branch of
THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

If You Borrow	You Receive	You Make 12 Monthly Deposits of
$ 60	$ 55.87	$ 5.00
$108	$100.96	$ 9.00
$300	$280.94	$25.00
$540	$505.54	$45.00

Other Amounts at Proportionately Low Rates

HIS HEATING PROBLEM—

SOLVED!
THROUGH THE FRIENDLY SERVICE OF THE QUINTE FINANCE

Now, if you want to play safe you may borrow for your winter's coal and pay it back in 15 easy monthly payments.

QUINTE FINANCE
and
SECURITIES LIMITED.
168 Front St. Phone 168

Fall Fair Dates

Peterboro (Junior, only)	Aug. 27
Belleville	Sept. 8-10
Brighton	Sept. 12
Coe Hill	Sept. 17, 18
Kingston	Sept. 16-19
Shannonville	Sept. 20
Stirling	Sept. 16, 17
Campbellford	Sept. 23, 24
Napanee	Sept. 22-24
Picton	Sept. 26, 27
Marmora	Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Tweed	Oct. 2, 3
Madoc	Oct. 7, 8
Roseneath	Oct. 16, 17
Warkworth	Oct. 9, 10

GERMAN OFFICER BLAMED BRITISH FOR WAR'S START

Freed British Merchant Captain Tells Grim Story of German Raider and Prison Ship

Gibraltar, August 30 — (CP) — A grim tale of imprisonment at sea was described by a British sailor who was freed when the Royal Navy captured a Nazi prison ship in the South Atlantic.

Captain John Miller was taken prisoner when a raider sank the steamship Rabaul, a vessel of 5,600 tons. When the ship was blazing fiercely and sinking by the stern the skipper ordered the crew to abandon ship.

"It was an eerie scene," the captain recalled. "The night was fully lit by the flaming wreck. The sailors who had found no room in the lifeboats struggled in the water holding to the wreckage. The raider lowered a motor boat and its engine would sometimes be heard above the wind and the sea. Finally we were taken aboard and the raider altered course away from the scene of the 'kill.'"

Miller said that although the German crew were strictly disciplined they seemed to have little Nazi sympathy and appeared oppressed with a feeling of hopelessness. The prisoners were well fed on food with English markings, evidently captured from other merchant ships.

Capt. Miller quoted the German captain as saying after the funeral of a British sailor who had died from wounds:—"Why did the English declare war? It is all your fault that I have to do these things. It is all England's fault that I killed this man. It is England's fault that we Germans have to behave like brutes."

Germans Bitter

A few days later the raider sank the 5,500-ton Trafalgar and then made contact with a supply ship disguised as a Netherland's merchantman. She was really the German vessel Babitonge, which had been given clearance papers in South America for Vladivostok, Russia, but had never attempted to leave the South Atlantic.

The prisoners were transferred to the supply ship and later to the prison ship, where, Capt. Miller said, the atmosphere of oppression was hard to describe.

"The men were brought up by the Nazi party in bitterness of spirit and not in the traditions of the sea," he said. "They acted under a compelling fear — fear for themselves."

The seaman did not remain long aboard the prison ship. A Royal Air Force reconnaissance plane spotted the ship and soon after a warship hove in sight and captured the vessel without difficulty.

This is the band of funsters that make "Too Many Blondes" one of the best musicals you have ever seen. They are Shemp Howard, Helen Parrish, Eddie Quillan, Rudy Vallee, Jerome Cowan, Iris Adrian and Lon Chaney, Jr. The picture starts Sunday midnight at the Capitol with "Men of the Timberland."

BIRTH

DICKENS — At Belleville General Hospital on Friday, August 29, 1941, to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dickens (nee Iladell Airhart), a daughter, Frances Anne. A30

774W
A FUNERAL DIRECTOR should be called on the basis of confidence— as you would a physician.

Belleville Burial Co.
27 Campbell St.

GRANT
FUNERAL HOME
68 North Front St. Belleville
PHONE 373

Thomas C. Thompson
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Moderate Funeral Costs
Funeral Home: 38 Everett Street
Phone 62
Branch: MADOC. Phone 112
AMBULANCE SERVICE.
HOSPITAL BEDS.

NEGRO CONFESSES RAPE-SLAYINGS

Stenographer and Bride Were Victims in Washington, D.C. — Other Cases Reported

Washington, Aug. 30 — (AP) — Claiming an amazing series of confessions from a one-time undertaker's assistant, police announced today solution of two crimes that shocked the capital — the rape-slayings of a government stenographer and of a young bride.

Edward J. Kelly, acting superintendent of police, said the man — Jarvis Roosevelt Catoe — a 38-year old negro — had confessed not only in these two cases, but in a series of five other sex homicides both here and in New York. Three of the victims were white, four negroes.

The superintendent said he was satisfied the confessions were true and they "positively convinced him" that he had the man who raped and strangled Miss Jessie Elizabeth Strieff, war department employee whose nude body was found hidden in a garage here June 16.

The slaying of Miss Strieff, waylaid on her way to a store, aroused Congress to investigate police efficiency and a shake-up of the force followed.

Kelly also announced the negro had made a confession in the rape-slaying of Mrs. Rose Simon Abramowitz, 25, found dead in her apartment here a month after she had come to the city as a bride.

Then came the rape-slaying of Mrs. Evelyn Andersen, 26, whose body was found Aug. 4 in a Bronx lot. It was this case that led to the apprehension of the negro.

Mrs. Andersen's wrist watch was missing when her body was found, police said. A search located it in a New York pawn shop. It was traced to a woman who pawned it and police alleged she had received it from the man arrested at his home here yesterday.

Kelly said the sex slayings covered by the series of confessions took place between Dec. 1, 1939 and the present month.

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE

Rome, Aug. 30—(AP)—The Italian High Command claimed today a Fascist submarine in the Atlantic had sunk a "modern British destroyer of the Jervis type" and a 2,600-ton merchantman.

Another freighter was said to have been heavily damaged by shell hits from German artillery batteries firing at the harbor of the besieged Libya port of Tobruk.

(The Admiralty has not announced the recent loss of any destroyer.)

RADIO PROGRAMS

(Daylight Saving Time)

SATURDAY, AUGUST 30.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club; Don McNeill, M.C.—CBL
10.00—Andrini Continentals—WJZ
11.00—The Band Played On—CBL
11.45—Nat'l Amateur Golf—WABC, CFRB, WGR
2.45—Nelson Eddy, songs—CBL
5.15—Saratoga Races—CBL
7.00—Gentlemen with Wings—CBL
7.00—People's Platform — WABC.
7.15—Canada Calls From London—CBL
7.30—Wayne King's Orch.—WGR
7.30—Little Ol' Hollywood—CBL
7.45—H. V. Kaltenborn, news—WEAF, WBEN
7.45—The Inside of Sports—WOR
8.00—Latitude Zero, drama—WEAF WBEN
8.00—Guy Lombardo's Orch—WABC
8.30—Hawaii Calls —CBL
8.30—Truth or Consequences—WEAF, WGY
8.30—The Bishop and the Gargoyle, mystery drama—WJZ
9.00—Your Hit Parade—WABC, WGR
9.00—Nat'l. Barn Dance — WEAF, WBEN
9.00—Coliseum Chorus—CBL
9.30—Summer Symphony — WJZ, WHAM
9.45—Saturday Night Serenade — WJR, WGR
10.00—Summer Symphony — WJZ, CBL
10.00—Grant Park Concert—WEAF, WGY
10.15—Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
11.00—News—CBL
11/15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Ray Heatherton's Orch—WJZ, WHAM

SUNDAY, AUGUST 31.

8.00—News; Dr. Charles M. Courboin, organist—WEAF, CBL
10.45—Musicale; News—CBL
11.00—News; Budapest String Quartet—WABC, CFRB
12.30—Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir and Organ—WABC
12.30—Radio City Music Hall; Symphony Orch.—WJZ, CBL
2.30—Religious Period—CBL
3.00—Columbia B'casting Symphony; guest conductor—CFRB, WABC
4.00—String Symph. Orch.—WEAF, CBL
4.30—Spirit of '41; National Defense Prgm.—WABC, CFRB
5.30—Rhythms by Ricardo—WJZ, WHAM
6.00—Military Band—CBL
6.00—Silver Theatre Summer Show; Ed Sullivan—WABC
6.30—Gene Autry's Melody Ranch—WABC
6.30—Empire Exchange Rebroadcast—CBL
6.30—The Great Gildersleeve—WEAF, WHAM
7.00—News from Europe—WJZ
7.30—Bandwagon—WEAF, WGY
7.30—World News Tonight—WABC, WGR
8.00—The Pause That Refreshes—WABC, WGR
8.00—Star Spangled Theatre—WJZ
8.30—Inner Sanctum Mystery; drama—WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Carry On Canada—CBL
9.00—Summer Hour — WABC, WGR
9.00—We Have Been There—CBL
9.00—Manhattan Merry-Go-Round—WEAF, WBEN
9.00—Walter Winchell, comm.—WJZ, WHAM
9.30—Album of Familiar Music—WEAF, WBEN
9.30—Irene Rich, drama—WJZ, WHAM
9.45—Sports Newsreel of the Air; Bill Stern, guests — WJZ, WHAM
10.00—Good Will Hour — WJZ, WHAM
10.00—The Hour of Charm; Phil Spitalny's All-Girl Orch. — WEAF, WGY
10.00—Take It or Leave It—WABC, WGR
1000.—Rocky Mt. Melody Time—CBL
10.30—Columbia Workshop—WABC, CFRB
11.00—Headlines and Bylines—WGR WABC
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
10.30—Studio X; Variety Show—WEAF, WGY
11.30—Newsreel—CBL

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 1.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—WJZ, CBL
10.45—Prescott Presents — WJZ, CBL
11.00—Treet Time—WABC, WGR
11.15—Viennese Ensemble — WJZ, CBL
1.00—Labor Day Prgm.—WJZ, WHAM
5.30—Fiedler Conducts—CBL
6.45—Lowell Thomas, comm. — WJZ, WHAM
7.00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time—WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.00—Salon Music—CBL
7.30—Cavalcade of America — WEAF, WHAM
8.00=The Telephone Hour; Musical Program with James Melton—WEAF, WGY
8.00—Vox Pop—WABC, WGR
8.30—True or False—WJZ, WHAM
8.30—Voice of Firestone; Symphony Orch. with Alfred Wallenstein, conductor, Margaret Speaks, Sop.—WEAF CBL
8.30—Gay Nineties Revue—WABC
8.30—Sonata Recital—CBL
9.00—Forecast—WABC, WGR
9.00—Basin St. Chamber Music — WJZ, WHAM
9.30—News Here and Abroad—WJZ
10.00—Famous Jury Trials — WJZ WHAM
10.00—Contented Hour — WEAF.
10.30—With the Troops in England—CBL
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Radio Newsreel—CBL
12.00—Bob Chester's Orch.—WABC, CFRB

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2.

7.45—News—CKCL
9.00—Breakfast Club—CBL
10.45—Prescott Presents—CBL
12.00—Kate Smith Speaks—WABC
12.30—Nat'l. Farm and Home Hour—WJZ, WHAM
12.30—Sweet Hour of Prayer—CBL
4.15—Club Matinee—CBL
6.30—Paul Sullivan Reviews the News—WABC
7.00—Fred Waring's Orchestra — WEAF, WBEN, WGY
7.45—Recital Series—CBL
8.00—Johnny Presents Ray Bloch's Orch.—WEAF
8.00—Court of Missing Heirs — WABC, WGR
8.30—Horace Heidt's Treasure Chest—WEAF, WGY
8.30—First Nighter—WABC, CFRB, WHAM, WJZ
8.30—Musical Rendezvous—CBL
9.00—Can. Nat'l Exhibition—CBL
9.00—We, the People—WABC
9.00—Battle of the Sexes, Frank Crumit and Julia Sanderson—WEAF, WGY
9.30—Hap Hazard Show—WEAF, CBL
9.30—Report to the Nation—WABC, WGR
10.00—Glenn Miller's Orchestra — WABC, WGR
10.00—Grant Park Concert—WZJ, CBL
10.15 — Public Affairs — WABC, WGR
10.30—College Humor — WEAF, WGY
10.45—News of the World—WABC, WGR
11.00—Fred Waring's Orch. — WTAM
11.15—Britain Speaks—CBL
11.30—Dolly Dawn's Orch.—WJZ

RADIO DIRECTORY

CANADIAN STATIONS

	Kilocycles
CFRC—Kingston	1490
CBL—Toronto	740
CBO—Ottawa	910
CBY—Toronto	1010
CFCF—Montreal	600
CBM—Montreal	940
CFRB—Toronto	860
CHML—Hamilton	900
CKCL—Toronto	580
CKOC—Hamilton	1150

UNITED STATES STATIONS

KDKA—Pittsburg	1020
WABC—New York	880
WBEN—Buffalo	930
WGY—Schenectady	810
WHAM—Rochester	1180
WJZ—New York	770
WENR—Chicago	890

Little Benny's Note Book

Last night I yelled in my sleep and woke myself up, and pop quick came in my room and litt the light, saying, What's going on here, has somebody been having a nightmare?

Yes sir, I said, and pop said, Well, that's not much fun, is it?

And he sat down on my bed, sayin, Maybe you better tell me all about it and get it out of your sistem. If you once get a nightmare out of your sistem you cant have it again, according to the brain doctors. Or maybe you've forgotten it already and it's out of your sistem anyway, he said.

No sir, I remember it as plane as if I was still asleep, I said. I thought I was being chased by the Human Ape, just like in the Dick Dare serial on the radio, I said, and pop said, Yee gods, these so called serials for children. All right, get it out of your sistem, he said.

Wich I started to, saying, Well, I thought the Human Ape was chasing me through the Haunted Cavern and big bats were flying out at me and owls were screetching and the stones were all covered with moss and I was all a time falling and getting up again just in time with Hairy Ape's claws on the back of my neck, just like in the Dick Dare serial, and just then I heard the Voice of Doom talking to me. and that's what made me yell.

What did the Voice of Doom tell you for Peet sake? pop said, and I said, It told me I could never listen to any more serials on the radio.

Yee gods, do you mean that's the part that scared you? pop said, and I said, Sure, pop, just imagine.

I cant, pop said. Go on back to sleep and enjoy yourself, he said.

And he gave me a medium size slap some place under the covers and put the light out again.

Appointed Vice-Consul

Christopher C. Ebberts, of the department of external affairs, has been appointed Canadian vice-consul to the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon.

—(Photo by Meyers Studio)

Brig. W. W. Foster New Canadian Minister to Japan

Ottawa, Aug. 30 (CP)—Announcement by the government that Brig. W. W. Foster, former Vancouver Police Chief who now is District Officer Commanding Military District No. 12 at Regina, will go to Japan as new Canadian Minister was awaited today.

The official statement on the decision to fill the Tokyo post, vacant since resignation of Hon. Robert Randolph Bruce in December, 1938, may be issued in a matter of hours, it was learned on good authority last night.

It was said Brig. Foster was to have been given command of the 6th Canadian Division, now being formed, but that it had been decided following Prime Minister Mackenzie King's recent arrival in Britain to send him to Japan instead.

Series of Moves Mooted

The move is the latest in a series of Canadian diplomatic changes involving opening of a new High Commissioner's office in Newfoundland and a new Ministry in Brazil, and appointment of a new High Commissioner to Ireland (Eire). Naming of a Minister to Argentina is pending.

One line of speculation last night was that appointment of a Minister to Japan meant that Britain feels there is reason to hope future developments in the Pacific area may relieve the tension there.

But there were some who felt the opposite view should be taken. They thought Britain might be looking forward to a time when she would have to break off diplomatic relations with Japan. In that case a Canadian Minister might form a valuable communication link between Tokyo and the Empire.

Collishaw Transferred To Another Command

By GODFREY ANDERSON

Cairo, Aug. 30—(AP)—Air Commodore Raymond Collishaw, Canadian-born commander of the Royal Air Force units in the Western Desert and the man who smashed the bulk of the Italian Air Force, has been transferred elsewhere.

A native of Nanaimo, B.C., Collishaw was one of Canada's greatest airmen in the First Great War. He shot down sixty enemy planes, being outranked in this respect only by Air Marshal W. A. (Billy) Bishop. After the war, Collishaw remained in the R.A.F., doing most of his flying in the Middle East and for two years he commanded the air force station at Heliopolis, Cairo.

With limited resources of bombers and fighters, Collishaw hammered blow after blow at the Italian Air Force after Mussolini threw in/his lot with Hitler. Hundreds of Italian planes were destroyed on their own airfields and Hurricane, Gladiator and Tomahawk pilots shot down hundreds more in aerial combats.

"I bite them here and I bite them there," Collishaw explained, waving his fingers over a big map.

"I give them no peace. That's the way, see! That foxes them!"

"Collie," a friend of Balbo before the war, used to visit the Italian air ace and Governor of Libya at Derna and Bengazi. He thus gained valuable knowledge of the terrain of the Western Desert over which his planes later operated against the Italians.

Recently, with greatly increased forces, due largely to shipments from the United States, Collishaw has been able to establish air supremacy which prevented the German Air Force and what is left of the Italian from the persistent dive-bombing on troop concentrations that featured earlier fighting in the desert.

Collishaw, who wears more medals than any other officer in the Middle East, always has been a keen supporter of aggressive tactics. He has ordered more than seventy bombing raids on Bengazi, Libya, since May 1, employing hundreds of aircraft.

Collishaw believes there is no limit to the size of bombs that will be used later in the war.

"There is no reason why we cannot use bombs weighing even 10,000 pounds or more," he says.

Square-shouldered and bulky, Collishaw has almost a school-boyish enthusiasm for his job.

Many stories are told of his calmness under fire.

When a lookout rushed into his operations room in the desert and reported "enemy kite overhead," Collishaw continued to study his maps and mumbled "Tell them to go fly it somewhere else."

When an officer suggested the barracks in Colum were not a safe place for his advanced headquarters, Collishaw replied: "How many times must I tell you to pay no attention to Italian bombing. It's not worth it."

BRITTON TO RETURN HOME

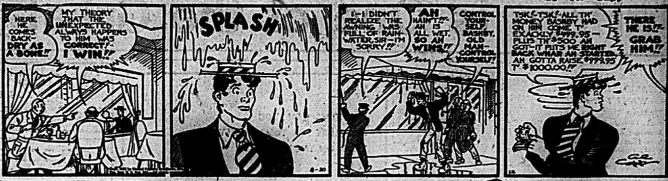
Johannesburg, Aug. 29 — (CP)—Transvaal sport circles learned with regret that James Britton, assistant Canadian Trade Commissioner here, will shortly return home. During five years' service he did more than anyone to promote hockey, baseball and basketball in South Africa.

FOUR-FIFTHS OF POPULATION AT WAR

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—On the eve of the second anniversary of Germany's invasion of Poland, the National Geographic Society noted today that 1,700,000,000 people—four-fifths of the world's population—now are at war.

LI'L ABNER — Bashby Loses Again

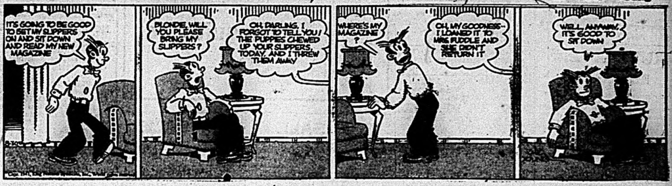
By Al Capp



HERE HE COMES BACK— DRY AS A BONE!!
MY THEORY THAT THE UNEXPECTED ALWAYS HAPPENS TO HIM WAS CORRECT!— I WIN!!
SPLASH
8-30
I—I DIDN'T REALIZE THE AWNING WAS FULL OF RAIN-WATER, SIR—I'M SORRY!!
AH HAIN'T!!— AH IS ALL WET. SO AH WINS!!
CONTROL YOUR-SELF, BASHBY, OLD MAN— CONTROL YOURSELF!!
TSK!-TSK!-ALL TH' MONEY BASHBY HAD ON HIM COME T' EXACKLY $999.95— PLUS TH' $500 AH GOT—IT PUTS ME RIGHT BACK WHAR AH STARTED. AH GOTTA RAISE $999.95 T' $1000.00!!
THERE HE IS!!— GRAB HIM!!

BLONDIE — One Comfort Left, Anyway

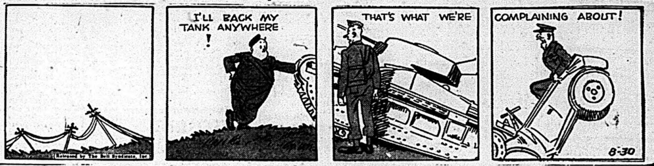
By Chic Young



IT'S GOING TO BE GOOD TO GET MY SLIPPERS ON AND SIT DOWN AND READ MY NEW MAGAZINE
8-30
BLONDIE, WILL YOU PLEASE BRING MY SLIPPERS?
OH, DARLING, I FORGOT TO TELL YOU! THE PUPPIES CHEWED UP YOUR SLIPPERS, TODAY, AND I THREW THEM AWAY
WHERE'S MY MAGAZINE ?
OH, MY GOODNESS— I LOANED IT TO MRS. FUDDLE AND SHE DIDN'T RETURN IT
WELL, ANYWAY, IT'S GOOD TO SIT DOWN

POP — A Little Forward Motion Requested

By J. Millar Watt



Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.
I'LL BACK MY TANK ANYWHERE !
THAT'S WHAT WE'RE COMPLAINING ABOUT!
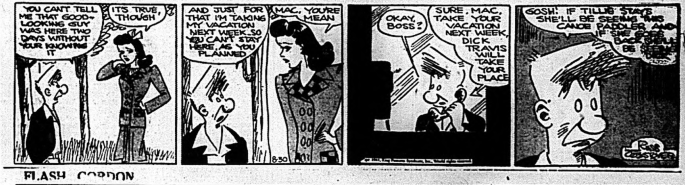
8-30

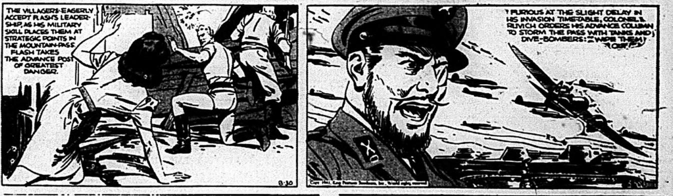
TILLIE THE TOILER — Mac's on the Horns of a Dilemma

By Russ Westover



YOU CAN'T TELL ME THAT GOOD-LOOKING GUY WAS HERE TWO DAYS WITHOUT YOUR KNOWING IT
IT'S TRUE, THOUGH
AND JUST FOR THAT I'M TAKING MY VACATION NEXT WEEK SO YOU CAN'T STAY HERE, AS YOU PLANNED
MAC, YOU'RE MEAN
8-30
OKAY, BOSS?
SURE, MAC, TAKE YOUR VACATION NEXT WEEK, DICK TRAVIS WILL TAKE YOUR PLACE
GOSH! IF TILLIE STAYS SHE'LL BE SEEING THIS CANOE PADDLER AND IF SHE GOES BACK SHE'LL BE SEEING
RUSS WESTOVER

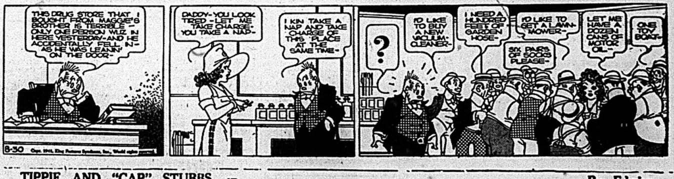
FLASH GORDON



THE VILLAGERS EAGERLY ACCEPT FLASH'S LEADERSHIP, AS HIS MILITARY SKILL PLACES THEM AT STRATEGIC POINTS IN THE MOUNTAIN-PASS. FLASH TAKES THE ADVANCE POST OF GREATEST DANGER.
8-30
FURIOUS AT THE SLIGHT DELAY IN HIS INVASION TIME-TABLE, COLONEL RUVICH ORDERS HIS ADVANCE COLUMN TO STORM THE PASS WITH TANKS AND DIVE-BOMBERS: "WIPE THEM OUT!"

BRINGING UP FATHER —

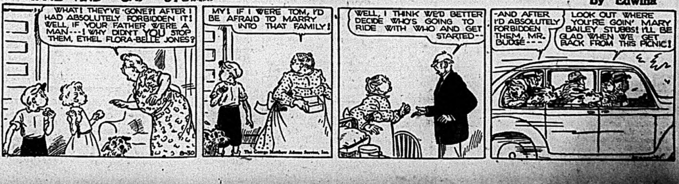
By George McManus



THIS DRUG STORE THAT I BOUGHT FROM MAGGIE'S BROTHER IS TERRIBLE— ONLY ONE PERSON WUZ IN HERE YESTERDAY—AND HE ACCIDENTALLY FELL IN— AS HE WAS LEANIN' ON THE DOOR—
8-30
DADDY—YOU LOOK TIRED—LET ME TAKE CHARGE— YOU TAKE A NAP—
I KIN TAKE A NAP AND TAKE CHARGE OF THIS PLACE AT THE SAME TIME—
?
I'D LIKE TO BUY A NEW VACUUM-CLEANER—
I NEED A HUNDRED FEET OF GARDEN HOSE—
I'D LIKE TO GET A LAWN-MOWER—
SIX PAIRS OF SOCKS PLEASE—
LET ME HAVE A DOZEN CANS OF MOTOR OIL—
ONE TOY BOAT—

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



WHAT! THEY'VE GONE?! AFTER I HAD ABSOLUTELY FORBIDDEN IT! WELL, IF YOUR FATHER WERE A MAN—! WHY DIDN'T YOU STOP THEM, ETHEL FLORA-BELLE JONES?
8-30
MY! IF I WERE TOM, I'D BE AFRAID TO MARRY INTO THAT FAMILY!
The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.
WELL, I THINK WE'D BETTER DECIDE WHO'S GOING TO RIDE WITH WHO AND GET STARTED—
—AND AFTER I'D ABSOLUTELY FORBIDDEN THEM, MR. BUDGE—LOOK OUT WHERE YOU'RE GOIN' MARY BAILEY STUBBS! I'LL BE GLAD WHEN WE GET BACK FROM THIS PICNIC!

Dazzling Promise

By
KATHRN BEMIS

CHAPTER 34
Tom And Chris

Chris Cupp had reserved the entire roof of the big hotel for his party, but guests first crowded into his studio, where cocktails and canapes were being served.

Here the beauty of bare white shoulders, framed by rich silks, satins, velvets and sparkling jewels, vied with many fine examples of Christ Cupp's drawings and paintings of fair women on wall and easel. The men in formal black added a degree of dignity to the scene and there was much spontaneous gaiety and laughter as friend greeted friend sending the party off to a brilliant start.

When the irresistible strains of a rumba, played by one of the world's best orchestras, trickled through the lively conversation, guests began drifting away in couples to dance in the adjacent ballroom.

"How do you like being the most precious jewel of them all?" twitted Chris Cupp, leading Dona toward the dance floor.

Her light laugh was disparaging.

"I mean it," persisted Chris. "See what I've done? These festoons of spun glass and silver carry out the illusion of your gown—white silk net trimmed with silver-back mirrors. It's great! It's colossal!"

She stopped short at the ballroom entrance and saw what he meant. All the trimmings in this room centered around the gown she was wearing.

She glanced down at her bouffant skirts over a wide hoop skirt and got out haltingly, "I—I didn't dream—I'm quite—overcome."

But she was provoked. However, this was his party—he was showing off his possessions—she was one of his models.

She met his admiring eyes with an attempt to look brightly pleased.

"It's good business, isn't it? It will make people talk," she said quickly.

"Certainly. You're as exquisite as I planned. The new Cupp model! Isn't it a lovely idea?"

"Sweet," she rejoined unsmilingly. She wasn't the least excited over being his advertising billboard. He might have asked her permission or at least forewarned her.

They began to dance now, but immediately men cut in, one after another, and Dona obliged to meet their heady compliments with light, laughing lips. She was one of the famous Chris Cupp models and she must fit her expression to the gown she was wearing and be thankful for everything. It was just a matter of keeping a famous man before his public and she was being well paid for it.

And after a few minutes it was not too difficult to be as merry as the men expected her to be; and she began thoroughly to enjoy herself. But her eyes constantly searched the room for Tom's reassuring, eager face. She couldn't imagine why he hadn't arrived.

Then all at once, she was abruptly passed into another pair of muscular arms—and they were his.

"Tom! How nice! I was afraid you weren't coming!"

Her wide blue eyes, lifted to him, held a glow in them that no other man had seen tonight.

"You should have known better, dear. Nothing could have kept me away. I'm late because I've been talking to father on the phone."

"How is he?"

"Fine. I called him to see if he had lined up a position for you. He's found something. Isn't that fortunate?"

"Ye-s—it's—very kind of him."

"What's wrong? You don't sound enthusiastic."

The music crashed to a blaring dissonance and stopped.

Tom quickly linked an arm through hers, walked her swiftly past the rows of dwarf palms and barberry bushes lining the side of the room and on out to a vacated corridor.

They sat down on a wicker divan, her hoops and ruffles keeping him at a respectful distance.

"This is what our great-grandfathers had to put up with, isn't it?" Tom said, with a smile. "How do you suppose they ever got near enough to a girl to propose?"

Dona attempted to laugh, but only a queer sound came out of her tight dry throat.

"You're looking very lovely tonight, Dona. It took my breath away when I first glimpsed you in there dancing. I could scarcely control a mad impulse to kidnap you. I wished I were a bold bad man and had the proper technique. It makes me miserable when I can do nothing to make you truly happy, Dona."

Hot tears gushed to her eyes but she blinked them back.

"You've been wonderful, Tom. What more could you have done? I've made a mess of things and I've only myself to blame. Now, I guess it's up to me to—to gather up the fragments—and make the best of it."

"That's what makes me furious. Here I am, ready and able to help, and you won't allow it. But father says the Best Iron Works needs a secretary and—"

"Tom—I'm so sorry your father went to the trouble of locating a place for me. I appreciate it— I truly do. But—I'm staying on with Chris Cupp."

"You're—what?" burst out Tom, unable to believe his ears.

"I said I am staying with Chris," she reiterated patiently.

"But that wasn't the plan at all!" Tom protested hotly. "Modeling for Chris was merely a fill-in until—"

"Do you realize what my present salary is?"

"Why—er—yes, of course. It's a good salary, but I'd like you to be where I can see you now and then, Dona. Chris is liable to take you to New York or anywhere he decides to work."

She smiled resolutely.

"You're forgetting the expense I have to meet now, with Tug in the sanatorium."

"So—that's it?"

"Yes," she got out unsteadily.

His heavy dark brows crinkled, he sighed and seemed to be deep in thought.

Finally, he said, "Whatever arrangements father has made will include a reasonable salary."

"Naturally. But seventy-five a week for a secretary would be unfair to the rest of the help, wouldn't it? If I were experienced, had been with the firm a long while, perhaps it wouldn't be so—so out of balance."

"Why not let father make up the—the deficiency, dear? If you won't let me do it, surely there'd be no harm in letting a man of his age make your burden lighter. Besides—if you were in Unadilla, we could see each other occasionally."

"My answer is no, Tom—I'm sorry. You're sweet—you're the finest man I shall ever know. But what obligations I now have, I'll take care of myself as long as I can. As for seeing you in Unadilla—I—I—couldn't, Tom."

She dropped her eyes, nervously fingered a fold of her fragile white silk net skirt, while hoping that she had convinced him far better than she had convinced herself. How could she go on living, day after day, without seeing him?

"Well, I've got to hand it to Chris. I always knew he was fascinating—but I thought you had more sense, Dona."

She laid a hand resolutely on his arm.

"Tom, dear—don't get wrong ideas—don't be foolish."

Her wide blue eyes were entreating.

"That's all I can make out of the situation," Tom told her hoarsely, and stood up.

"You'd better be getting back to the ballroom—make yourself popular—increase Chris's reputation for picking the winning models. You're being paid for standing out in tonight's crowd, like a lily of the field."

"Tom!" She was standing before him now, her eyes blazing. "Don't be an idiot! I'm not the least interested in Chris Cupp nor he in me! He lives for his career—he'll never settle down to one woman."

"I'm far from convinced. I see it all now—why he's following you to Unadilla."

"Following me? What do you mean?"

"Didn't you know he's flying to Unadilla with us? Can you pretend that signifies nothing?"

Her eyes wavered away from his drawn face.

She said quickly, "I didn't know he was even thinking of going to Unadilla. Some urgent business must have come up. You're quite wrong, Tom. Chris Cupp is an artist first, last and always. His mind is fixed on color and line—how long daylight will last."

"That's what you think," Tom said, as sulkily as a schoolboy. "Come—let's stop talking in circles."

He took her by the elbow and they began walking toward the ballroom.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Salem

Salem — The community extends their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Fred Robinson in the loss of her father, Mr. Homer Demille.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Knowles of Toronto spent Saturday with the latter's aunt, Mrs. Dorland Ross.

The Misses Ruth, Louise, Irene and Shirley Reid of Roslin have returned home after holidaying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hagerman. Bernice Hagerman returned home with them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Hanna visited relatives in Stirling on Sunday.

Mrs. B. C. Snider, Ravenha, Ohio is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Sills.

Miss Mary Lockhart of Belleville spent a few days last week with her friend, Miss Bernice Robinson.

A number from this line attended the shower on Tuesday evening in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bradshaw. They received many lovely gifts.

Bobby and Billy Beal spent last Tuesday with Ronnie Hagerman.

Mrs. Harold Sherman called on Mrs. Clifford Hagerman Thursday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Bradshaw and family from Deep River, Conn., were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Sills on Tuesday. They are on their way to his new pastoral charge at Red Oak, Iowa.

Miss Bernice Robinson spent a day last week with Mrs. Gordon Snider and family, Melrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorland Ross accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Ross of Gilead spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Cronk of Bloomfield.

They also called on Mr. and Mrs. John A. Conley of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Milligan and girls of Belleville are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Milligan.

Master Roy Taylor spent Tuesday with Ronnie Hagerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Utman and Ralph were Sunday visitors at Mr. Hanna's.

Mr. Charlie Osbourne and Mrs. Keitha Nealy, Napanee, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Sills.

Mrs. Harold Sherman spent Friday with Mrs. Clarence Hagerman.

Master Ross Cole of Bethany is spending a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Dorland Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snider, Melrose, Mr. Charlie Osbourne and Mrs. Keitha Nealy, Napanee, also Mrs. B. C. Snider, Ravenna, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. James Sills were Sunday tea hour guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Sills.

Recent callers at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hagerman were: — Mrs. J. Cole, Mrs. Thos. Leslie, Mrs. Jim Sills, Mrs. Fred Taylor and Roy also Mrs. George Sills, Earl and Garnet.

Louise Reid and Ronnie Hagerman were dinner guests on Tuesday of Teddy Hanna.

Queensboro

Queensboro — Misses Betty and Helen Franklin returned on Monday after spending two weeks in Yarker.

Miss May Franklin, Madoc, spent Sunday at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Groves, Madoc, and Mr. Ernest Groves, Huntsville, called on Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Fleming on Monday evening.

Miss Hazel Thompson spent a few days during the past week with Mrs. Delbert Carman, Eldorado.

Mrs. Ella Clark has been the guest of Mrs. J. Wiggins, Belleville, during the past week.

Mr. W. M. Delyea returned on Tuesday after some weeks with friends in Thorold, Toronto and Belleville.

Mrs. R. A. Sager, Mrs. B. Leslie, Mrs. Allan Holmes, Mrs. W. Kincaid and Miss Marion Love were entertained at a quilting at the home of Mrs. Electa Tanner, Harts, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Parks, Cooper, returned to her home on Tuesday after spending ten days with Mrs. John Thompson.

The Rev. Theodore L. Tucker and Mrs. Tucker, missionaries-elect to Angola, Africa, were recent visitors at the United Church Parsonage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harris and Miss Frances Harris, Hazzards, spent a few days during the week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michael, Oshawa.

Melville

Melville — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morton, Misses Jean and Hilda Morton and Mrs. Jas. Morton spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Cochrane, Peterboro.

Mrs. J. Collins and Miss Freda Collins, Lingham St., Belleville, with their guests from London, Ont., spent Tuesday at the Parry cottage.

Mrs. G. Rowbotham and Jean Griffiths, Mrs. Ray Rowbotham and Richie, Bleecker Ave., Mrs. Domoșley and Betty, Benjamin St., Belleville, Barbara Baker, Misses K. Griffiths, Eva Clarke, Peterboro, spent two weeks at the Parry cottage.

The Ladies Aid held a quilting at the home of Mrs. A. Carley and Mrs. C. Carley on Wednesday.

Mr. Ralph Adams, Ameliasburg, called at Mr. A. Carley's on Wednesday.

Several attended the funeral of Mrs. Sam Adams, Ameliasburg, on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Scott and Helen, Clinton, spent a few days at Mr. R. Cruickshank's.

Miss Hilda Matthews, Cannifton, spent last week with Mrs. C. Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hardy and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. Cannons, Ameliasburg.

Mr. and Mrs. G. French, and Mrs. H. B. Andersen enjoyed a motor trip to Bannockburn, Madoc, Sharbot Lake, Baptiste Lake, Ivy Lea Bridge and Kingston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Root and boys enjoyed a weiner and marshmallow roast with Mr. and Mrs. Rowbotham and family on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Chase and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. French, Mr. Jas. Wickson, Frank and Leonard Root spent Saturday in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Carley and Clarence spent Thursday in Belleville

Mrs. Mary E. Lochlin, Miss Elva Lochlin, Smithfield, and Mrs. Raymond Norton were Saturday morning callers on several of their friends in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Jas. Morton spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis and baby, Gananoque.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Claire Zufelt, Ottawa, on the birth of a baby girl August 18th.

Mr. G. Rowbotham and Mr. R. Rowbotham, Belleville, joined their families for a week's holidays at the Parry cottage, Saturday evening.

Rawdon

Rawdon — Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hall, Campbellford, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Don Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brady visited Mr. and Mrs. James McMullen, Halloway, recently.

Miss Emma Rainie has been holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew English at Moira.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker, Hoards, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker, Burnbrae, visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Heath on Sunday.

Miss Thelma McMullen is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson.

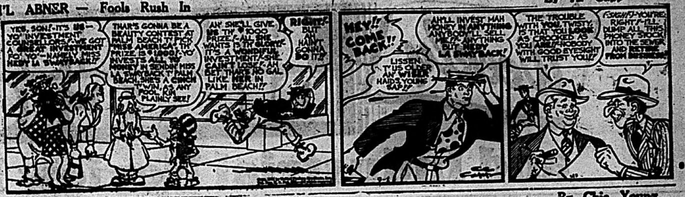
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott entertained over the week end: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Green and George Jr. Peterboro, Mrs. James Elliott, Baltimore, and Miss Jewel Bailey, Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Vance and baby of Missonable have been holidaying with Rawdon friends.

Gunner Roy Sharp of Petawawa spent the week end with Mr. Clifford Sharp and family.

LI'L ABNER — Fools Rush In

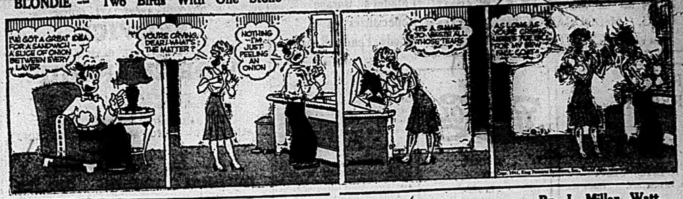
By Al Capp



YES, SON!-IT'S US-YO' INVESTMENT COUNSELLORS!-WE GOT A GREAT INVESTMENT FO' YO'-NAMELY MISS HEDY LA SWAYBACK!!
THAR'S GONNA BE A BEAUTY CONTEST AT PALM BEACH T' PICK "MISS AMERICA"-TH' PRIZE IS $1000!-YO' INVESTS ALL YO' MONEY IN SENDIN' MISS LA SWAYBACK T' PALM BEACH, SHE'S A CINCH T' WIN, AS ANY FOOL KIN PLAINLY SEE!
AN' SHE'LL GIVE US TH' $1000 PRIZE!-ALL SHE WANTS IS TH' GLORY!-IT'S A WONDIFUL INVESTMENT!-SHE CAIN'T LOSE!-AH BET THAR'S NO GAL LIKE HER IN PALM BEACH!!
RIGHT!-BUT AH HAIN'T GONNA DO IT!!
HEY!! COME BACK!!
LISSEN T' US OLDER AN' WISER HAIDS, YOUNG SAP!!
AH'LL INVEST MAH MONEY IN ANYTHING ANYBODY'LL SELL ME!!-ANYTHING BUT HEDY LA SWAYBACK!
THE TROUBLE WITH YOU, TWISTY, IS THAT YOU LOOK AS CROOKED AS YOU ARE!!-NOBODY WITH GOOD EYESIGHT WILL TRUST YOU!!
(SIGH!!)-YOU'RE RIGHT!!-I'LL DUMP ALL THIS PHONEY STOCK INTO THE SEWER AND RETIRE FROM BUSINESS!
9-1

BLONDIE — Two Birds With One Stone

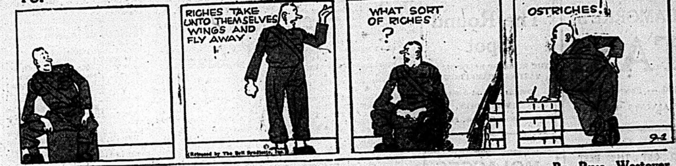
By Chic Young



I'VE GOT A GREAT IDEA FOR A SANDWICH - A SLICE OF ONION BETWEEN EVERY LAYER
YOU'RE CRYING, DEAR! WHAT'S THE MATTER?
NOTHING -I'M JUST PEELING AN ONION
IT'S A SHAME TO WASTE ALL THOSE TEARS
AS LONG AS YOU'RE CRYING HERE'S THE BILL FOR MY NEW FALL COAT
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved

POP —

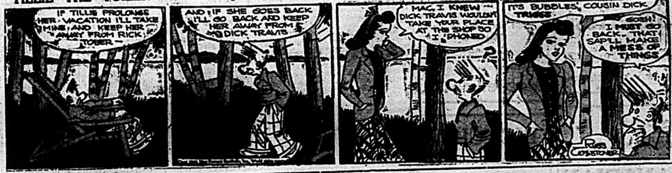
By J. Millar Watt



RICHES TAKE UNTO THEMSELVES WINGS AND FLY AWAY
WHAT SORT OF RICHES ?
OSTRICHES!
(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
9-1

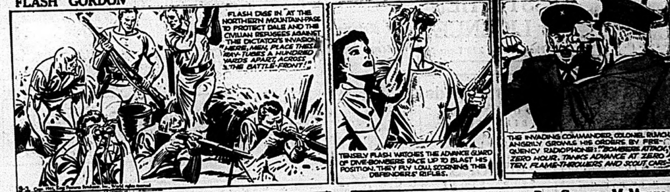
TILLIE THE TOILER — An Imperative Duty

By Russ Westover



IF TILLIE PROLONGS HER VACATION I'LL TAKE MINE AND KEEP HER AWAY FROM RICK TOBER—
AND IF SHE GOES BACK I'LL GO BACK AND KEEP HER AWAY FROM DICK TRAVIS
MAC, I KNEW DICK TRAVIS WOULDN'T TAKE YOUR PLACE AT THE SHOP SO I PHONED
?
IT'S BUBBLES, COUSIN DICK TRIGGS
GOSH! I MUST GO BACK-THAT SAP'LL MAKE A MESS OF THINGS
RUSS WESTOVER

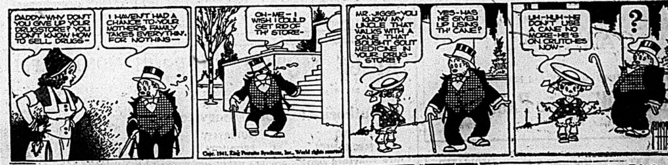
FLASH GORDON



FLASH DIGS IN AT THE NORTHERN MOUNTAIN-PASS TO PROTECT DALE AND THE CIVILIAN REFUGEES AGAINST THE DICTATOR'S INVASION. "HERE, MEN, PLACE THESE RAY-TUBES A HUNDRED YARDS APART, ACROSS THE BATTLE-FRONT!"
TENSELY FLASH WATCHES THE ADVANCE GUARD OF DIVE-BOMBERS RACE UP TO BLAST HIS POSITION. THEY FLY LOW, SCORNING THE DEFENDERS' RIFLES.
THE INVADING COMMANDER, COLONEL RUSCH, ANGRILY GROWLS HIS ORDERS BY FREQUENCY RADIOPHONE: "BOMBERS ATTACK, ZERO HOUR. TANKS ADVANCE AT ZERO TEN. FLAME-THROWERS AND SCOUT CARS-"
9-2

BRINGING UP FATHER —

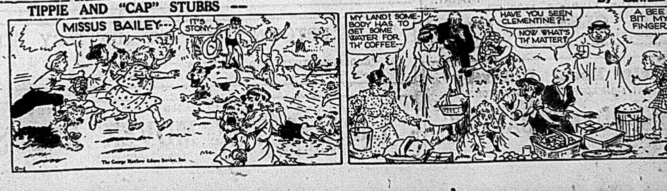
By George McManus



DADDY-WHY DON'T YOU GIVE UP YOUR DRUGSTORE? YOU DON'T KNOW HOW TO SELL DRUGS-
I HAVEN'T HAD A CHANCE TO-YOUR MOTHER'S FAMILY TAKES EVERYTHIN' FOR NOTHING—
OH-ME-I WISH I COULD GET RID OF TH' STORE-
MR. JIGGS-YOU KNOW MY UNCLE THAT WALKS WITH A CANE THAT BOUGHT GOUT MEDICINE IN YOUR DRUG-STORE?
YES-HAS HE GIVEN UP USING TH' CANE?
UH-HUH-HE DON'T USE A CANE NO MORE-HE'S ON CRUTCHES NOW-
?
Copr. 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
9-1

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS —

By Edwina



MISSUS BAILEY---
IT'S STONY--
MY LAND! SOMEBODY HAS TO GET SOME WATER FOR TH' COFFEE--
HAVE YOU SEEN CLEMENTINE?--
NOW WHAT'S TH' MATTER?
A BEE BIT MY FINGER---
The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.
9-1

Weekly BUSINESS DIRECTORY and Industrial Review Page . . .

INSURANCE ALL KINDS Except Life.
HAIG, McDOUGALL & BATEMAN
Belleville's Largest Insurance Office.
188 FRONT ST. - - - - - - PHONE 188

RADIO REPAIRS
HITCHON RADIO SERVICE
14 Victoria Ave. Phone 854.

DRINK
Pepsi-Cola
QUINTE DRY BEVERAGES.

LAMORRE'S
TAXI
460 — Phone — 460
ALWAYS OPEN.

The Round Spot
THE HOME OF BELLEVILLE'S TASTIEST HAMBURGERS
Dundas East at Foster
ALWAYS OPEN.
Ross Simpson, Prop.

TO GET THE BEST BUY
Supertest
from
Patterson & Wellbanks.
Dundas W. at Bay Bridge Road

MOLASSES
FARMERS!
Molasses will be very scarce this year, and in big demand.
We have a shipment on hand and are also taking orders for September delivery.
Mackenzie Co.

Motorist Headquarters
CANADIAN TIRE ASSOCIATE STORE
WEESE & ONDERDONK
182 Front St. at Dundas

BICYCLES
OUR BUSINESS
STEPHEN LICENCE
Phone 985 299 Front St.

DUTTON'S
HIGH CLASS
GOODYEAR WELT
SHOE REPAIR SYSTEM
287½ Station St. Phone 537
Opposite C.N. Ry. Station.

Poultry Feeds
DOG FOODS
BIRD FOOD
and
SUPPLIES
BISHOP'S SEED STORE
172 Front St. Phone 283

Madill's Garage Specializes in Body, Fender Repairs

Nothing detracts from the general appearance or value of that new car to a greater extent than a dented fender or possibly a paint job which the vagaries of the weather have turned dull, and at the same time there's nothing like having those dents ironed out and giving the car a bright new paint job to make the old bus appear just out of the factory.

This is the opinion of Mr. J. E. Madill, up-town expert on auto-collision servicing, whose shop at 334A Front Street, offers to Belleville and district motorists, one of the finest services possible in body and fender repairs, in auto painting or in steering gear service.

How often in newspaper reports of serious or fatal motor accidents the cause of the tragedy is given as "the steering gear went wrong". A regular check of your steering gear at an approved service station or garage, specializing in this service, would prevent a great percentage of accidents where the cause is given as failure of the steering gear.

Higher speeds on the highway and greater traffic congestion in the urban centres has resulted in body and fender repair services and auto painting shops to be crowded with business and this condition holds true at Madill's Garage. Here a competent staff of mechanics and auto painting experts are constantly at work "ironing" out dents and straightening twisted bodies. A fresh paint job in their paint department completes the work and defies distinction from the original finish.

While general mechanical repairs are not included in the repertoire at Madill's Garage, nevertheless, expert general electrical repairs and radiator servicing is featured by sub-lessee "Perc" Hart, in a department aside from the body repair and paint shop.

Mr. John Madill, proprietor of Madill's Garage, has had long experience in the repair work which his garage features, this experience being gained in Belleville, and also in Trenton, where he carried on a like business. For the past three years he has been continually in Belleville at the site his shop now occupies. For expert fender repairs or a steering check-up phone Madill's at 2270.

Raw Material Supply Worries Axis Buddies

Rome, Aug. 30 (AP)—The problem of supply—particularly of raw materials for carrying on the war in its third year—was understood in political circles today to have been one of the chief subjects discussed in the five-day meeting between Hitler and Mussolini.

The Axis powers were believed to have enough food in prospect but, it was said, oil and other raw materials remain to be found.

DO YOU APPRECIATE QUICK
SERVICE
AND FIRST CLASS
WORKMANSHIP?
If so . . . Our efficient staff is ready and equipped to perform the following work on your car.
BODY AND FENDER REPAIRS — WHEEL ALIGNMENT — AUTO PAINTING — SIMONIZING
J. E. MADILL
334½ Front St. BELLEVILLE Phone 2270

Duce's-Hitler's Talks Worry Turkey Gov't.

(By EDWARD E. BOMAR)

Washington, Aug. 30. (AP)—What Hitler really told Mussolini about the future "development and duration of the war" is of as much concern to uneasy Turkey as to any belligerent foe of the Axis.

All signs indicate that the unhappy guardian of the crossroads between Europe and Asia may be an early object of the dictators' attentions.

Standing astride the direct route the Nazis would like to follow toward Suez and the Asia Minor oil plateau, the Turks are given to understand that for the moment all they will be asked to concede is use of their Black Sea territorial waters in the fight against Russia.

Germany holds in obeyance a demand that Turkey expel all British and Russians as the Nazis were forced out of Iran. And for the time being nothing is said officially about the passage of troops and supplies.

New precautions testify to the Turks' concern. Motor and rail traffic between Turkey and Europe have been prohibited, it is reported. Effective next week, everyone in the strategic Dardanelles Straits sector must carry identification papers.

Difficult Undertaking

The million bayonets which Ankara has said would bar any attempt to force Turkey into the war look less formidable now, in the light of the invasion of Russia and the portents that the Mediterranean and Asia Minor are fated this fall and winter to become a major war theatre.

Just what use the Nazis might make of Turkish territorial waters is less clear than that they will need every available facility to wrest control of the Black Sea from the Soviet naval forces.

The undertaking promises to be substantially more difficult than domination of the Baltic, which was brought nearer by Thursday's capture of Tallinn and the subsequent blow dealt Russian warships and transports.

In the 700-mile-long Black Sea Russian naval superiority is relatively stronger. Further more, distance limits the degree of air power than can be brought to bear. Two major bases were lost to the Russians by the capture of Nicolaev and encirclement of Odessa, but there remain Sabastopol and distant Novorassisk, while there are oil and other facilities at isolated Batum, which Russian and British fighting planes can help protect.

Strong Base at Kronstadt

From Finnish authorities, incidentally, comes information bearing on the Berlin claim that German soon will enjoy complete domination of the Baltic as a result of the capture of Tallinn.

Across the Gulf of Finland from the battered Estonian capital city is the strategic coastal fortification of Hanko, which the Finns were forced to cede to Russia last year. It still stands to safeguard Soviet submarines and surface warships and the Finns, fighting what they say is their own independent war, indicate it is up to the Germans to oust the Russians.

Further, the Russian naval base of Kronstadt is credited with being possibly the strongest point in the Baltic and is more capable than Leningrad of withstanding a seige. And the Germans acknowledge that the Russians must still be dislodged from Dagoe and other islands from which air raids are still being made on Berlin.

Ackerman the Painter
SPECIALIZING ON HOUSE PAINTING.
ESTIMATES FREE - - - WORK GUARANTEED.
PHONE 1795R - - - - - - 218 COLEMAN ST.

Empire Ice Cream Sold by Empire Fruits and Groceries

Regardless of the time of year whether in the midst of a distressing heat wave during the summer months or in the comparative cool of the Spring or Autumn, an appetizing dish of delicious ice cream tops the list in the public's choice of refreshment. During the months of July and August, ice cream in any of its many ways of serving is particularly refreshing, while ice cream for dessert in any season is timely and a welcome addition to the dining table.

Prompt freezing and quick hardening however is absolutely essential if that delicious appetizing flavor so desired in ice cream is to be obtained. And it is because of prompt freezing and quick hardening that customers prefer Empire Ice Cream, as sold by Empire Fruits and Groceries.

Empire Fruits and Groceries, successors to Anderson's, just a few doors north of the Bank of Montreal, although a comparatively new name to Belleville, was founded by men with long experience in the fruit and vegetable business. In 1910, the late Samuel Domenico originated the business, dealing in wholesale and retail fruits the business being carried on by Mr. Frank Domenico. The present store, featuring ice cream, but also carrying a full line of groceries and vegetables. is owned by Messrs. Domenico and Morrell, being taken over in January, 1940.

Realizing that quick hardening was essential if the very best flavor in ice cream was to be attained, Empire Fruits and Groceries have installed a Mills Counter Freezer, the most modern equipment of its kind obtainable. Empire Ice Cream as the name might suggest is a product of the store through which it is sold.

Wellington Dairies supply the ice cream mix from which Empire Ice Cream is made, this mix being guaranteed fifteen per cent butterfat, two points above the minimum required by government standards, thus definitely assuring a richer ice cream. Ice cream is made daily in seventeen different flavors, only the very best of fruits and other flavorings being used.

It is the extra richness of Empire Ice Cream, together with the added flavor made possible by its freshness and quick hardening that makes it a favorite.

British Nationals To Leave Japan

Tokyo, Aug. 30—(AP)—The British embassy announced today it had arranged for a ship to come to Japan for evacuation of all British Nationals desiring to leave.

In a formal statement, Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie said many British subjects had expressed a desire to depart because of the inconvenience caused by freezing of their funds here, but said no vessels had been available.

There are approximately 1,000 Britons living throughout the Japanese Empire.

Still Going Big
LEMON ICE CREAM AND ORANGE PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM FOR THE HOT WEATHER.
18c PINT BRICK - 2 FOR 35c
14 Other Varieties.
EMPIRE FRUIT & GROCERIES
209 FRONT ST. - - - PHONE 676

LIVE BETTER AND CHEAPER!
Modern frozen locker food is healthful food. Vitamins as well as fresh taste are retained. Buying in quantity when prices are low saves you money. You owe it to yourself and your family to investigate our locker service.
BUY AT WHOLESALE AND SAVE MONEY on
—Fruit
—Vegetables
—Berries
—Butter
—Eggs
—Meat
—Fish
—Poultry.
SPENCER FRIGID LOCKERS
1 MARKET LANE - - - - - PHONE 2454

Alfred G. Skinner
GENERAL CONTRACTOR
NEW BUILDINGS or ALTERATIONS.
149 Pinnacle Street
Phone 2238

ELECTRICAL WORK by EXPERTS
HIBBARD ELECTRIC
(PAUL HIBBARD)
376 Front St. Phone 740

FOR LUMBER
CALL THE LUMBER NUMBER
Phone 1653
E. D. Mott
LUMBER COMPANY
370 Front Street

BP FLOOR TILE
HARDWOOD FLOORING
Arthur A. Sills
285 COLEMAN STREET
Phone 1584

Alex W. Carmichael
ROOFING and FLOORING CONTRACTOR.
338 Pinnacle St. Phone 1137

SEE THE
New No. 9 Massey Harris
Cream Separator
Priced $56.75 to $78.75
Hand Turned Electric Motor and Drive $33.00 Extra.
J. V. WHITE
18 McAnnany St. Phone 227

AUTO PARTS AND GLASS
SHERRY AUTO PARTS
143 Pinnacle St. Phone 1480

Mac's Cigar Store
BELLE THEATRE BUILDING
Don't Forget Your Cigars — Cigarettes — Candy and Magazines for Sunday and the Holiday.
WE SELL BORDEN'S ICE CREAM
IF IT'S BORDEN'S IT'S GOT TO BE GOOD.

SEND YOUR CAR TO CAMPBELL
for
AUTO PAINTING — BODY and FENDER REPAIRS.
Campbell's Auto Paint Shop
225 COLEMAN ST. - - - - - PHONE 777

Your Country Needs SCRAP
IRON — METALS.
RAGS — BAGGING
COME IN ANY TIME - GET YOUR CASH
CRAWFORD METALS
Formerly Moldover's
B. SPIEGEL
51 Station Street
Phone 477

BELLEVILLE FOUNDRIES
111 STATION STREET - - - - PHONE 186
TANKS — OIL STORAGE TANKS — HEAVY SHEET METAL WORK — WELDING — METAL FABRICATION.

RAWLEIGH'S MEDICATED OINTMENT.
AND RAWLEIGH PRODUCTS.
GUS OLSSON
DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVE.
257 John Street.
Phone 1183

RIGGS MOTOR SALES
224 PINNACLE STREET PHONE 116
Authorized Ford Service
EXPERT MECHANICS. SUPERTEST PRODUCTS.
"OUR COMPLETE SERVICE ASSURES HAPPY MOTORING"

HOME APPLIANCE STORE
Features:
GURNEY RANGES LEONARD REFRIGERATORS.
CONNOR WASHERS STEWART-WARNER RADIOS
RANGETTES — and a complete line of Electrical Appliances.
PLUMBING, HEATING, FESS OIL BURNERS.
AIR CONDITIONING.
HOME APPLIANCE STORE
191 FRONT ST. - - - - PHONE 1181
Operated by Adams & VanDusen Company.

McCARTHY
STARTS
Sunday Midnight, 12.05
ROBERT MONTGOMERY
in
"HERE COMES MR. JORDAN"
CONTINUOUS SHOW MONDAY
Starts 1.30 p.m.

PORTABLE ELECTRIC and GAS WELDING.
Automobile and Machine Shop Work.
VALVE SEATS. — SCALE REPAIRS.
GREENLEAF CO.
10 Foundry St. Phone 83

Help Local Industry
LET YOUR LOCAL BAKER SERVE YOU.
BUY FROM
The PURITY BAKERY
Phone 1976

UPTOWN TIRE AND BATTERY SERVICE
ROAD SERVICE
GOODRICH TIRES AND BATTERIES
382 FRONT ST.
BELLE VILLE
C. C. M. BICYCLES
PHONE 2288

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE
LaPALM THE MOVER AND STORAGE
165 PINNACLE STREET (Every Load Insured) PHONE 1006

CHECKER TAXI
24-HOUR SERVICE.
PHONE 755
ALL BUICK CARS
BERT HIGH. Prop.

WE ARE EXCLUSIVE AGENTS IN BELLEVILLE FOR THE PEASE
CONGO STOKERS
Inexpensive to Purchase
Economical to Run
CHAS. L. HYDE
292 Front St. Belleville
Phone 38